30.24-4033

30.24-4025

HE STRESSED THE POINT THAT THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN NORMALLY DOA BOUT 40 PER CENT OF THE WORLD'S FOREIGN TRADING AND THAT THIS PERCENTAGE HAS INCREASED SOMEWHAT---ALL UNDER A SYSTEM OF FREE ENTERPRISE AND "NOT UNDER BARTER OR DICTATORIAL" MEANS.

A5XX539ACS

BRITAIN FEARS WAR WITH JAPANESE; GERMAN PLANE MACHINE-GUNS TOWN

30.24

London Admits Relations With Tokio Are Growing Progressively Worse.

U. S. GASOLINE BAN SCORED

Naval Spokesman Says American Action Was Aimed at Axis Powers.

AUG 2-1940

LONDON, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—Authoritative British spokesmen expressed the fear today that Japanese-British relations might grow progressively worse, even to the point where the Japanese would risk military pressure.

On the other hand, it was announced here today that six of the British subjects arrested by the Japanese authorities as spies have been released, leaving seven in custody. This was considered very satisfactory.

Fear Of Military Pressure By Japan Rises In London

London, Aug. 1 (AP)—The fear that British-Japanese relations might grow so "progressively worse" that Japan would resort to military pressure—although probably not to general war—was expressed today in authoritative British quarters.

AUG 2-1940

There was little likelihood in any case, these sources said, that the Japanese would take the full long step to total war, lest other powers—the United States, perhaps, or Russia—then become involved.

These informants speculated that if the current strains between the governments persisted and were heightened, the Japanese might try first to oust the British from North China and then from Hongkong. They acknowledged, too, that while any attempt to drive Britons from Hongkong would be met with force, it was not possible to defend the colony indefinitely.

Summing up, it was declared that the nature of future British-Japanese relations depended on whether Japanese "extremists" retained their power and that British reaction to Japanese pressure would be determined by the state of things in Europe itself.

TOKYO FREES SIX BRITONS

London, Aug. 1 (AP)—Six of the British subjects arrested by Japanese authorities have been released, authoritative British sources said today, leaving seven in custody. The sources indicated this was considered "very satisfactory."

AUG 2-1940

Exchange Telegraph (British news agency) reported today from Hongkong that the British Crown Colony Government there had prohibited the movement of munitions to outlying portions of Hongkong territory, thus meeting one of Japan's demands.

The movement of war supplies from Hongkong into Chinese territory already has been banned. The new order is intended to prevent smuggling across the border.

The dispatch said the Japanese Consul General was insisting that still further restrictions should be imposed at Hongkong, especially to prevent secret movements of munitions by junks, small Chinese boats which ply Hongkong waters by the hundreds.

Raider Dives Through Clouds From a Great Height to Drop Bombs.

HOUSES ARE SET ON FIRE

British Pursuit Ships Take Off in Chase After Daring Attack on Coast.

LONDON, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—Several persons were killed today when a German bomber dived through clouds from a great height and bombed and machine-gunned a town of southeastern England. Fires were started by bombs.

British planes rose to pursue the raider.

German raiders struck glancing blows in raids concentrated largely on coastal areas and harbor facilities on both the east and west coasts.

One German fighter was shot down, the Government stated.

The Ministry of Home Security announced that bombs had been dropped at a few points in the neighborhood of the Thames estuary and near Bristol Channel, the west coast waterway on which the ports of Bristol and Cardiff lie. The communique said that there was only slight damage, however, and no casualties.

Hospital Ward Is Struck.

Also there were scattered raids, mostly by small groups of lone planes, over most sections of England throughout the night and this morning.

Although comparatively large numbers of high explosive and incendiary bombs were reported dropped, apparently most of them fell in open fields, for there were few reports of damage and none of casualties.

One incendiary bomb struck the roof of a ward in a hospital near a southeast town of England. The resulting blaze was extinguished so quickly that it was not necessary to move patients.

Residents of Northern Ireland heard gunfire and the roar of motors for half an hour yesterday, but saw no planes.

Three Nazi aircraft were believed downed last night, one near the sea and two inland. Official figures said that July attacks on Britain had cost Germany 240 planes—almost eight a day—and 600 men.

The Hamburg and Bremen radio stations went off the air today at 11:31 A. M. (6:31 A. M., New York time), indicating possible British daylight bombing raids on Germany for the second successive day.

The withdrawal of civilians from areas in East Anglia, east and northeast of London and on the southeastern coast was ordered tonight by the Ministry of Home Security as a measure further to tighten Britain's defenses.

Highway Barriers Removed.

Meanwhile today a change in the plans for defending Great Britain was disclosed today by an order of the new Commander-in-Chief, Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, to remove many of the barriers which have been erected across roads throughout the island.

The order, reflecting a return to the traditional theory that attack is the best defense, calls for the removal of the steel and concrete barriers to permit the rapid movement of troops to any threatened sector.

The removal is already under way in the North of England, where all double road blocks have been ordered eliminated and single ones cut back.

These blocks were built to leave only a narrow zigzag passage which could be closed at a moment's notice.

The barriers were erected hurriedly two months ago at every point where it was thought that German troop transport planes might be able to land in an effort to seize strategic communication networks.

At that time, when comparatively few trained British soldiers remained in Britain, barricade to barricade defense by available troops was considered advisable.

Now, observers explained, a trained and equipped army of several million men has converted the island into an armed camp. Therefore, the barricades are considered not only unnecessary but a possible handicap which might operate to an invader's advantage by preventing the rapid shifting of British troops and supplies.

In the war at sea, the Admiralty acknowledged the 1,375-ton destroyer Delight had gone down with "small" loss of life. Her normal crew was 145 men. Sunk by enemy air attack, the Delight was the twenty-ninth British destroyer lost during the war.

BRITAIN TURNS TO 'OFFENSIVE DEFENSE' IDEA

AUG 2-1940

Clears Roads, Shifts Civilians To Promote Her Troops' Mobility

Dubious Of Axis Hints Of Deferred Blitz, She Chinks Fortifications

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 1—Great Britain has so strengthened herself against invasion that tonight she was preparing elaborately for an "offensive defense." This entailed removal of barriers once counted on to slow an enemy but now cast out as handicaps to her own troops' mobility.

An order today by the new commander in chief, General Sir Alan Brooke, to remove many of the steel and concrete traps and road blocks studding roadways throughout England announced this startling shift of strategy.

Back To Traditional Theory

It is a return to the traditional theory that attack is the best defense—provided there is sufficient man and machine power to execute it. Now a trained and equipped army and home guard of several million men has converted Britain into an armed camp.

Britain is ready for a hard-hitting war on wheels.

Barriers already are being removed in northern England where all double road blocks are being eliminated and single ones cut back.

They were erected swiftly two months ago at every point where it was thought an invader might try to seize strategic communications. Britain then envisioned a possible barricade-to-barricade defense by the comparatively few trained soldiers then available.

The change was explained as a natural development with the return from the Continent and reorganization of the British Expeditionary Force.

Mass Shift Of Civilians

Beaches and other costal landing points still bristle with defenses.

Still further tightening the defense—a campaign which already had brought mass transfer of thousands of civilians from strategic areas—the Ministry of Home Security ordered withdrawal of civilians from areas in East Anglia, east and northeast of London, and on the southeastern coast.

British airmen bombed military objectives in Germany and shipping off the Netherlands and German coast in daylight attacks yesterday. During the night they attacked other points of the German and Dutch interior, the Air Ministry said.

Four British planes were reported lost in these operations.

NAZIS BOMBARD GREAT BRITAIN WITH LEAFLETS

'Appeals To Reason' From Hitler Released Above Southern Cities

AUG 2-1940

Explosive And Incendiary Bombs Fall On Cities In Northeast Scotland

[By the Associated Press]

London, Friday, Aug. 2—Striking at England for the first time with leaflets instead of bombs, Nazi air raiders today showered a southeastern port with thousands of four-page pamphlets containing Adolf Hitler's "last appeal to reason" for Britain to talk peace.

Within a few minutes the "pamphlet bombers" appeared over another town, this time in southeastern England, and poured down thousands more of the papers which contained a verbatim account of Hitler's July speech to the Reichstag which mingled a bid for peace with ominous threats of what war would bring to Britain.

The pre-dawn raiders, however, were not all on a propaganda mission.

Incendiary Bombs Dropped

Near one northeastern town heavy explosives and thirty to forty incendiary bombs were dropped while British defense planes battled with the raiders.

Big explosives and fire bombs also crashed down near a town in northeastern Scotland and raiders circled over several other communities in that section. The bombs fell near houses, but none was set afire.

While the Hitler pamphlets still fluttered in the air, British air-raid wardens, policemen and constables hustled out with flashlights and torches to gather them.

As soon as daylight comes larger forces will be turned out to make sure that not one is left.

Wishes He Could Sell Them

One warden decided too late that the papers might have a curio value. He said regretfully "if I could get back the copies turned over to police I could sell them at a shilling each."

The leaflets measuerd twelve by eight inches, bore the caption "A Last Appeal to Reason by Adolf Hitler," and suggested pointedly that the British public might not have had opportunity to read the Führer's speech of July 19.

Britons already were acquainted with the speech, however. London and provincial newspapers gave it large front-page headlines. Many printed the text. Too, the official German translation of the speech into English was heard in England by radio.

In that talk Hitler declared the British Empire would be destroyed if England insisted upon continuing the war.

Used By British Early In War

The propanganda shower was the Nazis' first try at the "message for the people" tactics of British airmen who dropped planeloads of leaflets into Germany at the outset of the war.

The pamphlet-carrying and bomb-bearing raiders swept over England and Scotland from the east before daybreak after an overnight lull in the daily air attacks.

The planes were heard crossing the coast in northeastern Scotland, northeastern England and southeastern England.

Frequently the sound of motors mingled with the rattle of machine-gun fire, indicating that the Royal Air Force was battling with the raiders in the darkness.

Bombers Attack Alone

For the most part the bombers apparently flew to the attack alone, crossing the coast as high as they could carry their bomb load, then diving to drop their explosives.

One such lone flyer struck boldly yesterday at Norwich, on the east coast, diving down through the clouds to bomb and machine-gun the city's industrial area. The British Press Association said five were killed in that attack alone.

The Air Ministry described other raids yesterday as limited to occasional flights over the English Channel and said one British plane was lost and two German planes were shot down in fighting there.

Channel Shipping Declared Crippled

AUG 2-1940

New Attack on Dover.

BERLIN, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—Five British fighter planes and two barrage balloons were shot down in an air battle near Britain's vital channel port of Dover in widespread raids on the south of England coast yesterday, the German High Command announced today.

The action off Dover was the second in three days.

British warplanes, the High Command declared, had bombed the center of Hanover, Germany, which was far, it said, from any military objective, killing and injuring a number of persons.

British air losses yesterday were listed as eight planes, against two German planes missing.

During the course of the day, the High Command said, three British warplanes entering Norwegian, Dutch and Danish territory, were shot down.

The command reported that, despite bad weather conditions, the Nazi air force carried out extensive operations, bombing shipping in the English Channel and west of the Scilly Islands.

Night raiders, it was announced, attacked British ports and searchlight positions during which fires and explosions were observed on the ground.

Concentrating on Harbors.

Germany has completed her preliminary studies for dive-bombing assaults on the British Isles, and the concentrated Stuka attack on Dover last Monday can be repeated endlessly at other vital British ports, German military observers said earlier today.

Nazi aviators regarded the port of Dover as out of commission for some time and the English Channel as so thoroughly under German air patrol as to be useless as a shipping lane.

Observation planes reported at least three ships sunk in Dover harbor and said that the dock facilities and machinery largely were wrecked.

In turning to the destruction of British ports to tighten the blockade of England, Germany considers Britain's trade and supply facilities the most vulnerable point in her defense, the military commentators said.

Before the Dover attack, the military commentators said, only ordinary bombers had visited the British Isles on missions described by Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering as "armed exploratory flights."

These commentators gave the impression that German strategy does not call for an immediate invasion of England by land forces.

Asked when the major attack on England would start, they replied: "It has been under way ever since the French armistice. With the sea and air forces sinking more ships in a week than can be replaced in months, Germany can be satisfied that excellent progress is being made."

Reports Speedy Results.

"Action against England must be of a different character from that against France, for instance. In the case of France, millions of men were involved and it was a vast land action.

"Against England, at least for the time being, the attack must be carried out by a few thousand men of the air force, submarines and speedboats.

"But these few thousand are tightening the blockade about England with a swiftness which leaves nothing to be desired."

The German press and the Propaganda Ministry, which has issued a 336-page book of documents concerning England, are giving the nation what is described as an inside view of British plutocracy.

The newspapers published side by side pictures of London society people and of hunger strikers; of rich children landing safely in Canada and of poor children in the Whitechapel tenement district of London, along with dozens of other photographs of British slums and of fashionable Ascot and of poverty-stricken Welsh mining communities.

Readers were challenged to find any such inequalities in Nazi Germany.

AUG 2-1940

"Major Attack" Under Way

BERLIN, Aug. 1 (AP)—Germany claimed victories tonight for her air arm with which she hopes to stagger Great Britain sufficiently for a knockout blow or, short of that, force her into surrender.

German military observers insist that the "major attack" on Britain now is under way, indicating that increased pressure by sea and air is the present strategy—rather than immediate land invasion.

Despite adverse weather, it was reported, Nazi airmen yesterday and last night bombed shipping in the English Channel and on the Atlantic side of the Scilly Islands, off Land's End, southwesternmost England, and Southern English ports and searchlight positions. Explosions and fires were "observed." Five British planes were shot down along with two barrage balloons at Dover, it was added.

British bombers were reported to have invaded Norwegian, Danish and Netherland territory. Three were shot down, it was claimed.

[The British Admiralty last night acknowledged the sinking of the 1,375-ton destroyer Delight, with a small loss of life, but did not say where the ship went down. Jane's Fighting Ship's lists the Eagle at 22,600 tons, a converted battleship which was completed as an aircraft carrier in 1924 and refitted in 1932.]

capital ships sailed from the Gibraltar Base yesterday.

Part of the force may also have been intended for duty in the Africa-to-Aretic blockade of the European continent which Great Britain put into effect at midnight last night.

Italians Sink British Warship

AUG 2-1940

London Acknowledges Loss of Destroyer—Rome Reports New Attack on Malta.

ROME, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—The Italian High Command announced today that a British destroyer had been sunk on Sunday in an Italian air attack on warships in the eastern Mediterranean.

Two British planes were shot down in an air battle over the British base of Malta, the communique went on to say, adding that one Italian plane was missing.

The High Command also announced successful air bombing of an army motor truck camp at Wajer and of an airfield at Buna, where three planes were reported damaged on the ground. Both of these places are in Kenya Colony.

Slight damage was reported from British raids on Kassala, the post recently captured by the Italians in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Meanwhile today the Rome radio, quoting a report from Tangiers, said that fifteen British airplanes were destroyed in Italian air attacks on the fortress of Gibraltar on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Cruisers Attacked.

A dispatch to Il Piccolo of Rome indicated that the British warships, attacked in the eastern Mediterranean on Sunday, had left Alexandria to escort a convoy of freighters in the Ægean Sea. The dispatch said that the British detachment included fifteen or more warships, four of which were heavy cruisers and one the aircraft carrier Eagle, which, the dispatch reported, was hit by a bomb.

Italian Libyan Losses Tabulated By British

List 20 Killed, 20 Wounded, 472 Captured, 90 Vehicles And 16 Guns Taken

Libyan Frontier Casualties

LONDON, Aug. 1 (A. P.)—Italian losses in the Libyan frontier fighting thus far known to the British are twenty killed, twenty wounded, 472 captured, along with ninety vehicles and sixteen guns taken, the British announced officially today. British losses were listed at twenty killed and missing, ten wounded and ten vehicles captured.

The Admiralty acknowledged today that the 1,375-ton destroyer Delight had gone down with a small loss of life. Her normal crew was of 145 men. Sunk by enemy air attack, the Delight was the twenty-ninth British destroyer lost since the war began.

Possible new British naval operations in the Mediterranean were indicated by a Madrid broadcast heard here last night which said that five submarines, four destroyers, an aircraft carrier and three

MOLOTOV SEES MORE CRUSHING WAR VERY SOON

Predicts That U. S. Will Be Aiding England Against Italy and Germany.

ADDRESSES SUPREME SOVIET Foreign Commissar Says Recent Events Have Strengthened Relations With Nazis.

[By the Associated Press]

Moscow, Aug. 1—Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff told the Soviet Parliament today that Russia "is not taking part in the war" and predicted its early intensification with "England, assisted by the United States," fighting Germany and Italy.

Recent events, including collapse of France, had only improved Russia's relations with Germany, Molotoff declared in a review of foreign relations, while saying a better understanding with England could hardly be expected in view of past anti-Soviet manifestations by the British Government.

"Of our relations with the United States," Molotoff said, "it can be said that the United States do not like our successes, especially in the Baltics, but we are not interested. We can get along without the help of these misers.

"We support the protests of the Governments of the Baltics at freezing their gold in the United States. We warn the United States and England they will be held responsible."

Clash With Reich "Impossible"

RELEASED GENTLEMEN

30.24-4027

30.24—4027

American Aid To Great Britain In War Predicted By Molotoff

Russian Premier Asserts U. S. "Imperialistic Designs" In This Hemisphere May Broaden War

AUG 2 1940 Hassett Hancock

[By the Associated Press]

Moscow, Aug. 1—"Imperialist designs" in the United States may turn the war into a "world imperialist" struggle, Vyacheslaff M. Molotoff, Premier-Foreign Minister, told the Supreme Soviet today in predicting that England would be assisted by America in fighting Germany and Italy.

His speech was filled with antagonism toward England and the United States and at one point he said he hesitated to dwell on Russian relations with the United States because "there is nothing good that can be said about them."

"Imperialist appetites are growing," he told the parliament, "not only in distant Japan but also in the United States, where there are not a few people who like to conceal their imperialist designs behind well-advertised 'concern' for the interests of the entire 'Western Hemisphere' which these gentlemen are prepared to turn into their property with all its numerous republics and with the colonial possessions of other countries on islands in the neighborhood of the American continent.

"Must Enhance Vigilance"

"All this harbors danger of further extension and fanning of the war and its being turned into a world imperialist war. Under these conditions the Soviet Union must enhance its vigilance in the matter of its external security and in the matter of strengthening all its positions, both at home and abroad."

Germany, Molotoff said, will have the advantage of a "calm feeling of security in the east," thanks to the Russo-German non-aggression pact. Relations with Italy, Germany's ally, also "have lately improved."

But as for America: "There are certain people in the United States who are not pleased with successes of Soviet foreign policy in the Baltic countries, but we are not worried. We can get along without the help of these displeased gentlemen."

Resent Gold Embargo

"However," Molotoff continued, "the fact that authorities in the United States unlawfully placed an embargo on gold which our state bank recently purchased from the banks of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia meets with a most energetic protest on our part.

"In this case we can only remind both the Government of the United States and the Government of Great Britain, which adopted the same procedure, of their responsibility for these illegal acts."

Josef Stalin, secretary-general of the Communist party and dictator of Russia, attended the session in a special booth.

Of the catastrophic defeat of France, Molotoff said it was due not only to military weakness but to the fact that "leading circles in France treated too lightly the role and weight of the Soviet Union in European affairs."

No Russo-Nazi Rift

He ridiculed those who saw in Russia's recent expansion in the Baltic and Danubian regions the seeds of an early conflict between Russia and Germany, or attempted to "intimidate us with the prospect of Germany's growing might." He declared that Russo-German friendship was based "not on fortuitous considerations of a transient nature but on fundamental state interests of both the U. S. S. R. and Germany."

Molotoff conceded that Britain's recent appointment of one of her left-wing politicians, Sir Stafford Cripps, as Ambassador in Moscow seems to "reflect a desire on the part of Britain to improve relations." But he said Britain's previous "hostile acts against the U. S. S. R." made it "difficult to expect that Soviet-British relations would develop favorably."

England, he said, rejected Adolf Hitler's peace appeal because she "does not wish to give up colonies" and prefers to "continue the war for world supremacy." Although her French ally is gone, she has "decided to continue the war relying on the assistance of the United States."

There are also indications of a desire by Japan to improve relations with the Soviet Union, Molotoff said, and in this case an improvement "is feasible."

"However," he added, "it must be admitted that there is still much that is unclean in the program of the new Japanese Government regarding the establishment of a 'new political structure.'

"It is apparent that the southward expansion about which Japanese newspapers are shouting is attracting the attention of leading circles in Japan to an ever greater extent. . . . But the real political aspirations of these circles still are unclear."

While his references to Britain were far from cordial, Molotoff made no prediction of early German victory. He said the "end of the war is not yet in sight," and observed that while Germany has "achieved great successes, she has not yet achieved her principal objective—termination of the war on terms which she considers desirable."

Depends On Finland

Of Russo-Finnish relations, Molotoff said their improvement "depends on Finland herself." He added a warning that these relations would become worse instead of better unless "Finnish ruling circles do not cease their persecution" of elements in Finland working for "good neighborly relations with the U. S. S. R."

About Norway he said "nothing definite" could be stated, and as for Sweden "the particularly important point to be noted is that both our countries are interested in a considerable development of trade and economic relations."

Referring to Rumania's surrender of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina to the Soviet Union, Molotoff expressed gratification that this problem had been peacefully settled and mentioned the "tremendous joy" with which inhabitants of the ceded areas welcomed Soviet rule.

Baltic People Pleased, Too

He described as equally pleased the inhabitants of the Baltic states, whose formal acceptance into the Soviet Union is on the agenda of the present session.

As a result of territory acquired since the beginning of the war in Poland, in Finland, the Baltic states and Rumania, Russia's frontiers have reached the Danube, Molotoff proudly reminded his hearers, and her population has been increased in less than a year by more than 23,000,000.

"The fact that the Soviet frontier now will be shifted to the Baltic coast," he added, "is of first-rate importance for our country. We now shall have the ice-free ports in the Baltic which we so badly need."

Molotoff said Soviet Russia's relations with Turkey remained "essentially unchanged," but pointed out that recent German white-book allegations of a plot to wreck the Batum oil fields "have shed an unpleasant light" on certain Turkish activities, especially certain unauthorized Turkish airplane flights over Batum last April.

Kind Of Plane Obvious

"After publication of the mentioned documents in Germany," he added, "it is obvious what kind of airplane it was."

Molotoff mentioned a similar mysterious airplane flight over the Baku oil fields from the direction of Iran last March, and said:

"The Iran Government deemed it necessary to deny this fact. But in this case, too, the mentioned documents published in the German 'white paper' provide sufficient explanation.

"It must be remarked that repetition of the dispatch of such foreign scouting planes could lead to nothing but complication of our relations with our neighbors. . . . We must intensify our vigilance on these southern Soviet frontiers."

Warning that the status of Finland in the Soviet's good graces is entirely "up to Finland," Molotoff said certain circles there must discontinue their anti-Soviet tendencies or there would be a deterioration of relations.

Britain, he said, is trying to "scare" Russia with the prospect of a clash with Germany, but he declared this was "impossible."

"The basis of German-Soviet relations for both countries is good," he declared.

"No Fortuitous Basis"

"Lately the foreign, and particularly the English, and the Anglophile press has been frequently speculating on the possibility of disagreements between the Soviet Union and Germany, and attempting to intimidate us by the prospect of the growth of Germany's might.

"These attempts have been exposed more than once by ourselves as well as by Germany, and swept aside as worthless. We can only reiterate that in our opinion good neighborly and friendly relations that have been established between the Soviet Union and Germany are not based on fortuitous considerations of a transient nature, but on fundamental states of interests of both the U. S. S. R. and Germany."

AUG 2 1940

Molotoff hailed Rumania's cession of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina to Russia. "As a result the frontiers of the Soviet Union have shifted to the west and reached the Danube, which next to the Volga is the biggest river in Europe and one of the most important commercial routes for a number of European countries," Molotoff said.

Italian "Possibilities"

Relations with Italy, Molotoff continued, "are full of possibilities." The Soviet, he said, is keeping up normal trade relations with Rome. "After consultation, it is possible to achieve mutual understanding with Italy," he added.

He acknowledged that the appointment of the British Leftist leader, Sir Stafford Cripps, as Ambassador to Moscow, "reflects England's desire to improve understanding."

Expects Swedish Pacts

Molotoff disclosed that the Finns had agreed to demilitarization of the Aaland Islands, which control the entrance to the Gulf of Bothnia and the approach to Sweden's eastern coast.

Molotoff said trade agreements were expected to be signed with Sweden. He reported that no real change in the relations with Turkey had taken place.

Molotoff said relations with Germany "wholly remain as laid down in the Soviet-German agreement"—the non-aggression pact which was signed last August.

On Japan's Attitude

"This agreement," he said, "strictly observed by our Government, removed the possibility of friction in Soviet-German relations when Soviet measures were carried out along our western frontier and at the same time it has assured Germany a calm feeling of security in the East."

Molotoff said relations with the free Chinese Republic "are the best," and "there are certain signs that Japan now wants to improve relations. Such improvement is possible, but much is not clear in the new (Japanese) Cabinet's foreign policy."

Taking In Baltic States

The Supreme Soviet was to receive the three Baltic states—Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania—and recent territorial acquisitions from Rumania into the Soviet Union.

The first business was adoption of an agenda for the session, which will last several days.

Josef Stalin attended the session during the adoption of the agenda, sitting beside Molotoff in a special booth.

Incorporation of the Baltic states into the Soviet was regarded merely as a formality. The new Communist Parliaments of the three, in simultaneous sessions July 21, already had voted to join.

Merger Steps Taken

(Baltic dispatches to DNB, the official German news agency, told of steps already being taken to incorporate the three formerly independent states into the Union. Latvia and Estonia ordered all their ships abroad to return to the Russian ports of Murmansk in the Arctic or Vladivostok in the Far East, DNB reported. Lithuanian ships were instructed to return to Lithuania or Latvian ports.

The Supreme Soviet, he continued, "will examine" in this session the question of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia joining the Soviet Union.

"There is not the slightest doubt" that these countries, released from their "ruling bourgeois groups which had pursued a course hostile toward the Soviet, will be assured of "rapid economic development and flourishing national culture" within the family of Soviet republics, M. Molotov said.

Joseph Stalin attended the session during the adoption of the agenda, sitting in a special booth with Mr. Molotov. Andre Andreyeff, secretary of the Central Communist Party Committee and president of the Supreme Soviet, presided.

Comments on France.

Mr. Molotov said that aside from France's "exceptional weakness" in her military establishment, the cause of her collapse was the fact that, "unlike Germany, leading circles in France treated too lightly the role and weight of the Soviet Union in European affairs."

"More than that," he continued, "the ruling circles of France were not connected with their people and, far from relying on the people's support, they feared their people, which is deservedly famed as liberty loving, with glorious revolutionary traditions."

The task of regeneration now facing the French, he declared, cannot be accomplished by "old methods."

Germany, however, has not yet achieved her principal objectives—"termination of the war on terms which she considers desirable."

Recalling Adolf Hitler's "last" peace offer of July 19 to Great Britain, M. Molotov said Britain had rejected the German leader's proposal because she does "not wish to give up the colonies" which she possesses in all parts of the world.

All Well in China.

He said relations with the free Chinese republic "are the best," and "there are certain signs that Japan now wants to improve relations. Such improvement is possible, but much is not clear in the new (Japanese) Cabinet's foreign policy."

Turning to "successful solution" of problems of foreign policy which he said had brought about "considerable expansion of our territory and multiplied the forces of the Soviet Union," M. Molotov hailed Rumania's cession of Bessarabia and Northern Bucovina.

"As a result the frontiers of the Soviet Union have shifted to the west and reached the Danube, which, next to the Volga, is the biggest river in Europe and one of the most important commercial routes for a number of European countries," he said.

Relations with Rumania "should now run in a quite normal channel," he said.

Texts of Day's War Communiques

British

LONDON, Aug. 1—A Ministry of Home Security communiqué early today said:

Enemy aircraft dropped bombs at a few points in the neighborhood of the Thames Estuary and Bristol Channel last night. Some houses were slightly damaged. No casualties have been reported.

A communiqué issued by the Air and Home Security Ministries tonight stated:

A single enemy aircraft flying at a great height crossed the east coast this afternoon and later dropped its bombs on Norwich, causing some damage to industrial premises and a number of civilian casualties, several of which were fatal.

Elsewhere enemy activity has been confined to occasional flights over the English Channel, where two enemy aircraft were shot down by our fighters this evening. One of our fighters has failed to return from patrol.

An Air Ministry communiqué tonight said:

Yesterday R. A. F. aircraft of the bomber command carried out daylight attacks on military objectives in Germany and shipping off the Dutch and German coasts.

In the course of these raids our bombers were engaged by enemy fighters, two of which were shot down. One of our bombers is missing.

Oil refineries in Misburg, near Hanover, and Emmerich, near the Dutch-German frontier, were attacked by our bombers last night. Other aircraft bombed the supply depots at Osnabruck, shipping in the Zuider Zee and enemy airdromes in Holland and Germany. Two of our aircraft were lost.

Yesterday a Sunderland flying boat of the Royal Australian Air Force three times repelled enemy air attacks on the convoy it was escorting.

An aircraft of the Coastal Command engaged in reconnoissance over Norway has failed to return.

Another Air Ministry communiqué said:

Our fighters intercepted and engaged a small force of enemy aircraft which approached the southeast coast yesterday evening. An enemy fighter was shot down. Two of our fighters failed to return from yesterday's patrols.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Royal Air Force communiqué stated:

In the last two days enemy concentrations in the vicinity of Kassala were subjected to intensive bombing raids by R. A. F. aircraft. On July 30 the raids continued from early morning until dusk and yesterday two further attacks were made on military objectives within the target area.

Severe damage was done to troop concentrations and machine-gun and anti-aircraft posts. In all, ten separate raids were made. All our aircraft returned safely.

During a raid on Macaaca direct hits were registered on two hangars, which were followed by large clouds of smoke.

A single enemy bomber, escorted by a large formation of fighters, flew over Malta yesterday. Our fighters immediately engaged the enemy. The bomber turned back, but one of the enemy aircraft was shot down into the sea.

The British at Cairo issued the following communiqué announcing the sinking of two Italian submarines:

On the first occasion an aircraft on patrol duty sighted a submarine on the surface. The pilot immediately attacked, the first salvo of bombs exploding so close to the stern of the submarine that in all probability its screw and hydroplane were damaged.

The submarine attempted to submerge stern first, but the damage evidently was severe, for it manoeuvred clumsily. Meanwhile, the squadron leader in charge of the plane dropped a second salvo when the submarine was at conning-tower depth, scoring direct hits abaft the conning tower.

The submarine now was completely submerged, but the attack continued, the final salvo crashing into the water at the U-boat's estimated position. The aircraft cruised over the spot a considerable length of time while air bubbles rose and a large patch of oil formed.

The other action occurred three days ago, when R. A. F. planes rushed to the attack upon sighting a submarine, dropping two salvos. The first fell fifteen yards astern, but the second hit the target, the conning tower. Nothing more was seen of the submarine, but a patch of oil a half a mile square rapidly formed on the surface, while air bubbles rose for a long time.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Aug. 1 (AP)—The following British communiqué was issued today:

Quiet today. Our bombers carried out a raid on an enemy airdrome at Yavello, the results of which are awaited.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 1 (AP)—The text of today's German High Command communiqué:

Weather conditions seriously hampered air force activity July 31. In the course of armed reconnoissance in the Channel and in the region west of the Scilly Islands singly sailing armed enemy merchant ships were bombarded.

Night raids were conducted with smaller forces directed against ships and facilities in a Southern English port, as well as against enemy searchlight positions. Explosions and fires were observed.

Air fights developed in the evening hours near Dover between British Spitfire pursuit planes and German Messerschmitt chasers. In the course of this action five British pursuit ships and two barrage balloons were shot down without losses.

Of singly flying British bombers entering Norwegian, Danish and Dutch territory in the course of the day, three were shot down.

Bombs dropped by enemy planes in the course of the night of July 31-Aug. 1 in Northwestern Germany caused little property damage.

One enemy plane flying at a great height above the clouds dropped a number of bombs in the center of Hanover, far from any military objective. Several houses were badly damaged and a number of persons killed and injured.

The enemy's total losses yesterday were eight planes. Two of our own planes are missing.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 1 (AP)—The text of today's Italian High Command communiqué:

In an air action July 28 against warships in the Eastern Mediterranean an English destroyer was sunk.

During a reconnoissance flight over Malta one of our chaser formations engaged in a fight with an enemy formation. Two enemy planes were shot down. One of our planes failed to return.

In East Africa our aviation carried out effective actions at Wajeir, where a motor-truck camp was bombed successfully, and at the Buna air field, where three planes on the ground were hit seriously and damaged.

The enemy carried out air bombardment of Kassala, causing light damage.

Windsors Sail for New York Today on American Steamship

Travel as 'Capt. and Mrs. Wood'—British War Craft to Keep Long-distance Watch on the Excalibur.

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, traveling simply as "Captain and Mrs. Wood," were to sail for New York aboard the American Export liner Excalibur at 6 P. M. today (1 P. M., New York time). The ship is due in New York on August 9.

En route to the Bahamas, where the Duke will take over his post as Governor and commander-in-chief, the famous couple will make the trip aboard the 9,359-ton cargo liner with Major Gray Phillips, the Duke's secretary, and his two aids-de-camp, Capt. George Wood and Capt. Vyvyan Drury.

None of their household staff is expected to travel with the Duke and Duchess.

For the man who renounced kingdom and empire for "the woman I love" the trip will be in strange contrast to his previous visits to the United States—in 1919, when he went there as official good-will ambassador and was greeted with one of Broadway's first post-war showers of ticker tape, and in 1924, when, as now, he traveled incognito and, except for a formal visit to President Coolidge, devoted all of his time to making the rounds of gay social functions on Long Island and elsewhere.

American Envoys on Board.

Also sailing on the Excalibur will be William Phillips, United States Ambassador to Rome, who is going home for a brief vacation; Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr., United States Ambassador to Poland; John Cudahy, Ambassador to Belgium, and George Gordon, Minister to the Netherlands. Most of the other passengers will be war refugees of various nationalities.

The Excalibur arrived here several days ago, but it was only on Tuesday that the Windsors decided to sail. Yesterday they went aboard to inspect their accommodations.

The three members of the Duke's staff are all Etonians. Major Phillips, 52 years old, is a former private secretary to the Duke of Sutherland; Capt. Wood, 51, is a big game hunter who once crossed Africa alone on foot from the Congo to Kenya Colony, and Capt. Drury, 48, is a specialist on the Bahamas, who is said to know the conditions of nearly every island in the group the Duke will govern.

In London the press published without comment the statement by Under-Secretary of State Sumner Welles in Washington that it would be a violation of American neutrality law for British warships to convoy the Excalibur.

It was assumed, however, that British warships in the Atlantic would keep a long-distance watch on the Windsors's passage without infringing on American neutrality and would be ready to prevent any enemy coup that might damage the prestige of British sea power.

London papers made front-page news of the Windsors' preparations for departure and of the report attributed to the Duchess's friends in New York that she is to undergo plastic surgery in the United States.

after the Duke arrived to join his Duchess, three dogs and fifty-two pieces of baggage. It is due in New York August 9.

Warships Presumed In Offing

Presumably British warships lurked behind the Excalibur to protect the Duke from seizure by German or Italian raiders.

Lord Selby, British Ambassador to Portugal; Lady Selby, and British Minister Sir Noel Charles also awaited the tardy Duke to wish him well in his new post as Governor of the British Bahamas off the Florida coast.

Sir Noel handed the Duchess two big bunches of roses.

The Windsors' accommodations aboard the small liner consisted of a simple comfortable veranda suite on a deck which has a small hall with six two-bed cabins.

Sewing Machine In Luggage

Crowds who gathered on the dock were surprised to see a sewing machine among the Windsors' luggage.

The couple traveled as "Mr. and Mrs. Windsor," although the reservations originally were made for "Captain and Mrs. Wood."

"Captain and Mrs. Wood" were in fact aboard the ship with the Windsors. The captain is an aide-de-camp to the former King. Two maids, the Duke's valet and a Detective Fletcher, of Scotland Yard, who arrived here a few days ago from England, also were aboard.

The Windsors were given two staterooms and two other near by were occupied by the Woods and the detective. All the cabins are off the veranda, which will be shared as a private dining room.

It is believed the Windsors will spend only a short time in New York before going to Nassau, where the Duke will govern twenty rocky islands with a population of 67,000.

The 46-year-old Duke has not been to the Duke's close friendship with Charles Bedeaux, American efficiency expert.

In Baltimore In 1926-27

The 44-year-old Baltimore-born Duchess has not been in her native land for many years. She was in Baltimore in 1926 and 1927 while awaiting her divorce from her first husband, Commander Earl Winfield Spencer, of the United States Navy.

She went to London and was married to Ernest Simpson, English shipping broker, on July 21, 1928. That marriage ended in divorce October 27, 1936, after which the Duke quit the British throne in December to marry her the following year in France.

Cudahy Remains Behind

Three United States diplomats, William Phillips and Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., Ambassadors to Italy and Poland, respectively, and George Gordon, Minister to the Netherlands, were fellow-travelers with the Windsors.

John Cudahy, Ambassador to Belgium, who was scheduled to sail, changed his plans at the last minute and did not board the Excalibur. His reason was not immediately disclosed.

British authorities especially were perturbed over the Duke's safety because of at least one German raider known to be roaming the Atlantic Ocean. The Nazi ship crippled the 22,209-ton British armed merchant cruiser Alcantara Sunday in a naval battle off the coast of Brazil.

Ship Due Here Aug. 9

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Duchess of Windsor and other passengers aboard the American Export liner Excalibur tapped their collective heels for forty minutes past sailing time tonight while waiting for the Duke of Windsor.

The Excalibur sailed as soon as the Duke arrived to join his Duchess, three dogs and fifty-two pieces of baggage. The ship is due in New York Aug. 9.

Windsor Keeps His Duchess And Ship Waiting At Pier

Excalibur Sails 40 Minutes Late For New York, Presumably Trailed By British Warships

[By the Associated Press]

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 1—The Duchess of Windsor and other passengers aboard the United States-bound American Export liner Excalibur tapped their collective heels for forty minutes past sailing time tonight while waiting for the Duke of Windsor.

The Excalibur sailed at 8.15 P. M. in America since 1924 when he was Prince of Wales and a target for fluttering debutantes.

The Duke and Duchess canceled plans to visit the United States in November, 1937, because of the reaction in labor circles there to the sponsorship of his tour. Labor leaders objected

Urges Struggle Against U. S.

Madrid, Aug. 1 (AP)—The newspaper El Pueblo, organ of the Falangist (Fascist) syndicates, today called upon "Spandiards of all countries to unite" and carry on "the struggle for freedom of Hispanic nations" against the "economic imperialism" of the United States.

30-24-4029

New Spanish Claim On Gibraltar

[By the Associated Press]

Madrid, Aug. 1—The newspaper Arriba, an organ of the dominant Falangist party, declared today "the keys of Gibraltar are in our hands."

Breaking the recent press silence on "Spain's No. 1 territorial claim," the newspaper charged that British "piracy" conquered Gibraltar, and added "two centuries of British intrusion have failed to enervate Spain's recuperative ardor."

Arriba's assertions were based on an article in the French newspaper Gringoire, which said:

"Sir Samuel Hoare, new British Ambassador to Spain, should have brought Spaniards the keys to Gibraltar on his arrival in Madrid as a token of friendship and justice."

Articles Given Prominence

The Gringoire article was displayed prominently in Spanish newspapers today.

"If George VI's nation returns Gibraltar of its own accord, it is because the hour for its rescue is ripe," Arriba said.

The newspaper ABC, meanwhile, offered the first comment on the extension of the British naval blockade, asserting that "England's decision seems too ambitious."

"Behold England against the world," said ABC, which declared the British had been unable to lift Germany's counter-blockade.

"Uneasiness" In U. S.

"Even the United States, which shows such sympathy for England, reveals uneasiness before the attempt that may and does affect her commerce.

"The extension of the blockade outside the orbit of the belligerents is of grave importance; much more if it affects not this and that country, but the entire Continent. It is unbelievable that Britain sufficiently meditated this step."

GEORGE VI AT HULL

King and Queen Talk With Bomb Raid Victims.

LONDON, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—King George and Queen Elizabeth, on a tour of northeast England, talked today with men and women whose homes at Hull were wrecked by Nazi bombers.

The people lined the sidewalk when the royal car came up the narrow street. There was much handshaking.

"How many people were hurt?" asked the King.

"No one, your Majesty," replied a woman. "We were all in our air raid shelters."

"I think you all have had wonderful escapes and you must have been very brave," said the Queen.

U. S. Clerk Accused

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 1—Tyler Kent, former United States Embassy clerk here whose arrest was announced June 1, was formally charged under the Official Secrets Act at the Bow street police station today.

Accused with him was a beautiful Russian woman identified only as Anna Wolkoff.

Kent formerly worked in the United States Embassy at Moscow. The proceedings today were secret, but an official statement afterward said the two had been remanded for seven days.

Dismissed By Embassy

The Home Secretary announced June 1 that Kent was detained as a result of action by United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy. He previously had been dismissed from his position at the embassy.

He was born twenty-nine years ago at Newchang, Manchuria, of American parents. His mother is living in the United States. His father, A. H. P. Kent, is dead.

The former clerk attended St. Alban's school in Washington, Princeton University, the Sorbonne in Paris, the University of Madrid, and George Washington University in Washington before his appointment to the Embassy in Moscow in 1934. He was appointed to the London Embassy last September twelfth.

Embassy officials remained silent about the case, just as they did when the Home Office first announced the arrest "in consequence of action taken by the American Ambassador, cooperating with British authorities."

That announcement then said Kent was dismissed from employment by the American Government and "under observation."

Civilians Fall Back

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 1—Withdrawal of civilians from areas in East Angelia, east and northeast of London, and on the southeastern coast was ordered tonight by the Ministry of Home Security as a measure further to tighten Britain's defenses.

A German plane bombed and machined-gunned a town of southeastern England late today, causing fires and killing several persons. British planes rose to pursue the raider.

Early raids today were concentrated on coastal areas and harbor facilities.

The Ministry said that bombs had been dropped "at a few points" in the neighborhood of the Thames estuary and near Bristol Channel, the west coast waterway on which lie the ports of Bristol and Cardiff.

The communique said there was "slight damage" and no casualties.

Russian Beauty Held In London With Former Clerk Of U. S. Embassy

London, Aug. 1 (AP)—A beautiful Russian dressmaker said to have had family connections with a high officer in the Czarist regime, was arraigned and remanded today with Tyler Kent, ex-former United States Embassy clerk here, on charges under the Official Secrets Act.

The woman, Anna Wolkoff, also was charged under the Defense Act. The specific offenses were not disclosed; the hearing was secret.

The couturiere appeared in Bow Street Court wearing a handsome fur coat. She is understood to have operated a fashionable dress shop in London before the war.

Kent was born in Manchuria of American parents. His father, A. H. P. Kent, is dead; his mother lives in the United States. He attended St. Albans School in Washington and Princeton University.

Queen Praises Modest Heroine

Hull, England, Aug. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Nora Cardwell, who won the Order of the British Empire for single-handedly capturing a downed German airman, confessed to Queen Elizabeth today that "I think I was very foolish but very lucky."

"You were very brave," the Queen told Mrs. Cardwell, who early this month subdued the man with nothing more than a "fierce frown" and marched him off down the road until she met some British soldiers.

Children May Cable Parents—Vice Versa

Separated British Families Given Permission To Send Messages Free Once A Month

London, Aug. 1 (AP)—A free monthly exchange of cable greetings between stay-at-home British parents and their children removed to the dominions under the Government scheme was announced today by Sir Edward Wilshaw, chairman of cable and wireless.

The youngsters may wire their parents one of eight standard texts monthly, such as "Arrived safely, well and happy, writing," and "Now going to school and like it." (There's no provision for those who don't like it.)

Parents may send "Have received your telegram. Glad to know you are safe. Write soon." "Is there anything you specially require?" or six similar replies.

—Or Deaf?

London, Aug. 1 (AP)—British factory workers are becoming accustomed to work right through air raids, the Ministry of Labor said today.

Officials cited the bombing of a factory "somewhere in England" in which not one minute's production was lost, although one end of the factory was hit.

Phlegmatic—

London, Aug. 1 (AP)—The daily expectation of Nazi invasion hasn't dampened the Englishman's interest in horse racing.

A notice published in the Racing Calendar today held out hope for a "moderate amount" of racing during the autumn and winter seasons under both National Hunt Committee and Jockey Club auspices.

Tweeds For Tanks

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 1—Women's fashions have been hitched to war's chariot in Britain's determination to put everything the nation has into the fight against Germany. If the plan works, bonnets will go to America and bring back bombers; tweeds will turn into tanks and Scotch homespuns into weapons for home defense.

A line of wartime wear for women, which the Government hopes to "convert" into American airplanes, was exhibited today at a showing for United States buyers. The idea is to use the dollar proceeds to buy planes, incidentally helping the British clothing industry to profit from the collapse of Paris as a world style center.

320 Models Ready

Today's exhibit included 320 models ready for shipment to the New York World's Fair and other American centers. A sales delegation representing 110 British firms will accompany the models.

The style collection includes a variety of sports and travel coats, three-piece suits and tailored costumes in such distinctively British materials as Scotch homespuns, West of England cloth, Shetland, Orkney and Cumberland tweeds.

Large patch pockets set off many of the travel coats. Some suits have pleated skirts and reversible jackets—plain on one side and plaid on the other.

Sir Cecil Weir, member of the Export Council who opened the show, said British manufacturers were not out to take business away from American firms, but "merely to supply the American public with imports no longer available since the Continent was cut off by the British blockade."

649th Anniversary Celebrated By Swiss

Nation's Leaders Pledge Anew Their Determination To Resist Any Invasion

Bern, Switzerland, Aug. 1 (AP)—By the light of hundreds of fires blazing from Alpine peaks, Swiss residents celebrated tonight their six hundred and forty-ninth anniversary of union and freedom and heard their leaders pledge anew a firm determination to defend the nation against any and all invaders.

Gen. Henri Guisan, commander of the Swiss army, and Dr. Marcel Pilet-Golaz, President of the Swiss Confederation, joined in telling the people the armed forces and the Government would fight "to the end" to maintain Swiss neutrality and independence.

"The war around us is not ended; the armistice is not a peace," both declared. They counseled the people to go about their work as usual, but to remember they might become soldiers on a moment's notice.

Tens of thousands of Switzerland's people joined in the celebration. In the cities where the peak fires were only pinpoints on the horizon, urbanites marched and sang through the streets in torchlight and lantern parades.

A candle or electric light burned in every window, lending a Christmas-in-August note to the festive occasion.

Farmers to Receive Loans

VICHY, France, Aug 1 (AP)—The French Government has set aside 2,000,000,000 francs for loans to farmers in the German-occupied zone to facilitate rapid resumption of farm work.

Petain Regime Shuffles French Diplomatic Corps

Henry-Haye's Assignment To Washington Part Of Sweeping Shift In Officials

Vichy, France, Aug. 1 (AP)—It was disclosed today that the nomination of Gaston Henry-Haye as the new French Ambassador to Washington is but part of a sweeping shift in diplomatic assignments by the Petain Government.

Rene Massigli, Ambassador to Turkey; Adrien Thierry, Ambassador to Rumania, and Ambassador Bruges in Yugoslavia were relieved of their posts for unspecified reasons. Their places were not filled immediately.

Minister Entil in Uruguay was assigned to Portugal.

Jean Paul-Boncour, who left Bordeaux shortly after the armistice was signed to become press counselor of the French Embassy in Washington, was named counselor of the embassy in China instead.

Ambassador Rene Doynel de St. Quentin, whom Henry-Haye is replacing, has not yet been reassigned. Vice-Consul Bibily's appointment to San Francisco has been revoked.

Count And Countess De Chambrun Injured

Former Envoy To Italy Was On Way To Vichy To Head French Red Cross

Vichy, France, Aug. 1 (AP)—The newspaper Le Tempo tonight said Count and Countess Charles Pineton de Chambrun, members of one of France's oldest titled families, were injured Wednesday in an automobile accident near Versailles.

Count de Chambrun, former Ambassador to Italy, was said to have suffered a broken arm and the Countess, the former Princess Murat, a serious cut on the head.

The dispatch said Count de Chambrun was en route to Vichy to begin his work as president of the newly formed French Red Cross.

For correct story on Tyler Kent see 1944 sheet 12462

MORE FRENCH DEMOBILIZED

125,000 Twenty-Year-Olds Organized Into Groups

Vichy, France, Aug. 1 (AP)—Twenty-year-olds called to the colors June 8 and 9 were demobilized by decree today and were organized into "youth groups" for six months of obligation service.

These 125,000 youths joined the army when Germans were descending on Paris.

ROUND-ABOUT WAR NEWS

Grenoble, France, Aug. 1 (AP)—News took roundabout ways to reach newspapers in the unoccupied regions of France following the collapse of resistance.

Le Petit Dauphinois, of Grenoble, leading provincial newspaper of the French Alps, had more foreign news than most other French papers because it was close to Switzerland. Even so, its dispatches began like this:

"Bern—A dispatch from Budapest reports that a Rumanian newspaper hears, according to news from Berlin, that . . ."

or

"Bern—The Swiss radio announces that the Swiss Telegraphic Agency learns from its Rome correspondent that it is reported from Belgrade that an official spokesman told the press that Yugoslavia, which has no obligations toward Rumania regards the situation (the Soviet Bessarabian grab) as an observer."

FRANCE STAYS IN LEAGUE

Vichy, France, Aug. 1 (AP)—France will not resign from the League of Nations, although its attitude toward the League is one of "indifference," a French Foreign Office spokesman said today. "We recognize the value of certain of its technical services," he said. "For this reason France will not resign from the international body."

DIPLOMAT LOSES JOB

Vichy, France, Aug. 1 (AP)—The French Government announced today that its Ambassador to Turkey, Rene Massigli, had been relieved of his post and would not be assigned to a new one immediately.

The reason was not given. Massigli played a prominent part in arranging the Turkish-British-French mutual-assistance accord shortly after the war began.

France Registering Aliens In Paris Area

[By the Associated Press]

Paris (Via Berlin), July 31 (Delayed).—Prefect Achille Villey of Seine Department has ordered a census, starting August 5, of all foreigners living in the department, according to nationality, occupation and length of residence in France.

Reports in neutral diplomatic circles, meanwhile, indicated that many British residents of Paris were being investigated. Whether they would be interned was not indicated.

Germans Replace Tourists

The Prefect also has ordered a complete industrial and commercial census designed to show the percentage of enterprises back in operation under the German occupation, their employment situation and their financial ability to continue or increase production.

Although the typical summer tourists are absent from Paris, German military units have taken their places to some extent, visiting cafes and strolling along the boulevards. German youth groups—boys in leather shorts and girls in brightly colored dirndls—have been visiting the capital.

Diversions Increasing

Diversions for Parisians are increasing as both German and French authorities strive to bring the city back to normal.

Military bands give concerts in all sections of Paris, and sports circles are swinging into action again. The first boxing matches since the occupation were held yesterday as preliminaries to proposed exhibitions between German and Italian fighters. Football clubs are reorganizing, and swimming and cycling groups are training for future events.

Ban On Sunday Driving

Many of the city's swimming pools, reserved for use of German soldiers, have been opened to the general public on Sundays.

New Regulations forbid driving of private automobiles on Sundays, although cars or trucks needed to supply markets, and diplomats' automobiles are allowed to operate.

MANY FRENCH REFUGEES LOSE THEIR ESTATES

2 Rothschilds Among Those Also Ordered Deprived of Citizenship.

ACTIONS ARE HELD HARMFUL

Leaving Country Without Valid Reasons Given as Basis for Confiscation Move.

BERLIN, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—A long list of prominent Frenchmen, reading like pages from France's pre-armistice Who's Who, have been ordered deprived of their citizenship and their properties confiscated, the German radio announced today.

The list, the first since the Petain regime decreed action against those who left France "without valid reasons" between May 10 and June 30, included two members of the internationally known Rothschild family. It was broadcast by the Government station at Vichy and picked up here.

The two Rothschilds were Baron Edouard, head of the French branch of the family's far-flung banking operations, and Baron Maurice, a member of the French Senate.

[Baron Maurice de Rothschild arrived in Montreal this week with a cousin, Baron Robert de Rothschild, the latter's wife and daughter; after having taken temporary refuge in Britain. Baron Edouard, his baroness and their daughter arrived in New York July 10 by Clipper plane.

[Baron Maurice, described by fellow passengers as "nervous and shaken" by his experiences, declined to comment today on the French Government's action.]

Others on List.

Others on the list included some of France's leading industrialists, political leaders and journalists.

Among them were Deputies Harri Mayer of the international banking firm of Lazare Freres, and Edouard Jonas, widely known Paris antique dealer; Louis Rosengart, automobile manufacturer; M. Solenski, one of France's largest hat makers; Raoul Buchard, a leading industrialist; M. Huysman and M. Coen, directors of the Beaux Arts and National Library; M. Levitan, furniture and radio magnate, and Louis Louis-Dreyfus, banker and importer.

Journalists included were Elie J. Bois, publisher of Le Petit Parisien; Madame Genevieve Tabouis, foreign editor of L'Oeuvre; Pierre Lazareff and Joseph Kessel of Paris-Soir; Henri de Kerillis and Andre Geraud.

[Geraud, who writes under the name "Pertinax," and Mme. Tabouis are in the United States.]

"Persons in this list may yet try to explain why they left France between May 10 and June 30 in order to retain their French citizenship and prevent confiscation of their property," the Vichy radio said.

Explanation Doubted.

"It is doubted, however, whether any one of these persons will be able to give a plausible explanation for their leaving. It is stressed, moreover, that all those whose names are mentioned in the provisional list were engaged in activities detrimental to the interests of the French State already prior to May 10.

"The composition of the provisional list appears to confirm rumors prevalent here for some time that drastic measures are to be taken above all against persons of the Jewish race who engaged in activities detrimental to French national interests.

"As a great part of those on the list are of the Jewish race it appears certain their interests in France will be confiscated by the State unless they can prove their interests served only France, which, according to opinion prevalent here, will prove extremely difficult. . . .

"It was found that a majority of French financial undertakings were owned by Jews, and therefore not serving France alone, but international interests.

"It is pointed out here that the property of those on the list will include probate property and all properties belonging to their enterprises themselves, together with equipment, as well as all securities still found in France."

"These people on whom the French people bestowed the highest honors placed their private interests above those of the French nation, thus showing that they were not all Frenchmen," the Vichy broadcast said.

"They supposedly left France on a special mission, but it was strange that most of them took along on this mission not only their families, but also their money and household pets."

Freemasonry

Berlin, Aug. 1 (AP) (Via Radio)—The German radio today quoted Col. Francois de la Rocque, head of the semi-Fascist Croix de Feu organization, as saying freemasonry is expected to be prohibited in all of France.

The announcement took the form of a request for dissolution of freemasonry printed in the newspaper Le Petit Journal, in Vichy.

De la Rocque was quoted as saying that if the problem of freemasonry was not solved, the French Government would be neglecting one of its most important questions and tolerating an evil from which France has suffered.

Berlin Expects Balkans To Settle Quarrels Soon

Nazis Say They're Rebuilding Europe While War Goes On

BERLIN, Aug. 1 (AP).—Watching developments at Bucharest with obvious satisfaction, authorized German sources predicted today that Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary would settle their differences while the European war is still in progress.

This shows, they said, that Germany, at the same time she is fighting the war with England, has the "leisure, courage, time and strength to pursue constructive ideas in southeastern Europe."

Fuehrer Adolph Hitler's ideas for a rearrangement in the southeast, they said, has as its paramount conception a lasting order which would end generations of strife in the Balkans.

Germans Put Dutch Army Dead at 2890

BERLIN, Aug. 1 (A. P. via Radio).—The German wireless reported today from a "competent German quarter" at the Hague that the final casualty list of the Dutch Army in the fighting last May was 2,890 killed, 6,889 wounded, 29 missing.

Just after Holland's capitulation her Foreign Minister, Eelco N. van Kieffens, then a refugee in Paris, declared the Dutch Army had lost 100,000 killed, nearly a quarter of the entire army. Military men at the time thought this figures much too high.

Burnished Eagles Give Goering Individual Tone

His Reichsmarshal Uniform Had To Be Different, and Is

BERLIN, Aug. 1 (AP).—In elevating Hermann Wilhelm Goering to the distinctive post of Reichsmarshal, Fuehrer Adolf Hitler created a problem in uniforming and insignia to set off the No. 2 Nazi from ordinary field marshals.

The suspense of Goering's admirers over the form of his new resplendency was broken today when it was disclosed that on the golden-knotted epaulets of his field marshal's uniform will be a burnished spread eagle clutching the swastika imposed on the crossed gold batons of his former rank of air marshal.

In place of the ordinary field marshal's baton now carried by a dozen other men, the Reichsmarshal will have a super-baton tipped with the Reichsapfel (imperial orb).

Vatican Lauds Youth Groups

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 1 (AP).—"L'Osservatore Romano," the Vatican City newspaper, said today the disbanding of teachers' committees in France and establishment of the ministry of the family and youth was a step "on the way of reform" by the Petain government.

The Vatican organ said the teachers' committees, which were said to have been virtual trade unions, had taken control of education in France and had become "a state within a state" and "professed free thinking from its philosophical premises down to its consequent social and political doctrines."

Commenting on the dissolution of the committees, "L'Osservatore" said: "Catholics who have fought against atheism in the schools cannot fail to appreciate this factual premise as a very significant sign of the reform which will come from it, and are confident of its goodness and efficiency."

All Holy See's Diplomats Now Citizens of Vatican

Italy Consents to Step Taken Because of Her War Role

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 1 (AP).—The Vatican announced today that Vatican citizenship had been conferred on all its diplomatic representatives abroad, including the staffs of nunciatures and Apostolic delegations.

The announcement said this action had been taken with the consent of the Italian government as virtually all Vatican diplomats are Italians.

It was believed intended to clarify the situation of the Holy See's representatives abroad, in view of Italy's status as a belligerent.

Mussolini Visits Aircraft Plant

ROME, Aug. 1 (AP).—Premier Benito Mussolini visited today the Caproni aircraft factory at Predappio, his birthplace, and inspected a new type plane specially designed for stunt flying.

Rome Reports 15 R.A.F. Losses

ROME, Aug. 1 (AP via Radio).—The Rome radio, quoting a report from Tangier, said today that fifteen British airplanes were destroyed in Italian air attacks on the fortress of Gibraltar Tuesday and Wednesday.

Narvik Loss In Millions

[By the Associated Press]

Oslo, Norway, Aug. 1—Damage totaling millions of dollars was done at Narvik, Norwegian Arctic iron ore port, by the struggle between Allied and German forces last spring, a correspondent of the newspaper Aftenposten reports.

"The harbor is a real ship graveyard, with masts and funnels sticking up from the surface everywhere, demanding the greatest care when navigating," the correspondent said.

365 Buildings Ruined

"One hundred and fifty-one buildings valued at $2,000,000 were destroyed in the central part of the city and 214 other structures were so damaged that they must be pulled down.

30.24-4031

"The Lofoten railway, carrying iron ore from Sweden, was damaged to the extent of $5,000,000."

The correspondent said no figures were available for casualties among the 8,000 inhabitants, few of whom were able to leave the city during the fighting.

FRENCH, BRITISH FRIENDLY AT SUEZ

English Afforded Full Facilities By Erstwhile Allies

[By the Associated Press]

Ismailia, Egypt, Aug. 1—From a sandbagged building flying the tricolor of France, the French-controlled Suez Canal management carried on today almost as if nothing had happened in Europe.

Except for a vast reduction in traffic, the canal is operating normally, with the British afforded full facilities by their erstwhile allies.

The canal's immediate activities are directed by the French from a single-story building in this palm-lined oasis bordering the Arabian desert and midway between Port Said and Suez.

Real Control In Fleet

But the British say real control of the the 104.5-mile waterway splitting the land bridge between Africa and Asia lies in the British eastern Mediterranean fleet steaming in ceaseless vigil off its entrance. The canal's directors are twenty-one Frenchmen, ten Englishmen and one Netherlander.

A visit today disclosed a spirit of cordiality among the canal's administrative staff, still practicaly intact despite the war. Some who joined the French army in Syria have returned.

The Egyptian newspaper Alwafd Elmisri has been urging Egypt to take control now to solve "difficulties" facing the French administration because of France's capitulation to Germany.

Let Italians "Come And Get It"

Informed British sources expressed amusement at reports that Italy was asking Germany to turn over to her bonds and shares seized in Paris to give the Rome Government control.

"If the Italians want the canal, let them come and get it," the Britons commented.

The Rome radio quoted a Tangiers report that fifteen British planes were damaged in Italian air raids on Gibraltar.

At Alexandria a lone Italian reconnaissance plane was driven off.

A British communique from Cairo said Italian troop concentrations near Kassala, Sudan post recently captured by the British, had been subjected to ten raids in two days by the Royal Air Force, inflicting "severe damage."

[Associated Press Editor's Note—The Italian high command acknowledged "slight damage" by British attacks at Kassala.]

The British also announced that two Italian submarines had been sunk in air attacks in the Mediterranean last month. The sinkings were not reported heretofore "for strategical reasons."

"Quiet" On Kenya Front.

Nairobi, Kenya Colony, Aug. 1 (AP)—The following British communique was issued today:

"Quiet day. Our bombers carried out a raid on an enemy airdrome at Yavello, the results of which are awaited.

Alexandria Guns in Action.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—A lone Italian reconnaissance plane was driven away from Alexandria by heavy anti-aircraft fire today.

Italy's War

Cairo

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 1—Italian troop concentrations in the vicinity of Kassala, Sudan post recently captured from the British, have been subjected to ten raids in two days by the Royal Air Force, a British communique stated today.

The R. A. F., reported that "severe damage" was done to the concentrations and machine gun and anti-aircraft posts in raids Tuesday and yesterday.

(In Rome, the Italian high command acknowledged that "slight damage" had been done at Kassala.)

Report Two More Subs Sunk

The British air force announced also today the sinking of two Italian submarines by British planes in the Mediterranean last month, adding that the sinking had been unreported until now for strategical reasons.

The air ministry's communique said:

On July 30 the raids (at Kassala) continued from early morning until dusk and yesterday two further attacks were made on military objectives within the target area. In all, ten separate raids were made. All our aircraft returned safely.

"During a raid on Macaaca direct hits were registered on two hangars, which were followed by large clouds of smoke.

"A single enemy bomber, escorted by a large formation of fighters, flew over Malta yesterday. Our fighters immediately engaged the enemy. The bomber turned back but one of the enemy aircraft was shot down into the sea."

The communique described the sinking of the two Italian submarines:

"On the first occasion an aircraft on patrol duty sighted a submarine on the surface. The pilot immediately attacked. A salvo of bombs exploded close to the stern of the submarine. It attempted to submerge, but the damage evidently was severe, for it maneuvered clumsily.

"Meanwhile, the plane dropped a second salvo when the submarine was at conning tower depth, scoring direct hits abaft the conning tower.

Oil Patches On Water

"The submarine now was completely submerged but the attack continued, the final salvo crashing into the water at the U-boat's estimated position. The aircraft cruised over the spot a considerable length of time while air bubbles rose and a large patch of oil formed.

"The other action occurred three days ago when R. A. F. planes rushed to the attack upon sighting a submarine, dropping two salvos. The first fell fifteen yards astern but the second hit the target, the conning tower. Nothing more was seen of the submarine but a patch of oil a half a mile square rapidly formed on the surface while air bubbles rose for a long time."

DOUGLAS HELD AS SPY?

Bucharest, Aug. 1 (AP)—The disappearance of Albrecht Douglas, of New York, German-American chemist missing for two weeks, was partly explained today. The United States Legation announced he was held by Rumanian secret police for nine days, then released, and might again be in custody.

Douglas was suspected of espionage. The legation is investigating.

Douglas, 43, was working on an artificial blood formula of importance in wartime, his friends said.

With his wife, the former German Baroness Maltzahn, who had a Chilean passport, he disappeared July 18. The couple left money, clothing and personal papers at their boarding house.

U. S. Queries Rumania On New Yorker's Arrest

Chemist and Wife Disappeared After Seizure July 18

BUCHAREST, Aug. 1 (AP).—American Minister Franklin Gunther asked Premier Ion Gigurtu today to investigate the arrest of Albrecht Douglas, a German-American chemist from New York, who was conducting artificial blood experiments here.

Douglas and his wife, the former German Baroness Maltzahn, who had a Chilean passport, vanished July 18. Later it was learned Douglas had been arrested by the military police. Believing Douglas was rearrested by civil authorities after the military released him, American Consul William Scotten made a three-hour search of police stations without result.

A native of Hamburg, Douglas changed his name from Sauerman when he became a naturalized American citizen. He came here from Berlin in May and had been working as a chemist in the Contacurzino Institute.

TOKIO OUTLINES NEW JAPANESE FASCIST ORDER

Announces Foreign Policy Aimed at Domination of South Seas.

BUT MOVES NO CLOSER TO AXIS

Hopes to Establish Hegemony Over French Indo-China and Dutch East Indies.

TOKIO, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The Government of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye announced today a plan for a brand new Japanese State, based on a sweeping totalitarianism at home and dedicated to an independent foreign policy which would extend Japan's domination southward over French Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies.

In a statement of policy the Government outlined a strongly centralized and unified State designed for the creation of "a new order for Greater East Asia" founded upon the Yen bloc—Japan and her continental satellites whose currencies are based on the yen.

The statement failed to take Japan any closer to the Rome-Berlin axis despite its aspect of totalitarianism at home. It pulled Japan away from the other Western Powers, however, and called for an extensive rearmament program.

No More Toadyism.

Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka said in an interview that Japan had discarded the policy of trying to win the friendship of "recalcitrant nations."

As for the European war, he said that for the present Japan would maintain a policy of non-involvement.

"We strive to make whatever friends we can under the prevailing environment," he said, "but henceforth we shall not make a vain effort to grasp the hands of those countries which cannot be turned into friends. The Government is through with toadyism."

Includes South Seas.

The Government's statement coined the phrase "Greater East Asia" in naming the sphere which Japan aims to dominate—Previously it had been simply East Asia, meaning Japan, Manchoukuo and the occupied sections of China.

Of this Mr. Matsuoka said:

"Needless to say, the term 'Greater East Asia' includes the South Seas. The final aim is the establishment of a stabilizing force for a self-sufficiency embracing not only Japan, Manchoukuo and China, but also Indo-China and the East Indies."

He said that Japan would try to fulfill her mission "in concert with those friendly Powers which are prepared to co-operate with us."

Sweeping Changes.

The long statement was issued to the people following an agreement between military and Government leaders at a recent liaison conference. Sweeping changes in politics, finance, industry and education are outlined.

"Japan's foreign policy, which aims ultimately at the construction of a new order for Greater East Asia, will be directed at first toward a complete settlement of the China affair and the advancement of the national fortune by taking a far-sighted view of the drastic changes in the international situation and formulating both constructive and flexible measures," the statement said.

To Serve the State.

In sounding the keynote for future living in Japan, it promised to rectify the inequality of present wartime conditions with a view to maintaining "a standard of living which will enable the nation to lead a plain, solid and vigorous life and surmount the national crisis by persevering truly through years of hardship."

"The Government," said the statement, "will strive for the repletion of armaments adequate for the execution of the national policies by taking into consideration the new developments both at home and abroad."

Paralleling this will be the building up of a national structure under which all citizens will be expected to serve the State and all resources under a planned economy will be directed toward strengthening the national defense.

Outline of National Life.

This is the plan of the new State, first envisaged in general terms with no formation of the Konoye Government on July 18:

Politics: Establishment of a new political structure based on service to the State by all persons, regardless of status; renovation of the Diet (parliament) as an organ for assisting the Throne; renovation of the administrative machinery, and reformation of the bureaucracy toward a greater degree of efficiency.

Economy: Establishment of "a sphere of economies with Japan, Manchoukuo and the China group one of the units;" renovation of the foreign trade policy to conform to the new world situation (apparently strengthening barter agreements); "inauguration of a planned economy through cooperation of the Government and the people, and especially the perfection of a unitary control system covering production, distribution and consumption of important commodities." Establishment of a financial scheme reinforcing banking control toward development of the nation's total economic power; expansion of vital industries, especially the chemical, machine and heavy industries; promotion of science and the "rationalization" of production.

Education; A thorough renovation emphasizing service to the State, and the "eradication of all selfish and materialistic thoughts"

While the statement did not mention it, the creation of a single party was believed to be a fundamental part of the plan of the new State.

DUTCH INDIES AND INDO-CHINA EYED BY JAPAN

Konoye Regime Bares Aggressively Expansive Foreign Policy

Plans For "Greater East Asia" Widens Rift With Western Powers

[By the Associated Press]

Tokyo, Aug. 1—An aggressively expansive Japanese foreign policy, which seeks domination not merely in "East Asia" as formerly, but in "Greater East Asia"—including French Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies—was announced to the people today.

The statement, by the regime of Premier-Prince Fumimaro Konoye, did not directly bring Japan closer than it already had been to Germany and Italy, but apparently widened the breach between the empire and other Western powers.

Japan's Intentions Disclosed

It disclosed these intentions:

1. Creation of "a new order for Greater East Asia," with the ultimate aim as explained by Yosuke Matsuoka, Foreign Minister, to be "establishment of a stabilizing force for a self-sufficiency embracing not only Japan, Manchoukuo and China, but also Indo-China and the East Indies."

2. Rearmament at a scale "adequate for execution of the national policies by taking into consideration the new developments both at home and abroad."
3. Construction of a government in which every person must serve the State, with national economy to be planned toward strengthening national defense, and a "unitary control system" set up "covering production, distribution and consumption of important commodities."
4. Chances in the educational system to emphasize "service to the state" and "eradication of all selfish and materialistic thoughts."
5. An end of "toadyism" to other powers, with the explanation: "We strive to make whatever friends we can under the prevailing environment, but henceforth we will not make a vain effort to grasp the hands of those countries which cannot be turned into friends." It was implied by Matsuoka that Britain and the United States were meant.

Follows U. S. Gasoline Ban

The Government's statement followed, by some hours, an assertion by an Admiralty spokesman that President Roosevelt's ban on export of aviation gasoline was directed against Japan, Germany and Italy.

"If America continues on the same lines it is bound to cause repercussions," he said.

Another development was the disclosure through Domei, the official Japanese news agency, that the Japanese Ambassador in London "certainly" would sharply protest Britain's extended blockade of Europe.

This measure, it was stated, would hurt Japan's trade with Spain, Portugal and other neutrals.

respondents against "illegitimate activities."

The American aviation gasoline embargo, he said, was "an attempt to kill two birds with one stone," namely the Rome-Berlin Axis and Japan. "Under whatever pretext the order was issued," he said, "it undoubtedly is designed to exert economic pressure on Japan. If America continues on the same lines it is bound to cause repercussions."

Statement On Embargo

(President Roosevelt signed the order yesterday in "the interest of national defense." Japan, although formerly a good customer for this gasoline, has received practically none since a "moral embargo" was imposed by the United States last year because of the bombing of Chinese civilians. During the first six months of 1940 Germany and Italy likewise bought none, practically all of the export going to Britain and France.)

The Admiralty spokesman declined to discuss the roundup of espionage suspects on the ground that it was still under way.

"It is entirely an internal affair," he said, "and it must be clear to everybody that national secrets during an emergency period must be strictly observed.

"The measures being taken are normal and in accordance with the law of the realm. It would be entirely irrelevant for Britain to take retaliatory measures. Also, it would cause trouble if correspondents should abuse their privileges by going beyond the legitimate bounds."

Protesting To Britain

Japanese Ambassador Shigemitsu in London will "certainly" protest sharply against Britain's new blockade of Europe, Domei declared.

The news agency said Japan would not accept the new measure by which Japan's trade with Spain, Portugal and other neutrals stands to suffer.

Ambassador Shigemitsu has been instructed to seek clarification of the Order in Council, described as "illegal," the agency said.

The chief of the Associated Press Bureau in Tokyo, Relman Morin, was questioned by Japanese gendarmes for several hours last night about his dispatches concerning the death of Melville James Cox, British newspaperman, who died while under arrest in the alleged espionage roundup.

Morin was taken from his office to the gendarmerie headquarters for the questioning, during which time no communication with him was permitted.

U. S. 'Gas' Embargo Brings Tokyo Threat

[By the Associated Press]

Tokyo, Aug. 1—President Roosevelt's ban on the export of aviation gasoline to points outside the Western Hemisphere was interpreted by the Admiralty spokesman today as a move against Japan, Germany and Italy which might lead to "repercussions."

The spokesman also inferentially warned foreign powers against interfering in the current roundup of persons—apparently mostly Britons—suspected of espionage. He said this was entirely an internal affair, and in this connection he warned newspaper cor-

BULLETIN

[By the Associated Press]

Tokyo, Friday, Aug. 2—The "Greater East Asia" seen by the Konoye Government as Japan's sphere of domination "definitely includes other places in the South Seas in addition to the East Indies," Yakichiro Suma, Foreign Office spokesman, said today.

Suma declined, however, to define the exact area referred to by the term, and declined to specify whether it included the Philippine Islands.

SHANGHAI BOMB PLOT FRUSTRATED

Explosive Found in Time in U. S. Newspaper Office.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 1 (A. P.)—A bomb was found today in the press room of the American-owned Shanghai Evening Post and Mercury.

A Russian member of the French Concession Police guarding the newspaper building was reported seen in the press room two hours earlier.

Randall Gould, editor of the newspaper, and C. V. Starr, publisher, are among the American newspaper men whose arrest and deportation have been ordered by Wang Ching-wei, head of the Japanese-supported regime at Nanking.

Earlier today a British coastal steamship, Shanghai-bound from Hongkong, was detained by a Japanese warship when she put in at an anchorage within the zone of the Chinese coast forbidden by Japanese to foreign shipping, but was released three and a half hours later.

Shanghai White Russian Leader Is Assassinated In U. S. Defense Sector

Shanghai, Friday, Aug. 2 (AP)—Charles Metzler, head of the White Russian community here, was assassinated by gunmen this morning in the International Settlement within the American defense sector.

Metzler for some years after the Bolshevics came to power in 1917 handled all Russian affairs in Shanghai as a virtual White Russian consul general.

Recently he had resisted attempts to reorganize the Russian emigrants' committee of which he is chairman into a pro-Japanese body.

Robert W. Service Safe In Canada as a Refugee

Away 28 Years, He Was in Russia When War Started

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, Aug. 1 (AP).—Robert W. Service, sixty-six years old, who wrote "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" and numerous other popular rhymes of the Yukon, returned to Canada today as a war refugee after an absence of twenty-eight years.

He was in Russia when the war started. After many difficulties he reached France, but fled when the Nazis swept down the Coast of Brittany.

Mr. Service, a native of England, said he lost a 40,000-word manuscript of a novel he was writing and left two other completed novels in a safety deposit box in Nice.

AUSTRALIAN GERMANS

Canberra, Australia, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Australian Government ordered the former German colony of New Guinea, now an Australian mandate, included in the commonwealth defense system today.

New Guinea and Papua have been formed into the eighth military district.

Under the League of Nations' mandate, Australia is permitted to take such action "for defense."

Says Submarine Missed Passenger Ship Twice

Canadian Minister Reports Gunner On Collier Thinks His Shots Later Hit U-Boat

Montreal, Aug. 1 (AP) — The Rev. Bruce Taylor, former principal of Queen's University, said today a submarine had fired two torpedoes at the ship on which he was a passenger—and missed.

The attack, he said, occurred June 21, and was directed at the collier in which Dr. Taylor left Cannes two days earlier.

"After the second torpedo our gunner on the stern began to fire," Dr. Taylor said. "He thought his second shot hit the U-boat and he followed it up with two more. Nobody could see if he hit it, but the submarine disappeared."

ALCANTARA AT RIO FOR BATTLE REPAIR

British Ship Moves Slowly After Fighting Raider.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—The heavily gunned British armed merchant cruiser Alcantara, damaged in a running sea fight with a German raider in the South Atlantic, steamed slowly into the harbor here today.

It was reported that the 22,209-ton Alcantara would dock at shipyards on the island of Vianna for repairs.

British warcraft presumably were continuing pursuit of the raider, as indicated in an Admiralty statement in London yesterday.

An embassy statement said the sea battle occurred near the Brazilian island of Trinidade—well within the American neutrality zone—and that both ships were hit, the Alcantara suffering "slight damages." The embassy said the raider mounted eight six-inch guns.

New York shipping circles said the circumstances suggested that the raider was the 10,000-ton Narvik, understood to carry disappearing six-inch guns. The Alcantara mounts ten guns.

ALCANTARA, IN FOR REPAIR, CLAIMS VICTORY

Chief Officer Of Armed British Cruiser Declares Nazi Raider Fled

Ship Puts Into Yard In Brazil Showing Marks After Sea Fight

[By the Associated Press]

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 1—The 22,209-ton British armed merchant cruiser Alcantara put in today at Vianna Island naval shipyard to repair damage suffered in a short but sharp battle with a Nazi raider.

Her chief officer said the engagement was fought outside the American neutrality belt—and not inside as previously reported.

The commander clung to the British claim of victory, asserting that the raider fled rather than close in for combat.

Given Time Extension

Although twenty-four hours is the normal period which a belligerent ship may remain in a neutral port, the Brazilian Government authorized the Alcantara to remain more than forty-eight hours.

She steamed in with seven wounded—two dead having been buried at sea—and with three marks from enemy shells showing—one of her funnels, another near the water line and a third on her hull about fifteen feet above the water line.

But, said her chief officer, Charles Gordon Fellowes, it was only a "lucky" shot into the Alcantara's engine room that enabled the German to make off hidden by a smoke screen.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—The Germans declared that heavy hits on the Alcantara put the armed merchant cruiser to flight and forced her to seek shelter in Rio de Janeiro harbor, while the Nazi raider steamed off to continue her hit-and-run warfare on British shipping.]

Topmasts Sighted

He said the engagement was fought near the Brazilian island of Trinidad.

This is his story:

"A ship's topmasts were sighted in the early forenoon of Sunday, July 28, and the Alcantara altered her course to investigate. The ship first altered her course toward us, but subsequently turned away and made off at a high speed which appeared suspicious.

"The Alcantara increased her speed and was overhauling the ship when, about 2 P. M., she turned to starboard and disclosed her enemy identity, hoisting the Nazi ensign and opening fire.

"Hits Were Scored"

"We immediately returned the fire, and hits were scored.

"Her (the Germans') firing at once became erratic and there also was obvious internal damage done as her speed was considerably reduced.

"Unfortunately, a lucky shot holed the Alcantara's engine room and the enemy made off under cover of a smoke screen.

"The Alcantara was unable to maintain sufficient speed to keep the enemy within range and the raider, evidently not relishing the treatment she had received, did not show a desire to close the range and continue the engagement.

Has Eight 6-Inch Guns

"Apart from the hit in the engine room, the Alcantara's damage was slight. The British casualties were one officer and one seaman killed; two officers and five seamen injured.

The victims, Gordon Fellowes said, had stood near the damaged funnel, and steel splinters rained upon them.

The wounded remained in the ship's hospital.

The Alcantara is armed with eight 6-inch guns—four on each broadside.

As she lay in the naval yards tonight, her officers would not disclose what plans had been made for her departure.

Most Of 81 Are Described As European "Refugees"

Panama, Panama, Aug. 1 (AP)—Leopoldo Arosemena, Panama Minister of the Interior and acting Foreign Minister, said tonight the eighty-one "foreign agents" held in the Canal Zone were mostly European "refugees."

He said authorities picked them up and turned them over to Canal Zone officials when it was found their papers were not in order. They were delivered to Canal Zone authorities because that was their point of entry into Panama, he added.

United States military authorities here said they had not received instructions from Washington on how to dispose of the aliens.

30.24-4033

Reliable sources said the steamship lines held responsible for dropping the refugees here may be required to return them. However, that was held difficult in cases where German, Italian, French and Danish steamers were involved since they no longer operate because of the war.

Held At Quarantine

United States Army intelligence officers disclaimed knowledge that eighty-one foreign agents were being held. They said the only group of foreigners approaching that figure known to be in the Canal Zone were those detained at the immigration quarantine station in Balboa—mostly refugees and some of whom have been there a year or more awaiting permission to enter some American country.

A week ago that group numbered ninety, of whom sixty-eight were Germans. Quarantine officials at that time said they were interned for several reasons—some stowaways, sailors who jumped ship, and aliens whose visas had expired in Panama.

Most Going To South America

Most of them were bound for South American countries only to discover rules permitting their entry into those countries had been changed while they were en route.

The Jewish Welfare Agency in New York has been paying the expenses of many of those refugees while trying to obtain permission for them to enter the United States or other countries.

At various times since June, 1939, when the refugee flow from Europe became heavy, the quarantine station has housed as many as 200, most of whom subsequently obtained permission to enter some country.

New Destroyer Guard Placed At Panama Canal

Cristobal, C. Z., Aug. 1 (AP)—Canal Zone naval officials said today that four United States destroyers had taken posts near the Atlantic and Pacific entrances to the canal to replace ships returned to the United States for overhauling.

The naval district headquarters declined to identify the destroyers now stationed, two at each entrance. They said, however, that the original ships probably would return to the canal after being overhauled. They have been gone for several weeks.

REICH QUERIES ARGENTINA

Objects to Inquiry About Nazis and Seizing of Hitler Pictures

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 1 (AP)—The German Embassy today questioned the propriety of the Argentine Federal police investigation into reported Nazi activities in the northern provinces and was said to have demanded return of swastika flags and pictures of Adolf Hitler seized from German sympathizers.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the German note about the investigation was "more in the nature of expressing a point of view" than a formal protest.

The newspaper Critica reported from the Chaco territory that Gottloff Diertoff, escaped officer of the scuttled German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee, had been arrested. He was said to have been active in Nazi propaganda since he fled from internment in Buenos Aires two months ago.

Reports from Misiones, in the north, indicated new large seizures of cached guns and ammunition by the police.

MANDATE PROBLEM GIVEN TO ROOSEVELT

President Discusses Pan-American Question With Army And Navy Chiefs

Welles Also Attends Parley On Issues Raised By Trusteeships

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 1—Problems which would be posed for the United States if events forced the Pan-American nations to establish a trusteeship over European possessions in this hemisphere were canvassed today by President Roosevelt and army and navy heads.

Sumner Welles, Acting Secretary of State, also attended the conference with Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, and Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.

While they were meeting, another phase of the Administration's program for defense of the Western Hemisphere was advanced a step at the Capitol.

Boost In Bank's Capital

The Senate Banking Committee approved, 8 to 6, the President's proposal to increase the Export-Import Bank's capital by $500,000,000 so it could make loans to assist Latin-American nations in meeting wartime trade problems.

There was no word from the White House conference as to the details of the problems discussed.

Presumably, however, Mr. Roosevelt and his defense advisers were concerned chiefly with the military and naval problems which would be involved in the establishment of a trusteeship over any Western Hemisphere territory threatened with a change of sovereignty from one European nation to another.

Would Have To Be By U. S.

The recent Havana conference provided for the American nations to assume such a trusteeship jointly. Any dispatch of armed forces, however, would have to be by the United States since no other American nation is in a position to take such a step.

The trusteeship proposal was advanced at the Havana meeting by Cordell Hull, Secretary of State. Returning here today, he warmly praised the attitude of the Havana conferees.

The attending diplomats, he said, all exhibited a full sense of the responsibilities, emergencies and problems with which they were faced, and the work accomplished was on a parity with the seriousness of the problems.

The close vote in the Senate committee on the increase in the Export-Import Bank's capital was accepted as an indication that there would be a warm debate in the Senate.

"Unfortunate Difference"

Senator Wagner (Dem., N. Y.), chairman, said there had been "an unfortunate differences of opinion" and that Senator Taft (Rep., Ohio) would file a minority opinion in opposition.

Senator Adams (Dem., Col.) joined Taft and four other Republicans, Frazier of North Dakota, Townsend of Delaware, Danaher of Connecticut and Tobey of New Hampshire, in opposing the bill.

In addition to Wagner, Senators supporting the measure, all Democrats, were Barkley of Kentucky, Bankhead of Alabama, Maloney of Connecticut, Radcliffe of Maryland, Smathers of New Jersey, Miller of Arkansas, and Clark of Idaho.

Colony Parley

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 1 — President Roosevelt called in three of his top military and foreign affairs advisers today for a conference expected to deal with the question of setting up trusteeships over threatened European possessions in this hemisphere.

The White House formally described the discussion as one which would be devoted to "hemispheric defense and national defense." Summoned to the meeting were Sumner Welles, Acting Secretary of State; Admiral Harold R. Stark, naval operations chief, and Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.

The trusteeship plan put forward by Secretary of State Cordell Hull won Pan-American support at the Havana conference this week. In substance it provides for the American nations to set up trusteeships over American territories threatened with a change of sovereignty from one non-American power to another.

Hull and his party of advisers returned from Havana today and the Secretary set to work immediately on clearing up details of the conference. The formal agreement embodying the trusteeship plan eventually will be submitted to the Senate for ratification, Administration officials have said.

Mr. Roosevelt also had a meeting with three persons associated with the Committee to Keep America Out of War by Aiding the Allies. They were Herbert Agar, of the Louisville Courier-Journal; Clark Eichelberger and Ward Cheney. The latter are from Washington. They urged the President to sell World War destroyers to the British and said they got a "non-committal reply."

$500,000,000 Okayed For Hemisphere Fund

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 1—Creation of a $500,000,000 fund, requested by President Roosevelt to assist the Western Hemisphere in meeting economic conditions caused by the war was approved eight to six today by the Senate Banking Committee.

Legislation providing the fund would increase the capital and lending authority of the Government's Export-Import Bank from the present $200,000,000 to $700,000,000.

Chairman Robert F. Wagner (Dem., N. Y.) said there had been an "unfortunate difference of opinion" among committee members over the White House proposal and that Senator Robert A. Taft (Rep., Ohio) would file a minority report in opposition.

Wagner said those who voted for the half-billion-dollar fund were Senators Alben Barkley (Dem., Ky.), John H. Bankhead (Dem., Ala.), Francis T. Maloney (Dem., Conn.), George L. Radcliffe (Dem., Md.), William H. Smathers (Dem., N. J.), John E. Miller (Dem., Ark.), D. Worth Clark (Dem., Idaho) and Wagner.

Opposing the legislation were five Republicans—Senators Taft, of Ohio; Lynn J. Frazier, of North Dakota; John G. Townsend, Jr., of Delaware; John A. Danaher, of Connecticut, and Charles W. Tobey, of New Hampshire—and a single Democrat, Alva B. Adams, of Colorado.

MODIFICATION FAILS TO PLEASE FOES OF DRAFT

Senator Wheeler Says Age Limit of 21-31 Doesn't Alter His Views.

HOUSE GROUP IS FAVORABLE

Stimson's Testimony Believed to Have Bolstered Backers in Lower Chamber.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—Sharp curtailment of military registration plans failed today to win over leading Senate opponents of conscription.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, declared that the action of the Senate Military Committee in voting to limit registration to men between 21 and 31, did not alter his objections to the compulsory training program.

The original Burke-Wadsworth bill called for registration of all men between 18 and 65, with only those between 21 and 31 likely to come under an immediate selective draft.

Senator Wheeler announced, however, that he would not oppose legislation authorizing the President to call out the National Guard and the Officers Reserve Corps for a year's intensive training.

Democratic Leader Barkley decided to take up that bill in the Senate this afternoon. There was every advance indication that it would encounter little opposition.

Get Big Defense Bill.

While Senators were deep in debate over man power, they received from the House a quickly approved bill adding $4,963,151,957 to the vast preparedness fund. The money, asked by President Roosevelt, would begin work on the proposed two-ocean navy, provide 14,394 more army and navy planes and purchase equipment for 2,000,000 soldiers.

Of the total, $2,234,191,957 was in direct appropriations which can be expended during this fiscal year, and the remainder was for contract authorizations.

Passed with little criticism in a listless two-hour session, the bill was one of the largest—if not the largest — appropriation measures ever approved by the House. If the Senate agrees, its enactment will boost defense funds for this session to $10,040,225,543.

The unanimous decision of the Senate Military Committee to narrow the registration age limits was taken in the face of growing congressional opposition to the conscription bill.

Opponents, including Senators Wheeler, Norris, Independent, of Nebraska, Johnson, Democrat, of Colorado, and Vandenberg, Republican, of Michigan, argued that the special training for the National Guard should be sufficient at this time. They also have been advocating greater efforts to obtain voluntary army enlistments.

The Military Committee made a concession on that point by voting to reduce the enlistment period from three years to one year and to make voluntary service available to all men 18 to 35.

There were indications that the House Military Committee would follow the lead of the Senate group in requiring registration only for men from 21 to 31. House advocates of the bill expressed the hope that testimony yesterday by Secretary of War Stimson would quell some of the opposition in that chamber.

TVA Bill Is Signed.

Other defense developments included:

President Roosevelt signed into law yesterday a bill allowing $25,000,000 to increase the TVA's power production capacity. The project is designed to help produce aluminum used in airplanes.

The House voted to repeal authority for the Secretary of the Navy to take over and operate private industrial plants for defense purposes. Representative Vinson, Democrat of Georgia, called the power too broad for peace time.

Representatives of the aviation industry agreed to start expansion for defense contracts without waiting for Congress to decide on excess profits taxes.

Amendments Delay Draft Bill

More Testimony Required on Lee's Proposal Limiting Conscripts to a Million.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (A. P.),—Beset by demands that the Burke-Wadsworth military training bill be further restricted, the Senate Military Committee agreed today to delay a vote on the measure until Monday, and the Senate put over until that day consideration of a bill for calling out the National Guard.

The latest proposed restriction was advocated by Senator Lee, Democrat, of Oklahoma, with the support of Senator Bridges, Republican, of New Hampshire. It would limit to 1,000,000 the number of men past 21 and under 31 who would be conscripted for training.

For consideration of this amendment the committee called War Department officials to appear tomorrow.

A short time later in the Senate, where the National Guard bill had been scheduled for debate today, Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republic leader, announced that he had asked that the measure go over until Monday.

Barkley Agrees to Delay.

Democratic Leader Barkley thereupon disclosed that he had informed Mr. McNary that consideration would be delayed to give all Senators more time to study the bill.

Several of the lawmakers have reported an extraordinarily heavy mail on the subject of compulsory service.

Two 500,000 Drafts.

The limitation, suggested by Senator Lee, Democrat, of Oklahoma, and seconded by Senator Bridges, Republican, of New Hampshire, would give the President specific authority to order conscription next October of 500,000 men.

Another 500,000 men could be called early next year, although the date was not set in a rough draft of the amendment introduced at a closed committee session.

Senator Bridges said that the committee agreed to hear War Department officials on the question tomorrow morning, thus further delaying final committee action on the bill, which had been expected today.

Sections of the bill calling for registration of all males between 21 and 30 years, inclusive, would not be disturbed by the amendment, Senator Bridges said.

Army officers previously had testified that from the 12,000,000 expected to register in this class, about 4,500,000 were expected to be available for training after all exemptions had been granted.

Other actions today included adoption of an amendment, sponsored by Senator Chandler, Democrat, of Kentucky, for exemption of reserve officers' training corps cadets, thus allowing them to complete their educations and obtain reserve officer's commission before being called for active service.

Senator Guffey, Democrat, of Pennsylvania, proposed that divinity students be exempted from the conscription bill's provisions.

BRITISH SHIP SENDS S O S

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—The British steamer Theseus was reported by Mackay Radio today to have sent out a distress signal saying she was being attacked by a submarine off the southwest coast of Ireland. No other details were immediately available.

The Theseus is a 6,527-ton passenger liner owned by the Ocean Steamship Company, Ltd., of Liverpool.

The ship listed her position as latitude 51.48 north, longitude 21.21 west, which would put her 500 miles west of Foynes, Ireland.

The Theseus was last reported at Marseille, France.

Her position indicated that she might be in a convoy bound for Canada, possibly with refugee children.

Roosevelt Urged to Sell Destroyers to Britain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Three members of the Committee to Keep America Out of War by aiding the Allies urged President Roosevelt to sell world war destroyers to the British and said they got a non-committal reply.

Legislation would be required to sell destroyers to Britain.

Those who saw the President were Herbert Agar, of the Louisville Courier Journal, and Clark Eichelberger and Ward Cheney of Washington.

Tells Of 1,500 Germans Imprisoned In Canada

Minneapolis Resident Describes Concentration Camp Heavily Manned By Armed Guards

Minneapolis, Aug. 1 (AP)—Returning today from a Canadian vacation, E. A. Spika, Minneapolis surgical supplies salesman, described today a visit to what he said was a concentration camp housing some 1,500 Germans.

He said the camp was thirteen miles from Nipigon, Ont.

He was ushered through first one high-wire-fence inclosure, Spika said, and then another at the corners of which were towers heavily manned by armed guards. Inside the second inclosure were some 1,50 bedraggled men, some in sailors' uniforms, some in army garb and some in only underclothes.

About one hundred bunkhouses occupied the grounds.

Young Nazi Calmly Describes Dive From British Prison Ship

First Escaped Prisoner Tells Of Swim In St. Lawrence And How He Hid In Canadian Woods Four Days

AUG 2 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Boston, Aug. 1—A slim, blond German machinist's mate calmly related tonight how he wriggled through the porthole of a British prison ship in the St. Lawrence river July 15 and evaded the enemy for four days and five nights until he reached safety in the United States.

Walter Kurt Reich, 23, survivor of a sunken submarine and first German war prisoner known to have escaped to this country, credited his expert swimming ability—he was in the cold water two hours—and knowledge of geography for carrying him to a haven here.

Under international law, a prisoner escaping to a neutral nation becomes free, but Reich has yet to deal with the immigration authorities who regard him as an alien here without a passport or proper visa. He was placed under supervision of the German consulate in Boston, which posted a bond for him.

Four Months In Prison Camp

In an interview at the consulate, Reich told how he spent four months in a British prison camp at Manchester, England, before he was loaded with other German prisoners on a ship bound for Canada.

He could tell by the sun, he said, that the ship's course was westward and he bided his time until "we could see land in the distance."

"Then that night when it was dark, I wriggled through a porthole," he continued. "I did it alone, with no help or connivance. It was a tight fit going through, but I wore only short, thin pants and on my feet sneakers.

Through Head First

"I went through headfirst; that was the worst, for when my head was through, I could not know if some guard was seeing my feet and coming to stop me.

"It was not far to the water, for we were kept always below decks as prisoners. Yat, that water was cold in the St. Lawrence river.

"I think it was about two hours swimming before I reached leand. It was woodland and I quickly hid myself and waited through the day to take my bearing as best I could by the sun."

For four days and five nights, the young German said, he walked with blistered feet and with "nothing to eat but wild strawberries and blackberries."

Found In Farmhouse

Once, while hiding in a farmhouse, he said, the occupants saw him and "I was afraid I would be retaken by the British, because I know only two or three English words."

The family was French, however, and Reich said he answered their questions in the few words he knew and successfully escaped detection.

He said he had walked twenty-five miles inside the United States boundary, when two United States immigration inspectors in an automobile, noticing his ragged clothing, took him into custody.

LONDON, AUG. 1—(AP)—ROYAL AIR FORCE PLANES BOMBED MILITARY OBJECTIVES IN GERMANY AND SHIPPING OFF THE NETHERLANDS AND GERMAN COASTS IN DAYLIGHT ATTACKS YESTERDAY AND ATTACKED OTHER POINTS IN THE GERMAN AND DUTCH INTERIOR DURING THE NIGHT, THE AIR MINISTRY ANNOUNCED TONIGHT.

FOUR BRITISH PLANES WERE LOST IN OPERATIONS OVER GERMANY AND GERMAN-OCCUPIED TERRITORY YESTERDAY, IT SAID.

AUG 2-1940

LONDON, AUG. 1—(AP)—THE BRITISH MAGAZINE AEROPLANE ESTIMATED TODAY GERMANY'S AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION AT 1,500 MACHINES A MONTH AND ADDED THERE REMAINS NOT THE SLIGHTEST DOUBT THE POTENTIAL OUTPUT OF GREAT BRITAIN AND AMERICA IS MUCH IN EXCESS OF THAT."

"ON THAT APPROXIMATE BASIS—1,500 MONTHLY—WE DO KNOW THAT THE RATE OF THE BRITISH AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY HAS BEEN EXPANDED TO A FIGURE IN EXCESS OF ESTIMATED GERMAN PRODUCTION," THE MAGAZINE SAID.

"ON TOP OF THAT, WE HAVE A STEADILY INCREASING FLOW OF AIRPLANES from Canada and the United States.

ED 10:32 AED

30, 2 4- 4035

30.24-4035

LONDON, AUG. 1 (AP)--- HOME SECRETARY SIR JOHN ANDERSON TOLD THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TODAY THAT 192 INTERNED GERMANS AND AUSTRIANS HAD BEEN RELEASED.

AUG 2-1940

LONDON, AUG. 1 (AP).-STOP US IF YOU'VE HEARD THIS ONE BEFORE, BUT.....

IT SEEMS AN ELDERLY PROFESSOR WALKED UP TO THE SOUTHGATE METAL DUMP, WHERE SCRAP IS BEING COLLECTED FOR USE IN MAKING ARMAMENTS. IN ONE HAND HE CARRIED A BUNDLE OF BRASS STAIR RODS. IN THE OTHER WAS AN UMBRELLA.

HE THREW THE UMBRELLA ON THE SCRAP HEAP AND STROLLED AWAY.

A FEW MINUTES LATER HE CAME DASHING BACK, AND SHEEPISHLY SNAPPED THE BRASS RODS FOR THE UMBRELLA.

LONDON, AUG.1-(AP)-MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT WHO LAUGHED OUT OF EXISTENCE INFORMATION MINISTER ALFRED DUFF COOPER'S "SILENT COLUMN" BAN ON RUMORMONGERING, AFTER A FLOOD OF ARRESTS, ARE TURNING AUG 2-1940 NOW AGAINST HIS "SAMPLING" OF PUBLIC OPINION THROUGH AMERICAN-STYLE POLLS.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS, IN A RAGE AT DUFF COOPER'S APPARENT DISREGARD OF THEIR APPEALS FOR MORE FAIRNESS AND EFFICIENCY IN CENSORSHIP OF WAR NEWS, AND BECAUSE OF HIS TENDENCY TOWARD MORE DRASTIC CURBS ON THE PRESS, ARE EGGING ON THE PARLIAMENTARY ATTACK. AUG 2-1940

POLLTAKERS HAVE BEEN DUBBED "COOPER SNOOPERS" BY METROPOLITAN PAPERS WHICH MAKE MUCH OF THE BRITISH CITIZEN'S RIGHT TO PRIVACY.

INFLUENTIAL PROVINCIAL PAPERS, INCLUDING THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN AND THE YORKSHIRE POST--WHICH IS OWNED BY THE FAMILY OF DUFF COOPER'S FRIEND, WAR SECRETARY ANTHONY EDEN, HAVE BEEN MORE SYMPATHETIC TO THE POLLS OF PUBLIC OPINION, WHICH DUFF COOPER CALLS A VALUABLE AID TO GOOD GOVERNMENT IN THE ABSENCE OF ELECTIONS.

THE MINISTRY POSITION, VOICED YESTERDAY BY DUFF COOPER DURING A PRELIMINARY BARRAGE IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS, IS THAT ITS DUTY IS TO KEEP CLOSELY IN TOUCH WITH OPINION REGARDING RATIONING METHODS, AIR RAID PRECAUTIONS AND THE EFFECTS OF RUMORS.

HE SAID THERE HAS BEEN GREAT ADVANCE IN SCIENTIFIC METHODS OF TESTING PUBLIC OPINION AND THAT ONLY 2 PER CENT OF THOSE QUESTIONED SHOWED SIGNS OF RESENTING THE INQUIRY.

OPPONENTS MAY SAY A MORE SERIOUS DANGER THAN RESENTMENT IS THE POSSIBILITY THE POLLS GIVE AN OPENING FOR SPIES AND FIFTH COLUMNISTS POSING AS OFFICIALS. THEY ALSO ASK WHY A GOVERNMENT PLEDGED TO DIE FIGHTING SHOULD BE CONCERNED OVER MOMENTARY MISGIVINGS OF THE MASSES.

AUG 2-1940

THE MORNING PAPERS DESCRIBED AS A "NASTY SNUB" FOR THE MINISTRY THE NOTICE GIVEN BY THE CHIEF CONSTABLE OF DERBY TO HOUSEHOLDERS THAT "NOBODY IN DERBY EXCEPT THOSE OFFICIALLY IDENTIFIED WITH THE POLICE FORCE HAS ANY FORM OF POLICE PERMIT TO ASK ANY QUESTIONS."

A WRITER IN THE DAILY MIRROR BEGAN A CAMPAIGN FOR ELIMINATION OF THE INFORMATION MINISTRY, DECLARING ITS ACTIVITY "FAIRLY SMELLS OF MEN WHO HAVE TO THINK UP SOMETHING, ANYTHING TO DO TO JUSTIFY THEIR EXISTENCE." -GZ-APL THOMPSONS 1149 THRU FOURTH-730AED-

DEPLOYED THEIR TROOPS AND CLEARED THE WAY FOR A "TOTAL DEFENSE."

DISPATCHES FROM BERLIN, QUOTING MILITARY OBSERVERS AS INDICATING GERMANY FOR THE PRESENT WILL RELY UPON INCREASED PRESSURE FROM THE AIR AND SUBMARINE AND TORPEDO BOAT ACTION---RATHER THAN AN "ALL OUT" ASSAULT BY THESE AND LAND ARMIES---GAIN BUT QUESTIONING WELCOME.

THESE STATEMENTS ARE ALONG THE LINE OF THE RECENT PRONOUNCEMENT BY VIRGINIO GAYDA, AUTHORITATIVE ROME EDITOR, THAT A BLITZKRIEG AGAINST ENGLAND IS NOT AT PRESENT "FEASIBLE."

THERE IS LITTLE IN THE DAY'S REPORTS OF GERMAN AIR ACTIVITY TO INDICATE ANY CHANGE FROM THE HARASSMENT THAT HAS BEEN UNDER WAY NOW FOR A MONTH AND A HALF. 5 killed Norwich

THE MINISTRY OF HOME SECURITY ANNOUNCED THAT SEVERAL PERSONS WERE KILLED AND INJURED AND "INDUSTRIAL PREMISES" DAMAGED AT NORWICH, ON THE EAST COAST, BY A SINGLE GERMAN BOMBER.

OTHER REPORTS SAID THE BOMBER DIVED THROUGH CLOUDS, DROPPING BOMBS AND BLASTING WITH MACHINE-GUNS.

THE MINISTRY SAID OTHER AIR ACTIVITY WAS LIMITED TO OCCASIONAL FLIGHTS OVER THE ENGLISH CHANNEL WHERE TWO GERMAN PLANES AND ONE BRITISH FIGHTER WERE LOST.

A11 Adv. London — Aug. 1 xx

THESE WITHDRAWALS IN ADVANCE, RATHER THAN THE CLOGGING OF ROADS WITH REFUGEES WHICH WOULD COME WITH AN ENEMY LANDING, WOULD CLEAR THE WAY FOR BRITAIN'S OWN SWIFT "OFFENSIVE DEFENSE" MOVEMENT OF ARMIES.

DUBIOUS OF ALMOST TOO FRANK STATEMENTS FROM BOTH ENDS OF THE ROME-BERLIN AXIS THAT BLITZ INVASION OF BRITISH SOIL IS NOT IMMEDIATELY CONTEMPLATED, THE BRITISH CHINKED THEIR FORTIFICATIONS,

AUG 2-1940

Adv. London - Aug. 1 xxx was hit

"WORKERS HAVE ASSURED US," SAID LABOR MINISTER ERNEST BEVIN, "THAT THEY WILL NOT LEAVE THEIR POSTS, PROVIDED THEY CAN BE ASSURED THEIR FAMILIES IN NEARBY RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS RECEIVE WARNING IN TIME TO SEEK SHELTER."

30.24-4037

30.24-4037

Add-London Aug. 1 xxx pressure

THESE CIRCLES, HOWEVER, EXPRESSED THE CONVICTION THAT JAPAN WOULD NOT VENTURE INTO "TOTAL WAR" WITH BRITAIN BECAUSE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF THE INVOLVEMENT OF OTHER POWERS--THE UNITED STATES, PERHAPS, OR RUSSIA.

THE NATURE OF FUTURE JAPANESE-BRITISH RELATIONS, IT WAS ADDED, DEPENDED ON WHETHER THE "EXTREMISTS" WITHIN THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT RETAINED THE UPPER HAND.

AUG 2-1940

THE ARREST OF 14 BRITONS IN CONNECTION WITH JAPANESE INVESTIGATIONS OF ALLEGED FOREIGN ESPIONAGE WAS MENTIONED AS AN INSTANCE OF "EXTREMIST" PRESSURE UPON BRITAIN, FOLLOWING UPON HER CONCESSION TO JAPAN ON CLOSING THE BURMA ARMS ROUTE TO CHINA.

GRIFFED

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG. 1 (AP).--JUSTICE SUDDENLY FOUND ITSELF BLOCKED TODAY IN THE UNOCCUPIED PART OF FRANCE WHEN IT WAS DISCOVERED THAT A MAN CONVICTED OF MURDER COULD NOT BE EXECUTED BECAUSE BOTH THE OFFICIAL EXECUTIONER, DEFARGE, AND HIS GUILLOTINE ARE IN PARIS, IN THE GERMAN-OCCUPIED AREA.

AUG 2-1940

"MONSIEUR DE PARIS", AS THE OFFICIAL HIGH WIELDER OF THE GUILLOTINE IS KNOWN, REMAINED IN PARIS WHEN THE SS NAZIS ARRIVED. HE HAS STAYED THERE EVER SINCE, THOUGH NO REPORTS HAVE COME THROUGH OF HIS SERVICES BEING USED.

RATHER THAN ORDER EXECUTION BY AXE, WHICH MIGHT HAVE BEEN CONSIDERED AS A SUBSTITUTE, THE FRENCH MINISTRY OF JUSTICE HAS GRANTED A STAY OF SENTENCE UNTIL SUCH TIME AS IT CAN BE CARRIED OUT PROPERLY.

AUG 2-1940

Add Vichy-Aug. 1 -- xxx farm work

DISTRIBUTION OF THE LOANS WILL BE SUPERVISED BY A NATIONAL COMMITTEE HEADED BY THE SECRETARY-GENERAL FOR AGRICULTURE AND INCLUDING REPRESENTATIVES OF FARMERS AND PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS.

THIS IS THE SECOND GOVERNMENT MOVE TO STIMULATE FOOD PRODUCTION. PREVIOUSLY DEPARTMENTAL DAIRY BOARDS WERE SET UP TO REGULATE PRODUCTION, DISTRIBUTION, SALE AND RETENTION OF RESERVE STOCKS IN THE DAIRY INDUSTRY. A NATIONAL COMMITTEE CO-ORDINATING THESE BOARDS WILL FUNCTION UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE.

-GZ-VICHYS LLOYDS 00930 PW--633AED-

Add Vichy-Aug. 1 -- xxx on Youth

THE YOUTH GROUPS WILL BE UNDER DIRECT CONTROL OF JEAN YBARNEGARAY, MINISTER OF YOUTH AND FAMILY, WHO HAS PROMISED TO BUILD STRONG FRENCHMEN BY ATHLETIC TRAINING, WORK AND "DIRECTED CLEAN LIVING WHILE STILL YOUNG." IT HAS BEEN INDICATED SUCH GROUPS WOULD BE PUT TO WORK HELPING REFUGEES, THEN ON REBUILDING ROADS ANS

AUG 2-1940

BRIDGES.

IT WAS ANNOUNCED ARMY DEMOBILIZATION WOULD GET INTO FULL SWING BETWEEN AUG 3-7 WHEN ALL RESERVISTS 23 YEARS OF AGE WHOSE HOMES ARE IN THE UNOCCUPIED ZONE WOULD BE RELEASED.

ALL HIGH RANKING RESERVE OFFICERS WILL BE DEMOBILIZED SIMULTANEOUSLY, ALONG WITH CAPTAINS OVER 30 AND LIEUTENANTS UNDER 25.

VICHY, FRANCE, AUGUST 1 - (AP) — THE FRENCH RIVIERA, FAMED PLAYGROUND OF THE WORLD'S GAYEST CROWDS, IS UNDERGOING AN ENFORCED REFORM.

WHERE ONCE ANYTHING WENT, BATHERS UNDER NEW DECREES MUST WEAR COMPLETE BATHING SUITS. NO HANDBALL OR OTHER GAMES ARE PERMITTED ON THE SAND, AND BASKING BATHERS MUST POINT THEIR TOES SEDATELY TOWARD THE SEA -- NEVER TOWARD THE BOARDWALK.

ENTERING OR LEAVING THE BEACH, BATHERS MUST BE FULLY CLOTHED; NO BATHROBE COMPROMISE ALLOWED. SINCE THERE ARE NOT ENOUGH BATHHOUSES ON MANY BEACHES DURING THE CROWDED SEASON, MANY BATHERS FIND IT NECESSARY TO DRESS AND UNDRESS ON THE BEACH, OFTEN HIDING BEHIND BEACH PARASOLS OR FELLOW-BATHERS.

NO SHORTS OR OTHER "PROVOCATIVE" COSTUMES ARE PERMITTED ON THE PROMENADES AT NICE, CANNES OR OTHER BOARDWALK AND CAFE-STUDDED SEAFRONTS.

BERN, SWITZERLAND, AUG.1-(AP)-GENERAL HENRI GUISAN PLEDGED THE SWISS ARMY ANEW TODAY TO DEFEND THE PASSAGE OF THE ALPS "TO THE END" IN A BROADCAST ON THE 649TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FIRST OATH OF UNION OF THE SWISS CANTONS.

THE COMMANDER OF THE ARMY WARNED THIS NATION WHICH IS HOLDING STEADFASTLY TO NEUTRALITY AND INDEPENDENCE AMID THE EUROPEAN CONFLICT THAT "THE WAR IS NOT ENDED; THE ARMISTICE IS NOT A PEACE."

HE SPOKE FIRST IN FRENCH AND THEN IN GERMAN.

HE RECALLED THAT ALL SOLDIERS IN THE NATION'S CITIZEN ARMY OF MORE THAN 500,000 WERE SWORN TO DEFEND THE NATION WITH THEIR LIVES WHEN GENERAL MOBILIZATION BEGAN A YEAR AGO.

"WE TOOK THE OATH LIKE OUR FOREFATHERS ON RUTLI PLAINS," HE SAID. "OUR WATCHWORD, OUR PLEDGE, REMAINS THE SAME. WE GUARD THE PASSAGE OF THE ALPS--GUARD THEM TO THE END."

BERN, SWITZERLAND, AUG. 1 (AP).-SWITZERLAND CELEBRATES TODAY WHAT ONE NEUTRAL DIPLOMAT HAS CALLED THE "MIRACLE OF 1940"--THE CONTINUED INDEPENDENCE AND NEUTRALITY OF THIS LITTLE DEMOCRACY AMID A SEA OF WESTERN EUROPEAN BELLIGERENCE AND TOTALITARIANISM.

30.24-4039

30.24-4039

FOR THE REST OF THE WORLD THIS IS THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF GERMANY'S ENTRY INTO THE WORLD WAR WITH HER DECLARATION OF WAR ON RUSSIA.

BUT FOR SWITZERLAND BE IT IS THE 649TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE PACT, SO SWORN TO SECRETLY ON RUTLI MEADOW, WHICH WAS THE BEGINNING OF THE SWISS UNION FOR LIBERTY AND INDEPENDENCE.

THIS YEAR THE NATIONAL HOLIDAY TAKES ON NEW SIGNIFICANCE, ONE OF JOYFUL CELEBRATION THAT SWITZERLAND SO FAR HAS BEEN SPARED INVASION. [illegible] ATTRIBUTE THE FACT SHE HAS ESCAPED THE FATE OF THE NETHERLANDS AND BELGIUM,

TONIGHT, THOUSANDS WILL GLOW MOUNTAIN PEAKS IN THE ALPS AND SEND THE JURA [illegible] TO WATCH FOR THE FIRST FLARE OF LIGHT FROM BONFIRES SET ABLAZE ON HUNDREDS OF PEAKS, AS A [illegible]

AUG 2-1940

AMSTERDAM (VIA BERLIN) AUG. 2-(FRIDAY)-(AP)-A NEW GERMAN ORDER ANNOUNCED TODAY INCREASES TOBACCO TAXES IN THE NETHERLANDS, EFFECTIVE SEPT. 15.

THE TAX ON CIGARS IS INCREASED BY 7 1/2 PER CENT, ON CIGARETS BY FROM 5 TO 55 PER CENT, AND ON PIPE TOBACCO AND SNUFF BY FROM 7 1/2 TO 30 PER CENT.

AMSTERDAM (VIA BERLIN) AUG. 1-(AP)- THE DUTCH WERE GIVEN WARNING TODAY NOT TO DEMONSTRATE IN FAVOR OF THE DUTCH ROYAL FAMILY WHEN THEY CELEBRATE THEIR MEMORIAL DAY NEXT WEEK.

ANY SUCH DEMONSTRATION, AN OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT SAID, WOULD BE CONSTRUED AS A DEMONSTRATION AGAINST GERMAN OCCUPATION AND WOULD BE PROSECUTED SEVERELY.

AUG 2-1940

THERE WAS A SIMILAR WARNING ISSUED LAST FRIDAY, WHEN IT WAS POINTED OUT THAT THE QUEEN AND OTHER MEMBERS OF HER FAMILY ARE STUBBORNLY CONTINUING THE WAR AGAINST GERMANY.

HENIZ BERLIN 11740-JF 1247P

WINDSORS

AUG 2-1940

LISBON, AUG. 1-(AP)-MANY AMERICANS CROWDED THE DOCK TODAY FOR A GLIMPSE OF THE DUCHESS OF WINDSOR AS SHE BOARDED SHIP ENROUTE TO THE DUKE'S NEW POST AS GOVERNOR OF THE BAHAMAS.

BUT SHE PASSED THEM ALMOST UNNOTICED, HATLESS, WEARING A LIGHT BLUE LINEN SUMMER FROCK AND WITH DARK SUN GLASSES.

THE DUKE, GOING ABOARD LATER, WAS EASIER TO RECOGNIZE. HE WORE A GREY PIN-STRIPED SUIT AND STRAW HAT AND WAVED TO THE CROWD FROM THE GANGWAY OF THE AMERICAN EXPORT LINER EXCALIBUR.

BERLIN, AUG. 1-(AP VIA RADIO)-THE GERMAN RADIO TODAY QUOTED COL. FRANCOIS DE LA ROCQUE, HEAD OF THE SEMI-FASCIST CROIX DE FEU ORGANIZATION, AS SAYING FREEMASONRY BE EXPECTED TO BE PROHIBITED IN ALL OF FRANCE.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT TOOK THE FORM OF A REQUEST FOR DISSOLUTION OF FREEMASONRY PRINTED IN THE NEWSPAPER LE PETIT JOURNAL, IN VICHY, FRANCE.

DE LA ROCQUE WAS QUOTED AS SAYING THAT IF THE PROBLEM OF FREEMASONRY WAS NOT SOLVED, THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT WOULD BE NEGLECTING ONE OF ITS MOST IMPORTANT QUESTIONS AND TOLERATING AN EVIL FROM WHICH FRANCE HAS SUFFERED.

AUG 2-1940

ED102AED

BERLIN, AUG. 1-(AP)-DNB, GERMAN OFFICIAL NEWS AGENCY, SAID TODAY THAT A GERMAN AUXILIARY CRUISER IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC DAMAGED AND PUT TO FLIGHT THE ARMED BRITISH MERCHANT CRUISER ALCANTARA AND IS CONTINUING ITS WARFARE ON BRITISH TRADE.

THE GERMAN RAIDER SCORED HEAVY HITS ON THE ALCANTARA, SAID DNB, FORCING IT TO SEEK THE SHELTER OF NEUTRAL RIO DE JANEIRO HARBOR.

BERLIN, AUG. 1-(AP)-DNB, GERMAN OFFICIAL NEWS AGENCY, IN ITS ACCOUNT OF A SEA FIGHT IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC, ASSERTED TODAY THAT A GERMAN AUXILIARY CRUISER HAD FORCED THE BRITISH AUXILIARY CRUISER ALCANTARA TO SEEK THE SHELTER OF RIO DE JANEIRO HARBOR AFTER A SHORT FIGHT. (THE BRITISH VERSION, PUBLISHED YESTERDAY, WAS THAT THE GERMAN VESSEL FLED.)

AUG 2-1940

WE129PED

BERLIN - 1ST ADD FIRST LEAD ALCANTARA X X X HARBOR.

(THE BRITISH ADMIRALTY SAID THE GERMAN VESSEL FLED AFTER "A LUCKY SHOT" REDUCED THE SPEED OF THE ALCANTARA, WHICH MOUNTS TEN GUNS.)

(TODAY THE ALCANTARA ENTERED RIO DE JANEIRO HARBOR FOR REPAIRS.)

(NO PICKUP)

AUG 2-1940

BE135PED

BERLIN, AUG. 1-(AP)-DNB, OFFICIAL GERMAN NEWS AGENCY, REPORTED TODAY IN A DISPATCH FROM KAUNAS THAT ALL LITHUANIAN SHIPS IN FOREIGN WATERS HAVE BEEN ORDERED TO RETURN DIRECTLY TO THE LITHUANIAN [illegible] OR THE LATVIAN PORT OF LIEPAJA WITHOUT ENTERING ANY FOREIGN PORT.

THE DISPATCH SAID THAT [illegible] RELATIVES OF SAILORS WHO DISOBEY THE ORDER [illegible] WOULD BE ARRESTED.

DNB REPORTED LAST NIGHT FROM TALLINN THAT THE ESTONIAN ECONOMICS MINISTRY HAD ORDERED ESTONIAN SHIPS EN ROUTE TO THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA TO TURN ABOUT AND GO TO THE RUSSIAN ARCTIC PORT OF MURMANSK. ESTONIAN SHIPS IN THE PACIFIC WERE DIRECTED TO VLADIVOSTOK, RUSSIAN FAR EASTERN PORT. ALL WERE ORDERED TO RAISE THE RUSSIAN FLAG.

(THE BALTIC NATIONS--ESTONIA, LATVIA AND LITHUANIA--HAVE ELECTED COMMUNIST GOVERNMENTS COMMITTED TO REUNION WITH RUSSIA.)

30.24-4041

30.24-4041

MOSCOW, AUG.1-(AP)-THE SUPREME SOVIET, RUSSIA'S PARLIAMENT, GATHERED TODAY FOR A SESSION AT WHICH ADMISSION OF THE BALTIC STATES--ESTONIA, LATVIA AND LITHUANIA--INTO THE SOVIET UNION WAS A PRINCIPAL ITEM OF BUSINESS.

THE SESSION, WHICH IS TO LAST SEVERAL DAYS, IS EXPECTED TO HEAR PREMIER-FOREIGN COMMISSAR VYACHESLAFF MOLOTOFF REVIEW RUSSIAN FOREIGN POLICY.

AUG 2-1940

ONE HOUSE, THE SOVIET OF THE UNION, WAS CALLED FOR 2 P.M. (6 A.M. EST); THE OTHER, THE SOVIET OF NATIONALITIES, FOR 4 P.M. (8 A.M. EST) TODAY.

THE BALTIC STATES, WHICH FELL UNDER SOVIET MILITARY DOMINATION LAST YEAR, RECENTLY ELECTED COMMUNIST GOVERNMENTS COMMITTED TO UNION WITH RUSSIA. THEY WERE PART OF TSARIST RUSSIA BEFORE THE WORLD WAR.

(A DISPATCH FROM TALLINN, ESTONIA, TO DNB, OFFICIAL GERMAN NEWS AGENCY, SAID THE ESTONIAN ECONOMICS MINISTRY HAD ORDERED ESTONIAN SHIPS EN ROUTE TO THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA TO TURN ABOUT AND GO TO THE RUSSIAN ARCTIC PORT OF MURMANSK. ESTONIAN SHIPS IN THE PACIFIC WERE DIRECTED TO VALDIVOSTOK, RUSSIAN FAR EASTERN PORT. ALL WERE ORDERED TO RAISE THE RUSSIAN FLAG.)

-GZ-TASS--NEW NITE--450AED-

AUG 2-1940

TOKYO, AUG.1-(THURSDAY)-(AP)-THE SPOKESMAN FOR THE JAPANESE ADMIRALTY TODAY DESCRIBED PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S BAN ON EXPORT OF AVIATION GASOLINE FROM THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE AS AN ACT DIRECTED AGAINST JAPAN AND THE ROME-BERLIN AXIS.

FH110AED

BULLETIN MATTER

AUG 2-1940

TOKYO--FIRST ADD ADMIRALTY SPOKESMAN XXX AXIS.

THE SPOKESMAN SAID THE GASOLINE ORDER WAS AN ATTEMPT TO "KILL TWO BIRDS WITH ONE STONE"--NAMELY THE AXIS AND JAPAN.

"UNDER WHATEVER PRETEXT THE ORDER ON AVIATION GASOLINE WAS ISSUED," SAID THE SPOKESMAN, "IT UNDOUBTEDLY IS DESIGNED TO EXERT ECONOMIC PRESSURE ON JAPAN.

"IF AMERICA CONTINUES ON THE SAME LINES IT IS BOUND TO CAUSE REPERCUSSIONS."

FH115AED

TOKYO, AUG. 1-(AP VIA RADIO)-JAPANESE AMBASSADOR MAMORU SHIGEMITSU IN LONDON WILL "CERTAINLY" PROTEST SHARPLY AGAINST BRITAIN'S NEW BLOCKADE OF EUROPE, DOMEI, JAPANESE NEWS AGENCY, DECLARED TODAY.

AUG 2-1940

THE AGENCY SAID JAPAN WOULD NOT ACCEPT THE NEW MEASURE BY WHICH JAPAN'S TRADE WITH SPAIN, PORTUGAL AND OTHER NEUTRALS STANDS TO SUFFER.

AMBASSADOR SHIGEMITSU HAS BEEN INSTRUCTED TO SEEK CLARIFICATION OF THE NEW ORDER IN COUNCIL, DESCRIBED AS "ILLEGAL," THE AGENCY SAID.

AUG 2-1940

N9O9AED

HONGKONG, AUG. 1-(AP)-THREE AMERICANS WHO SET OUT FOR CALIFORNIA JUNE 22 IN A 40-TON SAILING VESSEL CAME BACK TO HONGKONG TODAY, FREED AFTER A TWO-WEEK DETENTION BY JAPANESE AUTHORITIES AT FORMOSA BUT WITHOUT THEIR BOAT.

THE AMERICANS--JOSEPH G. [illegible], HIS WIFE CYNTHIA AND HER BROTHER, MORGAN PATTERSON JR., ALL OF SAN FRANCISCO--WERE TAKEN INTO CUSTODY PENDING AN INVESTIGATION AND THEIR YACHT CHIAO WAS CONFISCATED WHEN A STORM DROVE THEM INTO THE FORMOSA FORTIFIED ZONE.

ARRIVING HERE ABOARD A JAPANESE STEAMER, THEY SAID THE JAPANESE INDICATED WILLINGNESS TO RELEASE THEIR BOAT EVENTUALLY. THEY SAID THEY HAD NO COMPLAINTS AGAINST THEIR TREATMENT. THEIR RELEASE FOLLOWED NEGOTIATIONS BY THE UNITED STATES EMBASSY IN TOKYO.

J1O9AED

AUG 2-1940

OTTAWA, AUG. 1-(AP)-THE FIRST FLEET OF LOADED WITH FISH

10 TO 15 FRENCH TRAWLERS ARE ENROUTE TO MARTINIQUE AND OTHER WEST INDIES POINTS FROM THE ISLANDS OF ST. PIERRE AND MIQUELON, OFF NEWFOUNDLAND, IT WAS LEARNED AUTHORITATIVELY TODAY.

CP3O -EDB-134P

AUG 2-1940

MONTREAL, AUG. 1-(CANADIAN PRESS)-A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION, TO SAY THE LEAST, HAS RISEN BETWEEN THE RANEE OF SARAWAK AND LORD MARLEY OVER THE CHOICE OF BRITISH CHILD REFUGEES.

EARLY THIS WEEK AN INTERVIEWER QUOTED THE RANEE AS SAYING THAT "NICE YOUNGSTERS AND ROTTEN YOUNGSTERS" WERE MIXED.

THIS MORNING, SHORTLY AFTER ARRIVAL IN MONTREAL, LORD MARLEY, BRITISH LABOR PEER AND VICE CHAIRMAN OF THE PARLIAMENTARY REFUGEE COMMITTEE, DROPPED HIS BREAKFAST KNIFE AND FORK TO EXCLAIM:

"SHE HAS NO RIGHT TO SAY THAT. IT IS COMPLETELY, ABSOLUTELY AND UTTERLY UNTRUE. THE CHILDREN ARE MOST CAREFULLY SELECTED."

MEANWHILE, THE RANEE, WIFE OF SIR RICHARD VINER BROOKE, THE "WHITE RAJAH OF SARAWAK," A STATE IN BORNEO, LEFT MONTREAL, APPARENTLY FOR THE "GOOD WILL" VISIT TO THE UNITED STATES WHICH SHE HAD BEEN PLANNING.

"WOMEN OF ENGLAND ARE FAKING NAMES OF RELATIVES IN CANADA JUST SO THEY CAN GET RID OF THEIR CHILDREN," SHE SAID BEFORE DEPARTURE.

"IT'S A SHAMEFUL SITUATION--I'M GOING TO SEE MRS. ROOSEVELT ABOUT IT."

FW725PED

AUG 2-1940

RIO DE JANEIRO, AUG. 1-(AP)-THE HEAVILY GUNNED BRITISH ARMED MERCHANT CRUISER ALCANTARA, DAMAGED IN A RUNNING SEA FIGHT WITH A GERMAN RAIDER IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC, STEAMED SLOWLY INTO THE HARBOR HERE AT MID-MORNING.

AUG 2-1940

IT WAS REPORTED THAT THE 22,209-TON ALCANTARA WOULD DOCK AT SHIPYARDS ON THE ISLAND OF VIANNA FOR REPAIRS.

BRITISH WARCRAFT X X X ETC. PICKING UP FOURTH GRAF PVS.

N1OO9AED

30.24-4043

30.24-4043

THE ALCANTARA WAS HEAVILY CAMOUFLAGED.

FROM THE SHORE ONLY ONE OF HER TWO NORMAL FUNNELS WAS VISIBLE. SHE MOVED AT ONCE TOWARD THE VIANNA ISLAND SHIPYARDS.

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS IS THE NORMA PERIO WHICH A SHI

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS IS THE NORMAL PERIOD WHICH A SHIP OF A BELLIGERENT NATION IS PERMITTED TO REMAIN IN A NEUTRAL PORT. EXTENSIONS MAY BE GRANTED UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES, SUCH AS WHEN REPAIRS ARE NECESSARY TO MAKE HER SEAWORTHY.

AUG 2-1940

A BRAZILIAN NAVY SPOKESMAN INDICATED LAST NIGHT THE ALCANTARA MIGHT HAVE DELAYED HER ARRIVAL TO FACILITATE PREPARATIONS FOR QUICK REPAIR WORK.

BRITISH WARCRAFT X X X ETC. AGAIN PICKING UP FOURTH GRAF PVS.

MOSDAED

CHIEF OFFICER CHARLES GORDON-FELLOWES SAID THE FIGHT WAS OUTSIDE THE NEUTRALITY ZONE ESTABLISHED BY THE AMERICAN REPUBLICS, WHICH EXTENDS 300 MILES FROM SHORE.

THE ALCANTARA, A VESSEL OF 22,209 TONS, WAS TO BE REPAIRED AT SHIPYARDS ON THE ISLAND OF VIANNA.

BRITISH WARCRAFT, ETC., PICKING UP AS BEFORE AND ELIMINATING 2ND GRAF FIRST LEAD STARTING "IT WAS REPORTED," ETC., AND ENDING "X X X FOR REPAIRS."

ADDED

RIO DE JANEIRO - AUG. 1- THE CHIEF OFFICER OF THE

ARMED BRITISH MERCHANT CRUISER ALCANTARA, DESCRIBING [redacted]

AUG 9-1940

BETWEEN HIS VESSEL AND A GERMAN COMMERCE RAIDER, SAID TODAY

THE OTHER SHIP WAS BEING SLOWLY OVERTAKEN WHEN IT SUDDENLY HOISTED

THE NAZI ENSIGN AND OPENED FIRE.

THE [redacted] ALCANTARA, DAMAGED IN THE RUNNING FIGHT

IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC, STEAMED SLOWLY INTO THE HARBOR HERE AT MID-MORNING.

AUG 2-1940

9 THE ENEMY RAIDER, ACCORDING TO THE CHIEF OFFICER, CHARLES

FELLOWES

GORDON, SHOWED NO INCLINATION TO COME TO CLOSE QUARTERS WITH

THE 22,209-TON ALCANTARA.

THE BATTLE, HE SAID, TOOK PLACE OUTSIDE THE NEUTRALITY BELT

WHICH RUNS 300 MILES EAST OF THE ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC SHORES OF

THE SOUTH AMERICAN REPUBLICS.

[redacted]

9 FELLOWES THUS HE CLEARED UP A POINT WHICH HAD BEEN MADE SINCE NEWS OF

AUG 2-1940 IN QUESTION

THE ENGAGEMENT FIRST BECAME KNOWN YESTERDAY IN DISPATCHES FROM

LONDON. THE BATTLE, HE SAID, TOOK PLACE NEAR THE BRAZILIAN ISLAND

OF TRINDADE, AND THE FIRST IMPRESSION HERE WAS THAT IT HAD TAKEN

ALCANTARA'S DAMAGE WAS SLIGHT. THE BRITISH CASUALITIES WERE ONE OFFICER AND ONE SEAMAN KILLED; TWO OFFICERS AND FIVE SEAMEN INJURED."

OF THESE CASUALTIES THOSE IMMEDIATELY IDENTIFIED WERE:

DEAD-- LIEUT. W.O. ICKERSILL AND SEAMAN COGGAN;

WOUNDED-- LIEUT. BOLLAND AND PAYMASTER BENTLEY.

THE MEN HIT, GORDON FELLOWES SAID, HAD STOOD NEAR THE FUNNEL WHEN THE NAZI SCORED A HIT THERE, AND STEEL SPLINTERS RAINED UPON THEM.

THE WOUNDED REMAINED ABOARD THE SHIP'S HOSPITAL, WHICH WAS EQUIPPED WITH 16 BEDS.

BUENOS AIRES, AUG. 1-(AP)-ARGENTINA AND BRAZIL ARE PLANNING A CONFERENCE ON EXCHANGE OF EXPORTABLE SURPLUS PRODUCTS IN THE FIRST STEP TO ACT ON ECONOMIC AGREEMENTS AT THE CONFERENCE OF HAVANA.

ARGENTINE FOREIGN MINISTRY OFFICIALS, DECLARING THE EXPROBLEM OF FINDING MARKETS FOR THE SURPLUSES OF THE TWO NATIONS IS URGENT, SAID THE MEETING EXPROBABLY WOULD BE HELD IN RIO DE JANEIRO IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

THEY SAID ARGENTINA COULD ABSORB BRAZIL SURPLUS COTTON FIBER AND TEXTILES FROM BRAZIL WHILE PLACING IN THE BRAZILIAN MARKET OTHER TEXTILES, CERTAIN KINDS OF MEAT AND PERHAPS CORN.

BOTH NATIONS HAVE LOST IMPORTANT WESTERN EUROPEAN MARKETS BECAUSE OF THE EUROPEAN WAR.

-GZ-BAIRES 2000 THRU THIRD-AQ---535AED-

Add Buenos Aires — Aug — 1

A FOREIGN OFFICE SPOKESMAN SAID THE GERMAN NOTE ABOUT THE INVESTIGATION WAS "MORE IN THE NATURE OF EXPRESSING A POINT OF VIEW" THAN A FORMAL PROTEST.

CRITICA SAID THE GENDARMES, WITH THE COOPERATION OF PARAGUAYAN OFFICIALS, UNCOVERED LARGE HIDDEN SUPPLIES OF MACHINE-GUNS AND RIFLES NEAR THE BORDER AND WERE CONCENTRATING ON AN EFFORT TO HALT ARMS SMUGGLING ACROSS THE FRONTIER.

FW1011PED

30.24-4045

30.24-4045

TIJUANA, MEX., AUG.1-(AP)-FILLING STATION OPERATORS SAID TODAY THIS BORDER COMMUNITY FACED A POSSIBLE MOTOR FUEL SHORTAGE AT THE HEIGHT OF ITS TOURIST SEASON BECAUSE OF THE UNITED STATES EMBARGO ON EXPORT OF AVIATION GASOLINE.

TWENTY LARGE AND FIVE SMALL TRUCKS MOVED ACROSS THE BORDER JUST BEFORE THE MIDNIGHT DEADLINE, CARRYING SUFFICIENT GASOLINE FOR POSSIBLY 10 DAYS, CARLOS FUNCKE, MAJOR STATION OPERATOR, REPORTED.

FUNCKE AND OTHER DEALERS SAID THEY WERE COMMUNICATING WITH MEXICO CITY TO DETERMINE WHETHER GASOLINE PRODUCED IN MEXICO WOULD BE AVAILABLE TO BAJA CALIFORNIA IN AN EMERGENCY.

ALTHOUGH MEXICO HAS AN OIL SURPLUS THE PRODUCING SECTION IS SO REMOTE FROM TIJUANA IT HAS BEEN CHEAPER TO OBTAIN PETROLEUM PRODUCTS FROM SAN DIEGO THAN TO SHIP IT FROM MEXICAN FIELDS.

FR738PCS

AUG 2-1940

CRISTOBAL, CANAL ZONE, AUG. 1-(AP)-CANAL ZONE NAVAL OFFICIALS SAID TODAY THAT FOUR UNITED STATES DESTROYERS HAD TAKEN POSTS NEAR THE ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC ENTRANCES TO THE CANAL TO REPLACE SHIPS RETURNED TO THE UNITED STATES FOR OVERHAULING.

THE NAVAL DISTRICT HEADQUARTERS DECLINED TO IDENTIFY THE DESTROYERS NOW STATIONED, TWO AT EACH ENTRANCE. THEY SAID, HOWEVER, THAT THE ORIGINAL SHIPS PROBABLY WOULD RETURN TO THE CANAL AFTER BEING OVERHAULED. THEY HAVE BEEN GONE FOR SEVERAL WEEKS.

FW807PED

WASHINGTON,AUG 1-(AP)-THE AMERICAN RED CROSS TONIGHT ANNOUNCED A PLAN WHEREBY INDIVIDUAL PACKAGES MAY BE SENT PRISONERS OF WAR IN ANY BELLIGERENT NATION BY THEIR AMERICAN RELATIVES OR FRIENDS.

THE PACKAGES WILL BE CARRIED POSTAGE FREE BY THE U.S.POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT IN AN ARRANGEMENT WORKED OUT UNDER THE TREATY OF GENEVA.

AUG 2-1940

AMERICANS MAY SEND PACKAGES ONLY IF THEY HAVE DETAILED KNOWLEDGE OF THE LOCATION OF THE PRISONER. THE PACKAGES MUST NOT EXCEED 11 POUNDS AND MAY CONTAIN ONLY FOOD, CLOTHING, GAMES, MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, BOOKS, SOAP, TOWELS AND TOOTH BRUSHES.

55PESNM

WASHINGTON,AUG 1-(AP)-PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ASKED CONGRESS TODAY TO MAKE AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY $125,000 TO BE USED BY THE CHILDREN'S BUREAU IN ESTABLISHING AND MAINTAINING STANDARDS FOR CARE OF EUROPEAN REFUGEE CHILDREN.

AUG 2

"THE COMING INTO THE UNITED STATES UNDER VISITOR OR IMMIGRATION VISA OF GREAT NUMBERS OF CHILDREN FROM EUROPE IS IMPOSING ON THE CHILDREN'S BUREAU OF THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR THE DUTY OF ESTABLISHING AND MAINTAINING THE STANDARDS TO GOVERN THE RECEPTION AND CARE OF THESE CHILDREN WHILE IN THE UNITED STATES AND THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A REGISTER OF SUCH CHILDREN," BUDGET DIRECTOR HAROLD SMITH SAID IN A LETTER ACCOMPANYING THE REQUEST.

"THESE STANDARDS WILL COVER SUCH FACTORS AS CONDITIONS OF FOSTER HOMES OR INSTITUTIONS, MEDICAL, NUTRITIONAL AND EDUCATIONAL FACIL-ITIES AND PROCEDURES OF PUBLIC AND PRIVATE SOCIETIES AND INSTITUTIONS WHICH WILL CONCERN THEMSELVES WITH THE PLACEMENT OF THESE CHILDREN."

SM311PESNM

WASHINGTON,AUG. 1-(AP)-SECRETARY HULL, BACK FROM THE PANAMERICAN CONFERENCE AT HAVANA, SAID TODAY RESPONSIBILITIES FACING WESTERN HEMISPHERE GOVERNMENTS WERE HANDLED THERE ADEQUATELY BY HIGH CLASS STATESMEN.

THE WORK ACCOMPLISHED AT HAVANA, HE TOLD A PRESS CONFERENCE, WAS ON A PARITY WITH THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE PROBLEMS STUDIED. HE ADDED THAT THE ATTENDING DIPLOMATS ALL EXHIBITED A FULL SENSE OF THE RESPONSIBILITIES, EMERGENCIES AND PROBLEMS WITH WHICH THEY WERE FACED.

AUG 2-1940

ONE OF HULL'S TASKS NOW IS TO DECIDE WHO WILL BE THE UNITED STATES MEMBER OF AN EMERGENCY COMMITTEE AUTHORIZED TO TAKE A HAND IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF ANY EUROPEAN POSSESSION IN THIS HEMISPHERE IF A CHANGE IN ITS SOVEREIGNTY IS THREATENED BEFORE RATIFICATION BY THE AMERICAN NATIONS OF AN AGREEMENT PROVIDING PERMANENT MACHINERY FOR THE SETTING UP OF PROVISIONAL ADMINISTRATIONS IN SUCH CIRCUMSTANCES.

HULL DECLINED TO COMMENT ON JAPAN'S ANNOUNCEMENT OF A FOREIGN POLICY WHICH WOULD EXTEND HER DOMINATION OVER FRENCH INDO CHINA AND THE DUTCH EAST INDIES. IN THE PAST HULL HAS DECLARED THAT ANY CHANGE BY FORCE IN THE STATUS QUO OF THE PACIFIC AREA WOULD BE CONSIDERED TO ENDANGER THE PEACE OF THE PACIFIC.

SU139PES

WASHINGTON,AUG 1-(AP)-THIS GOVERNMENT'S NEW EMBARGO AGAINST THE EXPORT OF AVIATION GASOLINE TO EUROPE AND ASIA LED JUAN FRANCISCO DE CARDENAS, THE SPANISH AMBASSADOR, TO INFORM THE STATE DEPARTMENT TODAY THAT SPAIN'S OIL IMPORTS DURING THE LAST TWO YEARS HAD BEEN EXCLUSIVELY FOR ITS OWN NEEDS AND NOT FOR NAZI GERMANY OR FASCIST ITALY.

THE AMBASSADOR CALLED UPON SUMNER WELLES, UNDERSECRETARY OF STATE, TO "CLARIFY" THE SITUATION. HE TOLD REPORTERS THAT HIS GOVERNMENT WAS NOT PROTESTING AGAINST THE EMBARGO.

IN A STATEMENT GIVEN TO REPORTERS LATER, CARDENAS SAID:

"SOME PAPERS HAVE GIVEN SPACE IN THEIR COLUMNS TO NEWS LEADING THE GENERAL PUBLIC TO BELIEVE THE OIL IMPORTED INTO SPAIN HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED TO BELLIGERENT COUNTRIES.

"OFFICIAL INFORMATION FROM THE GOVERNMENT OF SPAIN RECEIVED AT THE SPANISH EMBASSY IN WASHINGTON STATES THE IMPORTATIONS OF OIL IN SPAIN, ESPECIALLY FOR AVIATION PURPOSES, HAS BEEN VERY LIMITED DURING THE LAST TWO YEARS, SPAIN HAVING MADE USE OF HER CIVIL WAR RESERVES OF THE PRODUCT.

AUG 2-1940

"BRITISH OFFICIALS WHO HAVE RECENTLY VISITED SPAIN HAVE BEEN ABLE TO VERIFY THE PERFECT NORMALCY IN THE OIL CONSUMPTION THERE AND THE EXCLUSIVE USE MADE OF IT FOR INTERNAL NEEDS ONLY."

SM215PESNM

AUG 2-1940

NEW YORK, JULY 31-(AP)-THE NEW YORK DAILY NEWS SAYS THAT THE BRITISH MINISTRY OF AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION, HEADED BY LORD BEAVERBROOK, HAS OPENED A DRIVE TO RECRUIT AMERICAN FLIERS AT $150 A WEEK TO FERRY NEW WAR PLANES FROM BRITISH FACTORIES TO AIRFIELDS OF THE ROYAL AIR FORCE.

30.24-4047

AMERICAN FLIERS WOULD BE PAID IN UNITED STATES MONEY, WITH NO EXCHANGE DISCOUNT, THE PAPER SAID, WITH CONTRACTS RUNNING FOR THE DURATION OF THE WAR.

THE NEWS SAID THE BRITISH PLAN CALLS FOR SETTLEMENT OF CONTRACTS ON A 12-MONTHS BASIS, IF THE WAR LASTS MORE THAN A YEAR, AND PROVIDES ROUND-TRIP TRANSPORTATION FOR THE FLIERS AND A $500 BONUS FOR EACH AT THE END OF HIS SERVICE.

AMERICAN AIRMEN SO EMPLOYED, THE NEWS SAID, WOULD BE CIVILIAN EMPLOYES OF GREAT BRITAIN, WOULD NOT WEAR UNIFORMS, AND WOULD NOT LOSE THEIR AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP.

FH1231AED

AUG 9-1940

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON,AUG 1-(AP)-SECRETARY OF WAR STIMSON SAID TODAY THAT 81 FOREIGN AGENTS IN THE PANAMA CANAL ZONE HAD BEEN DETAINED FOR DEPORTATION.

SM358PES

AUG 9-1940

BULLETIN MATTER

AUG 2-1940

WASHINGTON-1ST ADD FOREIGN AGENTS X X X FOR DEPORTATION.

STIMSON WAS ASKED AT HIS PRESS CONFERENCE TO COMMENT ON A NEWSPAPER REPORT THAT 265 NAZIS WERE WORKING ON PANAMA CANAL PROJECTS.

IN RESPONSE HE READ A STATEMENT WHICH SAID: (ABOUT 100):

"THERE ARE NOW 81 FOREIGN AGENTS ILLEGALLY IN THE CANAL ZONE. THEY ARE BEING DETAINED AT THE IMMIGRATION STATION AWAITING ARRANGEMENTS FOR DEPORTATION OR OTHER DISPOSITION.

"THERE ARE NO ALIENS EMPLOYED EITHER BY THE ARMY OR BY THE CANAL ZONE OTHER THAN PANAMANIANS.

"ALL ALIENS OTHER THAN PANAMANIANS FORMERLY EMPLOYED BY EITHER THE ARMY OR THE CANAL ZONE HAVE BEEN DISCHARGED.

"THERE ARE NO PERSONS WORKING ON FIRE CONTROL EQUIPMENT IN THE CANAL ZONE OTHER THAN AMERICAN SOLDIERS OR AMERICAN ENGINEERS. UNDER THE LAW, THESE INDIVIDUALS MUST BE AMERICAN CITIZENS AND THEIR CITIZENSHIP AND AFFILIATIONS HAVE BEEN CAREFULLY INVESTIGATED BY MILITARY AUTHORITIES."

SM402PES

BY RICHARD L.TURNER

AUG 2-1940

WASHINGTON,AUG 1-(AP)-A BROAD CLEANUP OF ALIENS IN THE PANAMA CANAL ZONE, INVOLVING THE DETENTION OF 81 PERSONS DESCRIBED AS FOREIGN AGENTS, WAS TERSELY ANNOUNCED TODAY BY SECRETARY OF WAR STIMSON.

AS THE RESULT OF A PAINSTAKING CHECK, HE SAID, ALL ALIENS, OTHER THAN PANAMANIANS, HAVE BEEN DISCHARGED FROM THE EMPLOYMENT OF EITHER THE ARMY OR THE CANAL ZONE, FOR THE PROTECTION OF THAT VITAL LINK IN THE AMERICAN DEFENSE SYSTEM.

THE SECRETARY OF WAR MADE HIS DISCLOSURE AT THE END OF A DAY WHICH SAW THE PEACE-TIME CONSCRIPTION BILL AND THE MEASURE AUTHORIZING THE MOBILIZATION OF THE NATIONAL GUARD AND THE RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS FOR TRAINING PURPOSES ENCOUNTER NEW DELAYS IN THE SENATE.

A SENATORIAL PROPOSAL THAT THE NUMBER OF CONSCRIPTS BE LIMITED TO 1,000,000 FORCED THE SENATE MILITARY COMMITTEE TO POSTPONE FINAL ACTION ON THE DRAFT BILL UNTIL AFTER WAR DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS CAN BE HEARD. LEADERS AGREED TO DEFER SENATE CONSIDERATION OF THE NATIONAL GUARD MEASURE UNTIL NEXT WEEK, IN COMPLIANCE WITH REQUESTS FROM SEVERAL LEGISLATORS FOR MORE TIME TO STUDY THE BILL.

LATE IN THE DAY, THE NATIONAL DEFENSE COMMISSION LENT A HAND TO THE DRIVE FOR CONSCRIPTION WITH A STATEMENT FAVORING THAT METHOD OF BUILDING UP THE ARMED FORCES. SELECTIVE SERVICE, IT SAID, WOULD "PREVENT THE DISRUPTION OF INDUSTRY THROUGH THE ENTRY INTO MILITARY SERVICE OF MANY WHO WOULD BE MORE NEEDED IN INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION BECAUSE OF SPECIAL SKILLS."

AUG 2-1940

MEANWHILE, SENATOR WHEELER (D-MONT) A LEADING OPPONENT OF CONSCRIPTION, POINTEDLY DEMANDED, FOR A SECOND TIME, THAT WENDELL L.WILLKIE, THE REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE, MAKE PUBLIC HIS VIEWS ON THAT QUESTION.

STIMSON'S DISCLOSURE CAME IN REPLY TO A REQUEST FOR COMMENT ON A NEWSPAPER ARTICLE (PUBLISHED IN THE NEW YORK DAILY NEWS) ASSERTING THAT 265 NAZIS WERE WORKING ON PANAMA CANAL PROJECTS. HIS RESPONSE WAS A PREPARED STATEMENT WHICH HE READ TO ASSEMBLED NEWSPAPERMEN.

"THERE ARE NOW 81 FOREIGN AGENTS ILLEGALLY IN THE CANAL ZONE," HE SAID. "THEY ARE BEING DETAINED AT THE IMMIGRATION STATION AWAITING ARRANGEMENTS FOR DEPORTATION OR OTHER DISPOSITION.

"THERE ARE NO ALIENS EMPLOYED EITHER BY THE ARMY OR BY THE CANAL ZONE OTHER THAN PANAMANIANS.

"ALL ALIENS OTHER THAN PANAMANIANS FORMERLY EMPLOYED BY EITHER THE ARMY OR THE CANAL ZONE HAVE BEEN DISCHARGED.

"THERE ARE NO PERSONS WORKING ON FIRE CONTROL EQUIPMENT IN THE CANAL ZONE OTHER THAN AMERICAN SOLDIERS OR AMERICAN ENGINEERS.

"UNDER THE LAW THESE INDIVIDUALS MUST BE AMERICAN CITIZENS AND THEIR CITIZENSHIP AND AFFILIATIONS HAVE BEEN CAREFULLY INVESTIGATED BY THE MILITARY AUTHORITIES."

WHEELER, IN A FORMAL STATEMENT, RECALLED THAT EARLIER THIS WEEK HE HAD SAID ALL PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES SHOULD MAKE THEIR POSITION ON CONSCRIPTION KNOWN. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, HE ADDED, HAD INDICATED HIS APPROVAL OF THE PENDING BILL, AND EASTERN NEWSPAPERS WERE REPORTING THAT "THERE IS NO DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE PRESIDENT AND MR. WILLKIE ON FOREIGN POLICY, INCLUDING INTERVENTION IN EUROPE AND ASIA."

FURTHER HE SAID THAT THE EASTERN NEWSPAPERS WERE GENERALLY SUPPORTING THE CONSCRIPTION BILL, WHILE FARM ORGANIZATIONS, THE CHURCHES, LABOR ORGANIZATIONS, AND PEACE GROUPS WERE OPPOSING IT.

"UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES, MR.WILLKIE," THE SENATOR ASKED, "DON'T YOU THINK YOU SHOULD LET THE PEOPLE AND THE CONGRESS KNOW YOUR POSITION? IT IS STATED THAT SOME OF THE LEADING FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS IN NEW YORK SUPPORTING YOUR CANDIDACY WILL REFUSE TO SUPPORT YOU IF YOU OPPOSE THE LEGISLATION. THIS WOULD BE A GOOD TIME TO LET THE PEOPLE KNOW ON WHICH SIDE YOU ARE GOING TO STAND."

AUG 2-1940

THE PROPOSAL TO LIMIT CONSCRIPTS TO 1,000,000 WAS MADE BY SENATORS LEE (D-OKLA) AND BRIDGES (R-NH). THEIR AMENDMENT WOULD GIVE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT THE POWER TO DRAFT 500,000 MEN 21 TO 30 YEARS OLD, INCLUSIVE, NEXT OCTOBER FOR A TWELVE-MONTH PERIOD OF TRAINING. EARLY NEXT YEAR, THE EXACT DATE NOT SET, HE COULD CALL UP ANOTHER 500,000.

30.24-4049

30.24-4049

WASHINGTON-1ST ADD NIGHT LEAD DEFENSE XXX FOR SERVICE.

ONE AMENDMENT WAS APPROVED AT TODAY'S SESSION, A CHANGE OFFERED BY SENATOR CHANDLER (D-KY) EXEMPTING FROM THE DRAFT CADETS IN THE RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS, ON THE GROUND THAT THEY SHOULD BE PERMITTED TO COMPLETE THEIR COURSE AND RECEIVE COMMISSIONS BEFORE BEING CALLED INTO SERVICE.

ANOTHER AMENDMENT WAS PROPOSED BY BOTH SENATOR GREEN (D-RI) AND SENATOR GUFFEY (D-PENN) TO EXEMPT THEOLOGICAL AND DIVINITY STUDENTS. GREEN SPECIFIED THAT TO CLAIM AN EXEMPTION SUCH A STUDENT WOULD HAVE TO HAVE BEEN ENROLLED FOR A YEAR PRIOR TO THE TIME OF CONSCRIPTION.

WHEN THE SENATE MET, A LARGE CROWD WAS IN THE GALLERIES, EXPECTING TO HEAR THE NATIONAL GUARD BILL DEBATED. HOWEVER, SENATOR MCNARY OF OREGON, THE REPUBLICAN LEADER, ANNOUNCED THAT HE HAD REQUESTED A POSTPONEMENT UNTIL MONDAY, AND SENATOR BARKLEY OF KENTUCKY, THE MAJORITY LEADER, SAID HE HAD INFORMED MCNARY THAT CONSIDERATION OF THE LEGISLATION WOULD BE DELAYED UNTIL NEXT WEEK "TO GIVE ALL SENATORS MORE TIME TO STUDY THE BILL."

AUG 9 - 1940

PREVIOUSLY, THE SENATE INDULGED IN A BRIEF DISCUSSION OF THE CONSCRIPTION ISSUE. SENATOR LODGE (R-MASS) GOT IN A WORD FOR HIS BILL TO FIX THE SIZE OF THE ARMY AT 750,000, WITH 400,000 TO BE MUSTERED BY A SELECTIVE DRAFT.

"MY BILL IS A SIMPLE DEFENSE BILL," HE SAID. "ITS AIM IS TO BRING OUR ARMY UP TO ITS TOP STRENGTH, ALWAYS IN HARMONY WITH OUR EXISTING PROGRAM FOR PROCURING WEAPONS."

ON THE HOUSE SIDE, CHAIRMAN MAY (D-KY) OF THE MILITARY COMMITTEE INTRODUCED A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE PRESIDENT TO ORDER INTO ACTIVE MILITARY SERVICE, FOR NOT EXCEEDING ONE YEAR DURING THE PERIOD ENDING JUNE 30, 1942, ANY AND ALL MEMBERS OF THE COMPONENT RESERVES AND RETIRED PERSONNEL OF THE U.S.ARMY.

SM640PES

X WASHINGTON, AUG 1-(AP)-SPECULATION AS TO WHETHER THE COMMERCIAL AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND SOVIET RUSSIA WOULD BE RENEWED INCREASED TODAY AS CONSTANTINE A. OUMANSKY, THE SOVIET AMBASSADOR, CONFERRED FOR AN HOUR AND A HALF WITH SUMNER WELLES, UNDERSECRETARY OF STATE.

BOTH OUMANSKY AND WELLES DECLINED TO TELL NEWSMEN WHAT THEY HAD DISCUSSED. AMONG THE ISSUES NOW CONFRONTING THE TWO COUNTRIES ARE THE EXPIRATION OF THEIR COMMERCIAL AGREEMENT ON AUGUST 6, THE RECENT SOVIET PROTEST AGAINST THIS GOVERNMENT'S "FREEZING" OF AMERICAN ASSETS OF THE SOVIETIZED BALTIC REPUBLICS, AND THE RESTRICTIONS ON AMERICAN EXPORTS OF MACHINE TOOLS, SOME CATEGORIES OF WHICH ARE BEING KEPT IN THIS COUNTRY ON THE GROUNDS THAT THEY ARE VITAL TO THE NATIONAL DEFENSE.

AUG 2 - 1940

UNDER THE EXPIRING COMMERCIAL AGREEMENT, THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT AGREED TO PURCHASE AT LEAST $40,000,000 WORTH OF AMERICAN GOODS DURING THE 12 MONTHS ENDING AUGUST 6. THE UNITED STATES AGREED IN TURN TO GRANT THE SOVIET UNION ALL TRADE CONCESSIONS EXTENDED TO OTHER NATIONS, EXCEPT FOR A LIMITATION ON THE AMOUNT OF SOVIET COAL WHICH THIS COUNTRY WOULD TAKE.

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT FIGURES SHOW THAT THE SOVIET UNION HAS TAKEN MUCH MORE THAN SHE AGREED TO, BUT HER PURCHASES HAVE DECLINED SUB-

STANTIALLY IN RECENT MONTHS DUE TO THE RESTRICTIONS ON MACHINE TOOL EXPORTS AND TO OTHER FACTORS. RUSSIA PURCHASED $65,000,000 WORTH OF AMERICAN-MADE PRODUCTS DURING THE 11 MONTHS ENDED JUNE 30.

UNITED STATES IMPORTS FROM RUSSIA DURING THE FIRST 10 MONTHS AFTER THE EXISTING AGREEMENT WAS SIGNED AMOUNTED TO $21,429,000.

RUSSIA HAS PROTESTED TO THIS GOVERNMENT AGAINST THE PLACING OF BALT REPUBLIC ASSETS UNDER A TREASURY LICENSING SYSTEM, BUT OUMANSKY SAID AFTER HIS CONFERENCE WITH WELLES TODAY THAT THIS SUBJECT HAD NOT BEEN DISCUSSED.

SM646PES

SPY MESSAGES....."

A BEDRAGGLED STRANGER, REFUSING TO GIVE HIS NAME, IS USHERED INTO THE G-MAN'S OFFICE AND SAYS: "I HAPPEN TO KNOW THAT THAT 'HOBO' THEY ARRESTED IN KANSAS CITY FRIDAY IS A FOREIGN AGENT MAPPING AMERICAN COMMUNI-CATIONS...."

THOUSANDS OF SUCH "TIPS" ON SPY AND SABOTAGE SUSPECTS FLOW DAILY INTO THE FIFTY OFFICES OF THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES AND ITS POSSESSIONS. HUNDREDS OF THEM ORIGINATE IN NEW YORK, WHICH HOLDS THE WORLD'S LARGEST FOREIGN COLONIES AND IS THE NATION'S NERVE CENTER.

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR PMS OF THURSDAY, AUG. 1.)

COMBATTING THE SPY MENACE

F.B.I. OFFICES FLOODED WITH "TIPS"
ON SUSPECTS, MANY OF WHICH PROVE VALUABLE (429

AUG 2-1940

BY PAT MCGRADY

(ADVANCE)-NEW YORK, AUG. 1-(AP)-THE G-MAN FINGERS A CRUDELY-PENCILED NOTE: "J---- S-----, WHO RAISES PIGEONS AT ------ LONG ISLAND, IS USING THEM TO DELIVER VITAL DEFENSE SECRETS TO SUBMARINES OFF CONEY ISLAND...."

THE TELEPHONE ON THE G-MAN'S DESK RINGS, AND A HOLLOW, ANONYMOUS VOICE SAID: "M---- R------, OF SO-AND-SO STREET, BROOKLYN, PRETENDS HE IS STUDYING RADIO ENGINEERING....HE IS REALLY PREPARING TO TRANSMIT

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR PMS OF THURSDAY, AUGUST 1)

(ADVANCE)--NEW YORK, FIRST ADD SPY TIPS X X X THE NATION'S NERVE CENTER.

AUG 2-1940

SOME OF THE LETTERS ARE FROM CRANKS, SOME FROM EXCEEDINGLY NAIVE PERSONS AND A FEW FROM PEOPLE WITH A GRUDGE AGAINST THE "SUSPECT."

BUT FROM THIS DAILY MASS OF MAIL THE F.B.I. HAS RECEIVED MANY VALUABLE "TIPS," SO THEY DISCOURAGE NONE OF IT.

WITHOUT DOUBT, THERE ARE IN THE UNITED STATES MANY FOREIGN ESPIONAGE RINGS. WITH THE "FIFTH COLUMN" RECENTLY SHOWN AS ONE OF THE MOST EFFECTIVE INSTRUMENTS OF WAR, THERE IS EQUALLY NO DOUBT IN THE MINDS OF AUTHORITIES THAT EFFORTS HAVE BEEN MADE TO TRANSPLANT EUROPE'S HATES HERE, TO STIR UP POLITICAL, CLASS, RELIGIOUS AND RACIAL WARFARE AND TO SO "ADJUST" THE MORALE OF THE PEOPLE THAT IT COULD NOT STAND BEFORE THE DISCIPLINED LEGIONS OF INVADERS.

THE F.B.I. IS DETERMINED TO ESCHEW WITCH HUNTS. IT DISCOURAGES ORGANIZED "SIXTH COLUMNS" ACTIVITY AGAINST "FIFTH COLUMNS." BUT IT SEEKS FROM CITIZENS ALL USEFUL INFORMATION IT CAN

30.24-4051

30.24-4051

GET ON SPIES, SABOTEURS AND PROVOCATEURS.

THE F.B.I. FORCE OF 900, NOW BEING INCREASED TO 1,400 AGENTS, SINCE LAST SEPTEMBER HAS BEEN IN SOLE CHARGE OF ESPIONAGE AND SABOTAGE INVESTIGATION. IT IS FED INFORMATION BY OTHER GOVERNMENT INTELLIGENCE AGENCIES.

POLICE FORCES THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY ARE COOPERATING IN KEEPING CLOSE TRACK OF PERSONS AND ORGANIZATIONS WHICH IN THEIR RELATIONSHIP TO FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS AND SYSTEMS ARE POTENTIAL "FIFTH COLUMNS."

A PRIMARY PROBLEM OF COUNTER-ESPIONAGE THROUGHOUT THE WORLD IS TO THWART SPIES AND SABOTEURS WITHOUT BREAKING UP THEIR ORGANIZATION. IT IS MUCH EASIER TO SCOUT OLD AND ESTABLISHED SPY RINGS THAN TO DISCOVER NEW ONES THAT ARE SUBSTITUTED FOR THOSE BROKEN UP OR REMNANTS THAT ARE DRIVEN UNDERGROUND.

AUG 2-1940

AUTHORITIES READILY ADMIT THAT THERE IS A REAL DANGER TO THE UNITED STATES FROM SUBVERSIVE FORCES. BUT THEY EXPECT THAT IF THE TIME SHOULD COME FOR THE FIFTH COLUMN TO MARCH IT WILL BE TOWARD JAIL.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE FOR PMS OF AUGUST 1. SENT JULY 31.)

WF121PED

THE WAR TODAY

AUG 2-1940

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

AT A TIME WHEN THE CONQUERING NAZIS AR POISED ON THE SH

AT A TIME WHEN THE CONQUERING NAZIS ARE POISED ON THE SHORE OF THE ENGLISH CHANNEL, EAGER FOR THE DEATH-THRUST AT BRITAIN, AND OUR OWN COUNTRY IS RUSHING TO STRENGTHEN ITS DEFENSES, IT IS WORTH WHILE PAUSING TO CONSIDER WHY THE WORLD'S GREATEST EMPIRE WAS UNPREPARED FOR WAR AND IS NOW FIGHTING FOR ITS LIFE WITH BACK TO WALL.

YOUNG JOHN F.KENNEDY, SON OF OUR HEAVILY LIME-LIGHTED AMBASSADOR TO THE COURT OF ST.JAMES, TODAY PUBLISHES A BOOK (WILFRED FUNK, NEW YORK) IN WHICH HE EXPRESSES AN ENGAGING VIEW OF "WHY ENGLAND SLEPT." FOR REASONS WHICH WILL APPEAR LATER I WANT TO EMPHASIZE THAT SERIOUS-MINDED JOHN KENNEDY, WHO IS THE ELDEST OF MR. "JOE" KENNEDY'S NINE CHILDREN, HAS PRODUCED THIS IMPORTANT STUDY AT THE AGE OF TWENTY-THREE.

AMONG THE CAUSES ASSIGNED FOR ENGLAND'S UNPREPAREDNESS ARE BAD LEADERSHIP; "A GREAT LACK OF YOUNG PROGRESSIVE AND ABLE LEADERS"; THE OPPOSITION TO THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY, WHICH WAS IN POWER, WAS THE LABOR PARTY "AND LABOR NATURALLY DID NOT WISH TO LOSE ITS IDENTITY BY JOINING WHOLEHEARTEDLY WITH THE GOVERNMENT ON AN ARMAMENTS PROGRAM."

AUG 2-1940

THERE WAS A STRONG LEAGUE OF NATIONS SENTIMENT IN ENGLAND. "THEN THERE WAS THE CLOSENESS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF THE ENGLISH ARISTOCRACY WHICH WAS OPPOSED SO STRONGLY TO WAR." FURTHER THERE WAS THE IMPOSSIBILITY OF MATCHING HITLER'S HUGE ARMAMENTS EXPENDITURE WITHOUT RESORTING "TO RIGID STATE CONTROL TO PREVENT INFLATION AND THAT WOULD HAVE BEEN THE END OF CAPITALISM AND DEMOCRACY."

I HAD THE PRIVILEGE OF STUDYING THIS SITUATION MYSELF AT FIRST HAND, AND FINALLY WAS AT BERCHTESGADEN, GODESBERG AND MUNICH TO REPORT THE FATEFUL CONFERENCES BETWEEN HITLER AND BRITISH PREMIER CHAMBERLAIN, EXPONENT OF "APPEASEMENT." WITH THIS BACKGROUND I FIND JOHN KENNEDY'S BOOK A THOUGHTFUL WORK WHICH CONTAINS MUCH COMMON SENSE AND KEEN ANALYSIS.

STILL, I'M NOT SO MUCH CONCERNED WITH HIS CONCLUSIONS AS WITH THE FACT THAT HE IS ONLY TWENTY-THREE. NEXT TIME I MEET HIS FATHER I'M GOING TO ASK HIM WHETHER--WITH ALL HIS GREAT SUCCESS AND THOSE NINE MILLION DOLLARS HE IS SUPPOSED TO HAVE--HE WAS THINKING ALONG SUCH SERIOUS LINES, OR COULD HAVE PRODUCED SUCH A BOOK AT THE AGE OF TWENTY-THREE.

MAYBE HE WAS, AND MAYBE HE COULD. BUT TO ME JOHN REPRESENTS THE DEVELOPMENT OF A BRAND NEW YOUTH IN THIS COUNTRY----THINKING YOUTH WHICH IS SEEKING MUCH MORE EAGERLY FOR TRUTH AND A PLACE IN THE AFFAIRS OF OUR LAND THAN WERE THE YOUNG FOLK OF THE PAST GENERATION WHEN MR. JOE AND I WERE FRESH FROM SCHOOL.

IN TRAVELING ABOUT THE COUNTRY I HAVE BEEN INTENSELY INTERESTED IN NOTHING THIS HISTORIC DEVELOPMENT. DURING COMPARATIVELY RECENT MONTHS I HAVE TALKED IN NUMEROUS COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES, INCLUDING YALE, VASSAR, WEST VIRGINIA, DUKE'S, SYRACUSE, GEORGIA AND HAMILTON. EVERYWHERE IT HAS BEEN THE SAME--THIS EAGER SURGE OF YOUTH FOR A PLACE IN THE CIVIC SUN. THIS HAS BEEN TRUE NOT ONLY IN THE SCHOOLS BUT ELSEWHERE.

A LITTLE EXPERIENCE I HAD AT HAMILTON COLLEGE ILLUSTRATES MY POINT. AFTER I HAD SPOKEN ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS TO AN UDIENCE IN THE CHAPEL, I WAS INVITED TO GO TO ONE OF THE FRATERNITY HOUSES AND ANSWER QUESTIONS BY STUDENTS.

SOME THIRTY FINE YOUNG FELLOWS ESTABLISHED ME IN A BIG, THRONE-LIKE CHAIR IN A CORNER OF THE LIVING ROOM, AND THEN GATHERED ABOUT ME IN A SEMICIRCLE ON THE FLOOR. ONE OF THEM CAME AND SAT BESIDE ME TO ACT AS SPOKESMAN.

"WHAT HAVE YOU TO OFFER US?" HE ASKED.

"DO YOU MEAN AS TO THE PROSPECT OF HAVING TO GO TO WAR?"

"NOT ESPECIALLY," HE REPLIED. "BUT WHERE DO WE FIT INTO THIS CHANGING WORLD?"

THERE SPOKE THE NEW AMERICAN YOUTH.

N957AED

BY KIRKE L.SIMPSON

SUDDEN SOFT PEDDLING OF THE INVASION-OF-ENGLAND IDEA IN BERLIN AND ROME MAY OR MAY NOT BE A HIGHLY SIGNIFICANT DEVELOPMENT OF THE WAR NEWS. TIME ALONE CAN FULLY REVEAL JUST HOW HERR HITLER INTENDS TO DELIVER THE "BLOW" WHICH HE HAS TOLD HIS PEOPLE HE "KNOWS" WILL DESTROY NOT ONLY ENGLAND, BUT THE BRITISH EMPIRE, AND DO IT QUICKLY.

AUG 2-1940

YET THE EMPHASIS LAID IN ROME ON THE DIFFICULTIES OF INVADING A SEA-MOATED ISLAND LIKE ENGLAND, AND THE PROMPT CONCURRENCE EXPRESSED BY NAZI MILITARY SPOKESMEN, SUGGEST THAT BOTH COMMENTS WERE PRIMARILY FOR HOME CONSUMPTION. THEY THREW A LOT OF VERY COLD WATER ON WHAT HAS BEEN THE MOST FAVORED THEME OF THE NAZI AND FASCIST PRESS EVER SINCE THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN BEGAN.

THERE HAVE BEEN NI

(MORE)--AP352PED

30.24-4053

30.24-4053

UNDATED: 1ST ADD INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS (BY SIMPS

X X X BRITAIN BEGAN.

THERE HAVE BEEN HINTS OF FRICTION WITHIN HITLER'S HIGH COMMAND OVER THE STRETEGY TO BE FOLLOWED. NOR CAN IT BE DOUBTED THAT TO THE GERMAN MILITARY MIND THE JOB OF GETTING A SUFFICIENT ARMY ACROSS THE CHANNEL TO COPE WITH THE STOUT-HEARTED BRITISH DEFENSE WOULD INVOLVE NOT ONLY HUGE GERMAN LOSSES, BUT IMPERIL ALL THAT NAZIDOM HAS SO FAR ACHIEVED IN THE WAR.

FAILURE OR EVEN A SERIOUS REVERSE AT THE OUTSET OF AN INVASION COULD CHANGE THE WHOLE PICTURE, PERHAPS LET LOOSE PENT-UP HATRED OF GERMANY IN CONQUERED REGIONS FROM NORWAY TO THE FRANCO-SPANISH BORDER. IT WOULD CERTAINLY PUT TO THE TEST RUSSO-GERMAN RELATIONS WHICH HITLER BOASTED TO THE REICHSTAG HAD BEEN "FINALLY ESTABLISHED" BEYOND POSSIBILITY OF DISRUPTION.

AUG 2-1940

THERE IS ONLY HIS WORD FOR THAT, AND SUCH LIMITED CONFIRMATION AS THE SUPREME SOVIET MEETING AFFORDS. RUSSIA'S RECENT MOVES IN THE BALKANS AND SOVIET-ABSORBED BALTIC STATES RAISE A QUESTION AS TO WHAT NEW EXPANSION ENTERPRISE MOSCOW MIGHT ATTEMPT IF GERMANY BECAME WHOLLY ENGROSSED IN A DOUBTFUL EFFORT TO CRUSH ENGLAND BY INVASION. EVEN HITLER CANNOT DOUBT THAT STALIN IS PLAYING THE GAME ONLY IN RUSSIAN INTEREST, NOT FOR THE PURPOSE OF HELPING NAZI GERMANY ESTABLISH COMPLETE DOMINATION OF EUROPE.

IN SETTING FORTH THEIR NEW THESIS OF THE WAY TO ATTACK ENGLAND THE NAZIS CITE AS AN EXAMPLE THE ALLEGED BLOCKING OF THE PORT OF DOVER AND DESTRUCTION OF ITS DOCKAGE FACILITIES. THAT CERTAINLY SOUNDS LIKE A MORE LOGICAL COURSE THAN TO RISK INVASION. THE BOMBING OF ENGLISH PORT FACILITIES AROUND THE WHOLE 5,000-MILE PERIMETER OF THE ISLAND WOULD IMMENSELY INCREASE THE DIFFICULTIES OF SUPPLYING THE ISLAND, EVEN IF THE CONVOY SYSTEM KEPT CARGO CRAFT MOVING AT SEA IN SUFFICIENT TONNAGE.

EVERY ENGLISH DOCK WRECKED WOULD MEAN THAT MUCH ADDITIONAL TIME LOST IN UNLOADING SHIPS. IT WOULD MEAN THAT VESSELS WOULD BE EXPOSED TO BOMB ATTACKS FOR ADDED DAYS AND NIGHTS, WHILE THEY WERE RIDING AT ANCHOR OR UNLOADING INTO LIGHTERS.

YET THE COASTS OF ENGLAND, NORTH, SOUTH, EAST AND WEST, ARE SPOTTED WITH BIG AND LITTLE PORTS VIRTUALLY ALL EQUIPPED TO SOME EXTENT TO HANDLE HEAVY CARGOES IN AN EMERGENCY. THE NETWORK OF HARD-PAVED BRITISH HIGHWAYS BRING THEM ALL INTO QUICK SERVICE FOR MOTOR TRANSPORT AS WELL AS RAIL DISTRIBUTION. LONDON REPORTS, ALSO, THAT TANK-TRAP IMPEDIMENTS PLACED ON THOSE HIGHWAYS IN THE FIRST FEAR OF SUDDEN NAZI INVASION ARE BEING REMOVED OR MODIFIED TO EXPEDITE TRAFFIC NOW THAT DEFENSE FORCES HAVE BEEN BETTER ORGANIZED.

IT WOULD TAKE A TREMENDOUS STEPPING-UP OF THE GERMAN AIR ATTACK ON ENGLISH PORTS TO BRING HER TO A NEAR STARVATION STATUS BY THAT MEANS ALONE. YET THE IMPLICATION OF RECENT GERMAN AND ITALIAN COMMENTS IS THAT IT IS UPON THAT SIEGE THAT AXIS STRATEGISTS ARE PRIMARILY COUNTING FOR VICTORY.

PREVIOUSLY GERMAN AND ITALIAN EXPECTATIONS OF A SUDDEN BLITZKRIEG TO CRUSH ENGLAND HAD BEEN BUILT UP BY INSISTENT PRESS PREDICTIONS IN BOTH COUNTRIES. HITLER HIMSELF ADDED TO THAT EXPECTATION IN HIS RECENT REICHSTAG SPEECH.

IF INVASION IS NOT IN EARLY PROSPECT, IT WAS TIME THE IDEA OF SUCH AN ATTEMPT WAS DEFLATED SOMEHOW. THE FACT THAT IT IS NOT TO BE ATTEMPTED, IF THAT IS THE FACT, COULD NOT MUCH LONGER BE CONCEALED FROM THE GERMAN-ITALIAN PUBLICS.

SM306PES

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUG. 1, 1915--GERMANS CAPTURE MITAU, RUSSIA.

UNDATED SEA WARFARE "BOX SCORE"

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE FOLLOWING "BOX SCORE" LISTS SEA WARFARE LOSSES REPORTED SINCE SATURDAY NIGHT, JULY 27:

NATION	SUNK BY---------- SUBS, PLANES, WARSHIPS	MINES	OTHER CAUSES OR UNKNOWN	TONNAGE KNOWN	DEAD	MISSING
BRITAIN	4	1	0	3,177	2	0
GERMANY	4	0	2	19,093	0	0
DENMARK	0	1	0	10,517	0	0
NORWAY	0	1	0	1,343	0	0
ESTONIA	0	0	2	2,748	0	0
NETHERLANDS	0	0	1	202	0	0
GREECE	1	0	1	3,353	0	0
TOTALS	9	3	6	42,433	2	0
PREVIOUSLY REPORTED	378	167	204	2,626,591	6,806	5,496
GRAND TOTAL	387	170	210	2,669,024	6,808	5,496

WX1202PED

UNDATED FIRST OF AUGUST

TODAY, ELEVEN MONTHS AFTER GERMAN TROOPS MARCHED INTO POLAND TO PRECIPITATE THE PRESENT WAR, IS THE 26TH ANNIVERSARY OF GERMAN ENTRY INTO THE WORLD WAR.

FOLLOWING THE ASSASSINATION OF THE ARTHDUKE FRANCIS FERDINAND AT SARAJEVO JUNE 28, 1914, AUSTRIA ON JULY 23 SUBMITTED A 48-HOUR ULTIMATUM TO SERBIA. FAILING TO WIN AN EXTENSION FROM THE AUSTRIANS, BRITISH FOREIGN MINISTER SIR EDWARD GREY URGED THE SERBS TO MEET AUSTRIA'S TERMS.

SERBIA GRANTED MOST OF THE DEMANDS, BUT AUSTRIA STILL WAS NOT SATISFIED. WITH WAR APPEARING INEVITABLE, RUSSIA ANNOUNCED SHE WOULD MOBILIZE ON THE DAY AUSTRIAN TROOPS CROSSED THE SERB FRONTIER, AND GERMANY THREATENED MOBILIZATION TO MATCH THE RUSSIAN MILITARY MOVES.

ON JULY 26 SIR EDWARD GREY PROPOSED A CONFERENCE OF ENGLAND, FRANCE, GERMANY AND ITALY TO SEEK SETTLEMENT OF THE AUSTRIAN-RUSSIAN DISPUTE. BUT GERMANY DECLINED THE INVITATION; AUSTRIA DISREGARDED THE RUSSIAN THREAT AND DECLARED WAR ON THE SERBS ON JULY 28; GERMANY SOUGHT TO PERSUADE AUSTRIA TO IRON OUT HER DIFFICULTIES WITH RUSSIA THROUGH DIPLOMACY AND THEN, FAILING IN THAT AND FINDING RUSSIA STILL MOBILIZING, ON AUG. 1 INFORMED RUSSIA A STATE OF WAR EXISTED BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES.

N846AED

30,24-4055

30.24-4055

BRITISH CLAIM RUIN OF HAMBURG'S PORT

Bombers Attack Krupp Steel Works in Ruhr —100 German Industrial Cities Have Been Visited by R. A. F. Flyers.

AUG 3-1940

LONDON, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The German port of Hamburg is "now practically in ruins," an authoritative British source said today, announcing that the expanding British air force had bombed more than 100 German cities and towns containing military objectives.

The port of Bremen, with its shipbuilding yards, docks and the Fockewulf aircraft factory, "has had thousands of bombs rained on it," this source declared, while Cologne, axis for international traffic in Europe, has been heavily pounded.

The great Krupp munitions works at Essen, supply depots and airdromes in northwest Germany, and four synthetic oil plants were attacked by British bombers last night, the Air Ministry announced.

The Ministry said considerable damage was inflicted on the oil targets and that airdromes in Holland also had been raided in daylight attacks yesterday.

[A check-up on the effect of aerial bombardment on British ports indicated that at Folkestone, Plymouth, Southampton, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Liverpool and other ports there have been damages and casualties inland, but that the water fronts are undamaged.]

British airmen were asserted to have made attacks on more than ,000 objectives in the last three months—attacks of "genuine weight and importance." Many of he places hammered by the British are Old World communities known o thousands of tourists.

Made Into War Centers.

These places, it was asserted, have been "converted into military and industrial centers vital to the military needs of Germany."

All attacks, this source said, were "planned with studious care with the object of avoiding damage, if possible, to towns and cities which are non-military objectives."

The British air offensive has covered objectives in enemy country from Borkum, in the Frisian Islands, off the extreme northwest German coast in the North Sea, to Rugen Island, in the Baltic Sea.

The R. A. F. has struck night and day in the industrial Ruhr, which corresponds somewhat to the Pittsburgh area of the United States, it was said.

A Gigantic Circle.

"Within a gigantic circle," this source said, "we have inflicted irreparable damage on such places as Duisberg, Dusseldorf, Essen and Wesel" in this area, as well as at Dortmund, which occupies a position of importance in feeding the German canal system.

Hamburg, with its oil refineries, munitions factories and docks, which are in the center of the city, this source said, has been "pulverized again and again."

[A single British bomber, raiding Hanover yesterday, killed six persons and injured ten, according to a broadcast today by a National Broadcasting Corporation representative in Berlin.]

At Leipsig, where a renowned fair is held, there is a huge power station as well as industrial objectives which "have been bombed constantly," he added.

At the medieval town of Wernigerode, favorite haunt of tourists, the airport has been hammered by British bombers.

An Admiralty communique said today:

"During operations over the Norwegian coast yesterday Skua aircraft (British dive bombers) of the fleet air arm successfully bombed a wireless station and attacked an enemy supply ship of about 4,000 tons.

"When last seen this ship was listing heavily and was being abandoned by her crew.

"Our aircraft returned safely."

Other favorite R. A. F. objectives have been the Kiel and Wilhelmshaven naval bases.

Works Blasted 5 Minutes

The Krupp works, said the Air Ministry news service, were pounded with bombs for five minutes.

The raiders, it was added, "scored several hits on the works and started fires which could be plainly seen by observers until at 11,000 feet our aircraft entered the clouds."

The Air Ministry said that raiders by day struck a hangar and strafed grounded German planes at the airdromes of Leeuwarden and Haamstede, in the Netherlands, yesterday.

New R. A. F. Raids Spread Ruin Over Wide Nazi Area

Bremen, Hamburg And Krupp Works Attacked With Success, British Air Ministry Reports

AUG 3-1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Saturday, Aug. 3—The Bremen radio suddenly shut down late last night, indicating stern continuation of the sledge-hammer British air raids on Germany—raids which the British declare have scored smashing successes against supply dumps, ports, airdromes and war industries in more than one hundred German cities.

With such raids the British hope to sap any Nazi Blitzkrieg at its roots.

At the same time, German planes sped back to Britain, being reported over the northwestern area early today.

Two Raiders Turn Back

Shipping off the southeast coast was attacked by bombers and spurts of water were seen around ships several miles out. Two German bombers also flew low over the southeast coast, but turned back in the face of defensive fire.

German planes dropped bombs in a district of southeast Scotland, the blasts being followed by one explosion. The objective was not disclosed.

The German port of Hamburg, largest in Europe, was pictured in virtual ruins by authoritative British sources—the result of three months of intermittent Royal Air Force blasting.

The great Krupp arms works at Essen, supply depots, synthetic oil plants and airdromes in western Germany and Holland were the latest targets reported put under the bomb sights and bomb racks of the R. A. F.

By night British squadrons swept in on western Germany and loosed bombs on synthetic oil plants at Gelsenkirchen, Kamen, Homburg and Reisholz; the Krupp works at Essen, supply depots at Hamm, Krefeld and Mannheim and airdromes in northwestern Germany.

Frenchmen Aid In Bombing

"The damage inflicted on the oil targets is believed to be considerable," the Ministry communique said.

All the night raiders returned, it was said, but one plane was missing from the daylight attack on the two Holland airdromes.

French airmen took part in the attacks last night on German objectives, their chief objective being the oil plant at Kamen, said a communique from Gen. Charles de Gaulle, whom Britain has recognized as the leader of all "free" Frenchmen.

De Gaulle has been condemned to death in absentia by a military court in Clermont-Ferrant.

Hamburg Raid Termed Sample

The damage at Hamburg, a city of more than 1,000,000 population which handles an annual peacetime traffic of 17,000,000 tons, is only a sample of destruction wrought by British bombs dumped on hundreds of objectives, the source said.

The lesser port of Bremen, home of huge shipyards, miles of docks and its big Focke-Wulf airplane factory; the Kiel and Welhelmshaven naval bases, and Cologne, cor inental traffic center, have drawn a large share of attention from British airmen.

In all, the British reported more than 1,000 German objectives bombed in more than 3,000 raids "of genuine weight and importance" to date.

This, they asserted, is the answer which is being given with increasing vigor to Adolf Hitler's threat of invasion.

At the same time the British said all their harbors remained intact despite unending German forays, although casualties and damage have resulted inland.

Some Channel Ports Closed

Nevertheless, many of Britain's prewar Channel and North Sea ports have been closed because of the danger to shipping in the mine and submarine infested waters.

Typical of reports from coastal points was that from the correspondent at Dover, nearest port to France and logical landing place for any invader.

"You might have thought from the size of that big raid last Monday by eighty German planes that a lot of damage has been done. But that's not so.

"They aimed almost altogether at shipping. I went around the harbor after the raid but no part of it or the harbor walls were hit. . . . There has been no damage to the town itself."

Scottish Golf Course Struck

The aerial warfare surging back and forth across the Channel tapered off somewhat today to sporadic forays. One German bomber was believed downed in the sea off Scotland after dropping nine high-explosive and forty incendiary bombs on a golf course.

Other German raiders bombed scattered points in Wales, eastern Scotland and East Anglia during the night.

British bombers reported the bombardment of a wireless station and the crippling of a German supply ship off Norway and a "successful" daylight attack on Cherbourg, France, yesterday. Three British planes were reported lost.

Explosives Rained On 100 Nazi Cities, London Declares

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Crippling blows from British bombers on vital German centers were reported authoritatively today as give-and-take air warfare still surged over the English Channel.

British flyers, raining tons of steel and explosives on more than 100 German cities and towns, an authoritative British source said, have laid the port of Hamburg almost entirely in ruins and have scored heavily on the docks and airplane factories of Bremen and the communications nerve center at Cologne in the past three months.

British airmen were asserted to have made attacks on more than 1,000 objectives in the last three months—attacks of "genuine weight and importance."

Historic Places Hit.

Many of the places hammered by the British in the air offensive are Old World communities known to thousands of tourists. These places, it was asserted, have been "converted into military and industrial centers vital to the military needs of Germany."

AUG 3-1940

All attacks, this source said, were "planned with studious care with the object of avoiding damage, if possible, to towns and cities which are non-military objectives."

The British air offensive has covered objectives in enemy country from Borkum, in the Frisian Islands, off the extreme Northwest German coast, in the North Sea, to Rugen Island, in the Baltic Sea.

One German bomber was believed by observers to have been brought down in the sea off the northeast coast of Scotland after a Nazi squadron had dumped nine high explosive and 40 incendiary bombs—mostly on a golf course outside of town—this morning.

Eyewitnesses said they saw the plane fall into the water after British fighter planes had spattered it with tracer bullets. No casualties were reported from the German attack, although the bombs blasted craters 40 feet wide and 20 feet deep.

R. A. F. Lays Hamburg in Ruins, Docks and Factories in Bremen Heavily Bombed, British Claim

Bombardment of a wireless station and crippling of a German supply ship in air operations off the Norwegian coast were reported by the Admiralty.

Daylight Raid on Cherbourg.

The Air Ministry said a "successful" daylight raid had been made also yesterday on the German-held airport at Cherbourg, France. It acknowledged, however, that three of a strong force of coastal command warplanes failed to return.

On the other hand, the German high command said "all eight" British bombers were shot down before they could reach their objective at Cherbourg.

A checkup on the effect on British harbors of Nazi aerial bombardment indicated that, for the most part, they were intact.

Virtually the same answer came in reports from Folkstone, Plymouth, Southampton, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Liverpool and other ports. The Nazis have made repeated raids; there have been damages and casualties inland, but the water front is undamaged.

Nevertheless, some of Britain's busiest pre-war ports are virtually closed and their normal business has given way to war commerce.

Puzzled by Leaflet Raids.

Britons, wondering whether the Nazi blitzkrieg would come soon—or at all—puzzled over a "tabloid" leaflet raid by German bombers last night. Some conjectured that Adolf Hitler may be planning the slow war of blockade instead of the lightning tactics he has used before.

One Welsh town also was attacked from the air last night. About half a dozen bombs fell, causing slight damage.

An armed merchant ship which arrived at an Eastern Scottish port today reported its guns brought down two German torpedo planes during a night attack off Northeast Scotland.

AUG 3 1940

Industrial Ruhr Hit

The R. A. F. has struck night and day in the industrial Ruhr, which corresponds somewhat to the Pittsburgh area of the United States, it was said by authoritative sources.

"Within a gigantic circle," they said, "we have inflicted irreparable damage on such places as Duisberg, Duesseldorf, Essen and Wesel" in this area as well as at Dortmund, which occupies a position of importance in feeding the German canal system.

Hamburg, with its oil refineries, munitions factories and docks, which are in the center of the city, this source said, has been "pulverized again and again."

At Leipzig, where a renowned fair is held, there is a huge power station as well as industrial objectives which "have been bombed constantly," he added.

At the medieval town of Wernigerode, favorite haunt of tourists, the airport has been hammered by British bombers.

Other favorite Royal Air Force objectives have been the Kiel and Wilhelmshaven naval bases.

Whether Germany chooses the fast war of blitzkrieg or the slow war of attrition, British leaders declared, the nation is ready.

German airplanes, staging the first leaflet raid on England since the outbreak of war, showered a south coast port and a village in the southwest area with four-page tabloid newspaper style pamphlets containing extracts of Hitler's Reichstag speech July 19.

Leaflets as well as bombs also were dropped on Wales where fields in some sections were described "as white as snow" from the paper storm containing Hitler "peace or destruction" ultimatum.

At the time Hitler's speech was made the British press and radio both carried it fully. Several newspapers carried the text. The radio carried the official English translation from Berlin.

Despite this, the Nazi radio propagandist "Lord Haw Haw" stated in his broadcast to the British on the day of the speech that it had been "denied publication" in Britain.

The British Broadcasting Corp. in announcing the leaflet raids today commented "it is hard to understand" the German claim the speech was not published in this country.

British air raid wardens and policemen hustled out and collected the pamphlets even as they fluttered to the grounds, using flashlights and torches.

Morning newspapers made over their late editions to tell about the leaflet raids.

Propaganda Switch Seen.

The press has noted a switch in the German radio propaganda tactics directed at the British. Recently German radio speakers, instead of threatening invasion, jeering at the British home guards and referring to the fate of shattered Warsaw and Rotterdam, have been emphasizing the German blockade and the damage the German air force can inflict on Britain's sea-borne commerce.

No matter how Hitler wants to fight the war, the British said they felt ready.

Industry is geared for export production as well as for making armaments, the country has set out to capture Germany's pre-war toy market by the mass production of toy tanks, airplanes and barrage balloons to help get dollars to pay for the real article. Children throughout the neutral part of the world will get next Christmas blonde, blue-eyed English dolls dressed in the uniforms of the auxiliary services.

The Board of Trade established "British Overseas Cottons, Ltd.," to help promote export trade in cotton products.

The export council hoped to help pay the bill for American planes by persuading American women to wear tweeds made in Britain.

Reserve Plants Prepared.

The ministry of supply took steps to reduce the risk of air raid damage from interfering with industrial output. Reserve factories are being prepared to which a plant can be quickly transferred from a damaged works.

In preparing for any attempted German blitzkrieg and invasion and in speculating where the Nazis might attempt to land the British have not overlooked the book by the Germany Prof. Edwald Banse entitled "Germany Prepares for War".

Banse set out a strategy in detail. He advocated an attempt at landing in East Anglia — Norfolk, Suffolk and Essex, jutting eastward toward the continent—from the continental channel ports which the Germans now control.

The Banse plan calls for mounting artillery on the French coast to support the invasion, to be carried out by submarines and motorboats. At the same time bombers would attack airdromes, armaments factories and industrial centers.

Discussing strategy today The Daily Mail's military expert, Lieut. Col. T. A. Lowe, said:

"Six weeks ago this Banse plan might have succeeded quite easily. We were totally unprepared for the collapse of France. Hitler may flatter himself that it will succeed yet, but even if he tries it we have deprived him of one vital factor—surprise."

Reports that the Germans were massing a large number of big guns at the channel ports were described by the press as Nazi propaganda intended to impress the United States. It is contended here that artillery action across the channel to cover an invasion attempt would be impractical.

If the Fuehrer passes up those days, the next best come in September, from the 2d to the 7th. Third choice would be October 1-6, then October 30-November 4.

All of those are periods when the tides will be the highest.

The British are inclined to believe that, if the Germans don't make the stab by mid-September, no invasion will be attempted until next spring. Ordinary prudence on the part of the Nazi general staff, these observers say, will demand that at least six weeks be allowed for the campaign.

Storms, Fog in September.

They point out Hitler can't count on good weather for operations of his air force once the equinoctial storms begin in mid-September From then on, Britain is cloaked in fogs and mists so thick even the natives can't find their way around—and the Germans would be bound to get lost.

Neutral military men, picturing the Nazi attack as they might run it, say it should have these conditions:

1. A calm sea—To keep the German soldiers from getting seasick on the way across the North Sea and English Channel.

2. High tide—Essential in order that the flat-bottomed barges of the first landing force can be driven high enough on the beaches for tanks to be run off onto the sand in water not too deep to put them out of commission.

3. Fog in the English Channel—To screen the expedition on its way over. Sometimes the center of the Channel is foggy when it is clear on both sides.

Would Be Vulnerable.

These experts say preliminary air bombardment and landings on the beaches all would be preparatory to the first major objective in any campaign to invade this country—seizure of a port. Once a port had been obtained, they explain, the Germans could try to supply the landing force by deep-water freighters convoyed by airplane and submarine and possibly run in through lanes of mines as a further safeguard.

However, the British would not be just sitting around while all this was going on.

They point out Hitler's expedition would be vulnerable as soon as it got into its ships and would remain that way on the trip across and during the attempted landing.

They said they were confident any Nazi landing force would be "eliminated" in short order.

Next Week's Tides, Weather Best for Invasion of Britain

AUG 3 1940

Next Good Tides Come in September, but Storms and Fog Cloud England From Then On

BY ED STOUT

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The almanacs say that if Adolf Hitler is going to start his blitzkrieg on England this month, the best times for it will be next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings.

Gestapo Influences Japan Internally, British Charge

AUG 3 1940

Nazis Have Representative In Home Office, London Authoritative Source Says

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—An authoritative British source today charged that German Gestapo, through a representative in the Japanese Home Office, which supervises political activities, is wielding influence over Japanese internal affairs.

At the same time it was disclosed that two more British subjects have been arrested in Korea, Japan's colony on the Asiatic mainland, in a continuation of an anti-British campaign against alleged espionage.

This left nine prominent Britons in custody. Six others have been released.

Representative Identified.

"We have further information about the Gestapo representative at the Japanese Home Office" the authoritative source said.

The representative was identified as Franz Huber of the German Storm Troop Security Department, who was appointed "information officer" in the Japanese Home Office in 1937 after Japan and Germany joined in an anti-comintern pact.

When the European war began he also was attached to the German Embassy, the informant said, and thus became a channel of contact between the German Embassy and the Japanese Home Office.

The informant added that as a result, the Gestapo officer wielded considerable influence over Japanese internal affairs.

Arrests Revealed Wednesday.

Tokio dispatches Wednesday said "several foreigners" had been arrested in Korea, but the nationality was not disclosed at that time.

Those reported today as arrested were a missionary named Chadwell, who is a member of an English church mission at Haijo, and a man named Sandford at Teijo.

Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, Ambassador to Tokio, has protested against both arrests, it was said.

These actions brought a statement from an authoritative British spokesman yesterday charging that the German Gestapo (secret police) had a representative in the Japanese Home Office who carried considerable weight in Japanese internal affairs.

JAPANESE ARRESTS HINTED IN ENGLAND

London Paper Says Seizure Of Number In Empire Is Expected

AUG 3 1940

Authoritative Circles, However, Are Said To Deny Spy Hunt Or Reprisals

[By the Associated Press]

London, Saturday, Aug. 3—The London News Chronicle said today that "the arrest of a number of prominent Japanese citizens in various parts of the British Empire is expected."

The newspaper added:

"Authoritative circles in London do not make any reference to stories current of a 'great spy plot' and they emphatically disclaim any suggestion that the arrests will be in the nature of reprisals for the arrest of British subjects in Japan."

Action Demanded

The British press for several days has demanded official action in reprisal for arrests of a number of prominent British businessmen in Japan in what Japanese authorities said was a drive against possible espionage.

Six of the Britons have been released, but the number still in custody was raised to nine yesterday when it was announced two more British subjects had been arrested in Korea, Japanese colony on the Asiatic mainland.

30,24-4057

30.24-4057

London, Aug. 3-(Sat)-The arrest of a number of Japanese subjects in the British Empire was confirmed in authoritative quarters today. ###

AUG 3-1940

Tokyo Reports Arrests

Tokyo, Saturday, Aug. 3 (AP)—Japanese newspapers today issued extras carrying reports that British authorities had arrested Japanese executives in London. The papers said the arrests were "regarded as retaliation" for the arrest of British citizens in Japan.

BRITISH COASTER FELLS TWO PLANES

Small Vessel Brings One Heinkel Back to Port.

AUG 3-1940

EDINBURGH, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The little coastal steamship Highlander moved proudly into port today, the wreckage of a Heinkel bomber on her deck—one of two German planes her merchant sailor gunners brought down early today in a fight off the northeast coast.

They said that the other plane fell in flames into the sea. Two of the men on the steamship were wounded. The pilot of the first Heinkel apparently fell into the sea.

"We heard bombers circling over the ship," said the first mate, describing the action, "and one of them opened fire on us with cannon and machine guns. Our boys held their fire until they got the plane in their sights, then gave it a fast burst."

The first bomber crashed and the other, after machine-gunning the steamship, made off.

Half an hour later it was back, the mate said, but the Highlander's gunners got it almost at once. The plane caught fire as it fell near by and flames momentarily menaced the ship, but were quickly extinguished.

IRELAND PROTESTS GERMAN BOMBING OF LIMERICK SHIP

S.S. Kerry Head Was Struck in Plane Attack Near Coast of Cork.

AUG 3-1940

LONDON, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The Irish Government Information Bureau announced tonight that the Irish charge d'affaires in Berlin had been instructed to protest and claim compensation for the aerial bombing of a ship of Irish registry in Irish waters last week.

The bureau said that the small vessel Kerry Head had been attacked and damaged by a German bomber near the entrance to Oyster Haven, County Cork.

Although Lloyd's gives the 825-ton Kerry Head's registration as British, her home port is Limerick and it was reported here that she flies the Irish flag.

In Dublin the Department of External Affairs announced that the Irish registered vessel Kerry Head was attacked on August 1 near the entrance to Oyster Haven, County Cork, by an aircraft which was identified as German.

"Several bombs were dropped on the vessel which suffered some damage," the announcement said. "None of the crew was injured.

"The Irish Charge D'Affairs in Berlin, Mr. Jarnoek, has been instructed to lodge a complaint with the German Foreign Office and to claim compensation for the damage caused."

Emphasis on Coastal Bases.

By Associated Press.

The battle for Britain has resolved itself into a conflict centering largely on the English Channel and the North Sea and upon the ports and harbors bordering these waters.

Military secrecy hides the full effect of rival British and German blows by air and sea, but the British announcement that the great German port of Hamburg is now practically in ruins emphasizes the major attention being paid to coastal bases.

AUG 3-1940

Besides Hamburg, the British have rained thousands of air bombs on Bremen, with its shipbuilding yards, docks and airplane factories; and the big Wilhelmshaven naval base, and on Cherbourg, the German-held French port. All these possible jumping-off places for the long-awaited invasion of England have been blasted repeatedly by British airmen ranging from the arctic coast of Norway to the south of France.

The British, returning the endless German raids on their harbors and inland bases, reported that more than 1,000 objectives in Germany and German-held territory have been bombed.

British Ports Not Seriously Hurt.

On the other hand, the British Minister of Shipping, Ronald H. Cross, implied last Wednesday that some of Britain's busiest pre-war channel ports are now virtually closed for various reasons, and that normal traffic in others is displaced by war commerce—and only this week the Germans made their greatest single day's attack on Dover, the channel port closest to France.

Likewise, the Thames estuary, Southampton, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Weymouth, Portsmouth, Plymouth, Folkstone and the huge Yarmouth naval base have been the object of repeated Nazi aerial assaults. German attacks on Scapa Flow, in the Orkneys north of Scotland, forced the temporary abandonment of that great naval base early in the war.

Mr. Cross assured Britons, however, the maze of quays, stretching twenty-six miles along the Thames, from Tilsbury to London Bridge, and often called the most vulnerable spot in the British Empire, had escaped damage altogether.

Despite the daily German raids on British ports, a poll by the London Bureau of the Associated Press disclosed that they also had escaped serious damage from the attacks.

Port by Port Reports.

In its last recapitulation, the British Air Ministry reported that 318 German raiders had been downed, 248 since the first mass raid on June 18, by home defenses and that more than 400 Nazi flyers had been captured.

The Germans have countered the British claims with reports of a better than 6 to 1 score in air engagements.

Here is what British coastal correspondents reported in the Associated Press poll:

Folkstone: "You can take it from me there hasn't been any damage to this port. There is no shipping going in and out, but the reason is that all our ordinary trade is gone."

Plymouth: "There have been forty-odd raids around here in the last month and about twenty deaths. Some houses have been hit, but mostly the bombings have been in country districts where they are aiming at military objectives."

Southampton: "There haven't been any real raids here for six weeks. There has been no military damage, and none to port facilities."

Edinburgh: "There have been raids and one dock was hit at Leith, but no damage has been done to hurt shipping, which is a little slow due to other war considerations than air raids."

Dover Facilities Unscathed.

Glasgow—"Not a single coastal objective has been hit. They've been scattering bombs over towns and fields."

Hull—"Damage has been confined to houses."

Liverpool—"Some bombs were dropped in this region several weeks ago, but there has been absolutely no damage to the port or port facilities."

Dover—"You might have thought from the size of that big raid last Monday that a lot of damage had been done, but that's not so. I went around the harbor after the raid, but no part of the harbor or the harbor walls were hit. A couple of bombs dropped back of the town some time ago, but there has not been any damage in the town itself."

Bristol—"Shipping at Bristol docks is quite normal. There definitely hasn't been any damage to the docks."

Portsmouth—"We get plenty of raids around here, but Portsmouth is so strongly defended they haven't been able to get at us."

Cardiff, Wales—"We have had sixty raids in Wales in all, a good many alarms in Cardiff, and we have heard a good many bombs drop. But I can tell you that aside from a daylight raid several weeks ago there has been no damage to docks. Then one bomb hit a ship at the docks and killed six people. Shipping goes in and out as usual."

BRITAIN ORDERS CANADIAN WHEAT

AUG 3-1940

100,000,000 Bushels Order Is Largest on Record.

LONDON, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—An agreement to buy 100,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was announced today by the Food Ministry, which said: "This is the largest purchase ever recorded."

The agreement was made with the Canadian Wheat Board and covers "this cereal year, July, 1940, to 1941."

No figures on the price of the wheat or on the previous quantity purchased were available.

The huge purchase was said to represent a big proportion of a year's wheat consumption here. It was indicated the purchase shows that Canada is regarded as Britain's No. 1 granary, but it was understood the Ministry also arranged for wheat from Australia.

BRITAIN PURCHASES CANADIAN WHEAT

Orders 100,000,000 Bushels, Largest Transaction In Grain History

AUG 3-1940

[By the Associated Press]

Ottawa, Aug. 2—Announcement of purchase of 100,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat by the British Food Ministry—the largest recorded transaction in wheat history—was made here and in London today.

Trade Minister MacKinnon said the price was "considerably above the market level."

The agreement, covering the cereal year—July, 1940 to 1941—was reached directly between the Canadian wheat board and the British cereal authority.

It was the second deal made in that way, the first being the sale of 50,000,000 bushels to the United Kingdom announced last June 1. Other British purchases since the war started have been made through the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Transaction Has Little Effect On Chicago Mart

Chicago, Aug. 2 (AP)—Announcement of an agreement under which the British Food Ministry will buy 100,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat during the cereal year ending July, 1941, had little or no effect on the wheat market here today.

Grain men who pointed out that Great Britain requisitioned much of the Canadian wheat crop during the World War said there was nothing surprising in the contemplated purchases. Large quantities of Canadian wheat have been contracted for on previous occasions since the war began last September. The business, they said, apparently is of a purely inter-governmental nature inasmuch as the Canadian wheat board controls large quantities of the Dominion's crop as a result of its price-guarantee operations.

Wheat experts here said Canada, which produces a high-grade wheat used for mixing purposes by English millers with inferior grades, probably would have the largest surplus on record when the crop now near maturity is harvested. The Dominion is believed to have a record-breaking carryover of more than 250,000,000 bushels of old wheat. If a 1940 harvest of around 400,000,000 bushels is added to this an exportable surplus of at least 500,000,000 bushels is expected to be available.

They estimated this amount of wheat would be sufficient for normal British needs for more than two years if the wheat of no other nation were imported into the United Kingdom. Normally British interests draw on Australia, Argentina and the Danube region of Europe for supplies.

Declares Burma Road Is Open to Red Cross

AUG 3-1940

LONDON, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, disclosed today that Red Cross and medical supplies may still be sent to China over the Burma Road despite the recent British agreement with Japan to ban the movement of war materials over that highway for a period of three months.

In a written answer to a member of Parliament Mr. Butler said that Red Cross and medical supplies were not included in the deal.

Polish Ship Flees Nazis With Makeshift Engines

Reaches England From French Port After Being Immobilized And Awaiting Seizure

London, Aug. 2 (AP)—The 1,864-ton Polish steamer Kroman has arrived in British port after escaping from Dakar, French port in Senegal, under the very noses of Germans who had arrived to seize her, the Admiralty announced today.

The Kroman had been immobilized by the removal of a vital part of her machinery, the Admiralty said, but the captain made a makeshift replacement and steamed out of the harbor after learning of the arrival of the Germans by air.

AUG 3-1940

"By improvisation and engineering skill the engines of the Kroman were made to work," an Admiralty communique said. "She then escaped through the harbor defenses and on reaching the open sea set her course for a British port.

"All of this was accomplished although there were no charts on board."

British-American Buys Spitfire for Home Town

Chicagoan, Born in England, Gives Funds for Plane

LEAMINGTON SPA, England, Aug. 2 (AP).—One of this town's sons who went to America and made good remembered his home substantially today—starting off, with a gift of one Spitfire plane, a campaign to raise funds for airplanes.

He is Frank Allen, of Chicago, who was born in Leamington Spa and became an American citizen in 1926. Backers of the fund had asked him to take part.

He cabled: "Sell enough securities to buy one Spitfire from Mrs. Allen and myself."

A Spitfire costs about $4,000 ($32,000).

[Leamington in Warwickshire is familiar to Americans who have toured the Shakespeare country, as it is the railroad junction point for Stratford-on-Avon, Warwick, Coventry and Kenilworth.]

AUG 3-1940

Hitler's Leaflets Bring Red Cross 10 Cents Apiece

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Souvenir collectors paid six pence (about 10 cents) apiece for Adolf Hitler's leaflets dropped in Southwestern England last night. The proceeds were donated to the Red Cross.

AUG 3-1940

'Beaver' May Join Inner Council

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill has invited Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Aircraft Production, to join the inner war cabinet. The announcement tonight said the publisher, known in Fleet Street as "Beaver," would continue for the time being at the head of aircraft production—a task at which his flair for originality led him to ask housewives to give up their aluminum sauce pans for making Spitfire planes. The response was so great that he had to cry a halt.

AUG 3-1940

ADD LONDON — AUG 2 — SEE A HALT.

HIS ELEVATION MEANS THE FORMATION OF A POWERFUL SEXTET--CHURCHILL, FORMER PRIME MINISTER CHAMBERLAIN, VISCOUNT HALIFAX, ARTHUR GREENWOOD, CLEMENT ATTLEE AND BEAVERBROOK--TO DIRECT THE WAR.

THE PRESS, HOWEVER, SPECULATED THAT CHAMBERLAIN MIGHT RETIRE, OR THAT BEAVERBROOK'S ELEVATION MIGHT MEAN TRANSFER OF MINISTER OF INFORMATION ALFRED DUFF COOPER TO SOME OTHER JOB.

THE LABORITE HERALD SAID, "THERE IS GROWING BELIEF THAT MR.NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN, WHO IS AT PRESENT IN A NURSING HOME, IS NOT LIKELY TO RESUME ANY HEAVY RESPONSIBILITIES.

"IT IS BEING STATED THAT HIS PRESENT INDISPOSITION MARKS THE END OF HIS ACTIVE CAREER. IN THIS EVENT, LORD BEAVERBROOK MAY BE EXPECTED TO TAKE OVER THE EX-PREMIER'S DUTIES (LORD PRESIDENT OF COUNCIL) AT AN EARLY DATE."

AUG 3-1940

THE LIBERAL NEWS-CHRONICLE, DISCUSSING THE POSSIBILITY THAT BEAVERBROOK MIGHT TAKE OVER THE MINISTRY OF INFORMATION, SAID,

"IT HAS BEEN STRONGLY REPRESENTED TO THE PRIME MINISTER THAT BRITISH PROPAGANDA, ESPECIALLY IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES, BADLY NEEDS STRENRTHENING".

MQ1005PED

MORE CANADIANS LAND IN BRITAIN

AUG 3-1940

Many Americans Among Men at English Port.

A NORTHERN ENGLISH PORT, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The forces guarding embattled Britain were re-enforced today when another formidable contingent of the Canadians reached here.

The Canadians—with a liberal sprinkling of Americans—crossed the Atlantic in an armada of ocean liners under the escort of navy guns and with the friendly drone of British planes overhead. Not once did they sight a German plane.

As he led the contingent ashore, Major-Gen. Victor Odlum, commander of the Second Canadian Division, declared that until the British take the offensive into Germany, "we cannot feel we have done our duty."

One former member of the Michigan State Legislature declared that there were a substantial number of men in his brigade from the United States. He said they included thirty men from his home town alone, mostly American Legion members.

The Americans came from almost every region. Some had hitch-hiked their way up and across the continent to Canadian recruiting stations. There was a scattering of Indians and Negroes.

NORTHERN BRITISH PORT--FIRST ADD TROOP ARRIVAL (DAY) [redacted] BUFFER

AUG 3-1940

ADAM KOWALSKI, A POLISH-BORN DETROITER, EXPLAINED HIS SERVICE THIS WAY:

"I'VE TWO BROTHERS LOST SOMEWHERE IN POLAND. I DON'T KNOW WHAT'S BECOME OF THEM. THAT'S ONE REASON. ANOTHER IS THAT THIS JOB OF PUTTING GERMANY IN HER PROPER PLACE MUST BE FINISHED AND I WANT TO HELP."

"BING" PONDEL OF OMAHA--WHO HAD DONE A 7 1/2 YEAR HITCH IN THE U.S.MARINES--SAID HE CAME BECAUSE HE "WANTED ACTION."

DAVID CROLL, THE WINDSOR (CANADA) MAYOR WHO RECEIVED THE KING AND QUEEN ON THEIR VISIT LAST YEAR, REMARKED HE WAS "HAPPY" TO BE IN AN ENLISTED MAN'S UNIFORM. CROLL ALSO IS CHAIRMAN OF THE TRUST FUND FOR THE DIONNE QUINTUPLETS.

30,24-4059

30.24-4059

YOUNG DONNEL VAN DE VOORT OF MONTGOMERY, ALA., GAVE THIS EXPLANATION OF HOW HE HAPPENED TO BE HERE, A PRIVATE IN AN ONTARIO INFANTRY REGIMENT:

THIS IS OUR ROW AS WELL AS YOURS -- AND FIGHTING IS MY HOBBY ANYWAY."

MANY AMERICANS WORE THE KHAKI BALMORAL, OR OVERSEAS CAP, OF THE SCOTTISH BATTALION RECRUITED IN ONTARIO JUST ACROSS THE BORDER FROM DETROIT.

AUG 3-1940

ONE OF THEM, PRIVATE BOB BROWN OF WHEELWRIGHT, KY., SAID MOST OF THEM HAD BEEN WORKING IN DETROIT "ALONGSIDE CANADIANS WHO WERE JUST LIKE BROTHERS TO US."

OTTAWA, ONT., AUG. 2-(AP)-DEFENSE MINISTER RALSTON ANNOUNCED IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TODAY THE SAFE ARRIVAL IN BRITAIN OF "ANOTHER LARGE CONTINGENT OF THE CANADIAN ACTIVE SERVICE FORCE."

AUG 3-1940

RALSTON SAID THE NEW CONTINGENT INCLUDED PART OF THE 2ND DIVISION UNDER MAJOR-GENERAL VICTOR ODLUM, AND CERTAIN AUXILIARY UNITS.

THE MEN -- THE FIFTH CANADIAN GROUP TO GO OVER -- SAILED ONE DULL JULY DAY FROM A CANADIAN PORT AMID DEEP SECRECY.

AUG 3-1940

ONLY A HANDFUL OF OFFICIALS, SOLDIERS AND LONGSHOREMEN WERE ON HAND TO CHEER AS THE LINE OF GRAY TRANSPORTS MOVED OUT INTO THE DUSK.

--CHALKED WITH SUCH SLOGANS AS "ON TO BERLIN!" -- FOR DAYS A CHAIN OF TROOP TRAINS HAD PULLED UP AT THE PIERSHEDS AND MEN HAD STREAMED UP THE GANGPLANK, SOME TO JOIN THE SECOND CANADIAN DIVISION BUT MOST AS REINFORCEMENTS AND DETAILS FOR THE FIRST.

SOME WERE ON THEIR WAY BACK AFTER HAVING BROUGHT SHIPLOADS OF GERMANS TO CANADA.

MAJOR GENERAL VICTOR ODLUM, WHO LED THEM ACROSS, DECLARED ON LANDING TODAY AT THE UNDISCLOSED NORTHERN BRITISH PORT THAT "WE KNOW THE ROAD IS ROUGH BUT WE ARE READY TO TAKE IT . . WE ARE LOOKING FORWARD EAGERLY TO THE TIME WHEN THE BRITISH PEOPLE WILL BE READY TO RESUME THE WAR ON THE CONTINENT AND CARRY THE WAR INTO GERMANY . . ."

MANY UNITS HAD THEIR OWN BAGPIPE BANDS, AMONG THEM A MONTREAL HOSPITAL UNIT AND A SOUTHERN ONTARIO BATTALION WHOSE MUSICIANS IN MOST OF THE UNITED STATES AND WERE TO HAVE GONE TO THE NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR THIS YEAR.

AT THE HOUR OF SAILING, THERE PROBABLY WAS MORE TUMULTUOUS THAN ANY OF THE OTHERS. THE MEN SANG AND CHEERED AS EACH TRANSPORT SLIPPED INTO THE STREAM BEHIND A BATTLESHIP HEADING THE CONVOY.

RUSS GESTURE OF FRIENDSHIP CHEERS BERLIN

Capital Rejoices In Reports Of New Nazi Sea And Air Exploits

AUG 3-1940

British Raids On Reich Territory Noted But Are Minimized

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 2—This capital rejoiced tonight over reaffirmation of Russian friendship for the Reich, new exploits of Nazi air and sea raiders and the reassurance of an anti-aircraft defense credited with destruction of 1,230 planes since the war began.

The foreign policy address yesterday by Vyacheslaff M. Molotoff, Soviet Premier-Foreign C[illegible]issar, was welcomed by authorized spokesmen. They declared it left no doubt that any attempt to create a strain in Russian-German relations was doomed.

Raids On Reich Minimized

The high command took increasing note of British air force incursions over Germany and the Continent, but minimized the results.

All eight planes of a British bomber squadron which attempted to raid the German-held French airport at Querville, near Cherbourg, yesterday afternoon were reported shot down by Messerschmitt pursuit planes and anti-aircraft batteries.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—The British announced a "successful" raid on the Cherbourg airport and acknowleded loss of three planes.]

The Royal Air Force repeated its almost nightly attacks on western Germany last night, but the high command said the bombs "caused no military damage, but caused considerable damage to houses in the vicinity of Cologne, killing and injuring a number of civilians."

British Air Toll Put At Ten

Two British planes were reported downed in an air fight over the Netherlands yesterday, the high command announced, bringing the August 1 losses for Britain to ten planes against one acknowledged missing by Germany.

The high command marked up to the credit of a submarine commander, Lieut.-Capt. Wilhelm Rollman, in two recent trips to sea, destruction of a British submarine, a British destroyer and twelve armed merchant ships totaling 74,338 tons.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—The sinking of the destroyer, the Whirlwind, had been reported earlier both by Germany and Britain.]

Nazi Pressure On England

The daily communique also reflected the continuous pressure of the air force against British shipping and inland objectives, claiming that "big fires and several explosions" resulted in a raid yesterday on an airplane factory in Norwich, England.

A German warplane was credited with destruction of a British submarine July 31.

Authorized sources, tabulating the achievements of anti-aircraft artillery through eleven months of the war just ended, said that of 1,230 planes shot down, 1,071 were destroyed between May 10 and June 24—the period of intensive warfare in the Low Countries and France.

In addition, the anti-aircraft arm incapacitated 402 tanks, sank ten ships and damaged ten others, these sources said.

U-Boat Sinks Submarine, Heavy Air Toll Claimed

AUG 3-1940

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 2—The sinking of an enemy submarine by a German U-boat, which on two trips also accounted for twelve armed merchantships totaling 74,000 tons, the British destroyer Whirlwind, and was reported by the German high command today.

The submarine was commanded by Lieut. Capt. Wilhelm Rollman.

In addition the air force bombarded a number of small convoys and ships off the Humber on Britain's east coast, in St. George Channel and off Yarmouth, the high command said.

Merchant Ship Sunk

As a result of these attacks a merchant ship was sunk, and two other merchant ships, a tanker and a minesweeper were damaged.

St. George's Channel lies between Wales and Ireland, while Yarmouth is on the Isle of Wight o[illegible] the south coast.

"Another especially effective raid" was directed against an airplane factory in Norwich, the Germans said, with several big bombs dropped from a low altitude striking the factory and causing huge blazes and explosions.

The high command said the German raider in the South Atlantic, which fought the British armed merchant cruiser Alcantara, was continuing operations after putting the Alcantara to flight.

Eight British bombers which attempted to bomb the airport near Cherbourg on the French coast all were shot down, the German communique said.

Two other British planes attempting to raid Dutch territory also were shot down in an air fight.

The communique said British raiders on German territory did no military damage, but caused "considerable damage to houses" in the vicinity of Cologne, killing and injuring a number of civilians.

In addition to the submarine which was sunk by the U-boat, another submarine was sent to the bottom by a plane off the Norwegian coast, the communique said.

Nazis Set Artillery Toll At 1,230 British Planes

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (AP).—A total of 1,230 enemy planes have been shot down by German anti-aircraft artillery during eleven months of war, authorized sources said today.

AUG 3-1940

Of that number 1,071 were brought down between May 10 and June 24. In addition, the anti-aircraft arm incapacitated 402 tanks, sank ten ships and damaged ten others, these sources said.

Air-Raid Scare Enlivens Berlin Press Conference

Guns Boom at Foreign Office As Novice Pilot Goes Astray

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (AP).—The daily German press conference for foreign journalists was interrupted dramatically today by the booming of anti-aircraft guns directly overhead, apparently from the roof of the Foreign Ministry. The firing lasted less than a minute. No one left the building. Janitors and minor officials said that Wilhelmstrasse, outside, was cleared immediately, with every one running for cover.

An airplane, it was reported, flew over the city at a height of 5,000 feet and changed course immediately when anti-aircraft shells, apparently warning shots, burst about it.

The craft was a small biplane, later identified by officials as a German training machine piloted by a student who apparently had strayed from the course prescribed for flying over Berlin.

Nazis Limit Clothing Of Jewish Emigrants

AUG 3-1940

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 2—A general tightening of restrictions affecting Jews in Germany was marked today by regulations issued to emigrants forbidding them to carry out of the country more than two suits of clothes, one pair of overalls, one sweater and one overcoat.

Hitherto the emigrating Jew could invest his remaining reichsmarks in personal equipment calculated to relieve him of worries in the country of his adoption. Now he may take only the most essential objects of wear.

Baggage Limited

Under the new regulations an adult Jewess, for instance, may take along:

Two dresses, two professional robes, two aprons, one pullover, one raincoat or costume, one winter coat or cape, one pair of winter gloves, three drawers, two nightgowns or pajamas, two underskirts, six pairs of stockings, two bedsheets, two bed covers, two pillowcases, one pillow, two quilts, one set of mattresses or a straw bag, two pairs of street shoes, one pair of house shoes or gymnasium slippers, three personal towels, three dish towels, two scrubbing rags, two dust rags.

New Restrictions

For Jews unable to emigrate—and very few can make the grade now—further restrictions came in city police oders, of which those in Berlin are typical.

Jews here may purchase their necessities only between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon. This applies not only to all stores, but even to private and public markets and Jews complain it often is impossible to complete shopping within an hour when long queues are standing.

Gentiles are forbidden to shop for Jews except between 4 and 5 o'clock.

Repression also extends to German-occupied Poland, as shown by an official notice in the Warschauer Zeitung, printed in German: Jews are forbidden to enter Warsaw parks or sit on public benches in various parts of the city.

A number of streets are also forbidden. Here Jews may not even tread. The only exception are benches in a restricted Jewish reservation, a Ghetto.

The curfew for Jews in most German sities is 9 p. m.

Before the present hostilities began, Adolf Hitler stated publicly that another war would mean the elimination of the Jews. This dictum, apparently, is being made true with unrelenting persistence. City after city is systematically being cleared of Jews. The latest is the case of Breslau, where all Jews have been ordered to leave by autumn.

German Phone Service Now Forbidden to Jews

Only Doctors, Nurses and Hospitals Exempted

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (AP).—Jewish telephone subscribers received notices today canceling service save in the cases of doctors, nurses and hospitals. Where Jews have extensions to apparatus subscribed to by "Aryans" the latter were requested to sever the connections.

Jewish hospitals have been forbidden to paint the red cross on their roofs.

AUG 3-1940

These orders were part of a general tightening of restrictions against Jews, as illustrated by regulations forbidding male Jewish emigrants to carry out of the country more than two suits of clothing, one pair of overalls, one sweater and one overcoat.

JEWISH WINDOWS SMASHED AT NICE

AUG 3-1940

Berlin Radio Is Source of French Report.

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The German radio said today that anti-Jewish demonstrations were reported to have occurred on a large scale last night at Nice.

30,24-4061

30.24-4061

The radio quoted the newspaper Eclaireur de Nice as saying that large plate glass windows of Jewish-owned stors had been smashed by demonstrators who wrote on the entrances such slogans as "Down with the Jews and Free Masons," and "The revolution has begun."

It was reported that the police arrested several demonstrators who declared that in their view the Jews were to blame for the national disaster of France. The police said that in two cases revolver shots were fired at windows.

ROYAL FAMILY UNITED

Belgian Children Are Flown Home by Germans.

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The three children of King Leopold of Belgium—Crown Prince Baudouin, 9 years old; Princess Josephine Charlotte, 12, and Prince Albert, 6, have been returned to him by German plane from Portugal, where they were taken when Belgium became a belligerent, the authoritative German commentary Dienst aus Deutschland said today.

The children were flown to Brussels and then taken to the prisoner-King in a military car.

GERMANS SIGN TRADE PACT

Announce Agreement Made With Yugoslavia

Berlin, Aug. 2 (Via Radio) (AP)—Signing of a German-Yugoslav trade agreement aimed at increasing commerce between the two countries was announced by the Berlin radio today.

Yugoslav-Netherlands trade also was regulated by the agreement, the announcement said.

BESSARABIA VOTED INTO THE SOVIETS

AUG 3 - 1940

Former Province of Rumania Part of New Republic.

MOSCOW, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The Supreme Council of the Russian Parliament unanimously adopted a resolution today creating the Moldavian Union Republic, in which is incorporated the larger part of Bessarabia, recently obtained from Rumania.

This thirteenth member State of the U. S. S. R. is made up of most of the old autonomous Moldavian republic, previously a part of the Ukraine, plus the newly acquired territory.

The council voted the remainder of Moldavia and Bessarabia, as well as northern Bucovina, also acquired from Rumania, part of the Ukrainian republic.

Joseph Stalin and other top-ranking Soviet leaders attended the session. Its next meeting will be tomorrow afternoon.

Work of incorporating the new areas was the first item on the agenda after reconvening of Parliament for its second day at 6 p.m. today.

The borders of expanded Russia will reach to the Baltic coast, giving her important ice-free ports, and to the Danube River, one of the most important European commercial routes.

Forces Are Multiplied.

Successful foreign policy, Molotoff declared yesterday, thus has "brought about considerable expansion of our territory and multiplied the forces of the Soviet Union."

In less than a year the U. S. S. R. has added more than 23,000,000 persons, he said. The 1939 census listed 170,400,000 inhabitants, as compared with pre-World War figures placing czarist Russia's population at 140,000,000 to 182,000,000.

Since last fall, the Soviet has acquired part of Poland through joint partition with Germany; part of Finland in settlement of the Russian-Finnish war; the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, whose new Communist governments asked union with Russia; and the provinces of Bessarabia and Northern Bucovina, ceded by Rumania last June 27.

Former Russian Populations.

Nineteen-twentieths of the population of these areas formerly formed part of Russia, Molotoff said, "but had been forcibly torn from the U. S. S. R. by western imperialist powers when the U. S. S. R. was militarily weak."

Addition of the Baltic states "will greatly multiply their strength, increase safety and at the same time still further increase the might of the great Soviet Union," he added.

Andrei Andreieff, president of the Soviet of the Union (one house of parliament), announced before Molotoff spoke that plenipotentiary commissions of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia and delegations from Bessarabia and Northern Bucovina were attending the session. The announcement brought prolonged applause.

Formation of a new Moldavian republic, including 2,000,000 Moldavians in Bessarabia and the Ukraine, as part of the union, was approved July 9 by the Council of People's Commissars.

Germans Are Satisfied With Molotoff Speech

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (AP).—Authorized German sources referred today with obvious satisfaction to the remarks of Russian Premier-Foreign Commissar Molotoff yesterday about the United States and also praised his "clear and objective expose of German-Russian relations."

The Molotoff speech left no doubt, they said, that any attempt to interpret German-Russian relations as strained were completely wrong.

Asserting that Molotoff had indicated that any American attempt to interfere with Russian foreign relations would be rejected, the German sources said that was "not unimportant" to Germany.

These authorized German sources also said they derived satisfaction from what they termed Molotoff's rejection of English diplomatic and propaganda attempts to drive a wedge between Russia and Germany and to "draw the Soviet into the English sphere of influence."

Molotoff's Accusation Answered in Britain

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP).—Russian Premier-Foreign Commissar Molotoff's charge that Britain prefers to "continue the war for world supremacy" brought the rejoinder from authoritative British sources today that this is what Britain is fighting against.

Commenting on Molotoff's statement in his speech yesterday that the appointment of Sir Stafford Cripps, a Leftist, as Ambassador reflected a desire to improve Soviet-British relations, these sources said "that certainly is so."

They declared that the next move seemed to lie now with Moscow, but that Sir Stafford was ready to resume long-stalemated trade negotiations whenever the Kremlin was ready.

Reds Begin Incorporation Of 5 Additional States

Moscow, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Soviet press charged that Finnish police were clubbing pro-Russian workers across the border as the Russian Parliament tonight undertook formal incorporation into the U. S. S. R. of three Baltic states and two provinces obtained from Rumania.

The Supreme Council (Parliament), with Joseph Stalin in attendance, unanimously adopted a resolution creating the Moldavian Union Republic—the U. S. S. R.'s thirteenth member—out of the larger part of Bessarabia, seized from Rumania, and most of the old autonomus Moldavian Republic.

The Council gave the remainder of Moldavia and Bessarabia, plus the territory of northern Bucovina gained from Rumania, to the Ukrainian republic of the U. S. S. R. It adjourned until tomorrow, when the incorporation of the Baltic states might come up.

Meetings Broken Up, Charge

Tass, the official news agency, declared Finnish police used batons on women and men to break up a meeting in Helsinki, where demonstrators carried slogans reading: "Long live Soviet-Finnish friendship."

That dispatch followed yesterday's warning by Premier Vyacheslaff Molotoff that Finland must abandon anti-Soviet trends if she expects good relations with Russia.

It was understood J.K. Paasikivi, Finnish Minister to Moscow, left for Finland last night. No official explanation was given for his departure.

Incorporation of the Baltic states and Rumanian territory occupied by the Red army, will give the Soviet Union the "powerful voice of more than 193,000,000 people," Molotoff told the Supreme Soviet.

Added 23 Million People

In less than a year, Russia has added more than 23,000,000 people and considerable territory, beginning with the joint German-Russian partition of Poland, the Finnish-Russian war, the occupation of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina ceded by Rumania in June, and the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuanian, whose new Communist governments voted for the union.

Almost all of the people in the areas once belonged to Russia "but had been forcibly torn from the U. S. S. R. by western imperialist powers when the U. S. S. R. was militarily weak," Molotoff said.

With her acquisitions of territory Russia now has access to important ice-free Baltic ports and to the Danube river, transport gateway to southeastern Europe.

REDS CHARGE FINNS CLUB PRO-RUSSIANS

AUG 3 - 1940

Press Campaign Intensified by Moscow.

MOSCOW, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—A dispatch by Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said today that the Finnish police in Helsinki had clubbed workers who were attempting to attend a meeting of the Society of Friendship and Peace with the U. S. S. R. Similar clashes occurred in other Finnish cities, the dispatch said.

The dispatch followed by a day the warning of Premier Molotov that Finland must drop anti-Soviet tendencies, if she exepects to maintain good relations with Russia.

The Tass dispatch said that more than 2,000 workers had assembled in a Helsinki working class quarter carrying such slogans as "despotism cannot prevent us from expressing ourselves on the future" and "long live Soviet-Finnish friendship."

But the police arrived on the scene, used their batons, and when the workers resisted by hurling stones, several men and women were beaten, Tass charged.

FINLAND BARS ANTI-RED ACTS

AUG 3 - 1940

Decree by Kallio Follows Youth Demonstrations.

MOSCOW BECOMES AROUSED

Charges Police in Helsinki Club Adherents of U. S. S. R.

HELSINKI, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—President Kyosti Kallio, prompted by recent youth demonstrations, issued a decree today banning public gatherings without official permission and directed the police to disperse illegal assemblies which might threaten public order or injure the State.

There have been three demonstrations at Helsinki in the last few days by groups of 200 to 300 youths described by the influential Social Democratic Party Committee as dubious characters and provocateurs.

Finland, attempting to remain friendly with Russia, officially has taken every step to check minority elements charged by the press with misrepresenting this program.

The Kallio decree came coincident with Premier-Foreign Commissar Molotov's speech yesterday in which he asserted that good relations with Finland rested entirely with Finland.

Simultaneously the Social Democratic Executive Committee published a notice warning workers against public demonstrations, even as onlookers, by those it termed provocateurs with whom the enlightened must avoid contact.

The Social Democratic party recently has become involved in a political dispute with a minority faction which withdrew and started its own wing.

Dissatisfaction with war compensation to the population removed from territory ceded to Russia and the manner in which farms are being allotted to Karelian Isthmus refugees were the major factors involved.

FRANCE TO TRY EX-OFFICIALS IN COURT AT RIOM

AUG 3 - 1940

State Sets Up National Tribunal Of Civil-Military Makeup

De Gaulle, Condemned To Die, Says He Will Explain After British Win

[By the Associated Press]

Vichy, France, Aug. 2—France's historic trial of the old military and political leaders now blamed by the new regime for her disastrous defeat in the war will begin at nearby Riom on Thursday before a quasi-civil, quasi-military National Supreme Court.

This was announced today almost simultaneously with the action of a wholly military court in Clermont-Ferrand in condemning to death Charles de Gaulle, who refused to join in the surrender ordered by the Government of Marshal Premier Philippe Petain.

AUG 3 - 1940

[Associated Press Editor's Note—The British Broadcasting Company quoted de Gaulle in London as saying: "The sentence is that of a court largely under the influence and possibly even under the direct orders of the common enemy. The enemy will one day be driven from the soil of France. On that day I will submit myself willingly to the judgment of the people."]

Convicted In His Absence

General de Gaulle, who has formed a provisional French committee in England to carry on the struggle against Germany, was tried and convicted in his absence. He remained in London, busy with his work at Britain's side, while charges of treason and desertion in wartime were laid against him.

The names of those who must face the court at Riom were not disclosed officially. But among those who have been charged with responsibility for France's defeat are:

EDOUARD DALADIER, former Premier.
CESAR CAMPINCHI, former Navy Minister.
YVON DELBOS, former Minister of Education.
GEORGES MANDEL, former Minister of Interior.

Others at whom bitter cries have been raised in these post-war days are Paul Reynaud, former Premier, head of the last French Government before the surrender, and former Generalissimo Gustave Gamelin.

Life Term Is Maximum

From the court—made up in part of lawyers and jurists and in part of military and naval officers—there will be no appeal save to the possible clemency of Petain, chief of the French state. Some time ago it was disclosed that the maximum penalty upon conviction would be life imprisonment.

The accused are to be prosecuted, first, for putting France into the war; second, for the quality of her military leadership afterward; and third, for the quality of her preparedness.

In some cases, even direct plotting against the country may be charged.

While nothing was said officially as to how much possibility there was that General de Gaulle could be brought here to face the punishment imposed in his absence, it was made known in another connection that Britain had insisted certain French missions in England at the time of the French-German armistice must remain there.

Soldiers Given Extension

The Petain Government, meanwhile, granted the Frenchmen serving in foreign armies an extension until August 14 to retire from such service. Failing so to retire, they will be subject to the death penalty.

In England there are thousands of French troops who, although not enlisted in the British Army, are continuing the war with their old ally.

The Council of Ministers ordered the drafting of a law to dissolve all secret societies such as Freemasons.

State Trials Begin Thursday.

VICHY, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—Military leaders, former Cabinet members and others charged with having led France into the war with Germany and with responsibility for her disastrous defeat, will go on trial before the French Supreme Court on Thursday of next week at Riom, a little town twenty-five miles southwest of Vichy.

The names of those to face charges were not disclosed officially.

Former Premiers Edouard Daladier and Paul Reynaud, the former French commander, Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin, and the former Minister of Colonies, Georges Mandel, have frequently been attacked in the French press in connection with the forthcoming trials.

The defendants are to be accused not only of responsibility for putting France into the war and for poor military leadership thereafter but of responsibility for the country's prior state of unpreparedness.

Conspiracy May Be Charged.

In certain cases it is expected that even charges of plotting against the State will be brought.

The setting of the date for the start of the trials was announced by the Minister of Justice, Raphael Alibert.

Gen. de Gaulle Sentenced to Die

AUG 3 - 1940

French Leader Who Refused to Stop Fighting Tried in Absentia—He's Now in London.

CLERMONT-FERRAND, France, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who formed a provisional French committee in London to carry on the fight against Germany, was condemned to death today by a military court which tried him in absentia.

Charges of treason, attacks on the security of the State and desertion to a foreign country in time of war were laid before the military court of the thirteenth region, presided over by Gen. Frere.

Gen. De Gaulle is in London. He sprang into prominence when Premier Paul Reynaud dismissed Gen. Gamelin and reorganized the army.

It was announced that the new court, headed by President Chaours, will consist of Vice-President LaGarde, who now is counsellor of the court of cassation (supreme court); Admiral Huet, Louis-Jacques Tanon, also counsellor of the court of cassation at present; Gen. Watteau, Georges Ripert and Jean Benoist.

Gen. Watteau is a member of the Council of the Order of the Legion of Honor, M. Ripert is dean of barristers in Paris and M. Benoist is an honorary member of the State Council of France.

Attorney Cassagnau, accredited to the Court of Cassations, was appointed Attorney-General to represent the State before the Supreme Court and two assistants also were named.

BRITAIN DETAINS FRENCH MISSIONS

Refuses to Let Armament Experts Return Home.

AUG 3 - 1940

VICHY, France, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—Great Britain has insisted that the Armaments Mission and certain other missions which were in England when the French-German armistice was signed, remain there now, it was stated today.

The Marquis de Castellane, who was head of the French Embassy at London, as Charge d'Affaires, when he closed it on July 19, arrived here last night after a thirteen days' trip with the members of such missions to England as the British Government would permit to leave.

French consular officials also remained in England. Diplomatic relations between Britain and France were broken off early in July after British attacks on parts of the French fleet.

In an interview published today Minister of the Interior Arrien Marquet declared the French defeat by Germany as "the result of the entire political, administrative, economic, military and social system, undermined for a long time by impotence."

"Institutions and men are accountable before the nation," he said. "The men will be judged in all equity without cruelty but without feebleness. The institutions will, little by little, be rebuilt and adapted to the new conditions of French and European life."

France Tightens Gasoline Control

VICHY, Aug. 2 (AP).—A government decree ordered special road patrols today to prevent all use of motor vehicles except those operated under special police permits, attempting to safeguard a dwindling supply of gasoline.

The Government, attempting to safeguard the dwindling supply of gasoline, also applied a complete ban on the operation of automobiles and trucks owned by industries in certain categories and by private and professional persons.

The Minister of Supplies also published a decree limiting further the rations of sugar, saccharin, fats and oils and issued new limitations on the distribution of milk products.

Henry-Haye to Tour in France

VICHY, Aug. 2 (AP).—Gaston Henry-Haye, new French Ambassador to the United States, intends to leave soon for the occupied territory and a visit to Versailles, of which he has been Mayor, before going to America, it was reported today.

AUG 3 - 1940

VICHY REGIME FIXES PRICES

Wide Range Of Products Affected Under Rationing Decrees

Vichy, France, Aug. 2 (AP)—A series of new decrees today rationed numerous products all the way from milk, butter and cheese to coarse laundry soap as the Government took increasingly strong steps to control prices and supplies.

AUG 3 - 1940

One decree gave the Secretary of State for Agriculture authority to establish maximum prices of all farm products.

London, Aug. 2-(AP)-When Gen. Charles De Gaulle was told of the death sentence pronounced against him by a French court, he said, "I consider the act of the Vichy men as void; I shall have an explanation with them after the victory.

####

AUG 3 - 1940

ITALIAN BOMBERS REPORT THEY SET BATTLESHIP AFIRE

Rome Says Planes Attacked British Squadron Off Coast of Spain.

ROME, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The Italian High Command reported today that Italian air bombardment of a British naval squadron south of Formentera, in the Balearic Islands, had set afire a battleship and scored hits on several other warships.

Stefani, the Italian news agency, said that the attacked British warships, some of them having the last of Gibraltar's civilian population aboard, had left Gibraltar suddenly, apparently in fear of Italian bombings of the fortress.

[Formentera is the smallest and southernmost of the four major islands in the Balearic group in the Mediterranean, about 425 miles east and slightly north of the British naval base of Gibraltar.]

AUG 3 - 1940

Another Fight in Ionian Sea.

The High Command's daily communique said that the attack had been made on a naval squadron of two battleships, two aircraft carriers and a number of smaller vessels coming from Gibraltar.

It also reported that the British submarine Oswald had been torpedoed and sunk in the middle Ionian Sea last night by the Italian destroyer Ugolino Vivaldi.

The Vivaldi picked up and took prisoner fifty-two members of the crew of fifty-five, including Capt. David Fraser, the communique said.

Reports on Local Actions.

Italian forces have occupied Dobel, twenty-seven miles south of Moyale in Kenya colony, it was announced, after a strong counter-attack by the British, who were repulsed with heavy losses.

30,24-4063

30.24-4063

Eight British armored cars were destroyed by aerial bombardment in the Kassala zone, in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, and their crews were machinegunned, the High Command said. Air bombardment off El Butnana, in the Sudan, also was reported.

Two persons were reported killed and several injured in British air bombardments of Diredawa, Diavello, Asmara and Massaua in East Africa, where the communique said that two British planes had been shot down.

The Italians were said to have lost one plane in an attack on the British fleet units in the eastern Mediterranean.

El Butnana, which was bombed, is a station on one of the highways forming the transportation network east of Khartoum. The Italians have been making systematic attacks on this network, connecting the important cotton-growing regions of the Nile with the Red Sea. Gallabat, a terminus of one of the spur roads of this network, has been occupied, and Kassala, a highway center near the Sudan-Eritrean border, also has been taken by the Italians.

[By the Associated Press]

La Linea, Spain, Aug. 2—Warplanes, presumably Italian, flew high over Gibraltar today and dropped bombs near Punta Europa. The bombs appeared to fall in the water. Whether there was damage was not reported.

Blazing Libyan Base

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 2—The Royal Air Force announced today a "highly successful raid" on an Italian ammunition dump near Bardia, Libya. Plane crews reported seeing flames and smoke caused by their bombardment from a distance of forty miles.

The communique said:

"A highly successful raid was carried out by bombing aircraft of the Royal Air Force on a large ammunition dump near Bardia, eastern Libya port, yesterday.

"The noise and shock of the explosion were felt 9,000 feet up. Flames rose 500 feet and smoke 7,000. Flames and columns of smoke still were visible when our aircraft were forty miles away on the homeward journey. We suffered no casualties.

Caproni Bomber Downed

"An enemy raid on Port Sudan, by Italian bombers of S79 type, was unsuccessful.

"Our fighters encountered a Caproni bomber, CA133 type, over the Ethiopian border. After a short engagement the bomber was shot down.

"A small formation attacked the Accico oil refinery near Massawa. Direct hits were registered. As a result a petrol fire was started and smoke was seen fifty miles away. Enemy fighters were active but did not engage our bombers.

"The airdrome and hangars at Asmara were attacked by another formation of RAF bombers. One hangar was demolished and another severely damaged by near misses. There also were a number of direct hits on store buildings. All our aircraft returned safely.

Somaliland Air Battle

"During two raids on Chinele (Ethiopia), the result of which is not yet known, our bombers were engaged by enemy fighters. One of the latter is believed destroyed. One of our bombers was compelled to make a forced landing in enemy territory.

"On the return journey from the raids on Chinele our bombers sighted three enemy bombers, S81's, attacking Zeila (British Somaliland). Our planes attacked immediately. One enemy was shot down in flames. Another was last seen with black smoke coming out of one engine.

"South of Moyale (Kenya Colony) the South African Air Force bombed troop concentrations successfully."

chasers and anti-aircraft succeeded in shooting down all eight planes, three by Messerschmitt pursuit ships and five by anti-aircraft. There were no losses among our own craft.

During an attempted raid on Dutch territory two additional British Blenheim planes were downed in an air fight.

During the night of Aug. 1-2 British planes again entered western Germany. Their bombs caused no military damage but caused considerable damage to houses in the vicinity of Cologne, killing and injuring a number of civilians.

Enemy plane losses Aug. 1 totaled ten, to one of our own planes missing.

In another part of the North Sea the steamship Highlander (Captain Gifford) was twice attacked by enemy aircraft last night. In the first attack the enemy aircraft dropped bombs, which missed, and then raked the ship with machine-gun fire.

While doing so the German aircraft was hit by defensive armament of the Highlander and was seen to crash into the sea in flames 100 yards astern of the ship.

Ten minutes later the S. S. Highlander was attacked by another German aircraft. Again the bombs missed. As the aircraft circled to renew the attack it was hit, causing it to lose height. The port wing of the aircraft struck the port lifeboat at the davits. This swung the machine around and it crashed on the poop deck of the S. S. Highlander.

This morning the Highlander steamed into harbor with the wreckage of the German aircraft on her poop. The only casualties sustained by the Highlander were two men wounded.

The Admiralty also issued this communiqué:

During operations over the Norwegian coast yesterday Suka aircraft [British dive bombers] of the fleet air arm successfully bombed a wireless station and attacked an enemy supply ship of about 4,000 tons. When last seen this ship was listing heavily and was being abandoned by her crew. Our aircraft returned safely.

A communiqué issued by General Charles de Gaulle, head of the French Committee in London, said:

Our airmen took part in the operations carried out last night by the Royal Air Force over Northwest Germany, their chief objective being an important oil production plant at Kamen.

Ground defenses put up a heavy barrage, but in spite of this our men pressed home the attack with highly satisfactory results. All our airmen returned safely.

The Ministry of Home Security issued the following communique:

"Enemy aircraft dropped a small number of bombs during the night on a few scattered points in Wales, eastern Scotland and East Anglia. Damage was slight and the casualties were few.

"Leaflets containing extracts of Hitler's recent Reichstag speech also fell in some southern and southwestern districts of England."

ROME, AUG. 2-(AP)-NEW SUCCESSES AGAINST BRITISH NAVAL UNITS WERE CLAIMED BY THE ITALIANS TODAY.

THE HIGH COMMAND ASSERTED THAT A BRITISH NAVAL SQUADRON STEAMING EASTWARD FROM GIBRALTAR HAD BEEN VIOLENTLY ATTACKED FROM THE AIR SOUTH OF THE ISLAND OF FORMENTERA IN THE BALEARES, THAT SEVERAL SHIPS WERE HIT BY BIG BOMBS AND THAT A BATTLESHIP WAS SET AFIRE. THE LOSS OF AN ITALIAN PLANE WAS ACKNOWLEDGED.

TOO, IT WAS CLAIMED THAT LAST NIGHT THE 1,500-TON BRITISH SUBMARINE OSWALD WAS RAMMED, THEN TORPEDOED AND SUNK BY THE ITALIAN DESTROYER UGOLINO VIVALDI IN THE IONIAN SEA.

IT WAS ASSERTED UNOFFICIALLY THROUGH STEFANI, THE ITALIAN NEWS AGENCY, THAT SOME SHIPS OF THE BRITISH FORMATION ATTACKED IN THE BALEARES HAD ABOARD THE LAST OF GIBRALTAR'S CIVILIAN POPULATION AND HAD LEFT THE ROCK SUDDENLY IN APPARENT FEAR OF ITALIAN BOMBINGS OF THAT FORTRESS.

Communiques of Belligerents

German

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (AP).—Today's German high command communique:

Lieut. Capt. Wilhelm Rollman, commanding a submarine, sank one enemy U-boat. Thus this ship in two operations within a short time destroyed twelve armed merchant ships totaling 74,338 tons, the British destroyer Whirlwind and a submarine.

A fight developed in the south Atlantic between a German auxiliary cruiser and the British Alcantara. The superior and heavily armed enemy ship of 22,209 tons sustained severe hits. One, among others, hit its machines so that it was forced to abandon the fight and seek refuge in Rio de Janeiro harbor.

The German auxiliary cruiser proceeded on schedule to continue operations.

German fighting units on Aug. 1 bombarded a number of smaller convoys as well as several singly sailing armed enemy merchant ships off the mouth of the River Humber, in St. George's Channel and off Yarmouth. In these actions one merchantman was sunk, two additional merchant ships, one tanker and one mine sweeper were severely damaged.

Another especially effective raid was directed against an airplane factory in Norwich. Heavy caliber bombs dropped from low altitude hit the plants, causing big fires and several explosions.

One plane destroyed one enemy submarine in Norwegian waters July 31.

In the course of yesterday afternoon eight British Bristol Blenheim bombers attempted a raid on the airport at Querqueville, near Cherbourg. Quick defense by

British

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—An Air Ministry communiqué today stated:

A strong force of aircraft of the Coastal Command made a succesful daylight attack on the German-occupied airdrome at Cherbourg yesterday. The attack was pressed home in the face of very heavy anti-aircraft fire. Three of our bombers are missing.

The text of another Air Ministry communiqué:

Yesterday Royal Air Force bombers made daylight attacks on the airdromes of Leeuwarden and Haamstede in Holland. A hangar was hit and enemy aircraft were machine-gunned on the ground. One of our aircraft is missing.

During the night our bombers attacked synthetic oil plants at Gelsenkirchen, Kamen, Homburg and Reisholz, near Duesseldorf; the Krupp works at Essen, supply depots at Hamm, Krefeld and Mannheim, and several airdromes in Northwest Germany. The damage inflicted on the oil targets is believed to be considerable.

All our aircraft returned safely. It is now known that another enemy seaplane was destroyed in aerial combat with a British bomber on Wednesday.

The Admiralty issued the following communiqué:

One of our convoys in the North Sea was repeatedly attacked by German aircraft yesterday afternoon. No damage was done to any of the ships in the convoy or to escorting warships. One of the escorting vessels, H. M. S. Weston, shot down one enemy aircraft. There were no casualties in the Weston.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 2 (AP).—A Royal Air Force communique issued here today:

A highly successful raid was carried out by bombing aircraft of the Royal Air Force on a large ammunition dump near Bardia, eastern Libya port, yesterday.

The noise and shock of the explosion were felt 9,000 feet up. Flames rose 500 feet and smoke 7,000. Flames and columns of smoke still were visible when our aircraft were forty miles away on the homeward journey. We suffered no casualties.

An enemy raid on Port Sudan, by Italian bombers of S-79 type, was unsuccessful.

Our fighters encountered a Caproni bomber, CA-133 type, over the Ethiopian border. After a short engagement the bomber was shot down.

A small formation attacked the Accico oil refinery near Massawa. Direct hits were registered. As a result a petrol fire was started and smoke was seen fifty miles away. Enemy fighters were active but did not engage our bombers.

The airdrome and hangars at Asmara were attacked by another formation of R. A. F. bombers. One hangar was demolished and another severely damaged by near misses. There also were a number of direct hits on store buildings. All our aircraft returned safely.

A further raid was carried out on Gura despite low clouds making accurate bombing difficult. Direct hits were registered on airdrome buildings, causing several fires.

During two raids on Chinele (Ethiopia), the result of which is not yet known, our bombers were engaged by enemy fighters. One of the latter is believed destroyed. One of our bombers was compelled to make a forced landing in enemy territory.

On the return journey from the raids on Chinele our bombers sighted three enemy bombers, S-81's, attacking Zeila (British Somaliland). Our planes attacked immediately. One enemy was shot down in flames. Another was last seen with black smoke coming out of one engine.

South of Moyale (Kenya Colony) the South African Air Force bombed troop concentrations successfully.

NAIROBI, Kenya, Aug. 2 (AP).—A British South African command communique issued here today:

A quiet day on all fronts.

Further details of the bombing of the airdrome of Yavello (mentioned briefly in yesterday's communique) disclosed extensive damage to hangars and bomb dump, and at least three enemy aircraft damaged on the ground.

No opposition other than light automatic ground defense encountered. All our machines returned safely.

One enemy machine attempted to bomb Buna, but on being engaged turned tail and jettisoned its bomb load in the bush. There was no damage and no casualties.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 2 (AP).—Today's Italian communique:

An enemy naval squadron coming from Gibraltar and composed of two battleships, two aircraft carriers and small vessels was reached by our air formations south of the island of Formentera in the Baleares and subjected to violent bombardment despite intense anti-aircraft fire.

Several ships are known to have been hit by large-caliber bombs, including a battleship, with fires visible on board. One of our planes failed to return.

Last night the destroyer Ugolino Vivaldi sank by ramming and then with a torpedo in the center of the Ionian Sea the 1,500-ton English submarine Oswald, with 120-millimeter gun and eight torpedo tubes. Of the fifty-five men in the crew the Vivaldi recovered and took prisoner fifty-two, including the commander, Capt. David Frazer. All were uninjured.

In East Africa our aviation bombed El Butnana (Anglo-Egyptian Sudan) and in the Kassala (Sudan) zone bombed a contingent of armored cars, destroying eight and machine-gunning their crews in flight.

Our troops occupied Dobel, forty-five kilometers (twenty-eight miles) south of Moyale, repulsing a violent enemy counter-attack and inflicting heavy losses.

Enemy aviation bombed Diredawa (Ethiopia) without result. Other bombardments of Diavello, Asmara (Eritrea) and Massawa (Eritrea) caused light damage to an empty hangar. One Italian and one native were killed and several injured.

Two enemy planes were shot down by our fighters.

Swiss-French Border Closing Hints at Invasion of Isles

Frontier Barring Is Made Effective August 4; Aim Seen to Guard Activity

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Aug. 2.—The German army of occupation in France has ordered closing of the Swiss-French border from Geneva to Basel, effective Sunday.

Many observers viewed this as a new indication that the Germans are sealing all possible channels through which news of preparations for the invasion of Britain might reach the outside world.

Even the passage of farm workers and farm owners with jobs or property in villages across the frontier was banned.

German authorities in the frontier region northwest of Geneva only this morning told these workers and farm owners who cross the frontier in both directions to their fields and jobs that they must decide before Sunday on which side of the frontier they plan to live and work.

These people have been crossing the border with few interruptions since the start of the war.

On Sunday, said the Germans, all frontier permits will be revoked.

Similar orders were given at other frontier posts in the occupied regions except on the Alsace frontier, which has been sealed on the German side for weeks.

EXPECTS RUMANIA TO LAUNCH TALKS

Hungary Hears Bucharest Will Take Initiative.

BUDAPEST, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—Diplomatic dispatches from Bucharest today said that the Rumanian Crown Council had decided to open negotiations with Hungary and Bulgaria next week with a view of finding a settlement of their territorial claims on Rumania.

The reports said that the Crown Council, at a meeting last night with King Carol, had agreed that Rumania should take the initiative in opening the discussions, as ordered by Adolf Hitler last Friday at his conference at Berchtesgaden with the Rumanian Premier Ion Gigurtu and his Foreign Minister Mihail Manoilescu.

Hungary claims Transylvania, the rich agricultural province which she lost as a result of the world war. Bulgaria claims southern Dobruja, lost to Rumania after the second Balkan war in 1913.

HUNGARY BARS ANTI-AXIS NEWS

Foreign Correspondents at Budapest Get Orders.

BUDAPEST, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The Foreign Office Press Bureau warned foreign newspaper correspondents today against reporting news "which is either against Germany or Italy or which is in opposition to known political principles and policies of the axis.

Diplomatic spokesmen interpreted the prohibition as a frank move to fit Hungarian censorship into accord with the censorships of the Rome-Berlin partners.

The Foreign Office statement, read by telephone to the correspondents, warned them "to avoid every such report which tries to contrast differences between the Axis and Russia or which seeks to show that the Axis is endeavoring to subjugate smaller nations."

The statement, explaining the injunctions, specifically mentioned that "it is essential" to avoid reporting "that Germany is planning the territorial division of Slovakia."

"Reports such as these are not true," the voice continued, "and are the product of enemy propaganda."

Use of the word "enemy" puzzled the foreign observers, since Hungary is officially neutral.

Germans To Transplant Peoples Of Rumania

Bucharest, Saturday, Aug. 3 (AP)—A vast transplanting of peoples will occur regardless of how Rumania's territorial problems are settled, German diplomatic circles disclosed early today.

Arrival of a Bulgarian delegation to discuss that nation's claims on southern Dobruja is expected next Wednesday. After that conference, conversations will follow with Hungary over her demands for the return of Transylvania.

Under the transplantation plan as outlined by the Germans, all Germans in any ceded territory will be returned to Germany, while all Rumanians in ceded territories and in Hungary will be removed to Rumania, and all Magyars in Rumania will be taken to Hungary.

Diplomatic sources said Ivan Popoff and Dobri Bojiloff, Bulgarian Foreign and Finance Ministers, would come here to conduct the territory conversations.

While the government sought some formula to settle both issues, circulars opposing any cession of Rumanian territory were distributed tonight. They warned against creating "new hates instead of peace" in southeastern Europe.

Juliu Manu, leader of 5,000,000 Rumanian peasants, told his followers that the Transylvanian area should be set up as an autonomous state, "even if under Russian protection," rather than go back to the Hungarians, who owned it before the World War. Bulgaria demands the southern Dobrudja which she lost after the second Balkan War in 1913.

add Bucharest x x x

1913.

Meanwhile Rumania's Council of Ministers held a long session on the Jewish question. Two plans have been under discussion, both providing for laws which would require nearly 250,000 Jews who cannot prove that their ancestors for three generations were born in Rumania to leave the country within five years.

Meanwhile they would live in Ghetto districts.

Special consideration would be shown war veterans and their families but Jews would be barred from holding public offices. ###

Dobruja Parleys

[By the Associated Press]

Bucharest, Aug. 2—Well-informed diplomatic sources reported today that conversations between Rumania and Bulgaria regarding the Bulgarian claim to southern Dobruja will begin in Bucharest next week and that territorial negotiations with Hungary will follow.

These sources said the conversations, which are in response to Adolf Hitler's "suggestion" that Rumania settle her disputes with Bulgaria and Hungary, will be conducted on the Bulgarian side by Ivan Popoff, Foreign Minister, and Dobri Bojiloff, Finance Minister.

The Rumanian negotiations will be headed by Prof. Silvu Dragomir, former Minister of Minorities.

Juliu Maniu, leader of 5,000,000 Rumanian peasants, told a meeting of his followers today that Transylvania, object of Hungarian revisionist claims, should be set up as an autonomous State, "even if under Russian protection," rather than go back to the Magyars who owned it before the World War.

Maniu's organization has sent notes to Washington, London, Berlin and Rome protesting against territorial revision at Rumania's expense.

30,24-4065

30.24-4065

SOFIA, BULGARIA, AUG. 2-(AP)-THE CABINET MET TODAY FOR THE PURPOSE, IT WAS RELIABLY REPORTED, OF CHOOSING A DELEGATION TO BEGIN DISCUSSIONS WITH RUMANIA OVER BULGARIA'S DEMAND FOR THE RETURN TO THIS COUNTRY OF THE SOUTHERN DOBRUJA.

THE MEETING FOLLOWED A CONFERENCE BETWEEN THE RUMANIAN MINISTER TO SOFIA AND IVAN POPOFF, THE BULGARIAN FOREIGN MINISTER.

GROWING IMPATIENCE AND SUSPICION THAT RUMANIA MAY BE WORKING FOR DELAY IN STARTING THE NEGOTIATIONS WAS NOTICEABLE IN OFFICIAL QUARTERS, AND IT WAS REPORTED THAT ADDITIONAL CAVALRY WAS MOVED TO THE RUMANIAN FRONTIER.

NEWSPAPERS ASSERTED THAT BULGARIA WOULD ACCEPT NO LESS THAN RESTORATION OF ALL THE SOUTHERN DOBRUJA TERRITORY TAKEN FROM HER BY RUMANIA IN 1913.

TYPHOID EMPTIES TOWN ON RIVIERA

AUG 3-1940

Italians Drive Population From Menton.

BERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—Italian troops occuping the war-damaged French Riviera city of Menton ordered the entire civilian population to leave recently, due to an outbreak of typhoid fever and dysentery, the newspaper L'Eclaireur de Nice reported today.

The famous resort near the Italian border was shelled and bombed during the biggest Italo-French battle of the war, just before the armistice, and the city's water supply was cut off and its sewer main blasted.

Swedish King Declares Policy Is Unchanged

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—King Gustaf V, in a speech from the throne convoking a special session of Parliament today, declared that Sweden's foreign policy is unchanged and that he is continuing his efforts to "hold my country aloof from war while conserving its liberty and independence."

The legislators, called to take up industrial aid and defense measures, walked from Parliament to the castle to hear the King's address. The sovereign declared that the nation must use its productive resources to take "care of our state of preparation, exterior as well as interior."

AUG 3-1940

SWEDEN PRESENTS BUDGET

Earmarks Part For Defense—50 P. C. War Profits Levy Planned

Stockholm, Aug. 2 (AP)—A supplementary 1940-41 budget totaling 109,646,000 kronor (about $4,760,000) of which 47,359,000 kronor was earmarked for defense was presented in Parliament today.

The Government also proposed a fifty per cent. war profits levy retroactive to last August.

Dutch Tobacco Tax Raised

AMSTERDAM (via Berlin), Aug. 2 (AP).—A new German order announced today increases tobacco taxes in the Netherlands, effective Sept. 15. The tax on cigars is increased by 7½ per cent, on cigarettes by from 5 to 55 per cent, and on pipe tobacco and snuff by from 7½ to 30 per cent.

AUG 3-1940

Oslo Celebrations Banned

Oslo, Aug. 2 (AP)—Public celebrations were banned for tomorrow, sixty-eighth birthday of exiled King Haakon of German-mastered Norway, to prevent any possibility of demonstrations.

Havas Agency Branch Renamed

London, Aug. 2 (AP)—The London bureau of the Havas (French) News Agency has been reorganized under the name of Agence LEF—for liberty, equality, fratefnity—to disseminate the news of Frenchmen who have refused to accept the German armistice.

AUG 3-1940

Windsors En Route, Believed Protected By Long-Range Guns

Duke Delays Departure While Duchess Waits Almost an Hour

By the Associated Press.

AUG 3-1940

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 2.—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor were en route to the Bahamas by way of New York today, possibly under long-range protection of British warships guarding against any attempted German or Italian naval coup.

This is what "Mr. and Mrs. Windsor," as they appeared on the passenger list, took with them when the American Export liner Excalibur sailed late yesterday afternoon:

Three dogs, 52 pieces of luggage, an old portable sewing machine, a set of golf clubs, four basket-boxes of old Madeira and port wines and one 1940 model limousine and trailer.

Delay in Sailing.

The ship's sailing was delayed 40 minutes by the Duke, who was driven to the peer by his host of the last month, the Portuguese banker, Ricardo Espirito Santo. They did not arrive until 6:20 p.m., 20 minutes after scheduled sailing time, whereas most of the other passengers had been aboard since 2:30, and the Duchess had embarked at 5:25 p.m.

The Windsors have a veranda suite with a private deck designed for use as a gun turret in case American entry into war should convert the Excalibur into an armed auxiliary cruiser.

Occupying cabins off the veranda, which will serve as a private dining room, were the five other members of the party—Capt. George Wood, the duke's aide de camp, and Mrs. Wood, Detective Fletcher of Scotland Yard, and the duchess' two maids.

Other Passengers.

Fletcher, together with a Portuguese detective, inspected the Windsors' accommodations early in the afternoon, and barred strangers from coming near the staterooms. Precautions also were taken on the pier.

Among the other passengers were William Phillips, United States Ambassador to Rome, and his daughter; Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, jr., Ambassador to Poland; George Gordon, Minister to the Netherlands, and Capt. John A. Gade, retired, Embassy naval attache and naval attache for air at Brussels. John Cudahy, Ambassador to Belgium, made a last-minute change in plans and did not sail.

Excalibur Expected To Land Duke And Duchess At Bermuda

Liner Given Permission To Stop At British Island. Windsors' U. S. Visit Apparently Off

AUG 3-1940

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 2—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, now at sea en route from Lisbon to the Duke's new post as Governor of the Bahamas, apparently will not visit the United States, but will leave the American Export liner Excalibur at Bermuda.

The United States Maritime Commission reported it had given permission for the Excalibur to stop at Bermuda, British island colony, 405 miles out of their way. The Excalibur had been scheduled to steam direct from Lisbon to New York, arriving August 9. Officials of the line here confirmed the stop at Bermuda but declined further information.

It was reported in diplomatic circles in Washington that the Duke and his Duchess, the former Wallis Warfield, of Baltimore, definitely would debark at Bermuda, whence they would go by sea or air direct to Nassau, capital of the Bahamas.

The Excalibur, after waiting forty minutes past sailing time to take the Windsors aboard, left Lisbon yesterday afternoon.

Accompanying the Windsors are the Duke's aide-de-camp, Capt. George Wood, Mrs. Wood, a Detective Fletcher of Scotland Yard, and the Duchess' two maids.

Other passengers include William Phillips, United States Ambassador to Rome, and his daughter; Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., Ambassador to Poland; George Gordon, Minister to the Netherlands; and Capt. John A. Gade, United States naval attache of the embassy at Brussels.

Windsors' Ship Gets Permit to Call at Bermuda

Washington Hears Duke Will Land There and Go to Bahamas, Avoiding U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP),—Diplomatic circles heard today that the Duke of Windsor, en route to this hemisphere aboard the American Export liner Excalibur, definitely would not come to the United States, but would disembark at Bermuda.

This was reported soon after the United States Maritime Commission said it had granted permission to the Excalibur to stop at the British island on its voyage from Lisbon. The Duke is en route to take over his duties as Governor of the Bahama Islands.

Diplomatic sources assumed that the Duchess, the former Wallis Warfield, would also disembark at Bermuda, from where the Duke and she could go by either sea or air to Nassau, the capital of the Bahamas.

Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, said today that the State Department had no information establishing that a British warship was following the Excalibur. Sumner Welles, Under Secretary of State, said on Thursday that a British convoy for the Excalibur would be a violation of United States neutrality and an inconceivable action.

Whether a British warship by merely following the American vessel at a considerable distance would constitute a convoy has not been settled.

Ship May Stop, Line Says

The Excalibur, carrying the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, may stop at Bermuda, it was said here yesterday at the executive offices of the American Export Lines, 25 Broadway. A spokesman for the company said it was the company's "understanding that the Excalibur is calling at Bermuda, but this cannot be definitely confirmed."

Program At Nassau

BY FRED STROZIER

[By the Associated Press]

Nassau, Aug. 2—The Duke of Windsor will be sworn in as Governor of the Bahamas with the same traditional ceremony that has been used for his predecessors in this 200-year-old colony.

There may be more tourists on hand to watch, and this little colonial capital may show more excitement than usual.

But the simple, dignified ceremony in which the new Governor takes his oath of office and greets his legislators will not be varied in any detail just because Edward is the first Royal Duke ever appointed Governor of a British colony.

Same As For Career Man

Other questions of title and of Government house etiquette raised by the unprecedented rank of the new Governor remain to be settled by the Government in London. But plans are made for the official welcome just as though the Duke were any career man of the colonial service.

Traditionally, new Governors arrive here by steamer and high Government authorities are certain Edward and his American-born Duchess will make no exception to this rule.

Uniform Up To Edward

When his boat ties up at Prince George dock, the new Governor will step on Bahaman soil already attired in the uniform he will wear at official functions. In the case of Edward, this may be the official uniform of a Governor or the uniform of a major-general in the British army or of a high-ranking officer of the British navy, whichever the Duke prefers.

The Duke and Duchess will be greeted on the pier by the four Englishmen in the colonial government who are appointed directly from London—W. L. Heape, colonial secretary and acting Governor until Edward's arrival; O. B. Daly, chief justice; R. W. Taylor, receiver general and treasurer, and Eric Hallinan, attorney general. All are newcomers and will be attending their first such ceremony in Nassau.

Gilt Crown Above Him

With these as escorts, the new Governor and his Duchess will walk several hundred yards across Bay street and the public square to the little nest of official buildings. They will march to the second-floor chambers of the Legislative Council (equivalent to the British House of Lords), on whose dark walls hang huge oil paintings of former English sovereigns.

The Duke will mount a dais and stand before an ornate chair symbolical of the British throne he represents. Above him will be an oak canopy, topped by a gilt crown. At his left, on the floor level, will be the Duchess, the four colonial officials, the island's clergy and other leaders.

White And Negro Guests

Before him will stand the white and Negro members of the council around a table not unlike that of a corporation's board of directors. Besides a rail at his right will be the frock-coated members of the Colonial Assembly, who have marched from their meeting place in an adjoining building. (The assembly is equivalent to British Commons.)

The spectators' section at the rear of the council room will provide space for one hundred persons—limited to invited guests of the council.

The traditional oath of allegiance to the throne will be administered by bewigged Chief Justice Daly. The new Governor, according to ancient custom, will read a brief statement to the legislators.

To Ride To Government House

The short but punctilious details of this formal induction completed, the Duke and Duchess will ride to Government House — official residence and executive offices on a high hill eight blocks distance.

From this point, the business of official entertaining is in the hands of the new Governor and his lady. If custom is followed, they will entertain ranking officials at a state dinner. However, there is no set precedent for their guest list at this or any other function. Official social affairs will depend on the wishes of the Duke and Duchess and may be extremely simple or quite elaborate.

Consuls in Shanghai Move to Suppress Wave of Terrorism

Assassination, Kidnaping And Slaying Attempt Stir Plea to Council

By the Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 2.—The Shanghai consular body urged the Shanghai Municipal Council today to "eradicate and suppress all forms of terrorism" in the city, where an assassination, an attempted slaying and a kidnaping occurred earlier in the day.

In a lengthy meeting the consular officials called for complete co-operation between the police of the International Settlement and the foreign defense force, of which a regiment of the United States marines is a part.

A public statement issued after the meeting did not say, however, whether the defense forces would be given a more active role in policing the city.

Supervises Council Policies.

The consular body, composed of representatives of powers participating in the administration of the International Settlement, supervises in a measure the policies of the council, the Settlement's administrative body. The council controls the police directly.

Thus the consular representatives appeared to have passed the terrorist problem back to the Muncipal Council, whose chairman admitted, July 20, that the council was unable to stamp out a wave of lawlessness in the city.

The meeting of the consular body followed the slaying by a gunman of Charles Metzler, head of the White Russian community. The slaying occurred within the American defense section.

Recently Metzler had resisted attempts to reorganize the Russian Emigrants' Committee, which he headed, into a pro-Japanese body.

Friendly to Japanese.

At a press conference a Japanese Embassy spokesman said Metzler always had been friendly toward the Japanese, who had no ill feeling against him.

Mr. Metzler was the second important employe of C. V. Starr's Asia Insurance Company to be killed by terrorists. Mr. Starr is one of six Americans whose deportation was ordered last month by the Nanking regime.

A key man in Starr's company, Samuel H. Chang, Chinese business man, was killed in a Nanking Road tea house July 19 by two gunmen who also killed a White Russian.

Yen Lan-sheng, one of the editors of the pro-Chungking newspaper Sin Wan Pao, was kidnapped today in the French Concession. He was the eighteenth man on a blacklist of eighty-seven published by the Japanese-dominated Nanking regime to be abducted. Nanking reports have said that fifteen of the first eighteen had already agreed to work with the Wang Ching-wei government at Nanking, abandoning their efforts in behalf of Chiang Kai-shek.

Later a Chinese gunman tried to kill Sung Zung-doh, manager of the China State Bank, but his gun jammed, and the banker escaped. A Chinese constable who tried to arrest the assailant was wounded seriously.

Two armed Chinese abducted Sung Ching-tseu, manager of one of the largest coal firms in China, in his own automobile after knocking his chauffeur unconscious and throwing him out of the car.

U. S.-TOKYO CLASH OVER RUBBER SEEN

Gen. Koiso Says Japan Must Free Orientals of the East Indies From Exploitation

SUMA CLAIMS SOUTH SEAS

But the Spokesman Declines to Say Whether Philippines Are in 'Greater East Asia'

TOKYO, Aug. 2 (AP)—Friction may develop between the United States and Japan over the rich rubber resources of the Netherlands Indies, General Kuniaki Koiso, who is expected to head a Japanese mission to the Indies shortly, told Japanese reporters today.

General Koiso, until recently Overseas Minister, former garrison commander in Korea and a powerful exponent of Japanese expansion, has been asked by the government to go to the Netherland islands and interrupted a trip through the northern island of Hokkaido to start back to Tokyo for consultations.

Interviewed at Sapporo, the capital of Hokkaido, General Koiso said that "the rubber of the East Indies is indispensable for the industry of the United States and therefore the question may give rise to friction."

"The solution of this problem depends, however, on our decision," he added.

"The East Indies as a colony [of the Netherlands] long have been oppressed and exploited," General Koiso said. "We cannot tolerate such a condition in view of the principles on which we are establishing the new order in East Asia.

"It is necessary to emancipate the oriental races and we are destined to solve this problem.

"It may be said that the oil, rubber and tin produced in the East Indies control the world markets. We do not intend to monopolize these natural resources but it is necessary to make sure that they are disposed of impartially."

80% of Scrap Metal Japan Buys in U. S. Untouched by Ban

Change in Regulations Could Control All Such Purchases, Experts Say

By the Associated Press.

Government experts disclosed today that 75 to 80 per cent of Japan's scrap metal purchases in the United States were untouched by the new export licensing system.

They pointed out, however, that all Japanese purchases of this important war material could be brought under control or embargoed at any time merely by changing regulations.

Such changes would be made, officials said, only if it was found that defense needs required the metal to be kept at home.

The reason that such a large share of Japanese scrap metal purchases is outside the licensing system is that the existing regulations apply only to No. 1 heavy melting steel and iron scrap. Experts estimate that this classification accounts for only 20 to 25 per cent of Japan's scrap metal purchases over a long period.

Whether this 20 or 25 per cent of Japanese orders is being banned under the new system, or merely brought under control, has not yet been disclosed. American officials did report today that some exports of No. 1 heavy melting steel and iron were being licensed, but whether these were going to Japan, they would not say.

Restrictions May Be Asked.

(In New York, Robert W. Wolcott, president of the Lukens Steel Co., said independent manufacturers of steel were about to ask restrictions on sales abroad of all grades of scrap steel. The reason for the plea, it was learned, is that steel makers estimate that present stocks of scrap in the United States "are equivalent to only about six weeks' consumption by the industry.)

One phase of the new licensing system—covering aviation gas—is known to have affected the Japanese. President Roosevelt clamped an embargo earlier this week on shipments of aviation gas to points outside the Western Hemisphere.

This cut off an important supply line for Tokio in her war against China. The Japanese bought 105,000 barrels of aviation gasoline from this country during the first six months of this year. Their purchases were lower than last year, due, Government experts say, to the fact that they had accumulated a considerable reserve and had bought considerable California crude last year, which the "cracked" into aviation gasoline in their own plants.

Even though Japan already had been buying less aviation gasoline in 1940 than in 1939, Government spokesmen in Tokio denounced the embargo.

Defense Needs the Criterion.

The Japanese government announcement yesterday of a foreign policy which would extend her domination over French Indo-China and the Netherlands East Indies raised a question, in many analysts' minds, as to whether the United States export licensing system might be tightened to try to dissuade her.

State Department officials insisted, however, that the export-control policy would be determined solely on the basis of national defense and would have no connection with foreign policy.

30,24-4067

30.24-4067

Secretary of State Hull, just home from the Havana conference, declined immediate comment on the new Japanese statement. He has shown no sign, however, of yielding from his previously stated position that any attempt to change the status quo by force would be a threat to the peace of the entire Pacific.

Meanwhile Juan Francisco de Cardenas, the Spanish Ambassador, informed the State Department yesterday that Spain's oil imports during the last two years have been exclusively for its own needs and not for Nazi Germany or Fascist Italy.

The Ambassador called on Undersecretary of State Welles to "clarify" the situation. He told reporters that his government was not protestng against the embargo.

EXAMINE ALCANTARA

Brazilians Will Determine Time Needed for Repairs.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—Port authorities were expected today to name a commission under the Brazilian neutrality law to determine whether damages to the British armed merchant cruiser Alcantara require her to remain here beyond the twenty-four hours allowed belligerent ships.

The 22,209-ton Alcantara put in at Vianna Island naval shipyard yesterday for repairs after a battle with an armed German raider off the South American coast.

Naval circles expressed belief that the work would require ten days, although one of her officers estimated that three or four days would suffice.

AUG 3 - 1940

81 HELD AT PANAMA NOT ALIEN AGENTS

Error in Transmission Is Cause of Mistake.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The War Department said today that a mistake in transmitting a message had resulted in an erroneous announcement that eighty-one aliens detained in the Canal Zone were foreign agents. The announcement was made yesterday by Secretary Stimson.

Eighty-one aliens have been detained "for deportation or other disposition," the department said, but it was admitted that the army did not know if any were foreign agents.

Perhaps sixty or more of the eighty-one were reported from Panama to be of German origin. Officials of the Republic of Panama said that the aliens were known as refugees.

All told, about 800 or 1,000 such refugees received temporary haven in the republic several months ago and some obtained temporary employment on Panama Canal projects, the army said. The eighty-one men and women detained were among the latter number and are subject to deportation simply because their identification and passport papers are not in order, it was said.

An army official explained the announcement made by Secretary Stimson yesterday was the result of an error in tranmission. The word aliens was said to have been misinterpreted for agents in a verbal report of the detention.

NEW AREAS MINED OFF PANAMA CANAL

AUG 3 1940

First Official Acknowledgment Comes From District Commandant

Four Destroyers Assigned To Direct Shipping, Admiral Sadler Explains

[By the Associated Press]

Colon, C. Z., Aug. 2—Rear Admiral Frank H. Sadler, commandant of the Fifteenth Naval district, said today that four destroyers newly assigned to the Panama Canal entrances were intended to keep shipping out of mined areas.

This was the first direct official acknowledgment that newly-mined areas exist, but the Admiral qualified it with the explanation that personnel was being trained in the laying and sweeping of mines.

Temporarily Detached

It was said that the detroyers were not replacements for ships being overhauled, but were temporarily detached from the Atlantic Squadron for their present assignment" and would return to the squadron upon completion of "the job of seeing that ships entering this area with intent to transit the canal are not subjected to undue hazards."

The destroyers are the W. C. Wood, Abel P. Upshur, Herndon and Welles.

The Admiral Explains

The admiral said: "Mine-laying and sweeping activities have been in the past carried out with some regularity and are being carried on now.

"In some cases mine fields cannot be laid and swept all in one day. This might mean that mines would be left in these fields two days, two weeks, or two months—whatever conditions would seem to make advantageous for training men and testing sea action on the mines."

HONDURAS TO HAVE DRAFT

Orders Six Months' Training For Men Over 21

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Government today announced a program of compulsory military service of six months for men 21 years old.

The army also ordered the militia to undergo special training every Sunday throughout the republic.

AUG 3-1940

Fleet Returns To Base

Honolulu, Aug. 2 (AP)—A fleet concentration consisting of ten battleships, cruisers and destroyers returned today from a due south direction and began entering Pearl harbor. For the first time in ten days, no warships were anchored last night off Pearl harbor or Honolulu.

2 SHIPS' FATE UNKNOWN

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—The fate of two vessels was shrouded today in the obscurity of sea warfare off the British Isles.

An unidentified steamer was reported torpedoed last night about 450 miles west of the northern tip of Ireland in a message relayed to Mackay Radio by the American steamer Algic.

The SOS message was signed "ODXA," but Mackay said the message probably was garbled.

Lloyd's registry listed no ship so-named.

The scene of the reported torpedoing was about 300 miles northeast of the spot from where the British steamer Theseus sent a distress signal saying she was attacked by a German submarine earlier yesterday.

PARAGUAYAN FOR ACTION

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Tomas Salamoni, Foreign Minister of Paraguay, said today he would begin discussions with President Estagarriba looking toward ratification of the "Act of Havana" as soon as he returned to Asuncion.

The Minister, who was his country's delegate to the Havana conference, said he expects to go to New York Monday or Tuesday. He plans to sail for home August 3.

British U. S. Purchases Over $2,000,000,000

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—British war purchases in the United States have climbed above the $2,000,000,000 mark, it was indicated by the British Purchasing Commission here today. Last week the figure was just under that total.

It also was intimated, although not stated definitely, that airplane deliveries from the United States to Britain now are at the rate of about 300 a month, as against an April delivery of approximately 200 monthly.

The committee voted down, 7 to 2, an amendment to the Burke-Wadsworth bill, offered by Senator Lee (D.-Okla.), which would have limited the men drafted between Oct. 1, 1940, and April 1, 1941, to 400,000 and between April 1 and Oct. 1, 1941, to 500,000.

This action and rejection of an amendment by Lee for a 90-day period of voluntary enlistments seemed to have cleared the way for a final committee vote on the legislation next Monday.

F. D. R. Takes Stand

Roosevelt's views on compulsory training were expressed at a press conference when a newsman said a report is going around that the Chief Executive is "not so hot about conscription."

Emphasizing the pointedness of his statement, the President permitted this direct quotation:

"I am distinctly in favor of a selective service training bill and I consider it essential to adequate national defense."

While the Senate committee put finishing touches on its version of the Burke-Wadsworth legislation, the House Military Committee heard witnesses on the same measure. Some urged that voluntary enlistment be tried before a draft; others declared the voluntary system has "failed" already and the draft must be enacted.

Covers Eight Million

As the Senate bill stood with rejection of the 900,000-man limitation, it calls for registration of all men between 21 and 30, inclusive. An estimated 4,500,000 of about 8,000,000 registered would qualify for service, Army officials report.

Declaring he abandoned long ago the practice of sending up what he called ready-made bills to be rushed through Congress, Roosevelt added he is leaving to the Legislature the age brackets for registrants under a compulsory training law.

The lessons of the present war show defense means total defense, he said so under modern circumstances, he continued, that means a lot of new machinery and equipment which the nation hasn't got but is beginning to get.

Rushing Orders

He said William S. Knudsen, in charge of defense plans for industrial production, told him the other day that a lot of companies are proceeding with $1,800,000,000 worth of orders for all kinds of materials and machinery without waiting for actual contracts.

The United States, he declared, has learned from the present war that nations without trained manpower are in a bad way.

F. D. Backs Draft; Defeat Reduction To 900,000 Men

AUG 3-1940

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP).—Shortly after President Roosevelt declared that a system of selective training is "essential to adequate national defense," the Senate Military Committee rejected today a proposal to limit compulsory service at this time to 900,000 men.

President's Views on Draft.

The way the President put it was this:

In 1917 this country built an army of 4,000,000 men but they did not go into action until thirteen and a half months later.

Meanwhile no shot was fired against this country over here, but that was just a bit of sheer luck and would never happen again in this nation's history.

In other words, the United States now must have a trained army beforehand, consisting of fighting men, supply men, mechanics and factory workers. All would require training, he said, whether they were in uniform or not.

By training men in advance for defense, a nation saves human lives. An untrained army and navy mean casualties much higher than in the case of trained manpower, and fewer cases of disease result from having a trained organization.

A nation can not get a sufficiently trained force of military and non-military men by just passing an act of Congress when war breaks out or by having a purely voluntary system. Therefore compulsory conscription is the most efficient way to handle the problem.

The President continued to expound his views along this line:

It does not make a lot of difference what ages are put in the law, but it would be a good thing to know the capacities of the various groups. All registrants would not be given rifles. For instance, the President knew a man, an expert mechanic, who was volunteering because he wanted to go to the front with a rifle, but this man should not be permitted to go to the front because he was more valuable at his trade.

Bound to Be Criticized.

Mr. Roosevelt said at the outset, after the reporter had sounded him out on reports that he was cool to conscription, that he was thinking the other day that he was being damned if he did and damned if he didn't. He said he was bound to be criticized whatever he did and if he sent up a ready-made bill for Congress to pass the newspaper men would say the President was ordering Congress to do something.

Old man dictator, he said, would be the definition in some stories. Recalling the depression crisis of 1933, he said he did send to Congress readymade bills which were put through without hearings, but this was only to save time in the emergency. He got terribly panned for this, he added. Later, in 1934, the practice was discarded.

Then, he continued, when congressional committees asked him to submit tentative drafts of bills newspaper men invented the term "must" legislation and he got panned on that.

There never had been any "must" legislation, he said. Further explaining why he had not spoken before today on conscription, the President said one editorial today urged Congress to do something quickly, while another asked, Why the rush?

MAYOR OPPOSES CALLING OF GUARD

Favors Training of Youths Between 18 and 22.

AUG 3 — 1940

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 2 (A. P.).—Mayor LaGuardia of New York today opposed active service for the National Guard and said he preferred training for short periods to prevent disrupting established business activities of members.

"The only democratic way to train 1,000,000 men is to give every American boy an opportunity to be trained through a system of military training throughout the country," he told 800 "trainees" at ceremonies closing the business and professional men's camp.

"That can easily be accomplished if the younger age groups from 18 to 22, and not from 18 to 35, are taken into military training now, and if we start off with 750,000 for training while we are making the necessary equipment.

"Frankness is the thing that is needed, frankness about the fact that we haven't at present the equipment or personnel to answer a call. Everybody else knows it. Every potential enemy knows exactly what the other country has. It will take at least a year for us to begin to be ready, but with every little lull in Europe some one in Washington gets cold feet. Our only hope of keeping war away from our shores is decisive action now."

Decrying attempts to "soft pedal" our defense situation, the Mayor told the "trainees" they had earned the thanks and gratitude of their fellow countrymen.

"That song about 'an old soldier never dies' is a peacetime version," Mayor LaGuardia declared. "The wartime version is 'an untrained soldier hasn't a chance.' "

The Mayor came here after catching up on some sleep at a private residence at Hague on Lake George.

Navy Building Alaska Air Base On Island Outpost Facing Russia

By The Associated Press

AUG 3 — 1940

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—A start on construction of the farthest outpost of the United States' Alaskan defenses, facing Russia and Japan, was authorized by the Navy today in awarding $8,914,500 in contracts for work at four insular naval air stations.

Already engaged in work on the air station at Kodiak Island in the Gulf of Alaska, a syndicate of three firms was given the order to begin preparing aviation facilities at Unalaska Island, first big link of the Aleutian Islands, which string down and out from the southern tip of Alaska.

The syndicate also was awarded additional work under its existing contract at Kodiak, with a total estimated cost of $4,305,000 for the two awards. The proportion of funds to each project was not given.

Two other Navy contracts today also allotted funds to continue strengthening naval air outposts in both the Atlantic and Pacific.

They were an award to the Arundel Corporation and Consolidated Engineering Company, of Baltimore, for aviation facilities at the naval air station at San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Charlotte Amalie Virgin Islands, to cost $3,272,000; and an award to the Hawaiian Dredging Company, Ltd., the Raymond Concrete Pile Company, and the Turner Construction Company, for aviation facilities at Midway Island, in the Pacific, to cost $1,337,500.

The companies receiving the Alaska contract with a joint bid were the Siems Spokane Company, Johnson, Drake & Piper Inc., and the Puget Sound Bridge & Dredging Co.

Meanwhile the Army was disclosed to be negotiating with General Motors and the Chrysler Corporation for the operation of two aircraft cannon factories scheduled to be erected by the government within the next year.

Publication of House committee hearings on the pending $4,800,000,000 defense bill revealed officially for the first time that the Army planned, as the result of lessons learned from Europe's war, to mount cannon on its combat airplanes. In Europe the use of armor on planes had been widely adopted.

Comparable in size and power to the present anti-tank weapon used by the Army, the 37-millimeter guns would supplement the 30 and 50-caliber machine guns now mounted on planes.

Maj. Gen. C. M. Wesson, Chief of Ordnance, told the House committee that he expected to complete contracts for the construction of the plants, to cost $14,000,000 for both, by Sept. 1. They would be in operation a year later, he said.

Order for Bendix Planned

Meanwhile, he said, the Army is getting an order started with the Bendix Corporation at Bendix, N. J., but rather than build a new plant there near the Atlantic Coast will construct two in the Middle West. Bendix facilities may be expanded, however.

To take care of immediate requirements, Gen. Wesson said, the Army also is seeking to place an order with Chrysler prior to construction of the new factories. Chrysler and General Motors would operate the new plants, under present plans.

Gen. Wesson said it would require two and a half to three years to complete enough guns to outfit the planes being purchased for Army-Navy aircraft expansion.

The Defense Commission announced today that it had cleared contracts totaling $72,200,000 for the Army and Navy in the week between July 18 and July 27, making a total of $1,722,200,000 for the period from June 6 through July 27.

Largest single item listed in the commission's report was an order for $29,357,000 worth of ammunition given to the government-owned Picatinny, N. J., arsenal.

A total of $7,859,162 worth of contracts also was announced by the War Department. Topping the list was an order to Colt's Patent Fire-arms Manufacturing Company, of Hartford, Conn., for $2,455,660 worth of weapons. It was reported earlier this week that such a contract had been awarded for 37-millimeter guns, which Congressional hearings have indicated would be mounted on airplanes.

Other Contracts Listed

Other contracts included: Diamond T. Motor Car Company, trucks, $3,241,290; Budd Wheel Company, Detroit, ammunition, $1,737,000, and J. W. Bailey, construction company, Seattle, temporary housing at Fort Lewis, Wash., $340,125.

Among contracts announced by the Defense Commission as cleared through its production division were:

Circle Wire and Cable Company, Maspeth, L. I., wire, $254,966; Phelps Dodge Copper Products Corporation, New York, wire $183,413; Graybar Electric Company, Inc., New York, wire, $382,800; Watervliet Arsenal at Watervliet, N. Y., guns, $5,232,000; Maryland Dry Dock Company, Baltimore, overhauling the U. S. S. Mattole $,523,847.

The American Car and Foundry Company, it was disclosed, is manufacturing 1,156 tanks for the United States Army. Previous official reports told only of the construction of 627 tanks by A. C. F., under an $11,000,000 contract awarded recently.

The larger number was announced by Robert W. Horton, information director of the National Defense Commission, who said that the company's plant at Berwick, Pa., was now turning out combat vehicles at the rate of two and a half to three a day and would be able to double its output within five months.

The Defense Commission said today that airplane manufacturers were proceeding with plant expansions and were even constructing planes without waiting upon the formality of signed Army-Navy contracts.

At the request of President Roosevelt, Mr. Horton gave reporters a detailed accounting of the present status of the vast military aircraft expansion program.

While perhaps $80,000,000 in aircraft orders have been cleared by the commission but not yet formally signed because of technical problems, plane designing, plant construction plans, and purchases of material are proceeding, Mr. Horton said.

North American Aviation Corporation, he added, already is producing training planes and storing them for delivery upon the execution of contracts.

Would Deduct Tax On Defense Plants

AUG 3 — 1940

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP).—The House tax subcommittee voted tentatively today to permit national defense contractors and sub-contractors to deduct the entire cost of plant expansion from taxable earnings. The deduction would be 20 per cent annually for five years.

At the same time, the committee voted to recommend to the full Ways and Means Committee that this amortization plan be incorporated in a single bill with an excess profits tax and a suspension of the restriction on warship and military plane profits.

Rep. Cooper (D.-Tenn.), subcommitte chairman, announced both decisions were unanimous.

The five-year amortization plan would apply to incomes and excess profit taxes. Under it, 20 per cent annual deductions would be permitted on new plants, plant expansions and equipment completed after July 10, 1940.

The Treasury would allow the deductions on certification by the Defense Commission and either the War or Navy Department as the case might be.

The plan would be optional, Cooper said. As an alternative, concerns might elect to continue the present practice of deducting so much per annum for depreciation, under regulations by the Treasury. Depreciation differs for varios types of construction, under tables published by the Treasury.

After a concern had elected amortization, it could revert to the depreciation system, he said, but could not thereafter return to the amortization plan.

30,24-4069

30.24-A069

'Underground Railway' Into U. S. Is Suspected

U. S. Thinks Other Aliens Use Route 3 Poles Took

DETROIT, Aug. 2 (AP).—Immigration officers received orders today to find out whether an "underground railway" has been operating across the Detroit River for aliens fleeing to the United States from the European war zone.

John L. Zurbrick, district immigration director, said his order for the investigation was prompted by the apparent ease with which three Polish sailors, charged with deserting a ship carrying German prisoners to Quebec, crossed from Ontario to Trenton, Mich., the night of July 25.

The seamen, Michal Sochul, Alexander Turkiewicz and Karol Plonka, are being held under $1,000 bond each on charges of illegal entry.

"These sailors got across the border so easily that they must have had help," Mr. Zurbrick said. "If they were able to escape the ship in spite of war-time precautions, it would seem that war prisoners might likewise escape.

"It looks like there might have been an underground railway operating, not only in this, but in other cases, and it has probably been built up into a profitable machine since the war.

"The Polish sailors undoubtedly crossed the river in a rowboat."

Mr. Zurbrick said the immigration border patrol has four boats constantly patroling the Detroit River, which connects Lakes Erie and St. Clair.

AUG 3 - 1940

Department is collaborating with other Federal agencies and with organized labor to meet this situation.

"The Secretary of the Navy takes this opportunity to urge all naval contractors to foresee their labor requirements and to inform, as far as possible, State and Federal employment services and others concerned of such needs in order that there may be as little delay as possible in supplying the required personnel and to avoid unnecessary migration of labor.

"It is also urged that recognition be given to the importance of diminishing the ranks of the unemployed and to prevent by all practicable means 'pirating' of labor—that is, in passing men from one employer to work for another, both of whom may be engaged on work of equal importance to the nation as a whole. Such pirating of labor always leads eventually to uneconomical and disastrous results."

Secretary Knox asserted that the present shortage in some skilled mechanical trades was due in no small degree to the failure to maintain apprentice training in private establishments during the lean years following 1929. Since about 1936 the Navy Department has been building up its apprentice training in its navy yards and its own industrial establishments, and in 1939 had about 2,000 apprentices under training. This total he predicted would be nearly doubled before the end of this year.

"Nothing can take the place of a regular apprenticeship in producing the fully trained, skilled journeyman or mechanic, for whom there is now an imperative need," Mr. Knox added.

Knox Calls 'Pirating' of Labor Disastrous; He Urges Training Apprentices for Defense

AUG 3 - 1940

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—Secretary Knox asked naval contractors and skilled workers today to cooperate in insuring sufficient labor for the big warship building program, and urged both employers and employes to avoid labor "pirating,"—the hiring of skilled labor away from a competing employer. The Secretary also urged private builders to start apprentice training programs.

"In the navy yards and naval stations also," said Mr. Knox, "the work on hand and contemplated is calling for a very considerable increase in the number of civil employes under the Navy Department.

"It is already evident that in certain localities and in certain specialized trades and occupations a shortage of skilled labor exists. The Navy

REFUGEE SHIPPING BILL IS EXPEDITED

AUG 3 - 1940

House Rules Committee's Action Speeds Plan.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The House Rules Committee granted legislative right-of-way today to a measure which would permit American ships to transport war-refugee children, provided the ships were granted safe conduct by all warring nations.

Any vessel on such a mission could carry no cargo, would be unarmed and could not be convoyed by war vessels. Only children under sixteen could be transported.

Markedly absent, however, will be the thundering tanks of the armored forces. Two divisions in process of organization will continue to train as units rather than be scattered among the four armies.

Tanks to be Simulated.

Trucks and cars will be used in the maneuvers to simulate tanks. Planes also will be limited to avoid hampering the air corps expansion.

Army, National Guard Heading for Maneuvers

Advance Units of State Organization on Way To New York

AUG 3 - 1940

Washington, Aug. 2—(AP)—At peace-time peaks in training and equipment, units of four United States armies were moving by rail and road today toward imaginary front lines on theoretical battlefields.

Mobilizing for the most extensive field exercises since the World war, 301,000 regular army, national guard and reserve troops prepared to give a preview of mass maneuvers which, if Congress approves, may become a regular practice.

Extending its former policy of holding maneuvers in only one army area each year, the War Department has ordered exercises in all four areas this summer. They will be a prelude to possible mobilization of all or part of the national guard for a full year.

Maneuvers for 21 Days.

The length of the maneuvers has been extended from 14 days to 21 days, on top of an extra week's field training which was given to the national guard during the last year.

Although there are still bothersome shortages in modern weapons and supplies, the War Department said that the troops would go into mock action with more complete peacetime equipment than ever. All regular army troops and many guardsmen will carry new semi-automatic rifles. New anti-tank guns will be employed. An increased number of motor transport units will be used.

More than three-quarters of the mobile ground forces will be concentrated in the four army areas, giving a practical test of troop-movement facilities, including 466 special trains, buses, trucks and automobiles.

Largest of the concentrations already is well under way in northern New York, where 91,000 officers and men of the first army are assembling in the Plattsburg-Watertown area [illegible] vers Aug. 5 to 25.

Numbers of troops and dates of the exercises in those areas are: Second army, 65,000, Sparta, Wis., area, Aug. 11 to 31; Third army, 65,000, Sabine River-Alexandria, La., area, Aug. 4 to 24; Fourth army, divided between Fort Lewis, Wash., and Camp Ripley, Minn., Aug. 4 to 24.

More than 500,000 regulars, reserves, guardsmen, students and business men have received two weeks to a year of training since July 1, 1939.

The maneuvers will get under way just as the training camps for 75,000 CMTC and ROTC students are being concluded.

U-boat Sailor Escapes to U. S.

AUG 3 - 1940

Youth Held in Boston After Going Through British Prison Ship Porthole.

BOSTON, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—A Nazi U-boat sailor, recounting the story of how he wriggled through the porthole of a British prison ship in the St. Lawrence July 15 and subsequently escaped into the United States, praised American fair play today.

Recalling that immigration authorities, who took him into custody when they found him trudging down a road in northern Maine, required him to appear in Federal District Court in Bangor, Walther Kurt Reich, twenty-three-year-old survivor of a sunken German submarine, said:

"There again I saw how fair are Americans in treatment of persons. I asked to communicate with my consul and at once they permitted it. The United States commissioner at Bangor examined the law of the case and now here I am in Boston."

He is under the supervision of the German consulate, which posted a bond for him, since he has yet to deal with immigration authorities, who regard him as an alien without passport or proper visa, despite the fact that under international law a prisoner of war who escapes to a neutral country becomes free. He is the first prisoner of war known to have escaped to this country.

Found Water Cold.

Reich, slim and blond, his feet blistered by four days and five nights of walking in his quest for freedom, attributed his successful escape to his knowledge of geography and to his swimming ability. He was in the icy St. Lawrence for two hours before he could reach land.

"Yah, that water was cold," he recalled with a grin as reporters questioned him during an interview at the consulate.

The young sailor, a machinist's mate, said that he was in a British prison camp at Manchester, England, four months before he was loaded on a prison ship bound for Canada. He could tell by the sun that the course was westward and he bided his time until he saw land.

"Then, that night, when it was dark, I wriggled through a porthole," he continued calmly. "I did it alone, with no help or connivance. It was a tight fit going through, but I wore only a short, thin pants and, on my feet, sneakers.

Lived in the Woods.

"I went through headfirst; that was the worst, for when my head was through, I could not know if some guard was seeing my feet and coming to stop me."

After he reached land, he said, he hid in some woods and waited for the sun so as to take his bearings. Living on blackberries and wild strawberries, he pressed southward, ever fearful that he would be picked up by the enemy, "because I know only two or three English words."

He was seen at one farmhouse, but the occupants spoke only French and he used his meager English vocabulary in such a way that they did not suspect him, and gave him food.

Walked Inside Boundary.

"I had no way to tell when I was in the United States," Reich said. "I could only keep walking and hope for the best. The flies and mosquitoes had very good eating of me.

"Actually, I had the best of luck for I walked through the woods twenty-five miles inside the United States boundary before any one saw me."

Then the immigration officers happened on him and stopped him for questioning.

"How glad I was when the wife of one of them could speak German and I learned I was in the United States. They were very alert, those inspectors, but also kind and proper in discharge of their duty."

His only wish now, he said, is that his parents may learn that he is alive and well."

August Play Season Near In England

AUG 3 - 1940

But War's Troubles Must Curtail Britain's Fun

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

How about it if you and I sit for a bit on the white chalk-cliffs of England's Dover and let our feet hang over while we speculate pleasantly on what J. Bull would be doing this vacation time if he weren't busy dodging bombs?

I'll admit that this suggestion isn't wholly unselfish. I read, write and talk war so consistently that grapes have begun to look like shrapnel to me, and I'd give a shiny ha'penny to be rid of wranglings a few hours.

We might, for instance, in spirit join the pearly costermongers and their red-cheeked, big-hatted girls, the while they produce riotous fun by the sweat of their brows as they dance to hurdy-gurdy music on 'appy 'Ampstead 'eath (Happy Hampstead heath to you) in suburban London.

Or if we could try eating winkles from their shells with pins, among the nimble-witted Cockneys down at Southend on the sea. That's rather frowned on in the best society but it's fun, as the duchess said. Anyway, if you feel inclined, let's go adventuring.

Next Monday is August bank holiday. Already—you and I having banished war — all England is getting ready for this great day, which marks the real beginning of the universal vacation period. Probably no country in the world abandons itself so fully to play as does England in August.

Everybody, from king-emperor to sooty-faced chimney sweep, takes some sort of holiday. His Majesty and family get into kilts and hie with "hoots" to Balmoral castle on the bonnie River Dee in Scotland. The aristocracy (and many rich Americans) follow the royal lead and go to their estates up among the purple-clad highlands to await the "Glorious Twelfth" — opening of the grouse shooting season—or retire to exclusive, nose-in-the-air seaside resorts like Bognor.

Industries Close Down.

The great cotton mills of Manchester (and many other industries) close for a week or two to give the workers their yearly fling. With the murky dawn you no longer hear the endless click-clack, click-clack of wooden soles on the worn cobbles of the dingy streets as the toilers go to work. Bill and his girl have donned their flaming best, taken their entire year's savings, and raced away to Blackpool, labor's famous playground by the Irish sea.

Country dwellers betake themselves to London town, to gaze in awe at the grim tower and gasp at the blazing crown-jewels guarded there and get delightful creeps in the musty dungeons. Like Alice in Wonderland they wander about the city, weaving a tale that will thrill their grandchildren.

Londoners go to Country.

And the London clerk (pronounced "clark") and baker and draper head for the country or their favorite seaside resorts — Brighton or Margate or maybe as far afield as the quaint old fishing village of St. Ives way down in Cornwall near Land's End. They may go by bus, or bicycle, or hike—but they get there.

Let's pop into St. Ives for a second, since its Old World atmosphere is typical of so much of England. It's a tiny hamlet of grey stone, perched on a rocky promontory that is washed by white-capped seas. The narrow cobbled streets —swept and scrubbed to godly cleanliness by the good fisher-women—climb and squirm their way about until the wayfarer becomes lost in the labyrinth.

Plump seagulls perch on the roofs, waiting complacently like fat merchants of Baghdad for something of profit to turn up. Artists who flock to this Mecca lay aside their paints, come the Sabbath, for that is the Lord's day and no man may work. These God-fearing folk who go down to the sea in ships attend chapel and then sit quietly at home to read their Bibles. If you violate the day they likely will toss you into the surf.

Fine Outdoors.

St. Ives is only one of many fascinating places the vacationist can visit. But wherever the Briton goes, it's an outdoor affair. He's a simple soul in many ways, and is quite happy lying on his back under a tree, or poling a punt on the Thames. Whatever his pastime is, however, it must be in the open—in short, he's the sort of bloke who likes to tramp in the rain.

By this week-end (don't forget we've decreed there is no war) the average Briton will be on vacation. And he will be holidaying in exactly the same place, in exactly the same way, as he has done every year of his life, and as his father and grandfather and great-grandfather did before him. The Englishman doesn't change—well, not much.

He will be in the same boarding-house, at the same table by the window, in the same seat. He will be eating roast beef and boiled mutton, just as have his forebears clear back to ample-bellied Cedric the Saxon.

Thus he will be exhibiting that characteristic of bull-doggedness, or whatever you want to call it, which observers say is one of his prime assets in the conflict with Herr Hitler—oh, blimey, I knew we'd get shunted off onto the war again. What's the use!

LONDON, AUG. 2 (AP)—AUTHORITATIVE MILITARY QUARTERS SAID TODAY THAT REPORTS THAT THE GE MANS WERE SETTING UP [redacted] ROWS OF ARTILLERY ALONG THE FRENCH SIDE OF THE ENGLISH CHANNEL PROBABLY ARE TRUE BUT THAT THE BRITISH CONSIDERED THESE GUNS HARDLY MORE THAN "PICTURESQUE ADVERTISEMENT, NEITHER ECONOMICAL NOR EFFECTIVE."

AUG 3-1940

LONG RANGE GUNS OF THIS TYPE WOULD REQUIRE AERIAL OBSERVERS ALONG THE BRITISH COAST, MILITARY INFORMANTS SAID, "AND WE DON'T BELIEF THE ROYAL AIR FO CE WOULD TOLERATE THIS.

AUTHORITATIVE QUARTERS SAID INFORMATION HAD BEEN RECEIVED THAT "A CONSID RABLE FORCE OF ITALIANS WAS CONCENTRATED IN NORTH AF ICA AND WAS GRADUALLY ADVANCING"TOWARD THE EGYPTIAN FRONTIER. THE ADVANCE WAS SAID TO BE ACCOMPANIED BY ANTI-TANK AND FIELD ARTILLERY. APL 01344 1947 GB 904 A

AUG 3-1940

LONDON, AUG. 2—(AP)—A TEN PER CENT REDUCTION IN WITHDRAWAL OF TOBACCO FROM WAREHOUSES DURING AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER WAS ORDERED TODAY BY THE BOARD OF TRADE IN ORDER TO CONSERVE STOCKS. A BOARD OF TRADE OFFICIAL SAID THE PUBLIC WOULD NOT FEEL THE CUT BECAUSE WARTIME CONSUMPTION HAD FALLEN OFF ABOUT THAT MUCH.

30,24-4071

30.24-4071

LONDON, AUG. 2-(AP)-ITALY WILL "CONTINUE HAMMERING MALTA, GIBRALTAR AND ALEXANDRIA UNTIL THESE BASES EITHER SURRENDER OR ARE DESTROYED COMPLETELY," SAID A BROADCAST OF THE ITALIAN RADIO PICKED UP HERE TODAY.

AUG 3-1940

BY DREW MIDDLETON

WITH THE BRITISH FIELD ARMY'S NORTHERN COMMAND, AUG. 2-(AP)-BRITISH SOLDIERS MANEUVERED ACROSS THREE COUNTIES THROUGHOUT THIS LONG, HOT DAY, SIMULATING AS CLOSELY AS POSSIBLE THE SITUATION THEY EXPECT WHEN GERMANY STRIKES.

AUG 3-1940

GUNS BATTERED TARGETS FAR OUT AT SEA, AND ON LAND THE CHATTER OF BREN GUNS AND THE CLATTER OF TANKS FURNISHED SOMETHING OF A PREVIEW OF POSSIBLE INVASION TO THE SILENT YORKSHIRE CIVILIANS.

REVIEWING THE WORK TONIGHT, LIEUT.GEN. SIR RONALD ADAM, CHIEF OF THE NORTHERN COMMAND, DECLARED THAT THE ARMY, RADICALLY ALTERED IN ORGANIZATION AND TACTICS, "IS READY TO FIGHT AND WHIP THE BEST GERMANY CAN SEND AGAINST IT."

PRAISING THE ARMY MORALE, HE REMARKED, "YOU KNOW THE PARISIAN SHOPKEEPERS HAVE AN OLD ADAGE, 'BEWARE OF A MAD ENGLISHMAN.' WELL, THERE ARE A COUPLE MILLION MAD ENGLISHMEN IN KHAKI.

"THIS ARMY IS 50 PER CENT BETTER THAN THAT WHICH WENT TO FRANCE IN SEPTEMBER. I'LL GO FURTHER! IN TRAINING, EQUIPMENT AND MORALE IT IS BETTER THAN OUR ARMIES OF 1914-18.

"THE LAST SIX WEEKS HAVE SAVED US.

"THE RESPONSE OF THE NATION TO OUR WANTS HAS BEEN TREMENDOUS. WE ARE GETTING A STEADY SUPPLY OF GUNS, TANKS, ARMORED CARS, SMALL ARMS AND AMMUNITION.

"SOME AMERICAN 75'S ARE HERE, AND WE EXPECT MORE. WE CAN USE THEM."

AUG 3-1940

"IT TOOK HITLER SEVEN YEARS TO PRODUCE THE PRESENT GERMAN ARMY," HE POINTED OUT. "WE ARE QUITE PLEASED WITH WHAT WE HAVE DONE IN ONE.

"IN TWO YEARS WE HAVE REVOLUTIONIZED THE ARMY.

"AS YOU AMERICANS PROBABLY ARE FINDING OUT, IT IS DIFFICULT TO EXPAND AN ARMY SPEEDILY. THERE ARE TWO WAYS. ONE IS TO RETAIN THE REGULAR ARMY INTACT AS A COMPARATIVELY SMALL, SELECT BODY OF 'STURMTRUPPEN,' AS OUR FRIENDS ACROSS THE CHANNEL CALL THEM. THE OTHE IS TO SPREAD EXPERIENCED NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS THROUGH NEW FORMATIONS, THUS ALLOWING AN EVEN EXPANSION."

IT WAS EVIDENT THAT MUCH LETHARGY AND CONSERVATISM HAD BEEN SHAKEN OUT OF THIS ARMY BY ITS EXPERIENCES AT DUNKERQUE AND ALONG THE SOMME.

INSTEAD OF LIGHT-HEARTED YOUNG MEN TO WHOM WAR IS A GREAT ADVENTURE, THERE ARE MEN SOBERLY PLANNING TO BLOW UP THEIR HOMES, SHELL THE TOWNS THEY WERE BORN IN, AND DESTROY THE FIELDS AND BEACHES ON WHICH THEY PLAYED AS BOYS.

THIS ONCE-GAY SEACOAST HAS BEEN TRANSFORMED INTO ONE LONG DEATH TRAP, FESTOONED WITH MILLIONS OF MILES OF BARBED WIRE, LINED WITH GREAT CONCRETE AND STONE BLOCKHOUSES AND TANK TRAPS, AND ARMED WITH GUNS FROM MACHINE-GUNS TO LARGE-CALIBER CANNON.

WATCHING THE BIGGEST GUNS SMASH A TARGET FAR OUT AT SEA, I ASKED AN ARTILLERY OFFICER IF THEY COULD BE USED ON A VILLAGE NESTLING ON THE SHORE, IF GERMANS SHOULD GAIN A FOOTHOLD THERE.

"WE'D BLOW IT TO BITS," HE REPLIED.

I REMARKED THAT IT SEEMED A PITY, IT WAS SUCH A PRETTY VILLAGE.

"I KNOW IT IS," HE SAID. "I WAS BORN THERE AND HAVE LIVED THERE ALL MY LIFE."

BERLIN, AUG. 2-(AP)-A "VATICAN CITY" PEOPLED BY FRENCH GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, SURROUNDED BY THE GERMAN-OCCUPIED REMAINDER OF PARIS IS LIKELY TO EMERGE FROM THE STALEMATED PARLEY BETWEEN FRENCH AND GERMAN AUTHORITIES OVER THE SITE OF THE FRENCH CAPITAL.

AUG 3-1940

THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT DESIRES TO RETURN TO PARIS BUT SO FAR ONLY CERTAIN TECHNICAL MINISTRIES SUCH AS LABOR, FINANCE AND PUBLIC WORKS, HAVE RETURNED.

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG. 2-(AP)-THE FRENCH CABINET TOOK UNDISCLOSED "DECISIONS" TODAY AS A RESULT OF THE EXTENSION OF THE BRITISH BLOCKADE, A COMMUNIQUE ANNOUNCED.

AUG 3-1940

THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THAT "INCIDENTS" IN THE CAMEROONS AND MADAGASCAR, APPARENTLY INVOLVING THE BLOCKADE, HAD BEEN STUDIED, BUT DID NOT EXPLAIN WHAT THESE "INCIDENTS" WERE.

PARIS, JULY 30-(DELAYED) (AP VIA BERLIN)-THE BOURSE REOPENED TODAY (TUESDAY) IN A BURST OF ENTHUSIASM WITH THE COAL MINING STOCK OF NORTHERN FRANCE SHOWING PARTICULAR STRENGTH.

AUG 3-1940

VERY LITTLE ACTUAL BUSINESS WAS TRANSACTED DUE TO THE FACT, SAID FINANCIAL SOURCES, THAT MANY WOULD-BE SELLERS WERE UNABLE TO DELIVER SECURITIES TAKEN OUT OF PARIS DURING THE EVACUATION OF MID-JUNE.

PARIS, JULY 29-(DELAYED)-(AP VIA BERLIN)-GERMAN AUTHORITIES IN A DECLARATION TODAY TO FRENCH NEWSPAPERS ON THE PLIGHT OF REFUGEES STATED: "IT MUST BE SAID WITHOUT SENTIMENTALITY THAT IT IS NOT THE AFFAIR OF A CONQUEROR TO FREE EVERYONE OF THE MISERY WHICH THE FAULTS OF THE CONQUERED THEMSELVES CAUSED."

AUG 3-1940

GERMANY BLAMED FRANCE'S PLIGHT ON HER "INSENSATE DECLARATION OF WAR" AGAINST THE NAZIS AND DIRECTED ALL PROTESTS ON REFUGEE DISTRESS TO THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT.

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG. 3-(SATURDAY)-(AP)-SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION BELLIN ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT THE PETAIN GOVERNMENT'S GASOLINE SUPPLIES TOTAL LESS THAN 240,000 TONS FOR BOTH OCCUPIED AND UNOCCUPIED ZONES OF FRANCE WHILE NORMAL GASOLINE CONSUMPTION OF THE COUNTRY WAS 200,000 TONS PER MONTH.

AUG 3-1940

BELLIN SAID HE WAS NEGOTIATING WITH "CERTAIN NATIONS" FOR 2,200,000 TONS OF GASOLINE AND OIL NOW IN CERTAIN MEDITERRANEAN PORTS. HE DECLARED GERMANY HAD PROMISED SHE WOULD NOT REQUISITION ANY OIL STOCKS WHICH MIGHT BE IMPORTED.

THE VICHY GOVERNMENT RECENTLY ISSUED STRICT REGULATIONS RATIONING GASOLINE AND OIL.

ROME, AUG. 2-(AP)-GIOVANNI ANSALDO, EDITOR OF THE LEGHORN NEWSPAPER OF FOREIGN MINISTER GALEAZZO CIANO, DECLARED TONIGHT THAT THE GERMAN ATTACK ON ENGLAND ACTUALLY IS IN PROGRESS, ALTHOUGH THERE HAD YET BEEN NO ATTEMPT AT INVASION.

AUG 3-1940

IN A BROADCAST TO ITALY'S ARMED FORCES, ANSALDO RIDICULED BRITISH CIVILIANS FOR WHAT HE DESCRIBED AS THEIR AMATEURISH EFFORTS TO PREPARE AGAINST INVASION BY FORTIFYING VILLAGES AND TAKING COURSES IN MILITARY TRAINING.

30,24-4073

30.24-4073

"THE FATE OF THEIR COUNTRY -- OF THE WORLD -- WILL BE DECIDED," HE ADDED, "AND ALREADY IS BEING DECIDED IN QUITE A DIFFERENT WAY THAN THEY BELIEVE. IF THEY WERE AWARE OF IT, INSTEAD OF WAITING BEHIND HEDGES FOR THE ARRIVAL OF GERMAN PARACHUTISTS THEY WOULD PAY MORE ATTENTION TO THE FIGURES ON ENGLISH MERCHANT TONNAGE WHICH DAY AFTER DAY IS GOING TO THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA."

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, AUG.3-(AP)-JAPANESE CONSUL GENERAL AKIYAMA DECLARED TODAY THERE IS NO BIG QUESTION AT ISSUE BETWEEN JAPAN AND AUSTRALIA, ADDING THAT HIS GOVERNMENT HOPES THE "TRADITIONAL FRIENDSHIP" BETWEEN THEM WILL CONTINUE.

AUG 3-1940

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SATURDAY, AUGUST 3).

Moved August 1, 1940

JAP,'S

JAPANJS "GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY"

WITH EUROPE EMBROILED IN WAR,
SHE SEEKS AN ASIATIC
CONSTELLATION

COURSE TODAY RESEMBLES THAT OF WORLD WAR PERIOD (625)

BY RELMAN MORIN

(ADVANCE) TOKYO - (CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS) -

POLITICAL OBSERVERS ARE RE-EXAMINING TODAY JAPAN'S ACTIONS IN THE LAST EUROPEAN WAR IN AN EFFORT TO CHART HER PROBABLE COURSE DURING THIS ONE.

THE END, THEY ASSERT, IS THE SAME -- TO ESTABLISH HERSELF AS THE DOMINANT POWER IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC, FROM SIBERIA TO AUSTRALIA. THE MEANS OF PURSUIT ARE ONLY SLIGHTLY DIFFERENT.

IN THE WORLD WAR, JAPAN:

1. JOINED THE ALLIES, AND MADE A CLEAN SWEEP OF GERMAN POSSESSIONS IN CHINA AND THE SOUTH SEAS.

2. PRESENTED TO CHINA THE FAMOUS "TWENTY ONE DEMANDS," DESIGNED TO CONSOLIDATE HER POSITION IN MANCHURIA AND MONGOLIA, TO PROVIDE SPECIAL INFLUENCE IN SHANTUNG, TO OBTAIN IMPORTANT ECONOMIC RIGHTS IN THE YANGTZE VALLEY, TO CONTROL CHINESE HARBORS AND COASTAL AREAS, AND IN GENERAL, TO GIVE HER COMPLETE ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL SUPREMACY IN CHINA.

AUG 3-1940

3. CONCLUDED A SEMI-SECRET PACT WITH GREAT BRITAIN, WHEREIN THE TWO COUNTRIES AGREED TO DIVIDE BETWEEN THEM THE PACIFIC ISLANDS FORMERLY BELONGING TO GERMANY, WITH THE EQUATOR AS THE LINE OF DEMARCATION.

4. SIGNED TREATIES WITH EACH OF THE ALLIES WHICH VIRTUALLY OBTAINED RECOGNITION OF THE TERRITORIAL CLAIMS JAPAN ULTIMATELY MADE AT VERSAILLES.

THAT WAS JAPAN BETWEEN 1915 AND 1918. EXTERNAL CONDITIONS CLOSELY PARALLELED THOSE EXISTING TODAY. THEN, AS NOW, HER EUROPEAN COMPETITORS IN CHINA WERE TOO DEEPLY ENGROSSED IN WAR TO OFFER MUCH RESISTANCE.

OBSERVERS REGARD JAPAN'S ACTIONS TODAY AS MERELY AN EXTENSION OF THE CYCLE LAUNCHED IN 1915. SO DO MANY JAPANESE.

THEY SPEAK OF "THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY."

IN A RECENT ADDRESS, THE MINISTER OF WAR ASSERTED THA, "JAPAN'S POLICY OF NON-INTERVENTION DOES NOT MEAN STANDING WITH FOLDED ARMS."

HER OFFICIAL SPOKESMEN SPEAK OF AN "ASIATIC MONROE DOCTRINE." SOME INFLUENTIAL JAPANESE ARE PREACHING SELF-DETERMINATION FOR ALL ORIENTAL PEOPLES -- NATURALLY INCLUDING THE JAPANESE, BURMESE, CEYLONESE, INDO-CHINESE, AND OTHERS WHO NOW POPULATE EUROPEAN-HELD COLONIES. IN SHORT, AN ASIATIC CONSTELLATION WITH JAPAN AS THE SUN AND A NUMBER OF SMALL SATELLITES SWINGING AROUND HER.

THUS, JAPAN HAS SEIZED THE PRESENT "GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY" TO APPLY TO THE SOUTHERN ORIENT THE SAME POLICIES THAT WERE EMPLOYED IN CHINA DURING THE LAST EUROPEAN WAR.

SHE HAS:

1. MADE WHAT IS CONSIDERED AN IRON-CLAD AGREEMENT WITH THE DUTCH EAST INDIES' GOVERNMENT GUARANTEEING CONTINUED ACCESS TO THE ISLANDS' OIL, TIN, AND RUBBER.

2. BROUGHT ABOUT THE SUSPENSION OF TRADE BETWEEN FRENCH INDO-CHINA AND CHINA, PLACED WARSHIPS IN INDO-CHINA WATERS AND A MILITARY NAVAL INSPECTION PARTY IN INDO-CHINA TERRITORY, WON THE RIGHT TO USE HANOI AS A STOP-OVER AND CROSS INDO-CHINA WITH A JAPAN-SIAM AIRLINE.

3. CONCLUDED A TREATY OF FRIENDSHIP WITH SIAM.

4. DEMANDED THAT GREAT BRITAIN CLOSE THE BURMA ROAD TO CHINA, WHICH WAS DONE.

5. COMPLETED MILITARY OPERATIONS, THE EFFECT OF WHICH IS TO SURROUND HONGKONG, THE BRITISH CROWN COLONY.

PLANS FOR A NEW JAPANESE STATE, BASED ON FAR-REACHING TOTALITARIANISM AT HOME AND COMMITTED TO A FOREIGN POLICY INVOLVING JAPANESE DOMINATION OVER FRENCH INDO-CHINA AND THE DUTCH EAST INDIES, WERE ANNOUNCED THIS WEEK BY THE GOVERNMENT OF PREMIER PRINCE FUMIMARO KONOYE.

THE TOTALITARIAN PRINCIPLES OF THE NEW REGIME INCLUDE THE DOCTRINE OF SERVICE TO THE STATE BY ALL PERSONS, REGARDLESS OF STATUS, AND "A UNITARY CONTROL SYSTEM COVERING PRODUCTION, DISTRIBUTION AND CONSUMPTION OF IMPORTANT COMMODITIES."

UNDER THIS REGIME, THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID, INEQUALITIES WILL BE RECTIFIED AND JAPANESE ENABLED TO LIVE A "PLAIN, SOLID AND VIGOROUS LIFE."

THE GOVERNMENT'S STATEMENT DID NOT TAKE JAPAN ANY CLOSER TO THE ROME-BERLIN AXIS, BUT STRESSED A MORE INDEPENDENT ATTITUDE TOWARD OTHER WESTERN POWERS. "THE GOVERNMENT IS THROUGH WITH TOADYISM," IT SAID.

CLOSER RELATIONS WITH THE AXIS POWERS DEPEND, JAPANESE SAY, ON THE ATTITUDE OF GERMANY AND ITALY TO THE FAR EASTERN COLONIES OF FRANCE, BRITAIN AND HOLLAND. IF THE AXIS SHOWS SIGNS OF TAKING THESE TERRITORIES FOR ITSELF, THEN JAPAN, AUTOMATICALLY, WILL BE IN OPPOSITION TO THEM.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR ... OF SATURDAY, AUGUST 3, SENT AUG. 1).

HOLLYWOOD, AUG.2-(AP)-ERNEST L.BENWAY, WORLD WAR FLIER, SAID TODAY HE WAS ARRANGING FOR AMERICAN FLIERS TO BECOME INSTRUCTORS IN THE ROYAL AIR FORCE IN CANADA.

ALREADY MORE THAN 30 APPLICANTS HAVE ENTRAINED FOR CANADA WHERE, IF ACCEPTED, THEY WILL RECEIVE COMMISSIONS AS FLIGHT OFFICERS AT $340 A MONTH, HE SAID. THEY NEED AT LEAST 500 FLIGHT HOURS TO QUALIFY.

30-24,4075

30.24-4075

NONE LOSES HIS UNITED STATES CITIZENSHIP, SINCE HE IS NOT REQUIRED TO TAKE THE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE TO KING GEORGE, BENWAY EXPLAINED.

"NEW YORK MONEY SUPPLIED BY AMERICANS ANXIOUS TO HELP THE CAUSE OF DEMOCRACY," HE SAID, "IS HELPING MEET THE COST OF ENLISTING INSTRUCTORS. EACH AMERICAN WHO JOINS THE CANADIAN ROYAL AIR FORCE FREES A BRITON FOR OVERSEAS DUTY."

AUG 8-1940

British Claims

AUG 4-1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 3—German bombing planes stabbed repeatedly at Britain in broad daylight today, continuing a series of scattered raids which had ranged from the southeast coast to Scotland under cover of darkness.

dropped in northeast Scotland, the midlands, southeast England and the Bristol Channel area.

"No substantial damage is reported except from a town in the Bristol Channel area, where some bombs fell in a residential district, damaged a church, a school and other buildings and caused a few minor casualties."

More Anzacs Reach England

Arrival of more Australian troops in England to reinforce the thousands who came in mid-June was announced today by the Dominion's office.

The announcement, which failed to disclose the number, said the men left Australia the latter part of June and and reached England during the past few days.

BRITAIN PUT ON ALERT BY CHURCHILL: JAPANESE PROTEST

AUG 4-1940

LEADER WARNS INVASION MAY COME ANY DAY

He Says Foe's Declarations on Postponing Attack May Be False.

AUG 4-1940

R. A. F. PLANES RAID REICH

Nazi Bombers Range Over Britain and Italians Score Hits at Gibraltar.

LONDON, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Prime Minister Winston Churchill warned the British people tonight not to permit the slightest relaxation of vigilance or moral alertness in preparations against German invasion.

In a statement issued from No. 10 Downing street, Mr. Churchill said:

"The Prime Minister wishes it to be known that the possibility of German attempts at invasion has by no means passed away.

"The fact that the Germans are now putting about rumors that they do not intend an invasion should be regarded with a double dose of the suspicion which attaches to all their utterances.

"Our sense of growing strength and preparedness must not lend to the slightest relaxation of vigilance or moral alertness."

R. A. F. Continues Raids.

Royal Air Force bombers continued their incessant hammering at military objectives in France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Ger-

LONDON ARRESTS

[illegible] throughout yesterday, the Air Ministry reported tonight.

Airdromes in France, Belgium and Holland were attacked and hits were scored on hangars and runways, while Nazi planes on the ground were bombed and machine-gunned from a low altitude, a communique said.

Oil depots were attacked at five points in Germany, the Air Ministry reported, and new fires were started at Hamburg, the great German seaport pictured by British yesterday as in virtual ruins, and at Salzbergen.

Guns Roar Over Britain.

German bombing planes stabbed repeatedly at Britain in broad daylight today, continuing a series of scattered night raids which had ranged from Scotland to the southeast coast of England.

Several persons were injured by bombs dropped in one Welsh town, but damage was said to be small.

Nazi planes also appeared over Southwestern England before noon today.

Four high explosive bombs fell near a village in East Scotland, destroying a church house and killing eighteen pullets, but no other damage was reported.

In pre-dawn raids over Scotland more than fifty incendiary bombs were dropped.

Other areas visited by the raiders during the night included the Midlands, Southeast England and the Bristol Channel sector.

The ports of Bristol and Cardiff are the principal cities on Bristol Channel.

"Many hundreds" of Italians have been killed, and large quantities of war booty, including many abandoned tanks, guns and vehicles have fallen into British hands in fighting on the Libyan frontier, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cairo said today.

Several were injured by bombs dropped in one Welsh town, but damage was said to be small. Nazi planes also appeared over southwestern England during the morning.

Bombs Kill 16 Pullets

Four high explosive bombs fell near a village in east Scotland, destroying a chicken house and killing eighteen pullets, but no other damage was reported.

In pre-dawn raids over Scotland more than fifty incendiary bombs were dropped.

Other areas visited by the raiders during the night included the midlands, southeast England and the Bristol Channel sector.

Joint Communique Issued

A joint communique issued by the Ministries of Air and Home Security said:

"There was some enemy activity during last night, and bombs were

British Claim Hundreds Dead

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 3—"Many hundreds" of Italians were killed and large quantities of war booty, including many abandoned tanks, guns and vehicles, fell into British hands in fighting on the Libyan frontier, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cairo said today.

A communique issued by British army headquarters in Cairo said a previous statement that the British had thirty killed, wounded and missing, as against twenty Italians killed, twenty wounded and 472 missing, was misleading.

"The twenty Italians killed include only those actually buried by the British, and the wounded are only those wounded and taken prisoners. The actual number of prisoners, moreover, now is 818, not 472," the communique said.

"The total number of enemy killed and wounded runs into many hundreds. . . ."

BULLETIN.

AUG 4-1940

LONDON, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—An unconfirmed report that all Japanese ships sailing for Britain had been ordered to make for Lisbon, Portugal, was relayed here today by Exchange Telegraph, a British news agency. The agency said that its information had been received from the Berlin radio.

Nazis Step Up Pace; Churchill Sounds Alarm

By EDWIN STOUT

AUG 4-1940

London, Aug. 4 (Sunday) (AP).—German warplanes lashed England, Scotland and Wales with heavy bomb attacks early today, several hours after Prime Minister Churchill warned Britons to be ready for a mass Nazi attack at any time.

Authorities said, however, that the raids caused no material damage and no casualties.

The heaviest anti-aircraft fire yet heard in Wales greeted enemy planes over many coastal towns and well inland. Some bombs were dropped but the defense fire repeatedly broke up attempts at a sustained raid, reports said.

The Germans cruised over northeast, southeast and southwest Scotland for 45 minutes, dropping high explosives in attacks, authorities said, on open country districts.

Terrific Explosion.

A terrific explosion shook waterfront property in a northeast England coast town as enemy planes flew over. Southwest England was visited but there was no bombing.

The British reported last night that their air raiders had gone across the Channel to pound at likely blitzkrieg springboards while the ground forces worked at top speed to seal the island kingdom against invasion.

Churchill, in a statement from No. 10 Downing St., advised the nation to beware of German propaganda and to look "with a double dose" of suspicion at hints that no invasion may be impending.

Danger Not Passed.

"The Prime Minister," his statement said, "wishes it to be known that the possibility of German attempts at invasion has by no means passed away.

"The fact that the Germans are now putting about rumors that they do not intend an invasion should be regarded with a double dose of the suspicion which attaches to all their utterances.

"Our sense of growing strength and preparedness must not lead to the slightest relaxation of vigilance or moral alertness," he exhorted.

It was disclosed yesterday that more men have arrived from the Dominions to buttress the manpower defending this island citadel while the Air Ministry reported new raids on military objectives in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany throughout Friday.

Hangars, runways and grounded aircraft were sprayed with bombs and machinegun fire from low altitudes in daylight attacks on air bases in France, Belgium and Holland, the Ministry said.

Chief targets of night forays were said to have been German air fields and oil depots at Emden, Hamburg, Misburg, Salzbergen and Emwerick.

Particularly at the great port of Hamburg—previously described as virtually ruined by months of repeated air attacks—and at Salzbergen, the Ministry said, "damage is considered to have been extensive."

The German radio said the report of Hamburg in ruins was a "Churchill lie."

Two German planes were seriously damaged by an RAF bomber over Hamstede, several four-engined Nazi planes were damaged on the ground at the School airport at Amsterdam, a hangar was hit at Waalhaven and bombs broke up runways at Haamstede, Flushing and Leeuwarden, the Air Ministry announced later.

A German anti-aircraft battery near Knocke on the Belgian coast was silenced by a single British raider, it was said.

These were other claims in the report: The Evere airdrome near Brussels and Merville airdrome west of Lille attacked; night raids on Hamburg started fires visible for 50 miles; fires and "huge clouds of white smoke" seen after attacks on Hamburg docks; eight tons of high explosive plus incendiary bombs dropped on an oil refinery at Salzbergen near Osabruck; several fires started at an oil refinery at Emmerich near the German-Dutch border on the Rhine.

The new troops, whose arrival in England was disclosed yesterday, were Australians. They were brought in to reinforce the thousands of Anzacs who came in mid-June. News of their arrival followed by only a day the landing of the fifth—and largest—contingent of Canadians.

Strengthening of the first line of home defense—the naval guard—as well as the possibility of another Cabinet shakeup to revitalize the inner councils also were indicated in Britain's drive for impregnability.

The newly-arrived Dominion troops are slated for first line duty whenever the Nazi strategy shifts from the slow war of air raid and blockade to the fast war of mass attack and blitzkrieg.

Army of Amateurs.

Behind them and Britain's seasoned regulars in the home defense forces are about 1,250,000 volunteers who, their officers believe, will fit well into Britain's involved defense system.

These men, some of whom never handled a revolver until a few months ago, and many of whom do full-day sessions at their desks and lathes before reporting for drill, have three primary functions.

Trained chiefly by retired officers, this army in overalls guards the potential footholds of invasion, roads, fields and the coast near their homes. It co-operates with the regular army in guarding vital centers and keeping vigil of the sea from the clifftops.

Return of the British fleet at Gibraltar to home waters was reported by the French newspaper Le Petit Dauphinois of Grenoble.

The Admiralty, however, had no comment on Le Petit Dauphinois' dispatch from Tangier, Spanish Morocco, that two groups of British warships, including five submarines, seven destroyers, two aircraft carriers, three cruisers and three auxiliary ships had sailed west into the Atlantic Friday.

Clashes Over German Soil

Amplifying its reports of British raids on German territory, the Air Ministry said last night that two German planes had been seriously damaged by an R.A.F. bomber over Haamstede, where "an enemy patrol of three was attacked singly from various directions, below and above.

"Several" four-engined Nazi planes were damaged on the ground at the Schipol airport of Amsterdam, a hangar was hit at Waalhaven and bombs broke up runways at Haamstede Flushing and Leeuwarden, it was added.

A German anti-aircraft battery near Knocke on the Belgian coast was declared silenced by a single British raider.

Other Claims By British

These were other claims in the report:

The Evere airdrome near Brussels and Merville airdrome west of Lille attacked; night raids on Hamburg started fires visible for fifty miles; fires and "huge clouds of white smoke" seen after attacks on Hamburg docks; eight tons of high explosive plus incendiary bombs dropped on an oil refinery at Salzbergen near Osnarbruck; several fires started at an oil refinery at Emmerich near the German-Dutch border.

LONDON, AUG 3—BRITISH-JAPANESE RELATIONS, ALREADY SEVERELY STRAINED, SUFFERED A FURTHER SHARP SETBACK TODAY WHEN BRITAIN FOLLOWED THE EXAMPLE SET BY JAPAN AND SEIZED A WHOLESALE ROUNDUP OF JAPANESE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ALL-POWERFUL MITSUBISHI AND INCLUDING TWO REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ALL-POWERFUL MITSUBISHI AND MITSUI BANKING INTERESTS.

AUG 4-1940

BRITISH AUTHORITIES MAINTAINED OFFICIAL SILENCE BUT UNOFFICIALLY IT WAS EXPLAINED THAT THE ARRESTS WERE MADE ON THE GROUND OF NATIONAL "SECURITY" UNDER THE WARTIME ALIENS REGULATION ACT.

AUTHORITATIVE BRITONS INSISTED THE EMPIRE-WIDE ROUNDUP WAS IN NO WAY IN RETALIATION FOR JAPAN'S ARRESTS OF NUMEROUS PROMINENT BRITONS THERE (ETC. PICKING UP SECOND GRAPH THIRD LEAD.)

THEY EMPHASIZED THE SIMILARITY WAS "PURE COINCIDENCE"

TOKIO PROTESTS BRITISH ARREST OF JAPANESE

London Denies Retaliation for the Detention of Britons.

action was not retaliatory.

The Japanese embassy delivered a strong protest against the detention of the two leading Japanese business men in London.

The arrest here last night of Satoru Makihara and Shunsuke Tanabe, London managers of Mitsubishi and Mitsui, respectively, and the arrests of Japanese subjects in other parts of the British Empire were coupled with unconfirmed rumors of the uncovering of a widespread spy ring branching from London throughout the empire, notably Canada, Australia and Burma.

Reports of the alleged spy ring, published here without specific reference to the arrests, said the members of the ring had been allowed to operate in peace until they were involved hopelessly.

Close Similarity Seen.

The parallel between these accounts and the Japanese action in arresting Britons in Japan on charges of operating a spy ring were considered significant even though British authorities stoutly insisted there was no element of reprisal in their action.

The Japanese embassy registered a strong protest with the British Government at the arrest of Mr. Makihara and Mr. Tanabe, the two most prominent Japanese business men in London.

The Japanese Ambassador, Mamoru Shigemitsu, went personally to the British Foreign Office with the protests against the arrests of Mr. Makihara and Mr. Tanabe, who are understood to have been seized under the aliens order of the defense regulations, which gives the Home Secretary power to deport aliens or order their detention.

The home office, however, refused comment.

A spokesman at the Japanese Embassy said:

"We are flabbergasted at the action which has been taken." He added that Ambassador Shigemitsu, in addition to lodging a protest, had asked full details of and reasons for the arrests.

The spokesman described the two men as "very pro-British and very sympathetic to Britain."

"We cannot possibly imagine anything on their part to invite suspicion or to give the impression that they infringed on the regulations of this country," he said.

"We hope everything can be settled satisfactorily," he added.

Mr. Makihara was arrested at 8:30 o'clock last night by two plain clothes policemen who arrived at his house half an hour before he got there. After a quick dinner, during which servants packed his bag, Mr. Makihara was taken away at 9 P. M.

GREAT SPY NET REPORTED

Chief Agents of Largest Banking Houses Are First Taken in England.

AUG 4-1940

LONDON, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Great Britain followed up the arrests of many of her prominent subjects in Japan with an Empire-wide roundup of Japanese today, including the two London representatives of the powerful Mitsubishi and Mitsui banking interests, but authoritative sources here insisted the British

30.24-4077

30.24-4077

Prominent members of the London Japanese colony immediately called at their embassy, where they were discussing measures to be taken when they learned of Mr. Tanabe's arrest at 11:30 P. M. at his home in suburban Brixton.

The conference at the embassy lasted until well after midnight.

Mr. Makihara has been the London representative of Mitsubishi Shoji Kaisha for more than ten years, while Mr. Tanabe was transferred to the London office of Mitsui Bussan Kaisha three months ago.

The police searched Mr. Makihara's home in the fashionable Putney district before the arrest, but it is understood that they took no papers away.

At Mr. Makihara's office, at Plantation House in Fenchurch street, a girl secretary told the Associated Press in faultless English:

"We are not talking with any one about anything this morning."

The first news of the arrest of Mr. Makihara and Mr. Tanabe was relayed to London in news agency messages from Tokio, where Mr. Makihara's wife and daughter, the latter born in London, are staying.

Britons Seized in Japan.

Confirmation of the arrests came within twenty-four hours of news that two more British subjects had been detained by Japan, this time in that country's Asiatic colony of Korea.

This brought the number of Britons in custody to nine, since six of the thirteen prominent business men arrested in various parts of Japan, in connection with what the Japanese authorities described as a drive against espionage, had been released.

These actions by the Japanese brought a statement from an authoritative British spokesman yesterday that the German Gestapo had a representative in the Japanese Home Office who exerted considerable influence in Japanese internal affairs.

Report Says Japan's Ships Sailing to England Are Ordered to Make for Lisbon.

LONDON, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—A diplomatic crisis over Great Britain's sudden detention of the London representatives of two of Japan's most powerful families—a seizure that almost paralleled the recent arrest of Britons in Japan—appeared to be developing tonight.

An unconfirmed report that all Japanese ships sailing for Great Britain had been ordered to make for Lisbon, Portugal, was circulated by Exchange Telegraph, a British news agency.

The agency attributed the report to the Berlin radio. The Japanese earlier had expressed objections to the British blockade of Europe which now extends from the arctic to North Africa.

Britain's arrest of the Japanese brought a swift reaction.

The Japanese Ambassador, Namoru Shigemitsu, went to the very top—to Foreign Minister Lord Halifax himself—to make a "strong protest" and in a twenty-minute interview with the Viscount he was reported to have made an outright demand that the internees, Satoru Makihara and Shunsukei Tanabe, be released forthwith.

Mr. Makihara and Mr. Tanabe, agents of the fabulously wealthy Mitsubishi and Mitsui families—members of a small group of such families which controls nearly all Japanese industry and finance—were arrested quietly during the night and other reports indicated that arrests of other Japanese were going forward all over the British Empire.

All this provided a set of circumstances almost identical to those under which the Japanese had made arrests of British subjects—arrests which were declared in Tokio to have been made because of the existence of a spy ring in Japan—but authoritative British quarters insisted impassively that nevertheless London's action was not at all a reprisal. If there were strong similarities between the two incidents, it was said, it was just a pure coincidence.

Still, Lord Halifax was understoood to have told the protesting Ambassador that the arrests were made for just such reasons of "internal legal considerations" as the Japanese had advanced to justify their seizure of the Britons.

Shigemitsu was said to have spoken of the possible "unfortunate effect" on British-Japanese relations.

"We are flabbergasted," said a spokesman at the Japanese embassy.

Mr. Makihara and Mr. Tanabe were in point of fact "very pro-British and very sympathetic to Britain," he added.

"We cannot possibly imagine anything on their part to invite suspicion or give the impression that they infringed on the regulations of this country.

"We hope everything can be settled satisfactorily."

Both Arrested at Home.

Mr. Makihara was arrested at 8:30 o'clock last night by two plain clothes policemen who arrived at his house half an hour before he got there. After a quick dinner, during which servants packed his bag, Mr. Makihara was taken away at 9 P. M.

Prominent members of the London Japanese colony immediately called at their embassy, where they were discussing measures to be taken when they learned of Mr. Tanabe's arrest at 11:30 P. M. at his home in suburban Brixton.

The conference at the embassy lasted until well after midnight.

Makihara's wife and daughter, the latter born in London, are staying.

Only two days ago, a British informant had said that unless the nine Britons still in custody in Japan were released something might be done—something without warning, he added—because the Japanese had given no warning of their action.

Might Try Armed Pressure.

At that time, an authoritative source had said baldly, although privately, that British-Japanese relations might grow so "impressively worse" that the Japanese might attempt some sort of military pressure against Britain.

Japan, he added, was not likely to take the full step to total war, since that might involve Russia or the United States, but she might try to drive the British from the colony of Hongkong.

This turn about in Japanese-British affairs had followed by only about three weeks an apparent effort to smooth things over between the two Powers.

That was Great Britain's agreement, in deference to Japanese wishes, to suspend for three months the movement of munitions to China both from Hongkong and over the Burma Road, London expressing a simultaneous desire to try to help Japan and China find a peace.

But only yesterday fresh evidence of strain came in the assertion of a British spokesman that the German secret police, the Gestapo, had a man in the Japanese Home Office who was exerting influence in Japanese internal affairs.

The arrest of Makihara and Tanabe stirred great excitement in London's Japanese colony.

In Tokio the newspapers declared the British action was retaliatory.

Through Domei, the Japanese news agency, it was stated that the Japanese Government was considering sending Foreign Minister Matsuoka to Berlin and Rome to conduct negotiations for even closer relations with Germany.

It was added that the Japanese Government wanted a "strong political entente" with Germany and Italy, regulation of relations with Russia and construction of a "big Far Eastern bloc even at the risk of possible friction with the United States."

See Arrests as Reprisal.

The detention of Mr. Makihara and Mr. Tanabe was followed by the predictions in Japanese quarters that the two would be held until the British in Japan were released, and that more Japanese would be arrested here.

Some Japanese insisted they were "completely taken by surprise" at what had happened, but they would have been less surprised, some observers felt, had they noted closely the tone of the British press since Prime Minister Churchill first announced the closing of the Burma Road at Japan's request.

The morning after that announcement, the important Yorkshire Post, which is owned by the family of Mrs. Anthony Eden, wife of the War Minister, observed:

"The question is whether by agreeing to close it (the Burma Road) we are not undermining our capacity to resist Japanese demands at some later date."

The London News Chronicle, a Liberal publication, demanded to know whether the move was a "back to Munich" step and added:

"We do not believe that Japan's increasing appetite will be appeased by this surrender."

At the time of the arrest of the first Britons in Japan, several newspapers demanded like arrests of Japanese here. One of these demands came from the Express, which is owned by Lord Beaverbrook, a member of the war cabinet.

SHOT IN EIRE BREAK

Two Men Wounded at Cork in Prison Battle.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Two men were wounded critically today in a gun battle outside Cork Prison following an attempted break from the prison, now used as a concentration camp for political prisoners from Eire. The police made numerous arrests.

AUG 4-1940

DE GAULLE FIGHTS ON

Condemned Officer Scores French for Surrender.

LONDON, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of French forces continuing the fight against Germany, denounced today the French surrender at the act of "a makeshift Government giving way to panic, forgetting honor and delivering its country to slavery."

In a message to all Frenchmen in Great Britain, Gen. De Gaulle, who was condemned to death as a traitor by a French military court yesterday, declared,

"France has lost the battle, but not the war. Immense forces have not yet been brought into play. Some day these forces will crush the enemy." Gen. De Gaulle's message was issued in the form of handbills, bearing the traditional crossed tricolors of France. They were posted on billboards throughout the English countryside.

WITH THE BRITISH FIELD ARMY'S NORTHERN COMMAND, AUG. 3-(AP)-MINUTE MEN OF 1940, SOME 1,250,000 HOME GUARD VOLUNTEERS STAND TODAY BEHIND BRITAIN'S SEASONED FIRST LINE TROOPS, READY, THEIR OFFICERS SAY, TO PUT THEIR AMMUNITION ON THE DINING ROOM TABLE AND FIGHT FROM THERE.'

FEW OF THESE VOLUNTEERS HAD MILITARY TRAINING BEFORE THE WAR AND MANY NEVER TOUCHED A RIFLE UNTIL A MONTH AGO, BUT THEY ARE NOW AN INTEGRAL PART OF BRITAIN'S ELABORATE DEFENSE SYSTEM.

"GIVE THEM A POSITION TO HOLD," SAID ONE VETERAN STAFF OFFICER CONFIDENTLY, "AND THEY'LL HOLD IT UNTIL THE REGULARS CAN COME UP AND HIT THE BOCHE."

AUG 4-1940

Tokio Ambassador Goes Directly to Halifax; Diplomatic Crisis Appears to Be Developing Britain Holds Two Agents of Very Influential and Wealthy Families.

DENIES IT IS REPRISAL ACTION

Nothing was said officially by the British, but unofficially it was declared that the arrests were made on the grounds of national "security" under the act regulating aliens in wartime.

Reports of Spy Ring.

At the same time, the London press carried reports of the ferreting out of a widespread spy syndicate in the empire, especially in Canada, Australia and Burma.

The police searched Mr. Makihara's home in the fashionable Putney district before the arrest, but it is understood that they took no papers away.

At Mr. Makihara's office, at Plantation House in Fenchurch street, a girl secretary told the Associated Press in faultless English:

"We are not talking with any one about anything this morning."

The first news of the arrest of Mr. Makihara and Mr. Tanabe was relayed to London in news agency messages from Tokio, where Mr.

Duff Cooper Labels Nazi Peace Leaflets 'Boring Balderdash'

London, Aug. 3 (AP)—German peace ultimatum leaflets dropped over England by Nazi planes were "reviewed" tonight by Alfred Duff Cooper, the British Minister of Information, as "dull, tedious, bombastic, boring balderdash."

Duff Cooper, broadcasting to the nation, said Adolf Hitler had "proved himself the curse of Europe and he remains a menace to the world."

"Even in the glorious hour of our victory I shall not find it easy to forgive him, because I shall not be able to forget that in the whole long history of mankind no single individual has been responsible for so much human suffering and misery," he said.

MOST OF THE VOLUNTEERS DO THEIR SOLDIERING IN ADDITION TO PUTTING IN EIGHT HOURS OF WORK AT THEIR REGULAR JOBS.

FISHERMEN, FARMERS, FACTORY HANDS, HOTEL WAITERS, SHOPKEEPERS AND BANK CLERKS, THEY RISE BEFORE DAWN OR SACRIFICE THEIR LUNCH HOURS TO TAKE PART IN DAILY DRILLS. MANY DRILL AT NIGHT.

ARMED WITH RIFLES AND "UNIFORMED" IN OVERALLS, THE HOME GUARDS ARE REGARDED BY THE GENERAL STAFF AS INDISPENSABLE FOR OBSERVATION PURPOSES AND SECONDARY FIXED DEFENSE.

THE HOME GUARD UNITS ARE COMMANDED FOR THE MOST PART BY RETIRED ARMY OFFICERS, AND THEY MAINTAIN CLOSE CONTACT WITH THE REGULAR ARMY BRIGADE STAFFS IN THEIR DISTRICTS. BRIEFLY, THEIR DUTIES ARE:

1--TO PATROL ROADS, FIELDS AND THE COASTLINE NEAR THEIR HOMES.

2--TO DELAY THE ADVANCE OF AN INVADING ARMY THROUGH THEIR HOME TOWNS.

3--TO ACT IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE REGULAR ARMY BY GUARDING COMMUNICATIONS AND DEPOTS.

AUG 4-1940

ONE FACTOR WHICH WILL WORK IN THE HOME GUARDS' FAVOR IN EVENT OF INVASION IS THEIR KNOWLEDGE OF THE LOCAL COUNTRYSIDE, NOW DENUDED OF SIGNPOSTS AND EVERY INDICATION WHICH MIGHT HELP ANENEMY FORCE TO ORIENT ITSELF.

ONE JOB FOR WHICH THE HOME GUARD IS REGARDED AS VITAL IS THE DESTRUCTION OF SMALL PARACHUTE GROUPS BENT ON DEMOLITION.

THE ARMY HAS PREPARED MACHINEGUN AND ARTILLERY POSITIONS WHICH IT HOPES WILL HOLD AIRDROMES AND OTHER IMPORTANT POINTS AGAINST PARACHUTISTS. BUT AGAINST SMALL BODIES OF PARACHUTISTS, LANDING IN DESOLATE COUNTRY, THE HOME GUARD WILL BE THE FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE.

ALONG THE COAST, HOME GUARDS MAINTAIN A CONSTANT PATROL IN MOTOR-BOATS AND DINGHYS, OR SCAN THE SEA FROM CLIFFTOPS.

THE MINUTE MEN ARE NOT EXPECTED TO MANEUVER WITH THE POLISH OF HIGHLY TRAINED REGULARS, BUT A CONSTANT EFFORT IS BEING MADE TO BRING THEIR MARKSMANSHIP UP TO ARMY STANDARD.

THEIR MORALE APPEARS TO BE HIGH. TYPICAL OF THEIR ATTITUDE WAS THE REMARK OF ONE OLDSTER, A VETERAN OF THE HALF-FORGOTTEN MATABELAND CAMPAIGN IN SOUTH AFRICA IN 1893, WHO STOOD ON A BANK AND HURLED GRENADES AT A MOCK GERMAN TANK.

"I DON'T WANT ANY GERMANS MUCKIN' ABAHT IN MAY GARDEN," HE DECLARED.

British Transform East Coast Into Huge Net to Trap Invaders

BY DREW MIDDLETON

Barbed Wire Strung for Millions of Miles; Hills, Woods, Fields Fortified

By the Associated Press

WITH THE BRITISH FIELD ARMY'S NORTHERN COMMAND, Aug. 3.—The east coast, likeliest spot for a German invasion, has been transformed by titanic labor into a series of defense positions.

So strong are these positions, say the British, that if they cannot immediately break advancing German storm troops, they will ensnare and hold them in withering fire until the British launch a counter-blow which its army chiefs believe will "throw the Germans into the sea."

The northern command, with civilian help, has fortified roughly 9,500 square miles, including the east coast from the mouth of the Tees River to the Wash above Great Yarmouth. The area embraces industrial cities, whose furnaces still darken the sky, market towns, ports, lush farm lands and miles of bleak moors.

Here is what has been done:

Along the coast, harbors, beaches, cliffs all have been fortified. Millions of miles of barbed wire stretch along the shoreline, sometimes to the sea itself, and where it would be possible to land tanks from barges there are tank blocks and traps.

Invaders would be met with a blast of enfilading fire from weapons ranging from Bren machine guns to heavy guns firing from blockhouses, pillboxes and rifle pits.

Tucked away in the countryside miles from the coast are batteries of big guns. The Army depends on these and on Royal Air Force bombers, "artillery of the air," to prevent the Germans from establishing a "bridgehead" through which heavy material could be landed and reinforcements moved.

Inland, roads leading to the coast and running laterally to it are swept by guns and ceaselessly patrolled by R. A. F. planes, armored cars and truckloads of infantry. Every hill with a commanding position has been fortified. Many barns and houses of tactical importance have been turned into miniature forts, easy in England, where many houses are built of stone.

At airfields the prime defense against parachutists and troop planes will be batteries of machine guns sweeping the fields. Mobile infantry detachments are posted near by for counter attacks. Miles away batteries of heavy guns are trained on the fields. The anti-aircraft guns of the airdromes also can be trained on landing planes.

Buses, trucks and carry-alls, leased from civilians, have been added to the British Expeditionary Force's already large supply, and mobility, in the words of one divisional general, is "100 per cent."

Mobile detachments of motorcyclists, Bren gun carriers and small, fast trucks will precede the regular infantry. These units have high fire power and will spearhead counter-attacks supported by bombing and strafing.

The conclusion of neutral observers is that the British Army has done more in six weeks than in the previous six months to prepare for modern war. Only a battle will tell how thoroughly.

King Haakon Is 68

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP). — King Haakon VII of Norway observed his sixth-eighth birthday here today. It was also former Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's birthday—he was seventy-three.

British Complain That Prisoners Overwork Them

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP).—Wealthy "champagne-drinking" Nazi and Fascist internes are overworking them as "waiters and waitresses," British prison wardens protested today in asking increased staffs.

They said wealthy aliens were able to place standing orders with London caterers for special foods and wines, requiring prison officers to spend a lot of time attending to their requirements.

Chamberlain Recovering

Operated on, He Is Expected to Resume Work in About Two Weeks

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP).—Former Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, who underwent a minor operation Monday, was reported "making very good progress" tonight and was expected to return to his Cabinet post as Lord President of the Council in about two weeks.

The statement, issued through a private secretary, followed reports in some newspapers that the seventy-one-year-old Mr. Chamberlain "is not likely to resume any heavy responsibilities," and that Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Aircraft Production and newly invited into the Churchill war Cabinet, might replace him.

AUG 4-1940

More Australians in Britain

nounced today by the Do... Office. The announcement... Arrival of... failed to disclose the numb... more Australian troops in England... the men left Australia in the lat... to reinforce the thousands who... ter part of June and reached Eng... came here in mid-June was an... land during the last few days.

30.24-4079.

30.24-4079

LONDON, AUG.3-(AP)-POSSIBILITY THAT LORD BEAVERBROOK, NEWLY INVITED INTO PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL'S INNER WAR CABINET, MIGHT SUCCEED THE AILING FORMER PRIME MINISTER CHAMBERLAIN AS LORD PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL DREW SPECULATION IN THE LONDON PRESS TODAY.

AN OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT LAST NIGHT OF THE INVITATION SAID THE CANADIAN-BORN BEAVERBROOK, INFLUENTIAL LONDON NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER, WOULD CONTINUE FOR THE TIME BEING IN HIS POST AS MINISTER OF AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION.

AUG 4-1940

HIS ELEVATION MAKES THE INNER CABINET A SEXTET, THE OTHER MEMBERS BEING CHURCHILL, CHAMBERLAIN, FOREIGN MINISTER LORD HALIFAX, LORD PRIVY SEAL CLEMENT R.ATTLEE AND ARTHUR GREENWOOD, MINISTER WITHOUT PORTFOLIO.

THE LABORITE DAILY HERALD DECLARED "THERE IS GROWING BELIEF THAT MR.NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN, WHO IS AT PRESENT IN A NURSING HOME (AFTER AN OPERATION), IS NOT LIKELY TO RESUME ANY HEAVY RESPONSIBILITIES."

"IT IS BEING STATED THAT HIS PRESENT INDISPOSITION MARKS THE END OF HIS ACTIVE CAREER. IN THIS EVENT, LORD BEAVERBROOK MAY BE EXPECTED TO TAKE OVER THE EX-PREMIER'S DUTIES AT AN EARLY DATE."

THE LIBERAL NEWS-CHRONICLE DISCUSSED THE POSSIBILITY THAT BEAVERBROOK MIGHT TAKE OVER THE MINISTRY OF INFORMATION FROM ALFRED DUFF COOPER, WHO HAS DRAWN CRITICISM IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS FOR RECENT HOUSE-TO-HOUSE POLLS OF PUBLIC OPINION REGARDING WAR MATTERS AND IN THE NEWSPAPERS FOR HANDLING OF CENSORSHIP.

"IT HAS BEEN STRONGLY REPRESENTED TO THE PRIME MINISTER THAT BRITISH PROPAGANDA, ESPECIALLY IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES, BADLY NEEDS STRENGTHENING," THE NEWS-CHRONICLE SAID, REMARKING THAT NO MEMBER OF THE INNER CABINET IS DIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR PROPAGANDA.

U-boat Gets 7 Convoyed Ships

Sea Raider Returns Safely After Cruise—Britain Threatened With Wider Raids.

BERLIN, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—German bombers sank three armed enemy merchantmen in raids off Harwich and off the Hebrides the High Command reported today, and a U-boat during a long-distance cruise bagged seven armed merchantmen totaling 56,108 tons.

All of the seven ships were in one convoy, the U-boat's captain informed the High Command.

Other blows against England mentioned by the High Command included individual air raids last night on oil tanks along the Thames, causing extensive fires, and raids on anti-aircraft positions.

These and all previous German air raids on England, however, have been mere pin pricks, aviation Gen. Karl Schweickhard said today. The Nazi air force is prepared, he added, for a paralyzing simultaneous blanket attack against the United Kingdom from Scandinavia, the North Sea coast and the coasts of France. He did not say when it might begin.

Claim 350 Enemy Planes.

During the month of July, German sources said, Adolf Hitler's armed forces shot down 350 enemy planes and sunk 260,000 tons of merchant shipping and 25,000 tons of war vessels.

In addition 350,000 tons of commercial shipping were badly damaged and 55,000 tons of warships damaged in the same period, these sources said.

The German radio called British reports of Hamburg reduced to virtual ruins an example of a "Churchill lie" today in a summary of German newspaper comment on the British air attacks.

The High Command's communique told of air battles over Yssel Lake (Zuyder Zee) and the Dutch coast in which two British planes were shot down.

Apartment houses were destroyed by British bombs and several civilians killed at Ouren, a Belgian district in Malmedy which Germany has declared again a part of the Reich, the Germans reported.

Lists Nazi Advantages.

In the future conduct of aerial warfare, Gen. Schweickhard maintained, the advantage definitely lies with Germany, because of Great Britain's lack of a trained air defense and because England's vital [illegible] are compressed more closely than those of Germany where industrial plants are spread over a broad territory.

"Our possible positions of take-off from bases in Scandinavia, from the North Sea coast and from the coasts of France," he wrote, "guarantee the envelopment of England from many sides, with the simultaneous arrival of our aircraft at every objective."

On the other hand, he continued, Germany has few types of war planes, while Britain uses many English and American models and therefore must encounter difficulty in replacements and repairs; the German airplane industry has an unlimited capacity, whereas England is obliged to buy heavily abroad; the Nazi Air Force has been in the hands of one man, Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, while England has had several changes in her top command; and German materials, armament and airmen have all proved their worth.

The communique said that the submarine, commanded by Lieut.-Capt. Kretschmer, also sank the British destroyer Daring, in addition to its total of 117,367 tons of British merchant ships sent to the bottom.

[The British acknowledged the loss of the 1,375-ton destroyer Daring on February 19. London said that 157 lives were lost.]

Tells of Raids on Britain.

In attacks on British merchantmen yesterday off Harwich and the Hebrides, the High Command said, three ships totaling 16,000 tons were sunk.

Air raids were reported during the night on oil tanks and anti-aircraft positions in England. The returning aviators said that extensive fires were observed after bomb hits on oil tanks at Thameshaven, down the Thames from London.

The communique said that British bombers again dropped bombs "on non-military targets only" during the night and that a number of civilians were killed in the destruction of an apartment house at Oured.

The 25,000 tons of warships reported sunk include one 10,000-ton cruiser, one 7,000-ton auxiliary cruiser, two destroyers totaling 2,200 tons, two submarines totaling 2,000 tons, two patrol boats, totaling 1,800 tons, it was asserted, and some smaller boats.

The 55,000 tons of damaged war vessels included four cruisers totaling 32,000 tons, eight destroyers totaling 9,500 tons, four patrol boats totaling 1,200 tons and other vessels such as mine sweepers.

The German wireless reported that an air raid alarm on the East Danish coast was sounded early today when British planes "attempted to attack Copenhagen."

The report said that anti-aircraft guns succeeded in driving the raiders away, and that Swedish anti-aircraft batteries frequently have fired at British planes flying over Swedish territory.

German Claims

AUG 4-1940

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 3—German sources today said that during July their armed forces shot down 350 enemy airplanes and sank 260,000 tons of merchant shipping and 25,000 tons of war vessels.

In addition, 350,000 tons of commercial shipping were badly damaged, and 55,000 tons of war vessels damaged, these sources declared.

The 25,000 tons of warships include one 10,000-ton cruiser, one 7,000-ton auxiliary cruiser, two destroyers totaling 2,200 tons, two submarines totaling 2,000 tons, two patrol boats totaling 1,800 tons, it was asserted, and some smaller boats.

Four Cruisers Damaged

The 55,000 tons of damaged war vessels included four cruisers totaling 32,000 tons, eight destroyers totaling 9,500 tons, four patrol boats totaling 1,200 tons, and other vessels such as mine sweepers.

British shipping suffered heavily from U-boat and air attack yesterday, authorized quarters close to the German high command claimed today.

These sources said the east coast of England, the mouth of the River Thames, railway junctions and industrial centers were targets of severe raids.

They claimed two British Blenheim bombers were brought down off the Dutch coast and another outside the German-held French port of LeHavre.

A German U-boat, returning to its base, reported sinking a total of 117,000 tons of shipping, including three tankers totaling 56,000 tons.

The German high command reported the sinking of seven armed British merchant ships, including three tankers in a convoy, totaling 56,108 tons, by a lone Nazi U-boat during a long-distance cruise.

The communique said the submarine, commanded by Lieutenant Captain Kretschmer, also sank the British destroyed Daring, in addition to its total of 117,367 tons of British merchant ships sent to the bottom.

AIR INVASION FORECAST BY SCHWEICKHARD

Paralyzing Stroke From Skies By Hitler's Armadas Pictured

AUG 4—1940

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 3—A German general of aviation talked threateningly today of an invasion of England, not across the tossing Channel but with great aerial armadas striking simultaneously in an enveloping and paralyzing movement from the skies.

The pounding of the British Isles by German bombers week after week represents nothing more than "mere pin pricks" set against what is to come, said the general, Karl Schweickhard.

"Our possible positions of takeoff from bases in Scandinavia, from the North Sea coast and from the coasts of France," he added, "guarantee the envelopment of England from many sides, with simultaneous arrival of our aircraft at every objective with the heaviest possible bomb loads."

Boasts Air Superiority

The general, writing in the publication Schlesiche Zeitung, asserted Germany had much the better of it in the air, citing England's "greater vulnerability" and the fact that her endangered area was "compressed more closely, compared to German industrial plants spread over a broad territory."

For many days German strategy apparently has been centered not only in crippling British industrial plants, but in choking Britain's harbors.

During the day the high command reported new successes against the British at sea. It declared that three armed British merchantmen, totaling 16,000 tons, had been sunk by bombers yesterday, and that a single Nazi submarine, in a long cruise, had sunk seven armed merchantmen aggregating 56,108 tons.

War Score For July

At the same time, this was the German score against the British claimed for the month of July:

Three-hundred-fifty British planes shot down.

260,000 tons of merchant shipping, and war vessels totaling 25,000 tons, sunk.

350,000 tons of merchant shipping and war vessels totaling 55,000 tons, badly damaged.

Copenhagen Raid Repulsed

The German wireless reported that British planes "attempted to attack Copenhagen" this morning but were repulsed.

British planes were declared to have dropped bombs on "non-military targets" in northern and western Germany and it was said officially that in western Germany apartment houses were destroyed and "a number of civilians killed."

In the village of Ehra, the high command added, a farmer's family of four, including two children 1 and 2 years old, were killed.

NEWSMEN FIND HAMBURG NOT 'PULVERIZED'

Little Evidence Of Bombing Seen—Business In Full Swing

AUG 4—1940

[By the Associated Press]

Hamburg, Germany, Aug. 3—A small group of German, Italian and American journalists rode into Hamburg today on the hard benches of a military transport plane, but in a swift two-and-one-half-hour trip through the city saw canoeists paddling on shady canals and business in full swing.

The trip was arranged hurriedly by the Propaganda Ministry in response to British reports quoted by the German press as saying this important shipbuilding center had been "pulverized."

[Associated Press Editor's Note—An authoritative British source, telling Friday of 3,000 air raids on more than a hundred German cities, said the port of Hamburg is "now practically in ruins." This source said that Hamburg, with oil refineries, munitions factories and docks which are in the center of the city, had been "pulverized again and again." It is necessary to bear in mind the distinction between port and city.]

No Signs Of "Pulverization"

On the basis of a two-and-one-half-hour trip about Hamburg, one can hardly claim to be an authority on what has been going on in all parts of this third largest city in Germany, but the correspondents saw no "pulverization."

The trip included a visit to the tower of St. Michaelis Church, a popular spot for tourists seeking a bird's-eye view of the city.

The church rises above the Elbe river, near the old city. Modern Hamburg, where the British claimed to have caused the most damage, is several miles from the tower.

Docks in the vicinity of the tower were in good order, including one of three large sections of the Blohm & Voss Shipbuilding Company. In fact, the only sign of destruction was a small ship whose masts protruded from the waters of the Elbe. An Air Force officer said it caught fire and sank some time ago.

Hospital Building Damaged

Upon arriving at the airport, the correspondents were picked up in police trucks which whipped out to a hospital at the edge of the city. There workmen were repairing damage to one building which officials said had been hit by a bomb that killed two patients and a nurse.

Near the center of Hamburg, a bomb had fallen in Canal street, but no casualties were reported. Four other bombs which caused some damage were reported to have fallen in the neighborhood several weeks ago.

In another section of the city, police said twenty-five women and children were killed when a bomb fell on an apartment house during a daylight raid July 3.

Scene Of Another Bombing

Workmen had almost completed repairing the building, which is within three blocks of some industrial plants on the edge of the city. The police said that in this instance a dozen British planes dodged out of the clouds and dropped their cargo before an alarm sounded.

In another street there was a hole where a 125-pound "dud" broke a brick sewer several days ago. Three houses and a small factory in the neighborhood had been damaged by one bomb falling in a courtyard.

Hamburg police said most of the British bombs were falling in the outskirts of the city because of heavy anti-aircraft fire, which forced the planes to leave the area above the city itself.

British Reports Ridiculed

The German wireless tonight ridiculed the British reports in a description of a hypothetical Bummel (stroll) through the old city.

This was the announcer's story in part:

"We walk leisurely down the most beautiful street of old Hamburg, the Jungfernstieg. . . . Everyone is promenading along the inner basin of the Alster river, laughing and flirting. . . . No seats are to be had in the famous case Alster pavilion. Mountains of ice (ices) are being devoured. The people are jolly but not 'pulverized.'

Business Pictured As Usual

"We cross Lombard's Bridge. Glancing across the outer basin of the Alster river, we see that the large garden and terrace of the restaurant Uhlenhorster Fährhaus is doing an excellent business. The suburban trains which, like the express trains, cross Lombard's Bridge on their way to Altona and the Elbe river, are crowded with people. . . .

"In St. Pauli, the popular amusement area which is regarded as the chief attraction of Hamburg by sailors from all parts of the world, innumerable cafes, bars, cabarets, restaurants are crowded to capacity.

". . . This is the true appearance this week end of Hamburg, Germany's greatest international port with a population of about 1,800,000 people who, according to American reports from London, "completely lost their nerves owing to the constant British air raids."

At Odds Over Paris

AUG 4—1940

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 3—The chief obstable to return of the French Government to Paris appeared today to be a conflict between German military necessities and the French desire for a capital free of Nazi troops.

Although anxious to return to Paris, the French were reported to have pleaded that they could not govern their country efficiently if hampered by the presence of German troops within the capital.

Germany, however, seems unwilling to withdraw her forces from such a large area until the war with Britain is ended and a peace treaty actually signed.

Needed As Rail Terminal

Paris, it was pointed out here, is one of the most important railway terminals on the continent. Germans contend it is important that transportation facilities should remain in German hands so long as a state of war exists between Britain and Germany.

Also, in the German view, there is the political consideration that a city of almost 5,000,000 inhabitants—including the suburbs—might easily become the breeding place for subversive elements.

To meet French desires, Germany offered to withdraw her troops from Versailles if the Petain Government wished to locate there, but the French, after studying this proposition, decided that Versailles was not equipped as a seat of modern government.

Paris, it was said, is regarded as the only logical capital by the French.

Plans now before the stalemated French and German authorities envisage a compromise which might be acceptable to both governments. Under this plan the Petain Government would concentrate all its Ministries on the left bank of the Seine, roughly grouping them along the Quai D'Orsay, while the German army would withdraw from the area thus designated.

This, in a sense, would mean establishment of a city within a city, somewhat along the lines of the Vatican city in Rome.

BERLIN, AUG. 3—(AP) VIA RADIO—THE GERMAN RADIO TODAY CALLED BRITISH REPORTS OF A "CRUSCHILL LIE" TODAY IN A SUMMARY OF GERMAN NEWSPAPER COMMENT ON THE BRITISH AIR ATTACK.

THE HAMBURG CORRESPONDENT OF THE BOERSENZEITUNG WAS QUOTED AS SAYING, "ANYONE WHO PAYS A VISIT TO HAMBURG TODAY WILL SEE THAT ONLY A SMALL PART OF THE HARBOR BASIN IS FULL OF SHIPS," THAT WORK CONTINUES ALTHOUGH THE ANIMATED SCENE ON INCOMING AND OUTGOING SHIPS HAS SUFFERED."

TRAFFIC OF PRACTICALLY NORMAL VOLUME IN THE HARBOR TODAY, THE CORRESPONDENT SAID.

THE CORRESPONDENTS OF OTHER BERLIN NEWSPAPERS TELEPHONED SIMILAR REPORTS. THE RADIO SAID.

AUG 4—1940

BISHOPS TO GO TO FULDA

German Catholics Will Resume Annual Meetings Aug. 15

BERLIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—German Catholic church dignitaries announced today that the annual Bishops' conference at Fulda, omitted last year because of the troubled political situation in Europe, would meet again this year from Aug. 15 to 18, with representatives attending from throughout Greater Germany.

For the first time since its absorption by Germany, Austria will be represented with a delegation headed by Theodore Cardinal Innitzer. The Austrians were not invited in 1938.

Informed sources said they believed the convention would exhort Catholics to continue to support the Reich's struggle.

It was reported in well-informed German circles that two new seminaries for Catholic priests had been opened in Warsaw by Hans Frank, the German Governor, with 710 matriculating.

Turk Official Removed After Investigating Nazis

BERLIN, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—The German radio reported today that the Turkish director of political police in Istanbul and his deputy had been relieved of their posts after having conducted an inquiry against three German subjects who were acquitted on charges of menacing the Turkish State.

EDITOR KIDNAPED

Chinese in Shanghai Was on Japanese Blacklist.

BERLIN, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—The German wireless reported from Shanghai today that the financial editor of the newspaper Sinwanpao, Yen Lan-cheng, was dragged into a motor car near his home by three Chinese and carried off.

Yen Lan-cheng was on a "blacklist" issued by the Japanese-sponsored Nanking Government.

AUG 4—1940

30.24-4081

30.24-4081

ITALIANS WARNED OF LENGTHY FIGHT

But Authoritative Publication Stresses British Empire Is Gradually Being Weakened

OUR HELP IS DISCOUNTED

AUG 4-1940

Paper Declares Annexation of Canada by United States Is Still a Possibility

ROME, Aug. 3 (AP)—The authoritative political review Relazioni Internazionali, conceded today the "probability" that the British Empire "may still offer lengthy resistance."

Nevertheless, the review said, one must consider the "gradual weakening" of the British position adding:

1. Cooperation of the Dominions and overseas territories is "tending to diminish."
2. France is out of combat "for decades."
3. Prospects of Balkan support for the British have vanished "both among neutrals and among those who may be considered sympathizers in reserve like Greece and Yugoslavia."
4. The Mediterranean is "blocked by Italy."
5. In the Pacific "the Dominions can only keep silent in the face of the active, energetic policy of the Japanese Empire."
6. American policy "tends to disconnect Britain from the United States" while German submarines are able to nullify the cash-and-carry formula."

Fleet Quits Gibraltar?

[By the Associated Press]

Grenoble, France, Aug. 3—Le Petit Dauphinos published a dispatch from Tangier, Spanish Morocco, today that the British fleet at Gibraltar sailed west into the Atlantic yesterday to aid in the defense of England.

The dispatch said the fleet divided into two groups, included five submarines, seven destroyers, two plane carriers, three cruisers and three auxiliary ships.

VICHY FOR CURBING WAR AID TO NAZIS

Any Work in French Industries for Germany Is 'Against Our Wishes,' Says Minister

PLANTS LITTLE DAMAGED

AUG 4-1940

Without News of Progress by Armistice Board, France Feels Peace Distant

VICHY, France, Aug. 3 (AP)—René Belin, the new French Minister of Industrial Production and Labor, said in an interview today that if French war industries in the occupied area were working for Germany, "they are doing so against our wishes."

Such factories, both in the occupied and unoccupied zones, he said, were in condition to start operations, but "they will not begin to manufacture war materials if we have anything to say about it."

M. Belin said syndicates and unions would continue in existence but wholly as craft guilds barred from political activity and under strict government control. Employers would be under the same control, he added.

He said both sides, employers and employes, would be encouraged to organize in factory regions and on a national scale according to industry, but that "labor and capital must recognize each other's rights." Failing agreement in industrial issues, the government would impose obligatory arbitration.

Of the gasoline shortage, M. Belin said every effort was being made to bring in through Mediterranean ports 230,000 tons of gasoline remaining in the French colonies.

The damage to French industry generally, he remarked, was negligible in the short-lived war with Germany, as compared to that suffered in the World War.

For example, he said, little or no damage had been done to the coal mines and electric plants of Northern France, and they soon would be ready to start operations. General Auguste Nogues, Resident-General of French Morocco, arrived here by plane during the day for a conference with the government of Marshal Henri Philippe Pétain.

Petain Bans Masonry

[By the Associated Press]

Vichy, France, Aug. 3—The Petain Government has ordered dissolution of Freemasonry and all other secret societies in France, it was announced today.

AUG 4-1940

The press charged Freemasonry with offenses ranging from sapping the morale of France to undermining Marshal Petain's efforts to reestablish the "work, family and fatherland" idea among the people.

The newspaper Le Nouvelliste, of Lyon, declared "our foreign enemies never would have been able to succeed against us if France had not been literally assassinated by the venom of secret lodges."

Called Foe Of Petain's Ideals

The newspaper asserted that Freemasonry systematically deprived the French of their ideals, adding: "France without ideals has become a defeated France."

Charing that Freemasons methodically applied their international orders to the constant detriment of France, Le Nouvelliste said "they not only worked to de-Christianize the country, but also to corrupt and destroy the three principles Marshal Petain has decided to reestablish in all their essential virtues: work, family and fatherland."

Mobs Also Blame Jews

The press said Freemasons got their representatives into public office where they wielded their influence against the nation's Catholic faith and built up a spirit of "hypocrisy, tyranny, defeatism and hate."

(The German radio yesterday said anti-Jewish demonstrations were reported at Nice, France, Thursday, quoting the newspaper Eclaireur de Nice as saying plate-glass windows of Jewish-owned shops were smashed by demonstrators who wrote "down with the Jews" and "Freemasons" in large red letters on entrances.)

General Nogues Flies To Vichy

Vichy, France, Aug. 3 (AP)—Gen. Auguste Nogues, resident general of French Morocco, arrived here by plane today for a conference with the Petain Government.

AUG 4-1940

U. S. MAIL GETS TO PARIS

Naval Attache Passes German Line on Third Attempt

VICHY, France, Aug. 3 (AP)—Lieut. Comm. Roscoe H. Hillenkoetter, United States naval attaché, accompanied by Sergeant John Cook of the air attaché's office, succeeded in passing through the German lines on the third attempt yesterday with an automobile load of mail pouches for the United States Embassy in Paris.

They had been turned back two days in succession by Germans guarding the boundary between the occupied and unoccupied zones on the grounds that a member of a diplomatic mission accredited to the government at Vichy could no longer enter the occupied zone without a permit issued by the German authorities in Paris.

French Curb Food Sales

Restaurants Forbidden To Serve Fish And Meat In Same Meal

Vichy, Aug. 3 (AP)—The French Government issued new decrees today restricting the sale of foodstuffs in another move to guard against shortage of supplies this winter because of transportation difficulties and absence of imports.

Restaurants were prohibited from serving fish or cheese in the same meal with meats, and from serving any meat, fowl or rabbit after 3 P. M.

During August, ration-card coupons will be required to purchase specified articles which are particularly short and which may be bought only in limited amounts, such as:

Five hundred grams (slightly over one pound) of sugar; 250 grams (a fraction over eight ounces) of spaghetti, macaroni, etc.; 100 grams (about 3½ ounces) of rice; 125 grams (less than 4½ ounces) of soap, and 200 grams (about 7 ounces) of margarine or vegetable oils.

Refugees' Plight

[By the Associated Press]

Bern, Switzerland, Aug. 3—Here is part of a letter received here today from a 46-year-old Frenchwoman, exiled by the war from her home in Paris to the Tarn department north of Toulouse.

It is the woman's story told in her own words—a story that may be typical of tens of thousands of Frenchwomen.

This woman clung to her Paris apartment until the Low Countries and Luxembourg were invaded on May 10. Then, with several members of her family, she went to the deserted farm in Tarn, where her family originally had made its home.

18 Live In House

"I am learning how to cook again for a large family—and it is so large," she writes. "There are eighteen people in the house, including seven children, while twenty-five others, for whom we could find no beds, are in the village.

"Most of them are from Paris, friends who had nowhere else to go in this part of the world. It's as gay as any place can be where women are sharing work many of them never had done before in an effort to forget the sadness of the future which each hides from the other.

"Already we have no sugar, coffee or butter—think of that, no butter in the heart of the country. That's the trouble with modern civilization—our people gave up cows because butter came more cheaply from somewhere else. And now it cannot come, for there is no gasoline. Now there is less and less meat, no oil, no chocolate or fats.

Menus A Problem

"Mother and I spend an hour every night trying to think of menus—it's so hard with seven children.

"You remember how big appetites are in the country? Unfortunately war has not calmed them. The days when I dieted seem a dream now, for I am thin as a young girl, with no fattening foods to tempt me.

"But I assure you morale is high and not for a moment has it wavered—at least not here. While even in tears of humiliation for my country I felt so strongly a desire for its recovery that I can believe in it ardently, for others felt as I did.

Closer To The Soil

"Gerard (19-year-old son of a friend) failed by one point to pass his examinations at polytechnic school and Jacques (her 19-year-old nephew) passed his entrance examinations for agricultural school, which were very difficult. He has not forgotten his music, but he desires ardently to be a farmer now. War brings us close to the soil and defeat even closer.

"Juliette's husband (a Belgian industrialist in peacetime, an officer in war) pedaled in one bright morning last week on his bicycle, after the poor girl had spent twelve weeks not knowing whether he was alive or dead. They are crazy with happiness.

"I stay close to Diane. You know that Pierre (Diane's young husband) last was heard from on the Somme.

"The grass is green here and tomorrow there will be sun. But we realize that hard times are coming."

U-BOAT SCORES AGAIN

Survivors Report British Vessel Torpedoed Off Gibraltar

CADIZ, Spain, Sunday, Aug. 4 (AP)—The torpedoing of an unidentified British merchantman by a submarine a few miles off the British fortress of Gibraltar was reported early today when thirty-five survivors were landed here by the Palacio, another British merchant vessel.

The survivors identified the submarine as German, but gave no details on the torpedoing or on their ship.

Informer Plane Scouts British Gibraltar Forts

Appears Daily Over Fortress And Is Nearly Always Followed By Raid

La Linea, Spain, Aug. 3 (AP)—A plane which the dwellers near Gibraltar have come to call "the informer" appears daily over Britain's great fortress rock, observing warship movements and defense preparations in the face of anti-aircraft fire.

The visits are nearly always followed by bombing raids.

According to available information here, "the informer" was able to report today that no British warships were left at Gibraltar.

CUDAHY GOING TO LONDON

Ambassador To Belgium To Fly There Today On "Private Visit"

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 3 (AP)—John Cudahy, United States Ambassador to Belgium, will fly to London tomorrow for a "private visit," it was reported tonight.

The envoy was scheduled to sail for the United States Thursday on the American Export liner Excalibur with fellow-diplomats and the Duke of Windsor, but changed his plans at the last minute.

AUG 4-1940

AMERICANS HONORED

Gen. Franco Awards Spain's Highest Decoration.

MADRID, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Gen. Francisco Franco, in "signal token of my appreciation," has awarded to eight Americans the Great Cross of Isabella the Catholic, Spain's highest decoration for civilians. His decree, dated May 24, was not published until today in the Official Bulletin.

The recipients included four Catholic churchmen: George Cardinal Mundelein, Archbishop of Chicago, who died on October 2, 1939, upon whom the award was conferred posthumously; Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia; the Most Rev. Dr. Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore and Washington, and the Most Rev. Dr. Thomas Molloy, Bishop of Brooklyn.

The other four included Ogden H. Hammond, former United States Ambassador to Spain; Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice, the Boston explorer; Commendatore Gaetano Vecchiotti, Italian Consul-General in New York, and William Cameron Forbes, former Ambassador to Japan.

AUG 4-1940

Holland To Ration Textiles

Amsterdam, (via Berlin) Aug. 3 (AP)—Textiles will be rationed along the lines of the German system, the director of the Netherlands State Distribution Bureau for Textiles announced today. The population will be given ration cards.

BY LLOYD LEBBRAS

RIOM, FRANCE, AUG. 3--(AP)--LIKE A DISUSED THEATER, THIS ALMOST-FORGOTTEN TOWN OF GRASS-GROWN STREETS AND DERELICT MANSIONS OF ANOTHER ERA BEGAN A FRENZY OF EXCITED CLEANING TODAY, PREPARING THE STAGE FOR THE HISTORY-MAKING TRIALS OF FORMER FRENCH LEADERS ACCUSED OF PLUNGING AN UNPREPARED NATION INTO DISASTROUS WAR.

AT THE PALAIS DE JUSTICE, MOST NOTABLE BUILDING IN THE TOWN, THE FLUSTERED WOMAN CARETAKER LAMENTED AS SHE LEARNED THAT THE BUILDING HAD BEEN CHOSEN AS THE SEAT OF FRANCE'S NEW SUPREME COURT FOR THE TRIALA BEGINNING NEXT THURSDAY.

HER MOST IMPORTANT PREVIOUS DUTY HAS BEEN TO GUIDE CASUAL TOURISTS THROUGH THE PALAIS, BUT SHE SEIZED A DUSTER AND SET TO WORK, DETERMINED TO MAKE EVERYTHING TIDY FOR THE JUDICIAL SPECTACLE.

BEFORE THE INVASION OF NOTABLES AND FUNCTIONARIES, A FEW CURIOSITY SEEKERS ALREADY ARE WANDERING THROUGH THE TWO-STORY BUILDING, STARING AT THE LOUIS XIV ACHITECTURE AND THE ANCIENT TAPESTRIES.

THE PALAIS STANDS ON THE MAIN STREET, ATOP A TREE-BORDERED KNOLL IN THE CENTER OF THE TOWN WHICH ONCE WAS THE CAPITAL OF THE DUCHY OF AUVERGNE.

ORIGINALLY BUILT AS A CHATEAU BY THE DUC DE BERRY IN THE FOURTEENTH CENTRY, THE PALAIS WAS RECONSTRUCTED IN 1830. THE BEAUTIFUL LITTLE SAINTE CHAPELLE IS ALL THAT REMAINS OF THE BUILDING.

THE CHAPEL CONTAINS NINE FIFTEENTH-CENTURY STAINED GLASS WINDOWS, TWO PAINTINGS OF CHRIST ON THE CROSS, LABELED "JESUS CHRIST, KING OF THE JEWS," MAGNIFICENT FLEUR DE LIS TAPESTRIES, AND ALTAR PAINTINGS SHOWING THE DUKE AND DUCHESS DE BERRY BEING PRESENTED TO ST. PETER.

IN THE COUNCIL HALL, WHERE THE TRIALS WILL BEHELD, AND IN THE PRESIDENT'S ROOM, ARE TAPESTRIES OF THE LOUIS XIV PERIOD: "THE PRODIGAL SON." AND "THE STORY OF ULYSSES," THE LATTER DETAILING THE ADVENTURE WITH CIRCE, WHO TRANSFORMED ULYSSES MEN INTO SWINE.

THE COUNCIL HALL IS LINED WITH LONG, BLACK, LEATHER-COVERED SEATS, PROVIDING ROOM FOR ONLY ABOUT 200 PERSONS.

BEHIND THE BENCH, WHICH RESUMBLES THAT OF THE U.S. SUPREME COURT IN WASHINGTON, ARE SEVEN RED-LEATHER CHAIRS, WHENCE THE JUDGES CAN LOOK DOWN ON AN OPEN SPACE OF POLISHED HARDWOOD UPON THE ACCUSED AND THEIR PLEADERS.

OPPOSITE THE TAPESTRIED WALL XX ARE SIX GREAT WINDOWS, LOOKING UPON THE PLEASANT PLAIN, WHERE THE PEASANTS ARE HARVESTING THE CROPS WHICH MUST HELP FEED FRANCE.

BEHIND THE JUDGES' SEATS IS A NICHE CONTAINING A MARBLE BUST OF "MARIANNE," SYMBOLIC OF THE FRENCH REPUBLIC WHICH NOW HAS BEEN SUPERSEDED BY THE FRENCH STATE.

BUT SUCH SUBTLETIES MAKE LITTLE IMPRESSION ON RIOM'S 11,000 PEOPLE. THEY ARE TOO BUSY RENTING ROOMS AND PREPARING TO FEED THE CROWDS WHICH WILL PARTICIPATE IN THE NEW DRAMA THAT HAS COME TO THIS SLEEPY, TREE-BOWERED TOWN.

AUG 4-1940

The Day's War Communiques

The official communiques issued today by the warring Powers are presented below:

ROME.

The Italian High Command issued the following communique:

"It is confirmed that the fire at Haifa (seaport in Palestine) caused by our recent bombardment (July 25) was still burning after three days.

"In the (Anglo-Egyptian) Sudan our planes have bombed the railroad shops at Port Sudan, setting fire to a depot, and the aviation field at Gebeit, where serious damage was caused and about ten enemy planes were struck on the ground.

"In Kenya, near Buna, troop concentrations and trucks have been bombed and machine-gunned.

"In North Africa, enemy planes raided Bardia without causing material damage but causing some loss among troops.

"During an enemy raid on the Cagliari (Sardinia) flying field, which caused one death, three injured and slight damage, two enemy planes were shot down. The crew of one were taken prisoner."

CAIRO.

A communique issued by British Army Headquarters said:

"A statement emanating from London was published in Egypt yesterday giving the British casualties (on the Libyan frontier) accurately as thirty killed, wounded and missing.

"The Italian casualties were given as twenty killed, twenty wounded and 472 captured.

"This comparison was most misleading, as the twenty Italians killed include only those actually buried by the British and the wounded are only those wounded and taken prisoners. The actual number of prisoners, moreover, now is 818, not 472.

"The total number of enemy killed and wounded runs into many hundreds. Their (the Italians') costly adventure in reoccupying Fort Capuzzo alone exposed them to very heavy casualties in men, guns, tanks, vehicles and material of all kinds.

"Ground and air observers frequently reported large numbers of dead lying unburied around enemy positions. Derelict tanks and mechanized transport equipment can be seen on all sides and prisoners confirm the report that hospitals are filled with wounded."

The Royal Air Force issued the following communique today:

"R. A. F. bombers raided bulk fuel installations at Zula, Eritrea, yesterday. There were heavy bursts on or near the target, one direct hit resulting in a big column of black smoke. Stores and buildings also were damaged.

"The oil depot at nearby Accico and the airdrome at Asmara again were raided by our bombers. Despite heavy anti-aircraft fire the attacks were pressed home. At the airdrome, one bomber dived to within 100 feet in order to attack enemy aircraft on the ground.

"At Accico, as a result of the raid, several explosions occurred which were heard thirty miles away. All our aircraft returned safely.

"A formation of enemy bombers attacked Kham-el-Girba unsuccessfully. One CA 133, sighted over Gedaref on the (Anglo-Egyptian) Sudan border, was shot down by our fighters, the crew being captured.

"Another attack was made on Assab. Direct hits were registered on an ammunition dump resulting in several heavy explosions. One searchlight also was put out of action.

BERLIN.

The German High Command issued this communique:

"One submarine commanded by Lieut.-Capt. Kretschmer during a long-distance cruise sunk seven armed enemy merchant ships totalling 56,108 tons, among them three tankers in a convoy.

"This ship thus sunk a total of 117,367 tons of enemy merchant shipping space besides the British destroyer Daring.

"Several armed enemy merchantmen were bombed on August 2 on the English east coast off Harwich as well as off the Hebrides. Three of the attacked ships, totaling 16,000 tons, sank.

"Individual raids were carried out the night of August 2-3 on oil tanks and anti-aircraft positions in England. Extensive fires were observed among oil tanks at Thameshaven.

"Several enemy planes, which during the day penetrated Holland and northern France, everywhere encountered effective defense by our pursuit planes and anti-aircraft so that their bombs were dropped aimlessly in open fields.

"In the course of air fights over Yssel Lake and the sea region off Ymuiden we succeeded in shooting down two Bristol Blenheim planes. Another of the same type of plane was bagged by anti-aircraft near Le Havre.

"British planes entering northern and western Germany during the night of August 2-3 again dropped bombs on non-military targets only.

"Apartment houses were destroyed and a number of civilians killed in Oured. At Ehra, in the Gifhorn district, in which vicinity there are no military objectives, one farm was destroyed by a number of bombs. A farmer's family of four, including two children aged 1 and 2 years, were killed and two other persons were severely injured."

LONDON.

Enemy planes were also reported over southwestern England before noon today.

A communique issued jointly by the Air Ministry and the Ministry of Home Security said:

"There was some enemy activity during last night, and bombs were dropped in northeast Scotland, the Midlands, southeast England and the Bristol Channel area.

"No substantial damage is reported except from a town in the Bristol Channel area, where some bombs fell in a residential district, damaged a church, a school and other buildings and caused a few minor casualties."

HITLER DREADS RED INFLUENCE IN THE BALKANS

Rumanians Are Told That Is Why They Must Deal With Hungary.

ORDERED TO SETTLE AT ONCE

Transylvania Leaders Are Firm in Stand Not to Yield One Inch of Land.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 3 (A. P.), (passed by censor).—Fear of the spread of Communism in southeast Europe prompted Adolf Hitler's advice to Rumania to settle her territorial differences with Hungary, Transylvanian leaders said they were told today by the Rumanian Foreign Minister, Mihail Manoilescu.

Those attending the meeting at which Mr. Manoilescu spoke quoted him as saying that he had been advised that a strong communist movement in Hungary was approaching the danger point and that the hands of the Budapest Government would be strengthened to cope with it by territorial gains.

Told to Settle Promptly.

Mr. Manoilescu and Premier Ion Gigurtu returned this week from conferences with Hitler at Salzburg and with Premier Mussolini in Rome at which, it was reported, they were told to settle promptly their differences with Hungary and Bulgaria.

Hungary has been agitating for the return of Transylvania and Bulgaria wants back Dobruja.

Today's informants said that there had been no agreement or formula advanced so far for discussing Hungary's claims. The Transylvania leaders were represented as firm in their stand not to yield an inch of territory. Some went so far as to demand armed resistance.

Meanwhile, former Premier Juliu Maniu, Transylvania peasant leader, returned home with the explanation that he was fearful that disorders by the Hungarian minority there might lead to serious trouble.

Transfer of 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 ancestry is Hitler's plan for disposing of Rumanian-Hungarian territorial problems, regardless of how much land Rumania ultimately cedes, German diplomatic circles said today.

30.24-4083

German circles said the recent axis-Balkan conferences had limited Rumanian-Hungarian negotiations to a semicircular frontier area taking in two large Transylvanian cities.

Frontier Guaranties Assured.

These sources declared the Rumanian Ministers were assured of frontier guaranties as well as economic, cultural and financial support from the Reich as soon as Nazi territorial and economic questions are settled—presumably at the end of the war.

While the Rumanian Council of Ministers discussed anti-Jewish laws, it was learned unofficially the latest plan would require nearly 250,000 Jews, who cannot prove that their ancestors for three generations were born in Rumania, to leave the country within five years, meanwhile living in ghettos as foreigners.

Negotiations Well Advanced.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Victor Kadare, Rumanian Minister to Yugoslavia, arrived here today, indicating that the preliminary Rumanian-Bulgarian negotiations over the return of southern Dobruja to Bulgaria already are well advanced. Kadare, it was assumed, would make arrangements for the formal negotiations to open in Bucharest next week.

Meanwhile, the German Ambassador to Turkey, Franz von Papen, seized an opportunity to dine with Premier Bogdan Philoff and Ivan Popoff, Foreign Minister, when the plane bearing him back to Turkey missed his train connection.

There was some enemy activity during last night, and bombs were dropped in northeast Scotland, the Midlands, southeast England and the Bristol Channel area.

No substantial damage is reported except from a town in the Bristol Channel area, where some bombs fell in a residential district, damaged a church, a school and other buildings and caused a few minor casualties.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 3 (AP).—A Royal Air Force communique issued here today:

R. A. F. bombers raided bulk fuel installations at Zula, Eritrea, yesterday. There were heavy bursts on or near the target, one direct hit resulting in a big column of black smoke. Stores and buildings also were damaged.

The oil depot at near-by Accico and the airdrome at Asmara again were raided by our bombers. Despite heavy anti-aircraft fire the attacks were pressed home. At the airdrome one bomber dived to within 100 feet in order to attack enemy aircraft on the ground.

At Accico, as a result of the raid, several explosions occurred which were heard thirty miles away. All our aircraft returned safely.

A formation of enemy bombers attacked Kham-el-Girba unsuccessfully. One CA133 (Italian bomber), sighted over Gedaref on the (Anglo-Egyptian) Sudan border, was shot down by our fighers, the crew being captured.

Another attack was made on Assab. Direct hits were registered on an ammunition dump resulting in several heavy explosions. One searchlight also was put out of action.

positions. Derelict tanks and mechanized transport equipment can be seen on all sides and prisoners confirm the report that hospitals are filled with wounded.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 3 (AP).—Today's high command communique:

One submarine commanded by Lieut. Capt. Kretschmer during a long distance cruise sank seven armed enemy merchant ships totaling 56,108 tons, among them three tankers in a convoy. This ship thus sank a total of 117,367 tons of enemy merchant shipping space besides the British destroyer Daring.

Several armed enemy merchantmen were bombed Aug. 2 on the English east coast off Harwich as well as off the Hebrides. Three of the attacked ships, totaling 16,000 tons, sank.

Individual raids were carried out the night of Aug. 2-3 on oil tanks and anti-aircraft positions in England. Extensive fires were observed among oil tanks at Thames Haven.

Several enemy planes, which during the day penetrated Holland and northern France, everywhere encountered effective defense by our pursuit planes and anti-aircraft, so that their bombs were dropped aimlessly in open fields.

In the course of air fights over Yssel Lake (Zuider Zee) and the sea region off Ymuiden we succeeded in shooting down two Bristol Blenheim (bomber) planes. Another of the same type of plane was bagged by anti-aircraft near Le Havre.

In Kenya, near Buna, troop concentrations and trucks have been bombed and machine-gunned.

In North Africa enemy planes raided Bardia without causing material damage but causing some losses among troops.

During an enemy raid on the Cagliari (Sardinia) flying field, which caused one death, three injured and slight damage, two enemy planes were shot down. The crew of one was taken prisoner.

HUNGARIANS IMPATIENT FOR SETTLEMENT

Hitler Demand For Quick Action Felt Based On Communist Peril

2,000,000 May Be Affected In Transfer Of Populations

AUG 4 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Bucharest, Aug. 3—Fears of Communist disturbances in Hungary and of Hungarian disorders in Rumanian-held Transylvania complicated the Balkan situation tonight as Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania prepared for an attempt to settle their boundary differences in a manner acceptable to the Axis powers.

Transylvanian leaders said they were told by Foreign Minister Mihail Manoilescu that it was fear of the strong Communist movement in Hungary getting out of hand which led Führer Adolf Hitler to demand a settlement of territorial claims without further delay.

Hitler Has Different Ideas

Hungary wants the return of Transylvania which she lost to Rumania in the World War; but Hitler's idea of a settlement is reported to involve only partial satisfaction of the Hungarian territorial claims, together with a wholesale transfer of populations to make racial frontiers harmonize with national boundaries.

Hungarians in Transylvania, meanwhile, are impatiently demanding quick transfer of territory to Hungary, and former Premier Juliu Maniu, the Transylvanian peasant leader, said he feared disorders by the Hungarian minority might lead to serious trouble there.

Bulgaria wants the southern Dobruja as its share of the forthcoming Balkan settlement, and the arrival in Sofia today of Victor Kadare, Rumanian Minister to Yugoslavia, was taken to mean preliminary negotiations for a transfer of territory already are well advanced. It was assumed Kadare would make arrangements for formal negotiations to open in Bucharest next week.

1,500,000 To 2,000,000 Affected

Hitler's scheme for a reshuffling of populations would affect between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 persons, it was explained in German diplomatic circles. The idea would be to return all Hungarians left in Rumania to Hungary, bring home all Rumanians presently living in Hungary, and remove to the Reich all Germans in any ceded portion of Transylvania.

It is estimated there are 1,400,000 Hungarians in all Rumania, 500,000 Germans in Transylvania and about 100,000 Rumanians in Hungary.

Axis Limits Conferences

German sources said the recent Axis-Balkan conferences had limited Rumanian-Hungarian negotiations to a semi-circular frontier area taking in two large Transylvanian cities, although Hungary began by demanding the whole of Transylvania. The same sources showed displeasure over continued public clamor in Hungary for a more sweeping territorial settlement.

In Rumania, on the other hand, there was agitation against cession of any territory at all to Hungary. Circulars entitled "Rumania Awake" were found in mail boxes here yesterday, urging the people to refuse to "give up a single fistful of our land."

Several newspapers also took a stand against making territorial concessions.

WAR OF IMPERIALISM FORECAST BY SOVIET

Europe's Colonies Seen Bringing New Phase of Conflict

MOSCOW, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Soviet Government newspaper Izvestia declared today that European colonial possessions threatened to spread the conflict into a "world imperialist war."

"There exists every reason" to expect that the conflict in the near future will enter a "new and even more cruel phase," it added.

Two days ago Premier Vyacheslaff M. Molotoff told the Russian Parliament the Western Hemisphere was threatened with war as a result of imperial "appetites" in the United States.

Izvestia declared the "successes" of the Soviet Union "certainly meet with malicious disapproval in certain quarters. It is no secret to us that any increase in the might of the Soviet State considerably annoys our enemies."

It recalled that Mr. Molotoff, "with brilliant sarcasm," referred to "these displeased gentlemen" and declared that so long as they expressed their discontent in interviews and "pathetic declarations," they would be ignored. Concrete anti-Soviet activities, the newspaper warned, would be an entirely different matter.

"In this connection," Izvestia continued, "Molotoff particularly reminded the governments of the United States and England of their responsibility for unlawful actions they committed in the Baltic. This concerns unlawful detention of gold recently purchased by the State Bank of the U.S.S.R. from banks of the three Baltic countries.

"However, unlawful actions against the Soviet Union may assume diverse forms. Some of them were mentioned in Molotoff's statement about 'mysterious airplanes' that appeared over Baku and Batum [Black Sea oil ports] coming from Iran and Turkey."

representatives and foreign journalists.

Joseph Stalin, Vyacheslaff Molotoff, Premier-Foreign Commissar, and the members of the Soviet Presidium were seated in boxes.

Prolonged cheers greeted Stalin.

The Lithuanian plenipotentiary commission then entered and was applauded. There were speeches of greeting in Russian, Lithuanian and other languages.

Lithuania's petition for admission into the Soviet Union then was presented and approved unanimously.

R. A. F. Raids Oil Depots.

CAIRO, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—The British Air Force reported today that explosions which could be heard thirty miles away were set off yesterday in a series of mass raids on Italian oil depots and grounded planes in Eritrea.

An R. A. F. communique said great billows of black smoke followed direct hits on oil tanks at Zula, Accico and the Asmara airdrome. All the attacking bombers were reported to have returned safely.

One Italian bomber was reported shot down and its crew captured in attacks on Kham el Girba and Gedaref, on the border between the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan and Eritrea.

French Tankers Detained.

PORT SAID, Egypt, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—The British naval authorities refused today to permit two French tankers, the Roxane and Melpomene, totaling 25,000 tons, to depart for France fearing that the oil cargoes would fall into German hands.

Text of War Powers' Communiques

AUG 4 1940

British

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP).—Tonight's Air Ministry communique:

Yesterday R. A. F. bombers made daylight raids on a number of airdromes in France, Belgium and Holland. Hits were scored on hangars and runways. Aircraft on the ground were bombed and machine-gunned from a low altitude.

There was some opposition from enemy fighters. One of our aircraft is missing.

Our bombers continued their systematic attacks on military objectives in Germany. Last night their main targets were the oil depots at Emden, Hamburg, Misburg, Salzbergen and Emmerich. They also attacked several German airdromes.

Large fires were started at Hamburg and Salzbergen, where the damage is considered to have been extensive.

One of our aircraft returning from these operations was forced down into the sea.

A joint communique of the Air Ministry and the Ministry of Home Security this morning:

A communique of British Army headquarters in Cairo:

A statement emanating from London was published in Egypt yesterday giving the British casualties (on the Libyan frontier) accurately as thirty killed, wounded and missing.

The Italian casualties were given as twenty killed, twenty wounded and 472 captured.

This comparison was most misleading, as the twenty Italians killed include only those actually buried by the British and the wounded are only those wounded and taken prisoners. The actual number of prisoners, moreover, now is 518, not 472.

The total number of enemy killed and wounded runs into many hundreds. Their (the Italians') costly adventure in re-occupying Fort Capuzzo alone exposed them to very heavy casualties in men, guns, tanks, vehicles and material of all kinds.

Ground and air observers frequently reported large numbers of dead lying unburied around enemy

British planes entering northern and western Germany during the night of Aug. 2-3 again dropped bombs on non-military targets only. Apartment houses were destroyed and a number of civilians killed in Oured. At Ehra, in the Gifhorn district (near Hanover), in which vicinity there are no military objectives, one farm was destroyed by a number of bombs. A farmer's family of four, including two children aged one and two years, were killed and two other persons severely injured.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 3 (AP).—Today's Italian communique:

It is confirmed that the fire at Haifa (seaport in British-mandated Palestine) caused by our recent bombardment (July 25) still was burning after three days.

In the (Anglo-Egyptian) Sudan our planes have bombed the railroad shops at Port Sudan, setting fire to a depot, and the aviation field at Gebeit, where serious damage was caused and about ten enemy planes were struck on the ground.

Rumania Honors Jew And Dismisses Jews

BUCHAREST, Aug. 3 (AP).—The decoration by King Carol II of Mendel Herzcu, a Jew who holds the title "Painter of Walls of the Palace" was made public in the official gazette today while in an adjoining column it was announced that all Jewish officials must relinquish their posts, under Rumania's anti-Semitic laws.

Herzcu was one of fifty persons decorated for faithful service.

Lithuania Becomes Republic No. 14 In Union Of The Soviet

Moscow, Aug. 3 (AP)—Lithuania was accepted tonight by the Soviet Supreme Council as the fourteenth republic of the Soviet Union.

The assembly hall was crowded with many guests—representatives of the sciences, art, the army and navy, honored factory workers, diplomatic

Tokio Representations Are Given to Indo-China

Contraband Chief's Action Stirs Fears in China

HONGKONG, Aug. 3 (AP).—Domei, the Japanese news agency, reported today that the acting chief of Japanese contraband control in French Indo-China had "made important representations" of an undisclosed nature to Vice-Admiral Jean Decoux, Petain-appointed Governor General of the French colony.

(The new Japanese totalitarian government announced this week its intention to bring "Greater East Asia," including Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies, under its hegemony.)

The representations coincided with the arrival in Tokio of Gen. Ishaku Nishihara, chief of Japanese inspectors, to confer with Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye.

The Domei report aroused Chinese apprehensions that Japan was moving to extend her influence in Indo-China. By agreement with France, Japan recently placed inspectors in the French colony to cut off war supplies to the Chungking government.

Recurrent rumors of a Japanese naval concentration in southern waters brought denials in reliable quarters, which expressed belief the reports arose from the presence of Japanese vessels in various ports where they took shelter from storms during last week.

Removal of British women from Honkong was completed today with departure of the final group of fifty-seven bound for Australia. Authorities said no further compulsory evacuation was contemplated for the present.

ATHENS, GREECE, AUG. 3--(AP)--GREECE LOST NINE VESSELS, TOTALING 33,544 TONS, IN THE WAR DURING JULY, IT WAS REPORTED TONIGHT. SINCE THE WAR BEGAN, GREECE HAS LOST 46 SHIPS, AGGREGATING 201,346 TONS.

AUG 4-1940

DOMEI SAID THE NEW CABINET OF PREMIER PRINCE KONOYE DESIRES A "STRONG POLITICAL ENTENTE" WITH GERMANY AND ITALY, REGULATION OF RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA, AND CONSTRUCTION OF A "BIG FAREASTERN BLOC EVEN AT THE RISK OF POSSIBLE FRICTION WITH THE UNITED STATES."

TOKYO, AUG. 3-(AP VIA RADIO)-DOMEI, JAPANESE NEWS AGENCY, SAID TODAY THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT IS CONSIDERING THE DISPATCH OF FOREIGN MINISTER MATSUOKA TO BERLIN AND ROME TO CONDUCT NEGOTIATIONS FOR CLOSER RELATIONS WITH THE AXIS POWERS.

TOKYO, AUG. 3-(AP)-TOKYO NEWSSPAPERS SAID TODAY THEY REGARDED THE ARRESTS OF JAPANESE CITIZENS BY BRITISH AUTHORITIES AS BEING IN RETALIATION FOR ARRESTS OF BRITONS IN JAPAN ON SUSPICION OF ESPIONAGE.

THE NEWSPAPERS ISSUED EXTRA EDITIONS WITH LONDON DISPATCHES REPORTING THE ARRESTS.

THE FOREIGN OFFICE DECLINED COMMENT PENDING RECEIPT OF OFFICIAL REPORTS FROM THE JAPANESE EMBASSY IN LONDON.

NEW CALEDONIA TO HELP BRITISH

AUG 4-1940

French Colony Refuses to Recognize Truce.

SYDNEY, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—A dispatch to the Sydney Telegraph said today that the French island colony of New Caledonia had refused to recognize the French-German armistice and had pledged support to Britain in continuing the war against Germany.

The decision, the dispatch said, was announced by Gov. Pelicier at a meeting of the Legislative Council in Noumea, captial of the colony.

New Caledonia lies about 875 miles east of Australia. The island has an area of 8,548 square miles and a population of 57,630.

"No Issue" With Australia

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 3 (AP).—Japanese Consul General Akiyama declared today there was no big question at issue between Japan and Australia, adding that his government hoped the "traditional friendship" between them would continue

Windsor, En Route, Exchanges Radio Greetings With Clipper

Duke Photographs Big Flying Boat As It Skims 100 Feet Over Excalibur

[By the Associated Press]

Aboard S. S. Excalibur, at Sea, Aug. 3—The Duke of Windsor, bound from Lisbon for the Bahamas to take up his assignment as Governor, exchanged radio greetings with the Yankee Clipper today and managed to get two snapshots of the big flying boat as it skimmed a scant 100 feet overhead.

The radio operator of this American Export liner talked to the clipper crew about noon and learned the plane would overtake the Excalibur in about an hour.

Duke Notified

The Duke was notified and went to the bridge, where he snapped his pictures at close range. Clipper Capt. R. O. D. Sullivan wirelessed his good wishes and the Duke replied.

After spending the remainder of the afternoon in his suite, the Duke and his American-born Duchess, the former Wallis Warfield, visited the captain and then entertained homeward-bound United States Ambassadors Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., and William Phillips, and Mrs. Biddle and Mr. Phillips' daughter.

After dinner they listened to radio news reports in the Duke's suite.

Duke's Plan Unknown As To Stop At Bermuda

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 3 (AP)—Whether the Duke of Windsor will stop at Bermuda is still a mystery tonight as far as local officials are concerned.

A Government house spokesman said he had no knowledge of any arrangements to convey the Duke from Bermuda to his new post as Governor of the Bahamas or even that the Duke is coming here.

Following tradition, the paths of new and retiring administrators will not cross, and Sir Charles will be well on the way to his new post as Governor of Uganda in British East Africa before the Duke's arrival.

In the interim, W. L. Heape, colonial secretary, will function as acting governor.

Sir Charles and Lady Dundas will board the S. S. Acadia Tuesday for an early sailing the next morning. They will visit in New York and Toronto before embarking at Los Angeles for Uganda in early September.

May Be Duke's Adviser

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Sir Bede Clifford, Governor of the Bahamas from 1932 to 1937 and regarded as one of that colony's most successful executives, is reported to be returning there soon, probably to advise the new Governor, the Duke of Windsor.

Sir Bede now is Governor of the Indian Ocean island of Mauritius. The capacity in which he will return to the Bahamas is not definitely known, but the general belief is that his wide experience in colonial administration will be placed at the disposal of the Duke, who lacks personal acquaintance with the problems.

Governor Of Bahamas Quits Nassau Tuesday

Nassau, Bahamas, Aug. 3 (AP)—Sir Charles Dundas, veteran of thirty-two years in the British colonial service, will leave Nassau Tuesday to make way for the Duke of Windsor, his successor as Governor of the Bahamas.

A source intimately acquainted with the Bahamas said that the Duke's assignment was one that predecessors had found to be "one of the most difficult in the colonial administration."

The Bahamas, Bermuda and Barbados stand apart from the majority of British colonies in that their local Legislatures are finally responsible for the colonies' fate and financing, and jealously guard their traditional "independence."

Boom in Nassau Travel

The Acadia of the Eastern Steamship Lines sailed from New York yesterday for Nassau with 170 passengers, which officials of the company said was 40 per cent more than she carried on any of her previous voyages.

The increase in the travel was attributed to the pending arrival of the new Governor, the Duke of Windsor, and the fact that no passports are required for the Bahamas.

The retiring Governor, Sir Charles Dundas, will arrive here Friday on the Acadia, accompanied by Lady Dundas. He will leave Nassau before the arrival of his Royal successor. Sir Charles plans to spend a few days in New York before proceeding to his new post in Uganda, East Africa, where he has been appointed Governor.

Blockade Halts Spanish Ship

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 3 (AP)—As a result of the British blockade, the Spanish merchant ship Ciudad de Sevilla, put in here unexpectedly today on orders from Madrid rather than risk a long voyage to Barcelona. The Ciudad de Sevilla was bound from Buenos Aires.

MONTREAL MAYOR ACCUSED ON DRAFT

Commons Hears He Told Citizens Not to Register.

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 (A. P.).— R. B. Hanson, Conservative leader, charged in Commons today that Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal had "openly defied the law" requiring national registration for military service.

Compulsory registration for military service, but not for service overseas, is to be held August 19-21, and Mr. Hanson asserted that Mayor Houde had urged citizens not to register.

The Conservative leader also criticized what he termed suppression by press censors of an edition of the Montreal Gazette reporting the Nazi's statement and containing an editorial criticizing the Mayor.

"Is there any longer a free press in Canada?" he asked.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King replied that the Government would see to it that the nation's laws are upheld and promised a statement later.

MONTREAL MAYOR SCORED AS DEFIANT

His Request to People Not to Obey Registration Law Is Denounced in Commons

PAPER URGES HIS ARREST

Montreal Gazette Demands That Federal Authorities Execute the Act

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 (AP)—Conservative Leader R. B. Hanson charged in Commons today that Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal, Canada's largest city, had "openly defied the law" requiring national registration for military service.

Compulsory registration for military service, but not for service overseas, is to be held Aug. 19-21 and Mr. Hanson asserted Mr. Houde had urged citizens not to register.

The Conservative leader also criticized what he termed suppression by press censors of an edition of The Montreal Gazette reporting Mr. Houde's statement and containing an editorial criticizing the Mayor.

"Is there any longer a free press in Canada?" Mr. Hanson asked.

Prime Minister William L. Mackenzie King replied that the government would see to it that the nation's laws were upheld and promised a statement later.

The Houde statement, finally released for publication today, attacked the registration law as "a measure of conscription" against which the government had pledged itself.

"I do not believe that I am held to conform to the said law and I have no intention of so doing," the Mayor said, "and I ask the population not to conform, knowing full well what I am doing presently, and what I expose myself. "If the government wants a mandate for conscription let it come before the people, without this time fooling them."

The Conservative leader also criticized what he termed suppression by press censors of an edition of the Montreal Gazette reporting the Nazi's statement and containing an editorial criticizing the Mayor.

"Is there any longer a free press in Canada?" he asked.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King replied that the Government would see to it that the nation's laws are upheld and promised a statement later.

30.24-4085

30.24-4085

Canada Rules On Beer Glass

Toronto, Aug. 3—The Ontario Liquor Control Board has ruled that a standard beer glass of nine and one-half ounces should be served at all Ontario hotels. The order is effective October 1. Beer glasses at present vary in content from seven to ten ounces.

SEEKS COMPROMISE ON MILITARY BILL

Maloney Maps New Plan to Try a Volunteer System Before Using Compulsion

AUG 4-1940

LEE BACKS SUCH A MOVE

Oklahoma Senator Says Middle Ground Must Be Followed to Get Service Measure Voted

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—An Administration drive to line up the Senate votes needed to pass the Burke-Wadsworth Compulsory Military Service Bill was begun today, but so much opposition was shown that some supporters predicted a compromise would be necessary.

Although Senator Burke, Democrat of Nebraska, one of the co-authors of the bill, predicted that fewer than twenty opposition votes would be cast, Senator Lee, Democrat of Oklahoma, an advocate of compulsory service, said an informal survey indicated that it would be necessary to seek some middle ground in order to get the measure through the House, as well as the Senate.

Mr. Burke said it was his understanding that Senator Byrnes, Democrat of South Carolina, would be the unofficial leader of Administration forces. In the past, he said, Mr. Byrnes had had extraordinary success in winning approval of controversial measures.

In connection with the talk of compromise, Senator Maloney, Democrat of Connecticut, disclosed that he was drafting a proposal which he said he felt both opponents and proponents of the compulsory service bill could accept.

Differences in the Two Plans

The Burke-Wadsworth bill, scheduled for final approval Monday by the Senate Military Affairs Committee, provides, in general, that 12,000,000 male citizens between 21 and 30 years, inclusive, should be registered for possible military service. From these registrants, local boards would select 400,000 men who would be called to service.

Mr. Maloney said that his substitute would propose that the registration be carried out as provided in the Burke-Wadsworth bill, but that compulsory service be delayed for several months, possibly until Jan. 1.

In the meantime, voluntary enlistments for one year's training would be attempted, with the basic Army pay scale being raised from $21 to $30 a month.

If there were insufficient volunteers to meet the Army's requirements by the specified date, compulsion would go into effect automatically. However, only enough men would be summoned to make up the difference between the number of volunteers and the quota which previously had been fixed by the Army.

"As I look at it," Mr. Maloney told reporters, "the paramount thing is to eliminate any controversy over the defense program. Conscription is a controversial issue, with many Senators opposing it on the grounds that it is both undemocratic and unnecessary.

For Test on Compulsion's Need

"This proposal would demonstrate whether it is necessary. It is geared to meet the demands of the Army and to satisfy the argument that compulsion is not necessary."

Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, a leader of a bipartisan group opposing compulsory military service, said that the Maloney compromise would be acceptable to him and others of similar views if the Senate would not agree to try the voluntary one-year enlistment system without any compulsory strings.

Reports were current that opponents of compulsion would offer the one-year voluntary enlistment plan as an amendment when legislation to give the President authority to order the National Guard into active service comes up in the Senate Monday.

Mr. Wheeler said the opponents of compulsion had not determined finally on their strategy.

Several members predicted a heated session when the Senate considers the Guard bill, but most seemed to believe that it would go through without material changes.

SENATORS PLAN TO OPEN FIGHT ON DRAFT BILL

Opponents Plan Bipartisan Bloc Despite Roosevelt Plea for Passage.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Opponents of compulsory military training talked today of forming a bipartisan bloc for a Senate floor battle against peace-time conscription advocated by President Roosevelt.

Cheered by a statement of Harry H. Woodring, resigned Secretary of War, Senators fighting the Burke-Wadsworth bill considered trying to attach a voluntary training system to the measure empowering the President to call out the National Guard and reserve officers.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, told reporters that some organization of "both Republicans and Democrats will be formed to fight conscription with all the vigor we possess."

Although scoffing at the possibility that a filibuster was being organized, he said:

"This thing will be thoroughly debated, and of course that debate will take considerable time."

Senator Vandenberg, Republican, of Michigan, another critic of the draft legislation, urged that some system of voluntary enlistment for a year's army training be tried along the lines advocated by Mr. Woodring.

The former Cabinet member wrote Senator Vandenberg advocating one year voluntary service at $30 per month. At present the minimum enlistment in the armed forces is for three years, with basic pay of $21 a month.

Mr. Woodring said that he had proposed seven months ago raising army base pay to $30 a month, but was told that it would be inconsistent with the financial program of the administration. Higher pay attracts men to the navy and the CCC, he added.

"How any fair-minded member of Congress," his letter continued, "could say that we have given the voluntary system of enlistment for the United States Army a fair trial and that it has broken down, and therefore we need the compulsory service, is beyond my understanding."

Mr. Woodring suggested that conscription become operative only when the army chief of staff should certify that the voluntary enlistment system had broken down. If that system fails, he declared that he would "join with others in obtaining the number of men, in the necessary time to defend this country, through a compulsory system."

Wheeler Gives View.

The letter was made public by Senator Vandenberg last night, a few hours after President Roosevelt said at a press conference:

"I am distinctly in favor of a selective service training bill and I consider it essential to adequate national defense."

Senator Wheeler, commenting on Mr. Woodring's letter, told reporters:

"Woodring, through his long experience as head of the War Department, should be in better position to know the facts than a lot of frightened bankers and Wall Street lawyers who are backing this draft bill."

Senator Minton, Democrat, of Indiana, on the other hand, said that the army chief of staff, Gen. George C. Marshall, already has gone on record as saying that the voluntary system has broken down.

Senator Sheppard of Texas, chairman of the Senate Military Committee, expected the committee to complete its draft of a greatly revised conscription bill Monday and have it ready for Senate debate next week. The House Military Committee ended public hearings on the issue yesterday, and seven members were asked to redraft the bill at once.

The Senate committee refused, on advice of the War Department, to fix a limit of 900,000 conscripts during the first year. It also defeated an attempt to delay actual draft until war.

WILLKIE READY TO GIVE VIEWS ON DRAFT BILL

AUG 4-1940

Candidate Says He's Willing to Answer Any Question Roosevelt Asks.

PREPARES TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

Discusses Plans With Republican Leaders—Martin Declares Things Are Satisfactory.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Wendell L. Willkie conferred with Republican organization leaders today and said he was getting his campaign geared up and ready to start with a bang.

Chairman Joseph W. Martin of the Republican National Committee, who headed the group of visiting party leaders, attended a press conference with Willkie shortly before midnight last night. He advised the nominee that if the election were held today he would win.

"What about tomorrow?" a reporter asked. Mr. Martin said he believed sentiment for Willkie would continue to increase.

Before the arrival of the Republican strategists last night, Mr. Willkie told reporters that he would be glad to answer any questions President Roosevelt might have to ask him about public issues.

Mr. Willkie said that he would make clear his position on conscription in his August 17 acceptance address at Elwood, Ind., but added:

"If the President of the United States wants to ask me any questions in the meantime, I shall be glad to answer him."

Leaders Are On Hand.

In addition to Martin, those here for today's conferences were Henry P. Fletcher, National Committee counsel; Charles P. Goodspeed, party treasurer; Sinclair Weeks of Boston, eastern treasurer; John Hamilton, Mr. Martin's executive assistant, and Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota.

At the press conference last night, Mr. Willkie declared that clubs formed in his behalf "are in harmony with the regular Republican organization."

Mr. Martin said that he came here to discuss "budget, campaign itinerary and campaign policy" with Mr. Willkie.

The conferences, Mr. Willkie said, would get the campaign geared up and ready to start with a bang and go until election day.

The national chairman said that things look extremely satisfactory at present.

The appointment of Edward J. Flynn as chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Mr. Martin said, "is all right with us."

Mr. Willkie had remarked that the appointment of "Boss Flynn of the Bronx speaks for itself."

Martin told reporters the status of Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the Republican Finance Committee, had not been dicided and that some readjustments might be made after today's conferences.

Republican headquarters will be in Washington, but additional offices will be maintained in New York and Chicago, Mr. Martin announced. Mr. Hamilton will be in charge of the Chicago office.

Among other things, Mr. Martin and Mr. Willkie discussed the operation of the Hatch act restricting political activities.

The nominee made it clear that he wanted all organization workers to obey the law strictly.

Independents for Willkie.

More than 12,000 Democrats, American Laborites and independent voters to date have signed Willkie-for-President pledge cards distributed by the Kings county Republican committee, according to John R. Crews, county chairman. He saw this as an indication the Republican presidential candidate would receive the largest vote of any State or national candidate of his party in many years.

Samuel F. Pryor Jr., Eastern campaign director for Wendell Willkie, and Oren Root Jr., chairman of the Associated Willkie Clubs of America, left by plane yesterday to confer with the candidate at Colorado Springs. At headquarters of the Associated Willkie Clubs at 100 East Forty-second street it was said young independent voters in the Chelsea district would organize a Willkie club at a meeting next Tuesday at the City Federation Hotel, 445 West Twenty-second street.

The Pennsylvania Railroad announced it would operate between thirty-five and forty special trains to Elwood, Ind., for the Willkie notification ceremonies on August 17. A Willkie-for-President special will leave Pennsylvania Station here at 6:45 P. M. on August 16 and stop at Newark en route to Elwood.

Wadsworth Denounces Volunteer Defense Plan

Gambling With Nation's Fate, He Tells Legionnaires

MEDINA, N. Y., Aug. 3 (AP).—James W. Wadsworth, Geneseo Republican and co-sponsor of the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill, warned tonight against the volunteer system for national defense.

"You are gambling with the fate of the country by sticking to the volunteer system of soliciting men for the Army and Navy," Representative Wadsworth told 5,000 Legionnaires attending the second annual 8th District American Legion convention.

"I get no satisfaction over the enactment of such a bill," he declared, "but it is presented to Congress for enactment because we are realists and can see the dangers that lie ahead for a country with weak defenses."

Representative Wadsworth pointed out that if the new bill was enacted into law it would run for five years, and that the new recruits would be trained by the regular Army and National Guard.

"Every man," he continued, "owes it as a duty to defend his country to the best of his ability."

"Is it not likewise a duty," he asked, "for the citizen to prepare to defend his country should such defense be needed?"

Elks Card Good in Army

Suggested as Identification Aid for Civilians at Upstate Maneuvers

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 3 (AP).—The 1st Army placed membership in the Elks today on an equal identification basis with a birth certificate of a voter's card.

Authorities in charge of the nation's greatest war games forbade any participant to cross the border into Canada and advised civilians at the maneuvers to make sure of sufficient identification in case they took the trip.

"A birth certificate, voter's card or an Elk's card is considered sufficient identification," the public rel[illegible]

CHIDES DAUGHTER OVER DRAFT FIGHT

Seattle Lawyer Reproves Her for 'Pauline Revere' Ride to Protest Service

A 'PINK' ON A WHITE HORSE

AUG 4-1940

'Pretty Puppet,' 19, Ridiculed as Helping to Subvert American Liberty

SEATTLE, Aug. 3 (AP)—Describing his pretty 19-year-old daughter, Elane, as "pink," Lane Summers, Seattle attorney, today criticized her for her "Pauline Revere" ride from Chicago to Washington to protest against compulsory military service.

In an alliterative statement Mr. Summers said:

"Press and pictures report that, to defeat conscription, somebody's white horse from a Trojan stable and my 'pink' daughter, Elane Summers, from her sophomore year in college, have been cast together as characters in a Red road show, routed from the 'draft'-cellar city to the nation's capital under the sponsorship of 'The Committee to Defend America by Keeping Out of War,' another alias for alien activity authorized by Czar Stalin's agents.

"As with many plays, so in the plot of this piece of publicity the cosmetics of comedy thinly camouflage the tartar of tragedy.

"Years ago, in real heroism, Paul Revere rode to rouse the ranks of the American Revolution. Now, with patriotic pretense, a pretty puppet is paraded to propagandize against American preparedness.

"By the historic ride the colonies were awakened to the redcoats of the British troops invading our land from without. In the present promenade the people should smell the smokescreen of the red comrades seeking to subvert our liberties from within.

"The horse with its feet on the ground is not ridiculous, even if 'Pauline Revere' still succeeds in staying astride somewhere between the neck and the tail. But both are without blame, which is branded on the brows of Stalin's subtle stooges who tittle treason in the language of loyalty.

"These Communists cower at the cry for conscription; it could uncover their 'cells.' However, most patriots approve plans to prepare for this democracy's defense; while they all pray for peace. But very few approve the war-whooping of petty Presidential politics to tatter the third-term tradition."

Two years ago Mr. Summers's son Thane was killed while fighting for the Loyalist Government in Spain. A few hours before a mass meeting was held here in memory of his son, Mr. Summers assailed the interests back of the meeting as "more Moscow" and labeled the meeting a means of recruiting "more misguided martyrs."

PROTECTS JOBS IN A DRAFT

Union Contract Provides Men Can Return After Service

BUFFALO, Aug. 3 (AP)—A labor contract which would protect seniority rights and return of jobs for employes called to service under proposed peacetime draft legislation has been negotiated here.

The conscription provision was contained as a "supplement to a war clause," according to Richard Birge, an executive of a wallpaper company, in an agreement signed by his company with the C. I. O.-affiliated Playthings and Novelty Workers' International Union.

Ralph W. Tillotson, C. I. O. field representative, said that he believed it the first time a labor union had sought to protect its members' jobs under the proposed conscription.

Men Of Conscription Age Hasten To Wed

Brooklyn Marriage License Bureau Reports Biggest Rush Since 1917

New York, Aug. 3 (AP)—Young men of conscription age advanced on the Brooklyn Marriage License Bureau today in the biggest rush for licenses the bureau has had since the United States entered the World War in 1917.

In four hours, 240 couples obtained licenses, 47 were married, and 250 other couples were turned away when the doors closed an hour later than normal.

Many applicants acknowledged they wanted to avoid conscription. Some said they were making from $30 to $40 a week in private jobs and did not want to go on a $21-a-month army pay roll. The usual number of licenses issued by the bureau on a Saturday this time of year is fewer than 200.

NEGROES REQUEST SHARE IN DEFENSE

Leaders Ask Training in Ratio to Population

LOG CABIN CENTER, Ga., Aug. 3 (AP)—Southern Negro leaders called today for racial opportunity "in proportion to population" to train for defense skills and combat service.

Dr. Benjamin F. Hubert of Savannah, chairman of the State Central Planning Commission, declared before that group that Negroes should be "more thoroughly coordinated" into the defense program.

Such coordination would materially assist in raising the economic level of the 14,000,000 Negroes in the country, he said.

Dr. Hubert asserted that the commission proposed to seek military training for all Negro high schools and land-grant colleges and to enlarge facilities of vocational training in metal work, mechanics and carpentry.

The commission outlined a proposal that Negroes be allowed to serve in all phases of combat service, such as Army, Navy and Air Corps, as well as "behind the lines in labor battalions." Commission members said pre-service training should be greatly increased for Negro youth.

Dr. L. A. Pinkston of Augusta, head of the State Baptist Convention, said that the commission should favor compulsory military training and insist that Negroes get a "fair share" in the selective drafts.

"If we are going to be drafted for service, we want to be trained for that service just as the white man is trained," he said.

Dr. Hubert pointed out that additional training should be provided for Negroes in agriculture so that they might get advanced scientific learning to produce foods efficiently.

More than 100 Negro leaders in college, fraternal, business and farm activities of several Southern States met for the commission session.

Recruiting High Mark

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug 3—United States army recruiting in the second corps area reached an all-time high for a single month during July when 2,342 men volunteered.

Col. L. B. Magruder, commanding the area recruiting office said the highest previous months were June with 1,839 enlistments and January with 1,817.

Protect Consumer In Defense Buying

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Harriet Elliott of the National Defense Commission told a press conference today that efforts would be made to "stagger" the huge Army and Navy purchases under the defense program to prevent undue increases in consumer prices.

Miss Elliott said that while there had been a slight general price increase noted in recent weeks, it was nothing to be alarmed about.

Battle Over Navy Speedup Bill

President Accused of Proviso to Seize Plants

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Rep. Church (R.-Ill.) contended and Rep. Vinson (D.-Ga.) denied today that President Roosevelt was responsible for a provision in the recent naval speedup bill permitting the Navy Secretary to commandeer factories in connection with expansion of the navy.

Under an amendment, since passed by the House and sent to the Senate, the proviso would be eliminated.

Church said he had information that Rear Admirals Samuel M. Robinson and Alexander H. van Keuren, chief and assistant chief of the Bureau of Ships, prepared the proviso for a Senate-House conference committee which recommended its inclusion in the legislation.

"I feel that it was done at the instance of the President," Church added.

Vinson, chairman of the House Naval Committee, said he took "full responsibility" for the commandeering proviso and had it prepared by Robinson. He said that upon more considered judgment he felt that it went too far "for the present." Vinson offered the amendment to kill it.

The War Department announced yesterday that army establishments in Alaska would be among those inspected by four members of the House Military Appropriations Sub-Committee this month. The four will be Representatives Snyder, Democrat, of Pennsylvania; Terry, Democrat, of Arkansas; Starnes, Democrat, of Alabama, and Case, Republican, of South Dakota.

Pershing to Talk On Radio Tonight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP).—Gen. John Pershing, commander of the American World War forces, will make a radio talk on "The Security of the Americas," at 8 p. m. tomorrow. His 15-minute address will be broadcast by all networks.

Navy to Build Alaskan Bases

Contract Awarded for $4,305,000 Air Stations Opposite New Soviet Field.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—The navy took steps today to improve the Alaskan defenses opposite Russian territory by awarding $4,305,000 in contracts for work at naval air stations on Kodiak and Unalaska islands.

The action came less than two weeks after a Coast Guard cutter confirmed reports that a Russian air base was being developed on Soviet-owned Big Diomede Island in the Bering Strait, a mile from American-owned Little Diomede Island.

Awards amounting to $4,609,500 also were made yesterday by the navy for air outposts at San Juan in Puerto Rico, Charlotte Amalie in the Virgin Islands, and Midway Island in the Pacific. It was not announced when any of the work would be completed.

A syndicate of three companies already engaged in constructing the air station at Kodiak Island in the Gulf of Alaska obtained the order to begin preparing aviation facilities at Unalaska Island, first big link in the Aleutians, which string down and out from the southern tip of Alaska.

The same syndicate was awarded additional work under its contract at Kodiak.

The navy's action was taken less than sixty days after the War Department announced plans to strengthen the army's ground forces in Alaska.

NEW YORK, AUG. 3-(AP)-GENERAL CHARLES DE GAULLE, HEAD OF THE "FIGHT-ON" FRENCH COMMISSION IN LONDON, ANNOUNCED TODAY IN A BRITISH BROADCAST HERE HEARD BY NBC THAT CERTAIN NEW FRENCH NAVAL FORCES HAD JOINED BRITAIN TO FIGHT ON AGAINST GERMANY.

HE MENTIONED SPECIFICALLY THE 1,969-TON FRENCH ESCORT VESSEL SAVORGNAN DE BRAZZA WHICH, HE SAID, HAD BEEN MANNED BY HER ENTIRE CREW AND WAS READY FOR ACTION AT THE SIDE OF BRITISH NAVAL FORCES.

NEW YORK, AUG 3-(AP)-THE BANK OF FRANCE TODAY WAS "VIRTUALLY PLACED UNDER GERMAN CONTROL," THE BRITISH BROADCASTING CORPORATIONS ANNOUNCED IN A REPORT HEARD HERE BY THE NATIONAL BROADCASTING COMPANY.

THE BRITISH RADIO SAID THE INFORMATION HAD BEEN BROADCAST

30.24-4087

BY THE GERMAN-CONTROLLED RADIO IN PARIS. THE ANNOUNCEMENT AS HEARD BY NBC SAID THE BANK OF FRANCE WILL BE ALLOWED TO DEAL ONLY IN TRANSACTIONS AS ORDERED BY THE GERMAN COMMISSIONER. A SUPERVISOR MUST SEND MONTHLY REPORTS ON ALL TRANSACTIONS TO GERMAN AUTHORITIES.

WASHINGTON, AUG. 3-(AP)-JAPAN'S ANNOUNCEMENT THAT SHE WILL PURSUE A FOREIGN POLICY DESIGNED TO BRING FRENCH INDO-CHINA AND THE NETHERLANDS INDIES UNDER HER DOMINATION IS REGARDED BY SOME VETERAN STUDENTS HERE OF THE FAR EAST AS DESIGNED PRIMARILY TO BOLSTER MORALE AT HOME.

AUG 4-1940

THEY DO NOT DISMISS THE POSSIBILITY THAT JAPAN MIGHT TAKE ADVANTAGE OF BRITAIN'S PREOCCUPATION WITH THE THREAT OF A GERMAN INVASION, AND OF AMERICAN CONCERN OVER DEFENSES IN THE ATLANTIC, TO PUT THE POLICY INTO EFFECT BY EARLY MILITARY ACTION.

BUT, THEY CONTEND, THIS WOULD BE A DIFFICULT UNDERTAKING FOR A NATION ALREADY SUPPORTING 1,000,000 FIGHTING MEN IN CHINA AND DEVOTING A LARGE PERCENTAGE--REPORTEDLY ONE-THIRD--OF ITS NATIONAL INCOME TO THE ARMY AND NAVY.

IT APPEARED MORE LIKELY, THESE ANALYSTS SAID, THAT TOKYO WOULD ATTEMPT TO BRING INDO-CHINA AND THE NETHERLANDS INDIES WITHIN HER ORBIT GRADUALLY BY A PROCESS OF ECONOMIC PENETRATION.

THIS WOULD INCLUDE THE SENDING OF AN INCREASING NUMBER OF TRADERS INTO THESE COUNTRIES TO GET THE RAW MATERIALS WHICH JAPAN WANTS FROM THEM AND TO EXPLOIT THEIR MARKETS FOR JAPANESE GOODS. THE GRADUAL ACQUISITION OF PLANTATIONS IN THE TWO REGIONS WOULD BE ANOTHER POSSIBLE MEANS OF PEACEFUL PENETRATION.

IN SUGGESTING THAT THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT'S STATEMENT WAS INTENDED CHIEFLY TO STRENGTHEN THE HOME FRONT, STUDENTS OF THE FAR EAST SAID THE JAPANESE PUBLIC HAD BEEN HEAVILY BURDENED BY THE LONG STRUGGLE AGAINST CHINA.

NOTING THAT SETTLEMENT OF THE WAR WITH CHINA WAS ANNOUNCED AS THE GOVERNMENT'S FIRST GOAL, THEY EXPRESSED THE OPINION THAT SETTLEMENT OF THAT CONFLICT APPEARED NO NEARER THAN EVER. CHINESE RESISTANCE, THEY SAID, HAS SHOWN NO SIGNS OF WEAKENING.

WHAT THIS COUNTRY WOULD DO IF JAPAN UNDERTOOK TO GRAB THE INDIES AND INDO-CHINA IS A MATTER OF CONJECTURE.

THE UNITED STATES OBTAINS RUBBER AND TIN, VITAL TO THE NATIONAL DEFENSE, AND OTHER IMPORTANT IMPORTS FROM THE TWO REGIONS WHOSE HOMELANDS HAVE BEEN CONQUERED BY HITLER. JAPANESE DOMINATION WOULD NOT NECESSARILY MEAN THAT THE FLOW OF THESE MATERIALS TO AMERICA WOULD BE HALTED, HOWEVER, ALTHOUGH THIS DOUBTLESS WOULD BE THE CASE IF JAPAN BECAME ALLIED CLOSELY WITH THE AXIS POWERS AND THE UNITED STATES WENT TO WAR WITH THEM.

SECRETARY HULL HAS WARNED REPEATEDLY THAT ANY ATTEMPT TO CHANGE THE STATUS QUO OF INDO-CHINA AND THE INDIES BY FORCE WOULD ENDANGER THE PEACE OF THE ENTIRE PACIFIC. HE HAS EMPHASIZED THIS COUNTRY'S DESIRE TO SEE THE PRINCIPLES OF INTERNATIONAL LAW AND ORDER MAINTAINED.

Japanese Opinion

AUG 4-1940

New York, Aug. 3—A dispatch from the Tokyo correspondent of Business Week says that questionnaires were distributed to 45,666 parents and guardians of Tokyo University students to obtain a cross-section of opinion in upper-class Tokyo circles on national policy. On the basis of 11,789 replies, the results were as follows:

Q.—Are you willing to face an American-Japanese war if the United States should attempt to restrain this country from securing the resources of the Netherlands Indies?

A.—Yes, 6,428. No, 1,334. Forty per cent. declined comment.

Q.—Should Japan conclude a non-aggression pact with the Soviet Union to facilitate the construction of a new order in East Asia?

A.—1,181 favored a Russo-Japanese rapprochement as against 513 opposed. Eighty-five per cent of those asked shunned this question.

Q.—Do you want Britain or Germany to win the European war?

A.—Germany, 9,697. Britain, 344. Only 1,757 absentions.

Q.—Should Japan get involved in the European war as a means of solving the China incident?

A.—Yes, 1,508. No, 7,255. Others (30%) "didn't know." (The high percentage of "don't know" answers might indicate that those who were questioned preferred discretion to expression of opinion.)

JAPAN OBJECTS TO EXPORT BAN FOR GASOLINE

AUG 4-1940

Formal Protest Is Made Against Roosevelt's Embargo Decree.

SCRAP IRON NOT MENTIONED

Ambassador Horinouchi Calls o Welles in Washington at Tokio's Behest.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—The Japanese Government formall objected today to the embargo re cently announced by Presiden Roosevelt against exportation o aviation gasoline to countries out side the Western Hemisphere.

Kensuke Horinouchi, the Japanese Ambassador, presented a formal communication on the subject to Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State. Afterward, the Ambassador declined to tell reporters the subject of the communication, except to say that it dealt with a commercial matter, but elsewhere it was learned that the aviation gasoline embargo was the matter at issue.

Horinouchi said that he had acted upon instructions from Tokio. Spokesmen for the Japanese Government in Tokio had declared previously that the ban on exports of aviation fuel outside the new world was considered an unfriendly act and an effort to exert pressure upon Japan.

Scrap Iron Not Discussed.

Japan, widely active in aerial warfare over China, bought approximately 105,000 barrels of aviation gasoline from the United States in the first six months this year. It was indicated that President Roosevelt's order placing No. 1 melting steel and iron scrap under an export licensing system had not been discussed in the Japanese communication.

Seventy-five to 80 per cent of Japanese scrap-metal purchases in this country, being of other grades, are outside the licensing system. Whether licenses are being issued for shipments of No. 1 melting steel and iron scrap to Japan has not been disclosed.

Both the aviation gasoline embargo and the scrap-metal licensing system have been described by Federal officials as purely defensive measures designed to control the export of vital military materials. There was no indication that Mr. Welles replied immediately to the Japanese objections.

EMBARGO PROTEST IS FILED BY JAPAN

Ambassador Hands Formal Note To Welles On Gas Prohibition

Ban Believed To Strike Tokyo Harder Than London

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 3—Japan protested formally today against the embargo which makes it impossible for her to purchase aviation gasoline in this country.

Kensuke Horinouchi, the Japanese Ambassador, handed a note of protest to Sumner Welles, Under Secretary of State, on instructions from his Government.

Polite but grave, the Ambassador strode into the Under Secretary's office in the rococo of the old State Department building. Welles, standing beside his desk as Horinouchi entered, smiled and shook hands. Then they discussed briefly the formal communication.

Contents Not Disclosed

The Japanese envoy would not disclose the contents of the message to reporters afterward, except to say that it dealt with a commercial matter.

From reliable sources it was learned, however, that the note protested against the aviation gasoline embargo on the ground that it was discriminatory against Japan.

One basis that may have been cited for this claim of discrimination, it was said, was that the embargo would affect the Japanese much more than the British because Japan has fewer facilities for refining its own aviation fuel.

The embargo was announced at the White House on July 31. The announcement said that shipments of aviation gasoline from the United States to points outside the Western Hemisphere were being halted in "the interest of national defense."

Would Kill Business

Department of Commerce officials said the order would virtually wipe out this country's aviation gasoline export business which amounted to 1,164,343 barrels in the first six months of this year. Of this six-month total, Japan took 105,000 barrels, France 513,513 and the United Kingdom 504,196.

Japanese purchases were considerably larger last year than this. They declined the first half of 1940, Government experts said, due partly to the accumulation of a reserve, partly to the growth of refining facilities in Japan and partly—perhaps—to lack of foreign exchange for large purchases.

Iron Not Mentioned

It was said on good authority that the Japanese note did not deal with the related question of iron and steel scrap exports to Japan. A small portion of these was placed under an export licensing system August 1, and all of the scrap shipments could be embargoed if this Government decided national defense needs required it. Officials in Tokyo have expressed belief, however, that they would not be affected greatly by the scrap-metal licensing system as initially established.

SAYS SAILPLANES CAN TRAIN PILOTS

L. B. Barringer Holds Gliders Can Be Used to Expedite Defense Education

SETS NEW HEIGHT RECORD

He Soars 10,400 Feet in Idaho, Breaking His Old Mark, as He Makes Tests

SUN VALLEY, Idaho, Aug. 3 (AP)—Soaring more than two miles above the jagged sawtooth mountains for what may be a new national record, Lewin B. Barringer of Orange, N. J., gave added emphasis to his contention that the motorless plane offers a method for training pilots for national defense.

Mr. Barringer's vehicle was a glider which he brought here last week to make tests in contemplation of the establishment of a gliding center in the Sun Valley area. It was his own record that was shattered, if barograph readings of 10,400 feet are authenticated by the Bureau of Standards in Washington. He established the old records at 6,560 feet on July 4, 1939, at Elmira, N. Y.

Glider enthusiasts, Mr. Barringer said, started Germany on her way toward attaining her striking air strength by providing the means for training 250,000 pilots.

"Gliding schools started in Germany in 1923, when aviation enthusiasts, to whom the Versailles treaty forbade power planes, started gliding clubs," he explained. "In 1928, the government, seeing the possibilities behind the enthusiasm of the members of these clubs, stepped in and subsidized them."

Economy in Training Is Cited

In 1934, Mr. Barringer said, he saw hundreds of enthusiastic students, quartered in good hotels, tinkering with planes. Specialized government meteorological service was available even then for the more than sixty flying clubs in the Reich.

He declared that the cream of these amateurs became army pursuit pilots and others were assigned to bombers, while the less proficient remained as mechanics, but with a far better understanding of flight conditions than the average plane worker.

"In the United States," he said, "we've set a goal of 50,000 pilots a year. Until two years ago the Army air force trained pilots at a cost of $25,000 per man. You couldn't convince Army officials that they didn't need $15,000 300-horsepower training planes to make aviators.

"Now they're down to 150-horsepower and costs are less, as was obviously necessary. But, by developing gliding centers, we can train more and better pilots at practically no cost."

The 33-year-old motorless plane expert, who has been flying gliders and airplanes since 1929, insisted that glider flying was far safer than power flying. One reason, he said, is that the ships fly at much lower speeds. Trainer gliders fly and land at speeds as low as twenty-four miles an hour. Ships are so perfectly balanced they do not go out of control. Dangerous nose dives do not occur because the glider has no heavy engine to weight its nose.

Flying Over Plains Called Easy

Contrary to popular belief, he added, it is as easy to glide over level land as over mountainous areas. He pointed to the unofficial altitude record made by John Robinson of San Diego, Calif., in flying more than 10,000 feet over the California desert on a cloudless day. Mr. Robinson also is at Sun Valley, aiding in the tests.

The soaring movement in this country, Mr. Barringer explained, has developed entirely without government aid, springing up from groups of enthusiasts who banded together and formed clubs. These clubs either buy or build their own planes, the best of which may be had for about $1,300 and good ones for as little as $600. A winch and a stout rope complete the equipment.

England, though far slower than Germany in recognizing the value of sailplane tests in training its aviators, managed to train some 5,000 pilots for about $55,000 by subsidizing amateur gliding clubs.

"Gliding has a definite place in training fliers," Mr. Barringer insisted, "because just as students at the Naval Academy are taught to navigate small sailboats, so aviators should be given a thorough understanding of the air and its natural power. Glider pilots form good flying habits."

PLANS AIRPLANE FACTORY

Pawley Said to Seek Funds Here for Rangoon Plant

HONOLULU, Aug. 3 (AP)—Informed sources said today that William D. Pawley, American airplane builder, had flown recently from the Orient to New York in an attempt to obtain British and United States financing for a plane factory at Rangoon, Burma.

The informants said Mr. Pawley had been building and assembling planes on the Chinese side of the Burma-China border, but that Japanese bombers had forced his factory to move into Burma.

It was reported Mr. Pawley planned to confer in New York with members of the British Purchasing Commission.

Flying Bumblebee

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 3—Plans for a flying bumblebee, a tiny robot plane of a new type for defense against bombers, were announced today by Edward F. Chandler, prominent marine engineer.

The bumblebee plane would steer itself automatically by the sound of the attacking bomber and then buzz along with it, dropping sound-directed bombs on its victim.

This is not merely a clever idea, for Mr. Chandler is a recognized expert in automatic steering controls for torpedoes, aircraft and marine vessels. In the World War he was distinguished as the inventor of a gyroscopic control system for accurately aiming submarine torpedoes. He assisted in developing the Swedish navy's sound-controlled torpedo.

Launching Process

The bumblebee design calls for a plane which would be launched by the fire control officers at a bombing defense station. When the course of a flight of attacking bombers had been charted with fair certainty, and while the planes were still some miles distant, these officers would launch some of the flying bumblebees.

The automatic gyroscopes already in use on planes would keep these little robots on the course fixed to intercept the bombers until they were well within the range of the noise of the big ships.

At that point a sound control device would take over the steering and guide the little ships to the invaders. The bumblebees, however, would not strike these ships, as is planned for the flying torpedoes about which much has been written recently.

"Torpedoes" Undependable

The reason, Mr. Chandler said, is that not more than one hit in a thousand is likely for a flying torpedo with present available sound steering controls. There is, he explained, a lag of a fraction of a second at least in these controls. This lag, at the high speed of airplanes, would permit a human-flown ship, under attack, to avoid its robot enemy.

Mr. Chandler plans a set of four sound controls which should lead his bumblebees to wheel into line above a bomber and slightly ahead of it. The controls would also tend to keep the little bee at a predetermined distance above the ship it pestered.

Either the sound waves from the bomber or certain normal electromagnetic radiations from the big ship could be used to trip from time to time an automatic bomb release in the bumblebee.

Direct Hit Unnecessary

These bombs, Mr. Chandler said, need not necessarily have to make a direct hit to explode. They could carry devices which would explode them whenever they reached an effective distance from the bomber. These detonating devices would be set off by sound waves or normal radiations from the large ship.

Mr. Chandler said that while these ideas may appear theoretical at first sight, they are no more so than submarines, torpedoes and airplanes themselves were before becoming practicable and that he is confident that something like this can be done. He said the robots could be manufactured inexpensively and be transportable on trucks to the firing areas.

The objective, he added, would be not only to destroy attacking ships, but what might be more important, to disrupt the order of a large formation flying under the direction of a leader.

He said the bumblebees could be readily shielded against interference, either that which would lead them off their course or cause their own sounds and radiations to interfere with their bombing.

70-Ton Bombers

By Devon Francis

Associated Press Aviation Editor

Washington, Aug. 3—Out of the welter of figures on warplane purchases by the Government have begun to emerge certain evidences of the scheme which the army and navy have in formulation for the air defense of the Western Hemisphere.

Long-range bombing planes, it can now be assumed, are going to be purchase in quantity for offshore operation along the North Atlantic seaboard—and, if necessary, the South Atlantic—to buttress our defensive establishment in that ocean pending completion of the two-ocean navy.

Larger Ships Planned

While the figures necessarily remain secret, the procurement officers of the armed services are known to have been talking in terms of 5,000 or more of these machines, 3,000 of them by July 1, 1942.

Moreover, much larger machines than are now being built in numbers are in contemplation, capable of carrying larger bomb loads over greater distances than any which have made their appearance in Europe, America or Asia.

70-Ton Weight Reported

The new experimental bombers being constructed for the army and the navy, one at Santa Monica, Cal., and the other in Baltimore, are straws in the wind indicating the direction which the strategic employment of large warplanes is taking in this country.

Each of these planes has been reported to weigh in excess of seventy tons fully loaded. For comparison, the big American [illegible]ic clippers weigh forty-two to...

Chile Is Expected To Ratify Havana Act

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Senator Rodolfo Michels, a member of the Chilean delegation to the Havana conference, predicted today that the Chilean Senate would ratify the act of Havana without delay.

Senator Michels, with Oscar Schnake, head of the Chilean delegation; Chilean Ambassador Alberto Cabero, and Guillermo Gazitua, embassy counselor, visited Secretary Hull and Under-Secretary Welles in brief courtesy calls. Mr. Schnake told reporters he planned to go to New York, probably Monday, and from there will go to Hyde Park Tuesday to lunch with President Roosevelt.

Lehman to Play Part for War Aid

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 3 (AP)—Governor Lehman of New York, here to attend the second concert of the Berkshire Symphonic Festival at Tanglewood, accepted today an invitation to participate in a program for the benefit of Allied Relief, Inc., Aug. 16. Just what part Mr. Lehman will play remained uncertain. The program on the 200-acre Tanglewood estate will include music by the Boston Symphony Orchestra, side-shows, auctions, dancing and fireworks.

30.24-4089

30.24-4089

PLEA FOR WHITE RUSSIANS

AUG 4-1940

New York, Aug. 3—The Russian Children's Welfare Society, an organization of White Russians, has received an appeal from Dr. Nicholai Dolgopoloff, its representative in France, asking for funds for the relief of White Russian children in Europe, it was announced by E. V. Alexeeff, secretary.

"We beg the New York society to raise some money for the relief of Russian children in Europe," Dr. Dolgopoloff wired from Pau, France, where he fled from Paris. "We do not know how long the Government will continue its contributions. Children 14 and over have already been taken off lists of those to receive help. Financial conditions are catastrophic."

The society estimates that there are 100,000 White Russian children among Europe's war refugees. Dr. Dolgopoloff was a physician in Imperial Russia. He escaped to Paris during the revolution and worked as a janitor to educate his three sons. He does not know whether his sons or grandchildren are alive.

THINKS NAZIS HAD DRUG

Doctor Says Panzer Soldiers Received Stimulant to Keep Going

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3 (AP)—The way Germany's Panzer Divisions ripped through Holland, Belgium and France indicates that the Nazi soldiers received some powerful stimulant which kept them awake and in fighting trim for 48 hours at a stretch, says Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, Professor of Pharmacology at the University of California Medical School.

These mechanized units, advancing sometimes at 30 to 50 miles an hour, penetrated Allied territory so fast that they soon were isolated from their bases and supply lines. They had to hold their positions unassisted until slower-moving reinforcements could catch up with them.

Sometimes that probably meant 48 continuous hours of action and tension, no sleep and an imperative need for unbroken alertness, said Dr. Leake, asserting that physicians with the Panzer units probably administered benzedrine sulfate or some like stimulant to the men.

He described benzedrine sulfate as a plentiful, non-habit forming synthetic drug with a stimulating effect something like coffee.

Fish Toasts Hull As Man Who Has Helped Unity

Representative Praises Work In Promoting Understanding Among American Nations

Washington, Aug. 3 (AP)—Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, received unexpected personal tribute from a Republican House member, Representative Fish, of New York, at a luncheon given by the Secretary today in honor of Tomas A. Salomoni, Foreign Minister of Paraguay.

Mr. Salomoni came to Washington with Secretary Hull after the meeting of American Foreign Ministers at Havana.

Mr. Fish, one of the few Congressional guests, proposed a toast to Secretary Hull as the man who had done most in recent years to increase unity and understanding among the American nations and as a great American Secretary of State.

To Buy Ambulances for British

LITCHFIELD, Conn., Aug. 3 (AP)—Funds are being raised in four Litchfield County towns, Litchfield, Winchester, Torrington and Salisbury, to buy ambulances for towns of the same name in England.

New French Naval Forces Join Britain In War

New York, Aug. 3 (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, head of the "fight-on" French commission in London, announced today in a British broadcast here heard by N. B. C. that certain new French naval forces had joined Britain to fight on against Germany.

He mentioned specifically the 1,969-ton French escort vessel Savorgnan de Brazza, which, he said, had been manned by her entire crew and was ready for action at the side of British naval forces.

German Agent Gives Up Auto Driver's License

Dr. G. A. Westrick Then Applies For New Plates, For Wife, And Gets Them

New York, Aug. 3 (AP)—Dr. Gerhard A. Westrick, commercial counsel to the German Embassy, today admitted that he had an artificial foot, surrendered his automobile operator's license and plates and promptly applied for new license plates—for his wife Irmtrud.

The new plates were issued on payment of a half-year fee.

Carroll E. Mealey, commissioner of the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles, said he considered Westrick's failure to mention his disability in his driver's application a misstatement in registration. He said a formal hearing on the matter would be held by next Friday and that a report might be forwarded to the District Attorney's office.

NEW YORK, AUG 3-(AP)-A BRITISH PURCHASING MISSION IS IN THE UNITED STATES SEEKING WAR SUPPLIES TO ENABLE INDIA BETTER TO HELP GREAT BRITAIN IN THE WAR.

BRIG.GEN.C.S.TUTE, A BRITISH OFFICER, SAID HE AND CAPT.FREDERICK TYMMS, DIRECTOR OF INDIAN AVIATION, AND COL.C.WARREN BOULTON, ALREADY HAD TALKED WITH SEVERAL MANUFACTURERS AND WERE NEGOTIATING WITH A LARGE AIRCRAFT CONCERN WITH A VIEW TO SETTING UP A WARPLANE PLANT IN INDIA.

Westrick Loses Home

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 3—Dr. Gerhardt Alois Westrick, whose activities as a German government agent proved embarrassing to his landlord, will quit the suburban Scarsdale estate he and his family rented for the summer.

Westrick's troubles began two days ago when published reports said his callers included men prominent in American business. The Commissioner of Motor Vehicles took away his driver's license and license plates, claiming Westrick failed to declare a change of address and a physical disability.

The Commissioner, Carroll Mealey, said he understood the doctor had an artificial leg. The doctor said it was only a wound-scarred foot and not disabling.

To Leave Premises

When the fuss reached Harold A. Callan, attorney and owner of the house rented by Westrick, he decided it was time to call the whole thing off. Last night he announced an arrangement whereby the Westricks would vacate the premises next week.

Westrick surrendered his licenses after contending that as an accredited commercial counselor to the German Embassy he was entitled to full diplomatic privileges.

A formal hearing on the question will be held next week.

Meanwhile the Scarsdale home was placed under police guard.

Filipinos in Hawaii Called Aliens

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 3 (AP).—Postmaster Albert P. Lino said today he had received word from Washington that Filipino nationals in Hawaii were to be classed as aliens and were to be fingerprinted in postoffices throughout the territory. Such classification would make Hawaii's foreign population number between 78,000 and 80,000.

NEW YORK, AUG. 3-(AP)-FERNANDO ROMERO, MEXICAN DANCER, AND HIS WIFE SONYA ARRIVED FROM EUROPE TODAY ON THE PASSENGER FREIGHTER EXMOOR--BUT MISSING WAS MATHILDA, THE PIGEON THEY USED IN THEIR TOURING DANCE ACT.

MATHILDA, THEY SAID, WAS EXECUTED IN BUCHAREST BY RUMANIAN OFFICIALS WHO COULD NOT BE ARGUED OUT OF THEIR FEAR THAT THE BIRD WAS A CARRIER PIGEON WORKING WITH SPIES.

From Broken Worlds

[By the Associated Press]

DUNKIRK, FRANCE—The remnants of millions of dollars' worth of equipment of the British Expeditionary Force are gathering rust on the sandy beach which gained a place in history with the Allied withdrawal.

Much of the equipment was abandoned in good condition. This has disappeared.

German soldiers poke around upturned automobiles, partially burned trucks, long lines of tanks and armored cars. Occasionally a civilian digs through the junk to see whether he can find a good inner tube.

Slowly, the fine yellow sand, drifted by sea winds, is covering a scene of destruction.

—o—

PARIS—Sparrows and pigeons, handfed by the Parisian populace through the years, register mild surprise when their old feeding grounds fail to deliver the accustomed seeds and crumbs. Abandoned canaries, let out of cages, are taking their chances with other refugees in the hunt for food and lodging.

—o—

BRUSSELS—The Belgian capital, under German occupation, is a city without bridges. They were smashed in the retreat.

Otherwise, outwardly, it's much the same city. Few buildings are damaged, shops are busy, the population seems to get along well with the German soldiers.

White-helmeted Belgian traffic police are on the job, reading riot acts in French and Flemish to German couriers who try to squeeze their motorcycles past the stop lights.

—o—

PARIS—On one Paris road, just before the Germans arrived, stood a solid line of automobiles eight kilometers (about six miles) long and three abreast.

Not a soul was in any of them.

Boxes filled with jewels, purses bursting with money, valuable personal effects were strewn over the seats and in baggage compartments.

Apparently they were abandoned, en masse, in a last-minute rush to reach a river ferry before the boats stopped running.

—o—

PARIS — A 15-story modernistic apartment house—one of Paris' "jinx" skyscrapers overlooking Le Bourget airport—has become a German prison, housing 12,000 persons.

Erected four years ago, the building became part of a workers' housing project, but they deserted in droves when the roof began to leak.

Then the War Ministry made it the official mobile guard residence. After a few months the guardsmen also left, complaining of bursting water pipes and inundated apartments.

Ports Unhurt, Says Survey In England

AUG 4-1940

[By the Associated Press]

The battle for Britain has resolved itself into a conflict centering largely on the English Channel and the North sea and upon the ports and harbors bordering these waters, through which passes most of Britain's and Germany's peacetime shipping.

Military secrecy hides the full effect of rival British and German blows, by air and sea, but the British announcement that the great German port of Hamburg now practically is in ruins emphasized the major attention being paid to coastal bases.

Despite the daily German raids on British ports, a poll of them by the London bureau of the Associated Press disclosed they also had escaped serious damage from the attacks.

Here is what British coastal correspondents reported in the poll:

FOLKSTONE—"You can take it from me there hasn't been any damage to this port. There is no shipping going in and out, but the reason is that all our ordinary trade is gone."

20 Killed At Plymouth

PLYMOUTH—"There have been forty-odd raids around here in the last month and about twenty deaths. Some houses have been hit, but mostly the bombings have been in country districts where they are aiming at military objectives."

SOUTHAMPTON—"There haven't been any real raids here for six weeks. There has been no military damage and none to port facilities."

EDINBURGH—"There have been raids and one dock was hit at Leith, but no damage has been done to hurt shipping, which is a little slow, due to other war considerations than air raids."

Glasgow Objectives Escape

GLASGOW—"Not a single coastal objective has been hit. They've been scattering bombs over towns and fields."

HULL—"Damage has been confined to houses."

LIVERPOOL — "Some bombs were dropped in this region severals weeks ago, but there has been absolutely no damage to the port or port facilities."

DOVER—"You might have thought from the size of that big raid last Monday that a lot of damage had been done, but that's not so. They aimed almost altogether at shipping. I went around the harbor after the raid, but no part of the harbor or the harbor walls were hit. A couple of bombs dropped back of the town some time ago, but there has not been any damage in the town itself."

Bristol Reports Normalcy

BRISTOL—"Shipping at Bristol docks is quite normal. There definitely hasn't been any damage to the docks."

PORTSMOUTH—"We get plenty of raids around here, but Portsmouth is so strongly defended they haven't been able to get at us."

CARDIFF, WALES—"We have had sixty rrids in Wales in all, a good many alarms in Cardiff, and we have heard a good many bombs drop. But I can tell you that aside from a daylight raid several weeks ago there has been no damage to docks. Then one bomb hit a ship at the docks and killed six people. Shipping goes in and out as usual."

Invasion: An Old Study

AUG 4-1940

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, August 3—Winston Churchill started worrying about an invasion of Britain three decades ago.

Then, as now, the threat was a militant Germany.

On one occasion, several simulated invasions were carried out under Churchill's direction, and with such success that he hurriedly terminated the maneuvers lest the potential enemy acquire helpful information.

Back In October, 1911

The threat of an invaded Britain first became Churchill's problem back in October, 1911. He had been made First Lord of the Admiralty after the Agadir crisis—one of the pre-World War series which periodically imperiled the peace of Europe.

Churchill kept Admiralty experts busy on the problem with a series of papers he wrote, describing hypothetical invasion th... in detail. The task of the admirals was to work out how these could be combatted.

One such paper was entitled "A Bolt From the Blue." (Although wars were formally declared in those days, Churchill anticipated history here by conceiving of an undeclared war.)

Another in the series bore the title "The Timetable of a Nightmare"—a title which brings to mind the current "Nazi timetable" phrase.

Sabotage Expected

In outlining one imaginary invasion for Admiralty solution, Churchill mentioned that sabotage and acts of treachery might occur simultaneously with the first military hostilities. A marginal note on this paper states: "Resident Germans (in England) may certainly be expected to cooperate locally."

Among the likely landing points for German troops, Churchill listed in one war problem Harwich, Immingham, Blythe, Dundee, Cromarty, Balta Sound in the Shetlands, and on England's west coast "numerous undefended landing places in sheltered waters suitable for the debarkation of a large force (if it could get there)."

After a thorough examination of the whole invasion problem, Churchill said the Admiralty's position was as follows:

"Once the fleet was concentrated in its war station, no large army could be landed in the British Isles."

THE FOLLOWING "BOX SCORE" LISTS SEA WARFARE LOSSES REPORTED DURIN THE 48TH WEEK OF THE WAR, FROM JULY 28 TO AUG. 3, INCLUSIVE:

NATION	SUNK BY SUBS, PLANES, WARSHIPS	MINES	OTHER CAUSES OR UNKNOWN	TONNAGE	KNOWN DEAD	MISSING
BRITAIN	4	2	1	17,448	2	0
GERMANY	4	0	2	19,095	0	0
DENMARK	0	1	0	10,517	0	0
NORWAY	0	1	0	1,343	0	0
ESTONIA	0	0	2	2,748	0	0
NETHERLANDS	0	0	1	202	0	0
GREECE	1	0	1	5,353	0	0
TOTALS	9	4	7	56,697	2
PREVIOUSLY REPORTED	378	167	204	2,626,591	6,806	5,
GRAND TOTAL	387	171	211	2,683,288	6,808	5,496

LOSSES BY NATIONS (INCLUDES NAVAL VESSELS)

BRITAIN--399; GERMANY--76; NORWAY--71; SWEDEN--47; FRANCE--41; NETHERLANDS--37; GREECE--34; DENMARK--31; ITALY--25; FINLAND--15; ESTONIA--9; BELGIUM--8; LITHUANIA--3; YUGOSLAVIA--2; PANAMA--2; POLAND--1; SOVIET--1; IRAN--1; ARGENTINE--1; RUMANIA--1; JAPAN--1; LATVIA--1; SPAIN--1; PORTUGAL--1; TOTAL--769.

AUG 4-1940

P-M.

30.24-4091

30.24-4091

THERE ARE CIRCUMSTANCES TENDING TO COVER THE PEOPLE OF BELEAGUERED ENGLAND. WHATEVER ELSE BEFALLS THEM, A WEEK-END OF GREATER FREEDOM FROM APPREHENSION THAT INVADING GERMAN HOSTS WILL BE BATTERING AT THEIR DOORS THIS SABBATH.

FOR THE LAST SIX WEEK-ENDS, THAT PART OF THE BRITISH PUBLIC DWELLING ALONG THE ENGLISH CHANNEL AND NORTH SEA COASTS HAS NEVER TURNED IN OF A SATURDAY NIGHT WITHOUT THE THOUGHT THAT IT MIGHT BE TURNED OUT AGAIN BEFORE DAWN TO FACE AN INVASION. THE HITLER FONDNESS FOR WEEK-END STROKES WAS WELL ESTABLISHED LONG AGO.

IF ITALIAN AND GERMAN FORECASTERS HAVE THE RIGHT OF IT, HOWEVER, IT IS NOT INVASION BUT STARVATION THAT THE BRITISH PUBLIC HAS MOST TO FEAR. AND NOBODY BUT BRITISH OFFICIALDOM REALLY KNOWS HOW IMMINENT THE STARVATION PERIL IS.

FIGURES FANTASTICALLY AT VARIANCE WITH BRITISH OFFICIAL LISTING OF CARGO SHIPS SUNK RECENTLY IN THE NAZI COUNTER-SEA SEIGE OF ENGLAND HAVE BEEN PUBLISHED BY BERLIN. THE FATE OF ENGLAND MAY HANG ON WHICH SIDE IS RIGHT OR NEAREST RIGHT; ON WHICH IS DELIBERATELY CONCEALING OR DISTORTING THE TRUTH FOR PROPAGANDA OR MILITARY REASONS.

EXPERIENCE AND SOME PREVIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES OF THIS WAR TEACH DISTANT OBSERVERS TO BELIEVE THAT THE BRITISH SHIP LOSS ACCOUNTING IS MORE RELIABLE THAN THAT OF GERMANY. DURING THE WORLD WAR, THE BRITISH DID NOT CONCEAL THEIR CARGO SHIP LOSSES, EVEN WHEN THEY REACHED A WEEKLY AGGREGATE THAT BROUGHT ENGLAND WITHIN WEEKS OF FAMINE. IN THIS WAR THEY HAVE GIVEN OUT MUCH MORE DETAILED STATEMENTS OF SUCH LOSSES THAN BERLIN SPONSORED FIGURES, FREQUENTLY ANNOUNCING THE SINKING OF BOTH BRITISH NAVAL AND MERCHANT CRAFT BEFORE ANY GERMAN CLAIM HAD BEEN MADE.

ENGLAND IS FIGHTING ALONE NOW AND THE UNSHAKEN WILL OF HER PEOPLE TO CARRY ON WITH THE WAR AT ANY COST IS THE PRIME ESSENTIAL TO VICTORY HOPES. IT CAN WELL BE REALIZED THAT THOSE IN AUTHORITY IN LONDON ARE REPEATEDLY FACED BY DIFFICULT QUESTIONS AS TO WHAT THE EFFECT ON BRITISH PUBLIC OPINION MIGHT BE OF PUBLICATION OF BAD NEWS ITEMS ON SHIP LOSSES.

DISCLOSED THAT THE TIDE WAS RUNNING SO HEAVILY AGAINST ENGLAND IN THE WAR AT SEA THAT A DAY COULD BE FORESEEN WHEN STARVATION WOULD FORCE CAPITULATION? ON THE OTHER HAND, WHAT WOULD BE THE RESULT IF IT BECAME APPARENT TO PARLIAMENT THAT THE CHURCHILL MINISTRY WAS MISINFORMING THE NATION AS TO THE GRAVITY OF ITS PLIGHT, AND URGING IT TO FIGHT ON AGAINST HOPELESS ODDS?

ENGLAND IS STILL A DEMOCRACY, FOR ALL THE EMERGENCY WAR POWERS CONFERRED ON THE PRIME MINISTER. PARLIAMENT COULD RESCIND THEM AS QUICKLY AS IT GRANTED THEM. FOR THAT REASON IF NO OTHER IT IS PROBABLE THAT CHURCHILL HAS DECREED FRANKNESS AND ACCURACY IN BRITISH OFFICIAL REPORTS ON NAVAL OR MERCHANT SHIP CASUALTIES, RESTRICTED ONLY IN SO FAR AS NAVAL CRAFT ARE CONCERNED BY PURELY MILITARY EXIGENCIES.

AND IF THAT IS CHURCHILL POLICY--WHICH CHURCHILL'S LONG RECORD OF NEVER HESITATING TO TELL THE BRITISH PUBLIC BAD NEWS STRONGLY INDICATES--IT IS NOT THE BRITISH BUT THE GERMAN PUBLIC THAT IS BEING MISINFORMED AS TO PROGRESS OF THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN. HITLER AND HIS AIDES NEED NOT RECKON WITH GERMAN PUBLIC OPINION UNLESS HIS WHOLE TOTALITARIAN HOUSE OF CARDS COMES DOWN ABOUT HIS EARS IN THE END. IN THE MEANTIME, OFFERING HIS OWN PEOPLE AND THE WORLD HIGHLY INFLATED FIGURES ON BRITISH SHIPPING LOSSES COULD BE DEEMED GOOD HOME FRONT PROPAGANDA STRATEGY.

... BE THAT AS IT MAY, THE SUBSIDENCE IN ROME AND BERLIN OF TALK OF IMMEDIATE INVASION OF ENGLAND HAS IMPLIED REPERCUSSIONS FOR ANOTHER BESIEGED ELEMENT OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE, GIBRALTAR. IF ENGLAND IS NOT TO BE STORMED, BUT REDUCED BY SEIGE, THE REASONS THAT IMPEL NAZI LEADERSHIP TO THAT COURSE APPLY WITH EVEN MORE FORCE TO GIBRALTAR. ITS A HARDER NUT TO CRACK BY FRONTAL ASSAULT THAN ENGLAND. AND IT'S A REASONABLE GUESS THAT STORMING IT IS NOT IN THE AXIS STRATEGY BOOKS.

AUG 4-1940

THE BRITISH, DESPITE SPAIN'S MUTTERINGS OF POSSIBLE ALLIANCE WITH THE AXIS TO TAKE GIBRALTAR, HAVE IMPOSED THEIR CONTINENTAL BLOCKADE ON SPAIN AND PORTUGAL. THAT IS A VIRTUAL CHALLENGE TO ...N TO SHOW HER HAND IF SHE REALLY MEANS TO JUMP INTO THE WAR AGAINST ...IN.

FUHRER HITLER HAS SCATTERED PEACE LEAFLETS OVER ENGLAND FROM THE AIR.

WHY? FOR WHAT REASON SHOULD THE CONQUEROR OF A HUGE SECTION OF EUROPE PAUSE IN THE FLUSH OF VICTORY AND TRY TO PERSUADE THE BRITONS TO SEEK PEACE, WHEN THE GREAT OBJECT OF HIS CAMPAIGN HAS BEEN TO "ANNIHILATE" ENGLAND AND SO DESTROY HER VAST INFLUENCE OVER THE CONTINENT?

BY SMASHING BRITAIN HE COULD MAKE HIMSELF UNDISPUTED MASTER OF EUROPE. THE NAZIS HAVE ANNOUNCED THAT THE MOST POWERFUL MILITARY MACHINE OF HISTORY IS ALL READY TO ROLL AGAIN. ONLY LAST WEDNESDAY OUR OWN SECRETARY OF WAR STIMSON SAID "A PRUDENT TRUSTEE MUST TAKE INTO CONSIDERATION THE POSSIBILITY THAT IN ANOTHER THIRTY DAYS GREAT BRITAIN HERSELF MAY BE CONQUERED."

WHY THEN SHOULD THE NAZI CHIEF PLAY ABOUT WITH PEACE AND PILE UP OPPOSITION FOR HIMSELF?

WELL, ACTUALLY THERE ARE SEVERAL REASONS WHICH YOU AND I HAVE TALKED OVER MORE THAN ONCE, BUT THERE IS ONE IN PARTICULAR TO WHICH I WISH TO REFER AGAIN BECAUSE OF ITS GROWING IMPORTANCE NOT ONLY TO EUROPE BUT THE WHOLE WORLD.

THIS REASON IS THAT HITLER IS NO LONGER ASSURED OF A QUICK VICTORY, DESPITE HIS UNDOUBTED STRENGTH, AND THE WAR IS TENDING TOWARDS A CONFLICT OF ATTRITION.

AT THEIR FACE VALUE, GERMAN STATISTICS ON SHIPPING DESTROYED BY BOMB AND TORPEDO IN THE REICH'S 11-MONTH COUNTER-BLOCKADE INDICATED TODAY AN ACTUAL TAPERING OFF AT A TIME WHEN SOME GERMAN OFFICIALS PICTURE THE CAMPAIGN AT FULL TILT.

AUTHORIZED SOURCES IN BERLIN SAID THAT JULY'S TOLL AGAINST MERCHANT SHIPPING AMOUNTED TO 260,000 TONS.

LINKING THIS WITH 350,000 TONS OF CLAIMED DAMAGE TO MERCHANT SHIPPING PERHAPS--IN THE GERMAN VIEW--WOULD TEND TO LESSEN THE DISPARITY BETWEEN REPORTED JULY SINKINGS AND THOSE TABULATED FOR PRECEDING MONTHS.

AUG 4-1940

THE TOTAL OF 4,329,213 TONS DESTROYED WHICH GERMANY CLAIMED FOR THE FIRST 10 MONTHS OF THE WAR--A FIGURE NOTED AT IN LONDON AS A FOUR-TO-ONE EXAGGERATION--AVERAGES OUT TO 432,921 TONS MONTHLY AS COMPARED WITH 260,000 TONS FOR THE 11TH MONTH.

GERMAN COMMENT IN RECENT DAYS HAS BEEN PICTURING THE PRESENT AIR AND NAVAL PRESSURE ON BRITISH SHIPPING AS SUFFICIENT IN ITSELF TO CRACK BRITAIN'S RESISTANCE. HENCE, THE DECLINE IN CLAIMS STRIKES

30-24-4093

30.24 - 4093

A SURPRISING NOTE.

THE ESTIMATE OF 260,000 TONS FOR JULY WAS FORTHCOMING IN BERLIN IN ADVANCE OF A HIGH COMMAND REPORT THAT A RETURNING SUBMARINE HAD SUNK 56,108 TONS OF BRITISH MERCHANT SHIPS IN AN UNSPECIFIED PERIOD.

HOWEVER, EVEN ADDING THIS TO THE JULY FIGURE, THE MONTH'S TOTAL WOULD FALL FAR SHORT OF THE CLAIMED AVERAGE FOR THE PRECEDING 10 MONTHS.

THE TABULATION OF DESTRUCTION FOR AUGUST HAS BEEN MODEST THUS FAR. THE HIGH COMMAND REPORTED ONE MERCHANT SHIP SUNK TWO DAYS AGO AND THREE, TOTALING 16,000 TONS, SUNK YESTERDAY.

IN DROPPING THE JULY CLAIM TO 260,000 TONS, THE GERMANS APPROACH THE MONTHLY AVERAGE FOR THE 32 MONTHS OF THE WORLD WAR--250,000 TONS--WHEREAS THE CLAIM FOR THE FIRST 10 MONTHS OF THIS WAR REPRESENTS AN AVERAGE IN EXCESS OF THE 466,000 TONS MONTHLY AVERAGE FOR THE 21-MONTH CAMPAIGN OF UNRESTRICTED SUBMARINE WARFARE OF 1917-18.

AUG 4-1941

THAT MEANS EUROPE IS HEADED FAST FOR THE UTTER CHAOS WHICH SECRETARY OF STATE CORDELL HULL LONG AGO PREDICTED FOR IT IF IT DIDN'T QUIT WRANGLING AND PUT ITS ECONOMIC HOUSE IN ORDER.

NOBODY EVER WINS ANY WAR, BUT IN THIS INSTANCE BOTH SIDES TO THE CONTROVERSY ARE MOVING SO RAPIDLY TOWARDS CATASTROPHE THAT ONLY A QUICK PEACE CAN PREVENT IT--IF INDEED IT'S NOT TOO LATE.

HITLER UNDOUBTEDLY HAS RECOGNIZED THE GREAT TRUTH THAT THE ROLE WHICH HE SHOULD SEEK ISN'T THAT OF WAR-LORD BUT OF ECONOMIC-LORD. THAT'S ONE GREAT REASON WHY HE IS ANXIOUS TO GET PEACE--TO PERMIT ECONOMIC REHABILITATION.

GERMANY HAS IMPROVED ITS POSITION CONSIDERABLY AS A RESULT OF THE RECENT CONQUESTS. IRON, STEEL AND COAL HAVE COME TO HER IN LARGE QUANTITIES FROM LUXEMBOURG, BELGIUM AND FRANCE. HER COAL PRODUCTION HAS BEEN INCREASED SIXTY PERCENT OR MORE, AND THIS IS USED NOT ONLY FOR FUEL BUT TO PRODUCE MANY VITAL PRODUCTS FROM IT--GASOLINE, OIL AND RUBBER AMONG THEM.

SHE HAS ACQUIRED FOOD. HER TIMBER SUPPLY IS MUCH IMPROVED. THE INDUSTRIES OF HOLLAND, BELGIUM, DENMARK, NORWAY AND FRANCE HAVE INCREASED HER WAR EQUIPMENT. SHE HAS HUGE QUANTITIES OF MATERIALS CAPTURED IN BATTLE.

STILL, IF HITLER HAD SECURED A HUNDRED TIMES THIS WEALTH IT COULD PROFIT HIM LITTLE IF HE COULDN'T PUT IT TO WORK CONSTRUCTIVELY --IF HE COULDN'T GET RID OF THE BRITISH BLOCKADE WHICH SLOWLY BUT SURELY IS STRANGLING EUROPE.

BEFORE THE WAR, BUT NOT SO LONG AGO, THE FUHRER CRIED OUT THAT GERMANY MUST EXPORT OR DIE. THAT WAS TRUE THEN, AND MORE TRUE NOW. HE IS ANXIOUS TO GET THE WHEELS OF INDUSTRY TURNING AGAIN, SO THAT HE CAN SELL HIS GOODS. THIS IS DOUBLY ESSENTIAL BECAUSE THE REICH HAS LITTLE MONEY AND MUST DEPEND ON BARTER TO SECURE ITS NECESSARY IMPORTS. ESPECIALLY DOES NAZIDOM WANT TO GET A FLOW OF FOODSTUFFS STARTED FROM THE RICH AGRICULTURAL DISTRICTS OF THE DANUBIAN COUNTRIES.

AUG 4-1941

AS IT IS, THE DISORGANIZATION IN EUROPE INCREASES DAILY. MOST DANGEROUS OF ALL, HUNGER ALREADY HAS SEIZED ON MANY SECTIONS OF THE CONTINENT, DUE TO FAULTY DISTRIBUTION OF FOOD AND SEVERANCE OF IMPORTS. FAMINE AND DISEASE ARE THREATENING.

SMALL WONDER, THEN, THAT ENGLAND SHOULD EXPERIENCE A RAIN OF PEACE LEAFLETS.

BRITISH PLANES BOMB NAZI FORCES MASSING ALONG CHANNEL COAST

Air Ministry Claims German Defense Is Weakening, But Nation Is Warned That Favorable Tide May Invite Invasion Attempt

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 4—Britain plunged her air force into the offensive tonight as hard-hitting raiders brought back word of Nazi troop and equipment concentrations just across the English Channel.

On the eve of the August high tides, which from tomorrow through Friday will afford the Germans their best chance of sea-borne attack, British pilots told of machine-gunning troops at Abbeville and bombing lorry convoys, an armored train and barges near Gravelines and Dunkerque.

Claim Defense Weaker

An Air Ministry communique, terming German defense weaker and less accurate, told of attacks from Saturday through last night ranging from the Nazi-held coast to industrial centers deep into Germany.

The announcement said naval buildings at Kiel were set afire, airdromes were pounded heavily and synthetic oil plants with which Adolf Hitler helps feed his war machine were hit directly.

Emphasis On Offensive

Authoritative sources said the emphasis would be kept on offensive in the air, taking advantage of the steadily lengthening hours of darkness for harder blows than ever at Germany.

The Admiralty announced the sinking of the armed trawler Cape Finistere Friday in a fight with four enemy planes, one of which was shot down. Meanwhile two other trawlers returned to port with an account of bagging an attacking bomber which came within their machine-gun range.

Authoritative British sources said that although the nation is aware that Hitler would have the weather as an ally in any direct attack across the English Channel during the next five days it was predicted "Germany is out for a bigger headache than she has yet suffered."

Glide To Objectives

Leaflet raids, patrol work over the Low Countries, and hundreds of bombing visits into the Ruhr Valley and beyond were said to have trained British pilots how to grope through the dark to targets anywhere in Greater Germany.

The British attackers were pictured as practiced in gliding in silently, motors cut off, and striking before ground defense forces were aware of their presence.

Britain's defenses were in action Saturday night and Sunday morning against Nazi raiders who bombed the Thames estuary, Wales and eastern Scotland.

The heaviest bombings were reported on the estuary where the Thames forms the water link to London, but no casualties were reported.

More Leaflets Dropped

There were further leaflet "bombardments" in Wales, with Nazi raiders showering the countryside with thousands more of the "Hitler last appeal to reason" pamphlets first dumped in England last Friday morning.

The British plan apparently is to increase the size of their raiding squadrons.

"It's clear that Germany's war machine has suffered a tremendous hammering," one source said, "and night bombing can be made even more shattering by larger formations of British aircraft.

"Military objectives well beyond the Ruhr will be within the range of Whitley heavy bombers during the longer hours of darkness."

Ready For Surprise

For all the preparations to extend the air offensive, the British gave evidence of heeding Prime Minister Winston Churchill's warning on the eve of the high-tide week that the Nazis may only be seeking to catch England off balance by talk that no immediate invasion is in prospect.

"The possibility of German invasion has by no means passed away," Churchill declared, "and our sense of growing strength and preparedness must not lead to the slightest relaxation of vigilance or moral alertness."

The nation gave up the customary August bank holiday, which fell on this week end, and kept at the grim job of making guns, planes and ammunition.

Submarines Chased

Depth charges from warships convoying liners which landed Canadian troops in the United Kingdom last week accounted for at least one and perhaps two enemy submarines, an officer of the naval escort said tonight.

The submarines were detected near the big convoy—in which traveled the largest contingent of Canadian troops to land in Britain to date—on the last night the ships were at sea. A pair of warships immediately went into action.

One submarine was chased across the placid sea and attacked just as the sun was sinking. The second sub was located and attacked ninety minutes later.

Few aboard the massive converted liners were aware of the proximity of danger and the drama of the chase.

British Deny Landing Troops In French Africa

London, Aug. 4 (AP)—Reports that British troops landed in the French African possessions, Madagascar and the Cameroons, were denied today by British officials.

They added, however, that interest reportedly shown by Nazis in the French West African port of Dakar was regarded as especially serious—possibly foretelling large scale German action in and from French African territory.

British sources recalled the case of the 1,864-ton Polish steamer Kroman which reached a British port last week after a hasty escape from the Senegalese port, Dakar. The British Admiralty said the ship got away after learning that Germans had arrived by plane to seize her.

Fear African Operations

It was pointed out that although the Germans might have flown to Dakar specifically to seize the ship, their presence might have been explained as a reconnaissance mission surveying the possibilities for large-scale African operations.

British sources said all the French African colonies were being watched closely. This, it was explained, is because of fears that those under control of Petain's French Government thus are also under German control.

Some diplomatic observers in London have speculated that the Petain Government may not be long-lived; that the whole of France and full control of her colonies may pass to German hands.

Any Nazi grip in Africa would be considered a possible center for expanding operations that would endanger British possessions there and afford bases from which to strike at Britain's shipping route around the cape.

Spain Reports Gibraltar Fleet Heading Down Mediterranean

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The Madrid radio, in a broadcast heard in London tonight, reported that the British Fleet had sailed from Gibraltar into the Mediterranean at 8 p. m., with the battle cruiser Hood at its head.

[A Madrid broadcast on Wednesday reported that British naval forces, consisting of three capital ships, an aircraft carrier, four destroyers and five submarines, had sailed from Gibraltar that morning and hours later were still maneuvering in the strait.]

British Rid Home Guard Of 'Antiquated' Chiefs

Younger Men to Command 1,500,000 Defenders

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP).—Great Britain's Home Guard, of 1,500,000, its second line of defense, was placed under command of younger officers today, replacing a handful of aged generals whose views of war were described as "highly antiquated."

The changes were made after a survey by Lieut. Gen. H. R. Pownall, recently appointed Home Guard Inspector General.

Leaflets Assail Axis

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP).—The Exchange Telegraph (British) news agency dispatch from Bucharest said leaflets entitled "Rumania Awake" and stating that the Allies, not Germany and Italy, were the true friends of Rumania, were found in outlying districts of the Rumanian capital today.

NEW ARRESTS WIDEN RIFTS IN LONDON, TOKYO

Japanese Report Britain First Seized Prisoners To Start Row

[By the Associated Press]

Singapore, Monday, Aug. 5—Police in this British colony early today detained Ishiro Kobayashi, correspondent for the Japanese news agencies Domei and Eastern News.

[By the Associated Press]

Hongkong, Aug. 4—British police yesterday arrested Geturo Yamaguchi, a Japanese merchant, under "emergency defense regulations" promulgated at the beginning of the European war.

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 4—The arrest and counter-arrest of each other's nationals by Britain and Japan, took a more serious turn today with the disclosure that two Japanese, seized here several days before Japan began rounding up prominent Britons, had been ordered deported.

This development in the badly strained British-Japanese relations, edged to a crisis by the arrest of two of the most prominent Japanese bankers in London Friday, was brought to light by Domei, Japanese news agency.

Domei said the two previoulsy arrested were Takayuki Eguchi, employe of the Bank of Formosa, and Mrs. Milley Yoshii, German-born wife of a Japanese painter, who were arrested July 10 and 13, respectively.

These arrests thus occurred almost two weeks before the Japanese began their roundup of fifteen prominent Britons, nine of whom now have been released, in what Tokyo officials said was a drive against a British "espionage network" in Japan. The latest of the Britons released were identified today by the Japanese Embassy as E. W. James, a man named Rich and J. de Stafford, of Nagasaki.

The British indirectly acknowledged the arrest of Mrs. Yoshii and Eguchi with a brief announcement that they had been ordered deported. Further details were withheld officially.

Domei said the charges against them were the "same" as those placed against Satoru Mikahara and Shunsukei Tanabe, London representatives of the powerful Mitsubishi and Mitsui banking families, arrested Friday night.

Just "Routine" Arrests

However, the detention of the man and woman was said by British sources to have been on "purely routine matters."

Britain has said nothing officially concerning the detention of Mikahara and Tanabe, but unofficially it was said they were held on grounds of "national security" under the wartime Aliens' Regulation Act.

Authoritative British quarters likewise have stoutly contended that there was nothing "retaliatory" about the arrests here, despite the parallel charges.

Airing Set For Tuesday

Meanwhile, informed sources said the entire subject of British-Japanese relations would be aired in the House of Commons Tuesday. A Government statement is to be made.

The Japanese Embassy, whose spokesman said "we are flabbergasted" at the arrest of the prominent merchants here, continued their efforts to obtain their release, but there was no indication of what results they were getting.

30,24 - 4095

30.24-4095

Sources close to the British Government said the arrests of Japanese in the United Kingdom were due to statements by the Japanese Minister of Justice and Minister of War that Britain was a "hostile nation."

These sources asserted that the British Home Office, in the interest of national security, could not disregard this attitude and ordered the arrests which "would have been justified long ago" on the facts of the case.

"Strong Feeling Aroused"

Commenting on the Anglo-Japanese exchanges over arrests, the Sunday Times said "strong feeling has been aroused in this country by the arrests of leading British subjects in Japan," and added:

"It seems plain that the influences behind these arrests are not only anti-British but pro-German."

The Times, noting official statements that Britain's arrests of Japanese were not intended as reprisals, observed that a much more likely reprisal would be the revoking of the British order temporarily closing the Burma arms route to China.

Japanese circles in London said Makihara and Tanabe were arrested on grounds of refusing to cooperate in Britain's tightened blockade of Germany.

Italian Reported Taken Off Portuguese Steamer

Consul At Bello Horizonte, Brazil, Detained By British Patrol Ship

London, Aug. 4 (AP)—Exchange Telegraph (British) reported today the 8,309-ton Portuguese steamer Colonial, en route from Brazil to Lisbon, was stopped by a British patrol ship, and that Tranquillo Bianchi, Italian consul at Bello Horizonte, Brazil, who was on board, was detained.

Presumably the patrol ship was engaged in enforcing the Africa-to-the-Arctic blockade of Europe which Britain announced last week.

The Colonial, a passenger ship, appeared in the news last March 17, when reports from Lisbon said she had been seized by French gunboats in the South Atlantic and taken to Dakar, Senegal.

Cudahy Visits With Kennedy

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—John Cudahy, United States Ambassador to Belgium, arrived tonight for a visit of several days with Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy.

Cardinal Hinsley Lays War To Worship Of Race

Head Of Catholic Church In England Praises Pronouncements Of Roosevelt

London, Aug. 4 (AP) (Via Radio)—Arthur Cardinal Hinsley, Archbishop of Westminster, declared today in a broadcast to the United States that "worship to the idol of exclusive race superiority" is responsible "for turning Europe into a shambles."

The head of the Catholic Church in England spoke on the spiritual issues of the war at the request of religious groups in the United States. His was the first of four weekly addresses to America by prominent English clergymen.

Cardinal Hinsley said the war "is a conflict of the soul," not merely a struggle between nations.

Praising the pronouncements of President Roosevelt as those of "a Christian statesman," the Cardinal added: "I imagine every decent-minded man, whether Democrat or Republican, will agree with him that peace can have no permanent foundation unless it is built on religious and moral values."

Declaration of Independence in 1918, was ousted from his position as virtual dictator of the little Baltic nation on July 20 when the country's new Communist leaders petitioned for admission into the Soviet Union.

Italian Island Port Blasted By British Planes From Ships

[By the Associated Press]

Gibraltar, Monday, Aug. 5—Pilots of British Swordfish planes told today of a devastating attack on the port of Cagliari, on the Italian Island of Sardinia, after they had vainly searched the entire western Mediterranean by sea and air for any trace of the Italian navy.

The attack last Friday morning destroyed four Italian aviation hangars and four planes on the ground and destroyed or badly damaged other aviation buildings. One of the cannon-armed, torpedo-carrying Swordfish planes was shot down and another was forced down and captured, while three Italian planes were shot out of the air, the British said.

Made From Carriers

The attack was made from British aircraft carriers which steamed out of Gibraltar with other fleet units Wednesday morning on the 800-mile trip to Sardinia.

One flight flew low to bomb Cagliari harbor and another went high to attack the airdrome.

The flight attacking the harbor skimmed in at a 500-foot altitude.

When their last bombs were loosed, the planes were no more than twenty feet from the sea.

Two Flying Boats Hit

"The harbor was incredibly crowded," said one pilot. "Our first load of bombs dropped into the water, but the second disposed of two flying boats we had sighted.

"At least twenty cannon, as well as machine guns, were loosed at us, but the firing was erratic. We were hit, however, but were not aware of the fact until we landed back on our aircraft carrier. Then we found part of the casing of a six-inch shell.

"When we were five miles out, shore batteries were still firing at us."

The raid leader said all he met was a flying boat, "for which we are rather sorry, as it is now fit to be under a glass case in Kensington Museum."

Bombs Hit Hangars

The high-flying attack on the airdrome started at 10,000 feet with a howling power-dive down to 4,000.

"Our first lot of bombs fell in the water," said one of these pilots. "The second hit the seawall, which was badly damaged, and the third on the hangars full of seaplanes."

Ousted President Of Latvia Dead As Result Of Assault

Ulmanis, Educated In Nebraska, Wounded July 22, Missing Ex-Foreign Minister Feared Slain

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 4—Karl Ulmanis, Nebraska-educated former President and Premier of Latvia, is dead of injuries suffered in an assault, Exchange Telegraph (British) reported tonight, quoting the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet.

The 62-year-old Ulmanis was reported to have been wounded July 22 and to have been taken to a Riga hospital. Circumstances of his injury were not disclosed.

Exchange Telegraph also said that Dr. Vilhelm Munters, former Foreign Minister of Latvia, had disappeared and that his death at the hands of political antagonists was feared probable.

Ulmanis, who was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1909 and who helped write the Latvian

Windsors Definitely Say They'll Land at Bermuda

Furniture Will Be Shipped From Europe to Nassau

ABOARD LINER EXCALIBUR (at sea), Aug. 4 (AP).—The Duke of Windsor, en route to his post as Governor of the Bahamas, will disembark next Thursday at Bermuda with his American-born duchess. This definite announcement today put at rest reports that the duke might go to New York, or might leave the ship at Bermuda and send the duchess on to the United States.

The Windsors have no definite plans as to how they will proceed to Nassau nor as to the length of their Bermuda stay. It was disclosed, however, that some of their furniture was being shipped from France to a European port, to go thence to Nassau. The duke is traveling light, having left in France a large part of his baggage, including his uniforms and decorations. These will be forwarded later.

This morning the royal passengers arose early, strolled the deck and visited the bridge of this American ship. The duke passed the afternoon in his suite pecking away at a portable typewriter.

THE DUKE SPENT THE AFTERNOON IN HIS SUITE PECKING AWAY AT A PORTABLE TYPEWRITER. DURING THE VOYAGE HE IS PERSONALLY ATTENDING TO HIS CORRESPONDENCE, GOING CAREFULLY THROUGH PILES OF LETTERS.

JR134PED

TOTALITARIAN GROUP TO BE UNDER PETAIN

Elimination Of Opposition To "New France" Is Press Forecast

Nation, Meanwhile, Busy Returning Refugees To War-Torn Homes

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 4—Adolf Hitler tonight appointed Heinrich Abetz, formerly of the Berlin Foreign Office, as Ambassador to France.

[By the Associated Press]

Vichy, France, Aug. 4—One political party with at least some of its chieftains in uniform was forecast today as the basic pattern of the new France being built on the ruins of the Third Republic.

Uniformed party leaders is one of the features of German and Italian political systems.

Dissolution of the old political parties will be among the first matters taken up with the forthcoming organization of a single national party, Marcel Deat, one of the leading participants in preliminary meetings, wrote in the newspaper L'Ouevre.

Coincidental Move

In fact, he said, the death of the Nazi-mastered republic's multiple parties actually "was registered at the same time as the death of the parliamentary regime."

The new, unopposed party belongs to the chief of State, Marshal Philippe Petain, and its guiding motive is "the great French family," Deat wrote.

Unofficial accounts of preliminary meetings mentioned arguments by Deputy Gaston Bergery for alterations in the present Petain Cabinet. Vice-Premier Pierre Laval was said to have made no open objection.

Nevertheless, despite rumors that there might be governmental changes, nothing official has as yet been announced.

Uniform Idea Persists

It was understood also that there is a tendency among organizers of the new national party to put at least the upper tiers of its hierarchy and its regional chieftains in uniform.

Unoccupied France, meanwhile, struggled steadily with the towering problem of reconstruction.

A dispatch to the newspaper Petit Parisien said thirty-nine trains were returning 40,000 refugees a day to their homes in Belgium and the German-occupied areas of France. It said 900,000 Parisians had returned home between June 25 and August 4, raising the total who have returned to the capital and its environs to 2,900,000.

Youth To Lend Aid

Fifty thousand Boy Scouts, members of youth clubs and unemployed men will be used in preparing fuel for future charcoal-burning trucks and automobiles, it was announced by Henry Hiquet, charged by Rene Belin, new French Minister of Industrial Production and Labor, with construction of this type of vehicle and with providing fuel to run them.

Hiquet said 40,000 ovens would be needed to produce the fuel for the 50,000 "gazogene" machines the Government hopes to construct in the near future as part of its effort to conserve much-needed gasoline.

Must Reduce Armed Force

The new armed forces of Nazi-controlled France will be not only smaller but younger.

Under the demobilization clauses of the armistice terms France is required, among other things, to reduce the number of regular army, navy and air-force officers.

Petain accordingly issued today a decree setting new maximum age limits for all ranks; limits which tend to weed out the older officers and permit younger men to assume posts of authority.

All officers over the age limits are slated for automatic retirement under a special pension plan.

Age Limits Set

The age limit for generals commanding armies is set at 62 years; generals commanding corps or divisions, 60; generals commanding brigades, 58; colonels, 56 to 60, depending on which branch of the service; lieutenant colonels, 54 to 60; majors, 52 to 60; captains and lieutenants, 45 in fighting services, 50 to 54 elsewhere; admirals, 62; vice-admirals, 60; rear-admirals, 57; captains of the navy, 52 to 55, depending on the type of vessel; lieutenants and ensigns, 45.

In connection with London reports that British troops landed in the French African possessions of Madagascar and the Cameroons, the Havas (French) agency reported confirmation.

The French Government, Havas said, admitted that British sailors from the cruiser Dragon landed and paraded the streets of Douala, in the Cameroons, but returned to their ship on orders of the commander of the French Atlantic squadron.

U.S. Making 'Last Appeal' On Blockade, French Say

But Washington Denies Any Negotiations With British

VICHY, Aug. 4 (AP).—A "last appeal" by the United States to Great Britain to ease her blockade on unoccupied France, at least on food supplies, was reported here today. The negotiations were said to be still continuing in Washington.

[In Washington, State Department officials said they had had no negotiations with the British on this subject. The reports referred possibly to the informal discussions which Red Cross officials have had concerning food for children and the second relief ship for unoccupied France, it was said.

[In London, informed British sources said the Washington conversation concerned specific cargoes but that no broad appeal to relax the blockade was involved].

History-Making Trials Impend In Sleepy Old French Town

Riom In Frenzy Of Preparation For War Leaders' Case, Expected To Rank With Dreyfus Affair

[By the Associated Press]

Riom, France, Aug. 4—Like a disused theater, this almost forgotten town of grass-grown streets and derelict mansions of another era began a frenzy of excited cleaning today, preparing for the history-making trials of former Premier Edouard Daladier and other leaders accused of plunging an ill-prepared nation into war and disaster.

Although the names of the defendants have not been announced, Daladier, Georges Mandel, former Minister of Colonies; Cesar Campinichi, former Navy Minister; Yvon Delbos, former Minister of Education and Foreign Affairs, and several members of the Chamber of Deputies have been charged with responsibility for the defeat.

Trial Starts Thursday

Others mentioned in connection with the trial, which starts Thursday before a part-military, part-civil supreme court are former Premier Paul Reynaud and the former commander-in-chief of the Allied forces in France, Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin.

The maximum penalty would be life imprisonment.

At the Palais de Justice, most notable building in the town, the flustered woman caretaker lamented as she learned that the building had been chosen as the seat of the spectacle that may be one of the most notable legal proceedings in French history, perhaps even ranking with the famous Dreyfus affair.

Her most important previous duty has been to guide casual tourists through the Palais, but she seized a duster and set to work, determined to make everything tidy for the judicial spectacle.

Vanguard Of The Curious

Before the invasion of notables and functionaries, a few curiosity seekers already are wandering through the two-story stone building, staring at the Louis XIV architecture and the ancient tapestries.

The Palais stands on the main street, atop a tree-bordered knoll in the center of the town which was once the capital of the Duchy of Auvergne.

Originally built as a chateau by the Duc de Berry in the Fourteenth Century, the Palais was reconstructed in 1830. The beautiful little Sainte Chapelle is all that remains of the original building.

The chapel contains nine fifteenth-century stained glass windows, two paintings of Christ on the cross, labeled, "Jesus Christ, King of the Jews," magnificent fleur de lys tapestries, and altar paintings showing the Duc and Duchess de Berry being presented to St. Peter.

Tapestries In Council Hall

In the council hall, where the trials will be held, and in the President's room are tapestries of the Louis XIV period: "The Prodigal Son" and "The Story of Ulysses," the latter detailing the adventure with Circe, who transformed Ulysses' men into swine.

The council hall is lined with long, black, leather-covered seats providing room for only about 200 persons.

Behind the bench, which resembles that of the United States Supreme Court in Washington, are seven red-leather chairs whence the judges can look down on an open space of polished hardwood upon the accused and their pleaders.

Marble Bust Of "Marianne"

Opposite the tapestried wall are six great windows, looking out upon the pleasant plain, where the peasants are harvesting the crops which must help feed France.

Behind the judges' seats is a niche containing a marble bust of "Marianne," symbolic of the French Republic, which now has been superseded by the French state.

But such subtleties make little impression on Riom's 11,000 people. They are too busy renting rooms and preparing to feed the crowds which will participate in the new drama that has come to this sleepy, tree-bowered town.

French Arrest 500 In Search For Arms

Lyon, France, Aug. 4 (AP)—French civil and military authorities have made more than 500 arrests in the Lyon region alone in a house-to-house search for arms, munitions and supplies looted from warehouses during France's last days of war.

Several truckloads of hidden guns and ammunition have been found.

Papal Nuncio Reported Halted on Way to Paris

Other Officials Also Declared Turned Back by Nazis

VICHY, Aug. 4 (AP).—Monsignor Valerio Valeri, the Papal Nuncio to France, was reported today to have been turned back Saturday when he attempted to go by motor to Paris from southern France. A Rumanian air attache and the Secretary of the Egyptian Embassy also were said to have been refused permission to enter the German-occupied French territory.

The account heard here said the Germans had pointed out that diplomats and others accredited to the French government were not accredited to Germany and had no business in the occupied section, from which Germany is undertaking military activities. One of the few diplomats allowed to enter the German-held territory was the American naval attache at Paris, Capt. Ross Hillencutter, bearing dispatches.

It was reported here without confirmation that Emmanuel Cardinal Suhard, Archbishop of Paris, has been restricted to his residence for three days. The report gave no reasons for the restriction.

REYNAUD ARRIVES AT LYON

Ex-Premier Of France Said To Have Conferred With Herriot

Bern, Switzerland, Aug. 4 (AP)—Former Premier Paul Reynaud of France was reported by the newspaper Nouveliste of Lyon today to have reached that French city Saturday from Vichy and to have conferred secretly with Edouard Herriot.

The newspaper said Reynaud appeared completely recovered from injuries he suffered recently in an automobile accident.

'Kind To Animals' But Not To Jews

Amsterdam, Aug. 4 (AP) (Via Berlin)—A German decree today forbids the ritual slaughtering of cattle for Jewish consumption. The decree said the purpose was "to avoid torturing the animals."

Portuguese Defend Colony

Lisbon, Aug. 4 (AP)—A Portuguese infantry force of about 1,000 men sailed for Angola today to reinforce local defense units in that Portuguese Western African colony.

Japanese Set Conference On Fate Of Dutch Indies

Berlin, Aug. 4 (AP) (Via Radio)—The German radio reported from Tokyo today that Japanese Premier Prince Konoye and Gen. Kuniaki Koiso, former Overseas Minister, will confer tomorrow on Japan's future relations with the Dutch East Indies.

On the outcome of their talk, the report said, would depend whether General Koiso is to be appointed Minister Extraordinary and head of an economic mission to the rich Dutch possessions in the Pacific.

"Koiso will accept this post only if his 'program for the Dutch East Indies as a part of Japanese South Seas policy' is unconditionally accepted," it added.

Koiso, former garrison commander in Korea and a powerful exponent of Japanese expansion, said last Friday foresaw possible friction between Japan and the United States over the vital rubber resources of the Dutch East Indies.

"The rubber of the East Indies is indispensable for the industry of the United States and therefore the question may give rise to friction," he said. "The resolution of this problem depends, however, on our decision."

"Japan henceforth can cover its demand for oil, tin and rubber in the Dutch East Indies," he was quoted as saying today. "Therefore the close linking up with the life of the Dutch East Indies is not only a vital question for Japan but also for the Far Eastern realm of living."

France Bars Polish Embassy

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (AP) (via radio).—The German wireless quoted today official quarters at Vichy, provisional capital of France, as denying a "British" report that an agreement had been reached to permit the Polish government in exile to re-establish an embassy in France. French officials stressed that France did not maintain diplomatic relations with the Polish government, the radio said.

Squadron Reported Back

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (AP) (Via radio).—The German radio reported from Algeciras, Spain, today that the British naval squadron which left Gibraltar Friday, apparently headed for England, had returned to the base last night.

ANOTHER SUB LOST, ITALIANS ACKNOWLEDGE

Rail Center, Two Other Anglo-Egyptian Sudan Towns Bombed

Cairo Announces "Highly Successful Raids" On Bases In Libya

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 4—The Madrid radio, in a broadcast heard in London tonight, reported the British fleet sailed from Gibraltar into the Mediterranean at 8 P. M., with the battle cruiser Hood at its head.

[By the Associated Press]

Rome, Aug. 4—Italy acknowledged the loss of another submarine and reported crippling air raids today on important British military objectives in the widely scattered "battle for Africa."

[Associated Press Editor's Note—British sources said approximately fifteen submarines, one cruiser, three destroyers and one store ship of Italy's navy have been destroyed since the war in the Mediterranean began on June 10.]

The Italian communique did not disclose any details of the loss. "One of our submarines failed to return to its base," it said.

The high command said its bombers aimed telling blows at Haiya, rail center one hundred miles north of the border of Italian Eritrea, and the towns of Summitt and Erkowit, all in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Haiya Rail Line Junction

Haiya is the junction of a rail line which runs from Port Sudan, on the Red Sea, and branches off with one line extending to the Nile, 150 miles on the east, and another running southward to the border town of Kassala.

A hangar was set ablaze at Haiya, the communique related, and bomb hits were scored on objectives in the town.

In Kenya, a British armored motor train was reported bombed south of Wajir, highway junction 125 miles south of the Ethiopian border.

Still another raid was carried out against Zeila, port in British Somaliland, on the Gulf of Aden, just south of Jibuti.

One plane was lost in the day's operations.

64 British Dead Counted

At Dobel, twenty-eight miles south of the Italian-captured mud fortress of Mayale, the Italians said they counted sixty-four British dead, including three officers, from a repulsed British counter-attack last Friday.

In this engagement the Italians reported the flag of the Sixth Battalion, King's African Rifles, fell into their hands.

The high command declared a new British air attack on the Libyan port of Derna "caused slight damage."

Italy Loses Submarines

ROME, Aug. 4 (AP).—Italy acknowledged the loss of another submarine and reported crippling air raids today on British military objectives in the widely-scattered "battle for Africa."

[British sources said fifteen submarines, one cruiser, three destroyers and one store ship of Italy's Navy had been destroyed since the war in the Mediterranean began June 10. Great Britain has reported eight Italian submarines destroyed "east of Suez," where Italy sought to cut British Empire connections in the Red Sea area. Italy was authoritatively reported to have had 104 submarines at the start of the conflict.]

GREECE STAYS NEUTRAL, SAYS 'IRON' PREMIER

Will Work For Peace In Mediterranean, Declares Metaxas

Stand Held Next Thing To Alliance With Great Britain

[By the Associated Press]

Athens, Greece, Aug. 4—Premier John Metaxas has announced the neutrality of Greece, another of the nations of Southeast Europe upon whom Britain has relief for possible support in the Mediterranean war with Italy.

Greece "remains and will remain neutral" in order to contribute to the maintenance of peace in Southeastern Europe, the Premier told the nation in a broadcast last night on the fourth anniversary of his "iron man" regime.

While not an actual ally of Britain, Greece has received a guarantee of her independence from the British and has been regarded as a probable ally of the British should Italy attempt a drive toward the Dardanelles or the Aegean Sea.

30.24-4097

30.24-4097

Turkey, ally of Britain and guardian of the Dardanelles, also has announced her intention of staying out of the war unless attacked.

"In this terrible conflict which shakes the very foundations of Europe," declared the Premier, "Greece, always ready for every sacrifice to safeguard the integrity of her territory, her independence and her honor, should these precious possessions be threatened, remains and will remain neutral."

To "Insure Honor"

Striking at intriguers, of whom he said a few had appeared, Metaxas said he had "taken measures to insure that these few men may be forced to stop defaming the honest name of our country before foreigners."

Metaxas assumed near-dictatorial powers in 1936 in a coup d'etat in order to combat "political divisions and the menace of Communism."

Clashes On Ethiopian Frontier

Nairobi, Kenya, Aug. 4 (AP)—The British issued the following communique today:

"Today there was nothing to report.

"Yesterday our ground troops attacked and captured a small post on the Ethiopian frontier at the northen end of Lake Rudolf. An enemy counter-attack was repulsed. The known enemy casualties were thirty-seven killed. Our casualties were slight.

"One Caproni bomber (Italian) dropped twenty bombs in the neighborhood of Wajir (Kenya) with no effect."

harbor and quay.

"Near misses on other ships probably caused considerable damage. All our aircraft returned safely.

"Further valuable reconnaissance flights over the Diredawa (Ethiopia) also were made by French pilots and crew operating with the R. A. F.

Hansson Sees No Drift To Fascism in Sweden

Attacks Forecasts Based on Trade Ties With Reich

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 4 (AP).—Premier Per Albin Hansson rebuked tonight those who expect a swing toward Fascism in Sweden as a result of closer economic relations with Germany.

"Our people have manifested their maturity for co-operation in democratic forms," Hansson said. "As to our internal life, there is no need of any new orientation, but only for intensification and improvement of methods of work suitable to democratic life."

He said that only the Swedes had proved an ability to make democracy work, and that, therefore, they had no need to "run after foreign prototypes."

He said it appeared as though some people "expected new signals," and added that, if they expected him to utter "demands for cutting loose from democratic institutions and running after foreign patrons without criticism, I cannot personally be of any service."

"Highly Successful Raids" On Derna, Cairo Reports

Cairo, Aug. 4 (AP)—The British issued the following communique today:

"Three highly successful raids were carried out yesterday on Derna (Libya) harbor and the airdrome there.

"A large formation of Blenheims first raided the harbor and registered direct hits and near misses on a large ship.

"Near misses on other ships also were observed during the next raid, also carried out by a large formation of bombers. Direct hits were registered on the jetty and two ships lying in the harbor.

Airdrome Also Attacked

"In a third raid, bombers attacked the airdrome as well as the harbor. Bombs were dropped on hangars and aircraft were dispersed on the ground. A large ship attacked by the first raiders was again bombed, also the

Newsman's Half-Year Odyssey From Paris To Moscow Ends

Europe Declared No Place To Be A Tourist, After 6 Months Of Red Tape, 14 Days Of Travel

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Correspondent

Moscow, Aug. 4.—Non-belligerent Russia seems like a land of plenty to the correspondent who has traveled, as I have just done, from Paris, via Berlin, to Moscow, through four nations conquered in this war.

Starting by bicycle in Paris, once the center of a civilization of plenty, and ending by plane in Moscow, I experienced and observed the privations of six old countries blanketing western Europe that have been stricken by war.

At my destination I had eggs for breakfast for the first time since the fall of Paris last June, and coffee for the first time since I started through Germany, and recalled that outside the war zone you can still eat without a ration card.

The journey took six months for arrangement of all necessary papers and fourteen days for travel.

In peacetime the same trip could have been arranged in a few weeks and the same route covered in three days.

This little odyssey is being reported now as an example of the dislocation of Europe by war, and a warning to Americans that while armies are doing a lot of traveling this is no time to be a tourist.

It began last February when the war was still battle-less and I was instructed to transfer from Paris to Moscow. Then the war really started.

Five Months To Get Visas

Three months passed obtaining a visa for entry into Russia, another two months trying to get a visa for exit from France. This was promised for June 11, but on June 10 the French Government fled Paris.

The Germans marched into Paris June 14 and the city fell into paralysis awaiting its fate at the hands of the new masters.

Parisians who had been expecting the worst were surprised by the gentleness with which Germans handled them. During the first few days of the occupation Paris presented the strange spectacle of two enemy races living together and politely ignoring each other.

Life gradually came back to the capital as the Germans exercised their Kommandantur through local French authorities.

Journey To Berlin Begins

After another month of negotiations, a telephone call from the German Embassy in Paris to the Foreign Office in Berlin brought permission for me to go to Berlin.

Without tickets, marks or visa, armed only with the embassy's letter of recommendation, I bicycled from home to the North Station and boarded a troop train.

A Japanese correspondent who also was making the trip advanced me cash, a Yugoslav naval attache rustled tickets at stations along the route.

Through the still deserted countryside of France, through partly repopulated but battle-scarred Belgium, and through Netherlands fields now being worked at top speed the train traveled a rebuilt line for two days to Berlin.

Gayety And Anxiety In Berlin

Berlin offered a sharp contrast to the occupied territories, with gay crowds on sidewalks, traffic filling streets and no curfew at night. Still, there was an undercurrent of anxiety over battles to come with England.

Eleven more days passed there, going through the formalities of getting a German exit visa, and on the fourteenth day I boarded a plane at Tempelhof Airdrome.

The plane flew low, following the railroad out of Berlin so it would not be mistaken for an enemy craft. The day before, anti-aircraft guns had fired warning shots at a plane apparently German, which went outside the charted route.

Danzig Drops To Old Status

Danzig, where the war started and which was our plane's first stop, had fallen back from its previous place of world importance to the old status of a sleepy provincial city. Bathers thronged the beach and most ships in the harbor were sailing vessels.

The swastika over the hangar was the only outward sign of changed political status.

The plane crossed the border into Russia over former Polish territory, stopping at Belostok (formerly Polish Bialystok) and Minsk, and arrived last night in Moscow.

The Great Big Finnish Bandit

Moscow, Aug. 4 (AP)—A cartoon in Trud, newspaper of Soviet Russia's trade unions, today pictured the recently legalized Finnish Lapuas (Fascist) party as an armed bandit with a map sticking out of his pocket labe': "map of Great Finland stretching to the Urals."

NAZI-RUSS BOARD MEETS

Frontier Commission To Settle Problems In Moscow

Moscow, Aug. 4 (AP)—A German-Soviet Russian frontier commission arrived yesterday from Berlin, where discussions were held concerning a juridical basis for settling problems along the two country's new borders.

The commission also cleared formalities regarding passenger and freight traffic. An agreement covering the whole subject is expected to be signed here shortly.

Denies Stopping Run to Britain

TOKIO, Aug. 4 (AP).—The Foreign Ministry here said today that reports from abroad that Japanese vessels bound for Great Britain had received radioed orders to put in at Lisbon apparently resulted from a misinterpretation of previous orders. Those orders, a spokesman said, directed Japanese vessels en route to England to call at Lisbon, but he denied the ships had been ordered to remain there.

4 OF SPEE'S CREW CAUGHT

Fugitives Trying To Reach Chile Face Return To Buenos Aires

Buenos Aires, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Argentine Ministry of Interior reported today that four non-commissioned officers from the destroyed German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee had been arrested in Rio Negro province as they tried to escape into Chile.

They will be returned to Buenos Aires.

Dr. Melo In New York On Way To Hyde Park

Head Of Argentine Delegation At Havana Visiting President Unofficially

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 4—Dr. Leopoldo Melo, chief of the Argentine delegation to the second meeting of American Foreign Ministers at Havana, arrived here today in the liner Jamaica en route to Hyde Park, N. Y., for a talk with President Roosevelt Tuesday.

Dr. Melo bore a letter to the President from Dr. Roberto M. Ortiz, President of the Argentine Republic. He declined to discuss its contents and added his visit here was of an unofficial nature.

Dr. Melo, spearhead of the group at Havana which insisted upon reservations to Secretary Hull's proposal for Pan-American security, said the difference between the proposals and those of his country was in method of procedure and not in fundamentals.

England To Get Cargo First Sent To France

Part Of Red Cross Supplies Will Be Shipped To British After Returning To U. S.

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Red Cross "mercy ship" McKeesport will bring back part of the $1,000,000 cargo she took to Europe when she arrives in Baltimore this week.

The vessel, originally scheduled to go to Bordeaux, was shifted to Bilbao before she left New York June 15. A week after reaching Bilbao, the McKeesport was sent to Marseille to unload her relief cargo.

Red Cross officials there withheld at least twenty-five trucks and twenty-five station wagons and small ambulances. These are being brought back to the United States and will be shipped to England.

Lindbergh Says U. S. May Have To Deal With A Nazi Europe

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, Aug. 4—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh said today that in the future the United States "may have to deal with a Europe dominated by Germany" and advocated "cooperation" with Europe "in our relationships with the other peoples of the earth."

He told a mass meeting in Soldier Field, sponsored by the Citizens Keep America Out of War Committee, that:

"There are still interests in this country and abroad who will do their utmost to draw us into the war. Against these interests we must be continuously on guard. But American opinion is now definitely and overwhelmingly against our involvement."

Cries Of "You Tell 'Em, Lindy"

The other principal speaker at the rally was Senator Patrick A. McCarran (Dem., Nev.), who was introduced by James Van Zandt, three times commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and now a Congressman from Pennsylvania.

Lindbergh's speech was interrupted frequently by cheers and cries of "You tell 'em, Lindy" from the crowd, which Police Captain M. J. Doyle estimated at 40,000, and the noted aviator smiled several times as he waited for the applause to subside.

In his broadcast address, his third in connection with the European situation and its effect on this country, Colonel Lindbergh emphasized:

"While I advocate the non-interference by America in the internal affairs of Europe, I believe it is of the utmost importance for us to cooperate with Europe in our relationships with the other peoples of the earth.

Regardless Of Who Wins War

"It is only by cooperation that we can maintain the supremacy of our Western civilization and the right of our commerce to proceed unmolested throughout the world. Neither they nor we are strong enough to police the earth against the opposition of the other.

"In the past we have dealt with a Europe dominated by England and France. In the future we may have to deal with a Europe dominated by Germany. But whether England or Germany wins this war, Western civilization will still depend upon two great centers, one in each hemisphere.

"With all the aids of modern science, neither of these centers is in a position to attack the other successfully as long as the defenses of both are reasonably strong."

Colonel Lindbergh suggested that an agreement between these centers "could maintain civilization and peace throughout the world as far into the future as we can see" and added:

"But we are often told that if Germany wins this war, cooperation will be impossible, and treaties no more than scraps of paper.

Treaties And Rearmament

"I reply that cooperation is never impossible when there is sufficient gain on both sides, and that treaties are seldom torn apart when they do not cover a weak nation."

Remarking that he would be "among the last to advocate depending upon treaties for our national safety," he recommended that the nation "rearm fully for the defense of America and that we should never make the type of treaty that would lay us open to invasion if it were broken."

"But if we refuse to consider treaties with the dominant nation of Europe, regardless of who that may be, we remove all possibility of peace," Lindbergh declared.

Would Take Lead For Peace

"If we desire to keep America out of war, we must take the lead in offering a plan for peace. That plan should be based upon the welfare of America.

"Let us offer Europe a plan for the progress and protection of the Western civilization of which they and we each form a part."

Colonel Lindbergh commented that "agitation for our entry into the war" was increasing "with alarming rapidity," but that "when the danger of foreign war was fully realized by our people, the underlying tradition of American independence arose, and in recent weeks its voice has thundered through the weaker cries for war."

His Outlook "Different"

Lindbergh prefaced his speech with a remark that "I have a different outlook toward Europe than most people in America. In consequence, I am advised to speak guardedly on the subject of the war."

"I prefer to say what I believe, or not to speak at all," he commented.

He averred that the issue which started the present European struggle "concerned the division of territory and wealth between nations—it has caused conflict in Europe since European history began."

Applies Chinese Proverb

Describing his travels through European countries from 1936 to 1939, Colonel Lindbergh recalled a Chinese proverb saying that "when the rich become too rich, and the poor too poor, something happens."

"This applies to nations as well as to men," he added. "When I saw the wealth of the British Empire I felt that the rich had become too rich When I saw the poverty of Central Europe I felt that the poor had become too poor. That something would happen was blazoned even on the skies of Europe by mounting thousands of fighting aircraft."

Senator Lucas To Reply

Avery Brundage, Chicago contractor and president of the American Olympic Committee, is chairman of the group which sponsored the rally in the huge lake-front amphitheater.

The Democratic National Committee in Washington announced that Senator Scott Lucas (Dem., Ill.) would reply to Colonel Lindbergh's remarks in an MBS broadcast at 9.15 P. M. (Central standard time) Monday.

Says Nazis Destroyed Edith Cavell Monument

Miss [redacted] Ambulance For American Hospital Near Paris

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—Miss Carolyn R. Nash, a volunteer ambulance driver for the American Hospital near Paris, arriving today aboard the Yankee Clipper, reported the Germans have destroyed the monument to nurse Edith Cavell in the Tuilleries Gardens, Paris.

The arrival of the plane with twenty-five passengers marked completion of the two hundredth clipper crossing of the Atlantic. Radio greetings were exchanged near the Azores with the Duke and Duchess of Windsor aboard the S. S. Excalibur.

Among the passengers were Eugene D. Rothschild, a nephew of the head of the French branch of the banking firm; Mrs. Rachel Eksztayn, wife of Benno Eksztayn, reputedly one of the leading diamond merchants in Europe, and her two children.

Texts of War Powers' Communiques

British

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP).—An Air Ministry communique:

Yesterday (Saturday) bombers of the Royal Air Force continued to harass airdromes occupied by the enemy in Holland and France, including Schiphol, Heemstede and Abbeville.

During the night oil tanks at Rotterdam and oil plants at Bottrop and Gelsenkirchen in the Ruhr and at Monheim in the Rhineland were attacked.

Other targets were airdromes in Holland and western Germany and railway communications in Westphalia, the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

A heavy attack was also made on the naval base at Kiel.

From all these operations three of our aircraft failed to return.

A supplementary Air Ministry communique:

At Monheim a part of the (synthetic gas) works set on fire in an earlier attack served as a beacon guiding later raiders to their objective.

Over Bottrop other raiders saw some of their bombs hit an oil plant.

The enemy has been forced greatly to strengthen his ground defenses since the first attack on Germany's oil supplies.

Last night, besides firing at the raiders, many shells were aimed at the parachute flares used to illuminate the targets. The raiders were missed, but some of the flares were shot down.

The docks at Kiel were located by other aircraft in spite of poor visibility. Some of the bombs set fire to naval buildings. At Husum, west of Kiel, buildings on the airdrome were damaged. The tarmac (hard-surfaced airport runways) was hit and anti-aircraft fire was abruptly stopped after the rear gunner (of a British plane) replied with 200 rounds.

The large goods yard in the northern part of Cologne was hit with high explosives and incendiaries by an aircraft which cruised about its objective for about an hour.

Airdromes and seaplane bases also were attacked.

In daylight raids Saturday the airdromes at Schiphol and Heemstede were again attacked. At Abbeville one of our bombers following half an hour after the initial attack bombed stores and machine-gunned troops and a convoy of lorries from only fifty-feet.

Between Gravelines and Dunkerque an armored train was discovered and attacked and barges in a canal east of Bourbourg near Gravelines were struck with salvos of bombs.

Fewer enemy defenses were strong and accurate.

A third Air Ministry communique today said:

Enemy air activity during the night mainly was confined to the areas of the Thames Estuary and the east coast of Scotland. Bombs were dropped at a number of points in those areas and also in Wales. No damage or casualties have been reported.

An Admiralty communique today:

During operations in the eastern Mediterranean Aug. 1 and 2 an attack was made by Swordfish planes of the Fleet Air Arm on the Italian airdrome at Cagliari, in the Island of Sardinia. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was met, but the attack was successful.

Direct hits were made on four hangars, two of which burned fiercely. Four aircraft on the ground and in the open were destroyed, and many aircraft buildings were destroyed or badly damaged and set on fire.

The crew of one Swordfish are missing, and it is feared they lost their lives. The next of kin have been informed.

A second Swordfish made a forced landing in Sardinia. An Italian communique has stated the crew of this aircraft has been taken prisoner. There were no casualties.

During the course of these operations bombing attacks on His Majesty's ships were made by enemy aircraft. No damage and no casualties were sustained. One enemy aircraft was hit by anti-aircraft fire, and it is unlikely it reached its base.

Skuas (dive-bombers) of the Fleet Air Arm shot down three enemy aircraft shadowing or attempting to bomb our ships.

A second Admiralty communique said:

The Secretary of the Admiralty regrets to announce that H. M. trawler Cape Finisterre (temporary skipper J. P. Grantham, R. N. R.) has been lost in action with enemy aircraft.

H. M. trawler Cape Finisterre was attacked by enemy aircraft Friday evening. The first aircraft to attack was shot down into the sea, but the Cape Finisterre suffered damage from attacks of the remaining three enemy aircraft and subsequently sank. Next of kin of casualties have been informed.

CAIRO, Aug. 4 (AP).—The Royal Air Force communique issued today said:

Three highly successful raids were carried out yesterday on Derna (Libya) Harbor and the airdrome there. A large formation of Blenheims first raided the harbor and registered direct hits and near misses on a large ship.

Near misses on other ships also were observed during the next raid, also carried out by a large formation of bombers. Direct hits were registered on the jetty and two ships lying in the harbor.

In a third raid bombers attacked the airdrome as well as the harbor. Bombs were dropped on hangars and aircraft were dispersed on the ground. A large ship attacked by the first raiders was again bombed, also the harbor and quay. Near misses on other ships probably caused considerable damage. All our aircraft returned safely.

Further valuable reconnaissance flights over Diredawa (Abyssinia) also were made by French pilots and crew operating with the R. A. F.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Aug. 4 (AP).—The British communique:

Today there was nothing to report.

Yesterday our ground troops attacked and captured a small post on the Abyssinian frontier at the northern end of Lake Rudolf. An enemy counter attack was repulsed. The known enemy casualties were thirty-seven killed. Our casualties were slight. One Caproni bomber (Italian) dropped twenty bombs in the neighborhood of Wajir (Kenya) with no effect.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (AP).—The German high command communique today:

Our air force again reconnoitered over the sea regions between the English Channel and the Hebrides on Aug. 3. Last night our planes bombed the oil harbor of Stanlow, near Liverpool. Numerous fires were caused. Further anti-aircraft positions near Canday Island and Swansea were attacked.

British planes flew over north and west Germany last night. Although they dropped more bombs than on recent nights the damage which they inflicted, exclusively on non-military objectives, was less than before.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 4 (AP).—Today's Italian high command communique:

Our squadron in East Africa bombed Erkawit in Sudan and the airports at Summit and Haiya, where they set fire to a large hangar. The railway center at Haiya also was hit.

In Kenya a concentration of motor vehicles south of Wajir was bombed.

In the Dobel encounter, reported in a previous bulletin, the enemy left sixty-four dead before our positions, among them three officers. The standard of the 6th Battalion, King's African Rifles, was captured.

The British Somaliland port of Zeila was effectively bombed. One of our planes failed to return.

An enemy air raid on the port of Derna, in North Africa, caused slight damage.

One of our submarines failed to return to its base.

AUG 5-1940

AUG 5 1940

AUG 5-1940

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, AUG 4-(AP)-THRONGS OF CURIOUS BRITONS CAME TO THE CANADIAN MILITARY CAMP TODAY TO SEE THE NEWLY-ARRIVED CANADIAN CONTINGENT, WHICH INCLUDES SOME AMERICANS.

"I'LL SURE BE LOOKING FORWARD TO SEEING A BIT OF ENGLAND," SAID LANCE CORPORAL F.L.YERS OF MARSHALL, TEX., WHO WON THE CROIX DE GUERRE AND THE U.S. DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS IN THE WORLD WAR. "I'VE AN IDEA SOME OF MY OLD FRIENDS MAY STILL BE KNOCKING AROUND."

R.W.SCOTT OF AKRON, OHIO, SAID HE, TOO, WOULDN'T MIND "BIT OF PROWLING," BUT A CORPORAL REMINDED HIM THEY HAD GOT LOST IN THE BLACKOUT SATURDAY NIGHT AND HAD TO BE DIRECTED TO THEIR BILLETS.

PRIVATE JACK INNIS, LIGHT-HEAVYWEIGHT BOXER FROM WINDSOR, ONT., SAID HE'D GUIDE THEM AROUND LONDON IF THEY WAITED FOR HIM TO

30.24-4099

RECOVER FROM A BROKEN HAND SUFFERED IN A BOUT ON THE SHIP.

MAYOR DAVID CROLL OF WINDSOR WAS A POPULAR SUBJECT FOR LONDON PHOTOGRAPHERS, BUT WARNED THEM, "I'M JUST A BUCK PRIVATE."

ANOTHER FAVORED SUBJECT WAS PIPE-MAJOR JOCK COPLAND OF WINDSOR, WHO HAS TWO SONS IN THE REGIMENT WITH HIM AND JUST LEARNED THAT A THIRD ENLISTED AFTER THEY SAILED.

AUG 5-1940

ANOTHER FAMILY TEAM IN THIS WESTERN ONTARIO REGIMENT CONSISTED OF SERGEANTS SANDY, GEORGE AND JIM HAMILTON, ALL OF WINDSOR.

JL1043PED

LONDON, AUG. 4-(AP)-THE JAPANESE EMBASSY ANNOUNCED RECEIPT OF WORD TODAY THAT THREE OF THE 15 BRITONS ARRESTED IN JAPAN HAD BEEN RELEASED.

AUG 5-1940

THEY WERE E.W.JAMES, A MAN NAMED RICH AND J.DE STAFFORD OF NAGASAKI.

THE BRITONS WERE ARRESTED BY JAPANESE AUTHORITIES WHO ASSERTED THEY WERE PROMPTED BY THE EXISTENCE OF A VAST BRITISH "ESPIONAGE NETWORK" IN JAPAN.

W312PED

LONDON, AUG.4-(AP)-GERMAN BOMBING PLANES CONCENTRATED THEIR ATTACKS ON THE THAMES ESTUARY AND THE EAST COAST OF SCOTLAND DURING THE NIGHT, THE AIR MINISTRY DECLARED TODAY, BUT SAID "NO DAMAGE OR CASUALTIES" HAD BEEN REPORTED.

AUG 5-1940

MORE OF THE LEAFLETS OF ADOLF HITLER'S "LAST PEACE OFFER" SPEECH TO 30.24-4099

THE GERMAN REICHSTAG WERE DROPPED OVER A SECTION OF WALES, WHERE A FEW BOMBS ALSO WERE DROPPED.

LONDON, AUG. 4-(AP)-TWO TRAWLERS WHICH PUT IN AT SOUTH ENGLAND PORT TODAY REPORTED THEY SHOT DOWN A DORNIER PLANE WHICH ATTACKED THEM WITH BOMBS.

A MEMBER OF THE CREW SAID, "WE HELD OUR FIRE UNTIL HE CAME PRETTY LOW AND THEN WE LET HER TRIP. THERE WAS AN EXPLOSION IN MIDAIR AND THE PLANE JUST VANISHED."

FW1012AED

AUG 5-1940

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON, AUG. 4--BRITAIN ALERTLY SCANNED THE HIGH AUGUST TIDES FOR FIRST SIGNS OF A NAZI INVASION TODAY AS SHE STEPPED UP NIGHT FLIGHT TRAINING OF BOMBING CREWS FOR HEAVIER BLOWS AT GERMANY.

SHE REPORTED STRONG AIR ATTACKS ON ITALY'S SARDINIAN BASES, AND PREPARED TO HEAR ON TUESDAY A GOVERNMENT STATEMENT IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS ON BRITISH-JAPANESE RELATIONS GROWN EVEN MORE TENSE WITH THE REPORT TODAY THAT TWO MORE JAPANESE HAD BEEN TAKEN IN CUSTODY IN AN empire-wide roundup.

THESE TWO, TAKAYUKI EGUCHI, AN EMPLOYE OF THE BANK OF FORMOSA, AND MRS.MILLEY YOSHII, GERMAN-BORN WIFE OF A JAPANESE PAINTER, WERE ORDERED DEPORTED.

AUG 5-1940

OFFICIALS, HOWEVER, REFUSED TO GIVE OTHER DETAILS. THE FACT THAT THE TWO HAD BEEN ARRESTED NEARLY A MONTH AGO WAS MADE KNOWN BY DOMEI, JAPANESE NEWS AGENCY. THE REPORT WAS OFFICIALLY CONFIRMED.

DISCLOSURE THAT THE ROYAL AIR FORCE HAS ACCELERATED PREPARATIONS FOR FARTHER RANGING RAIDS BY BIGGER BOMBING SQUADRONS, TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE LENGTHENING HOURS OF DARKNESS, CAME AS ENGLAND'S OWN DEFENDERS STOOD ALERT FOR INVASION THAT MIGHT BE TIMED WITH FIVE DAYS OF HIGH TIDES, STARTING TOMORROW.

THOSE TIDES, WHICH THE ALMANAC FORETELLS WILL BE ACCOMPANIED FROM TOMORROW THROUGH FRIDAY WITH CALM SEA AND ENGLISH CHANNEL FOG, WOULD OFFER THE MOST FAVORABLE WEATHER CONDITIONS THIS MONTH FOR A SEA-BORNE BLITZ BLOW BY ADOLF HITLER.

THE ADMIRALTY REPORTED THAT BRITISH SWORDFISH PLANES--CANNON-CARRYING, TORPEDO AND BOMB CRAFT OF THE NAVAL AIR ARM--SCORED DIRECT HITS ON FOUR HANGARS OF THE ITALIAN AIRDROME AT CAGLIARI, IN SARDINIA, DURING FLEET OPERATIONS IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN AUGUST 1 AND 2.

AUG 5-1940

TWO OF THE HEAVILY ARMED PLANES WERE LOST IN THE ATTACK THROUGH A STORM OF ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE, BUT THE BRITISH SAID THREE ITALIAN PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN BY NAVAL DIVE BOMBERS IN ATTACKS ON UNITS OF THE BRITISH FLEET.

(APPARENTLY THE AIR ATTACK ON SARDINIA WAS SUPPORTED BY OR BASED FROM UNITS OF THE BRITISH EAST MEDITERRANEAN FLEET NEARBY.)

THE ADMIRALTY ANNOUNCED THE SINKING OF THE ARMED TRAWLER CAPE FINISTERE FRIDAY IN A FIGHT WITH FOUR ENEMY PLANES, ONE OF WHICH WAS SHOT DOWN. MEANWHILE TWO OTHER TRAWLERS RETURNED TO PORT WITH AN ACCOUNT OF BAGGING AN ATTACKING BOMBER WHICH CAME WITHIN THEIR MACHINE-GUN RANGE.

WHILE THE FOREIGN OFFICE WORKED THROUGH THE WEEK-END ON THE PROBLEM OF STRAINED ANGLO-JAPANESE RELATIONS, GROWING FROM ARRESTS OF BRITISH SUBJECTS IN JAPAN AND JAPANESE IN LONDON IN REPORTED ESPIONAGE AND COUNTER-ESPIONAGE MOVES, TWO MORE JAPANESE WERE SAID BY DOMEI, JAPANESE NEWS AGENCY, TO HAVE BEEN TAKEN INTO CUSTODY.

THE DOMEI REPORT FROM TOKYO WAS QUOTED BY REUTERS (BRITISH NEWS AGENCY) AS SAYING THAT IN ADDITION TO THE WEALTHY MERCHANTS, SATORU MAKIHARA AND SHUNSUKEI TANABE, ARRESTED FRIDAY NIGHT, TAKAYUKI EGUCHI, AN EMPLOYE OF THE BANK OF FORMOSA, AND MRS.MILLEY YOSYII, GERMAN-BORN WIFE OF A JAPANESE PAINTER, HAVE BEEN IN CUSTODY FOR SEVERAL WEEKS.

AJ2 London- Aug 4

THESE TWO, TAKAYUKI EGUCHI, AN EMPLOYE OF THE BANK OF FORMOSA, AND MRS. MILLEY YOSHII, GERMAN-BORN WIFE OF A JAPANESE PAINTER, WERE ORDERED DEPORTED.

AUG 5-1940

OFFICIALS, HOWEVER, REFUSED TO GIVE OTHER DETAILS.

THE FACT THAT THE TWO HAD BEEN ARRESTED NEARLY A MONTH AGO, WAS REPORTED BY DOMEI, JAPANESE NEWS AGENCY, IN TOKYO, AND RELAYED HERE BY REUTERS, THE BRITISH NEWS AGENCY. THE REPORT WAS OFFICIALLY CONFIRMED

Add - London - Aug 4

DOMEI SAID BOTH WERE HELD ON THE "SAME CHARGES" AS SATORU MAKIHARA, THE MITSUBISHI (CORRECT) REPRESENTATIVE, AND SHUNSUKE TANABE, HEAD OF THE MITSUI INTERESTS IN LONDON, WHO WERE ARRESTED FRIDAY NIGHT.

EGUCHI HAS BEEN IN PENTONVILLE PRISON SINCE JULY 10 AND MRS.YOSHII WAS ARRESTED THREE DAYS LATER, THE NEWS AGENCY SAID.

AUG 5-1940

IT ADDED THAT THE COUNSELLOR OF THE JAPANESE EMBASSY APPROACHED

30.24-4101

THE BRITISH FOREIGN OFFICE TO OBTAIN THE RELEASE OF MRS.YOSHII BUT THAT HE HAD BEEN UNSUCCESSFUL.

W108PED

AJJ - London - Aug 4

A COMMUNIQUE ISSUED BY THE HOME MINISTRY AND MINISTRY OF HOME SECURITY SAID:

"ENEMY AIRCRAFT DROPPED HIGH EXPLOSIVE AND INCENDIARY BOMBS IN A FEW ISOLATED DISTRICTS IN THE MIDLANDS AND EASTERN ENGLAND LAST NIGHT.

"DAMAGE WAS NEGLIGIBLE AND THERE WERE FEW CASUALTIES, ONE OF WHICH WAS FATAL." (END COMMUNIQUE.)

AUG 5-1940

LAP 00708 OL 222A

BULLETIN

LONDON, AUG. 4-(AP)-TWO JAPANESE REPORTED BY JAPANESE NEWS AGENCY DISPATCHES FROM TOKYO TODAY TO HAVE BEEN ARRESTED IN BRITAIN'S EMPIRE-WIDE ROUNDUP, HAVE BEEN ORDERED DEPORTED.

W243PED AUG 5-1940

LONDON, AUG. 4-(AP)-THE BOARD OF TRADE ANNOUNCED TODAY ESTABLISHMENT OF A COMPANY KNOWN AS BRITISH OVERSEAS COTTONS, LTD., TO AID PROMOTION OF EXPORT TRADE IN PRODUCTS OF THE COTTON INDUSTRY.

IT ALSO ORDERED AN ADDITIONAL TAX ON RAW COTTON OF FIVE PENCE PER 100 POUNDS BEGINNING IMMEDIATELY.

AUG 5-1940

THE NEW CORPORATION IS REGISTERED AS A PRIVATE LIMITED COMPANY WITH NOMINAL CAPITAL OF £100, HELD BY ONLY TWO SHAREHOLDERS, RAYMOND STREAT, CHAIRMAN OF THE COTTON BOARD, AND FRANK PLATT, EXECUTIVE MEMBER OF THE COTTON BOARD AND CHAIRMAN OF THE COMPANY.

A SUM CORRESPONDING TO THE PROCEEDS OF THE NEW TAX--ESTIMATED AT FROM £200,000 TO £300,000 FOR THE FULL YEAR--WILL BE MADE AVAILABLE TO THE COMPANY TO ENABLE IT TO PERFORM ITS REQUIRED SERVICES.

CLOSE COOPERATION WITH THE COTTON BOARD WILL ENABLE BRITISH OVERSEAS COTTONS, LTD., TO EXPERIMENT IN ORGANIZING THE PRODUCTION OF PARTICULAR CLOTHS AS WELL AS ORGANIZING SALES OVERSEAS.

THE BOARD OF TRADE STATEMENT SUGGESTED THE NEW COMPANY SHOULD BE ABLE TO ASSIST MATERIALLY IN SOLVING IN THE EXPORT TRADE DIFFICULTIES SO ACUTE THEY CANNOT BE OVERCOME BY INDEPENDENT FIRMS.

P1125AED

CORK, EIRE, AUG 4-(AP)-WOUNDS SUFFERED IN A BATTLE THAT THWARTED AN ATTEMPTED ESCAPE FROM CORK PRISON YESTERDAY CAUSED THE DEATH TODAY OF JOHN KAVANAGH. THE PRISON IS BEING USED AS A CONCENTRATION CAMP FOR POLITICAL PRISONERS.

DA1039PED AUG 5-1940

LONDON, AUG. 5-(AP)-DEATH OF ONE PERSON IN GERMAN AIR ATTACKS ON ENGLAND DURING THE NIGHT WAS ANNOUNCED BY THE GOVERNMENT TODAY. IT SAID DAMAGE WAS PROPERTY "NEGLIGIBLE."

AUG 5-1940

Add Gibraltar Aug 5 (monday)

WHEN THE AIRCRAFT CARRIERS REACHED THEIR POSITIONS BEFORE DAWN FRIDAY, THE SWORDFISH PILOTS TOOK OFF WITHOUT LIGHTS, BUT WITH COORDINATION WHICH WAS DESCRIBED AS PERFECT.

THE WEATHER WAS SO BAD THAT THE RAID WAS DELAYED FOR AN HOUR, COMING JUST AT DAYLIGHT, AT 5 A.M.

NEVERTHELESS, THE TWIN ATTACK

AUG 5-1940

"IT WAS NOT ESPECIALLY SPECTACULAR," HE ADDED.

"WE ENCOUNTERED ONE ITALIAN FIGHTER WHEN NEITHER OF US WAS IN POSITION TO FIRE. THE ITALIANS GRINNED AT US FROM 50 YARDS. ONE OF MY CREW FIRED THREE TIMES WITH HIS PISTOL AND THE ITALIAN MADE OFF.

"TWO OTHER ITALIAN FIGHTERS GOT INTO THE AIR BUT DID NOT COME TO GRIPS WITH US. IN FACT, THEY HELPED THE ATTACKERS BECAUSE THE ARCHIES (ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS) CEASED FIRE IN ORDER NOT TO HIT THEIR OWN MACHINES."

AUG 5-1940

AN ADMIRALTY COMMUNIQUE, ISSUED IN LONDON, GAVE THIS ACCOUNT OF THE RAID:

"DURING OPERATIONS X X X PICKING UP THIRD GRAPH LONDON DATE AND MAKING IT READ WESTERN MEDITERRANEAN (NOT EASTERN).

SN1010PED

BY JOHN LLOYD

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG. 4--(AP)--THE TRIAL AT RIOM TO OPEN THURSDAY IN WHICH MEN FORMERLY HIGH IN THE POLITICAL LIFE OF FRANCE ARE TO GO ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH LEADING HER UNPREPARED INTO A MISCONDUCTED WAR, MAY LAY BARE TO THE WORLD SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SHORTCOMINGS AT A VITAL PERIOD IN NATIONAL HISTORY.

THE PRESS AND OFFICIAL ORATORS HAVE BEEN PREPARING THE WAY FOR THE TRIAL WHICH IS TO OPEN THURSDAY.

THE FACTS WHICH MAY BE DIVULGED AT THIS INVESTIGATION HAVE A FERTILE FIELD TO FALL UPON. THERE IS UNMISTAKABLE AND WIDESPREAD REACTION AGAINST THE OLD PARLIAMENTARY SYSTEM AND MANY OF THE OLD LEADERS OF FRANCE.

AUG 5-1940

FRANCE'S CHANGE OF GOVERNMENT, ALTHOUGH NOT MADE BY AN INTERNAL FORCE OF ARMS, NEVERTHELESS WAS DRASTIC, AND ACTS THAT USUALLY FOLLOW A FULL-FLEDGED REVOLUTION ARE THE SYPTOMATIC RESULTS.

THE TRIAL, THEREF ORE, MAY ACQUIRE A SIGNIFICANCE IN THE 30.24-4103

30.24-4103

FUTURE SOCIAL AND POLITICAL HISTORY OF FRANCE COMPARABLE TO THAT OF THE DREYFUS AFFAIR.

THE TRIAL WILL SEE ATTEMPTS TO PROVE NOT ONLY THE SHORTCOMINGS

AUG 5-1940

Briefly, these are the charges:

First, and foremost, that France declared war on Germany when she was not equipped to go to war and when the men at the head of the government knew she was unprepared;

Second, that over a period of years it was obvious that France's policies would lead to war, yet no adequate action was taken to build up her armaments;

AUG 5-1940

Third, that the military as well as the political leadership was incompetent;

Fourth, that previous French governments allowed British policies to dominate their foreign affairs and failed to establish a purely French policy or a rapprochement with Germany;

Fifth, that interior policies, individual courses, ideological crusades and a general state of corruption flourished through a vital period of French history. A NEW QUASI-CIVIL, QUASI-CIVIL

TRIBUNAL WAS BEEN CREATED FOR THE TRIAL AND IT WILL

OF THE TRIAL AND

in the forthcoming trials, and the only recourse from its findings will be Chief of State Philippe Petain's right of pardon. It has been announced that life imprisonment will be the heaviest penalty possible.

The name of former premier Edouard Daladier has figured prominently in the almost daily lambasting of previous regimes by the press and speakers.

AUG 5-1940

Leon
The Blum government's 40-hour work week; the pressing of the war into an active phase under the Reynaud Paul government; Gen. Maurice Gamelin's leadership of the army; and the state of aircraft production from the time Pierre Cot was air minister (under whom nationalization of the aircraft industry was begun in 1937)--all have been subjects of press and public comment.

Georges Mandel, who as interior minister accompanied the then premier Reynaud to London to confer with the British, is already the subject of military court proceedings at Rabat, Morocco, on charges of plotting against the security of the French state.

Reynaud himself was seriously hurt in an automobile accident just before the Petain government left Bordeaux in June, but appeared at the last chamber of deputies session in Vichy early in July with his head swathed in bandages.

AUG 5-1940

Former premier Daladier and former minister of marine Cesar Campinchi, former education minister Zay Mandel, and some of members of the chamber of deputies left France [illegible] steamer [illegible] Marseille for Africa.

YVON DELBOS, FORMER FOREIGN MINISTER AND FORMER EDUCATION MINISTER, AND SEVE AL MEMBERS OF THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES MAY FIGURE IN THE INVESTIGATION.

That was three days after France had requested an armistice with Germany. Previously there had been talk of the government moving to Africa to continue the war, but Marshal Petain refused to budge from France.

Summarizing the points brought out by the press and in unofficial utterances, NO french government or statesmen should have led the country into war, knowing the state of french armaments.

It is contended that the war was continued after the French armies were in retreat despite expert military advice that the struggle was hopeless. It is alleged that grave military blunders were committed, that the political leadership was incompetent, and that years of corrupt government and the ideological crusades "weakened the country internally and in its international relations."

Particular importance is placed on the state of affairs between the Munich agreement of September, 1938, and the outbreak of war a year later. This was a period when France either should have been arming to the hilt or revamping her international policy, it is contended.

Instead, there was much talk but nothing like an adequate armament effort, it is charged, and there was a persistent and mistaken adherence to British foreign policies.

30.24-4105

30.24-4105

NAIROBI, KENYA COLONY, AUG. 4-(AP)-CAPTURE OF A SMALL ITALIAN POST NEAR LAKE RUDOLF ON THE FRONTIER BETWEEN ABYSSINIA AND KENYA COLONY WAS REPORTED LAST NIGHT IN A BRITISH COMMUNIQUE.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL COUNTER-ATTACK COST THE ITALIANS 37 KNOWN DEAD, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

BRITISH LOSSES WERE DESCRIBED AS SLIGHT.

AUG 5-1940

BULLETIN

BERLIN, AUG.4-(AP)-THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND ANNOUNCED TODAY A NAZI AIR RAID DURING THE NIGHT ON THE OIL HARBOR OF STANLOW, NEAR ENGLAND'S IMPORTANT SEAPORT OF LIVERPOOL, CAUSED NUMEROUS FIRES.

AUG 5-1940

BULLETIN MATTER

BERLIN FIRST ADD HIGH COMMAND XXX NUMEROUS FIRES.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT POSITIONS NEAR CANDAY ISLAND, AND SWANSEA, WALES, ALSO WERE ATTACKED, A COMMUNIQUE SAID.

BRITISH PLANES WERE REPORTED TO HAVE FLOWN OVER NORTH AND WEST GERMANY LAST NIGHT, BUT THE HIGH COMMAND SAID THE DAMAGE THEY INFLICTED WAS LIMITED ENTIRELY TO NON-MILITARY OBJECTIVES.

AUG 5-1940

MA732AED

BERLIN, AUG 4-(AP VIA RADIO)-THE GERMAN RADIO REPORTED TODAY THAT THREE WOMEN TEACHERS AT MARSEILLES, FRANCE, WERE SENTENCED TO FIVE YEARS EACH ON CHARGES OF SPREADING PROPAGANDA AGAINST THE NEW FRENCH GOVERNMENT IN THE SCHOOLS.

AUG 5-1940

SN653PED

Add Rome - Aug 4

THE 64 BRITISH WERE KILLED AND THEIR BATTALION FLAG CAPTURED WHEN THEY ATTEMPTED A COUNTER-ATTACK ON THE KENYA-ETHIOPIAN FRONTIER STATION OF MOYALE WHICH THE ITALIANS HAVE CAPTURED. THE ITALIANS REPORTED THE ACTION LAST FRIDAY, SAYING THEY HAD OCCUPIED GEBEL, 27 MILES SOUTH OF MOYALE.

AUG 5-1940

FW835AED

Add Hongkong - Aug 4

SPECIFIC CHARGES AGAINST THE JAPANESE WERE NOT DISCLOSED.

YAMAGUCHI FORMERLY RESIDED IN FOOCHOW, CHINA, AND RECENTLY HAS BEEN TRADING BETWEEN CANTON AND HONGKONG.

JAPANESE CONSUL GENERAL KATSURO OKAZAKI INFORMED THE JAPATEMOTM

AUG 5-1940

JAPANESE COCSUL GENERAL KATSURO OKAZAKI INFORMED THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT TODAY OF THE ARREST. HE SAID HE WOULD WITHHOLD COMMENT.

WR126AED

TOKYO, AUG 4--(SUNDAY)--(AP)--RECALL OF MAMORU SHIGEMITSU, JAPANESE AMBASSADOR TO LONDON, WAS URGED BY THE NEWSPAPER HICHI TODAY IN AN ARTICLE DEMANDING THAT THE GOVERNMENT "TAKE A RESOLUTE DECISION" REGARDING THE ARREST OF TWO PROMINENT JAPANESE BUSINESSMEN IN BRITAIN.

AUG 5-1940

THE PAPER ALSO SUGGESTED THAT SIR ROBERT LESLIE CRAIGIE, BRITISH AMBASSADOR TO TOKYO, BE GIVEN HIS WALKING PAPERS.

COMMENT IN MOST OTHER JAPANESE NEWSPAPERS WAS RESERVED PENDING A REPORT ON THE ARRESTS BY THE FOREIGN MINISTER YOSUKE MATSUKOA. SOME, HOWEVER, COUNSELED THE GOVERNMENT TO "DEAL WITH THE BRITISH WITH FIRM DETERMINATION."

POPULAR FEELING APPEARED TO BE RUNNING HIGH, BUT THERE WAS NO OFFICIAL REACTION.

FOLO LONDON JAPANESE

TOKYO, AUG. 5-(MONDAY)-(AP)-IN THE ABSENCE OF A FULL REPORT [redacted] FROM MAMORU SHIGEMITSU, AMBASSADOR TO LONDON, ON THE ARRESTS OF JAPANESE IN BRITISH TERRITORY, FOREIGN OFFICE SPOKESMAN YAKICHIRO SUMA DECLINED TO SAY [redacted] TODAY WHETHER JAPAN CONSIDERS THE BRITISH ACTIONS RETALIATION FOR ARRESTS OF ENGLISHMEN IN JAPAN.

AUG 5-1940

HE SAID THE BRITISH FOREIGN OFFICE'S FAR EASTERN SECTION CHIEF HAD ASSURED THE JAPANESE AMBASSADOR THAT REPRISAL WAS NOT THE REASON. [redacted]

SUMA SAID HE HAD NO OFFICIAL INFORMATION ON REPORTS OF JAPANESE BEING ARRESTED IN HONGKONG, RANGOON AND ELSEWHERE IN THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

2 A WEST [redacted] CANADIAN PORT, AUG. 4-(AP)-MRS. MARCIA POST OF PROVIDENCE, R.I., AND NEARLY 50 OTHER SURVIVORS OF THE STEAMER NIAGARA, SUNK BY A MINE OFF NEW ZEALAND SIX WEEKS AGO

AUG 5-1940

WITHOUT LOSS OF LIFE, ARRIVED IN CANADA TODAY EN ROUTE TO THEIR HOMES IN THE [redacted] DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

"NO WORDS CAN EXPRESS THE KINDNESS OF THE [redacted] PEOPLE OF NEW ZEALAND TOWARD US," SAID MRS. POST AS [redacted] SHE AND OTHER SURVIVORS TOLD OF LOSING ALL THEIR POSSESSIONS WITH THE CANADIAN AUSTRALASIAN LINER WHICH HAS [redacted] FROM AUCKLAND TO SUVA AND CANADA WITH 146 PASSENGERS AND 203 CREWMEN.

A WESTERN CANADIAN PORT---FIRST AND NIAGARA SURVIVORS. X X

SURVIVORS SAID THE FORCE OF THE EXPLOSION WAS SO GREAT THAT IT SLEW THE SHIP BACKWARD IN THE WATER, BUT THAT THERE WAS NO PANIC AMONG THE PASSENGERS.

THE SEA WAS CALM AND A BRIGHT MOON SHONE DOWN ON THE PASSENGERS AND CREW AS THEY ABANDONED SHIP [redacted]

[redacted]

THE BOATS WERE ABLE TO REMAINED CLUSTERED TOGETHER [redacted] THE NIAGARA SANK DOWN [redacted] RESCUE [redacted] FROM NEW ZEALAND.

30.24-4107

MOST PASSENGERS WERE IN NIGHT CLOTHES WHEN THE EXPLOSION OCCURRED AT 3:40 A.M. JUNE 19, SOME 20 MILES FROM NEW ZEALAND. AFTER EIGHT HOURS A RESCUE SHIP HOVE TO AND TOOK ALL THE PASSENGERS BACK TO AUCKLAND WHERE THEY STARTED OUT AGAIN IN OTHER SHIPS.

AMONG THE PASSENGERS WERE TWO BABIES IN ARMS, ONE A MONTH OLD. CREW MEMBERS TORE OFF THEIR SHIRTS TO MAKE CLOTHES TO KEEP THEM WARM AS THE PASSENGERS TOSSED ABOUT IN LIFEBOATS AWAITING RESCUE.

AUG 5-1940

OTTAWA, AUG 2-(AP)-A NOTICE HAS BEEN ISSUED BY THE MARINE SERVICES DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORT ADVISING MARINERS THAT AN AIR FIRING AND BOMBING RANGE HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED ON LAKE ERIE BETWEEN PORT MAITLAND AND NANTICOKE, IT WAS ANNOUNCED TONIGHT.

THE RANGE IS TO BE USED BY THE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE STARTING AUG. 19 AND AIR FIRING AND BOMBING IS LIABLE TO TAKE PLACE DAILY, INCLUDING SUNDAYS, FROM DAYBREAK TO DUSK.

AUG 5-1940

SIMILAR FIRING AND BOMBING RANGES HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED OFF PRESQU'ILE ON LAKE ONTARIO, ON THE ATLANTIC COAST NEAR HALIFAX AND ON THE PACIFIC COAST OFF CHARLOTTE ISLANDS, THE EAST AND WEST COASTS OF VANCOUVER ISLAND, AND IN THE STRAIT OF GEORGIA.

SN1208AED

TORONTO, AUG 2-(AP)-THE ONTARIO GOVERNMENT MOVED TONIGHT TO ORGANIZE HUNDREDS OF SCHOOLBOYS THROUGHOUT THE PROVINCE INTO A LAND ARMY KNOWN AS "SOLDIERS OF THE SOIL," THE PURPOSE OF WHICH IS TO RELIEVE A SHORTAGE OF FARM HELP ON ONTARIO FARMS AND BOLSTER WARTIME FARM PRODUCTION.

ANY SCHOOLBOY BETWEEN THE AGES OF 12 AND 17 MAY ENROLL FOR FARM WORK AT A RATE OF PAY TO BE SET. ALL HIGH SCHOOLS WILL BE KEPT CLOSED UNTIL OCT. 1 AND PRIMARY SCHOOLS UNTIL AT LEAST SEPT. 15. THEY ORDINARILY OPEN SEPT. 1.

AUG 5-1940

SN1210AED

WASHINGTON, AUG 4-(AP)-PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S REQUEST FOR AUTHORITY TO CALL THE NATIONAL GUARD TO ACTIVE DUTY COMES UP IN THE SENATE TOMORROW, FIRST OF FOUR MAJOR DEFENSE MEASURES ON WHICH COMMITTEE OR OTHER ACTION IS ANTICIPATED DURING A MOMENTOUS WEEK OF CONGRESS.

THE OTHERS ARE:

AUG 5-1940

THE BURKE-WADSWORTH CONSCRIPTION BILL ON WHICH THE SENATE MILITARY COMMITTEE WILL VOTE TOMORROW.

THE $4,963,000,000 EMERGENCY DEFENSE APPROPRIATION BILL. A SENATE APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE WILL BEGIN HEARINGS TOMORROW AND EXPECTS TO COMPLETE THEM BEFORE THE WEEK IS OVER.

THE EXCESS PROFITS TAX BILL. THE HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE IS STUDYING THIS PROPOSAL AND HAS BEEN URGED BY MR. ROOSEVELT TO TAKE EARLY ACTION.

MANY SENATORS HAVE LINKED THE GUARD PROPOSAL WITH CONSCRIPTION,

ELIEVING THE GUARDSMEN WOULD BE USED TO TRAIN CONSCRIPTS. OPPONENTS OF THE BURKE-WADSWORTH BILL INDICATED, HOWEVER, THAT THEY WOULD NOT MAKE A MAJOR FIGHT AGAINST GRANTING THIS AUTHORITY TO THE RESIDENT.

THEY MAY, HOWEVER, OFFER AN AMENDMENT TO PERMIT ONE-YEAR ENLISTMENTS IN THE ARMY AND TO RAISE THE BASIC ARMY PAY FROM $21 TO $30 A MONTH. SENATOR WHEELER (D-MONT) AND OTHERS HAVE CONTENDED THAT CONSCRIPTION WOULD BE UNNECCESSARY IF ARMY PAY WERE RAISED AND THE ENLISTMENT PERIOD LOWERED FROM THE PRESENT THREE EARS.

AUG 5-1940

SUPPORTERS HOPED TO OBTAIN PASSAGE OF THE GUARD PROPOSAL WITHOUT NY CHANGES, CONTENDING THAT THE ENLISTMENT AND PAY QUESTIONS SHOULD E THRESHED OUT WHEN THE SENATE CONSIDERS THE CONSCRIPTION MEASURE LATER IN THE WEEK.

CHAIRMAN SHEPPARD (D-TEX) PREDICTED THAT THE MILITARY COMMITTEE WOULD REPORT OUT THE BURKE-WADSWORTH BILL TOMORROW WITH ONLY A FEW DISSENTING VOTES.

THE MEASURE WOULD REQUIRE ALL MEN BETWEEN 21 AND 36, INCLUSIVE, TO REGISTER FOR MILITARY SERVICE. FROM THIS GROUP OF ABOUT 12,000,000 APPROXIMATELY 400,000 WOULD BE PICKED BY LOCAL BOARDS FOR ONE YEAR'S INTENSIVE MILITARY TRAINING.

A FIGHT AGAINST INCREASING THE PROFITS ALLOWED MANUFACTURERS OF AIRPLANES FOR THE ARMY AND NAVY MAY DELAY COMMITTEE ACTION ON THE $4,963,000,000 EMERGENCY DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS BILL.

CHAIRMAN ADAMS (D-COLO) OF THE APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE CONSIDERING THE MEASURE SAID HE WOULD OPPOSE A HOUSE-APPROVED PROVISION RAISING FROM 8 PER CENT TO 12 PER CENT THE MAXIMUM PROFIT PERMITTED ON CONSTRUCTION OF AIRPLANES.

SENATOR MCNARY OF OREGON, THE REPUBLICAN LEADER, ALSO SAID HE WAS OPPOSED TO AN INCREASE AND BELIEVED THAT A NUMBER OF REPUBLICANS WOULD VOTE AGAINST IT.

IT IS THE ADMINISTRATION'S PLAN THAT ALL RESTRICTIONS BE REPEALED WHEN AN EXCESS PROFITS TAX IS ENACTED. THAT LEVY WOULD BE DESIGNED TO PREVENT ANY PROFITEERING. IF THIS PROGRAM IS FOLLOWED, ANY LIMIT ESTABLISHED IN THE DEFENSE BILL WOULD BE ONLY TEMPORARY.

SM150PES

WASHINGTON,AUG.4-(AP)-GENERAL JOHN J.PERSHING URGED TONIGHT THAT THE UNITED STATES SEND A MINIMUM OF 50 DESTROYERS TO AID GREAT BRITAIN, ASSERTING THAT "WE SHALL BE FAILING IN OUR DUTY TO AMERICA IF WE DO NOT DO IT."

THE WORLD WAR COMMANDER OF THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, NOW IN HIS 80TH YEAR, SAID IN A BROADCAST ADDRESS THAT "BY SENDING HELP TO THE BRITISH, WE CAN STILL HOPE WITH CONFIDENCE TO KEEP THE WAR ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE ATLANTIC OCEAN WHERE THE ENEMIES OF LIBERTY, IF POSSIBLE, SHOULD BE DEFEATED."

URGING IMMEDIATE ACTION, HE DECLARED:

"I SAY TO YOU SOLEMNLY THAT TOMORROW MAY BE FOREVER TOO LATE TO KEEP WAR FROM THE AMERICAS. TODAY MAY BE THE LAST TIME WHEN BY MEASURES SHORT OF WAR WE CAN STILL PREVENT WAR."

AJ731PESNM

30.24-4109

30.24-4109

WASHN--1ST ADD PERSHING X X X PREVENT WAR."

GENERAL PERSHING'S ADDRESS WAS BROADCAST BY ALL NETWORKS. HE SPOKE FROM HIS SUITE IN A HOTEL (THE CARLTON) HERE.

IN HIS 15-MINUTE TALK HE AGAIN ENDORSED COMPULSORY MILITARY TRAINING FOR THE UNITED STATES. EARLY THIS MONTH HE SENT A LETTER TO THE SENATE MILITARY COMMITTEE APPROVING THE PRINCIPLE OF THE BURKE-WADSWORTH BILL FOR SELECTIVE SERVICE.

PERSHING SAID THAT IT WAS NOT "HYSTERICAL" TO SAY THAT DEMOCRACY AND LIBERTY WERE THREATENED.

AUG 5-1940

"A NEW KIND OF WAR," HE DECLARED, "IS LOOSE IN THE WORLD--FOUGHT WITH ALL WEAPONS, INCLUDING TREASON, AND FOUGHT MOST INSIDIOUSLY DURING WHAT SOME OF OUR COUNTRYMEN CALL 'PEACETIME.' IT IS A WAR AGAINST THE CIVILIZATION THAT WE KNOW. IT IS A REVOLUTION AGAINST ALL THE VALUES WHICH WE HAVE CHERISHED AND WHICH WE WISH OUR CHILDREN TO CHERISH IN THE FUTURE. IT IS A REVOLUTION WHICH DENIES THE DIGNITY OF MAN AND WHICH BANISHES THE HOPE OF BROTHERHOOD AND COMRADESHIP ON EARTH. WE CAN SEE IT DEVELOPING RIGHT BEFORE OUR VERY EYES.

"IT MUST BE FACED WITH DARING AND WITH DEVOTION. WE MUST LIFT UP OUR HEARTS. WE MUST REAFFIRM OUR NOBLE TRADITION. WE MUST MAKE OURSELVES SO STRONG THAT THE TRADITION WE LIVE BY SHALL NOT PERISH FROM THE EARTH."

WHEN HE HAD COMPLETED HIS ADDRESS, PERSHING WALKED FROM HIS ROOM DOWN A CORRIDOR AND WAS MET BY SECRETARY OF STATE AND MRS.HULL WHO ALSO ARE RESIDENTS OF THE HOTEL.

HULL GRASPED PERSHING'S HAND AND WARMLY CONGRATULATED HIM.

PERSHING COMPLIMENTED HULL ON THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE HAVANA CONFERENCE OF FOREIGN MINISTERS.

WASHINGTON-2ND ADD PERSHING X X X OF FOREIGN MINISTSRS.

AT THE OUTSET OF HIS ADDRESS, PERSHING SAID THAT HE WAS SPEAKING BECAUSE HE CONSIDERED IT A DUTY.

AUG 5-1940

"NO WAR WAS EVER PREVENTED," HE ADDED, "BY HIDING THE DANGER AND BY ARGUING THAT THE DANGER DOES NOT EXIST."

HE WENT ON TO SAY THAT THE MEN "BEST QUALIFIED" TO KNOW WHAT WAS GOING ON IN EUROPE, ASIA AND THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE WERE "VERY NEARLY UNANIMOUS IN BELIEVING WHAT I AM SAYING TO YOU TONIGHT--THAT GRAVE DANGER FOR US LURKS IN THE PRESENT SITUATION."

"SO THE TIME HAS COME," HE CONTINUED, "WHEN WE MUST RISE UP AS A UNITED PEOPLE TO MAKE SECURE OUR COUNTRY'S INDEPENDENCE AND OUR GREAT INHERITANCE OF CONSTITUTIONAL LIBERTY."

THEN, SAYING THAT "APPEASERS" IN EIGHT NATIONS HAD BEEN DISCREDITED OUR RUIN, HE DECLARED THAT THE UNITED STATES MUST PREPARE TO MEET FORCE WITH FORCE.

"WE MUST MAKE OURSELVES STRONG BY BUILDIN UP OUR ARMY AND NAVY AND THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE PRINCIPLE OF UNIVERSAL SELECTED SERVICE, WHICH MEANS MERELY THAT THE MEN NEEDED ARE CHOSEN BY LOT," HE SAID.

"AND I AM TELLING YOU TONIGHT, BECAUSE IT IS MY DUTY TO WARN YOU BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE, THAT THE BRITISH NAVY NEEDS DESTROYERS AND SMALL CRAFT TO CONVOY MERCHANT SHIPS, TO ESCORT ITS WARSHIPS,

TO HUNT SUBMARINES AND TO REPEL INVASION. WE HAVE AN IMMENSE RESERVE OF DESTROYERS LEFT OVER FROM THE OTHER WAR, AND IN A FEW MONTHS THE BRITISH WILL BE COMPLETING A LARGE NUMBER OF DESTROYERS OF THEIR OWN. THE MOST CRITICAL TIME, THEREFORE, IS THE NEXT FEW WEEKS AND MONTHS. IF THERE IS ANYTHING WE CAN DO TO HELP SAVE THE BRITISH FLEET DURING THAT TIME, WE SHALL BE FAILING IN OUR DUTY TO AMERICA IF WE DO NOT DO IT.

"IF A PROPER METHOD CAN BE FOUND, AMERICA WILL SAFEGUARD HER FREEDOM AND SECURITY BY MAKING AVAILABLE TO THE BRITISH OR CANADIAN GOVERNMENTS AT LEAST 50 OF THE OVER-AGE DESTROYERS WHICH ARE LEFT FROM THE DAYS OF THE WORLD WAR. IF THE DESTROYERS HELP SAVE THE BRITISH FLEET, THEY MAY SAVE US FROM THE DANGER AND HARDSHIP OF ANOTHER WAR. AMERICANS SHOULD NOT SHRINK FROM DUTY BECAUSE OF POSSIBLE HAZARDS.

PERSHING SAID HE KNEW THAT MANY SINCERE PATRIOTS SHRANK FROM TAKING ANY ACT WHICH THEY THOUGHT WOULD LEAD TO AN AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE'S BEING SENT TO EUROPE, BUT HE DECLARED THAT THIS WOULD NEVER BE NECESSARY.

"IT IS MY OPINION THAT IN THIS WAR IT WOULD BE ABSOLUTE FOLLY EVEN TO CONSIDER SENDING ANOTHER EXPEDITIONARY FORCE," HE SAID. "NO ONE IS CONSIDERING IT AND THOSE WHO MAY SAY THAT ANYONE IS CONSIDERING IT ARE DECEIVING THEMSELVES AND DECEIVING YOU."

LT757PES NM

PERSHING TEXT

WASHINGTON, AUG.4-(AP)-THE TEXT OF GENERAL JOHN J.PERSHING'S RADIO ADDRESS TONIGHT, "THE SECURITY OF THE AMERICAS," FOLLOWS: (ABOUT 1,000)

I AM SPEAKING TONIGHT BECAUSE I CONSIDER IT MY DUTY. IT IS MY DUTY TO TELL YOU THAT, IN MY OPINION, WE FACE PROBLEMS OF THE UTMOST SERIOUSNESS, THAT ALL THE THINGS WE HOLD MOST DEAR ARE GRAVELY THREATENED. I MUST TELL YOU THAT WE CAN DEFEND THEM ONLY IF WE MAKE UP OUR MINDS NOW TO SPEAK THE TRUTH WITHOUT CONCEALMENT; IF WE MAKE UP OUR MINDS TO FACE THE TRUTH WITHOUT FLINCHING; IF WE MAKE UP OUR MINDS TO ACT UPON THE TRUTH WITHOUT HESITATING. I THINK YOU WILL BELIEVE ME WHEN I SAY THAT NO WAR WAS EVER PREVENTED BY HIDING THE DANGER AND BY ARGUING THAT THE DANGER DOES NOT EXIST.

THE MEN WHO ARE BEST QUALIFIED TO KNOW WHAT IS GOING ON IN EUROPE AND IN ASIA AND IN THIS HEMISPHERE, THE MEN WHOSE BUSINESS IT IS TO KNOW THE FACTS, ARE VERY NEARLY UNANIMOUS IN BELIEVING WHAT I SAM SAYING TO YOU TONIGHT--THAT GRAVE DANGER FOR US LURKS IN THE PRESENT WORLD SITUATION. SO THE TIME HAS COME WHEN WE MUST RISE UP AS A UNITED PEOPLE TO MAKE SECURE OUR COUNTRY'S INDEPENDENCE AND OUR GREAT INHERITANCE OF CONSTITUTIONAL LIBERTY.

MORE THAN HALF THE WORLD IS RULED BY MEN WHO DESPISE THE AMERICAN IDEA AND HAVE SWORN TO DESTROY IT. THFY KNOW THAT WHILE ONE GREAT PEOPLE REMAINS INDEPENDENT AND FREE BECAUSE IT IS STRONG AND IS BRAVE, THEY CAN NEVER CRUSH FINALLY THE PEOPLE THEY HAVE CONQUERED. THE EXAMPLE OF LIBERTY HERE WILL ALWAYS CONTINUE TO INSPIRE THE RESISTANCE TO TYRANNY OVER THERE. THEY ARE FANATICAL AND THEY ARE STRONG. THEY ARE EFFICIENT AND THEY ARE RUTHLESS. EIGHT NATIONS HAVE TRIED TO APPEASE THEM. THE APPEASERS OF EIGHT NATIONS ARE DEAD OR IN JAIL OR DISCREDITED AND RUINED. IN SEVEN OF THESE

30,24-4111

30,24-4111

EIGHT NATIBNS THE APPEASERS WHO WOULD NOT TAKE THE DANGER SERIOUSLY, WHO WOULD NOT PREPARE WHEN THERE WAS STILL TIME, HAVE LED THEIR COUNTRIES TO DISASTER.

"IT IS NOT "HYSTERICAL" TO INSIST THAT DEMOCRACY AND LIBERTY ARE THREATENED. WITH DEMOCRACY AND LIBERTY OVERTHROWN ON THE CONTCNENT OF EUROPE, ONLY THE BRITISH ARE LEFT TO DEFEND DEMOCRACY AND LIBERTY IN EUROPE.

BY SENDING HELP TO THE BRITISH, WE CAN STILL HOPE WITH CONFIDENCE TO KEEP THE WAR ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE ATLANTIC OCEAN, WHERE THE ENEMIES OF LIBERTY, IF POSSIBLE, SHOULD BE DEFEATED. BUT SOME ARE BOLD ABOUT WHAT THEY WOULD DO TOMORROW, IF GREAT BRITAIN IS DEFEATED, AND THE WAR COMES TO THIS HEMISPHERE. I SAY TO YOU SOLEMNLY THAT TOMORROW MAY BE FOREVER TOO LATE TO KEEP WAR FROM THE AMERICAS. TODAY MAY BE THE LAST TIME WHEN BY MEASURES SHORT OF WAR WE CAN STILL PREVENT WAR.

AUG 5-1940

WE MUST BE READY TO MEET FORCE WITH A STRONGER FORCE. WE MUST MAKE OURSELVES STRONG BY BUILDING UP OUR ARMY AND NAVY AND THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE PRINCIPLE OF UNIVERSAL SELECTED SERVICE, WHICH MEANS MERELY THAT THE MAN NEEDED ARE CHOSEN BY LOT.

BJSWA

AND I AM TELLING YOU TONIGHT, BECAUSE IT IS MY DUTY TO WARN SOU BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE, THAT THE BRITISH NAVY NEEDS DESTROYERS AND SMALL CRAFT TO CONVOY MERCHANT SHIPS, TO ESCORT ITS WARSHIPS, TO HUNT SUBMARINES AND TO REPEL INVASION. WE HAVE AN IMMENSE RESERVE OF DESTROYERS LEFT OVER FROM THE OTHER WAR, AND IN A FEW MONTHS THE BRITISH WILL BE COMPLETING A LARGE NUMBER OF DESTROYERS OF THEIR OWN. THE MOST CRITICAL TIME, THEREFORE, IS THE NEXT FEW WEEKS AND MONTHS. IF THERE IS ANYTHING WE CAN DO TO HELP SAVE THE BRITISH FLEET DURING THAT TIME, WE SHALL BE FAILING IN OUR DUTY TO AMERICA IF WE DO NOT DO IT.

IF A PROPER METHOD CAN BE FOUND, AMERICA WILL SAFEGUARD HER FREEDOM AND SECURITY BY MAKING AVAILABLE TO THE BRITISH OR CANADIAN GOVERNMENTS AT LEAST FIFTY OF THE OVER-AGE DESTROYERS WHICH ARE LEFT FROM THE DAYS OF THE WORLD WAR. IF THE DESTROYERS HELP SAVE THE BRITISH FLEET, THEY MAY SAVE US FROM THE DANGER AND HARDSHIP OF ANOTHER WAR. AMERICANS SHOULD NOT SHRINK FROM DUTY BECAUSE OF POSSIBLE HAZARDS.

AUG 5-1940

I KNOW THAT MANY SINCERE PATRIOTS ARE FRIGHTENED AT THE THOUGHT OF EVEN THE SMALLEST ACT BECAUSE THEY THINK SUCH ACTS WOULD LEAD US CLOSER TO THE DAY WHEN ANOTHER AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE SETS SAIL FOR EUROPE. IT IS MY OPINION THAT IN THIS WAR IT WOULD BE ABSOLUTE FOLLY EVEN TO CONSIDER SENDING ANOTHER EXPEDITIONARY FORCE. NO ONE IS CONSIDERING IT AND THOSE WHO MAY SAY THAT ANYONE IS CONSIDERING IT ARE DECEIVING THEMSELVES AND DECEIVING YOU.

WE MUST HAVE THE STRENGTH OF CHARACTER TO FACE THE TRUTH. FOREMOST AMONG THE TRUTHS WHICH WE WILL IGNORE AT OUR PERIL IS THAT THE TIME NEEDED TO BUILD OUR OWN DEFENSES MAY BE LENGTHENED IF WE HAVE THE COURAGE TO MAKE THE SMALL BUT IMPORTANT CONTRIBUTION WHICH IS STILL WITHIN OUR POWER TOWARD THE SUSTAINING OF THE BRITISH DEFENSE.

A NEW KIND OF WAR IS LOOSE IN THE WORLD-FOUGHT WITH ALL WEAPONS, INCLUDING TREASON, AND FOUGHT MOST INSIDIOUSLY DURING WHAT SOME OF OUR COUNTRYMEN CALL "PEACETIME." IT IS A WAR AGAINST THE CIVILIZATION THAT WE KNOW. IT IS A REVOLUTION AGAINST ALL THE VALUES WHICH WE HAVE CHERISHED AND WHICH WE WISH OUR CHILDREN TO CHERISH IN THE FUTURE. IT IS A REVOLUTION WHICH DENIES THE DIGNITY OF MAN AND WHICH BANISHES THE HOPE OF BROTHERHOOD AND COMRADESHIP ON EARTH. WE CAN SEE IT DEVELOPING RIGHT BEFORE OUR VERY EYES.

IT MUST BE FACED WITH DARING AND WITH DEVOTION. WE MUST LIFT UP OUR HEARTS. WE MUST REAFFIRM OUR NOBLE TRADITION. WE MUST MAKE OURSELVES SO STRONG THAT THE TRADITION WE LIVE BY SHALL NOT PERISH FROM THE EARTH.

(END PERSHING TEXT)

LT822PES

AUG 5-1940

BY MAX BOYD

PRESENT INDICATIONS ARE THAT RELIEF FOOD REACHING NAZI-CONQUERED COUNTRIES FROM THE UNITED STATES THIS WINTER MAY BE LIMITED LARGELY TO SUPPLIES FOR CHILDREN IN TERRITORY NOT OCCUPIED BY GERMAN TROOPS.

BRITISH AUTHORITIES APPEAR TO BE SYMPATHETIC TO INFORMAL PROPOSALS FROM THE AMERICAN RED CROSS THAT FOOD FOR YOUNGSTERS IN THE UN-

OCCUPIED PORTION OF DEFEATED FRANCE BE PERMITTED TO PASS THROUGH THE BLOCKADE.

BUT BRITISH SOKESMEN HAVE COME OUT RECENTLY AGAINST MASS SHIPMENT

AUG 5-1940

BUT BRITISH SPOKESMEN HAVE COME OUT RECENTLY AGAINST MASS SHIPMENTS TO COUNTRIES HELD BY HITLER, AND SOME RELIEF OFFICIALS HERE SAY THEY RECOGNIZE THAT BRITAIN MUST WEIGH HUMANITARIAN CONSIDERATIONS AGAINST MILITARY NECESSITIES IN DETERMINING HER ATTITUDE.

THE $50,000,000 APPROPRIATED BY CONGRESS FOR WAR RELIEF WAS REQUESTED BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT PRIOR TO THE FALL OF FRANCE. SINCE THAT EVENT, THERE HAS BEEN A DIMINISHING AMOUNT OF TALK IN WASHINGTON OF MAKING HUGE FOOD SHIPMENTS TO REFUGEE POPULATIONS.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT HAS SET UP THE NECESSARY MACHINERY TO ADMINISTER THE FUND, HOWEVER, AND THE RED CROSS HAS ADVISED THE FRANCO-GERMAN ARMISTICE COMMISSION OF THE MANNER IN WHICH THE RELIEF ORGANIZATION OPERATES. NOTHING HAS BEEN HEARD FROM THE COMMISSION AS YET, IT IS SAID RELIABLY, AND THE RED CROSS WILL NOT MAKE FORMAL PROPOSALS TO THE BRITISH FOR PASSAGE THROUGH THE BLOCKADE UNTIL IT HAS AN IDEA AS TO WHAT THE COMMISSION IS WILLING TO LET IT DO.

ALTHOUGH EXPERTS OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT SAY THERE IS SUFFICIENT FOOD IN EUROPE TO PREVENT ANY WIDESPREAD STARVATION THIS WINTER, THEY QUESTION WHETHER IT CAN BE DISTRIBUTED PROPERLY IN VIEW OF DISRUPTED TRANSPORTATION SYSTEMS. IN THE LARGER CITIES OF INVADED COUNTRIES AND IN OTHER AREAS WHERE REFUGEES ARE GATHERED, THEY BELIEVE, FOOD SUPPLIES SOON MAY BE INADEQUATE.

IN FRANCE ALONE, IT IS ESTIMATED, THERE ARE 7,000,000 REFUGEES. THE HOMES OF MOST OF THESE ARE IN GERMAN-OCCUPIED TERRITORY AND, UNTIL THESE PERSONS CAN BE RETURNED, CITIES AND TOWNS IN THE UNOCCUPIED ZONE ARE SWOLLEN WITH TWO OR THREE TIMES THEIR NORMAL POPULATIONS.

AUG 5-1940

THIS IMMEDIATE SITUATION LED THE RED CROSS TO MAKE TENTATIVE ARRANGEMENTS, EBEN BEFORE HEARING FROM THE FRANCO-GERMAN ARMISTICE COMMISSION, FOR A RELIEF SHIP TO CARRY SUPPLIES TO THE UNOCCUPIED SECTION. ONE SUCH SHIP, THE MCKEESPORT, CARRYING $1,000,000

30.24-413

30.24-4113

NORTH OF FOOD, CLOTHING AND MEDICAL SUPPLIES, WAS PERMITTED BY THE BRITISH TO GO TO MARSEILLES AFTER FRANCE CAPITAULATED.

NORMAN DAVIS, CHAIRMAN OF THE RED CROSS, HAS SAID REPEATEDLY THAT ANY RELIEF UNDERTAKEN BY HIS ORGANIZATION WOULD HAVE TO BE UNDER COMPLETE AMERICAN SUPERVISION AND CONTROL. WHETHER GERMANY WOULD BE WILLING TO PERMIT A LARGE NUMBER OF AMERICAN RELIEF OFFICIALS IN OCCUPIED TERRITORY, SUCH AS THE REGION ALONG THE CHANNEL WHERE SHE NOW APPEARS TO BE PREPARING FOR AN INVASION OF ENGLAND, IS A MATTER OF CONJECTURE. THE RED CROSS HAS ONLY A NEGLIGIBLE NUMBER OF MEN IN OCCUPIED TERRITORY NOW.

A BRITISH POINT OF VIEW TOWARD LARGE-SCALE FOOD SHIPMENTS TO CONQUERED ALLIES WAS EXPRESSED A FEW DAYS AGO BY NOEL COWARD, PLAYWRIGHT NOW IN THIS COUNTRY AS A VOLUNTEER AGENT FOR ENGLAND'S MINISTER OF INFORMATION.

AUG 5 1940

"ANY FOOD SUPPLIES YOU MAY SEND FROM THE UNITED STATES WILL MAKE IT MORE DIFFICULT FOR US TO WIN," HE TOLD REPORTERS. "THE PROSPECT IS GRIM FOR THE UNFORTUNATES, BUT THIS IS A GRIM WAR. YOU CANNOT TRUST ANY GUARANTEES FROM GERMANY THAT FOOD WILL BE DELIVERED TO THE CONQUERED POPULATIONS.

"IF THESE POPULATIONS GET SHIPLOADS OF DELIGHTFUL FOOD FROM THIS COUNTRY THEY CAN SCARCELY BE EXPECTED TO REVOLT UNDER NAZI RULE."

THIS EXPRESSION HAS RAISED A QUESTION IN MANY MINDS AS TO WHETHER PUBLIC OPINION IN THE UNITED STATES WILL SUPPORT OR CONDEMN THE STERN BRITISH USE OF HER STRONGEST WEAPON, THE BLOCKADE. THE ANSWER PROBABLY WILL NOT BE APPARENT UNTIL AND UNLESS ENGLAND WITHSTANDS INVASION AND HUNGER BEGINS TO SPREAD ON THE CONTINENT AS IT DID WHEN THE BRITISH BLOCKADE OF ANOTHER DAY HELPED DEFEAT NAPOLEON. #

INSERTED IN UNDATED INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS BUDGET (FROM WX) AFTER EIGHTH GRAPH, WHICH BEGINS "THIS IMMEDIATE":

(X X X AFTER FRANCE CAPITULATED.

DISPATCHES FROM VICHY, FRANCE, YESTERDAY (SUNDAY) SAID THAT THE UNITED STATES HAD MADE A "LAST APPEAL" TO BRITAIN TO EASE HER BLOCKADE ON UNOCCUPIED FRANCE, BUT IN WASHINGTON STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS SAID THAT THEY HAD HAD NO NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE BRITISH ON THIS SUBJECT. THE REPORTS REFERRED POSSIBLY TO THE INFORMAL DISCUSSIONS WHICH RED CROSS OFFICIALS HAVE HAD CONCERNING FOOD FOR CHILDREN AND THE SECOND RELIEF SHIP FOR UNOCCUPIED FRANCE.

NORMAN DAVIS, ETC., PICKING UP IN PREVIOUS.

AUG 5-1940

SM453PES

NEW YORK, AUG. 4-(AP)-TWO BRITISH ROYAL AIR FORCE PILOTS ANNOUNCED TONIGHT THEY WERE ORGANIZING AN AVIATION UNIT IN MONTREAL TO FERRY BOMBING PLANES FROM CANADA TO GREAT BRITAIN.

THE PILOTS, CAPT. DONALD C. T. BENNETT, WELL-KNOWN TRANSATLANTIC FLIER, AND CAPT. R. H. PAGE, STOPPED HERE BRIEFLY EN ROUTE FROM CANADA TO CALIFORNIA FOR A "LIAISON WITH WEST COAST AIRCRAFT PLANTS."

THE TWO, EMPLOYED BY THE BRITISH IMPERIAL AIRWAYS AS CIVIL PILOTS, WERE LENT TO THE BRITISH AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION MINISTRY TO DEVELOP A TRANSATLANTIC SYSTEM FOR DELIVERING BOMBERS TO BRITAIN UNDER THEIR OWN POWER.

AUG 5-1940

THEY SAID AMERICAN NEUTRALITY LAWS PROHIBITED AMERICAN PILOTS FROM PARTICIPATING IN SUCH A SERVICE AND THAT THEY WERE "ONLY IN THE MARKET FOR CANADIAN PILOTS." #

NEW YORK, AUG. 4-(AP)-THE ROME RADIO BROADCAST A REPORT TODAY THAT THE BRITISH DIPLOMATIC STAFF HAS ARRIVED AT TANGIER IN SPANISH MOROCCO AFTER HAVING BEEN GIVEN 24 HOURS TO LEAVE FRENCH MOROCCO. THE REPORT WAS HEARD BY NBC.

W106PED

UNDATED 48TH WEEK OF THE WAR DAY-BY-DAY (LEAD TO COME)

SUNDAY, JULY 28--GERMANS INTRODUCE BOMB-BEARING FIGHTER PLANE AS 60 BRITISH AND NAZI AIRCRAFT BATTLE HIGH OVER ENGLAND'S SOUTHEASTSHORE; BRITISH SAY NINE RAIDERS DOWNED; PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE'S PEACE COMMISSION COMPLETED DRAFT OF "ACT OF HAVANA" TO DEFEND AMERICAS AGAINST INVASION OR "LAND GRABS"; NAZI ORDER STOPS RAILWAY TRAFFIC BETWEEN GERMAN-HELD AND UNOCCUPIED PARTS OF FRANCE; FRENCH GOVERNMENT PROTESTS BRITISH PROPAGANDA LEAFLET RAIDS; GERMANY CLAIMS BRITISH AUXILIARY CRUISER AND TWO DESTROYERS SUNK; NINE BRITISH BUSINESSMEN IN JAPAN REPORTED UNDER ARREST.

MONDAY, JULY 29--BRITISH REPORT 17 NAZI PLANES SHOT DOWN IN MASS ATTACK ON DOVER, THREE BOMBERS DESTROYER ELSEWHERE, AND ACKNOWLEDGE LOSS OF DESTROYER WREN AND TRAWLER; GERMANS SAY BRITISH NIGHT BOMBING RAIDS, WHICH LONDON CLAIMS STRUCK 17 NAZI AIRDROMES, COST RAF 11 PLANES; PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE APPROVES HEMISPHERE DEFENSE PROGRAM; FOUR BRITISH SOLDIERS REPORTED KILLED AND SEVEN INJURED IN GIBRALTAR AMMUNITION EXPLOSION.

AUG 5 - 1940

TUESDAY, JULY 30--GERMANY SHUTS ALL BUT ONE BORDER CROSSING ON SWISS FRONTIER AS SWITZERLAND HEARS REPORTS ITALIAN "POCKET" SUBMARINES HAVE BEEN SHIPPED INTO GERMANY; BRITISH ADMIT LOSS OF PATROL YACHT; 19 BRITONS AMONG UNDISCLOSED NUMBER OF FOREIGNERS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY IN JAPANESE ANTI-ESPIONAGE RAIDS; BRITISH, ITALIAN TROOPS IN HEAVY FIGHTING IN EAST AFRICA.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 31--BRITISH EXTEND BLOCKADE FROM ARCTIC TO AFRICA; GERMANY CLAIMS 1,270,000 TONS OF BRITISH SHIPPING SUNK SINCE JUNE 25; BRITISH ADMIRALTY DISCLOSES BATTLE OFF SOUTH AMERICAN COAST BETWEEN ARMED MERCHANT CRUISER ALCANTARA AND GERMAN RAIDER IN WHICH BOTH WERE HIT; SWISS REPORTS SAY GERMAN, ITALIAN TROOPS CONCENTRATED ALONG CONTINENTAL COAST, BUT FASCIST EDITOR GAYDA SAYS TIME NOT RIPE FOR BLITZKRIEG ON ENGLAND.

THURSDAY, AUG. 1--GERMANS DECLARE WAY PREPARED FOR DIVE-BOMBING ATTACKS ON BRITISH PORTS; PLANES DUEL OVER STRAITS OF DOVER; RUSSIAN PREMIER MOLOTOFF CHARGES UNITED STATES "IMPERIALISTIC DESIGNS" MAY TURN EUROPEAN CONFLICT INTO "WORLD IMPERIALISTIC WAR," ASSURES GERMANY OF "CALM FEELING OF SECURITY IN EAST" ; NEW JAPANESE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCES AGGRESSIVELY EXPANSIVE FOREIGN POLICY SEEKING DOMINATION OF "GREATER EAST ASIA" INCLUDING FRENCH INDO-CHINA AND DUTCH EAST INDIES.

LEAD 48TH WEEK OF THE WAR DAY-BY-DAY

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE FAMILIAR WORLD WAR TERM, "WAR OF ATTRITION," BECAME A HEADLINE PHRASE ONCE AGAIN LAST WEEK, THE FORTY-EIGHT WEEK OF THE CONFLICT WHICH BROKE OUT IN EUROPE LAST SEPTEMBER.

FOR INSTEAD OF THE MUCH TALKED OF LIGHTNING THRUST OF GERMAN MILITARY POWER AGAINST THE BRITISH ISLES, THE WAR DEVELOPED, AT LEAST FOR THE TIME, INTO A TEST OF ENDURANCE.

BRITAIN, TRYING TO STARVE OUT GERMANY AND ITALY, EXTENDED HER BLOCKADE FROM AFRICA TO THE ARCTIC. GERMANY, WITH BOMBING PLANE, U-BOAT AND SURFACE RAIDER, KEPT UP HER DRIVE AGAINST BRITISH SHIPPING AND ANNOUNCED GREAT NEW TOTALS OF TONNAGE SENT TO THE BOTTOM.

AXIS SPOKESMEN ADVISED THEIR PEOPLE THAT THE WAR ON BRITAIN WOULD BE SLOW FOR A WHILE, AND STRESSED THE NEED FOR LONG "SOFTENING" OF BRITISH RESISTANCE BEFORE A KNOCKOUT BLOW COULD BE HIT SUCCESSFULLY.

HOWEVER, THE BELLIGERENTS WERE FAR FROM IDLE, GERMAN BOMBERS SHUTTLED BACK AND FORTH ACROSS THE ENGLISH CHANNEL; THE ROYAL AIR FORCE RETURNED THE BLOWS---WITH INTEREST, THE BRITISH DECLARED.

AUG 5 - 1940

AT MIDWEEK A BRITISH SOURCE WARNED THAT STRAINED BRITISH-JAPANESE RELATIONS MIGHT PROVOKE JAPAN TO MILITARY ACTION; AT WEEK'S END THE FRICTION BLEW INTO A MAJOR INCIDENT WHEN THE BRITISH, ON AN EMPIRE-WIDE SPY HUNT, ARRESTED A BATCH OF JAPANESE, AMONG THEM THE TWO MOST PROMINENT JAPANESE BANKERS IN LONDON. JAPAN PROTESTED, HER PRESS SHOUTED IT WAS RETALIATION FOR SIMILAR ARRESTS BY JAPAN. BRITAIN SAID NO, IT WASN'T RETALIATION.

SOVIET RUSSIA HIT THE INTERNATIONAL NEWS SPOTLIGHT WITH A BLAST FROM FOREIGN MINISTER MOLOTOFF LAMBASTING UNITED STATES "IMPERIALISTIC DESIGNS" TO TURN THE WAR INTO "WORLD IMPERIALISTIC WAR." THE UNITED STATES NAVY WENT QUIETLY ABOUT STRENGTHENING DEFENSES IN ALASKA--JUST ACROSS THE BERING STRAITS FROM BIG DIOMEDE ISLAND WHERE THE SOVIET IS BUILDING A BIG AIR BASE.

JAPAN PROMULGATED A NEW POLICY TO DOMINATE THE SOUTH SEAS AS WELL AS EASTERN ASIA. BEATEN FRANCE WRESTLED WITH HER EVER MORE ACUTE FOOD PROBLEM AND SET AUG. 8 FOR THE "WAR GUILT" TRIALS OF HER FORMER LEADERS.

SUNDAY, JULY 28--X X X PICKING UP DAY-BY-DAY.

UNDATED--FIRST ADD 48TH WEEK OF THE WAR DAY-BY-DAY X X X EAST INDIES.

FRIDAY, AUG. 3--BRITISH SAY THEIR BOMBINGS HAVE RUINED HAMBURG; GERMANY REPORTS FURTHER LOSSES TO BRITISH SHIPPING; ITALIANS ASSERT BRITISH SUBMARINE SUNK, SURFACE BATTLESHIP SET ON FIRE BY ITALIAN BOMBS; FRENCH SET AUG. 8 FOR WAR GUILT TRIALS; DE GAULLE CONDEMNED TO DEATH; SOVIET RUSSIA INCORPORATES BESSARABIA AND

(CONTINUED)

30.24-4115

30.24-4115

NORTHERN BUCOVINA; SOVIET PRESS SAYS FINNS CLUBBING "PRO-RUSSIAN WORKERS" IN HELSINKI.

SATURDAY, AUG. 3--BRITISH ARREST LONDON'S TWO MOST PROMINENT JAPANESE BANKERS AND OTHER JAPANESE THROUGHOUT EMPIRE IN BIG SPY HUNT, DECLARES MOVE NOT RETALIATION FOR JAPANESE ARRESTS OF BRITISH; JAPAN PROTESTS; GERMANY SAYS 350 ENEMY PLANES DOWNED, 260,000 TONS OF MERCHANT SHIPPING AND 25,000 TONS OF WAR VESSELS SUNK IN JULY IN ADDITION TO MANY MORE DAMAGED; CAIRO REPORT SAYS "HUNDREDS" OF ITALIANS KILLED IN AFRICAN FIGHTING; GERMAN PLANES KEEP UP RAIDS ON BRITAIN; JAPAN REPORTED MAKING "IMPORTANT REPRESENTATIONS" TO FRENCH INDO-CHINA; FRANCE DISSOLVES FREEMASONRY AND ALL OTHER SECRET SOCIETIES; UNITED STATES NAVY TO STRENGTHEN ALASKAN DEFENSES OPPOSITE NEW SOVIET RUSSIAN AIR BASE ON BIG DIOMEDE ISLAND.

AUG 5 - 1940

TA934PED

British Planes Fight Battle Near Calais

London, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Air Ministry communique tonight said British bombers attacked the oil plant at Sterkrade, in the Ruhr, and left it in flames.

AUG 6 - 1940 30.24

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 5—The Air Ministry today reported three Messerschmitt fighters were shot down this morning as Spitfire pilots continued to carry the war into the Nazi camp.

Two of the Messerschmitts were shot down on the far side of the English Channel, within range of German anti-aircraft guns, by a squadron of nine Spitfires, the Air Ministry said.

"Almost at the same time, another Spitfire squadron shot down a third Messerschmitt 109 fighter on the English side of the Channel," an official description of the battle added. The British reported the loss of one plane.

Met North Of Calais

"It was four miles north of Calais that the first squadron of Spitfires met the enemy," the account said. "There were five of the enemy patroling, as they thought, in comfortable security.

"The squadron leader began the attack. He fired a burst into one of the Messerschmitts as it dived to escape. He saw it hit the sea. So did a fellow pilot.

"Then he fired two long bursts at another Messerschmitt, which was trying to get its own fire back on one of the Spitfires.

Couldn't Follow One

"Smoke poured from the Messerschmitt, but in the middle of the action it was impossible to follow it down, so it is not claimed as a certain casualty.

"A sergeant pilot caught another Messerschmitt as it was doing a stall turn. This, too, crashed into the sea.

"Meantime another British pilot was hard on the tail of an enemy fighter which at an early stage had made a dash for the French coast. Fragments were seen breaking off its port wing and the enemy fell away toward France. It must have had difficulty in making a safe landing."

The Air Ministry said the same squadron leader in today's battle "did well" in the Dover air clash July 29, when he accounted for one Nazi bomber and one fighter.

20 Germans Involved

Some twenty German planes were engaged in the scrap on this side of the Channel, in which one Nazi craft was downed. The British pilots said that within four minutes they had cleared the skies of Germans.

Authoritative sources indicated the Royal Air Force, attempting to smash any invasion before it could be launched, was hurling more and more planes into nightly attacks on German industrial centers, troop concentrations and Channel bases.

"Headache For Germany"

"Germany is out for a bigger headache than she has yet suffered," one spokesman predicted grimly.

The Government, meanwhile, moved to strengthen Britain's defenses by placing the Home Guard—now 1,500,000 strong — under new leadership, replacing with younger officers a handful of elderly generals whose ideas of war were described as "highly antiquated."

At the same time the civilian population surrendered its traditional August bank holiday to speed the work of producing munitions and vital war supplies.

Thousands of green and yellow leaflets containing extracts of Adolf Hitler's peace-offer speech to the Reichstag were dropped in a northeast England town and in sections of southeast England last night.

Saturady night and Sunday morning German raiders bombed the Thames estuary, Wales and eastern Scotland, but no casualties were reported.

(A German communique said attacks had been carried out on Swansea, Wales and on an oil harbor near Liverpool, where large fires were started.)

A military agreement between Britain and the Polish Government in exile, reaffirming a determination to fight to the finish against Germany, was signed today at 10 Downing street.

The agreement was signed by Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Minister Lord Halifax for Britain and by Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, Premier and Minister of Military Affairs for the Polish Government.

It provides for the organization and employment of Polish forces under British command and grants British credits to finance the cost of maintaining the Polish troops.

Queen Elizabeth observed her fortieth birthday yesterday, spending a quiet day in the country with King George and Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose. The bells of St. George's chapel at Windsor Castle, which for centuries have rung in honor of royal birthdays, remained silent—stilled by an order that church bells may be rung only to warn of invasion.

ENGLISH DESTROY OIL PLANT IN RUHR

Tons Of Bombs Are Dropped On Synthetic Petroleum Works At Sterkrade

London Says Nation's Plane Production Now Equals That Of Germany

[By the Associated Press]

London, Tuesday, Aug. 6—German planes stabbed at various points in Britain early today with the sharpest activity of the widespread raids centered on the northeast coast of England.

AUG 6 1940

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 5—The entire German radio system is going off the air until 4.15 A. M. tomorrow for "technical alterations," according to an English-language broadcast of the German radio heard here tonight by NBC.

The station went silent immediately after the announcement at 10.22 P. M.

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 5—Britain's aircraft production now equals Germany's, it was declared authoritatively today.

Britons heard that their plane factories were running "neck and neck" with the German output, and that, with United States and Canadian production, their monthly accumulation of planes actually exceeds that of the Nazis.

Supporting evidence was offered in increasingly violent aerial smashes at potential continental hopping-off places for the Nazi-invasion attempt believed close at hand.

Set Oil Plant Afire

Tonight's Air Ministry communique said British bombers, carrying out their nightly forays, set ablaze an oil plant at Sterkrade in the Ruhr and a hangar at Krefeld last night without the loss of a single plane.

Fourteen tons of high-explosive and incendiary bombs were rained on the synthetic oil works at Sterkrade, the Air Ministry announced.

The returning pilots said they first shattered the tanks, then fired the oil flowing from them with their incendiaries. They told of earth-jarring explosions followed by flames which lighted up the countryside for miles around.

Say Three Were Shot Down

British planes reported three Messerschmitt fighters shot down, two within range of German anti-aircraft guns on the French coast. One British plane was lost.

The Germans kept up their harassing attacks on Britain early today, dropping high-explosive and incendiary bombs in isolated districts of the midlands and East England.

Big forces of Nazi planes approached the southeast coast several times, but made no attempt to cross. Machine-gun fire was heard in the late afternoon when R. A. F. fighters made contact with the Germans. The invaders broke off the engagement and sped back to the French coast.

Hamburg Raids Report

The R. A. F. was reported to have registered direct hits in every one of twenty-three bombing attacks on the German port city of Hamburg since May 10—part of Britain's forty-eight raids into Germany in the last fifty-six nights.

The detailed report on the objectives at Hamburg was made by Alfred Duff Cooper, Information Minister, in reply to German denials of British reports that port facilities, oil refineries and munitions factories at Hamburg were "practically in ruins."

Duff Cooper said the oil depots were attacked fourteen times, the docks six times, the railroads three times and the Hamburg airdrome twice. "In some cases," he said, "fires were started which were seen as much as eighty miles away on the bombers' return journey."

[Associated Press Editor's Note—American correspondents on a German-conducted trip to Hamburg were taken to a churchtop from which, they said, there was no sign of damage to the port and harbor facilities that they could see.]

All Can't Be Seen

The Minister of Information commented that in a city as large as Hamburg damage to scattered munitions factories might not be seen from a single observation point, and only a small part of the twenty miles of docks could be observed.

Of Britain's repeated raids into Germany he said:

"It is well known that railways in the Ruhr district and elsewhere were seriously dislocated early in July.

"There have been raids in Germany on forty-eight nights out of the last fifty-six and British air authorities are very well satisfied with the results.

"Over 120 separate targets were bombed in one month. Perhaps the most striking fact of all is that during a recent period of a month German aircraft dropped 7,000 bombs on the British Isles but the Royal Air Force dropped 37,000 bombs on Germany."

Compare Activity

Authoritative quarters, telling of Britain's stepped-up airplane production, compared the increasing activity of Britain's bombers and that of the German air force.

During a recent month the British dropped 33,431 bombs in Germany and German-occupied territory, while the Nazis were dropping 6,987 bombs on Britain.

Despite equality in production, it was pointed out that it might take a long time to overcome Germany's numerical superiority.

Must Be Close To Peak

These informants said that if Germany has not reached her peak, she must be close to it, while the production of British and American plants could be increased still further.

They insisted Germany was bound to face a shortage of raw materials because of the British blockade.

Unofficially, Germany's plants were estimated turning out between 1,500 and 1,600 planes a month.

England said German air activity has been little more than armed reconnaissance to give pilots experience in night flying, to feel out British defenses and to provide the German people with communiques.

Little Damage In Raids

In mass raids on Britain, sometimes with as many as one hundred planes, they said there had been little damage and comparatively few casualties.

The R. A. F. was said to have produced photographic evidence of damage inflicted in its persistent raids on Germany's factories, refineries and military concentrations.

These informants said this was accounted for by the superiority of British air crews and the fact it is easier to find German objectives because of that country's long straight roads, extensive canal system, big river and other landmarks.

The British say 307 raiding planes have been downed since July 19 by their fighters and home defenses, while they place their own losses at 172 planes.

Cagliari Bombed.

LONDON, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—The Admiralty announced today that torpedo-carrying swordfish planes had scored direct hits on hangars at the Italian airdrome at Cagliari, Sardinia, during fleet operations in the Mediterranean on Aug. 1 and 2.

Two of the planes were reported lost in the attack, but the British said that three Italian craft had been shot down by naval dive bombers in attacks on the British fleet.

A British communique said direct hits were scored on three ships and on dock facilities in the Derna raid, and that one Italian plane had dropped twenty bombs near Wajir with "no effect."

British quarters said that approximately fifteen Italian submarines, one cruiser, three destroyers and one store ship had been destroyed since Italy entered the war on June 10. The best available information placed the number of Italian submarines in operation at the start of the conflict at 104.

Mine Sinks Ship At Copenhagen

LONDON, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—The Exchange Telegraph reported tonight from Goteborg, Sweden, that a Danish passenger ship with several persons aboard struck a mine and sank Sunday night while leaving Copenhagen Harbor.

The mine apparently had been sown in the Danish port by a British airplane, the dispatch said.

All Copenhagen ship traffic was suspended today, it reported.

The agency said all the passengers were believed to have been saved by a German warship.

U-BOAT OFF IRELAND SINKS SWEDISH SHIP

British Trawler Strikes a Mine —Danish Vessel Is Lost

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 5—The 1,981-ton Swedish steamer Sigyn was torpedoed by a German submarine off the west coast of Ireland, it was announced today. The Sigyn foundered in ten minutes. A Royal Air Force plane, which sighted the twenty-three members of the crew in a lifeboat, sent a British warship to their aid.

The sinking of the British minesweeping trawler Marsona, 276 tons, by an enemy mine, with "some casualties," also was announced by the Admiralty tonight.

Texan Wins Out In Dogfight In First Flight With R. A. F.

"Great Fun—Never So Tickled In My Life," He Says After Two Nazis Are Shot Down

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 5—"Texas Shorty," a 27-year-old American air adventurer from Laredo, exchanged shots with Germans today in a dogfight over the French coast in which he and his new British mates were credited with downing two Nazi planes on his first pursuit with the Royal Air Force.

His plane was punctured by Nazi bullets but he landed it safely—and asked for more.

"Great Fun," He Says

"Great fun—wouldn't have missed it for all the Japs in China," he said. He reported for active duty only yesterday.

The Air Ministry said the American pilot chased two Messerschmitts, hit one, and himself was attacked by other German fighters. The Ministry refused to give out his name.

"I was never so tickled in my life," the Texan said. "We went across the Channel to look for trouble, but it was the Germans who found it.

"Four miles from Calais at 10,000 feet we saw five Messerschmitt 109s and somewhere around was a larger group of them.

Leader Sets Pace

"We sailed right into them and our squadron leader set the pace by cracking down one Messerschmitt. He and another pilot saw it dive into the sea.

"Then another pilot chased one German toward France and shot pieces off of it. I had a good crack at one myself, but suddenly found two others on me. Something hit the fuselage, shaking us a bit, but we came out of it quickly.

"While I whirled around another Messerschmitt fired into the cowling. I had another crack at him before he disappeared, then we turned for home."

Gets Quick Acceptance

The young Texan, short and fair-haired, said he decided to join the R. A. F. after France had collapsed, went to Ottawa from Texas and showed a logbook with 1,500 flying hours.

"In fifteen minutes I was out on the street again with a promise that I would be on the next boat to England. And I was.

"After all my flying in big planes I thought I might be put on bombers, but I really wanted a Spitfire or Hurricane. For three weeks I was tried out in a Spitfire, then reported yesterday for action.

"This Spitfire is a beautiful job. Once I got the hang of it I knew that I could fly it anywhere and anyhow."

Identify Texas Flyer As Laredo Instructor

Laredo, Texas, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Laredo aviator now fighting with the British Royal Air Force was identified by residents of this city as Arthur Donahue, for two years an instructor at a local flying school.

Donahue left here several weeks ago for Ottawa. A letter received by friends Saturday said he had reached England on the steamer, Duchess of Atholl.

Britons Matching Nazi Plane Output

Air War On England — A pictorial map and a Behind-the-News story appear on Page 16.

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 5—Great Britain's production of aircraft now is running "neck and neck" with the output of German factories, an authoritative source declared today.

Taking into consideration the production of Canada and the United States on British order, Britain's monthly accumulation of planes now exceeds that of Germany, this source declared.

However, it was pointed out that, while equality of production with Germany has been achieved, it may take a long time to come abreast of Germany's numerical superiority. There are several factors indicating this goal also will be reached, this source added.

It was declared that Britain's force of fighting planes had been "substantially increased in the last few weeks and it is being increased further," with larger reserves of planes and experienced pilots.

Drop 33,431 Bombs

The informant said that Britain's air force has been more active with bombing missions, and cited that in a recent month the R. A. F. dropped 33,431 bombs in Germany and German-occupied territory while the warplanes of Reichs Marshall Hermann Goering were dropping 6,987 bombs on this country.

The aerial warfare entered a new phase July 18 when Germany started night bombing attacks on Britain, and since then the Nazis have sent between fifty and one hundred planes over Britain every night.

Reich Activity Slows Up

British experts, however, say German air activity over Britain up to now is little more than armed reconnaissance, carried out for three reasons: first, it gives pilots and crews experience in night operations; second, it feels out British defenses; third, it provides the German people with communiques regarding damage done to Britain.

This source said German raids had produced little damage to Britain, but on the other hand the R. A. F. has photographic proof of the damage its bombs have caused to Germany's factories, refineries and military concentrations.

BRITISH RELEASE ONE OF JAPANESE ARRESTED FRIDAY

Makihara Freed as London Gets Third Protest From Tokio.

LONDON, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—Satoru Makihara, one of two prominent Japanese business men arrested in London last Friday, was released tonight.

This development came along with reports reaching London that the influential Japanese newspaper Nichi Nichi had declared that Japan will, if necessary, break off diplomatic relations with England if she fails to obtain satisfaction.

A Japanese embassy spokesman declared today that the embassy considered unsatisfactory Great Britain's explanation of the arrest of the two men.

Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu was busy preparing a third protest for submission to the British Foreign Office.

In addition to Mr. Makihara and Shunsukei Tanabe, London representatives respectively of the powerful Mitsubishi and Mitsui interests who were arrested Friday night, it was understood that the protest would cover the detention of other Japanese throughout the empire.

Visited By Consul.

Prior to the Ambassador's new conference with Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax, the Japanese consul visited Mr. Makihara and Mr. Tanabe.

The announcement of the third protest was made by the embassy as soon as confirmation was received of the arrest of three Japanese business men in Rangoon and of a Japanese journalist at Singapore.

Four Japanese, two of whom have been ordered deported, are being held in London. A Hongkong merchant, taken into custody Saturday, made the number arrested throughout the empire total nine.

The British police in Rangoon said the three arrested there under defense regulations were Iohiro Orihata and Naozo Kokubu, each the owner of a company bearing his name, and Tadasu Oba, a trade agent.

The British Foreign Office announced today that Japan had reported release of three more of the Britons seized in Japan and Korea in what Tokio officials described as a drive against an "espionage network." Seven still are detained.

The British offered as at least partial substantiation for authoritative denials their arrests are in retaliation for the Japanese drive the disclosure that the two Japanese ordered deported were placed under arrest almost two weeks before the Japanese drive began.

Man and Woman Held.

The two ordered deported were said by Japanese to be Takayuki Eguchi, employee of the Bank of Formosa, and Mrs. Milly Yoshii, the German-born wife of a Japanese painter, arrested on July 10 and 13, respectively.

Domei, the Japanese news agency, said they were held under the same charges which brought the arrest last Friday night of Satoru Mikahara and Shunsukei Tanabe, the London representatives of two of Japan's most powerful banking houses. But British spokesmen said the man and woman were detained on "purely routine matters."

Mr. Mikahara and Mr. Tanabe, it has been maintained unofficially, were arrested under the wartime aliens regulations act for national security. Other sources, close to the Government, said the arrests "would have been justified long ago" but finally were ordered because the British Home Office could not disregard statements by Japan's Minister of War and Minister of Justice describing Britain as a "hostile nation."

30.24-4117

30.24-4117

The newspaper man arrested at Singapore was Ishiro Kobayashi, correspondent for the Domei and Eastern news agencies.

Arrest at Hongkong.

At Hongkong Geturo Yamaguchi was detained under the "emergency defense regulations." Specific charges against the Japanese merchant were not disclosed.

Yamaguchi formerly resided in Foochow, China, and recently has been trading between Canton and Hongkong.

Japanese Consul-General Katsuro Okazaki informed the Japanese Government today of the arrest. He said he would withhold comment.

While some quarters identified the Japanese arrested in Rangoon as journalists, a Reuters, British news agency, dispatch from Shanghai, quoting Domei, identified them as business men.

Mrs. Melville James Cox, widow of the Reuters correspondent who plunged to his death from a window of the Tokio police headquarters last Monday while under questioning in an espionage inquiry, is seriously ill, according to a Reuters dispatch today from the Japanese capital.

The dispatch said Mrs. Cox had suffered a complete collapse because of shock.

JAPANESE HELD IN LONDON IS GIVEN FREEDOM

One Of Two Businessmen Caught There Released For Lack Of Evidence

Report On Troubles With Tokyo Will Be Given To Commons Today

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Shanghai, Tuesday, Aug. 6—A Chinese gunman today killed Capt. Paul Yankovsky, White Russian director of the Japanese affairs section of the French Concession's police.

The killer rang the bell of Yankovsky's apartment and shot him when he opened the door.

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 5—Great Britain tonight released one of the two highly placed Japanese businessmen seized in an empire-wide roundup of Japan's nationals, and the Churchill Government made ready to lay its difficulties with the Japanese before Commons tomorrow.

The first Japanese arrested last Friday was Satoru Makihara, London agent for the vast Mitsubishi interests, and he was the first released amid growing Japanese protests and demonstrations. Eight other Japanese remained in custody in various parts of the empire.

It was said reliably the Home Office decided "evidence available was insufficient to warrant further detention" of Makihara.

Leaves Brixton Prison

Makihari left Brixton Prison for his London home. He was arrested last Friday.

Either Prime Minister Churchill or R. A. Butler, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, will make the statement on British-Japanese relations, it was said.

Before the release of Makihara, hints that Japan would sever diplomatic relations with Great Britain if necessary to obtain satisfaction widened the breach between the countries.

Prepares Third Protest

Japan had made two strong protests over the seizure of two prominent Japanese businessmen in London and was reported drafting a third and stronger note to include all Japanese taken in custody.

But, to all protests, the British have quietly said the arrests were coincidental with the arrests of British citizens by the Japanese in an espionage inquiry and certainly could not be considered reprisals.

The Japanese Embassy said Britain's answer was highly unsatisfactory.

[Editor's Note—From Tokyo, the Associated Press reported that the Japanese newspaper Nichi Nichi did not say that Japan would, if necessary, break off diplomatic relations with England. It was said that the influential newspaper had been misquoted by the German radio.]

To Demand Release

Reports from Tokyo said the highest officials of the Japanese Foreign Office had decided to demand immediate release of all the Japanese.

Nine have been arrested in London, Hongkong, Singapore and Rangoon.

All but seven British detained by the Japanese have been released.

Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu spent the day preparing the third protest but did not call upon Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax.

London-Tokyo Break?

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 5 (Via Radio)—The Berlin radio tonight quoted an influential Tokyo newspaper as declaring that "Japan will, if necessary, break off diplomatic relations with England" if she fails to obtain satisfaction concerning the arrests of Japanese nationals in British territory.

A broadcast dispatch from Tokyo said the newspaper Nichi Nichi reported that the highest officials of the Japanese Foreign Office, with Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka presiding, decided to demand immediate release of all Japanese under arrest by the British. Nine have been detained in London, Hongkong, Singapore and Rangoon.

Nichi Nichi said notes to be handed simultaneously to the British Government in London and the British Ambassador in Tokyo also would demand guarantees against recurrence of the arrests.

Anti-British Mass Meetings

[By the Associated Press]

Tokyo, Aug. 5 (Via Radio)—Elimination of "offensive British influence in Japan" was demanded at a mass meeting arranged by all Japanese political parties in Osaka, Japan's second city, Domei, Japanese news agency, said in a broadcast tonight.

Domei reported anti-British mass meetings in Tokyo and other cities adopted similar resolutions urging "energetic measures" against Britain.

Meeting At Kobe

At Kobe, the news agency said, the Chamber of Commerce and Industry asked the Government to "revise its attitude" toward Britain.

The first organized reaction to the British arrests, most of which followed upon Japan's own roundup of Britons in a widespread spy hunt, came as the Government here maintained silence on the latest developments in strained Japanese-British relations.

Study Envoy's Report

Yakichiro Suma, Foreign Office spokesman said a complete report from Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu would have to be studied to determine whether official Japan considered the British action one of reprisal.

Domei said the unanimously adopted Kobe resolution urged the Japanese War, Navy, Foreign and Commerce Industry Ministries to "go ahead in the execution of their fixed policies."

In calling tonight's mass meeting, the news agency said, all parties of the Osaka Municipal Assembly went on record firmly supporting "the establishment of a great East Asiatic sphere of common prosperity and to combat outrageous British influence."

Spy System Reported

At Shanghai, the Japanese military newspaper Tairiku told of "sensational details regarding the British espionage organization in China," Domei reported.

The newspaper said this organization employed fifty Chinese spies and was headed "by a man named Scott."

The Tokyo newspaper Nichi Nichi said Lord Halifax, British Foreign Secretary, had declined Ambassador Shigemitsu's demands for release of arrested Japanese on grounds that their case was in the hands of "ordinary courts."

6,221 NAVY MEN LOST BY BRITAIN IN THE WAR

Royal Air Force Casualties Are Put at More Than 4,000

AUG 6 - 1940

LONDON, Tuesday, Aug. 6 (AP)—The British Navy was estimated today to have lost 6,221 officers and men, killed or missing, since the war began.

Royal Air Force casualties in eleven months of fighting were placed at more than 4,000.

Admiralty announcements showed 2,988 sailors and officers killed or fatally wounded, 3,204 missing and 29 taken prisoner. In addition, 1,849 were wounded.

The Air Ministry's forty-first casualty list, covering an unspecified period, was released today, showing 150 airmen missing and 22 killed in action. Added to the previous list, it gave a total for the war of 1,782 missing, 620 killed and 241 wounded in action; 358 who died, 739 killed and 174 wounded "on active service"; and 188 prisoners of war.

"Active service" casualties are those suffered in non-operational flying duties or on the ground through enemy action, the Air Ministry explained.

21 BRITISH SAILORS KILLED

25 Others Wounded In Nazi Air Attack On Destroyer Bases

London, Aug. 5 (AP)—Twenty-one British sailors died as a result of two attacks by Nazi dive bombers on the destroyer Boreas in the English Channel on July 25, the Admiralty announced tonight. Twenty-five others were wounded.

The destroyer was damaged as she and another destroyer returned from a chase of German torpedo boats which had attacked their twenty-one-ship convoy.

BURMA ACTION STIRS INDIANS

Group Gandhi Founded Sees Aggressor Aided.

BRITAIN GETS A REPRIMAND

Meanwhile New Tokio Demands on Indo-China Are Reported.

AUG 6 - 1940

LONDON, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—The India League in London published today a declaration of the powerful All-India Congress party (Gandhi nationalists) disapproving of Great Britain's agreement with Japan to close the Burma road for three months to war supplies for the Chinese Army.

The declaration, telegraphed to the league by the party secretary, J. A. Kripalani, said that this action constituted a flouting of Indian opinion and was clearly an encouragement to an aggressor nation.

BRITAIN ARRESTS ADMIRAL WOLKOV

Daughter of Former Russian Officer Also Held.

AUG 6 - 1940

LONDON, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—The Evening News reported today that Rear Admiral Nicholas Wolkov, formerly of the Imperial Russian Navy and once naval attache in London, and his daughter, Anna, about 40 years old, had been interned under defense regulations.

Scotland Yard officers arrested Miss Wolkov, the newspaper said, and later arrested the Admiral at a Russian tea room which his wife operates.

It was not disclosed whether Miss Wolkov was the same Anna Wolkov, a Russian dressmaker, who was linked with Tyler Kent, a former employee of the United States embassy, who was charged last week under the official secrets act.

Death Of Julius Streicher, Nazi Jew Baiter, Reported

London News Agency Says Hitler Confidant And Spearhead Of Anti-Semitic Movement Has Died

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 5—A Reuters dispatch said tonight that Julius Streicher, Governor of Franconia and Germany's No. 1 Jew baiter, was dead, according to reports from a well-informed source in Germany.

The news agency dated its story from the "German frontier."

Streicher, 55, was with Adolf Hitler in Munich last November when a bomb exploded in the beer hall soon after Hitler had departed.

Streicher was the spearhead of the anti-Jewish movement in Germany for years and founded the National Socialist party in Franconia, where he was district leader.

Served Jail Terms

Like many of Hitler's companions from the old days when the party was struggling to power, he served several jail terms. He was with the Führer in the abortive Munich putsch in 1923 and was confined to Landsberg penitentiary with Hitler.

The Nazi party later made a shrine of the cell he occupied.

Streicher long exercised considerable influence with Hitler, when other Nazis were content to leave the Jews undisturbed in German business, Streicher urged their removal. Streicher won.

Close Friend Of Hitler

When others drew the anti-Semitic line at things religious, Streicher demanded the razing of synagogues.

Those at Munich and Nürnberg soon were demolished.

Hitler's close friendship with the bald, heavy-set Streicher was demonstrated on the latter's fiftieth birthday, when Hitler appeared in Nürnberg to congratulate his trusted coworker.

Streicher founded the newspaper Der Stuermer (the stormer) soon after his release from prison in the '20s, using it for violent attacks on the Jews.

He exposed "Jewish plots" to murder Hitler, blamed the Italo-Ethiopian war on the Jews and attacked the United States as a Jewish-ruled nation.

At other times he has likened Adolf Hitler to Christ.

New Synthetic Drug Restores Memory Of Young British Soldier

London, Aug. 5 (AP)—Restoration of a young soldier's memory with an injection of cardiazol, a new synthetic drug with some of the effects of camphor, is described in the British Medical Journal.

He was found wandering, clad only in shirt and socks. He could not remember who he was, but called himself by the names of film stars or else repeated "seven" or "seventy-seven" to every question.

A different form of synthetic camphor, metrazol has recently been curing some cases of split personality insanity, and use of cardiazol to treat amnesia, or forgetfulness, is an offshoot of that treatment. The synthetic camphors have the same effect on the brain and spinal cord as real camphor, causing a more or less severe shock.

Communiques of Belligerents

British

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP).—An Air Ministry communique tonight said:

Last night Royal Air Force bombers attacked the oil plant at Sterkrade, in the Ruhr. Considerable damage was done to the target, which was left in flames. An attack was also made on Krefeld airdrome, where a hangar was hit and fires started among the airdrome buildings. All our aircraft returned safely.

A joint communique of the Air and Home Security Ministries today said:

Enemy aircraft dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs in a few isolated districts in the Midlands and eastern England last night. Damage was negligible and there were few casualties, one of which was fatal.

CAIRO, Aug. 5 (AP).—The Royal Air Force issued two communiques today. The first said:

Enemy bombers attacked Marsa Matruh (Egypt). Bombs were dropped, but there were no R. A. F. casualties. Our fighters intercepted the raiders and forced a number of the enemy aircraft to jettison their bombs into the sea. Two enemy aircraft were so badly damaged that it is unlikely that they returned to their base.

In the Dagabur area in Italian East Africa three bombers were machine-gunned on the ground from a height of 150 feet.

A fuel dump at Massawa (Eritrea) was raided by a small force of bombers. All bombs were dropped in the target area and a building was struck. Enemy fighters attacked, and anti-aircraft fire was intense, but all our aircraft returned safely.

Another raid was made on Massawa harbor. In a low level attack bombs were seen to burst among submarines and a direct hit was scored on a naval vessel.

On Aug. 3 three enemy bombers attacked a ship in Berbera harbor (British Somaliland), but our fighters intercepted and severely damaged and possibly shot down one raider.

The second said:

British reconnaissance aircraft, escorted by four fighters, met fifty enemy fighters in the Bir el Gobbi area of eastern Libya yesterday and in the ensuing battle three enemy aircraft were shot down, two in flames.

A force of our bombers attacked motor transport concentrations east of Bir el Gobbi. On the way to the target they engaged about fifty fighters. Two were shot down by our aircraft, while a third enemy fighter was shot down by the enemy's own anti-aircraft fire. One of our bombers are missing.

Enemy aircraft bombed Sidi Barrani in the Western Desert from a considerable height yesterday. Our fighters took off in order to intercept them, but without a decisive result.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP).—The German high command communique said:

The air force on Aug. 4 reconnoitered over England, Scotland and the sea regions off these coasts. In the course of these operations one merchant ship was sunk at the exit of St. George Channel about 100 kilometers (sixty-two miles) southwest of Pembroke.

During the night of Aug. 4-5, our fighting planes attacked Sheerness and shipyards, oil deposits and anti-aircraft positions near North Killingholme as well as anti-aircraft positions at Thames Haven.

A number of British planes during the night entered western Germany and dropped several bombs. There was slight damage to houses. One farm house was set afire in the district of Borken. One civilian was killed.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 5 (AP).—Today's Italian high command communique said:

One of our formations of attack and chaser planes engaged in a most lively fight in North Africa against a large enemy formation which attempted to bombard our Libyan troops in movement at the Cyrenaican (Libyan - Egyptian) border.

In fighting which our planes carried out with extreme vigor, ten enemy planes were shot down, including seven Glosters and three Blenheims.

About ten enemy motor trucks were hit and set on fire.

An English fighting plane was shot down by our bombers, which effectively bombed near Marsa Matruh. All our planes returned to their bases.

In East Africa, strong enemy attacks at Namaraput and Lake Rudolf, at the upper Sudan border, were repulsed with the aid of the population.

One of our air formations bombed the port of Berbera (British Somaliland), scoring a direct hit on a ship.

Enemy air raids on Massawa caused light damage in the harbor. Four were killed and thirty wounded, including eleven Askari (native) troops. Two enemy planes were shot down and a third probably was shot down.

An enemy plane was shot down at Kassala (Anglo-Egyptian Sudan) by anti-aircraft defense.

Ship Sunk At Mouth Of Channel, Nazis Say

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 5 — The German air force carried out a number of raids on British anti-aircraft positions, oil tanks and shipyards yesterday, the high command announced today, claiming British bombs dropped in western Germany last night caused little damage.

In reconnoitering operations over England, Scotland and "the sea regions off these coasts," the high command's daily communique said, a merchant ship was sunk at the mouth of St. George's channel, about sixty-five miles southwest of Pembroke.

Also Bomb Oil Tanks

During the night, the high command said, German warplanes bombed oil storage tanks and shipyards at Sheerness, in the Thames estuary. Anti-aircraft positions were attacked at Thames Haven, in the Thames estuary, and North Killingholme, in the Humber river estuary.

British raiders flying over Western Germany, did slight damage to houses and killed one civilian, the high command added.

Communique Issued

The high command communique today said:

"The air force August 4 reconnoitered over England, Scotland and the sea regions off these coasts. In the course of these operations one merchant ship was sunk at the exit of St. George Channel, about 100 kilometers (sixty-two miles) southwest of Pembroke.

"In the course of the night of August 4-5 our fighting planes attacked Sheerness and shipyards, oil deposits and anti-aircraft positions near North Killingholm, as well as anti-aircraft positions at Thameshaven.

"A number of British planes during the night entered western Germany and dropped several bombs. There was slight damage to houses. One farmhouse was set afire in the district of Borken. One civilian was killed."

Italian Version

[By the Associated Press]

Rome, Aug. 5—Some of Britain's most important strategic centers in Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Kenya and Aden zones, including newly built air fields, were wrecked over the week end by Italian air bombardment, Stefani, official Italian news agency, reported today.

New British air bases, the agency said, were discovered by Italian scouting planes and attacked by strong bombing squadrons.

Not only was a large hangar set afire at Haiya, important Anglo-Egyptian Sudan railway center, Stefani declared, but planes on the ground were so badly damaged they were put out of action.

Reports 14 Planes Downed

Besides these blows along the Red Sea front in East Africa, the Italian high command reported ten British planes shot down in a fierce air battle yesterday when the British attempted to bomb Libyan troops near the Egyptian frontier in North Africa.

In all, it said, Britain lost fourteen planes in Africa yesterday.

The new British air bases were discovered particularly in the upper Sudan, Stefani said.

Report Rail Line Crippled

Italians considered the attack on the Haiya railroad junction, where the tracks were reported ripped up, as of first importance since rail lines linking the Sudan territory with Port Sudan on the Red Sea meet there.

"Our bombing formations have brought devastation and disorganization to the most important military objectives, whose efficiency was most useful and essential to the enemy," Stefani declared.

Swoop Down On Junction

The British were said to have numerous bases for pursuit planes along the railroad, with batteries of anti-aircraft artillery and heavy machine guns at intervals to protect the tracks from Italian bombers.

Flying low from different directions, Stefani said, the Italian planes swooped down on the junction and tore up tracks for several hundred yards.

Two ships and a tugboat in the harbor of Zeila, British Somaliland, and docks, warehouses and port works suffered heavy bomb damage, Stefani said.

Summitt, another strategic center in Sudan, was said to have been hard hit by air attack. Stefani asserted Italian bombers, piercing British defenses, exploded gasoline tanks there and bombed troop concentrations.

Bombs burst repeatedly among the British soldiers while machine-gun fire from the Italian planes held British chasers at bay, the news agency said.

When the British finally abandoned the fight, it added, the Italian bombers again raided the Summitt air fields where fire suddenly broke out in a large building believed to have housed gasoline.

Tells Of Easy Targets

The agency said the Italian air force had set out systematically to destroy strong British air bases all around Italian colonies in Africa.

It asserted that temporary fields were especially vulnerable because supplies of fuel and munitions have to be stored in the open instead of underground, as at regular military airports.

Describing the big air battle as a "most lively fight," the Italian communique said Italian attack and pursuit planes engaged a large enemy formation.

Reporting the Italian planes carried out their attack "with extreme vigor," the high command said the ten British planes downed included seven of the Gloucester type and three Blenheims.

Of the other four British planes bagged, one was reported shot down by bombers during an "effective" Italian raid of Mersa Matruh, in Egypt. The high command said all Italian planes returned to their bases.

The Italians also reported "light damage" in the Harbor of Massaua, Eritrea, where a British raid killed four and wounded thirty, including eleven Askari soldiers.

This raid was said to have cost the British two planes, and possibly a third, while another British plane was downed by anti-aircraft guns at Kassala, in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

The Italians also reported a "direct hit" scored on a ship in the Port of Berbera, British Somaliland.

Rome, Aug. 5 (AP).—Italy has launched a systematic aerial offensive to destroy important British bases ringing Italy's African possessions, it was reported today by Stefani, official Italian news agency.

British targets stretched over 1,850 miles, from Mersa Matruh, on the Egyptian coast, to Port of Berbera, British Somaliland, on the Gulf of Aden below the Red Sea, Stefani said.

Italian air raids over the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Kenya and Aden, wrecked some of Britain's most valuable centers over the week-end, Stefani reported. Among them were remote airfields hastily built because of Italian bombardment of regular airdromes.

19 Ships Quit Gibraltar, Cut Back Toward Atlantic

Munitions at Rock Reported Blown Up in Two Raids

ALGECIRAS, Spain, Aug. 5 (AP).—Nineteen British warships were reported to have left Gibraltar hurriedly today, starting first into the Mediterranean but then cutting back toward the Atlantic. There was no information as to where they might be headed.

Reports reaching La Linea, a Spanish town close to Gibraltar, said the 29,150-ton British battleship Resolution was damaged in an air-sea battle last Saturday south of Formentera, one of the Balearic Islands off the southeast coast of Spain. The same reports said a cruiser was hit by a bomb in the fight and several British sailors were killed or wounded. The name of the cruiser was not learned.

It and the Resolution were said to have been left behind at Gibraltar when the nineteen other warships left.

[The Italian high command reported on Friday that an Italian air formation had "violently bombed" an enemy naval squadron coming from Gibraltar and that several ships were "known to have been hit, including a battleship."]

Explosions and columns of black smoke indicated today that raiding warplanes had succeeded in blowing up munitions dumps at Gibraltar, which is directly opposite Algeciras.

The planes darted over the British fortress exactly at 5 p. m. and dropped bombs before anti-aircraft batteries were able to fire a single volley.

A moment later the planes wheeled back and let loose several more bombs. This time the anti-aircraft guns barked. None of the planes appeared to have been hit.

British Version

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 5—Three Italian planes were shot down in a big air battle in eastern Libya yesterday. Only one British plane is missing, a Royal Air Force communique reported today.

(The fight apparently was the same one mentioned by the Italian high command, which declared today that ten British planes were shot down in a "most lively fight" with a "large enemy formation" near the Egyptian frontier.)

The British declared that their reconnaissance aircraft, accompanied by four fighters, met fifty Italian fighters in eastern Libya and shot down two of them in flames, while a third Italian plane was the victim of anti-aircraft fire of its own ground forces.

Harbor Attacked Earlier

An earlier communique of the R. A. F. said British planes scored direct hits on an Italian naval vessel and showered bombs on a squadron of submarines in an attack on the harbor of Massaua, Eritrea.

Royal Air Force communiques also said:

"Enemy aircraft bombed Sidi Barrani in the western desert from a considerable height yesterday. Our fighters took off in order to intercept them, but without a decisive result.

30.24—4119

"Enemy bombers attacked Mersa Matruh (in Egypt). Bombs were dropped, but there were no R. A. F. casualties.

"Our fighters intercepted the raiders and forced a number of the enemy aircraft to jettison their bombs into the sea.

"Two enemy aircraft were badly damaged. It is unlikely they returned to their base.

"In the Dagabur area in Italian East Africa three bombers were machine-gunned on the ground from a height of 150 feet.

"A fuel dump at Massala (Eritrea) was raided by a strong force of bombers. All bombs were dropped in the target area and a building was struck.

"Enemy fighters attacked and anti-aircraft fire was intense, but all our airoraft returned safely."

U. S. Writer Visits Stuka Nest And Sees How Raids Are Born

Flight Over Channel Shows Shipping All Gone—Dunkerque Described As Empty City Of Ruins

AUG 6 - 1940

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Correspondent

Ghent, Belgium, Aug. 5—At one of the hidden bomber bases from which Germany strikes across the English Channel I have seen the dread Stukas, called the Nazis' most powerful air weapon, rehearse their scream-down attacks.

With a party of other foreign newspaper correspondents I saw the hidden airdrome with its camouflaged guns and planes at the end of a flight over the English Channel in a Messerschmitt-escorted transport plane.

We met no English planes. I saw no ships afloat—only the partly sunken wreckage of boats at Dunkerque from which the British embarked in the last hours of the battle of Flanders early in June. Dunkerque itself was a spectacle from a nightmare. Amid its ruin of buildings not a single person could be seen.

The Germans told us their bomber attacks had cleared the Channel of English shipping because ship losses were too costly, even in guarded convoys.

We started near Ghent, flew to the coast, went over Dunkerque, but turned inland before we reached Calais, nearest German-held coastal point to England and possible take-off center for long-awaited invasion.

We landed, inland from Boulogne, in Northern France on a clover field used as an attack air base.

Not until we were on the ground could we see the rows of anti-aircraft guns guarding the field or the fighter planes backed under trees.

At a rocket signal six of the planes roared out from shelter. The last was in the air within fifty seconds. We were told pilots in relays sit in six or more of the planes day and night, ready for instant action aloft.

"Our main job," the flight commander explained, "it to accompany bombers which come from farther inland for business over England."

A Nazi Flyer's View

I questioned a young flyer about the actual fighting. His comment was:

"It's becoming harder and harder to make them (the British) come out and fight. We almost never have dogfights over our side of the Channel. We must go over to their side, or well over England to get them out."

He said he had brought down three of seventy-three planes credited to his squadron since the war began.

I watched the dive bombers in a demonstration. They have sirens attached to each wheel support, operated by tiny propellers.

Horrifying Noise

They climbed to 15,000 feet, then screamed down at us, making the most horrifying noise I ever heard. The sound swelled as the planes came down until the whole sky seemed filled with it.

The planes pulled out of the dive and went over us at a hedge-clipping elevation, wavering and dodging to show how they evade anti-aircraft fire.

German officers said the Stukas are of tremendous effect because of their extreme accuracy, the awful force with which they hurl their bombs and the "utter demoralization" they cause among troops.

Thirty Stukas in the group we saw claim to have sunk "several times 10,000 tons" of English shipping and forced the surrender of 18,000 Netherlands troops within an hour near Dortrecht.

Trials On War Guilt May Be Long Delayed

Vichy, France, Aug. 5 (AP)—Actual trial of leaders accused of responsibility for France's lack of preparation and entry into the war with Germany will be delayed by a long preliminary judicial investigation, it was stated tonight.

The Supreme Court will meet at near-by Riom Thursday and will submit the case to investigation.

This likely will take weeks and possibly months, with the proceedings mostly in secret.

During the investigation any number of defendants can be named after all the charges are lodged, the actual trial date will be set.

No official list of those accused has been issued, but newspapers heap most of their abuse on former Premiers Edouard Daladier and Paul Reynaud, ex-Colonial Minister Georges Mandel and former Air Minister Pierre Cot.

French Plan Big Families

[By the Associated Press]

Vichy, France, Aug. 5—One aim of France's new "family program" is to pay men in proportion to the number of their children instead of the usual salaries on the merit basis, Youth Minister Jean Ybarnegaray declared today in a published interview.

This revolutionary statement was included in an outline of the task Ybarnegaray has set for himself to promote big families and raise strong Frenchmen.

Declaring France was going to try to make her 1940 defeat a prelude to "one of the greatest victories a people ever won over themselves," the Minister said France's "mothers will be artisans of this secret and magnificent triumph."

This will be made possible by returning to them their "prime traditional purpose in life," he said.

He described that purpose as "being in their homes, having children and living only to raise strong, useful men."

PARIS GRANTED LOAN

France Advances Money to Repair Damage of War

VICHY, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—The French Government today authorized a State loan of 600,000,000 francs to the City of Paris to repair damage caused by the war and enable commerce and industry to resume operations.

[The French franc has not been quoted in the Foreign Exchange market since the armistice, but ranged in value from 1.73 to 2.27 cents during the first five months of the year.]

A decree said the loan would carry 2 per cent interest and would be repayable prior to former loans accorded the city.

Another decree established a corps of 300 mechanical engineers attached to the Ministry of Industrial Production to supervise industrial reconstruction in France.

PETAIN REGIME ADMITS SWITCH OF ALLEGIANCE

"Certain Measures" Being Taken To Clear Up The Situation

AUG 6 - 1940

New Wage System To Base Pay On Number In Worker's Family

[By the Associated Press]

Vichy, France, Aug. 5—The General Council of the French Southern Pacific island colony of New Caledonia has gone over to the side of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of the "free French Government" in London, it was acknowledged here tonight in an official communique.

The communique said "certain elements of the population" had done likewise, despite the efforts of local authorities—evidently referring to the island's Governor.

The Ministry of Colonies attributed the situation to "lack of information of the true position of France" and said "certain measures" had been taken to clear up the situation.

New Wage System

A new basis of wage payments has been mapped for French workers.

Workmen in the new France will be paid in proportion to the size of their families instead of the usual merit-based salaries, Youth Minister Jean Ybarnegaray announced tonight.

French women, he said, "will return to their prime traditional purpose in life—being in their homes, having children and living only to raise strong, useful men."

Fathers will be given preference over bachelors in both public and private employment in this revolutionary move to check France's dwindling birth rate. Many have offered the low birth rate as a big factor in France's military collapse.

Prelude To Victory

The 1940 defeat by Germany was expected to be the prelude to "one of the greatest victories a people ever won over themselves," the Minister declared.

"Mothers will be artisans of this secret and magnificent triumph," Ybarnegaray said.

A revolution in public instruction also was planned. Obligatory studies of mathematics and Latin for young women will be replaced with courses in household economy and child-rearing.

Women instructors have been ordered to towns and farms to train all young women how to dress, feed and care for babies.

France lost 1,500,000 men in the World War, leaving women to fight out their own welfare to the detriment of rearing children.

Since 1910 500,000 marriages were estimated as wrecked by divorce, with 100,000 other women remaining voluntarily sterile.

He charged that the system in vogue tolerated the "voluntary suppression" of some 600,000 other births, but that the new system would guarantee every French woman that "the more children she has the more aid she will receive."

AUG 6 - 1940

Nazi Superior Named For All French Banks

Every Measure Undertaken By Them Must Be Approved By Reich Official

Paris, Aug. 3 (Delayed) ((AP) via Berlin)—German military authorities today named Dr. Carl Schaeffer commissioner for the Bank of France and chief supervisor of all French banks.

Hellmuth Jost, Reichsbank director, was named permanent deputy in both offices.

The Bank of France was ordered to notify the commissioner of all operations and to prepare monthly statements for him. All banking measures, such as credits and setting of interest rates, must be approved by the commissioner, whose expenses will be borne by the bank.

U. S. Ambulance Drivers in Vichy

VICHY, France, Aug. 5 (AP)—Five American ambulance drivers arrived here today to join 10 others already awaiting an early return to the United States. The new arrivals are Beverly W. Bristol of Douglaston, N. Y.; M. Lee Price, Anniston, Ala.; James J. Gardner, New Rochelle, N. Y.; William Throop, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and Carl Berthold, Aurora, Ill.

Brittany Bishop Protests

VICHY, France, Aug. 5 (AP)—The 83-year-old Bishop of Quimper, Mgr. Duparc, dean of the Catholic Bishops of Brittany, declared himself today against the separatist movement reported rising there.

"We are unalterably bound to France," he said in a statement. "We will not be traitors to her in the hour of her trial. No native of Brittany ever committed treason."

PART-TIME WORK IN PARIS

Auto Concern Hopes To Resume Full Production Soon

Paris, Aug. 2 (Delayed) (AP) (Via Berlin)—Citroen automobile factory officials today reported they were employing twenty-five per cent. of the normal personnel on a half-day basis and hoped to resume full production soon.

AUG 6 - 1940

THE RENAULT FACTORY, WHICH NORMALLY EMPLOYS 33,000 PERSONS, REPORTED IT EXPECTED TO HIRE MORE THAN 10,000 SOON ON A PART-TIME BASIS.

AUG 6 - 1940

Windsors' Ship Fails To Sight Any Escort

No British Warships Seen From The Excalibur, Due In Bermuda Thursday

Aboard S. S. Excalibur at Sea, Aug. 5 (AP)—No British warships to guard safe passage for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor have been sighted since this ship left Lisbon Thursday, it was stated tonight.

The only craft thus far seen was the Yankee Clipper hich dipped in salute yesterday over this .

The Duke and Duchess spent most of today sunning themselves in deck chairs. Meals were severed to them in their suite.

The Duke and Duchess are scheduled to land in Bermuda Thursday en route to the Duke's new post in Nassau as Governor and Commander in Chief of the Bahamas.

Windsors Skipping U.S.

[By the Associated Press]

Aboard S. S. Excalibur at Sea, Aug. 5—Reports that the Duke of Windsor, new Governor of the Bahamas, might visit the United States en route to his post were set at rest today by announcement he would disembark from this American ship at Bermuda next Thursday with his American-born Duchess.

How long the Windsors will remain in Bermuda or how they will proceed to Nassau has not yet been decided, it was said.

The Duke, who has been attending personally to his correspondence since the Excalibur sailed from Lisbon last Thursday, spent much of yesterday in his suite working at a portable typewriter.

Reporters See Thyssen Plant

DUISBURG, Germany, Aug. 5 (AP)—Continuing its campaign to back its claims that the British bombing of industrial Germany is less effective than London reports said, the German High Command allowed foreign correspondents into the high-walled Thyssen oil and steel plant here to see damage resulting from two bombs.

It was the first time since the war began that correspondents were permitted inside any of Germany's vast war-geared industrial plants.

The Germans said the British had claimed the Thyssen plant was wrecked.

The correspondents were shown extensively about the plant. The Germans said one bomb fell in an open courtyard a few yards from a row of tanks which are part of a distillery making gasoline from coal. The second bomb smashed a laboratory which the Germans said was not part of the operating network.

One official said the two blasts failed to slow the plant in the slightest.

NAZIS NAME ABETZ ENVOY TO FRANCE

He Was Expelled Last Year by Daladier.

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—Adolf Hitler has appointed Otto Abetz, formerly of the Berlin Foreign Office, as Ambassador to Nazi-conquered France.

Expelled By Daladier.

Abetz, expelled from France in 1939 as an unwelcome Nazi agent, and whose wife is French, got his walking papers from the government of former Premier Daladier on June 30 of that year, after the discovery of a widespread German espionage network.

The sensational spy hunt, which brought the arrests of scores of Germans and French followers of Hitler, had all the elements of a first class mystery thriller.

Named in the proceedings was the attractive, well-dressed young German Baroness von Einem, who in storybook fashion made her getaway just ahead of the police.

The young Baroness, who moved in the best circles, was convicted and sentenced to death in her absence on a charge of trying to get secret State information.

At that time Abetz was known as a "semi-official" representative of German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, but the French said he was the brains of a ring whose espionage work reached into some of the highest French circles.

M. Daladier, personally directing the roundup of suspects, caused the arrest of some 150 persons, including Loys Aubin, the chief editor of the newspaper La Temps, and L. Poirier of the advertising department of Le Figaro.

After the fall of Paris, Abetz returned triumphantly to the French capital and received the important post of assistant to Capt. von Grothe, Hitler's director of government bureaus there.

Hitler Back In Berlin; Busy With Conferences

Führer Talks With Von Ribbentrop, Goering And Marshal Von Brauchitsch

Berlin, Aug. 5 (AP) (via Radio)—Adolf Hitler returned to Berlin Sunday afternoon at the same time Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop returned, the German radio said today, and numerous conferences took place today at Hitler's chancellery.

Last week Hitler was at his retreat in the Bavarian Alps near Berchtesgaden.

Hitler conferred with von Ribbentrop, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering and Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, the radio said.

Sofia Sees Goal Saturday

[By the Associated Press]

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 5—Quarters close to the Bulgarian Government said today they expected an agreement to be signed Saturday between Bulgaria and Rumania returning southern Dobruja to this country after twenty-seven years of Rumanian rule.

Preliminary negotiations in line with Adolf Hitler's order to both countries to settle their long-standing quarrel were completed today, these sources said. Victor Kadare, Rumanian minorities expert, returned to Bucharest.

It was said that a formal Bulgarian delegation would go to Graiova, Rumania, on Wednesday. Talks will begin there Thursday, it was said, with a definite agreement expected to be signed by Saturday.

Credit Aid From Axis

The Bulgarian delegation to Craiova, which is in southwestern Rumania, about fifty miles north of the Bulgarian border, will be headed by Foreign Minister Ivan Popoff, Finance Minister Dobri Bojiloff and Gen. Nikola Popoff, chief of the Varna garrison.

German support for Bulgaria, which caused Rumania to agree to negotiate, took on a new significance today with the publication in the newspaper Slovo of an article which declared that Premier Bogdan Piloff and Foreign Minister Popoff "expressed Bulgaria's loyalty to the Rome-Berlin Axis before the Führer at Salzburg."

Back To 1913 Border

In Government quarters the belief was expressed that Bulgaria would recover all southern Dobruja, with a new frontier being placed at the same point where it was in 1913.

Bulgaria will present a bill for 18,000,000,000 leva (nominally $234,000,000) for damages she alleges resulted during Rumania's rule of the province.

This amount, however, is expected to be more than canceled by a Rumanian bill for public works constructed in the past twenty-seven years.

Government circles expressed the opinion that Bulgaria would pay Rumania the difference as a friendly gesture.

BULGARIANS SAY RUMANIA WILL GIVE LAND

Saturday Is Day Set As Dead Line For Turning Over Dobruja

Negotiators, Bowing To Hitler, To Meet Thursday At Craiova

[By the Associated Press]

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 5—Bulgaria and Rumania, bowing to the will of Adolf Hitler after twenty-seven years of territorial controversy, will reach an agreement by Saturday returning southern Dobruja to Bulgaria, sources close to the Bulgarian Government asserted today.

Dobruja went to Rumania in 1913 after Bulgaria's defeat in the second Balkan war.

Following Hitler's instructions to Balkan diplomats at Salzburg last week that they settle their differences peaceably—and soon—preliminary negotiations were ended today, these sources said.

Will Meet Thursday

Rumanian and Bulgarian negotiators meet Thursday at Craiova, in southwestern Rumania.

Balkan experts said Bulgaria would receive her reward for leaning toward the Rome-Berlin Axis, a trend Rumania recently copied. German support for Bulgaria was reflected in the newspaper Slovo. It reported that Premier Bogdan Philoff and Foreign Minister Ivan Popoff last week expressed to Hitler "Bulgaria's loyalty to the Rome-Berlin Axis."

Soviet Russia already has taken back from Rumania the big province of Bessarabia, to which she never renounced her claim. Rumania faces a third territorial loss, the province of Transylvania, which Hungary wants back.

Predict 1913 Frontier

Authoritative sources predicted Bulgaria would get back all of her former territory, remaking the 1913 frontier. Bulgaria will present a bill for $234,000,000 for damages resulting during Rumanian occupation, but this is expected to be more than cancelled by a Rumanian bill for public works.

Greece, another Balkan nation, was stirred by a report of a frustrated plot to overthrow the authoritarian regime of Premier General John Metaxas.

The well-informed newspaper Kathimerini said an anti-Metaxas group was banished after it was found plotting to seize control of Greece.

Beach Conger Ordered To Leave By Hungary

Budapest, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Hungarian Government has ordered Beach Conger, correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune, to leave the country by Thursday.

Inquiries at the Foreign Office by the United States legation brought the reply that the German Government had complained about articles written by Conger from Budapest.

The Hungarian Foreign Office press bureau last Friday warned foreign newspaper correspondents against reporting news "which is either against Germany or Italy or in opposition with known political principles and policies of the Axis."

Conger, formerly stationed in Berlin, left Germany last November when the German Government objected to one of his dispatches, denied him cable, telephone and mail services and excluded him from all conferences.

Egypt Holds First Trial for Sabotage

ALEXANDRIA, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—Francis Arcuzi, a Hungarian, faced a military high court today on charges of conspiracy to commit sabotage. It was Egypt's first trial of the kind since the start of the war.

Arcuzi was seized several weeks ago on arriving here by ship. It was alleged that bombs and dynamite had been found in his possession.

A Turkish subject, suspected as an accomplice, was said to have committed suicide after having been questioned by the police.

India Prohibits Drill By Volunteer Groups

Decree Intended To Restrict Activities Of Organizations Promoting Sectarian Feeling

Bombay, Aug. 5 (AP)—An order prohibiting "military exercises or drill with or without arms by non-official volunteer organizations" was issued today by the Government of India.

The order is intended to restrict the activities of many Hindu, Moslem and Sikh organizations which promote sectarian feeling and are regarded by authorities as responsible for occasional intergroup clashes.

Most widely known of these is the anti-Hindu Khaksar movement in provinces on the northwest frontier.

The Khaksar movement is called the "army of spades" because each man carries a spade. Supported by 400,000 Moslems, the group is modeled along Fascist lines.

Athens Reports Plot To Overthrow Metaxas

Conspirators Against Premier Declared Trying To Work Through Foreign Legations

Athens, Aug. 5 (AP)—An alleged plot to overthrow the regime of Premier General John Metaxas, which celebrated its fourth anniversary Sunday, was reported today by the well-informed newspaper Kathimerini.

Details were not divulged, but it was charged that an anti-Metaxas group tried through "foreign legations" to intervene in Greece's internal affairs to break the Premier's authoritarian rule.

The conspirators, the newspaper said, have been banished, presumably to the Aegean prison islands.

Jabotinsky's Son Released

[By the Associated Press]

Jerusalem, Aug. 5—Eri Jabotinsky, son of the noted Zionist leader, Vladimir Jabotinsky, who died Saturday night in Hunter, N. Y., was released last night from a concentration camp where he had been held for six months under British defense regulations for nationalistic activities in behalf of the Jewish population of the Holy Land.

Mrs. Anna Jabotinsky, the widow, is in London.

Vladimir Jabotinsky, 59, was known widely as a lecturer, author and world leader of the new Zionist organization. He was born in Odessa, Russia.

During the World War he headed the Jewish Legion in Palestine. Recently he had been working on a scheme to raise a similar army to fight against Italy and Germany. He had been conducting a drive for mass emigration of Jews to Palestine from eastern and central Europe.

His advocacy of militancy in the Zionist movement resulted in his expulsion from Palestine.

Latvia Taken Formally Into Soviet Union

MOSCOW, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—The Supreme Soviet tonight unanimously approved Latvia's request to become a member of the U. S. S. R.

30.24-4121

30.24-4121

Add - Moscow - Aug 5

A SIMILAR APPLICATION FROM ESTONIA WILL BE CONSIDERED TOMORROW. THE SUPREME SOVIET ALREADY HAS INCORPORATED AS A SOVIET REPUBLIC THE THIRD BALTIC STATE, LITHUANIA, AS WELL AS TERRITORY GAINED BY ULTIMATUM FROM RUMANIA. AUG 6 - 1940

RQ2 MAILED

Progress on Pact Reported

MOSCOW, Aug. 5 (AP).—Negotiations for renewal of the trade agreement between the United States and Soviet Russia have reached an advanced stage with a tacit understanding that provisions of the current pact, expiring tomorrow, will remain in force until the negotiations are concluded, an informed source said tonight.

Add - Moscow - Aug 5

A DRAFT OF THE NEW AGREEMENT, FOLLOWING THE GENERAL LINES OF THE OLD ONE, HAS BEEN SENT TO WASHINGTON FOR APPROVAL.

THE PACT, AS RENEWED LAST AUGUST, OBLIGATED RUSSIA TO BUY AT LEAST $40,000,000 WORTH OF AMERICAN GOODS IN THE NEXT 12 MONTHS, WHILE THE UNITED STATES EXTENDED "MOST FAVORED NATION" TREATMENT TO SOVIET GOODS. AUG 6 - 1940

RQ2 MAILED

U. S. Army Transport Arrives In Petsamo

Expected To Sail Next Week With 750 American Refugees

AUG 6 - 1940

Helsinki, Aug. 5 ((AP) via radio)—The United States Army transport American Legion arrived at the Arctic Finnish port of Petsamo today to repatriate Americans from Scandinavian and Baltic states, the Scandinavian wireless reported. It will sail August 13 with about 750 United States citizens.

Most Americans leaving Baltic states were unable to obtain permission of Soviet authorities to come to Finland direct, and are taking circuitous routes via Germany, Denmark and Sweden.

Due to lack of accommodations in Petsamo, some early arrivals have been living in tents. The American Legion sailed from New York July 25.

New Japanese Demands.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—Chinese reports said today that Japan had made new, sweeping demands on the government of French Indo-China, including the right to use the French railway into the Chinese province of Yunnan for military operations and to establish a military or naval base on the Indo-China coast.

These reports were not confirmed by other sources and were denied by an official Japanese spokesman in Tokio.

The Chinese accounts said that the Japanese wanted to use the railway from Haiphong, on the Indo-China coast, to Kunming capital of Yunnan, for operations against the Chinese forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Such a thrust would menace the vulnerable southwestern provinces, Chiang's main stronghold.

A coastal base presumably would be used for naval operations in the south seas, ...ibly designed to fix Japanese domination on the Dutch East Indies.

Representations Recalled.

Japanese authorities here said they had no knowledge of specific new demands of Indo-China, but recalled that important representations of an undisclosed nature were reported made Saturday to Vice-Admiral Jean Decoux, Petain-appointed Governor-General of Indo-China. Local Japanese said that they did not know the nature of the representations.

Domei, the official Japanese news agency, said that they were made by the acting chief of the Japanese contraband control mission in Indo-China. They coincided with the arrival by air of the head of the mission, Gen. Issaku Nishihara, in Tokio to confer with the Government on the next phase of Japanese policy in Indo-China.

Soon after France's defeat by Germany, Japan obtained t... to station a military miss... main transport centers of In... China to prevent war supplies from reaching China through French territory. The railway into Yunnan, which Chinese reports say Japan wants to use for invasion of that southwestern province, was the principal route of such traffic.

At the time the Japanese placed this mission in Indo-China it was reported that they asked for the right for their planes to use airports at Hanoi and other Indo-China cities on their commercial air route to Thailand (Siam). They were also said to have insisted that their contraband inspectors be permitted to move freely along the Indo-China border.

Tokio Denies Demand.

TOKIO, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—The Foreign Office spokesman, Yakichiro Suma, denied today any new demands on French Indo-China. He said that Japan was maintaining diplomatic missions both in Paris and Vichy, seat of the Petain Government, but that neither had taken any such action. He did not comment on reports of "representations" to the Decoux Government at Hanoi.

Nevertheless there has been indicated a great increase in the Japanese Government's interest in Far Eastern possessions of European Powers smashed by German conquest. The Government has announced a new policy of domination over "Greater East Asia," officially defined as including French Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies.

One of Japan's foremost empire builders, Gen. Kuniaki Koiso, is conferring here with Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye concerning his projected appointment as head of a special mission to the Dutch East Indies which may have far-reaching effects on the future of that rich domain.

Japan Frees U. S. Vessel

AUG 6 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Shanghai, Aug. 5—The small American coastal ship Estelle was released today by Japanese authorities, who had held her for five days after she took refuge from a typhoon in a zone forbidden to shipping.

United States Consul Richard P. Butrick made representations to the Japanese to get the steamer released. She is owned by Robert Lang, Shanghai silk dealer.

The vessel has been detained by the Japanese navy off the blockaded Chekiang province coast for the last four days. The Japanese recently warned all shipping to stay away from Chekiang ports.

No Americans are aboard the Estelle.

Victim Hunts Nazi Raider

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 5—The heavily gunned, 22,209-ton British armed cruiser Alcantara, damaged in a running fight with a German raider in the South Atlantic July 29, steamed out of Rio de Janeiro harbor today.

The Alcantara had been here since last Thursday, when she put in for repairs. Presumably she went out to resume the hunt for the German raider, a fast converted merchant ship, which was reported by the British to have been damaged also in last week's battle.

Asked what the Alcantara would do now, a British informant answered: "She is going back to duty in the South Atlantic naturally, going to hunt the raider."

He acknowledged that the whereabouts of the German raider were not known, but the British said it, too, was damaged in last week's battle which sent the Alcantara into this harbor for repairs last Thursday.

The Alcantara is "as good as new," the British source declared. All seven of her wounded are aboard, one of them already back on duty, he said.

Costly Captives

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Buenos Aires, Aug. 5—The Nazi seamen who last December scuttled the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee outside Montevideo harbor and now are interned in Argentina are becoming a costly problem to their hosts.

Under international neutrality laws, the Argentine Government must pay all unemployed seamen interned in this country their full naval salaries. Already this has cost upward of 500,000 pesos ($125,000), and so far Argentina has had no word from Germany regarding reimbursement.

Four Officers Recaptured

Besides, the younger of the former Graf Spee crewmen are turning their guardian's hair gray with escapes.

Four non-commissioned officers were found yesterday wandering near the heights of the Andes Mountains, apparently about to run away to Chile.

Others are believed to have succeeded in crossing into Chile to escape the mild captivity which internment represents, while still others have been found in Misiones, the northern Argentine territory where police seizure of an arms cache has been linked to an alleged Nazi plot.

Placed On Island

Originally the Argentine Government planned to send only seamen to the interior and to keep the officers at Buenos Aires on their promise not to attempt escape. But wholesale efforts to escape caused the Government to send the officers to Martin Garcia island, in the River Plate.

The Graf Spee's crewmen were distributed among the cities of Mendoza, Cordoba, Rosario and Santa Fe.

Some 500, or about half those interned, have found employment with German firms in Argentina, thus easing the Argentine Government's financial burden. But even they remain a problem because their whereabouts must be known at all times.

Add - Buenos Aires - Aug 5

BUT FOUR MONTHS LATER, IN APRIL, WHOLESALE EFFORTS TO ESCAPE CAUSED THE GOVERNMENT TO SEND THE OFFICERS TO MARTIN GARCIA ISLAND, IN THE RIVER PLATE 80 MILES FROM BUENOS AIRES, FROM WHERE THEY ARE PAROLED FOR OCCASIONAL VISITS TO THE CAPITAL. GERMAN RESIDENTS OF BUENOS AIRES IN TURN ARE PERMITTED TO VISIT THE ISLAND.

OCCASIONALLY -SINGLY OR IN GROUPS, IN UNIFORM OR CIVILIAN CLOTHES- THE MEN OF THE GRAF SPEE MAY BE SEEN AT A CEMETERY IN THE HEART OF BUENOS AIRES, RENDERING SILENT TRIBUTE BEFORE THE GRAVE OF THEIR COMMANDER, HANS LANGSDORFF. IT WAS HE WHO ORDERED THE SHIP BLOWN UP OUTSIDE MONTEVIDEO AFTER ITS LOSING BATTLE WITH THREE BRITISH CRUISERS AND THEN, AFTER LEADING HIS MEN TO BUENOS AIRES IN TUGBOATS AND LAUNCHES AND DELIVERING THEM INTO INTERNMENT, TOOK HIS OWN LIFE WITH A REVOLVER SHOT.

JT-WR333AFD

Canadian Colonel Explains That Movie Actor Sought Commission As Condition Of Service

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Canadian Press]

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 5—Richard Greene, young English film star now in Hollywood, will have no difficulty getting into the Canadian army if he wants to, Col. Ronald Kingham, of the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Regiment, said today.

Greene made a brief flying visit to Vancouver and Victoria last week, saying on his return to California that he vainly tried to join up. He said he left his application for a commission with the Seaforth Highlanders Regiment at Vancouver, after being told there was a long waiting list.

Colonel Kingham said the Canadian army did not "like being used in this way for movie publicity." In addition, he added, he must protest against enlistment conditions being misrepresented to the outside world.

The colonel said Green called on the only unit in Vancouver and Victoria not recruiting, asked to be commissioned as an officer immediately and then headed south.

"If Greene wants to enlist in a Scottish regiment we'll take him in at once," Colonel Kingham said, "but we can't give him a commission as an officer. If he makes good in the ranks he will have a good chance with others of winning a commission later."

Had To Skip Premiere

Richard Greene's studio announced at the last minute that the screen star would be unable to come to Baltimore as scheduled for the premiere last month of the motion picture, "Maryland," because he had been "called back to England for military service."

CANADA SEIZES HOUDE, MAYOR OF MONTREAL

Official Interned By Provincial And Mounted Police

Action Follows His Opposition To Forced Registration

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Montreal, Tuesday, Aug. 6—Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal has been taken into custody under the War Measures Act, it was announced early today by H. R. Gagnon, superintendent of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

R. B. Hanson, Opposition leader, had charged in the House of Commons on Saturday that Houde had "openly defied the law of Canada" by urging the public to disregard national registration August 19 through 21.

Under Constant Watch

Gagnon said this morning:

"Mr. Houde has already left for an internment camp. He was taken into custody shortly after 11 o'clock last night in a joint action of the provincial police and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police."

The arrest came three days after the Mayor issued an initialed statement to Montreal newspapermen, expressing opposition to the compulsory registration program.

Police said that since this statement, in which they said the Mayor advised "the population" not to register, they had kept him under constant watch.

INQUIRY IN CANADA

AUG 6 - 1940

Montreal Mayor Accused of Opposing Registration.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—Department officials are studying a statement against national registration reported to have been made on Friday by Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal, Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today.

Opposition Leader R. B. Hanson charged in the House Saturday that Mr. Houde had "openly defied the law of Canada" by urging the public to disregard national registration, August 19-21.

Leave blank

30.24-4123

Measure Passes By 12 To 3 Vote

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 5—The Military Committee voted 12 to 3 today to send to the Senate floor the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill requiring the registration of approximately 12,000,000 men from the ages of 21 to 30, inclusive.

Committee approval cleared the way for Senate consideration of the measure this week. The bill had the personal indorsement of Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and was recorded by the Budget Bureau as being in accordance with President Roosevelt's program.

Considerable opposition to the bill was foreshadowed in the Senate, despite the fact that only three votes were recorded against it in committee. Senator Sheridan Downey (Dem., Cal.) did not vote.

Lundeen Votes By Proxy

Senators Hiram Johnson (Dem., Col.), John Thomas (Rep., Idaho) and Ernest Lundeen (F. L., Minn.) voted "no," Lundeen voting by proxy.

Machinery for registrations could be set in motion if and when the bill becomes law, but President Roosevelt could not order any draftees into service before Congress appropriated money for their training.

Army officials have said they hoped to call 400,000 men for service by October if the bill is enacted.

The bill contained a provision permitting men from 18 to 34, inclusive, to enlist voluntarily in the army for one-year training as an alternative to conscription.

The committee acted shortly before the Senate began work on a related issue—Presidential authority to call the National Guard into active training.

Thinks Hitler Will Attack U. S.

Senator Sheppard told the Senate today that it was his "firm belief" that Hitler intended eventually to attack the United States.

"Does the Senator think," Senator Burton K. Wheeler (Dem., Mont.) demanded, "that Hitler will attack the United States?"

"He will try to attack the United States," Sheppard replied.

"That is my firm belief and if it wasn't I wouldn't be here trying to get the Senate to approve this (Burke-Wadsworth) legislation."

Propagandists Emergency

Wheeler contended that most of the "emergency" had been manufactured by "propagandists" who, he said, wanted to scare the Senate and the people of the country "into giving dictatorial powers to someone."

"The only emergency I can see is that the election is coming on," Wheeler declared.

In urging approval of a bill authorizing the President to call the National Guard and the officers' reserve into active training, Sheppard disagreed with Wheeler whether a national emergency existed at this time.

After Sheppard had said that only about 55,000 Guardsmen would be called out for immediate service under terms of the bill, Wheeler said he could not understand why the Guard's entire personnel of 243,000 was not inducted into Federal service immediately or why it would be necessary to draft young men from 21 to 30, inclusive, for military service as proposed in the Burke-Wadsworth bill.

Senators recorded in favor of the bill were Morris Sheppard (Dem., Texas), Robert R. Reynolds (Dem., N. C.), Elbert D. Thomas (Dem., Utah), Sherman Minton (Dem., Ind.), Josh Lee (Dem., Okla.), Lister Hill (Dem., Ala.), A. [illegible] (Dem., Ky.), William H. Smathers (Dem., N. J.), Warren Austin (Rep. Vt.), H. H. Schwartz (Dem., Wyo.), Chan[illegible] (Dem., S. D.), and Rufus C. Holman (Rep., Ore.).

Later, committee attaches announced that Senator Styles Bridges (Rep., N. H.), who was absent, asked to be recorded in favor of voting for the bill. Senator James M. Slattery (Dem., Ill.), who was absent, was not recorded as voting.

Senator Johnson told reporters that there would be a minority report opposing the draft bill.

The committee amended the measure, at the suggestion of Senator Austin, to provide that members of any army or naval reserve corps should be accorded the same treatment as conscripts in obtaining reemployment after service.

It rejected, by a 7-to-4 vote, a proposal sponsored by the War Department that divinity students be exempted from compulsory service. It also turned down, 10 to 4, on a show of hands, a proposal by Senator Johnson that Harry Woodring, former Secretary of War, who has opposed immediate conscription, be called to testify.

Lee Proposal Tabled

Committee members said that there was discussion, but no action, on a proposal by Senator Lee that the basic pay of the army and conscripts who might be called into service be increased from $21 to $30 a month.

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney (Dem., Wyo.), who dropped into the committee room, said that Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, had just testified before an appropriations subcommittee that he and the general staff were in accord in believing that the discrimination between army and navy pay should be eliminated. Navy basic pay now is about $30 a month.

Members said the committee informally rejected another proposal by Senator Lee, which had been turned down earlier, that the number of conscripts who might be called under the act be limited to 400,000 in October and 400,000 next April.

Opponents of conscription talked of trying to amend the National Guard bill to provide a system of voluntary one-year army enlistments, as a substitute for compulsory training.

Few Objections Voiced

Basically, though, few objections were voiced to empowering the President to order out the guard and the Officers' Reserve Corps for a year's intensive drill. Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, predicted the measure would be approved without material change.

Senator Edward R. Burke (Dem., Neb.), coauthor of the conscription bill, said he was confident, with Administration support evident, that it would pass the Senate with no more than twenty opposing votes.

Unnecessary, Foes Contend

The measure would require the registration of all men from 21 to 30, inclusive. Of that group, 400,000 who were physically fit, without dependents and not holding important industrial or agricultural jobs would be required to active training about October 1.

Foes have called this method undemocratic and unnecessary, contending that the necessary manpower could be obtained by voluntary enlistments.

As a compromise Senator Francis T. Maloney (Dem., Conn.) drafted a proposal to retain the registration feature of the Burke-Wadsworth bill, but to delay operation of the selective service sections until it was demonstrated that voluntary enlistments would not fill the army's ranks.

Maloney's proposal would permit voluntary enlistments in the army until January 1, or some other date, at a basic pay increased from the present $21 to $30 a month. If these voluntary enlistments did not bring out the required quota, selection boards would be empowered to conscript an added number of men.

Compromise Advocated

Senator Burton K. Wheeler (Dem., Mont.) said opponents of conscription would accept such a compromise if it became necessary to do so to prevent adoption of the Burke-Wadsworth measure. Senator Lee a compulsory service advocate, predicted that some such compromise would be necessary if the bill were to obtain Senate approval.

A Senate appropriations subcommittee, meanwhile, began consideration of the House-approved $4,900,000,000 defense bill, with a fight brewing on a House provision to permit airplane manufacturers to obtain profits up to twelve per cent.

Chairman Alva B. Adams (Dem. Col.) said he would fight to keep the present law's limitation of eight per cent. profit on competitive contracts and seven per cent. on negotiated contracts.

Draft Bill Features

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 5—Salient features of the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill approved today by the Senate Military Committee:

About 12,000,000 young men who have reached their twenty-first birthday anniversary and have not passed their thirty-first would be required to register for compulsory military service.

From this group, including aliens who had declared their intention of becoming citizens, local boards under the direction of the President would select sufficient men to fill State quotas of trainees fixed by a director of selective service to be appointed by the Chief Executive.

400,000 By October, Goal

Army officials hope to obtain 400,000 such trainees by October. The President would be authorized to select the number of men to be inducted into either the land or the naval force.

Local boards would be empowered to defer training of men whose employment in industry or agriculture was essential for the maintenance of national health, safety or interest. Ministers of the Gospel, men with dependents and those physically, mentally or morally deficient also would be placed in the deferred class.

Federal and State officials, judges, and members of Congress would be exempted from training, while members of the nation's armed forces and reserves, as well as diplomatic representatives would not be required to register.

Hearings For Objectors

Conscientious objectors would be given a hearing by the Justice Department, and if their claims were sustained would be ordered either into noncombatant service or would be employed in jobs of national interest under civilian direction.

Enrollees selected for service would undergo a year's active traininf, during which they would receive the army's basic pay of $21 a month and allowances, with opportunities for promotion. This service period could be extended only by Congressional action.

It was provided specifically that the National Guard, rather than trainees, should be the first to be inducted into active duty in case of emergency.

Funds Limit Number

Congress would limit the number in training to those for whom funds had been appropriated. After they had served their year's training, conscripts would be transferred to the reserves for a period of ten years, or until they had reached 45. As an alternative, they could serve two additional years in the National Guard or regular army.

One-year voluntary enlistment in the army of men between 18 and 34, inclusive, instead of the regular three-year enlistment, also was provided. Men who took this course would be excused from conscription. No bounties would be paid conscripts, nor could they hire "substitutes" or buy their way out of service.

Federal and State employes inducted into service automatically would reclaim their jobs when they were released. Private employers would be required to rehire released trainees unless it was "impossible or unreasonable" to do so.

Knox For Draft

AUG 6 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 5—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox believes proper protection of the United States requires compulsory military service.

"We must be prepared to defend all we have and all we are or perish as a free people," he said in a radio speech yesterday. "This is not a choice of our making. It has been forced upon us.

"It is later than you think."

Secretary Knox spoke with Robert P. Patterson, new Assistant Secretary of War, and Col. Julius Ochs Adler, civilian aide to the War Secretary, in a radio symposium arranged by the Military Training Camps Association and broadcast nationally over Columbia Broadcasting System.

"In the past we have restored to compulsory service whenever the nation was threatened," Knox said. "Today we cannot wait until war is upon us. It will be too late."

Patterson said an army of 1,300,000 men is needed.

Colonel Adler said:

"Reports from Washington, letters from the Middle West, whisperings from the shadows tell us there is little cause for alarm; that America is in no danger of attack; that there is plenty of time to wait for more definite signs of trouble.

"These are the same fallacies that made vassal lands of most of Europe. They are the same fallacies that will lull America into deep sleep, if allowed to persist.

"Train without fighting now, or fight without training later."

SHEPPARD SAYS GERMANS PLAN ATTACK ON U. S.

Texas Senator Fears Hitler Wants to Subjugate This Hemisphere.

AUG 6 - 1940

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—Senator Sheppard, Democrat, of Texas, told the Senate today that it was his firm belief that Hitler intended eventually to attack the United States. He spoke after the military committee, of which he is chairman, voted 12 to 3 to send to the Senate floor the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military traning bill, requiring the registration of approximately 12,000,000 men from 21 to 30 inclusive.

"Does the Senator think," Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, demanded, "that Hitler will attack the United States?"

"He will try to attack the United States," Senator Sheppard replied. "That is my firm belief and if it wasn't, I wouldn't be here trying to get the Senate to approve this legislation."

Election as Emergency.

Senator Wheeler contended that most of the emergency had been manufactured by propagandists, who, he said, wanted to scare the Senate and the people of the country "into giving dictatorial powers to some one."

"The only emergency I can see is that the election is coming on," the Montana Senator declared. In urging approval of a bill authorizing the President to call the National Guard and the Officers Reserve Corps into active training, Senator Sheppard disagreed with Senator Wheeler as to whether a national emergency existed at this time.

After Senator Sheppard had said that only about 55,000 Guardsmen would be called out for immediate service under terms of the bill, Senator Wheeler said that he could not understand why the Guard's entire personnel of 243,000 was not inducted into Federal service immediately, or why it would be necessary to draft young men from 21 to 30 inclusive for military service, as proposed in the Burke-Wadsworth bill.

Draft Bill Reported Out.

Committee approval cleared the way for Senate consideration this week of the conscription measure, which bore the personal indorsement of Secretary of War Stimson and was recorded by the Budget Bureau as being in accordance with President Roosevelt's program.

Considerable opposition to the bill was foreshadowed in the Senate, despite the fact that only three votes were recorded against it in committee. Senator Downey, Democrat, of California, present at today's committee meeting, did not vote.

Voluntary Enlistment.

Senators Johnson, Democrat, of Colorado; Thomas, Republican, of Idaho, and Lundeen, Farmer-Labor, of Minnesota, voted no, Mr. Lundeen voting by proxy.

Machinery for registrations could be set in motion if and when the bill becomes law, but President Roosevelt could not order any draftees into service before Congress appropriated money for their training. Army officials have said that they hoped to call 400,000 men for service by October if the bill is enacted.

The bill contained a provision permitting men from 18 to 34, inclusive, to enlist voluntarily in the army for one-year training as an alternative to conscription. The committee acted soon before the Senate began work on a related issue—presidential authority to call the National Guard into active training.

Those Favoring Bill.

The Senators recorded in favor of the bill were Sheppard, Democrat, of Texas; Reynolds, Democrat, of North Carolina; Thomas, Democrat, of Utah; Minton, Democrat, of Indiana; Lee, Democrat, of Oklahoma; Hill, Democrat, of Alabama; Chandler, Democrat, of Kentucky; Smathers, Democrat, of New Jersey; Austin, Republican, of Vermont; Schwartz, Democrat, of Wyoming; Gurney, Republican, of South Dakota, and Holman, Republican, of Oregon.

Later, committee attaches announced that Senator Bridges, Republican, of New Hampshire, who was absent, asked to be recorded in favor of voting for the bill. Senator Slattery, Democrat, of Illinois, who was absent, was not recorded as voting.

Senator Johnson told reporters that there would be a minority report opposing the draft bill. The committee amended the measure, at the suggestion of Senator Austin, to provide that members of any Army or Naval Reserve Corps should be accorded the same treatment as conscripts in obtaining re-employment after service.

Pay Rise Not Voted.

It rejected, by a seven to four vote, a proposal sponsored by the War Department that divinity students be exempted from compulsory service. It also turned down, ten to four, on a show of hands, a proposal by Senator Johnson that Harry Woodring, former Secretary of War, who has opposed immediate conscription, be called to testify.

Committee members said that there was discussion, but no action, on a proposal by Senator Lee, Democrat, of Oklahoma, that the basic pay of the army and conscripts who might be called into service be increased from $21 to $30 a month. Senator O'Mahoney, Democrat, of Wyoming, who dropped into the committee room, said that Gen. George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff of the army, had just testified before an appropriations subcommittee that he and the General Staff were in accord in believing that the discrimination between army and navy pay should be eliminated. The basic pay in the navy is about $30 a month.

Members said that the committee informally rejected a proposal by Senator Lee which had been turned down once before, that the number of conscripts who might be called under the act be limited to 400,000 in October and 400,000 next April.

PEPPER TERMS LINDBERGH 5TH COLUMN CHIEF

AUG 6 - 1940

Senator Denounces Flyer For Urging "Cooperation" With Nazis

Wheeler, Meantime, Assails Pershing Stand On Ships For Britain

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 5—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was bitterly denounced in the Senate today by Senator Pepper (Dem., Fla.), as "the chief of the fifth column in this country."

Pepper's remarks were occasioned by the flyer's speech last night urging "cooperation" with Germany if Germany wins the war.

Meanwhile, Gen. John J. Pershing's proposal that American destroyers be made available to Great Britain was denounced as a "direct step toward war" by Senator Wheeler (Dem., Montana).

Chance To Decide

Pepper said that "perhaps within a few hours, perhaps in a few days, perhaps within a few months, the American people will have to decide whether they are going to follow the chief of the fifth column in this country—Colonel Lindbergh—or are going to follow General Pershing."

Pershing never received a medal from the "head of the German Air Corps," Pepper said, recalling that a "cross of recognition and merit" had been bestowed upon Lindbergh by Field Marshal Hermann Goering. He added he had no doubt that the efficiency of the German military machine had taken a "great hold on the affection and admiration" of the aviator and that where he is concerned "no doubt the German Führer holds up a worthy objective—maybe he believes in regimentation."

Recalls "Mechanical Heart"

Pepper, recalling that Lindbergh had collaborated in the development of a "mechanical heart," said "this man knows more about a mechanical heart than he does a human heart."

Senator Minton (Dem., Ind.) interrupted at one point to say that Lindbergh had not offered his services as a flyer "in this emergency when we are trying hard to build up our defenses." To this Pepper responded that perhaps Lindbergh would not "like to wear the uniform of a country that is following the present policies of this country."

"I don't think he would be so terribly frightened," Pepper continued, "if news came that the Germans had landed in this country, because Colonel Lindbergh would know that at least Colonel Lindbergh wouldn't be harmed under the Führer of Germany."

Has Earned It Now

Senator Lee (Dem., Okla.) added the suggestion that "if Colonel Lindbergh had not earned the German medal when it was presented to him he has by now earned it."

At the close of the discussion, Senator Holt (Dem., W. Va.) said that "if we turn back the pages of history to 1917 we find that almost the same utterances were made against Colonel Lindbergh's distinguished father, Congressman Lindbergh, who voted against entering war."

"I fear the same result (entry in war) may come from this war-mongering," he added.

Lucas Answers Flyer

In a radio address replying to Lindbergh, Senator Lucas (Dem., Ill.) said tonight that he was "not only amazed but somewhat shocked by Colonel Lindbergh's attitude of complacency toward Adolf Hitler."

If, he said, "the American people are looking for guidance and counsel in this hour of uncertainty, I say, with all deference to Colonel Lindbergh, that you should stop, look and listen before you follow this youthful man who blossomed overnight into an oracle who instructs the world and his country on such momentous problems as war, statesmanship and diplomacy. . . .

"My friends, I still contend that Colonel Lindbergh is a great American flyer."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (A. P.).—Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of State, said today that he regarded as worthy of serious thought and study a speech by Gen. John J. Pershing in which he urged the United States to release at least fifty destroyers for Great Britain's use.

A plea for naval aid to the British was made by the world war commander in a radio talk last night.

Asked at a press conference for comment also on a speech yesterday in which Col. Charles A. Lindbergh urged this country to "take the lead in offering a plan for peace," Mr. Welles said he had not read it.

At the Capitol, Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, told reporters that Gen. Pershing's proposal was a step toward war.

"If we want to get into the war," he said, "of course we ought to begin selling destroyers and battleships. Every step we are taking and every step that Gen. Pershing, Secretary Stimson and Secretary Knox are advocating is a direct step toward war.

"Unless the American people wake up we'll be in the war before the election—instead of after."

Senator Lee, Democrat, of Oklahoma, said he indorsed Gen. Pershing's proposal "100 per cent," adding that he thought even more than fifty destroyers should be made available to the British.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Democratic leader in the Senate, said that as far as he knew no legislation was being prepared to carry out Gen. Pershing's suggestion.

WELLES SEES GOOD IN PERSHING TALK

AUG 6 - 1940

Secretary Denies He Has Read Lindbergh Speech.

U.S. and Russia Avert Break at Trade Parley

AUG 6 - 1940

Signing of New Agreement in Moscow Conference Is Believed To Be Near

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP).—The United States and Soviet Russia, averting a threatened break in trade relations were said to be near agreement tonight on a basis for commercial dealings for another year.

The existing agreement under which Soviet Russia promised to buy at least $40,000,000 worth of American goods during the year and actually purchased far more than this, expires tomorrow.

Sumner Welles, Acting Secretary of State, said today he understood that a new agreement was in prospect, though not yet actually concluded. In Moscow, where the negotiations centered, it was reported that they had reached an advanced stage and that the existing agreement would remain in force pending conclusion of the new one.

Whether the terms of the present agreement would be modified to any large extent was not disclosed in either capital, but it was considered likely that the basic provisions would be retained.

There was no indication whether the negotiations involved a possible settlement of difficulties between the two governments over the curtailment of exports of machine tools and other equipment from the United States, which now are subject to an export-licensing system to conserve supplies needed in the national defense program here.

Soviet objections to the application of these restrictions had raised doubts that the present agreement would be extended or replaced by a new one. In some trade circles, a complete suspension of commercial relations had been forecast. The statement of Soviet Premier Viacheslau M. Molotov last week that he could not say "anything good on Soviet relations with the United States" held ominous implications for the trade negotiations.

But Mr. Welles's statement and the report from Moscow indicated that the main difficulties had been surmounted.

Mr. Welles said that, if his information, presumably from Moscow, were correct, the agreement should be concluded soon and would be announced simultaneously in Washington and Moscow.

30.24-4125

30.24-4125

Italy's Crop Report

AUG 6-1940

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 5—Italy claims, the Agriculture Department reported today, that it has a larger prospective supply of food for the coming fall and winter than a year ago, despite official estimates of a wheat crop nearly ten per cent. short of last year's.

The wheat crop has been forecast at 268,226,000 bushels, described by the department as nearly ten per cent. below the large harvests of the past three years, but corresponding closely with the 1933-37 average.

Millions Held Over

The Department said the Italian Ministry of Agriculture has stated that stocks of "several million quintals" (one quintal equals 3.67 bushels) remain over from past harvests and that plantings of corn, rice, potatoes and beans give prospect of "exceedingly favorable" crops.

The foodstuffs balance, the Ministry said, "is satisfactory in so far as predictable now, and in spite of the reduced wheat crop, it shows up in the aggregate in better condition than that of last year."

The Spanish wheat crop has been officially forecast at 121,253,000 bushels. Such a harvest, the department said, would be an increase over those of recent years, which were reduced by civil war activities, but would still be below normal consumption needs of the country.

Other European Reports

Other food supply reports from war-torn Europe included:

Bulgaria has an indicated exportable surplus of 11,000,000 bushels of wheat.

At the behest of the British Government, New Zealand has inaugurated a campaign to increase production of primary farm products for the United Kingdom.

Greece reports a 1940 wheat crop of 34,170,000 bushels, compared with 38,290,000 a year ago and normal domestic requirements of about 48,000,000 bushels. Strict rationing was forecast.

Queen Mary Reported Seen At African Port With Other Big Liners

AUG 6-1940

Boston, Aug. 5 (AP)—Members of the crew of the American-South African Line's Pacific reported today sighting seven big British liners, among them the Queen Mary, at Freetown, on the west coast of Africa, June 1.

They said the liners were waiting for a convoy. They reported that the fleet included the Aquitania, Mauretania, the Empress of Russia, the Empress of Japan, the Empress of Australia and the Empress of Britain.

The crew reported also that they saw a large, gray-painted steamer near Cape Roque, off the coast of Brazil, fifteen days ago and expressed belief she was either the German commerce raider which was engaged recently by a British cruiser or the raider's supply ship.

The Pacific brought in $2,500,000 in gold from Cape Town.

LONDON, AUG 5-(AP)-NEBRASKA-EDUCATED KARL ULMANIS, OUSTED AS PRESIDENT OF LATVIA WHEN HIS COUNTRY SOUGHT ADOPTION INTO THE SOVIET UNION LAST MONTH, HAS DIED OF INJURIES SUFFERED IN AN ASSAULT, ACCORDING TO A DISPATCH FROM STOCKHOLM.

AUG 6-1940

THE DISPATCH, CARRIED BY THE EXCHANGE TELEGRAPH COMPANY (BRITISH NEWS AGENCY) AND QUOTING THE NEWSPAPER AFTONBLADET, ALSO SAID DR. VILHELM MUNTERS, FORMER LATVIAN FOREIGN MINISTER, HAD DISAPPEARED AND IT WAS FEARED HE HAD BEEN KILLED BY POLITICAL ANTAGONISTS.

ON JULY 22, TWO DAYS AFTER HIS REMOVAL FROM OFFICE, THE 62-YEAR-OLD ULMANIS WAS REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN WOUNDED AND TAKEN TO A HOSPITAL AT RIGA. THERE WERE NO FURTHER DETAILS.

HE WAS SAID

LONDON--FIRST ADD KARL ULMANIS X X X FURTHER DETAILS

AUG 6-1940

ULMANIS GRADUATED FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA IN 1909 AND SPENT THE NEXT YEAR WORKING IN A DAIRY AT LINCOLN. LEAVING LINCOLN TO GO TO TEXAS, HE DROPPED OUT OF SIGHT UNTIL 1917.

AT ABOUT THE TIME LATVIA WAS DECLARING HER INDEPENDENCE, TOGETHER WITH ESTONIA AND LITHUANIA, ULMANIS WAS REPAYING HIS AMERICAN FRIENDS FOR LOANS WHICH HAD SET HIM UP IN THE CHEESE-MAKING BUSINESS IN TEXAS.

IN 1918, HE BECAME LATVIA'S FIRST PREMIER; BY A COUP D'ETAT HE BECAME VIRTUAL DICTATOR IN 1934; IN 1936, ON THE DEATH OF THE PRESIDENT, ULMANIS ASSUMED THAT OFFICE.

MT907AED

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS AUG 6-1940

LONDON, AUG. 5.--THE NUMBER OF JAPANESE KNOWN TO BE UNDER ARREST IN ENGLAND AND THE BRITISH EMPIRE GREW TO NINE TODAY AS INFORMED SOURCES PREDICTED THE GOVERNMENT WOULD ISSUE A STATEMENT IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TOMORROW TO CLARIFY SORELY STRAINED BRITISH-JAPANESE RELATIONS.

FOUR JAPANESE, TWO OF WHOM HAVE BEEN ORDERED DEPORTED, ARE BEING HELD IN LONDON. A PROMINENT CORRESPONDENT FOR TWO JAPANESE

NEWS AGENCIES WAS DETAINED EARLY TODAY AT SINGAPORE, BRITAIN'S CHIEF EASTERN NAVAL BASE; A HONGKONG MERCHANT WAS ARRESTED SATURDAY; AND THREE JAPANESE JOURNALISTS ARE BEING HELD AT RANGOON, CAPITAL OF BURMA.

AUG 6 - 1940

JAPANESE AUTHORITIES HAVE RELEASED NINE OF THE 15 BRITONS SEIZED IN JAPAN AND KOREA IN WHAT TOKYO OFFICIALS DESCRIBED AS A DRIVE AGAINST AN "ESPIONAGE NETWORK."

LONDON - FIRST ADD BRITISH

WHILE SOME QUARTERS IDENTIFIED THE JAPANESE ARRESTED IN RANGOON AS JOURNALISTS, A REUTERS (BRITISH NEWS AGENCY) DISPATCH FROM SHANGHAI, QUOTING DOMEI (JAPANESE NEWS AGENCY), IDENTIFIED THEM AS BUSINESS MEN.

IT SAID THEY WERE ICHIRO ORIHATA, OWNER OF THE ORIHATA COMPANY; TADASU OBA, A TRADE AGENT; AND NAOZO KOKUBU, OWNER OF A COMPANY BEARING HIS NAME.

WR512AED

LONDON, AUG 6-(TUESDAY)-(AP)-HUNDREDS OF PERSONS WATCHED A DOGFIGHT BETWEEN A BRITISH FIGHTER PLANE AND A GERMAN RAIDER OVER A NORTHEASTERN ENGLISH TOWN EARLY TODAY BY THE GLARE OF

AUG 6 - 1940

SEARCHLIGHTS.

THE RAIDER FINALLY MADE OFF PURSUED BY THE BRITISH PLANE. EXPLOSIONS WERE HEARD A FEW MOMENTS LATER, BUT WHETHER THEY MEANT DROPPED BOMBS OR THE DESTRUCTION OF ONE OF THE COMBATANTS WAS NOT KNOWN.

THE BATTLE WAS A HIGH-SPOT OF THE REPETITIOUS GERMAN RAIDS ON BRITAIN THIS MORNING.

ONE RAIDER DROPPED SEVERAL BOMBS IN A RURAL AREA OF SOUTH-EASTERN ENGLAND, AND OTHERS WERE BUSY OVER WALES.

SN943PED

LONDON, AUG.6-(TUESDAY)-(AP)-GERMAN PLANES STABBED AT VARIOUS POINTS IN BRITAIN EARLY TODAY WITH THE SHARPEST ACTIVITY OF THE WIDESPREAD RAIDS CENTERED ON THE NORTHEAST COAST OF ENGLAND.

HUNDREDS OF PERSONS IN ONE NORTHEASTERN TOWN WATCHED A RAIDING PLANE AND A BRITISH FIGHTER IN A SPECTACULAR DOGFIGHT ILLUMINATED BY WHITE PENCILS OF SEARCHLIGHTS.

AUG 6 - 1940

THE RAIDER FINALLY FLED WITH THE BRITISH PLANE IN SUCH HOT PURSUIT THAT THE GERMAN JETTISONED HIS BOMBS INTO THE SEA A SHORT DISTANCE OFFSHORE. WINDOWS ASHORE WERE SHATTERED.

NAZI PLANES, APPARENTLY SEARCHING FOR ONE TOWN, WERE HEARD CIRCLING ABOUT FOR A LONG TIME. WHEN BRITISH FIGHTERS TRIED TO LOCATE THEM THEY SPED AWAY.

AN INDICATION THAT BRITAIN MIGHT EASE THE TENSION SOMEWHAT WAS SEEN IN A REPORT THAT ONE OF THE TWO PROMINENT BUSINESSMEN ARRESTED LAST FRIDAY, SATORU MAKINARA, WOULD BE RELEASED TONIGHT. THIS ANNOUNCEMENT CAME FROM DOMEI, JAPANESE NEWS AGENCY, WHICH QUOTED THE JAPANESE EMBASSY. (Eliminated)

AUG 6 - 1940

BMT TO ALL, ETC., THIRD GRAF.

JAPAN HAS MADE TWO STRONG PROTESTS OVER THE SEIZURE OF TWO PROMINENT JAPANESE BUSINESSMEN IN LONDON LAST FRIDAY AND WAS REPORTED DRAFTING A THIRD AND STRONGER NOTE TO INCLUDE ALL JAPANESE TAKEN IN CUSTODY.

BUT, TO ALL PROTESTS, THE BRITISH HAVE QUIETLY SAID THE ARRESTS WERE COINCIDENTAL WITH THE ARRESTS OF BRITISH CITIZENS BY THE JAPANESE IN AN ESPIONAGE INQUIRY AND CERTAINLY COULD NOT BE CONSIDERED REPRISALS.

30.24-4127

30.24-4127

THE JAPANESE EMBASSY SAID BRITAIN'S ANSWER WAS HIGHLY UNSATISFACTORY.

AUG 6-1940

REPORTS REACHING LONDON SAID THE INFLUENTIAL JAPANESE NEWSPAPER NICHI NICHI DECLARED THAT "JAPAN WILL, IF NECESSARY, BREAK OFF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH ENGLAND" IF SHE FAILS TO OBTAIN SATISFACTION.

THESE REPORTS SAID THE HIGHEST OFFICIALS OF THE JAPANESE FOREIGN OFFICE HAD DECIDED TO DEMAND IMMEDIATE RELEASE OF ALL THE JAPANESE.

NINE HAVE BEEN ARRESTED IN LONDON, HONGKONG, SINGAPORE AND RANGOON. ALL BUT SEVEN BRITISH DETAINED BY THE JAPANESE HAVE BEEN RELEASED.

(HOWEVER, FOREIGN OFFICE SPOKESMAN YAKICHIRO SUMA IN TOKYO SAID BUREAU CHIEFS OF THE FOREIGN OFFICE THOROUGHLY CANVASSED THE BRITISH ACTIONS BUT REACHED NO DEFINITE DECISION PENDING FULLER OFFICIAL REPORTS FROM LONDON.

(DEMANDS FOR "ENERGETIC MEASURES" WERE VOICED AT MASS MEETINGS IN TOKYO, OSAKA AND OTHER JAPANESE CITIES. AT THE OSAKA MEETING, ARRANGED BY ALL JAPANESE POLITICAL PARTIES, THE ELIMINATION OF "OFFENSIVE BRITISH INCLUENCE IN JAPAN" WAS DEMANDED.)

AMBASSADOR MAMORU SHIGEMITSU SPENT THE DAY PREPARING THE THIRD PROTEST BUT DID NOT CALL UPON FOREIGN SECRETARY LORD HALIFAX.

THE GOVERNMENT MAY ISSUE A STATEMENT TO COMMONS TOMORROW TO CLARIFY THE STRAINED SITUATION.

WHEELER

AP London - dateline

GERMAN BOMBERS KEPT UP THEIR SCATTERED ATTACKS ON ENGLAND WITH A SERIES OF RAIDS DURING THE NIGHT WHICH, THE GOVERNMENT SAID, RESULTED IN THE DEATH OF ONE PERSON, A FEW OTHER CASUALTIES, AND "NGELIGIBLE" DAMAGE.

AUG 6-1940

HIGH EXPLOSIVE AND INCENDIARY BOMBS WERE DROPPED IN ISOLATED DISTRICTS IN THE MIDLANDS AND EASTERN ENGLAND, A COMMUNIQUE SAID.

SATURDAY NIGHT AND SUNDAY MORNING GERMAN RAIDERS BOMBED THE THAMES ESTUARY, WALES AND EASTERN SCOTLAND, BUT NO CASUALTIES WERE REPORTED.

(A GERMAN COMMUNIQUE SAID ATTACKS HAD BEEN CARRIED OUT ON SWANSEA, WALES, AND ON AN OIL HARBOR NEAR LIVERPOOL, WHERE LARGE FIRES WERE STARTED.)

MILITARY OBSERVERS EXPRESSED BELIEF THAT IF HITLER INTENDS TO LAUNCH AN ATTACK THIS MONTH IT PROBABLY WILL COME IN THE FIVE DAYS---BEGINNING TODAY---WHEN THE HIGH AUGUST TIDES ARE AT THEIR PEAK.

IT WAS EXPECTED THAT THESE TIDES, MOST FAVORABLE FOR A SEA-BORNE ATTACK, WOULD BE ACCOMPANIED BY CALM SEAS AND CHANNEL FOG.

HEAVY ATTACKS ON THE BASES WHICH WOULD SERVE HITLER AS A SPRINGBOARD FOR THE EXPECTED INVASION WERE CARRIED OUT DURING THE WEEK END BY WIDE-RANGING BRITISH BOMBERS.

ROYAL AIR FORCE PILOTS TOLD OF MACHINE-GUNNING GERMAN TROOP CONCENTRATIONS AT THE FRENCH PORT OF ABBEVILLE, OF BOMBING TRUCK CONVOYS AND AN ARMORED TRAIN AND BLASTING BARGES NEAR GRAVELINES AND DUNKERQUE.

AN AIR MINISTRY COMMUNIQUE SAID NAVAL BUILDINGS AT KIEL WERE SET

AFIRE, AIRDROMES POUNDED HEAVILY AND NUMEROUS HITS SCORED ON VITAL SYNTHETIC OIL PLANTS IN THE GERMAN INDUSTRIAL AREA.

RAILWAY COMMUNICATIONS IN THE RUHR AND RHINELAND WERE REPORTED SYSTEMATICALLY ATTACKED.

THE ADMIRALTY ANNOUNCED TORPEDO-CARRYING SWORDFISH PLANES HAD SCORED DIRECT HITS ON HANGARS AT THE ITALIAN AIRDROME AT CAGLIARI, SARDINIA, DURING FLEET OPERATIONS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AUG. 1 AND 2.

TWO OF THE PLANES WERE REPORTED LOST IN THE ATTACK BUT THE BRITISH SAID THAT THREE ITALIAN CRAFT HAD BEEN SHOT DOWN BY NAVAL DIVE BOMBERS IN ATTACKS ON THE BRITISH FLEET.

THE ADMIRALTY ALSO ANNOUNCED THE LOSS OF THE ARMED TRAWLER CAPE FINISTERRE IN A FIGHT FRIDAY WITH FOUR GERMAN PLANES, ONE OF WHICH WAS SHOT DOWN. TWO OTHER BRITISH TRAWLERS RETURNED TO PORT TO TELL OF DOWNING ANOTHER GERMAN PLANE WHICH ATTACKED THEM.

QUEEN ELIZABETH

AP London - Aug 5

FROM MIDNIGHT UNTIL EARLY TODAY ATTACKING BRITISH PLANES WERE REPORTED OVER THE SYNTHETIC OIL WORKS AT STERKRADE, DROPPING 14 TONS OF HIGH EXPLOSIVE AND INCENDIARY BOMBS. THE BOMBS WERE SAID TO HAVE FIRED OIL FLOWING FROM SHATTERED TANKS.

"THE FIRE WAS STILL BLAZING WHEN WE FINISHED OUR JOB AND HEADED FOR HOME," SAID ONE PILOT.

AN AIR MINISTRY BULLETIN SAID THAT THREE BLENHEIMS (BRITISH BOMBERS) PATROLLING THE FRENCH COAST BEAT OFF FOUR MESSERSCHMITTS (GERMAN FIGHTERS) SUNDAY.

AUG 6 - 1940

WM3&PED

SOMEWHERE IN EAST ANGLIA, ENGLAND, AUG 5--(AP)--THE GERMANS HAVE TAUGHT THE PEOPLE OF THIS TOWN HOW TO HURRY--IT TAKES THEM LESS THAN A MINUTE TO GET INTO AIR RAID SHELTERS AFTER THE FIRST WAIL OF THE WARNING SIREN.

AUG 6 - 1940

EACH TIME A RAID STARTS, SHOPKEEPERS HURRY OUT AND RAISE THEIR SHUTTERS, BANK CLERKS SEIZE THEIR CASH AND LEDGERS AND RUSH FOR THE VAULTS AND PEOPLE VANISH FROM THE STREETS, ALL IN A MATTER OF SECONDS.

SOON AFTER THE RAID IS OVER, FIGURES CAN BE SEEN HURRYING TO THE LIBRARY TO AWAIT THE POSTING OF THE CASUALTY LIST. IT'S ALL RATHER MATTER-OF-FACT AND METHODICAL. THERE'S NO SIGN OF PANIC.

THE MAIN GRUMBLE IN THIS NORFOLK-SUFFOLK AREA SEEMS TO BE OVER THE DELAY CAUSED TO BUSINESS.

"WE'VE HAD TO CLOSE SEVERAL HOURS ALREADY TODAY," SIGHED ONE SHOPKEEPER WHO ALREADY HAD OPENED LATE BECAUSE OF A SLEEPLESS NIGHT.

SOMEWHERE IN EAST ANGLIA, FIRST ADD RAID DESCRIPTIVE XXX SLEEPLESS NIGHT.

(THE BRITISH HAVE REPORTED FREQUENT GERMAN ATTACKS ON EAST ANGLIA, THE AREA OF NORFOLK AND SUFFOLK NORTHEAST OF LONDON.)

FRIENDS WITH WHOM THIS WRITER STAYED HAVE HAD THEIR LUGGAGE PACKED, READY TO MOVE OUT FOR MORE THAN A MONTH NOW. BUT THEY'RE STAYING UNTIL THE MILITARY ORDERS THEM TO GO.

SOON AFTER THE WRITER'S TRAIN ENTERED THE DEFENSE AREA AN ELDE

(MORE)--SM1206PES

30.24-4129

30.24-4129

SOMEWHERE IN EAST ANGLIA, SECOND ADD RAID DESCRIPTIVE XXX THEN TO GO.

AUG 6-1940

SOON AFTER THE WRITER'S TRAIN ENTERED THE DEFENSE AREA AN ELDERLY DINING CAR CONDUCTOR CAME ALONG AND POINTED OUT NEW SIGHTS ALONG THE TRACKS.

AT ONE POINT A ROW OF BOMB CRATERS HAD BEEN BLASTED ALMOST IN A STRAIGHT LINE ACROSS A FIELD OF YELLOWING CORN, JUST SHORT OF THE TRACKS.

ANOTHER CRATER LAY ON THE OTHER SIDE, ALSO A FEW FEET FROM THE TRACKS.

"SMART, EH?" CHUCKLED THE CONDUCTOR, "BUT NOT SMART ENOUGH."

LIKE THE OTHER TRAINMEN, HE HAD A ROW OF MEDALS AND RIBBONS FROM THE LAST WAR PINNED ACROSS HIS CHEST.

AS THE TRAIN DREW SLOWLY INTO THIS ANCIENT EAST ANGLIAN TOWN THE CONDUCTOR POINTED OUT SEVERAL DAMAGED BUILDINGS NEAR THE RAILROAD.

"THEY DID THAT YESTERDAY," HE EXPLAINED.

PART OF THE GLASS ROOF OF THIS TOWN'S RAILROAD STATION HAD BEEN SHATTERED BY MACHINE GUN BULLETS FROM THE SAME RAIDER.

A POSTER ON THE STATION PLATFORM READS:

"YOU ARE ADVISED AN AIR RAID IS IN PROGRESS."

PHIPPS

¶ THIS CORRESPONDENT'S HOSTS HAVE A COMFORTABLE SHELTER WITH ELECTRIC LIGHTS AND ARM CHAIRS BENEATH THEIR BACKYARD.

¶ THE DAUGHTER HAS PROMISED HER SOLDIER-HUSBAND SHE WOULD BE IN THE SHELTER WITHIN TWO MINUTES OF THE START OF A RAID.

AUG 6-1940

¶ THE REST OF THE FAMILY LAUGH AT HER EFFORTS TO OBEY, AND FOLLOW AT LEISURE.

THE BLIND LADY NEXT DOOR DOESN'T HAVE THE TROUBLE HER NEIGHBORS HAVE IN DRESSING IN THE DARK.

FURTHER DOWN THE ROAD THERE'S A WOMAN OF 84 WHO STAYS FULLY DRESSED AND CLASPS A FLASHLIGHT WHEN SHE GOES TO BED.

"HITLER WON'T CATCH ME," SHE EXPLAINED.

¶ IN THE EVENING THE MAID TAKES OFF HER CAP AND APRON AND SITS WITH THE FAMILY TO KNIT SOCKS FOR THE BOY FRIEND IN THE ARMY.

¶ SUCH A THING WOULD BE UNHEARD OF IN PEACETIME IN ENGLAND, BUT IT'S LONELY IN THE KITCHEN AND SHE'S SCARED WHEN THE RAIDS START.

THE COALMAN ON A DELIVERY CALL DURING ONE OF THE DAY'S ALARMS REFUSED THE PROFFERED SHELTER.

AUG 6 - 1940

"I'VE GOT TO BE AT MY OBSERVATION POST LISTENING FOR THE HUNS IN HALF AN HOUR," HE EXPLAINED.

THERE ARE GUN EMPLACEMENTS [redacted] DOWN THE LANE AND THE LITTLE TOWN SQUARE IS THRONGED WITH TROOPS AND TRANSPORT.

"I HAVE NEVER SEEN THE LIKE OF IT," ONE OF THE OLDEST INHABITANTS SAID, SHAKING HIS HEAD ABOUT ALL THIS BUSINESS OF WAR.

THERE STILL ARE CHILDREN FROM LONDON IN THIS AREA.

H
T EV CROWD AROUND THE SOLDIERS ASKING FOR "SOUVENIRS."

IN A NEARBY PARK SURROUNDING THE ANCIENT MANOR HOUSE OWNED BY LORD LOTHIAN, BRITISH AMBASSADOR TO WASHINGTON, [redacted] REPUTEDLY THE BIRTH PLACE OF ANNE [redacted] BOLEYN, ONE OF HENRY VIII'S UNFORTUNATE WIVES, THEY'RE DUG TRENCHES ALONG THE SHORES OF THE LAKE.

PARIS, AUG. 2-(DELAYED-VIA BERLIN)-(AP)-[redacted] SIGN OF SLOWLY-REVIVING [redacted] PARIS LIFE WAS THE GALA RE-OPENING LAST NIGHT OF SACHA GUITRY'S PLAY," PASTEUR."

AUG 6 - 1940

NEWSPAPER COMMENTS SAID THERE WERE "BEAUTIFUL WOMEN, JEWELS, GOWNS AND GAIETY."

"PARIS [redacted] REMAINS AND WILL REMAIN THE CAPITAL OF ELEGANCE AND GOOD [redacted] TASTE," LE MATIN SAID.

A LESS HAPPY ANNOUNCEMENT WAS THAT ONLY 500 GRAMS OF [redacted] (ABOUT 17.6 OUNCES) OF SUGAR PER PERSON WILL BE ISSUED [redacted] DURING AUGUST.

DESPITE THE LACK OF AUTOMOBILES OR TOURIST TRAIN SERVICE ONE NEWSPAPER CARRIED AN OPTIMISTIC ADVERTISEMENT OF A DEAUVILLE HOTEL ON THE COAST SOUTH OF LE HAVRE. "PLENTY OF SUNSHINE, A BAR AND TENNIS COURTS," IT SAID.

PARIS, AUG. 2-(DELAYED)-(AP VIA BERLIN)-THE

AUG 6 - 1940

NORTHERN QUARTER OF THE CHANNEL PORT OF CALIS SUFFERED HEAVILY FROM BOMBARDMENT DURING MAY BUT THE REMAINDER OF THE CITY WAS RELATIVELY UNHARMED, THE MAYOR OF CALAIS REPORTED TODAY IN DENYING THAT HIS CITY HAD BEEN DESTROYED.

30,24-4131 30.24-4131

Add Vichy - Aug 5 - (Dash) — AUG 6 - 1940

NEW CALEDONIA, 500 MILES OFF THE EASTERN COAST OF AUSTRALIA, HAS A POPULATION OF 53,245, MOST OF WHOM ARE NATIVE POLYNESIANS AND MELANESIANS, AND IS 8,548 SQUARE MILES, THE CHIEF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS OF WHICH ARE COFFEE, COPRA, COTTON, TOBACCO, BANANAS AND PINEAPPLES.

[redacted] ITS MINERAL RESOURCES ARE VERY GREAT--CHROME, COBALT, NICKEL, IRON, MANGANESE, GOLD, SILVER, LEAD AND COPPER ABOUND.

PARIS, AUG. 5-(DELAYED)-(AP VIA BERLIN)-THE POLICE AND MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES OF PARIS JOINED TODAY IN APPEALING TO THE PUBLIC TO TIGHTEN ITS BELTS. AUG 6 - 1940

"FOR AN INDETERMINATE PERIOD, PARIS AND ITS SUBURBS WILL NOT RECEIVE ANY PROVISIONS OTHER THAN THOSE SUPPLIED BY THE NATIONAL TERRITORY," THE APPEAL READ.

"CERTAIN REDUCTION IN CONSUMPTION OF MANY GOODS, AND ELIMINATION OF MANY GOODS THAT WE DO NOT PRODUCE MAY BE NECESSARY."

AUG 6 - 1940

CONSUMERS WERE ASKED TO AVOID ANY UNNECESSARY PURCHASE AND MERCHANTS WERE URGED TO DISTRIBUTE [redacted] EQUITABLY AMONG BUYERS.

AT THE SAME TIME THE GERMAN MILITARY AUTHORITIES FORBADE OPERATION OF ANY PLEASURE AUTOMOBILE OF MORE THAN 14 HORSEPOWER IN ORDER TO SAVE GASOLINE VITAL TO TRANSPORT.

ALL VEHICLES MUST BE INSPECTED BY GERMAN AUTHORITIES, AND THE OWNER MUST FURNISH PROOF OF OWNERSHIP AND PURCHASE PRICE. SEIZURE IS THE PENALTY FOR NON-COMPLIANCE.

Add Vichy - Aug 5

THE MINISTRY OF LABOR ANNOUNCED THAT PAID VACATIONS FOR WORKERS, SUSPENDED EARLY IN MAY, WOULD BE RESUMED, BUT SAID THAT VACATIONS MUST BE TAKEN AT AT HOME TO PREVENT CONGESTION OF COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEMS ALREADY OVERTAXED BY RETURNING REFUGEES.

AUG 6 - 194[illegible]

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG. 5-(AP)-DAILY RAILROAD TRAFFIC BETWEEN UNOCCUPIED FRANCE AND ITALY WAS RE-ESTABLISHED TODAY.

SEVILLE,SPAIN,AUG. 5-(AP)-GERMAN CONSULAR OFFICIALS TONIGHT GREETED A GROUP OF GERMAN MILITARY AVIATORS, ENGINEERS AND MANY ENLISTED MEN, FREED WAR PRISONERS WHO ARRIVED BY AIR FROM FRENCH MOROCCO. (THE NUMBER WAS NOT DISCLOSED.)

RQ851PED

Add Ghent - Aug - 5 (Grovers')

TAKING OFF NEAR GHENT WITH A PART OF FOREIGN NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENTS WE HEADED FOR THE CHANNEL COAST NORTHEAST OF DUNKERQUE TO GET AS CLOSE AS POSSIBLE A VIEW OF AIR OPERATIONS CARRIED ON IN THE LONG PERIOD OF "PRELIMINARY ATTACKS" BEFORE THE LONG-AWAITED DIRECT ASSAULT ON ENGLAND.

FLYING SOUTHWARD ALONG THE ENGLISH CHANNEL COAST, SOMETIMES OVER WATER, SOMETIMES OVER THE SHORE, WE SAW RUINED DUNKERQUE FROM THE AIR FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE IT WAS SMASHED BY GERMAN DIVE-BOMBERS AND ARTILLERY DURING THE REMOVAL OF THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE IN THE LAST DAYS OF THE BATTLE OF FLANDERS EARLY IN JUNE.

WE CRUISED SLOWLY IN A HUGE THREE-MOTOR TRANSPORT CIRCLING OVER DUNKERQUE, THEN CONTINUED TO THE SOUTHWEST ALONG THE COAST.

(MORE)

GHENT--FIRST ADD FLIGHT OVER CHANNEL BY GROVER, XXX OHE COAST.

IT COULD ONLY BE SPECULATED WHETHER WE ACTUALLY SAW THE COAST OF ENGLAND. USING FIELD GLASSES I FOCUSED ON THE FAR HORIZON IN THE DIRECTION OF ENGLAND AND AT ONE TIME SEEMED TO BE ABLE TO DETECT A DARK BLUE LINE APART FROM THE LIGHT MIST OVER THE WATER.

BEFORE WE REACHED CALAIS--NEAREST POINT ALONG THE GERMAN-HELD COAST TO ENGLAND, AND THUS A POSSIBLE JUMPING OFF PLACE FOR INVASION--

THE PLANE SWUNG ABRUPTLY INLAND.

A DILIGENT SEARCH OF THE CHANNEL SHIPPING LANES THROUGH MY GLASSES FAILED TO DISCOVER A SINGLE SHIP AFLOAT. THE GERMANS HAVE SAID THE BRITISH ARE UNABLE TO USE THE CHANNEL SHIPPING LANES BECAUSE RAIDS HAVE MADE LOSSES TOO COSTLY, EVEN IN GUARDED CONVOYS.

WE DID SEE DUNKERQUE FROM 600 TO 1,000 FEET ABOVE. IT WAS A SPECTACLE FROM A NIGHTMARE.

ALTHOUGH OUR PLANE CIRCLED AGAIN AND AGAIN I COULD NOT SEE A SOLITARY INDIVIDUAL IN THE RUINS OF WHAT ONCE WAS BELGIUM'S ATLANTIC CITY.

GHENT--SECOND ADD FLIGHT OVER CHANNEL BY GROVER XXX ATLANTIC CITY.

LYING IN THE MUD OF DRAINED CANALS OR JUST OFFSHORE WITH ONLY THEIR MASTS SHOWING ABOVE THE WATER WERE 11 LARGE-SIZED VESSELS. THE SHORELINE WAS STREWN WITH DOZENS OF SMALLER SHIPS FROM LAUNCH SIZE TO LIGHT COAST PATROLBOATS RUSHED ACROSS THE BOMB-CHURNED CHANNEL FROM ENGLAND TO SAVE STRANDED TROOPS.

THERE WAS NO WAY OF TELLING HOW MANY OTHER SHIPS WERE SUNK FARTHER OFF SHORE WHERE THE WATER IS DEEPER AND THEIR MASTS WOULD NOT SHOW.

FIELD MARSHAL GEN.ALBERT KESSERLING, IN CHARGE OF THE NAZI AIRFORCE OF THE NORTHWEST DISTRICT OPPOSITE ENGLAND, SAID FULLY 40 PER CENT OF THE BRITISH SHIPS WHICH REACHED DUNKERQUE NEVER GOT AWAY.

OUR BIG TRANSPORT WAS ALONE WHEN IT LEFT GHENT, BUT AS WE NEARED THE COAST, WHERE THERE WAS DANGER OF ENCOUNTERING BRITISH FIGHTER PLANES, EIGHT MESSERSCHMIT PLANES FROM AN UNDESIGNATED AIRDROME JOINED US.

30.24-4133

30.24-4133

FROM THE AIR WE COULD SEE THE ADVANTAGE WARPLANES HAVE OVER GROUND TROOPS.

AUG 6 - 1940

OVER THE GROUND WHERE THE BRITISH FELL BACK TOWARD DUNKERQUE WE COULD SEE CLUMPS OF TREES WHERE SOLDIERS APPARENTLY HAD SOUGHT SHELTER FROM PLANES. BOMB CRATERS COULD BE SEEN AROUND THEM.

AROUND COURTRAI, HOWEVER, THERE WAS LITTLE SIGN OF SEVERE FIGHTING. FIELDS WERE DOTTED WITH ROWS OF BUNDLED GRAIN.

WE SAW NO HOUSES WRECKED, BUT THE BOMB CRATERS MADE IT EASY TO TRACE THE BATTLE LINES. VILLAGE AFTER VILLAGE OF CENTRAL AND WESTERN BELGIUM AND NORTHWESTERN FRANCE SHOWED NO SIGNS OF FIGHTING NOR PREPARATIONS FOR FURTHER ACTIVITY.

BUT WE COULD GUESS THAT HIDDEN IN WOODS AND CAMOUFLAGED HIDEOUTS WERE GERMAN WARPLANES WAITING FOR THE SIGNAL TO START A NEW PHASE OF THE FIGHTING.

FH731PED

BERLIN, AUG 5-(AP)-ANTI-AIRCRAFT ARTILLERY BASED ON DOWNTOWN ROOFTOPS LATE TONIGHT FIRED WARNING SHOTS AT A PLANE OVER BERLIN.

FLAME SHELLS LIGHTED THE SKY AND APPARENTLY NO SHRAPNEL WAS FIRED. OFFICIALS SAID THE PLANE APPARENTLY FLEW IN UNREPORTED AFTER STRAYING FROM THE PRECISELY PRESCRIBED AIRLANES IN THE CAPITAL REGION.

AUG 6 - 1940

P455PED

BERLIN, AUG. 5-(AP VIA RADIO)-THE GERMAN WIRELESS
THE 65,000 JEWS IN KRAKOW
REPORTED TONIGHT THAT HAVE BEEN GIVEN A FORTNIGHT IN WHICH

AUG 6 - 1940

TO LEAVE THE CAPITAL OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL'S AREA OF GERMAN-OCCUPIED POLAND.

AUG 6 - 1940

THE WIRELESS QUOTED THE NEWSPAPER KRAKAUER ZEITUNG OF KRAKAU AS SAYING THE ORDER WAS INTENDED TO GIVE TO KRAKOW "EXTERNALLY THE STANDING WHICH IS DUE IT."

IT SAID THAT UNTIL AUG. 15 THE DEPARTING JEWS WOULD BE PERMITTED TO SELECT THEIR OWN HOUSES AND TAKE THEIR PROPERTY WITH THEM. AFTER THAT THEY MAY TAKE ONLY 50 KILOGRAMS (ABOUT 100 POUNDS) OF BAGGAGE.

BEIRUT, LEBANON, AUG. 5-(AP)-THE VICHY PETAIN GOVERNMENT OF FRANCE MADE A LAST APPEAL TODAY TO FRENCH SOLDIERS FROM SYRIA WHO JOINED THE BRITISH ARMY IN PALESTINE, OFFERING THEM COMPLETE FREEDOM IF THEY RETURN TO SYRIA BEFORE AUG. 15, OTHERWISE THEY ARE LIABLE TO THE DEATH PENALTY.

AUG 6 - 1940

ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT, AUG 5-(AP)-BRITAIN'S ASSERTED MASTERY OF THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN AND CONTROL OF THE SUEZ CANAL SPURRED A PARTIAL REVIVAL OF WATER TRAFFIC TODAY AS SHIPPERS GREW CONFIDENT THAT CONVOYED VESSELS FACE LITTLE DANGER FROM ITALIAN WARCRAFT.

AUG 6 - 1940

SHIPOWNERS WERE ENCOURAGED SPECIFICALLY BY BRITISH SUCCESSES IN ATTACKING ITALIAN SUBMARINES AND SINKING THE FAST FASCIST CRUISER BARTOLOMEO COLLEONI RECENTLY.

SIX STEAMSHIP LINES NOW ARE ADVERTISING FREIGHT AND PASSENGER SERVICE TO AMERICA AND ENGLAND BY WAY OF CAPETOWN AND OTHERS TO INDIA, AUSTRALIA AND THE FAR EAST.

AN EGYPTIAN STEAMER WILL LEAVE FOR AMERICA SHORTLY--THE FIRST SINCE ITALY ENTERED THE WAR.

UNITED STATES SHIPPING, BARRED FROM THE MEDITERRANEAN AND RED SEAS, IS MAKING MOMBASSA, IN KENYA, AND BASRA, IN IRAQ, ITS NEAR EASTERN TERMINALS.

NEAR-EASTERN AIR COMMUNICATIONS ALSO ARE IMPROVING WITH THE BRITISH IMPERIAL AIRWAYS ADVERTISING FOR MAIL AND PASSENGERS TO ENGLAND AND OTHER PARTS OF THE EMPIRE.

THE DUTCH KLM AIRLINES SCHEDULE WEEKLY FLIGHTS TO PALESTINE, INDIA, AND AUSTRALIA WITH CONNECTIONS FOR AMERICAN CLIPPERS IN AUCKLAND.

P515PED

ROME, AUG. 5-(AP)-ITALY CHALKED UP CRIPPLING RAIDS ON BRITISH AFRICAN BASES TO THE CREDIT OF HER WIDE-RANGING BOMBERS TODAY AND WROTE OFF IN RED INK THE LOSS OF ANOTPER SUBMARINE.

AUG 6 - 1940

NO DETAILS CONCERNING THE LOSS OF THE SUBMARINE WERE GIVEN AND THE HIGH COMMAND MADE NO OTHER MENTION OF NAVAL ACTIVITIES IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

(REPORTS FROM LONDON QUOTED THE MADRID RADIO AS SAYING THE BRITISH FLEET AT GIBRALTAR HAD SAILED OUT INTO THE MEDITERRANEAN LAST NIGHT WITH THE BATTLECRUISER HOOD AT ITS HEAD.)

AT THE COST OF ONLY ONE PLANE, THE HIGH COMMAND REPORTED, SMASHING BLOWS WERE STRUCK AT THE IMPORTANT RAILWAY CENTER OF HAIYA, IN THE ANGLO-EGYPTIAN SUDAN, AIRPORTS AT ERKOWITT AND SUMMIT, IN THE SAME TERRITORY, AND THE BRITISH SOMALILAND PORT OF ZEILA ON THE GULF OF ADEN.

HAIYA, 100 MILES NORTH OF THE ERITREAN FRONTIER, IS THE JUNCTION OF WAILWAY LINES CONNECTING PORT SUDAN ON THE RED SEA WITH THE NILE AND THE BORDER TOWN OF KASSALA.

ITALIAN BOMBERS ALSO WERE REPORTED TO HAVE BOMBED A BRITISH ARMORED MOTOR TRAIN SOUTH OF WAJIR, KENYA COLONY. (THE BRITISH SAID ONE ITALIAN PLANE DROPPED 20 BOMBS NEAR WAJIR WITH "NO EFFECT.")

(BRITISH SOURCES SAID THAT APPROXIMATELY 15 ITALIAN SUBMARINES, ONE CRUISER, THREE DESTROYERS AND ONE STORE SHIP HAD BEEN DESTROYED SINCE ITALY ENTERED THE WAR JUNE 10. THE BEST AVAILABLE INFORMATION PLACED THE NUMBER OF ITALIAN SUBMARINES IN OPERATION AT THE START OF THE CONFLICT AT 104.)

AUG 6 - 1940

THE HIGH COMMAND SAID A BRITISH ATTACK ON THE LIBYAN PORT OF DERNA HAD BEEN REPULSED WITH "SLIGHT DAMAGE".

(A BRITISH COMMUNIQUE SAID DIRECT HITS WERE SCORED ON THREE SHIPS AND ON DOCK FACILITIES IN THE DERNA RAID.

(THE BRITISH ALSO REPORTED THAT A SQUADRON OF SWORDFISH PLANES

30.24-4135
30.24-4135

FROM THE NAVAL BASE AT GIBRALTAR HAD RAIDED THE PORT OF CAGLIARI, SARDINIA, LAST FRIDAY, DESTROYING HANGARS AND GROUNDED AIRCRAFT. TWO OF THE BRITISH PLANES WERE LOST, A COMMUNIQUE SAID, WHILE THREE ITALIAN PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN.

AUG 6 - 1940

(CAPTURE OF A SMALL ITALIAN POST ON THE ETHIOPIA-KENYA FRONTIER WAS ANNOUNCED IN ANOTHER BRITISH COMMUNIQUE.)

WR622AED

AJJ - Rome - Aug 5

HEAVY AERIAL BLOWS ALSO WERE REPORTED BY THE HIGH COMMAND, WHICH SAID 14 BRITISH SHIPS WERE SHOT DOWN IN AFRICA SUNDAY--INCLUDING 10 IN ONE BIG BATTLE.

BRITISH TARGETS STRETCHED OVER 1,850 MILES, FROM MERSA MATRUH, ON THE EGYPTIAN COAST, TO THE PORT OF BERBERA, BRITISH SOMALILAND, ON THE GULF OF ADEN BELOW THE RED SEA.

AUG 6 - 1940

WHEN BRITISH WARPLANES ATTEMPTED TO BOMB LIBYAN TROOPS NEAR THE EGYPTIAN FRONTIER, THE HIGH COMMAND SAID, ITALIAN FIGHTERS SHOT DOWN SEVEN GLOUCESTERS AND THREE BLENHEIMS.

ANOTHER WAS DOWNED DURING AN "EFFECTIVE" ITALIAN RAID ON MERSA MATRUH, ANOTHER BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE AT KASSALA, IN THE ANGLO-EGYPTIAN SUDAN, AND THE OTHER TWO IN A BRITISH RAID ON THE HARBOR OF MASSAUA, ERITREA.

THE BRITISH ATTACK, IT SAID, CAUSED ONLY "LIGHT DAMAGE." FOUR PERSONS WERE KILLED AND 30 WOUNDED. NO ITALIAN PLANES WERE REPORTED LOST.

(TWO ROYAL AIR FORCE COMMUNIQUES ISSUED AT CAIRO GAVE THIS VERSION:

(BRITISH FIGHTERS HEADED OFF ITALIAN RAIDERS RAIDING MERSA MATRUH, HITTING TWO SO BADLY "IT IS UNLIKELY THAT THEY RETURNED TO THEIR BASE" AND COMPELLING OTHERS TO JETTISON THEIR BOMBS IN THE SEA.

AUG 6 - 1940

(IN RAIDS ON MASSAUA, A FUEL DUMP WAS ATTACKED, A DIRECT HIT WAS SCORED ON A NAVAL VESSEL AND "IN A LOW LEVEL ATTACK BOMBS WERE SEEN BURSTING AMONG SUBMARINES," THE BRITISH SAID.

("BRITISH RECONNAISSANCE AIRCRAFT, ESCORTED BY FOUR FIGHTERS, MET 50 ENEMY FIGHTERS IN EASTERN LIBYA .... THREE ENEMY AIRCRAFT WERE SHOT DOWN. . . ONE OF OUR FIGHTERS IS MISSING.")

"OUR BOMBING FORMATIONS HAVE DEVASTATED AND DISORGANIZED THE MOST IMPORTANT MILITARY OBJECTIVES, WHOSE EFFICIENCY WAS MOST USEFUL AND ESSENTIAL TO THE ENEMY." STEFANI DECLARED.

DISCOVERED BY ITALIAN SCOUTING PLANES, THE NEW BRITISH AIRFIELDS PARTICULARLY IN THE UPPER SUDAN, WHERE RAIDED BY ITALIAN BOMBERS, STEFANI SAID.

IT MENTIONED ATTACKS ON HAIYA AND SUMMITT, BOTH RAILROAD JUNCTIONS, AND ALSO THE LITTLE HARBOR OF ZEILA, BRITISH SOMALILAND, WHERE IT SAID TWO SHIPS, A TUGBOAT, DOCKS, WAREHOUSES AND PORT WORKS SUFFERED HEAVY BOMB DAMAGE.

AUG 6 - 1940

AT HAIYA, WHERE BRANCHES OF THE RAILROAD FROM THE RICH, COTTON-PRODUCING UPPER NILE VALLEY JOIN THE MAIN LINE TO THE COAST AT PORT SUDAN, STEFANI SAID, ITALIAN PLANES SWOOPED LOW AND RIPPED UP SEVERAL HUNDRED YARDS OF TRACK.

BRITISH DEFENSE PLANES ATTEMPTED TO REPEL THE ITALIAN AIR ATTACK AT SUMMITT, THE AGENCY SAID, BUT WERE DRIVEN OFF WHILE

ITALIAN BOMBERS EXPLODED GASOLINE TANKS, BOMBED TROOP CONCENTRATIONS AND SET AFIRE A LARGE BUILDING IN WHICH GASOLINE RESERVES WERE BELIEVED STORED.

AUG 6 - 1940

WM423PED

OSLO, AUG. 5-(AP)-A SPECIAL TRAINLOAD OF 180 UNITED STATES CITIZENS WEDNESDAY WILL LEAVE HERE FOR STOCKHOLM ENROUTE TO FINLAND'S FAR NORTHERN PETASOM REGION WHERE THEY WILL BOARD THE UNITED STATES ARMY TRANSPORT AMERICAN LEGION TO RETURN HOME.

AUG 6 - 1940

THE AMERICAN LEGION LEFT NEW YORK JULY 25 UNDER ORDERS FROM PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO TAKE OUT STRANDED AMERICANS.

ORG BANK'S -EDB-956P

MOSCOW, AUG. 5-(AP)-THE MAGAZINE BOLSHEVIK DECLARED TODAY THAT "THE STRATEGICAL POSITION OF THE UNITED STATES HAS CHANGED RADICALLY IN THE ELEVEN MONTHS OF THE WAR."

AUG 6 - 1940

"THE FIRST LINE OF AMERICAN DEFENSE--THE FRENCH ARMY-- NO LONGER EXISTS," THE MAGAZINE SAID. "THE BRITISH NAVY IS BUSY DEFENDING THE BRITISH ISLES AND BRITISH COLONIES. THE UNITED STATES NOW HAS TO RELY ON ITS OWN FORCES IN THE ATLANTIC AT A TIME WHEN IT NEEDS MORE THAN ANYTHING ELSE TO ARRAY ITS NAVY IN THE PACIFIC."

THE MAGAZINE ASSERTED THAT, WITH THE DEVELOPMENT OF AVIATION, "THE ATLANTIC COASTS OF EUROPE ON THE ONE SIDE AND THE PACIFIC COASTS OF ASIA ON THE OTHER WILL SERVE AS THE FRONTIERS OF THE UNITED STATES."

MV300PED

MOSCOW, AUG. 6-(TUESDAY)-(AP)-THE SOVIET-UNITED STATES TRADE AGREEMENT EXPIRED AT MIDNIGHT, BUT AMERICAN CIRCLES SAID THEY EXPECTED NEGOTIATIONS FOR RENEWAL WOULD BE RESUMED SHORTLY.

AUG 6 - 1940

AN INFORMED SOURCE SAID YESTERDAY THAT THERE WAS A TACIT UNDERSTANDING THAT PROVISIONS OF THE OLD AGREEMENT WOULD REMAIN IN FORCE UNTIL NEGOTIATIONS ARE CONCLUDED.

-PHL-[illegible] HANDOUTS 0230Z-643PED-

HONGKONG, AUG. 6 (TUESDAY)-(AP)- HONGKONG'S FIRST MILITARY GOVERNOR SINCE 1912, LIEUT. GEN. E.F. NORTON, ARRIVED TODAY FROM HIS PREVIOUS COMMAND IN INDIA.

AUG 6 - 1940

GENERAL NORTON, WHO LED THE 1924 MT. EVEREST CLIMBING EXPEDITION, DID NOT INDICATE WHETHER HIS APPOINTMENT MEANS THAT THE COLONY WILL ASSUME A STRICTLY MILITARY STATUS, SUCH AS GIBRALTAR, OR IS ONLY A TEMPORARY WARTIME MEASURE.

30.24-4137

30.24-4137

TOKYO, AUG.6-(TUESDAY)-(AP)-MISQUOTATION OF THE INFLUENTIAL JAPANESE NEWSPAPER NICHI NICHI WAS ATTRIBUTED TODAY TO THE GERMAN RADIO WHICH CREDITED TO IT A STATEMENT THAT "JAPAN WILL, IF NECESSARY, BREAK OFF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH ENGLAND."

THE NEWSPAPER DID STATE: "IF BRITAIN CONTINUES SUCH IRREGULAR ACTION (AS THE ARREST OF JAPANESE CITIZENS IN THE BRITISH EMPIRE) JAPAN WILL TAKE DRASTIC STEPS. THE NATURE OF THESE STEPS IS ALREADY DECIDED."

AUG 6 - 1940

FH1105PED

OTTAWA, AUG.5-(AP)-UNITED STATES REGULATIONS AGAINST PUBLICATION OF INFORMATION CONCERNING MOVEMENTS OF GREAT LAKES FREIGHTERS GO FARTHER THAN CANADA'S WARTIME REGULATIONS GOVERNING NEWS OF VESSEL MOVEMENTS ON INLAND WATERS.

AUG 6 - 1940

CANADIAN CENSORSHIP PERMITS PUBLICATION OF MOVEMENTS OF SHIPS IN INLAND WATERS WHICH DO NOT PROCEED EAST OF MONTREAL.

HM1022PED

OTTAWA, AUG.5-(AP)-THE CANADIAN MINISTRY OF DEFENSE NAMED MAJ.GEN. W.H.P.ELKINS TODAY TO HEAD DEFENSE FORCES IN THE ATLANTIC AREA AND ALONG THE APPROACHES TO THE ST.LAWRENCE RIVER.

ELKINS HAS BEEN MASTER-GENERAL OF ORDNANCE. HE WILL BE IN COMMAND OF ALL LAND FORCES WHICH MAY BE COUNTED ON FOR THE DEFENSE OF CANADA'S EASTERN SEABOARD.

AUG 6 - 1940

HW199PED

A WESTERN CANADIAN PORT, AUG 4-(AP)-MRS.MARCIA POST OF PROVIDENCE, R.I., AND NEARLY 50 OTHER SURVIVORS OF THE STEAMER NIAGARA, SUNK BY A MINE OFF NEW ZEALAND SIX WEEKS AGO WITHOUT LOSS OF LIFE, ARRIVED IN CANADA TODAY EN ROUTE TO THEIR HOMES IN THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

AUG 6 - 1940

"NO WORDS CAN EXPRESS THE KINDNESS OF THE PEOPLE OF NEW ZEALAND TOWARD US," SAID MRS.POST AS SHE AND OTHER SURVIVORS TOLD OF LOSING ALL THEIR LUGGAGE WITH THE CANADIAN AUSTRALASIAN LINER WHICH WAS BOUND FROM AUCKLAND FOR SUVA AND CANADA WITH 146 PASSENGERS AND 203 CREWMEN.

MOST PASSENGERS WERE IN NIGHT CLOTHES WHEN THE EXPLOSION OCCURRED AT 3:40 A.M, JUNE 19, SOME 20 MILES FROM NEW ZEALAND. AFTER EIGHT HOURS A RESCUE SHIP HOVE TO AND TOOK ALL THE PASSENGERS BACK TO AUCKLAND WHERE THEY STARTED OUT AGAIN IN OTHER SHIPS.

AMONG THE PASSENGERS WERE TWO BABIES IN ARMS, ONE A MONTH OLD. CREW MEMBERS TORE OFF THEIR SHIRTS TO MAKE CLOTHES TO KEEP THE BABIES WARM AS THE PASSENGERS TOSSED ABOUT IN LIFEBOATS AWAITING RESCUE.

KA1206AED

RIO DE JANEIRO, AUG. 5-(AP)-FRENCH GUIANA, WHICH PREVIOUSLY IMPORTED ONLY CATTLE FROM BRAZIL NOW HAS BEGUN TO BUY GENERAL MERCHANDISE FROMTHIS COUNTRY BECAUSE THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT IS UNABLE TO SUPPLY NECESSITIES, AN O GLOBO DISPATCH FROM BELEMN SAID TODAY.

RQ738PED AUG 6 - 1940

BUENOS AIRES, AUG. 5--(AP)--THE ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT, CONCERNED OVER THE FUTURE OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS, HAS ASKED ITS LEAGUE REPRESENTATIVE FOR A FULL REPORT ON THE ORGANIZATION'S SITUATION SINCE THE COLLAPSE OF FRANCE.

AUG 6 - 1940

ONE SOURCE SAID TONIGHT THAT ARGENTINA DID NOT DESIRE TO SET A POSSIBLE EXAMPLE BY ABANDONING THE LEAGUE, BUT DID DESIRE FULL INFORMATION.

---DASH---

JOSEPH AVENOL, FRENCH SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS SINCE 1933, ANNOUNCED HIS RESIGNATION LAST JULY 26, THUS SIGNING WHAT SOME QUARTERS INTERPRETED AS THE FORMAL DEATH SENTENCE OF THE LEAGUE AS A POLITICAL BODY.

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, AUG. 5, (AP)--BERMUDA LEARNED FOR THE FIRST TIME TODAY THAT THE DUKE OF WINDSOR WILL STOP HERE WITH HIS AMERICA-BORN DUCHESS ON ROUTE TO HIS POST AS GOVERNOR OF THE BAHAMAS.

AUG 6 - 1940

MAJOR ERIC DUTTON, BERMUDA COLONIAL SECRETARY, ANNOUNCED THAT THE WINDSORS WILL ARRIVE HERE "TOWARD THE END OF THE WEEK" ABOARD THE AMERICAN LINER EXCALIBUR, ON WHICH THEY SAILED LAST THURSDAY FROM LISBON, PORTUGAL.

AUG 6 - 1940

(A WIRELESS DISPATCH FROM THE EXCALIBUR, RECEIVED PREVIOUSLY IN NEW YORK, SAID THE ROYAL PASSENGERS WERE EXPECTED TO DISEMBARK AT BERMUDA THURSDAY.)

DUTTON SAID THAT THE DUKE AND DUCHESS WOULD BE GUESTS AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE DURING THEIR VISIT TO BERMUDA, WHICH WAS DESCRIBED AS UNOFFICIAL.

THE LENGTH OF THEIR STAY, HE SAID, WOULD BE ZXZXZXZXZXZXZX "GOVERNED BY ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE FOR THEIR DEPARTURE FOR THE BAHAMAS." JB GUDEBRODS --10540 THRU 3--JA--110A

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUG 6 - 1940

AUG. 5, 1915--GERMAN ARMY HARASSES RUSSIANS IN RETREAT FROM WARSAW; HEAVY FIGHTING IN ALPS BETWEEN ITALIANS AND AUSTRIANS; 10,000 AUSTRIANS REPORTED KILLED BY ROCKS ROLLED DOWN MOUNTAIN SIDES BY EXPLOSIONS.

WR319AED

30.24-4139

30.24-4139

THE WAR TODAY

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

AUG 6 - 1940

GENERAL PERSHING'S RECOMMENDATION THAT THE UNITED STATES MAKE AVAILABLE AT LEAST FIFTY OLD WORLD WAR DESTROYERS TO ENGLAND PROBABLY RAISES THE QUESTION IN MANY MINDS AS TO JUST WHY IT SHOULD BE A DESTROYER AND NOT SOME OTHER WEAPON WHICH IS SUGGESTED.

SHORT OF A BIG NEW AIR-FORCE, THERE ARE FEW THINGS WHICH WOULD BE OF GREATER ASSISTANCE TO BRITAIN AT THIS CRUCIAL JUNCTURE THAN AN ADDITIONAL FLEET OF DESTROYERS. THE FACT THAT THEY WERE OF WORLD WAR VINTAGE WOULDN'T ROB THEM OF THEIR USEFULNESS.

THE DESTROYER IS THE HANDY WEAPON OF ANY NAVY, AS USEFUL AS A JACK-KNIFE AND INVALUABLE BOTH FOR OFFENSE AND DEFENSE.

I NEVER THINK OF THESE FAST WATER-DOGS OF THE SEA WITHOUT BEING REMINDED OF THE MONGOOSE, THAT COURAGEOUS, SLIM-BODIED, LIGHTNING-FAST LITTLE ANIMAL WHICH WILL TACKLE A COBRA OR ANY OTHER VENOMOUS SNAKE ON SIGHT, AND GENERALLY "GETS ITS MAN." I'VE SEEN THESE FURRY "DESTROYERS" AT WORK IN INDIA AND SOME PARTS OF THE WEST INDIES, AND IN THOSE SNAKE-INFESTED SECTIONS OF THE WORLD THEY ARE GREAT PROTECTION FOR THE HOMES.

SO THE DESTROYER IS THE PROTECTOR. ITS BUSINESS IS TO GET THE ENEMY, BEFORE THE LATTER HAS A CHANCE TO STRIKE. HAD IT NOT BEEN FOR DESTROYERS IN THE LAST CONFLICT BRITAIN MIGHT HAVE SUCCUMBED TO THE GERMAN SUBMARINE CAMPAIGN OF 1916-17. IT WAS A CLOSE CALL AS IT WAS.

NOW ENGLAND NOT ONLY IS BATTLING THE NAZI ATTEMPT TO ESTABLISH A STARVATION BLOCKADE ABOUT THE TERRIBLY VULNERABLE BRITISH ISLES, BUT IS FACED WITH A POSSIBLE INVASION. THE GREAT DEFENSE AGAINST AN INVASION WOULD BE THE NAVY, AND HERE THE DESTROYER WOULD DO YEOMAN'S WORK.

AUG 6 - 1940

SINCE ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL JOBS OF THE DESTROYER IS TO OVERTAKE AND DESTROY THE FAST TORPEDO-BOAT AND SUBMARINE BEFORE A TORPEDO CAN BE DISCHARGED, IT HAS TO BE VERY FAST. DESTROYERS VARY, BUT ROUGHLY THEY RUN FROM 1,000 TO 1,500 TONS AND HAVE A SPEED OF SOME 35 KNOTS.

THEY CARRY MEDIUM-CALIBER GUNS, HAVE A NUMBER OF TORPEDO TUBES, ARE EQUIPPED WITH DEPTH-BOMB APPARATUS FOR DESTRUCTION OF SUBMARINES, AND MANY OF THEM ARE SPECIALLY BUILT TO ENABLE THEM TO RAM U-BOATS.

DESTROYERS ARE ESSENTIAL AUXILIARIES TO ANY BATTLE FLEET, AND ONE OF THEIR FUNCTIONS IS TO FORM AN ANTI-SUBMARINE AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT SCREEN FOR THE BIGGER FIGHTING SHIPS. THEY ARE THE GREATEST PROTECTORS OF LARGE VESSELS AGAINST SUBMARINE ATTACKS.

SO HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL WERE DESTROYERS IN PROTECTING THE BRITISH BATTLE FLEET IN THE WORLD WAR THAT NO BATTLESHIP OR BATTLE CRUISER OF THE GRAND FLEET WAS TORPEDOED BY A SUBMARINE. THIS WAS DESPITE THE FACT THAT THE FLEET FREQUENTLY WAS IN WATERS WHERE SUBMARINES WERE LURKING.

IT WAS DURING THE WORLD WAR THAT THE GENERAL UTILITY OF THE DESTROYER WAS FIRST DEMONSTRATED. APART FROM THE SERVICES ALREADY MENTIONED IT WAS FOUND INVALUABLE IN SUPPORTING MINE-SWEEPING OPERATIONS AND IN ESCORTING CONVOYS AND SHIPPING GENERALLY. THE SPEED WITH WHICH THE DESTROYER CAN MANEUVER IS NATURALLY ONE OF ITS GREAT ASSETS.

THE RECENT OPERATIONS OF NAZI U-BOATS AND TORPEDO SPEED-BOATS IN

THE ENGLISH CHANNEL MAKE LARGE NUMBERS OF DESTROYERS OF PRIME IMPORTANCE TO THE BRITISH. SHOULD AN INVASION BE ATTEMPTED, THE DESTROYERS WOULD BE ABSOLUTELY VITAL TO HANDLE THE GERMAN SUBMARINES AND SPEEDBOATS.

ENGLAND POSSESSES PLENTY OF THESE WARSHIPS, OF COURSE, BUT SHE CAN'T HAVE THEM ALL IN HOME WATERS SO LONG AS SHE HAS TO POLICE THE SEAS OF THE WORLD, AND ESPECIALLY THE MEDITERRANEAN WHICH SIGNOR MUSSOLINI IS TRYING TO TAKE FROM HER.

HE99AED

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS (AMS BUDGET)

AUG 6 - 1940

BY KIRKE L.SIMPSON

(WX) THIS IS BOUND TO BE AN UNEASY WEEK FOR BRITAIN. TIME AND TIDE, WHICH WAIT ON NO MAN, FAVOR A GERMAN ATTEMPT AT INVASION AS THEY MAY NOT AGAIN UNTIL NEXT SPRING.

THERE WILL BE OTHER HIGH TIDES IN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL AND NORTH SEA BEFORE THEN, OTHER MOONLESS NIGHTS AND OTHER PROSPECTIVE FOGS TO SCREEN A NAZI ONSET. YET THE TIME FACTOR WILL NOT BE THE SAME. THE SEPTEMBER EQUINOX IS ONLY SIX WEEKS AWAY.

THE GERMANS SEEM TO BE CONFRONTED WITH A CHOICE OF ATTACKING NOW OR WAITING UNTIL NEXT YEAR. IF THE WEEK PASSES WITHOUT A BREAK IN THE VIRTUAL STALEMATE THAT HAS ENDURED SINCE MID JUNE IT WILL GO FAR TOWARD CONVINCING THE WORLD THAT WHATEVER HIS OWN DESIRE, HITLER'S GENERALS HAVE RULED OUT INVASION AS TOO RISKY, UNTIL ENGLAND HAS BEEN "SOFTENED" BY BLOCKADE.

IF THAT IS THE CASE, AND THERE HAVE BEEN STRONG HINTS FROM BOTH ROME AND BERLIN THAT IT IS, IT MEANS THAT THE AXIS MILITARY LEADERS VIEW THE INVASION PROBLEM IN ABOUT THE SAME DUBIOUS WAY AS DO MANY AMERICAN NAVAL AND MILITARY MEN. SUCH OF THEM AS HAVE DISCUSSED THE MATTER WITH THIS WRITER IN THE LAST SIX WEEKS BELIEVED THAT INVASION WOULD BE THE LAST RECOURSE OF GERMAN STRATEGY. WHAT MOST CONCERNED THEM WAS WHETHER ENGLAND COULD HOLD OUT AGAINST WHOLESALE AIR ATTACK (WHICH HAS NOT YET DEVELOPED) OR AGAINST PROLONGED BLOCKADE.

TO CAP THAT VIE

(MORE) AP/WM354PED

UNDATED--INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS BY SIMPSON XXX BLOCKADE.

MM TO CAP THAT VIEW OF PROFESSIONAL OBSERVERS THERE NOW COMES A MORE PRECISE EXPRESSION. GENERAL PERSHING VOICES AN EMPHATIC PUBLIC PLEA THAT 50 OR MORE AMERICAN DESTROYERS, BUILT DURING THE WORLD WAR, BE TURNED OVER TO THE BRITISH TO AID THEM IN THEIR HOUR OF PERIL BY "MEANS SHORT OF WAR."

AUG 6 - 1940

IT OBVIOUSLY WOULD TAKE CONSIDERABLE TIME TO MAKE THIS FLEET OF SEA HORNETS AN ACTIVE FACTOR IN THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN. YET THE FORMER COMMANDER OF THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, WHOSE PRESTIGE AND CONTACTS MAKE HIM THOROUGHLY FAMILIAR WITH AMERICAN MILITARY AND NAVAL OPINION, REPORTS THAT IT IS "NEARLY UNANIMOUS" IN SUPPORTING THE DESTROYER TRANSFER.

BEHIND THAT PERSHING PLEA CLEARLY LIES THE CONCLUSION THAT A BLITZKRIEG AGAINST ENGLAND, IF ATTEMPTED DURING THIS WEEK OF HIGH TIDES AND DARK NIGHTS, WOULD BE BEATEN OFF. THE HELP FOR ENGLAND HE URGED COULD NOT POSSIBLY BE MADE AVAILABLE TO PARTICIPATE IN THE DEFENSE OF BRITAIN FOR SOME WEEKS, YET HE EXPRESSED CONFIDENCE THAT AS A STOP-GAP UNTIL BRITAIN'S OWN DESTROYER PROGRAM REACHES

30.24-4141

30.24-4141

FULL PRODUCTION WITHIN "A FEW MONTHS," THE AMERICAN DESTROYERS WOULD BE OF INVALUABLE ASSISTANCE. THEY COULD BE USED, HE SAID, TO "CONVOY MERCHANT SHIPS, TO ESCORT WARSHIPS AND HUNT SUBMARINES AND TO REPEL INVASION".

AUG 6-1940

"BY SENDING HELP TO THE BRITISH WE CAN STILL HOPE WITH CONFIDENCE TO KEEP THE WAR ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE ATLANTIC", PERSHING SAID.

AND IN SO SAYING HE VERY DEFINITELY INDICATED THE OPINION THAT IT WAS THE GERMAN AIR AND SEA BLOCKADE, NOT INVASION, ENGLAND HAD MOST TO FEAR. WHETHER THAT IS A CORRECT ESTIMATE OF THE SITUATION, SO FAR AS NAZI WAR PLANS ARE CONCERNED, WELL MAY BE DECIDED WITHIN THIS WEEK.

SEVERAL FACTORS WOULD SEEM TO SUGGEST INVASION. HITLER HIMSELF IS BACK IN BERLIN FROM A WEEK OF RECUPERATION ON HIS BAVARIAN MOUNTAIN TOP, PRESUMABLY READY TO TAKE THE FIELD WITH HIS ARMIES IF AN ATTACK IS ORDERED. AFTER THIS WEEK THE NEXT HIGH-TIDE PERIOD WILL OCCUR SO CLOSE TO WINTER THAT LAUNCHING A MAJOR OFFENSIVE WOULD BE UNTHINKABLE. WEATHER RECORDS FOR THE NORTH SEA AND ENGLISH CHANNEL GIVE THEM AN UNSAVORY REPUTATION BEFORE AND AFTER THE SEPTEMBER EQUINOX. BEACH LANDINGS FOR TROOPS, GUNS, TANKS AND OTHER HEAVY EQUIPMENT WOULD BE A SERIOUS UNDERTAKING IN ROUGH SEAS.

AND IT IS BEACH LANDINGS THAT MAKE THE TIDES IMPORTANT. MUCH OF ENGLAND'S EASTERN COAST SHELVES AWAY TO DEEP WATER GRADUALLY. AT HIGH TIDE, LIGHT DRAFT CRAFT OR BARGES CARRYING TANKS OR GUNS COULD BE RUN WELL UP ON THE BEACH FOR UNLOADING QUICKLY ON FIRM SANDS INSTEAD OF THE SOFTER BOTTOM FARTHER OUT THAT MIGHT PROVE QUICK-SAND.

HITLER RECENTLY TOLD THE REICHSTAG THAT THE GERMAN INVASION OF NORWAY WAS THE MOST "DARING" MILITARY ADVENTURE IN HISTORY. ATTEMPTED INVASION OF ENGLAND, UNLESS BRITONS HAD FIRST BEEN BROUGHT CLOSE TO DESPAIR BY BOMBING AND STARVATION, WOULD MAKE THE NORWEGIAN CAMPAIGN A MINOR OPERATION BY CONTRAST. THE ELEMENTS ARGUE FOR IT; BUT EVERY RULE OF MILITARY PRUDENCE AGAINST IT.

MD-VX313PES NM

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUGUST 4)

- - - - -

AFTER WAR COMES - - - (550)

AUG 6-1940

- - - - -

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

(ADVANCE) WHERE NAZI BLITZKRIEG FLASHED SIX WEEKS AGO THROUGH THE LOWLAND COUNTRIES AND INTO FRANCE A BROKEN WORLD COMES BACK TO LIFE.

SCENES IN THE PICTURE THERE TODAY, AS GIVEN IN CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, INCLUDE:

DUNKERQUE, FRANCE--THE REMNANTS OF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS WORTH OF EQUIPMENT OF THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE ARE GATHERING RUST ON THE SANDY BEACH WHICH GAINED A PLACE IN HISTORY WITH THE ALLIED WITHDRAWAL.

MUCH OF THE EQUIPMENT WAS ABANDONED IN GOOD CONDITION. THIS HAS DISAPPEARED.

GERMAN SOLDIERS POKE AROUND UPTURNED AUTOMOBILES, PARTIALLY BURNED TRUCKS, LONG LINES OF TANKS AND ARMORED CARS. OCCASIONALLY A CIVILIAN DIGS THROUGH THE JUNK TO SEE WHETHER HE CAN FIND A GOOD INNER TUBE.

SLOWLY, THE FINE YELLOW SAND, DRIFTED BY SEA WINDS, IS COVERING A SCENE OF DESTRUCTION.

--DASH:

PARIS--SPARROWS AND PIGEONS, HAND-FED BY THE PARISIAN POPULACE THROUGH THE YEARS, REGISTER MILD SURPRISE WHEN THEIR OLD FEEDING GROUNDS FAIL TO DELIVER THE ACCUSTOMED SEEDS AND CRUMBS. ABANDONED CANARIES, LET OUT OF CAGES, ARE TAKING THEIR CHANCES WITH OTHER REFUGEES IN THE HUNT FOR FOOD AND LODGING.

--DASH:

BRUSSELS--THE BELGIAN CAPITAL, UNDER GERMAN OCCUPATION, IS A CITY WITHOUT BRIDGES. THEY WERE SMASHED IN THE RETREAT.

OTHERWISE, OUTWARDLY, IT'S MUCH THE SAME CITY. FEW BUILDINGS ARE DAMAGED, SHOPS ARE BUSY, THE POPULATION SEEMS TO GET ALONG WELL WITH THE GERMAN SOLDIERS.

WHITE-HELMETED BELGIAN TRAFFIC POLICE ARE ON THE JOB, READING RIOT ACTS IN FRENCH AND FLEMISH TO GERMAN COURIERS WHO TRY TO SQUEEZE THEIR MOTORCYCLES PAST THE STOP LIGHTS.

AUG 6 - 1940

--DASH:

LIEGE, BELGIUM--A BELGIAN SOLDIER TAKEN CAPTIVE WHEN THE NAZIS SEIZED MIGHTY FORT NEUF CHATEAU OFFERS A HINT AS TO HOW THE INVADERS SEIZED IT IN 48 HOURS--WITH THE AID OF DIVE-BOMBERS.

"THE FIRST WELL PLACED BOMB SEEMED TO KNOCK OUT THE VENTILATING SYSTEM," HE SAID. "THE AIR FILLED WITH DUST AND FUMES, AND ON THE SECOND DAY THE FORT BECAME UNINHABITABLE."

A LITTLE BUMP OF GROUND IS ALL OF THE FORT THAT SHOWS ABOVE GROUND. THE ACRES OF BARBED WIRE WHICH PROTECTED THE APPROACHES WERE UNTOUCHED. TEN THOUSAND POPPIES BLOOM IN THE TANGLE OF WIRE, NOT A PETAL CRUSHED.

--DASH:

PARIS--ON ONE PARIS ROAD, JUST BEFORE THE GERMANS ARRIVED, STOOD A SOLID LINE OF AUTOMOBILES EIGHT KILOMETERS (ABOUT SIX MILES) LONG AND THREE ABREAST.

NOT A SOUL WAS IN ANY OF THEM.

BOXES FILLED WITH JEWELS, PURSES BURSTING WITH MONEY, VALUABLE PERSONAL EFFECTS WERE STREWN OVER THE SEATS AND IN BAGGAGE COMPARTMENTS.

APPARENTLY THEY WERE ABANDONED, EN MASSE, IN A LAST MINUTE RUSH TO REACH A RIVER FERRY BEFORE THE BOATS STOPPED RUNNING.

--DASH:

PARIS--A 15-STORY MODERNISTIC APARTMENT HOUSE--ONE OF PARIS'S "JINX" SKYSCRAPERS OVERLOOKING LE BOURGET AIRPORT--HAS BECOME A GERMAN PRISON, HOUSING 12,000 PERSONS.

ERECTED FOUR YEARS AGO, THE BUILDING BECAME PART OF A WORKERS' HOUSING PROJECT, BUT THEY DESERTED IN DROVES WHEN THE ROOF BEGAN TO LEAK.

THEN THE WAR MINISTRY MADE IT THE OFFICIAL MOBILE GUARD RESIDENCE. AFTER A FEW MONTHS THE GUARDSMEN ALSO LEFT, COMPLAINING OF BURSTING WATER PIPES AND INUNDATED APARTMENTS.

--DASH:

AUG 6 - 1940

LIEGE, BELGIUM--AN EXCITED BELGIAN FARMER AROUSED THE ATTENTION OF A GERMAN CAPTAIN.

THE FARMER'S COW WAS BROWSING CONTENTEDLY IN A FIELD WHERE MANY SIGNS WSARNED: "DANGER, LAND MINES."

THE OFFICER EXPLAINED THAT THESE WERE BELGIAN MINES, THE EXACT

30.24-4143

30.24-4143

LOCATION OF WHICH COULDN'T BE DETERMINED UNTIL THE PROPER CHARTS WERE FOUND. SO HE WOULDN'T RISK THE LIVES OF SOLDIERS TO RESCUE THE ANIMAL.

INFANTRYMEN WAVED HANDFULS OF CLOVER AT BOSSIE, AND FINALLY COAXED HER OUT OF HER PRECARIOUS SITUATION.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUGUST 4. SENT JULY 27)

MQ221AED

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS SUNDAY, AUGUST 4TH)

INVASION OF ENGLAND (550)

- - - -

AUG 6 - 1940

CHURCHILL 'INVADED' BRITAIN
BEFORE NAZIS THOUGHT OF IT
BY WILLIAM A.KINNEY

(ADVANCE) WASHINGTON,AUG. 3-(AP)-WINSTON CHURCHILL STARTED WORRYING ABOUT AN INVASION OF BRITAIN THREE DECADES AGO.

THEN, AS NOW, THE THREAT WAS A MILITANT GERMANY.

ON ONE OCCASION, SEVERAL SIMULATED INVASIONS WERE CARRIED OUT UNDER CHURCHILL'S DIRECTION, AND WITH SUCH SUCCESS THAT HE HURRIEDLY TERMINATED THE MANEUVERS LEST THE POTENTIAL ENEMY ACQUIRE HELPFUL INFORMATION.

THE THREAT OF AN INVADED BRITAIN FIRST BECAME CHURCHILL'S PROBLEM BACK IN OCTOBER, 1911. HE HAD BEEN MADE FIRST LORD OF THE ADMIRALTY AFTER THE AGADIR CRISIS---ONE OF THE PRE-WORLD WAR SERIES WHICH PERIODICALLY IMPERILED THE PEACE OF EUROPE.

THE FIRST REICH OF KAISER WILHELM HAD A POWERFUL ARMY AND A GROWING NAVY ALMOST STRONG ENOUGH TO CHALLENGE BRITISH SUPREMACY ON THE SEA. IN THE EVENT OF WAR BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES, CHURCHILL SAW THE DISTINCT POSSIBILITY OF A GERMAN ATTEMPT TO LAND TROOPS, AND AS LONG AGO AS 1913 "FIFTH COLUMN" AID FOR THE INVADERS WAS NOT OVERLOOKED.

THE PRESENT PRIME MINISTER OF EMBATTLED BRITAIN MADE EXHAUSTIVE STUDIES ON THE WHOLE SUBJECT WITH ADMIRALTY EXPERTS IN THE THREE YEARS PRIOR TO OUTBREAK OF THE WORLD WAR.

AUG 6 - 1940

HIS ULTIMATE CONCLUSIONS:

THAT THE SURPRISE LANDING OF AS MANY AS 70,000 "RAIDING" GERMAN TROOPS ON ENGLISH SOIL COULD NOT BE PREVENTED;

THAT THE BRITISH FLEET WAS EQUAL TO SMASHING ANY GREATER EFFORT, LEAVING BRITISH ARMY DIVISION ASHORE TO DESTROY THE FORCE ALREADY LANDED.

CHURCHILL DESCRIBED HIS CONCERN OVER THE INVASION DANGER IN ONE OF THE OPENING CHAPTERS OF "THE WORLD CRISIS"--HIS EXTENSIVE HISTORY OF WORLD WAR YEARS AND THE EVENTS LEADING UP TO THEM.

"I CALLED FOR AN INDIVIDUAL STUDY TO BE MADE OF ALL THE DIFFERENT POINTS WHERE SUCH FORCES COULD BE LANDED," HE NARRATED, "AND WHAT WOULD BE THE BEST PLANS FOR THE GERMANS TO MAKE IN EACH CASE.

"AT THE MANEUVERS OF 1913 SIR JOHN JELLICOE ADOPTED SEVERAL OF THESE PLANS FOR RAIDING THE BRITISH COAST AND PUT THEM INTO EXECUTION. HE ACHIEVED SO CONSIDERABLE A MEASURE OF SUCCESS THAT I THOUGHT IT NECESSARY TO STOP THE MANEUVERS ON THE THIRD DAY LEST WE MICH TEACH THE GERMANS AS WELL AS OURSELVES."

PERSHING (PMS BUDGET)

WASHINGTON, AUG. 5-(AP)-A PROPOSAL TO SEND TO BELEAGUERED BRITAIN AT LEAST 50 AMERICAN DESTROYERS CARRIED TODAY THE ENDORSEMENT OF GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING.

AUG 6 - 1940

THE MAN WHO COMMANDED AMERICAN SOLDIERS IN FRANCE DURING 1917-18 DECLARED THAT DESTROYERS LEFT OVER FROM WORLD WAR DAYS SHOULD BE MADE AVAILABLE TO THE BRITISH AS A SAFEGUARD OF AMERICAN FREEDOM AND SECURITY.

PREDICTING THAT THE MOST CRITICAL TIME FOR ENGLAND WOULD COME IN THE NEXT FEW WEEKS AND MONTHS, PERSHING SAID IN A RADIO SPEECH LAST NIGHT:

"IF THERE IS ANYTHING WE CAN DO TO HELP SAVE THE BRITISH FLEET ~~DUR~~ during THAT TIME, WE SHALL BE FAILING IN OUR DUTY TO AMERICA IF WE DO NOT DO IT."

THE GENERAL OF THE ARMIES SAID HE SAW "GRAVE DANGER" FOR THE UNITED STATES IN THE PRESENT WORLD SITUATION, AND BLAMED DISASTERS IN SEVEN OF EIGHT NATIONS ON "APPEASERS WHO WOULD NOT TAKE THE DANGER SERIOUSLY, WHO WOULD NOT PREPARE WHILE THERE WAS STILL TIME."

PERSHING'S APPEAL RECALLED THAT IN JUNE THE BRITISH HAD FAILED IN EFFORTS TO PURCHASE DESTROYERS HERE. ANOTHER PLAN, WHICH WOULD HAVE ALLOWED THE BRITISH TO BUY 20 HIGH-SPEED TORPEDO BOATS, RAN AGROUND ON A 1917 LAW FORBIDDING THE SALE OF AMERICAN VESSELS OF WAR TO A BELLIGERENT NATION.

PERSHING DECLARED THAT "TODAY MAY BE THE LAST TIME WHEN BY MEASURES SHORT OF WAR WE CAN STILL PREVENT WAR (FOR THE AMERICAS)."

ASSERTING THAT THE UNITED STATES "MUST BE READY TO MEET FORCE WITH A STRONGER FORCE," HE SAID:

"WE MUST MAKE OURSELVES STRONG BY BUILDING UP OUR ARMY AND NAVY AND ESTABLISHMENT OF THE PRINCIPLE OF UNIVERSAL SELECTED SERVICE."

(EDS: PERSHING TEXT WAS CARRIED ON SOME CIRCUITS IN THE NIGHT REPORT.)

RZ155AES

CHICAGO, AUG. 5-(AP)-AMERICAN OPINION IS NOW DEFINITELY AND OVERWHELMINGLY AGAINST INVOLVEMENT IN THE EUROPEAN WAR, SAYS COL. CHARLES A. LINDBERGH.

AUG 6 - 1940

THE NOTED AMERICAN AVIATOR, IN AN ADDRESS YESTERDAY AT A PEACE RALLY AT SOLDIER FIELD, URGED "COOPERATION" WITH EUROPE "IN OUR RELATIONSHIPS WITH THE OTHER PEOPLES OF THE EARTH."

CHEERED BY A CROWD ESTIMATED AT 40,000 BY GENERAL PARK SUPERINTENDENT GEORGE T. DONOHUE, COL. LINDBERGH IN HIS BROADCAST (MBS) SPEECH SAID THAT AGITATION FOR AMERICA'S ENTRY INTO THE EUROPEAN CONFLICT HAD INCREASED WITH ALARMING RAPIDITY.

"BUT," HE SAID, "WHEN THE DANGER OF FOREIGN WAR WAS FULLY REALIZED BY OUR PEOPLE, THE UNDERLYING TRADITION OF AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE AROSE AND IN RECENT WEEKS ITS VOICE HAS THUNDERED THROUGH THE WEAKER CRIES FOR WAR."

INTERRUPTED FREQUENTLY BY APPLAUSE, COL. LINDBERGH PLEADED FOR AMERICAN COOPERATION WITH EUROPE--ALTHOUGH ADVOCATING THE NON-INTERFERENCE OF THIS NATION IN EUROPE'S INTERNAL AFFAIRS.

"IT IS ONLY BY COOPERATION THAT WE CAN MAINTAIN THE SUPREMACY OF OUR WESTERN CIVILIZATION AND THE RIGHT OF OUR COMMERCE TO PROCEED UNMOLESTED THROUGHOUT THE WORLD. NEITHER THEY NOR WE ARE STRONG ENOUGH TO POLICE THE EARTH AGAINST THE OPPOSITION OF THE OTHER.

30.24-4145

30.24-4145

"IN THE PAST WE HAVE DEALT WITH A EUROPE DOMINATED BY ENGLAND AND FRANCE. IN THE FUTURE WE MAY HAVE TO DEAL WITH A EUROPE DOMINATED BY GERMANY. BUT WHETHER ENGLAND OR GERMANY WINS THIS WAR, WESTERN CIVILIZATION WILL STILL DEPEND UPON TWO GREAT CENTERS, ONE IN EACH HEMISPHERE.

INSERT

EDITORS:

CHICAGO--IN COL. LINDBERGH ADDRESS, PLEASE INSERT THE FOLLOWING AFTER THE EIGHTH GRAPH STARTING "WITH ALL X X X" AND ENDING "X X X REASONABLY STRONG."

AUG 6-1940

AMERICA SHOULD REARM "FULLY" FOR ITS DEFENSE, COL. LINDBERGH SAID, AND SHOULD "NEVER MAKE THE TYPE OF TREATY THAT WOULD LAY US OPEN TO INVASION IF IT WERE BROKEN.

"BUT IF WE REFUSE TO CONSIDER TREATIES WITH THE DOMINANT NATION OF EUROPE, REGARDLESS OF WHO THAT MAY BE, WE REMOVE ALL POSSIBILITY OF PEACE. NOTHING IS TO BE GAINED BY SHOUTING NAMES AND POINTING THE FINGER OF BLAME ACROSS THE OCEAN. X X X

"IF WE DESIRE TO KEEP AMERICA OUT OF WAR, WE MUST TAKE THE LEAD IN OFFERING A PLAN FOR PEACE. THAT PLAN SHOULD BE BASED UPON THE WELFARE OF AMERICA. IT SHOULD BE BACKED BY AN IMPREGNABLE SYSTEM OF DEFENSE. IT SHOULD INCORPORATE TERMS OF MUTUAL ADVANTAGE. BUT IT SHOULD NOT INVOLVE THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF EUROPE; THEY NEVER WERE, AND NEVER WILL BE, CARRIED ON ACCORDING TO OUR DESIRES.

"LET US OFFER EUROPE A PLAN FOR THE PROGRESS AND PROTECTION OF THE WESTERN CIVILIZATION OF WHICH THEY AND WE EACH FORM A PART. X X X"

U.S. SENATOR PATRICK MC CARRAN X X X ETC., PICKING UP 9TH GRAF.

"WITH ALL THE AIDS OF MODERN SCIENCE, NEITHER OF THESE CENTERS IS IN A POSITION TO ATTACK THE OTHER SUCCESSFULLY AS LONG AS THE DEFENSES OF BOTH ARE REASONABLY STRONG."

U.S. SENATOR PATRICK MC CARRAN (D-NEVADA) ALSO ADDRESSED THE RALLY, SPONSORED BY THE "CITIZENS KEEP AMERICA OUT OF WAR COMMITTEE." HE TERMED THE PROPOSALS FOR COMPULSORY MILITARY TRAINING AS "UNDEMOCRATIC AND UNNECESSARY," AND ADDED THAT "I NEVER WANT TO SEE THE AMERICAN FLAG WHIPPED BY THE BREEZE ON A FOREIGN BATTLEFIELD."

RYA06ACD

NEWIYORK, AUG 5-(AP)-A CBS BROADCAST FROM BERLIN QUOTED THE NEWSPAPER DEUTCHES ALLGEMEINE ZEITUNG AS COMMENTING THAT "SIGNS OF REFORM" IN THE UNITED STATES, SUCH AS THE HATCH BILL REGULATING POLITICAL ACTIVITY IN THE CIVIL SERVICE, "ARE TOO SCARCE AS YET TO BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY."

AUG 6-1940

THE COMMENTATOR QUOTED THE NEWSPAPER ARTICLE AS SAYING THAT AMERICAN POLITICAL CORRUPTION "IS AN ABUSE NEARLY AS OLD AS THE AMERICAN CONSTITUTION AND IS RATHER HALLOWED AS AN EXPRESSION OF THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE."

DA1133PED

NEW YORK, AUG. 5-(AP)-EVEN THE GESTAPO, THE GERMAN SECRET POLICE, IS UNABLE TO KEEP THE POPULATION OF BOMBARDED GERMAN REGIONS FROM KNOWING THE VAST EXTENT OF DAMAGE, THE BRITISH BROADCASTING COMPANY CONTENDED IN A GERMAN LANGUAGE PROGRAM HEARD HERE TONIGHT BY CBS.

AUG 6-1940

THE ANNOUNCER [illegible] GAVE A LONG LIST OF [illegible]
FACTORIES WHICH HE SAID HAD BEEN DESTROYED OR SEVERELY DAMAGED
BY BRITISH RAIDERS AND [illegible] SUGGESTED THAT NUMBERS
BOOKING FACILITIES HAD BEEN SO BADLY DAMAGED THAT SHIPS WERE UNLOADING [illegible] ONTO BARGES.

AUG 8 - 1940

Second Raider Driven Off By Anti-Air Guns

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—Mercantile shipping losses due to Axis war action for the week ended July 29 were eighteen British ships, totaling 65,601 tons, and two Allied ships, totaling 7,090 tons, the Admiralty announced today.

It was denied authoritatively that H. M. S. Resolution was hit by a bomb or that a cruiser was damaged off the Baleares Islands in the Mediterranean.

30.29

A German claim to have sunk 229,298 tons of shipping during that week was termed "absurd."

The Admiralty said "enemy" losses to August 4 were approximately 1,172,000 tons, including 918,000 German and 254,000 Italian, plus 26,000 tons of former neutral shipping which had been brought under Axis control.

AUG 7 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 6—British air defenses today fought against new German bombing raids on the coast of northeast England, a rural area in southeast England and Wales.

The Air Minister announced that one German bomber was intercepted and shot down by British fighters off the east coast of England and another was reported driven away from a southeast coastal town by anti-aircraft fire.

With continuing German thrusts by air against various parts of the British Isles, some observers thought a major attack might come within the next few days or possibly a fortnight. The statement of Field Marshal Goering, the German air chief, that the raids so far have been but armed reconnaissance was accepted here as a fair description of the German strategy.

It was assumed that when any attack comes in force, the Royal Air Force may have to take on waves of raiders numbering as many as 500.

R. A. F. reconnaissance is understood to have disclosed large-scale German activity in the occupied areas of northern France. The R. A. F. has been bombing barges along the Holland and Belgian coast which the Germans may have massed for attack.

Reports also have been reaching here of sea preparations at the back of the Baltic Sea and of activity in Norway, where it is rumored some Italian troops have been sent.

Fourth Plane Bagged

The Germans are understood to be making preparations in the Baltic as they did before the invasion of Norway. The idea would be to send light craft carrying troops through either the Kiel Canal or the Skagerrak.

The Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security today issued the following communique:

"During last night enemy aircraft dropped a small number of bombs in a few districts of southeast England.

"No damage or casualties were caused.

AUG 7 - 1940

"Yesterday afternoon fighter aircraft of the Royal Air Force shot down an enemy fighter over the English Channel. This makes a total of four enemy fighters destroyed in yesterday's engagements."

War Toll Estimated

The navy estimated today it had lost 6,221 officers and men killed or missing since the start of the war—2,988 killed or fatally wounded, 3,204 missing and 29 taken prisoner. It was estimated 1,849 were wounded.

The Government announced this morning that German war planes had "dropped a small number of bombs in a few districts of southeast England" during the night, but that "no damage or casualties were caused."

ITALY INVADES EGYPT; 250,000 TROOPS ATTACK

Libyan Units Cross Border—3 Columns March Into Somaliland

Duce's Legions Are Striking Also At Sudan And Kenya Colony

AUG 7 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 6—Italy's offensive to wrest Egypt and northeast Africa from from Great Britain has begun with the invasion of Egypt and British Somaliland by the legionnaires of Mussolini's Roman Empire, playing for the highest stakes they have sought since ancient Rome ruled the world.

Both British and Italian official reports said tonight that Mussolini's men, 250,000 strong along the Libyan frontier in Africa, are on the march.

In Rome, Italian authorities announced their Libyan troops had advanced into Egypt and put to flight British forces on the border.

3 Columns Invade Somaliland

A British communique from Cairo said the Italians began the invasion of British Somaliland Sunday. Three columns drove into that little British possession adjoining Ethiopia.

Egypt, ancient pawn of conquerors, is the keystone of the Italian plan. Possession of that cotton-rich land would give Italy a comple semicircle of holdings stretching from Tripoli to the middle of Africa's east coast, a stranglehold on the Suez Canal, and an open road to India and all that that vast sub-continent offers to a conquering army.

Italy is striking at Egypt, with her nearly 700-mile frontage on the Mediterranean Sea and nearly 1,200 miles of Red Sea coastline of Egypt and Anglo-Egyptian Sudan; British Somaliland, on the Gulf of Aden, and the vast interior regions of Anglo-Egyptian Sudan and Kenya Colony, both of which border on Mussolini's Ethiopian empire.

5,000-Mile War Zone

Thus the war zone extends approximately 5,000 miles along the Mediterranean Sea, the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden, and hundreds of miles inland in the northeast and east corner of Africa.

With interest shifting temporarily from the usual air activity in Europe to the beginning of battle for an empire in Africa, the Italians said their march into Egypt began after intense activity by their air force. Bomber planes were used to protect troop movements along the Egyptian frontier.

When Mussolini declared war on Britain he specifically named Egypt as one of the countries with nothing to fear as long as it remained neutral. However, Egypt, bound by alliances to Britain, broke off relations with Italy and informed Mussolini that Egypt would go to war if her territory were attacked.

Advance Into Kenya

Besides driving into British Somaliland, 68,000 square miles in area, with a population of 345,000, the Italians have advanced into Kenya colony, another British possession, from Ethiopia.

With French Somaliland out of the fighting because of the collapse of Britain's ally, the Italians, by beating the British, would be in control of both the northern and southern entrances to the straits of Bab El Mandeb, which lie between the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden. Bab El Mandeb is an important gateway for ships seeking to go through the Suez Canal from the Orient.

For such a prize that conquest of British holdings in Africa offers, Italy has an army of 500,000 white and native soldiers.

In addition to the Libyan army of 250,000 men, Italy is believed to have 100,000 white troops in Ethiopia plus 150,000 native Askaris in Eritrea, Ethiopia, Italian Somaliland and Libya.

Simple Plan

The Italian plan which most neutral military authorities accept as likely is simple.

First, a drive eastward along the Mediterranean toward Alexandria and Cairo, with the advancing columns spreading out as they reach the Nile Delta.

Second, concerted drives from Eritrea and Ethiopia's Beni Shangul into Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, smashing at Khartoum and other vital points on the Nile, which, winding through Egypt and the Sudan, is the main means of communication and transport.

Third, purely local engagements along the Kenya frontier to keep South African forces engaged until Egypt is conquered.

An Italian column striking eastward from Torbruk into Egypt would face terrific heat, a great ally of the defenders. Temperatures rise to 120 degrees, rifle barrels are impossible to touch in midday, and motorized transports cough and die unless they are constantly supplied with water.

The British army in Africa is smaller than the Italian, but numbers are cumbersome where a man on the desert can be seen by a plane miles away. England has at least parity in the air with the Italians.

Weighing against the success of such a plan are the great distances of Africa, the unknown and almost impassable country, its fiendish climate, and soldiers trained in forty years of empire wars in India, Burma and Africa itself for just this kind of fighting.

The factor of water intrudes itself on all staff councils, British and Italian. British officers who know the country say Italy's army, now near its bases, has an ample supply, but when it moves away the situation will change.

To the east, Britain holds great oases. Knowing such tempting prizes might bring about a dispersion of invaders mad for water, the British would be able to strike one column at a time with tanks, armored cars, cavalry and camel corps. In that way they would not encounter the full force of the invasion in one field.

AUG 7 - 1940

The Italians said their march into Egypt began after intense activity by their air force. Bomber planes were used to protect troop movements along the Egyptian frontier.

[The advance into Egypt came less than two months after Premier Mussolini declared war on Britain and specifically named Egypt as one of the countries with nothing to fear from Italy so long as Egypt remained neutral. However, Egypt, bound by alliances to Britain, broke off relations with Italy and warned that Egypt would go to war if her territory were attacked.]

Besides driving into British Somaliland, 68,000 square miles in area with a population of 345,000, the Italians have advanced into Kenya Colony, another British possession, from Ethiopia.

Fighting troops comprise some of the empire's best—tough Scots and Australians, mild "Tommies" who fight with cool indifference, native troops such as the bearded Sikhs from India, agile Ghurkas and stalwart Negroes just a generation removed from the bush.

On the Kenya-Ethiopia frontier are South Africans, including some crack cavalry units. They guarantee to hold the frontier alone and may cooperate with British troops in the Somaliland in a double drive against Ethiopia if Haile Selassie can rally his tribes.

30.24-4147

Rome Reports British Force in Flight Before Invasion.

SILENT ON EXTENT OF BATTLE

Meanwhile Warships Are Stated to Have Sailed After Raid Upon Gibraltar.

AUG 7-1940

ROME, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—An advance of Italian troops into Egypt from Libya was reported by the Italian High Command today.

The vanguard of Italian troops put the British forces to flight after crossing the frontier into Egypt from Cirenaica, it was stated. Two tanks were captured and two others destroyed, the communique added.

It said merely that the Italian soldiers had penetrated beyond the border, but did not mention either where, to what extent or in what force.

The communique also reported one Italian and one British plane lost in African air operations.

Reports Fight Over Malta.

A large squadron of Italian fighting planes reconnoitered Malta, British Mediterranean island stronghold, shortly before noon yesterday, Stefani, the official Italian news agency, reported today, apparently in elaboration of the terse communique.

"Over Gozo (one of the Maltese islands) three English monoplanes, spotted by our formation, attempted to fly away to avoid a fight," the agency said.

"Two escaped, but a third, reached by one of our patrol planes which left its group, had to engage in combat.

"Hit several times, the enemy plane was seen by our chasers to drop. Our chaser formation then carried out undisturbed reconnaissance over objectives which had been assigned to it and, after flying over the island for about twenty minutes, returned to its base with all planes."

London Warned of Movement.

LONDON, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Authoritative spokesmen said today that information had been received that "a considerable force of Italians was concentrated in North Africa and was gradually advancing" toward the Egyptian frontier with field and anti-tank artillery.

Reports from Spain, near Gibraltar, indicated that raiders had blown up munition dumps at that great British fortress, and a further dispatch from Algeciras reported that the British warships had left Gibraltar hurriedly yesterday.

The report said that the vessels first started eastward into the Mediterranean, but then cut back toward the Atlantic. There was no further indication of their destination.

Cudahy Sees Belgian Famine If U. S. Fails to Send Food

American Envoy Backs Leopold's Stand and Will 'Present Reality of Dealing With Force as the Only Power.'

AUG 7-1940

LONDON, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—John Cudahy, United States Ambassador to Belgium, declared today that unless supplies of food from America reach Belgium by mid-September people will be reduced to a condition close to famine.

Mr. Cudahy said that he would present the situation when he returns to the United States next week and "further present the reality of dealing with force as the only power."

The Ambassador declined to amplify this remark, leaving some of his hearers with the impression that he meant that the United States must be prepared to deal economically and politically with Germany as the dominant Power on the continent of Europe.

"When the truth is known about King Leopold," he said, "his decision to surrender will not only be accepted but will be applauded."

It was recalled that during and after the world war the American Relief Administration under Herbert Hoover had spent a total of $695,000,000 to prevent starvation in Belgium.

Mr. Cudahy declared that the question of American supplies of food was "academic" until "Britain knows where she stands."

He said he understood that the Ministry of Economic Warfare at present would refuse to allow any supplies of food to reach the Belgians.

"Their situation is very, very serious," he said. "Belgium imports 75 per cent of her wheat. Present supplies, with severe rationing—225 grams, or half a pound, of bread per person per day—will last until September 1, or at best until early October.

"If you gentlemen think the Continent is a howling hell now, what do you think it will be this winter?"

Denies Any Atrocities.

The diplomat declared he did not know of "one authentic atrocity committed by the German Army in Belgium."

"The Germans behaved themselves with great restraint," he declared.

His picture of the industrial and agricultural conditions in Belgium was grim.

"All industry has stopped. Thousands upon thousands of people left the country and there are still more than 2,500,000 Belgians somewhere in France.

"In their homeland harvests are rotting in the sun."

Comparing world war feeding of Belgium with the present situation, he said that German possession of Channel ports "changes the situation entirely."

"I traveled constantly throughout Belgium until the Diplomatic Corps was dismissed by the Germans on July 15," he said. "Everywhere I asked people if they had been ill-treated. All said no. No pillaging, no shooting of civilians. I was a soldier in the last war and I think these Germans behaved better than United States soldiers would have done."

May Live Off Country.

Mr. Cudahy said that he had many talks with the German military governor and that there was no basis for negotiation on the problem of feeding the Belgians "as yet."

"The Germans told me they were prepared to feed their armies from Germany, but they were quite frank in saying that if their lines of communication were disrupted, they would expect to live off the country," Mr. Cudahy added.

King Leopold, he said, is a prisoner of war in the summer palace outside Brussels, having been transferred there after "asking for a simpler place to live."

"I saw him just before I left," said the diplomat. "I feel we should try and see both sides of his predicament, not judge harshly on insufficient facts.

"Put yourself in his place. He commanded an army of half a million men which intermingled with as many panic-stricken refugees. He was haunted by the thought that each hour he continued the resistance it meant death not only to his soldiers, but to those helpless people.

"Faced by the prospect of this sacrifice of human life, he had no other choice."

Mr. Cudahy declared that the Germans were confident they could successfully invade Britain. The Belgians, he said, "know a British victory is their only hope of salvation."

Mr. Cudahy said that he would present the situation when he returns to the United States next week and "further present the reality of dealing with force as the only power."

The Ambassador declined to amplify this remark, leaving some of his hearers with the impression that he meant that the United States must be prepared to deal economically and politically with Germany as the dominant Power on the continent of Europe.

AUG 7-1940

Britain To Refuse Plea To Relax Food Blockade

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—Great Britain, it was indicated tonight, probably will refuse an implicit plea by the United States Ambassador to Belgium that the blockading British navy permit shipment of food from America to avert starvation in Belgium and elsewhere in Europe.

An informed British source said was "unlikely that Britain will allow any food into German-occupied Europe."

The envoy, John Cudahy, had declared that conditions "close to famine" would prevail in Belgium by mid-September unless American shipments get through.

Indirectly he used the phrase "a howling hell" to picture the possible situation in Belgium and elsewhere in Europe when winter comes.

Refer Them To Nazis

Within a few hours after Cudahy's prediction, this British comment discounting it was forthcoming:

"It is not at all certain that Europe will be in such a bad way over food as Mr. Cudahy thinks. Belgium and the other occupied countries will have to make up their shortages from Germany. If the Germans are prepared to share fairly, there probably won't be any famine in Europe this winter."

This source added that the official British attitude toward relaxation of the European blockade is not likely to be defined until a test case arises—that is, when a food ship encounters the blockade, which extends from Africa to the Arctic.

He cited the probability that German troops of occupation would live off the food of conquered lands if their communications were cut, using supplies which in themselves would be insufficient to support the native populations.

To Present Situation

At the same time, Cudahy left some of his interviewers with the impression that he would propose that Washington prepare to deal economically and politically with Germany as the dominant power on the Continent.

This point was left vague. Cudahy said he would present the food situation when he returns to the United States next week and "further present the reality of dealing with force as the only power." He would not amplify the remark.

Cudahy is here on a roundabout trip homeward which carried him through France, Spain and Portugal. He gave point to the problem when he said he understood that the British Ministry of Economic Warfare would refuse to allow any food supplies to reach the Belgians. He said, however, that the question of food from the United States was "academic" until "Britain knows where she stands."

Speaks Of Howling Hell

"Their (the Belgians') situation is very, very serious," Cudahy said. "Belgium imports seventy-five per cent. of her wheat. Present supplies, with severe rationing—225 grams, or a half a pound, of bread per person per day—will last until September 1, or at best until early October.

"If you gentlemen think the Continent is a howling hell now, what do you think it will be this winter?"

Cudahy compared World War feeding of Belgium with the present situation. Then the Allies still held the Channel ports. Now the Channel ports are in German hands—with most of Europe—and this "changes the situation entirely."

During and after the World War the American Relief Administration under Herbert Hoover spent $695,000,000 to prevent starvation in Belgium.

Only Overland Routes

To do this now, American supplies would have to enter German-held ports or be taken over long, overland routes through Portugal and Spain.

Cudahy said the surrender of the Belgian army by King Leopold was the only alternative to death for his 500,000 soldiers and countless refugees who mingled with them.

"When the truth is known about King Leopold," the envoy said, "his decision to surrender will not only be accepted but will be applauded."

Mr. Cudahy declared that the Germans were confident they could successfully invade Britain. The Belgians, he said, "know a British victory is their only hope of salvation."

prevent them repeating what they have done on this occasion; but I do not myself believe in anything like an attempt to suppress German or Italian nationality.

Peace As "Chief Objective"

"As soon as possible—and how soon must depend on the aggressor nations themselves—we must hope they will become full co-partners in the new system of peace."

Viscount Cecil suggested a European organization to prevent aggression "by whatever steps might be necessary," and "beyond this, a larger organization including as far as possible all civilization, whose business it would be to promote international cooperation in all such matters as economics, health, communications, transport, and the like."

The nations, he said, must make peace "the chief objective of their whole external policy," if lasting peace is to be achieved.

Would Reduce Armaments

"No system of international peace can be regarded as secure," the 76-year-old statesman added, "unless it is accompanied by genuine international reduction of armaments."

Past disarmament conferences failed, he said, because "the governments that ought to have led the world in such an essential reform were not prepared to take the vigorous action which alone could have made a movement successful."

Viscount Cecil resigned from the Baldwin Cabinet because he held

Cecil Hinges Human Progress On League

AUG 7-1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 6—Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, who helped create the League of Nations, said today in his first interview since the European war began that resurrection of the League or an improved version of it is "essential" to human progress.

Room must be found in such an organization even for the opponents of today, he added; for the 80,000,000 Germans and 40,000,000 Italians "who have been guilty of aggression."

"Some guarantee no doubt must be imposed on them," he explained, "to British half-heartedness responsible for the failure of the Geneva disarmament conference in 1927.

37,000 Bombs---The R. A. F. In Action

AUG 7 - 1940

By DREW MIDDLETON, Associated Press Staff Correspondent

With the Royal Air Force, Somewhere in England, Aug. 6—Long hours of methodical preparation go into every one of the hundreds of raids in which Royal Air Force bombers have battered at the heart of industrial Germany.

Here is a description typical of any of the last thirty days during which the R. A. F. has dropped 37,000 bombs.

Objective: The Ruhr Valley.

At noon, as orders come through specifying the target and the number of planes to be used, the R. A. F. station goes into action.

Weapons Inspected

All through the afternoon sweating men in overalls feed gas to the heavy bombers, overhaul motors, restock the gunners' supplies, prepare the bomb racks.

Pilots bend over plotting their courses—"Guns are pretty thick there. Better go north of it."

Wireless operators check codes and signals. Gunners inspect their weapons.

Then comes dinner, a merry meal despite the possibility that in twelve hours, at another meal, some places at the table may be empty.

Bombers Take Off

At 11 P. M., when the English countryside sinks into sleep, a Whitley bomber, bearing two tons of bombs, trundles down the runway. A moment later it noses ponderously into the air.

The others follow. They fly above the airdrome for a moment, then the motors break into a roar and the formation heads east toward the Channel.

As the drone of engines dies, the ground crews troop off to their billets to sleep. The raiders will keep silent until sometime during the night when one word will flash back to the command, telling whether the bombing was successful.

What's it like?

A flight lieutenant who has flown his Whitley over Germany two of every three nights for six weeks gives this picture:

"We know the continent as we know our pockets, from the leaflet flights (which preceded actual bombings). It's easy going until we reach Germany. We rendezvous and then glide toward the target to obtain maximum surprise.

"When you near the target, things heat up. It's dark, then suddenly searchlights are around you like pillars of white. Their anti-aircraft starts to hammer.

Flares Ruin Blackout

"Their blackout is very good. So, if there's no moon, we drop flares. Moonlit bombing is a picnic. The blackout doesn't help very much then. We go over the target, drop our 'sticks' (dropping the bomb load in a line across the target) and head home singly."

German fighter planes don't bother him, he says, with the true bomber pilot's scorn of fighters.

When German barrage balloons were mentioned he laughed and said, "Sometimes we give them a couple of rounds on our way home."

As returning planes pass over the coast, they give a recognition signal.

Crews Scan Skies

The ground crews wait at the airdrome counting planes as they come in. The first plane lands and its weary crew steps out, joins in scanning the skies and counting other planes, swearing or praying according to their natures.

Then they go silently to breakfast and bed.

The ground crews work the planes over to their ground "garages."

There is silence over the vast expanse of airdrome as dawn breaks.

But in five or six hours the telephone from general headquarters of the R. A. F. will sing briskly. Another night's work will start.

AUG 7 - 1940

How to Rear Children Underground: It's Easy

British Advised to Take Food, Drink, Clothes and Toys

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP).—British parents were advised tonight by the British Broadcasting Corporation how to rear children underground.

Here are some of the tips:

Children are apt to suffer from nervous sickness. One way of preventing this is to tie a warm scarf around children's stomachs.

Just a word to mothers of babies—Make a twenty-four-hour feed in the morning and keep it ready to take down at a moment's notice.

Keep children warm, especially their feet; see that their stoutest shoes and warmest stockings are ready.

Have toys and games in the shelter for children, and "just in case they are sick it is wise to keep a supply of paper bags handy."

Keep a vacuum bottle full of something hot because "for shock cases it is the heat as much as the drink that does the trick."

Have oranges, chocolate and figs in shelters because eating them helps "ward off sickness."

ANGLO-JAPANESE TENSION IS EASED

Statement in Commons Is Put Off for Day.

LONDON, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Diplomatic tension between Great Britain and Japan appeared to ease today.

On the surface at least, Anglo-Japanese relations were bettered by the release last night of Satoru Makihara, London agent for the vast Mitsubishi industrial and banking interests, who was arrested on Friday night in a round-up of Japanese throughout the empire.

Meanwhile eight other Japanese remained in custody, including Shunsuke Takabe, London representative of the Mitsui interests.

Commons failed today to get an expected statement from Richard Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, on British-Japanese relations. It apparently has been deferred until tomorrow.

Tentative plans were reported today for a two or three weeks' parliamentary recess beginning on August 22.

AUG 7 - 1940

London Next Target?

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—Sprawling London, "with its great docks," was pictured in a German radio broadcast from Bremen tonight as the possible "big target" for the next mass bombings in Germany's air-war prelude to Blitzkrieg.

The announcer, who said "I cannot tell you when the attack will come or how, but can say that it will not come in the form in which it is anticipated in England," declared that the Nazi air force is overhauled, rested and ready.

The British and German air forces continued sparring for openings for the heavy punches. Raiders were heard after dark over Wales and southwestern England. One bomber was shot down off the east coast during sporadic dogfights.

The British Air Ministry, which has reported raids into Germany almost nightly, said last night's attacks were aimed at the Nazi naval stronghold at Kiel, the port city of Hamburg, and airdromes and industrial centers in Holland and northeastern Germany.

TO PUNISH WASTERS

Britain Orders Arrest of All Who Misuse Food.

LONDON, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—The Ministry of Food issued an order today, effective on August 12, making it a punishable offense to waste food, which was defined as "everything used by man for food or drink other than water."

The order, described as essentially a warning, nevertheless provides for imprisonment of from three months to two years and for fines of from £100 to £500 ($400 to $2,000).

Robert Boothby, parliamentary Under-Secretary of the Food Ministry, said that the Ministry hoped to increase Great Britain's tea ration and to avoid any extension of rationing this winter.

The order, similar to one in the last war, forbids giving excessive amounts of meat to dogs.

During the world war heavy penalties were imposed for food wastage. One woman was fined £20 for giving meat to her St. Bernard dog; another woman was fined £5 for feeding fourteen dogs on bread and milk and a workman who, displeased with his dinner, threw potatoes in the fire, was fined £10.

COWARD'S TRIP IS EXPLAINED

Playwright's Mission in U.S. Disclosed in London.

GRACIE FIELDS IN TROUBLE

Actress and Husband Assailed in House of Commons.

LONDON, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Noel Coward's "contacts among certain sections of American opinion," ordinarily diffcult for Britons to reach, were cited today by Harold Nicolson, Parliamentary Secretary of the Ministry of Information, in defense of the playwright's current visit to the United States.

Mr. Nicolson said that Mr. Coward went abroad with the approval of the Minister of Information and was invited to call on President Roosevelt, a friend of long standing.

A Treasury spokesman told the House that Gracie Fields, the English comedienne, had not sought permission to take out more than the regulation £10 ($40) when she went to the United States recently, but had been allowed to take out £8,000 (about $32,000) last October.

Money Taken Out.

Monty Banks, Gracie's husband, was allowed to take out £20,000 (about $80,000) at the same time, he said.

J. J. Davidson, Laborite, asked whether the Treasury knew about "a thousand pounds worth of diamonds bought from a firm in Holborn Viaduct," and inquired whether "these people left practically no assets in this country after enjoying its generosity for many years."

Capt. H. F. C. Crookshank, answering for the Treasury, said it knew nothing about these allegations and asserted that the couple left England before there were any restrictions on taking out jewelry.

Gracie was born in Lancashire. Her husband, a director-producer, is a native of Italy.

Gracie Fields' Money Matters Put Commons In Mild Uproar

Actress Left England With $32,000 Instead Of Mere £10 Allowed, Treasury Spokesman Charges

AUG 7 - 1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 6—Publication of the names of all wealthy residents allowed to take large amounts of money and valuables from England was threatened tonight in a controversy over the naming of Gracie Fields, English comedienne, in the House of Commons, as leaving the country with £8,000 (about $32,000).

In response to a question in the House, a Treasury spokesman said the actress had not sought permission to take more than the regulation £10 when she left England recently, but had been allowed to take £8,000 last October.

Husband Takes $80,000

Her husband, Monty Banks, was allowed to take £20,000 (about $80,000.)

Dr. H. B. Morgan, Laborite member of Parliament from Rochdale, Miss Fields' home town, said he would demand in Commons August 13 that the names of all others given the same permission to take out money and valuables be made public.

"I think it is very unfortunate," he said, "that Miss Fields should be pilloried when some rich and noble people had the same facilities."

Question On Jewelry

Laborite Member J. J. Davidson asked the Treasury officials about large amounts of diamonds he indicated Miss Fields and her husband took from England, and inquired whether "these people left practically no assets in this country after enjoying its generosity for many years."

A Treasury spokesman said Miss Fields and Banks left before restrictions were placed on jewelry.

Noel Coward's "contacts among certain sections of American opinion" ordinarily difficult for Britons to reach were cited by Nicolson in defense of the playwright's current visit to the United States.

Nicolson said Coward went abroad with the approval of the Minister of Information and was invited to call on President Roosevelt, a friend of long standing.

Banks Claims Money Was Legally Removed

Hollywood, Aug. 6 (AP)—Monty Banks declared today that "just because I am Italian" British Treasury officials "are trying to make things disagreeable" for his wife, Gracie Fields.

Banks referred to a statement by a British Treasury spokesman regarding money Miss Fields took out of England.

AUG 7 - 1940

"We followed the usual procedure when we left England," Banks asserted.

"My Own Money"

"I have no comment," began Banks. But then he added, "Yes, I have. I am not a British citizen and it was my own money. Anyway, we followed the usual procedure, making the regular application for permission to take our money with us."

Banks said his wife is in Canada, giving concerts for war benefits, and she expects to remain in Canada until October.

"Just because I am Italian," he said, "they are trying to make things disagreeable for Miss Fields. I wish they would stop. She has been giving very generously of her time and her talents. If they bother us any more, I am going to telephone her to come home and live like a normal person."

30.24-4149

Col. Donovan's Trip Called Great Success By Paper In London

London, Wednesday, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Laborite Daily Herald today declared a report by Col. William J. Donovan, emissary of the United States Secretary of the Navy, on his recent flying trip to England "should have a far-reaching effect on America's war effort."

The newspaper said Colonel Donovan's trip was a "great success." It added the World War officer came over to check up on the British war effort.

Colonel Donovan conferred with King George VI, Prime Minister Churchill and other war Cabinet members. Also, he spent much time with Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, commander of the British home forces.

On his return to New York Sunday aboard a British flying boat, Colonel Donovan refused to discuss the trip except to say he had been on a mission for Secretary of the Navy Knox. He went to England July 14.

Nine-Tenths Of British Liners In War Service

Government Agrees To Pay Rental For Use Of Private Vessels During Conflict

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Ministry of Shipping disclosed tonight that the British Government has requisitioned nine-tenths of the liners owned by private British shipping lines.

The ships have been taken over in addition to those previously pressed into wartime service as transports, hospital ships and armed merchantmen.

The Government has agreed to pay rental for the ships in addition to sums to cover depreciation and "reasonable return on capital investments" by the lines.

RHODESIAN AIRMEN ARRIVE

Reach Scottish Port To Swell Britain's Home Defenses

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—The first contingent of Southern Rhodesia airmen arrived at a Scottish port today to swell Britain's home defenses.

The number in the group was not disclosed.

Alien Fifth Columnists Prefer Prisons in England

100, Ordered Sent Abroad, Bribe Others to Take Names

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP).—The Home Office, which has taken over from the War Office control of Internment camps, was reported today to have discovered that at least 100 dangerous aliens ordered sent abroad had bribed other internees to take their places.

"So inadequate was the check on the camps," 'The Evening News' said, "that it was possible for the most dangerous aliens to change their identity as they desired."

The paper added that active Fifth Columnists among the aliens would go to any extreme to remain in England for the expected German offensive.

British Hold Armenian General

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP)—The detention of General Torcum, an Armenian who led his compatriots against the Bolsheviki in the closing days of the World War, was disclosed today. In filing a question for reply in the House of Commons tomorrow R. Sorensen, Laborite, said that Torcum, graduate of St. Cyr, French military school, had fled from France to England a month ago to "offer his services to the British Government."

4 Die In Blast Near London

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—Four persons were killed and several injured in an explosion yesterday which caused some property damage in a coastal village in East Anglia, north of London, it was disclosed tonight. First reports today told only of a few injuries. Details were not disclosed.

Churchill Received by King

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP).—Prime Minister Winston Churchill was received in audience tonight by King George VI.

Parliament Plans Recess

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP).—Tentative plans were reported today for Parliament to recess on Aug. 22 for two or three weeks.

Texts of Day's War Communiques

British

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Air Ministry and the Ministry of Home Security today issued the following communiqué:

During last night enemy aircraft dropped a small number of bombs in a few districts of Southeast England. No damage or casualties were caused.

Yesterday afternoon fighter aircraft of the Royal Air Force shot down an enemy fighter over the English Channel. This makes a total of four enemy fighters destroyed in yesterday's engagements.

An Air Ministry communiqué said:

Last night R. A. F. bombers carried out attacks on military objectives in Holland and Northern Germany, including targets at Wismar, Kiel and Hamburg. The goods [freight] yards at Hamm and airdromes at Schiphol and Borkum also were damaged. All our aircraft returned safely.

An Admiralty communiqué said:

The Secretary of the Admiralty regrets to announce that H. M. trawlers Drummer and Oswaldian have been sunk by enemy mines. The next of kin of casualties have been informed.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 6 (AP)—Today's British communiqué follows:

The invasion of British Somaliland began Aug. 4. The enemy is operating in three columns, one moving on Oadweina [near the Ethiopian border], one on Hargeisa [just west of Oadweina] and one from Jire [Jirreh] toward Gargara. [This probably means Agargara, a mountain between Zeila and Jirreh.]

Our land forces are organized to resist these advances in spite of the collapse of French Somaliland [to the northwest].

On other fronts nothing to report.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Aug. 6 (AP)—Today's British communiqué said:

Fighting patrols from our forward detachments located a small group of Banda [Italian irregulars] on the Buna-Ajoa road. After a brisk engagement the enemy withdrew in disorder, leaving one killed and two wounded. Our casualties were one African rank [enlisted man] slightly injured.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 6 (AP)—Today's communiqué said:

In the course of armed reconnaissance over Malta our fighters engaged enemy fighters in combat and shot down one British plane. All Italian planes returned safely.

In North Africa, during a clash of advanced troops beyond the Cyrenaican [Libyan-Egyptian] border, the enemy was put to flight, leaving two tanks in our hands. Two others were destroyed.

In East Africa one of our scouting planes failed to return.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (AP)—Today's German High Command communiqué said:

One submarine sank three armed enemy merchant ships totaling 16,875 tons in a strongly protected convoy.

Frequent air fights developed over the Channel Aug. 5. In the course of this action one German reconnaissance plane shot down two modern type British pursuit craft. Six additional enemy chasers were downed by our pursuit planes in the course of the fight.

During the night of Aug. 5-6 German planes attacked several English ports.

British planes last night dropped bombs on Northern and Western Germany. Property damage was slight. No lives were lost.

The result of merchant warfare against England from the outbreak of the warfare until July 8, 1940, was announced by the High Command July 12. In the period from July 9 to July 31 the following enemy merchant shipping and shipping usable by the enemy was sunk: By submarines, 344,174 tons; by surface craft, 98,500 tons.

These figures do not include sinkings by mines, which have occurred in increasing amounts, especially lately, and which the enemy have concealed. These successes have been proved by repeated closing of enemy ports and other evidence.

The Air Force sank 21,650 tons of warships and 215,000 tons of merchant ships. Damaged were: 32,000 tons of warships and 328,000 tons of merchant shipping.

The total ship losses sustained by the enemy between July 9 and 31 thus amounted to 679,324 tons, not counting losses by mines or damage to enemy and war merchant shipping.

The enemy thus since the beginning of the war has lost, of his own shipping and shipping usable by him, through operations of the Navy 3,725,547 tons and through operations of the Air Force 1,261,313 tons, a total of 4,986,860 tons.

Besides this the Air Force, since the outbreak of the war, has damaged merchant ships totaling approximately 1,500,000 tons.

4,986,860 Tons Sunk By Nazis, Berlin Says

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 6—The German high command reported today that Nazi sea and air operations sank 657,674 tons of "enemy merchant shipping space and space usable by the enemy" in the last three weeks of July, exclusive of 21,650 tons of warships and ships sunk by mines, and that such losses since the war began had reached a total of 4,986,860 tons.

In addition to the known losses, the communique said, mines have taken an increasing toll, "especially lately," which "the enemy has concealed," and heavy damage also has been inflicted.

"Evidence" Offered

It said the German successes had been "proved by repeated closing of enemy ports and other evidence."

These statistics were given for the period from July 9 to July 31:

Sunk by submarines, 344,174 tons.
Sunk by surface craft, 98,500 tons.
Sunk by the air force, 21,650 tons of warships.
Damaged:
Warships, 32,000 tons.
Merchant shipping, 328,000 tons.

"Total ship losses the enemy sustained between July 9 and 31 thus amounted to 679,324 tons, regardless of successes through mines and without inclusion of damage to enemy war and shipping space," the communique declared.

"The enemy thus, since the beginning of the war, lost of his own shipping and shipping usable by him through operations of the navy 3,725,547 tons and through operations of the air force 1,261,313 tons, a total of 4,986,860 tons.

"Besides this, the air force, since the outbreak of the war, has damaged merchant ships totaling approximately 1,500,000 tons."

Today's German high command communique said:

"One submarine sank three armed enemy merchant ships totaling 16,875 tons in a strongly protected convoy.

"Frequent air fights developed over the Channel August 5. In the course of this action one German reconnaissance plane shot down two modern type British pursuit craft. Six additional enemy chasers were downed by our pursuit planes in the course of the fight.

Night Raids Reported

Attacks by German night raiders on "several English ports" were mentioned in the communique, which said that British bombs dropped in northern Germany caused only slight property damage and no deaths.

A German submarine, it declared, sank three armed merchant ships totaling 16,875 tons.

German anti-aircraft fire drove off a large number of British night air raiders attempting to attack Hamburg before dawn, the German radio reported today.

Only a few planes, flying at great altitude, crossed the city, it said, and their bombs did not serious damage.

"During the night of August 5-6, German planes attacked several English ports. British planes last night dropped bombs on northern and western Germany. Property damage was slight. No lives were lost."

said the broadcast, and the people applauded when a speaker referred to their country as "old territory of German colonization."

"Population Is German"

The speaker, State Councilor Simon, who is the German chief of Luxembourg's civil population, continued:

"The population of this country is of German race. It is of Moselle-Franconian character, just as much as the population of the Trier (Treves) district and of our beautiful Moselle country."

While not specifically announcing annexation of Luxembourg by Germany, Simon emphasized that the "artificially applied exterior French varnish" will have disappeared from the face of Luxembourg in a few weeks, after which the German character of the country "will celebrate its resurrection."

Nazis Say Streicher Is Alive And Quite Well

Former Party District Leader For Franconia Reported On Farm Near Nurnberg

Berlin, Aug. 6 (AP)—British reports of the death of Julius Streicher, former Nazi party district leader for Franconia, were denied today by German authorities who said he was quite well on his farm near Nurnberg.

The report was published by Reuters in a dispatch dated "the German frontier," and was attributed to "a well-informed source in Germany."

The reasons for Streicher's suspension from his Franconia post were not made known.

German Police Enter Luxembourg Capital

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 6 (Via radio)—Formations of German police marched into the capital of Luxembourg behind brass bands today, the German radio reported.

Luxembourg police held back the crowds lining the big parade ground, which had been festively decorated,

DENY STREICHER DIED

Nazis Declare Jew-Baiter in Perfect Health

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—The German authorities declared today that Julius Streicher was in perfect health on his farm, Bleikertshof, near Nurnberg. Their statement was in reply to a London report that Streicher, Governor of Franconia, was dead.

Streicher, it became known, was relieved some time ago of his duty as Gauleiter (Nazi party district leader) for Franconia, but his name still appears in the masthead of Der Sturmer, the Jew-baiting weekly newspaper. The reason for his suspension from the post of Gauleiter was not disclosed.

Reds Protest Holding Of Estonian Steamers

Berlin, Aug. 6 (AP) via Radio)—The German radio, quoting a Stockholm dispatch, reported tonight that the Soviet Russian Ambassador to London had protested against British action in holding up eight Estonian steamers.

After the Estonian Parliament voted to merge with the Soviet Union the captains of the ships were ordered to hoist the Soviet flag and leave port.

The German radio said the British prevented them from executing the orders by refusing to provide coal. The broadcast added that the British were holding about thirty other Estonian ships and several of Latvian registry.

Estonian Death Penalty

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (AP via radio).—The Estonian government has voted the death penalty for citizens of the Estonian Socialist Soviet Republic living abroad who refuse to return to Estonia at the order of the government, the German wireless reported today. Confiscation of their property was also decreed.

German-Russian border traffic negotiations, which were opened five weeks ago at Berlin, will be concluded at Moscow, the German radio reported. A commission arrived in the Soviet capital today.

The work of the mixed commission resulted in June in an agreement regarding settlement of border incidents.

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—The Hungarian Government decreed today the confiscation of a large portion of Jewish-owned landed property in that country, the German radio reported from Budapest.

The German broadcast declared that the measure was in connection with the Hungarian program of breaking up large estates into small farms for peasants. About one-fifth of the property still in Jewish hands is said to be affected by today's decree.

VICHY ASKS U. S. AID

French Want British Use of Blockade Eased.

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Informed French political circles today asserted that the French Government had asked the United States to exercise pressure on the British to ease the blockade against unoccupied France, the German radio declared in a dispatch from Vichy.

British Raiders Driven Off.

HAMBURG, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—German anti-aircraft fire drove off a large number of British night air raiders attempting to attack this port before dawn, the German radio reported today. Only a few planes, flying at great altitude, crossed the city, it said, and their bombs did no serious damage.

Non-Alcoholic Nazi Beer

Berlin, Aug. 6 (AP)—Germans have begun drinking non-alcoholic beer as a beverage that can quench their thirsts and even be consumed at work "without detrimental effects."

An idea attibuted to abstentious Adolf Hitler and converted into reality by German chemists, it has just begun to flow from thousands of beer-taps.

How it is brewed is a secret, but it looks like beer, tastes like beer and contains the same ingredients—except the alcohol.

The new beverage, production of which has been fixed temporarily at 1,000,000,000 gallons a year, is said to fill a gap left by wartime restrictions and rationing of coffee substitutes, milk and tea.

Nazi press advocates say the basic idea was to create a "common beverage" which is "appetizing, has the stimulating effects of beer and quenches the thirst without possessing the tiring influence of alcohol."

It is delivered in ordinary wooden kegs and flows from the tap carbonated like real beer.

II

Berlin Radio Closes Earlier

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (AP).—Berlin's short-wave station closed down two hours earlier than usual this morning to allow, it was explained, an overhauling of the transmitter. Listeners overseas had been informed by announcers for three consecutive days that the overhauling would be done early today, it was said.

500 Italian Workers Go To German Factory

First Of Thirty Trainloads Of Industrialists Goes Through Brenner Pass

Brennero, Italy, Aug. 6 (AP)—The first of thirty trainloads of Italian industrial workers en route to Nazi steel mills, motor factories and chemical plants, went northward today through the Brenner Pass to Germany.

German authorities gathered on their side of the mountain pass frontier to welcome them.

The first train carried 500 workmen on their way to Hanover. The trains will continue almost daily until 20,000 Italians have been placed in German factories.

British Plane Crashes.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Eight men were killed today when a military plane carrying twelve officers and men of British South African and East African forces, operating in this war theater, crashed in bad weather.

British Africa Unifies Trade

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Aug. 6 (AP)—Formation of an East Africa economic council representing Kenya, Uganda, Tanganyika, Zanzibar, Rhodesia and Nyasaland to coordinate economic and commercial policies for war purposes was announced today. All are British colonies or protectorates.

The council is designed for speedy planning of production of war necessities and marketing of surplus produce.

Greek Ship Sunk Off Crete.

ATHENS, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—The 1,044-ton Greek freighter Roula, bound from Istanbul to Port Said with 1,500 tons of timber, was torpedoed and sunk by an Italian submarine south of the Island of Crete, it was reported today. Eight members of the crew were reported missing.

The Greek passenger ship Pylaros arrived at Piraeus with five Italian airmen whose plane was shot down by a British destroyer south of Greece.

Britain Expected To Buy All Of Egypt's Cotton Crop

Alexandria, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Arabic newspaper Al Mokattam said today that British purchase of Egypt's entire cotton crop—80,000,000 bales valued at $120,000,000 to $160,000,000—would be announced in Parliament tomorrow by Premier Hassan Sabry Pasha.

This was expected to offset the wartime loss of Egypt's markets and routes of delivery. It has been impractical to use the Mediterranean or Red Sea except under strong convoy.

Gets 5 Years; Had Bombs

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Aug 6 (AP).—Francis Arcuzi, an ex-lieutenant of the Hungarian Army, was acquitted today by a military tribunal of espionage in behalf of a foreign power, but was sentenced to five years for possessing incendiary bombs. They were found in his steamship cabin on April 5 upon his arrival here.

Nine Of Greek Crew Survive Sub Attack

Group Struggles Five Days After Steamer Is Sunk By Italian Underwater Raider

Alexandria, Egypt, Aug. 6 (AP)—Nine survivors of the Greek steamer Roula, sunk by gunfire of an Italian submarine off Crete, reached Alexandria today after a five-day struggle against heavy seas that threatened to swamp their lifeboat.

Another lifeboat, containing nine men, is missing.

The survivors said their 1,044-ton ship was bound from Istanbul to Port Said with lumber when it encountered the submarine August 1.

A patrol vessel rescued the nine near the Egyptian coast after their boat had drifted 400 miles.

Assumes Palestine Command

JERUSALEM, Aug. 6 (AP).—Lieut. Gen. Philip Neame, fifty years old, who won the Victoria Cross in the World War for bravery on the battlefield, assumed his duties today as commander of British forces in Britished-mandated Palestine and Transpordan.

Burma Road Reopened For Restricted Traffic

Goods Not Banned by Pact of Powers Moves Again

RANGOON, Aug. 6 (AP).—An official announcement said today that traffic had been resumed over the Burma Road to China for goods not prohibited by the British-Japanese agreement closing the road to war supplies for China. The road had been closed entirely while control arrangements were worked out.

Today's announcement said that traffic would be allowed on the condition that trucks carry only sufficient gasoline to get them to China and back and that owners post bonds guaranteeing their return.

Ex-Premier Seized in Burma

BOMBAY, Aug. 6 (AP).—Former Premier Ba Maw of Burma has been arrested at Rangoon, according to a dispatch from that city. The reason was not stated. The former Premier recently was named "dictator" of the so-called Burma freedom bloc at Mandalay, and the warrant for his arrest was reported to have been issued there.

French Ban On Hard Drinking Is Approved

Vichy Cabinet Adopts Essential Parts Of Decree For Suppression Of Alcoholism

Vichy, France, Aug. 6 (AP)—Measures directed at hard drinking in France were approved today by the Cabinet. A communique said merely that "the essential parts of a decree for the suppression of alcoholism" had been adopted, but gave no details. It was assumed that the decree would be made public shortly.

A campaign against the drink habit has been heralded for weeks as one of the important steps planned by the Government of Marshal Philippe Petain to make Frenchmen stronger and healthier. Petain, at 84, enjoys his wine, but is not a drinker of strong liquor.

To deprive Frenchmen of their wine would be like depriving the Italians of their spaghetti; nothing so radical is likely. However, the "severe" measures expected could hit at such drinks as brandy.

Monte Carlo's Casino Reopens For Gambling With Regulars On Hand

Monte Carlo, Monaco, Aug. 6 (AP)—Monte Carlo's famous gambling casino has been reopened less than a month after the French-German armistice.

For the opening last Saturday night the casino was so crowded that an orchestra concert had to be abandoned. There was not enough room for the musicians.

Many old regulars among the patrons of the gaming tables were on hand and many Italians and Germans were among the players. Even a few Americans were present. Since then the casino has been doing a rushing business twelve hours a day.

Africa "Incidents" Taken Up

VICHY, France, Aug. 6 (AP)—The French Cabinet discussed again today what had been described earlier as incidents in the Cameroons and Madagascar caused by the entrance of British warships into French territorial waters. No details were given out.

Writer Sees How Stuka Raid Paralyzed Prize French Fort

Hochwald Turrets Split And Disabled By Dive Bombers In Last Days Of Battle Of France

By PRESTON GROVER

[Associated Press Correspondent]

Fort Hochwald, in the Maginot Line, Aug. 6—The strange story of this French fort, which held out for nine days after the armistice, was told tonight to a party of correspondents taken on a visit to it by its German captors.

Despite its German name, Hochwald (High Forest) was one of the two strongest forts in the Maginot system.

When the Germans finally entered it, they discovered that a dive-bomber raid had paralyzed its strongest turret and cracked its walls of six-foot reinforced concrete so that daylight shone through.

Fort Hochwald is four miles from the Rhine river at Weissenburg, opposite the Black Forest.

The Germans knew it was doomed to easy capture when the Rhine crossings were forced and the Maginot Line punctured on both sides of the fort last June 15 and 16.

They approached the fort from the rear and found it guarded by a pair of anti-tank guns and several machine guns sticking through apertures in the concrete.

As French capitulation already was imminent and German armies already had passed a hundred miles beyond, anyway, they made no immediate effort to take the fort.

Refuse To Surrender

When it refused to surrender, however, a Stuka attack was launched June 20. Despite the force of the dive bombers' onslaughts the French still refused to give up.

Conclusion of the armistice June 22 meant nothing to its defenders as they were completely out of communication with other French forces and refused to believe German assertions that the fighting was over.

The Germans said 200 Frenchmen fled to the rear, quitting the fort, after the Stuka attack but that 950 others held out.

Half a dozen 100-kilo (about 220 pounds) and five 250-kilo (about 550 pounds) bombs were dropped over passages connecting two-gun turrets. Evidently none struck squarely atop the turrets but the effects were enormous.

One Turret Jammed

One gun turret was jammed with the ceiling passageway lowered two inches, consequently deranging much gear. Six-foot concrete walls of one passage were split on both sides.

We entered the fort from the southeast on a little train resembling the trolley that carries Senators from their offices to the Capitol in Washington. For about three miles we rode.

30.24-4151

through a series of tunnels at levels under the Hochwald ridge point where the guns pointed northwest toward the Rhine.

The size of the fort was simply staggering yet despite its greatness it mounted only nineteen light artillery guns, none of which were capable of firing beyond ten miles.

Not One Effective Shot

Germans said this huge fort, part of a series costing the French a half billion dollars, never fired one shot hindering the German advance.

Its passageways were studded with machine-guns for a last-ditch defense, but a joint French-German commission arrived July 1 to tell the French troops inside that an armistice had been reached.

Germans said they found a three-month food supply for the garrison inside along with 3,000,000 rounds of artillery and additional machine-gun ammunition.

copied by the enemy and used against you."

Learned To Fly At 49

(Eben Emael, twelve miles north of Liege and one of the strongest ports of the Albert canal line, was reported taken by the Germans May 10 "within a few minutes" by a small detachment of Nazis using a "secret" weapon. Guesses on both sides of the Atlantic about that weaping ranged from a new type gun to a paralyzing nerve gas.

Replica Raided

(Louis Lochner, chief of the Associated Press Berlin Bureau, reported last July 13:

("Now it is known that before the capture of the Belgian fortress Eben Emael, an exact replica was built in northern Germany. Parachute troops descended on that replica in thirty practice raids, hurling thermite bombs at the big guns and steel-lined em-

Nazi Secret Weapons Ready, General Says

(Editor's Note—Preston Grover, of the Associated Press Berlin staff, is with a party of foreign correspondents being taken by the Germans on a tour of some sections of German-occupied Belgium and France. The following dispatch was written August 3 in Brussels, sent by courier to Berlin, and held there until released today.)

By Preston Grover

Associated Press Foreign Correspondent

Brussels (Via Courier to Berlin) Aug 3—(Delayed)—Secret weapons and new methods of modern warfare, some perhaps never tried before and one used only once in the lightning capture of a Belgian fort, are ready for use against Britain, Field Marshal General Albert Kesserlring told the foreign press today.

His statement was a renewal of the oft-repeated story that Germany is about to spring on her foes strange new devices developed behind the wall of Nazi military secrecy.

Used At Liege

What the weapons are, or whether they represent only a new use of old weapons, General Kesselring, commander of the German air force opposite England, would not say.

He declared, however, that one surprise weapon, to his knowledge, was perfected and used only against the Eben Emael fortress in the Liege citadel.

"A new weapon cannot be used often," he added, "else it will be brasures and capturing the 'astonished garrison.'")

Kesselring, who learned to fly at 49 and now at 55 awaits the word to strike as the man in whose hands may be the success or failure of Germany's air attack, proved a lively conversationalist at a dinner.

"It is good to be able to have moments like this," he told them "and not have to think always of destruction."

He said the same weapons and methods used to subdue France could not be expected to work against Britain because "England is an island."

Asked if Britain is growing stronger during the present hold-off of direct attack, General Kesselring replied:

"Not significantly."

This, he added, is because "it is already becoming more difficult for England to get supplies in the face of German attacks on harbors."

Calls U. S. Planes Better

(Grover, in another dispatch last night, described a flight over the French side of the English Channel and said he saw no ships afloat on Channel shipping lanes. He was thirty miles from England, however.)

The air commander praised the British Spitfier as a pursuit plane, but derided the Hurricanes, and said American planes are better than any England is producing.

He declined to make comparative comment on the German Messerschmitt planes, but said the dive-bombing Stukas created a new bombing weapon.

German "Initiative"

Lieut. Gen. Hans Speidel added the claim that the Stukas have crowded other bombers out of the field.

Bomb destruction of cities was pictured by Kesselring as not a difficult task. He said his part in the operations against Warshaw was a disagreeable job; that bombs were directed only at military objectives, but fire spread to other sections.

London, he added, also is so built that it would burn freely.

He would not predict when the zero hour for direct assault will come, but said "the initiative is in German hands."

Experts Off to Princeton

GENEVA, Aug. 6 (AP).—Eight League of Nations experts headed by Alexander Loveday, economic and financial section director, left here today for Princeton, N. J., as "partial acceptance" of an invitation to establish League technical services in the United States. The experts and their families are traveling to the French-Spanish frontier by special bus, and plan to sail from Lisbon for New York on the first available ship.

The League has not yet officially accepted the offer of Princeton University and other institutions to transfer its technical services to Princeton, but the group of eight includes almost all the leading experts of the economic and financial section.

Twenty-two experts of the International Labor Office are to leave tomorrow for the United States, where they will join the I. L. O. director, John G. Winant, former Governor of New Hampshire, and establish new headquarters somewhere on the American continent.

Czech Leader Arrested

Prague, Aug. 6 (AP)—The leader of the Czech National Union in the Greater Prague Area, a Dr. Nestaval, has been arrested, it was announced officially tonight, because his organization "was used for endeavors hostile to the (German) Reich."

REDS ARE BARRED IN SWITZERLAND

Prison Terms Fixed for Spreading Propaganda.

BERNE, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—The Swiss Government prohibited today all communist, Trotskyist and anarchist activity and propaganda and decree three-year prison terms and heavy fines for all violations of the ban.

Certain cantons already had barred the Left extremists, but the Federal council action today was the first crushing them throughout the confederation—the last nation left in Continental Europe where free minority groups were functioning openly.

Informed sources close to the Government said there had been "an increase of communist propaganda carried on by methods which more and more approach those of conspirators."

Socialists Are Out.

The Swiss Socialist party, the last active Socialist organization in Western Europe, gave up a long political fight last night and accepted a working agreement with the country's three leading conservative parties in the interest of national unity.

The agreement was approved by the party's Cantonal presidents here on recommendation of Robert Grimm, the Swiss Socialist leader, who declared: "Only the will of strong union resistance to all outside influences can maintain Swiss independence in these hard times."

The party is the largest in the Swiss National Council, the lower house of Parliament.

Nazis to Erase 'French Varnish' in Luxemburg

German Language Is Decreed, Forecasting Absorption

LUXEMBURG, Aug. 6 (AP).—The Nazi civil administration of Luxemburg decreed German the official language of the grand duchy today and predicted that within a few weeks the "artificially-applied exterior French varnish" will have disappeared, revealing the "German character" of the people.

In some quarters this was interpreted to mean that the Nazi-occupied grand duchy is to be gradually assimilated into the Reich.

Formerly some French, some German and a Luxemburg dialect were spoken in the little duchy at the corner of France, Belgium and Germany. The decree made German the exclusive language for official, court and school use. House and street signs must be changed to German and only German language newspapers will be permitted.

Formations of German police marched into the city behind brass bands.

REFUGEES REACH LISBON

Lisbon, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Portuguese schooner Anfitrite arrived today from Casablanca, French Morocco, with a number of French and Belgian refugees on their way to the United States.

The captain said former Premier Edouard Daladier and other ex-members of the French Government had tried to charter the schooner, but were arrested before they could get away. (Daladier has been returned to France under detention.)

Windsors To Be Met By Military Guard

Horse-Drawn Carriage To Take Them Through Streets Of Hamilton, Bermuda

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 6 (AP)—A military guard will meet the Duke and Duchess of Windsor when they arrive Thursday in Bermuda on their way to the Duke's new post as Governor of the Bahamas.

A horse-drawn carriage will take them through streets traditionally devoid of motor cars—that probably will be fringed by most of Hamilton's 3,200 residents, since Thursday is a regular half-holiday.

They will be the guests of Gen. Sir Denis Bernhard, the Governor, but no plans for entertainment have been made because the stop at Bermuda is strictly a private visit. The Duke and Duchess will leave the American Export liner Excalibur at Grassy Bay and and by a tender.

Windsor Estates

Purchase For Two Arranged, Presumably For Entourage

Nassau, Bahamas, Aug. 6 (AP)—Two hilltop estates skirting exclusive Cable Beach have been purchased by a member of the Duke of Windsor's party, presumably to house part of the new Bahaman Governor's entourage.

Capt. Vyvyan Drury, who is traveling with the Duke and Duchess toward Nassau, picked the two properties, Four Winds and Taiping, and arranged for their purchase. Captain Drury wintered in the Bahamas last year.

Heretofore, Government House, twenty-room official residence of the Governor, has been sufficient to care for his immediate party, but because of the Duke's station he will have more aides than his predecessors.

40,000 Jews in Cracow All Forced to Emigrate

Mass Exodus to Non-Annexed Sector Must Begin by Aug. 15

CRACOW, German-Occupied Poland, Aug. 6 (AP).—This city's entire Jewish population of 40,000 is scheduled to begin a mass eastward migration with "a few days," D. N. B., the German official news agency, reported today, quoting the newspaper "Warschauer Zeitung." German authorities and representatives of the Jewish community were said to have arranged details.

"All Jews are given an opportunity until Aug. 15 to choose a new domicile in the region of the government-general," the newspaper said. (The government general is that portion of German-occupied Poland not formally annexed to the Reich).

Warsaw was designated chiefly to absorb the Jewish wanderers, but larger provincial towns also were open to them.

The "emigrants" will be allowed to take all their belongings with them, the newspaper said. All able-bodied, unmarried men will be resettled first, followed by unmarried women and then by families, whose members "shall not be separated."

To Dock Thursday

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—The liner Excalibur, carrying the Duke and Duchess of Windsor to Bermuda, radioed today that she would reach the Bermuda pilot station Thursday afternoon. It was the first word the American Export Lines, owner of the vessel, had received from her since she left Lisbon last Thursday.

76 Americans Quit Denmark

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 6 (AP).—Seventy-six Americans, including nineteen children and eleven married couples, left Denmark today en route to the United States by way of Finland's Arctic port of Petsamo. Eight more are scheduled to leave tomorrow, after which no Americans will remain in Denmark except those whose duties keep them here and those who, for personal reasons, are determined to stay.

U.S. Trade Pact With Russia Is Renewed a Year

Moscow Reserves Right to Break Treaty if Defense Restrictions Are Burden

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP).—The United States and Soviet Russia extended their trade agreement today for another year, with the Moscow government reserving the right to suspend purchases at any time that American defense restrictions made exporting too difficult.

The Soviet already has raised objections to the restrictions imposed on the export of machine tools and other equipment declared to be needed in this country's defense program.

The text of the agreement, made public by the State Department, showed that Soviet Russia agreed to purchase at least $40,000,000 worth of goods in this country during the next year—the same amount as in the treaty which expired today.

In an accompanying letter which became a part of the agreement, A. Mikoyan, the Soviet Foreign Trade Commissar, made this reservation:

"If, however, restrictions imposed on exports by the government of the United States should render it difficult for Soviet economic organizations to satisfy their needs in the United States, it may be impossible for these organizations to carry out their intentions. The government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is therefore not in a position at the present time to guarantee the above-mentioned value of its purchases in the United States."

State Department officials said the agreement and the reservation spoke for themselves. It was considered likely in other informed quarters, however, that the United States gave some oral assurances to the Soviet government regarding the export restrictions, possibly that there would be no discrimination for political reasons in licensing exports to Russia.

Apart from the Soviet reservation, the new agreement was identical with the previous ones which began in 1937. During these years Soviet purchases have greatly exceeded the guaranteed figure. During the first eleven months of the last trade agreement year they amounted to approximately $67,000,000. American purchases from Russia during the same period were about $23,000,000.

In return for the Soviet agreement to purchase at least $40,000,000 worth of goods here, the United States grants Russia unconditional most-favored-nation treatment.

Difficulties between the two governments over the export restrictions had raised doubts whether any form of commercial agreement would be concluded for another year.

The negotiations were carried on in Moscow by Mikoyan and Walter C. Thurston, American Charge d'Affaires.

Russo-American Pact For Trade Is Signed

MOSCOW, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—A new Soviet Russian-United States trade treaty was signed this evening to run for one year. The documents were identical with last year's treaty in every respect except for one detail not yet announced.

ESTONIA IN SOVIET

Russia Completes Process of Absorbing Baltic States.

MOSCOW, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Russia completed the process of absorbing the Baltic States into the Soviet Union tonight when the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) voted to admit Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia previously had been admitted.

BALTIC STATE BECOMES 16TH RED REPUBLIC

Soviet Population Soars To 193,000,000 With New Additions

Commercial Agreement With America Is A Virtual Renewal

[By the Associated Press]

Moscow, Aug. 6—Russia took Estonia into the Soviet Union tonight, completing absorption of the three tiny Baltic states, and about the same time signed a one-year trade agreement with the United States.

The trade pact was identical with last year's except for one detail, not yet announced.

Sitting in the great white-walled council chamber of the Kremlin, the Supreme Soviet accepted an Estonian petition to enter the U. S. S. R. as the sixteenth republic. Latvia and Lithuania already had been accepted.

This action swelled Russia's population to 193,000,000, of whom 10,000,000 came in from Rumania, Lithuania, Latvia and Esthonia.

Murder Charge Hurled

Earlier in the day, Tass, the official Soviet news agency, had denounced as the act of a "murderer" the reported assassination in Helsinki, Finland, of a member of the Society for Friendship and Peace with the U. S. S. R.

This advocate of closer relations with Moscow, said Tass, was shot and killed in a public meeting by a "Canadian volunteer"—one of the Canadians who joined the International Brigade to fight for Finland in the Russo-Finnish war—in an attempt on the life of a leader of the society.

"The murderer," the agency commented, "was detained by workers." It added that the Finnish press was persisting in a campaign against the pro-Soviet society.

Molotoff Warning

At the same time it was recalled that Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff had publicly stated on August 1 that Russian-Finnish relations might "be damaged by the campaign against Finnish circles who try to strengthen good-neighborly relations with the U. S. S. R."

The assassination reported in Helsinki appeared to foreshadow possible new trouble for Finland, particularly in view of the Russian successes in absorbing Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia and the strong current resistance in Finland to agitations for similar Russian domination there.

The Scandinavian wireless reported from Helsinki today that a committee had been appointed by the Finnish State Council for cultivating Finnish-Soviet relations. It also reported that the Finnish Inner Cabinet had met to discuss measures against demonstrations planned by Communists in Finland tonight, and that both the Government and the press were trying to allay public anxiety over recent demonstrations by Leftist and Radical elements.

Japan Seizes 7 More Suspects

[By the Associated Press]

Tokyo, Aug. 6—Seven Salvation Army leaders, reliably reported to be all Japanese, have been arrested on suspicion of espionage, the War Office announced today.

The War Office said that those arrested included the Japanese commander in chief of the oraganization, which has its world headquarters in London. The arrests were made July 31, and the seven are still detained.

The gendarmerie, confirming the War Office announcement, said it was unable to state the nationality of those under arrest, and the locale likewise was not given.

In usually reliable quarters, however, it was said that all were believed arrested in Tokyo.

The arrests came with a country-wide round-up of Britons suspected of espionage, who at one time numbered more than a dozen, including many prominent businessmen. Now all but seven have been released.

Informed sources reported that Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, in a one-hour conversation with Sir Robert Craigie, the British Ambassador, had asked for an explanation of the arrests of Japanese in London and other parts of the empire. He did not, however, present any demands, these sources said.

Domei, the Japanese news agency, said that the Government was planning to watch the British attitude without asking for further explanations.

The anti-British League sent resolutions to the British embassy and to Government offices demanding release of the Japanese held in Britain.

ALL REPORTED BY WAR OFFICE TO BE NATIVES

Foreign Minister Matsuoka Confers With Craigie On London Arrests

Tension Between Countries Said To Be Eased By Freeing Man In England

[By the Associated Press]

Tokyo, Aug. 6—Seven Salvation Army leaders, all reported to be Japanese, remained in custody tonight, six days after their arrest on suspicion of espionage.

The arrests were not announced until today.

One, said the War Office, was the Japanese commander in chief of the Salvation Army, which was fostered by the British in its entry to Japan years ago. World headquarters are in London.

Ministers Confer

While the Britishers who used to head the organization in this country have been supplanted by Japanese, Britons still act as advisers in some cases.

Yosuke Matsuoka, Foreign Minister, conferred today with Sir Robert Craigie, British Ambassador, and was reported to have asked an explanation of the arrests of Japanese in London. He was understood to have made no demands.

Two prominent Japanese businessmen were arrested last Friday night in London under circumstances almost identical with the previous arrest in Japan of a number of Britons.

Tension Reported Eased

The Japanese Ambassador to London made a sharp protest, but the British denied they had acted in retaliation.

Today in London the resultant British-Japanese tension was reported to have eased after the release of one of the Japanese, Satoru Makihara, agent for vast business and banking interests.

A Japanese spokesman said privately: "We believe there is now every indication that relationships between Japan and Britain will continue to improve."

Japan Warns Alien Schools

To Take Over Mission Institutions That Oppose Tokio's Policies

TOKIO, Aug. 7 (Wednesday) (AP).—The Japanese Ministry of Education disclosed today that it would ask for a transfer of control of more than thirty foreign-owned schools whose teachings were said to be incompatible with Japan's national interests.

The announcement said one mission school which was not identified compelled students "to pray for victory of a certain nation hostile to Japan." If the missions refuse to relinquish control, the ministry indicated it would cancel permission for them to operate.

Army Governor at Hongkong.

HONGKONG, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Hongkong's first military Governor since 1912, Lieut.-Gen. E. F. Norton, arrived here today from his previous command in India.

Gen. Norton, who led the 1924 Mount Everest Expedition, did not indicate whether his appointment means that the colony is to assume a strictly military status, such as Gibraltar, or whether it represents merely a temporary wartime measure.

TELLS CANADA NOT TO EMBARRASS U. S.

King Says It Must Shun Pan-American Union.

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Prime Minister MacKenzie King told the House of Commons today that it would be inopportune now to discuss proposals that Canada join the Pan-American Union and sign a mutual defense treaty with the United States.

George Fulford, Ontario Liberal, suggested that Canada should be a member of the union and J. F. Pouliot, Quebec Liberal, said that President Roosevelt's promise to defend Canada should be implemented by a treaty in which both countries would fight for the other in case of attack.

Mr. MacKenzie King said the Pan-American Union was a union of republics and so far the Dominion had not been invited to join.

"I believe it would be embarrassing to the United States, to the Central and South American republics and to ourselves, and would create misunderstanding were we to seek at this time to become a member of the Pan-American Union," he said.

The Prime Minister agreed with Rodney Adamson, Toronto Conservative, that any attempt to join the union now would be construed as a sign of weakness and a sign of the disintegration of the British Empire."

Still Viewed as Mayor

MONTREAL, Aug. 6 (AP)—Legal observers expressed the opinion tonight that Camillien Houde, outspoken critic of conscription, would retain his offices as Mayor of Montreal and member of the Quebec Legislature despite his internment under Canadian defense regulations.

He was taken into custody suddenly last night by Canadian mounted police and within an hour was on his way to an internment camp.

His Mayoral duties have been taken over by Alderman Edmond Hamelin as Acting Mayor, but legal authorities said that unless Mr. Houde resigned there was nothing in the law to deprive him of the office.

Thus he would continue to receive his Mayor's salary of $10,000 a year until his term expires in December, in addition to interned person's pay of 22 cents a day for work done in the camp.

He would not, however, collect his sessional indemnity of $2,500 as a member of the Legislature. The amount is not paid unless the legislator attends the session.

30 24-4153

30,24-4153

MONTREAL, AUG. 6-(AP)-MONTREAL'S MAYOR, CAMILLIEN HOUDE, OUTSPOKEN OPPONENT OF CONSCRIPTION, HAS BEEN INTERNED UNDER THE WAR MEASURES ACT, THE ROYAL CANADIAN MOUNTED POLICE ANNOUNCED TODAY.

HE WAS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY AT THE CITY HALL LATE LAST NIGHT, THREE DAYS AFTER HE HANDED MONTREAL NEWSPAPERMEN AN INITIALED STATEMENT ASKING THE POPULATION NOT TO COMPLY WITH COMPULSORY NATIONAL REGISTRATION SCHEDULED TO START AUG. 19.

HIS INTERNMENT PRESUMABLY IS FOR THE DURATION OF THE WAR.

OPPOSITION LEADER R.B.HANSON CHARGED IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS SATURDAY THAT HOUDE THUS HAD "OPENLY DEFIED THE LAW OF CANADA."

AUG 7-1940

HOUDE'S STATEMENT EXPRESSED HIS BELIEF THAT THE DOMINION PARLIAMENT "HAS NO MANDATE TO VOTE CONSCRIPTION," AND WENT ON:

"I DO NOT MYSELF BELIEVE THAT I AM HELD TO CONFORM TO THE SAID LAW AND I HAVE NO INTENTION OF SO DOING; AND I ASK THE POPULATION NOT TO CONFORM, KNOWING FULL WELL WHAT I AM DOING PRESENTLY, AND TO WHAT I EXPOSE MYSELF."

THE MAYOR, WHO WILL BE 51 YEARS OLD NEXT TUESDAY, FIRST TOOK A PUBLIC STAND ON CONSCRIPTION IN MARCH, 1939, WHEN HE PROMISED FRENCH-CANADIAN STUDENT DEMONSTRATORS FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF MONTREAL HE WOULD TAKE THE LEAD IN DEFENDING THEM AGAINST UNNECESSARY PARTICIPATION IN WARS BEYOND CANADA'S FRONTIERS.

AUG 7-1940

PREVIOUSLY HE HAD ATTRACTED ATTENTION BY A STATEMENT THAT FRENCH-CANADIANS WERE FASCIST BY BLOOD AND, IF ENGLAND WENT TO WAR WITH ITALY, THEIR SYMPATHY WOULD LIE WITH ITALY.

LAST MAY HE SECONDED A MOTION IN THE QUEBEC LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DENOUNCING CONSCRIPTION AND URGING CONTINUATION OF A "MODERATE" WAR EFFORT BY CANADA. THE MOTION WAS DEFEATED.

AUG 7-1940

HOUDE, FOUR-TIME MAYOR AND SELF-STYLED "MAN OF THE PEOPLE," FORMERLY WAS LEADER OF THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY IN QUEBEC, RESIGNING AFTER A DEFEAT FOR RE-ELECTION TO THE MAYORALTY IN 1932. IN THE LAST PROVINCIAL LEGISLATIVE ELECTIONS, IN 1939, HE WON A SEAT AS AN INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE.

MQ302AED

EDITORS:

THE FOLLOWING MAY BE INSERTED AFTER 3D GRAPH, MONTREAL CANADIAN MAYOR X X X TO START AUG.19.

ROYAL CANADIAN MOUNTED POLICE AND QUEBEC PROVINCIAL POLICE COOPERATED IN MAKING THE ARREST. HOUDE SUBMITTED QUIETLY WHEN POLICE SURROUNDED HIM AS HE LEFT THE CITY HALL. HE WAS REMOVED TO MOUNTED POLICE HEADQUARTERS AND QUESTIONED FOR 35 MINUTES, THEN TAKEN TO AN UNDISCLOSED CAMP FOR INTERNMENT.

JUSTICE MINISTER ERNEST LAPOINTE AND OTHER CANADIAN AUTHORITIES WITHHELD COMMENT TODAY ON THE MAYOR'S ARREST AND INTERNMENT.

HIS INTERNMENT PRESUMABLY X X X ETC., PICKING UP 3D GRAPH.

VM926AED

AUG 7-1940

MONTREAL--FIRST ADD CANADIAN MAYOR X X X INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE.

ONLY 14 MONTHS AGO MAYOR HOUDE WELCOMED KING GEORGE VI AND QUEEN ELIZABETH IN MONTREAL ON THEIR PEACE-TIME TOUR OF CANADA.

LAST NIGHT, INSTEAD OF THE CHEERING THRONGS TO WHICH THE MAYOR HAD BECOME ACCUSTOMED, THERE WERE ONLY A FEW BY-STANDERS GAZING AT HIS MOTOR CAR AS HE WAS DRIVEN, A GLUM AND SILENT PRISONER, TO POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

THE FORMER INSURANCE AGENT SINCE 1928 HAD BEEN SEVEN TIMES (CORRECT) MAYOR OF MONTREAL. HE DEFEATED MAYOR MEDERIC MARTIN, WHO HAD BEEN THE CITY'S CHIEF MAGISTRATE FOR A DECADE.

BEFORE THE WAR BEGAN, HE DREW CRITICISM FOR AN ADDRESS TO A MONTREAL YOUTH GROUP, IN WHICH HE EXPRESSED PRO-FASCIST IDEAS.

(THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT ONCE HONORED HIM WITH THE TITLE OF COMMANDER OF THE ORDER OF THE CROWN OF ITALY.)

ALDERMAN E.HAMELIN BECOMES ACTING MAYOR.

HOUDE WILL HAVE THE RIGHT TO OBJECT TO HIS INTERNMENT AND DEMAND A HEARING, THE RIGHT OF EVERY BRITISH SUBJECT. SUCH AN OBJECTION, IF HE MAKES IT, WOULD GO TO MINISTER OF JUSTICE LA POINTE, WHO IN TURN WOULD REFER IT AN ADVISORY COMMISSION.

WM1 006AED

CanadaKeepsFrenchEnvoy

Rules Ristelhueber May Stay at His Post and Carry Out Duties

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (AP).—Canada has permitted the French Minister, Rene Ristelhueber, to remain at his post in Canada and carry out his duties, Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King told the House of Commons today. He said he believed this met with the approval of the British government, although diplomatic relations between the latter and France have been broken.

Canada has maintained close diplomatic relations with France in the past, mainly because of this country's large French-speaking population.

Add Ottawa - Aug 6

MACKENZIE KING SAID HE WAS SURE THE MINISTER, "A VERY HONORABLE MAN," WOULD NOT SEND HIS GOVERNMENT ANY INFORMATION WHICH MIGHT BE HARMFUL TO CANADA IF IT FELL INTO GERMAN HANDS.

THE PRIME MINISTER SAID THE GOVERNMENT WAS CONSIDERING EXCHANGE OF DIPLOMATIC REPRESENTATIVES WITH SOME OF THE SOUTH AMERICAN COUNTRIES, AND SAID BRAZIL AND ARGENTINA WERE "A GOOD GUESS" AS TO THOSE GIVEN CHIEF CONSIDERATION. SEVERAL SOUTH AMERICAN STATES, HE SAID, HAD INTIMATED THEY WOULD LIKE SUCH AN EXCHANGE.

QQ151PED

Canada Fixes Bread Prices

Ottawa, Aug. 6 (AP)—Maximum prices for bread and flour were fixed today by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board at the level of those prevailing on July 23 before the imposition of the wheat processing tax.

Australian Opposition Chief Bars Cabinet Seat

CANBERRA, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—John Curtin, Opposition leader in the Australian Parliament, declined today an invitation from Premier Robert G. Menzies to join the national administration.

Hongkong Refugees at Brisbane.

BRISBANE, Australia, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—A total of 548 British women and children removed from the British Crown colony of Hongkong arrived here today.

They will be distributed in Brisbane, Sydney and Melbourne.

Australians Fearful.

CANBERRA, Australia, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—William M. Hughes, member of the Australian War Cabinet, declared in a prepared statement today that the situation in the Pacific is delicate and may easily become grave.

Developments, he said, would depend on whether the Germans attempted to invade England or postponed the assault.

Argentines Seize Nazi Arms

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 6 (AP).—Special Federal investigators assigned to look into complaints that gendarmes campaigning against Nazi activities had mistreated some German residents in the northern area returned here today. They brought two large chests said by informed sources to contain arms and ammunition seized by the gendarmes in their inquiry.

Indicates U. S. Is Keeping Cruisers Near Brazil

SANTOS, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—The United States destroyers Walke and Wainwright arrived at this Brazilian port today from Buenos Aires. They will sail northward Friday.

Transfer to these destroyers from the cruisers Wichita and Quincy of a number of sailors whose enlistments are expiring was regarded as an indication that the Navy Department intends to keep the cruisers in the South Atlantic indefinitely.

Quezon Gets Wide Power To Meet World Crisis

Filipinos Face Forced Labor at Dictated Wages

MANILA, P. I., (AP).—A bill investing President Manuel L. Quezon with extraordinary powers to deal with the emergency situation created by world disturbances was passed on second reading today by the National Assembly. This was considered tantamount to final action.

Charges by some opponents that the Quezon administration was attempting to set up a totalitarian government brought arguments from proponents that the bill was in line with the Commonwealth Constitution.

The bill empowers the Executive to promulgate regulations for the suppression of espionage, and to require all able-bodied citizens not engaged in useful occupations to engage in farming or other productive activities or to perform services necessary to the public interests.

Power also is given the President to control farming, industries, wages, profits, hours of work, distribution of labor, shipping and other transportation, public services, rents and and prices of prime necessities. He further is empowered to prohibit lockouts and strikes.

PAN-AMERICA LOAN MEASURE DEFENDED

Senate Banking Group Majority Calls It Essential To Preparedness

Counters Minority Protest That Bill Is "Unsound And Futile"

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 6—A majority of the Senate Banking Committee contended today that a proposed $500,000,000 increase in the capital of the Export-Import Bank was "an essential measure of economic preparedness for ourselves and our Latin-American neighbors against the uncertain future of a war-torn world."

The committee made this report to the Senate at about the same time that a minority of seven members filed a protest condemning the proposed Latin-American lending as "unsound, futile and a waste of the people's money."

The measure provides that the bank's capital shall be increased from $200,000,000 to $700,000,000, with authority to make loans to governments or central banks in the Western Hemisphere. Earlier today, Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, sent a letter to the House Banking Committee saying the bill was "essential" to "economic defense" of the Western Hemisphere.

The majority of the Senate committee took a similar stand, saying:

"The bill places this Government in a better position to meet an emergency which might otherwise eventuate in irreparable economic chaos and further totalitarian infiltration in Latin America.

"A situation of political, social and economic instability in the Latin-American republics renders them helpless to defend against future domination and control by totalitarian forces.

"Such a situation demands and justifies anticipatory steps to prevent a disastrous economic and political future. The authority established by the bill is thus vital to our own defense and to the rigorous application of the Monroe Doctrine throughout the Western Hemisphere."

The minority report made these assertions, among others:

"1. The bill is unconstitutional.

"2. The policy of international surplus control is not only futile, but positively harmful to the producers of South America and North America alike.

"3. The furnishing of economic aid to South America is not an advisable foreign policy.

"4. The new policy has a distinctly anti-German flavor.

"5. In our opinion, the ultimate effect of the policy proposed will be distinctly harmful to the United States and to its producers."

Signers of the minority report were Senators Frazier (Rep., N. D.), Townsend (Rep., Del.), Adams (Dem., Col.), Herring (Dem., Iowa), Tobey (Rep., N. H.), Danaher (Rep., Conn.) and Taft (Rep., Ohio.).

Jesse Jones, Federal Loan Administrator, who appeared in person before the House committee, said the bill would permit continuation of the present program of financing United States exports and also assist Latin-American countries in developing their natural resources.

30.24-4155

30.24-4155

Military Essentials

Jones mentioned such military essentials as rubber, tin, tungsten, chrome, manganese, iron ore and medicines.

"If we can help the Latin-American countries to produce more of these and other articles that do not compete with our own," he testified, "we will be rendering them a genuine service and without loss to ourselves."

He added that in some instances the Export-Import Bank might lend funds for the orderly marketing of Latin-America's agricultural surpluses.

"I think that after two or three years if the worst thing that happened to us is the accumulation of some surpluses we should all be willing to pay the price," Jones said.

SEEK RUBBER AREAS IN LATIN AMERICA

Two Parties Conducting Survey for U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Secretary Wallace disclosed today that two exploration parties from the Department of Agriculture are now in Latin America conducting surveys to determine the most promising areas for the production of rubber.

A third party, he said, is on its way to survey the headwaters of the Amazon River tributaries. The two already at work are covering northwestern Central America and southeastern Central America and parts of Colombia.

The surveys were authorized under a $500,000 congressional appropriation. The sponsors hope eventually to make the Western Hemisphere less dependent upon the Orient for rubber supplies. Mr. Wallace said Latin American governments were co-operating in the move to establish rubber production.

HULL DECLARES SERVICE BY ALL INSURES PEACE

Secretary Sees Need Now for Individual Sacrifice to Prevent War.

SAYS DANGER CONFRONTS U. S.

Wheeler Holds America Hasn't Enough Equipment to Train 400,000 Men.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Secretary of State Hull called on the American people today for individual sacrifice and hard personal service to help keep the nation at peace.

Without mentioning specifically the controversial question of conscription, he counseled against complacency in the face of terrific problems and conditions, and declared:

"The one and only sure way for our nation to avoid being drawn into serious trouble or actual war is for our people to become thoroughly conscious of the possibilities of danger, to make up their minds that we must continue to arm and to arm to such an extent that the forces of conquest and ruin will not dare make an attack on us or on any part of this hemisphere.

"To this end, each citizen must be ready and willing for real sacrifice of time and of substance, and for hard personal service.

"In the face of terrific problems and conditions, and until the present serious threats and dangers have disappeared, we cannot pursue complacently the course of our customary normal life."

Defense Means Peace.

Mr. Hull's views were expressed in a statement prepared before he left for a West Virginia mountain resort to rest from his work at the Havana conference of American foreign ministers, which ended last week.

At Havana, Mr. Hull said, it was "agreed that full and adequate preparation for continental defense could not be taken too soon if the threatened danger from abroad was to be checked and terminated."

There was general agreement also, he said, that "if the peaceful nations of Europe had thus promptly organized themselves for self-defense on the most effective co-operative basis, the chances are that their situation and that of Europe would be vastly different today."

"The vast forces of lawlessness, conquest and destruction are still moving across the earth like a savage and dangerous animal at large," Mr. Hull's statement continued. "By their nature, those forces will not stop unless and until they recognize that there exists unbreakable resistance.

Sees America United.

"At Havana we forged new instrumentalities of continental defense. These will be of vast importance to our nation and to every American nation."

The conference adopted a resolution providing that an act of aggression by a non-American State against an American State would be considered an act against all the countries signing the declaration.

While the resolution came from Venezuela, it was regarded here as a possibly useful instrument for negotiations for United States naval and air bases in strategic Latin American areas.

Mr. Hull's statement indicated all possible speed here in carrying out other measures adopted at Havana, including those to relieve and strengthen the economy of Latin American countries and to check fifth column activities.

The agreement creating the machinery for provisional control and administration of European colonies in this hemisphere which might become sources of danger, is expected to be submitted shortly to the Senate for ratification.

Meanwhile, the United States, acting alone or with other American republics, could occupy any of the colonies at any time under the "Act of Havana."

Sees Equipment Needed.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, a leading opponent of conscription, asserted meanwhile today that the army would have insufficient equipment to train the 400,000 men whom the Burke-Wadsworth bill would draft by October.

There is not even enough equipment, he told reporters, for all the 243,000 National Guardsmen who might be ordered to active service under a bill now being debated by the Senate.

Senator Shepparad, Democrat, of Texas, taking prompt issue, said that only about 55,000 guardsmen would be called for immediate duty, but insisted that the equipment question did not apply.

Those 55,000, he explained, would be used in training the first contingent of conscripts to be selected from the 12,000,000 men who have passed their twenty-first birthday and not reached their thirty-first, who would have to register under the Burke-Wadsworth measure.

That measure won approval of the military committee yesterday, but Senators Johnson, Democrat, of Colorado; Thomas, Republican, of Idaho, and Lundeen, Farmer-Labor, of Minnesota, who opposed it, filed a minority report recommending that voluntary enlistments be tried and charging that conscription was "regimentation of life."

Senator Johnson said that he and others expected to support a substitute proposal prepared by Senator Wheeler calling for registration of men from 21 through 31, but setting up only a system of voluntary enlistments. Men from 18 through 34 would be accepted for one year's voluntary service, with the army's basic pay increased from $21 to $30 a month.

A. F. L. Favors Volunteers.

The American Federation of Labor came out last night for a voluntary program, declaring that it was opposed to compulsory military training until a time when such action became necessary to defend, protect and preserve America.

On the other hand, the Military Training Camps Association asked the Senate committee to reopen the question of registration age limits. It asked that registration may be from 18 to 64, or at least 18 to 55, with men 21 to 45 liable to army service.

From Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, came a radio speech saying that Congress's loss of time in voting to increase military manpower is a constantly growing embarrassment to the War Department. He added:

"We must train men immediately against the possibilities of the next few months, which may be the most critical in the history of this country."

Taking issue with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's suggestion for American co-operation with Germany if she wins the war, Senator Pepper, Democrat, of Florida, termed the aviator "the chief of the fifth column in this country."

Senator Pepper replied in the Senate yesterday to Col. Lindbergh's Sunday speech at a Chicago peace rally, about the time Senator Wheeler criticized Gen. John J. Pershing for proposing that at least fifty American destroyers be made available to Great Britain. Senator Wheeler told the Senate that the suggestion was a step toward war.

Senator Lucas, Democrat, of Illinois, followed Senator Pepper's criticism of Col. Lindbergh with a radio speech last night in which he said he was "not only amazed but somewhat shocked by Col. Lindbergh's attitude of compacency toward Adolf Hitler."

Senator Pepper told his colleagues that within a short time "the American people will have to decide whether they are going to follow the chief of the fifth column in this country—Col. Lindbergh—or are going to follow Gen. Pershing."

Recalling that a "cross of recognition and merit" had been bestowed on Lindbergh by Marshal Goering, Pepper said that Pershing never received a medal from the "head of the German Air Corps."

Closing the discussion, Senator Holt, Democrat of West Virginia, said that "If we turn back the pages of history to 1917, we find that almost the same utterances were made against Col. Lindbergh's distinguished father, Congressman Lindbergh, who voted against entering the war. I fear the same result (entry into war) may come from this war mongering."

Discussing Gen. Pershing's proposal, Senator Pittman, Democrat, of Nevada, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, suggested the possibility of trading destroyers for British battleships, which he said appeared to be of litle practical use in North Sea battles.

"No one can doubt the soundness of his (Pershing's) statement that 'if the destroyers help save the British fleet they may save us from the danger and hardships of another war,'" Senator Pittman said.

Hull Statement On U. S. Defense

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Following is the text of a statement issued today by Cordell Hull, Secretary of State:

The strong belief of the representatives of the twenty-one American nations at the recent Havana meeting was that the military and other sinister activities on the part of some nations in other large areas of the world present real possibilities of danger to the American republics. It was universally recognized that a threat to any important part of the Americas means a threat to each and all of the American nations. It was, therefore, agreed that full and adequate preparations for continental defense could not be taken too soon if the threatened danger from abroad was to be checked and terminated. It was also the unanimous view at Havana that the prompt strengthening of unity and solidarity for the purpose of continental defense and for its implementation by concrete programs supported by the twenty-one nations was indispensable to the safety, security, peace and welfare of this hemisphere.

There was general agreement that if the peaceful nations of Europe had thus promptly organized themselves for self-defense on the most effective co-operative basis, the chances are that their situation and that of Europe would be vastly different today. Instead, many of those countries complacently relied upon utterances of peaceful purpose and upon their own neutrality to safeguard them against the mighty forces of invasion, conquest and destruction. Some of them have been overrun and destroyed by the ruthless invader. Their fate should be a tragic lesson to us.

The vast forces of lawlessness, conquest and destruction are still moving across the earth like a savage and dangerous animal at large. By their very nature, those forces will not stop unless and until they recognize that there exists unbreakable resistance.

At Havana we forged new instrumentalities of continental defense. These will be of vast importance to our nation and to every American nation. But there are other and immense tasks still before us.

I would greatly prefer to say that we are safe in this country and in this hemisphere from outside danger. But I am firmly convinced that what is taking place today in many areas of the earth is a relentless attempt to transform the civilized world as we have known it into a world in which lawlessness, violence and force will reign supreme, as they did a thousand years ago. The people of this country cannot recognize too soon this fact and its overwhelming significance for our national safety and for the maintenance of our national institutions.

The one and only sure way for our nation to avoid being drawn into serious trouble or actual war by the wild and destructive forces now abroad elsewhere in the world, and to command respect for its rights and interests abroad, is for our people to become thoroughly conscious of the possibilities of danger, to make up their minds that we must continue to arm, and to arm to such an extent that the forces of conquest and ruin will not dare make an attack on us or on any part of this hemisphere. To this end, each citizen must be ready and willing for real sacrifice of time and of substance, and for hard personal service. In the face of terrific problems and conditions, and until the present serious threats and dangers have disappeared, we cannot pursue complacently the course of our customary normal life.

I feel constrained thus to offer my views in the light of what is already a dangerously wide-spread movement for world conquest and for the destruction of most of the worthwhile things which civilization has given the human race.

WAR VETERANS MAY PROVIDE HOME DEFENSE

Roosevelt Reveals Possibility If National Guard Is Mobilized

Says Matter Still Is In Discussion Stage By Army Officers

[By the Associated Press]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 6—President Roosevelt disclosed today that World War veterans might take over home defense duties now assigned to the National Guard, if and when the Guard is brought into Federal service.

In the broader field of hemispheric cooperation, the Chief Executive told a press conference that a meeting of minds on defense against non-American nations was one of three extraordinarily successful achievements of the Pan-American conference at Havana.

He said in response to an inquiry that unity of the Americas is without question more of a fact now than ever before.

The conference was successful also, he said, in taking steps to solve mutual economic problems of the American nations, which loom much larger because of the war in Europe, and in setting up machinery to combat fifth-column activities originating outside the Americas.

Topic At Luncheon

The general aspects of the Havana meeting were up for discussion at a luncheon which the President and Mrs. Roosevelt gave today for four Latin-American representatives at the conference.

The delegates left for New York without talking to reporters.

The question of replacing the National Guard for home defense activities was brought up when Gov. Herbert Lehman of New York had supper with Mr. Roosevelt last night.

The matter still is in the study stage and the War Department has not yet made recommendations, the President said, then added that probably veterans and such organizations as the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars would form the nucleus of the home guard.

Depends On Congress

The plan is contingent on Congressional passage of legislation to allow the Government to call out the Guard and give the citizen-soldiers intensified training.

Veterans then would face the prospect of being asked to serve in any instances in which a Governor proclaimed martial law. They might go on duty in strikes, riots or disasters.

The President kept to himself plans for additional inspections of defense activities. Detailed planning is necessary, he said, but a final decision must be withheld until the last minute. He would not say whether he might start off this week on an inspection trip.

Guests At Luncheon

Guests at today's luncheon were:

Dr. Leo Poldo Melo, chairman of the Argentine delegations at Havana, and Senora de Melo.

Dr. Pedro Manini Rios, Uruguayan chairman.

Dr. Thomas A. Salomoni, Paraguayan Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Dr. Oscar Schnake, Chilean Minister for Development, and Senora de Schnake.

Joseph M. Patterson, publisher of the New York Daily News, and Mrs. Patterson.

George T. Summerlin, State Department protocol officer.

Mr. Roosevelt said beforehand he expected to talk over with his guests the general aspects of what was an extraordinarily interesting and extraordinarily successful conference in the Cuban capital.

On Social Footing

He added that one good development of the last few years was that for the first time the United States had been getting on a social footing with her Latin-American neighbors, so that things were not purely official, as they were for years, but more personal and social.

"We've learned," he said, "to talk the same language."

He agreed with a reporter that spiritual unity of the American republics had been accomplished and that steps were being taken now toward economic and material unity.

The recent ban imposed on sales of aviation gasoline outside the Western Hemisphere, except to American-owned companies, Mr. Roosevelt said, supplies a good illustration of such steps. It might be called a Pan-American defense measure, he said.

There are no refineries in Venezuela, Bolivia and northern Argentina, he said. And for purposes of national defense and Pan-American defense he asserted that we cannot afford to have aviation gas go to Europe or Asia

Types Of Planes Cut To Speed Production

By Devon Francis

Associated Press Aviation Editor

Washington, Aug. 6—The army gradually is reducing the number of types of warplanes in its defense brochure, and the result, aircraft manufacturers believe, will be reflected during the months to come in a sharply accelerated output on the production lines.

Multiplicity of designs has been one of the banes of aircraft manufacture for years.

Even Germany, with the world's greatest air force and in the midst of a war, has too many kinds of warplanes for efficient mass manufacture, in the opinion of United States army officers. The evidence is accumulating that Hitler's air ministry is cutting down on the number of designs produced.

Cut To Six General Categories

If the Army Air Corps hues to the line projected for maximum production in the air rearmament drive, it will have six general categories of planes: interceptors, single-engine pursuits, twin-engine fighters, attack planes and medium and heavy bombers.

Up to now, no fewer than eighteen combat types have been in the service of the air corps.

That has been due partly to the existence of a tactical experimentation program. The army wanted to see what the planes could do, both individually and en masse. It was due partly to the lack of a coordinated program for the employment of aircraft in wartime.

Army strategy and tactics are products of the nation's foreign policy, and the Air Corps has not known what it would be called upon to do.

With the emergence of hemisphere defense as the goal of the rearmament program, the Air Corps found its work cut out for it.

Here are some of the types of aircraft which will go into the discard in the drive for greater air power: Single-engine attacks, day and night bombardment planes, single-engine bombardment planes, general liaison planes and bi-plane pursuits.

Remaining in the non-combat types probably will be short-range corps and division observation planes.

Classes Of Interceptors

The interceptors for "localized" defense, which the army is going to buy by the hundreds, are typified by the Bell pursuit, made in Buffalo, N. Y. The Curtiss "P-40," made in Buffalo, typifies the new pursuit equipment, and the Lockheed twin-engine fighter, made in Burbank, Cal., the interceptor for long-range work.

The Boeing "B-17" four-engine bomber, made in Seattle, already standard Air Corps equipment, and the consolidated "B-24," made in San Diego, also four-engined, will provide the general design for long-range bombardment machines. Such planes are intended for forays deep into enemy territory on the theory that the best defense is an offense.

For Defense Of U. S.: Speed At Dockyards

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 6—The navy is taking a leaf from industry's mass-production book to speed up construction of the projected "two-ocean" fleet.

Although they say there is no thought of turning out battleships like cup cakes, officers engaged in adding more than 200 combat vessels to the existing navy asserted that they are hopeful of having the majority in service within about four years.

Standardization and duplication of types will play an important part in this drive for speed, officials said today.

Changes Delay Builders

Instead of trying to make each new battleship, cruiser or destroyer a little better than its predecessor, as it has in the past, the navy—to save time—is going to let one design stand for as many ships in each category as possible.

Some idea of the time factor involved may be gained from the fact that preparation of preliminary designs for the battleships North Carolina and Washington, two of the navy's newest 35,000-tonners which have just been launched, required more than a year.

Long before a single rivet is driven, designers of a battleship must figure out the probable gun range at which the craft may have to fight years in the future. If the range is to be long, deck armor should receive a larger proportion of the protective weight because shells fired at the ship from long range will be likely to hit the deck rather than the sides.

Development of aircraft has forced naval shipbuilders to make radical changes in designs in order to give warships adequate protection both from aerial bombs and from shell-fire and torpedoes.

Considering Diesel Engines

Rear Admiral S. M. Robinson, chief of the new bureau of ships, told a Congressional committee there was a good possibility that the development of Diesel engines might revolutionize battleship design by doing away with the need for space-taking boilers.

This would permit more weight to be devoted to armor or, with the same armor, to increase the ships' speed, he said. It was recalled in naval circles, however, that the German pocket battleship, Graf Spee, was Diesel powered and proved incapable of withstanding the beating handed her by three smaller British cruisers.

PLEDGE GIVEN ARMS MAKERS

Assured They May Deduct Cost of Defense Plants.

HOPE TO SPEED PROGRAM

House Group Would Repeal Profit Limit on Planes and Ships.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Congressional tax leaders called on national defense contractors today to go forward with the defense program on the strength of assurances that they would be permitted to deduct from their taxable income the cost of defense plant expansions.

Representative Cooper of Tennessee, chairman of the House Tax Subcommittee, gave out the oral statement in the presence of William S. Knudsen, National Defense Commissioner, who attended a closed meeting of the subcommittee.

Agree on Plan.

Mr. Cooper said that the subcommittee had agreed on a plan for amortizing the cost of plant expansions for tax purposes at the rate of 20 per cent a year for five years, and in addition would recommend to the full House Ways and Means Committee that in case the present national emergency was over in less than five years, the amortization could be taken in a briefer period.

"I am authorized to state," Mr. Cooper continued, "that Chairman Doughton of the Ways and Means Committee and Chairman Harrison of the Senate Finance Committee feel confident that the recommendations made by the subcommittee will be approved by the full committees."

In addition to the plant cost amortization plan, Mr. Cooper reported that the sub-committee had tentatively approved the repeal of the Vinson-Trammel act's limitations on the profits on warships and army and navy aircraft. That measure sets these limits at 10 per cent on warships and 12 per cent on aircraft. Modifications of these limits are already proposed in pending legislation.

Disclosing that an excess profits tax will be included in a single bill along with the amortization plan and the Vinson-Trammel repealer, Mr. Cooper said the committee was working diligently on the tax and that he felt confident it will be able to complete a proposal by tomorrow.

The full Ways and Means Committee will commence public hearings on the legislation Thursday, he said.

To Speed Defense Work.

"This statement," Mr. Cooper asserted, "is now being given in the presence of Mr. Knudsen and the full membership of the subcommittee, including Chairman Doughton of the full committee, with the hope that contractors will feel justified to rely upon it and go forward with the execution of the contracts that are so necessary and vital to the national defense of the country."

Mr. Cooper said that in the interest of speeding up the legislation, which Mr. Knudsen had requested, Senate Finance Committee members would sit with the House committee at the hearings.

When Mr. Cooper had concluded his press conference, he called upon Representative Treadway of Massachusetts, the committee's ranking Republican, for any comment he might deem appropriate.

Mr. Treadway said, "Mr. Knudsen has convinced us there is but one way to proceed and that is the way that Mr. Cooper has outlined to you."

HULL REITERATES TRADE LOAN PLEA

Says 500 Million Fund Is Essential to Defense.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Secretary Hull told the House Banking Committee today that a $500,000,000 loan authority for the Export-Import Bank was "essential" to United States co-operation in the "economic defense" of the Western Hemisphere.

A telegram from the Secretary of State was read to the committee when it opened hearings on an administration bill to grant the half billion dollar increase in the bank's lending powers. Loans could be made to develop orderly Pan-American marketing and to stabilize and enlarge hemisphere economic resources.

"At Havana," Mr. Hull telegraphed, "the American nations agreed that in view of the disruption of the channels of international commerce and the curtailment of markets for certain products of the Americas, the American nations must do everything in their power to strengthen their own economic position to improve further mutually beneficial trade and other economic relations between and among themselves and to devise and apply appropriate means of effective action to cope with the difficulties, disadvantages and dangers arising from the resent disturbed and dislocated world conditions.

"I consider the enactment of the proposed legislation, expanding the powers and operations of the Export-Import Bank, essential in order to put the United States in a position to co-operate fully with other American republics in meeting these urgent needs of the economic defense in the face of the possibilities of serious threats to the peace, security and welfare of this hemisphere resulting from sinister developments elsewhere in the world."

The legislation already has been approved by the Senate Banking Committee.

30.24-4154

30.24-4157

National Guard Call Opposed By Gillette

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 6—Senator Guy M. Gillette (Dem., Iowa), opposing a bill to authorize the President to call the National Guar dand the Officers' Reserve to active duty, asserted in the Senate today that it would be a "crime" to upset present law governing mobilization of the guard.

The Iowa senator contended that many guardsmen had enlisted with the understanding that they would be called into Federal service only in time of war.

"Injustice To Change

He asserted that it would be an "injustice to change the premise on which Federal service would be required by giving the President the right to order the militiamen into service now."

"In behalf of members of the National Guard and having in my thoughts the heartiest sympathy with every effort that is being made to build up our national defense, I cannot see a crime like this committed without protesting," Gillette declared.

His was the first voice raised in opposition to the measure, and Gillette himsel fsaid he believed "a great majority" of the Senate favored the bill.

Earlier, Senator Burton K. Wheeler (Dem., Mont.), an opponent of conscription, asserted that the army would have insufficient equipment to train the 400,000 men whom the Burke-Wadsworth bill would draft by October.

There is not even enough equipment, he told reporters, for all the 243,000 National Guardsmen who might be ordered to active service under a bill now being debated by the Senate.

Senator Morris Sheppard (Dem., Texas), taking prompt issue, said that only about 55,000 Guardsmen would be called for immediate duty, but insisted that the equipment question did not apply.

Would Train Others

Those 55,000, he explained, would be used in training the first contingent of conscripts who would have to register under the Burke-Wadsworth measure.

The American Federation of Labor came out last night for a voluntary program, declaring that it was opposed to compulsory military training until a time when such action became "necessary to defend, protect and preserve America."

Blitzkrieg Ready?

British Analyze Scouting Reports, Think Nazis Are Set

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—Royal Air Force intelligence officers, analyzing scouting reports from across the English Channel, are convinced the Germans have about completed organization of a Blitzkrieg attempt, Larry Leseuer, CBS correspondent in London, reported in a broadcast heard here today.

Nazi activity, partciularly on railroads and highways in northern Belgium, Holland and France, has been stepped up, he said. Air force officials expect the German onslaught to come partly on barges towed by transports believed to be under construction in the Baltic now and on gliders, towed by transport planes, which would carry food, munitions and guns, but no men.

LONDON, AUG. 6-(AP)-BRITISH SOURCES EXPRESSED BELIEF TODAY THAT PREMIER MUSSOLINI HAS MOBILIZED AN ITALIAN ARMY OF 500,000 IN AFRICA, IN PREPARATION FOR A MAJOR DRIVE AGAINST EGYPT.

THE HIGH COMMAND IN ROME REPORTED TODAY THAT ITALIAN VANGUARDS ALREADY HAD PUSHED ACROSS THE BORDER FROM LIBYA INTO EGYPT AND A BRITISH COMMUNIQUE AT CAIRO REPORTED AN OFFENSIVE INTO BRITISH SOMALILAND, BORDERING ETHIOPIA, BY THREE ITALIAN COLUMNS. ITALIANS ALREADY HAD DRIVEN INTO KENYA COLONY, ANOTHER BRITISH POSSESSION.

AGAINST THE ITALIAN FORCES, THE BRITISH HAVE A SMALLER BUT BETTER TRAINED ARMY, INFORMED SOURCES SAID. ITS STRENGTH WAS NOT DIVULGED.

LONDON - 1ST ADD AFRICAN X X X NOT DIVULGED.

IT IS BELIEVED IN BRITISH QUARTERS HERE THAT MUSSOLINI IS READY TO GAMBLE 230,000 LEGIONAIRES IN LIBYA AND 100,000 WHITE AND 150,000 NATIVE ASKARIS IN ERITREA, ETHIOPIA, ITALIAN SOMALILAND AND LIBYA TO CONQUER EGYPT.

THE PLAN ACCEPTED BY MOST NEUTRAL AUTHORITIES HERE AS LIKELIEST FOR THE ITALIANS IS THREE-FOLD:

1. AN EASTWARD DRIVE ALONG THE MEDITERRANEAN SHORES TOWARD ALEXANDRIA AND CAIRO, WITH ADVANCE FORCES MUSHROOMING TOWARD THE NILE;

2. CONCERTED DRIVES FROM ERITREA AND ETHIOPIA INTO THE ANGLO-EGYPTIAN SUDAN.

3. LOCAL ENGAGEMENTS ALONG THE KENYA FRONTIER TO KEEP BRITAIN'S SOUTH AFRICAN FORCES ENGAGED UNTIL EGYPT IS CONQUERED.

AUG 7-1940

0020EPED

LONDON - 1ST ADD ALIENS X X X OFFENSIVE.

THE EVENING NEWS ESTIMATED 7,500 ALIENS HAD BEEN SENT OVERSEAS AND ADDED THAT ALL THAT ANY ALIEN SCHEDULED FOR EMIGRATION HAD TO DO WAS TO FIND ANOTHER ALIEN WILLING TO GO AND TO COMPENSATE HIM FOR ACTING AS A "STAND-IN."

IT WAS BELIEVED ALSO THAT THE SINKING OF THE ARANDORA STAR, BOUND FOR CANADA WITH INTERNEES, ALSO INFLUENCED ALIENS IN THEIR ATTEMPTS TO STAY IN ENGLAND.

0021EPED

LONDON, AUG 6-(AP)-A STOCKY, 27-YEAR-OLD AMERICAN VOLUNTEER FLIER FROM LAREDO, TEXAS, WAS CREDITED BY THE ROYAL AIR FORCE TODAY WITH THE "PROBABLE" DESTRUCTION OF A GERMAN PLANE IN A BITTER DOGFIGHT OVER THE ENGLISH CHANNEL WHICH HE NONCHALANTLY DESCRIBED AS "GREAT FUN."

THE AMERICAN, WHOSE NAME WAS NOT DISCLOSED BECAUSE OF BRITISH EMPHASIS ON TEAMWORK, SHARED THE LAURELS OF A CRACK SPITFIRE SQUADRON WHICH SHOT DOWN TWO MESSERSCHMITT-109 FIGHTERS AND POSSIBLY DOWNED TWO OTHERS IN BATTLE OFF THE FRENCH PORT OF CALAIS YESTERDAY.

(DESCRIPTIONS OF THE AMERICAN CONVINCED ROBERT E. DONAHUE, LOWELL, MASS., RADIO STATION MANAGER, THAT THE FLIER IS HIS BROTHER, ARTHUR, FOR THE PAST TWO YEARS A FLYING INSTRUCTOR AT LAREDO. ARTHUR WENT TO CANADA TO ENLIST WITH THE BRITISH AIR FORCE, AND HIS FAMILY RECEIVED WORD JULY 17 OF HIS ARRIVAL IN ENGLAND. FRIENDS IN LAREDO ALSO WERE CONVINCED OF THE AVIATOR'S IDENTITY.)

AUG 7 - 1940

THE YOUNG AMERICAN JOINED THE SPITFIRE SQUADRON LESS THAN 24 HOURS BEFORE THE ENGAGEMENT AFTER A SHORT PERIOD OF TRAINING IN HANDLING SPEEDY PURSUIT SHIPS.

THE FLIER, KNOWN TO HIS BRITISH MATES AS "TEXAS SHORTY", RETURNED FROM THE BATTLE WITH HIS PLANE RIDDLED BY MACHINE-GUN BULLETS BUT HE HIMSELF ESCAPED UNSCRATCHED.

HE WAS THE FIRST AMERICAN PILOT TO BE MENTIONED IN AIR MINISTRY ACCOUNTS OF BATTLES OVER THE CHANNEL FOR THE PAST FEW WEEKS, ALTHOUGH AMERICAN-BUILT PLANES HAVE BEEN FIGURING IN ACTION.

THE MINISTRY SAID THE AMERICAN CHASED OFF TWO MESSERSCHMITT FIGHTERS, HIT ONE AND WAS IN TURN ATTACKED BY TWO OTHERS WHICH HE SHOOK OFF.

"I WAS NEVER SO TICKLED IN MY LIFE," THE AMERICAN SAID DESCRIBING HIS REACTIONS TO THE BATTLE.

(MORE)AP

MQ458AED

LONDON--FIRST ADD TEXAN X X X THE BATTLE.

"WE WENT ACROSS THE CHANNEL TO LOOK FOR TROUBLE, BUT IT WAS THE GERMANS WHO FOUND IT. FOUR MILES FROM CALAIS, AT 10,000 FEET, WE SAW FIVE MESSERSCHMITT-109S AND SOMEWHERE AROUND WAS A LARGER GROUP OF THEM.

"WE SAILED RIGHT INTO THEM AND OUR SQUADRON LEADER SET THE PACE BY CRACKING DOWN ONE MESSERSCHMITT. HE AND ANOTHER PILOT SAW IT DIVE INTO THE SEA.

AUG 7-1940

"THEN ANOTHER PILOT CHASED ONE GERMAN TOWARD FRANCE AND SHOT PIECES OFF IT. I HAD A GOOD CRACK AT ONE MYSELF, BUT SUDDENLY FOUND TWO OTHERS ON ME. SOMETHING HIT THE FUSELAGE, SHAKING US A HIT, BUT WE CAME OUT OF IT QUICKLY.

"WHILE I WHIRLED AROUND ANOTHER MESSERSCHMITT FIRED INTO THE COWLING. I HAD ANOTHER CRACK AT HIM BEFORE HE DISAPPEARED--THEN WE TURNED FOR HOME."

HE SAID HE DECIDED TO JOIN THE RAF AFTER FRANCE COLLAPSED, WENT TO OTTAWA FROM LAREDO AND SHOWED A LOG-BOOK WITH 1,500 HOURS FLYING TIME.

"IN FIFTEEN MINUTES I WAS OUT ON THE STREET AGAIN WITH THE PROMISE THAT I WOULD BE ON THE NEXT BOAT TO ENGLAND, AND I WAS," HE SAID.

THE SQUADRON TO WHICH HE WAS ASSIGNED AFTER THREE WEEKS OF TRAINING

30,24-4159

30.24-4159

IN ENGLAND ALREADY HAS NEARLY 30 GERMAN AIRCRAFT TO ITS CREDIT, INCLUDING THREE SHOT DOWN DURING THE BIG AIR BATTLE OVER DOVER ON JULY 29.

(ARTHUR DONAHUE WAS BORN AT ST.CHARLES, MINN., WHERE HIS PARENTS, MR. AND MRS.FRANK DONAHUE, NOW RESIDE. TWO SISTERS, BLANCHE AND ORA, LIVE AT ROBINSDALE, MINN., AND A THIRD, MRS. E.R.ZIMDAR, LIVES AT ROUNDUP, MONT.)

MQ503AED

LONDON, AUG. 6-(AP)-BRITISH AIR RAIDS LAST NIGHT ON KIEL, IMPORTANT NAZI NAVAL BASE, AND THE GREAT PORT OF HAMBURG WERE REPORTED BY THE AIR MINISTRY TODAY.

VSPED

LONDON,AUG.6-(AP)-A HOUSE WAS SET AFIRE IN A NORTHEAST COASTAL TOWN THIS AFTERNOON WHEN A GERMAN WARPLANE, INTERCEPTED BY A POWER-DIVING SPITFIRE, JETTISONED ITS LOAD OF THREE EXPLOSIVE AND 25 INCENDIARY BOMBS AND FLED. THERE WERE NO CASUALTIES.

Add-London-Aug 6

"WHEN THE TRUTH IS KNOWN ABOUT KING LEOPOLD," THE ENVOY SAID, "HIS DECISION TO SURRENDER WILL NOT ONLY BE ACCEPTED, BUT WILL BE APPLAUDED.

"I SAW HIM BEFORE I LEFT. I FEEL WE SHOULD TRY AND SEE BOTH SIDES OF HIS PREDICAMENT, NOT JUDGE HARSHLY ON INSUFFICIENT FACTS."

THE AMBASSADOR SAID IN ALL HIS TRAVELS THROUGHOUT BELGIUM, UNTIL THE DIPLOMATIC CORPS WAS DISMISSED BY THE GERMANS JULY 15, HE "KNEW OF NOT ONE AUTHENTIC ATROCITY COMMITTED BY THE GERMAN ARMY IN BELGIUM."

THE GERMANS BEHAVED THEMSELVES WITH GREAT RESTRAINT," CUDAHY SAID, ADDING THAT "I THINK THESE GERMANS BEHAVED BETTER THAN UNITED STATES SOLDIERS WOULD HAVE DONE."

CUDAHY SAID THE GERMANS WERE "VERY CONFIDENT" THEY COULD INVADE BRITAIN.

WR658PED

GLOBEN HOME, BRITISH AUTHORITIES SAID THAT INFORMATION REACHING THEM INDICATED GERMANY'S PREPARATIONS FOR THE EXPECTED BLITZKRIEG ON ENGLAND ARE NOT YET COMPLETE, ALTHOUGH THEY ARE WELL ADVANCED. THESE SOURCES SAID THEY BELIEVED AN ATTEMPT TO INVADE THE ISLAND KINGDOM MIGHT BE MADE WITHIN THE NEXT WEEK OR TWO.

GERMANY CONTINUED AERIAL ATTACKS ON BRITISH COASTS. THE AIR MINISTRY SAID ONE GERMAN BOMBER WAS SHOT DOWN AND ANOTHER THREW OFF ITS LOAD OF BOMBS AND FLED WHEN ATTACKED.

BRITISH BOMB RAIDS ON THE IMPORTANT NAZI NAVAL BASE OF KIEL AND THE GREAT PORT OF HAMBURG LAST NIGHT WERE REPORTED BY THE AIR MINISTRY. THE RAIDERS ALSO BOMBED GOODS YARDS AT HAMM AND AIRDROMES AT SCHIPHOL, HOLLAND, AND BORKUM, GERMANY.

ITALIAN SCOUTING PLANES HAVE BEEN PARTICULARLY ACTIVE IN SCANNING THE EGYPTIAN COASTLINE AS FAR AS ALEXANDRIA FOR BRITISH MOVEMENTS AS WELL AS SEARCHING FOR NEW, TEMPORARY BRITISH AIR BASES IN SUDAN, BRITISH SOMALILAND AND KENYA COLONY. DISPATCHES TO ROME FROM THE FRONT INDICATE THAT ITALIAN PLANES HAVE DUMPED MORE THAN 15 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES IN ONE DAY'S BOMBING OPERATIONS.

IN HER SEA WARFARE, ITALY HAS REPORTED THE LOSS OF SEVEN SUBMARINES, THREE DESTROYERS, ONE CRUISER, ONE TROOPSHIP AND ONE SMALL MINESWEEPER SINCE THE WAR BEGAN.

WR456PED

Add London - Aug 6

THE AIR FORCE SET ITS CASUALTIES FOR THE WAR AT MORE THAN 4,000.

THE ADMIRALTY ANNOUNCED 21 BRITISH SAILORS DIED JULY 25 AS A RESULT OF AN ATTACK BY NAZI DIVE BOMBERS ON THE DESTROYER BOREAS IN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL. IT WAS STATED 25 OTHERS WERE WOUNDED. THE DESTROYER RETURNED DAMAGED.

WHILE REPORTS FROM SPAIN NEAR GIBRALTAR INDICATED THAT GREAT BRITISH FORTRESS HAD HAD MUNITIONS DUMPS BLOWN UP UNDER RAIDING WARPLANES, PRESUMABLY ITALIAN, A DISPATCH FROM ALGECIRAS REPORTED 19 BRITISH WARSHIPS HAD LEFT GIBRALTAR HURRIEDLY MONDAY.

THE REPORT SAID THE VESSELS FIRST STARTED EASTWARD INTO THE MEDITERRANEAN BUT THEN CUT BACK TOWARD THE ATLANTIC. THERE WAS NO FURTHER INDICATION OF THEIR DESTINATION.

MQ345AED

AUG 7-1940

BULLETIN

LONDON, AUG. 6-(AP)-THE AIR MINISTRY ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT BRITISH FIGHTERS HAD INTERCEPTED AND SHOT DOWN A GERMAN BOMBER OFF THE EAST COAST OF ENGLAND.

MQ459PED

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON, AUG. 6--BRITAIN FACED APPROACHING WINTER FOOD PROBLEMS OPTIMISTICALLY TODAY ALTHOUGH SHE PUT TEETH IN ENFORCEMENT OF HER FOOD-CONSERVING REGULATIONS AND ACKNOWLEDGED NEW BLOWS TO HER MERCHANT MARINE BY GERMANY'S AIR AND SEA BLOCKADERS.

ROBERT BOOTHBY, PARLIAMENTARY UNDERSECRETARY OF THE FOOD MINISTRY, SAID IT HOPED TO AVOID WINTER EXTENSION OF RATIONING, AND EVEN TO INCREASE BRITONS' TEA ALLOWANCES.

AN ORDER EFFECTIVE AUG. 12, HOWEVER, WILL MAKE IT PUNISHABLE BY IMPRISONMENT UP TO TWO YEARS AND FINES UP TO £500 ($2,000) TO WASTE FOOD WHICH BRITAIN NOW DEFINES AS EVERYTHING, EXCEPT WATER, "USED BY MAN FOR FOOD OR DRINK."

EIGHTEEN BRITISH SHIPS TOTALING 63,601 TONS AND TWO ALLIED SHIPS TOTALING 7,090 TONS WERE LOST DURING THE WEEK ENDING JULY 29, THE ADMIRALTY ANNOUNCED.

AUTHORITATIVE SOURCES SCOFFED, HOWEVER, AT THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND COMMUNIQUE TODAY WHICH PUT TOTAL LOSSES OF SHIPPING USEFUL TO BRITAIN AT 657,674 TONS IN THE LAST THREE WEEKS OF JULY, EXCLUSIVE OF WARSHIPS AND TONNAGE SUNK BY MINES.

ONE INFORMANT DECLARED THAT THE COMMUNIQUE "ONCE AGAIN MULTIPLIES THE TRUTH NEARLY FOURFOLD."

"BRITISH, ALLIED AND NEUTRAL MERCHANT SHIPPING SUNK DURING THE THREE WEEKS FROM JULY 7 TO JULY 28 TOTALS 196,112 TONS, OF WHICH BRITISH SHIPPING ACCOUNTS FOR 136,141 TONS," HE SAID.

"THESE FIGURES COVER ALL LOSSES, WHETHER BY TORPEDO, AERIAL OR MINE ATTACK."

3024 - 4161

30.24-4161

GERMAN AIR RAIDS ON THE BRITISH COASTS CONTINUED. THE AIR MINISTRY SAID THAT ONE GERMAN BOMBER WAS SHOT DOWN AND THAT ANOTHER, CUT OFF BY A SPITFIRE, JETTISONED ITS BOMB LOAD AND FLED.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TOOK UP THE FINANCE BILL WITHOUT HEARING AN EXPECTED STATEMENT FROM RICHARD BUTLER, UNDERSECRETARY FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS, ON BRITISH-JAPANESE RELATIONS. IT APPARENTLY HAS BEEN DEFERRED UNTIL TOMORROW.

LONDON, AUG. 7-(WEDNESDAY)-(AP)-EXCHANGE TELEGRAPH, BRITISH NEWS AGENCY, REPORTED IN A DISPATCH FROM HONGKONG TODAY THAT MERCHANT SEAMEN HAD SIGHTED MANY JAPANESE WARSHIPS AND TRANSPORTS SOUTHBOUND FROM THE JAPANESE-OWNED ISLAND OF FORMOSA. THEIR MISSION WAS NOT KNOWN.

AUG 8 - 1940

FD1247AED

AP Copenhagen - Aug 6

THEY WILL BE JOINED IN PETSAMO BY OTHER AMERICANS BEING REPATRIATED FROM THE SCANDINAVIAN AND BALTIC STATES, AND WILL SAIL WITH THEM AUG.13 ON THE U.S. ARMY TRANSPORT AMERICAN LEGION, WHICH ARRIVED AT THE ARCTIC PORT YESTERDAY.

AUG 7 - 1940

ACCOMMODATIONS IN PETSAMO ALREADY ARE OVER-TAXED, AND EARLY ARRIVALS AMONG THE REFUGEES HAVE BEEN LIVING IN TENTS.

WN1042AED

GRENOBLE, FRANCE, AUG. 7-(IN WEDNESDAY)-(AP)-

SEVERAL LEAGUE OF NATIONS FINANCIAL AND ECONOMIC EXPERTS

EN ROUTE TO ESTABLISH THEIR NEW DEPARTMENTS AT PRINCETON, N.J.,

WERE AMONG 23 PERSONS INJURED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON WHEN THEIR

SPECIAL BUS OVERTURNED NEAR GRENOBLE.

DOCTORS SAID NONE WAS IN DANGER, BUT

THREE PERSONS WERE [redacted] HURT SERIOUSLY ENOUGH TO REQUIRE

HOSPITAL TREATMENT.

EIGHT LEAGUE EXPERTS AND THEIR FAMILIES WERE ABOARD THE SPECIAL BUS TRAVELING FROM GENEVA TO ARD THE FRENCH-SPANISH BORDER AND HAD PLANNED TO SAIL FROM LISBON [redacted] ON THE FIRST AVAILABLE SHIP.

THEIR BUS OVERTURNED WHEN THE DRIVER SWERVED TO AVOID A COLLISION WITH A STREET CAR.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BERLIN, AUG. 6--THE GERMAN COUNTER-BLOCKADE, DESIGNED TO TURN FATALLY UPON BRITAIN HER GREATEST HISTORIC WEAPON, WAS CLAIMED TODAY TO BE SMASHING BRITISH SHIPPING AT A FAR HIGHER RATE THAN IN THE UNRESTRICTED SUBMARINE CAMPAIGN OF THE FIRST WORLD WAR.

THE NAZI HIGH COMMAND ASSERTED A TOTAL OF 4,986,860 TONS OF BRITISH MERCHANT VESSELS, AND THOSE USABLE BY BRITAIN, HAD BEEN KNOCKED OUT IN 11 MONTHS OF WARFARE--- 3,725,547 BY THE GERMAN NAVY AND 1,261,313 BY THE AIRFORCE.

THUS WAS CLAIMED FOR GERMANY A MONTHLY SCORE OF ABOUT 453,350 TONS-- AGAINST AN AVERAGE BRITISH LOSS OF 205,000 TONS DURING THE 21 MONTHS

WHEN SUBMARINES WERE ON FIERCE PROL A GENERATION AGO.

THE HIGH COMMAND COMMUNIQUE ASSERTED ALSO THAT IN THE LAST THREE WEEKS OF JULY THE GERMANS HAD SENT TO THE BOTTOM 657,674 TONS OF "ENEMY MERCHANT SHIPPING SPACE AND SPACE USABLE BY THE ENEMY."

ALL THIS, IT WAS SAID, WAS ASIDE FROM 21,650 TONS OF WARSHIPS AND MERCHANT SHIPS SUNK BY MINES.

(THE BRITISH ADMIRALTY HAS STATED THAT IN THE PERIOD JULY 5 THROUGH JULY 29 THE COMBINED LOSSES OF ALL BRITISH, ALLIED AND NEUTRAL MERCHANT SHIPS WERE BUT 174,380 TONS.)

THE HIGH COMMAND DECLARED THAT ITS SUCCESSES AGAINST THE BRITISH HAD BEEN "PROVED BY REPEATED CLOSING OF ENEMY PORTS AND OTHER EVIDENCE."

NAZI AIR ACTIVITY WAS DECLARED TO BE GOING FORWARD WITHOUT PAUSE, GERMAN PLANES HAVING ATTACKED "SEVERAL" ENGLISH PORTS ONLY TODAY, AFTER SHARP AIR FIGHTING OVER THE ENGLISH CHANNEL YESTERDAY AND LAST NIGHT IN WHICH EIGHT BRITISHERS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN SHOT DOWN.

UK322PED

Add-Berlin-Aug 6

(THE GERMAN FIGURE IS ALMOST [redacted] THE TOTAL--174,380 TONS -- OF BRITISH, ALLIED AND NEUTRAL MERCHANT SHIPS ACKNOWLEDGED BY THE BRITISH ADMIRALTY TO HAVE BEEN LOST FROM JULY 5 THROUGH JULY 29.

(ON THE BASIS OF THE GERMAN FIGURE, THE AVERAGE MONTHLY TOTAL FOR THE FIRST 11 MONTHS OF THE WAR WOULD BE ABOUT 453,390 TONS, AS COMPARED WITH A MONTHLY AVERAGE OF 205,000 TONS OF BRITISH SHIPPING ALONE DURING THE 22 MONTHS OF UNRESTRICTED SUBMARINE ACTIVITY IN 1917-18 IN THE WORLD WAR. THE LARGEST TOLL TAKEN BY GERMAN SUBMARINES -- AIRPLANES WERE NOT A FACTOR THEN--DURING ANY MONTH IN THE WORLD WAR WAS 540,000 TONS -- 115 SHIPS -- OF BRITISH AND ALLIED SHIPPING IN APRIL, 1917.)

IN FREQUENT X X X ETC PICKING UP AS BEFORE.

VN948AED

BERLIN, AUG. 6-(AP)-IN FREQUENT AIR BATTLES OVER THE ENGLISH CHANNEL YESTERDAY, GERMAN WARPLANES SHOT DOWN EIGHT BRITISH AIRCRAFT, THE HIGH COMMAND REPORTED TODAY.

MQ810AED

ATTACKS BY GERMAN NIGHT RAIDERS ON "SEVERAL ENGLISH PORTS" WERE MENTIONED IN THE COMMUNIQUE, WHICH SAID THAT BRITISH BOMBS DROPPED IN NORTHERN GERMANY CAUSED ONLY SLIGHT PROPERTY DAMAGE AND NO DEATHS.

A GERMAN SUBMARINE, IT DECLARED, SANK THREE ARMED MERCHANT SHIPS TOTALING 16,875 (CQ) TONS.

AUG 7-1940

MQ816AED

BERLIN, AUG. 6-(AP)-EIGHT BRITISH PURSUIT PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN IN TWO AIR BATTLES OVER ENGLAND YESTERDAY, AUTHORIZED SOURCES SAID TODAY.

THESE SOURCES SAID SIX OF THE BRITISH PLANES WERE DOWNED IN ONE ENCOUNTER AND TWO IN THE OTHER.

BRITISH EFFORTS TO RAID NORTHWEST GERMANY, THEY SAID, WERE BLOCKED BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE.

ONE GERMAN SUBMARINE WAS CREDITED WITH HAVING SUNK THREE MERCHANT SHIPS TOTALING 16,000 TONS.

MQ759AED

30.24-4163

ROME, AUG. 6-(AP)-IT WAS RUMORED IN POLITICAL CIRCLES TONIGHT THAT GERMANY AND ITALY HAVE ASKED TURKEY TO DEFINE HER POSITION TOWARD GREAT BRITAIN AND THE AXIS POWERS.

TURKEY WAS A POTENTIAL ALLY OF BRITAIN AND FRANCE UNTIL FRANCE COLLAPSED UNDER NAZI PRESSURE, AND FOREIGN OBSERVERS CONSIDERED IT LIKELY THAT ADOLF HITLER AND BENITO MUSSOLINI, AFTER GATHERING THE REST OF THE BALKANS INTO THEIR CAMP, WOULD TRY TO BRING IN TURKEY.

ITALIAN AUTHORITIES WERE NOT AVAILABLE FOR COMMENT ON THE RUMORS AND RESPONSIBLE GERMAN SOURCES WERE RELUCTANT TO DISCUSS THE SITUATION.

SOME QUARTERS BELIEVED IT FEASIBLE THAT ITALY RAISED THE QUESTION IN AXIS COUNCILS BECAUSE, AS A MEDITERRANEAN POWER, SHE IS DIRECTLY CONCERNED WITH TURKEY'S ATTITUDE.

AXIS HOPES IN THE MATTER WERE INDICATED IN A REPORT IN THE NEWSPAPER LAVORO FASCISTA WHICH QUOTED THE TURKISH PAPER CUMHUI AS SAYING:

"AFTER WHAT HAPPENED FIRST IN NORWAY, THEN HOLLAND, BELGIUM AND FRANCE IT NOW IS EXCLUDED THAT BRITISH MILITARY FORCES CAN RESTART THE FIGHT ON THE EUROPEAN CONTINENT. THE SIMPLE FACT IS THAT ENGLAND CAN NEVER WIN THE WAR AND THAT ITS STUBBORNNESS TO CONTINUE CAN ONLY MEAN NEW DISASTERS"

WR1023PED

Add Alexandria - Aug. 6

THE HARVEST WILL BE COMPLETED WITHIN TWO MONTHS.

ANXIOUS COTTON GROWERS HAVE BEEN URGING THAT THE ENTIRE CROP BE SOLD TO BRITAIN AS THE LAST HOPE OF DISPOSING OF IT AND AVOIDING GREAT FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES.

AUG 7-1940

THE EGYPTIAN GROWERS LOST THEIR GERMAN, POLISH AND CZECHO-SLOVAKIAN MARKETS LAST YEAR, AND THIS YEAR HAS WIPED ITALY, FRANCE, BELGIUM AND THE NETHERLANDS OFF THE LIST OF BUYERS. THERE HAS BEEN LITTLE HOPE, TOO, OF DELIVERIES TO SWEDEN, SWITZERLAND, HUNGARY AND RUMANIA, OTHER COTTON CUSTOMERS IN NORMAL TIMES.

WITHOUT A MARKET FOR THE 1940 HARVEST, THE GROWERS HAVE SAID, THEY WOULD BE UNABLE TO FINANCE THEIR 1941 PLANTING AND CULTIVATION.

RQ750PED

CAIRO, EGYPT, AUG. 6-(AP)-ITALIAN FORCES HAVE BEGUN AN INVASION OF BRITISH SOMALILAND WITH THREE COLUMNS DRIVING INTO THAT LITTLE BRITISH POSSESSION ADJOINING ETHIOPIA, A BRITISH COMMUNIQUE REPORTED TODAY.

WI 41PED

AUG 7-1940

BULLETIN MATTER

CAIRO--FIRST ADD SOMALILAND X X X TODAY.

BRITISH SOMALILAND, 68,000 SQUARE MILES IN AREA AND WITH A POPULATION OF 345,000, IS WEDGED BETWEEN ETHIOPIA AND ITALIAN SOMALILAND AND FRONTS ON THE GULF OF ADEN.

AUG 7-1940

(ITALIAN FORCES ALREADY HAVE DRIVEN INTO ANOTHER BRITISH POSSESSION, KENYA COLONY, FROM ETHIOPIA, AND THE ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE TODAY REPORTED ANOTHER FORCE HAD PENETRATED EGYPT FROM LIBYA.)

TODAY'S COMMUNIQUE SAID:

"THE INVASION OF BRITISH SOMALILAND BEGAN AUG. 4. THE ENEMY IS OPERATING IN THREE COLUMNS, ONE MOVING ON OADWEINA (NEAR THE ETHIOPIAN BORDER). ONE ON HARGEISA (JUST WEST OF OADWEINA) AND ONE FROM

JIRK TOWARD GARGARA.

"OUR LAND FORCES ARE ORGANIZED TO RESIST THESE ADVANCES IN SPITE OF THE COLLAPSE OF FRENCH SOMALILAND (TO THE NORTHWEST).

"ON OTHER FRONTS, NOTHING TO REPORT."

WLS3PED

CAIRO--SECOND ADD SOMALILAND XXX TO REPORT."

A STATEMENT FROM HEADQUARTERS OF THE BRITISH MIDDLE EAST COMMAND TODAY SAID ITALIANS HAVE ASSEMBLED A LARGE FORCE IN NORTHEASTERN LIBYA, NEAR THE EGYPTIAN FRONTIER AND, DESPITE A CONSTANT DRAIN OF MEN AND MATERIAL, HAVE HUNG ON TO THE FRONTIER FORT OF CAPUZZO TO COVER THIS CONCENTRATION.

AUG 7-1940

THE STATEMENT DECLARES THAT THE FIRST PHASE OF OPERATIONS IN THE "WESTERN DESERT" IS NEAR AN END. DURING THAT PHASE A SMALL BRITISH MOBILE FORCE, CONSISTING OF A FEW ARMORED FIGHTING VEHICLES AND GUNS AND A FEW COMPANIES OF INFANTRY, COMPLETELY DOMINATED THE FRONTIER AREA OF LIBYA IN THE FACE OF AN ITALIAN FORCE OF GREATLY SUPERIOR NUMBERS.

SINCE THE ITALIANS DECLARED WAR JUNE 10 THEY HAVE LOST ON THIS FRONT ALONE 815 PRISONERS, INCLUDING ONE GENERAL; 16 GUNS, 15 TANKS AND 65 VEHICLES, THE STATEMENT DECLARED, AS WELL AS SEVERAL HUNDREDS KILLED AND WOUNDED.

R21PED

MOSCOW,AUGUST 6-(AP)-THE SLAYING IN HELSINKI OF A MEMBER OF THE "SOCIETY FOR FRIENDSHIP AND PEACE WITH THE U.S.S.R.", WAS REPORTED TODAY BY TASS, THE SOVIET NEWS AGENCY, IN A DISPATCH FROM THE FINNISH CAPITAL.

AUG 7-1940

THE DISPATCH SAID THE ADVOCATE OF CLOSER RELATIONS WITH MO C2 2nd SHOT AND MORTALLY WOUNDED IN A PUBLIC MEETING BY A "CANADIAN VOLUNTEER"; THAT IS, BY ONE OF THE CANADIANS WHO JOINED THE FINNISH INTERNATIONAL BRIGADE DURING THE RUSSO-FINNISH WAR.

WN137AED

MOSCOW--ADD HELSINKI SLAYING X X X RUSSO-FINNISH WAR.

THE SLAYER IS SAID TO HAVE AIMED AT ONE OF THE LEADERS OF THE SOCIETY WHO WAS ADDRESSING THE MEETING, BUT HIT ANOTHER MEMBER.

"THE MURDERER WAS DETAINED BY WORKERS," TASS SAID.

THE NEWS AGENCY ADDED THAT THE FINNISH PRESS IS PERSISTING IN ITS CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE PRO-SOVIET SOCIETY.

IT IS RECALLED THAT RUSSIA'S PREMIER-FOREIGN COMMISSAR VYACHESLAFF MOLOTOFF TOLD THE SUPREME SOVIET AUG.1 THAT RUSSO-FINNISH RELATIONS "MAY BE DAMAGED BY THE CAMPAIGN AGAINST FINNISH CIRCLES WHO TRY TO STRENGTHEN GOOD NEIGHBORLY RELATIONS WITH THE U.S.S.R."

AUG 7-1940

WN143AED

30,24-4165

DASH MATTER FOLLOW MOSCOW HELSINKI SLAYING XXX WITH THE U.S.S.R."

--DASH--

THE POSSIBILITY OF SERIOUS DEVELOPMENTS FROM THE REPORTED HELSINKI KILLING IS INDICATED BY EVENTS IN THE BALTIC STATES SINCE LAST AUTUMN AND RECENT SOVIET CRITICISM OF FINLAND'S LEGALIZATION OF THE FASCIST (LAPUAN) MOVEMENT.

BEFORE THE INVASION OF FINLAND BY RUSSIAN TROOPS LAST NOVEMBER, THE GOVERNMENTS OF ESTONIA, LATVIA AND LITHUANIA HAD AGREED TO SOVIET DEMANDS FOR CERTAIN AIR AND NAVAL BASES IN THEIR TERRITORIES TO BE GARRISONED BY A LIMITED NUMBER OF RUSSIAN TROOPS.

FINLAND RESISTED SIMILAR DEMANDS BUT WAS FORCED TO YIELD TERRITORY AND BASES AFTER 3-1/2 MONTHS OF WAR AGAINST OVERWHELMING ODDS.

LATER, WHEN THE WAR IN THE WEST HAD ENTERED ITS ACTIVE PHASE, MOSCOW PRESENTED NEW DEMANDS TO LATVIA, ESTONIA AND LITHUANIA. THE BALTIC GOVERNMENTS WERE POWERLESS TO RESIST.

MASS-MEETINGS WERE ORGANIZED TO DEMAND CHANGES OF GOVERNMENT AND, IN RECENT ELECTIONS, THE VOTERS OF ALL THREE NATIONS ELECTED ONE-PARTY LISTS OF CANDIDATES PLEDGED TO COOPERATE WITH MOSCOW.

THE RE (MORE)

RE1023ACS

AUG 7-1940

Add Moscow - Aug 6 xxx been admitted

THE SUPREME SOVIET SITTING IN THE GREAT WHITE-WALLED COUNCIL CHAMBER OF THE KREMLIN, APPROVED ESTONIA'S PETITION TO ENTER THE UNION AS THE SIXTEENTH REPUBLIC BY A SHOW OF HANDS, AMID OVATIONS FOR JOSEPH STALIN, WHO SAT AT THE BACK OF THE OFFICIALS' TRIBUNE.

THIS ACTION, ON THE FIFTH DAY OF THE PARLIAMENT'S SESSION, SWELLED RUSSIA'S POPULATION TO 193,000,000.

TEN MILLION OF THESE ARE IN THE THREE BALTIC STATES, WHICH BELONGED TO IMPERIAL RUSSIA BEFORE THEY BROKE OFF DURING THE REVOLUTION.

DEMANDED

HALIFAX, AUG. 5-(AP)-F.B.POWELL, VANCOUVER STOCK BROKER, SAID TONIGHT HE BELIEVED AN ENEMY SUBMARINE HAD BEEN SUNK WHEN SHE ATTEMPTED TO ATTACK THE CONVOY IN WHICH HE TRAVELLED TO CANADA A FEW DAYS AGO.

DESTROYERS GUARDING THE CONVOY ATTACKED THE SUBMARINE AS SOON AS SHE WAS SIGHTED, POWELL SAID, AN APPARENTLY FINISHED HER OFF.

POWELL ARRIVED HERE TODAY FROM THE EASTERN CANADIAN PORT WHERE HE DISEMBARKED AFTER THE TRIP FROM ENGLAND.

UNDATED AUG 7-1940

HMAILTON, BERMUDA, AUG. 5-(AP)-BERMUDA LEARNED FOR THE FIRST TIME TODAY THAT THE DUKE OF WINDSOR WILL STOP HERE WITH HIS AMERICAN-BORN DUCHESS EN ROUTE TO HIS POST AS GOVERNOR OF THE BAHAMAS.

AUG 7-1940

MAJOR ERIC DUTTON, BERMUDA COLONIAL SECRETARY, ANNOUNCED THE WINDSORS WILL ARRIVE HERE "TOWARD THE END OF THE WEEK" ABOARD THE AMERICAN LINER EXCALIBUR ON WHICH THEY SAILED LAST THURSDAY FROM LISBON, PORTUGAL.

(A WIRELESS DISPATCH FROM THE EXCALIBUR, RECEIVED PREVIOUSLY IN NEW YORK, SAID THE ROYAL PASSENGERS WERE EXPECTED TO DISEMBARK AT BERMUDA THURSDAY.)

DUTTON SAID THE DUKE AND DUCHESS WOULD BE GUESTS AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE DURING THIR VISIT TO BERMUDA, WHICH WAS DESCRIBED AS UNOFFICIAL.

THE LENGTH OF THEIR STAY, HE SAID, WOULD BE "GOVERNED BY ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE FOR THEIR DEPARTURE FOR THE BAHAMAS."

AUG 7-1940

UX127AED

Pacific Squadron Visits Waters Below Equator

Flagship Pennsylvania Leads Cruise Near Jarvis Island

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 6 (AP).—A powerful squadron of the United States Fleet visited waters below the Equator, in the vicinity of Jarvis Island, during a ten-day cruise completed on Aug. 2.

The concentration of eight battleships, five cruisers and a number of destroyers was headed by the flagship Pennsylvania, with Admiral James O. Richardson, commander-in-chief, aboard.

The ships left Lahaina Roads on July 1. They cruised in the vicinity of Christmas Island, Kingman Reef and Jarvis.

HONOLULU,AUG 6-(AP)-THE FLEET HAS MOVED TO THE HAWAIIAN AREA FOR AN EXTENDED STAY AND WILL CONTINUE INTENSIVE TRAINING, IT WAS INDICATED TODAY BY THE ARRIVAL OF ADDITIONAL GUNNERY FACILITIES AND TWO GARBAGE BARGES FROM SAN PEDRO, CALIF.

THE FLEET, UNDER COMMAND OF ADMIRAL JAMES O.RICHARDSON, HAS BEEN IN HAWAIIAN WATERS SINCE THE 1940 WAR GAMES HELD IN MARCH AND APRIL.

AUG 7-1940

THE BATTLESHIP UTAH, MINUS ITS MAIN BATTERY BUT CARRYING ANTI-AIRCRAFT AND SECONDARY BATTERIES, ARRIVED FRIDAY TO BE USED IN FLEET GUNNERY TRAINING. THE UTAH HAD BEEN AT PUGET SOUND FOR OVERHAUL AND RETURNED BY WAY OF SAN PEDRO UNDER COMMAND OF COMMANDER J.R. PALMER.

VESSELS OF THE FLEET ARE IN PEARL HARBOR AT PRESENT UNDERGOING A FORTNIGHT OF UPKEEP. MEANWHILE HEAVY CRUISERS OF THE HAWAIIAN DETACHMENT ARE OPERATING OFF OAHU AND MAUI ISLANDS. NUMEROUS DESTROYERS ARE PARTICIPATING, CONCENTRATING ON GUNNERY AND TACTICAL MANEUVERS.

GM652PCS

(WX)-INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS (AMS BUDGET)

BY KIRKE L.SIMPSON

THE TIMING OF NEW GERMAN STATEMENTS THAT STAGGERING CARGO TONNAGE LOSSES HAVE BEEN INFLICTED ON BRITAIN MAY BE MORE SIGNIFICANT THAN THE FIGURES THEMSELVES.

WHETHER IN PREPARATION FOR INVASION OF ENGLAND OR FOR SOME OTHER STROKE, BERLIN IS PRESSING ITS WAR-OF-NERVES AGAINST THE BRITISH MORE ACTIVELY THAN THE WAR OF BOMBS. NAZI BOASTS THAT 5,000,000 TONS OF SHIPPING USABLE BY BRITAIN HAVE BEEN SUNK SINCE THE OUTBREAK OF THE WAR, 679,000 TONS IN THE LAST THREE WEEKS ALONE, MAY BE A PART OF THAT "WAR-OF-NERVES."

WHATEVER THE TRUTH, THE GERMAN FIGURES ARE SO FANTASTICALLY OUT OF STEP WITH THE LONDON ADMIRALTY'S RECAPITULATIONS THAT BERLIN ITSELF SEEKS TO EXPLAIN THE DISCREPANCY BY CHARGING THAT THE BRITISH ARE CONCEALING CERTAIN OF THEIR LOSSES.

AUG 7-1940

AS AN ELEMENT OF THE WAR-OF-NERVES ASPECT OF THE BATTLE, THE GERMAN CLAIMS COULD BE CONSIDERED GOOD STRATEGY. THEY COULD GIVE SEA-MINDED BRITONS, UTTERLY DEPENDENT ON SHIPPING FOR THE MEANS OF LIFE, SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT IF THEY BELIEVED THE BERLIN REPORTS AND NOT THE ADMIRALTY'S FIGURES.

WHATEVER THE GERMAN MOTIVE, THESE STATEMENTS ABOUT AN INCREASINGLY SUCCESSFUL COUNTER-BLOCKADE OF ENGLAND SYNCHRONIZE WITH OTHER MOVES DESIGNED TO STIR TERROR IN ENGLAND. REVIVAL OF THE "SECRET WEAPON" BOGEY BY A HIGH-RANKING GERMAN AIR OFFICER CAN BE NOTED. A SPECIAL SHOWING OF NAZI DIVE BOMBER TECHNIQUE, PUT ON FOR NEUTRAL PRESSMEN, WITH ALL THE SIREN ATTACHMENT FRILLS GOING FULL BLAST TO

30.24-4167

30.24-4167

MPRESS THEM, IS ANOTHER ITEM.

THE NAZIS' ACTION IN TAKING CORRESPONDENTS ON SIGHT-SEEING FLIGHTS ALONG THE ENGLISH CHANNEL PRESUMABLY WAS INTENDED TO PROVE THAT BRITISH SHIPPING, NAVAL AND MERCHANT, HAD BEEN DRIVEN FROM THOSE NARROW SEAS. HOWEVER, SINCE THE NEWSMEN DULY REPORTED THAT THE FLIGHTS WERE CONFINED TO THE CONTINENTAL SIDE OF THE CHANNEL, 30 MILES OR SO FROM THE ENGLISH COASTLINE AT THE NEAREST POINT OF APPROACH THE RESULT IS NOT HIGHLY CONVINCING.

AUG 7-1940

THERE IS ANOTHER ANGLE TO THE GERMAN CLAIMS OF HAVING STEPPED UP TREMENDOUSLY THE RATE OF CARGO SHIP DESTRUCTION. IF THE FIGURES ARE ANYWHERE NEAR ACCURATE AND NOT, AS THE BRITISH ADMIRALTY INSISTS, AN "ABSURD" EXAGGERATION, THERE WOULD SEEM TO BE NO MILITARY REASON FOR ATTEMPTING INVASION OF ENGLAND AT ALL. GERMANY WOULD BE ON THE WAY TO WINNING THE WAR BY COUNTER-BLOCKADE.

POSSIBLY THE REPORT IN LONDON OF JOHN CUDAHY, AMERICAN AMBASSADOR TO BELGIUM, ON THE IMPENDING FAMINE SITUATION IN THAT NAZI-CONQUERED COUNTRY, FURNISHES A CLUE TO BERLIN'S REAL CONCERN. HE SAID THAT THE SITUATION FOR THE BELGIANS WOULD BE CRITICAL UNLESS HELP REACHED THEM BY MID-SEPTEMBER. STARVATION IS MUCH CLOSER AT HAND FOR THEM THAN FOR ENGLAND, BY HIS ACCOUNT, AND THE SAME THING PROBABLY APPLIES TO MUCH OF NORWAY, DENMARK, HOLLAND AND FRANCE.

A WINTER OF STARK STARVATION FOR MILLIONS OF CONTINENTAL EUROPEANS UNLESS THE WAR CAN BE TERMINATED WITHIN WEEKS OR CHANNELS OF SUPPLY OPENED THROUGH THE BRITISH BLOCKADE LINES IS GRAPHICALLY PICTURED. GERMAN LEADERS TOLD CUDAHY FRANKLY, HE SAID, THAT WHILE THEY HOPED TO FEED THEIR ARMIES OF OCCUPATION FROM GERMANY, THEY WOULD BE FED "OFF THE COUNTRY" IF NECESSARY.

IT CAN BE ARGUED, THEN, THAT EVEN IF GERMANY HAS FULL CONFIDENCE OF WINNING THE WAR IN THE LONG RUN BY RUINING BRITISH SHIPPING, CONDITIONS ON THE CONTINENT MAY IMPELL HER TO SPEED UP HER VICTORY DRIVE

MEANWHILE, IT IS HIGHLY DOUBTFUL THAT THE CONDITIONS CUDAHY PICTURED WILL LEAD TO ANY ABATEMENT OF THE BRITISH BLOCKADE THAT WOULD AID GERMANY OR RELIEVE HER OF RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE CARE OF THE PEOPLES SHE HAS MASTERED. THAT BLOCKADE IS BRITAIN'S MAIN HOPE OF WINNING THE WAR IN THE END.

SM344PESNM

AUG 7-1940

.THE WAR TODAY

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

THE FURTHER HERR HITLER PROCEEDS WITH HIS PROJECTED REGIMENTATION OF EUROPE THE MORE IT IS GIVEN TO WONDER WHETHER HE ISN'T ATTEMPTING AN EXPERIMENT WHICH MAY BLOW UP IN HIS FACE.

HE HAS BEEN ABLE TO REGIMENT HIS OWN PEOPLE IN A REMARKABLE MANNER, AND HE PROBABLY WILL BE ABLE TO DO THE SAME TO SOME OTHERS. BY AND LARGE, HOWEVER, THERE IS AMONG THE VARIOUS RACES A BURNING SPIRIT OF INDEPENDENCE WHICH I VENTURE TO SAY HE NOT ONLY WILL BE UNABLE TO CONQUER BUT WHICH WILL TURN AGAINST HIM AT THE FIRST POSSIBLE MOMENT.

YESTERDAY THE WELL-INFORMED NEWSPAPER KATHIMERINI OF ATHENS ANNOUNCED THAT A PLOT TO OVERTHROW THE AUTHORITARIAN RULE OF GENERAL "LITTLE JOHN" METAXAS HAD BEEN SPIKED AND THE PLOTTERS BANISHED.

BEYOND THAT BRIEF STATEMENT THE AFFAIR REMAINS A MYSTERY.

I MENTION THIS, NOT BECAUSE THERE HAS BEEN ANY DISCLOSURE TO HOOK IT WITH NAZIDOM, BUT BECAUSE IT IS SO TYPICAL OF THE CHARACTER OF THE BALKANS AND EASTERN EUROPE. THE GREEK IS FIERCELY INDEPENDENT. HIS NATURE IS AS CRAGGY AS THE SILVER ROCKS THROUGH WHICH I HAVE SCRAMBLED TO REACH THE DELPHIAN ORACLE AT THE BASE OF HIS OWN MOUNT PARNASSUS. WHEN A GREEK FEELS THAT HIS PREROGATIVES HAVE BEEN INFRINGED, HE REVOLTS.

BRITAIN AND THE EXILED POLISH GOVERNMENT YESTERDAY SIGNED A MILITARY AGREEMENT, REAFFIRMING THEIR DETERMINATION TO FIGHT GERMANY TO THE END. THE GOVERNMENTS OF NORWAY, HOLLAND AND CZECHO-SLOVAKIA IN ENGLAND HAVE SIMILARLY SWORN NOT TO QUIT. SO HAS THE COMMITTEE REPRESENTING THOSE FRENCHMEN WHO HAVE ELECTED TO FIGHT ON WITH ENGLAND.

AUG 7-1940

EUROPE IS BOWING TO HITLER'S WILL NOW BECAUSE IT HAS TO, BUT IN THE LONG RUN IT WOULD BE AS SAFE TO TRY TO REGIMENT A GRIZZLY BEAR AS A TURK OR A SERB OR A BULGARIAN. AND THOSE COUNTRIES WHICH ALREADY HAVE BEEN OVERRUN ARE ONLY WAITING FOR A CHANCE TO STRIKE FOR LIBERTY.

SO FAR AS EASTERN EUROPE AND THE BALKANS ARE CONCERNED, IT HAS SEEMED TO ME THAT THIS SPIRIT OF INDEPENDENCE IS IN NO SMALL DEGREE DUE TO A DESIRE FOR FREEDOM OF THE INDIVIDUAL. THAT IS, MANY OF THE PEOPLES WILL ACCEPT EXTREME FORMS OF GOVERNMENT, PROVIDED GOVERNMENT DOESN'T TRESPASS ON PERSONAL PREROGATIVES.

THIS ISN'T STRANGE, SINCE EUROPE AS A WHOLE NEVER HAS KNOWN ANYTHING OF DEMOCRACY AS WE UNDERSTAND IT. ANY RULE IS A GOOD RULE THAT GIVES THE INDIVIDUAL A PLACE IN THE SUN. THERE IS, HOWEVER, A STRONG PRIDE IN RACE AND LOVE OF NATIVE LAND--ATTACHMENT TO THE SOIL ON WHICH ONE WAS BORN.

I WAS DISCUSSING THIS MATTER WITH ONE OF MY COLLEAGUES OF THE A.P., AND HE CALLED ATTENTION TO YESTERDAY'S DISPATCH FROM VICHY, FRANCE, SAYING THAT ONE AIM OF FRANCE'S NEW TOTALITARIAN "FAMILY PROGRAM" IS TO PAY MEN IN PROPORTION TO THE NUMBER OF THEIR CHILDREN RATHER THAN WAGES ON A MERIT BASIS. YOUTH MOVEMENTS AND OTHER TYPES OF NAZI REGIMENTATION WHICH ARE BEING ADOPTED BY OCCUPIED COUNTRIES CAME UP FOR DEBATE.

"WON'T THIS SORT OF THING BE LIKELY TO REACT AGAINST HITLER?" HE ASKED. "IT SEEMS TO ME THAT THIS WILL PLACE IN THE HANDS OF THE VARIOUS GOVERNMENTS POWERFUL WEAPONS WHICH THEY CAN USE TO STRIKE FOR FREEDOM IN DUE COURSE."

I DARE SAY THAT MAY BE SO, THOUGH TIME ALONE WILL TELL. HITLER'S IDEA IS, ONE ASSUMES, TO NAZIFY ALL EUROPE SO THAT THE NEW GENERATION WILL BE ALL FOR GERMANY. THAT'S EASIER SAID THAN DONE, HOWEVER, FOR HE MUST ALSO CONQUER THE LOVE OF NATIVE LAND AND THE SPIRIT OF INDEPENDENCE.

L WM936AED

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

AUG 7-1940

AUG. 6, 1915--HARD FIGHTING IN GALLIPOLI, WITH HEAVY LOSSES; BRITISH LAND REINFORCEMENTS.

30.24-4169

30.24-4169

HOLLYWOOD,AUG.6-(AP)-RICHARD GREENE, WHO WEARS A UNIFORM HANDSOMELY IN THE MOVIES, SAYS HE MAY GET AN OFFICER'S COMMISSION IN THE CANADIAN ARMY.

DEFENDING THE SINCERITY OF HIS MOTIVES FOR A HURRIED TRIP TO VANCOUVER AND VICTORIA,B.C., LAST WEEK, THE YOUNG BRITISH ACTOR SAID TODAY:

AUG 7-1940

"I WAS IN NO WAY SUBJECT TO CALL, AND MY ACTION IN GOING TO CANADA TO ENLIST WAS PURELY VOLUNTARY.

"BEING OF SCOTTISH DESCENT, I APPLIED TO COL.LESLIE OF THE SEAFORTH HIGHLANDERS RESIDENT AT VANCOUVER AND TOLD HIM I WANTED TO JOIN UP AND WOULD LIKE, IF POSSIBLE, TO GET A COMMISSION.

"HE GAVE ME TO UNDERSTAND THAT THIS MIGHT BE POSSIBLE. HE ADVISED ME TO RETURN TO HOLLYWOOD, AND SAID HE WOULD WIRE ME AS SOON AS THERE WAS AN OPENING."

AT VICTORIA, COL.RONALD KINGHAM OF THE 16TH CANADIAN SCOTTISH REGIMENT ASSERTED THE CANADIAN ARMY DID "NOT LIKE BEING USED IN THIS WAY FOR MOVIE PUBLICITY." HE SAID GREENE CALLED ON THE ONLY UNIT IN VANCOUVER AND VICTORIA NOT RECRUITING AND ASKED TO BE COMMISSIONED IMMEDIATELY.

"IF GREENE WANTS TO ENLIST IN A SCOTTISH REGIMENT, WE'LL TAKE HIM IN AT ONCE," SAID COL.KINGHAM, "BUT WE CAN'T GIVE HIM A COMMISSION AS AN OFFICER. IF HE MAKES GOOD IN THE RAJYA COMMISSION AS AN OFFICER. IF HE MAKES GOOD IN THE RANKS HE WILL HAVE A GOOD CHANCE WITH OTHERS OF WINNING A COMMISSION LATER."

LHINHHLVHAVE A JI

F.656ACS

NEW YORK, AUG. 6-(AP)-THE $2,000,000 YACHT CORSAIR, SOLD LAST MAY BY FINANCIER J.P.MORGAN TO A FIRM REPRESENTING THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT, WAS ENROUTE TONIGHT TO AN UNDISCLOSED BRITISH PORT, PRESUMABLY FOR ACTIVE WAR DUTY.

THE PALATIAL, BLACK-HULLED, GOLD-STRIPED CRAFT SLIPPED AWAY FROM A HOBOKEN, N.J. DOCK SUNDAY, BRITISH OFFICIALS HERE ACKNOWLEDGED TODAY.

AUG 7-1940

OFFICIALS OF A DRYDOCK CONCERN THAT RECENTLY OVERHAULED THE SCHOONER-TYPE VESSEL WHICHIHAS A CRUISING RADIUS OF 25,000 MILES ALSO CONFIRMED HER REPORTED SAILING. THEY SAID SHE APPARENTLY SAILED TO SOME BRITISH PORT, POSSIBLY IN CANADA, FOR CAMOUFLAGING AND ARMING.

FD1202AED

NEW YORK, AUG 7-(WEDNESDAY)-(AP)-THE BRITISH RADIO, IN A BROADCAST HEARD BY NBC THIS MORNING, ANNOUNCED "CONSIDERABLE JAPANESE WARSHIP MOVEMENTS OFF THE ISLAND OF FORMOSA." THE BRITISH ANNOUNCEMENT CREDITING "AGENCY MESSAGES" FROM HONGKONG, SAID SOME OF THE WARSHIPS WERE REPORTED PROCEEDING SOUTHWARDS.

AUG 7-1940

FD1244AED

NEW YORK, AUG. 6-(AP)-JEAN PAUL-BONCOUR, FRENCH EMBASSY PRESS ATTACHE, SAID TODAY HE HAD BEEN TRANSFERRED BY THE VICHY GOVERNMENT TO A POST IN CHINA.

AUG 7-1940

LEAVING FOR WASHINGTON BY AIRPLANE, PAUL-BONCOUR SAID HE DID NOT KNOW THE REASON FOR THE TRANSFER OR THE NATURE OF THE WORK HE WOULD DO.

HE SAID HE EXPECTED TO LEAVE FOR THE ORIENT AT THE END OF THE MONTH

AND MIGHT HAVE A FURTHER STATEMENT TO MAKE BEFORE LEAVING WASHINGTON.

SX53PED

NEW YORK, AUG.6-(AP)-GOVERNOR JOSEPH B.POINDEXTER OF HAWAII SAID TODAY HE BELIEVED THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS "IMPREGNABLE FROM ATTACK BY ANY POWER."

"IF THEY ARE NOT IMPREGNABLE NOW," HE SAID, "THEY WILL BE WHEN THE PROGRAM NOW UNDERWAY IS COMPLETED." DEFENSE PREPARATIONS INCLUDE CONSTRUCTION OF HICKAM FIELD, WHICH HE DESCRIBED AS THE LARGEST MILITARY AIRPORT UNDER THE UNITED STATES' FLAG.

THE GOVERNOR WILL SPEAK TOMORROW AT AN HAWAIIAN DAY CELEBRATION AT THE WORLD'S FAIR. HE HAS BEEN IN THIS COUNTRY A MONTH, ATTENDING THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION AND CONFERRING WITH OFFICIALS IN WASHINGTON.

AUG 7-1940

POINDEXTER SAID IN AN INTERVIEW THAT THE ISLANDS WERE "MUCH CONCERNED" OVEJ LEGISLATION, NOW BEFORE A SENATE COMMITTEE, WHICH AFFECTED SUGAR QUOTAS. THE BILL LIMITS THE AMOUNT OF REFINED SUGAR THAT CAN BE SHIPPED TO THE MAINLAND TO THREE PER CENT OF THE QUOTA.

HE TERMED THE LEGISLATION DISCRIMINATORY AND SAID THE ISLANDS FELT THEY SHOULD HAVE THE PRIVILEGE OF MARKETING THEIR QUOTA OF ABOUT 900,-000 TONS ANNUALLY AS EITHER REFINED OR RAW. REFINING, HE SAID, WOULD ADD TO EMPLOYMENT.

THE TERRITORY, HE SAID, WAS HAVING A "RECORD TOURIST YEAR," PRESUMABLY BECAUSE "THOSE WHO WANT TO GO TO SEA HAVE FEW OTHER PLACES TO GO."

HE PREDICTED THE NOVEMBER REFERENDUM ON THE QUESTION OF STATEHOOD WOULD CARRYHDESPITE "A GOOD DEAL OF OPPOSITION."

FH635PED

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF WEDNESDAY, AUG. 7)

- - -

THE GAS SURPRISE OF THIS WAR

IS HARMLESS CARBON DIOXIDE (475)

AUG 7-1940

- - -

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

ASSOCIATED PRESS SCIENCE EDITOR

(ADVANCE) NEW YORK, AUG. 6---THE GAS SURPRISE OF THIS WAR IS HARMLESS CARBON DIOXIDE.

CARBON DIOXIDE IS THE FIZZ OF SOFT DRINKS, THE COLLAR ON BEER, THE STUFF THAT NATURE PUT IN THE AIR TO MAKE MAN BREATHE REGULARLY.

WITH ALL NATIONS SET FOR POISON GAS AS A RESULT OF WORLD WAR EXPERIENCE, CARBON DIOXIDE STOLE IN THE BACK WAY.

IT FERRIED THE GERMANS ACROSS FLOODED DUTCH LOWLANDS AND EUROPEAN RIVERS.

IN AN ATTACK ON ENGLAND IT WILL CERTAINLY BE USED FOR LIFE SAVING, AND MIGHT BE ONE OF THE ESSENTIALS OF THE THREATENED CHANNEL CROSSING.

IT IS SAVING AVIATORS ON BOTH SIDES FROM FIRE AND FROM DROWNING.

THE FACTS ABOUT THE WAR USES OF THIS GAS COME FROM WALTER KIDDE, NEW YORK ENGINEER WHO WAS ONE OF THE PIONEERS IN USE OF CARBON DIOXIDE FOR FIRE-

FIGHTING. HE POURED GASOLINE INTO THE HOLD OF A DERILICT SHIP AT LONDON, LIGHTED IT AND SNUFFED IT OUT WITH JETS OF CARBON DIOXIDE BEFORE A SURPRISED AUDIENCE.

A BOTTLE ABOUT TWICE THE SIZE OF THE FAMILY QUART-OF-MILK CONTAINER IS ATTACHED TO FOLDED RUBBER BOATS. IT IS FILLED WITH LIQUEFIED

30.24-4171

30.24-4171

CARBON DIOXIDE, WHICH IS CARBON DIOXIDE GAS UNDER PRESSURE.

THE TURN OF A VALVE RELEASES THIS LIQUID, WHICH EXPANDS SO FAST IT RUSHES OUT AS GAS AND INFLATES A LARGE BOAT IN A FEW SECONDS. THAT'S HOW THE NAZIS CROSSED THE WATER DEFENSES OF THE LOWLANDS.

SIMILAR BOTTLES OF THE GAS IN 3 SECONDS INFLATE THE RUBBER LIFE RAFTS OF AVIATORS DROPPING INTO THE SEA.

THE FIGHTER WHO HAS TO BAIL OUT OVER WATER YANKS A CORD ON HIS VEST. THIS OPENS A TINY BOTTLE OF LIQUID CARBON DIOXIDE WHICH INFLATES THE VEST TO THE VOLUME OF A LIFE PRESERVER.

AUG 7-1940

THE EXTREMELY SMALL LIQUID COMPASS INTO WHICH A HUGE VOLUME OF CARDBON DIOXIDE WILL CONVENTIENTLY AND SAFELY PACK RENDERS IT A FORMIDABLE FACTOR IN ATTACK OVER WATER. THE GAS IS LIGHTWEIGHT, CAN.T BE SEEN, IS ODORLESS AND HAS A VERY SLIGHT SHARP TASTE.

CATAPULT PLANES HAVE AUTOMATICALLY OPENING CARBON DIOXIDE BOTTLES WHICH POP OPEN AND BALLOON OUT RUBBERIZED FLOATS FOR PLANES WHICH MISS THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER OR HAVE TO LAND ON WATER.

IN THE FORM OF WATER WINGS, THE CARBON DIOXIDE BAGS ARE USED FOR LAND PLANES WHICH HAVE TO FIGHT OVER WATER.

FOR FIRE-FIGHTING, ONE OF THE NEWEST USES IS BRITISH. DRY ICE (SOLID CARBON DIOXIDE AT ABOUT 110 DEGREES BELOW ZERO) IS HELD READY AT TRAINING FIELDS. WHEN A CADET CRASH RESULTS IN A FLAMING PLANE, THE DRY ICE BRIGADE, IN ASBESTOS SUITS, RUSHES UP WITH PROJECTORS THAT SEND A SNOWSTORM ON THE PLANE.

THE CARBON DIOXIDE VAPORIZING FROM THE DRY ICE--- NOT THE COLD--- HOLDS BACK THE FLAMES SO THE CADET MAY BE RESCUED EVEN IF THE PLANE BURNS.

MILITARY PLANES FOR SOME YEARS HAVE HAD AUTOMATIC CARBON DIOXIDE FIRE EXTINGUISHERS IN THE COCKPIT AND AROUND THE ENGINE. SOMETIMES A DANGEROUS ENGINE FIRE IS SMOTHERED. WARSHIPS USE SIMILAR CARBON DIOXIDE FIRE-SMOTHERING DEVICES IN ENGINE ROOMS AND AROUND FUEL TANKS.

MR. KIDDE SAYS THE NETHERLANDS IS THE FIRST COUNTRY WHERE THE GERMANS USED CARBON DIOXIDE FOR INVASION. THE NETHERLANDS IS THE COUNTRY WHICH FIRST MADE THIS GAS ABOUT 500 YEARS AGO.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF WEDNESDAY, AUG. 7, MOVED AUGUST 5).

AUG 7-1940

UX119AED

R. A. F. Bombs Le Bourget Airport in Paris; British Liner Accra Torpedoed Off Ireland

AUG 8-1940

30.29

Air Raider Escapes From Foray Into France Before Anti-aircraft Guns Open Fire —Sporadic Raids Made on Britain.

LONDON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—An Air Ministry bulletin today said that a British medium bomber had bombed the Le Bourget airport at Paris yesterday afternoon and that bombs had landed near German aircraft and hangars.

The bulletin said that the raider was able to drop his load and retreat into the clouds before any anti-aircraft batteries could be brought into action.

The pilot reported that several large twin-engined German aircraft were on the runways and others of medium size stood near the hangars when he swooped down.

The communique said:

"Last night Royal Air Force bombers, hampered by low clouds and poor visibility, were forced to abandon many of their primary objectives.

"In spite of this, an oil plant at Homburg and a supply depot at Schwerte, a flak (anti-aircraft defense ship) battery at Homborn, and a factory at Mors were attacked, while other aircraft bombed airdromes in Holland and northern Germany, causing damage to hangars and many fires. One of our aircraft is missing.

Nazi flyers raided Britain sporadically today after a night of diminished activity.

High explosive bombs dropped in a southwest England area wrecked two farmhouses and damaged several others. The occupants narrowly escaped. The death of a sixty-four-year-old woman was attributed to the shock of hearing the explosions.

Planes believed to be German were reported over an inland town in southeastern England.

During the night, said the Ministry of Home Security, Nazi crews dropped some incendiary bombs in two districts of Scotland.

In southwest England, in the Bristol Channel area, the Germans dropped more leaflets today containing Adolf Hitler's peace-or-destruction ultimatum—and some bombs. A Government communique said, however, that the "damage was negligible and there were no casualities.

Nazi Radio Active.

Germany continued her war of nerves with a radio broadcast to the English that the German air force is now ready to strike.

An announcer for the Bremen station said:

"I cannot tell you when the attack will come or how, but I can says that it will not come in the form in which it is expected in England. Attacks will be directed against docks and industrial centers."

He pointedly referred to densely populated London as the big target.

TONS OF BOMBS RAINED UPON GERMAN BASES

17-Plane Squadron Reports In Detail On Successful Raids

Eight Airdromes And One Factory Attacked By One R. A. F. Unit

By TAYLOR HENRY
Associated Press Correspondent

With the R. A. F. Bomber Command Somewhere in England, Aug. 7—Twin-motored Wellington bombers rained tons of bombs on German factories in the Ruhr and on Nazi-held airports in the Netherlands early today despite the stickiest weather in weeks.

The squadron with which I kept watch during the early hours of the morning alone reported successful attacks against eight airdromes and one factory.

This squadron, which carried out a seventeen-plane raid, made up but a small part of the attack, which hammered Germany and German-occupied territory throughout the night and early morning.

There were two other squadrons from the same group and also in the air were other groups of the bomber command sent in equal numbers to the attack.

Despite the murky weather all seventeen planes of "my" squadron returned home safely.

That was the raid of which today's German communique said:

"British planes which flew into Holland and Western Germany in small numbers dropped bombs in various places without causing damage worth mentioning."

British Report Differently

British pilots and observers agreed, however, that it was worth mentioning.

Here is their version of the bombings as reported in the official flight analysis:

VENLO AIRDROME—"Big flash seen. All lights extinguished."

YPENBURG AIRDROME—"Large explosions. Small fires started."

TEXEL AIRDROME—"All bursts seen. Adjacent beacon put out. Fire burning on airdrome as plane left.

WESEL AIRDROME—"Bombs observed to fall across the center of the airdrome and incendiaries (bombs) seen to fall near hangars."

SCHIPHOL AIRDROME—"Two explosions seen on airdrome. Observed impact of stick of five 500-pound bombs which were seen to fall from another plane. (A stick is a salvo of bombs dropped almost simultaneously but spaced to bracket the target.)

EINDHOVEN AIRDROME—"Bombs fell on flare path (lights bordering takeoff and landing runway) while it was lit up and night flying was in progress. All lights extinguished and fires broke out."

BONNINGHARDT AIRDROME — "Bombs dropped 200 yards south of the flare path."

KREFELD AIRDROME — "One stick dropped across airdrome. Small fires and one large fire seen."

MUNITIONS FACTORY NEAR MORS—"Direct hit with incendiary bomb and factory set on fire. Other bombs just missed."

"—And it was a bad night," the wing commander apologized. "I wish we could have put on a better show for you, but the weather still controls operations."

Scoffs At Nazi Charges

He scoffed at German charges that his men had dropped bombs indiscriminately on civilians, saying:

"It's a point of honor with us not to drop bombs unless we are sure we're on the target. For example, this morning three planes brought a full load of bombs back because they couldn't locate the targets under a heavy cloud layer.

"They'll not be wasted. Don't worry. The same chaps will take them back again."

The average age of the six-man crews of the squadron is just under 26.

"The little chap over there," said the wing commander, pointing to a lad who looked like he ought to be a college freshman, "just celebrated his twentieth bombing raid over Germany."

I had a breakfast of scrambled eggs and bacon with a couple of other youngsters who were just back from the raid. One had four years of flying to his credit and the other two and one-half years.

They call the ten-ton Vickers Wellington bombers "Wimpys" after the American comic-strip character J. Wellington Wimpy.

Most of these flyers have been in action since the beginning of the war; some have been on as many as thirty-four raids.

Axis 'Grand Strategy' Seen In Suez Drive

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 7—A concentration of at least two Italian divisions was reported on the Libyan frontier near the Mediterranean coast today and British circles declared "it looks as though the Italians are ready" to advance into Egypt in a large scale campaign for realization of one of Mussolini's dreams—possession of Suez.

Official circles at Cairo denied, however, that the Italians already had crossed the frontier.

Italian Prisoners

"The only Italian officers presently on Egyptian soil are one general and 818 officers and other ranks—prisoners," said a semi-official statement at British headquarters in Egypt.

(Yesterday's Italian communique said the British were put to flight "during a clash of advanced troops beyond the Cirenaican—Libyan border.)

Military circles in London said the two Italian divisions were concentrated in the Bardia area, adjacent to the Egyptian frontier.

This concentration is opposed by small mobile British force of expert desert fighters who have been carrying out the first phase of the operations in Africa, a sort of guerrilla warfare of lightning raids, skirmish- and reconnaissance expeditions.

Britons were warned today by the Daily Express, which is owned by the Minister for Aircraft Production, Lord Beaverbrook, that they may expect "some Italian successes" in the war in Africa.

These signs of an impending offensive against Egypt, which would have as its ultimate objective the severing of the British Empire's control of the Eastern Mediterranean, coupled with a triple drive against British Somaliland, raised the belief in many quarters that the Axis' next big objective is the Continent of Africa.

In the eyes of these observers the reported preparations for the attack on England is for the purpose of diversion.

Striking At Berbera

A bitter struggle between the British and Italians in Somaliland was forecast by military circles, who said the main Italian column is striking at Berbera, on the coast of the Gulf of Aden.

This column is between "6,000 and 7,000 strong, with some guns and tanks," it was reported by military sources here.

The first of the three columns of Italians who entered the British protectorate on Sunday, is moving on Gargara and Zeila.

Terrean Described

The second and main force is pointing toward Hargesia, thirty miles from the frontier, and about one hundred miles along a "highway" to Berbera.

Neutral military observers said these hill roads were possible points for the first British counter attacks.

The third is aimed at Odweina, sixty miles east of Hargesia.

"Zeila is a coastal village of little importance, with a road running 150 miles along the coast of Berbera," said British military quarters. "Possession of either port will mean little to the Italians, who, of course, do not control the sea."

Both Zeila and Berbera are across from the British protectorate of Aden, however, and the Italians may hope ultimately to be in a position to close the southern entrance to the Red Sea.

British military circles said the Italian columns moving on Hargeisa and Odweina would have to cross high hills over a single track road "barely negotiable for vehicles."

Brigadier A. . Chater is the British commander in Somaliland. He leads forces including the famous Somaliland Camel Corps, which, contrary to its name, is par y mechanized, the Kings African Rifles and "some others."

Axis' "Grand Strategy"

The coincidence of the attacks, and the carefully provisioned advances of Mussolini's Libyan forces noted by scouts were regarded by some observers as possibly the beginnings of a "grand strategy" by the Axis high command.

The Italians may be planning to "mop up" British Somaliland and the Aden protectorate to gain control of the southern entrance of the Red Sea and then attack Egypt from Libya on one side and from the Red Sea on the other.

Persistent reports of German concentrations on the Spanish border and Spanish propaganda calling for the return of Gibraltar also would fall in with this line of African attack, it was noted.

The bulk of Imperial Germany's Colonial empire was concentrated in Africa. The Nazis have persistently ...lared they want these colonies back.

BRITISH ADMIT LOSS OF THREE AFRICAN TOWNS

Somaliland Advance Not Opposed by Small Defense Force.

QUIET ON EGYPTIAN FRONTIER

Two Divisions Are in Position for Desert Blow at Suez.

CAIRO, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—A British communique announced today that the Italians had entered Zeila, Gulf of Aden port in British Somaliland, and captured Hargeisa by a strong force after a thirty-mile march through the desert. Oadweina, a third objective of the Italians who started their offensive, also was occupied yesterday by a column estimated at 2,000 men, equipped with guns and armored vehicles, the British announced.

OTHER POINTS ON ADEN GULF ALSO SEIZED

Move Believed Prelude To Terrific Fascist Push Toward Red Sea

British Claim Ample Defenses To Meet New War Threat

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 7—Italians advancing in British Somaliland in an apparent overture to a great war of empire for dominance in Africa have marched into Zeila, a port on the Gulf of Aden across from the British protectorate of Aden, and captured Hargeisa, British Somaliland, in strong force.

This was acknowledged today by the British, along with the Italian capture of a third objective, the town of Oaweina, in the Somaliland, while other and much heavier Fascist forces were massing in Libya for an attack upon Britain's vital strongholds in Egypt.

Zeila was declared to have been undefended.

Drive Toward Red Sea

All these moves suggested an Italian campaign to occupy the region of the southern outlet of the Red Sea—an essential in British Empire communications—before the expected assault on Egypt itself.

The British, outnumbered on land but including some of the world's strongest desert troops, proclaimed at their Middle Eastern headquarters here that they welcomed the showdown, expressing confidence that the British navy would starve and cut off Premier Mussolini's African soldiers in the end and destroy his African dream.

The Italian forces facing Egypt—the land of the Suez Canal so essential to the British—were concentrated near Bardia, Libya. The British declared officially the enemy had not set foot across the frontier.

Caustic Comment

"The only Italians presently on Egyptian soil," they said, "are one general and 818 officers and others—prisoners."

The Italians maneuvered for position for an enveloping attack on Egypt; French Somaliland appears now in their hands and Italian-held Ethiopia borders the new war zone.

The British were declared officially to be pursuing a strategy of "active defense," and one spokesman asserted that Italy's African colonies would be held "just where we want them."

The expected general attack from Libya was characterized as reflecting the "desperation" of Italian Marshal Rodolfo Graziani to achieve a victory to offset British successes in smashing at Libya's air and naval bases and, Britons said, wrecking water pipe lines and supply concentrations.

Count On Natural Allies

Graziani, they added, must face not alone the British regulars—seasoned troops with long experience in Africa—but two great natural allies: thirst and intense heat. Between the Italian positions and the British Egyptian base at Mersa Matruh, on the Mediterranean, there is a shimmering, waterless stretch of almost 400 miles.

Should the Italians break through the British outposts, they would still face a long march across the desert and, said a British source, because of heavy British air bombing they would have little hope of more supplies or of keeping contact with the rear base.

The British naval blockade of Libya has prevented supply ships from getting through from Italy, British sources said.

Among the British services constantly at raiding work is the famous camel corps—made up largely of desert tribesmen.

British Strategy

In explaining that Britain's "active

30.24-4173

30.24-4173

defense strategy presently meets our ends best," one informant put it this way:

"By taking the offensive, the Italians are losing both men and materials—none of which can be replaced. Every shot fired by the enemy, every plane lost, brings the day closer when Mussolini's African empire must crumble. For the British navy's control of Suez makes it impossible for ships to bring fresh aid."

The Italian drive into British Somaliland apparently is designed primarily to remove that potential source of a British attack against Italian Somaliland, Eritrea and Ethiopia. The capture of British Somaliland would give the Italians a valuable strip of coastline as a base for attacks on Aden.

Italians Bomb Haifa Again

JERUSALEM, Aug. 7 (AP)—Italian bombers, striking from bases on the Dodecanese Islands in the eastern Mediterranean, bombed the Palestine oil shipping port of Haifa today for the third time. An Arab workman was reported killed and seven other Arabs and a Jew were injured.

The raiders came as they have before over British mandated Palestine, flying high, hiding in the clouds, and dumping most of their bombs along the docks and waterfront. Most of the bombs fell into the water. One house outside the city was smashed, and a fire was started in one section.

British To Link Defense Needs To Those Of U. S.

AUG 8-1940

London, Aug. 7 (AP)—Great Britain must dovetail her own military effort with the American defense program to win the war, Parliament was told today.

The Government spokesman, Arthur Greenwood, minister without Portfolio, pictured American factories—guided by war-trained technical experts from Britain—in the role of supplementary producers of war material with the British fighting forces as the consumers.

His comment raised the question of immensely increased shipments of arms from a country girding for her own defense but at the same time seeking to aid the British in all ways "short of war."

Need Has Increased

"The need to supplement our own production by drawing upon the vast and invulnerable capacity of North America has immensely increased since the fall of France," Greenwood said.

"While but a few months ago we were placing orders with American industry to supplement the deficiencies in the combined allied production, we now need to embark on a much more extensive program which must be related to the American defense preparations."

His declaration was taken to mean that British orders for war material—now under negotiation for tremendous increases—would be dovetailed with the United States' own orders to American plants.

Standardization of such supplies as ammunition and plane motors to permit mass production and buying by both governments already has been proposed.

War Policy Committee

Giving immediate point to the disclosure of Britain's need for greatly heightened American aid, Greenwood announced organization of an economic war policy committee composed of himself as chairman, Neville Chamberlain and Sir Kingsley Wood, to direct war material purchases in the United States.

The staff there will be augmented "by experts with practical experience such as the United States have not had in the production and operations of different types of armament," the minister said.

"Our object is a Britain completely mobilized, economically." Greenwood said Britain's shipping situation was "not too bad" and that "starvation of the people of this country is impossible."

A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, told a luncheon audience that the defense of Britain, "far from being one of pessimism, is one of great encouragement," with the situation improved since Germany completed the conquest of France.

Combine With U. S. Defense, Britain Told

AUG 8-1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 7 — A Government spokesman told Britain today that to win the war she must now "embark on a much more extensive program which must be related to the American national defense preparations."

Arthur Greenwood, Laborite Minister without portfolio, speaking in the House of Commons on Britain's wartime economic problems, said:

"The need to supplement our own production by drawing upon the vast and invulnerable capacity of North America has immensely increased since the fall of France."

"Must Relate Programs"

"While but a few months ago we were placing orders with American industry to supplement the deficiences in combined Allied production," Greenwood declared, "we now need to embark on a much more extensive program which must be related to the American defense preparations."

Greenwood said there had been organized a committee composed of himself as chairman, Neville Chamberlain and Sir Kingsley Wood to direct the nation's economic war policy.

The staff assisting the British Purchasing Commission in the United States will be augmented "by experts with practical experience such as the United States have not had in the production and operation of different types of armament," he said.

"Our object is a Britain completely mobilized, economically.

To Keep Down Prices

"It is to keep down the prices of necessities and we are spending considerable sums to do it. The policy of anchoring the prices of essential commodities will be continued to insure the unimpaired health of the nation."

Turning to shipping, which he said was "not too bad," he warned that "our ports and shipping will be among the main objectives of the enemy's attacks."

"Starvation of the people of this country is impossible," Greenwood declared.

He concluded with a resume of efforts to increase food stocks and to reduce the intake of commodities which are "not indispensable."

Greenwood said Germany and the territories she has overrun are facing famine this winter, and that next spring the pinch will be even worse.

"Hitler Risks Revolution"

"Hitler cannot add starvation to slavery without running the grave risk of revolution within his own territory," he said.

He declared that the war "may be prolonged and prodigious suffering may be inflicted before victory is achieved unless all the economic resources of our commonwealth, our allies and friends are mobilized to the fullest possible extent."

Tells Of Bombing

Some of Germany's chief industrial areas and airdromes had "suffered very heavy punishment" from British flyers and the "output undoubtedly is seriously interfered with," the Minister added.

"Oil refineries, stores, railway junctions, marshaling yards, docks and ships have been and will continue to be targets for our deadly bombing planes, night by night and week by week, more heavily as our bombing strength increases," the Minister said.

A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, told a luncheon audience that his feeling regarding the defense of Britain, "far from being one of pessimism is one of great encouragement."

He declared that Britain's "moat" (the English Channel and North Sea) is "now immeasurably defended and her ramparts are far higher and broader" than they were when the battle of France ended.

"There has been much talk about war aims," said Alexander, a leader of the Labor party. "Here is one which brooks no denial or delay.

Workers Have Responded

"Our working men and women have responded magnificently to any and every call made upon them. Their reward must be a new Britain. Peace will come; never again must the unemployed become the forgotten men of the peace."

Alexander said it probably would not be known until the end of the war to what extent the Germans were laying mines around Britain's coasts by plane. Whenever this is even suspected, he said, traffic in the affected waterways is stopped or rerouted while the mine sweepers begin their patient work.

David Lloyd George, World War Prime Minister, warned his fellow-Welshmen in a broadcast today that "such a tempest as Britain has never before encountered is about to break upon her and all that she stands for."

But if the people are worthy of their forefathers, he continued, "Britain will pass through this hurricane fearless and erect and will emerge from its rage mightier and more honored and more powerful than ever for the good of mankind."

"Our object is a Britain completely mobilized, economically.

"Our object is to keep down the prices of necessities and we are spending considerable sums to do it. The policy of anchoring the prices of essential commodities will be continued to insure the unimpaired health of the nation."

Turning to shipping, which he said was "not too bad," he warned that "our ports and shipping will be among the main objectives of the enemy's attacks."

"Starvation of the people of this country is impossible," he declared.

He concluded with a resume of efforts to increase food stocks and to reduce the intake of commodities which are "not indispensable."

This committee, he went on to say, was a wartime experiment with the task of concerting and directing the work of all ministerial committees dealing with economic problems.

NAZI AIR RAIDS RENEWED AFTER BRIEF RESPITE

AUG 8-1940

Two Waves Of German Bombers Attack Town In Southwest

[By the Associated Press]

A Southwest Town of England Thursday, Aug. 8—Two waves of German warplanes raided this town last night and early today as German airmen suddenly accelerated their attacks on Great Britain after a brief rest.

The Germans twice dropped brilliant flares to light up the whole town. Immediately afterward, the dull boom of the bombs was heard somewhere on the outskirts and then British fighters were heard racing to intercept the enemy.

Searchlights Sweep Sky

Scores of searchlights swept the sky as the engines of the bombers were distinctly heard.

Elsewhere, one enemy plane which crossed the northeast coast sped a short distance inland and dropped a number of bombs before rushing out to sea; one bomber seen over the northeast coast was believed to have dropped three bombs.

The Germans also harassed Wales. Other war activity today included:

Sinking of the 9,337-ton British freighter Accra, torpedoed in convoy off the west coast of Ireland, with nineteen missing, eleven passengers and eight crewmen. Some 450 survivors were picked up and the submarine attacker was believed sunk.

Sinking of the 4,360-ton Greek ship Pindos, carrying corn from Argentina to Britain, off Ireland Sunday night. Three of the thirty-two-man crew were killed.

Sinking by mine of the mine-sweeping trawler River Clyde.

British air attacks last night on an oil plant at Hamburg, a supply depot at Schwerte, a factory at Mors and an anti-aircraft defense ship at Hamborn — all in Germany — and on airdromes in France, the Netherlands and northern Germany.

Bombing of hangars and German planes at Le Bourget air field, Paris, by a lone Royal Air Force raider which retreated into the clouds yesterday afternoon before anti-aircraft batteries could fire.

David Lloyd George, World War Prime Minister, warned his fellow-Welshmen in a broadcast that "such a tempest as Britain has never before encountered is about to break upon her and all that she stands for."

BRITISH PLEDGE COOPERATION TO DE GAULLE

AUG 8-1940

Churchill Assures General Of Battle To Restore France

Agreement Reached For French Forces To Pursue The War

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 7—Prime Minister Churchill today assured Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of Frenchmen still fighting Germany, that the British Government is determined "to secure the full restoration of the independence and greatness of France" when "victory has been gained by the Allied arms."

The assurance was given in an exchange of letters which disclosed that General De Gaulle had agreed to a memorandum "governing the organization, employment and conditions of service" of De Gaulle's forces.

The memorandum, presumably drawn up by the British Government, said the French force would be used "against the common enemies," and "will never be required to take up arms against France."

French In Character

The force would, as far as possible, "retain the character of a French force in respect to personnel, particularly as regards discipline, language, promotion and duties," the memorandum said.

It would have priority of allocation of material brought into British territory by French forces and the British Government would, as soon as practicable, supply the French force with additional equipment.

The memorandum said the French force would commission and operate as many vessels as it could man, allocated by agreement between the British Admiralty and De Gaulle. Vessels not allocated to the French force would be available for "commissioning and operating under the direction of the British Admiralty." Some might be operated under direct British control and some by other Allied naval forces.

Transfers Provided

All vessels would remain French property.

The memorandum said that General De Gaulle "accepts the general direction of the British high command" and added "when necessary he will delegate in agreement with the British high command immediate command of any part of his force to one or more British officers of appropriate rank."

The expense of maintaining the force would be met "in the first instance" by Britain. Sums required would be regarded as an "advance," the ultimate settlement of which would be a "matter for subsequent arrangement."

CUDAHY REMARKS DRAW BRITISH FIRE

London Papers Blame Nazis for Belgian Famine.

AUG 8-1940

LONDON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The American Ambassador to Belgium was taken to task by the British press today for an implied plea that Great Britain's Navy open its blockade for food shipments to Belgium and other German-occupied countries.

Commenting upon Ambassador John Cudahy's statement that Belgium would be at the verge of famine by mid-September unless she received food from the United States, the London Daily Express declared that the Germans—and not the British blockade—would be to blame for any suffering. Any food sent to Belgium from America would be used only to feed the German Army, the Express contended.

Informed spokesmen had previously said it was unlikely that Great Britain would relax her blockade to permit the passage of food into German-occupied territories.

The Express, declaring that Mr Cudahy's point of view will carry great weight in the United States expressed concern that many Americans will be inclined to blame the British blockade for a forthcoming famine.

"The best reply to Mr. Cudahy's story," the newspaper said, "is to tell the world how Hitler hopes to starve out women and children."

The London News Chronicle described Mr. Cudahy's remarks as sensational.

"It is generally felt," the News Chronicle said, "that on grounds of good taste alone this is hardly the time for a foreign diplomat ostensibly in England on a purely private visit, to openly praise German conduct in their invasion of a neutral country and by implication to make it appear that Great Britain is responsible for the famine in Belgium and other German-occupied territory."

Lady Buckland Captures Nazi On Rural Road

Aviator Had Been Roaming England Since Disabled Plane Fell 9 Days Ago

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP).—A titled Englishwoman, Lady Buckland, widow of Lord Buckland and sister-in-law of Lord Camrose, publisher of the London "Daily Telegraph," captured today a Nazi aviator who had been roaming England for nine days.

Lady Buckland came upon the Nazi as she motored along a country road near Bristol. Noting his unusual appearance, she questioned him and then marched him off to the authorities. The German flyer had been at large since he bailed out of his disabled plane. The military and the police had sought him continuously after his plane fell.

A servant at Woolton House, her home, gave this version of the capture:

"Lady Buckland was out driving when she saw the man step into the road from the woods. . . . He was wearing a foreign uniform and was very disheveled.

"She at once realized this was the 'wanted' man. She spoke to her chauffeur, who stopped the car and questioned the man. The airman was in a very exhausted state and, although he could speak only a few words of English, indicated he had been afraid to surrender earlier because he thought he would be killed immedately. By drawing his fingers across his throat like a knife he showed the chauffeur the sort of fate he expected.

"The chauffeur ordered the man into the car and drove him to a police station. . . . The Nazi, with his torn clothes and a heavy growth of beard, was a somewhat fearsome sight, but Lady Buckland wasn't at all nervous."

Operators Deny Ship Was Carrying Children to the New World.

CONVOY SAVES 450 PERSONS

25 Lives Are Lost in Disaster—Attacking U-boat Said to Have Been Sunk.

LONDON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The 9,337-ton British passenger liner Accra has been torpedoed and sunk off the west coast of Ireland with twenty-five persons missing, it was announced tonight.

The steamship was in a convoy and sank within half an hour after she had been struck. It was believed that the attacking submarine was sunk by escorting warships.

Some of those missing were lost when a motor lifeboat overturned in a choppy sea, but other ships rescued 450 persons, who were landed at a northwest British port.

The Elder Dempster Lines, operators of the Accra which is well-known in English-Africa trade, denied reports current in New York that English refugee children were aboard.

The Admiralty announced tonight that the mine-sweeping trawler River Clyde had been sunk by a German mine.

HALIFAX PUSHING FOR SOVIET PACT

But Russians Want Baltic Grab Recognized.

LONDON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax recently told Sir Stafford Cripps, British Ambassador in Moscow, to seek further trade negotiations with Russia as soon as possible, R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, told Commons today.

Soviet circles in London said that Great Britain will have to recognize the absorption of the Baltic States into the Soviet Union if she wants better British-Russian relations.

The Latvian, Estonian and Lithuanian legations, heads of which never have recognized the action of their States in joining the Soviet, still are operating in London.

The Russians said that they want to know whether Great Britain will continue to deal with these, or will recognize the new situation by dealing through the Russian embassy on matters affecting the Baltic countries.

British sources said that the position of these legations was obscure, and indicated that any immediate steps either to recognize officially or refuse to recognize the Baltic union with the Soviet was very improbable.

One British act which the Russians did not like was the freezing of the credits of the Baltic States. It is asserted the British also have declined to fuel and provision seven Baltic ships which the Soviet has chartered.

Soviet sources here said that Russia was glad to have business relations with Britain, but "wishful thinkers would do well to stop trying to push the Soviet into a war against Germany."

WARNING BY LLOYD GEORGE

'Tempest About to Break' on Britain, He Tells Welsh

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP)—David Lloyd George, World War Prime Minister, warned his fellow Welshmen in a broadcast today that "such a tempest as Britain has never before encountered is about to break upon her and all that she stands for."

But if the people are worthy of their forefathers, he continued, "Britain will pass through this hurricane fearless and erect and will emerge from its rage mightier and more honored and more powerful than ever for the good of mankind."

The occasion for the message asking the Welsh to steel themselves was to express sympathy on the cancellation of the Eisteddfod, Welsh national singing festival.

London Hails Donovan's Trip

AUG 8-1940

London, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Laborite Daily Herald today declared a report by Col. William J. Donovan, emissary of the United States Secretary of the Navy, on his recent flying trip to England "should have a far-reaching effect on America's war effort."

The newspaper said Colonel Donovan's trip was a "great success." It added the World War officer came over to check up on the British war effort.

Chinese Vs. French

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 7—A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Shanghai today said the Chinese were reported to have warned French authorities they would take military measures if the Japanese were permitted to establish bases in French Indo-China.

It quoted the Chinese press as reporting that Chinese troops were moving toward the frontier of Indo-China and that defensive preparations were being rushed.

Chinese reports from Shanghai two days ago said Japan had made new, sweeping demands on the French Indo-China Government, including the right to use the French railway into the Chinese province of Yunnan for military operations and to establish a military or naval base on the Indo-China coast.

An official Japanese spokesman in Tokyo, however, denied the reports.

A thrust from along the Yunnan railway, which runs from Haiphong, on the Indo-China coast, to Kunming, capital of Yunnan, would menace the southwestern provinces of China, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's main stronghold.

Cudahy Plea Fails

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—The State Department asked Ambassador Joseph Kennedy in London today for a complete text of the interview given there yesterday by John P. Cudahy, Ambassador to Belgium, which was sharply criticized in the British press.

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 7—The Ministry of Economic Warfare said today that Britain refused to deviate from her policy of keeping food shipments out of German-occupied territory and added that there need not be any famine in Europe this winter.

Ministry experts said the Continent's harvests and reserves ought to be adequate to prevent any general famine—unless the Germans take the best for themselves and leave the conquered populations hungry.

The Ministry statement followed British press criticism of an implied plea by the United States Ambassador to Belgium, John Cudahy, that the British Navy open its blockade for food shipments. Cudahy said Belgium would be close to famine by early fall unless food was sent from the United States.

Food shipments would not be allowed through the blockade, even if they were to be distributed by an organization which the British could trust completely, one authoritative source said.

The British view was that any food would ease the situation for the Germans, relieving them of troubles with hungry people.

The harvests will not be bumper crops this year, this source continued, but he maintained that if famine should occur it would be due solely to "Nazi rapacity in looting stocks for the Reich."

He quoted a statement by Adolf Hitler to the Reichstag July 19 that "food supplies are assured for the duration of the war, thanks to measures taken in time" over the whole economic areas controlled by Germany and Italy.

The Daily Express said any food sent to Belgium from America would be used only to feed the German army.

The Express, declaring that Cudahy's point of view would carry great weight in the United States, expressed concern lest many Americans be inclined to blame the British blockade for a forthcoming famine.

"The best reply to Mr. Cudahy's story," the newspaper said, "is to tell the world how Hitler hopes to starve out women and children."

The News Chronicle termed Cudahy's remarks sensational.

"It is generally felt," the News Chronicle said, "that on grounds of good taste alone this is hardly the time for a foreign diplomat ostensibly in England on a purely private visit to praise openly German conduct in their invasion of a neutral country and by implication to make it appear that Britain is responsible for famine in Belgium and other German-occupied territory."

British to Purchase All of Egypt's Cotton

LONDON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, announced today that Great Britain was setting up a commission to buy the entire 1940 Egyptian cotton crop of 1,000,000 bales (800,000,000 pounds).

Mr. Butler said this was done on the appeal of Egypt, the usual outlets for the cotton of which have been cut off by the war. The purchase will be made before April 4, 1941, he said, at prices of about 14.25 cents to 15.25 cents a pound.

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT WILL BEAR THE WHOLE OF ANY NET LOSS WHICH MAY ARISE FROM THE TRANSACTION AND WILL SHARE EQUALLY WITH THE EGYPTIAN GOVERNMENT ANY NET PROFITS.

AUG 8-1940

FW1129AED

30.24-4175

30.24-4175

Irish Ready for Invader; Hidden Guns Brought Out

Arms Used in 'The Trouble' Are Uncovered

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Aug. 7 (AP).—The Irish are ready to fight any invader with the weapons they once used in the days of "The Trouble."

Police and other officials winked today and shook off awkward questions as hidden arms caches, in both Ulster and Southern Ireland, were brought out to arm local defense forces.

In southern Ireland hundreds of rifles, pistols and machine guns and piles of ammunition, hidden for eighten years, were being handed out to the Home Guards. They had been greased, wrapped in oil-soaked cloths and stored away when the fighting between Free Staters and Republicans ceased in 1922.

Northern Ireland local defense forces are being armed with rifles smuggled into Ulster by Unionists when the Northern Irish decided to fight home rule.

AUG 8-1940

Gracie Fields Offers Britain Her Fortune

By the Associated Press.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—Gracie Fields, British comedienne, was quoted today in a telephoned interview as saying that she intended to return to England, that "everything I have is the government's, if they want it," and that she was "sick and tired of this whole business" of criticism of her American war work tour.

[Yesterday a British treasury spokesman told the House of Commons in London that Miss Fields and her husband, Monty Banks, an Italian, were allowed to take a total of about $112,000 from England to the United States.]

"All my assets are in England," said Miss Fields. "I don't know why I should be persecuted like this. Let the government look up their files. They will soon find out I haven't taken everything out the country."

AUG 8-1940

Gives Concerts Free

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP).—An accountant for Gracie Fields today declared she had "substantial assets" in England.

The Navy League, meantime, reported Miss Fields had arranged to give her services without a fee at 32 concerts from Vancouver to Halifax, to help supply comforts to the men of the British Navy.

"MY HOME IS IN ENGLAND. I INTEND TO GO BACK. MY HUSBAND HASN'T DONE ANYTHING WRONG AND NEITHER HAVE I X X X I HAVEN'T EARNED A PENNY FOR MYSELF SINCE THE WAR STARTED. X X X I HAVE TURNED DOWN SEVERAL ATTRACTIVE OFFERS TO DO THIS WORK. IT IS NOT FAIR."

THE LANCASHIRE ACTRESS PLANNED A PERSONAL APPEARANCE HERE TODAY.

AUG 8-1940

Greek Ship Survivors Land

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Aug. 7 (AP).—Twenty-nine survivors of the crew of a Greek vessel torpedoed off Tory Island, near the northwest Donegal coast. Sunday night landed in lifeboats at Carrigart yesterday. The torpedoed ship carried a crew of thirty-two. The vessel was identified as the 4,360-ton Pindos, carrying corn from Argentina to Britain. Three of the crew were killed.

Swedes Repatriate Britons

125 Interned After Norwegian Campaign Are Sent Home

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP).—One hundred and twenty-five British soldiers, airmen and seamen arrived in a Swedish steamship at a north Scottish port today from Finland, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported.

They had been interned in Sweden, having made their way there after the removal of British troops from Norway. Another 111 British soldiers are to be repatriated, and when they arrive in the United Kingdom, the B. B. C. said, Sweden will release seventy interned German airmen.

Empire East of Suez To Co-ordinate War

LONDON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—A Reuters dispatch from Simla, India, today said that it was understood that leaders of British dominions and possessions beyond the Suez Canal and bordering on the Indian Ocean would confer at New Delhi in October.

The conference would strengthen arrangements for exchange of war materials among British territories. Australia, New Zealand, India, Malaya, South Africa and the East African colonies would be represented.

Guests Of King

London, Thursday, Aug. 8 (AP)—John Cudahy, United States Ambassador to Belgium, and Joseph P. Kennedy, United States Ambassador to Great Britain, were luncheon guests of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth yesterday, the court circular announced today.

5,500,000 Tons of Ships Fled Nazis to British

Gross Merchant Tonnage Came From 6 Invaded Nations

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP).—The Ministry of Shipping announced tonight that British shipping strength had been increased by about 10,000,000 dead-weight tons as a result of the German invasion of Poland, Norway, Denmark, Belgium, Holland and France. In gross tonnage, which is approximately five-ninths of the dead-weight tonnage, the total would be 5,000,000, or more than one-fourth the empire's pre-war shipping gross tonnage of about 21,000,000.

The ministry, using only dead-weight figures, said that of the additional shipping available to Great Britain, about 5,500,000 tons was Norwegian, 3,000,000 Dutch and 500,000 under control of the Belgian and Polish governments.

In addition, Danish shipping seized for the British service and transferred to the British flag amounts to 500,000 tons and French shipping retained under British control another 500,000.

Communiques of Belligerents

British

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP).—An Air Ministry communique tonight said:

Last (Tuesday) night Royal Air Force bombers, hampered by low clouds and poor visibility, were forced to abandon many of their primary objectives.

In spite of this, an oil plant at Homburg and a supply depot at Schwerte, a flak (anti-aircraft defense ship) battery at Hamborn, and a factory at Mors were attacked, while other aircraft bombed airdromes in Holland and northern Germany, causing damage to hangars and many fires. One of our aircraft is missing.

A communique of the Ministry of Home Security early today follows:

During the night enemy aircraft dropped some incendiary bombs in two districts in Scotland.

More leaflets containing Hitler's recent Reichstag speech and a small number of bombs also fell in the Bristol Channel area.

Damage was negligible and there were no casualties.

NAIROBI, Kenya, Aug. 7 (AP).—A British communique issued here today said:

Yesterday two enemy aircraft bombed Wajir without success. They were pursued by our fighter aircraft.

Hits were registered on one enemy machine. Both escaped in clouds.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 7 (AP).—Today's British communique issued here said:

On Aug. 5 an Italian column entered Zeila unopposed.

The same day Hargeisa was captured by a strong force which included tanks, artillery, machine guns and aircraft. Our delaying force fell back after inflicting severe casualties, including three tanks. Our casualties were slight.

During the morning of Aug. 6 Oadweina was occupied by the enemy with a force estimated at 2,000, with guns and armored fighting vehicles.

A small motorized force of the Somaliland Camel Corps harassed the enemy, themselves suffering no loss.

In Palestine enemy aircraft again raided Haifa during the morning of Aug. 6. A number of bombs were dropped, nearly all of which fell harmlessly in the sea or on waste ground.

No bombs fell in the town. Military casualties were nil, and civilian casualties under ten as the defense came quickly into action and opened heavy fire on the raiders.

In the western desert some enemy movements were reported, otherwise all was quiet.

In the Sudan and Kenya, nothing to report.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 7 (AP).—Today's high command communique follows:

A German warship sank 30,000 tons of enemy merchant shipping in foreign waters.

Our planes bombed airports near Tynemouth and St. Athan, as well as airplane factories of Vickers-Armstrongs in Chester and plants of the munitions industry in Swansea.

British planes, which flew into Holland and western Germany in small numbers last night, dropped bombs at various places without causing damage worth mentioning.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 7 (AP).—Today's Italian communique said:

Our air formations have bombed the oil center of Haifa (Palestine) for the third time setting fire to more gasoline tanks and hitting the port works. All our planes returned.

According to news from reliable sources fires caused by the first bombardment of Haifa lasted several days. The Shell refinery was destroyed in the second bombardment.

In North Africa enemy encampments south of Sollum and the Alexandria-Mersa Matruh Railway were bombed. An English four-motored plane of the Sunderland type (flying boat) was shot down by our chasers in front of Tabruk and the crew, composed of three officers and eight men, were taken prisoner.

In East Africa the air and naval bases of Aden and Berbera were effectively bombed and an enemy plane was shot down. Our columns have crossed the British Somaliland frontier at several points.

Gayda Denies Axis Aims Here

Fascist Editor Accuses Hull of Creating Phantom for Political Purposes.

ROME, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, replied today to the warning of Secretary Hull against the danger of aggression by declaring that Germany and Italy have no intention of carrying the war into the Western Hemisphere.

Signor Gayda, who frequently expresses the views of the Italian Government, wrote in Il Giornale D'Italia that Mr. Hull was creating a phantom of German-Italian menace for political purposes.

"It is evident that Hull would like to alarm the American nations with a feeling that a transfer of the war to the American continent by the victorious Axis Powers is more or less imminent," Signor Gayda wrote.

Calls Insinuation Unfounded.

"It is well now to point out once more that this insinuation is absolutely unfounded, arbitrary and—let it be said with respect for the eminent American statesman—tendentious rather than provocative."

[Hull's statement asked the American people yesterday to "be ready and willing for real sacrifice of time and substance and for hard personal service" and to "arm to such an extent that the forces of conquest and ruin will not dare to make an attack on us or any part of this Hemisphere."]

Italy and Germany entered the war to solve European problems and "never thought and will never think of threatening other continents," Signor Gayda asserted.

Imperialism Is Charged.

The editor declared that Mr. Hull was attempting to "create an atmosphere favorable to that of the objectives of American politics."

One of these objectives, he continued, was "North American imperialism directed toward a monopolizing political, financial and economic control over other American countries under the specious pretext of non-existent threats from across the ocean."

Other objectives, said Gayda, were that of "a banking affair which speculates on artificial panic and war business to multiply its profits."

Gibraltar Reported Bombed.

ROME, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Another bombing of Gibraltar last night was reported today in a dispatch from Algeciras to Il Giornale d'Italia. The dispatch said that two planes flew over the British fortress dropping high explosive bombs and escaped in spite of strong anti-aircraft fire.

This is the second raid on Gibraltar reported by the Italian press which was not mentioned in the High Command communiques.

The Italian Air Force, raiding in Egypt, bombed a British encampment south of Sollum, near the Libyan frontier, and a railroad line running from Mersa Matruh to Alexandria, it was announced by the Italian High Command today.

A four-motored British Sunderland plane was shot down by Italian fighter planes in the Mediterranean, near Tobruk, on the Libyan side of the frontier, and all the crew of eight men were taken prisoner, the communique said. Stefani, the official Italian news agency, said that the flying boat sank quickly after hitting the sea, but the crew clung to the wreckage until they were picked up by an Italian warship.

Further east the Italians reported an effective bombardment of the British naval bases at Aden and Berbera, on the Gulf of Aden. One British plane was reported shot there.

The Italians also confirmed reports that an invasion of British Somaliland had begun at several points, and the newspaper Il Messagero said that Italian planes had bombed important British fortifications there.

Italian planes were also reported by the Italian High Command to have bombed the port of Haifa in Palestine for the third time. Gasoline storage tanks were set afire and port facilities damaged, the communique said. All the Italian raiders were reported to have returned safely.

Rome Claims Successes; Hull Attacked In Press

Rome, Aug. 7 (AP)—Italian infantrymen smashed across the British Somaliland frontier in East Africa at several points tonight and Fascist authorities claimed "conspicuous results" by bombers attacking British African bases preliminary to a vast military drive.

At the same time influential spokesmen charged Secretary of State Hull of the United States was "creating a phantom of German-Italian menace" to the Americas for political purposes.

Italians Capture 3 African Towns

Cairo, Aug. 7 (AP)—A British communique today announced the Italians had entered Zeila, Gulf of Aden port in British Somaliland, and captured Hargeisa by strong force after a thirty-mile march through the desert.

Oadweina, a third Italian objective, in their Near East drive, was occupied yesterday by a column estimated at 2,000 men equipped with guns and armored vehicles, the British announced.

AUG 8-1940

[By the Associated Press]

Rome, Aug. 7—Italian planes were reported today by the high command to have bombed the port of Haifa in Palestine for the third time in a widespread air attack on British positions in the Near East and Red Sea zone.

Naval bases at Aden and Berbera, on the Gulf of Aden, also were reported subjected to "effective bombardment." One British plane was reported shot down.

Gasoline storage tanks were set afire and port facilities damaged in the attack on Haifa, a communique said. All the Italians raiders were said to have returned safely.

(A dispatch from Jerusalem said damage and casualties at Haifa were believed slight.)

Encampment Bombed

In Egypt, Italian flyers bombed a British encampment south of Sollum, near the Libyan frontier, and a railroad line running from Mersa Matruh to Alexandria, it was announced.

A four-motored British Sunderland plane was shot down by Italian fighter planes in the Mediterranean about twenty miles off Tobruk, on the Libyan side of the frontier. Its crew was taken prisoner, the communique said.

Stefani, official Italian news agency, reported three officers and eight members of the crew clung to wreckage until picked up by an Italian warship.

The Italians confirmed reports that an invasion of British Somaliland had begun at several points. The newspaper Il Messagero said Italian planes bombed important British fortifications there.

The text of the high command communique:

"Our air formations have bombed the oil center of Haifa (Palestine) for the third time, setting fire to more gasoline tanks and hitting the port works. All our planes returned.

"According to news from reliable sources fires caused by the first bombardment of Haifa lasted several days. The Shell Refinery was destroyed in the second bombardment.

Railway Bombed

"In North Africa, enemy encampments south of Sollum and the Alexandria-Mersa Matruh railway were bombed. An English four-motored plane of the Sunderland type was shot down by our chasers in front of Tobruk and the crew, composed of three officers and eight men, was taken prisoner.

"In East Africa the air and naval bases of Aden and Berbera were effectively bombed and an enemy plane was shot down. Our columns have crossed the British Somaliland frontier at several points."

Italian Casualty List

Italian military authorities announced today the loss of 337 men dead and missing in war operations during July, bringing the total since Italy entered the war to 1,916.

July casualty lists showed eighty-nine flyers killed and sixty-two missing. Navy casualties were ninety-nine killed and sixty-nine missing. The army loss was eighteen in East Africa.

Wounded airmen numbered 109 and wounded sailors 130.

The Government previously had announced the loss of 151 airmen, 610 naval officers and seamen and 818 troops killed on the French front.

ITALY LOSES 337 MEN

Announcement Covers July Dead and Missing.

ROME, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Italian military authorities announced today the loss of 337 dead and missing in war operations during July, bringing the total since Italy entered the war to 1,916.

The July casualty lists showed eighty-nine fliers killed and sixty-two missing. Navy casualties were ninety-nine killed and sixty-nine missing. The army loss was eighteen in East Africa.

Wounded airmen numbered 109 and wounded sailors 130.

The Government previously had announced the loss of 151 airmen, 610 naval officers and seamen and 818 troops killed on the French front.

Axis Already Talking Trade War With U. S.

[By the Associated Press]

Rome, Aug. 7—Germany and Italy already are talking of a trade war with the United States for South America's markets in the event the two totalitarian powers complete their conquest of Europe by defeating Great Britain.

It would be a war of countries without gold against the United States which holds 80 per cent of the world's monetary gold reserve—a commercial conflict between Fascist Europe and democratic America.

Il Sole, of Milan, Italy's leading financial newspaper, has openly challenged Washington's plan to forestall an economic penetration of the Axis powers into Latin America.

Plan Adopted At Havana

(The recent Pan-American conference in Havana agreed to the establishment of a broad economic plan originated by Secretary of State Cordell Hull for immediate relief of countries burdened with exports shut off from European markets and development of an independent American system strong enough to prevent foreign customers from forcing unfair trade terms or practices upon individual countries. The conference set up a committee to prepare a system of economic cooperation.)

A Swiss newspaper reports that Hjalmar Schacht, Nazi financial expert, is working in a South German castle on a plan for Hitler by which nations would trade with Germany without gold.

Would Trade By Barter

Under the Fascist-Nazi plan each European country would keep its own currency which would be pegged arbitrarily to the reichsmark, lira or some other unit of trade value. But this money would be worthless outside the country of its circulation, and trade would be conducted by bartering merchandise.

Virginio Gayda, authoritative editor, outlined this plan in his Giornale d'Italia.

Europe, he said, would be divided into two great interlocking economic blocs with their centers at Berlin and Rome. The countries within the same area would trade largely with one another, some supplying raw materials to manufacturing countries in exchange for manufactured goods.

Would Share Balkans

The German bloc probably would be composed of all European countries including France and Great Britain down to the Mediterranean nations. Rome would be the center for the countries on the Mediterranean shores, with both partners in the Axis sharing control of the Balkans.

The Nazi-Fascist domination would be political as well as economic.

"All Europe," said Gayda, "is going toward Fascism which is only taking different forms according to the nations and their development."

Ramifications in Latin America appeared in Il Sole's discussion of Washington's plan to buy South America's surpluses in the hope of creating a unified Western Hemisphere trade area.

Criticism Of Hull

Il Sole said "Cordell Hull, in thinking up this plan, forgot two things—the attitude and interests of the South American republics and, above all, the reactions of the Axis.

"Brazil, Chile and Argentina have refused to take part in the so-called commission of economic cooperation, being naturally unwilling to take part in a plan essentially directed at consolidating the United States' economic domination of the American continent. . . ."

(Reports from Havana at the time of the conference did not indicate Argentina, Brazil and Chile had refused to participate in the economic plan, although those three nations, with others, made reservations to another declaration concerning the status of European possessions in America. The reservations prescribed that the delegations' signature were subject to the approval of the various home government.)

"Propaganda" Against Gold

"Since the outbreak of the war," Il Sole added, "these states have been obliged to concentrate their imports in the North American market."

In a Nazi-Fascist ordered world trade, it asserted, "the gold with which the Federal vaults of Washington now is overflowing will cease to have a monetary function and will simply take its place among other precious metals."

(American financial authorities are inclined to look upon continued statements from Axis quarters that gold may become useless as "propaganda," designed to weaken American confidence in the strength of its financial position. On July 25, German Economics Minister Funk said in Berlin gold would not occupy the position it has held in the past, but conceded it may be considered useful after the war in settling international balances. Inside Germany, the Nazi regime has placed such a high valuation on gold it has even imposed the death penalty on persons hoarding gold or trying to smuggle it out of the country.)

WOULD EXPEL JEWS FROM ALL EUROPE

Nazis Say Aim Is Clearance of Entire Continent.

BERLIN, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—A European continent without Jews—who would be banished to some remote corner of the globe—will be one of the prerequisites for a German peace, Das Schwarze Korps, organ of Adolf Hitler's Storm Trooper elite guard, said today.

The paper warned that Jews everywhere in Europe would be driven from their "hide-outs," despite the present observance of camouflaged restraint. Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium and both occupied and unoccupied France were nations singled out for mention.

"Jews in these countries," said the paper, "have readily disappeared from public life, and withdrawn from civil offices and editorial rooms."

A similar trend is noticeable in all neutral Europe, the paper stated.

The article implied that present anti-Semitic measures in various European States are too weak to suit the Germans.

"The European Jewish question is not to be solved through homeopathic remedies and not by administrative and humane directions," it said.

"Germany will solve her own Jew question herself. As soon as the last Jew is driven out of Germany, the rest of Europe, which is awaiting a German peace, may know that this peace must be one without Jews."

The paper declared in scornful language that the Jews, together with Britons, tried "to convert all Europe into a chaotic, bloodsoaked battlefield."

It warned that the Jews must pay the bill.

"Germany's and Italy's victory," it said, "will secure space far away from European labor and culture where the scum of humanity may try to lead a life of its own toil or die the death it has earned."

NO JEWS IN EUROPE SAID TO BE NAZI AIM

Schwarze Korps Says They and Britain Have Sought Chaos

BERLIN, Aug. 7 (AP)—A German peace will mean a "Jewless peace," the Schwarze Korps, mouthpiece of Adolf Hitler's Elite Guard, proclaimed today.

Once the war is won some area remote from Europe will be set apart for Jewish colonization, the paper said, and then the Continent will be cleared entirely of Jews.

The Schwarze Korp's discussion of a "peace without Jews" declared Jews had cooperated with Britain in an attempt to "convert all Europe into a chaotic, blood-soaked battlefield." Therefore they must pay the bill, the paper said.

A German-Italian victory, the paper explained, "will secure space far away from European labor and culture where the scum of humanity may try to lead a life of its own toil or die a death it earned."

The article implied that anti-Semitic measures already put into effect in various European countries were too weak, and that solution on a continental scale was necessary.

30.24-477

30.24-4177

The paper warned that Jews everywhere in Europe would be driven from their "hideouts," despite the present observance of "camouflaged restraint." Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium and both occupied and unoccupied France were mentioned.

"Jews in these countries," said the paper, "have readily disappeared from public life and withdrawn from civil offices and editorial rooms."

A similar trend is noticeable in all neutral Europe, the paper stated.

THREE NEW NAZI RULERS NAMED

AUG 8-1940

To Govern Alsace, Lorraine and Luxemburg.

CIVIL LAW RESTORED THERE

Meanwhile War-torn France Is Revealed as Almost Deserted.

BERLIN, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The entire civil administration of Alsace-Lorraine and Luxemburg has been taken out of the hands of the military and placed under civilian officials by a decree of Adolf Hitler.

The Nazi district leaders—Joseph Buerckel in Lorraine, Robert Wagner in Alsace and Gustav Simon in Luxemburg—have already been active in their offices.

Yesterday German was declared the official language in the occupied Grand Duchy of Luxemburg whose Grand Duchess is a refugee abroad. Alsace and Lorraine were German territory before the last world war.

At the same time Hitler shuffled the Hitler Youth leadership. Buerckel, who since the annexation of Austria has been Governor and Nazi district leader in Vienna, was replaced by Baldur von Schirach, who served at the western front as a private in the world war and emerged as a lieutenant with the Iron Cross.

Schirach was relieved of his duties as leader of the Hitler Youth Group and succeeded by Arthur Axman. As Reich's leader of Youth Education in the Nazi party, Schirach was entrusted with inspection of the entire Youth organization.

Axis Attitude On Turkey

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 7—Authorized German sources said today that although Turkey has certain understandings with England, Germany was not exerting any special pressure for clarification of her tand in the war.

Reports that Germany and Italy had asked the Ankara Government to define its attitude were current yesterday in Rome.

AUG 8-1940

(Today, however, Italian authorities cast doubt on these reports, saying Italy's policy toward Turkey was "one of reserve.")

The German sources added:

"Since the beginning of the war we have put certain questions to Turkey at various times, all of which have been answered. We also have concluded a trade agreement."

(Soon after the European war began Turkey concluded a mutual assistance pact with the British-French Allies by which she undertook to go to their aid in the event of an act of aggression leading to war in the Mediterranean area. However, although Italy and Britain now are at war in the Mediterranean, Turkey has remained neutral.)

Krupp Gets Hitler Badge On His 70th Birthday

Fuehrer Inspects Arms Plants on Visit to Essen

BERLIN, Aug. 7 (AP).—Adolf Hitler congratulated Dr. Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, head of Germany's greatest armament works, on his seventieth birthday anniversary and presented to him a golden Nazi honor badge on a brief visit to Essen today.

Dr. Walther Funk, Minister of Economics and member of the wartime Cabinet, gave Krupp the Eagle Shield of the Reich in recognition of his service to German economy.

Hitler left Essen after inspecting Krupp factories.

Envoy to Lithuania Speeds Back to U. S.

GENEVA, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Owen J. C. Norem, United States Minister to Lithuania who was recalled to Washington "for consultation" after Russia's absorption of the three Baltic States, arrived here today en route to Lisbon. He will travel by trans-Atlantic plane to New York.

AUG 8-1940

Hollywood's Slacks Not for Italian Women

ROME, Aug. 7 (AP).—Italian women who wear trousers and big sun glasses were upbraided today by Premier Benito Mussolini's newspaper, "Il Popolo d'Italia."

AUG 8-1940

They are accused of aping American film stars, and of wearing costumes which not only were in bad taste, but sacrificed the wearers' femininity.

LONGER FRENCH WORK WEEK

Berlin Radio Reports Plan In Vichy For 51-Hour Shift

Berlin, Aug. 7 (AP)—The German wireless today quoted the French newspaper L'Oeuvre at Vichy, as forecasting a fifty-one-hour work week for Frenchmen which will not result in increased wages.

The Government has already entered into negotiations with employers to pay workmen wages only for thirty hours a week even if the working hours should be increased, the paper was quoted as saying.

AUG 8-1940

Battle Areas Almost Deserted

Once Populous Region of North France Is Revealed as Still Barely Inhabited.

War-torn Areas Deserted.

LUXEMBURG, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—More than a month after the end of the fighting, the once populous communities of north France are still but the ghosts of towns today in a battle-scarred, almost deserted countryside.

In the backwash of the blitzkrieg are left unharvested crops . . . a handful of scattered farm families toiling silently, long after dark, to salvage what they can . . . city pavements plowed by Stuka bombs . . . the strong smell of ashes from the ruins of shelled towns.

A party of foreign correspondents, taken by German guides on an airplane and automobile tour of north France and Flanders, entered France from Karlsruhe. They found that Strasbourg, the Alsatian capital, which once had a population of 200,000, was not severely damaged, but housed barely 20,000 persons.

Miles of Territory Uninhabited.

It was evident, however, that families were streaming back to the city, now reincorporated into the Reich, but elsewhere the repopulation of Alsace and Lorraine was proceeding at a snail's pace.

The Belgian population seemed to be returning more rapidly, and Brussels was a hive of activity. That was probably due in part to the presence of numerous officers and soldiers at the large hotels, buying freely, living well.

With German marks, the Nazi troopers buy heavily of Belgian goods at a favorable rate of exchange fixed by the occupation authorities.

In the north of France, however, the correspondents went mile after mile without seeing a man, woman or child. Occasionally they passed a soldier on guard.

It was plain that the French in some places had fought bitterly, as they were shoved back yard by yard, town by town. Hastily built machine-gun nests could be seen in old barns and at crossroads houses. Roads were blasted with craters from heavy bombs.

In other spots where the retreat had been quickened, whole fields lay untouched by the signs of war and emergency trenches dug at the outskirts of towns showed almost no signs of use.

An authorized spokesman at Karlsruhe said that the German authorities would encourage the repatriation of Alsatians, but that the machinery even so would be slow. The Germans estimated that 400,000 persons had fled Alsace alone.

In Belgium repatriation was made easier because fewer homes and cities had been wrecked. It was evident, even beyond this, that the Germans are pursuing a more liberal policy of rehabilitation in Belgium than has been undertaken yet in the north of France.

The Germans, however, said that food was being sent into France to care for those who had stayed behind during the flight, or who have since returned.

Heavy Firing Reported Off Coast Of Africa

Valencia, Spain, Aug. 7 (AP)—Valencia fishermen told today of intensive cannonading heard all the way from the Island of Formentera to the Algerian coast of Africa in the last few days.

The reports suggested a Mediterranean naval battle, but there were no eyewitness accounts.

Formentera, a Spanish island, lies about one hundred miles southeast of Valencia.

Kilo (Cat) Rations

Amsterdam (via Berlin), Aug. 7 (AP)—Dutch cats and dogs have to get in line with Nazi orders for eating.

AUG 8-1940

A rationing order today said cats must have no more than a kilogram and a half (3 1/3 pounds) of food in August. Dogs are allowed from 3 to 12 kilograms, depending on size.

I. L. O. AIDES LEAVE GENEVA.

13 With Families Start Trip to U. S. to Join Winant

GENEVA, Aug. 7 (AP)—Thirteen officials of the International Labor Office and their families left today by bus for Lisbon en route to the United States to join the I. L. O. director, John G. Winant.

Eight League of Nations experts headed by Alexander Loveday, Economic and Financial Section director, left yesterday on their way to Princeton, N. J., as "partial acceptance" of invitations to establish the League's technical services in the United States.

The eight who left yesterday were involved in a bus crash at Grenoble, France, but none were injured seriously, a League communiqué announced.

German-Swiss Pact Extended

BERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Swiss Government announced today that the old German-Swiss bank clearing and commercial agreement, which expired July 31, has been extended to Aug. 15 due to the failure of two missions, now sitting in Berlin, to reach a new agreement before the expiration date.

GOV. DUNDAS SAILS FROM BAHAMAS

Leaves Islands Before Duke of Windsor's Arrival.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The Bahamas will prosper under the administration of the Duke of Windsor, the retiring Governor, Sir Charles Dundas, declared in a farewell broadcast to the islands before sailing today for his new post as Governor of Uganda in Africa.

"I leave you now in distinguished and capable hands," he said. "The Bahamas have fared well even in time of war, but I predict that when peace returns they will prosper more than ever.

"Naturally, your future, like that of the whole world, depends on the return of peace with victory for the British arms. A German victory could bring only unending war and misery, because the world as a whole would never remain passive under German domination. . . ."

The retiring Governor said that the Bahamas "will always feel near to their great neighboring country, the United States."

"This war," he added, "has demonstrated profoundly that the hope of the world for liberty and justice rests on British and American cooperation."

Sir Charles and Lady Dundas sailed on the steamship Acadia. Their path will not cross that of the Duke and his American-born wife, who are expected to land at Bermuda tomorrow. British law forbids a Governor to take his wife to Uganda, and Lady Dundas will remain in South Africa, separated from her husband for the first time since their marriage in 1920.

Weygand's Son Escapes Nazis In North France

Among Many Now Returning After Being Given Up; Others on Death Lists

VICHY, France, Aug. 7 (AP).—Capt. Jacques Weygand, son of Gen. Maxime Weygand, arrived here today after escaping from his German captors in northern France and walking nearly 300 miles before crossing into "free" territory. Capt. Weygand, who fought throughout the war with the forces which his father commanded, resumed his duties at the war office immediately upon arrival.

He is only one of thousands of fighting men drifting back to receive a welcome from parents or wives who had given them up for dead. The fate of many others is being learned belatedly with publication of long delayed casualty lists and the names of those now held in German prison camps.

Mme. Francois Pietri, wife of the communications minister, learned that her son, Lieut. Edmond Carrachin, is a prisoner in German-occupied territory. As the Germans said they would permit her to visit him, she is one of the first women who will attempt to go to prison camps in northern France to comfort sons and husbands who must wait until a treaty of peace is signed to obtain their freedom.

The fate of the bearers of many famous French names, including descendants of Napoleon's marshals, was disclosed in the first trickle of authentic information.

Viscount De Rohan, president of the French automobile club, received news that his son, Count Henri De Rohan, had been killed in aerial combat against the Germans.

Prince Paul Murat, a descendant of the King of Naples and a cavalry officer at the start of the war, was reported imprisoned at Montereau.

Prince D'Essling, a descendant of Marshal Massena and a veteran of the World War, was seriously wounded leading tanks into action.

The Duc D'Albufera, a descendant of Marshal Suchet and an officer of dragoons, was listed as a German prisoner. His brother, Count Napoleon D'Albufera, escaped.

Count De Vogue, son-in-law of Count Vladimir D'Ormesson, French Ambassador to the Vatican, was reported killed in action. His father, Count Charles De Vogue, was killed in the last war.

Count Antoine De Jumilhac, a cavalry officer, was listed as missing since May 24.

Count Stanislaus D'Herbemont is a prisoner of war in Germany, and Viscount D'Allieres, whose mother was an American, was seriously wounded in a mine explosion.

Air pilot Jean Schneider, son of Eugene Schneider, head of the Creusot Munitions Works, was seriously burned in his flaming plane after downing five German planes, but has since recovered at an American hospital in Paris and is now serving as a member of the French Armistice Commission at Wiesbaden.

Marcel Thil, champion French boxer, was demobilized at Carcassonne and is returning to the coal business at Reims.

Alex Youssen, heavyweight boxer, is awaiting demobilization from the air service at Clermont-Ferrand and plans to return to New York to resume fighting in the ring.

Nazis Block Repopulation.

VICHY, France, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The repatriation of refugees from Belgium and Lorraine was suspended today as a result of German refusal to allow the passage of refugee trains into occupied France.

The reason for the German order was not made public, but it was understood to be a temporary measure.

Mail service between occupied and unoccupied France has been suspended for several days.

Munitions Train Blast Hurts Twenty In France

Dozens Of Cars Loaded With Explosives Catch Fire—Nearby Buildings Razed

Miramas, France, Aug. 7 (AP)—Dozens of freight cars loaded with munitions exploded today during a fire of unidentified origin, injuring twenty persons and leveling nearby buildings in this large rail center west of Marseille and near the French seaplane base at Istres.

Railroad workers moved eighty carloads of munitions out of the danger area. The fire spread to the other cars and prevented their removal.

Violent explosions continued through the morning and afternoon until the explosives in the fire zone had been blown up.

French Press Demands Anti-Petain Bloc Curb

[By the Associated Press]

Vichy, France, Aug. 7—The French press charged today that "old politicians" continue to make propaganda to create a troubled atmosphere for the new post-armistice Government of Premier Marshal Henri Petain.

The newspaper Le Journal said those who do not love the Petain Government must fear it and "by striking the leaders quickly and severely the Supreme Court will put an end to this dangerous situation."

Case Opens Tomorrow

The Supreme Court is to meet at Riom, near Vichy, tomorrow for formal opening of the case of those accused of plunging France into war unprepared.

Punishment of the leaders, said Le Journal today, would be a warning to accomplices still at large.

The names of persons to come before the Riom court have not been announced, but former Premiers Edouard Daladier and Paul Reynaud are the chief figures around whom press comment centers.

Inquiry May Take Months

Le Journal said the court investigation would "go deeply into the ten-year period preceding the war." This would include the popular-front regime of Premier Leon Blum.

The period of judicial investigation may take months. Proceedings will be in strict secrecy. During this period formal charges will be lodged. Public trial will come later.

Laval Reported in Paris

May Be Seeking Authority to Move Petain Government There

PARIS, Aug. 6 (delayed) ((AP) via Berlin).—Pierre Laval, Vice-Premier of the Petain government of France, was reported today to have arrived in Paris. It could not be learned immediately how long he would remain here.

German Permission Withheld

The Petain government at Vichy has been seeking German permission to establish its seat at Paris to govern unoccupied France, but permission thus far has not been granted. There was a possibility that Laval might have gone to Paris in a personal attempt to gain authority to move the government to Paris.

German's Claim Sinking.

BERLIN, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The German High Command announced today that a German raider had sunk 30,000 tons of British merchant shipping overseas. No further deails were given.

[On July 31, London disclosed the presence of a German raider in the South Atlantic in a report that the British armed merchant cruiser Alcantara had fought a battle with it. The raider escaped.

Air attacks on England continued, with raids on airplane and munitions plants, the High Command said.

RUMANIA FEELS NAZI PRESSURE

Controlled Press Publishes Berlin's Criticism

HUNGARIAN AGREEMENT ASKED

Meanwhile Bucharest Envoy Goes to Budapest Parley.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Indications of German impatience with delay in the settlement of the territorial controversy between Hungary and Rumania were seen by diplomatic observers today as Raoul Bossy, Rumanian minister to Rome, arrived in Budapest to learn Hungary's minimum demands for the return of Transylvania.

Demands for resistance against the territorial claims of Rumania's neighbors vanished from the controlled press.

On the other hand, newspapers reprinted an article from the Berlin Foreign Office organ, the Boersen Zeitung, which criticized Rumanian personalities "who have assumed an attitude of false heroism in settling relations with Hungary."

Juliu Maniu, peasant leader, and chiefs of the Nazi-like Iron Guard have expressed opposition to ceding any of Transylvania.

RESTRICTIONS ON JEWS DECREED IN RUMANIA

They Are Barred From Owning Farms and From Public Office

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Rumanian Cabinet promulgated tonight a new Jewish law which was a major step in this country's adoption of Nazi ideas.

The law separates Rumania's 750,000 Jews in three categories:

To the first—Jews who have fought in the front line for Rumania, and their descendants—are accorded some of the rights of Christians. Those of this class who hold public office may keep their jobs, but no new appointments will be made.

Jews in the second and third categories—those in regions annexed to Rumania after the World War and those of the old Rumania who never were in active combat for the fatherland—are barred from public office, from professions "having direct liaison with the public authority," and from operating cafes, tobacco shops, movie theatres and many other enterprises.

All Jews are prohibited from owning farms or other rural lands. Those now owning such properties will lose them to the government and be recompensed with bonds.

Jews in the second and third categories are barred from military service. In place of such service there will be a special tax—cash if they have it, otherwise payable in labor on public works.

Jews likewise are excluded from the Rumanian Youth Organization. This places the status of Jewish school children in question, since an existing law requires all school children to belong to the organization.

Rumania will open negotiations with Bulgaria at Craiova tomorrow for a settlement of Bulgarian claims for Dobrudja and will offer the argument that lasting peace can be had only by sacrifices on both sides.

Transylvania Parley On

[By the Associated Press]

Budapest, Aug. 7—Raoul Bossy, Rumanian Minister to Rome, was received by Premier Pal Teleky today in the first step toward actual negotiations between Rumania and Hungary to settle their territorial dispute. Bossy was received as a semi-official envoy.

Despite reports from Bucharest that he is charged only with ascertaining Hungary's minimum demands, diplomatic circles believed he would indicate the general lines of any concessions Rumania is prepared to make.

Bossy, former Rumanian Minister to Hungary and generally recognized as an expert on minority and territorial matters in this area, was expected to confer tomorrow with Hungarian Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csaky.

Bossy's mission was generally regarded as similar to that of Victor Cadare, Rumanian Minister to Yugoslavia, who is now in Sofia to discuss settlement of Bulgaria's claims to southern Dobruja.

Responsible quarters said the immediate success or failure of efforts to settle the Transylvania problem probably would depend on the nature of the basic proposals which Bossy is instructed by his Government to make.

Nor Guns Nor Liquor Stay British Office Boy

BUCHAREST, Aug. 7 (AP).—British officials charged today that Rumanian secret police had tried at pistol's point to make a British Legation office boy disclose diplomatic secrets.

The statement said the boy, Nelson Matthews, was stopped by a squad of police who drew guns and demanded secret information. Unsuccessful, the statement continued, they tried to get the lad drunk. They failed again, the British said.

Rumanian officials said they found no evidence the story was true.

HUNGARY STRESSES CLAIM ON RUMANIA

Asks 75% of Transylvania, It Is Said—Bucharest Envoy Confers With Count Teleki

BULGARIAN PARLEYS LAG

Sofia Believes Rumania May Try to Delay a Settlement —Carol Sees Leaders

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Aug. 7 (AP)—Hungary served notice tonight that in her twenty-year-long territorial dispute with Rumania she would be satisfied with nothing less than a return of 75 per cent of Transylvania.

This word, it was learned on high authority, was given to Raoul Bossy, the Rumanian envoy, in a half-hour talk with the Hungarian Premier, Count Paul Teleki at the Foreign Office.

M. Bossy, it was announced, will return to Bucharest tomorrow to inform his government of Hungary's position.

Signs that Germany was prodding Rumania to make a quick settlement of Hungary's claims were seen today in Bucharest.

The newspapers there ceased all claims for resistance against the Hungarian demands. Instead, they reprinted a Berlin Foreign Office article which criticized Rumanians "who have assumed an attitude of false heroism in settling relations with Hungary."

BUDAPEST, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Raoul Bossy, Rumanian Minister to Rome, was received by Premier Pal Teleky today in the first step toward actual negotiations between Rumania and Hungary to settle their territorial dispute.

Despite reports from Bucharest that he is charged only with ascertaining Hungary's minimum demands, diplomatic circles believed he would indicate the general lines of any concessions Rumania is prepared to make.

Dr. Bossy's mission was regarded as similar to that of Victor Cadare, Rumanian Minister to Yugoslavia, who is now in Sofia to discuss settlement of Bulgaria's claims to southern Dobruja.

Lost German-American Reappears in Bucharest

Douglas Denies Arrest, Says He Hid; U. S. Investigates

BUCHAREST, Aug. 7 (AP).—Albrecht Douglas, forty-three-year-old German-American chemist, of New York, who disappeared on July 18, turned up at the American Legation today with his Chilean wife, the former German Baroness Maltzahn.

He denied he had been arrested by the Rumania secret police, as the legation had been told by the Rumanian High Command, and said he had been in hiding with friends outside the city because his residence papers were not in order.

American Consul William E. Scotten said: "We are not satisfied with his story and are investigating further." The legation said Douglas's passport would be validated for return to the United States only.

A WEEK AGO TO INVESTIGATE (FRANKLIN GUNTHER, AMERICAN MINISTER, ASKED PREMIER ION GIGURTU A NATIVE OF HAMBURG, DOUGLAS CAME HERE IN MAY AND HAD BEEN WORKING AS A CHEMIST IN THE CONTAGUZINO INSTITUTE. HE CLAIMS TO BE THE INVENTOR OF AN ARTIFICIAL BLOOD.

30.24-4179

30.24-4179

SOVIET FRIENDS RIOT IN FINLAND

Start Fire When Meeting Is Broken Up by Police.

REDS RAISE PERSECUTION CRY

Moscow Reports Life Is Better in Annexed Territory.

HELSINKI, Finland, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The Finnish police dispersed on the edge of Helsinki last night a meeting of several hundred members of the Friends of the Soviet, who had been forbidden the right to assemble.

The group immediately marched to a small square and started a fire, but order was restored quickly after firemen appeared.

The Friends of the Soviet organization appeared when the Communist party was outlawed in Finland. It was a program calling for good relations with Soviet Russia. The program does not include communism or Sovietization, however.

President Kallio has decreed that permits are henceforth to be required for all meetings, and discussions are proceeding as to whether Leftists should be allowed to assemble at all.

Finnish "Persecution"

[By the Associated Press]

Moscow, Aug. 7—Newspapers published today a Tass (Soviet news agency) dispatch from Helsinki alleging continued "persecution of the Society for Friendship and Peace with the U. S. S. R."

Stories of police actions against the society and the fatal shooting of one of its members were followed by a report that Finnish authorities had ordered the discharge of workers belonging to the organization.

Other dispatches described the inauguration of butter rationing in Finland, the poor grain harvest there, and a shortage of hay necessitating slaughter of live stock.

As a contrast was the report of Otto Kuusinen, chairman of the First Communist Party Congress of the new Finnish-Karelian Republic (formed in territory taken from Finland). Kuusinen gave the Supreme Soviet yesterday a glowing account of the life of workers in the area taken over by Russia.

The Supreme Council of the Soviet today appointed V. M. Bochkoff Attorney General to succeed M. I. Pankratyeff, who had held the office since the fall of Andrei Vishinski, prosecutor of the treason trials of 1936 to 1938.

The announcement said Pankratyeff was relieved at his own request.

The council confirmed the appointment of N. N. Chebotareff as commissar for paper and cellulose industries, named N. K. Sokoloff chairman of the State Bank, and approved other nominations, including the previously announced appointment of Semen Timoshenko as Defense Commissar and Klementi E. Voroshiloff as Vice Premier.

Besides discussing exchange of goods, the Hungarians are expected to talk of transport of goods across the common frontier with Russia which was established last year by Soviet occupation of eastern Poland.

CRIPPS VISITS MOLOTOFF

British Envoy Also Confers With Foreign Trade Commissar

Moscow, Aug. 7 (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, British Ambassador, called on Foreign Commissar-Premier V. Molotoff in the Kremlin today.

He likewise conferred last night with A. I. Mikoiyan, the Commissar for Foreign Trade, presumably on the subject of British-Russian trade negotiations.

MOSCOW, Aug. 7 (AP).—A Hungarian trade mission arrived today to negotiate a commercial agreement with Soviet Russia. The negotiations are one phase of Russian trade talks. Russia yesterday renewed her trade pact with the United States, and special delegates from Sweden, Denmark and Iran already have come here for similar talks.

MRS. HARRIMAN OFF

Faces 250-mile Bus Trip to Reach Petsamo.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The first of three special train departed today for the Artic Port of Petsamo bearing a number of the 700 Americans en route home from Scandinavian and Baltic countries. The first of three special trains departed today for the Artic Port of Petsamo bearing a number of the 700 Americans en route home from Scandinavian and Baltic countries. The first of three special trains departed today for the Artic Port of Petsamo bearing a number of the 700 Americans en route home from Scandinavian and Baltic countries.

samo on August 13 aboard the United States Army transport American Legion.

Among those leaving here were Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, United States Minister to Norway, and Mrs. Frederick A. Sterling, wife of the Minister to Sweden. Mr. Sterling will accompany them as far as Petsamo.

The Americans will leave the train at Rovaniemi, Finland, and continue the rest of the way—about 250 miles—by bus.

JAPAN'S FLEET SEEN STEAMING TOWARD SOUTH

Hongkong Reports Warship Movements Along China Coast.

TOKIO REFUSES TO COMMENT

Russian Pacific Squadrons Sail for Large-scale Battle Practice at Sea.

HONGKONG, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Local British newspapers reported today that Japanese warships and transports had been sighted steaming southward from Formosa, but authoritative sources said there was no indication where the vessels were proceeding.

Tokio Admiralty Silent.

TOKIO, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Declining to discuss all warship movements, the Admiralty today would neither confirm nor deny a London report from Hongkong that Japanese warships and transports had been sighted southbound from Formosa.

[The Russian fleet, made up of light and heavy naval units, submarines and aircraft, has sailed into the Pacific on large scale maneuvers, according to a British radio announcement picked up by the National Broadcasting Company at New York today.]

The report, carried by the Exchange Telegraph, a British news agency, said that merchant seamen had sighted the ships. It said that their mission was not known.

Japan's Radio Ban Fought

[By the Associated Press]

Tientsin, Aug. 7—The American Radio Service, which recently received notice to suspend operations in the British concession by August 20, appealed today to Nelson Johnson, United States Ambassador to China, and the United States Chamber of Commerce at Washington to use their influence to maintain an American communications system here.

(One condition of the recent British-Japanese agreement whereby Japan lifted the blockade against Tientsin was the suppression of "unauthorized wireless communications" in the British concession.)

The American radio service sought official protection to reestablish its station outside the concession. The United States Chamber of Commerce sent recommendations to the State Department in support of the service.

Tension In Indo-China

Chas. H. Kline

[By the Associated Press]

Hanio, French Indo-China, Aug. 7—Both French and Japanese attitudes stiffened noticeably today toward the delicate bargaining now under way over the scope of Japan's influence on Indo-China's future, with the French expressing hope for support from the United States.

The acting chief of the Japanese mission here, Col. Kenryo Sato, is known to have pressed the French Colonial Government for the right to haul Japanese army supplies through Indo-China under Japanese military guard.

Port facilities at Haiphong, it was explained, are more convenient than at either Yamchow or Pakhoi, Japanese-held ports northeast of here on the China coast.

Ironically, six weeks ago Haiphong was the busiest back door for aid to China, before the French yielded to Japanese pressure and sealed Indo-China's borders against communication with the Nationalist China led by Chiang Kai-shek.

Right now the French Indo-China Government is trying to call a halt on—or at least put the brakes on—further concessions to Japan. Informed French sources say that resistance "will increase in direct proportion to whatever support can be obtained from Vichy or Washington."

There are persistent reports that the Japanese demand outright military and naval concessions such as, for example, the right to ship combat troops through Indo-China against the armies of Chiang Kai-shek, or the use of the Bay of Cam Ranh as a naval base against the British. All such reports, however, bring the same reply from both French and Japanese sources: "Premature."

Nevertheless, the best available information indicates that the Japanese aspirations are far-reaching, including unrestricted Japanese naval contact between Canton and the French leased territory of Kwang Cho Wan, which would afford potential extension of Japanese striking power and means of encircling British Hongkong.

Other Japanese objectives are independent Japanese radio communications and unrestricted air traffic between Canton and the mission personnel at Hanoi and sweeping economic advantages such as preferential tariff treatment.

MISSIONS IRK TOKIO

Japan to Take Over or Close Thirty Schools.

TOKIO, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The Japanese Ministry of Education disclosed today that it would ask for a transfer of control of more than thirty foreign-owned schools whose teachings were said to be incompatible with Japan's national interests.

The announcement said that one mission school, not identified, compelled its students "to pray for the victory of a certain nation hostile to Japan."

If the missions refuse to relinquish control, the Ministry indicated, it would cancel permission for them to operate.

WELLES SEEKS TEXT OF TALK BY CUDAHY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The State Department asked Ambassador Kennedy in London today for a complete text of the interview given there yesterday by John P. Cudahy, Ambassador to Belgium, which was sharply criticized in the British press.

Sumner Welles, Acting Secretary of State, said Mr. Cudahy's interview, in which he described the food situation in Belgium as approaching a famine condition, was granted without prior consultation with or authority from the State Department.

While showing his concern over the interview, Mr. Welles declined to comment further until he had seen what he described as an accurate text from Ambassador Kennedy.

Discussing conditions in Belgium, Mr. Cudahy also said in the interview:

"I was a soldier in the last war and I think these Germans behaved better than United States soldiers would have done."

Leave Blank

BY J.C.STARK

WASHINGTON,AUGUST 7-(AP)-JOHN P.CUDAHY, BIG-GAME-HUNTER AMBASSADOR TO BELGIUM, FACED A POSSIBLE REPRIMAND FROM THE STATE DEPARTMENT TONIGHT FOR AN UNAUTHORIZED INTERVIEW IN LONDON IN WHICH HE DISCUSSED FOOD CONDITIONS AND THE CONDUCT OF GERMAN SOLDIERS IN BELGIUM.

SUMNER WELLES, ACTING SECRETARY OF STATE, ANNOUNCED THAT HE HAD CABLED FOR A COMPLETE TEXT OF CUDAHY'S REMARKS, MADE YESTERDAY, WHICH PROVOKED SHARP CRITICISM IN THE BRITISH PRESS.

CUDAHY, WHO STOPPED IN LONDON TO VISIT AMBASSADOR JOSEPH P. KENNEDY BEFORE COMING HOME, GAVE THE INTERVIEW, WELLES SAID, WITHOUT NOTIFYING THE STATE DEPARTMENT OR RECEIVING PERMISSION FROM IT. WELLES DECLINED TO COMMENT ON CUDAHY'S REMARKS UNTIL HE HAD SEEN AN OFFICIAL TEXT.

AUG 8-1940

JAMES H.R.CROMWELL WAS REPRIMANDED BY SECRETARY HULL LAST MARCH FOR A PRO-ALLY SPEECH HE MADE IN TORONTO WHILE HE WAS MINISTER TO CANADA.

HULL TOLD CROMWELL THAT HIS ADDRESS HAD "CONTRAVENED STANDING INSTRUCTIONS TO AMERICAN DIPLOMATIC OFFICERS" AND EXPLAINED THAT "PUBLIC DISCUSSION OF CONTROVERSIAL POLICIES OF OTHER GOVERNMENTS, PARTICULARLY WITH GOVERNMENTS ENGAGED IN WAR, WITHOUT THE PRIOR KNOWLEDGE AND PERMISSION OF THIS GOVERNMENT, IS NOT IN ACCORD WITH SUCH INSTRUCTIONS."

THE LONDON NEWS CHRONICLE, CRITICIZING CUDAHY, SAID:

"IT IS GENERALLY FELT THAT ON GROUNDS OF GOOD TASTE ALONE THIS IS HARDLY THE TIME FOR A FOREIGN DIPLOMAT OSTENSIBLY IN ENGLAND ON A PURELY PERSONAL VISIT TO PRAISE OPENLY GERMAN CONDUCT IN THEIR INVASION OF A NEUTRAL COUNTRY AND BY IMPLICATION TO MAKE IT APPEAR THAT BRITAIN IS RESPONSIBLE FOR FAMINE IN BELGIUM AND OTHER GERMAN-OCCUPIED TERRITORY."

A REMARK ATTRIBUTED TO CUDAHY THAT HE THOUGHT "THESE GERMANS (OCCUPYING BELGIUM) BEHAVED BETTER THAN UNITED STATES SOLDIERS WOULD HAVE DONE" WAS KNOWN TO HAVE IRRITATED SOME STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS.

DRAWING A GRIM PICTURE OF LIVING CONDITIONS IN BELGIUM, HE SAID PEOPLE THERE WOULD BE REDUCED TO A SITUATION "CLOSE TO FAMINE" BY MID-SEPTEMBER UNLESS AMERICAN FOOD SUPPLIES REACHED THEM.

WELLES SAID HE HAD RECEIVED ONLY FRAGMENTARY REPORTS ON THE PROSPECTIVE FOOD SITUATION IN BELGIUM THIS WINTER.

CUDAHY, MEMBER OF THE WEALTHY MEAT PACKING FAMILY, WENT TO BELGIUM AS AMBASSADOR LAST JANUARY FROM DUBLIN, WHERE HE WAS MINISTER TO EIRE.

BEFORE THAT, HE WAS AMBASSADOR TO POLAND.

HE HAS HUNTED BIG GAME IN MANY PARTS OF THE WORLD AND WRITTEN A NUMBER OF BOOKS. BEFORE ACCEPTING A DIPLOMATIC APPOINTMENT FROM PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, CUDAHY WAS A LAWYER IN MILWAUKEE. HE WAS MENTIONED RECENTLY AS A POSSIBLE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF WISCONSIN AFTER GERMANY ORDERED ALL FOREIGN DIPLOMATS TO LEAVE BELGIUM AND OTHER GERMAN-OCCUPIED COUNTRIES.

AT THAT TIME, REPORTERS ASKED PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WHETHER CUDAHY WAS GOING TO RESIGN. MR.ROOSEVELT REPLIED THAT HE HOPED NOT AND COMMENDED THE AMBASSADOR'S WORK ABROAD.

SOME OF CUDAHY'S FRIENDS HERE EXPECT HIM TO LEAVE GOVERNMENT SERVICE SOON AFTER HE RETURNS, AND POSSIBLY CAMPAIGN FOR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, AS HE DID IN 1936.

K518PES

30,24-4181

30.24-4181

Pershing, Woodring Also Will Testify

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 7—Suddenly reversing themselves, members of the House Military Committee decided today to call five more witnesses, headed by Naval Secretary Frank Knox, to testify on the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill.

Legislation authorizing President Roosevelt to call the National Guard and officer reserves up for training was pressed, meanwhile, by the Senate, which took up an amendment to provide a twenty-day period after enactment of the bill during which reserves and Guardsmen could resign.

Resignation would subject them in the same way as other citizens to any conscription law enacted.

Danaher Defends Change

Senator John A. Danaher (Rep., Conn.) said many Guardsmen had enlisted because they believed they would not be called back to serve in peacetime.

"A professional man whose economic life was at stake," Danaher said, "could (without his amendment) do nothing to leave the service after the National Guard and reserves were ordered out by the President.

The question of concluding the House committee's open investigation of the conscription bill had been involved in hot controversy.

Although Chairman Andrew J. May (Dem., Ky.) announced that hearings were closed last Friday and the committee voted 11 to 10 in a stormy session yesterday not to hear further testimony, the House military group members decided at what was described as a "love feast" this morning to reverse themselves and proceed with brief public hearings.

Pershing, Woodring Called

In addition to Knox, Gen. John J. Pershing, Harry Woodring, former Secretary of War; Louis Johnson, former Assistant Secretary of War, and Hugh Johnson, newspaper columnist, will be heard next week, probably Tuesday.

Commenting on yesterday's session, when Representative Charles I. Faddis (Dem., Pa.) said some opposition to the legislation came from fifth columnists, May told newspapermen:

"We have our sharp moments, but we can always walk out with our arms around each other."

"All Is Harmony"

Another member smilingly remarked that "all is harmony" in the committee and that "those two great patriots—Colonel Faddis and Colonel Short—have kissed and made up."

He referred to Representative Dewey Short (Rep., Mo.) who replied to Faddis yesterday that the patriotism of the Republican opponents of the legislation was just as good as that of Faddis.

Prompt Action Urged

Prompt enactment of conscription legislation was recommended today by the Senate Military Committee.

"Reasonable prudence demands an immediate and substantial increase in our armed forces," the report said.

"It would be criminal," it continued, "to give the nation a false sense of security by the mere possession of defensive armaments and a corresponding lack of trained men."

Scheduled for Senate consideration tomorrow, the legislation would require registration of all male citizens between 21 and 30, inclusive. From this group upward of 1,000,000 men would be selected within twelve months for a year of military training, after which they would become members of the reserves.

A minority report, also presented, said "regimentation of American life as provided for by the bill in peacetime is abhorrent to the ideals of patriotic Americans and is utterly repugnant to American democracy and American traditions."

The minority group included Senators Hiram Johnson (Dem., Col.), John Thomas (Rep., Idaho) and Ernest Lundeen (F.-L., Minn.).

A movement to form a "home guard" composed primarily of World War veterans gathered headway today as the Senate approached a vote on the bill permitting the President to order the National Guard into active training.

Chairman Morris Sheppard (Dem., Texas) asked the Senate Military Committee to begin work Friday on legislation authorizing formation of State militia units to replace guardsmen called into Federal service.

Leaders Speed Bill

Senate leaders set a time limit on speeches in order to get a vote late today.

Passage of the measure would clear the way for opening debate tomorrow on the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill, which is expected to produce a long and heated controversy.

Senator Edward C. Burke (Dem., Neb.), one of the authors, said he thought the real test would come on a substitute submitted by Senator Francis T. Maloney (Dem., Conn.). He said a "close vote" was in prospect.

Maloney would delay a selective draft until attempts had been made to obtain sufficient manpower through voluntary enlistments for a year, open to men from 18 through 34.

British Women's Role

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, Aug. 7—The far-reaching British defense program caused "drastic alterations" in town and city governments, the American Municipal Association reports.

In a survey made for the guidance of civic chiefs in the United States in the belief that they will play "vital" parts in this nation's preparedness projects, the organization found that:

The governmental structure was revamped and, in some communities, control was centralized.

English city officials had to contend with demands for economy in the midst of multiplied tasks, upward trends in the costs of living and materials, increased wages and a drop in tax revenue.

Women Fill Positions

More than 1,200,000 persons—one out of every forty in Great Britain—had to be enrolled and coached in civil defense work in the "most intensive" civilian training program ever undertaken by "any democratic government."

This huge force was recruited at a time when regular municipal staffs were reduced by enlistments in the armed forces. The drain on man power created opportunities for feminine jobseekers.

The report, compiled from Britain's local government journals, set forth that municipal budgets were "violently affected." It added:

"Besides bringing (public) housing and road construction to a virtual stop, the Central Government required local governments to cease borrowing for any projects not of pressing necessity, and proposals for loans over $40,000 had to be submitted for Treasury approval with proof that they could not be avoided, postponed or reduced.

"Property valuation declined because of a decrease in the income from many properties—particularly in localities considered vulnerable to air attack.

"The cost of living rose fourteen per cent. in the first five months of war from a point already well above normal peacetime levels. Welfare clients had to be paid proportionally more. So did regular municipal employes."

While economy was the watchword, the association set forth, city employes had greatly enlarged duties.

"Police officers had to deal with sabotage, organize air-raid protection, control traffic during blackouts," it explained. Fire departments established auxiliary corps.

"City engineers took over the job of building air-raid shelters in public places, training demolition and rescue squads, and protecting utilities and other property from air raids."

The report stated that although more than 1,200,000 persons were engaged by local governments for emergency defense chores before the end of 1939, most of them were unpaid volunteers. They were assigned to auxiliary fire or police organizations, to first aid, rescue and wrecking crews, to air-raid centers and to emergency hospital employment.

Destroyer Sale Policy Left to Congress by Knox

Walsh Sees 'Act of War' if Ships Are Sold

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP).—Col. Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, said today that the question of selling United States destroyers to Great Britain was strictly up to Congress.

A reporter asked at a press conference whether he felt personally that Congress should act to permit destroyer sales for the defense of the British Isles. Col. Knox replied that he was not a policy maker but an executive.

Creation of a new Alaskan sector of the Navy, embracing the territory of Alaska and related waters was announced by Secretary Knox. This sector will be within the jurisdiction of the present 13th Naval District. The sector commander has not yet been appointed.

JONES ADMITS RISK IN LOANS TO LATINS

But Says They're Justified Without Security.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Jesse Jones, Federal loan administrator, conceded today that the Government could not get insurance on proposed Export-Import Bank loans to Central and South America, but expressed belief the potential benefits justified the risk.

Mr. Jones testified before the House Banking Committee on a bill to increase the bank's capital by $500,000,000.

Representative Luce, Republican, of Massachusetts, asked what security this country would have for the loans in the event of revolution in the countries involved and possible ultimate renunciation of their public debts. He declared such contingencies were "a perpetual threat."

"I don't think you could get any insurance against those two things," Mr. Jones answered, "but I believe the world situation is such that it's worth the risk. We can afford to lose the money better than we can afford not to take the risk."

Warplane Output Will Be Speeded By Cut in Types

U. S. Air Corps Plans 6 General Categories In Defense Brochure

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The army gradually is reducing the number of types of warplanes in its defense brochure, and the result, aircraft manufacturers believe, will be reflected during the months to come in a sharply accelerated output on the production lines.

Multiplicity of designs has been one of the banes of aircraft manufacture for years.

Even Germany, with the world's greatest air force and in the midst of a war, has too many kinds of warplanes for efficient mass manufacture, in the opinion of United States army officers. The evidence is accumulating that Hitler's air ministry is cutting down on the number of designs produced.

Six General Categories

If the army air corps hews to the line projected for maximum production in the air rearmament drive it will have six general categories of planes: intercepters, single-engine pursuits, twin-engine fighters, attack planes and medium and heavy bombers.

Up to now no fewer than 18 combat types have been in the service of the air corps.

That has been due partly to the existence of a tactical experimentation program. The Army wanted to see what the planes could do, both individually and en masse. It was due partly to the lack of a co-ordinated program for the employment of aircraft in wartime. Army strategy and tactics are products of the nation's foreign policy, and the air corps has not known what it would be called upon to do.

Work Cut Out

With the emergence of hemisphere defense as the goal of the rearmament program, the air corps found its work cut out for it.

Here are some of the types of aircraft which will go into the discard in the drive for greater air power; Single-engine attacks, day and night bombardment planes, single-engine bombardment planes, general liaison planes and biplane pursuits.

Remaining in the noncombat types probably will be short-range corps and division observation planes.

The intercepters for "localized" defense, which the army is going to buy by the hundreds, are typified by the Bell pursuit, made in Buffalo, N. Y. The Curtiss "P-40," made in Buffalo, typifies the new pursuit equipment, and the Lockheed twin-engine fighters made in Burbank, Cal., the intercepter for long-range work.

The Boeing "B-17" four engine bomber, made in Seattle, already standard air corps equipment, and the Consolidated "B-24," made in San Diego, also four-engined, will provide the general design for long-range bombardment machines. Such planes are intended for forays deep into enemy territory on the theory that the best defense is an offense.

Medium Bombers,

The army's medium bombers will be like the Douglas "B-23," made in Santa Monica, Cal., and attack planes will follow the general lines of the Curtiss "A-20," made in Buffalo. Medium bombers, unlike the long-range planes, are intended for operation in the ground army's theater of action, and attack planes are used for breaking up concentrations of ground troops. The Germans use "Stuka" dive bombers for the same purpose.

The most sensational development in warplanes the world over is the rangy heavy bomber capable of carrying multiple tons of bombs. The United States army's newest experimental machine is designed for a "payload" of 28 tons. Germany is reported to have six and eight-engine long-range bombers in the process of manufacture.

Some American army officers are talking of an even greater simplification in type—only two kinds of fighters and two of bombers. The army long ago abandoned the idea of an "ideal" all purpose plane.

As one officer expressed it "You can't make a plane which will carry 10,000 pounds of bombs 2,000 miles and still climb to a fighting altitude of 30,000 feet in ten or fifteen minutes."

GASOLINE SHIPMENTS TO RUSSIA PERMITTED

But Steel and Oil Cargoes for Japan Are Not Sanctioned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Maritime Commission today authorized two American-owned tankers to make trips to Russia with cargoes of motor gasoline, but denied two other applications for vessels to make voyages to Japan with steel and oil.

The commission authorized the tankers Vacuum and China Arrow of the Socony Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., to carry cargoes of motor gasoline from California to Russia, with loading to commence about Aug. 26 and Sept. 6, respectively.

The commission denied an application for the freighter Lafayette of the Waterman Steamship Corporation to make a voyage with a cargo of new steel from the United States to Japan in September. Permission also was denied the tanker Emidio of the Socony Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., to make a voyage to Japan in September with a cargo of Diesel oil.

In acting upon the applications the commission made no comment. An official said recently that the commission had adopted a general policy of authorizing American ships to make trips only within the Western Hemisphere. He added, however, that each application would be passed upon individually and that the general rule probably would not apply in certain cases.

Welles Says Soviet Pact Is Pleasing to U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—Acting Secretary of State Welles expressed today the deep gratification of the Government at the renewal of the annual trade agreement with Soviet Russia and its hope that commerical relations "would develop in a manner advantageous to both parties."

His formal statement, however, contained no comment beyond a bare mention of the reservation by which the Soviet Government said it could not guarantee the minimum of $40,000,000 of purchases in this country if export restrictions under the defense program became too severe.

Soviet Trade Treaty Draws Miners' Fire

Head Of Manganese Producers Sees Russia Gaining Great Advantage

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—The recent renewal of the Soviet-American trade agreement was assailed today by J. Carson Adkerson, president of the American Manganese Producers' Association, in a statement saying it was "high time that this Administration's right hand knows what its left is doing."

He asserted that certain tariff concessions, including a fifty per cent. reduction in the duty on manganese from Brazil, were recently granted to South America "in behalf of strengthened relations between the two Americas." Under the agreement with Russia, he said, these concessions automatically were extended to that country.

Aliens Told Not to Fear Fingerprinting 'Stigma'

Harrison Predicts It Will Soon Be Required of All

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP).—Earl G. Harrison, Director of Registration, told aliens tonight that they should not fear fingerprinting under the new registration act and predicted that "it will not be long before it is required of everybody."

"There is no stigma attached to being fingerprinted in this day and age," Mr. Harrison said in a radio address prepared as part of a campaign to bring aliens to postoffices for registration between Aug. 26 and Dec. 27.

Mr. Harrison said that aliens should realize "that the measure is intended to safeguard the land that has given many of them sanctuary from oppression." He expressed the hope that "they will have reason to appreciate the difference in spirit and method of registration here and that which might be present elsewhere."

BRITISH WOULD BUY U. S. TANKS

Nation Also Bargains for Artillery Equipment.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The British Government started negotiations here today for "hundreds of millions of dollars" of tanks, artillery, and other war supplies in addition to all previous Allied orders.

Arthur R. Purvis, chief British purchasing agent, who presented the program to Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, told reporters that the Government was now seeking the purchase of many types of supplies not previously purchased in this country. He emphasized tanks and field artillery.

Mr. Purvis added that the new program he was disclosing was the same one referred to today by Arthur Greenwood in the British House of Commons. Mr. Greenwood also spoke of expanding purchases in America.

The British previously had bought some old artillery that the United States Army had left over from the world war, but the new program is for new weapons.

He declined to estimate precisely to what figure the new program might expand total British purchases in this country, but previous purchases, mostly airplanes, amounted to well over $1,000,000,000.

The British agent went on to explain that the new program was for material to be delivered a considerable time in the future.

He indicated that previous purchases had been made, to a large extent, on the basis of immediate needs, and that new programs were being shaped on anticipated future needs.

Military Experts Present.

To assist him in the new purchases Mr. Purvis brought to the Treasury three of a host of British industrial and military experts being sent to this country. Accompanying him were Admiral A. E. Evans, until recently commanding naval forces at sea, and noted in Great Britain for his technical knowledge of naval supplies, and Michael Dewar and Brig.-Gen. D. H. Pratt, both tank experts.

Mr. Purvis asserted that the new purchases had no connection with recent proposals to buy 3,000 airplanes a month from the United States—a plan which he said was still "very much alive."

He went on, however, to correct what he said were misapprehensions about the 3,000-planes-a-month proposal.

He said that while the British would like to get that number moving next January, they would buy whatever was available in smaller numbers if the objective could not be reached by that time.

He scoffed at suggestions that the airplane program was impossible, and said: "I have lived on this side for twenty-five years, and from what I know of America and its wonderful industrial facilities, I would not say that anything was impossible for the United States."

"Maybe it won't be January before we get 3,000 planes a month, but I am sure that, except for that starting date, the program can be fulfilled."

Asked whether the presence of Admiral Evans had anything to do with proposals to sell American Navy destroyers to England, Mr. Purvis replied that while England still hoped for the destroyers, the work of Admiral Evans was on new supplies rather than any surplus materials that the United States Navy might sell.

U. S. Speeds Production Of Munitions; 24,000 Jobs Provided

Arms To Flow 65 Per Cent. Faster Under New Regulation

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 7—The War Department ordered around-the-clock operation of its six manufacturing arsenals today to employ approximately 24,000 additional workers and increase their production of guns and ammunition at least sixty-five per cent.

With the approval of President Roosevelt, Secretary Stimson directed that the arsenals put into effect a three-shift plan beginning August 10, using all available skilled labor to accomplish this purpose.

48-Hour Week

The War Department said that the result would be three shifts of eight hours a day, six days a week, or a work week for the individual employe of forty-eight hours.

"This arrangement is authorized temporarily in order to obtain maximum production of needed war supplies from these establishments," the department's announcement said.

"During the continuance of the program the laborers and mechanics will be paid time and a half for time worked over forty hours per week."

Arsenals Affected

The new arrangement will apply to laborers and mechanics at the following arsenals:

Rock Island, (Ill.) which now employs about 5,500 workers.

Watertown, (Mass.), now 2,200 employes.

Frankford Arsenal, Philadelphia, now approximately 4,700 employes.

Springfield (Mass.) Armory, now approximately 3,200 employes.

Picatinny Arsenal, Dover, N. J., now approximately 3,800 employes.

Watervliet (N. Y.) Arsenal now approximately 1,800 employes.

The army's arsenals manufacture the new Garand semi-automatic rifle, artillery of various kinds, including anti-aircraft guns, tanks and ammunition. They manufacture most of the ordnance materials used by the army in peacetime, but it is estimated that they could supply only ten per cent. of the United States' needs in a major war. The remainder would have to come from private plants or Government plants leased to private operators.

Morgan Yacht Enters British War Service

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 7—The largest pleasure craft ever built in the United States, the 343-foot Corsair, formerly owned by J. P. Morgan, has sailed to enter the British war service.

The $2,000,000 yacht, fourth Morgan-owned vessel of the same name, departed Sunday, her destination and mission secret. She was sold last May to a British firm representing the British Government.

Marine sources thought the Corsair might head for a Canadian port to be camouflaged and armed. She has a 25,000-mile cruising range.

The Corsair is the fourth Morgan yacht—bearing the same name—to enter war service. The first Corsair, sold by Morgan's father in 1890, was wrecked on a reef during the Spanish-American War while running dispatches under charter for the Associated Press between Cuba and Jamaica.

The second Corsair, sold by the elder Morgan to the United States Government, was renamed the Gloucester and saw active service in the Spanish-American War. Later she entered the Greek merchant marine and is believed to have been wrecked.

The third Corsair, loaned to the United States navy during the World War, was armed for convoy duty out of Brest, France, with the sixth flotilla, called the "suicide flotilla."

When she returned to New York in 1919, she wore on her funnel two service chevrons awarded by the navy. The chevrons were inherited by the fourth Corsair which sailed Sunday, and the veteran ship, renamed the Oceanographer, is in the service of the United States geodetic survey.

Family Of Publisher Finds Refuge In U. S.

Wife And Children Of Manchester Guardian Chief Arrive In New York "For Duration"

New York, Aug. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Lawrence Montague, wife of the owner of the Manchester Guardian, arrived with her three young children today to remain for the duration of the war.

Accompanied by Donald, 5; Bella, 3, and Patrick, 13 months, Mrs. Montague came by train from Toronto and planned to leave later in the day for New Milford, Conn. They will stay with Miss Helen Parkhurst, head of the Dalton School.

CHILD REFUGEE BILL

House Urged to Act on Plan to Send U. S. Ships.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The House was urged today to "act, and act now" on a measure authorizing American ships to enter combat zones and remove European child refugees.

"If we have left a particle of our vaunted humanity, of our traditional disregard for the consequences of a charitable deed bravely done, of our time-honored concern for the welfare of innocent victims of political persecution, this House will not hesitate to act and act now," said Representative Hennings, Democrat, of Missouri, author of the ship bill.

Representative Michener, Republican, of Michigan, said some ships might be sunk by mines even though guaranteed safe passage, as the bill requires, by belligerents. Representative Kitchens, Democrat, of Arkansas, said enactment might be "just a futile gesture" because Germany might not permit British refugees to be removed.

Chairman Dickstein of the House Immigration Committee, meanwhile, appointed a subcommittee to work out and report immediately a bill to determine methods of admitting refugee children, age qualifications and the like.

Perkins Denies Loan Pledge to Latin America

F. S. C. C. Head Denounces Representative Crawford's Accusations as Absurd

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP).—A Congressional committee heard an assertion today, promptly characterized as "absurd," that a government official had secretly promised loans to Latin American countries in return for their support of a proposal to bar the axis powers from gaining a foothold in the Western Hemisphere.

Representative Fred L. Crawford, Republican, of Michigan, told the House Banking Committee he understood that Milo Perkins, president of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, had been sent to the Havana meeting of foreign ministers to negotiate the loans with countries which would promise support for a resolution barring transfers of title to European possessions in this hemisphere.

Commenting to reporters, Mr. Perkins said Mr. Crawford's remarks were absurd. He said that although he attended the conference he was not a member of the official delegation. His reason for attending, he said, was to discuss with agricultural officials of other Latin American countries their methods of handling the disposal of agricultural surpluses. The F. S. C. C. directs the disposal of surpluses in this country. He said he neither could nor would have made such promises.

Representative Crawford made his assertion while Jesse Jones, Federal Loan Administrator, was testifying on a bill to authorize an increase in the capital of the Export-Import Bank from $200,000,000 to $700,000,000. Representative Crawford asserted that the report of Mr. Perkins's "sub rosa" activities strengthened Republican contentions that the bill was merely a "back door" method of getting the United States into a cartel which would buy up South and Central American agricultural surpluses.

Earlier Mr. Jones told the committee that although the government would have no insurance against revolutions in the borrowing countries and possible subsequent renunciation of all their public debts, the potential benefits made the risk well worth while.

30,24-483

30.24-4183

Because of the world situation and the threat of economic defeats in South America, Mr. Jones said he thought the United States could afford to lose the money better than it could afford not to take the risk.

THINK NAZI RAIDER SAW ACTION AGAIN

Argentine Sailors Support Story of Sea Battle.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 7 (A. P.).—The newspaper Anoiten reported without confirmation from any official source today that loud explosions, perhaps from a new encounter between the shell-scarred British armed merchantman Alcantara and a German raider which recently damaged her had been heard at sea last night.

The newspaper said its report came from the crew of the Brazilian ship Ararangua at Victoria, 300 miles northeast of Rio de Janeiro. The newspaper said the crew saw "two armed ships."

Officials of Lloyd Nacional Navigation Company, operators of the Ararangua, said they had no information concerning the report.

British officials likewise said they had no information.

The Alcantara left on Monday after four days of repairs from her first encounter with the German surface raider on July 28.

Observers said it was possible the German raider also was attempting to put in for repairs from this first encounter and had met with the Alcantara again.

However, the British Navy is known to be searching for not one, but several, such raiders in the South Atlantic.

The North American freighter Flying Fish, scheduled to arrive in Buenos Aires last night, sent a radio message saying she was going to the aid of the Greek freighter Michalios which had sent on S O S from a position seventy miles be nearly 700 miles north of Victoria.

Battle in South Atlantic Reported Renewed By British Armed Ship and Nazi Raider

By The Associated Press.

VICTORIA, Brazil, Aug. 7—A new sea battle between the British auxiliary cruiser Alcantara and a German raider—both already battle-scarred—was believed to have been fought today off the South American coast.

The resumption of their running engagement for a second time within two weeks was indicated by loud explosions reported at sea and a radio message to a government station saying two armed ships were sighted off the Brazil coast.

The Alcantara left Rio de Janeiro, 300 miles southwest of Victoria, Monday after four days of repairs required by the fight with an unidentified raider on July 28.

The raider also was reported to have been hit during the fight and there was speculation that she might have met the armed merchant ship coming from port while heading ashore to have her own damage repaired.

The radio message that two armed ships were seen was received by the local radio station. It said the message came from the 4,872-ton Brazilian passenger ship, Ararangua.

The message gave no details and further word was lacking because the Ararangua has not yet been reported at any point near here.

SPANISH SHIP DROPS MAIL

Leaves Letters For Europe In Rio De Janeiro And Proceeds

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Spanish passenger ship Ciudad de Sevilla, which stopped here on orders of the Spanish Government, continued today for Cadiz after leaving in Rio de Janeiro all her mail from Argentina and Uruguay addressed to Europe.

A high postal official said the mail was left apparently in the belief that the ship then would be permitted through the recently extended British blockade.

CANADA FLIERS BACK; WERE ON FRENCH SHIP

Tell of Cruising 10 Days on Bearn Looking for a Port

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 7 (AP)—Canadian fliers, returned from the French West Indies island of Martinique, said today they had wandered the seas for sixteen days aboard the French aircraft carrier Bearn attempting to find a port not occupied by Germans so they could land their cargo of 100 American planes.

The planes were left at Martinique.

Squadron Leader Adelard Raymond of the Royal Canadian Air Force said French authorities raised no objections to their departure when a British cruiser arrived at Martinique to take them off.

Mr. Raymond said the Bearn sailed from an east coast Canadian port for Brest. When word was received of the evacuation of Dunkerque the carrier was rerouted to Bordeaux, then to Casablanca, Morocco, as Bordeaux fell the day before she was due to arrive. Later the Bearn was ordered to Martinique.

Throughout the voyage the Bearn was accompanied by a large French cruiser, which, along with other vessels of the French fleet, is now at Martinique, Mr. Raymond said.

COUNCIL DISAVOWS HOUDE

Montreal Kills Agenda Item on Draft Mayor Had Ordered

MONTREAL, Aug. 7 (AP)—The City Council voted 25-4 today to kill discussion on an agenda item concerning "national registration and conscription" placed on the order paper by Mayor Camillien Houde, who since has been interned.

The Council then voted 27-2 to drop the item from the agenda of the meeting, called by Mr. Houde last Saturday, a few hours after he had expressed in a published statement his opposition to the forthcoming national registration.

It was Mr. Houde's statement, in which he also told of his intention to ignore the registration, that led to his arrest Monday night under the War Measures Act.

Japanese Alarm Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 7 (AP).—A resolution expressing alarm at the presence of Japanese on the British Columbia coast was in preparation by a special civic committee today for presentation to the City Council. The action was decided upon after Alderman Halford Wilson warned that Japanese fishing boats off the coast "could readily be transformed into torpedo-carrying warcraft by a hostile group."

Refugees Cros Sea in Smack

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Aug. 7 (AP).—A group of twenty-three Norwegian refugees, who crossed the Atlantic in a fishing smack, will soon settle in a Canadian fishing port and resume their trade. The Norwegians came here from Tromsoe, evading mines and other dangers en route.

Norwegian Fliers in Canada

TORONTO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Several score war-experienced Norwegian aviators arrived in Toronto tonight to make a special study of the operation of United States bombers to be delivered to Britain. It was understood that a number of such bombers had been ordered by Norway before the end of fighting there, and that the Norwegians had agreed to take delivery of them in Canada, then fly them to Britain. To continue their fight against Germany a Norwegian flying legion will be organized.

CANADA BARS PROPAGANDA

Rejects Advice to Influence U. S. by High-Pressure Methods

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (AP)—J. G. Gardiner, Minister of War Services, said today that the Canadian Government would not engage itself in high pressure propaganda.

Various sources, he said, had counseled the government to launch a propaganda service designed to influence opinion in the United States as wel las Canada. The government retained D. B. Rogers, editor of the Regina Leader-Post, to study the matter and had accepted his report, Mr. Gardiner said.

Mr. Rogers reported that "high powered publicity and propaganda organizations, aimed at controlling and pointing news in a given direction, had failed utterly in all democracies to satisfy either the people, the newspapers, or the governments involved."

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON, AUG 7--ITALY WAS REPORTED MASSING TROOPS IN LARGE NUMBERS IN LIBYA ALONG THE EGYPTIAN BORDER TODAY AND THE BRITISH PEOPLE WERE WARNED THEY MUST EXPECT "SOME ITALIAN SUCCESSES" IN THE WAR IN AFRICA.

ITALY HAS HALF A MILLION NATIVE AND WHITE SOLDIERS IN AFRICA, WITH MANY OF HER LEGIONS MECHANIZED AND MODERNLY EQUIPPED, WHILE BRITAIN'S FORCES ARE FAR LESS IN NUMBERS.

BRITONS HOLD THAT THE ITALIANS, WHO NOW HAVE INVADED KENYA COLONY, BRITISH SOMALILAND AND EGYPT, MAY BE EXPECTED TO ADVANCE FOR SHORT DISTANCES WITH THEIR MASSED MECHANICAL STRENGTH, BUT THAT ULTIMATELY THEY WILL FALL VICTIM TO THE SPECIAL RIGORS OF AFRICAN CAMPAIGNING AND BOW BEFORE THE VETERAN BRITON, LONG EXPERIENCED IN COLONIAL FIGHTING.

THE WARNING THAT BRITAIN'S PATH WILL NOT BE EASY IN AFRICA CAME FROM THE DAILY EXPRESS, OWNED BY LORD BEAVERBROOK, MINISTER FOR AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION WHO LAST WEEK WAS MADE A MEMBER OF THE NATION'S INNER WAR CABINET.

"WE MUST BE PREPARED FOR SOME ITALIAN SUCCESSES," THE PAPER SAID, "FOR BRITAIN MUST CONCENTRATE ON: (1) ENSURING THE ULTIMATE COLLAPSE OF MUSSOLINI'S AFRICAN EMPIRE BY CUTTING OFF SUPPLIES FROM ITALY; AND (2) PREPARING TO RESIST INVASION HERE."

THE BRITISH MINIMIZED THE IMPORTANCE OF THE ITALIAN INVASION OF BRITISH SOMALILAND, WHICH THE EXPRESS CALLED A "SIDESHOW." ALL ITALY WILL GET THERE, SAID THE EXPRESS, WOULD BE "SAND, A FOOTHOLD OPPOSITE ADEN AND A VICTORY TO UPLIFT ITALIAN MORALE."

NOT SO MUCH WAS SAID ABOUT EGYPT, HOWEVER, WHERE THE ITALIANS PRESUMABLY ARE AIMING TO DRIVE EASTWARD TOWARD THE SUEZ CANAL.

EDITORS:

TO COVER DEVELOPMENTS THE FOLLOWING MAY BE INSERTED AFTER THE 14TH GRAPH LONDON BRITISH X X X WERE REPORTED.

IN SOUTHWEST ENGLAND, IN THE BRISTOL CHANNEL AREA, THE GERMANS DROPPED MORE LEAFLETS CONTAINING ADOLF HITLER'S "PEACE OR DESTRUCTION" ULTIMATUM AND SOME BOMBS. A GOVERNMENT COMMUNIQUE SAID "DAMAGE WAS NEGLIGIBLE AND THERE WERE NO CASUALTIES."

GERMANY CONTINUED X X X ETC. 15TH GRAPH PREV.

AUG 8-1940

JL452AED

LONDON FIRST ADD BRITISH (PMS BUDGET)

X X X THE SUEZ CANAL.

AUG 8-1940

THE BRITISH, THOUGH THEIR FORCES ARE SMALLER THAN THOSE OF THE ITALIANS, CONTROL THE WATER SUPPLIES, AND CONTEND THAT SMALL, EASILY SHIFTED VETERAN UNITS ULTIMATELY CAN BEAT BACK ATTACKS BY LARGER FORCES.

BRITISH DISPATCHES SAID THE PICTURESQUE SOMALI CAMEL CORPS, NOW A MECHANIZED FORCE, HAS BEEN FIGHTING GRIMLY AGAINST SUPERIOR NUMBERS IN BRITISH SOMALILAND, SUPPORTED BY ROYAL AIR FORCE PLANES BOMBING THE ITALIANS.

RAF AND SOUTH AFRICAN REINFORCEMENTS WERE READY IN ADEN, THE ANGLO-EGYPTIAN SUDAN AND KENYA IF NEEDED, IT WAS SAID.

THE BRITISH AND ITALIAN AIR FORCES IN AFRICA ARE RATED ABOUT EQUAL IN NUMBER OF PLANES.

THE EXPRESS INDICATED THAT BRITISH CONTROL OF THE MEDITERRANEAN AND RED SEAS EVENTUALLY WOULD HURT ITALY BY CUTTING OFF SUPPLIES FROM HER COLONIAL FORCES AND THAT BRITAIN WOULD NEED TIME TO WIN.

PREPARATIONS "TO RESIST INVASION HERE"--THE SECOND FACTOR CITED BY THE EXPRESS AS LIKELY TO LEAD TO INITIAL ITALIAN SUCCESSES IN AFRICA--WENT AHEAD FULL SPEED.

THERE WAS A LULL IN GERMAN AIR ACTIVITY OVER BRITAIN LAST NIGHT AND EARLY TODAY. PLANES WERE REPORTED OVER SOUTHWEST ENGLAND, SCOTLAND AND WALES LAST NIGHT. SOME INCENDIARY BOMBS WERE DROPPED IN SCOTLAND BUT NO DAMAGE OR CASUALTIES WERE REPORTED.

(more)

GERMANY CONTINUED HER WAR OF NERVES WITH A RADIO BROADCAST TO THE ENGLISH THAT THE GERMAN AIR FORCE IS "READY TO STRIKE NOW."

AN ANNOUNCER FOR THE BREMEN STATION SAID:

AUG 8-1940

"I CANNOT TELL YOU WHEN THE ATTACK WILL COME OR HOW, BUT I CAN SAY THAT IT WILL NOT COME IN THE FORM IN WHICH IT IS ANTICIPATED IN ENGLAND. . . ATTACKS WILL BE DIRECTED AGAINST DOCKS AND INDUSTRIAL CENTERS."

HE POINTEDLY REFERRED TO DENSELY-POPULATED LONDON AS THE "BIG TARGET."

330AED

30,24-4185

30.24-4185

LONDON,AUG.7-(AP)-A GERMAN AVIATOR, SAID TO HAVE BEEN AT LARGE IN ENGLAND FOR 11 DAYS AFTER HAVING DROPPED BY PARACHUTE FROM HIS DISABLED PLANE, WAS REPORTED CAPTURED BY A WOMAN MOTORIST TODAY NEAR BRISTOL.

THE GERMAN WAS REPORTED TO HAVE SURRENDERED TO THE WOMAN, WHO NOTICED HIS UNUSUAL APPEARANCE, QUESTIONED HIM AND TURNED HIM OVER TO THE AUTHORITIES

WHSA

AUG 8-1940

A.M. London-Aug 7 xx British Treasury

A TREASURY SPOKESMAN TOLD THE HOUSE OF COMMONS YESTERDAY THAT MISS FIELDS HAD NOT SOUGHT TO TAKE MORE THAN THE REGULATION $40 WHEN SHE WENT TO THE UNITED STATES RECENTLY, BUT LAST FALL SHE AND HER ITALIAN HUSBAND, MONTY BANKS, TOOK A TOTAL OF ABOUT $12,000 OUT OF THE COUNTRY WITH THEM.

J.J. DAVIDSON, A LABORITE, ASKED WHETHER THE TREASURY KNEW THAT MISS FIELDS AND BANKS "LEFT PRACTICALLY NO ASSETS IN THIS COUNTRY AFTER ENJOYING ITS GENEROSITY FOR YEARS."

(TODAY IN TORONTO MISS FIELDS DECLARED THAT SHE AND HER HUSBAND HAD DONE NOTHING WRONG, THAT MOST OF HER ASSETS WERE IN ENGLAND AND THAT SHE INTENDED TO RETURN THERE.)

AUG 8-1940

WH91AED

A.M. London-Aug 7 xx colonies back

INDUSTRIAL GERMANY NEEDS THE GOLD, TIN, COPPER, VANADIUM, INDUSTRIAL DIAMONDS, COTTON, COCOA, PALM OIL, RICE, SUGAR, SISAL AND RUBBER THAT SHE COULD GET FROM AFRICA.

AUG 8-1940

ITALY'S OWN COLONIAL EMPIRE IS IN AFRICA, AND MUSSOLINI WISHES TO CONSOLIDATE IT BY CONNECTING UP LIBYA AND ETHIOPIA, NOW SEPARATED BY BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

HE ALSO HAS SAID THAT, FOR ITALY, THE MEDITERRANEAN IS "LIFE TSELF." WITH EGYPT IN HIS CONTROL HE WOULD BE A LONG WAY TOWARD REAKING BRITAIN'S GRIP ON THAT SEA.

FOR BRITAIN, HOWEVER, HER STRONGHOLDS AT GIBRALTAR, MALTA AND UEZ PROTECT THE SHIPPING LANES WHICH MAKES POSSIBLE THE HOLDING OGETHER OF HER EMPIRE.

FOR THE "BATTLE OF AFRICA" ITALY IS ESTIMATED TO HAVE HALF A MILLION NATIVE AND WHITE SOLDIERS, MANY OF THEM WITH MODERN MECHANICAL AND MOTOR EQUIPMENT.

BRITAIN'S FORCES ARE FAR SMALLER, BUT THEY ARE SCHOOLED IN YEARS OF FIGHTING AND LIVING UNDER THE PECULIAR CONDITIONS OF THE DESERT.

AUG 8-1940

LONDON, AUG. 8-(THURSDAY)-(AP)-THE FINNISH RADIO IN A BROADCAST HEARD HERE ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAD SET UP A COMMITTEE FOR THE PROMOTION OF CULTURAL RELATIONS WITH SOVIET RUSSIA.

(THE FORMATION OF THE COMMITTEE COMES AFTER CLASHES BETWEEN FINNISH POLICE AND AN ORGANIZATION KNOWN AS THE "FRIENDS OF THE SOVIET," WHICH APPEARED AFTER THE COMMUNIST PARTY WAS OUTLAWED IN FINLAND. ITS PROGRAM CALLS FOR GOOD RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA.

(FINNISH POLICE TUESDAY NIGHT DISPERSED A MEETING OF SEVERAL HUNDRED "FRIENDS OF THE SOVIET" WHO HAD BEEN FORBIDDEN THE RIGHT TO ASSEMBLE. THE GROUP MARCHED TO A SMALL SQUARE AND STARTED A FIRE BUT ORDER WAS RESTORED WHEN FIREMEN APPEARED.)

THE MOSCOW RADIO WAS REPORTED TO HAVE BROADCAST LAST NIGHT ANOTHER REPORT ALLEGING FINNISH ACTIONS HOSTILE TO RUSSIA. THE RADIO SAID FIRE ENGINES WERE CALLED OUT AND HOSE TURNED ON CROWDS OF WORKERS DEMONSTRATING IN MOSCOW'S FAVOR AT A HELSINKI MEETING TUESDAY.

(APPARENTLY THIS WAS THE SAME OCCURRENCE MENTIONED IN THE HELSINKI REPORT.)

LONDON, AUG. 8-(THURSDAY)-(AP)-STEPPING UP THEIR BOMBING FORAYS AFTER A BRIEF LULL, GERMAN AIRMEN DROPPED BOMBS IN WESTERN ENGLAND LAST NIGHT AND EARLY TODAY AND HARASSED OTHER SECTIONS OF ENGLAND AND WALES.

FIRST REPORTS INDICATED THERE WERE ONE OR TWO SLIGHT CASUALTIES AND SLIGHT DAMAGE DONE TO PROPERTY IN THE RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT OF ONE TOWN IN SOUTHWEST ENGLAND, WHERE THE NAZIS DROPPED FOUR OR FIVE BOMBS.

IN ONE RAID NEAR A NORTHWESTERN TOWN, THE GERMANS WERE SAID TO HAVE DROPPED SEVERAL BOMBS IN A FIELD.

IN NORTHEAST ENGLAND, ROYAL AIR FORCE FIGHTERS WENT UP AFTER RAIDERS WHO FLEW OVER ONE TOWN. SEARCHLIGHTS PLAYED OVER A WIDE AREA BUT NO BOMBS APPEARED TO HAVE BEEN DROPPED.

HOWEVER, SEVERAL EXPLOSIONS WERE HEARD IN SOUTHWEST ENGLAND AND WALES WHEN GERMAN PLANES WERE REPORTED IN THAT SECTION BUT FIRST REPORTS DID NOT SAY BOMBS WERE DROPPED. SEARCHLIGHTS OPERATED THERE ALSO.

AUG 8-1940

WE945PED

LONDON, AUG. 7-(AP)- THE MINISTRY OF INFORMATION ANNOUNCED TONIGHT THAT ITS DIRECTOR-GENERAL, SIR KENNETH LEE, WHO FILLED THE JOB FOR NINE MONTHS WITHOUT PAY, HAD RESIGNED AND WOULD BE REPLACED AUG. 12 BY FRANK PICK.

LONDON, AUG. 7-(AP)- THE ADMIRALTY ANNOUNCED TONIGHT THE MINE SWEEPING TRAWLER RIVER CLYDE HAD BEEN SUNK BY A GERMAN MINE.

AUG 8-1940

VICHY, AUG.7-(AP)-A NEWLY ORGANIZED SUPREME COURT WILL START AN INVESTIGATION TOMORROW AT RIOM TO LEARN WHY UNPREPARED FRANCE MARCHED TO WAR, TO IDENTIFY THOSE WHO LED THE WAY TO DEFEAT, AND TO MAKE THEM PAY.

ON THE EVE OF THE MASS TRIALS THERE WERE NO NAMED DEFENDANTS--NOR WAS THERE ANY INDICATION THAT THE FINDINGS OF THE INQUIRY WOULD BE DIVULGED SOON.

AUG 8-1940

INSTEAD, IT WAS INDICATED THAT THE COURT WILL UNDERTAKE A LONG, DETAILED SURVEY OF THE STEPS OF FRANCE'S FORMER GOVERNMENT BEFORE THE WAR AND IN ITS EARLY DAYS BEFORE DESIGNATING THOSE WHO MIGHT HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE AND BRINGING UP THEIR CASES INDIVIDUALLY OR COLLECTIVELY.

MAXIMUM PENALTY FOR THE GUILTY WILL BE LIFE IMPRISONMENT.

THE PRESS AND OFFICIAL ORATORS HAVE PAVED THE WAY. THEY HAVE HEAPED CHARGES OF BLAME AGAINST A SCORE OF PERSONS IDENTIFIED WITH THE WAR AND PRE-WAR GOVERNMENTS. FIGURING MOST PROMINENTLY IN THE DAILY LAMBASTING OF FORMER OFFICIALS HAVE BEEN THE NAMES OF FORMER PREMIERS EDOUARD DALADIER AND PAUL REYNAUD, GEN.MAURICE GAMELIN, FORMER AIR MINISTER PIERRE COT, FORMER MARINE MINISTER CESAR CAMPINCHI, FORMER EDUCATION MINISTER ZAY MANDEL, FORMER FOREIGN MINISTER YVON DELBOS, AND OTHERS.

BRIEFLY, THE CHARGES TO BE INVESTIGATED COVER:

30,24-4187

THAT FRANCE WENT TO WAR UNPREPARED, AND THAT THE MEN WHO DECLARED WAR KNEW SHE WAS UNPREPARED;

AUG 8 1940

THAT FRANCE FOLLOWED POLICIES THAT MUST LEAD TO WAR, BUT FAILED TO BACK THEM UP WITH ADEQUATE ARMAMENT;

THAT THE POLITICAL AND MILITARY LEADERSHIP WAS INCOMPETENT;

THAT FRENCH GOVERNMENTS ALLOWED THEIR POLICIES TOWARD GERMANY TO BE DOMINATED BY BRITAIN;

THAT INTERIOR POLICIES, INDIVIDUAL AVERICE, IDEOLOGICAL CRUSADES AND GENERAL CORRUPTION WEAKENED FRANCE.

THE NEWSPAPER, LE JOURNAL, PREDICTED THAT THE INVESTIGATION WOULD GO INTO NOT ONLY FRANCE'S WARTIME GOVERNMENT, BUT INTO THE CONDUCT OF FRENCH GOVERNMENTS BACK FOR A 10-YEAR PERIOD. THIS WOULD INCLUDE THE POPULAR-FRONT GOVERNMENT OF PREMIER LEON BLUM.

Geneva, Switzerland

-0-NEXT

LAND, AUG. 7-(AP)-EIGHT LEAGUE OF NATIONS FINANCIAL EXPERTS EN ROUTE TO THE UNITED STATES WERE INVOLVED IN A BUS CRASH YESTERDAY AT GRENOBLE, FRANCE, BUT NONE WAS INJURED SERIOUSLY, A LEAGUE COMMUNIQUE ANNOUNCED TODAY. ULTIMATE DESTINATION IS PRINCETON, N.J.

AUG 8 1940

TWENTY OF THE 40 PASSENGERS ON THE GENEVA-TO-BARCELONA BUS SUFFERED SLIGHT INJURIES WHEN THE BUS OVERTURNED. ALL CONTINUED ON THEIR JOURNEY THIS MORNING.

THE LEAGUE COMMUNIQUE ADDED THAT NORMAL ACTIVITY OF THE FINANCIAL AND ECONOMIC SECTIONS OF THE LEAGUE WOULD CONTINUE AT GENEVA.

THE EIGHT LEAGUE OFFICIALS ON THEIR WAY TO THE UNITED STATES INCLUDE A SECTION HEAD AND SEVEN LEADING EXPERTS.

30.24-4187

BASEL, SWITZERLAND, AUG. 7-(AP)-TWO POLISH SOLDIERS WERE SHOT AND KILLED BY A GERMAN PATROL AS THEY TRIED TO CROSS THE DOUBS RIVER INTO GERMAN-HELD FRANCE AFTER ESCAPING FROM A SWISS INTERNMENT CAMP IT WAS REPORTED TONIGHT.

AUG 8 1940

ONE WAS SHOT ON THE FRENCH BANK OF THE RIVER NEAR THE VILLAGE OF CLAIRBIEZ, AND THE OTHER WHILE [redacted] STILL SWIMMING TOWARD THE SHORE.

NEWSPAPER REPORTS SAID THEY [redacted] ESCAPED TO "CONTINUE THE FIGHT" AGAINST GERMANY.

BERN, SWITZERLAND, AUG. 7--(AP)--SWISS POLICE ATTEMPTED TONIGHT TO STEM THE FLOW OF A [redacted] OF PROPAGANDA LETTERS, SOME SAYING [redacted] "THE DAYS OF THE FEDERAL COUNCIL (SWISS GOVERNMENT) ARE NUMBERED," WHICH HAVE BEEN DROPPED ONTO THOUSANDS OF PRIVATE MAIL BOXES IN GERMAN-SPEAKING SECTIONS OF SWITZERLAND.

AUG 8 1940

THE LETTERS ATTACKING THE GOVERNMENT GAVE NO INDICATION OF THEIR HEADQUARTERS OR LEADERSHIP.

HOWEVER, ANOTHER GROUP OF PROPAGANDA LETTERS [redacted] WAS SIGNED

BY ERNST LEONHARDT, SWISS NAZI LEADER WHO FLED TO GERMANY LAST YEAR WHEN HIS ORGANIZATION WAS BANNED. LEONHARDT DECLARED THE PEOPLE MUST CHOOSE BETWEE THE PRESENT SWISS LEADERS "WHO BELONG WITH THE CONQUERED OF THIS WAR" OR THE SWISS NAZIS "WHO STAND WITH THE CONQUEROR."

AUG 8 1940

THE LEONHARDT LETTER DREW A REPLY FROM THE SWISS NEWSPAPER DEMOCRAT OF DELEMONT THAT "LEONHARDT OBVIOUSLY IS A NEOPHYTE WHO DOES NOT YET UNDERSTAND THAT THE SWISS DO NOT LIKE TO BE ADDRESSED IN SUCH THREATENING TONES." FWC 925P BOLTZ 12345 SECOND POSTAL

MIRAMAS, FRANCE, AUG. 7--(AP)--[redacted] TWENTY PERSONS WERE INJURED AND WIDESPREAD DAMAGE WAS CAUSED TODAY WHEN FREIGHT CARS LOADED WITH MUNITIONS EXPLODED DURING A FIRE WHICH SWEPT THIS LARGE RAIL CENTER WEST OF MARSEILLE. MIRAMAS IS NEAR THE FRENCH SEAPLANE BASE AT ISTRES.

AUG 8 1940

AGVS OUT
BY ROBERT OKEN

PARIS, AUG. 6 (DELAYED)--(AP VIA BERLIN)--RICHARD F. ALLEN, RED CROSS OFFICIAL IN CHARGE OF [redacted] DISTRIBUTING FOOD AND CLOTHING RECEIVED FROM THE UNITED STATES ON THE RELIEF SHIP MCKEESPORT, ESTIMATED TODAY THERE ARE ABOUT 5,000,000 REFUGEES IN UNOCCUPIED FRANCE

HE ADDED THAT THERE ARE BETWEEN 1,000 TO 2,500 AMERICANS IN THE AREA.

AUG 8 1940

ALLEN, WHO DROVE TO PARIS FROM MARSEILLE DESPITE DIFFICULT TRAVEL CONDITIONS IN BOTH UNOCCUPIED AND GERMAN-HELD FRANCE, SAID THRE QUARTERS OF THE FOOD AND CLOTHING RECEIVED ON THE MCKEESPORT HAD BEEN DISTRBUTED TO THE DEPARTMENTS IN THE UNOCCUPIED TERRITORY.

THE REFUGEES, ALLEN SAID, INCLUDE 3,500,000 FRENCH, [redacted] 1,000,000 BELGIANS, AND 500,000 [redacted] GERMANS, AUSTRIANS, NETHERLANDERS, LUXEMBOURGERS AND SPANISH. MOST OF THEM ARE LIVING IN HOTELS OR HOMES AND VERY FEW IN CAMPS OR BARRACKS.

THE FRENCH ARE SENDING MORE THAN 200,000 PERSONS TO THEIR HOMES IN THE NORTH EACH WEEK AND BELGIAN REFUGEES WITH AUTOMOBILES ARE MOVING NORTHWARD STEADILY.

AUG 8 1940

GASOLINE IS A SERIOUS PROBLEM, BUT ALLEN SAID HE HAD BEEN INFORMED THAT THE GERMANS HAD AGREED TO PERMIT FRANCE TO IMPORT 60 TONS OF GASOLINE EACH MONTH IF THEY SENT THEIR OWN TRUCKS TO RUMANIA FOR IT. THIS WILL PROVIDE ABOUT ONE-THIRD OF THE NEEDS OF THE UNOCCUPIED AREA, HE ADDED.

THE MCKEESPORT WAS THE FIRST SHIP TO ENTER MARSEILLE IN

30.24-4189

SEVERAL WEEKS, ALLEN BAID, AND AS A RESULT WAS GIVEN A HUGE WELCOME. THE FRENCH EVEN EXEMPTED IT FROM PORT AND CUSTOMS TAXES, WHICH AUTHORITIES SAID HAD NEVER BEEN DONE BEFORE.

AUG 8 1940

MANY ENGLISH CITIZENS ARE LIVING IN THE SOUTH OF FRANCE. THEY HAVE BEEN PERMITTED TO RECEIVE MONEY FROM ABOARD. WHILE NONE HAS BEEN ARRESTED, THE ENGLISH ARE SUBJECT TO CERTAIN ANTI-FOREIGNER DECREES AND ARE NOTPERMITTED TO LEAVE FRANCE OR TRAVEL FREELY.

ALLEN SAID HE SAW NO GERMANS IN THE SOUTH EXCEPT FOR A GERMAN

ITALIAN FINANCIAL MISSION WHICH REMAINED FOR A SHORT TIME AT MARSEILLE.

BY LLOYD LEHRBAS
VICHY, FRANCE, (CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)--

PRIVATES SECOND CLASS SHEFFIELD AND ANNENFELDT HAVE BEEN DEMOBILIZED FROM THE FRENCH ARMY AFTER SERVING FOR NINE MONTHS AT THE FRONT AND BEHIND THE LINES.

AUG 8 1940

PRIVATE SHEFFIELD IS MISS JUNE MM SHEFFIELDT OF (911 CHERRY STREET) FORT WORTH, TEXAS, A GIRL PRETTY ENOUGH TO

30.24-4189

WIN A BEAUTY CONTEST.

AUG 8 1940

PRIVATE ANNENFELDT IS MISS HELEN ANNENFELDT, A FORMER RESIDENT OF NEW YORK CITY AND CHICAGO WHO FOR THE LAST 20 YEARS HAS LIVED IN LONDON AND PARIS.

BEFORE THEIR DEMOBILIZATION THEY WERE CITED BY THE COMMANDER OF THE SECTION SANITAIRE BLESSE MILITAIRE (FRENCH ARMY WOUNDED AMBULANCE SECTION) FOR BRAVERY UNDER FIRE, AND MISS ANNENFELDT WAS DECORATED WITH THE CROIX DE GUERRE FOR HER DEVOTION TO DUTY AND VALOR DURING THE BOMBING OF REIMS SOISSONS.

AUG 8 1940

THE TWO AMERICAN GIRLS SAW THE WAR FROM START TO FINISH-- FROM THEIR TRAINING IN FIRST AID IN THE AMERICAN HOSPITAL IN PARIS TO DRIVING AMBULANCES, EVACUATING WOUNDED AND REFUGEES AND GIVING FIRST AID TO SCORES OF WOUNDED FROM THE FRONT LINES AND FROM THE INNUMERABLE GERMAN BOMBING RAIDS THAT FOLLOWED THEM ACROSS FRANCE DURING THE HISTORIC RETREAT OF THE FRENCH ARMY.

BOTH EXPERIENCED BOMBINGS AND MACHINE-GUNNING TIME

AFTER TIME [illegible] MISS SHEFFIELD'S RL AMBULANCE STILL BEARS WITNESS TO THE MACHINE-GUNNING. THEY SLEPT IN THEAR AMBULANCES OR IN THE OPEN FIELDS AT NIGHT... ATE THE FARE OF FRENCH ENLISTED MEN..

AND NIGHT AFTER NIGHT WITHOUT WENT WITHOUT BATHS/OR THE JOY OF TAKING OFF ONE

AUG 8 1940

ONE'S CLOTHES.. SAW THE WAR IN ALL ITS HORROR,- SUDDEN DEATH, WOUNDS, PRIVATION, SUFFERING.

LEWIS WSW 8 540P

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG 7-(AP)-DECREES ON ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS WHICH WILL STRIKE HARD AT THE FRENCH CUSTOM OF SIPPING APERITIFS BEFORE LUNCHEON AND DINNER WERE ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY TODAY.

DRINKS OF OVER 15 PER CENT ALCOHOL CONTENT WILL BE PROHIBITED ENTIRELY EXCEPT AS LIQUEURS TAKEN AFTER MEALS OR IF PURCHASED IN BOTTLES FOR HOME CONSUMPTION.

AUG 8 '40

THE CABINET APPROVED THE TERMS OF THE ALCOHOL DECREE YESTERDAY AND IT IS TO BE PUBLISHED SOON, TAKING EFFECT WHEN IT IS PUBLISHED.

RESTAURANT KEEPERS WILL BE ALLOWED TO SERVE BRANDY AND OTHER LIQUEURS UP TO TWO HOURS AFTER A MEAL IS ORDERED, IT WAS EXPLAINED, BUT THEY WILL N O T BE PERMITTED TO SERVE STRONG DRINKS WITHOUT FOOD.

PRACTICALLY ALL FAVORITE APERITIFS, SUCH AS DISTILLED WINES AND STRONG VERMOUTH WILL BE PROHIBITED. ALSO RULED OUT ARE DRINKS BASED ON ABSINTHE AND ANIS.

BUT THERE WILL BE NO LIMITATION ON THE FRENCHMAN'S FAVORITE DRINK WITH MEALS--WINE.

THE DECREE FOLLOWS A CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE DRINK HABIT BY THE GOVERNMENT OF MARSHAL PHILIPPE PETAIN.

AUG 8 1940

JR244PED

[illegible] (AGIS OUT)

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG. 7-(AP)-TWENTY-FIVE PERSONS WERE INJURED MONDAY WHEN A TRAIN LOADED WITH EXPLOSIVES BLEW UP AT MIRAMAS STATION, NEAR MARSEILLE, IT WAS REPORTED TODAY.

AUG 8 1940

UX408PED

Ass Vichy - Aug 7

TOMORROW'S COURT OPENING AT RIOM WILL BE A FORMAL INAUGURAL CEREMONY FEATURED BY A SPEECH BY MINISTER OF JUSTICE RAPHAEL ALIBERT.

FOUR OR FIVE DAYS LATER THERE IS TO BE ANOTHER PUBLIC MEETING AT WHICH THE COURT WILL TAKE OFFICIAL CHARGE OF THE SO-CALLED RESPONSIBILITIES CASE. THE PERIOD OF JUDICIAL INVESTIGATION TO FOLLOW WILL TAKE AT LEAST WEEKS AND PERHAPS MONTHS, WITH PROCEEDINGS STRICTLY SECRET.

IT WILL BE DURING THIS PERIOD THAT FORMAL CHARGES WILL BE LODGED AND PUBLIC TRIAL WILL COME ONLY AFTER IT IS COMPLETED.

JL637AED

BY ROY PORTER

AUG 8 1940

PARIS, AUG. 5 (DELAYED)-(AP)-SEARCHLIGHTS SWEEPING THE SKIES [illegible] AND THE SOUND OF ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS HAVE INDICATED ALMOST NIGHTLY AIR RAIDS RECENTLY OVER GERMAN-OCCUPIED PARIS.

30.24-4191

30.24-4191

IN AT LEAST ONE INSTANCE THE EXPLOSIONS OF BOMBS WERE HEARD, [redacted] SEEMINGLY FROM THE DIRECTION OF LE BOURGET AIRPORT.

(BRITISH ANNOUNCEMENTS SAID TODAY THAT THE BIG AIR FIELD AT PARIS HAS BEEN BOMBED.)

AUG 8 1940

RESIDENTS WHO HAVE TAKEN TO THEIR BALCONIES THESE HOT NIGHTS HAVE WATCHED THE CRISS-CROSSING SEARCHLIGHT BEAMS AND LISTENED TO THE DRONE OF AIRPLANE MOTORS, USUALLY LASTING FOR ONLY A FEW MINUTES.

THE NIGHTLY "ENTERTAINMENT" DOES NOT EVEN APPROACH THE ALMOST CONTINUOUS ANTI-AIRCRAFT BOMBARDMENT HEARD NIGHT AFTER NIGHT IMMEDIATELY BEFORE JUNE 14 WHEN GERMAN TROOPS ENTERED THE CITY.

AUG 8 1940

PARIS AND THE NAZI-OCCUPIED ZONE OF FRANCE HAS BEEN CUT OFF FROM ALL CORRESPONDENCE BY REGULAR CHANNELS WITH THE PART OF FRANCE UNDER CONTROL OF THE REORGANIZED VICHY GOVERNMENT.

JOSEPH CATHALA, SECRETARY GENERAL OF COMMUNICATIONS IN PARIS, ANNOUNCED THAT POSTAL RELATIONS WERE SUSPENDED TEMPORARILY BETWEEN THE TWO ZONES OF FRANCE, TO FRENCH COLONIES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

AUG 8 1940

(THIS DISPATCH WAS SENT BY WAY OF BERLIN.)

NO REASON FOR THE MOVE WAS ANNOUNCED.

PREVIOUS TO THE ORDER, MAIL SERVICE HAD BEEN OPERATING SINCE SHORTLY AFTER THE FRENCH NATIONAL ASSEMBLY IN VICHY INSTALLED MARSHAL PETAIN AS CHIEF OF STATE.

AUG 8 1940

BESIDES CUTTING THE POSTAL CONTACT, GERMAN AUTHORITIES HAVE RULED THAT EXIT VISAS WILL BE REQUIRED OF ALL PERSONS LEAVING FRANCE.

AMERICAN CONSULAR REPRESENTATIVES AT BIARRITZ ARE HANDLING THIS PROCEDURE FOR AMERICANS RETURNING HOME. THEY OBTAIN COLLECTIVE VISAS TO COVER GROUPS TRAVELING TOGETHER.

A CENSUS OF ALL FOREIGNERS IN THE SEINE DEPARTMENT OF FRANCE WAS STARTED [redacted] TODAY. ALL PERSONS NOT OF FRENCH OR GERMAN NATIONALITY WERE ORDERED TO FILL OUT SHEETS OF DETAILED INFORMATION.

Add - Berlin - Aug 7

HITLER'S AIRFORCE AND RAIDING WARSHIPS MEANWHILE BATTERED AGAINST THE ONLY OBSTACLES TO A GERMAN PEACE--THE ISLAND FORTRESS OF ENGLAND AND BRITISH SEA-POWER.

AUG 8 1940

THE NAZI HIGH COMMAND ANNOUNCED A GERMAN RAIDER HAD SUNK 30,000 TONS OF BRITISH MERCHANT SHIPPING "OVERSEAS" AND THAT GERMAN BOMBERS HAD RAIDED AIRPORTS NEAR TYNEMOUTH AND ST.ATHAN, THE VICKERS-ARMSTRONG AIRPLANE FACTORIES IN CHESTER AND MUNITIONS PLANTS IN SWANSEA. NIGHT-RAIDING BRITISH PLANES DROPPED BOMBS IN HOLLAND AND WESTERN GERMANY BUT FAILED, THE HIGH COMMAND SAID, TO INFLICT ANY "DAMAGE WORTH MENTIONING."

AS EUROPE WAITED FOR THE LONG-HERALDED GRAND ASSAULT ON BRITAIN, HITLER SIGNED DECREES BRINGING PORTIONS OF THE CONTINENT CLOSER TO ANNEXATION BY THE REICH.

GERMAN WAS DECLARED THE OFFICIAL LANGUAGE OF OCCUPIED LUXEMBOURG. THE CIVIL ADMINISTRATIONS OF LUXEMBOURG, ALSACE AND LORRAINE WERE TAKEN FROM THE MILITARY AND PLACED UNDER CIVIL ADMINISTRATORS, DIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE TO HITLER.

BERLIN--FIRST ADD NIGHT LEAD GERMAN (BUDGET) XXX TO HITLER.

THE FUEHRER APPOINTED JOSEPH BUERCKEL TO HEAD THE CIVIL ADMINISTRATION OF LORRAINE, AND NAMED REICH YOUTH LEADER BALDUR VON SCHIRACH AS GOVERNOR OF AUSTRIA TO SUCCEED BUERCKEL. ROBERT WAGNER AND GUSTAV SIMON WERE NAMED RESPECTIVELY CHIEFS OF THE CIVIL ADMINISTRATIONS IN ALSACE AND LUXEMBOURG.

VON SCHIRACH'S PLACE AS YOUTH LEADER WILL BE FILLED BY CHIEF DISTRICT LEADER ARTHUR AMANN. (CORRECT)

AUG 8 1940

HITLER VISITED GERMANY'S GREATEST ARMS FACTORY--THE KRUPP WORKS AT ESSEN--AND DECORATED THE HEAD OF THE FIRM, DR.GUSTAV KRUPP VON BOHLEN UND HALBACH, ON HIS 70TH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Add - Bucharest - Aug 7

OFFICIAL CIRCLES SAID THAT BOSSY WAS MAKING THE THREE-DAY TRIP IN AN ATTEMPT TO LEARN WHAT THE HUNGARIAN DEMANDS WOULD BE AND THAT HE HAD NO POWER TO NEGOTIATE EVEN A PRELIMINARY SETTLEMENT.

MEANWHILE PREPARATIONS WERE BEING MADE AT CRAIOVA, SOUTHWESTERN RUMANIA, FOR A FINAL CONFERENCE TOMORROW WHICH IS EXPECTED TO END IN RUMANIA'S CESSION OF THE PROVINCE OF SOUTHERN DOBRUJA TO BULGARIA, WHICH OWNED IT UNTIL 1913.

AUG 8 1940

A NEW ANTI-SEMITIC DECREE ISSUED TODAY BARRED JEWISH YOUTHS FROM THE YOUTH ORGANIZATION OF KING CAROL II AND REQUIRED ALL YOUTH LEADERS TO BE MEMBERS OF THE NATION'S SINGLE POLITICAL PARTY.

FW1039AED

Add Rome - Aug 7

ITALIAN AIRMEN STRUCK AT BRITISH ENCAMPMENTS AT SALUM, (CORRECT) GUARDING THE EGYPTIAN-LIBYAN FRONTIER ON THE MEDITERRANEAN, RAIDED THE RAILWAY CONNECTING MERSA-MATRUH AND ALEXANDRIA, AND SHOT DOWN A FLYING BOAT OFF TOBRUK. EIGHT OF THE CREW WERE RESCUED BY AN ITALIAN WARSHIP.

AUG. 8 1940

ACROSS EGYPT TO THE EAST, FASCIST FLIERS BOMBED THE IMPORTANT OIL PORT OF HAIFA IN BRITISH-MANDATED PALESTINE, "SETTING FIRE TO MORE GASOLINE TANKS AND HITTING THE PORT WORKS."

(PALESTINE DISPATCHES SAID THE DAMAGE AND CASUALTIES WERE BELIEVED SLIGHT.)

IN EAST AFRICA, HEAVY BOMBERS FLYING AHEAD OF THEIR ADVANCING GROUND FORCES ATTACKED THE BRITISH PORT OF BERBERA, IN BRITISH SOMALILAND, THEN CROSSED THE GULF OF ADEN TO PUMP EXPLOSIVES ON THE BRITISH PORT OF ADEN, GUARDING THE SOUTHERN ENTRANCE TO THE RED SEA.

30.24-4193

30.24-4193

BUCHAREST, AUG. 7--(AP)- SIGNS THAT GERMANY WAS PRODDING RUMANIAN OFFICIALS TO MAKE A QUICK SETTLEMENT OF HUNGARY 'S CLAIMS FOR THE RETURN OF TRANSYLVANIA TO HER WERE SEEN TODAY. AUG 8 1940

THE NEWSPAPERS DROPPED ALL CRIES FOR RESISTANCE AGAINST THE HUNGARIAN DEMANDS, THEY REPRINTED A BERLIN FOREIGN OFFICE ARTICLE WHICH CRITICISED RUMANIANS WHO HAVE ASSUMED AN ATTITUDE OF FALSE HEROISM IN SETTLING RELATIONS WITH HUNGARY."

RADUL BOSSY, THE RUMANIAN MINISTER TO ITALY, LEFT FOR BUDAPEST TO GET HUNGARY 'S BEST TERMS BUT OFFICIALLY IT WAS SAID THAT HE WAS GOING MERELY ON A FACT-FINDING MISSION AND HAD NO AUTHORITY TO SUCH MUCH AS NEGOTIATE. AUG 8 1940

HUNGARY'S PREMIER PAL TELEKY RECEIVED HIM AS A SEMI-OFFICIAL ENVOY.

(THE GERMAN [redacted] WIRELESS, ATTRIBUTING ITS INFORMATION TO THE BUCHAREST RADIO, [redacted] REPORTED THAT RUMANIA WAS PREPARED TO MAKE CONCESSIONS TO ANOTHER TERRITORIAL CLAIMANT-- BULGARIA-- BUT THAT THESE MUST NOT BE "ONE-SIDED."

(THIS REPORT ADDED THAT BULGARIA WOULD BE ASKED TO CONSENT TO THE TRANSFER BACK HOME OF RUMANIANS NOW LIVING IN THAT COUNTRY AND THAT RUMANIA WAS NOT WILLING TO RETURN ALL OF DOBRUJA, THE REGION CLAIMED.

(SUCH A CESSION OF TERRITORY WOULD, IN THE RUMANIAN VIEW, MAKE THE RUMANIAN COAST TOO SMALL, SAID THE GERMAN WIRLESS. AUG 8 1940

(RUMANIA WAS "FUNDAMENTALLY PREPARED," IT WAS ADDED, TO RETURN THE TWO DISTRICTS OF DUROSTOR AND CALIACRA, BUT STILL WAS MAKING RESERVATIONS REGARDING THE TOWN OF SILISTRA ON THE DANUBE.)

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, AUG. 7- (AP)-- RUMANIA WAS TOLD TODAY THROUGH A SEMI-OFFICIAL ENVOY THAT HUNGARY DEMANDS NO LESS THAN 75 PER CENT OF TRANSYLVANIA IF HER 20-YEAR TERRITORIAL DISPUTE WITH RUMANIA IS TO BE SETTLED SATISFACTORILY. AUG 8 1940

BY LARRY ALLEN

CAIRO, EGYPT, AUG.7-(AP)-THE AFRICAN WAR, SUDDENLY FLARING INTO A MORE DECISIVE PHASE OF THE AXIS-BRITISH CONFLICT, MAY BE DECIDED AS MUCH BY WATER AS BY BULLETS AND BOMBS. AUG 8 1940

BRITAIN'S MOST POWERFUL NATURAL DEFENSES AGAINST THE TROOPS

ASSEMBLED BY MUSSOLINI IN THE LIBYAN DESERT ARE THIRST AND HEAT.

THERE IS A WATERLESS STRETCH OF BLAZING DESERT OF ALMOST 400 MILES BETWEEN THE ITALIAN POSITIONS AND THE BRITISH BASE AT MERSA MATRUH, ON THE MEDITERRANEAN COAST.

AUG 8 1940

TEMPERATURES OF 115 AND 120 DEGREES ARE USUAL IN THE DAYTIME.

MARSHAL RODOLFO GRAZIANI, MUSSOLINI'S COMMANDER IN LIBYA, WILL HAVE TO TRANSPORT ALL HIS WATER OVER DUSTY TRAILS ALMOST DEVOID OF COVER AND SUBJECT TO THE ATTACKS OF THE ROYAL AIR FORCE AND MOTORIZED BRITISH LAND UNITS. THE BRITISH FORCES ARE COMPOSED OF HARDY FIGHTING MEN, SOME OF THE EMPIRE'S MOST FAMOUS REGIMENTS, WHO HAVE BEEN TRAINED FOR YEARS IN THE DESERT WARFARE.

THE BRITISH WOULD HAVE A LINE OF OASES TO FALL BACK UPON.

THE NAVAL BLOCKADE OF THE LIBYAN COAST IS ASSERTED BY THE BRITISH ALREADY TO HAVE PREVENTED MUCH NEEDED SUPPLY SHIPS FROM GETTING THROUGH FROM ITALY, WHILE THE ROYAL AIR FORCE HAS BEEN SUBJECTING GRAZIANI'S BASES AT TOBRUCH, BARDIA AND DERNA TO ALMOST DAILY ATTACKS.

BRITISH BOMBERS SCORED ONE EARLY SUCCESS ON THIS FRONT WHEN THEY SUCCEEDED IN WRECKING A VITAL PIPELINE CARRYING WATER TO BELEAGUERED FORT CAPUZZO, AN ITALIAN OUTPOST.

THIS STONE FORT WAS TAKEN BY THE BRITISH EARLY IN THE WAR, BUT WAS RECAPTURED BY THE ITALIANS.

SINCE THEN THE THIRSTY, HALF-STARVED ITALIAN GARRISON HAS HELD ON DESPITE THE STIFLING HEAT AND THE ATTACKS OF BRITISH MOBILE UNITS WHICH HAVE SUCCEEDED IN DESTROYING AND SCATTERING SUPPLY AND RELIEF TRAINS ATTEMPTING TO GET THROUGH WITH AID.

IN THE SIMULTANEOUS ATTACKS ON BRITISH SOMALILAND, THE ITALIANS ALSO HAVE TO CONTEND WITH EXTREME HEAT AND THIRST, COMPLICATED BY A RACE TO BEAT THE RAINY SEASON DUE TO START LATE IN OCTOBER. THEN THE DOWNPOURS WILL TURN THE COUNTRY INTO A SEA OF MUD.

ATTEMPTING TO DRIVE THROUGH THE HILL PASSES TO OADWEINA, HARGEISA AND GARAGARAL, NATIVE CAMEL BREEDING CENTERS, THE ITALIANS HAVE TO MARCH FROM 80 TO 150 MILES TO REACH THE SEA.

EVERY SHOT FIRED BY THE ITALIANS BRINGS THE DAY CLOSER WHEN MUSSOLINI'S AFRICAN EMPIRE MUST CRUMBLE, THE BRITISH SAY, BECAUSE THE BRITISH NAVY MAKES IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR SHIPS TO BRING FRESH AID.

WD1136AED

CAIRO, EGYPT, AUG. 8 (THURSDAY).--(AP).--LEWA

IBRAHIM ATALLAH PASHA, AIDE DE CAMP TO KING FAROUK, HAS BEEN APPOINTED EGYPT'S NEW CHIEF OF STAFF AS SUCCESSOR TO AZIZ EL MASRY PASHA, WHO HAS BEEN PENSIONED.

AUG 8 1940

LEWA HASSAN EL ZIEDI PASHA HAS BEEN MADE GENERAL INSPECTOR OF THE EGYPTIAN ARMY.

CAIRO, EGYPT, AUG.7-(AP)-OFFICIAL CIRCLES SAID TODAY DEFINITELY THAT THE EFFECT OF THE FRENCH-ITALIAN ARMISTICE ON FRENCH SOMALILAND WOULD BE TO PREVENT AUG 8 1940 WAS THAT ANY FRENCH OFFENSIVE ACTION FROM SOMALILAND INTO ITALIAN-HELD ETHIOPIA.

30.24-4195

30.24-4195

THEY SAID ARMISTICE TERMS STILL WERE UNDER DISCUSSION AND THAT NO DETAILS WERE KNOWN HERE.

AUG 8 1940

-GZ-APL ASSOC CAIRO 1218--737AED-

MOSCOW, AUG. 7-(AP)-THE SUPREME SOVIET OF THE U. S. S. R. CLOSED ITS SEVENTH REGULAR SESSION TODAY WITH RATIFICATION OF GOVERNMENT APPOINTMENTS AND DECREES ISSUED DURING THE INTERVAL SINCE THE LAST SESSION.

AUG 8 1940

ITS WORK INCLUDED VOTING OF THREE BALTIC STATES, ESTONIA, LATVIA, AND LITHUANIA, INTO THE SOVIET UNION.

FW1238PED

Add Vancouver — Aug 7

"IN CANADA, AND IN BRITISH COLUMBIA PARTICULARLY, WE HAVE COME TO BELIEVE THAT THE JAPANESE RESIDENTS ARE NOT LOYAL TO THE EMPIRE, BUT ARE FEROCIOUSLY WORKING FOR THEIR OWN GODS IN FAR OFF JAPAN," HE SAID.

AUG 8 1940

"THAT SITUATION EXISTS TODAY JUST AS IT DID YEARS AGO, EXCEPT THAT THERE ARE FAR MORE JAPANESE HERE THAN THERE WERE AT THAT TIME. THEY HAVE GIVEN NO SUPPORT TO OUR WAR EFFORT AND HAVE MADE FEW DONATIONS TO THE RED CROSS."

WR1056AED

BY MORTON P.GUDEBROD

AUG 8 1940

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, AUG. 7-(AP)-GOVERNMENT HOUSE, AN 18-ROOM TURRETED MANSION SET AMID A 45-ACRE PARK OF LAWNS AND CEDAR GROVES AND BUILT OF NATIVE CORAL, WAS MADE READY TODAY FOR THE VISIT OF THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR, WHO ARRIVE HERE IN MIDAFTERNOON TOMORROW.

AUG 8 1940

MRS.HASTINGS BROOKE, SISTER OF THE COLONY'S BACHELOR GOVERNOR, WHO WILL BE THE WINDSORS' HOSTESS, SHOWED CORRESPONDENTS TODAY THROUGH THE MANSION, WHICH IS THE RESIDENCE OF HER BROTHER.

THE DUKE AND DUCHESS WILL OCCUPY A SUITE OF TWO BEDROOMS AND BATHS ON THE SOUTH SIDE OF THE HOUSE, OPENING ON A VERANDA COMMANDING A VIEW OF HAMILTON. BOTH ROOMS, LIKE THE REMAINDER OF THE HOUSE, ARE FURNISHED SIMPLY AND DECORATED IN PASTEL SHADES.

THE ROOM TO BE OCCUPIED BY THE DUCHESS CONTAINS TWIN BEDS OF ORDINARY WHITE-PAINTED IRON WITH BRASS KNOBS SUCH AS MIGHT BE FOUND IN ANY SUMMER SEASIDE RESIDENCE. IN THE ROOM IS AN ANTIQUE MAHOGANY CHIFFONIER, A DRESSING TABLE AND WARDROBE AND A FLOWERED CHINTZ CHAISE-LONGUE MATCHING THE DRAPERIES OF THE FRENCH WINDOWS.

THE DUKE'S BODYGUARD WILL OCCUPY A GUEST ROOM NEXT TO HIS AND THE DUCHESS' PERSONAL MAID WILL HAVE A ROOM ADJOINING HERS.

ASCENDING THE MAIN STAIRCASE FROM THE GROUND FLOOR THE WINDSORS WILL BE FACED BY AN ENLARGED FRAMED PHOTOGRAPH ON THE LANDING SHOWING THE DUKE WITH A CORONET ON HIS HEAD AND WEARING THE ROYAL ROBES HE WORE AT THE CORONATION OF HIS FATHER IN 1911.

AN AUTOGRAPHED CRAYON SKETCH OF THE DUKE IN MILITARY UNIFORM HANGS IN THE VAST DINING ROOM ALONG WITH PICTURES OF OTHER FORMER BRITISH MONARCHS.

MRS.BROOKE IS TURNING OVER TO THE DUCHESS HER OWN SITTING ROOM IN THE SOUTHWEST CORNER OF THE SECOND FLOOR. IT IS ONE OF THE SMALLEST ROOMS IN THE HOUSE, WITH PALE YELLOW WALLS, CHINTZ DRAPES AND FURNISHED WITH CASUAL CHAIRS, A WRITING DESK AND A CHAISE-LONGUE.

THE HOSTESS, A HANDSOME GRAY-HAIRED WOMAN, IS A LEADER IN THE COLONY'S WAR RELIEF WORK DESPITE HER 60-ODD YEARS. AUG 8 1940

SHE SAID IT WAS UNLIKELY THAT THERE WOULD BE ANY FORMAL SOCIAL ACTIVITIES PLANNED FOR THE STAY OF THE DUKE AND DUCHESS, NEITHER OF WHOM SHE HAS MET BEFORE.

SHE ADDED IT WAS LIKELY THAT HER BROTHER THE GOVERNOR, WHO IS AN ENTHUSIASTIC YACHTSMAN, WOULD TAKE THE DUKE SAILING IN HIS RACING BOAT AND GOLF WITH HIM, EITHER AT THE MID-OCEAN COURSE OR ON A 9-HOLE COURSE THE GOVERNOR HAD CONSTRUCTED ON GOVERNMENT HOUSE GROUNDS.

THE WINDSORS WILL SWIM AT THE PRIVATE GOVERNMENT HOUSE BEACH ABOUT A HALF MILE FROM THE HOUSE.

MRS.BROOKE SAID THE ONLY OPPORTUNITY OF LEADERS IN BERMUDA'S OFFICIAL LIFE TO MEET THE DUKE AND DUCHESS MAY BE AT A SMALL COCKTAIL PARTY ON THE TERRACE OF THE MANSION, ALTHOUGH OTHER SOCIAL FUNCTIONS MAY BE ARRANGED IF THE WINDSORS WISH.

THE LENGTH OF THEIR STAY IS STILL UNDECIDED. ARRANGEMENTS FOR THEIR TRANSPORTATION TO NASSAU, WHERE THE DUKE WILL SERVE AS GOVERNOR AND COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE BAHAMAS, REMAIN A MILITARY SECRET.

WE852PED

NEW YORK,AUG.7-(AP)-BARON GOTTFRIED VON CRAMM, GERMAN DAVIS CUP TEAM TENNIS STAR, HAS BEEN CALLED TO MILITARY SERVICE WITH AN ANTI-AIRCRAFT UNIT IN THE BERLIN AREA, A COLUMBIA BROADCASTING COMPANY BROADCAST FROM BERLIN SAID TODAY.

WN956AED

AUG 8 1940

UNDATED EGYPTIAN-AFRICAN (PMS BUDGET)

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUG 8 1940

ITALIAN INVASION OF EGYPT, BACKED BY AN ARMY 250,000 STRONG, SHARPENS THE LIKELIHOOD OF FULL-SCALE AFRICAN WARFARE FOR GREAT STAKES: CONTROL OF THE SUEZ CANAL AND HEGEMONY OVER THE ANCIENT LAND WHICH ONCE WAS THE GRANARY OF IMPERIAL ROME.

BUT NOT SINCE 969 A.D., WHEN THE FATIMITES CONQUERED EGYPT, HAS A SUCCESSFUL INVASION BEEN LAUNCHED FROM THE WEST, AS THE ITALIANS NOW ARE ATTEMPTING FROM LIBYA. THE FATIMITES, A WEST AFRICAN MOHAMMEDAN DYNASTY SUCCEEDED ONLY ON THE THIRD ATTEMPT.

GEOGRAPHY MILITATES AGAINST AN INVADER. ALL THE WESTERN LAND OF EGYPT IS A GREAT DESERT, A COUNTRY OF DRY DEFILES, OF MOUNTAINOUS SAND DUNES THAT "WALK" WITH THE WIND, OF SHRIVELING 120-DEGREE TEMPERATURES BY DAY AND 40-DEGREE CHILLS BY NIGHT.

SINCE THE FATIMITES' EXPLOIT, INVASION FROM THE WEST HAS BEEN ATTEMPTED ONLY ONCE--THE UNSUCCESSFUL ATTACK BY THE SENUSSI BROTHERHOOD OF TRIBESMEN IN 1915-16.

STIRRED UP BY GERMAN AND TURKISH AGENTS, THE SENUSSI STRUCK TOWARD THE WESTERN EGYPTIAN COASTAL TOWN OF MERSA MATRUH. THE BRITISH, HOWEVER, SCATTERED THE FOE WITH HEAVY LOSSES.

THOSE TRIBESMEN, WHILE EQUIPPED BY EXPERIENCE FOR DESERT WARFARE, WERE RELATIVELY FEW; A NEW QUESTION IS WHETHER A MODERN, MECHANIZED ARMY CAN WIN THROUGH THE 400 MILES FROM THE BORDER TO THE RICH CITIES OF THE NILE.

30.24-4197

30.24-4197

THE FORCES AT BRITAIN'S DISPOSAL ARE ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE SOMEHAT SMALLER THAN THE ITALIAN WHITE AND NATIVE ARMIES BUT THEY RE SPECIALISTS IN DESERT FIGHTING.

WHEN ITALY ENTERED THE WAR AGAINST BRITAIN ON JUNE 10, PREMIER USSOLINI SAID THAT EGYPT HAD NOTHING TO FEAR AS LONG AS SHE REMAINED EUTRAL. BUT EGYPT, BOUND BY AN ALLIANCE WITH BRITAIN, SEVERED ELATIONS WITH ITALY AND ANNOUNCED SHE WOULD GO TO WAR IF ATTACKED. ESPITE THE ITALIAN ANNOUNCEMENT OF INVASION, HOWEVER, EGYPT DID NOT MMEDIATELY DECLARE WAR.

HER WESTERN BORDER HAS NO NATURAL BARRIERS--EXCEPT THE DESERT.

BUT THE KEYS TO THE WEST ARE THE FIVE LARGE OASES OF SIWA, AHARIA, FARAFRA, DAKHLA AND KHARGA.

SIWA, 150 MILES SOUTH OF THE MEDITERRANEAN AND ONLY 40-ODD MILES FROM THE LIBYAN BORDER, WOULD BE A LIKELY FIRST OBJECTIVE FOR AN INVADER. THE ITALIAN ANNOUNCEMENT YESTERDAY OF INVASION DID NOT SPECIFY THE PLACE OF ATTACK.

THE OTHER OASES ARE STRUNG OUT SOUTHWARD, ABOUT EQUI-DISTANT ETWEEN THE NILE AND THE BORDER. OCCUPIED AS EARLY AS 1600 B.C., HEY WERE FAVORED SPOTS OF THE ROMANS, AND ONE OF THEM, KHARGA, STILL PRESERVES RUINS OF ROMAN ARCHITECTURE.

EGYPT, ON WHOSE SOIL LIBYAN, PERSIAN, GREEK, ROMAN, MOHAMMEDAN, TURK, FRENCHMAN AND BRITON HAVE TROD, ONCE WAS ROME'S MAIN SOURCE OF GRAIN.

AUG 8 1940

SO IMPORTANT WAS SHE THAT NO SENATOR OF ANCIENT ROME COULD O THERE WITHOUT SPECIAL PERMISSION--FOR FEAR HE MIGHT START A SUCCESSFUL INSURRECTION MERELY BY PREVENTING THE GRAIN SHIPS FROM LEAVING THE NILE FOR ROME.

AND TODAY, THE NILE VALLEY AND DELTA, CONTRASTING GREENLY WITH HE YELLOWED DESERT, STILL IS A RICH SOURCE OF FOOD AND COTTON. IN HE DESERT WHICH IS 14/15THS OF EGYPT THERE ARE MANGANESE, NITRATES, HOSPHATES AND PRECIOUS STONES.

AUG 8 1940

MUSSOLINI COULD USE ALL THOSE THINGS, BUT TO GET THEM HE WOULD HAVE TO CONQUER A COUNTRY OF 386,000 SQUARE MILES--MORE THAN THREE TIMES THE SIZE OF THE BRITISH ISLES, AND WITH A POPULATION OF ABOUT 15,000,000.

APPARENTLY TIMED WITH THE EGYPTIAN INVASION IS THE ITALIAN THRUST INTO BRITISH SOMALILAND, 2,000 MILES SOUTHEAST OF THE MOUTH OF THE NILE.

IN THAT CRAGGY AREA, ALONG THE RED SEA, THE GULF OF ADEN AND THE INDIAN OCEAN, THE ITALIANS ARE REPORTED TO HAVE ANOTHER 250,000 MEN, INCLUDING MANY NATIVES, HOWEVER.

BRITISH HOLD BRITISH SOMALILAND TO BE OF LITTLE STRATEGIC VALUE. THEY POINT OUT THAT ITALIAN SOMALILAND ALREADY FRONTS ON THE GULF OF ADEN, AND ITALIAN ERITREA ON THE RED SEA, SO THAT THE SUEZ CANAL ENTRANCE WOULD BE IN NO MORE DANGER EVEN IF BRITISH SOMALILAND FELL.

SUCH A CONQUEST, HOWEVER, WOULD GIVE MUSSOLINI RULERSHIP OVER ALL THE GREAT EASTERN "HORN" OF AFRICA.

AUG 8 1940

GEOGRAPHY WOULD SEEM TO PRECLUDE ANY STRONG DRIVE AGAINST SUEZ FROM THE EAST, SUCH AS THE TURKS TRIED IN THE WORLD WAR.

IN THAT CAMPAIGN, IN 1915, THE TURKS WERE BEATEN OFF IN A DARING ATTEMPT TO STORM THE CANAL. USING METAL BOATS, A FEW MANAGED EVEN TO CROSS TO THE WEST BANK BEFORE BRITISH SOLDIERY AND NAVAL GUNS CANCELLED THE EFFORT.

AUG 8 1940

THE TURKS THEN TRIED TO MINE THE CANAL, HOPING TO DESTROY SHIPS WHICH WOULD BLOCK THE CHANNEL. THE BRITISH DEFEATED THIS SIMPLY; EVERY NIGHT THEY DRAGGED A WIDE SPACE OF SMOOTH SAND ALONG THE ENTIRE LENGTH OF THE CANAL. EVERY MORNING THEY CHECKED FOR TRACKS, AND THUS FOUND WHERE MINES HAD BEEN PLACED IN THE CANAL.

ONE TURKISH MINE DID SINK A BRITISH FREIGHTER, BUT SHE REACHED SHORE BEFORE SINKING AND THE CANAL WAS SAFE.

TODAY, WITH TURKEY A NERVOUS NON-BELLIGERENT, AND WITH BRITAIN CLOSELY GUARDING PALESTINE, TRANS-JORDANIA AND THE SINAI PENINSULA, SUEZ WOULD APPEAR SAFE FROM THE EAST.

JL315AED

(WX)-INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS (AMS BUDGET)

BY KIRKE L.SIMPSON

AUG 8 1940

. IT WILL TAKE TIME TO DISCLOSE WHETHER ITALY'S HIGHLY ADVERTISED OFFENSIVES IN EGYPT AND BRITISH AFRICA ARE THE REAL THING, OR JUST A MINOR PART OF THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN IN THE HITLER-MUSSOLINI STRATEGY.

THERE SEEM TO BE URGENT REASONS PRESSING ON GERMANY TO PUSH THE FIGHT WITH BRITAIN TO A FINISH AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE MOMENT, EITHER BY INVASION OF THE ISLAND OR STARVATION. IT IS A FAR FETCHED CONJECTURE TO SAY THAT THE ITALIAN OFFENSIVE MEANS THERE HAS BEEN A SHIFT IN ROLES BETWEEN THE AXIS TEAM-MATES, AS SOME LONDON COMMENT SUGGESTS, AND THAT MUSSOLINI'S DESERT LEGIONS ARE TO CARRY THE BRUNT OF THE ATTACK WHILE GERMANY MERELY HOLDS ENGLAND UNDER SIEGE.

THERE HAS NEVER BEEN ANY EFFORT BY THE NAZI PRESS OR BY HITLER HIMSELF TO CONCEAL THE FACT THAT IN NAZI EYES ITALY WAS ONLY A USEFUL TAIL TO THE GERMAN KITE. HER FUNCTION IN THE BATTLE OF FRANCE WAS OBVIOUSLY MERELY A HOLDING FUNCTION. ACTUALLY, ITALIAN ATTACKS ALONG THE FRANCO-ITALIAN FRONTIERS SEEM TO HAVE BEEN STAGED MORE FOR ITALIAN HOME CONSUMPTION THAN BECAUSE THEY CONTRIBUTED GREATLY TO THE DEFEAT OF FRANCE.

AUG 8 1940

IT IS WELL WITHIN THE RANGE OF POSSIBILITY, THEREFORE, THAT ITALY'S DRIVE TO SEIZE THE SUEZ CANAL IS MORE OR LESS A SIDESHOW FOR WHAT MUSSOLINI KNOWS TO BE IMPENDING IN THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN. CERTAINLY NATURE CONFRONTS HIM WITH MORE FORMIDABLE ODDS IN THE SHIFTING DESERT SANDS HIS TROOPS MUST TRAVERSE THAN EVEN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL-NORTH SEA "MOAT" ABOUT ENGLAND OFFERS TO GERMANY.

ACCORDING TO NAZI CONCEPTIONS, THIS HAS BEEN A GERMAN-BRITISH WAR FROM THE OUTSET. EVEN FRANCE WAS OF SECONDARY IMPORTANCE TO HITLER. FROM HIS VIEW-POINT, AS REFLECTED REPEATEDLY IN HIS PUBLIC UTTERANCES, THE WAR CAN EVEN BE PERSONALIZED INTO A STRUGGLE BETWEEN HIMSELF AND PRIME MINISTER WINSTON CHURCHILL OF BRITAIN.

THE BATTLE OF THE MEDITERRANEAN OUTLETS, WHETHER THE SUEZ CANAL OR THE STRAITS OF GIBRALTAR, WILL BE LOST OR WON IN ALL PROBABILITY IN ENGLAND. MUSSOLINI IS WELL AWARE OF THAT. HE PROBABLY ALSO IS AWARE THAT A COMPLETELY VICTORIOUS HITLER WOULD BE APT TO DIVIDE THE SPOILS OF VICTORY TO SUIT HIMSELF OR IN PROPORTION TO THE AMOUNT OF AID HE HAD RECEIVED FROM ITALY.

AUG 8 1940

TO DATE THE ITALIAN-BRITISH CONFLICT HAS BROUGHT NO MORE THAN ISOLATED SKIRMISHING. ITALY HAS NOT EVEN SUCCEEDED IN BOMBING THE BRITISH OUT OF MALTA. SHE HAS NOT REMOVED THE THREAT

30.24-4199

OF THE BRITISH FLEET IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

AN ITALIAN DRIVE DOWN THE COASTAL TERRAIN OF EGYPT TOWARD THE NILE DELTA AND THE SUEZ CANAL WOULD MEAN A 400 MILE DESERT MARCH, HARRASSED AT EVERY STEP BY BRITISH-EGYPTIAN FORCES AND WITH THE MAIN BRITISH FLEET ON THE SEA FLANK. THE FLEET'S AIR FORCE WOULD BE AVAILABLE FOR CONSTANT BOMBING ATTACK ON ITALIAN COLUMNS.

ROME PRESS FORECASTS OF AN ITALIAN "DESERT BLITZKRIEG" THAT COULD OVERCOME LACK OF WATER, CLIMATIC CONDITIONS AND ALL THE OTHER NATURAL FACTORS THAT HAVE MADE EGYPT IMPREGNABLE FROM THE WEST FOR CENTURIES DO NOT SOUND CONVINCING.

THERE CAN BE NO SURPRISE ELEMENT IN DESERT FIGHTING BETWEEN FORCES RELATIVELY EQUAL IN AIR. IN SUCH WASTES, THERE CAN BE NO SURGING FORCED MARCHES BY MECHANIZED DIVISIONS.

ANY INVADER OF EGYPT FROM THE WEST WILL HAVE TO BRING HIS DRINKING AND COOKING AND ENGINE-COOLING WATER AS WELL AS EVERYTHING ELSE. WATER BARRELS WILL BE AS VITALLY IMPORTANT AS BOMBS.

WHAT, THEN, DOES ITALY'S WIDELY ADVERTISED INVASION OF EGYPT PROBABLY MEAN? AT A GUESS, IT IS MUSSOLINI'S WAY OF PUTTING A FEW MORE BLUE CHIPS ON THE TABLE FOR USE WITH HITLER IF AND WHEN THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN HAS BEEN WON BY THE SENIOR PARTNER OF THE AXIS FELLOWSHIP. AND MUSSOLINI CLEARLY EXPECTS OR HOPES FOR SUCH A VICTORY BEFORE HIS FORCES GET DEEPLY ENOUGH INVOLVED IN EGYPT OR ANYWHERE ELSE TO RISK SERIOUS DISASTER.

AUG 8 1940

SM422PES

THE WAR TODAY

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

AUG 8 1940

MUSSOLINI'S ATTACK ON THE BRITISH IN AFRICA SERVES THE LOGICAL PURPOSE OF COMPELLING ENGLAND TO CONDUCT TWO CRUCIAL, BIG-SCALE MILITARY OPERATIONS SIMULTANEOUSLY, THEREBY DIVIDING HER STRENGTH AT A MOMENT WHEN SHE NEEDS ALL SHE CAN MUSTER FOR HOME DEFENSE AGAINST HITLER.

AUG 8 1940

THE ITALIAN CAMPAIGN REPRESENTS MORE THAN THAT, HOWEVER--ASSUMING THAT WHAT WE HAVE SEEN THUS FAR IS A SERIOUS OFFENSIVE AND NOT A FEINT. IT IS A BLOW AT ONE OF THE VERY FOUNDATION STONES OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE--CONTROL OF THE VAST MEDITERRANEAN AREA AND THE SUEZ CANAL.

OF THE THREE PLACES AT WHICH IL DUCE IS STRIKING SIMULTANEOUSLY, THE PUSH AGAINST EGYPT FROM LIBYA IS BY FAR THE MOST VITAL. THE DRIVES INTO KENYA COLONY AND BRITISH SOMALILAND FROM ETHIOPIA DO NOT AT THIS JUNCTURE PRESENT ANY REAL MENACE, THOUGH THEY UNDOUBTEDLY WOULD WERE HE SUCCESSFUL IN EGYPT AND THE SUDAN.

WERE THE ITALIANS TO OVERRUN EGYPT AND CAPTURE THE SUEZ CANAL IT WOULD REPRESENT A DISASTER OF THE FIRST MAGNITUDE FOR THE ENGLISH. AMONG OTHER THINGS IT WOULD MEAN:

ENGLAND'S DOMINATION OF THE MEDITERRANEAN WOULD BE SMASHED.

THE IMPERIAL LIFELINE VIA SUEZ TO INDIA AND THE OTHER GREAT DOMINIONS OF THE FAR EAST WOULD BE SEVERED.

BY THE SAME TOKEN, BRITISH INFLUENCE IN THE ORIENT WOULD BE DEALT A TERRIFIC BLOW, THEREBY GIVING JAPAN THE CHANCE SHE WANTS FOR HEGEMONY.

AUG 8 1940

ENGLAND WOULD LOSE HER CONTROL OF THE NEAR EAST AND HER POWERFUL HOLD ON THE GREAT ARABIAN POPULATION.

SHE ALSO WOULD LOSE CONTROL OF VAST OIL FIELDS IN THE PERSIAN GULF REGION.

SHE WOULD LOSE HER INFLUENCE WITH TURKEY--GUARDIAN OF THE STRATEGICALLY IMPORTANT DARDANELLES.

AUG 8 1940

BRITISH OPPOSITION TO A POSSIBLE GERMAN OFFENSIVE DOWN THROUGH THE BALKANS WOULD BE REMOVED, AND THOSE DARDANELLES MIGHT COME UNDER HITLER'S CONTROL.

STRANGELY ENOUGH, THOUGH, SHOULD THIS CATASTROPHE BE VISITED ON ENGLAND IT WOULDN'T NECESSARILY BREAK HER BLOCKADE OF EUROPE. SO LONG AS HER NAVY COULD CONTROL THE OCEANS, AND PREVENT SHIPPING FROM ENTERING THE MEDITERRANEAN THROUGH THE NARROW STRAIT OF GIBRALTAR OR THE SUEZ CANAL, THE BLOCKADE WOULD STILL BE TIGHT. I MENTION THIS MERELY AS AN INTERESTING POSSIBILITY, AND NOT AS PREDICTING THAT ENGLAND WOULD BE ABLE TO CARRY IT OUT.

THE TASK WHICH MUSSOLINI IS UNDERTAKING IS HERCULEAN. IT WOULDN'T BE SURPRISING TO SEE HIM MEET WITH CONSIDERABLE SUCCESS IN KENYA AND SOMALILAND. EGYPT, HOWEVER, IS A HORSE OF ANOTHER COLOR.

WHILE THE BRITISH ARE SAID TO HAVE FEWER TROOPS (THE ITALIANS HAVE SOME 250,000 FOR THE EGYPTIAN SHOW AND A SIMILAR NUMBER FOR OTHER OPERATIONS) THEY HAVE STRONG BASES AND THEIR SOLDIERS ARE LARGELY SEASONED AFRICAN FIGHTERS. THEY ALSO CONTROL THE WATER SUPPLIES, WHICH IS A BIG ITEM IN DESERT FIGHTING.

AUG 8 1940

ONE HANDICAP WHICH IS LIKELY TO CAUSE MUSSOLINI TROUBLE LIES IN HIS SUPPLY LINE. THAT, OF COURSE, MUST PASS THROUGH THE MEDITERRANEAN TO ITALY AND THUS HIS SHIPS WILL HAVE TO RUN THE GAUNTLET OF BRITISH NAVAL GUNS AND BOMBING PLANES.

BUT WHILE THERE ARE DRAWBACKS, MUSSOLINI HAS A TOWER OF STRENGTH IN HIS COMMANDER--MARSHAL RODOLFO GRAZIANI. HE IS ONE OF THE MOST ADROIT OF THE DESERT WARFARE LEADERS OF HISTORY.

IT WAS GRAZIANI WHO, SHORTLY AFTER THE WORLD WAR, TURNED THE TIDE FOR THE ITALIANS AND ENABLED THEM TO CONQUER CIRENAICA AND LIBYA.

WM9A7AED

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUG 8 1940

OASES--LUSH, GREEN PHENOMENA IN THE BURNING LIBYAN DESERT--

WILL BE MILITARY FACTORS IN ANY ITALIAN DRIVE ON EGYPT.

AN OASIS MAY BE MERELY A WATER HOLE PROVIDING A BRIEF STOPPING PLACE FOR THE DESERT TRAVELLER OR IT MAY BE OF CONSIDERABLE EXTENT, THE DOMICILE OF SEVERAL THOUSAND PERSONS.

OASES ARE KEPT GREEN BY WATER THAT COMES TO THE SURFACE ON THE ARTESIAN PRINCIPLE AND COLLECTS IN HOLLOWS.

LARGER OASES ARE INTENSELY CULTIVATED, MAY CONTAIN MANY THOUSANDS OF DATE PALMS, ALL KINDS OF TROPICAL VEGETABLES, FRUITS AND SMALL GRAIN.

TYPICAL OF THE FIVE LARGE OASES WHICH MAY BE ITALIAN OBJECTIVES IS SIWA, 350 MILES SOUTHWEST OF CAIRO. IT IS

30.24-4201

A BEAUTIFUL GARDEN SPOT IN A VAST WASTE OF SAND AND ROCK AND HAS A POPULATION OF 4,000.

AUG 8 1940

SIWA OASIS IS 6 MILES LONG BY FOUR OR FIVE MILES WIDE.

A CHAIN OF LITTLE OASES EXTENDS FOR 50 MILES WEST.

THE TOWN OF SIWA, CENTURIES OLD, IS BUILT ON TWO ROCKS AND RESEMBLES A FORTRESS.

AEM-ENDY--954A

NEW YORK, AUG. 7-(AP)-THE NEW YORK BUREAU OF HAVAS, FRENCH NEWS AGENCY, ISSUED A STATEMENT FROM THE FRENCH EMBASSY TODAY POINTING OUT THAT FRENCH NEWSPAPERS PUBLISHED IN OCCUPIED FRANCE ARE UNDER GERMAN CONTROL.

AUG 8 1940

X 33

"NEWSPAPERS PUBLISHED IN OCCUPIED FRANCE, EVEN WHEN THEY HAVE KEPT THE SAME NAME AS BEFORE THE OCCUPATION, SUCH AS LE MATIN OR NEW DAILIES SUCH AS LES DERNIERES NOUVELLES DE PARIS, ARE COMPLETELY UNDER GERMAN CONTROL IN THE MATTER OF ADMINISTRATION AND GENERAL POLICY," THE STATEMENT SAID.

"NEWSPAPERS PUBLISHED IN UNOCCUPIED FRANCE ARE ONLY SUBJECT TO CENSORSHIP OF THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT. IT SHOULD BE NOTED THAT CERTAIN NEWSPAPERS, LIKE PARIS SOIR, HAVE TWO EDITIONS, ONE IN PARIS SUBJECT TO GERMAN CONTROL AND ONE IN UNOCCUPIED FRANCE. THIS LAST EDITION IS THE ONLY ONE WHICH CAN BE CONSIDERED AS REPRESENTING FRENCH OPINION."

OPERATING UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF PIERRE LAVAL, VICE-PREMIER

30.24-4201

AT VICHY, THE PRESS IN UNOCCUPIED FRANCE ALSO SPEAKS IN A VOICE CHANGED FROM THAT OF BEFORE THE ARMISTICE, PERHAPS REFLECTING THE STRESS THAT HAS RESULTED IN DETENTION OF FORMER HIGH POLITICAL LEADERS.

THE HAVAS BUREAU IN LONDON ANNOUNCED LAST FRIDAY THAT IT HAD BEEN REORGANIZED UNDER A NEW NAME, AGENCE LEF.

AUG 8 1940

EMPHASIZING IT WAS STANDING FOR OLD FRENCH IDEALS, THE NEW AGENCY ADOPTED THE INITIAL LETTERS OF "LIBERTY, EQUALITY, FRATERNITY" FOR ITS NAME.

THE REGIME AT VICHY HAS DISCARDED THE OLD REVOLUTIONARY SLOGAN FOR A NEW ONE, "LABOR, FAMILY, COUNTRY."

A FEW PROVINCIAL NEWSPAPERS IN UNOCCUPIED FRANCE HAVE GAINED NEW IMPORTANCE, PARTLY BECAUSE THEY ARE NEAR THE SEAT OF GOVERNMENT, PARTLY BECAUSE THEY ARE AVAILABLE TO READERS ACROSS THE BORDER IN SWITZERLAND, AND PARTLY BECAUSE ALL NEWSPAPERS ARE GREATLY REDUCED IN SIZE BECAUSE OF THE SHORTAGE OF PAPER.

FW1048AED

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

AUG 8 1940

AUG. 7, 1915--AUSTRIANS SHELL ITALIAN POSITIONS ON MONFALCONE.

NEW YORK, AUG. 7-(AP)-A ROME RADIO ANNOUNCEMENT HEARD TONIGHT BY NBC SAID PORTUGAL HAS DECIDED TO REINFORCE THE GARRISON OF PORTUGUESE WEST AFRICA AND IS SENDING TROOPS TO ANGOLA.

AUG 8 1940

WE1046PED

NEW YORK, AUG. 7-(AP)-UNCONFIRMED REPORTS IN SHIPPING CIRCLES HERE SAID TODAY THAT THE BRITISH MOTORSHIP PASSENGER LINER ACCRA, 9,337 TONS, HAD BEEN SUNK OFF THE IRISH COAST WITH A HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE, INCLUDING MANY CHILD REFUGEES BEING SENT TO NEW YORK AND CANADA.

THESE REPORTS SAID THAT THE SHIP WAS TORPEDOED WHEN 3 DAYS OFF THE ENGLISH COAST AND THAT ONLY 30 SURVIVED.

AUG 8 1940

(THERE WAS NO VERIFICATION FROM LONDON).

LAST THURSDAY MACKAY RADIO PICKED UP AN SOS FROM AN UNIDENTIFIED SHIP SAYING SHE HAD BEEN TORPEDOED ABOUT 400 MILES OFF THE IRISH COAST. NOTHING MORE WAS HEARD AFTER THE ORIGINAL REPORT.

THE ACCRA TRADED BETWEEN ENGLAND AND AFRICA BEFORE THE WAR, BUT LIKE MOST ENGLISH PASSENGER LINERS SHE WAS TAKEN OVER BY THE ADMIRALTY.

FW112PAED

NEW YORK, AUG 7-(AP)-THE RUSSIAN FLEET, MADE UP OF LIGHT AND HEAVY NAVAL UNITS, SUBMARINES AND AIRCRAFT, HAS SAILED INTO THE PACIFIC ON "LARGE SCALE MANEUVERS," SAID A BRITISH BROADCASTING COMPANY ANNOUNCEMENT PICKED UP TODAY BY THE NBC SHORT WAVE SERVICE.

JL817AED

AUG 8 1940

WITH HAMILTON Windsors S.S. AUG 8 1940

ABOARD [redacted] EXCALIBUR ENROUTE TO BERMUDA,

AUG. 7-(AP)-THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR, ENROUTE TO THE BAHAMAS, WERE HOSTS TONIGHT AT A SHIPBOARD PARTY FOR AMBASSADOR AND MRS. ANTHONY J. DREXEL BIDDLE AND AMBASSADOR WILLIAM PHILLIPS AND HIS DAUGHTER.

AUG 8 1940

THE DUKE AUTHORIZED A STATEMENT THAT HE AND THE DUCHESS ARE "DISAPPOINTED OVER NOT BEING ABLE TO CONTINUE IN THE SHIP TO NEW YORK." THEY WILL LEAVE THE SHIP THURSDAY NOON WHEN IT REACHES HAMILTON, BERMUDA, AND GO FROM THERE TO NASSAU, IN THE BAHAMAS.

MRT 111P PM JNS 1143P

WASHINGTON, AUG. 7-(AP)-AN EXCESS PROFITS TAX BILL WAS OFFERED CONGRESS BY A HOUSE SUBCOMMITTEE TODAY IN AN EFFORT TO RAISE $300,000,000 TO $500,000,000 A YEAR FROM CORPORATION EARNINGS UNDER THE DEFENSE PROGRAM.

AUG 8 1940

THE NEW LEVY WOULD RANGE FROM 25 TO 40 PER CENT ON CERTAIN PROPORTIONS OF INDUSTRIAL PROFITS.

COUPLED WITH IT WAS A PLAN TO LET THE COST OF PLANT EXPANSION FOR DEFENSE PURPOSES BE CHARGED OFF AGAINST COMPANY EARNINGS WITHIN FIVE YEARS, AT THE RATE OF 20 PER CENT A YEAR. SHOULD THE EMERGENCY END EARLIER, THE ANNUAL DEDUCTIONS WOULD BE PROPORTIONATELY GREATER.

HOUSE AND SENATE COMMITTEES WILL BEGIN JOINT HEARINGS ON THE LEGISLATION FRIDAY. THEY MAY BE ENDED IN THREE OR FOUR DAYS IN ORDER TO HASTEN ACTION ON THE COMPLICATED BILL.

TO DETERMINE THE EXCESS PROFITS TAX, ALTERNATE BASES OF ACTUAL PROFITS OR INVESTED CAPITAL WERE PROPOSED. A CORPORATION WOULD TAKE:

1. THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN PROFITS IN 1940 AND THE AVERAGE PROFITS

30.24-4203

30.24-4203

IN THE 1936-1939 BASE PERIOD, OR

2. THE RETURN ON INVESTED CAPITAL, ALSO COMPUTED ON THE BASE PERIOD.

AUG 8 1940

HERE ARE EXAMPLES OF THE TWO METHODS:

UNDER THE FIRST PLAN, A COMPANY MAY HAVE HAD AN AVERAGE NET INCOME OF $50,000 IN THE 1936-39 BASE PERIOD BUT A NET INCOME OF $65,000 IN 1940. THE EXCESS WOULD BE $15,000, BUT A SPECIFIC EXEMPTION OF $5,000 WOULD REDUCE THE TAXABLE BASE TO $10,000.

ON THE FIRST TEN PER CENT OF THE ORIGINAL $50,000, OR $5,000, A 25 PER CENT TAX OF $1,250 WOULD BE IMPOSED. ON THE NEXT 10 PER CENT, A 30 PER CENT TAX OR $1,500 WOULD BE LEVIED. THE TOTAL TAX UNDER THIS PLAN THEREFORE WOULD BE $2,750.

UNDER THE SECOND METHOD, A CORPORATION WOULD BE GRANTED A MAXIMUM CREDIT OF 10 PER CENT OF INVESTED CAPITAL AND A MINIMUM OF 6 PER CENT OF THE FIRST $500,000 OF SUCH CAPITAL AND 4 PER CENT ON THE REMAINDER.

AUG 8 1940

THUS, A COMPANY WHICH HAD EARNED AN AVERAGE OF 10 PER CENT DURING THE BASE PERIOD WOULD BE ALLOWED A CREDIT OF THAT AMOUNT OF ITS CAPITAL IN COMPUTING THE 1940 TAXES. A COMPANY WHICH EARNED BETWEEN 6 PER CENT AND 10 PER CENT WOULD BE ALLOWED ITS ACTUAL EARNING PERCENTAGE AS A CREDIT, BUT SMALLER COMPANIES STILL WOULD BE GRANTED THE MINIMUM SIX PER CENT.

TAKE A COMPANY WITH A $1,000,000 INVESTED CAPITAL WHICH EARNED AN AVERAGE OF $100,000---10 PER CENT---DURING THE BASE PERIOD, BUT WHICH EARNED $150,000 DURING 1940, AFTER DEDUCTING NORMAL TAXES.

IT WOULD BE GRANTED A $100,000 CREDIT, PLUS THE $5,000 SPECIFIC EXEMPTION, LEAVING $45,000 AS THE TAXABLE INCOME. APPLYING THE RATES, THE TAX WOULD BE 25 PER CENT OF THE FIRST 10 PER CENT---$10,000---OR $2,500; 30 PER CENT ON THE NEXT 10 PER CENT, OR $3,000, AND 40 PER CENT ON THE REMAINDER OF $25,000, OR $10,000. THUS THE TOTAL LEVY UNDER THE ALTERNATIVE PLAN WOULD BE $15,500.

NEW COMPANIES, WHOSE EARNINGS COULD NOT BE COMPUTED FOR THE FULL BASE PERIOD, WOULD BE GRANTED 10 PER CENT ON THE FIRST $500,000 OF INVESTED CAPITAL AND 8 PER CENT ON THE BALANCE.

RZ141AES

NEW YORK, AUG. 7-(AP)-DR. LEOPOLDO MELO, HEAD OF THE ARGENTINE DELEGATION TO THE RECENT HAVANA CONFERENCE, TODAY DESCRIBED THE "PAN-AMERICAN VIEW" AS ONE OF KEEPING HANDS OFF THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF OTHER COUNTRIES.

AUG 8 1940

"IF YOU WANT TO LIVE IN PEACE IN YOUR OWN COUNTRY," HE SAID, "THE BEST THING TO DO IS TO KEEQ AWAY FROM THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF OTHER COUNTRIES-BY MINDING YOUR OWN BUSINESS."

HE EXPRESSED THE OPINION THAT THE CONFERENCE OF AMERICAN REPUBLICS, IN MONTEVIDEO, IN WHICH THE UNITED STATES PARTICIPATED, HAD CONFIRMED THE VIEW THAT "THERE SHOULD BE NO INTERVENTION OF ANY KIND."

SPEAKING THROUGH AN INTERPRETER, DR.MELO SAID HE AGREED WITH PRESIDENT'S ROOSEVELT'S VIEW OF THE NECESSITY OF "SOLIDARITY AND UNION AMONG THE AMERICAN NATIONS."

"THE ARGENTINE X X X WISHES TO PRESERVE PEACE IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE," HE CONTINUED. "SHE SUPPORTS ALSO THE MAINTENANCE OF THE PRINCIPLES OF INTERNATIONAL LAW IN THIS PART OF THE WORLD.

"THE ARGENTINE STRIVES TO MAINTAIN THE POWER OF RIGHT IN INTERNATIONAL LAW AGAINST FORCE AND VIOLENCE X X X DEFENSE OF THE PRINCIPLES OF SELF-DETERMINATION FOR ALL PEOPLES, AND DEFENSE OF DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS."

AUG 8 1940

DR. MELO, WHO CONFERRED YESTERDAY WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AT HYDE PARK, SAID HE WOULD FLY TO WASHINGTON LATE TODAY FOR A MEETING WITH SECRETARY HULL. HE WILL RETURN TO NEW YORK FOR A VISIT TO THE WORLD'S FAIR TOMORROW, AND WILL SAIL FOR HOME FRIDAY.

WR438PED

MIDDLE EAST--SEIZING THE MOSS CROWN?

Any 1

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUG 8 1940

A DREAM OF [illegible] IN THE ISLAMIC WORLD, CONTROL OF THE RICHES OF ARABIA AND MASTERY OF STRATEGIC POSITIONS IMPLICIT IN THE TANGLE OF CIRCUMSTANCE THAT IS THE MIDDLE EAST TEMPTS ROME'S LEGIONS NOW ON THE OFFENSIVE UNDER THE BLAZING AFRICAN SUN.

THIS DREAM--NOT NEW FOR RENASCENT ITALY--PERSISTS WHATEVER THE BRITISH MAY SAY ABOUT THE CAMPAIGN BEING MERELY INTENDED AS A DIVERSION.

ITALY IS WELL ON THE PATH TOWARD THE BREAKED-OF ROLE AS "PROTECTOR OF ISLAM" THROUGH HER PRESENT NORTH AFRICAN HOLDINGS. CONQUEST OF COTTON-RICH EGYPT, THE MOST IMMEDIATE PROBLEM, WOULD PUT FASCIST WARRIORS IN POSITION TO STRIKE EAST OF SUEZ INTO THE ERSTWHILE MIDDLE EASTERN EMPIRE OF THE OTTOMAN TURKS.

TURKEY, WHILE STRIPPED OF THIS EMPIRE, NEVERTHELESS MIGHT READILY BECOME A WEALTHY GUARDIAN OF IT IN THE YEAR OF AN EXPANDING ROMAN EMPIRE. SIGNS OF CONCERN APPEAR IN BOTH ROME AND BERLIN OVER TURKEY'S ATTITUDE.

THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE WAS 600 YEARS OLD WHEN THE WORLD WAR FINALLY BROKE IT UP. FROM THIS FRAGMENTATION OF THE ARABIC WORLD THERE EMERGED:

AUG 8 1940

-1-

SAUDI ARABIA, UNDER THE RULE OF ABDUL-AZIZ IBN ABDUR-RAHMAN AL SAUD (SHORT FORM: IBN SAUD), KING OF HEJAZ AND OF NEJD AND ITS DEPENDENCIES. AREA: 462,000 SQUARE MILES. POPULATION 4,750,000.

IT LIES NEAR THE JUNCTION OF THREE CONTINENTS, ASIA, AFRICA AND EUROPE.

HERE ARE THE GREAT HOLY PLACES OF THE MOSLEM WORLD--MECCA, MEDINA AND OTHERS. THERE ARE ALMOST NO ROADS.

SAUDI ARABIA'S ARMY HAS ABOUT 1,000 MEN AND A FEW AIRPLANES. BUT IBN SAUD HAS THE VAST HORDES OF HIS FIERCE TRIBESMEN TO CALL UPON, MEN IN THE FATALISTIC HOLD OF ISLAM, WHOSE FIGHTING PASSION COULD BE STIRRED BY THE CALL FOR A JEHAD, OR HOLY WAR.

PRINCING SAUDI ARABIA ARE YEMEN, KUWAIT, THE ADEN PROTECTORATE, OMAN, TRUCIAL OMAN, QATAR AND THE INSULAR STATE OF BAHREIN IN THE PERSIAN GULF. ALL ARE INDEPENDENT SHEIKDOMS EXCEPT THE ADEN PROTECTORATE, WHICH HAS BEEN IN BRITISH HANDS SINCE 1839, GUARDING THE SOUTHERN EXIT OF THE RED SEA AS A "GIBRALTAR OF THE EAST."

IRAQ (MESOPOTAMIA), AN INDEPENDENT STATE, NOW RULED BY FIVE-YEAR-OLD KING FAISAL II AND A REGENCY. AREA: 116,600 SQUARE MILES. POPULATION ESTIMATED AT 3,360,000.

30,24-4205

30.24-4205

THE COUNTRY IS A GREAT ALLUVIAL PLAIN. EXTREMES OF HEAT AND COLD AND PLAGUES MAKE LIFE HARD. CEREAL CROPS, TOBACCO, DATES AND COTTON ARE THE PRINCIPAL AGRICULTURAL RESOURCES. IRAQ'S OIL HAS LONG BEEN COVETED BY FOREIGN POWERS. OIL PRODUCED IN 1938 TOTALED 4,272,000 TONS.

GREAT BRITAIN, WHOSE MANDATE OVER IRAQ WAS TERMINATED ONLY IN 1932 AND WHO ADVISES IRAQ ON DEFENSE, IS IN ON THE GROUND FLOOR OF THE PETROLEUM BUSINESS.

IRAQ'S PIPELINES RUN TO HAIFA, PALESTINE, AND TRIPOLI, SYRIA, BOTH ON THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN.

IRAQ'S OWN DEFENSE FORCES CONSIST OF TWO DIVISIONS OF ARMY TROOPS, A SMALL AIR FORCE AND SOME 10,000 SOLDIER-POLICE--IN ALL ABOUT 38,000 MEN. HER NAVY CONSISTS OF A ROYAL YACHT AND A TUG AND FOUR MOTOR PATROL VESSELS FOR THE TIGRIS AND EUPHRATES RIVERS.

HER CAPITAL IS FABLED BAGHDAD AND HER ROLE IN ANCIENT HISTORY, ACCORDING TO ONE POPULAR BELIEF, IS "THE CRADLE OF CIVILIZATION."

-XII-

AUG 8 1940

SYRIA AND LEBANON, REPUBLICS UNDER FRENCH MANDATE AND MILITARY OCCUPATION. COMBINED AREA: 58,000 SQUARE MILES. COMBINED POPULATION: ABOUT 3,600,000. CAPITALS: BEIRUT, LEBANON, AND DAMASCUS, SYRIA.

THE COUNTRY ORIGINALLY WAS ORGANIZED INTO FIVE TERRITORIES BUT SINCE 1924 DAMASCUS AND ALEPPO HAVE BEEN UNITED IN THE SINGLE STATE, THE REPUBLIC OF SYRIA. PART OF SYRIA, THE AUTONOMOUS SANJAK (OR DISTRICT) OF ALEXANDRETTA WAS CEDED TO TURKEY BY FRENCH AGREEMENT IN 1939.

SYRIA IS ESSENTIALLY AN AGRICULTURAL COUNTRY. HOWEVER, THE LAND HAS BEEN WORKED FOR IRON IN ANCIENT AND MODERN TIMES. SIGNS OF PETROLEUM APPEAR AT VARIOUS PLACES. PHOSPHATES, LEAD, COPPER, ANTIMONY, NICKEL AND CHROME ALSO ARE INDICATED. GYPSUM IS WIDELY DISTRIBUTED.

BEFORE THE EUROPEAN WAR STARTED FRANCE MAINTAINED 10,000 SOLDIERS IN SYRIA, NEARLY ALL NATIVES. BEFORE FRANCE SURRENDERED AND GENERAL EUGENE MITTELHAUSER, MIDDLE EAST COMMANDER FOR THE FRENCH FORMALLY ORDERED "HOSTILITIES" ENDED THE FRENCH FORCE IN ARMS WAS ESTIMATED AT OVER 100,000.

-IV-

AUG 8 1940

PALESTINE AND TRANS-JORDAN, BOTH COVERED BY BRITISH MANDATE FROM THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS BUT SEPARATED BY THE DEAD SEA AND THE RIVER JORDAN. AREA: PALESTINE, 10,429 SQUARE MILES; TRANS-JORDAN, 34,740. POPULATION: PALESTINE, ABOUT 1,900,000; TRANS-JORDAN, PROBABLY ABOUT 300,000.

PALESTINE IS PRIMARILY AGRICULTURAL WITH ACCENT ON CITRUS FRUITS; TRANS-JORDAN IS MOSTLY DESERT.

BRITAIN'S MANDATE RULE OF PALESTINE HAS BEEN AN UNEASY ASSIGNMENT, MARKED IN RECENT YEARS BY RISING QUARRELS BETWEEN ARAB AND JEWISH INHABITANTS.

THE SEAT OF BRITAIN'S DIFFICULTY IN THIS LAND---HOLY TO JEWS, MOSLEMS AND CHRISTIANS ALIKE---WAS THE BALFOUR WORLD WAR DECLARATION THAT PALESTINE SHOULD BECOME A NATIONAL HOMELAND FOR JEWS OF THE WORLD. THIS THESIS WAS INCORPORATED IN BRITAIN'S MANDATE AS TO PALESTINE BUT NOT TRANS-JORDAN.

JEWS COMPRISE LESS THAN A FOURTH OF PALESTINE'S POPULATION.

BRITAIN LONG HAS GARRISONED PALESTINE AND TRANS-JORDAN WITH LAND AND AIR FORCES. THE WAR BROUGHT THOUSANDS OF EMPIRE REINFORCEMENTS. IN JUNE, AFTER THE FRENCH CAPITULATION 6,000 POLISH LEGIONNAIRES CROSSED FROM SYRIA INTO PALESTINE.

THE REAL SOLDIER MANPOWER OF THE BRITISH IN THE MIDDLE EAST IS NOT KNOWN, BUT IT PROBABLY IS AS GREAT AS THE FRENCH HAD IN SYRIA--AT LEAST 100,000 MEN.

WNAC3PED

AUG 8 1940

GERMANS LOSE 53 AND BRITISH 16 IN AIR FIGHT

Biggest Aerial Engagement in Battle of Britain Over Channel.

NAZIS MAKE COUNTER-CLAIM

Berlin Says 34 English Planes and 15 Ships Were Prize of Latest Actions.

AUG 8 1940

LONDON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—Fifty-three German planes were destroyed in attacks on British convoys in the narrow waters of the English Channel today in the biggest series of air encounters of the battle for Britain. The British officially announced sixteen British fighters are missing.

An Admiralty-Air Ministry communique said that it was confirmed that at least fifty-three German planes were shot down and said that the British fighter pilots made repeated onslaughts on the German air raiders attacking a convoy along the southeastern coast.

[A special German communique said that thirty-four British planes were shot down and twelve ships totaling 55,000 tons had been sunk. It was claimed also that a tanker and two steamships were sunk by similar attacks by speedboats prowling along Britain's coast last night.]

Nazi Speedboat Sunk.

The British said that one German speedboat was sunk and another damaged, but admitted the loss of three coastal vessels and damage to several others in attacks by Nazi torpedo-shooting boats and bombers.

The Admiralty-Air Ministry communique said air attacks on the convoy began this morning and were renewed at intervals throughout the day. The results of the enemy bombing attacks are not fully known, but several ships received considerable damage, the extent of which it was not possible to ascertain.

The attacking enemy forces consisted of large numbers of dive bombers accompanied by single and twin-engined fighters. As each attack developed, the enemy formations were engaged heavily by R. A. F. squadrons.

R. A. F. Raids Germany.

Britain also struck at the big German naval base of Kiel off the North Sea coast last night, dumping bombs through the mist and low clouds on the dockyards and starting a series of fires and explosions. The French port of Cherbourg also was attacked in daylight by the British.

The R. A. F. bombers, which slipped through low-scudding clouds over Kiel, spotted their targets through gaps in the mist, a supplement to the Air Ministry communique said, and loosed their explosives. They encountered continuous fire from ground defenses, but all returned safely.

At one time, some bombers became so covered with ice that they were unable to climb, the bulletin said, and one pilot had to dump his bombs into the North Sea.

Raid on French Port.

British bombers attacked airdromes at Cherbourg, France; Hampstede, Holland, and in northwestern Germany in both day and night attacks yesterday, the Air Ministry announced. The oil plant at Homburg also was bombed, the communique added.

All lights on the airdrome at Holtenau, in northwestern Germany, which the British also visited, were put out after a salvo of bombs was dropped, the Air Ministry said. At Hasum, another airdrome near Kiel, bombs were dropped on the landing field.

Sixty Planes Engaged.

It was estimated that over sixty planes were engaged in one battle over the channel, which spread inland to the coastal area.

In one town, where the Germans and low-flying British Spitfires dived at full throttle with machine guns blazing, a local court continued to hear cases while the windows of the court room rattled to the bursts of gunfire.

The air battle raged far over the channel, with planes darting in and out of the clouds, sometimes fighting in formation, sometimes in individual dog fights.

One of the German planes shot down was a Messerschmitt 109, forming a part of the fighter escort of the heavy bombers. It plunged into the channel in flames.

Battle Lasts an Hour.

The battle, which grew out of the second raid along the southeast coast during the morning, lasted exactly an hour.

During the battle planes often swooped within a thousand feet of rooftops and channel, but no bombs were dropped.

Large clouds of smoke were seen near two ports where it was believed two raiders crashed.

The air was split with almost continuous cannon fire from the Messerschmitts, the sharp crackle of answering machine-gun fire from the British Spitfires and an unusually heavy barrage of anti-aircraft fire.

Observers said that German fighters could be seen speeding out to sea as Spitfires dived on their tails from the clouds above.

One Messerschmitt, tackled by Spitfires, dived down toward the sea, righting itself at a height of only a few hundred feet. Then it streaked off toward France—still pursued.

50 Nazi Bombers Attack.

British officials said later there were only twelve British fighters, one squadron, in the fight against at least fifty German bombers and a large escort of fighting planes.

The Nazi bombers were Junkers 87s and 88s, while the fighters were mostly Messerschmitt 109s, although some of Germany's new Heinkel 113 fighters were in action.

Most of the British planes were Hurricanes.

An Admiralty announcement said that British planes had carried the war to the German-occupied coast of Norway, with units of the fleet air arm successfully attacking a gasoline storage depot five miles south of Bergen.

Reports from the attacking Skuas (British bombers) indicated that the entire gasoline depot had been destroyed.

The day's air activity followed a night of raids on English, Welsh and Scottish points.

Leaflets containing excerpts from Adolf Hitler's peace-or-destruction ultimatum were also dropped again.

Women Hurt on Country Road.

Resuming the air pounding of Britain by night after a brief lull, the Germans struck at various parts of the country. The Government said that the attacks were made by isolated craft and that apart from broken windows, little damage was reported, except that in one town in the northeast of England a sanitarium and shop property suffered considerably."

"Casualties were very few," the communique added, "and the only serious injuries were to some women walking in a country road."

There were some minor casualties at the sanitarium.

Southeast Scotland was raided, but most of the bombs were believed to have fallen into the sea. In raids over southwest England and Wales bombs fell on some cliffs near a famous castle, which was undamaged.

Leave
blank

30.24-4207

30.24-4207

63 ARE REPORTED LOST IN FUTILE ATTEMPT TO PIERCE COAST DEFENSES

Mightiest Aerial Invasion Lasts 14 Hours And Then Is Renewed After Dark—Aircraft Sent Across In Waves Of 80

30.24

AUG -9 1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 8—A mighty aerial invasion hurling 800 Nazi bombers and fighter planes against Britain's outer defenses was beaten back over the English Channel today in fourteen hours of almost constant fighting, in which at least fifty-three German planes were reported shot down.

Authoritative sources said they believed ten other German planes probably never reached home.

More than one hundred trained Nazi pilots, observers and air gunners were declared to have gone down to flaming death in the British counter-fire.

Attack In Waves Of 80 Planes Each

The Germans appeared in numbers unprecedented for this war, attacking over and over again all day long in forces of eighty each, and loosing thousands upon thousands of bombs.

British fighter planes, meeting the greatest assault ever made on these islands, threw up for the mainland a shield which was not broken.

Tonight, as the Air Ministry still was assembling the record of the gigantic engagement, the raiders struck back through the darkness in apparent determination to give Britain's defenders no rest.

Planes Heard Over Five Other Areas

The roar of enemy planes was heard over Wales, along the southeast coast, over towns in the southwest, the midlands and the northeast.

There were indications, too, that this new visitation was being repaid on a big scale by the Royal Air Force. Late tonight radio stations in ten German and German-controlled cities, including Berlin and Hamburg, fell silent—a normal indication of the presence of British planes. It was the largest number of German stations to cease transmission without explanation since the war began.

In the last three of the day's main attacks—attacks concentrated on shipping in the Channel—the Germans loosed 150 dive bombers and fighters at one convoy.

AUG -9 1940

19 Bombers And 34 Fighters

Of the tentative total of raiders shot down, nineteen were dive bombers and thirty-four fighters.

Each wave of bombers was screened by fighter planes—many of them the new Heinkels, Germany's counter-weapon to the British Spitfires and Hurricanes.

It was the heaviest one-day loss ever claimed against the Nazis. The previous high was July 12, when the British announced the destruction of twenty-six German raiders.

Admit Loss Of 16 Of Own Craft

But in this day-long series of thunderous, running and almost endless engagements along the southeast coast, the British suffered too, acknowledging that sixteen fighter pilots were missing, that "several ships" in the Channel had received "considerable damage" and that a "number of survivors and injured" had been landed.

The British were particularly elated at the outcome because their own losses were described as not more than sixteen planes at a maximum.

In three encounters, a single squadron of Hurricanes reported having sent twenty-one German craft crashing into the sea.

The squadron leader, describing one fight, remarked that the sky was "literally black" with Nazi planes.

Two Nazi raiders were shot down by a Polish pilot who was in action with a British fighter command for the first time.

How It Happened

He told how it happened:

"I was attacked," he said, "by three Heinkels who seemed to be working to a plan—one flying alone and the other two as a pair. If you attack a pair, the single one tries to get on your tail."

So, he explained, he tackled the single Heinkel and watched it go down smoking. The two others, he added, flew away. Then, in the last battle of the afternoon, he got a Messerschmitt fighter.

Attacked From Rear

The squadron leader's story:

"We climbed to 16,000 feet and looking down saw a large formation of Junkers-87's approaching from the sun, with the Messerschmitt-109's stepped up behind to 20,000 feet. We approached unobserved out of the sun and went into the attack on the rear Junkers before the enemy fighters could interfere.

"I gave a five-second burst to one bomber and broke off to engage two Messerschmitts. There was a dog fight.

"The enemy fighters were half rolling and diving and zooming in climbing turns. They were painted silver.

"I fired two five-second bursts at one and saw it dive into the sea. Then I followed another up in a zoom and caught him as he stalled."

Engine Stops, But Gets Two

A flight lieutenant of the same squadron reported he had brought down two Junkers, although the engines of his own plane had stopped, before he managed to land.

"I was forced to retire owing to engine failure," he said, "but dived on a Junkers. After a three or four-second burst it went into an inverted dive and crashed.

"My engine started again so I went after another Junkers and attacked him before he was able to make his attack on the convoy. He dived into the sea at high speed. After that, my engine stopped for good and I only just got back to England."

One Spitfire squadron carried the battle over to the French coast. Its men reported chasing seven Messerschmitts over the Channel and destroying six of them. Then as a last salute one pilot fired at a German motor torpedo boat off Calais.

Several Fall Overboard

"Several of the crew," he remarked, "fell overboard."

Residents along the south coast who watched the great battle over the Channel said bombs dropped almost continuously from daybreak on.

"The fighters," one said, "kept the Germans so busy, though, that all the bombs I saw fell into the sea. We saw planes dropping, too. I myself saw one crash into the sea in flames. Two others came down farther along the coast.

"There was a burst of raiding in the morning and then again in the early afternoon. Then there was a lull.

Just Before Tea Time

"But just when we were getting ready for tea a third raid started on a convoy in the Channel.

"We saw a British fighter and a German plane circle around each other at a great height, and soon the Nazi began to turn and spin down. It crashed in flames into the sea.

"We saw a dive bomber suddenly appear overhead with its starboard wing damaged. A British fighter roared down and forced the German to land in a field. The crew was captured."

The raids followed a series of darting attacks by Nazi torpedo boats upon Channel shipping.

Admit Loss Of 3 Ships

In these stealthy assaults the British acknowledged the loss of three coastal vessels and damage to several others, but reported they had sunk one speedboat and damaged another.

In a prelude to it all, British flyers last night bombed the vital German naval base at Kiel, dropping their explosives through the mists and setting off a series of fires and explosions. British bombers also attacked air-dromes at the Nazi-held French port of Cherbourg, at Heemstede in Holland, and in northwest Germany, in both day and night attacks, and the oil plant at Homburg, the Air Ministry announced.

All lights on the airdrome at Hol tenau in northwest Germany were pu out after a salvo of bombs w dropped, the Air Ministry said.

At Hasum, another airdrome near Kiel, bombs were dropped on the landing ground.

Arrive In Waves

But today was such a day of aerial warfare as never had been known before.

The Germans arrived in great waves, dive bombers escorted by single and twin engined fighters. Scarcely had one attack been beaten off by the Royal Air Force than another developed.

The British figure of fifty-three German aircraft destroyed was described as the minimum Nazi loss; it was declared that more complete reports might send the total higher.

Sound Of Firing Fills Area

Much of the southeast-coast area—that lying nearest to German-held France—resounded all day with the roar of cannon, anti-aircraft and machine-gun fire.

In one town, during an early phase of the German attack, a judge calmly went on hearing cases while the windows of his courtroom rattled to the explosions.

There was no specific official information as to the loss of life aboard the savagely punished convoy in the Channel, but the use of the term "survivors" suggested casualties.

Earlier in the day the House of Commons was told that 258 civilians were killed and 321 injured seriously during air raids on Britain in July.

England's southeastern coast this morning, an official announcement said.

When the Germans attempted another raid on a convoy off the southeast coast this afternoon, another German plane was forced down—bringing the total to ten for the day. One of the German airmen was killed and his companion captured.

Nazi Raiders Return

Nazi raiders returned to the attack late this afternoon, appearing over both southeastern and southwestern Britain.

Two British fighter pilots were missing after the morning battle, which followed a German bombing attack on shipping in the narrow waters of the English Channel.

It was estimated that sixty-odd planes were engaged in the battle, which spread inland over the coastal area.

Twelve Against Fifty

Official sources said later there were only twelve British fighters, one squadron, in the fight against at least fifty German bombers and a large escort of fighting planes.

The Nazi bombers were Junkers 87's and 88's, while the fighters were mostly Messerschmitt 109's, although some of Germany's new Heinkel 113 fighters were in action.

Most of the British planes were Hurricanes.

British Down Ten Nazi Planes; Lose 2

AUG -9 1940

London, Aug. 8 (AP)—Two hundred and fifty-eight civilians were killed and 321 injured seriously during air raids on Britain during the month of July, it was reported today in a written answer to a House of Commons question.

London, Aug. 8 (AP)—Barrage balloons flown by vessels in convoy is the latest British sea defense device. Above the balloons, R. A. F. fighting planes patrol the skies.

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 8—At least nine German planes—six dive bombers and three fighters—were shot down in a huge air battle which raged along

Gives Life To Save Town

Heroism of a British pilot who crashed to his death in the sea in a blazing plane saved a southeast coast town from a disaster.

The pilot remained at his controls to avert what appeared to be an inevitable crash into buildings of the town. As a result of his guidance, the plane fell into the water fifty yards from shore.

In one town, where the Germans and low-flying British Spitfires dived at full throttle with machine guns blazing, a local court continued to hear cases while the windows of the courtroom rattled to the bursts of gunfire.

The air battle raged far over the Channel, with planes darting in and out of the clouds, sometimes fighting in formation, sometimes in individual dog fights.

One of the German planes shot down was a Messerschmitt 109, forming a part of the fighter escort of the heavy bombers. It plunged into the Channel in flames.

The battle, which grew out of the second raid along the southeast coast during the morning, lasted exactly an hour. An hour and a half after it was over an Air Ministry communique put the German plane losses at nine.

Planes Swoop Low

During the battle planes often swooped within a thousand feet of rooftops and the Channel, but no bombs were dropped.

Large clouds of smoke were seen near two ports, where it was believed two raiders crashed.

The air was split with almost continuous cannon fire from the Messerschmitts, the sharp crackle of answering machinegun fire from the British Spitfires and an unusually heavy barrage of anti-aircraft fire.

Observers said that Nazi fighters could be seen speeding out to sea as Spitfires dived on their tails from the clouds above.

One Messerschmitt, tackled by Spitfires, dived down toward the sea, righting itself at a height of only a few hundred feet. Then it streaked off toward France—still pursued.

R. A. F. Strikes In Norway

An Admiralty announcement said that British planes had carried the war to German-occupied coast of Norway, with units of the fleet air arm successfully attacking a gasoline storage depot five miles south of Bergen.

Reports from the attacking Skuas (British bombers) indicated that the entire gasoline depot had been destroyed.

Describing the channel air battle the Air Ministry said "a number of engagements took place" and "the destruction" of several other German planes had been reported without full confirmation.

Ship Convoy Attacked

Earlier a German bomber attack on a small shipping convoy off England's southeastern coast had been reported, with indications that the Nazi raids were increasing in intensity with particular attention to that area.

The Air Ministry's communique follows:

"During an attack on shipping in the channel this morning a number of engagements took place between our fighters and enemy aircraft.

"Reports so far received show that two enemy bombers are confirmed as having been shot down and the destruction of several others is reported but not yet confirmed."

Watchers on the shore saw a number of bombs drop in the sea and heard heavy gunfire before British pursuit planes drove off the bombers.

Other bombers appeared twice over a southeast town. Attacks, however, appeared to be limited in scope, and most of the invaders flew at high altitudes, apparently on reconnaissance. British fighters went up to intercept them, then began a continuous patrol.

Other Areas Bombed

Bombs were dropped over other sections, apparently by lone planes. No particular damage was reported.

The day's air activity followed a night of raids on English, Welsh and Scottish points.

Leaflets containing excerpts from Adolf Hitler's "peace-or-destruction" ultimatum also were dropped again.

In the night raids, the Government announced, casualties were "very few," though some women walking on a country road were seriously injured. Damage was slight except in one town in northeast England, where "a sanatorium and shop property suffered considerably."

Gasoline Depot Bombed

A later Air Ministry communique said:

"Skua aircraft of the fleet arm have carried out a successful attack on a patrol storage depot at Dolvik, about five miles south of Bergen. There were three petrol storage tanks with a total capacity of 7,200 tons at this depot.

"The largest of the three tanks was seen to blow up. The second largest was badly damaged and set on fire. The smallest tank, the pumping station and the jetty were severely damaged.

"Very large fires were started which, it is considered, must have spread and led to total destruction of the whole depot. All our aircraft returned safely."

Ten Nazi Stations Go Silent

LONDON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Ten German and German-controlled radio stations, including one in Berlin, went off the air late tonight—a normal indication of precaution against British air raids.

The stations were in Stuttgart, Brussels, Cologne, Hamburg, Hilversum, Leipzig, Berlin, Strasbourg, Frankfort and Saarbrueckeen. It was the largest number of German stations to cease transmission without explanation since the beginning of the war.

British officials were particularly elated at the outcome of today's air battles because their own losses were declared to be not more than sixteen planes at a maximum. In three encounters, a single squadron of Hurricanes reported having sent twenty-one German craft crashing into the sea.

The squadron leader, describing one fight, remarked that the sky had been "literally black" with Nazi planes. Two Nazi raiders were shot down by a Polish pilot, who was in action with a British fighter command for the first time. With the help of fellow officers, the Pole told how it happened.

"I was attacked," he said, "by three Heinkels who seemed to be working to a plan—one flying alone and the other two as a pair. If you attack a pair, the single one tries to get on your tail."

So, he explained, he tackled the single Heinkel and watched it go down smoking. The two others, he added, flew away. Then, in the last battle of the afternoon, he got a Messerschmitt fighter.

The squadron leader said:

"We climbed to 16,000 feet and, looking down, saw a large formation of Junkers 87s approaching from the sun, with Messerschmitt 109s stepped up behind to 20,000 feet. We approached unobserved out of the sun and went into the attack on the rear Junkers before the enemy fighters could interfere.

"I gave a five-second burst to one bomber and broke off to engage two Messerschmitts. There was a dogfight.

"The enemy fighters were half rolling and diving and zooming in climbing turns. They were painted silver.

"I fired two five-second bursts at one and saw it dive into the sea. Then I followed another up in a zoom and caught him as he stalled."

A flight lieutenant of the same squadron reported he had brought down two Junkers, although the engines of his own plane had stopped, before he managed to land.

"I was forced to retire, owing to engine failure," he said, "but dived on a Junkers. After a three or four-second burst it went into an inverted dive and crashed.

"My engine started again, so I went after another Junkers and attacked him before he was able to make his attack on the convoy. He dived into the sea at high speed. After that, my engine stopped for good and I only just got back to England."

One Spitfire squadron carried the battle over to the French coast. Its men reported having chased seven Messerschmitts over the Channel and destroying six of them. Then, as a last salute, one pilot fired at a German motor torpedo boat off Calais.

"Several of the crew," he remarked "fell overboard."

Promise Bitter Defense of Somaliland's Main Seaport.

ITALIANS MOVING ON TOWN

But Hard Going Lies Ahead of Troops Moving Over Difficult Equatorial Terrain.

LONDON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—British military authorities predicted today that Berbera, the principal port of British Somaliland, would be stoutly defended by forces holding the hills south of the city against the Italian columns which have already penetrated deep into that British possession.

It was explained that thhe British would let the Italians extend their lines still further before real resistance was offered.

"It is not sound tactics for us to attempt to stop superior forces on a long frontier," these spokesmen said. "It is far better to wait until the enemy is harassed by poor communications and is far from his base."

Counter-Attack Called Dangerous.

The frontier of British Somaliland is long-about 750 miles—these informants pointed out, and an attempted counter blow on the border would be dangerous since it might easily be side-stepped or smothered by the invading force.

Military authorities here said that the hills south of Berbera were "natural lines of defense," and neutral military experts were unanimous in the opinion that the first stiff British resistance would be encountered there.

Officers familiar with the terrain, however, said it would be interesting to see whether the Italian force of about two battalions which took Zeila would attempt to advance southeastward along the coastal plain to Berbera.

Predict Hard Going.

"If so, it will have extremely hard going over 150 miles of road very difficult for vehicles, which can be attacked from the sea and from the land," they said.

An expert on Somaliland said that Berbera could hardly be called a port at all by civilized standards, since ships cannot come alongside but have to lie off shore about a quarter of a mile. The only other "port" is Zeila, and only small boats can use it.

The burning hot monsoon which blows across the country with almost clocklike regularity from June 15 to September 15 reaches hurricane force and makes concentrated work almost impossible, he said.

This expert said that Somaliland has practically no economic value, the principal export being sheepskins.

Britain Promises Partnership For Vast Indian War Effort

London Would Give Broader Status Than Dominions Now Enjoy and Let Indians Themselves Frame Constitution.

AUG 9 1940

LONDON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—Great Britain, seeking fuller use of India's vast wealth and man power for the fight to maintain her empire intact, today promised India "free and equal partnership" in the British Commonwealth after the war.

The pledge, interpreted as going beyond London's previous proposal for post-war dominion status for India, came as Italian columns drove toward new outlets on the Indian Ocean along Britain's lifeline of empire.

A Government statement said that the present, "when the commonwealth is engaged in a struggle for existence," is not the time for "fundamental constitutional" changes. But it promised to let the Indians themselves "devise the framework of a new constitution" after the war.

The pledge, announced in the House of Commons by Leopold S. Amery, Secretary of State for India, was authoritatively interpreted as offering an even broader status than that of a dominion, which is enjoyed by Canada, Australia and South Africa. Post-war dominion status for India was proposed by the Government last October.

A similar statement was made simultaneously by Lord Linlithgow, the Viceroy, in India.

The fullest sympathy was expressed for Indian insistence that the new constitution should be framed by the Indians themselves and ready assent was announced to the organization, after the war, of a body representing the principal elements of Indian national life to devise a new constitution.

Hopes for War Aid.

An invitation to Indian leaders to join the Governor-General's Executive Council and the establishment of a War Advisory Council which also would contain representatives of the Indian States, were announced too.

The government statement frankly declared its hope that satisfaction of Indian Nationalist aspirations would lead to a greater contribution of Indian wealth and man power to Great Britain's war effort.

With unstinted Indian aid Great Britain might be in a position to assemble overwhelming forces to smother Italian expansion in the Mediterranean and Red Sea areas, and at the same time offer a check to a threatening Japan in the other direction.

By her advances through British Somaliland, Italy is seeking to reach a vantage point looking toward this eastern and middle eastern empire, much of which is dominated by Moslems.

"India's anxiety at this moment of critical importance in the world struggle against trranny and aggression to contribute fully to the common cause and the to the triumph of our common ideals is manifest," the Government statement said.

"She has already made a mighty contribution. She is anxious to make a greater contribution still. His Majesty's Government in Great Britain are concerned that that unity of national purpose in India which would enable her to do so should be achieved at as early a date as possible."

Text of Statement.

The text of the Government's statement follows:

India's anxiety at this moment of critical importance in the world struggle against tyranny and aggression to contribute fully to the common cause and to the triumph of our common ideals is manifest. She has already made a mighty contribution. She is anxious to make a greater contribution still. His Majesty's Government in Great Britain are concerned that that unity of national purpose in India which would enable her to do so should be achieved at as early a date as possible. They feel that some further statement of their intentions may help to promote that unity. In that hope they have authorized me to make the present statement.

Last October his Majesty's Government again made it clear that dominion status was their objective for India. They added that they were ready to authorize the expansion of the Governor-General's Council to include a certain number of representatives of political parties and they proposed the establishment of a consultative committee. In order to facilitate harmonious co-operation it was obvious that some measure of agreement in the provinces between the major parties was a desirable pre-requisite to their joint collaboration at the center. Such agreement was unfortunately not reached and in the circumstances no progress was then possible.

Entered New Conversations.

During the earlier part of this year I continued my efforts to bring political parties together. In these last few weeks I again entered into conversations with prominent political personages in British India and the Chancellor of the Chamber of Princes, the results of which have been reported to his Majesty's Government. His Majesty's Government have seen also resolutions passed by the Congress Working Committee, the Moslem League and the Hindu Mahasabha.

It is clear that earlier differences which had prevented the achievement of national unity remain unbridged. Deeply as his Majesty's Government regret this, they do not feel they should any longer, because of those differences, postpone the expansion of the Governor-General's Council and the establishment of a body which will more closely associate Indian public opinion with the conduct of the war by the Central Government. They have authorized me accordingly to invite a certain number of representative Indians to join my Executive Council. They have authorized me further to establish a War Advisory Council which would meet at regular intervals and which would contain representatives of the Indian States and of other interests in the national life of India as a whole.

30.24-4209

Position of Minorities.

The conversations which have taken place and the resolutions of the bodies which I have just mentioned made it clear, however, that there is still in certain quarters doubt as to the intentions of his Majesty's Government for the constitutional future of India and that there is doubt also as to whether the position of minorities, whether political or religious, is sufficiently safeguarded in relation to any further constitutional change by assurances already given. These are the two main points that have emerged. On those two points his Majesty's Government now desire me to make their position clear.

The first is as to the position of minorities in relation to any future Constitution scheme. It has already been made clear that my declaration last October does not exclude the examination of any part either of the act of 1935 or of the policy and plans on which it is based. His Majesty's Government's concern that full weight should be given to the views of minorities in any revision has also been brought out. That remains the position of his Majesty's Government.

It goes without saying that they could not contemplate the transfer of their present responsibilities for the peace and welfare of India to any system of government whose authority is directly denied by large and powerful elements in India's national life. Nor could they be parties to the coercion of such elements into submission to such a government.

The second point of general interest is the machinery for building within the British Commonwealth of Nations the new Constitution scheme when the time comes. There has been very strong insistence that the scheme should be primarily the responsibility of Indians themselves and should originate from Indian conceptions of the social, economic and political structure of Indian life. His Majesty's Government are in sympathy with the desire and wish to see it given the fullest practical expression subject to the due fulfillment of the obligations which Great Britain's long connection with India has imposed on her and for which his Majesty's Government cannot divest themselves of responsibility.

It is clear that a moment when the Commonwealth is engaged in a struggle for existence is not one in which fundamental constitutional issues can be decisively resolved. But his Majesty's Government authorizes me to declare that they will most readily assent to the setting up after the conclusion of the war, with the least possible delay, of a body representative of the principal elements in Indian national life in order to devise the framework of the new Constitution, and they will lend every aid in their power to hasten decisions on all relevant matters to the utmost degree.

Meanwhile, they will welcome and promote in any way possible every sincere and practical step that may be taken by representative Indians themselves to reach a basis of friendly agreement, first, upon the form which the post-war representative body should take and the methods by which it should arrive at its conclusions and, secondly, upon the principles and outlines of the Constitution itself. They trust, however, that for the period of the war (with the Central Government reconstituted and strengthened in the manner I have described and with the help of the War Advisory Council) all parties, communities and interests will combine and co-operate in making a notable Indian contribution to the victory of the world cause which is at stake. Moreover, they hope that in this process new bonds of union and understanding will emerge, and thus pave the way toward the attainment by India of that free and equal partnership in the British commonwealth which remains the proclaimed and accepted goal of the imperial crown and of the British Parliament.

Princes Pour Out Gold.

India is already contributing substantially to the British war effort, but the contribution is small compared to her potentialities. Only token troop units took part in the war on the western front before the French collapse forced their withdrawal.

Indian troops in Egypt and Aden help guard the Red Sea toward which the Italians are driving. Indian soldiers form part of a defense system vital to the Singapore Naval Base and India is also an important source of supply for the British armies.

The Indian Princes, rulers of the native states, have been pouring gold into the British war effort. The Nizam of Hyderabad alone has contributed $400,000 to buy warplanes.

Realists Favor Fighting.

The fact that the princes are interested in perpetuating their thrones, however, complicates the constitutional question involved in any attempt to satisfy the popular demand for freedom. The princes rely upon their old treaty rights to maintain their privileges.

Mohandas Gandhi, however, retorts that the princes cannot hold out against the millions who have become conscious of their power." Gandhi, the leader of the Nationalists, declared in a recent plea urging Britain to abandon war for non-violence, that he did "not want Great Britain to be defeated, nor do I want her to be victorious in a trial of brute strength."

Realists in India, however, are prepared to go the whole way out to help Great Britain thwart any German, Italian or Japanese ambitions on the ground that any kind of British rule is preferable to what new conquerors may offer.

When Sir Hugh O'Neill, the Under-Secretary for India, rejected the independence demand on April 18 he said:

"If it should appear that the Low Countries are invaded by Germany, then the East Indies would pass technically under German control. It must be remembered that between Berlin and Tokio exists an understanding, and India may find herself between two aggressors."

Since then Germany has invaded the Low Countries and Japan has set out on a course of southward expansion which may possibly place the East Indies under her domination.

Debate Is Due Wednesday

LONDON, Aug. 8 (AP).—The new policy toward India probably will be debated in the House of Commons next Wednesday, it was disclosed today by Clement Richard Attlee, government Parliamentary spokesman.

As he made the announcement William Gallacher, a Communist M. P. demanded: "Is Mr. Amery now aware that the closing of the Burma Road has had a disastrous effect on feeling in India?"—a reference to the fact that the Churchill government recently agreed, in a gesture toward Japan, to halt munition shipments to China over the route for three months.

Amery made no answer, for the Speaker held that Gallacher had interjected "a matter of opinion—not a question."

This new gesture for Indian solidarity in behalf of the Empire was heard with caution and reserve by Nationalist leaders in India, but drew favorable comment from the Independent and liberal party heads. Maulana Abdul Kalan Azad, president of the Congress party, said in Bombay that he had been invited to an interview by the Viceroy and that, in the meantime, he would have no comment. Other leaders of the independent movement also remained silent.

Some nationalist newspapers, however declared that, since immediate independence had not been promised, the Congress party was not likely to consent to participate in the war.

COMMONS WAR DEBATE SET

To Be Held Week Of August 19. Short Recess To Follow

London, Aug. 8 (AP)—A debate on the general conduct of the war will be held in the House of Commons in the week starting August 19, the Government announced today. Prime Minister Winston Churchill will make a statement.

Clement R. Attlee, Lord Privy Seal, told the House he hoped Parliament could take a short recess beginning August 22.

White Powder Sprinkles Town After Nazi Raid

British Think It Was Used to Scatter Leaflets With a Pop

LONDON, Aug. 8 (AP).—Chemical experts expressed belief today that a harmless white powder found after a German raider flew over during the night might have been used in the dropping of propaganda leaflets, causing packets to burst in the air with a loud pop.

The powder, a sulphuric compound, was found in the streets of a northwestern British town.

Propaganda leaflets are dropped by both British and Axis flyers over enemy soil. German material recently has dealt largely with Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's "final" peace-or-destruction offer to Britain.

Debt Of Beggs Paid

Londonderry, Northern Ireland, Aug. 8 (AP)—Two rescued Portuguese sailors paid their debt promptly. Members of the crew of the torpedoed Greek steamer Pindos were on a pier here when they noticed two Irish bathers in difficulty. Diving thirty feet, the Portuguese brought the bathers to safety.

Heroic R. A. F. Pilot Prevents Fire in Town

LONDON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—The heroism of a British pilot, who crashed to his death into the sea in a blazing plane, saved a southeast coast town from disaster today.

The pilot remained at his controls to avert what appeared to be an inevitable crash into buildings of the town. As a result of his guidance, the plane fell in the water fifty yards from shore.

10-Cent-A-Day Pay Raise

London, Aug. 8 (AP) — British sailors, soldiers and airmen received today a 10-cent-a-day increase in their base pay. Heretofore they received 40 cents a day.

The pay hike was announced by Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to meet wartime increase in postal and railway charges and the new beer and tobacco taxes.

All non-commissioned men are included.

H. M. S. AJAX BACK AT SEA

Cruiser Disabled In Spee Battle Again In Active Service

London, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Admiralty announced tonight that the cruiser Ajax, one of the ships which disabled the German pocket battleship Graf Spee off the coast of Uruguay last December, is back in active service at sea.

London Quizzes Tyler Kent

Ex-Employee of American Embassy Is Held Under Official Secrets Act

LONDON, Aug. 9 (AP).—Tyler Kent, a former employee of the American Embassy here, and Anna Molkov, a Russian dressmaker, were questioned today by the investigating magistrate in Bow Street police station as secret hearings were resumed on charges against them under the official secrets act.

After an hour and a half hearing, the court clerk said the case had been adjourned until meeting of a special court on Aug. 19.

For correct story on Tyler Kent see 1944 Chest 12462

PANKHURST WANTS U. S. NEGROES' AID

She Urges Them to Purchase Planes for Selassie.

LONDON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—Sylvia Pankhurst, suffragist aid of Haile Selassie, whom Great Britain has recognized as the rightful ruler of Ethiopia, said today that she was seeking to rally American Negroes to a movement to overthrow the Italians in Ethiopia.

The author and propagandist, who has been acting in liaison with Selassie's organization of his peoples while Italy is busy fighting the British, said that the main need of the Ethiopians was airplanes.

"American Negroes can strike a blow not only to help their own race by aiding the Ethiopians, but also for all democracy by enabling these great fighters to become active allies of Britain in the African campaign," she declared.

She said that she wants to enlist Negro flyers and get planes and funds for the Ethiopians.

Miss Pankhurst exhibited photographs of Ethiopian troops that she said had "armed themselves at the expense of the Italians in raids and hand-to-hand fighting which have the Italians terrified. All they need is supporting planes to drive the Italians out of Ethiopia."

But he warned that these men would have to go back later, "with the growing needs of an expanding mechanical army."

British Expect Shake-Up In Information Ministry

Pick, New Director, Promises 'Some Business Organization'

LONDON, Aug. 8 (AP).—Reorganization of the staff of the often-criticized British Ministry of Information is expected to follow the appointment of Frank Pick as Director-General to succeed Sir Kenneth Lee, resigned, effective Aug. 12. Sir Kenneth served nine months without pay.

In his own words, Pick plans to "try to get some business organization into the ministry." He formerly was managing director of the London Transport Board, with an annual salary of $40,000. Sir Kenneth had been reported in ill health.

Skilled British Workers Are Released From Army

30,000 Aircraft and Other Experts Returned to Factories

LONDON, Aug. 8 (AP).—Ernest Bevin, Minister of Labor, warned munitions employers today to undertake the training of unskilled men and women immediately, lest "conditions" compel him to make it "obligatory."

His announcement, made in the House of Commons, said "speed up" efforts of the Labor Ministry had obtained the provisional release of 3,200 skilled aircraft and munitions workers from the army effective July 10 and 11. The total of such releases for all industries is now 30,-000, he said.

Add London Circs 8

PARLIAMENTARY CIRCLES REPORTED BOTH HE AND ALFRED DUFF COOPER, MINISTER OF INFORMATION, HAD AGREED ON THE NEED FOR REORGANIZATION OF THE DEPARTMENT--HEADED BY THREE DIFFERENT MINISTERS IN LESS THAN 11 MONTHS--BUT THEY WERE NOT AGREED ON THE METHOD.

ASKED IF HE IS TO RECEIVE PAY, PICK SAID, "YES. CERTAINLY I AM NOT GOING TO DO IT FOR NOTHING. I CAN'T AFFORD TO." AUG 9 1940

NO PICKUP

JH821AED

British Give Up Submarine as Lost

LONDON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—The Admiralty announced tonight that the British submarine Oswald, which had been operating in the Mediterranean, was considered lost. (The Italian High Command announced the sinking of the Oswald earlier this week.)

Add London Circs 8

THE OSWALD WAS A VESSEL OF 1,475 TONS, BUILT IN 1928.

THE ADMIRALTY COMMUNIQUE FOLLOWS:

AUG 9 1940

"THE SECRETARY OF THE ADMIRALTY REGRETS TO ANNOUNCE THAT HIS MAJESTY'S SUBMARINE OSWALD, LIEUTENANT-COMMANDER D.A.FRASER, WHICH HAS BEEN OPERATING IN MEDITERRANEAN WATERS, IS OVERDUE AND MUST BE CONSIDERED LOST.

"THE ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE HAS STATED THAT 52 OFFICERS AND MEN, INCLUDING THE COMMANDING OFFICER, OF THIS SUBMARINE ARE PRISONERS OF WAR AND UNHURT. THE TOTAL COMPLEMENT OF THE OSWALD WAS FIVE OFFICERS AND 50 RATINGS (ENLISTED MEN). THE NEXT OF KIN HAVE BEEN INFORMED."

(END COMMUNIQUE)

MV3AQPED

The Texts of the Day's War Communiques

AUG 9 1940

British

LONDON, Aug. 8 (AP) —The Air Ministry issued the following communiqué early today:

Bombs were dropped in various parts of Great Britain last night by isolated enemy aircraft, but apart from broken windows little damage is reported except that in one town in the northeast of England a sanatorium and shop property suffered considerably.

In one part of the north of England leaflets were dropped.

Casualties were very few and the only serious injuries were to some women walking in a country road.

Another Air Ministry communiqué follows:

During an attack on shipping in the Channel this morning a number of engagements took place between our fighters and enemy aircraft.

Reports so far received show that two enemy bombers are confirmed as having been shot down and the destruction of several others is reported but not yet confirmed.

The Air Ministry also issued this communiqué:

Further reports of this morning's engagements over the Channel confirm that at least six enemy dive bombers and three enemy fighters have been shot down. Two of our fighter pilots are missing.

Subsequently the Air Ministry announced:

Skua aircraft of the fleet air arm have carried out a successful attack on a petrol storage depot at Dolvik, about five miles south of Bergen. There were three petrol storage tanks with a total capacity of 7,200 tons at this depot.

The largest of the three tanks was seen to blow up. The second largest was badly damaged and set on fire. The smallest tank, the pumping station and the jetty were severely damaged.

Very large fires were started which, it is considered, must have spread and led to total destruction of the whole depot. All our aircraft returned safely.

The text of another Air Ministry communiqué:

Yesterday R. A. F. bombers carried out daylight attacks on enemy-occupied airdromes at Cherbourg and at Heemstede in Holland.

At night our bombers, though hampered again by poor weather, attacked the Homburg oil plant, the Kiel dockyards, store depots at Hamm and a number of airdromes in Northwest Germany. All our aircraft returned safely.

Coastal Command reports the loss of one aircraft engaged on reconnaissance over the Norwegian coast yesterday.

A communiqué issued jointly by the Admiralty and the Air Ministry stated:

Enemy attacks on one of our convoys in the Channel were made in the dark hours this morn- by E-boats [German speedboats]. During these attacks one E-boat was sunk and another damaged. Three coastal vessels in this convoy were struck by torpedoes and sank.

Air attacks on this convoy began this morning and were renewed at intervals throughout the day. The results of the enemy bombing attacks are not fully known, but several ships have received considerable damage, the extent of which it has not been possible to ascertain.

A number of survivors and injured have already been landed.

The attacking enemy forces consisted of large numbers of dive bombers accompanied by single and twin-engined fighters. As each attack developed the enemy formations were heavily engaged by squadrons of R. A. F. fighters.

Severe losses were inflicted, of which full reports are not yet available, but it is already confirmed that fifty-three enemy aircraft have been destroyed.

Sixteen of our fighter pilots are at present reported missing.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Royal Air Force issued the following communiqué today:

There was considerable air activity on all fronts yesterday, many valuable reconnaissance flights being undertaken.

At Bardia the shipping harbor and store buildings were attacked. One large building was demolished.

While carrying out reconnaissance work in the Tobruk area Aug. 6 one of our flying boats was shot down and one of the crew killed. The remainder, three of whom were wounded, were taken prisoner.

The Italian East Africa submarine base at Massawa was raided by R. A. F. bombers Aug. 6 and Aug. 7. Reports indicate direct hits were registered on a naval vessel, the quay and one submarine. All our aircraft returned safely.

During another raid buildings were damaged. All our aircraft returned safely. Enemy fighters approached Malta yesterday, but turned back before our fighters could engage them.

British military headquarters at Cairo issued the following communiqué:

All quiet in the Western Desert Aug. 7. Enemy movements, particularly of motorized transport, continued to be reported.

In the Sudan an unsuccessful air raid was carried out on Atbara; otherwise all quiet.

In Somaliland, as anticipated, enemy columns were halted after capturing Hargeisa and Oadweina, and air reconnaissance reports little movement around these places. In the area of Burao and eastward the situation is reported normal.

In Kenya and Palestine, nothing to report.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Aug. 8 (AP)—A British communiqué tonight said:

Buna was bombed yesterday by two Caproni [Italian] planes. No damage was done. One British soldier was slightly injured.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 8 (AP)—The text of today's German High Command communiqué:

One of our submarines sank three armed enemy merchant ships of over 16,000 registered tons.

German planes laid mines before several English harbors last night and attacked different armaments works as well as anti-aircraft and searchlight positions.

The motor works in Leyland, the works of Vickers Armstrongs at Chester, airplane works at Yeovil, industrial plants at Plymouth and, in addition, anti-aircraft and searchlight positions at 30.24-4211

30.24-4211

Manchester, Cardiff, Dorchester and Plymouth were bombed.

The enemy flew with a number of planes over North and Western Germany last night and dropped bombs without causing much damage. In a suburb of Essen, as well as at Datteln, residences were damaged. The fires resulting could be extinguished quickly by the efforts of air-raid-protection squads. One barn was burned to the ground.

Two enemy planes were shot down.

A special bulletin issued by the German High Command stated:

German speedboats, during the night of Aug. 7-8, attacked a strongly protected enemy convoy. Despite determined resistance by accompanying enemy destroyers, other protecting vessels and the strongly armored steamers themselves, one tanker of 8,000 tons, one steamer of 5,000 tons and one steamer of 4,000 tons were sunk. A smaller tanker was set afire. The German speedboats were undamaged.

The air force this afternoon attacked a British convoy in the Channel. In the course of the attack twelve ships with a total tonnage of 55,000 were sunk, and seven additional ones damaged. During the air fights developing in the course of the attack five British chasers were shot down. One of our own planes failed to return.

During additional air skirmishes in the course of the forenoon twenty-nine additional enemy pursuit planes were shot down. Two of our own planes were lost.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 8 (AP)—The text of today's Italian High Command communiqué:

One of our columns which three days ago had crossed the frontier of British Somaliland reached the sea and occupied the port of Zeila.

In East Africa our bomber formation attacked the airfield of Wajir, destroying three planes on the ground and causing serious damage and setting fire to works of the base. One British fighter plane was shot down in combat. Enemy raids on Diredawa and Massawa caused unimportant damage.

In the Eastern Mediterranean a British convoy of five vessels escorted by warships was bombed by our aviation. Two vessels were hit and severely damaged.

Italian Drive In Near East

[By the Associated Press]

Rome, Aug. 8—Italian occupation of Zeila, westernmost port in British Somaliland, is the first step in an Italian move to join British and French Somaliland with Italian Somaliland, a high Fascist authority indicated today.

(British sources in London said today that Britain might give Italy a "cheap victory" in British Somaliland by withdrawing forces from desert wastes considered not worth defending.)

The capture of Zeila was described officially as of great strategic importance.

British Tell Loss First

Today's high command communique said Zeila was taken after a three-day march from Ethiopia, which is fifty miles from Zeila at the nearest point.

(The British announced loss of Zeila yesterday.)

Taken By Native Troops

Occupation of Zeila was carried out by native troops from Ethiopia under command of the Duke of Aosta, viceroy of Ethiopia.

Capture of this port, just south of Jibuti, port in French Somaliland, was declared by Italians here to be the first step in incorporating French and British Somaliland into Italian East Africa.

Attainment of this goal would give Italy a solid block of territory with a 2,500-mile continuous coastline on the Red Sea, the Gulf of Aden and the Indian Ocean.

It also would provide potential naval bases at Jibuti, Zeila and Berbera, facing Britain's strategic base at Aden, less than 200 miles across the Gulf of Aden.

Zeila and Berbera, capital of British Somaliland and largest port in the protectorate, are the natural outlets to the Gulf of Aden—a sort of window on the Indian Ocean, Italians said.

They said these ports were much better for their new empire in Ethiopia than Jibuti, in French Somaliland. This was recognized by Anthony Eden, they said, when he came to Rome in 1935 seeking to settle the dispute over Ethiopia before Italy conquered that country.

Eden's Plan Rejected

Eden then proposed to give Ethiopia an outlet through British Somaliland to Zeila, the Italians said.

Italy rejected the plan, and Fascists said the French later were annoyed when they learned of Eden's offer.

The Italian communique today said their armored columns, accompanied by bombing planes, were well on the way to Berbera, having occupied Oadweina and Hargeisa Tuesday. A difficult march of 100 miles through terrain remains from Hargeisa to Berbera.

Somaliland Important

Running roughly from north to south, French, British and Italian Somaliland form a coastal fringe around the "Horn of Africa," separating Italy's Ethiopian empire from the Gulf of Aden and the Indian Ocean. Occupation of all three would give Italy command of vital outlets to those strategic waters.

The Italian communique said nothing of land operations near Bardia, where the British yesterday said the Italians were concentrating apparently for an offensive against Egypt along the Mediterranean coast.

(A British communique from Cairo today said the harbor and store buildings were bombed at Bardia.)

The Communique

The communique said:

"One of our columns which three days ago had crossed the frontier of British Somaliland reached the sea and occupied the port of Zeila.

"In East Africa our bomber formations attacked the airfield of Wajir, destroying three planes on the ground and causing serious damage and setting fire to works of the base.

"One British fighter plane was shot down in combat. Enemy raids on Diredawa and Massaua caused important damage.

"In the eastern Mediterranean a British convoy of five vessels escorted by warships was bombed by our aviation. Two vessels were hit and severely damaged."

Tell of Eden's Proposition.

Zeila and Berbera, the capital of British Somaliland and largest port in the protectorate, are the natural outlets to the Gulf of Aden—a sort of window on the Indian Ocean, the Fascist spokesmen said.

They added that these ports were much better for their new empire in Ethiopia than Jibuti, in French Somaliland, and they said that this was recognized by Major Anthony Eden when he came to Rome in 1935 as British Foreign Minister to seek a settlement of the dispute over Ethiopia before Italy conquered that country.

Major Eden proposed to give Ethiopia an outlet through British Somaliland to Zeila, the Italians said, with Italy to receive concessions elsewhere.

Italy rejected the plan, the Fascists said, and the French were later annoyed when they learned that Major Eden had made such an offer, which would have been detrimental to Jibuti and its railroad traffic if accepted without letting the French know about it.

Somalilands Under Aegis Of Duce Seen by Rome

Rome, Aug. 8 (AP)—Officials here today exultantly claimed that the Italian capture of the British Somaliland port of Zeila had opened the way to a consolidation of the British and French Somalilands under Fascist arms for an attack on Aden, Britain's protectorate 140 miles across the gulf of that name.

The incorporation of these French and British areas with Italian East Africa, it was declared, would give Italy a 2,500-mile continuous coast line along the Red Sea, the Gulf of Aden and the Indian Ocean.

Mosul Oil, Egyptian Cotton

The strategy thus projected would be intended not only to break the vital British Empire communications, but to obtain the two great riches of oil and cotton—oil in the British-controlled Mosul field; cotton in British Sudan.

Italian armored columns in British Somaliland were declared to be well on the road to Berbera, the biggest port in the protectorate, accompanied by bombers. Its seizure would provide a third possible naval base against British Aden—in addition to Zeila, if it is held, and Jibuti, in French Somaliland.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—The British said in London that Italy might be allowed "a cheap victory" in British Somaliland; that Britain might withdraw her forces from the desert wastes not considered worth defending.]

New destructive bombardments of Haifa, the British outlet to the Mosul oil fields, were declared to have destroyed 100,000 tons of oil.

THE HIGHEST JOURNALISTIC SPOKESMAN IN ITALY, [illegible] GAYDA, IN DECLARING THAT THE ITALIANS WOULD NOT LEAVE ZEILA ISOLATED, INDICATED THE NATURE OF THE ITALIAN PLAN.

POSSESSION OF ZEILA, HE WROTE IN [illegible], GIVES ITALY "BRING ITALIAN BASES NEARER TO THE OPPOSITE BRITISH BASE OF ADEN, WHICH IS ONE OF THE KEY POSSESSIONS OF THE BRITISH WAR SYSTEM ALONG THE PASSAGE THROUGH THE INDIAN OCEAN AND THE RED SEA."

DISPATCHES DESCRIBING THE ATTACK SAID THE BREAKWATERS TREMBLED AS THOUGH IN AN EARTHQUAKE, AND THAT WHARVES, SHIPYARDS AND WAREHOUSES WERE WRECKED.

THE BOMBERS, THEY ADDED, [illegible] MET NO AIRCRAFT FIRE EITHER TO LACK OF GUNS AND AMMUNITION OR TO THE "AUDACITY" OF THE ITALIAN ATTACK.

LECCO, Italy, Friday, Aug. 8 (AP)—An explosion in a munitions factory here today caused the death of three persons and injured six. The cause is not yet known. Lecco is on Lake Como at the Swiss-Italian frontier.

The explosion occurred in the percussion cap department of the factory.

Explosions in Two Italian Arms Plants Kill 42 Workers and Injure Hundreds

ROME, Aug. 8 (AP)—Two unexplained explosions killed thirty-nine workers and injured hundreds more today in the Tiatenza munitions works, near Genoa. The munitions plant was almost demolished by the separate blasts that caused some destruction in near-by barracks and broke windows throughout the vicinity.

High officials left Rome hastily to investigate. Authorities quickly organized first-aid and began clearing away the debris within a short time after the blasts ended.

Barracks near the factory were damaged seriously. Windows in many nearby houses were broken. The Under-Secretary of War, Gen. Ubaldo Soddu, and other officials left Rome at once to investigate.

Nazi Torpedo Boats And Planes Claim 15 Vessels In Channel

72,000 Tons Of Shipping Reported Destroyed In Single Day—34 Aircraft Bagged, Berlin Says

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 8—A tornadic attack on British shipping and air power today by Germany's flyers and speedboats sank fifteen ships in the English Channel, the high command announced tonight, damaged seven others and downed thirty-four British planes.

A speedboat raid on a "strongly protected enemy convoy" during the night sent to the bottom an 8,000-ton tanker and two steamers totaling 9,000 tons, a special communique said, while bombers swooping down on another convoy this afternoon sank twelve ships totaling 55,000 tons and damaged seven others.

Thus in the space of twenty-four hours an aggregate of 72,000 tons of British shipping was reported destroyed.

During the speedboat raid, which the communique said was hotly contested by British destroyers, the tiny torpedo-carrying craft also set one tanker afire.

All of the speedboats were reported to have returned safely.

Five of the thirty-four British planes shot down were pursuit planes participating in this afternoon's battle over the Channel, the high command said, while the other twenty-nine—also pursuit craft—were bagged "during additional air skirmishes in the course of the forenoon."

The German announcement admitted loss of three German planes.

At the same time another round was fired in the propaganda duel over who is to blame if Europe goes hungry.

Dienst aus Deutschland, the authoritative news commentary, denied British press assertions that Germany is responsible for feeding the populations of German-occupied countries.

Hold British Responsible

England really is responsible, it said, declaring Britain drew these nations into the war against Germany.

It denied British assertions that Adolf Hitler, in his recent Reichstag speech, had said "the feeding of Europe is assured," and said that what he did say was that the German food supply was assured.

The commentary insisted that American Red Cross shipments to people in the occupied areas were being delivered without hindrance from German authorities.

Red Cross Aid Welcome

German sources reiterated that help from the American Red Cross to the occupied regions would be welcomed and that the Reich would provide every facility for delivery of supplies to the peoples for whom they were intended.

Red Cross officials seemed agreed that Germans were expediting such shipments and that in Poland, especially, American contributions were distributed efficiently and impartially with the cooperation of the German Red Cross.

Nazis Tell of Laying Mines

BERLIN, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—German planes laid mines at the entrances to several English harbors last night and attacked a number of armament works and anti-aircraft and searchlight positions, the German High Command announced today.

The High Command's daily communique said motor works in Leyland, the Vickers-Armstrong plant at Chester, the airplane works at Yeovil and industrial plants at Plymouth were the targets of bombers. It listed British defense positions at Manchester, Cardiff, Dorchester and Plymouth as additional objectives.

British raids over north and west Germany last night were said to have been carried out without causing much damage. Fires in a suburb of Essen and at Datteln were reported to have been extinguished quickly.

The Germans said that one of their submarines sank three armed enemy merchant ships of over 16,000 tons.

British Held Responsible For Feeding Nazi Victims

London Got Them Into War, German Press Explains

BERLIN, Aug. 8 (AP).—Great Britain is responsible for the feeding of the populations of countries occupied by German troops, because she is responsible for their entering the war against Germany, "Dienst aus Deutschland," authoritative commentary, observed today.

The article said it was written in reply to British press assertions that Germany was responsible for the care and feeding of persons in the occupied areas and that Fuehrer Adolf Hitler had declared in his latest speech that "the feeding of Europe is assured."

"Hitler spoke not of an assured European, but of an assured German supply," "Dienst aus Deutschland" said.

Activity of German welfare groups in the occupied areas, it said, showed that Germany is attempting to secure provisions for these peoples, but nevertheless, "English propaganda is guilty of a dangerous mistake" in substituting European for German in Hitler's statement.

This was done, the "Dienst" said, "to justify the inclusion of former English allies in the blockade."

The commentary said the American Red Cross already had certified that shipments sent to persons in the occupied areas were being received without delay through German co-operation.

It added that the Germans, however, want to oppose any attempt to shift "responsibility for the appearances of shortages" in the occupied regions.

Liberty Avenue Named Adolf Hitler Street

Change Ordered For Luxembourg's Principal Thoroughfare, Nazi Wireless Announces

Berlin, Aug 8 ((AP) via Radio)—If you were a Luxembourger living on Liberty avenue before the Nazi invasion and you ran away in fear of your life and then came back, say about now, you'd find yourself living on Adolf Hitler street.

The German wireless announced the change in the name of the city's principal thoroughfare today.

It also announced that the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, which closed May 10, will be reopened for sessions Tuesdays and Fridays.

FRENCH TRIAL COURT SEATED

Brief Ceremony Installs War Guilt Judges

CHIEF JUSTICE IS A VETERAN

Months of Inquiry May Precede Indictment of Leaders.

RIOM, France, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—The formal setting for the war blame trial, called here the greatest trial in French history, was laid today in this ancient city where the Supreme Court of defeated France will sit to determine who and how many led the nation to disaster and what punishment they should suffer.

The inauguration of the nation's new high tribunal, brought into being by the Petain-Laval government and charged specifically with judging acts and men of previous regimes, will lead at once to exhaustive investigation of factors which involved France in an illfated war against Germany.

Minister of Justice Raphael Alibert, who personally is installing the court of seven full justices and two alternates in the historic Palais Du Justice, has charged it with: "seeking out responsibilities directly incurred through foreign, internal and military policies that led to the situation in which France now finds herself."

Today's brief ceremony of installation turns over the tribunal to sixty-two-year-old Pierre Caous, former Criminal Court president, twice wounded in the world war and twice cited for bravery.

M. Caous, as president of the Supreme Court, will have direct charge of the trials. His assistant, as vice-president, is sixty-eight-year-old Henri Lagarde, former counselor of the Court of Cassation.

Military Men on Bench

One admiral and one general are among the justices who will delve into the political and military background of the catastrophe which began when France declared a state of war with Germany in September, 1939, and ended last June with the collapse of her military machine after a few weeks of heavy fighting.

The war-blame inquiry itself may not get under way for several days. Weeks, and even months, of judicial investigation may ensue before the defendants are officially named and specific charges entered against them.

The Government's formal demand that the court take up immediately the matter of war responsibilities will be delivered here in the next day or so. Gaston Cassagnau, fifty-eight-year-old lawyer who won the Croix de Guerre in the world war, has been appointed attorney-general to prosecute the case.

War and pre-war Government leaders who have been mentioned in the French press as likely defendants include former Premier Edouard Daladier, his successor, Paul Reynaud; Gen. Maurice Gamelin, former (Popular Front) Premier Leon Blum, former Air Minister Pierre Cot and former Minister of Interior Georges Mandel. How many will face formal charges remains for the court to decide.

The wide territory which the charges may cover was indicated in today's press comment, such as the following from the newspaper Le Moniteur of Clermont-Ferrand:

"Among the guilty are those who before the war, but at a time when danger was mounting, placed the country in a state of deficiency, sowed disorder, corrupted the public spirit, or, in short, piled up conditions that led to disaster.

War Declaration a Crime.

"There also are those who foolishly, blindly, criminally plunged France into war at a time when she was at the very bottom of her efficiency curve.

"Likewise there are those who, once the war had commenced, not only continued to lie to the country but did nothing to pull it to its feet. There are those who, when it was shown that the struggle had become impossible, preferred, rather than accept a blow to their pride, to see French blood continue to be shed and new ruins accumulate on French soil.

"Finally there were those who fled, who did not even have the elementary courage to remain in France after her defeat, and those who openly committed treason against France in her saddest moment.

"All are guilty, and most of all the leaders. All will receive the punishment they deserve."

Red Cross Lists 5 Million Exiles In French Area

Bulk of McKeesport Cargo Given to Refugees; Paris Jobless Problem to Nazis

PARIS (via Berlin), Aug. 6 (delayed) (AP).—Richard T. Allen, Red Cross official in charge of distributing food and clothing received from the United States on the relief ship McKeesport, estimated today that there were about 5,000,000 refugees in the part of France not occupied by the German forces. He added that there were between 1,000 to 2,500 Americans in the area.

Allen, who drove to Paris from Marseilles despite difficult travel conditions in both unoccupied and German-held France, said three-quarters of the food and clothing received on the McKeesport had been distributed in the unoccupied territory.

The refugees, Allen said, include 3,500,000 French, 1,000,000 Belgians and 500,000 Germans, Austrians, Netherlanders, Luxemburgers and Spaniards. Most of them are living in hotels or homes and very few in camps or barracks.

Many English citizens are living in the south of France. While none has been arrested, the English are subject to certain anti-foreigner decrees and are not permitted to leave France or to travel freely.

Paris Jobless a Problem

PARIS, (via Berlin) Aug. 5 (Delayed) (AP).—Serious unemployment in the Paris area—although its population now is only half of normal—led the German authorities today to recommend an immediate public works program and the opening of all business establishments, whether their proprietors have returned or not.

Ten francs (less than twenty cents) daily as a dole for the jobless is not enough, they said, declaring the remedy depended on the French government.

"Germany has demonstrated conclusively by experience that it is more advantageous to give pay for useful work than to pay the unemployed," a German spokesman said, "and this system will also show its utility in France."

Searchlights sweeping the skies and the sound of anti-aircraft guns have indicated almost nightly air raids recently over German-occupied Paris. In at least one instance, explosions of bombs were heard, seemingly from the direction of Le Bourget Airport.

Paris and the rest of the Nazi-occupied zone of France have been cut off from all correspondence by regular mail channels with that part of France under control of the reorganized Vichy government. Joseph Cathala, Secretary General of Communications in Paris, announced that postal relations were suspended temporarily between the two zones of France, to French colonies and foreign countries. No reason for the move was announced.

Besides cutting the postal contact, the German authorities have ruled that exit visas will be required of all persons leaving France. American consular representatives at Biarritz are handling this procedure for Americans returning home. They obtain collective visas to cover traveling groups.

30.24-4213

Nazi Control Slows Home-Bound Refugees

AUG 9 1940

By Lloyd Lehrbas
Associated Press Foreign Correspondent

Moulins, France, Aug. 8—Only trickles of refugees, mostly plodding afoot or riding bicycles, are allowed to pass through this bottleneck of the jealously guarded pathway to their former homes in German-occupied territory.

A day of watching the lines of war wanderers seeking to return to their home towns or farms—traveling in automobiles, on foot, bicycles and wagons—discloses that a major element in the slowness is the rigid control the Germans exercise along the border between the occupied and unoccupied zones.

(Moulins lies along the Alliers river in central France, about 160 miles southeast of Paris and 30 miles north of Vichy, temporary capital of the Petain Government.)

Must Have Papers

Every returning refugee must have papers approved by French and German control stations and must undergo examinations by the Germans before being permitted to pass the barriers.

Under German instructions, the French have established control barriers two miles from Moulins, leaving a "no man's land" between these barriers and a German control station at a bridge over the Alliers river outside Moulins.

Piled Up Like Driftwood

Refugees have piled up at these barriers like driftwood, while waiting long periods for examination of their papers.

Automobiles piled high with baggage and bedding are permitted to pass in convoys of five, averaging ten cars an hour.

Throughout the day there is an average of twenty-five to thirty cars awaiting instructions.

Refugees afoot or riding bicycles are given numbers, which are called out when the German control station sends word to permit another group to pass.

When the numbers are given out the recipients are informed they probably will be forced to wait at least ten hours. Consequently many sleep along the roadside or in nearby woods so they may be first in line the next morning.

Belgian Soldiers There

Along the way I noted four detachments of Belgian soldiers marching homeward and 300 more waiting in line at the German barriers.

The Germans treated all courteously, although observing strict hours of passage—5 A. M. to 11 P. M., thus forcing many to spend the night at the barriers.

Since train service between the occupied and unoccupied zones has been halted and a gasoline shortage is preventing operation of hundreds of automobiles, it is estimated many weeks may pass before refugees packing cities and villages of Southern France will be enabled to return to their homes.

Three More American Drivers Accounted For

VICHY, France, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—The American Ambulance Corps reported today that three of its drivers previously reported missing now are accounted for.

Phillips Muhr of Philadelphia and Jean Billey of Paris have arrived safely in Paris. Severio Pagnotta, a Parisian who was born in Newark, N. J., was reported still a prisoner somewhere in Germany.

Windsors At Bermuda

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 8 (AP)—The American export liner Excalibur, bearing the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, anchored off this port early this afternoon.

[By the Associated Press]

Aboard the American Export Liner Excalibur, Aug. 8—The Duke of Windsor treated the crew to bc : this morning upon sight of Hamilton, Bermuda, where he and his Duchess will leave the ship. P sparations were completed for the landing and both the Duke and the Duchess seemed in good spirits. Booms were rigged to land the Duke's car and trailer.

The Duke and Duchess, with their party, were to be taken off the vessel at Grassy Bay, about three and a half miles from the Yacht Club landing. Then the Excalibur was to proceed to her dock on Front street, where luggage and the Duke's automobile were to be put ashore.

The ordinarily placid life of this British island colony was being thrown only slightly out of routine by the Windsors' arrival.

The lack of pageantry was due partially to the fact that, while the Duke is en route to take over his post of governor and commander in chief of the Bahamas, this is an unofficial visit.

Still the city of Hamilton was decked in flags and the regular Thursday half-holiday gave Bermudians a chance to see the Duke and his American wife on their drive to Government house, where they will live until they leave for the Bahamas.

with the Duchess, the former Wallis Warfield, for whom Edward VIII gave up a throne.

The American Export liner Excalibur, bearing the Windsors from Lisbon, Portugal, anchored off Hamilton in early afternoon.

The ship made a special stop here so the Windsors and their entourage could proceed more directly to the Bahamas, where the Duke will be Governor and commander in chief of British armed forces.

Thousands lined the shore as the Excalibur pulled in and cheers rose from a throng of about 1,000 which crowded the Royal Yacht Club lawn, near the jetty where the Windsors stepped ashore from a tender.

The Duke, tanned and boyish in gray serge, came ashore first.

Major General Bernard, Admiral Sir Charles, their ladies and other officialdom met him. The ladies curtsied low as he smiled in recognition of cheers and hand clapping from the crowd.

Duke Snaps To Attention

Then the Duke snapped to attention while an honor guard gave the royal salute at present arms and the band played "God Save The King." The Duke followed this with an inspection of the guard drawn up on the lawn while the Duchess chatted with Mrs. Brooke and Lady Kennedy-Purvis.

The Duchess wore a printed satin-backed crepe of pink and blue all-over design with a full-length coat of royal blue crepe, its elbow-length sleeves hanging straight from her shoulders. Her hat was a Callot of opalescent pearls with a chou in front. She had elbow-length white gloves and white shoes.

Women Note Her Costume

The women of Bermuda stole polite glances at this costume.

The Duke wore a tan-colored shirt with his gray suit, an Oxford University tie and tan-and-white sport shoes. He carried an ordinary straw hat with black band.

Twice the Duke passed along the ranks of soldiers, sailors and marines which made up the honor guard, stopping occasionally to chat with one of the men.

Ceremonies Are Brief

The entire ceremonies at the Royal Yacht Club took little more than five minutes, after which the Duke entered the state landau, accompanied by the Governor and the Governor's aide de camp.

They were followed by a carriage in which the Duchess rode with Mrs. Brooke and Captain Wood, the Duke's equerry, who came over from Lisbon with the Windsors. The party drove directly to Government House, where they will remain until going to Nassau.

Duke Smiles At Old Woman

Several thousand persons lined flag-draped Front and Queen streets, Hamilton's main thoroughfares, along which the carriages passed. Others came running to their second-story balconies to see the visitors pass. An aged Negro woman sitting on her balcony waved a potted hibiscus and cried wildly, "Hello! hello!"

The Duke looked up at her and smiled.

Duchess—"She's Beautiful"

A shirtsleeved man broke through police lines as the Duchess' carriage drew near and waved his straw hat—so closely that he was almost run over. The Duchess turned and smiled at him so directly that he seemed stunned. He stood open-mouthed as the carriage went on its way.

One woman, noting the Duchess' blue-beaded earrings and shoulder ornament to match, exclaimed:

"Why it was worth coming down here just to see her—she's beautiful."

British censors here removed 120 of the 700 bags of mail aboard the Excalibur.

Bermuda Society Curtsies To Duke But Not To Duchess

British Colonial Punctilio Apparently Set By Governor's Sister And Admiral's Lady

AUG 9 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 8—Two of the highest placed matrons of official Bermuda society, in welcoming the Windsors to Britain-in-the-Western Hemisphere today, curtsied to the Duke but not to his American-born twice-divorced Duchess.

As pace-setters of the colonial social set, they apparently established the punctilio that will prevail: the bended knee for his Royal Highness, a friendly bow to the commoner Duchess.

The women who thus made the to-curtsy-or-not-to-curtsy choice are Mrs. Hastings Brooke, sister of Maj. Gen. Denis Kirwan Bernard, Governor of Bermuda, and the wife of Admiral Sir Charles Kennedy-Purvis, commander of the Royal Navy's American and West Indies squad.

There was, of course, no dreadful pause and the two women soon found themselves in animated conversation.

Swiss Socialists Join In Plan to Unify Parties

Urge Maintenance of Democracy and Strong Army

BERNE, Aug. 8 (AP).—The Swiss Socialist party issued a manifesto today removing what appeared to be the last serious barrier to unification of all Swiss political parties, under the federal government's leadership, for "maintenance of active democracy and a strong army."

The Socialists abandoned many of their party's planks, saying the unity of parties was necessary "to maintain free Switzerland against international danger by establishing the confederation on a regime of strong, efficacious democracy."

The Leftist party's action followed the lead taken by a number of other strong parties recently, indicating complete political unity behind the federal government now that Switzerland is surrounded by totalitarian states.

The Socialists for several years have been the strongest single party in the lower house of Parliament.

Two Poles Killed Fleeing From Switzerland

BASEL, Switzerland, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—Two Polish soldiers were killed by a German patrol as they tried to cross the Boubs River into German-held France after escaping from a Swiss internment camp, it was reported last night.

Swiss Ban Fuel Export

Bern, Switzerland, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Swiss Federal Economy Department today banned the export of gasoline and oil fuels, save for ten litres (about two and two-thirds gallons) in the tanks of automobiles crossing the frontier.

Interned Poles Want To Fight

AUG 9 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Bern, Switzerland, Aug. 8—A lot of high power military experts, attached to Swiss legations as the military attaches of foreign powers, and some of the Swiss, too, have revised their opinion of Poland's army.

Three things contributed to the new turn of opinion.

First was the new realization of the power of Germany's war machine and its strength in the air.

Second was the way France cracked up along with Belgium, Holland and the Low Countries in thirty-eight days of warfare. Poland alone lasted four weeks.

Third were the Poles themselves—even in internment.

On the night from the nineteenth to the twentieth of last June alone some 28,000 troops crossed into Switzerland in the region of the Franches Montagnes in the Jura.

First to cross were about 12,000 French troops of various branches of the army. Some had their rifles. Some didn't. Many had never even seen a German. Few had participated in active fighting. All came because the Germans cut off their retreat to the south.

Later came the main units of 18,000 Poles. They too had been cut off in their retreat, but they came across with all their arms and even most of their motorized equipment. They were disciplined. They had not only almost all seen Germans but their units were all heavily carved up by casualties.

Some Go Back For More

One Polish unit, about 2,000 strong, dashed up to the frontier with several batteries of 75s and 101s. A group of commanding officers conferred briefly with the Swiss command and were told that they would have to surrender both arms and ammunition.

The whole unit turned around and dashed off again. The commanding officer explained that they "still had some ammunition left" and were going to "give it to the Germans."

They gave it to the Germans and the Germans gave them the same back again. They couldn't get through. They came into Switzerland with all their guns and rifles—but with not a shell, not a cartridge and with many casualties.

Poles, in little groups of three and four, have been drifting into Switzerland ever since the armistice. Some have come from Channel ports all the way through German-occupied territory. They hide in farm houses or deserted town houses during the day and travel by night. They escape from internment camps.

Some of them no sooner crossed the border and were disarmed than they tried to escape again. Swiss police stopped four recently headed back into occupied France. Yes, they knew it was occupied, but they wanted to get to England—somehow. They didn't know how.

Admired By The Swiss

In the internment camps they soon won the admiration of many Swiss by their discipline. In the beginning, Swiss civilians took a special fancy to the French, because French was one of Switzerland's three national languages and France was far nearer than Poland.

Since then the Poles' discipline, cleanliness, morale and comradeship have won them many friends. Some Swiss, including a Swiss visitor to internment camps quoted in the Baseler Nachrichten, found that the French brought along "some of the decaying smell of social and political disintegration."

The Poles, a proud lot, range in age between 17 and 22. Most of them were miners, farmers and metal workers before the war. They were the first to offer to help Swiss peasants in the field.

Their One Great Sorrow

Their one great sorrow is the French defeat. Most of them would go on fighting if they knew where to fight and how to get there. Many of them have crossed half of Europe and have heard nothing from their families since last September.

They are almost all Catholics and hold special services each Sunday in the forests near their internment camps.

Originally many Polish units were placed in towns with French units, but, while the French considered the war ended and only wanted to get back home, the Poles wanted to fight somewhere, anywhere, and the two nationalities had to be separated.

Both the Poles and the Swiss authorities would like to know where they go from here.

GIBRALTAR SCENE

Algeciras, Spain, Aug. 8 (AP)—The number of Spanish workers permitted to enter Gibraltar is being decreased daily and their places are taken by British soldiers. Civilians, in fact, are rapidly becoming something of a novelty in the British fortress.

Daily bombings have changed the appearance of the rock. Persons who have approached Gibraltar recently say that a military pavilion, the hippodrome and several factories, gasoline deposits and recreation centers have been almost effaced, and the British themselves have demolished many buildings and established anti-aircraft bases in their stead.

ITALIAN DRIVE IN SOMALILAND SLOWED DOWN

British Report Movement Delayed After Capture of Two Towns.

CAIRO, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—The Italian columns driving into British Somaliland from Ethiopia halted after their capture of Oadweina and Hargeisa as anticipated, a British communique reported tonight. Air reconnaissance over those towns in the western part of the protectorate showed little movement, the communique said.

It reported continued movement of Italian forces, particularly motorized transport, in the Libyan-Egyptian border region and the Western Desert, where the British expect a large-scale Italian offensive soon.

EGYPT ITALY'S SECRET GOAL, BRITISH SAY

Eastward Push Declared Feint To Hide Moves For Grand Assault

Drive To Grab African Sea Routes Expected In Mid-August

Larry Allen

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 8—British spokesmen expressed the conviction tonight that the Italian drive through British Somaliland toward the Gulf of Aden and the Indian Ocean was merely a feint to hide preparations for a grand assault on Egypt.

Admitting Fascist gains in Somaliland, Britons nevertheless said the Italians' main effort would be to break Britain's stranglehold on Mediterranean Sea routes by which water and other necessities must be carried to Italian Africa.

Also, as long as Britain holds Egypt and the Suez Canal, Italy has neither effective sea nor land connection with her Ethiopian empire.

Big Push In Mid-August

The real big push, they said, would come in mid-August.

The Italians were reported facing a dwindling water supply in blockaded Libya, a land largely of burning deserts where water is as vital as bullets.

Virtually all the water used by Italy's sand-whipped troops in eastern Libya has been transported from Italy, it was asserted, in specially constructed water tankers, dodging the British blockade.

A deep thrust into Egypt would solve one of Italian Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's problems by opening the way for new supplies of water and oil.

Egypt's Position Debated

Egypt's position in the anticipated action remained a debated question.

An authoritative British source said an Egyptian declaration of war on Italy "is a matter solely for the Egyptians themselves." He pointed out that "at the moment Egypt is a non-belligerent ally."

Another observer said Egypt is determined to keep the Suez Canal out of Italian hands, but that she might not necessarily enter the war if she thought the canal safe and the Italians left the Egyptians "well alone."

Halted "As Anticipated"

A British communique said the Italians captured the port of Zeila, just below Jibuti, in French Somaliland, and halted "as anticipated" after occupying the towns of Oadweina and Hargeisa.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—Fascists in Rome said the Zeila occupation constituted the first step of a campaign to incorporate British and French Somaliland into Italian East Africa.]

While the Italians pushed with but little opposition from Ethiopia into British Somaliland, Royal Air Force planes kept up their daily bombing of Italian troop concentrations and communications in North Africa.

PREMIER TELLS RUMANIANS LAND MUST GO

Says Hitler Has Ordered Territory Be Given Bulgaria And Hungary

Declares Government Will Refuse Demand For Most Of Transylvania

[By the Associated Press]

Bucharest, Rumania, Aug. 8—Premier Ian Gigurtu told his countrymen tonight that Rumania must give up some territory to Bulgaria and Hungary on Adolf Hitler's orders, but warned that his Government would refuse Hungary's full demand for most of Transylvania.

Breaking the news to the Rumanians that their kingdom, already stripped of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina by Soviet Russia, must suffer further amputations, the Premier insisted nevertheless that Hungary at most would get only a small strip of Transylvania.

This he described as just big enough to make it possible for all Hungarians to leave Rumania and all Rumanians to return home.

Advises Moderation

He intimated negotiations with Hungary would be long and bitter and advised both Hungary and Bulgaria—the latter a claimant for the return of southern Dobruja—to be moderate in demands as the best means of preventing trouble.

In her own interest, he said, Rumania had found it necessary to follow a pro-Axis policy—a policy that "imposes painful sacrifices."

As to Hungary, he declared, the dispute "could be easily regulated" by the latter's acceptance of population transfers and of economic collaboration. But, he went on, if Hungary insists on territorial cession from Rumania, she must be prepared to agree to a complete transfer of minorities.

Hitler Gave Orders

The Premier explained, by referring to his recent meeting with Hitler at Salzburg, why Rumania would be compelled to give up something to Hungary. Hitler, Gigurtu said, had ordered Rumania to come to terms with both Hungary and Bulgaria, although leaving the details to the three countries directly involved.

The Premier expressed confidence that Bulgaria's claim on southern Dobruja would be settled "before long."

While he spoke Bulgarian and Rumanian negotiators had been scheduled to assemble at Craiova, Rumania, but dispatches from there reported tonight that while all was in readiness for the conference—and had been since this morning—the conferees themselves had not appeared. There were accompanying reports that the meeting might be held after all not in Craiova, but in some remote country town. Officials said, however, that they expected the delegates within forty-eight hours.

Kemmendine Believed Sunk

RANGOON, Aug. 8 (AP).—The 7,769-ton British liner Kemmendine is twenty-one days overdue here and must be presumed lost, an official communique said tonight.

India On British Offer

[By the Associated Press]

Bombay, Aug. 8—Congress party President Maulana Abdul Kalan Azad said today he had been invited to an interview by Viceroy Linlithgow and would have no comment until then on Britain's offer for a new Constitution to be drafted by Indian leaders after the war. The interview is to be before August 20.

Other leaders of the independence movement likewise refused to comment.

Nationalist newspapers said that since the offer falls short of demands for immediate independence, the Congress party is unlikely to aid in the British Empire's war.

Gandhi Won't Comment

Mohandas K. Gandhi, Congress party leader, said any statement from him would be a presumption in view of his comparative retirement from public affairs.

Mohamed Ali Jinnah, president of the All-India Moslem League, also refused to comment.

Newspapers Comment

The Hindustan Times' Bombay representative said, "we will be false to ourselves and misleading both the Government of India and the Indian people if we considered the reply at all adequate to the needs of the present situation."

The Bombay Chronicle said "the viceroy's statement will be a disappointment to those who look forward to a genuine settlement between Britain and India."

Favorable Comment

Favorable comment on the Viceroy's proposals came from the Independent Labor and Liberal party leaders.

Bhim Rao Ramji Ambedkar, Independent Labor party leader called the demands for immediate independence unrealistic and said, "the Viceroy has done all a responsible man can do in the circumstances."

Sir Chimanlal Setalvad, leader of India's Liberal party, said "the Viceroy's statement constitutes an appreciable advance over past declarations of the British Government. The Congress should accept the interim arrangement without prejudice to their program."

Hongkong Bars Japanese Boats

HONGKONG, Aug. 8 (AP).—Water transportation between Canton, China, and this British crown colony was halted today, at least temporarily, when the British refused to allow entry into Hongkong Harbor of two Japanese vessels regularly engaged in the Pearl River service.

It was said unofficially that the action followed upon a Japanese refusal to remove obstacles to pilotage and stevedoring which held a British steamship at Canton for a week, causing disruption of the British-operated Canton-Hongkong shipping service.

The British Consulate at Canton was reported negotiating for settlement of the present difficulty.

Swedish Steamer Sunk After Leaving Glasgow

Scandinavian Radio Reports Atos Is Presumed To Have Been Torpedoed

Stockholm, Aug. 8 ((AP) by Radio)—The Swedish steamer Atos, 2,161 tons, was sunk August 3 on a voyage from Glasgow to Scandinavia, according to a broadcast by the Scandinavian radio today.

The steamer was presumed to have been torpedoed, the broadcaster said. Twenty-seven men of the crew of twenty-eight were rescued. The ship was carrying a cargo of piece goods.

The Atos sailed from New York for Europe, June 9.

30.24-4215

Japan Seen Preparing For Push Southward

AUG 9-1940

[By the Associated Press]

Shanghai, Aug. 8—Trustworthy foreign sources said today the Japanese Army and Navy is speeding preparations for further moves southward, in the direction of French Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies.

A lightning Japanese thrust, these informants predicted, would be timed to coincide with any attempt by Adolf Hitler to start his long-threatened invasion of England.

May Use "Persuasion"

In the event Hitler failed to move, it was believed Japan would proceed cautiously but inevitably toward further extension of her influence.

At the moment the immediate point of pressure is French Indo-China.

(Reports from Hanoi, French Indo-China, today said the return of Gen. Issaku Nishihara, head of a Japanese economic mission, from Tokyo conferences was taken to indicate Japan would be content at present to pursue her aims through "persuasion.")

Ready To Attack

What the Japanese want most now is the right to transport troops and supplies over the French Indo-China railway into Yunnan province for a drive against Chinese-held Kunming, key city of southwest China.

In the event of resistance, Japan was said to be ready to attack. This almost certainly would extend the Chinese-Japanese war to French Indo-China, since the Chungking government of Chiang Kai-shek has announced it would send troops there to battle any Japanese invasion.

Japan, preparing for a southward move for three months, now has large army and navy forces concentrated at Formosa and Hainan Island.

Warship Movement

Occasional reports of possible imminent Japanese action in a southerly direction in recent weeks have been traced to movements of Japanese warships and transports between Formosa and Hainan.

Japanese naval forces in this area are understood to consist of about thirty ships, mostly cruisers and destroyers, an aircraft carrier and several seaplane tenders.

French Forces Weak

More than 100,000 Japanese soldiers are believed to have been transferred to Hainan and Formosa.

Should the French decide to resist, they would have only a few cruisers, destroyers and planes, while their main infantry force would consist of Annamite soldiers, who have been given strong doses of anti-French propaganda by Japanese agents recently.

Hainan, occupied in the three-year-old war against China, are likely springboards for thrusts against Indo-China and the welter of islands that make up the Dutch East Indies.

Foreign informants in Shanghai said both the Japanese army and navy were speeding preparations for the southward push.

The Japanese "southward" fleet consists of thirty ships, mostly cruisers and destroyers but with one aircraft carrier and several seaplane tenders.

Naval and land forces of both Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies, a thousand miles south of Formosa, are almost negligible.

Indo-China's Vulnerability

forthright expansionist clamor of military and naval leaders—is not known except for recent pronouncements by members of the Konoye Government as to Japan's future role of leadership in "Greater East Asia."

However, the Tokyo Government is believed by foreign sources here to be in favor of forceful steps. The belief is growing in Japan that, regardless of who wins the European war, the victor will not be inclined to hand over Far Eastern colonies to Japan out of sheer generosity.

Americans At Tientsin Protest

In Tientsin today, American merchants appealed to the Washington State Department through the United States Chamber of Commerce in Tientsin for support against Japanese restrictions on imports from America.

It was understood that the Tientsin chamber also was appealing directly to President Roosevelt to protest to Tokyo over "these further encroachments on United States trade in north China."

Japanese Blitzkrieg In Orient Geared To Hitler's Is Forecast

AUG 9-1940

[By the Associated Press]

Shanghai, Aug. 8—Japan, following her self-proclaimed destiny of dominance in "Greater East Asia," was reported tonight to be hastening preparations for a lightning drive in the direction of French Indo-China and the Netherlands East Indies.

Trustworthy foreign sources, the sponsors of this report, predicted that Japan's big southward push would be geared to Germany's Blitzkrieg machinery, now tuning up for the threatened invasion of the British Isles, and would start within forty-eight hours after the Germans start.

Timing Depends Upon Hitler

The essence of such timing would be to take advantage of diversion of British attention to home defense. Britain stands as the only belligerent defender of the rich East Indies and Indo-China, territory of the German-vanquished Netherlands and France.

If Adolf Hitler fails to move, it was believed the Japanese would proceed more slowly and more cautiously, but further efforts to extend Japanese influence were regarded as inevitable.

Occasional premature reports of imminent Japanese action in past weeks have been traced to movements of warships and transports between Formosa and Hainan, islands off the southeastern and southern China coasts.

Two Likely Springboards

Formosa, long Japanese-ruled, and French Indo-China would confront sea and air forces and probably overland advances from Kwangsi province, southwest China, along whose border Japanese troops have been deployed for weeks.

More than 100,000 soldiers are believed concentrated now in Hainan and Formosa. Hainan lies less than a hundred miles off the central coast line of Indo-China, a potential troop and plane base.

The French have only a few cruisers and destroyers and eighteen obsolete warplanes in Indo-China. The main infantry forces consist of Annamese soldiers who recently have been subjected to strong doses of anti-French propaganda by Japanese agents.

Seek Right Of Way To Yunnan

Back of all the Japanese negotiations with Indo-China is the Japanese wish for a right of way through the French territory for transport of empire troops and supplies into China's Yunnan province, which the Japanese believe would hasten the end of the war in China.

Yunnan, which with Kwangsi shares the northern border of Indo-China, has been untouched by the Japanese invasion of China and with its capital, Kunming, constitutes one of the bastions of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's resistance.

Tokyo's Attitude Not Known

The precise attitude of the Tokyo Government—as compared to the forthright expansionist clamor of military and naval leaders—is not known except for recent pronouncements by members of the Konoye Government as to Japan's future role of leadership in "Greater East Asia."

However, the Tokyo Government is believed by foreign sources here to be in favor of forceful steps. The belief is growing in Japan that, regardless of who wins the European war, the victor will not be inclined to hand over Far Eastern colonies to Japan out of sheer generosity.

Americans At Tientsin Protest

In Tientsin today, American merchants appealed to the Washington State Department through the United States Chamber of Commerce in Tientsin for support against Japanese restrictions on imports from America.

It was understood that the Tientsin chamber also was appealing directly to President Roosevelt to protest to Tokyo over "these further encroachments on United States trade in north China."

Oust British, Japan Urged

[By the Associated Press]

Tokyo, Aug. 8—One hundred and twenty-six members of the Diet (Parliament) today adopted a resolution urging the Government to take "all available and effective measures to drive British influence from east Asia."

Britain's arrest of prominent Japanese businessmen in her empire was declared "purely retaliatory" and "unpardonably atrocious."

There are 466 members in the Japanese Diet.

AUG 9-1940

U. S. Merchants in China Combat Curb on Imports

Washington Asked to Protest New Japanese Restrictions

TIENTSIN, China, Aug. 8 (AP).—American merchants here, acting through the American Chamber of Commerce in Tientsin, appealed today to the State Department at Washington for support against Japanese restrictions on imports from America. The Tientsin chamber was understood also to be appealing directly to President Roosevelt to protest at Tokio against "these further encroachments on United States trade in North China."

American business men said the restrictions damaged not only the interests of importers of American merchandise here but also manufacturers and workers in the United States.

AUG 9-1940

Although the new restrictions were announced June 27, complete information as to how they are supposed to operate is not yet available. Meanwhile, all applications for permits to import goods from the United States are denied.

"A stiffening of resistance to Japanese wishes appeared in the announcement of a decision to reopen transit routes through Indo-China for Chinese exports. A month ago Indo-China agreed to seal her border with China and it was stipulated that outgoing Chinese shipments would be halted for one month.

The principal Japanese demand was that Indo-China routes should be closed to Chinese imports of war supplies, but Japan also wanted to shut off the exports that China must make to buy war supplies.

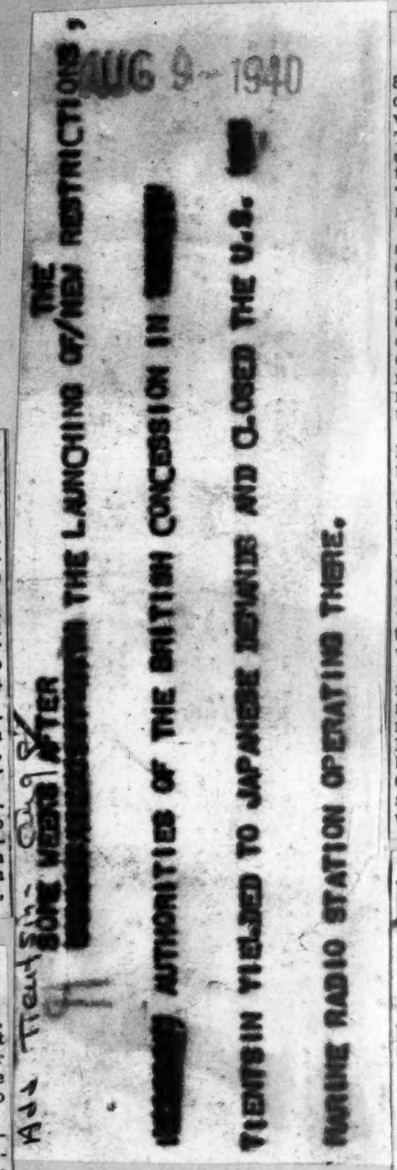
One explanation of this slight display of French resistance to Japan was that the Vichy Government, with Berlin's approval, favored putting a brake on the Japanese.

One informant raised the possibility that Herr Hitler desired to preserve all the bargaining advantages he now holds, in favor of an ultimate, broader settlement with Japan, perhaps embracing Batavia, in the Netherlands Indies.

New Zealand to Enroll Her Reserve Manpower

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—The Government issued a proclamation today for the enrollment of general reserve manpower which will be liable to compulsory national service.

Minister of National Service Semple announced that the first division of the reserve will comprise single men between the ages of 19 and 45. The native Maoris are exempt.



Welcome "Reasonable Diplomat"

HANOI, French Indo-China, Aug. 8 (AP).—Gen. Issaku Nishihara, head of a Japanese economic mission, was reported flying back here from Tokio today, a development welcomed by Hanoi quarters as giving this French outpost a temporary "breathing spell" from Japanese demands.

Gen. Nishihara, considered here as a "reasonable diplomat," was recalled abruptly for conferences with the Japanese Premier, Prince Fumimaro Konoye, last week. This move, coming as the United States clamped a license system upon its exports of oil and scrap iron, gave rise to uneasiness here that Japan might move quickly in this direction.

AUG 9-1940

Unofficially, the return of Nishihara was described here as "a triumph of diplomacy over force."

A further stiffening of resistance toward Japan was seen in the announcement of a decision to reopen transit routes for Chinese exports. When French Indo-China bowed to Japanese pressure a month ago today and agreed to seal the border with China, it also was stipulated that outgoing Chinese shipments would be halted for one month.

This was secondary to the Japanese main aim of shutting off war materials going to the central Chinese government, but the fact that Hanoi officials declined to renew this ban was considered significant. Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek must export in order to buy war materials.

BRITISH STILL HUNT NAZI SEA RAIDER

Report of Battle Off Brazil Called Just Rumor.

AUG 9-1940

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—The British search for Nazi merchant raiders spread in widening circles over the South Atlantic today, centering on Trinidad, where the armed merchant cruiser Alcantara clashed on July 28 with an armed German raider. Brazil and British official sources at Rio de Janeiro said that lack of confirmation of a report of a second battle off Victoria, Brazil, yesterday inclined them to the belief that it was "just another rumor."

The Alcantara left Rio de Janeiro, 300 miles southwest of Victoria, on Monday after being laid up four days for repairs. Another armed merchantman, the Arndale, a floating supply base for British warships in the area, loaded fuel oil and supplies at Montevideo. Informed sources said that the use of the Arndale allowed British naval units to spend weeks on the shipping lanes without putting into port.

SENATE VOTES PRESIDENT POWER TO CALL OUT GUARD

Amendment Gives Men With Dependents a Chance to Resign.

BILL IS APPROVED 71 TO 7

Today's Action Clears Way for Consideration of Military Training Program.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—The Senate passed and sent to the House today legislation empowering President Roosevelt to order the National Guard and army reserves to active military duty for a period of twelve months.

The vote was 71 to 7.

Before voting on the bill the Senate agreed unanimously to permit members of the National Guard and army reserves who have dependent wives or children to resign within twenty days after the enactment of legislation making them subject to active duty.

The proposal was made by Senator Pittman of Nevada and adopted by unanimous consent when Senator Sheppard of Texas, chairman of the Senate Military Committee said he had no objection.

Yesterday the Chamber defeated an amendment which would have permitted any guardsman or reserve member to resign within twenty days.

Under Mr. Pittman's amendment the privilege of resigning would not be extended to men with sources of income other than wages and salaries.

Training Bill Is Next.

Disposal of the guard bill clears the way for debate on the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory training bill, which could be taken up immediately.

The House Military Committee postponed a session on the guard-reserve measure today, Chairman May explaining that no further consideration would be given to it until the Senate had acted.

Before voting, the Senate had some amendments to consider, one, offered by Senator Adams, Democrat, of Colorado, would limit movement of the guard and reserves to the United States and its possessions.

Opposing this, Senator Connally, Democrat, of Texas, said that if any European Power sought to seize any territory in South America he would "favor sending an army and navy down there to prevent it."

He recalled that House and Senate had by revolution recorded themselves as against transfer of Western Hempisphere territory from one non-American Power to another.

"That is the law of the land," Senator Connally said. "Would the Senator from Colorado have us ignore that statute?"

Mr. Adams replied that he believed Congress lacked power to enact laws concerning foreign nations.

Barkley Opposes Adams.

Democratic Leader Barkley urged defeat of the Adams proposal asserting that it would be "extremely unwise on our own account, and folly, to serve notice on the rest of the world that all of our pious resolutions on liberty and democracy and solidarity in the Western Hemisphere are of no more effect than if adopted by a quilting bee."

Mr. Adams replied that all he wished to do was retain in Congress the power to send troops to foreign lands rather than turn it over to the "uncontrolled authority" of the President. He would be willing, he said, to change his amendment to give the President complete freedom in time of war.

"I don't think that would help it any," Mr. Barkley said.

The American people, he said, want "every vital interest of the United States defended wherever that interest might lie" and do not want to have to "wait until an aggressor gets to our front porch." Defense of the Monroe Doctrine, he added, meant defending it not only against "an invading army but against an invading theory of government."

Meanwhile, Senator Donahey, Democrat, of Ohio, said in a statement that he regarded enactment of compulsory conscription legislation at this time as "an unprecedented expedient without basic consideration and I intend to vote against it."

He proposed one-year voluntary enlistments for home defense until January 1 when, he said, Congress could determine whether conscription was necessary.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Massachusetts, proposed to exempt from conscription students in recognized theological and divinity schools and other persons engaged in religious work.

Refugee Child Bill Advances In House

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The House Immigration Committee speedily approved today a subcommitteee compromise bill to provide a temporary haven in the United States for an estimated 200,000 European refugee children under 16 years of age.

The bill, only introduced late yesterday, would be effective for two years after enactment unless the President prescribed a shorter period.

Practically Unanimous

Committee members, declining to disclose the vote on approval, said it was "practically unanimous."

A compilation of several other bills and rewritten so as to apply to children of all European nationaly—especially those whose homelands have been invaded—the measure provides that the children would be issued visas as temporary visitors.

They would be admitted for a two-year period, but the Attorney General could shorten or extend this time. Children who had fled from their homeland to another country could come to the United States even though their native land no longer exists.

Must Be Refugee

Under the committee measure, certain assurances would have to be given in connection with the admission of each child. The United States Consul before whom a child appeared for visa would have to be satisfied that child was "seeking to enter the United States to be safe from the dangers or the effects of war."

The Attorney General would also have to have assurances that every child would be properly cared for and not become a public charge. To facilitate entry of the refugees, the bill says that none of them need be accompanied by parents, or even one parent.

Child Refugees Dependents for Tax Purposes

Treasury Authorizes $400 Exemption if Family Provides Chief Support

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP).—Each refugee child from Europe's war means a $400 income tax exemption for the head of the household which harbors and supports him.

Treasury officials said today that refugee children now being placed in American homes would be counted the same as any other dependent when income tax time comes around.

The law authorizes a $400 deduction from taxable income for each dependent, who is under eighteen years of age and who derives his chief support from the family.

Thus, children from wealthy British families, for instance, whose parents might still be their chief financial support would not count.

In the case of a refugee child living here only part of a year, the credit would be reduced accordingly.

Meanwhile, it was expected that the greatest migration of children in the world's history—several fold greater than the Children's Crusades in the Middle Ages—soon may be landing on the shores of the United States.

Legislators worked today to speed the opening of the country's ports to boys and girls fleeing the bombs and bullets of Europe's warring nations. It is estimated that 200,000 may seek temporary haven here.

The House Immigration Committee assembled at an unusually early hour this morning to approve a subcommittee compromise bill to enable European children under sixteen to enter under temporary visitors' visas for a two-year stay.

The Senate received today legislation approved yesterday by the House to amend the neutralization act so as to permit American ships to enter European combat zones to bring the children to the United States provided safe conduct was assured by the belligerent nations.

50,000 Monthly Estimated

Mrs. Susan Pulsifer, of Brunswick, Me., active in the movement to send these mercy ships, estimated before the House committee that the country had ships enough to bring 50,000 children over each month.

Meanwhile, the United States Committee for the Care of European Children, of which Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is temporary chairman, continued its appraisal of homes offered for the evacuees. The committee, with headquarters in New York, already has set up 150 branches throughout the country.

Questions asked of witnesses at the House committee hearings indicated the members' desire that the proposed haven be opened to "European children" and not the children of just certain nations.

The committee chairman, Representative Samuel Dickstein, Democrat, of New York, explained that the bill, approved "practically unanimously" by the committee, would permit children who had fled their invaded homelands to another country to come to the United States on visitors' visas.

No "Home Land" for Poles

Under the law, as it now is, a refugee cannot get a visitors' visa if his native land no longer exists, Representative Dickstein said. Thus, English children can come to the United States as visitors—as they are by the hundreds—but Polish children who fled to Spain cannot.

Technically, there is no "home land" for the Polish children to return to when the "visit" is over. The bill as approved by the committee would take care of this situation. The bill is intended to be effective for two years after enactment unless the President shortens the time.

Representative William T. Schulte, Democrat, of Indiana, a committee member, said the fact must be recognized that some children brought in probably would have to remain because their parents might be killed or lost.

Under the bill the Attorney General must have assurances the children will be properly cared for and not become public charges.

Representative James E. Van Zandt, Republican, of Pennsylvania, immigration committee member, injected the note in the committee hearing that America in its concern for war refugee children should not overlook the needs of its own children.

WELLES HOLDS SECOND PARLEY WITH OUMANSKY

Under Secretary Talks To Red Ambassador Twice In One Week

Concern Over Japanese Moves Is Reported Cause Of Action

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 8—The United States, disturbed by Japan's new "greater East Asia" policy, appeared tonight to be seeking friendlier relations with Soviet Russia.

After two unusually long conferences with the Soviet Ambassador, Constantine Oumansky, within a week, Sumner Welles, Acting Secretary of State, said today they had discussed many questions involving relations between the two countries.

The discussions, he said, had proceeded in a friendly and constructive spirit on both sides with a view to adjusting any differences as equitably as possible.

No Comment On Indo-China

At the same time, Welles declined to comment in any way on Japanese press reports that the American Government had asked Japan to define more clearly its attitude regarding French Indo-China.

The Maritime Commission's action yesterday in authorizing two American-owned tankers to take cargoes of motor gasoline to Russia was linked in some quarters with the Government's apparent effort to smooth out trade and other difficulties with Moscow.

The commission denied applications for two other vessels to take steel and oil to Japan.

No Danger Involved

Welles, when asked for comment on this, recalled that he told the press about ten days ago that he understood charters would be granted for American ships to go to ports where there was no danger involved. He added that Vladivostok was a port where no danger of hostilities existed at present, while belligerent activities did exist along the Chinese coast.

In other ways, a definite turn was indicated in United States and Soviet relations since Welles two weeks ago condemned the Russian acquisition of the three small Baltic countries—Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

For one thing, the annual trade treaty with the Soviet Government was renewed this week, although with a reservation that Moscow could not guarantee to fulfill its estimated purchases if American export restrictions under the national defense program proved too severe.

Concern Over Konoye Regime

Corresponding with the apparent efforts to eliminate friction with Soviet Russia was increasing concern over Japan's intentions under the new Konoye Government.

Apart from the suspicion that Japan aimed at complete domination of French Indo-China and possibly the Netherlands East Indies was the question of whether the Philippine Islands came within the scope of Japan's "greater East Asia" program.

This was believed connected with Ambassador Joseph C. Grew's inquiries in Tokyo.

With Japan still veiling the specific objectives of its new policy, some diplomatic sources considered the American conversations with Russia as a move to restrain Tokyo.

30.24-4217

30.24-4217

Vichy Denies Rift With Tokio

VICHY, Aug. 8 (A. P.)—Authorized French quarters said today that French-Japanese political and economic negotiations in French Indo-China were proceeding "in the most friendly spirit and with a reciprocal desire to reach an accord taking into account the interests and requirements of the two countries."

SOVIET-AMERICAN RELATIONS WARMER

Welles Calls Improvement Aim of Both.

AUG 9-1940

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—Sumner Welles, Acting Secretary of State, indicated today that the United States and Soviet Russia were seeking a general improvement in their relations.

Commenting on his long conference yesterday wth Soviet Ambassador Constantine A. Oumansky, Mr. Welles said they had discussed many questions bearing on the relations between the two countries, with a friendly and constructive attitude shown by both sides.

Mr. Welles declined to comment on Tokio press reports that American Ambassador Joseph C. Grew had asked the Japanese Government to clarify its position regarding French Indo-China.

Knox Asks Authority To Hold Service Men

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 8—Secretary Knox asked Congress today for authority to hold future Naval and Marine Corps enlisted men in service indefinitely during war or "declared emergencies."

He stated the request in a letter to Speaker Bankhead of the House.

It was the latest move of a series designed to strengthen the manpower resources of the armed forces for any emergency.

Limited Application

These included legislation to authorize calling up the National Guard and reserve groups and other legislation to authorize compulsory training of large groups of citizens.

The new legislation proposed by Knox would apply only to those men who enlisted in the naval service including the Marine Corps, after the enactment of the measure.

Has Discharge Proviso

The legislation would provide that men so held must be discharged within six months after the end of the war or the emergency.

Present law permits involuntary extension of enlistments only in time of war. Naval and Marine Corps enlistments range from two to six years.

In another communication to Congress, Herbert E. Gaston, Acting Treasury Secretary, asked legislation authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to call retired commissioned and warrant officers of the guard to active duty in times of national emergency, when the Coast Guard is not operating as a part of the navy.

The Senate agreed today to vote late this afternoon on legislation for calling out the National Guard and officer and enlisted reserves for training. Both advocates and opponents predicted passage.

Disposal of the guard bill will clear the way for debate on the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory training bill, which could be taken up immediately.

The House Military Committee postponed a session on the Guard-reserve measure today, Chairman Andrew J. May (Dem., Ky.) explaining that no further consideration would be given to it until the Senate had acted.

Had Amendments

Before voting, the Senate had some amendments to consider. One, by Senator Alva Adams (D., Col.), would limit movemnt of the Guard and reserves to the United States and its possessions.

Opposing this, Senator Tom Connally (Dem., Texas) said that if any European power sought to seize any territory in South America he would "favor sending an army and navy down there to prevent it." He recalled that House and Senate had by resolution recorded themselves as against transfer of Western Hemisphere territory from one non-American power to another.

"That is the law of the land," Connally said. "Would the Senator from Colorado have us ignore that statute?"

Adams replied that he believed Congress lacked power to enact laws concerning foreign nations.

START TO VITALIZE HAVANA ECONOMY

American Nations' Envoys Meet at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—The American republics began formal consideration today of methods to relieve and develop the economy of this hemisphere under the broad program adopted at the Havana conference of foreign ministers.

The inter-American Financial and Economic Committee, composed of representatives of twenty-one nations, set aside its weekly meeting to a detailed study of the measures approved at Havana and steps necessary to carry them out.

Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of State and committee chairman, said that it would canvas the field of existing and prospective economic problems growing out of the European war and the application of proposed remedies.

Heading the list was the mounting surplus of commodities of some Latin American countries to which former European markets have been closed by the war.

The spearhead of the United States attack on this is the administration bill before Congress to increase the lending power of the Export-Import Bank by $500,000,000.

In adopting this program at Havana Secretary of State Hull said the American nations envisioned the possibility that after the war many European markets might be in the hands of governments "which regard international commerce as an instrument of domination."

The economic system proposed for the American republics, Hull said, was one under which they would be "prepared to trade with any nation willing to meet them in good faith . . . and under which they will be fully equipped to protect themselves against any other kind of dealing."

FRENCH FUNDS MAY PAY OLD WAR DEBT

Morgenthau Reveals Plans Are Being Considered.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau disclosed today that the United States was considering the possibility of taking world war debt payments out of frozen French funds in this country.

When the subject of war debts was raised at his press conference the Secretary said that before French funds are released he wants to see what happens to American investments and debts over there.

He had referred many times to the possibility of offsetting American business and other losses in the invaded European countries against the funds of those countries being held here, but formerly he had given no reply to inquiries about world war indebtedness.

France alone owes this country about $4,000,000,000 from the last war.

Asked whether the freezing regulations, imposed upon the funds belonging to invaded nations and their peoples, also applied to Germany, Mr. Morgenthau replied:

"No. Any amount of money can be sent to Germany, and there is nothing we can do about it. It's silly, but we are at peace with Germany and cannot do anything about its funds."

A reporter remarked that this country also was at peace with France, but had frozen her funds. Mr. Morgenthau explained that the freezing orders applied only to invaded countries, rather than those at war, because when a country was invaded a question arose over whether its citizens tried to get money from this country on their own initiative or under duress from the invaders.

He gave no estimate of the amount of the frozen funds, which have been rumored to be several billion dollars. All funds here owned in France, Belgium, Holland, Luxemburg, Denmark and Norway have been tied up.

HONORS CAPTAIN OF FLINT

Navy Awards Gainard Its Cross for Distinguished Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—Award of the Navy Cross to Captain Joseph A. Gainard for distinguished service as master of the steamship the City of Flint during its seizure and detention by the German navy last Spring was announced today by the Navy Department.

Captain Gainard is a lieutenant commander in the United States Naval Reserve. He is now undergoing hospitalization for a minor disability. The decoration will be presented to him when he returns to active duty.

The citation accompanying the Navy Cross follows:

"For distinguished service in the line of his profession so ably demonstrated while master of the steamer City of Flint at the time of its seizure upon the high seas and during its detention by armed forces of a belligerent European power. His skill, fine judgment and devotion to duty were of the highest order and in accordance with the best traditions of the Naval Service."

President Sets Day Of Prayer

[By the Associated Press]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 8—President Roosevelt has set aside Sunday, September 8, as a day of prayer when Americans of every creed and denomination should ask God "to grant to this land and to the troubled world a righteous, enduring peace."

"When every succeeding day brings sad news of suffering and disaster abroad," he said in a proclamation, "we are especially conscious of the divine power," and "it is seemly that we should" pray for God's blessing "on our country and for the establishment of a just and permanent peace" among all nations.

"Mindful Of Our Duties"

The proclamation, dated yesterday and made public today at the President's Hudson Valley estate, follows:

"The American heritage of individual freedom and of Government deriving its power from the consent of the governed has from the time of the fathers of our republic been proudly transmitted to each succeeding generation, and to us of this generation has fallen the task of preserving it and transmitting it to the future. We are now engaged in a mighty effort to fortify that heritage.

"Mindful of our duties in the family of nations we have endeavored to prevent the outbreak and the spread of war, and we have raised our voices against international injustice. As Americans and as lovers of freedom we are humbly sympathetic with those who are facing tribulation in lands across the seas.

"When every succeeding day brings sad news of suffering and disaster abroad, we are especially conscious of the Divine power and of our dependence upon God's merciful guidance.

"With this consciousness in our hearts it is seemly that we should, at a time like this, pray to Almighty God for his blessing on our country and for the establishment of a just and permanent peace among all the nations of the world.

"Now, therefore, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, do hereby set aside Sunday, September 8, 1940, as a day of prayer.

Grateful For Heritage

"And I urge the people of the United States, of all creeds and denominations, to pray on that day, in their churches or at their homes, on the high seas or wherever they may be, beseeching the ruler of the universe to bless our republic, to make us reverently grateful for our heritage and firm in its defense, and to grant to this land and to the troubled world a righteous, enduring peace.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

"Done, at the city of Washington, this seventh day of August, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fifth.

"(Signed) FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

Knudsen Puts U.S. Plane Output At 900 A Month

Defense Official Expects American Factories To Be On 1,500-A-Month Basis By January

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 8—William S. Knudsen, production chief of the National Defense Commission, reported to the nation tonight that United States production of warplanes had reached a rate of 10,800 a year and would pass the 18,000-a-year mark by next January.

He made this report of progress toward President Roosevelt's goal of 50,000 planes a year in a nation-wide broadcast.

This broadcast, in which Knudsen and other members of the commission gave a detailed accounting of the defense program, closely followed publication of a commission report showing that its production division had cleared $1,792,000,000 of army and navy contracts in the past two months. The dates on which the products involved in the contracts will be delivered were not announced.

900 Planes Month

In response to a question about plane production, Knudsen said:

"Present production is approximately 900 planes per month. By January 1 the number will have risen to 1,500 planes and the volume will increase steadily thereafter. You might also be interested in knowing that in January 56,800 people were employed in aircraft factories. Today the number is nearer 75,000."

Other commission officials said that the present production of 900 planes a month and the expected production of 1,500 next January included the planes being made in this country for Britain.

Knudsen denied that no combat planes had been contracted for out of money appropriated by Congress up to August 1, declaring the navy had contracted for $7,000,000 worth of such planes in July.

"I would like to add," Knudsen continued, "that of money made available to us on July 1, five weeks ago, contracts have already been awarded for 45 per cent. of the entire army funds and 75 per cent. of the navy's funds."

Affirmative Answer

Knudsen was asked whether sufficient equipment would be available for an army of 400,000 men this fall, in the event the compulsory service law were passed, or other measures were enacted to create such a force.

"If you mean uniforms, other clothing and general equipment, the answer is yes," he said.

Asked when deliveries could be expected on the combat material in which the commission was interested, he replied:

"I expect that the tooling up process will more or less take up the balance of this fall, but by January substantial deliveries of most of the material should commence and, by spring, 1941, production should be going at a good rate."

Points made by other members of the commission included:

Labor

SIDNEY HILLMAN—About 80,000 persons are taking training for jobs in defense industries. Would-be trainees should apply to their nearest State employment office. The shipbuilding industry is now employing almost 40,000 more people than at the ten-year peak in 1937; the aircraft industry is employing 50,000 more; the machine-tool industry is employing 18,000 more, and the same is true of the engine industry.

Agriculture

CHESTER DAVIS—"No defense program can succeed if farm income and prices are not maintained at a level which will keep the farm plant healthy in the defense front. Existing machinery developed during the past seven years is available to do this job."

Price Stabilization

LEON HENDERSON—"The President wants to avoid the familiar price spiral—like he saw in the last war—where wages, the cost of living and prices skyrocketed up and left the country with a post-war headache."

Materials

EDWARD R. STETTINIUS, JR.—A railroad in Brazil will have to be rebuilt to obtain needed supplies of high-grade manganese—an indispensable alloy for the manufacture of steel. The commission is discussing with industry plans for the production of emergency supplies of synthetic rubber, which "for certain purposes—including some airplane parts—is definitely superior to crude rubber."

Transportation

KARL W. FISCHER—Steps already are being taken to strengthen 2,000 bridges in the country's 80,000-mile network of strategic highways so that they will carry the heaviest military equipment.

Lending $700,000,000 For Defense Projects

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 8—Jesse Jones, Federal loan administrator, told the House Banking Committee today that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had agreed recently to finance the construction of "half a dozen" new aircraft factories to cost between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000.

Jones made the disclosure while testifying on a bill to authorize a $500,000,000 expansion of the Export-Import Bank's lending capital, partly to finance loans to Central and South American countries.

Will Lend $700,000,000

Explaining the need for the additional capital, Jones said the RFC had committed itself to loans totaling about $700,000,000 under the defense program, including projects for acquisition of strategic materials as well as construction of new ordnance and munition plants.

Jones said he had agreed, informally but definitely, to finance the construction of new aircraft plants and added that the money involved included a loan to the Packard Motor Company for the manufacture of Rolls-Royce airplane engines.

Other Commitments

Other defense commitments which he enumerated included $92,000,000 to the Wright Aeronautical Corporation and $50,800,000 to the Reynolds Metal Company for construction of an aluminum plant.

Such commitments, Jones explained, reduced the RFC's capital available for other purposes, and, he added, that he did not believe it good policy to permit the agency to continue with curtailed capitalization.

Jones indicated that if other units of the Federal loan agency, such as the Export-Import Bank, were given additional funds, it would ease the load on the RFC.

Japanese Stir U. S. Islanders

[By the Associated Press]

Nome, Alaska, Aug. 8—A Japanese fishing fleet operating within sight of United States-owned St. Lawrence Island was reported today by John Cross, a fisherman just returned from the island.

Cross said he saw one large boat and several smaller craft, including power launches.

He said both natives and whites on of the fleet, which, they believed, to be the island were alarmed by presence whaling or sealing.

Center Of Eskimo Industry

St. Lawrence is the largest island off the west coast of Alaska. It lies nearly one hundred miles off Norton Sound and is much closer to the Siberian mainland than to the rest of the United States territory.

Unlike most Eskimos, those on St. Lawrence live in frame houses, some with overstuffed furniture. The Eskimos seldom use the furniture, but enjoy having it around.

For the same reason, they have bought electric washing machines, although no electricity is available.

British Flying Boat Starts Return Trip

Clare Leaves LaGuardia Field For Canada En Route To England With Diplomatic Mail

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—The British flying boat Clare, which reopened transatlantic air service between England and the United States with its arrival here last Sunday, took off from LaGuardia Field marine terminal today for Boucherville, near Montreal, en route to an undisclosed English port.

The camouflaged flying boat carried a crew of five, no passengers and about fifteen pounds of diplomatic mail. Paul Bewshea, New York agent for Airways Atlantic, Limited, said a number of passengers would board the Clare at Montreal.

Yarnell Advocates Sale Of Destroyers to Britain

Says U. S. Ships Should Sail to British Ports

BOSTON, Aug. 8 (AP).—Rear Admiral H. E. Yarnell, U. S. N. (retired), advocated tonight turning over old destroyers and other "necessary types of vessels" to Great Britain.

In a statement released by the Committee to Defend America, Admiral Yarnell said, also, that the neutrality act "should be repealed and the right to send our vessels to British ports again asserted."

"If Britain loses the war," he said, "we will face years of danger, with our nation converted into a huge armed camp and a major part of the revenue spent for armament."

DUTCH WARY OF U. S. AS INDIES TRUSTEE

Act Of Havana Believed Feared As Possible Step To Latin Protectorates

British Control Represented As Preferable To Any Other Country's

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 8—Netherlands officials in the West Indies view with "cold suspicion" the United States-sponsored Act of Havana providing for an American trusteeship over any European possession in the Western Hemisphere which might be threatened with change of ownership or loss of autonomy because of the war.

The West Indian officials, still loyal to Queen Wilhelmina and the Dutch Government now exiled in England, are officially silent, but unquestionably good sources here said today that while a protectorate by the United States alone might be acceptable in case of actual military aggression, the same would not be true of a general Latin-American trusteeship, and a British protectorate would be preferable to either.

Would Not Be Acceptable

West Indian officials, army men and leading newspapers were represented as feeling the Act of Havana might result in control of the islands by Colombia or Venezuela, which would never be acceptable, especially in view of the conflict between oil interests of Venezuela and Aruba.

In Aruba, one of the principal islands, there are forty-three nationalities from all parts of the world, living amicably under the Netherlands Government with the exception of some dissension on the part of some white Arubans, actually a very small group, descendants of the original Dutch colonists.

The Associated Press' informant said that even the management of the Lago Oil and Transport Company, Great Standard Oil refinery at Aruba, prefer the present government to any other, attributing the absence of labor trouble and crime to the Dutch administration.

Unalterably Opposed

On the other hand, the United States citizen employes of this company, it was said, do not greatly care what happens outside the oil company concessions, but would prefer a United States protectorate to escape strict Dutch laws, so strict that even too many traffic violations may result in banishment from the islands.

The British were represented as being unalterably opposed to the "trusteeship" plan, considering it essential that, if anything should happen to the Dutch administration, the islands should become British, as they were years ago, or at least a British protectorate.

British Aid Tank Design

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 8—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau disclosed today that British veterans of the "Flanders pocket" are helping adapt American military tanks to modern war developments.

He said that the first British expert here on a tank-purchase mission was Brig. Gen. D. H. Pratt, who commanded a fleet of one hundred tanks in northeastern France and Belgium before the Nazi war machine forced their bomb-ridden evacuation from Dunkerque.

Morgenthau explained that the British were trying to buy tanks here, but it was not feasible for manufacturers to build one type for the United States and another for the British. So the British decided to pool their experience with American designs so as to produce standardized types that both countries could use.

The Treasury head, who received Pratt as the official go-between on British and American contract negotiations, said he understood Pratt already had made some important contributions to American tank design as the result of his experience in Flanders.

U. S. Holds Norwegian And Six Danish Sailors

Seamen Set Out for West Coast After Refusing War-Zone Jobs

BUFFALO, Aug. 8 (AP).—One Norwegian and six Danish sailors were detained today by United States Immigration inspectors on charges of being in the country unlawfully after a series of adventures indirectly related to German occupation of their native lands.

District Inspector Arthur J. Karnuth said the seven, ranging in age from eighteen to twenty-five, were paid off and left the Norwegian freighter Bestum at Philadelphia in May because they did not want to return with it to the European war zone.

The six Danes originally were cadets on the Danish merchant marine training ship Danmark, interned last April in Jacksonville, Fla. They later shipped on the Bestum and were joined by a member of that vessel's crew when they were paid off in Philadelphia and set out for the west coast to seek further marine employment.

Karnuth said they pooled their resources, bought an ancient automobile, and drove to Sardinia, near the Erie-Cattaraugus county line, where they obtained temporary employment as farmhands and camped in two tents.

State police stopped one of them for driving without a license, and after hearing their story, notified customs border patrolmen, who brought them to Buffalo.

They will be detained here pending a hearing on the immigration charge, after which the United States Attorney General will decide whether they should be deported.

The group, whom Karnuth described as "clean-cut and straightforward," identified themselves as: Holger Pedersen, twenty-one; Aage Feldthausen, twenty-five; Peder Christensen, eighteen; Egn Pedersen, twenty; Kaj Green, twenty, and Helge Petersen, twenty, all Danes, and Arnold Asketh, nineteen, Norwegian.

30.24-4219

30.24-4219

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON, AUG. 8--BRITAIN APPEALED TO INDIA TODAY TO GIVE HER VAST LATENT STRENGTH IN THE EMPIRE'S FIGHT FOR LIFE AGAINST AXIS FORCES STRIKING BOTH IN WEST AND EAST, AND HELD OUT TO THE 350,000,000 SUBJECT PEOPLES OF THAT FABULOUSLY WEALTHY POSSESSION THE PROSPECT OF INDEPENDENCE AFTER THE WAR.

AUG 9-1940

IN A STATEMENT ANNOUNCED SIMULTANEOUSLY IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS BY L.S.AMERY, THE BRITISH SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA, AND IN THAT FAR-OFF LAND BY THE INDIAN VICEROY, THE MARQUESS OF LINLITHGOW, THE GOVERNMENT PROPOSED A "FREE AND EQUAL PARTNERSHIP" FOR INDIA IN THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH OF NATIONS FOR THE FUTURE.

BUT IN THE MEANTIME, IT WAS SAID, THE GOVERNMENT TRUSTS "THAT FOR THE PERIOD OF THE WAR...ALL PARTIES, COMMUNITIES AND INTERESTS (IN INDIA) WILL COMBINE AND COOPERATE IN MAKING A NOTABLE INDIAN CONTRIBUTION TO THE WORLD CAUSE WHICH IS AT STAKE."

THE "PARTNERSHIP" THUS OFFERED WAS NOT OUTLINED IN DETAIL, BUT IT WAS INTERPRETED AUTHORITATIVELY AS GOING BEYOND EVEN DOMINION STATUS.

ALL THIS CAME WHILE THE BRITISH ISLES WERE AWAITING THE LONG-THREATENED GERMAN INVASION FROM ACROSS THE ENGLISH CHANNEL AND WHILE THE AFRICAN TROOPS OF ITALY WERE MARCHING IN BRITISH SOMALILAND, THREATENING EGYPT AND DRIVING FOR THE INDIAN OCEAN ALONG BRITAIN'S LIFELINE OF EMPIRE.

NOTHING WAS SAID OFFICIALLY AS TO THE EXTENT OF AID WHICH INDIA COULD GIVE IN THIS MOST CRITICAL HOUR IN BRITISH HISTORY, BUT THAT AID COULD BE TREMENDOUS--INDIAN GOLD AND SUPPLIES AND UNLIMITED NUMBERS OF INDIAN TROOPS.

THE NEW POLICY TOWARD THE CONTINENT WHOSE PEOPLE MAKE UP NEARLY THREE-FOURTHS OF ALL THE HALF-BILLION SUBJECTS OF KING GEORGE PROBABLY WILL BE DEBATED IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS NEXT WEDNESDAY, SAID CLEMENT ATTLEE, A GOVERNMENT PARLIAMENTARY SPOKESMAN.

AS HE MADE THE ANNOUNCEMENT WILLIAM GALLACHER, A COMMUNIST MEMBER, DEMANDED:

"IS MR.AMERY NOT AWARE THAT THE CLOSING OF THE BURMA ROAD HAS HAD A DISASTROUS EFFECT ON FEELING IN INDIA?"--A REFERENCE TO THE FACT THAT THE CHURCHILL GOVERNMENT RECENTLY AGREED, IN A GESTURE TOWARD JAPAN, TO HALT MUNITIONS SHIPMENTS TO CHINA OVER THAT ROUTE FOR THREE MONTHS.

AMERY MADE NO ANSWER, FOR THE SPEAKER HELD THAT GALLACHER HAD INTERJECTED "A MATTER OF OPINION--NOT A QUESTION."

THIS NEW GESTURE FOR INDIAN SOLIDARITY IN BEHALF OF THE EMPIRE WAS HEARD WITH CAUTION AND RESERVE BY NATIONALIST LEADERS IN INDIA, BUT DREW FAVORABLE COMMENT FROM THE INDEPENDENT AND LIBERAL PARTY HEADS.

(MORE)NO.321PED

LONDON--FIRST ADD MIGHT LEAD BRITISH-INDIA (BUDGET)

X X X LIBERAL PARTY HEADS.

MAULANA ABDUL KALAM AZAD, PRESIDENT OF THE CONGRESS PARTY, SAID IN BOMBAY THAT HE HAD BEEN INVITED TO AN INTERVIEW BY THE VICEROY AND THAT, IN THE MEANTIME, HE WOULD HAVE NO COMMENT. OTHER LEADERS OF THE INDEPENDENCE MOVEMENT ALSO REMAINED SILENT.

SOME NATIONALIST NEWSPAPERS, HOWEVER DECLARED THAT, SINCE IMMEDIATE INDEPENDENCE HAD NOT BEEN PROMISED, THE CONGRESS PARTY WAS NOT LIKELY TO CONSENT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE WAR.

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT'S STATEMENT PROMISED AND PROPOSED APPOINTMENT OF "REPRESENTATIVE INDIANS" TO THE VICEROY'S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL; ESTABLISHMENT OF A WAR ADVISORY COUNCIL ON WHICH INDIANS WOULD BE REPRESENTED; AND THAT "FULL WEIGHT" WOULD BE GIVEN THE VIEWS OF MINORITIES IN ANY CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION.

AUG 9-1940

THEN IT ADDED:

"IT GOES WITHOUT SAYING THAT THEY (THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT) COULD NOT CONTEMPLATE THE TRANSFER OF THEIR PRESENT RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE PEACE AND WELFARE OF INDIA TO ANY SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT WHOSE AUTHORITY IS DIRECTLY DENIED BY LARGE AND POWERFUL ELEMENTS IN INDIA'S NATIONAL LIFE. NOR COULD THEY BE PARTIES TO THE COERCION OF SUCH ELEMENTS INTO SUBMISSION TO SUCH A GOVERNMENT.

"THE SECOND POINT OF GENERAL INTEREST IS THE MACHINERY FOR BUILDING WITHIN THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH OF NATIONS THE NEW CONSTITUTION SCHEME WHEN THE TIME COMES. THERE HAS BEEN VERY STRONG INSISTENCE THAT THE SCHEME SHOULD BE PRIMARILY THE RESPONSIBILITY OF INDIANS THEMSELVES AND SHOULD ORIGINATE FROM INDIAN CONCEPTIONS...

"HIS MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT ARE IN SYMPATHY WITH THAT DESIRE AND WISH TO SEE IT GIVEN THE FULLEST PRACTICAL EXPRESSION, SUBJECT TO THE DUE FULFILLMENT OF THE OBLIGATIONS WHICH GREAT BRITAIN'S LONG CONNECTION WITH INDIA HAS IMPOSED ON HER...

"IT IS CLEAR THAT A MOMENT WHEN THE COMMONWEALTH IS ENGAGED IN A STRUGGLE FOR EXISTENCE IS NOT ONE IN WHICH FUNDAMENTAL CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES CAN BE DECISIVELY RESOLVED.

"BUT HIS MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT...WILL MOST READILY ASSENT TO THE SETTING UP AFTER THE CONCLUSION OF THE WAR, WITH THE LEAST POSSIBLE DELAY, OF A BODY REPRESENTATIVE OF THE PRINCIPAL ELEMENTS IN INDIAN NATIONAL LIFE IN ORDER TO DEVISE THE FRAMEWORK OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION, AND THEY WILL LEND EVERY AID IN THEIR POWER TO HASTEN DECISIONS ON ALL RELEVANT MATTERS TO THE UTMOST DEGREE."

M.39;FED

BY DWIGHT L.PITKIN

LONDON, AUG.8-(AP)-GREAT BRITAIN, WITH HER LIFELINE OF EMPIRE MENACED BY THE ITALIAN ADVANCE IN AFRICA TOWARD THE RED SEA AND HER HOME CITADEL THREATENED WITH A BLITZKRIEG BY GERMANY, WAS UNDERSTOOD TODAY TO BE PREPARING A WAY TO TAP THE MANPOWER AND WEALTH OF HER RICHEST POSSESSION, TEEMING INDIA.

AUG 9-1940

A GOVERNMENT WHITE PAPER ANNOUNCING IMPORTANT NEW POLICY AFFECTING INDIA WAS BELIEVED READY FOR PUBLICATION.

SECRETARY FOR INDIA L.S.AMERY WAS EXPECTED TO ANNOUNCE TO THE HOUSE OF COMMONS DECISIONS REVEALING HOW FAR BRITAIN WILL GO TO SATISFY INDIAN NATIONALISTS' DEMANDS FOR INDEPENDENCE--DEMANDS REJECTED BY THE GOVERNMENT APRIL 18 ON THE GROUND THAT THEIR SATISFACTION WOULD MEAN DISREGARDING "OBLIGATIONS" TO THE MOSLEMS AND THE PRINCES' STATES WHERE BRITAIN GETS THE BULK OF HER INDIAN ARMY.

AMERY HAD AN AUDIENCE WITH KING GEORGE VI YESTERDAY.

SIMULTANEOUSLY WITH AMERY'S COMMONS STATEMENT THIS AFTERNOON, THE DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE PLANNED TO MAKE A SIMILAR STATEMENT IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

30.24-4221

30.24-4221

SOME QUARTERS BELIEVED BRITAIN, GIRDING HER FORCES FOR BIGGER BATTLES TO COME, MAY GIVE PREMIER MUSSOLINI A "CHEAP VICTORY" IN BRITISH SOMALILAND BY WITHDRAWING FROM DESERT WASTES CONSIDERED NOT WORTH DEFENDING.

BY SATISFYING INDIA'S CLAIMS BRITAIN WOULD BE IN A POSITION TO MARSHAL OVERWHELMING FORCES TO CRUSH ITALIAN EXPANSION IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AREA, ACCORDING TO THE BRITISH VIEW. WITH JAPAN THREATENING TO EXPAND SOUTHWARD AND ITALY SEEKING TO RULE OVER THE MOSLEM WORLD, INDIA'S INTEREST IN A BRITISH VICTORY HAS BECOME INCREASINGLY KEENER.

AUG 9-1940

INDIA ALREADY IS CONTRIBUTING SUBSTANTIALLY TO THE BRITISH WAR EFFORT, BUT THE CONTRIBUTION IS SMALL COMPARED TO HER POTENTIALITIES. ONLY "TOKEN" TROOPS TOOK PART IN THE WAR ON THE WESTERN FRONT BEFORE THE FRENCH COLLAPSE FORCED THEIR WITHDRAWAL.

INDIAN TROOPS IN EGYPT AND ADEN HELP GUARD THE RED SEA TOWARD WHICH THE ITALIANS ARE DRIVING. INDIAN SOLDIERS FORM PART OF A DEFENSE SYSTEM VITAL TO THE SINGAPORE NAVAL BASE AND INDIA ALSO IS AN IMPORTANT SOURCE OF SUPPLY FOR THE BRITISH ARMIES.

THE INDIAN PRINCES HAVE BEEN POURING GOLD INTO THE BRITISH WAR EFFORT. THE NIZAM OF HYDERABAD ALONE CONTRIBUTED $400,000 TO BUY WARPLANES. THE FACT THAT THE PRINCES ARE INTERESTED IN PERPETUATING THEIR THRONES, HOWEVER, COMPLICATES THE CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTION IN ANY ATTEMPT TO SATISFY INDEPENDENCE DEMANDS.

THE PRINCES RELY UPON THEIR OLD TREATY RIGHTS TO MAINTAIN THEIR PRIVILEGES. MOHANDAS K.GANDHI, HOWEVER, RETORTS THAT "THE PRINCES CANNOT HOLD OUT AGAINST THE MILLIONS WHO HAVE BECOME CONSCIOUS OF THEIR POWER."

GANDHI, LEADER OF THE INDEPENDENCE-SEEKING NATIONALISTS, DECLARED IN A RECENT PLEA URGING BRITAIN TO ABANDON WAR FOR "NON-VIOLENCE" THAT HE DID "NOT WANT BRITAIN TO BE DEFEATED, NOR DO I WANT HER TO BE VICTORIOUS IN A TRIAL OF BRUTE STRENGTH."

REALISTS IN INDIA, HOWEVER, ARE PREPARED TO GO ALL OUT TO HELP BRITAIN THWART ANY GERMAN, ITALIAN OR JAPANESE AMBITIONS ON THE GROUND THAT ANY KIND OF BRITISH RULE IS PREFERABLE TO WHAT NEW CONQUERORS MIGHT OFFER.

JH454AED

LONDON--FIRST ADD BRITISH X X X MIGHT OFFER.

WHEN SIR HUGH O'NEILL, UNDERSECRETARY FOR INDIA, REJECTED THE INDEPENDENCE DEMANDS ON APRIL 18 HE SAID:

"IF IT SHOULD APPEAR THAT THE LOW COUNTRIES ARE INVADED BY GERMANY, THEN THE EAST INDIES WOULD PASS TECHNICALLY UNDER GERMAN CONTROL. IT MUST BE REMEMBERED THAT BETWEEN BERLIN AND TOKYO EXISTS AN UNDERSTANDING, AND INDIA MIGHT FIND HERSELF BETWEEN TWO AGGRESSORS."

AUG 9-1940

SINCE THEN GERMANY INVADED THE LOW COUNTRIES AND JAPAN HAS SET OUT ON A COURSE OF SOUTHWARD EXPANSION WHICH POSSIBLY WOULD PLACE THE EAST INDIES UNDER HER DOMINATION.

THE LABORITE DAILY HERALD SAID IT EXPECTED THE INDIA DECISIONS TODAY TO REFER "BOTH TO THE GENERAL CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUE IN INDIA AND THE IMMEDIATE PROBLEM OF INDIA'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE WAR EFFORT."

"ON THE CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUE IT IS EXPECTED THAT THE WHITE PAPER WILL CONTAIN NEW PROPOSALS DESIGNED TO GO FAR TOWARDS CLEARING UP THE SERIOUS POLITICAL SITUATION WHICH NOW EXISTS IN INDIA," THE HERALD SAID.

"DECISIONS CONCERNING THE INCREASED USE OF INDIAN MANPOWER IN THE WAR EFFORT ARE BELIEVED TO FIGURE IN THOSE SECTIONS OF THE WHITE PAPER WHICH ARE CONCERNED WITH THE IMMEDIATE WAR SITUATION."

WHETHER THE POLITICAL PROPOSALS "GO FAR ENOUGH CANNOT YET BE FORECAST," SAID THE HERALD, ADDING:

"IT IS NOT WITHOUT SIGNIFICANCE, HOWEVER, THAT THE ISSUE OF THE WHITE PAPER WAS ORIGINALLY PLANNED TO TAKE PLACE SOME WEEKS AGO. IT HAS BEEN REPEATEDLY POSTPONED FOR THE PURPOSE N CBQ WITH AGO. IT HAS BEEN REPEATEDLY POSTPONED FOR THE PURPOSE OF DEALING WITH OBJECTIONS IN HIGH PLACES BOTH IN THIS COUNTRY AND IN INDIA."

(MORE)

JH602AED

LONDON--SECOND ADD BRITISH X X X IN INDIA."

RESUMING THE AIR-POUNDING OF BRITAIN AFTER A BRIEF LULL, GERMAN PLANES LAST NIGHT AND TODAY ATTACKED VARIOUS PARTS OF THE COUNTRY. THE GOVERNMENT SAID THE ATTACKS WERE BY "ISOLATED" CRAFT AND THAT "APART FROM BROKEN WINDOWS LITTLE DAMAGE WAS REPORTED, EXCEPT THAT IN ONE TOWN IN THE NORTHEAST OF ENGLAND A SANATORIUM AND SHOP PROPERTY SUFFERED CONSIDERABLY."

AUG 9-1940

"CASUALTIES WERE VERY FEW," ITS COMMUNIQUE ADDED, "AND THE ONLY SERIOUS INJURIES WERE TO SOME WOMEN WALKING IN A COUNTRY ROAD."

THERE WERE SOME MINOR CASUALTIES AT THE SANATORIUM.

SOUTHWEST SCOTLAND WAS RAIDED BUT MOST OF THE BOMBS WERE BELIEVED TO HAVE FALLEN INTO THE SEA. IN RAIDS OVER SOUTHWEST ENGLAND AND WALES BOMBS FELL ON SOME CLIFFS NEAR A FAMOUS CASTLE, WHICH WAS UNDAMAGED.

THE RAIDERS ALSO REPEATED THEIR BARRAGE OF LEAFLETS CONTAINING EXTRACTS FROM ADOLF HITLER'S REICHSTAG SPEECH THREATENING BRITAIN WITH DESTRUCTION UNLESS SHE SURRENDERS.

TWO WAVES OF PLANES RAIDED A SOUTHWEST TOWN LAST NIGHT AND EARLY TODAY, BOMBING AFTER FIRST LIGHTING UP THEIR TARGETS WITH FLARES.

JH608AED

A SOUTH COAST TOWN IN ENGLAND, AUG. 8-(AP)-RESIDENTS OF THE THIS AREA WHO WATCHED PART OF THE AIR BATTLE IN WHICH 53 GERMAN PLANES WERE REPORTED SHOW DOWN SAW BOMBS DROPPING ALMOST CONTINUOUSLY SINCE EARLY TODAY.

"THE FIGHTERS KEPT THE GERMANS SO BUSY THOUGH THAT ALL THE BOMBS I SAW FELL INTO THE SEA," SAID ONE WITNESS.

"WE SAW PLANES DROPPING, TOO. I MYSELF SAW ONE CRASH INTO THE SEA IN FLAMES. TWO OTHERS CAME DOWN FURTHER ALONG THE COAST.

(MORE)

A14

A SOUTH COAST TOWN--FIRST ADD EYE WITNESS X X X THE COAST.

"THERE WAS A BURST OF RAIDING IN THE MORNING AND THEN AGAIN IN EARLY AFTERNOON, THEN THERE WAS LULL.

"BUT JUST WHEN WE WERE GETTING READY FOR TEA THE THIRD RAID STARTED ON A CONVOY IN THE CHANNEL.

AUG 9 1940

"WE SAW A BRITISH FIGHTER AND GERMAN PLANE CIRCLE AROUND EACH OTHER AT GREAT HEIGHT AND SOON AFTERWARDS THE NAZI BEGAN TO TURN AND SPIN DOWN.

IT CRASHED INTO THE SEA IN FLAMES.

"JUST THEN A JU-87 (JUNKERS) DIVEBOMBER SUDDENLY APPEARED OVERHEAD

30.24-4223

WITH THE STABOARD WING DAMAGED. A BRITISH FIGHTER FORCED THE GERMAN TO LAND IN A FIELD. THE CREW WAS CAPTURED."

MQ439PED

DUBLIN, AUG. 8-(AP)-THE IRISH DEPARTMENT OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS ANNOUNCED TONIGHT THAT TRANSATLANTIC AIRMAIL SERVICE BETWEEN FOYNES, IRELAND, AND AMERICA HAD BEEN RESUMED. THERE WILL BE SERVICE ONCE A WEEK IN EACH DIRECTION. BOTWOOD, NEWFOUNDLAND, IS THE AMERICAN BASE. FLIGHTS ARE MADE FROM THERE TO NEW YORK.

AUG 9-1940

MQ1150PED

LONDON, AUG. 8-(AP)-KING GEORGE VI AND QUEEN ELIZABETH WERE WELCOMED BY INDIAN TROOPS IN DERBYSHIRE TODAY WITH AN ANCIENT CEREMONY CALLED "NUZZR," IN WHICH TWO SOLDIERS PROFFERED A PIECE OF GOLD AND A PIECE OF SILVER.

BY TOUCHING THE GOLD AND SILVER WITH HIS RIGHT HAND, THE KING SHOWED HE ACCEPTED THE GIFTS AND, BY RAISING HIS HAND WITHOUT TAKING THEM, HE SIGNIFIED HE REMITTED THEM TO THE GIVERS.

AUG 9-1940

JH829AED

LONDON, AUG. 8-(AP)--- THE BRITISH MINISTRY OF INFORMATION IS TRYING TO PERSUADE BRITONS THAT LORD HAW HAW, GERMANY'S ACE ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROPAGANDA BROADCASTER, ISN'T WORTH LISTENING TO.

AUG 9-1940

ONE MINISTRY ADVERTISEMENT GIVES THIS VERSION OF "WHAT DO I DO IF I COME ACROSS GERMAN OR ITALIAN BROADCASTS WHEN TUNING MY WIRELESS":

"I SAY TO MYSELF, 'NOW THIS BLIGHTER WANTS ME TO LISTEN TO HIM. AM I GOING TO DO WHAT HE WANTS?' I REMEMBER THAT THAT GERMAN LIES OVER THE AIR ARE LIKE PARACHUTE TROOPS DROPPING DOWN ON BRITAIN---THEY ARE ALL PART OF A PLAN TO GET US DOWN---WHICH THEY WON'T.

"I REMEMBER ... NOBODY CAN TRUST ... WORD HAW HAW SAYS. SO, JUST TO MAKE THEM WASTE THEIR TIME, I SWITCH ... M OFF OR TUNE 'EM OUT."

TAITS 02122 APL CAE

BULLETIN

(ADVANCE FOR USE AT 9:30 A.M., EASTERN STANDARD TIME TODAY, THURSDAY, AUG. 8.)

FIRST LEAD BRITISH

(ADVANCE) LONDON, AUG. 8-(AP)-THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT DECLARED TODAY IT IS WILLING TO LET INDIANS THEMSELVES "DEVISE THE FRAMEWORK OF A NEW CONSTITUTION" AFTER CONCLUSION OF THE WAR IN THE HOPE INDIA WILL ATTAIN "FREE AND EQUAL PARTNERSHIP IN THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH" OF NATIONS.

(END ADVANCE FOR USE AT 9:30 A.M., E.S.T. TODAY).

WX1020AED

AUG 9-1940

BULLETIN MATTER

LONDON--FIRST ADD FIRST LEAD BRITISH X X X NATIONS.

SIMULTANEOUS STATEMENTS OUTLINING THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT'S POSITION ON THE CONTROVERSIAL INDIAN QUESTION WERE MADE BY LORD LINLITHGOW, VICEROY, IN INDIA, AND BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA, L.S.AMERY, IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

WHILE REPEATING THE GOVERNMENT'S OFFER OF DOMINION STATUS FOR INDIA'S 350,000,000 PEOPLE, THE STATEMENT REITERATED UNWILLINGNESS TO UNDERTAKE "FUNDAMENTAL CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES" IN THE MIDST OF WAR AND HELD OFF DEVISING OF A NEW FRAMEWORK OF GOVERNMENT UNTIL AFTER THE WAR--A DELAY WHICH HAS BEEN CRITICISED BY ARDENT NATIONALISTS IN INDIA.

ON ANOTHER POINT, HOWEVER, THE GOVERNMENT GAVE ASSENT TO THE SETTING UP, AFTER THE WAR, "WITH THE LEAST POSSIBLE DELAY" OF A BODY "REPRESENTATIVE OF THE PRINCIPAL ELEMENTS IN INDIAN NATIONAL LIFE IN ORDER TO DEVISE THE FRAMEWORK OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION X X X."

DB:0344ED

LONDON--2ND ADD FIRST LEAD [redacted] CONSTITUTION X X X."

THE GOVERNMENT PROMISED "EVERY AID IN THEIR POWER" IN THIS TASK.

"INDIA'S ANXIETY AT THIS MOMENT OF CRITICAL IMPORTANCE IN THE WORLD STRUGGLE AGAINST TYRANNY AND AGGRESSION TO CONTRIBUTE FULLY TO THE COMMON CAUSE AND TO THE TRIUMPH OF OUR COMMON IDEALS IS MANIFEST," THE STATEMENT SAID.

AUG 9-1940

"SHE HAS ALREADY MADE A MIGHTY CONTRIBUTION. SHE IS ANXIOUS TO MAKE A GREATER CONTRIBUTION STILL. HIS MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT IN GREAT BRITAIN ARE CONCERNED THAT THAT UNITY OF NATIONAL PURPOSE IN INDIA WHICH WOULD ENABLE HER TO DO SO SHOULD BE ACHIEVED AT AS EARLY A DATE AS POSSIBLE."

DB:0344ED

LONDON--THIRD AND FIRST LAID BRITISH XXX POSSIBLE."

ALTHOUGH DELAYING THE CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTION UNTIL AFTER THE WAR, THE STATEMENT ANNOUNCED THE INTENTION OF CREATING A WAR ADVISORY COUNCIL TO CONTAIN VARIOUS ELEMENTS OF INDIAN LIFE, AND OF INVITING REPRESENTATIVE INDIANS TO JOIN THE VICEROY'S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL.

RECALLING THE GOVERNMENT'S OFFER LAST OCTOBER OF DOMINION STATUS AT CONCLUSION OF THE WAR, THE STATEMENT SAID EFFORTS TO "ATTAIN SOME MEASURE OF AGREEMENT" BETWEEN THE MAJOR POLITICAL PARTIES OF INDIA HAD FAILED.

AUG 9-1940

"IT IS CLEAR THAT EARLIER DIFFERENCES WHICH HAD PREVENTED THE ACHIEVEMENT OF NATIONAL UNITY REMAIN UNBRIDGED," THE STATEMENT SAID, BECAUSE OF TWO ISSUES, THE POSITION OF MINORITIES, AND THE NEED OF MACHINERY FOR CREATION OF A NEW FRAME OF GOVERNMENT.

THE STATEMENT DECLARED THE GOVERNMENT'S CONCERN THAT "FULL WEIGHT SHOULD BE GIVEN TO THE VIEWS OF MINORITIES" IN ANY CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION, AND ADDED:

"IT GOES WITHOUT SAYING THAT THEY (THE GOVERNMENT) COULD NOT CONTEMPLATE THE TRANSFER OF THEIR PRESENT RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE PEACE AND WELFARE OF INDIA TO ANY SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT WHOSE AUTHORITY IS DIRECTLY DENIED BY LARGE AND POWERFUL ELEMENTS IN INDIA'S NATIONAL LIFE."

ON THE SECOND POINT, THE GOVERNMENT DECLARED ITSELF "IN SYMPATHY"

30.24-4225

30.24-4225

WITH THE DESIRE THAT THE NEW SCHEME "SHOULD BE PRIMARILY THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE INDIANS THEMSELVES X X X SUBJECT TO THE DUE FULFILLMENT OF THE OBLIGATIONS WHICH GREAT BRITAIN'S LONG CONNECTION WITH INDIA HAS IMPOSED ON HER X X X."

AUG 9-1940

BRITAIN'S POSITION WAS ANNOUNCED AS ITALIAN ADVANCES WERE BEING MADE IN AFRICA TOWARD AN OUTLET ON THE INDIAN OCEAN.

THE STATEMENT FRANKLY SAID IT WAS HOPED BRITAIN, BY APPEASING INDIAN NATIONALIST SPIRIT, COULD TAP THE MANPOWER AND WEALTH OF HER RICHEST POSSESSION.

LONDON, AUG. 8-(AP)-ATTACKING THE VICHY GOVERNMENT'S "WAR-GUILT TRIAL" AT RIOM, FRANCE, GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE, LEADER OF THE FRENCHMEN STILL FIGHTING BESIDE BRITAIN, TONIGHT DECLARED "THE WRETCHED PEOPLE WHO HAVE BETRAYED FRANCE BY CAPITULATING ARE TRYING TO DIVERT ATTENTION FROM THEIR OWN CRIMES."

AUG 9-1940

DE GAULLE SAID THE TRIAL WAS A "PIECE OF STAGE MANAGEMENT," AND ASSERTED "AT LEAST TWO" [redacted] OF THE VICHY GOVERNMENT LEADERS WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR FRENCH DISASTERS ON THE BATTLEFIELD BY NEGLECTING TO PREPARE FRANCE FOR MECHANIZED WARFARE.

A FRENCH TRIBUNAL RECENTLY [redacted] FOUND DE GAULLE GUILTY OF TREASON IN ABSENTIA AND SENTENCED HIM TO DEATH.

JHM, PITKINS 0005A. [redacted]

RIOM, FRANCE, AUG.8-(AP)-THE SUPREME TRIBUNAL WHICH WILL SIT IN JUDGMENT AT DEFEATED FRANCE'S "WAR BLAME" TRIAL WAS INSTALLED TODAY IN AN 8-MINUTE CEREMONY.

THE BRIEF PROCEEDING WAS GIVEN OVER TO THE READING OF DECREES CONSTITUTING THE COURT AND THE NAMING OF LAWYERS AND JUDGES.

THEN THE SEVEN MAGISTRATES AND THREE ALTERNATES, THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR AND TWO STATE'S ATTORNEYS WERE SWORN INTO OFFICE AND COURT ADJOURNED.

AUG 9-1940

EIGHT OF THE JUDGES WERE IN SCARLET AND BLACK GOWNS AND TWO, GENERAL WATTEAU AND ADMIRAL HERR, WORE THEIR UNIFORMS.

TWO MINUTES AFTER FILING INTO THE COURTROOM THEY DECLARED THE SESSION OPEN AND EIGHT MINUTES LATER DECLARED IT SUSPENDED--ONE OF THE SHORTEST COURT SESSIONS IN FRENCH LEGAL HISTORY.

MINISTER OF JUSTICE RALPHAEL ALIBERT ATTENDED THE SESSION BUT DID NOT SPEAK AS SCHEDULED.

STANDING IN THE COURTROOM CLOSELY GUARDED BY FRENCH SOLDIERS, THE JUDGES TOOK THE FOLLOWING OATH:

"I SWEAR AND PROMISE TO FILL WELL AND FAITHFULLY MY FUNCTIONS, TO RELIGIOUSLY GUARD SECRETS OF THE DELIBERATIONS AND TO CONDUCT MYSELF AS A DIGNIFIED AND LOYAL MAGISTRATE."

THIS MEANT THAT EVERY MOVE IN THE INVESTIGATION WOULD BE HELD IN STRICTEST SECRECY AND THAT FRENCHMEN WOULD HAVE TO WAIT--POSSIBLY MONTHS--FOR DEVELOPMENTS WHEN THE ACTUAL TRIAL GETS UNDER WAY.

NO DATE WAS SET FOR THE NEXT MEETING, BUT IT IS EXPECTED TO BE EARLY NEXT WEEK.

PRESIDENT OF THE COURT IS 68-YEAR-OLD PIERRE CAOUS, FORMER CRIMINAL COURT PRESIDENT AND WORLD WAR VETERAN TWICE CITED FOR BRAVERY.

FH548PED

SUPREME COURT (PMS BUDGET)

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

VICHY,FRANCE,AUG.8--FALLEN FRANCE CALLED HER NEW SUPREME COURT TO ITS OPENING SESSION TODAY AT NEARBY RIOM TO FIX THE BLAME AND PENALTIES FOR MILITARY DEFEAT.

THE OPENING SESSION WAS NOT EXPECTED TO GO BEYOND INAUGURAL FORMALITIES AND THE ACTUAL "DEFEAT RESPONSIBILITY" INQUIRY PROBABLY WILL NOT COME UP FOR FOUR OR FIVE DAYS. EVEN THEN THERE WILL BE WEEKS, PROBABLY MONTHS, OF INVESTIGATION IN STRICT SECRECY BEFORE ACTUAL DEFENDANTS ARE NAMED AND SPECIFIC CHARGES MADE.

THE SEVEN-MAN COURT, FROM WHOSE SENTENCES ONLY CHIEF OF STATE MARSHAL PETAIN MAY GRANT REPRIEVE, HAS BEEN CHARGED WITH FAR-REACHING INQUIRY TO LEARN WHY UNPREPARED FRANCE WENT TO WAR, TO IDENTIFY THOSE WHO LED THE WAY TO DOOM AND TO MAKE THEM PAY.

THE MAXIMUM PENALTY WOULD BE LIFE IMPRISONMENT; THOSE FIGHTING ON AGAINST THE AXIS POWERS ARE LIABLE TO THE DEATH PENALTY.

THERE HAVE BEEN HINTS THE INVESTIGATION MIGHT REACH BACK INTO ACTIONS OF FRENCH GOVERNMENTS FOR THE PAST TEN YEARS.

THE PRESS, WHICH HAS KEPT UP THE CRY THAT THOSE TO BLAME MUST PAY DEARLY, HAS HEAPED MOST OF ITS CRITICISMS ON FORMER PREMIER EDOUARD DALADIER, THE WAR-DECLARER. MENTIONED WITH HIM HAVE BEEN FORMER PREMIERS PAUL REYNAUD AND LEON BLUM, GEN.MAURICE GAMELIN, AND FORMER MINISTERS PIERRE COT, GEORGES MANDEL, CESAR CAMPINCHI, YVON DELBOS AND OTHERS.

AUG 9-1940

GEORGES MANDEL ALREADY HAS BEEN MADE SUBJECT TO MILITARY COURT ACTION IN MOROCCO ON CHARGES OF PLOTTING AGAINST FRENCH SECURITY.

BRIEFLY, THE CHARGES THE COURT IS EXPECTED TO CONSIDER INCLUDE:

THAT FRANCE DECLARED WAR AT A TIME WHEN HER LEADERS KNEW SHE WAS UNPREPARED; THAT FRANCE TOOK A WARLIKE COURSE BUT FAILED TO BACK IT UP WITH ADEQUATE ARMAMENT; THAT BRITISH POLICIES WERE ALLOWED TO DOMINATE FRANCE'S RELATIONS WITH GERMANY; THAT GREED, IDEOLOGY AND CORRUPTION PAVED THE WAY FOR DOWNFALL OF THE STATE.

ON THE EVE OF THE COURT SESSION POPULAR FEELING RANGED BITTERLY AGAINST FRANCE'S OLD PARLIAMENTARY SYSTEM AND AGAINST MANY OF HER OLD LEADERS.

FRANCE'S CHANGE OF GOVERNMENT, ALTHOUGH NOT ACCOMPLISHED BY INTERNAL FORCE OF ARMS AS DID SOME OF HER REVOLUTIONS, NEVERTHELESS WAS DRASTIC AND BORN OF NATIONAL TRAGEDY.

IT HAS BEEN INDICATED THE TRIALS WOULD GO BEYOND SEEKING TO DISCLOSE THE SHORTCOMINGS OF THE OLD GOVERNMENT TO BRING OUT ERRORS OF CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE, PERHAPS EVEN DELIBERATE PLOTTING.

JH-R403AED

BARCELONA, SPAINE, AUG. 8-(AP)- ~~THE~~ SIXTY-THREE GERMANS WHO HAD BEEN FRENCH PRISONERS IN ALGIERS WERE BROUGHT HERE TODAY BY AIRPLANE.

AUG 9-1940

LA LINEA, SPAIN, AUG. 8 (AP)--HOSTILE PLANES VISITED GIBRALTAR TWICE TODAY, APPARENTLY ONLY FOR RECONNAISSANCE. THE DROPPED NO BOMBS.

AUG 9-1940

[redacted] PARTS OF THE BIG FORTRESS ROCK HAVE BEEN TURNED INTO PROJECTILES BY PAST BOMBARDMENTS. BIG PIECES HAVE BEEN THROWN THROUGH HOUSETOPS BY EXPLODING BOMBS.

THERE IS HARDLY A STREET IN GIBRALTAR

30.24-4227

30.24-4227

Add - Berlin - Aug 9 8

TWELVE SHIPS WENT DOWN DURING AN ATTACK OF THE GERMAN AIR FORCE ON A CONVOY IN THE CHANNEL THIS MORNING, THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID.

(THE BRITISH ANNOUNCED THEY HAD SHOT DOWN 16 PLANES IN FIGHTING OVER THE CHANNEL AGAINST A LOSS OF TWO OF THEIR OWN. THEY MADE NO MENTION OF SHIPS SUNK.)

AUG 9-1940

SEVEN OTHER SHIPS WERE DAMAGED IN THIS RAID, THE HIGH COMMAND CLAIMED, AND FIVE BRITISH FIGHTING PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN.

TWENTY-NINE OTHER BRITISH PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN IN OTHER FIGHTING IN THE CHANNEL AREA, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, ADDING THAT THREE GERMAN PLANES WERE REPORTED MISSING.

IN ITS EARLIER REGULAR COMMUNIQUE THE NAZI COMMAND SAID THE GERMAN AIR FORCE HAD MINED SEVERAL ENGLISH HARBORS LAST NIGHT AND ATTACKED A NUMBER OF ARMAMENT WORKS, SEARCHLIGHT AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT POSITIONS.

THE HIGH COMMAND'S DAILY X X X ETC. SECOND GRAF.

Mb 221 PED

BERLIN, AUG. 8 (AP VIA RADIO)--- THE GERMAN RADIO REPORTED TONIGHT THAT THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT, BY COMMUNIQUE, HAD RAISED SHARP OBJECTION TO THE BRITISH BLOCKADE WHICH NOW COVERS FRANCE, AS WELL AS THE REST OF OCCUPIED WESTERN EUROPE.

AUG 9-1940

"THE COMMUNIQUE RECALLS THAT THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT IS HOLDING BACK IN ALEXANDRIA 25,000 TONS OF GASOLINE DESPITE THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT'S SOLEMN PLEDGE NOT TO USE ANY OF IT," THE BROADCASTER SAID.

"IT IS POINTED OUT THAT ALTHOUGH WITH REGARD TO THE GASOLINE THE BRITISH ATTITUDE MIGHT BE UNDERSTANDABLE THIS IS BY NO MEANS SO WITH REGARD TO HOLDING BACK GRAIN SHIPS FOR THE FRENCH PEOPLE BY THE ENGLISH. IT IS DECLARED THAT ENGLAND IS HINDERING DEPARTURE OF THREE VESSELS WITH GRAIN CARGOES FOR FRANCE FROM BUENOS AIRES."

WILL MUSSOLINI CONQUER
WHERE NAPOLEON FAILED ?

AUG 9-1940

--

LACK OF WATER OBSTACLE IN NORTH AFRICAN CAMPAIGN (800)

--

BY GEORGE C. JORDAN

Rome, Aug. 8--(AP)--It's not shellfire, but water--or the lack of it-- which military observers credited today with holding up the big push on the sand-duned no-man's-land between Libya and Egypt in North Africa.

(British and Italian sources alike have reported strong Libyan

(Italian) forces massed for the attack. Italians said they already have crossed the frontier; the British countered that the only Italians in Egypt so far were prisoners.

(The Italian drive this week into British Somaliland, farther down the northeast coast, which won the port of Zeila, was considered by British authorities at Cairo to be an attempt to draw attention from the main thrust yet to come.)

SCOOT BACK TO THEIR BASES. ~~AND~~ THAT IS WHAT THE FIGHTING BETWEEN ITALY'S LIBYAN TROOPS AND BRITAIN'S FORCES IN EGYPT HAVE COME TO THIS STAGE.

Q THE ANSWER IS WATER.

Q MUCH OF IT HAS TO BE SENT BY BOAT FROM ITALY TO LIBYA.

AND THE BRITISH SAY THEY HAVE A "STRANGLEHOLD" ON THE NORTH AFRICAN COAST THROUGH A STRONGLY-ENFORCED NAVAL BLOCKADE.

Q MANY EXPERIENCED OBSERVERS THOUGHT ITALY'S ENTRANCE INTO THE WAR JUNE 10 WOULD BE FOLLOWED ALMOST IMMEDIATELY BY A RISK-ALL FASCIST DRIVE ACROSS EGYPT TO SEIZE THE SUEZ CANAL.

AUG 8-1940

Q NAPOLEON TRIED TO OCCUPY EGYPT BUT FAILED. IL DUCE WAS EXPECTED TO TAKE UP WHERE THE CORSICAN LEFT OFF AND SEND HIS FASCIST LEGIONS STORMING INTO THE LAND ~~[illegible]~~ WHICH HE COVETS AND ~~[illegible]~~ MUCH FOR WHICH HE HAS ~~[illegible]~~ RULE.

Q BUT NEARLY TWO MONTHS PASSED WITH ONLY MINOR LAND AND ONE BIG AIR BATTLE.

OPERATIONS. MILITARY MEN CALL IT A MINOR OPERATION WHEN A DOZEN OR SO TANKS OR ARMORED CARS ARE SENT OUT TO RAID AN OASIS, THEN

Q IN THE WHITE-HOT WASTELANDS THAT SEPARATE THE FRONTIER FROM THE FERTILE NILE EACH FIGHTING MAN NEEDS A GALLON OF WATER A DAY, AND EACH ARMY ANIMAL ~~[illegible]~~ TEN GALLONS FOR THEIR ~~[illegible]~~. AND IF HORSES, MULES OR CAMELS ARE NOT USED, THEIR IRON AND STEEL SUCCESSORS NEED AS MUCH-- OR MORE.

AUG 8-1940

Q THAT IS WHY ITALY'S IMPOSING COLONIAL ARMY IN NORTH AFRICA (THE EXACT NUMBER OF MEN A MILITARY SECRET-- BUT THERE ARE 250,000 OR 30 OF THEM) ~~[illegible]~~ HAS STOOD ~~[illegible]~~ IN THE SCORCHING SUN, WITH TEMPERATURES ~~[illegible]~~ UP TO 120 DEGREES, WAITING FOR TANKS AND THE AIR FORCE TO OPEN A ~~[illegible]~~ ROUTE FOR THEM BEFORE THEY TRY THE RISKY RUSH TO THE EAST.

30.24-4229

30.24-4229

ONE MAJOR OBJECTIVE WOULD BE MARSA MATRUH, HALF-WAY PORT ON THE [redacted] DESERT ROAD TO ALEXANDRIA.

THANKS TO THE LATE AIR MARSHAL ITALO BALBO THE JOB OF REACHING THE EGYPTIAN FRONT, AND OF BRINGING UP WATER FROM THE REAR, HAS BEEN MADE EASIER.

AUG 9-1940

AS GOVERNOR OF LIBYA, BALBO BUILT A 16-FOOT HARD SURFACED HIGHWAY ACROSS NORTHERN LIBYA TO THE EGYPTIAN FRONTIER. THERE IT PICKS UP ANOTHER ROAD THAT TWISTS ALONG THE COAST TO ALEXANDRIA.

ANY MAJOR INVASION OF EGYPT MUST ALMOST CERTAINLY FOLLOW THAT ROAD, WITH SIDE ACTIONS FOR THE CONTROL OF OASES SCATTERED ALONG THE CARAVAN TRAILS NEARBY.

BALBO ALSO SANK NUMEROUS WELLS BACK IN LIBYA TO HELP SUPPLY SUCH AN ARMY-- BUT IT IS STILL A LONG, HOT HAUL.

[redacted] ANY ADVANCE BY [redacted] INTO THE DESERT, FAILING TO TAKE AN OBJECTIVE, MIGHT EASILY BE TURNED TO DISASTER BY A LITTLE BAD LUCK HELPED ALONG BY AN ALERT ENEMY AIR FORCE.

FOR THESE SAME REASONS THE BRITISH TACTICS HAVE APPEARED FROM COMMUNIQUES HERE AS COLORLESS AS THE ITALIAN. THE ITALIANS HAVE TRIED SEVERAL ATTACKS WITH INFANTRY MOVED UP IN TRUCKS. THE BRITISH APPARENTLY HAVE STUCK TO SWIFT-STRIKING LIGHT MECHANIZED UNITS.

THERE APPEAR TO BE ONLY TWO TYPES OF ACTION FEASIBLE BEFORE THE BIG PUSH: 1- AIR RAIDS TO DESTROY [redacted] SUPPLIES BEHIND THE FRONTS; 2- SEPARATE ATTACKS PICKING OFF OASIS STRONG POINTS AND SEIZING CONTROL OF THE WATER HOLES.

AUG 9-1940

THAT IS WHAT IS HAPPENING WHEN COMMUNIQUES SAY:

"ITALIANS BOMBED MARSA MATRUH," AND "BRITISH AIRMEN ATTACKED TOBRUK."

THAT, TOO, IS THE MILITARY STORY BEHIND THOSE ARMORED CAR CLASHES THAT BRING SUCH REPORTS AS:

"UMPTEEN ENEMY ARMORED CARS WERE DESTROYED BY OUR BOMBERS" OR "WERE CAPTURED BY ADVANCE FORCES BEHIND THE CYRENAICAN FRONTIER."

THESE COMMUNIQUES REPRESENT ONLY MINOR ACTIONS-- BUT THEY PACK A STORY OF [redacted] SUFFERING AND SLOW, FEVERISH DEATH FOR WOUNDED MEN LEFT SPRAWLED ON THE OVEN-HOT SANDS.

PW 2203 JML

BUCHAREST, AUG 8-(AP)-HEADS OF A BULGARIAN DELEGATION FOR NEGOTIATIONS ON BULGARIA'S CLAIM TO RETURN OF SOUTHERN DOBRUJA ARRIVED HERE TODAY AND CONFERRED WITH PREMIER ION GIGURTU.

THE GROUP, COMPOSED OF FOREIGN MINISTER IVAN POPOFF, AND GENERAL NIKOLA PETROFF AND TWO FOREIGN OFFICE OFFICIALS WILL LEAVE FOR CRAIOVA TOMORROW TO JOIN OTHER MEMBERS OF THE DELEGATION THERE AND BEGIN THE FORMAL TALKS.

AUG 9-1940

Q [illegible] IPED

BUCHAREST, RUMANIA, AUG. 8-(AP)-RUMANIA, OPENING TERRITORIAL NEGOTIATIONS WITH BULGARIA TODAY AT CRAIOVA, HOPED TO HOLD HER NEIGHBOR'S CLAIMS ON THE PROVINCE OF DOBRUJA TO A MINIMUM BY ARGUING THAT A PERMANENT PEACE CAN BE ATTAINED ONLY THROUGH COMPROMISE AND SACRIFICE ON BOTH SIDES.

AUG 9-1940

AT THE SAME TIME RAOUL BOSSY, SPECIAL RUMANIAN DELEGATE TO HUNGARY, WAS EXPECTED TO RETURN FROM BUDAPEST WITH HUNGARIAN TERMS FOR SETTLEMENT OF THE DISPUTE OVER THE RUMANIAN PROVINCE OF TRANSYLVANIA, WHICH RUMANIA GAINED IN THE BREAK-UP OF THE AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN EMPIRE AT THE END OF THE WORLD WAR.

(IN BUDAPEST, A HIGH AUTHORITY REPORTED THAT BOSSY, IN A HALF-HOUR CONFERENCE WITH HUNGARIAN PREMIER COUNT PAL TELEKY, WAS INFORMED HUNGARY WOULD AGREE TO NOTHING LESS THAN CESSION OF 75 PERCENT OF TRANSYLVANIA.

(OFFICIAL SOURCES SAID HUNGARY WOULD REMAIN ON FULL WAR FOOTING UNTIL FINAL SETTLEMENT HAD BEEN REACHED.)

BUCHAREST NEWSPAPERS HAVE DROPPED THEIR DEMANDS FOR RESISTANCE TO HUNGARY'S CLAIMS. YESTERDAY, THEY REPRINTED A BERLIN FOREIGN OFFICE ARTICLE CRITICIZING RUMANIANS "WHO HAVE ASSUMED AN ATTITUDE OF FALSE HEROISM IN SETTLING RELATIONS WITH HUNGARY."

(THE GERMAN WIRELESS CREDITED THE BUCHAREST RADIO WITH A REPORT THAT RUMANIA IS READY TO CEDE TO BULGARIA THE DOBRUJA DISTRICTS OF DUROSTOR AND CALIACRA, BUT IS UNWILLING TO CEDE ALL OF THE TERRITORY. THE REPORT SAID BULGARIA WOULD BE ASKED TO LET RUMANIANS IN THAT COUNTRY RETURN TO THEIR NATIVE LAND.)

THE PRO-NAZI GOVERNMENT OF PREMIER ION GIGURTU MEANWHILE TOOK ANOTHER STEP IN LINE WITH NAZI IDEOLOGY IN PROMULGATION OF A NEW LAW SPLITTING RUMANIA'S 750,000 JEWS INTO THREE CATEGORIES--(1) THOSE WHO SAW ACTIVE SERVICE FOR RUMANIA, AND THEIR DESCENDANTS; (2) THOSE IN REGIONS ANNEXED AFTER THE WORLD WAR; (3) THOSE OF THE OLD KINGDOM WHO DID NOT SEE ACTIVE SERVICE.

THOSE OF THE FIRST CLASS NOW HOLDING PUBLIC OFFICE MAY RETAIN THESE POSTS BUT THERE WILL BE NO NEW APPOINTMENTS. THOSE OF THE OTHER TWO MAY NOT HOLD PUBLIC OFFICE OR ENGAGE IN PROFESSIONS "HAVING DIRECT LIAISON WITH THE PUBLIC AUTHORITY," AND ARE BARRED FROM MANY ENTERPRISES.

AUG 9-1940

NO JEW MAY OWN A FARM OR OTHER RURAL PROPERTY; THOSE NOW HOLDING SUCH LANDS WILL LOSE THEM TO THE GOVERNMENT IN RETURN FOR BONDS.

JEWS ALSO ARE BARRED FROM THE RUMANIAN YOUTH ORGANIZATION.

THIS CREATES THE QUESTION OF WHAT IS TO BECOME OF JEWISH SCHOOL

30.24-4231

CHILDREN, SINCE UNDER THE PRESENT LAW ALL SCHOOL CHILDREN MUST BELONG TO THE ORGANIZATION.

JH638AED

BUCHAREST, RUMANIA, AUG. 8-(AP)-PREMIER ION GIGURTU TOLD HIS COUNTRYMEN TONIGHT THAT RUMANIA MUST GIVE UP SOME TERRITORY TO BULGARIA AND HUNGARY ON GERMANY'S ORDERS BUT DECLARED HIS GOVERNMENT STEADFASTLY REFUSES TO MEET HINGARY'S FULL DEMAND FOR TRANSYLVANIA.

THE PREMIER SAID CONCESSIONS WERE NECESSARY TO PRESERVE PEACE IN SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE.

AUG 8-1940

GIGURTU COUNSELED BULGARIA AND HUNGARY TO BE MODERATE IN THEIR DEMANDS AS THE BEST WAY OF PREVENTING TROUBLE IN THE FUTURE. HE SAID RUMANIA HAD FOUND IT NECESSARY IN HER OWN INTEREST TO FOLLOW A PRO-AXIS POLICY AND THAT THIS POLICY IMPOSED "PAINFUL SACRIFICES."

MQ525PED

MEDITERRANEAN

BY LARRY ALLEN

CAIRO, EGYPT, AUG 8-(AP)-ITALIAN ARMIES IN LIBYA, FEARING INTENSIFICATION OF THE BRITISH NAVAL BLOCKADE AND FACED WITH DWINDLING WATER AND WAR SUPPLIES, ARE EXPECTED TO LAUNCH A GRAND OFFENSIVE BY MID-AUGUST IN AN ATTEMPT TO BREAK BRITAIN'S STRANGLEHOLD ON THE NORTH AFRICAN COAST.

AUG 9-1940

THE ITALIAN PUSH INTO BRITISH SOMALILAND, WHICH RESULTED YESTERDAY IN THE FALL OF THE PORT OF ZEILA, WAS LOOKED UPON HERE AS MORE OR LESS A MOVE TO DIVERT BRITISH POWER TO DEFENSE OF THAT TERRITORY, PRELIMINARY TO THE BIG PUSH.

FASCISTS IN ROME SAID OCCUPATION OF ZEILA WAS THE FIRST STEP IN THEIR CURRENT OFFENSIVE TO INCORPORATE BRITISH AND FRENCH SOMALILAND INTO ITALIAN EAST AFRICA. ITS SUCCESS WOULD GIVE ITALY COMMAND OF 2,500 MILES OF COASTLINE FROM THE GULF OF ADEN TO THE INDIAN OCEAN.)

BRITISH WARSHIPS, PATROLLING ALMOST THE ENTIRE LENGTH OF THE LIBYAN COAST, FORM A LINE OF STEEL BLOCKING ATTEMPTS OF ITALIAN WATER TANKERS AND SUPPLY SHIPS TO GET THROUGH FROM ITALY TO LIBYA.

PRACTICALLY ALL THE WATER USED BY THE ITALIANS IN EASTERN LIBYA HAS BEEN TRANSPORTED FROM ITALY, SINCE LIBYA LARGELY IS A STRETCH OF DESERT.

AUG 9-1940

ITALY'S DESPERATE DESIRE TO ATTEMPT TO CRACK BRITISH LINES ALONG THE EGYPTIAN FRONTIER APPARENTLY IS INFLUENCED LARGELY BY THE VITAL NECESSITY OF KEEPING WATER AND OIL FLOWING IN FOR HER LIBYAN FIGHTERS.

A DEEP THRUST INTO EGYPT WOULD OPEN THE WAY FOR NEW WATER SUPPLIES.

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, AUG. 8-(AP)-BRITISH CENSORS REMOVED 120 OF 700 BAGS OF MAIL TODAY FROM THE AMERICAN EXPORT LINER EXCALIBUR WHICH WENT OUT OF ITS WAY TO LAND THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR HERE EN ROUTE TO HIS NEW POST AS GOVERNOR AND COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE BAHAMA ISLANDS.

AUG 9-1940

MQ555PED

BY MORTON P.GUDEBROD

AUG 9-1940

HAMILTON,BERMUDA,AUG.8-(AP)-THE ORDINARILY PLACID LIFE OF THIS BRITISH ISLAND COLONY WILL BE THROWN ONLY SLIGHTLY OUT OF ROUTINE BY THE ARRIVAL TODAY OF THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR.

THE LACK OF PAGEANTRY WAS DUE PARTIALLY TO THE FACT THAT, WHILE THE DUKE IS EN ROUTE TO TAKE OVER HIS POST OF GOVERNOR AND COMMANDER-

IN-CHIEF OF THE BAHAMAS, THIS IS AN UNOFFICIAL VISIT.

STILL, THE CITY OF HAMILTON WAS DECKED IN FLAGS, AND THE REGULAR THURSDAY HALF-HOLIDAY GAVE BERMUDIANS A CHANCE TO SEE THE DUKE AND HIS AMERICAN WIFE ON THEIR DRIVE FROM THE ROYAL YACHT CLUB LANDING IN HAMILTON TO GOVERNMENT HOUSE, WHERE THEY WILL LIVE UNTIL THEY LEAVE FOR THE BAHAMAS.

AUG 9-1940

CAPTAIN GROVES OF THE AMERICAN EXPORT LINER EXCALIBUR, MAKING A SPECIAL STOP HERE ON ITS TRIP FROM LISBON TO NEW YORK, HAD BEEN INSTRUCTED TO REACH GRASSY BAY, OUTSIDE HAMILTON HARBOR, IN TIME FOR THE WINDSORS TO LAND IN HAMILTON AT 2:30 P.M. (1:49 P.M. EST-CORRECT.) IT WAS THE DUKE'S FIRST VISIT TO BERMUDA SINCE 1931 WHEN HE WAS PRINCE OF WALES.

ASSIGNED TO GREET THE WINDSORS ABOARD THE EXCALIBUR WERE THE AIDES-DE-CAMP OF ADMIRAL SIR CHARLES KENNEDY-PURVIS, COMMANDER OF THE ROYAL NAVY'S AMERICAN AND WEST INDIES SQUADRON STATIONED AT BERMUDA, AND OF MAJ.-GEN.DENIS KIRWAN BERNARD, GOVERNOR OF THE COLONY.

AFTER COMING ASHORE WITH THEIR RETINUE ABOARD THE ADMIRAL'S BARGE, THE WINDSORS WERE TO BE GREETED BY THE GOVERNOR, HIS SISTER, MRS. HASTINGS BROOKE, AND ADMIRAL PURVIS. NO OFFICIAL RECEPTION SPEECH WAS PLANNED BUT A MILITARY GUARD OF 100 MEN WAS DETAILED TO PRESENT THE ROYAL SALUTE.

AUG 9-1940

AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE, SET IN A 45-ACRE PARK AND BUILT OF NATIVE CORAL AS ARE ALMOST ALL BERMUDA HOUSES, THE WINDSORS WILL OCCUPY A SIMPLY-FURNISHED SUITE OF TWO BEDROOMS AND BATHS ON THE SOUTH SIDE OF THE 18-ROOM MANSION. THE DUCHESS ALSO WILL HAVE THE USE OF MRS. BROOKE'S OWN SITTING ROOM.

BEYOND A SMALL COCKTAIL PARTY AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE, NO SPECIAL SOCIAL FUNCTIONS WERE PLANNED.

JH308AED

BY NORTON P.GUDERROD

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, AUG. 8-(AP)-THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR ARRIVED HERE TODAY FROM LISBON, PORTUGAL, EN ROUTE TO THE BAHAMAS WHERE THE DUKE WILL ASSUME THE POST OF GOVERNOR.

THE AMERICAN EXPORT LINER EXCALIBUR ON WHICH THEY WERE PASSENGERS ANCHORED OFF THIS PORT EARLY IN THE AFTERNOON. THOUSANDS LINED THE SHORE AND THE FRESHLY SCRUBBED CORAL-PAVED STREETS TO GREET THE COUPLE.

AUG 9-1940

LITTLE PAGEANTRY WAS EXPECTED SINCE THIS WAS AN UNOFFICIAL VISIT. STILL, THE CITY, ETC., PICKING UP AT THIRD GRAF ORIGINAL.

HE ENDED

HAMILTON--FIRST ADD FIRST LEAD WINDSOR

X X X COUPLE (ELIMINATING LAST GRAF PREVIOUS.)

THE WINDSORS ARRIVED AT THE JETTY ALMOST EXACTLY AT THE SCHEDULED HOUR, 2:30 P.M. (1:49 P.M., E.S.T.)--AND STEPPED ASHORE FROM A BARGE AS CHEERS AROSE FROM THE THRONG OF ABOUT 3,500 WHICH CROWDED THE ROYAL YACHT CLUB LAWN.

AUG 9-1940

THE DUKE CAME ASHORE FIRST, FOLLOWED BY HIS AMERICAN-BORN DUCHESS. HE WAS GREETED FIRST BY MAJ.-GEN.DENIS KIRWAN BERNARD, GOVERNOR OF BERMUDA, AND THEN BY MRS.HASTINGS BROOKE, THE GOVERNOR'S SISTER, WHO CURTSIED LOW.

THE CITY OF HAMILTON X X X (THIRD GRAPH ORIGINAL)

HE ENDED

30,24-4233 30.24-4233

Hamilton-Aug 8

--DASH--

BRITISH REMOVAL OF MAIL FROM AMERICAN CLIPPER PLANES STOPPING AT BERMUDA ON THEIR ATLANTIC FLIGHTS HAS BECOME ROUTINE. THERE WAS SPECULATION, HOWEVER, AS TO WHETHER MAIL WOULD BE TAKEN FROM THE AMERICAN EXPORT LINER EXCALIBUR WHICH BROUGHT THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR FROM EUROPE ON THEIR WAY TO THE BAHAMAS.

THE CHIEF BRITISH CENSOR AT HAMILTON ANNOUNCED THE INAUGURATION OF CENSORSHIP ON TRANS-ATLANTIC AIR MAIL, ON ORDERS FROM LONDON, LAST JAN. 18. IMMEDIATELY, OFFICIALS BEGAN TAKING THE MAIL FROM CLIPPER PLANES WHICH MADE BERMUDA A REGULAR STOP.

AUG 9-1940

THERE WERE HINTS FROM HIGH UNITED STATES DIPLOMATIC SOURCES THAT THE PLANES WOULD BE ORDERED TO OMIT THE BERMUDA STOP IF THE SEIZURE OF MAIL CONTINUED.

IT DID. THE CAPTAIN OF ONE OF THE FIRST PLANES TO STOP AFTER THE ORDER TRIED REFUSING TO PERMIT THE MAIL TO BE TOUCHED. THERE WAS A "TOKEN" SHOW OF FORCE AND THE CAPTAIN GAVE UP THE MAIL, UNDER PROTEST.

BRITAIN LATER EXPRESSED REGRET FOR THE SHOW OF FORCE -- BUT CONTINUED TAKING THE MAIL.

BRITISH SOURCES JUSTIFIED THE SEIZURES--SOMETIMES AMOUNTING TO NEARLY 2,000 POUNDS OF MAIL A WEEK--BY SAYING CONTRABAND ARTICLES AND MONEY INTENDED FOR GERMANY HAD BEEN FOUND.

THE DISPUTE IS NOT YET NEAR SETTLEMENT.

MQ1149PED

NASSAU, BAHAMAS, AUG.8-(AP)-HOW DO YOU ADDRESS THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR?

THE DUKE WILL BE "YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS."

AUG 9-1940

THE DUCHESS WILL BE "YOUR GRACE."

COLONIAL OFFICIALDOM, LONG WORRIED BY THIS AND OTHER SOCIAL QUESTIONS RAISED BY THE DUKE'S APPOINTMENT AS GOVERNOR OF THIS LITTLE COLONY, REVEALED TODAY THAT LONDON HAD LET THE PROPER FORMS BECOME KNOWN.

IT MEANS THAT, IN THIS REMOTE SEGMENT OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE, THE AMERICAN-BORN DUCHESS WILL BE DENIED THE TITLE OF "HER ROYAL HIGHNESS" THAT THE DUKE'S BROTHER AND SUCCESSOR REFUSED HER IN ENGLAND AFTER EDWARD ABDICATED.

THE RULING ALSO REMOVED ANOTHER BIT OF INDECISION--ABOUT WHETHER THE DUKE MIGHT BE ADDRESSED AS "YOUR EXCELLENCY," THE TITLE GIVEN OTHER GOVERNORS.

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS (AMS BUDGET)

BY KIRKE L.SIMPSON

AUG 9-1940

(WX) WHILE ITALY PRESSES HER DRIVE TO WREST THE SUEZ CANAL FROM BRITISH CONTROL, BRITAIN MAKES WHAT MAY BE A COUNTER MOVE, IN THE FORM OF A POLITICAL GESTURE TO INDIA, AT ONCE THE RICHEST UNIT OF THE EMPIRE AND THE MOST DIFFICULT PROBLEM FOR LONDON TO HANDLE.

WITH INDIA'S 350,000,000 POPULATION AS A RESERVOIR TO DRAW ON FOR DEFENSE OF THE CANAL, THE ODDS AGAINST ITALY'S GREAT ADVENTURE WOULD BE WEIGHTED HEAVILY AGAINST MUSSOLINI. THAT MAY BE ONE OF THE MOTIVES BEHIND BRITAIN'S ACTION IN PROFFERING INDIA NEW PLEDGES OK UWTUMATE COMMONWEALTH STATUS AND IMMEDIATE, ACTIVE PARTICIPATION IN HIHEST GOVERNMENT COUNCILS IN INDIA. YET THE GESTURE APPEARS TO HAVE SOME OTHER, AND PERHAPS CONTROLLING MOTIVE, BECAUSE ANY ADDITIONAL FIGHTING STRENGTH BRITAIN HOPES TO GAIN FROM IT COULD NOT AFFECT THE MILITARY SITUATION IN EGYPT AND OTHER PARTS OF AFRICA FOR MANY MONTHS.

OBVIOUSLY BRITAIN COUNTS ON OTHER FACTORS TO HOLD SUEZ--ON SEA-POWER, EXPERIENCE IN DESERT FIGHTING, SKILL IN MAKING EFFECTIVE MILITARY FORCES OUT OF NATIVE TROOPS OF MANY RACES AND CREEDS AND, ABOVE ALL, ON THE WATERLESS SANDS OF EGYPT. ANY ITALIAN OFFENSIVE MUST CONQUER THESE SANDS TO REACH THE CANAL.

THE MORE A LAYMAN STUDIES TPE POSSIBILITIES OF THE ITALIAN ATTACK, THE MORE IT BECOMES CLEAR THAT A TEST OF SEA POWER VERSUS AIR POWER IS COMING. IT IS ONLY BY AIR THAT ITALY CAN HOPE TO SUPPLY HER ARMIES AND GET THEM FORWARD DECISIVELY AGAINST THE OUT-NUMBERED BUT FIRMLY-ENTRENCHED BRITISH DEFENDERS. BRITISH SEA POWER BALKS ANY OTHER FORM OF OFFENSIVE.

AUG 9-1940

PRESUMABLY ITALY CAN THROW THE BULK OF HER AIR FORCE INTO TPE FIGHT AND ACHIEVE A NUMERICAL SUPERIORITY AS GREAT, OR POSSIBLY GREATER, THAN THAT WHICH GERMANY IS ABLE TO MASS FOR THE LONG-DELAYED ATTACK ON ENGLAND. THE ITALIAN GROUND ATTACK AS IT HAS DEVELOPED SO FAR ON THE LIBYAN-EGYPTIAN FRONTN AND IN BRITISH SOMALILAND, IS BRUSHED ASIDE BY MILUTARY EXPERTS AS A MERE PRELIMINARY FOR MASS ITALIAN AIR ACTION TO COME.

THERE ARE AUTHENTIC REPORTS OF EXTENSIVE ITALIAN EXPERIMENTATION FOR JUST THE SORT OF ATTACK TO BE EXPECTED. NEUTRAL OBSERVERS IN ITALIAN-HELD TERRITORY WITNESSED EXTENSIVE PARACHUTE MANEUVERS THERE SEVERAL YEARS AGO, WHEN THAT TYPE OF WARFARE WAS STILL A MILITARY NOVELTY.

IT WELL MAY BE BY SUCH MEANS THAT THE ITALIAN HIGH COMMAND PLANS TO PAVE THE WAY FOR THE SLOW ADVANCE OF GROUND COLUMNS, OR TO SURPRISE BRITISH GARRISONS ON VITAL OASES. INFORMED MILITARY MEN SAY TANK WARFARE, OR MECHANIZED "BLITZKRIEG" IN ANY FORM, IS INCONCEIVABLE IN SUCH DESERT TERRAIN, WITH TEMPERATURES RUNNING TO 120 DEGREES IN THE SHADE.

IT IS BY AIR ROUTES, THEREFORE, THAT ITALY MUST HOPE TO SUPPLY HER TROOPS ACROSS THE MEDITERRANEAN AND TO TRANSPORT THEM SWIFTLY OVER THE DESERTS OF EGYPT. IT IS MASS ITALIAN AIR ATTACK ON THE BRITISH FLEET BASES THAT HOLDS THE GREATEST DISCERNIBLE THREAT TO BRITISH MASTERY OF THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN. WITH THOSE BASES BOMBED OUT OF EXISTENCE, BRITISH HEAVY SHIPS WOULD BE IN A SERIOUS PLIGHT.

YET FASCIST LEADERS APPEARS TO BE RISKING AN UNPREDICTABLE STRAIN ON THEIR AIR RESOURCES. ASIDE FROM RESERVE STORES OF GASOLINE, OIL, WATER AND OTHER MATERIALS AT THE ITALIAN BASES ACROSS THE MEDITERRANEAN, VIRTUALLY EVERYTHING MUST BE FERRIED BY AIR FROM ITALY.

AUG 9-1940

WITH SO HUGE A TASK OF SUPPLY AND TRANSPORT CONFRONTING IT ON ITS OWN NEAR EASTERN OFFENSIVE FRONT, IT IS HIGHLY DOUBTFUL THAT THE ITALIAN HIGH COMMAND CAN LEND MUCH AERIAL ASSISTANCE TO GERMANY IN ANY ATTACK ON ENGLAND PROPER. ON THE CONTRARY, THERE ARE SEEMINGLY AUTHENTIC REPORTS THAT GERMANY HAS ALREADY CONTRIBUTED SPECIAL TYPES OF FIGHTING AIRCRAFT TO ITALY FOR THE SUEZ CAMPAIGN.

MD436PES

30.24-4235

30.24-4235

UNDATED SEA WARFARE "BOX SCORE"

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE FOLLOWING "BOX SCORE" LISTS SEA WARFARE LOSSES REPORTED SINCE SATURDAY NIGHT, AUG. 31

NATION	SUNK BY: SUBS, PLANES, WARSHIPS	MINES	OTHER CAUSES OR UNKNOWN	TONNAGE KNOWN	DEAD	MISSING
BRITAIN	3	4	0	11,037 (Z)	21	19
GREECE	2	0	0	5,404	3	5
NORWAY	0	0	1	5,461	0	0
GERMANY	0	0	1	5,062	0	0
SWEDEN	1	0	0	1,981	0	0
DENMARK	0	1	0	(X)	0	0
TOTALS	6	5	2	28,945	24	27
PREVIOUSLY REPORTED	387	171	211	2,683,288	6,808	5,496
GRAND TOTALS	393	176	213	2,712,233	6,832	5,523

(Z) TONNAGE OF ONE BRITISH SHIP UNKNOWN

(X) TONNAGE UNKNOWN

AUG 9-1940

WD:204PED

THE WAR TODAY

AUG 9-1940

BY DEVITT MACKENZIE

SIGNOR MUSSOLINI HAS MEWED OFF FOR HIMSELF A CONSIDERABLE PIECE OF BRITAIN'S HOT AND INHOSPITABLE SOMALILAND BUT, WHILE IN THEORY THIS MAY HAVE ADVANCED HIM TOWARD CONTROL OF THE SOUTHERN GATEWAY TO THE SUEZ CANAL, ONE SUSPECTS THAT PRACTICALLY HE MAY FIND IT A MIXED BLESSING.

THERE IS MORE THAN MEETS THE EYE IN THE SEEMING COMPLACENCE OF THE ENGLISH AS THEY PURSUE WHAT THEY DESCRIBE AS A STRATEGY OF "ACTIVE DEFENSE" AND GIVE GROUND TO NUMERICALLY SUPERIOR INVADERS. THE REASONS ARE SEVERAL.

FOR ONE THING THERE ARE NO SUPPLIES FOR THE ITALIANS IN EITHER BRITISH SOMALILAND OR IN ADJOINING FRENCH SOMALILAND WHICH THEY ARE USING AS A BASE. THEY MUST DEPEND ON WHAT THEY HAVE IN THEIR AFRICAN POSSESSIONS, FOR THE SUEZ CANAL--ONLY DIRECT COMMUNICATION WITH ITALY--IS CLOSED TO THEM.

THEN THE FASCIST FORCES LIKELY ARE HEADED INTO A BUNCH OF GRIEF WITH THE SOMALIS. THESE NATIVES ARE A HARD LOT, WHOM THE BRITISH FINALLY GOT IN HAND AFTER YEARS OF WARFARE BUT WHO WILL FIGHT AT THE DROP OF THE HAT. THEY ARE ANTI-EVERYTHING THAT'S FOREIGN, AND THE ITALIANS MUST EXPECT TO HAVE TO CONQUER THEM BEFORE CONSOLIDATING THEIR GAINS.

BEYOND ALL THIS, HOWEVER, IS THE VITAL FACT THAT IL DUCE CAN'T GET CONTROL OF THE SUEZ CANAL AND THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN WITHOUT SMASHING EGYPT AND OUSTING THE BRITISH. HE HAS TROOPS MASSED ON THE LIBYAN BORDER, PRESUMABLY READY FOR THE ASSAULT, BUT ONE WONDERS WHETHER HE WON'T PAUSE BEFORE SENDING HIS FORCES OUT TO MAKE THEIR WAY ACROSS MORE THAN 400 MILES OF BLAZING DESERT, WITH EVERY OASIS AND WATER-HOLE HEAVILY GUARDED BY THE BRITISH.

OR, TO GET RIGHT DOWN TO CASES, THE OUTCOME OF THIS WHOLE AFRICAN

SHOW IS LIKELY TO BE DETERMINED, NOT ON THE SAHARA BUT ON THE ENGLISH CHANNEL. FOR AS HITLER'S BLITZKRIEG AGAINST ENGLAND GOES, SO WILL GO THE CONFLICT ON THE DARK CONTINENT.

SHOULD THE ITALIANS UNDERTAKE THE ASSAULT ON EGYPT, WE SHALL HAVE A CAMPAIGN THAT WILL PRESENT THE OTHER EXTREME OF THE TERRIBLE CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH THE RUSSO-FINNISH WAR WAS WAGED. THEN WOUNDED SOLDIERS FROZE STIFF AS THEY FELL IN THE KILLING TEMPERATURE OF 52 DEGREES BELOW ZERO. NOW MEN WILL BE CALLED TO FIGHT UNDER A SUN WHICH REGISTERS MAYBE 125 AND PRODUCES A SOIL TEMPERATURE OF 175 DEGREES.

(MORE)..WD944AED

AUG 9-1940

FIRST ADD THE WAR TODAY X X X OF 175 DEGREES.

THE INTENSE HEAT OF THE SAHARA, OR ANY OF THE NEIGHBORING REGIONS, IS ONE OF THE HANDICAPS WHICH THE BELLIGERENTS WILL HAVE TO FIGURE ON. FORTUNE WILL SMILE ON THE SIDE WHOSE TROOPS ARE BOTH ACCLIMATED AND USED TO TAKING CARE OF THEMSELVES IN THIS TERRIFIC HEAT.

IT SEEMS ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE THAT MEN SHOULD BE ABLE TO CONDUCT WAR UNDER SUCH CONDITIONS. ACTUALLY, HOWEVER, ACCLIMATIZED TROOPS GET ALONG FIRST RATE, WITH PROPER CARE. I WAS FOR A TIME WITH THE BRITISH ARMY OF THE NEAR EAST, ASTRIDE THE SUEZ CANAL, IN THE WORLD WAR. YOU NEVER SAW A HEALTHIER LOT OF MEN THAN THESE WHITE BRITISH TROOPS WHO LIVED AND FOUGHT IN THAT FURNACE, AND THE ONLY PLACE I EVER ENCOUNTERED MORE TORTURING HEAT WAS IN AN EQUATORIAL JUNGLE OF SOUTH AMERICA.

IF MUSSOLINI DOES TRY TO SEND AN ARMY ACROSS THE SAHARA HE WILL HAVE SOMETHING OF A PRECEDENT TO GO BY, THOUGH CIRCUMSTANCES DIFFER SOMEWHAT. IN AUGUST OF 1916, FOR THE FIRST TIME IN HISTORY AN ARMY WAS BROUGHT ACROSS THE GREAT SINAI DESERT, EAST OF THE CANAL, FOR AN ASSAULT ON THE WATERWAY. THE TURKS ACHIEVED THIS REMARKABLE FEAT AND THE HORROR KNOWN AS THE BATTLE OF ROMANI RESULTED, WITH A GREAT TURKISH DEFEAT.

THAT CONFLICT WAS WAGED AMONG THE SAND DUNES IN A HEAT SO INTENSE THAT MEN PRACTICALLY COOKED TO DEATH. HUNDREDS FELL BECAUSE THEIR SLENDER SUPPLY OF WATER GAVE OUT. I HAVE BEEN A LOT OF BATTLE FIELDS IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE WORLD, BUT THAT WAS THE MOST TERRIBLE I EVER ENCOUNTERED.

THE FORTUNES OF ITALY IN AN EGYPTIAN CAMPAIGN WILL REST IN THE HANDS OF ONE OF THE GREATEST DESERT FIGHTERS OF ALL TIME--MARSHAL GRAZIANI, CONQUEROR OF CIRENAICA AND LIBYA. THE MARSHAL, WHO WILL BE 58 YEARS OLD NEXT SUNDAY, KNOWS ALL THE TRICKS OF THE SANDS, AS HE WILL NEED TO KNOW, FOR HE WILL BE UP AGAINST BRITISH OFFICERS WHO REPRESENT GENERATIONS OF TRAINING IN DESERT WARFARE.

MY COLLEAGUE, MARK BARRON, WHO WAS WAR CORRESPONDENT WITH GRAZIANI IN ETHIOPIA, DESCRIBES HIM AS TWO-FISTED AND HARD-BOILED. SAYS MARK:

"GRAZIANI PROBABLY IS THE TOUGHEST OF ALL THE TOUGH COMMANDERS OF THE WORLD TODAY."

WD952AED

UNDATED INDIAN INDEPENDENCE (AGYS OUT) LX (ASKED)

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUG 9-1940

MOHANDAS K.GANDHI, WRY LITTLE MAN OF PEACE AND FASTING, MAY HAVE GAINED--INDIRECTLY, THROUGH WAR--THE INDEPENDENCE FOR WHICH HE HAS DEVOTED MOST OF HIS LIFE FOR "HIS PEOPLE," INDIA'S TEEMING MILLIONS, ALMOST ONE-FIFTH OF MANKIND.

THE PROSPECT OF THAT INDEPENDENCE, IN A DEGREE NOT SPECIFIED, WAS HELD OUT TO INDIA YESTERDAY (THURS) BY BRITAIN IN A BID FOR AID

30.24-4237

IN MANPOWER AND RESOURCES FROM THE VAST INDIAN RESERVOIR IN ENGLAND'S WAR AGAINST HER FOES.

THE NATIONALIST LEADERS GANDHI HAS RALLIED TO HIS CAUSE THROUGH YEARS OF LEADERSHIP IN CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE AND PEACEFUL NEGOTIATIONS WOULD NOT COMMENT IMMEDIATELY AS TO WHETHER THEY SEE IN BRITAIN'S PROMISE THE ANSWER TO THEIR DREAMS OF FULL FREEDOM.

THEY HAVE DECLARED THEY WANT MORE THAN DOMINION STATUS--AND THEY WANT IT NOW, NOT AFTER THE WAR IS OVER.

THEIR WRINKLED LITTLE LEADER, HOWEVER, HAS MADE IT CLEAR THAT HE WOULD LISTEN TO "HONORABLE" COMPROMISE.

AUG 9-1940

THE BRITISH PROPOSED "FULL AND EQUAL PARTNERSHIP" FOR FABLED INDIA IN THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH OF NATIONS, AND ALTHOUGH FEW DETAILS WERE OUTLINED, MANY OBSERVERS INTERPRETED THE PLAN AU DEFINITELY GOING BEYOND THE SUGGESTION OF DOMINION STATUS.

GANDHI, WHO SEES NO GOOD IN WARS, HAD SOUGHT TO ACHIEVE THE LIBERTY WHICH HE TERMED "INDIA'S BIRTHRIGHT," THROUGH LOGIC, APPEALS TO RIGHT AND JUSTICE, AND THE FURNISHING OF TANGIBLE PROOF THAT THE MIXED RACES OF INDIA COULD GOVERN THEMSELVES.

AT A WORD HE COULD HAVE TOUCHED OFF THE FLAME OF ONE OF THE GREATEST REVOLTS IN HISTORY. HE CHOOSE INSTEAD THE PEACEFUL, THOUGH DETERMINED, LEADERSHIP OF THE MILLIONS WHO HAVE CALLED HIM "MAHATMA" --GREAT SOUL.

THE BOYCOTT AND CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE CAMPAIGNS WERE HIS WEAPONS. HIS REPEATED FASTS OF PROTEST AGAINST BRITISH REGULATIONS WEAKENED HIM. HE SERVED JAIL SENTENCES. BUT HIS DEMANDS FOR INDIAN INDEPENDENCE WERE NEVER ONCE STILLED.

30.24-4237

THE NEAREST THESE MEANS WON TO HIS GOAL CAME IN 1935 WHEN INDIA RECEIVED FROM THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT A NEW CONSTITUTION WHICH LED TO A MEASURE OF SELF GOVERNMENT UNDER A FORM OF PROVINCIAL AUTONOMY.

IN A STATE PAPER THE VICEROY OF INDIA WARMLY PRAISED THE CONGRESS PARTY (NATIONALIST) ADMINISTRATIONS WHICH HELD OFFICE IN THREE-FOURTHS OF THE PROVINCES FOR TWO YEARS.

BUT IN OCTOBER, 1939, THE CONGRESS PARTY LEADERS FOLLOWED GANDHI'S EXAMPLE IN WALKING OUT ON THE SYSTEM IN A NEW PROTEST OVER BRITAIN'S "VAGUE" WAR AIMS FOR INDIA. THEY DECLARED THEN THAT THE TIME HAD COME FOR SOME DEFINITE ACTION ON THE QUESTION OF TRUE INDEPENDENCE, AND RESIGNED THEIR OFFICES.

SINCE THAT TIME THE BRITISH LEADERS HAVE HINTED THAT LIBERAL POLICIES COULD BE EXPECTED AFTER THE WAR, BUT TODAY'S ANNOUNCEMENT WAS THE FIRST SPECIKICALLY WORDED TO HOLD OUT THE HOPE OF THE FREEDOM WHICH GANDHI, NOW 70, HAS SAID HE WOULD LIVE TO SEE.

RQ942PED

Update Indian Independence

ALTHOUGH PRIMARILY AN AGRICULTURAL LAND, WITH COTTON, TEA, AND JUTE, FOREST PRODUCTS AMONG ITS CHIEF PRODUCTS, INDIA HAS BEEN RATED ALSO EIGHTH IN THE WORLD IN INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION.

PRODUCTION OF PIG IRON AND STEEL HAS BEEN RISING.

COTTON AND SILK WEAVING, WOOD CARVING AND METAL WORK ARE AMONG THE CHIEF INDUSTRIES.

AUG 9-1940

IMPORTANT RESERVES OF COAL, MANGANESE, CHROMIUM, VANADIUM, SALT, PETROLEUM.

¶ IMPORTANT RESERVES OF COAL, IRON ORE, OIL, ~~BEEF~~ SILVER, PRECIOUS STONES, AND METALS SUCH AS MANGANESE, CHROMIUM AND VANADIUM ARE THERE.

¶ BUT OF GREATEST IMPORTANCE TO BRITAINNOW , IN HER LIFE AND DEATH STRUGGLE WITH GERMANY, ZZZZ ARE THE THOUSANDS MILLIONS OF FIGHTING MEN INDIA COULD FURNISH IF SHE WERE POLITICALLY "APPEASED."

AUG 9-1940

¶ BRITAIN'S STRONGEST SUPPORTERS IN INDIA HAVE BEEN THE MOSLEMS, WHO HAVE FURNISHED MOST OF THE FIGHTING MEN SO FAR, AND THE PRINCES WHO HAVE CONTRIBUTED FROM THEIR WEALTH.

¶ THE ALL-INDIA CONGRESS PARTY AND ITS NATIONALIST PROGRAM OF INDEPENDENCE HAS BEEN OPPOSED BY THE MOSEEMS, WHO FEARED THEIR MINORITY WOULD BE ENGULFED BY THE HINDU MAJORITY.

¶ IN 1935 BRITAIN ATTEMPTED TO ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ THROW A SINGLE GOVERNMENTAL MANTLE OVER THE VARIED PEOPLES OF THE CROWDED PENINSULA IN THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT. THIS PROVIDED FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF A FEDERATION IN WHICH IT WAS SOUGHT TO HOLD INTO A SINGLE GOVERNMENT AND FEDERAL LEGISLATURE REPRESENTATIVES OF SELF-GOVERNING PROVINCES AND THE STATES GOVERNED BY THE

¶ AT THE START OF THE PRESENT WAR, However CONGRESS PARTY GOVERNMENTS IN THE SELF-GOVERNING PROVINCES RESIGNED WHEN BRITAIN REFUSED TO CONSIDER ~~XXXXXX~~ BEFORE THE END OF THE WAR, DEMANDS FOR DOMINION STATUS. THE BRITISH GOVERNORS HAD TO TAKE OVER THE PROVINCIAL ADMINISTRATION.

AUG 9-1940

¶ MOHANDIS K. GANDHI, THE VETERAN, WIZENED LEADER OF THE NATIONALISTS, HOWEVER, HAS REFUSED TO BE STAMPEDED, DESPITE DEMANDS OF A MORE RADICAL WING OF HIS PARTY, INTO SANCTIONING NEW DISOBEDIENCE CAMPAIGNS TO ENFORCE THE DEMANDS FOR PROMPT ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ INDEPENDENCE, ~~XXX~~

¶ BUT HE HAS INSISTED BRITAIN, IF SHE REALLY IS FIGHTING FOR THE PRESERVATION OF DEMOCRACY IN THE WORLD, SHOULD SET AN EXAMPLE IN INDIA.

30.24-4239

INDIA--BEHIND THE NEWS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE GIANT PATCHWORK KNOWN AS INDIA IS A CONFUSING COMPLEX OF RACIAL, RELIGIOUS, CULTURAL AND POLITICAL RIVALRIES OVER WHICH BRITAIN GRADUALLY GAINED DOMINANCE IN THE 17TH AND 18TH CENTURIES.

INDIA'S SIZE AND DIFFICULT GEOGRAPHICAL NATURE MAKE FOR LACK OF UNITY. IT IS RICH IN MANPOWER AND NATURAL RESOURCES.

WITH 6,000 MILES OF LAND FRONTIER AND 5,000 MILES OF SEABOARD, INDIA HAS AN AREA OF MORE THAN 1,808,000 SQUARE MILES, AND A CROWDED POPULATION OF MORE THAN 350,000,000.

THESE MILLIONS--BETWEEN ONE-FIFTH AND ONE-SIXTH OF THE EARTH'S POPULATION--PRESENT ALL SHADES OF SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC VARIATION, FROM FABULOUSLY RICH MAHARAJAHS TO POVERTY-STRICKEN "UNTOUCHABLES."

WITH THE BLOOD OF MANY RACES IN THEIR VEINS, THESE PEOPLES SPEAK MORE THAN 200 LANGUAGES AND DIALECTS AND PRACTICE MANY RELIGIONS, SOME OF THEM BITTERLY ANTAGONISTIC TO ONE ANOTHER.

THE VAST HINDU GROUP HAS 240,000,000 ADHERENTS IN INDIA, THE MOSLEMS SOME 77,000,000.

INDIA IS DIVIDED POLITICALLY INTO A BRITISH INDIA OF 11 PROVINCES WHICH ARE GOVERNED BY REPRESENTATIVES OF THE CROWN, AND A NATIVE INDIA OF MORE THAN 560 STATES RULED WITH VARYING DEGREES OF AUTHORITY BY NATIVE PRINCES WHO HOLD THEIR POWER THROUGH TREATIES AND ALLIANCES WITH BRITAIN.

THE CONFLICT BETWEEN THE GREAT HINDU MAJORITY AND THE MILITANT MOSLEMS, WHO PROVIDE SOME OF THE BEST FIGHTING MEN IN THE BRITISH INDIAN ARMY, AND THAT BETWEEN THE NATIVE PRINCES, WHO DEPEND LARGELY ON BRITISH SUPPORT TO HOLD THEIR THRONES, AND THE INDEPENDENCE-SEEKING MASSES LED BY THE CONGRESS PARTY, HAVE FURTHER COMPLICATED BRITAIN'S PROBLEMS.

EIGHT OF THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS CONTROLLED BY THE CONGRESS PARTY RESIGNED EARLY IN THE WAR BECAUSE OF DISSATISFACTION WITH BRITAIN'S PROMISE OF POST-WAR DOMINION STATUS. THE BRITISH GOVERNORS HAD TO TAKE OVER.

THE INDIAN PRINCES HAVE STRONGLY SUPPORTED THE BRITISH WAR EFFORT OUT OF THEIR WEALTH, DRAWING ON SOME OF THE LARGEST FLRTUNES IN THE WORLD. INDIAN TROOPS, ESPECIALLY SIKHS AND GURKHAS, FORM AN IMPORTANT PART OF THE BRITISH "MIDDLE EASTERN COMMAND," ARRAYED IN EGYPT, PALESTIN AND EAST AFRICA FOR DEFENSE OF THE EMPIRE'S LIFELINE TO INDIA AND THE ORIENT. THEIR NUMBERS HAVE NOT BEEN ANNOUNCED, BUT THEY HAVE BEEN ESTIMATED AT SCORES OF THOUSANDS.

WE1250PED

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, AUG. 8-(AP)- DONALD COSTER, OF NEW YORK AND MONTREAL, WHO WAS CAPTURED BY THE GERMANS AT AMIENS MAY 20 WHILE SERVING WITH THE AMERICAN AMBULANCE SERVICE, ARRIVED HERE TODAY ABOARD THE AMERICAN EXPORT LINER EXCALIBUR ENROUTE TO NEW YORK.

AUG 9 1940

THE GERMANS LATER RELEASED COSTER AND THREE AMERICAN CO-WORKERS UNDER COSTODY OF THE BELGIAN RED CROSS.

COSTER SAID FRENCH TROOPS MADE NO ATTEMPT TO DEFEND AMIENS BUT 300 BRITISH SOLDIERS DID AND WERE ALMOST WIPED OUT.

"I AM GOING BACK TO ENGLAND AS SOON AS [redacted]
I CAN" HE SAID.

NEW YORK, AUG. 8-(AP)-AN APPEAL FOR ITALIANS IN BRAZIL TO WIN THE SUPPORT OF BRAZIL TO THE FASCIST CAUSE, AGAINST BRITAIN, WAS HEARD TONIGHT FROM RADIO ROMA, OFFICIAL ITALIAN SHORT WAVE SYSTEM, BY CBS.

AUG 9-1940

CBS 23 AUG 1150P

NEW YORK, AUG. 8-(AP)-ROCKED BY TWO SHARP EXPLOSIONS AFTER A MYSTERIOUS FIRE THAT FLARED FROM STEM TO STERN, THE LIVERPOOL-797,$ NORWEGIAN FREIGHTER LISTA WAS BEACHED IN THE LOWER HARBOR TODAY.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION AGENTS AND THE POLICE SABOTAGE SQUAD INVESTIGATED THE CREW AND CARGO OF THE AMERICAN-OPERATED SHIP, WHICH HAD BEEN TRADING BETWEEN NEW YORK AND ENGLAND.

THE SHIP STILL BLAZED TONIGHT AS TWO FIREBOATS PUMPED WATER INTO HER.

AUG 9-1940

HER CREW OF 34 ABANDONED SHIP AND WERE TAKEN ABOARD A TUG TO THE GOVERNMENT BARGE OFFICE FOR QUESTIONING. NONE WAS INJURED.

MARINE AUTHORITIES SAID THE 3,671-TON LISTA WAS DELAYED THREE DAYS IN SAILING DUE TO DIFFICULTIES IN SIGNING ON A CREW, A NOT UNUSUAL OCCURRENCE ON SHIPS BOUND FOR WAR ZONES.

THE COSMOPOLITAN SHIPPING COMPANY, OPERATORS OF THE VESSEL, SAID SHE CARRIED A GENERAL CARGO FOR LIVERPOOL. THEY DENIED REPORTS THAT MUNITIONS WERE ABOARD.

ONE EXPLOSION APPEARED TO COME FROM THE GALLEY. BOTH WERE UNEXPLAINED.

THE LISTA LEFT NEW YORK LAST NIGHT AND A FEW HOURS LATER AT 2:30 A.M. (EST) RADIOED SHE HAD ENGINE TROUBLE AND WAS UNABLE TO PROCEED.

THREE TUGS, ONE ACTING AS A RUDDER, WERE BRINGING THE SHIP IN WHEN FIRE SPURTED FROM HER IDLE ENGINE ROOM.

(EDS-READ FIGURES SECOND LINE "LIVERPOOL-BOUND" ETC)

MQ934PED

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF FRIDAY, AUGUST 9)

- - -

JAPAN IS CLOSING "THE OPEN DOOR"
IN NORTH CHINA (500)

AUG 9-1940

- - -

BY J.D.WHITE

(ADVANCE)...PEIPING, NORTH CHINA-(CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)-WHILE THE WORLD IS ABSORBED IN EUROPE'S WAR, JAPAN IS QUIETLY BUT FIRMLY CLOSING WHAT IS LEFT OF THE "OPEN DOOR" TO FREE TRADING IN NORTH CHINA.

NEW RESTRICTIONS ON IMPORTS, ANNOUNCED BY THE JAPANESE-SPONSORED NORTH CHINA POLITICAL COUNCIL, COMPLETE AN AIRTIGHT SYSTEM OF OFFICIAL PERMITS FOR BOTH IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

THIS SYSTEM PUTS CONTROL OF FOREIGN TRADE IN JAPANESE HANDS.

EXPERIENCE IN MANCHOUKUO (WHERE JAPAN ASSERTS SHE MAINTAINS THE OPEN DOOR) INDICATES THAT THE DOOR REMAINS OPEN TO FOREIGN TRADE BUT THE TREND IS TOWARD CONTROL BY JAPANESE INTERESTS.

IN ESSENCE, THE LATEST RESTRICTIONS HERE PROVIDE COMPLETE

30.24-424

CONTROL OF ALL IMPORTS FROM ANY PART OF THE WORLD (INCLUDING JAPAN) WITH THE EXCEPTIONS OF PERSONAL BAGGAGE, HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS, SAMPLES, AND PERIODICALS.

SIMILAR CONTROL HAS LONG PREVAILED FOR EXPORTS.

CONTROL IS ACHIEVED THROUGH ALLOTMENT OF OFFICIAL PERMITS BASED ON PROOF THAT FOREIGN-EXCHANGE FOR PAYMENT HAS BEEN BOUGHT AT THE OFFICIAL RATE AND THROUGH OFFICIAL CHANNELS, WHICH INCIDENTALLY LOP OFF 10 PERCENT FOR THEIR SERVICES.

NO ONE CAN EXPORT OR IMPORT UNLESS HE CONFORMS TO THESE RULES. IN CONFORMING, HE MAY FIND HIS APPLICATION THROWN OUT IF IT IS DEEMED "UNNECESSARY" BY JAPANESE OFFICIALS IN THE VARIOUS OFFICIAL BANKS, CUSTOMS HOUSES, AND "IMPORT-EXPORT ASSOCIATIONS" WHICH HAVE BEEN ORGANIZED TO HANDLE ALL FOREIGN TRADE.

AUG 9-1940

BEEN ORGANIZED TO HANDLE ALL FOREIGN TRADE.

THE NEW IMPORT RESTRICTIONS MAY PRESAGE SHARP CURTAILMENT OF ALL IMPORTED NON-ESSENTIALS.

GASOLINE RATIONING IS EXPECTED TO RESULT. IN GENERAL NORTH CHINA IS LIKELY TO ACHIEVE FAIRLY SOON THE SAME CONDITION AS MANCHOUKUO AND JAPAN AS FAR AS FOREIGN ARTICLES ARE CONCERNED.

IN JAPAN, GASOLINE IS RATIONED, FOREIGN GOODS VIRTUALLY NON-EXISTENT FOR THE MASSES, AND MATCHES ARE RATIONED AT THE RATE OF FIVE DAILY PER FAMILY.

IN MANCHOUKUO, COFFEE, SUGAR, FLOUR ARE VERY RARE. DESPITE THE PRESENCE OF THE LARGEST COAL MINES IN THE WORLD, COAL IS SCARCE DURING THE QUASI-SIBERIAN WINTER.

NORTH CHINA ALSO EXPECTS THE USUAL CURTAILMENT OF FOREIGN LIQUORS AND TOBACCOS.

ONE ANNOUNCED PURPOSE OF THE NEW MEASURE IS "TO CONCENTRATE AVAILABLE FOREIGN-EXCHANGE FOR APPLICATION TO FOOD IMPORTS." IN VIEW OF THE RECENT NEAR FAMINE IN NORTH CHINA, THIS IS A NATURAL OBJECT. NORTH CHINA IS CHRONICALLY UNABLE TO FEED HERSELF, AND HUGE IMPORTS OF FLOUR MUST BE MADE FROM ABROAD EVERY YEAR.

ANOTHER ANNOUNCED PURPOSE OF THE NEW MEASURE IS TO ENFORCE USE OF THE CURRENCY OF THE JAPANESE-SPONSORED FEDERAL RESERVE BANK.

THE NEWLY COMPLETED CONTROL OF FOREIGN TRADE IS PART OF THE GENERAL BELT-TIGHTENING PROCESS WHICH THE JAPANESE ARE ENFORCING THROUGHOUT JAPAN, MANCHOUKUO, AND CHINA, AND IS SUPPLEMENTARY TO THE VAST NEW MATERIALS MOBILIZATION PLAN RECENTLY ANNOUNCED FOR THESE THREE COUNTRIES.

THE PURPOSE OF THIS PLAN, ACCORDING TO JAPANESE OFFICIALS, IS FIRST TO PROVIDE JAPAN WITH THE SINEWS OF WAR, AND AFTER MILITARY DEMANDS ARE SATISFIED AS FAR AS POSSIBLE, TO PROVIDE FOR THE DAILY LIFE OF THE CIVIL POPULATION.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, MOVED AUGUST 7.)

KA1258AED

30.24-4241

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUG 9-1940

AUG. 8, 1915--FRENCH ARTILLERY AND BAYONET CHARGES CHECK GERMAN ATTACKS IN ARGONNE.

R704AED

British Drive Off Nazi Planes, Raid Bases in Holland

RAIDERS RANGE FAR AND WIDE OVER BRITAIN

AUG 10 1940

Scattered Towns Bombed. Nazi Planes Roar Over Scotland And Wales

[By the Associated Press]

London, Saturday, Aug. 10—German bombing planes dropped their deadly explosives on southeast, northeast and northwest England early today and were heard over Scotland and Wales in wide-ranging attacks.

Two men were killed and several persons were injured in one raid on a northwest England town. Several houses were damaged.

Throughout the embattled areas, anti-craft batteries pumped projectiles into the sky.

Flashes And Loud Explosions

When raiders dropped several bombs in northwest England, vivid flashes lit the sky from at least three separate points.

In the northeast, there was a succession of loud explosions as the raiders rumbled over several cities.

Tremendous explosions were heard as bombs fell in two places ashore and several spots just out to sea from a southeast town.

The attackers earlier had veered off in the face of hot anti-aircraft fire, but circled back to deposit their loads despite renewed big-scale anti-aircraft and machine gun fire from the ground.

At one place in southeast England, one German plane made a "hit-skip" raid, dropping four large bombs and speeding out to sea.

Number Of Homes Damaged

Several bombs were dropped last night in a residential district in southwest England, damaging a number of homes.

It was reported that no serious casualties were "believed" suffered and that people trapped in two houses were rescued.

Another lone raider injured several persons and damaged several shops and houses with four bombs in southeast England. Most of the injured were hurt by flying glass.

During yesterday the Nazis made scattered raids, and at least three of their bombers were reported shot down in the northeast coastal region. The crew of four of one raiding bomber shot into the sea leaped into a rubber boat and was captured.

Damage was reported in several regions and there were "some" casualties, the Air Ministry announced.

In a town in the Midlands, an 18-year old boy was killed and his parents and two sisters injured by a bomb that fell squarely on their home.

Hamburg Docks Bombed

Docks at Hamburg, supply depots at Hamm, Soest and Cologne, and several German airdromes were bombed in the British Air Force's nightly visitations to Germany, the Ministry announced last night.

Minelaying by airplanes is a regular feature of the Royal Air Force's night operations and "continues to cause serious damage to enemy shipping and dislocate his coastal shipping," according to last night's communique.

The text of the communique:

"Bomber command aircraft made daylight attacks yesterday (Thursday) on the airdromes of Schiphol (near Amsterdam) and Valkerburg, near Maastrict (the Netherlands). One of our aircraft did not return.

"Aircraft of the coastal command on patrol off Le Havre (France) yesterday afternoon shot down an enemy twin-engined fighter in flames.

"Among the military objectives in Germany bombed last night were the Hamburg docks and the supply depots at Hamm, Soest and Cologne, and several enemy airdromes. One of our aircraft is missing.

"Minelaying by our aircraft in enemy harbors and estuaries, which is a regular feature of our night operations, continues to cause serious damage to enemy shipping and to dislocate his coastal traffic."

High Cost Of Air Raids

The German campaign of mass air attacks on these islands, according to some British observers, is costing the Nazis a great deal more—in money, morale and Messerschmitts—than the defenders.

This claim that air invasion is thus far a bankrupt strategy was put forward on the basis of an official check-up of the results of Thursday's vast raid by 400 German planes on English Channel shipping.

Official Score Of Air Battle

For this, said the Air Ministry, was the score:

German planes destroyed—60.
British planes lost—16.

British shipping destroyed, both by air and the torpedo-boat attack that ushered in the air assault, 5,039 tons. Seven ships in a convoy were acknowledged damaged, but all were declared taken to port.

[Associated Press Editor's Note: The German score sheet was far different: Berlin claimed that forty-nine British planes were shot down and 72,000 tons of British shipping sunk.]

From all this, unofficial commentators reached the conclusion that the net German loss in money was some $2,000,000—aside from the far heavier German casualties reported here.

The Balance Sheet

This is the way these observers cast up the balance sheet:

German losses in planes, $3,072,000—twenty-four dive bombers at $80,000 apiece and thirty-six Messerschmitt fighter planes at $32,000 apiece.

British losses in planes, $512,000—sixteen fighters at $32,000 apiece.

British losses in ships sunk or damaged, $500,000.

Net German loss, $2,060,000.

In addition, the British claimed at least 106 German airmen died, against 13 British flyers.

Says Hitler Must Strike

Alfred Duff Cooper, the British Minister of Information, told American correspondents at a tea yesterday afternoon that if Hitler hopes to win the war this year, he must attempt the invasion of England, regardless of what he does in Spain, Africa or the Balkans.

He suggested that the newspapermen think over whether the Germans were likely to attack simultaneously in all quarters, as some persons had predicted.

Nazis Resume Plane Attacks On England

AUG 10 1940

New Report Places Reich Loss at 60 In Channel Battle

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Germany paid with loss of at least 60 planes for yesterday's wholesale aerial assaults on British shores and shipping, the Air Ministry reported today, as Nazi air attacks continued.

In all, the Ministry said, 60 German planes were destroyed "and many others damaged"—a toll of about one in seven of "some 400" Nazi raiders it counted in the raids—the greatest attack in British history.

A loss of 16 British planes was acknowledged, but the Air Ministry said three pilots previously counted as missing now are reported safe, two of them wounded.

(The German high command asserted that British losses were 49 planes shot down near the Isle of Wight in the English Channel and off the port of Dover. German losses, it said, were only 10 planes shot down and two which had to make forced landings.)

Sinkings Multiplied by Three.

An authoritative source said the German communique, reporting 12 merchant ships totaling 55,000 tons sunk in the forays, "multiplied by three" the British losses.

Contrary to the German report, this source said, the attacked convoy "contained no tanker nor, indeed, any ship approaching the tonnage figures for single ships given in the German claim," mentioned an 8,000-ton tanker and two steamers of 5,000 and 4,000 tons.

German bombers were shot down today, one by anti-aircraft fire after it had bombed a northeast coastal town and the other by three Spitfires off the northeast coast. Three of the crew of the second Nazi plane were captured in a rubber boat.

Although the intensity of the attacks apparently had slackened, the Air Ministry reported scattered raids throughout last night and today. It disclosed there had been "some damage to property and some casualties, one of which was fatal," in Southwest England.

Casualties "Few."

Renewed bombardments of the Strait of Dover, the Bristol Channel, Northwest England and the Midlands also caused some damage and killed "some" persons. Casualties, however, were said to have been "few."

Seven persons were reported killed and twelve injured in collapse of part of a factory in the northwest. The building was surrounded by a military guard after the accident.

A communique said:

"Last night enemy aircraft dropped isolated bombs near the Straits of Dover, the Bristol Channel and in the northwest of England.

"Several homes were damaged.

"Five bombs are reported to have fallen in residential quarters of a midland town where one house was completely demolished and others severely damaged.

"Reports from all these areas indicate that the number of casualties was few but they include several serious injuries, some of which were fatal."

A grim order by the government to Britons to "stay put" lest they be killed was underscored in yesterday's day-long attack in which unofficial tallies reported that 800 Nazi planes roared over the Channel and inland in waves of about 80 planes each. One attack formation included 150 planes, bombers and fighters.

Press Warns of Mass Raids.

The press warned that the Germans now may stage raids of 500 planes at a time and the public was told to "stay where you are" in a leaflet published by the Ministry of Information and tucked under the doors of millions of homes in the United Kingdom today.

Yesterday's assault was the greatest ever leveled against this island seat of empire. At least 100 Germen airmen met death, it was claimed.

Last night British airmen were believed to have struck back. Ten German-controlled radio stations went silent, indicating they were shut down so as not to guide the Britons. They were the stations at Stuttgart, Brussels, Cologne, Hilversum, Leipzig, Berlin, Strasbourg, Frankfort, Saarbrucken and Hamburg.

The Ministry of Information warning to the public to "stay put" capped a five-day campaign designed to prepare Britons for mass aerial bombardment, if not actual invasion.

The government is represented as content with the navy's ceaseless patrol, Royal Air Force forays over the continental coastline and the army's "stand to" at the dangerous hours of dawn and dusk. The fighting services are secure against surprise, it is held.

To prepare the man in the street, Prime Minister Churchill himself opened the campaign Sunday by warning against "the slightest relaxation of vigilance or moral alertness." Since then First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander has warned that "hard knocks, stern trials and grievous tribulations lie ahead," and David Lloyd George, Prime Minister during the World War, has said "such a tempest as Britain has never before encountered is about to break upon her."

Today's pamphlet briskly told the average Briton that it contained "not simply advice," but rather "an order from the government."

"If you do not stay put you will stand a very good chance of being killed," it continued. Refugees, it said, would be machine-gunned by German planes and "turned off the roads by British troops."

Advice to people in battle areas was to "go into shelter and stay there." If, however, small parties of parachutists should threaten property in an area "not under enemy control," the householder, said the government, has "the right of every man and woman to do what he can to protect himself, his family and his home."

Newspaper forecasts of German raids by 500 or more planes each, added to the warnings of statesmen, produced a truculent attitude in London where, as in August, 1939, the most popular saying today is "let's have it and get it over with."

Neutral military observers in London speculated that the start of the Italian campaign against Britain in Africa might be the opening gun of a campaign in which Britain would be attacked at home and abroad.

30,24-4243

30.24-4243

They agreed generally, however, that invasion of Britain would be attempted only after a week or 10 days of protracted bombing. The Germans, they declare, are saving their air strength for such an attack, which they hold explains the comparative lightness of air attack on land objectives in past weeks.

The British announced last night the 7,769-ton British liner Kemmendine was 21 days overdue and must be presumed lost.

India Offer Criticized.

Two London newspapers criticized the government's offer of self-government to India after the war, an offer coupled with a plea for full co-operation in the war against Germany and Italy.

The Laborite Daily Herald said the offer did not go far enough and suggested it be made a basis for negotiation for a settlement to get India to throw her full weight into the war.

"This is no time for hedging and haggling," said the Herald, "but for bold statesmanship and for swift and generous and not tardy and grudging fulfillment of promises. If we had been wiser sooner the Italians would not be in Zeila today."

The Liberal News Chronicle took a similar view. Declaring "at our back we need a united and self-respecting India," the newspaper said, "Nothing would contribute more to fulfillment of that need than a specific offer by the British government to discuss dominion status here and now."

The government in its statement on India yesterday did not mention any specific plan for self-government for the rich Eastern possession, but rather stressed the need for India's help in the war.

[Berlin reports that its planes are strewing mines along the English coast.]

Text of British Communique.

The text of the British communique follows:

"Bomber command aircraft made daylight attacks yesterday on the airdromes of Schiphol, near Amsterdam, and Valkerburg, near Maastrict, in the Netherlands.

One of our aircraft did not return.

"Aircraft of the coastal command on patrol off Le Havre, France, yesterday afternoon shot down an enemy twin-engined fighter in flames.

"Among the military objectives in Germany bombed last night were the Hamburg docks and the supply depots at Hamm, Soest and Cologne and several enemy airdromes. One of our aircraft is missing.

"Minelaying by our aircraft in enemy harbors and estuaries, which is a regular feature of our night operations, continues to cause serious damage to enemy shipping and to dislocate his coastal traffic."

Mine Laying And Protection

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 9—Aerial mine laying has become standard practice for both sides and "continues to cause serious damage to enemy shipping and to dislocate his coastal traffic," the British said tonight.

In combatting German mine warfare the British now have devices for protection against magnetic mines which are reported highly effective.

Grocery Warehouse In London Burns

LONDON, Aug. 9 (AP).—A huge quantity of groceries and other provisions was destroyed today by fire in a Thames-side warehouse which broke out shortly after midnight and burned for hours.

Cause of the fire could not be determined immediately. The first warning came when police noticed a red glow inside the building, near the Tower Bridge. Within a few moments the interior was a mass of flames. The roof collapsed soon after arrival of the fire engines.

Two firemen were taken to a hospital, one overcome by smoke and the other injured in a fall.

Throughout the blackout hours a British plane patrolled overhead, presumably guarding against the possibility German warplanes would be drawn by the blaze, which could be seen for miles.

Sometimes this port is closed while minesweepers clean up after the aerial visitors, but interruption of normal trade is slight and life ashore, while bound up in a new set of rules for self-preservation, goes on pretty much as usual.

4 Quiet Nights Since June 24

Here they count the nights when there are no air-raid alarms—and there have been just four since June 24.

Many bombs have dropped in the open country. One farmer threw open his damaged home to sight-seers—and charged them a small fee, which he gave to the Red Cross.

On one occasion bombs fell near the village where Queen Mother Mary spends much of her time.

One night a bomb blew a signalman out of his box and damaged a railway siding at the docks, but work soon was resumed.

Hospital Damaged By Bomb

When a bomb fell near a group of several hospitals it tore a wall off a building, leaving its floors exposed like a doll's house and bringing the adjoining house down on the heads of an old couple in the cellar.

It took a few hours to erect tarpaulin covers across the open side of the hospital. The next day it was usable again.

Canadian-born M. P. Replaces 16 Planes

LONDON, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Garfield Weston, Canadian-born Member of Parliament, gave a check for £100,000 to Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Aircraft Production, today to replace the sixteen British fighter planes lost in yesterday's big air battle over the English Channel.

In announcing the gift the Ministry said that the wealthy Member of Parliament, who was born in Toronto, handed over his check with the remark, "the pilots we cannot replace."

The Ministry said that the gift was for "sixteen Hurricanes and Spitfires to replace the total losses sustained by Britain in Thursday's battle over the English Channel."

Continuing their attacks into the night, German bombers were reported to have attacked airplane factories at Liverpool and Bristol and airdromes and anti-aircraft batteries in southern England.

Nazis Revert to Mines.

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Germany is reverting to use of magnetic mines strewn in English harbors to re-enforce her counter blockade and also reports success against a new British defense, ship-towed barrage balloons.

The High Command announced today that its huge mine-laying seaplanes were able to continue the sowing of mines off British ports according to plan, after reporting forty-nine British planes shot down and 72,000 tons of British shipping sunk in yesterday's giant dive-bombing and torpedo boat attacks on convoys off Dover and the Isle of Wight.

Nazis Claim 49 Planes, 12 Balloons Shot Down

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 9—The German high command announced today that forty-nine British planes were shot down in the heavy air fighting yesterday near the Isle of Wight in the English Channel and off the port of Dover.

The high command said twelve British "barrier balloons" were destroyed by Nazi Messerschmitt fighting planes in the attack on Dover, and reported ten German planes shot down, while two others had to make forced landings.

Mine Laying Continues.

The communique said German mine-laying planes continued their operations off English ports "according to plan," while other airforce units again attacked airplane plants, anti-aircraft defense positions and other objectives in Britain.

Two British planes were reported shot down by anti-aircraft batteries in raids on Germany last night in which "isolated bombs" caused "immaterial damage." Several civilians were said to have been injured at a small frontier town.

Thirty-three Spitfires were among the British planes destroyed, the communique said.

The daily communique said that Messerschmitt fighters punctured and sent into the sea near Dover twelve of the big gas balloons which Britain has been trying as a new defense weapon against attacks on her convoys. The balloons, attached to ships, were intended to keep deadly dive bombers at a distance.

Plan Is Not Disclosed.

The Germans did not disclose the plan according to which mines are being scattered in British waters. But it was assumed that the High Command was reverting to its methods of last winter when magnetic mines were sown thickly at entrances to vital British ports where, the Germans said, they destroyed many ships.

The High Command said that big air battles developed yesterday when clouds of Nazi dive bombers, escorted by pursuit and destroyer planes, attacked in the English Channel, and that thirty-three of the R. A. F. planes shot down were Britain's vaunted Spitfires.

The Germans admitted losing but ten of their own, plus two which were forced to make landings.

Bristol Channel Still Open Despite Nazi Magnetic Mines

English West Ports Close While Sweepers Clean Up After Aerial Visitors, Otherwise Little Affected

[By the Associated Press]

A Port of Western England, Aug. 9—Despite magnetic mines strewn by low-flying German planes and the harassment of aerial bombardment, Bristol Channel, England's great maritime gateway to the west, still is open to ships of the seven seas and their cargoes for embattled Britain.

The aim of the mine-laying planes is not always good. One mine fell on land, damaging a farm and blowing out the window of a seventeenth-century village church.

Some people sleep all night in public shelters. Others sleep downstairs in their homes. And there are some who wait up, playing cards or chatting, until about 3 or 4 in the morning and then, "if Jerry is not coming tonight," they go to bed reasonably sure of unbroken sleep.

Children Play Raid Wardens

Afternoon naps are popular.

Hotels serve a "late air-raid breakfast" for nervous guests who have spent the night in the cellars.

Children make a game of the air raids. Many may be seen wearing "tin hats" made of cardboard, bearing the words "Junior Warden"—just like daddy wears when he goes to his ARP post.

"It is hard to keep the kids out of the shelters," said one mother. "They play wardens all day. Then they are not frightened when they have to go to the shelters at night."

Both Sides Lay Mines by Air

Each Report Enemy Shipping Is Disrupted—German Supply Bases Bombed.

LONDON, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Docks at Hamburg, supply depots at Hamm, Soest and Cologne, and several German airdromes were bombed in the British air force's nightly visitations to Germany, the Air Ministry announced tonight.

Minelaying by airplanes is a regular feature of the British air force's night operations and continues to cause serious damage to enemy shipping and dislocate coastal shipping, the Air Ministry said tonight in its regular communique.

This story is illustrative:

A neutral ship was in harbor several weeks ago. Thinking it a waste of electricity to keep the gear in operation, the master ordered it switched off.

When the engineer turned the switch the ship blew up. It had been anchored over a magnetic mine.

Nazis Warn Frenchmen In Brutish Service

Ship And Plane Crews Told They Won't Be Treated As "Prisoners Of War"

Berlin, Aug. 9 (AP)—Responsible German sources warned the crews of French ships and planes in the service of England today that they "have no claim to treatment as war prisoners."

The statement came in answer to a British Admiralty announcement that French warships and planes now in English possession will fly the French national colors as well as blue flag with a Red Cross in the center.

"The blue flag with a Red Cross is not a recognized state flag which justifies war acts by vessels flying it," these sources said. "Therefore, warships and airplanes with the French national colors and pretending to fight for France are guilty of a breach of armistice treaty, and put themselves outside application of the laws of war.

"We will act against these units by every means. Their crews, no matter what their nationality, have no claim to treatment as war prisoners."

The implication was that such captives would be treated much more rigorously than prisoners of war.

R.A.F. Bombs Fall in Denmark

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP via radio).—British planes flew over Danish territory last night and dropped four bombs which exploded harmlessly in a meadow near Tadborg, near the German border, the Berlin radio reported tonight.

BAN ENGLISH BROADCASTS

Germans Order Belgium And Northern France Not To Listen

Berlin, Aug. 9 (AP)—Gen. Baron Alexander von Falkenhausen, German military commander for Belgium and Northern France, today forbade the population to listen to English radio broadcasts.

Another decree prohibited the unauthorized wearing or possession of uniforms and insignia of the German army, the Nazi party or its various formations.

British Shoot Down 15 Italian Planes in Air Battle in Libya

Big Victory Claimed; Fascist Advance on Berbera Admitted

AUG 10 194

By the Associated Press.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 9.—Italians in British Somaliland pressed an advance toward Berbera, capital and principal port, the British admitted today as they claimed a smashing victory in the biggest air battle of the African war in Libya.

An army communique said the Italian columns of motorized troops which seized Hargeisa and Oadweina early this week, were continuing a northward march through the barren rock hill roads toward the coast, which they aim to seize for an Ethiopian outlet on the Gulf of Aden and the Indian Ocean.

Hargeisa is about 100 miles from Berbera, Oadweina about 80.

The air battle was fought yesterday, when the British attacked an Italian force apparently convoying caravans of supplies to desert forces concentrating on the Egyptian border.

The middle eastern command here said 15 Italian planes were destroyed when a British force, outnumbered more than two to one, fought over Italian Libya.

The British said the battle took place "some distance west of Sidi Omar," when the Britons apparently set out to break up Italian troop and supply concentrations being prepared for Italy's main offensive against Egypt and Suez.

The British admitted the loss of two planes.

(The Italian communique said losses and planes engaged were in a reverse ratio. Five British planes were shot down and two Italian, the communique said, although the Italians were outnumbered, 27 to 16.)

(This battle was fought at about the same time the British reported smashing 60 planes from a German air armada which attacked convoys in the English Channel.)

Sidi Omar is a small Libyan town about 8 miles from the Egyptian frontier and lies southwest of Salum, Egypt.

The Italians twice raided Berbera, the capital and principal port of the protectorate.

The British said that one of the bombers was damaged and that there were no casualties.

R. A. F. Bombs Hargeisa.

The Italians already have occupied Zeila, a small harbor 150 miles west of Berbera, near the French Somaliland frontier, and Hargeisa, native camel-breeding center on the mountain highway 100 miles from Berbera, and Oadweina, near Hargeisa.

The British said they bombed Hargeisa yesterday, hitting barracks and bungalows in which troops were believed quartered.

(The Italian communique today reported the capture of Hargeisa, which the British admitted had taken place Monday.)

The British South African [illegible] force operating from Kenya also bombed Elwak, a small frontier post in Italian East Africa.

The British were convinced, however, that the Italian Somaliland campaign was but a feint, intended to draw British attention to a sector some 2,000 miles from the main African offensive intended by the Italians—the not-as-yet-launched campaign in Northern Egypt to reach the Suez Canal.

Seapower Need Emphasized.

While the Italians may try to take Somaliland with the idea of consolidating a hold on the East African "horn" and the Red Sea, they cannot interrupt British communications along this "lifeline" without seapower, the British said.

The British believed that as long as the British Navy is dominant, Premier Mussolini's main objective must be Suez and ejection of the British from the Mediterranean.

Controlling Suez, they believed themselves in a position to starve out the Italian force in East Africa, which is without means of steady replenishment of men and supplies.

All Egypt was on the alert for this main offensive, which the British said several days ago is about ready and may not be delayed much beyond August 15.

Leaves Canceled.

Leaves of all officers and men were canceled by the police commandant "as a precautionary measure against emergencies."

Police were urged to keep a vigilant watch for "maintenance of public security and safeguarding of public security."

Egypt generally received calmly reports of heavy Italian troop movements on the Libyan-Egyptian border and of Italian plans to start an offensive in the western desert in an effort to crack British bases.

She is determined to keep out of war unless directly attacked by Italy, informed sources asserted, and is confident British forces are more than adequate to cope with any Italian threat.

Such was her confidence in the British and her desire to lessen the danger of being drawn into conflict with Italy that she withdrew her own well-equipped troops from along the Libyan frontier several [illegible] ago.

The country's unworried attitude in face of Italy's massing of troops was typified today in the fact that the Premier and members of his cabinet arranged to go to their country homes to spend the week end.

Adheres to Policy.

The government is adhering to its policy that Egypt will not declare war unless she is openly and directly attacked—that is, that her cities are bombed and her territory invaded.

Egypt has taken the position that Italian air raids on Alexandria and other British bases within her territory are not attacks against this country, but against the British.

Egypt and Britain have an alliance, but it is purely defensive, not requiring Egypt to fight alongside the British. Under the alliance, however, Egypt is giving every supply and communication facility to aid the British.

Whether hostilities with Italy also would bring a declaration of war against Germany was a matter of speculation, but was regarded by observers as a natural development.

Relations With Axis Severed.

Egypt severed diplomatic relations with Germany after the war started last fall and took similar action against Italy when she entered the conflict in June.

Recently there has been a steady stream of anti-Italian statements from high officials of the Egyptian government declaring an Italian victory would mean the ruin of Egypt and that the nation must stand by the British.

Bahideine Barakat Pasha, former president of the Chamber of Deputies, in a statement published today, declared that "the real interest of Egypt is that England win this war."

He asserted Egypt's independence would vanish and she would become a mere cog in the Roman Empire should Italy conquer.

READY TO JOIN FORCES WITH GREAT BRITAIN

'Desert Terrible Enemy,' Press Choruses Warning To Duce's Legions

200,000 Men Being Hurriedly Trained, Army Commandant Says

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 9 (Via Radio)—The German wireless reported tonight from La Linea, Spain, that a bombing plane of unidentified nationality had bombarded the Rock of Gibraltar and British warships anchored in the port last night. It added that the extent of damage was not known.

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 9—Egypt, a neutral thus far in the developing desert war of the Near East, prepared tonight to join forces with the outnumbered British at the moment Italy's African armies make their expected attack upon this ancient land.

The nation's press chorused this warning to Premier Mussolini's armies:

"The desert is a terrible enemy! It is the tomb f those who traverse it!"

An Italian invasion, the newspapers added, would end as did the first Napoleon's costly retreat on the plains of Russia.

200,000 Men In Training

Abdel Rahman Azzam Bey, commandant of Egypt's territorial army, declared in a speech that "any aggressive action against Egypt will cost the invader very dear," and disclosed that 200,000 men were being hurriedly trained.

Egypt is tied to Britain by a purely defensive alliance which does not require her to fight alongside the British. However, Egypt has given Britain supply and communication aids, has broken off diplomatic relations with both Germany and Italy and has warned Italy that she would fight if she is invaded or her cities are bombed.

Italians As Fighters Discounted

The newspaper Balagh remarked that while the Italian forces were estimated to be ten times superior to the British in numbers, their fighting ability was not impressive.

As to rumors that there are as many as 120,000 German troops among the Italians in Libya, the paper said these forces were "technical and official" and "more symbolic than effective."

Here and elsewhere in Egypt specially-trained policemen are standing by to cope with any Italian attempt to emulate the Germans and land parachute troops.

British Claim Big Air Victory

An overwhelming victory in the biggest air battle yet fought in the Near East was claimed by the British as they calmly watched the maneuvers of Italian troops in British Somaliland, adopting the attitude of "wait and see."

This aerial engagement was fought yesterday—military news travels but slowly in these hot wastes—over Italian Libya, and fifteen Italian planes were declared by the British to have been sent down in flames.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—The Italian version was that five British planes and two Italian planes were shot down and that the Italian fighters were outnumbered twenty-seven to sixteen.]

The British asserted that their own formation was outnumbered two to one, but that nevertheless only two British aircraft were lost.

Blasting Italian Supply Bases

The British are sending their planes out regularly to blast at supply bases of the anticipated offensive into Egypt.

Far to the southeast, in British Somaliland, the Italians—who already had occupied Zeila, Hargeisa and Oadweina—called a brief halt in their drive toward the important port of Berbera and then moved on again.

A British communique announcing that the Italians were advancing told also of new Italian air raids at Gebeit in the Sudan, where it was said "a few civilians" were slightly injured, and in the western desert on the British Egyptian base at Mersa Matruh. There was no damage at Mersa Matruh.

30,24-4245

30.24—4245

Berbera Raids "Ineffective"

Two "entirely ineffective" air raids on Berbera also were reported.

Berbera is about 150 miles across the Gulf of Aden from the British protectorate of Aden, and is strategically important in the Italian effort to interrupt British Red Sea communications.

Moves in the Somaliland front merely convinced the British command here that the Italian purpose was to divert attention from the expected main thrust at Egypt.

British Warships Bombed.

LONDON, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Italian airplanes bombed British warships in the Gulf of Aden yesterday, but caused no damage, the Admiralty announced tonight.

A British naval plane attacked and damaged Italian military headquarters at Zeila, in British Somaliland, the communique added.

The communique read:

"Early yesterday morning a Walrus aircraft of the fleet air arm operating from H. M. Australian cruiser Hobart carried out dive bombing tactics on the Italian military headquarters recently set up at Zeila, in Somaliland, which were dameged.

"The Walrus aircraft also machine-gunned military targets, damaging lorries and staff cars and causing casualties to Italian military personnel. The Walrus then returned undamaged to its ship.

"Italian aircraft yesterday made bombing attacks on our warships in the Gulf of Aden. The Italian aircraft flew high and no damage or casualties were caused by their bombs."

Italians Claim Victory.

ROME, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—The Italian High Command claimed today a victory for its air force in a fierce air battle over the Libyan-Egyptian frontier. It said that five British planes were shot down to two of the Italians, although the latter were outnumbered by sixteen to twenty-seven.

The high command also announced that Italian troops, spreading their occupation of British Somaliland, had taken the town of Hargeisa, in the southwestern part of the protectorate about thirty-five miles from the border of Ethiopia.

[The capture of Hargeisa, the port of Zeila and the town of Oadweina by the Italians was acknowledged by the British on Wednesday. They reported that Hargeisa and Zeila had been taken on Monday and Oadweina on Tuesday.]

Liveliest Battle So Far.

Stefani, the Italian official news agency, said that the British air squadron which the Italians fought yesterday on the Libyan frontier "was evidently intended to support some offensive action planned against our forces."

The agency indicated that the Italian planes were escorting troop movements, saying that they were engaged in "usual scouting flights and protective cruising."

The air battle, Stefani said, was the liveliest thus far, adding that each Italian plane was kept busy fighting speedy British Gloster Gladiators, five of which were shot down in flames.

The pilot of one Italian plane, Stefani said, bailed out and dropped safely behind his own lines when his plane crashed.

MORE CIVILIANS QUIT THE GIBRALTAR REGION

War Zone Redefined There to Include French North Africa

ALGECIRAS, Spain, Aug. 9 (AP)—Algiers, Tunisia and French Morocco as well as the unoccupied French territory in France will be regarded by Britain as war zones, a communique in the Gibraltar Official Gazette said today.

An order was issued for 1,200 more civilians to leave Gibraltar by tomorrow.

A quantity of shrapnel from anti-aircraft guns at Gibraltar has fallen in Algeciras, but no injuries have been reported.

Texts of Day's War Communiques

British

LONDON, Aug 9 (AP)—An Air Ministry communiqué today stated:

Fuller reports of yesterday's actions over the Channel show that sixty enemy aircraft in all were destroyed and many others damaged. As already announced, sixteen of our fighters were lost, but three of the pilots now are reported to be safe, two being wounded.

The Air Ministry and the Ministry of Home Security issued the following communiqué:

Shortly before midday a single enemy aircraft crossed the northeast coast of England and dropped a number of high explosive bombs.

Damage was done to houses and industrial property in a coastal town and there were a number of casualties, one of which was fatal. Anti-aircraft guns and Royal Air Force fighters engaged the enemy bomber and shot it down into the sea.

Later the Air Ministry announced:

Bomber command aircraft made daylight attacks yesterday on the airdromes of Schipol [near Amsterdam] and Valkerburg near Maastricht [the Netherlands]. One of the aircraft did not return.

Aircraft of the coastal command on patrol off Le Havre yesterday afternoon shot down an enemy twin-engined fighter in flames.

Among the military objectives in Germany bombed last night were the Hamburg docks and the supply depots at Hamm, Soest and Cologne and several enemy airdromes. One of the aircraft is missing.

Mine-laying by our aircraft in enemy harbors and estuaries, which is a regular feature of our night operations, continues to cause serious damage to enemy shipping and to dislocate his coastal traffic.

A communiqué issued by the Admiralty stated:

Early yesterday morning a Walrus aircraft of the fleet air arm operating from H. M. Australian cruiser Hobart carried out dive-bombing attacks on the Italian military headquarters recently set up at Zeila, in Somaliland, which were damaged.

The Walrus aircraft also machine-gunned military targets, damaging lorries and staff cars and causing casualties to Italian military personnel. The Walrus then returned undamaged to its ship.

Italian aircraft yesterday made bombing attacks on our warships in the Gulf of Aden. The Italian aircraft flew high and no damage or casualties were caused by their bombs.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 9 (AP)—A Royal Air Force communiqué today said:

The biggest aerial battle so far fought in Libya between fighter aircraft took place yesterday when a formation of Gladiators engaged a much larger force of Italian Cr.32s and 42s.

Although outnumbered more than two to one, the Gladiators engaged the enemy and pressed home their attack with such determination that fifteen Italian aircraft were destroyed. Two of our aircraft so far have failed to return to their bases. This air battle took place some distance west of Sidi Omar.

Berbera was raided yesterday by three Cr.42s and later by a small formation of enemy bombers. It was reported that one of the bombers was damaged by ground defense fire. There were no British casualties.

On Aug. 7 our bombers attacked Hargeisa. Hits were registered on barracks and bungalows believed to contain troops. The frontier post of ElWak was raided by bombers of the South African Air Force.

A British Army communiqué stated:

Western Desert: Matruh was raided yesterday by one enemy aircraft, causing no damage or casualties. All areas very quiet.

Sudan: On Aug. 7 slight damage was done by enemy aircraft at Gebeit. A few civilians were slightly injured.

Somaliland: Enemy columns from Hergeisa and Oadweina are reported to be advancing northward. Patrols along the coast between Berbera and Zeila report the situation normal. There were two entirely ineffective air raids on Berbera.

Palestine and Kenya: Nothing to report.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP)—Today's German High Command communiqué follows:

As already announced, our speedboats attacked a strongly armed convoy the night of Aug. 7. In spite of determined resistance by the accompanying enemy destroyers and by other guarding ships and the heavily armed ships themselves, we succeeded in sinking one tanker of 8,000 tons, one steamer of 5,000 tons and one steamer of 4,000 tons. A smaller tank ship was set afire. Our speedboats returned safely.

On Aug. 8 German diving and fighting units, protected by pursuit and destroyer airplanes, attacked south of the Isle of Wight a British convoy which was heavily protected by air and naval forces.

As already announced, twelve merchant ships of a total of 55,000 tons were sunk, and seven more merchant ships were heavily damaged. The total number of British vessels sunk or heavily damaged yesterday by the German Air Force was twenty-eight.

Off Dover our Messerschmitt airplanes destroyed twelve enemy barrier balloons.

In the course of the German air attacks big air battles developed in which, altogether, forty-nine British airplanes were shot down near the Isle of Wight and off Dover by our pursuit and destroyer airplanes, including thirty-three of the Spitfire type. Ten of our own planes were lost, while two had to make forced landangs.

In the course of the night our fighting airplanes attacked airplane industrial plants around Liverpool and Bristol, as well as harbors, airdromes and anti-aircraft positions in South England.

We were able to continue the laying of mines by airplanes off British ports according to plan.

In the course of last night British raiders entered Germany at different points. Some of these enemy airplanes were forced to return by our strong defense, or prevented from dropping their bombs.

Isolated bombs caused immaterial damage to buildings and fields. Civilians were injured in a small village in a frontier district. Two enemy airplanes were shot down by anti-aircraft artillery.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 9 (AP)—The text of today's Italian High Command communiqué:

In North Africa, on the Cyrenaican [Egyptian-Libyan] border, sixteen of our fighting planes engaged in furious combat against twenty-seven British planes. Although outnumbered, our brave pilots succeeded in shooting down five enemy planes. Two of ours failed to return to their base.

In British Somaliland our troops occupied Hargeisa.

Rumanian Shift

By Ed Kennedy

[By the Associated Press]

Bucharest, Rumania, Aug. 9—A proposal for "definite separation" of the Rumanian and Hungarian peoples was Rumania's answer today to Hungarian demands for three-fourths of the province of Transylvania.

The plan would involve vast transfers of people, but only a small cession of territory by Rumania to Hungary, as outlined in a broadcast last night by Premier Ion Gigurtu.

Axis Makes Demands

The Premier said Rumania, which already has ceded Bessarabia and Northern Bucovina to Russia, had been called on by the Rome-Berlin axis to make further sacrifices in order to preserve peace in southeastern Europe, and was ready to do so.

Cites Figures As Proof

But he made it clear the country was not ready to yield to Hungary's present demands for the lion's share of Transylvania, which Rumania gained through the World War breakup of the Austro-Hungarian Empire.

In declaring the territory ceded to Hungary need only be very small, Gigurtu cited the following figures:

That in the 22,312 square miles of Transylvania there are only 1,800,000 Hungarian, compared to 3,700,000 Rumanians, while there are 50,000 to 80,000 Rumanians in Hungary.

The Premier declared Rumania in her own interests was following wholeheartedly a pro-German and pro-Italian policy.

Country Would Benefit

In making the sacrifices requested by Rome and Berlin, he said, Rumania would gain a more homogenous country and benefits through collaboration with the Axis powers. Through this "salvation policy," he asserted, Rumania would be saved from "the evils of Judaism."

Gigurtu expressed confidence negotiations with Bulgaria over the southern Dobruja would be concluded, though he advised Bulgaria also to be moderate in her claims as the best way to preserve a lasting peace. Simultaneously, however, there were reports of delay in the start of negotiations expected to begin this week at Craiova.

Negotiations Starting Soon

CRAIOVA, Rumania, Aug. 9 (AP).—Official quarters said today Rumanian-Bulgarian negotiations for the cession of Dobrusja to Bulgaria would begin this week end in King Carol's country palace at Segarcea, a village twenty miles from here.

AUG 10 1940

Berlin Calls for Action

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP)—The German radio quoted tonight an authoritative admonition to Southeastern European countries, but clearly addressed to Rumania, to talk less and act more quickly in territorial revisions.

The article to be published tomorrow in the periodical Southeast Echo and described as emanating from an authoritative German source said public agitation in the affected countries—Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary—was useless. Such tactics, it said, certainly would not impress Germany.

AUG 10 1940

Red Grab In Rumania Meets Germany's Needs

Wheat, Barley And Rye Crops Removed From Easy Reach Of Nazis By Move

Bucharest, Saturday, Aug. 10 (AP)—Wheat, barley and rye crops, large enough to cover virtually all of Germany's import needs, were removed from the Nazis' easy reach by Soviet Russia's grab of the Rumanian provinces of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina, the Rumanian Institute of Business Research disclosed today in a statistical survey.

The Russian territorial haul more than wipes out Rumania's usual export surpluses of those three grains, as well as of corn, with which Rumania ordinarily could supply half the German needs, the institute disclosed.

The institute's figures gave the nation's crop loss from the Russian move as thirty-five per cent. of the nation's wheat, thirty-eight per cent. of barley, fifty-three per cent. of rye and twenty-three per cent. of corn.

(Simultaneously with this report, the German press asserted that harvest prospects in Germany assured an adequate winter food supply for Germany and that Balkan crops "hiw "while not record breakers," are more than sufficient to feed southeast Europe.)

To Renew Italy-Spain Rail Link

La Junquera, Spain, Aug. 9 (AP)—Road and railroad communication between Italy and Spain will be renewed tomorrow across France, it was reported tonight at this border town.

AUG 10 1940

ITALY STUDIES BLASTS

42 Dead in Explosions at Two Arms Plants.

ROME, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Italian officials went to two provincial towns today to investigate the causes of munitions plant explosions which took a total of forty-two lives and injured several hundred persons.

Two blasts which shook the Tiatenza munitions factory near Genoa killed thirty-nine workers and injured hundreds of others, seriously damaging nearby barracks and shattering windows in many houses.

Later an explosion in the percussion cap department of a munitions plant at Lecco, on Lake Como, at the Swiss frontier, killed three persons and injured six.

LITHUANIANS DEFY SOVIET IN BERLIN

Legation Officials Refuse to Hand Over Premises on 'People's Mandate'

AMERICANS FLEE KAUNAS

They Report That Sovietization of Former Baltic State Is Proceeding at Rapid Pace

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP)—Russian officials who sought to take over the Lithuanian legation were turned away by the Lithuanians today, despite the fact that Lithuania has been incorporated into the Soviet Union.

The Russians protested and expostulated, speaking first cajolingly and then sharply, it was said, but it did no good. Eventually they retreated to their own embassy, leaving Lithuanian Minister Kazys Skirpa (the Russians call him the ex-minister) firmly intrenched at least until morning.

Mr. Skirpa refused to see his Russian callers who came up in a big black diplomatic car this afternoon. They were met by First Secretary Stasys Kuzminskas. They asked him to surrender the legation. Mr. Kuzminskas demanded to know in whose authority the request was made.

"By the authority of the Lithuanian people, who have spoken in a solemn referendum," the Russian spokesman replied.

The First Secretary said no credible information had been received to that effect and that he did not think it worth disturbing his Minister with such a matter.

German spokesmen chuckled but had no comment.

At the Latvian and Estonian legations, minor officials permitted the Russians to take charge.

Rome Legations Taken Over

ROME, Aug. 9 (AP)—Diplomatic circles heard tonight that Russia had taken control of the Latvian, Estonian and Lithuanian legations with the consent of the Italian Government, which thus tacitly recognized Russian absorption of the three Baltic States.

Status of Baltic Envoys To Holy See Is in Doubt

Russian Embassy Displaces 3 Accredited to Rome

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 9 (AP).—The question of the status of diplomats accredited to the Holy See from the three Baltic countries recently absorbed by Soviet Russia was raised today in foreign circles after Pope Pius XII received Stanislav Girdvainis, Lithuanian Minister to the Holy See, in private audience.

At the same time, the Soviet Russian Embassy to Italy took over diplomatic representation at Rome of Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania.

A diplomatic source said the Baltic Ministers to Italy had refused to recognize Russia's incorporation of their countries in the Soviet Union.

It was not ascertained whether diplomats to the Holy See would take the same attitude and continue to be recognized by the Vatican.

Britons Urged to Quit Listening to Haw Haw

Nazi Lies Like Parachutists, Government Warns

LONDON, Aug. 9 (AP).—The Ministry of Information is trying to persuade Britons that Lord Haw Haw, Germany's top-flight English language propaganda broadcaster, isn't worth listening to.

One ministry advertisement gives this answer to the question of "What do I do if I come across German or Italian broadcasts when tuning my wireless?":

"I say to myself, 'Now this blighter wants me to listen to him. Am I going to do what he wants?' I remember that German lies over the air are like parachute troops dropping down on Britain—they are all part of a plan to get us down—which they won't.

"I remember nobody can trust a word Haw Haw says. So, just to make them waste their time, I switch 'em off or tune 'em out!"

BRITISH SEE COTTON LOSS

London, Aug. 9 (AP)—Financial circles declared today that the Government's purchase of the entire 1940 Egyptian cotton crop probably would result in a net loss, although the British and Egyptian Governments made a profit on a similar deal during the World War.

R. A. Butler, Under Secretary for foreign affairs, said in announcing the deal earlier this week that Britain would bear the whole of any loss but would share any profits equally with the Egyptian Government.

The crop, of 1,600,000 bales (800,000,000 pounds) is to be bought at prices of about 14.25 to 15.25 cents a pound.

During the World War both France and Italy, as British allies, were large consumers and the Mediterranean was open to traffic. India, Japan and some Balkan countries are expected to be the principal consumers this time.

+08 ROME AUG 9 — RX STATES.

INFORMANTS SAID SECRETARIES SURRENDERED THE LITHUANIAN AND ESTONIAN LEGATIONS TO SOVIET AMBASSADOR NIKOLAI GORELCHIN AFTER THE MINISTERS REFUSED TO ACCEDE TO THE RUSSIAN DEMANDS.

THE QUESTION OF THE STATUS OF BALTIC DIPLOMATS ACCREDITED TO VATICAN WAS RAISED IN FOREIGN CIRCLES AFTER POPE PIUS XII RECEIVED STANISLAV GIRDVAINIS, LITHUANIAN MINISTER TO THE HOLY SEE, IN PRIVATE AUDIENCE.

AUG 10 1940

A DIPLOMATIC SOURCE SAID VATICAN AUTHORITIES TOOK UNDER CONSIDERATION HIS REQUEST FOR CONTINUED RECOGNITION.

THE LATVIAN AND ESTONIAN LEGATIONS TO THE VATICAN HAVE BEEN ONLY NOMINAL FOR SOME TIME.

RQ737PED

African Tribes Add To Britain's War Chest

LONDON, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Word having spread to the far corners of the British Empire that the Great White King needs help in his war against Germany, gifts have arrived from African tribesmen and Pacific islanders to swell Great Britain's war chest.

They included fifty live turtles and 1,680 cases of rum.

Northern Ireland Bars Strikes

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Aug 9 (AP).—An order banning strikes and lockouts in Northern Ireland for the duration of the war was issued today by John Gordon, Labor Minister. An arbitration tribunal will be the final court of appeal if negotiations are deadlocked. The order is similar to one in force in Great Britain.

30,24-4247

30.24-4247

CLASS IDEA BARRED BY FRENCH LABOR

Defense of Nation Replaces Principle of Struggle.

VICHY, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—"Defense of the nation's interests" has replaced the former principle of class struggle as the cardinal policy of the French General Confederation of Labor.

Accounts of its recent meeting at Toulouse said that Leon Jouhaux, who as secretary-general of the organization was France's labor chief, had announced his intention to retire. The confederation, these accounts said, is now directed by four of his former assistants.

In its statutes the article proclaiming the necessity of the class struggle has been replaced by one stating that work cannot be considered merchandise and that wages cannot be fixed apart from all control simply for the benefit of the employee. The wording indicated that some kind of central control and liaison agency will be needed in place of the old methods which involved direct negotiation between capital and labor.

This appears to be in line with reported plans to organize a corporative system in France under which the State would be the arbiter.

War Fund Allotted

VICHY, Aug. 9 (AP).—A decree allotting 1,005,179,000 francs for additional military expenses during the third quarter of 1940 was published in the official journal today. The regular budget for 1940 already had authorized the government to spend 249,111,000,000 francs for war expenditures during the year.

[The franc is not quoted on international exchanges now. From the first of this year until the capitulation of France to Germany, its value ranged between $.0173 and $.0227.]

Most of the new allotment, 883,000,000 francs, is for the air force. A published tabulation indicated there were heavy bills left over from the war period still to be paid, one being of 400,000,000 francs for fuel and similar expenses.

An additional credit of 436,000,000 francs also has been opened for payment of accumulated bills for powder used during the war.

A treasury bond issue has been authorized to cover these expenses.

An office of foreign commerce has been established and attached the Ministry of Finance, charged with planning importation and exportation, granting licenses and keeping accounts.

French Air Force Lost 29 P. C. in 46 Days

VICHY, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—The French Air Force lost 29 per cent of its effectiveness in the forty-six days of the German western offensive, it was stated today by Le Petit Parisien.

The paper said that the German air material had been distinctly superior in quality to the French until the arrival of the American-made Curtiss pursuit planes.

French pilots generally fought against German flyers in the ratio of one to ten, it added.

PRISONERS' NEEDS NOTED

Camps in Nazi-Held France Are Short of Food and Medical Aid

VICHY, France, Aug. 9 (AP)—French war prisoners of Germany, 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 of whom are held in German-occupied France, are badly in need of food and medical attention, Richard Allen, European delegate of the American Red Cross, reported today after a tour of the twenty-eight prison camps.

Mr. Allen, after conferring here with the American Chargé D'Affaires, Robert D. Murphy, prepared to go to Geneva for negotiations to alleviate the prisoners' condition.

Mr. Allen reported the prisoners had a poor quality of bread and soup, a few vegetables, and meat once a week, when it could be obtained.

No medical supplies were available, he said, although one camp had a severe influenza epidemic and dysentery was appearing in many others.

Chautemps Faces Trial

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP via Radio).—Former French Premier Camille Chautemps will be taken before the Riom "war guilt" tribunal, the German radio reported today from Vichy. It said that Chautemps, who had been assigned to a diplomatic mission in South America for the Petain government, had been told to await the outcome of investigations concerning him.

Political circles, the radio said, believe that Chautemps, Vice Premier in the war cabinet of Paul Reynaud, sided with opponents of capitulation when France was on the verge of defeat by Germany.

French Press Warns Nazi Invasion Is Imminent

Vichy, France, Aug. 9 (AP)—The controlled French press concluded today that a mass German attack upon Britain was imminent. Telephone service to Switzerland from that part of France not occupied by German soldiers has been suspended since yesterday.

The newspaper Le Temps, now published in nearby Clermont-Ferrand, says German preparations on the French and Belgian coasts indicate an embarkment of troops for England will be attempted—if not at once, at least after airplanes have cleared the way.

Le Petit Parisien, in an account of the trip of one of its representatives through occupied France, says that train service has been reestablished from Paris to the Maginot Line area, but that it takes forty-eight hours to go from Paris to Nancy, where it previously took six.

NAZIS MOVING FAST IN ALSACE

Re-Germanizing Process Is Swiftly Advanced

LORRAINE ALSO TRANSFORMED

Both Provinces Already a Part of Reich's Postal System.

By CHARLES FOLTZ

BASLE, Switzerland, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—The German Army of Occupation and the Nazi civilian officials in Alsace-Lorraine are rapidly putting the finishing touches to the re-Germanization of the two provinces which apparently await only the stroke of a pen on a peace treaty to make them once more officially part of the German Reich.

The Nazis are proceeding thoroughly in their transformation of the area won for Germany by Chancellor Bismarck, lost by Kaiser Wilhelm in the world war and now won again by Adolf Hitler.

Berlin reported only this week that Hitler had turned over the entire civil administration of the provinces, hitherto in military hands, to civilian officials.

In German Postal System.

Alsace and Lorraine have been incorporated, respectively, into the Baden and Saar postal systems. An ordinary German stamp is being used instead of the surcharged type introduced in German-occupied Poland or the French stamps used in other Nazi-occupied areas of France.

French is no longer recognized as the official language of the two provinces, where it formerly shared a place with the prevailing German in the law courts under French rule

Last night German soldiers removed the signs on Wildemann strasse, one of the main thoroughfares of Mulhouse, and put up new signs naming it Adolf Hitler street.

Editorial Similarity Crops Up.

In Metz, the picturesque Esplanade has been renamed Platz of Der Fuehrer. Mulhouse's Neuquartierplatz now is Reichsmarshal Goering Platz.

Name-changing is also extending to side streets, where the first signs to go are those on streets named after French generals of the Franco-Prussian and the world wars.

German newspapers in Strasbourg and Mulhouse recently carried similar editorials discussing "the future of Alsace within the German Reich."

The German authorities of both provinces are enforcing regulations aimed at keeping food prices at the level prevailing in the days before the German entrance in mid-June.

No Crops Till 1941.

Although many townfolk have returned to homes abandoned during the blitzkrieg, few farmers have come back and many are idle. New crops cannot be expected before 1941, since the fields have not been sown and are overrun with weeds.

Food shortage have been reported in Strasbourg, Mulhouse and Colmar and in smaller towns and villages, where German welfare organizations have opened food distribution centers supplied from Baden.

The dark brown uniforms of the German labor organization are now far more numerous in these provinces than the field gray army uniforms.

Germans, aided by French prisoners of war who volunteered to aid in reconstruction rather than remain in prison camps, are rebuilding roads, bridges, canals, railroads, power plants and even farmhouses throughout the battle areas.

Youngest Grandson Of Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm Interned By British

London, Saturday, Aug. 10 (AP)—Prince Frederick of Prussia, 29, youngest grandson of former Kaiser Wilhelm and a leading socialite in London before war broke out last September, has been interned under the aliens order, it was disclosed today.

Home Secretary Sir John Anderson told the House of Commons last February that Prince Frederick had been exempted from internment.

It is understood he has been sent to the Isle of Man.

The information was attributed to a Yugoslav newspaper.

The steamer, said the wireless, was en route from Baltimore to Durban, South Africa, adding:

"It had contraband cargo for the British on board, according to this report."

In Baltimore Five Days

Officials of the William H. Masson firm, Baltimore brokers who represented the Rad's owners here, said last night that no Baltimoreans were listed in the crew. Several men had been signed on when the ship sailed from here on July 13, but they were described as "foreigners."

The freighter was in Baltimore for five days and was tied up at the Pennsylvania Railroad pier at Canton. It sailed from here with a full cargo of fertilizer for Durban, South Africa.

The local representatives did not know the value of the cargo or the boat. The Rad was commanded by Capt. I. Franceschi and carried a crew of about thirty-five men.

British Troops Quit Shanghai

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 9—The war office announced today that "British troops at present stationed in Shanghai and in North China are being withdrawn for service elsewhere."

Freighter Out Of Baltimore Is Sunk By Sub Off Africa

Yugoslav Steamer Left Here July 13 With Fertilizer, But Nazis Call It "Contraband"

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 9 (via Radio)—The German wireless reported tonight from Belgrade that the 4,201-ton Yugoslav freigher Rad had been sunk by an unidentified submarine off the west coast of Africa.

Authoritative sources said the United States Government had been kept informed of Britain's intentions to withdraw the troops and Japan also had been notified.

(The United States has about 1,650 marines in China, in addition to naval units of the Asiatic fleet in Chinese waters. The marines are centered in Shanghai, with small detachments in Peiping and Tientsin.

(The Fourteenth Army Infantry, comprising 808 officers and men, was withdrawn from Tientsin more than two years ago, leaving only the marine forces to carry out what the State Department described as a "solely protective" mission.)

1,500 Troops Affected

These sources said the total number of troops affected was about 1,500, and that protection of British interests would be left to the International police force commanded by the municipal council which governs the Shanghai International Settlement.

No replacements for the British troops was planned. it was reported.

While the destination of the men was not given, it was considered unlikely they would be taken from the Far East. (Shanghai reports suggested Hongkong or Singapore as the destination.)

The troops in Shanghai consist of the Second Battalion of the East Surrey Regiment, the First Battalion of the Seaforth Highlanders and several platoons left behind when British soldiers were removed from North China. One company also is stationed at Tientsin.

Informed British said the question of shifting the British forces had been under consideration since before the start of the European war. They declined to comment when asked if the move now had any connection with the British-Japanese crisis, adding only:

"This step arises from the fact that Britain is at war."

The original purpose of keeping troops in China under the International Protocol of 1901, official spokesmen explained, was to protect British lives and property from banditry and Chinese violence.

They added that, with the development of the Sino-Japanese war, any practical reason for the existence of these troops disappeared and the Government had decided that "so useful a force" could be employed to better advantage elsewhere.

WITHDRAWAL BY BRITISH TO SHIFT CONTROL

Authority In Settlement Will Go To Tokyo By Military Seniority

American Officials Refuse To Discuss Possible Developments

AUG 10 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Shanghai, Aug. 9—Withdrawal of British troops from Chinese soil, announced today, will leave Shanghai's international defense forces, including about 1,000 United States Marines, under the formal command of a Japanese rear admiral.

American authorities refused to discuss possible developments.

Theoretically, at least, Rear Admiral Moriji Takeda, commander of the Japanese bluejacket garrison, could station his men in the British defense sector of the International Settlement.

This includes the important central district of the Settlement and the residential "extra-settlement" western area, where thousands of foreigners live, including Americans.

Marines Formally Under Him

In a formal sense, at least, as matters now stand, Takeda would direct the disposition of the armed forces, including the Fourth Regiment of the United States Marines, as ranking officer of those left in representation of foreign powers interested in the complex Shanghai community.

The British had preserved this command by posting a major-general, Frank Simons, but he will go with the British troops being moved to Hongkong or Singapore in accordance with British defense needs—as the move was explained both here and in London.

The American Marine commander is Col. DeWitt Peck.

A Japanese Embassy spokesman said the Japanese were "very pleased" over the British decision to withdraw.

He recalled that Japan had "suggested" that the forces of all belligerent powers be removed from China in order to prevent danger of clashes there and said he expected other belligerents would follow Britain's example.

Left To Marines And Japanese

Besides the British, American and Japanese forces here, there is a French garrison in the French Concession and a small Italian marine unit, but the French now are considered non-belligerents.

Moreover, they take no part in patrolling the International Settlement. Hence, the British withdrawal will leave the American marines and Japanese bluejackets, between whom friction has arisen frequently in the past, the only important elements of the Shanghai defense forces.

At the time of the "suggestion" that belligerent troops leave China the Japanese sent a copy of their memorandum to American officials, but said it was for "information only." Although Americans believe the Japanese would be glad to see the American regiment here and the small detachments at Peiping and Tientsin removed they have not yet given official notice of such a desire.

About 1,500 British Affected

The total number of British troops affected by the order is about 1,500.

Protection of British interests here will be left to small British naval units and to the police of the International Settlement, as well as the remaining units of the defense force.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—Informed quarters in London said the question of shifting the British Far Eastern forces had been under consideration since before the start of the European war. They declined comment on its possible connection with the British-Japanese crisis.]

Typical of the disorder confronting the international forces in Shanghai was the assassination today of Ma Youfeng, described as a lieutenant of Wang Ching-wei, head of the Japanese-dominated Nanking regime. He was shot in the International Settlement and his assassin escaped.

Japanese In Command

AUG 10 1940

Shanghai, Aug. 9 (AP)—The impending withdrawal of British Army forces from Shanghai will make a Japanese admiral the commanding officer of the Shanghai defense forces, which include the Fourth Regiment of United States Marines.

Command of these forces, representing the chief foreign powers interested in the complex Shanghai community, goes to the ranking officer present. Britain has consistently kept a major-general in Shanghai at the head of her small force to ensure her the command.

Major General Goes

But with Maj. Gen. Frank Simons gone the senior will be Rear Admiral Moriji Takeda, commanding the Japanese naval garrison. The American Marine commander is Col. Dewitt Peck.

In theory, at least, Takeda could station Japanese bluejackets in the important central area of the International Settlement now patroled by the British, and in the western residential area, where thousands of foreigners live, including Americans.

The announcement by British military authorities that "British troops at present stationed in Shanghai and North China are being withdrawn for service elsewhere" means 10,000 British subjects and British investments estimated at £200,000,000 (approximately $800,000,000) will be left with British navy units as their only direct protection in event of an emergency.

British quarters refused to amplify the statement or give any hint as to the date of the withdrawal or the destination of the troops affected.

Japanese Are Pleased

A spokesman for the Japanese Embassy said the Japanese were "very pleased" to hear of the British decision. He recalled the Tokyo Government's request to the European belligerents to withdraw their forces from China, and said he expected the other powers would follow Britain's example.

Semi-official French quarters, however, said French troops in Shanghai would not be withdrawn.

British troops made their first appearance in Shanghai in June, 1842, when a force of 2,000 men marched into the city after shelling and occupying the Woosung forts in a drive from the sea.

The contemplated withdrawal will leave no British troops on Chinese soil. But the largest number ever to be concentrated at Hongkong now are stationed at that British crown colony.

Reports of the withdrawal from Shanghai emphasized that defense needs motivated the order rather than compliance with repeated urgings of the Japanese-inspired Nanking Government for withdrawal of all non-Japanese foreign forces from Shanghai.

In addition to the British force of seventy officers and 1,500 men, foreign garrisons in Shanghai to protect Western interests include American forces of fifty officers and 1,000 men, French forces of forty officers and 2,000 men, and an Italian detachment of five officers and twenty men.

Singapore is Great Britain's great naval base in the Far East. The British Crown Colony of Hongkong has embarked upon thorough defense precautions, including the removal of women and children, as the Japanese forces in China established themselves on Hongkong's border and Japan increased her pressure for concessions from the British in the Orient.

British Move Viewed As Goodwill Gesture

Tokyo, Saturday, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Japanese press displayed heavily today the news that Britain is withdrawing her troops from China, generally interpreting this as another move attempting a rapprochement with Japan on the eve of the "battle for Britain."

Yosuke Matsuoka, Foreign Minister, was quoted in an interview in the newspaper Hochi as cautioning against anti-British demonstrations as a result of the current espionage cases, saying that retaliation was not the only British motive for arresting Japanese in Britain. He declined to amplify his remark.

AUG 10 1940

U. S. Position Unchanged By British Withdrawal

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—The United States adhered to its own position in China tonight despite the withdrawal of British troops from the northern part of that country.

At the same time it appeared that this country was sticking to its new embargo on exports of aviation gasoline in the face of Japanese objections.

The fluid is vital to its war machine, and Japan filed objections to the embargo in a note delivered here last Saturday. Today Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of State, handed a reply to the Japanese Ambassador, Kensuke Horinouchi. While the contents were not made public, informed quarters considered it unlikely that it promised any modification of the embargo.

U. S. Position Unaffected

Welles said the withdrawal of British forces from China would have no effect whatever on the American position at this time.

The United States keeps about 1,650 marines in China, most of them at Shanghai, for the protection of American interests and nationals. American forces have been maintained in some parts of China since the Boxer uprising at the turn of the century. In addition, American naval vessels have been stationed in Chinese waters for a century.

Japanese requests for withdrawal of all foreign military forces from China since the European war began have gone unheeded by the United States.

Welles said any question of enlarging the American patrol areas upon the departure of the British probably would be worked out for the time being, at least, by the American military authorities in China. He discounted reports that additional marines had been ordered from Honolulu to increase the China garrisons.

Tokio Group Wants War.

TOKIO, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Domei, the Japanese news agency, reported tonight that the small Rightest East Asia association Toa Kyokai had handed a petition to leading members of the Cabinet demanding an immediate declaration of war upon Great Britain because of the arrests of Japanese in London.

AUG 10 1940

Massing Near Indo-China

HONGKONG, Aug. 10 (Saturday) (AP).—The Reuter's (British) news agency reported today that Japanese warships and transports were arriving daily at Waichow, Hainan and other Japanese bases near French Indo-China.

AUG 10 1940

30,24-4249

30.24-4249

TOKYO--FIRST ADD PETITION X X X IN LONDON.

THE NEWSPAPER HOCHI AT THE SAME TIME REPORTED THAT 27 MEMBERS OF THE ROTARY CLUB AT SHIZUOKA HAD DECIDED UPON DISSOLUTION OF THE CLUB ON THE GROUNDS IT HAD BEEN PUBLICLY SUSPECTED OF ESPIONAGE.

(JAPANESE AND FOREIGN BUSINESS MEN MAKE UP THE ROTARY MEMBERSHIP IN JAPAN.)

AUG 10 1940

THE NEWSPAPER QUOTED SOMETARO SHEBA, GENERAL SECRETARY OF THE TOKYO ROTARY CLUB, AS SAYING THAT THE SYSTEM OF THE 47 ROTARY CLUBS IN JAPAN AND MANCHOUKUO WOULD BE REVISED AT A FORTHCOMING CONVENTION IN CONFORMITY WITH THE NEW NATIONAL STRUCTURE OF JAPAN AND THAT DISSOLUTION WOULD BE UNNECESSARY.

MT505PED

AUG 10 1940

Chungking, Aug. 10-(Sat)-(AP

The Central Daily News, official organ of the Chinese Government, declared today that China would take "adequate steps to back French Indo-China with force" if Japanese aggression undermines that colony's territorial or political integrity.

The declaration followed unofficial reports that China's Generalissimo, Chiang Kai-shek, had moved some of his best divisions to the support of the Yunnan and Kwangsi provincial troops near the Indo-China border.

Chinese-language papers featured reports that the Japanese were reinforcing heavily their units operating within Chinese territory adjacent to Indo-China, but a military spokesman said such Japanese troop movements did not necessarily foreshadow a Japanese offensive.

It was possible, he said, that the Japanese were sending back to the south the units which they withdrew early in the summer for Yangtze valley operations.

NANKING OFFICIAL SLAIN IN SHANGHAI

Terrorists Strike Blow in Foreign Area.

AUG 10 19

SHANGHAI, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Ma You-feng, described as a lieutenant of Wang Ching-wei, head of the Japanese-dominated Nanking regime, was shot to death tonight in the International Settlement by an assassin who escaped.

This was the first political killing in the Settlement since extra police measures against terrorism were adopted on August 6.

Windsors Full Of Enthusiasm Over Early Visit To New York

Duke Wants To See Sights After 16 Years—Duchess, Away 8, "Excited" At Being So Near Home

AUG 10 19

[By the Associated Press]

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 9—The Duke of Windsor, recalling that the Woolworth Building was the tallest building in New York on his last visit, said today he would go back soon with his American-born Duchess to see the sights.

Both the Duke and Duchess talked enthusiastically of their prospective visit to the United States, but they did not set the date. Presumably they will wait until after the Duke moves on to the Bahamas and gets acquainted with his new post as Governor there.

"The Duchess hasn't been to the United States for eight years and I haven't been for sixteen years, so it's certainly time we went," the Duke observed. "The last time I was there the Woolworth Building was the highest in New York—that rather dates me."

The Duchess said she was anxious to go back to see the homefolks and that she was "excited" at being so close to home as Bermuda, adding:

"You can imagine how thrilling it is."

The Duchess expressed keen anticipation at living in the Bahamas and laughingly put in a plug for the Caribbean winter playground by expressing the hope that a "great many Americans" would visit there.

The royal couple at their first interview since arriving yesterday aboard the American Export liner Excalibur, constantly switched the subject to American topics.

They sat together on a divan in the spacious living room of Government House, exchanging amused whispers while reporters plied them with questions.

With American informality, they swapped small talk, but steered clear of official topics. There was no hint when they might go to the Bahamas.

British censors, acting in accordance with wartime regulations, held for examination today 120 of the 700 bags of mail carried by the American Export liner Excalibur, which made a special stop to land the Duke and Duchess of Windsor here yesterday.

The mail will be forwarded to New York aboard a later vessel.

Dinner for Windsors.

Meanwhile, the royal couple, after spending their first night at Government House, planned a shopping trip in Hamilton this afternoon. Tonight they will be given a private dinner by the governor of this island colony, Maj. Gen. Denis Kirwan Bernard. The colonial secretary and the admiral commanding the Royal Navy's American and West Indies Squadron, Sir Charles Kennedy-Purvis, will be among the guests.

Before the Windsors go on to Nassau, where the Duke will be governor and commander in chief, he will inspect the troops garrisoned at Bermuda, a small part of which he reviewed yesterday during the reception at the Royal Yacht Club.

It was at this reception that social precedent was set by the governor's sister, Mrs. Hastings Brooke, and Admiral Purvis' wife, who curtsied to the Duke but greeted his American-born Duchess with friendly bows.

Automobile Attracts Attention.

Hamilton had three principal topics of conversation—the Duke's friendly, informal manner and youthful appearance, the Duchess' simplicity and the Duke's four-door sedan, which was put ashore from the Excalibur, together with a sports trailer and enough luggage to fill two trucks.

The sedan was an object of considerable curiosity. Many Bermudians, living on an island where fire engines and municipal service trucks are the only motor vehicles allowed, never had seen a passenger automobile.

"The Duchess hasn't been there for eight years and I haven't been for sixteen years, so it's certainly time we went," the Duke said in an interview while en route to his post as Governor of the Bahamas.

AUG 10 1940

"When I was last in the United States the Woolworth Building was the highest in New York—that rather dates me," the Duke commented.

The Duchess said she was "excited" at being so close to home.

"We hope a great many Americans come to the Bahamas," she said laughingly in talking of that American-favored resort.

She said she was especially eager to see her family.

Seizure Of U. S. Mail Fails To Bring Comment

Officials At Washington Appear Unperturbed At British Action In Bermuda

AUG 10 1940

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—Officials appeared unperturbed today by the removal of 120 bags of mail from the American Export liner Excalibur when it stopped at Hamilton, Bermuda, yesterday to land the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

While the British seizure and examination of American mail was a source of annoyance to the American Government earlier in the war, there was no indication that an issue would be made of this case.

Windsors Coming To U.S.

Soon, Too, Says Duke; Wife Hasn't Been Back For Eight Years

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor said today he and his American-born Duchess would visit the United States "soon."

Windsors Cause Boost In Tourists For Bahamas

Steamship Company Reports Increase Of 20 To 30 Per Cent.

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—Appointment of the Duke of Windsor as Governor of the Bahamas has boosted tourist traffic to the islands by twenty to thirty per cent., the Eastern Steamship Lines said today.

The company's 6,185-ton liner Acadia leaves New York tomorrow with 200 passengers, a twenty per cent. increase above the normal. Approximately 300 booked sailings for the following Saturday.

AUG 10 1940

Appointment Is Announced

LONDON, Aug. 9 (AP)—The appointment of the Duke of Windsor to his post in the Bahamas, made public July 9, was thus formally announced tonight in The London Gazette:

"Downing Street.

"7th August, 1940.

"The King has been pleased to appoint his Royal Highness the Duke of Windsor, K. G., K. T., K. P., G. C. B., G. C. S. I., G. C. M. G., G. C. I. E., G. C. V. O., G. B. E., I. S. O., M. C., to be Governor and Commander in Chief of the Bahama Islands."

Explosives For China Reported Held At Manila

Informants Say Ammunition From Panama Freighter Was Stored After Closing Of Burma Road

Manila, Aug. 9 (AP)—Reliable sources said today that a cargo of ammunition consigned to China by way of Rangoon and the Burma Road has been unloaded here from the freighter William Tupper, which is under Panama registry.

Reliable informants said 2,500,000 rounds of ammunition had been unloaded and stored in bonded warehouses. The shipment included more than 2,000,000 rounds of TNT.

The cargo, these informants said, was addressed to the Southwest Transportation at Rangoon and was bound for Chungking via the Burma Road, closed by the British recently. Manila agents of the line obtained permission to store the explosives here, awaiting trans-shipment to China.

The William Tupper sailed from Tacoma. Shipper of the cargo was listed as the Criterion Trading Corporation.

German's Arrest Ordered

Buenos Aires, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Ministry of the Interior tonight announced that all police in Argentina had been ordered to seek and arrest a German called Carlos Arnold "for activities against the peace and sovereignty of this country."

BUENOS AIRES--FIRST ADD GERMAN XXX OF THIS COUNTRY" ([redacted]).

ARNOLD, WHO IS 29 AND IS BELIEVED TO HAVE LIVED IN THIS COUNTRY FOR 11 YEARS, WAS ACCUSED BY BUENOS AIRES POLICE OF INTRUDING IN THE HEADQUARTERS OF VARIOUS POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS, SYNAGOGUES AND THEATERS, MOST OF THESE ACTIVITIES HAVING OCCURRED IN 1934 AND 1935.

WITH SEVERAL FOLLOWERS, THE POLICE SAID, HE ENTERED A MOTION PICTURE HOUSE, CAUSING DISORDER AND PREVENTING THE EXHIBITION OF A JEWISH FILM.

THEY ADDED THAT HE APPEARED TO BE AN EMPLOYE OF "THE GERMAN BENEFICENCE AND CULTURE CIRCLE" AT A SALARY OF $125 PER MONTH, AND THAT HE WAS KNOWN TO HAVE MADE A TOUR OF THE ARGENTINE INTERIOR.

RQ725PED

Thousands From U. S. Join Canadian Forces

Air Service Reported To Be Far More Popular With Americans Than Army

Ottawa, Aug. 9 (AP)—Several thousand Americans were unofficially reported today to have joined up with the Canadian air force here and in England as pilots, observers, air gunners, mechanics and instructors.

The National Defense Department said it could not provide any figures because until recently every man enlisting in Canadian forces had to say he was a British subject and had to take the oath of allegiance. Since this stipulation was dropped there was a spurt in enlistments for the air force.

It was reported unofficially that 100 Americans were in the first division of ground troops to go overseas, and the air force is far more popular with Americans than the army.

U. S. Cruisers at Recife.

RECIFE, Brazil, Aug. 9 (A. P.)—The United States cruisers Wichita and Quincy arrived here today on a tour of South American ports.

British Cruiser Quits Montevideo

Montevideo, Uruguay, Aug. 9 (AP)—The British auxiliary cruiser Arndale sailed tonight after a twenty-four-hour stay in Montevideo. Her destination was not given.

FRENCH SHIP TAKEN OVER

St. Malo Will Sail In Future Under Canadian Flag

An East Coast Canadian Port, Aug. 9 (AP)—The French steamship St. Malo, held in port after the French capitulation to German arms, has been taken over by the Canadian authorities, it was stated authoritatively tonight. The vessel will sail in future under the Canadian flag.

It was said some of the French crew "probably would be repatriated" and others likely would sail on their vessel when she goes into Canadian service.

RIBBONS SCARCE IN CANADA

Supplies For Military Decorations Being Depleted

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 9 (AP)—One effect on France's capitulation is a scarcity of ribbons for decorations for Canada's armed forces.

Medal ribbon came from the silk manufacturing districts of France, now cut off. Ribbon still is avaible for the less frequently awarded decorations, but supplies for the general service medal and the victory medal are being depleted rapidly.

Cudahy Called Home as Welles Reproves Him

Envoy Expected to Resign After U. S. Reprimand on Interview on Belgium

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—John Cudahy, American Ambassador to Belgium, was reprimanded publicly by the State Department today for his press interview in London on Belgian food conditions and other aspects of the German occupation of that country and was called home to report to the department. It was expected by his friends here that he would resign from the diplomatic service on his return home by clipper plane. He will leave London tomorrow by plane for Lisbon and is expected here next week.

The State Department, in a public statement, declared the remarks were made in "violation of standing instructions" and disclosed that President Roosevelt had "requested" the diplomat to return for "consultation."

Mr. Cudahy, Ambassador to Belgium until foreign diplomatic missions were ordered out of there last month by Germany, drew sharp criticism in the British press for an interview in London in which he asserted that Belgium would face near-famine conditions by mid-September unless it received American food supplies.

This was widely interpreted as a hint that American food should be allowed through the British blockade.

In commenting on the German occupation he also was quoted as saying he thought German soldiers behaved possibly "better than United States soldiers would have done."

Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of State, said he was sure "no one will question the sincerity of the ambassador's sympathetic interest in the future well-being of the Belgian people, an interest which is shared by the people of the United States." But he declared that "certain of the views expressed by the ambassador are not to be construed as representing the views of this government."

Mr. Cudahy's assertion about food conditions in Belgium drew a rejoinder from the British Ministry of Economic Warfare.

"Any coming European shortage or famine," it said in a statement, "will be due to Germany's providing better for the Reich than for the peoples it has conquered." This indicated that Britain would refuse to relax the blockade to permit food shipments to Belgium.

The Presidentially approved censure raised again the question of Mr. Cudahy's future. Before his departure from Belgium, there were reports he might resign to run for Governor of Wisconsin.

President Roosevelt said at the time he hoped the resignation report was not true and commended his work abroad. This was taken to mean that Mr. Cudahy might be assigned another diplomatic post.

His return under fire, however, was expected by friends of Mr. Cudahy here to result in his early resignation.

Mr. Cudahy has served abroad since soon after President Roosevelt took office, first as Ambassador to Poland, then as Minister to Eire, and since last January as Ambassador to Belgium.

He is fifty-two years old, a member of the Cudahy meat packing family, and a resident of Milwaukee, where he was a lawyer and head of real estate companies until he became a diplomat.

The text of Mr. Welles's statement follows:

"I have now received from the American Embassy in London a transcript of the note of the press interview given by Ambassador Cudahy in London, on Tuesday, Aug. 6, last.

"From the transcript, it would appear that Ambassador Cudahy received at an informal gathering some American correspondents and some representatives of the British press who had requested interviews with him.

"As I previously stated, the ambassador's interview was given without prior authorization from, or without prior notification to, the Department of State.

"I am sure that no one will question the sincerity of the ambassador's sympathetic interest in the future well-being of the Belgian people, an interest which is shared by the people of the United States. Nevertheless, the interview given was in violation of standing instructions of the Department of State, and certain of the views expressed by the ambassador are not to be construed as representing the views of this government.

"The incident illustrates once again the importance which must be attributed by American representatives abroad to the department's instructions to refrain at this critical time from making public statements other than those made in accordance with the instructions of the Department of State.

"By direction of the President, Ambassador Cudahy has been requested to return to the United States immediately for consultation."

[The rebuke administered to Ambassador Cudahy is the second handed out by the State Department to an American envoy since the war began. James H. R. Cromwell, American Minister to Canada, was rebuked by Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, for his remarks supporting the Allied cause in an address in Canada last March. Mr. Cromwell resigned in May to devote his time to his candidacy for Senator from New Jersey.]

3924-4251

30.24-4251

'I Do Not Retract Word,' Paper Quotes Cudahy

Envoy Says He Will Return To America With Story Of Fortitude Of British

[By the Associated Press]

London, Saturday, Aug. 10—The Daily Mail today quoted John Cudahy, United States Ambassador to Belgium, as saying "I do not retract one word from what I said" in the interview which resulted in his censure by the United States State Department.

The Mail said Cudahy declared "undue publicity has been given to my speech of the other day." He was criticized for his remarks on conditions in Nazi-held Belgium.

Done My Job, He Says

"I have done my job and I return to the United States with reports of great efforts being made by Great Britain that should inspire my countrymen," Cudahy told the Mail.

"I leave confident that this little country of yours will defend itself to the last man and woman and will never be conquered.

Followed Instructions

"The President knows that I am on my way home, back to the United States. I received certain instructions from him when I left and I am carrying them out."

Earlier Cudahy told the Associated Press he had "no comment" on the State Department action.

He will fly tomorrow to Lisbon to take a clipper plane home.

Cudahy Off Tomorrow.

LONDON, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—John Cudahy, United States Ambassador to Belgium, who has been here in conference with Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, is flying early tomorrow for Lisbon to take a Clipper for home, it was announced tonight.

The announcement said the departure was according to the Ambassador's original plans.

Tax Snarl Delays Defense

Stimson and Compton See Ship, Plane and Gun Output Slowed by Law.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Secretary of War Stimson and Lewis Compton, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, told a congressional committee today that profit limitations and business uncertainty over tax legislation had delayed the production of airplanes, guns, ships and other vital items of the defense program.

The two testified with regard to an excess profits tax containing various provisions designed to speed armament manufacture. One section would permit the cost of plant expansion to be deducted from taxes over a five-year period. Another would lift present profit limitations imposed by the Vinson-Trammel act.

William S. Knudsen, Defense Commissioner in charge of production, who likewise appeared at the tax hearing, said that the projected Vinson-Trammel suspension and plant expansion provisions had given rise to the feeling that "we are going to have fairly clear sailing from now on."

He also testified that an army of 2,000,000 men could be completely equipped by 1944, but subsequently said he wished to withdraw that estimate and submit a brief on the subject later.

Ready to Answer Questions.

The big, ruddy business executive appeared before the committee without a prepared statement. Right off, he said he was ignorant of procedure, and, stuffing both hands into trouser pockets, offered to answer any questions he could.

When Representative Robertson, Democrat, of Virginia, asked whether he indorsed the excess profits tax, he replied that he had only read the specific proposal before the committee today and was not prepared to express an opinion on it, but that as to "principle" he was not for such a levy.

Mr. Compton strongly recommended that any plant expansion legislation enacted be made retroactive to cover existing contracts, "if it can be done without seriously impairing the tax features of the bill."

A number of contractors already have risked their money for plant expansions in the interest of national defense, he said, and he thought they should be accorded the same treatment as future contractors.

Only 33 Plane Contracts Signed.

Mr. Stimson testified that the army had been able to sign contracts for only thirty-three of 4,000 planes appropriated for during June, "chiefly" because of uncertainties over tax legislation. Nor was the airplane industry unique in this regard, he said, declaring the problem of expansion applied also to makers of tanks, artillery, ammunition and the like.

Mr. Compton said that the navy had one contract involving $10,000,000 for five-inch guns for six new vessels. But the six sub-contractors involved refused to accept business under the 8 per cent profit limitation of the Vinson-Trammel act.

There was an aircraft company which made a contract on the act's 12 per cent profit limitation for planes but before the contract was awarded the profit was cut to 8 per cent and sub-contractors refused to do the work, Mr. Compton said.

Other Handicaps Cited.

Citing other examples of Navy Department handicaps, Mr. Compton said that one firm which normally produced 100 airplane motors monthly increased its production to 700 by expansion privately financed.

The navy would like now to have production stepped up to 1,400 monthly but, Mr. Compton said, the company felt unjustified in proceeding with such an $18,000,000 expansion because of amortization uncertainties. The same difficulties were encountered, he added, in connection with a 60,000-ton special steel order which necessitated construction of a new plant.

Mr. Compton said that there was a total of $1,250,000,000 in pending navy contracts of all sorts and that the program was being delayed because business wants to know "why take a chance."

Mr. Stimson described at length the difficulties of awarding contracts under the June plane appropriations.

The fault has not been with the defense advisory commission, he said, and "the representatives of industry have been earnest" in a desire to co-operate with defense agencies.

Calls Problem Difficult.

"The fact is," Mr. Stimson said, "we have all been facing a difficult problem with an earnest effort to co-operate."

"That problem arises in a large part from the fact that the entire program of airplane construction is so large that it necessarily involves a great expansion of existing plant facilities and the construction of new ones to meet the requirements of our army in the present emergency."

He went on to say that risks were inherent in any business enterprise and that industry might be expected to undertake normal risks.

"But the risk to industry of undertaking at the request of the Government, to expand at its own expense its plant capacity, and then being left, upon a sudden cessation of the emergency with these expanded facilities useless," Mr. Stimson continued, "is one that is entitled to special consideration.

Plane Building Speeded.

"Under these circumstances, the uncertainty of future taxation affected by this expanded construction not only fails to give the special consideration above mentioned but penalizes the situation."

Despite the delay in awarding June contracts, the Defense Commission reported that America's expanding aircraft factories were turning out warplanes now at the rate of 10,800 annually. Mr. Knudsen said in a radio broadcast last night that the 18,000-a-year mark would be passed by next January.

Morgenthau Asks New Taxes To Meet Six Billion Deficit

Urges Congress to Enact Excess Profits Levy to Cover Arms Spending—Debt Limit Increase of $9,000,000,000 Forecast.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Secretary Morgenthau, forecasting a $5,700,000,000 Federal deficit this year, urged Congress today to open another source of Government revenue and provide a better distribution of defense costs by enacting an excess profits tax.

An eventual increase in the present $49,000,000,000 Federal debt limit to permit more deficit financing was predicted by Mr. Morgenthau, while Daniel W. Bell, Under-Secretary of the Treasury, said that at the present rate of defense expenditures it would be necessary to increase the limit by about $9,000,000,000 next summer unless new taxes were raised.

Appearing before a joint meeting of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee, the Secretary of the Treasury also proposed prompt action on pending tax legislation, because he said it would facilitate the execution of defense contracts.

"The national defense program," he said, "places upon us the duty of reconsidering certain features of the tax structure now, in order to obtain a rapid expansion of production for defense and a better distribution of its cost to the taxpayer."

The excess profits tax has been estimated by experts to yield $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 a year.

12 Billions Spent.

The Treasury and Budget Bureau have calculated that, as of August 5, the Treasury faced expenditures of more than $12,000,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1941, Mr. Morgenthau said. Revenue estimates, he reported, totaled $6,367,000,000 including the new defense taxes recently enacted.

Unless new taxes were enacted, he continued, virtually all of the new $49,000,000,000 Federal borrowing power would be exhausted by June 30, 1941.

"On the basis of these estimates," he said, "it is obvious that in view of the requirements of the defense program the present debt limitation of $49,000,000,000 will sooner or later need to be increased."

The increase, however, might be postponed until next year, he added.

Barrier of Uncertainty.

He also called attention to provisions of the pending excess profits tax bill which would suspend the profit limitations on warplane and warship contracts under the Vinson-Trammell act and authorize manufacturers to speed up amortization, for tax purposes, of new factories built for defense production.

"There has arisen in the minds of contractors who desire to do business with the government," Mr. Morgenthau said, "a barrier of uncertainty as to the conditions under which they will operate.

"In some cases, on this account, contractors have been hesitant to accept Government contracts. To remove this hesitancy, it has been my opinion that immediate steps should be taken to obtain adequate remedial legislation.

"The Treasury Department accordingly presented to the committee a plan for an excess profits tax, with corresponding changes in the amortization rules and the Vinson-Trammell act."

25 to 40 Per Cent Tax.

Discussing the revenue situation, Mr. Morgenthau said that provisions of the recent defense tax bill "were sufficient to meet the situation as it existed at that time."

"With the rapid deterioration of world conditions, however," he continued, "it became necessary to plan for an expansion of the program for national defense, and the President requested the Congress to provide additional funds for this purpose."

He presented a tabulation showing that already approved or pending appropriations and contract authorizations for the army and navy totaled $14,702,000,000, composed of $6,809,000,000 for the army and $7,893,000,000 for the navy.

Asserting that passage of the bill would help speed up the national defense program, he said, "It is therefore essential that differences as to details of the bill be not allowed to stand in the way of early passage of this urgently needed legislation."

The excess profits provisions would tax at rates ranging from 25 to 40 per cent the extra profits corporations might make in 1940 and succeeding years over either a fixed percentage of their capital investment or their average earnings in the 1936-39 period.

WHEELER DARES DRAFT BACKERS TO URGE WAR

Senator Suggests They Ask Declaration if They Fear Invasion.

CONSCRIPTION DEBATE OPENS

Holman Says Military Leaders Told Him of Danger of Attack on Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, challenged proponents of conscription legislation today to advocate publicly a declaration of war against Germany if they fear a Nazi attack on the United States within six months.

During debate on the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military service bill Senator Lucas, Democrat, Illinois, demanded to know why Senator Danaher, Republican, of Connecticut had voted for millions of dollars in defense appropriations after Senator Danaher said he saw no immediate danger to the country. Senator Wheeler went to Senator Danaher's defense.

"I didn't vote for those appropriations because I was afraid Mr. Hitler, Mr. Mussolini or the Japanese Government was going to come over here and take over the United States of America," Senator Wheeler declared.

He added that if advocates of the pending legislation believed Germany would follow the battle of England with an attack on the United States, they ought publicly to advocate a declaration of war against Germany now.

"Those men who stand here and say that Germany is going to attack us in three months or six months—why don't they have the courage to go to the people of the country and say 'let's declare war?'" Wheeler shouted.

"It's nonsense," he added.

Danger in Alaska.

Senator Holman, Republican, of Oregon, said that he had learned "from authoritative military sources" of imminent peril of the invasion of Alaska from the Pacific and the endangering of the entire Pacific Slope.

He interjected his statement without amplification while Senator Sheppard of Texas, chairman of the Senate Military Committee, and others were discussing the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military service bill, enactment of which Senator Sheppard called "a tragic necessity" because rearmament must be accomplished speedily.

Taking issue with Mr. Sheppard, Senator Vandenberg, Republican, of Michigan, declared he could show "innumerable recruiting stations that have declined to take recruits because their quotas have been filled."

"If they haven't got more men, isn't it because they haven't set their quotas high enough?" he asked.

Senator Sheppard contended that War Department experience showed that there was no possibility of obtaining the 400,000 new enrollees sought by the army by October through voluntary enlistments.

Lack of Equipment.

The Michigan Senator replied that army officials had testified before congressional committees that complete equipment for an army of 750,000 men would not be available until 1942. He said that the possible addition of about 396,000 National Guardsmen and reserves to the 273,000 now in the regular army would give this country an armed force approaching that figure.

"The doctrines and agressions of certain dictator-controlled nations become every day more menacing toward the free and independent democratic countries," Senator Sheppard asserted in urging adoption of the measure, which would require an estimated 12,000,000 men from 21 through 30 years of age to register.

"The bloody conflicts they have imposed on many of such countries outside the United States and are still imposing on those countries," he continued, "call for the immediate establishment by the United States of a nucleus of armed forces in the air, on the sea and on land properly equipped and capable of expansion within an adequate time into proportions sufficient to overcome attack on the United States or the Western Hemisphere.

"The time element is a tragic necessity, because the voluntary system cannot accomplish the emergency work absolutely needed."

Army Needed Now.

Mr. Sheppard contended that a larger army was needed immediately to protect American interests in the Western Hemisphere, warning that if the Panama Canal were put out of commission, "our navy would be helpless."

"There can be no withdrawal from Panama, Hawaii, Puerto Rico or Alaska without vital disaster," he warned. "To permit these strategical areas to fall into the hands of any enemy would jeopardize the security of the continental United States itself."

Previously Mr. Sheppard had announced that the Military Affairs Committee would invite Gov. Herbert Lehman of New York and Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas to testify in open hearings next week on legislation to set up a home guard.

Several suggestions, including one by President Roosevelt that world war veterans be called into home guard service, have been considered by the committee, the chairman said.

He said Gov. Lehman had proposed that additional units of the National Guard be organized and equipped with Federal funds to take the place of any that might be drawn into Federal service under legislation approved by the Senate yesterday.

Gov. O'Daniel suggested that Congress authorize the setting up of State troops, equipped and maintained by the State, he pointed out.

NAZI INFLUENCE IS SEEN IN U. S. WAR INDUSTRY

Arnold Says "Economic Fifth Column" Divides Loyalties Of Business

Claims Evidence Germans Control Patents Vital To Defense

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 9—An "economic fifth column," Thurman Arnold, Assistant United States Attorney General, declared today, has placed many businessmen engaged in America's vital defense industries "in the impossible position of divided loyalties."

"This is not a malicious fifth column and must not be attributed to espionage," Arnold said, adding that "no moral issues are involved, but merely the enforcement of law."

Evidence Is Claimed

He explained that evidence of German control of patents important to the war industries of the United States had been uncovered by Federal grand juries operating in New York and other key cities, investigating production restriction and price fixing.

Declining to give specific instances of German patent control, Arnold said that it must be attributed to normal business trends.

Here to take temporary charge of the inquiry started by his assistant, Samuel S. Isseks, Arnold said that Federal juries now sitting in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, St. Louis and other key centers were being used as "a fluid system to handle the emergency."

Juries Ready To Act

The juries, he said, were prepared to return indictments wherever they found production restriction or price-fixing in industries affecting the country's armament program, and to investigate anti-trust law violations occurring in the food, fuel, housing, drug or other vital industries. Arnold cited the World War price of potash—$400 a ton—as an example of "production restriction and price-fixing" against which he said the Government intends to guard at this time.

"It is not our purpose to go after big industries and call businessmen names," he said, "but merely to enforce the law."

No Limit To Size

"It is easy to see how such monopolies of production and prices are sapping the life out of the country," he added, explaining that establishment of a competitive system in all fields would tend toward lower prices.

"You can be as big as you want," he added, referring to business, "provided you pass along the savings to consumers."

The President said that restriction such as that proposed in the amendment—which was defeated—might tie things up in an emergency. He said he understood the amendment would have permitted service in the nation's possessions and the Philippines, which is a very different thing.

One Exception, He Says

Mr. Roosevelt said he did not believe National Guardsmen had ever left the United States when a state of war had not been declared, with the possible exception of the punitive expedition against Pancho Villa into Mexico in 1916.

On the trip he started tonight, the President will go first to new Hampshire to visit the Portsmouth Navy Yard, then the Boston Navy Yard and the Army Arsenal at Watertown, Mass.

The Presidential yacht Potomac will be used for part of the trip and Mr. Roosevelt said he expected to put into a little cove at Nahant, Mass., tomorrow, to see his youngest grandchild, Haven, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Roosevelt.

Navy vessels, which will cost approximately $181,900,000, are under construction or have just been launched in the area the Commander in Chief will visit.

To Remain Near Base

Chances Of Guard Leaving U. S. Slim, Roosevelt Says

President Gives Odds At 100 To 1 Against Outside Service—Starts Inspection Tour

[By the Ass

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 9—President Roosevelt, who left tonight on a week-end inspection tour of vital New England coastal defense units, said today the chances were 100-to-1 against the National Guard serving outside the limits of the United States, or its possessions, in peacetime.

Mr. Roosevelt made the observation after a reporter remarked that Senator McNary (Rep., Ore.) Republican Vice-Presidential candidate, had voted for an amendment to the training bill which would have confined Guard activities to continental United States.

Asked whether there was any possibility of his inspecting Pacific Coast defense bases this summer, Mr. Roosevelt said that he would try to be no more than twelve to fourteen hours from Washington at any time.

He told his questioner that if he had thought twice he would realize a West Coast inspection would violate what the President termed one of the essentials—that the President must be within easy reach of the capital at all times under existing conditions.

Sometime during the New England trip, Mr. Roosevelt said, he would have Col. William Donovan give him a personal report of the recent mystery mission which Donovan carried out in Europe for Secretary of the Navy Knox.

30,24-4253

30.24-4253

Colonel Donovan, World War commander of the "Fighting Sixty-ninth" returned last Sunday on a camouflaged British flying boat and has already reported to Secretary Knox.

The President disclosed that at a conference yesterday with Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, and his Vice-Presidential running mate, it had been decided that the Secretary would formally accept his nomination in Des Moines on August 29.

ociated Press]

Mr. Roosevelt said, in answer to a question, that he thought Wallace would resign from the Cabinet whenever he started on a campaign trip, but that no plans for any such tours were discussed at yesterday's meeting.

Whether Mr. Roosevelt will attend the first army maneuvers in upstate New York during the inspection trip has not been determined.

Asked if he was pleased that Wendell Willkie had voiced approval of the New Deal farm program, Mr. Roosevelt replied that I had not read the Republican Presidential nominee's remarks on the subject.

International Affairs

A series of questions turned the conference toward international affairs, and brought assertions from the President that:

The "Cartel' plan for bulwarking pan-American economy against inroads of the totalitarian economic system was a misnomer; that the original objectives had not been changed, and that methods still were being studied.

The $500,000,000 fund which the administration has suggested be made available for loar to Latin American nations probably would be supplemented by similar financial backing in those nations themselves.

There is nothing ne / on the problem of bringing refugee children from Europe to this country, a problem which he said presented not a question of theory, but one of safety. If one in any Government, he said, wants the responsibility of loading boats with children without promises of safe conduct and reasonable assurances that the promises will be kept.

To Discuss Problem

The refugee problem probably would be discussed with Clarence Pickett of the American Friends Service League in Philadelphia, who was an overnight guest, with his wife, at the Roosevelt home.

The President said he hadn't the faintest idea whether American policies would be affected by the reported withdrawal of British troops from the International Settlement in Shanghai.

As for his own future plans, the President said he had one definite date, to attend here on August 31 an annual meeting of the Roosevelt Home Club, made up of loyal Democrats in and around Hyde Park.

He added that he hoped, sometime in September, to keep a long-deferred engagement to dedicate the Great Smoky Mountains National Park in North Carolina and Tennessee.

War Department officia[ls] to discuss the matter but tative sources described t[he] jected sixty to seventy-ton ta[nks] a[s] intended to be capable of speeds u[p] to fifty miles an hour and equippe[d] with heavy guns and latest-typ[e] automatic weapons.

Construction of the huge tanks the first large ones to be built since the World War days, is a departure in Army planning. Adolf Hitler's swift conquest of the Lowland countries and France prompted the change, it was understood.

2,900 More Marines Will Be Sent to Cuba

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9 (AP).—The Navy moved today to strengthen the garrison of its station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, an important base for warships guarding the eastern approaches to the Panama Canal.

The Department announced that the 2,900 officers and men of the First Marine Brigade would be moved to Guantanamo from Quantico, Va., during September.

The announcement said the shift was "for the purpose of preliminary training of this force in view of extensive maneuvers planned during the Winter in the Caribbean area."

Press officers said the maneuvers would be carried out by the marines and that they would involve landings and other operations. Similar maneuvers are conducted each year, they said.

The Army has been using "light" and "medium" tanks, weighing about twelve and eighteen tons, respectively, and is estimated to have 2,800 of these on hand or on order. It was said that the projected program envisages a doubling of this total.

The American Car and Foundry Company of Berwick, Pa., recently received a $10,352,000 order to build 627 light tanks, and the Rock Island (Ill.) Arsenal is now turning out a number of medium type.

Secretary Morgenthau disclosed yesterday that the British Purchasing Mission, which is planning to place hundreds of millions of dollars of munitions orders here, is furnishing technical experts for the United States Army to advise on tank construction.

Army Orders Fifty Giant Tanks As Start of Program to Build 500

$5,689,725 Contract to Baldwin Locomotive Works Calls for 60 to 70-Ton Machines Capable of 50-Mile-an-Hour Speed

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—The Army has begun a building program which contemplates a fleet of 400 to 500 powerful "land battleships"—heavily armed, high-speed tanks weighing sixty to seventy tons.

President Roosevelt's National Defense Advisory Commission revealed the program with the award of a $5,689,725 contract to the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, for "heavy tanks."

GEN. SUMMERALL URGES U. S. PREPARE

Warns "There's Less Time Than You Think" For Defense Work

Nation Should Stand Ready For Worst, Former Army Chief Believes

SKETCH MATERIAL

[By the Associated Press]

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 9 (AP)—A warning that "there's less time than you think" for the United States to prepare her defenses comes from Gen. Charles P. Summerall, former Chief of Staff of the United States Army.

A leader in battles in the Philippines, the Boxer Rebellion and the World War, the white-haired ex-warrior believes his country should stand prepared for the worst.

"Any man not conscious of the dangers which threaten our country today is not thinking and is not perceiving,' the 73-year-old General said.

"Less Time Thank You Think"

"There's less time than you think."

The day after that assertion, General Summerall was "drafted" to serve on a new State committee to prepare this State for a part in the gigantic National Defense program.

His new duties are far different from the ones which carried him over the globe during 39 years in the army. He tackles them, however, with no less ardor.

Twenty-two years have passed since General Summerall led the first division in the Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel, Second Marne and Meuse-Argonne offensives. For conspicuous gallantry in action while in command of the division, he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross.

Cited For Bravery

On July 15, 1900, Summerall's battery sailed from Manila to join the China Relief Expedition at Taku, the Boxer Rebellion having flamed. With his battery the future general participated in successful assaults against Chinese positions at Pietsang and at Yangtsung.

His most noted part in this conflict took place on August 14 and 15 when his platoon of field guns with the storming troops blew open the gates of the four successive walls of Peking.

For conspicuous gallantry in action he was recommended for promotion to major. President McKinley cited him for bravery.

He engaged in numerous exploits during the Philippine insurrection.

Born near Lake City, Fla., General Summerall was educated in various schools and was graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1892. After serving at many posts, he became colonel of field artillery in May, 1917. He was at once appointed a member of a board to study the organization, training and operation of the British and French armies.

Held Other Posts

He was given command of the Fifth army corps in October, 1918. He served with the Peace Commission in Paris, resuming command of the First division at Camp Taylor, Ky., in September, 1919.

Other posts entrusted to this educator who warns of the need for quick preparedness were the command of the Hawaiian department and of the Second corps area, with headquarters at Governor's Island, N. Y.

President Coolidge chose him for Chief of Staff of the army in November, 1926, and in February, 1929, he was promoted to general. He retired March 4, 1931, and took over the presidency of The Citadel, South Carolina's Military College, six months later.

F. B. I. Urges Alertness In Ferreting Out Spies

Calls Upon New York State Law Enforcement Agencies To Cooperate In Work

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today called upon State, county and municipal law inforcement agencies in New York to unite in ferreting out spies and saboteurs in the national defense program.

At the first of a State-wide series of conferences between F. B. I. officials and community police and Sheriffs, B. E. Sackett, local bureau chief, asked that private citizens as well as policemen be on the alert.

The conferences are being held at the direction of President Roosevelt, who designated the F. B. I. as a national clearing house to receive and investigate information affecting the nation's welfare. Arrangements for expediting handling of work relating to violations of the espionage, sabotage and neutrality acts occupied the meeting today. No specific plans were made public.

Ship's Master Puzzled By Fire On Freighter

Norwegian Vessel's Captain Testifies Before Board Probing Explosions

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—Capt. Oscar Christensen told a board of inquiry today that he was completely perplexed as to the cause of a fire which swept the Norwegian freighter Lista yesterday, touched off a series of explosions, and forced the vessel to beach in lower New York Bay.

He insisted before examiners of the Bureau of Marine Inspection that when the small freighter left its Brooklyn pier late Wednesday, its newly repaired engine-room equipment was in apparent good order and that the crew of twenty-seven, of whom nineteen were new men, apparently was not dissatisfied at the prospect of the Liverpool-bound ship's journey to a war zone.

He denied that a "few barrels" of combustible in the deck cargo was gasoline, but added that he did not know exactly what it was. His cargo, he said, was of general nature, including steel billets, tobacco, machinery and lumber.

ADMIRAL SENT TO LONDON

Ghormley Assigned As Special Naval Observer

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—Rear Admiral Robert L. Ghormley, assistant chief of naval operations, has been sent to the United States Embassy in London as special naval observer, the Navy Department announced tonight.

Lieut. Com. Bernard L. Austin and Lieut. Donald MacDonald were sent with him as aides. In addition to them, a naval attache is now at the London Embassy.

'Flying Laboratory' Off For War Courier Service

Hughes 'Round-The-World Record Plane Bought By British For London-Egypt Flights

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—Howard Hughes' famous "flying laboratory" in which he flashed around the world two years ago to set a globe-encircling record, left Los Angeles tonight heading for a wartime mission of courier service between London and Egypt.

It was bought several days ago for an undisclosed sum, sources here said, by the British Purchasing Commission.

Sources here said the ship was one of three similar ones purchased by the commission through the Charles H Babb Aircraft Sales Company for identical wartime service overseas. It was learned present plans call for the planes to be dismantled here and loaded aboard a Britain-bound ship.

2,900 U. S. Airplanes Sent To Great Britain

Purchasing Commission Estimates $2,000,000,000 War Orders Have Been Placed Here

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—The British Purchasing Commission revealed today that 2,900 United States airplanes already had been delivered to Great Britain, and estimated Germany's chances of starving the British Isles by a blockade at one in 1,000.

The commission estimated at $2,000,000,000 the value of war orders already placed by Great Britain in the United States. It said the figure might even exceed that amount with orders filed for 11,000 airplanes, including the 2,900 already delivered, amounting to nearly $1,200,000,000.

Says Britain Has Ships Aplenty For Supplies

Spokesman Asserts Its Vessels Can Tranpsort War Purchases From U. S.

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—England still has plenty of shipping to transport war purchases from the United States, despite intensified German air and sea attacks on her supply lines, a spokesman for the British Purchasing Commission said today.

More than 1,000 vessels are carrying supplies from North America to the British Isles, he asserted.

Pointing out England took over many ships from the Norwegian, French, Danish and Netherlands merchant marines since the invasion of those countries, the spokesman declared the British carrying fleet was larger than at the outset of the war. He estimated British war orders, together with contracts taken over from the French in the United States, now totaled between $2,000,000,000 and $2,500,000,000, aircraft purchases accounting for half the total.

New York, Aug. 9-(AP)-The American liner Excambion radioed today she had left Lisbon for New York with $2,535,931 in gold and an undisclosed number of passengers. The gold was believed in financial circles to be from Switzerland for the Federal Reserve Bank. ###

MacKenzie's Views On War Today

aug 9/40

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Idaho Falls Post-Register has asked me to indicate the "relative chances of the two belligerents for victory in case Hitler delays his invasion until after the middle of September when weather will probably force him to delay until next Spring."

That seems like rather a tall order to me, especially since I have firmly in mind that a prophet who makes a bad guess is without honor not only in his own country but all others. However. the question is legitimate and there may be some useful observations which can be made on the basis of facts at hand.

I have before me a partial answer, from the British viewpoint, countering the German claim that they are secure in all departments and have the battle of Britain in a sack. This is in the form of fourteen favorable factors which the military correspondent of the Yorkshire (England) Post claims for his country.

I want to give this summary first and my reason for quoting the Post is that it belongs, as I understand it, to the family of Anthony Eden, British war minister, and is popularly supposed to express his views frequently. I don't know that the following represents Capt. Eden's ideas, but I should be surprised if the Post published military opinions running counter to those of the British War Office. Here are the points:

"1. The German Army failed in June to follow up the withdrawal of the British Expeditionary Force when there was a chance.

"2. We now have a mighty force in Britain and strong defenses.

"3. The Royal Air Force has achieved moral superiority.

"4. The blockade is closing the last loopholes for supply.

"6. We have more food and materials in this island than ever before, and the Navy sweeps the seas.

"7. Hitler's forces are widely dispersed on a sea-line from the Arctic to the Pyrenees.

"8. His vast coast-line has not ships enough to protect it or to escort maritime invasion.

"9. Italy's position is a burden to Germany, who may have to give material help, especially if Italy is attacked as our main offensive.

"10. Britain controls the Mediterranean and separates Italy from her colonies.

"11. We are confident of repelling massed air attacks and our fighter planes increase daily.

"12. We have achieved superiority in bombing and attack.

"13. We are united and resolute, while Hitler has trouble in the conquered lands, as well as in the Balkans.

"14. Russia again cramps German freedom."

If Herr Hitler doesn't win the conflict by blitzkrieg in the immediate future, it probably will settle into a war of attrition. The chief feature of this will be a starvation contest—blockade and counter-blockade. I see no reason to change the view expressed in this column before—that grains of wheat are likely to have more to do with the outcome of the war than will bullets.

The Nazis are making a terrific onslaught with bombers, U-boats and fast torpedo-boats in an effort (1) to break the British blockade and (2) to establish a counter-blockade. The destruction of shipping has been heavy. At the same time the English blockade has remained so tight that John Cudahy, American ambassador to Belgium, earlier this week in discussing the food situation said to newspapermen:

"If you gentlemen think the continent is a howling hell now, what do you think it will be this winter?

The other day the German radio quoted French political circles as saying the French Government had appealed to the United States to exercise pressure on Britain to ease the blockade. Berlin doesn't circulate statements like that unless the blockade hurts.

I believe the consensus of neutral military experts is that a short race and a fast one would suit Hitler, but that in a long run the advantage should be with the British because of vastly superior resources and command of the seas. Should Hitler be able to break the blockade and thus destroy his enemy's sea-control, he might have John Bull on the hip.

FOLO LONDON COTTON

CAIRO,EGYPT,AUG. 9-(AP)-THE PRESS TODAY HAILED THE FORTHCOMING FLOW OF MONEY INTO THE COUNTRY UNDER BRITAIN'S AGREEMENT TO TAKE THE ENTIRE COTTON CROP, COMING AT A TIME, THE EGYPTIAN MAIL SAID, WHEN EGYPT'S FINANCES ARE "IN SERIOUSLY DISORDERED CONDITION.

THE MAIL SAID THE DEAL WOULD INVOLVE £30,000,000 TO £40,000,000 (ABOUT $120,000,000 TO $160,000,000).

WD903AED

RIO DE JANEIRO, AUG. 9-(AP)-TWO LATVIAN FREIGHTERS, THE EVERALDA AND THE SILTVAIRA, UNDER CONTRACT WITH THE ISTHMIAN STEAMSHIP COMPANY TO CARRY MANGANESE TO BALTIMORE, MD., LAY IN THE HARBOR HERE TODAY, THEIR DESTINATION UNDECIDED BECAUSE OF THE RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT'S ORDER THAT ALL LATVIAN VESSELS RETURN HOME.

(LATVIA AND TWO OTHER BALTIC NATIONS, ESTONIA AND LITHUANIA, WERE ADMITTED TO THE SOVIET UNION THIS WEEK.)

THE CAPTAIN OF THE EVERALDA, WHICH ARRIVED TODAY FROM BUENOS AIRES, REFUSED TO PERMIT THE LOADING OF THE CARGO AND SAID HE WOULD RETURN TO RUSSIA. THE SILTVAIRA ALREADY WAS LOADED BUT WAS PREVENTED FROM LEAVING IMMEDIATELY BY TWO THINGS--FIVE AMERICAN SEAMEN IN THE CREW REFUSED TO GO TO RUSSIA AND THE BRAZILIAN IMMIGRATION LAWS DO NOT PERMIT THEM TO REMAIN HERE.

AN ATTACHMENT HAS BEEN SERVED AGAINST THE CARGO.

QQ123PED

30,24-4255

30.24—4255

PEIPING, CHINA, AUG. 9-(AP)-JOHN C.WILEY, U.S. MINISTER TO LATVIA AND ESTONIA, ARRIVED HERE TODAY WITH HIS WIFE EN ROUTE HOME VIA JAPAN.

WILEY, WHO WAS CALLED HOME "FOR CONSULTATION" BY WASHINGTON FOLLOWING DECISION OF THE BALTIC STATES TO JOIN THE SOVIET UNION, WILL REMAIN HERE 10 DAYS.

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, AUG. 9-(AP)-THE DUKE OF WINDSOR TOLD CASUALLY TODAY OF A MILD IRONY THAT HARKS BACK TO THE DAYS "WHEN I WAS KING."

THE DUKE REMARKED THAT ALTHOUGH HE HAD NEVER VISITED THE BAHAMAS, WHERE HE IS TO BECOME GOVERNOR, HE KNEW HE HAD A SWIMMING POOL THERE, BUILT BY FORMER GOVERNOR SIR BEDE CLIFFORD.

"SIR BEDE SENT ME A CHRISTMAS CARD IN 1936 SHOWING HE HAD PUT 'E.R.VIII' IN THE TILES OF THE POOL," SAID THE DUKE.

"THAT WAS DURING MY 11-MONTH REIGN--WHEN I WAS KING.

"IT'S REALLY FUNNY THAT I SHOULD BE ABOUT TO USE THAT POOL NOW."

HANOI, FRENCH INDO-CHINA, AUG. 9-(AP)-GENERAL ISSAKU NISHIHARA, HEAD OF THE JAPANESE MILITARY MISSION IN FRENCH INDO-CHINA, RETURNED HERE BY PLANE FROM TOKYO TODAY.

HE WAS ACCOMPANIED BY AN OFFICIAL OF THE JAPANESE FOREIGN OFFICE. HIS PLANE WAS ESCORTED TO THE LANDING FIELD BY THREE FRENCH PLANES.

JAPANESE PREMIER PRINCE FUMIMARO KONOYE CALLED NISHIHARA TO TOKYO LAST WEEK FOR CONFERENCES ON JAPAN'S POLICY TOWARD FRENCH INDO-CHINA. NISHIHARA'S MISSION IS HERE TO MAKE SURE THAT NO WAR SU

INDO-CHINA. NISHIHARA'S MISSION HERE IS TO MAKE SURE THAT NO WAR SUPPLIES REACH CHINA THROUGH INDO-CHINA.

(ADVANCE) LONDON, AUG. 9--(AP)--COMPULSORY REGISTRATION OF 1,000,000 MACHENISTS AND ENGIN EERS NOT DOING WAR WORK WAS ORDERED TODAY TO BEGIN AUG. 19. THE PLAN IS BE[illegible] REGISTRATION IS DESIGNED TO SHIFT 300,000 SKILLED MEN TO GOVERNMENT JOBS.

(END ADVANCE FOR USE AT 6 P.M., E.S.T.)

APL 01740 YARBRO GHS CCC 106P

ROME, AUG. 9 (AP)--- ITALY IS TRYING TO SPEED UP PROPAGATION OF RABBITS.

PREMIER MUSSOLINI RECEIVED A PROGRESS REPORT TODAY FROM THE DIRECTOR OF THE NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF RABBIT CULTIVATION ON ITS CAMPAIGN.

RAISING RABBITS FOR FOOD HAS ACQUIRED INCREASED IMPORTANCE WITH DRASTIC RESTRUCTION OF ORDINARY MEAT CONSUMPTIONS

CAIRO, EGYPT, AUG. 9-(AP)-EGYPTIAN ARMY STYLE NOTE: SOLDIERS ARE DISCARDING THEIR TRADITIONAL RED TARBOUSHES IN FAVOR OF THE "FAROUKIA," A KHAKI CAP SIMILAR TO THE AMERICAN FORCES' OVERSEAS CAP.

SEVILLE, SPAIN, AUG. 9--(AP)--TWELVE GERMAN PARACHUTIST OFFICERS, THE FIRST PARACHUTISTS TO BE CAPTURED IN BELGIUM WHEN GERMANY INVADED THE LOW COUNTRIES, ARRIVED TODAY BY PLANE FROM FRENCH MOROCCO. [illegible] LEFT FOR MADRID EN ROUTE TO GERMANY. THEIR RELEASE WAS EFFECTED UNDER TERMS OF THE FRENCH-GERMAN ARMISTICE.

AUG 10 1940

WASHINGTON, AUG. 9-(AP)-HERE ARE THE MAIN PROVISIONS OF THE NATIONAL GUARD MOBILIZATION BILL APPROVED BY THE SENATE YESTERDAY:

THE PRESIDENT COULD CALL OUT NATIONAL GUARDSMEN AND ARMY RESERVES FOR A YEAR'S ACTIVE DUTY. THE EMERGENCY POWER WOULD EXPIRE JUNE 30, 1942. (ACTUALLY THE ARMY PLANS TO ORDER ONLY CERTAIN UNITS INTO SERVICE.)

THE GUARD COULD BE SENT ANYWHERE IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE, AMERICAN POSSESSIONS, OR THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

PERSONS SUBJECT TO THE CALL WHO HAVE WIVES OR CHILDREN DEPENDENT ON THEIR EARNINGS COULD RESIGN WITHIN 20 DAYS AFTER THE BILL'S PASSAGE.

AUG 10 1940

EMPLOYERS WHO REFUSED TO REHIRE MILITIAMEN AFTER THEIR RETURN TO CIVILIAN LIFE WOULD BE SUBJECT TO PROSECUTION UNDER THE WAGNER ACT FOR AN UNFAIR LABOR PRACITCE.

MEN CALLED INTO TRAINING WOULD BE GUARANTEED DEBT RELIEF SIMILAR TO THAT EXTENDED AMERICAN SOLDIERS IN THE WORLD WAR. THIS INCLUDES A MORATORIUM ON INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS AND INSURANCE PREMIUMS.

WASHINGTON, AUG. 9-(AP)-THE TREASURY AMENDED ITS REGULATIONS TODAY SO THAT AMERICANS NOW IN INVADED COUNTRIES MAY USE ANY WEALTH THEY HAVE IN THE UNITED STATES, PROVIDED THEY COME HOME.

UNDER PREVIOUS ORDERS SUCH WEALTH WAS "FROZEN."

WASHINGTON, AUG. 9-(AP)-THE BILL EMPOWERING PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO CALL OUT THE NATIONAL GUARD CONTAINS AN AMENDMENT DESIGNED TO PROTECT MILITIAMEN AND RESERVES AGAINST THE EVICTION OF THEIR FAMILIES OR THE LOSS OF REAL OR PERSONAL PROPERTY WHICH THEY ARE BUYING ON THE INSTALLMENT PLAN.

THE PROVISION WAS ADOPTED IN THE FORM OF AN AMENDMENT AT THE URGING OF SENATOR OVERTON (D-LA).

SPECIAL COURT ACTION MUST BE UNDERTAKEN BY THE SERVICE-MAN'S CREDITOR OR LANDLORD TO OBTAIN EITHER EVICTION OR THE REPOSSESSION OF THE PROPERTY INVOLVED. IN SUCH CASES THE COURT WOULD BE GIVEN WIDE DISCRETION TO BRING ABOUT A SETTLEMENT, OR TO REFUSE THE APPEAL OF THE CREDITOR. IN THE CASE OF EVICTIONS, HOWEVER, THIS WOULD NOT APPLY IF THE RENT WERE MORE THAN $50 MONTHLY.

AUG 10 1940

OVERTON'S AMENDMENT WOULD MAKE SOME PROVISIONS OF THE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS CIVIL RELIEF ACT OF 1918 APPLICABLE TO THE GUARDSMEN AND RESERVES CALLED INTO SERVICE.

CHAIRMAN SHEPPARD (D-TEX) OF THE SENATE MILITARY COMMITTEE SAID TODAY THE SAME PROVISION APPLIED TO THE GUARD WOULD BE EXTENDED TO TRAINEES UNDER THE PROPOSED CONSCRIPTION PROGRAM.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT, IT WAS UNDERSTOOD, WAS PREPARING A MORE EXTENSIVE AMENDMENT THAN THAT INCORPORATED BY THE SENATE IN THE NATIONAL GUARD BILL. THE DEPARTMENT'S AMENDMENT WILL PROBABLY BE OFFERED IN THE HOUSE.

30124-4257

30.24-4257

MONTREAL, AUG. 9--(AP)--MRS. EDITH ROGERS DAHL, WIFE OF THE AMERICAN FLIER WHO NARROWLY ESCAPED EXECUTION BY A FIRING SQUAD DURING THE SPANISH CIVIL WAR, SAID TODAY SHE HAD RECEIVED SO MANY THREATS FROM NAZI AND FASCIST SYMPATHIZERS IN THE UNITED STATES RECENTLY THAT SHE HAD DECIDED TO REMAIN IN CANADA FOR THE DURATION OF THE WAR.

HER HUSBAND, HARRY DAHL, IS NOW AN INSTRUCTOR WITHTHE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE AT CAMP BORDEN, ONT. MRS. DAHL SAID SHE HAD COME HERE TO BE NEAR HER HUSBAND AND TO ESCAPE FURTHER ANNOYANCE.

"THE G-MEN PROVIDED ME WITH A BODYGUARD," SHE SAID, BECAUSE OF THREAT MADE BY LETTER AND IN PERSON.

DAHL WAS CAPTURED BY GENERALISSIMO FRANCO'S MEN WHILE SERVING WITH THE SPANISH REPUBLICNS. HIS WIFE WROTE FRANCO A LETTER, ENCLOSING A PICTURE OF HERSELF, PLEADING THAT HER HUSBAND'S LIFE BE SPARED. HER PLEA WAS GRANTED.

SECOND NIGHT LEAD BRITISH

LONDON, AUG 11-(SUNDAY)-(AP)-NAZI WARPLANES STRUCK AT BRITAIN AGAIN LAST NIGHT, BOMBING THE BRISTOL CHANNEL AREA AND CAUSING SOME CASUALTIES, BUT A COMMUNIQUE DESCRIBED THE RAIDS AS LESS SEVERE THAN USUAL AND CONFINED "ALMOST ENTIRELY" TO THE SOUTHWEST COAST.

THE MINISTRIES OF AIR AND HOME SECURITY, IN A TERSE ANNOUNCEMENT, SAID THAT A NUMBER OF HOUSES IN A BRISTOL CHANNEL TOWN AND A NEARBY RAILWAY EMBANKMENT WERE DAMAGED BY BOMBS.

"A NUMBER OF CASUALTIES WERE CAUSED, SOME OF WHICH WERE FATAL," THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

ALTHOUGH THE GERMAN AIR RAIDERS STABBED AT ENGLAND WITH EXTREME VIGOR YESTERDAY, BRITISH MILITARY MEN EXPRESSED BELIEF THE THREAT OF A BLITZKRIEG INVASION IS DWINDLING DAY BY DAY TOWARD A VANISHING POINT NEAR THE END OF SEPTEMBER.

MASS ATTACKS XXX 2ND GRAF.

Whistling Bombs Rained On British

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 10—German bombers, power-diving at 400 miles an hour, unloaded explosives in mass attacks today on British ships protected by balloon barrages and rained whistling bombs on coastal Britain in heavy "terror" raids.

The Germans attacking the balloon-protected ships off the southeast coast were reported to have been driven off without hitting their targets by anti-aircraft fire. (The Nazi high command claimed destruction of twelve of the big ballons, anchored to the ships by long cables, in Thursday's heavy air fighting over the English Channel.)

Aiming one of the biggest assaults of the war that the northwest coast has experienced, the Nazis dropped a dozen whistling bombs, with an ear-splitting screech.

Heavy explosive bombs, showered on another sector in that area, killed four persons, injured two and damaged residential property but missed military objectives.

Two men were killed and a number injured in a raid on a northeast coastal town.

In a second raid on shipping off the southeast coast, German bombers ran into heavy anti-aircraft fire, hurriedly deposited three bombs which missed their mark and scurried back toward France.

A single German plane bombed and machine-gunned a southeast town, causing casualties. It dropped twelve bombs before it fled with British fighters in pursuit.

Fifteen to twenty houses were damaged by bombs in another town in the same area.

A terse communique said the attacks were "spread over many districts." Areas in Wales and in northwest, northeast, southwest and southeast England were raided. One southeastern town was rocked by tremendous explosions as bombs fell in two places ashore and also off the coast.

At least seven bombs were dropped in the sea off a northeastern town, and others fell on a golf course. There were no casualties and broken windows were the only damage.

Several houses were wrecked when a bomb fell in a garden in still another northeastern town, blasting a crater twenty feet deep. A raid shelter only five yards away remained intact and the occupants were unhurt.

The Communique

The Air Ministry's communique:

"During last night enemy aircraft made bombing attacks which were spread over many districts. In a town in the northwest of England bombs destroyed several houses and caused casualties, some of which were fatal.

"At a number of places in the southeast and at a few places in the northeast, the southwest and in Wales bombs caused damage to houses. The casualties in these areas were few, but included one person killed."

Dover, Scoffing At Raids, Dares Hitler to Come

'Look Sharp or You'll Miss It,' They Say of Invasion, for 'It Won't Last Long'

DOVER, England, Aug. 10 (AP).—This eastern English port, just twenty-one miles by sea and three minutes by dive bomber from the nearest German forces on the Continent, shrugged off as routine tonight an air raid warning which capped a week heralded as the likeliest for a Nazi invasion.

There was brief warning, but no enemy planes were sighted. Nevertheless, patrol fighters streaked the skies, anti-aircraft gunners leaped to their battle stations and heavy explosions were heard.

Numbers of civilians stayed outside shelters to watch in vain for action. It was like a holiday crowd at the seashore to watch fireworks. Gathered on the chalk cliffs were sailors, soldiers and airmen on leave and couples gone a-courting.

A typical reaction to any mention of the threat of invasion came from a policeman. He said: "You won't find the people have got their wind up here. If Hitler does invade us, you willl have to look sharp or you'll miss it, because it won't last long."

One member of a barrage balloon squad said: "I wish he'd try to make a landing and be done with it. We don't like sitting around doing nothing."

A tradesman scoffed at the possibility of Hitler's making a successful landing. "If he expects to be crowned King of England, like they say he expects, he'll get a crown of airplanes instead."

In yesterday's raid German planes tried to shoot down barrage balloons protecting the harbor and were chased off by anti-aircraft guns. (The Germans said they shot down six balloons off Dover yesterday.)

But air raids are nothing new to Dover. Sometimes the town gets as many as seven a day.

British Submarine Lost, 12th Admitted by London

Odin, Long Overdue, Normally Carries Crew of 50 Men

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP).—The Admiralty announced tonight that the submarine Odin was presumed lost. A communique said: "The Secretary of the Admiralty regrets to announce that his majesty's submarine Odin, Lieut. Comdr. K. M. Woods, R. N., is considerably overdue and must be presumed lost. The next of kin have been informed."

It was the twelfth acknowledged British submarine loss since the war began.

The Odin, an ocean-going submarine of 1,475 tons surface displacement, was the first of six of its class, built in 1928. It was 283½ feet long, carried a normal complement of fifty men, and was equipped with eight 21-inch torpedo tubes and a four-inch deck gun.

NAZIS RAID SEA BALLOON BARRAGE

BRITISH SEE SMALL CHANCE OF INVASION

They Believe Hitler Has Dallied Too Long—Germans Fail in Attack on Gas Bags, But Report Arms Plant Fired.

LONDON, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Although Nazi warplanes struck with renewed ferocity today, British military men express belief that the threat of a German blitzkrieg invasion is dwindling day by day and near the end of September will vanish.

Attacks by power-diving German bombers, which sprayed machine-gun fire and whistling bombs on British coasts and shipping, caused unstated damage and casualties. The British, however, expressed belief that they were primarily terror raids.

Sea balloon barrages, captive gas bags attached to ships by cables, to fence off the skies over British ships, were the objectives of repeated German raids during the day. The British said the Nazi planes were chased off by heavy anti-aircraft fire without scoring aiy hits.

[The Germans claimed to have destroyed twelve of the balloons on Thursday.]

British bombers carried out day and night raids on the Guernsey airdrome in the German-occupied channel islands yesterday and started several fires, the Air Ministry announced tonight.

Munitions Factory Struck.

Night bombers also inflicted heavy damage on munitions factories in Germany, the British said.

A German seaplane base near Brest, France, also was attacked, with damage to hangars and anti-aircraft batteries, and fires were started when oil tanks were hit at Flushing, in the Netherlands, the British reported.

The price British defenses have exacted from the Nazi air raiders was credited by military observers with having turned aside any immediate threat of a German attempt to storm this island citadel either by sea or air.

The Britons said the reported destruction of sixty German planes on Thursday, about one in seven of the 400 raiders in the great battle over the English Channel, was just a taste of the medicine they are prepared to give invaders. The British losses were listed at sixteen. The Germans maintained, however, that they lost only ten planes, against thirty-seven British craft.

By the end of September, a protective mantle of fog should envelop the island and keep it shrouded through the long winter of short days and shorter sunshine. If an attempted blitzkreig is not launched before then, observers predicted, it will never come, for when favorable weather returns in the spring, the British are determined to seize the offensive.

Afraid It Won't Come.

"We're not afraid Hitler will try to invade us," one officer commented. "We're afraid he won't."

No longer haunted by expectation of a direct German assault at any moment now that this perilous week has passed, the British are increasingly aware of the mushrooming power of their own forces itching for a chance to take the offensive.

This week was one of the most favorable for sea-borne invasion because of high tides which would have carried Nazi troop barges farthest up British beaches.

Now, as far as Britain is concerned, the war of nerves is over. Today's wholesale raids were regarded as aimed to crack public morale which, the British say, is far higher than in jittery August, 1939, before the war began.

In one of the biggest aerial attacks that northwestern England has experienced, the Nazis dropped a dozen screeching bombs designed to destroy and terrorize bombarded civilians.

Four persons were killed, two injured and residential property was damaged elsewhere in the northwest, but no military targets were hit. In another town two men a' were killed and a number woun

Areas in Wales and across the length and breadth of England were raided in waves that lasted through the day and night.

A terse Air Ministry communique said that the attacks were spread over many districts and acknowledged that there had been damage to houses and some fatalities.

Clare Returns

Flying Boat Carries Four U. S. Youths Who Plan To Ferry British Planes

London, Aug. 10 (AP)—The British Overseas Airways plane Clare returned to her home base in the British Isles today after a round trip flight to New York. She brought four young Americans from San Francisco who said they would ferry British planes from factories to Royal Air Force bases.

However, it was believed that after a period of instruction the quartet would be used in piloting United States planes across the Atlantic.

The Americans, L. S. King, A. A. Craine, F. W. O'Hanlon and W. G. Moraga, said they have one-year contracts with the British Overseas Airways.

The twenty-six-ton plane, which left New York Thursday afternoon, landed ninety minutes ahead of schedule. It had left Montreal, Quebec, yesterday.

"We shall be engaged in ferrying planes from British factories to Royal Air Force stations in England," said King.

"It was all very sudd n. Representatives of the British Ministry of Aircraft Production asked us if we would like the job. We had approximately two days to catch the Clare and flew to New York from San Francisco, then took the train to Montreal.

"I believe the Ministry wants one hundred American pilots for this work quickly, another hundred later."

All four have more than 2,000 flying hours.

Picture Of Warplanes Falling Discredited

British Air Ministry Denies That Five Ships In Row Were Brought Down In Flames

London, Aug. 10 (AP)—A number of queries from the public regarding a picture printed in British newspapers purporting to show five German airplanes falling simultaneously in flames prompted the Air Ministry tonight to issue this communique:

"The Air Ministry desires it to be known that a photograph published yesterday and today which appeared to show five enemy aircraft falling in flames in line together during Thursday's attack on a Channel convoy was not an official photograph.

"No such incident was reported by our pilots who took part in the engagement."

Cudahy Waits In Lisbon for Clipper Plane

Declines to Discuss London Interview in Which He Urged U. S. Feed Belgians

LISBON, Aug. 10 (AP). — John Cudahy, American Ambassador to Belgium, who drew censure from the State Department at Washington for his remarks on conditions in Nazi-held Belgium, arrived here tonight from London.

Mr. Cudahy, who plans to fly to the United States by Clipper, had no statement to make on the interview in London last Tuesday, which drew a blast of criticism from the British press and orders for him to return to the United States to report.

"Discipline," he said, "dictates my silence until I have conferred with those in authority in Washington."

In his London remarks Mr. Cudahy said Belgium and other German-occupied territories now blockaded by the British Navy would face famine this winter if they did not receive food from America. He also commented favorably on the conduct of the German army of occupation.

Press Bitter

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 10—John Cudahy, United States Ambassador to Belgium, who created a sensation in London by advocating that the United States feed Nazi-occupied countries, left by plane for Lisbon today en route to the United States, to which he had been called home to report to President Roosevelt.

London newspapers, which have been attacking Cudahy bitterly for the remarks he made in a recent interview, headlined the news of his recall and reprimand yesterday by the State Department.

"Undue Publicity"

The Daily Mail today quoted Cudahy as having said, "I do not retract one word from what I said." He told the Associated Press last night "I have no comment to make."

The Daily Mail said Cudahy asserted "undue publicity" was given his remarks.

(He contended Belgium and other German-occupied territories now blockaded by the British navy would face famine this winter if they did not receive food from America. He also commented favorably on the conduct of the Germany army of occupation.)

The Daily Mail quoted a friend of Cudahy: "Mr. Cudahy knows he is to be censured and that may mean the end of his diplomatic career.

"In these circumstances it is likely that instead of remaining in the United States, he would come back to Europe to help with relief work, in which he is deeply interested."

Praises English Fortitude

The Daily Mail quoted Cudahy:

"I have done my job and I return to the United States with reports of great efforts being made by Great Britain that should inspire my countrymen.

"I leave confident that this little country of yours will defend itself to the last man and woman, and will never be conquered.

"The President knows that I am on my way back to the United States. I received ceretain instructions from him when I left and I am carrying them out."

Leaves By Flying Boat

Cudahy left early this morning by flying boat for Lisbon, where he will take a transatlantic plane.

The United States Embassy said his departure was in line with his original plans when he came to London.

The London papers said, however, that Cudahy received an unexpected cable from President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon at Ambassador Joseph Kennedy's country home, ordering him to return immediately to the United States.

In Washington the State Department yesterday reprimanded Cudahy publicly and announced he was being called home to report.

LONDON, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Prince Frederick of Prussia, 29 years old, youngest grandson of former Kaiser Wilhelm and a leading member of society in London before war started last September, has been interned under the aliens order, it was disclosed today.

Home Secretary Sir John Anderson told the House of Commons last February that Prince Frederick had been exempted from internment.

It is understood that he has been sent to the Isle of Man.

Brother Named King's Aide

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP).—Appointment of the Duke of Gloucester as personal aide de camp to King George VI and chief liaison officer to general headquarters of the home forces was announced officially today. The Duke, one of the King's two younger brothers, holds the rank of major general.

30.24-4259

30.24-4259

LONDON, AUG. 10--(AP)--KING GEORGE VI INSPECTED 4,000 HOME-GUARDSME OF THE LONDON AREA TODAY AND WATCHED A SQUAD SHOOT DOWN AN IMAGINARY PARACHUTIST.

LONDON, AUG. 10--(AP)--HERE IS A 17-HOUR DAY IN THE LIFE OF THE CRE OF A 60-FOOT HIGH SPEED ROYAL AIR FORCE LAUNCH, AS TOLD TODAY BY THE AIR MINISTRY NEWS SERVICE:

PICKED UP SEAMEN FROM SINKING SHIP; TOWED LIFEBOATS WITH OTHER SURVIVORS TO NAVAL VESSEL; SEARCHED FOR GERMAN AIRMEN SHOT DOWN IN AIR BATTLE; WAS MACHINE-GUNNED BY NINE GERMAN PLANES, WHICH KILLED THE RADIO OPERATORS AND STARTED THREE FIRES ABOARD THE LAUNCH; DRIFTED WITH FOULED PROPELLORS UNTIL TOWED TO PORT BY ANOTHER BOAT.

DUBLIN, AUG. 10--(AP)--MORE THAN A SCORE OF BODIES, BELIEVED TO BE THOSE OF VICTIMS OF THE ARANDORA STAR TORPEDOING, HAVE BEEN WASHED ASHOR ON THE COAST OF EIRE DURING THE PAST WEEK. THE BRITISH STEAMER ARANDORA STAR, CARRYING INTERNED GERMANS AND ITALIANS TO CANADA, WAS TORPEDOED AND SUNK JULY 3 WITH LOSS OF NEARLY 1,000 LIVES.

BELFAST, NORTHER IRELAND, AUG. 10--(AP)--LARGE-SCALE TRAFFIC IN ARMY TRAVEL WARRANTS WAS DISCLOSED TODAY AT THE TRIAL OF A CIVILIAN WHO WAS SENTENCED TO THREE MONTHS FOR OBTAINING TRANSPORTATION ON A POCKETFUL OF WARRANTS BY REPRESENTING HIMSELF AS A SOLDIER.

"SUCH TRAFFIC CONSTITUTES A DANGER TO OUR TROOPS," THE MAGISTRATE SAID. "UNAUTHORIZED PERSONS WOULD EASILY BLOW UP TRAINS OR SHIPS IF IT IS NOT HALTED."

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND, AUG. 10--(AP)--THE SCOTTISH SOCCER SEASON OPENED TODAY--WAR NOTWITHSTANDING. THERE WAS A STRONG SPRINKING OF PLAYERS FROM ENGLISH CLUBS, REFLECTING THE IMPOSSIBILITY OF ASSEMBLY FULL SCOTTISH LINEUPS. MANY FAMOUS PLAYERS WERE IN UNIFORM OR ENGAGED IN WAR WORK. ENGLAN 'S SOCCER SEASON BEGINS AUG. 31.

LONDON, AUG 11-(SUNDAY)-(AP)-THE TEXT OF THE COMMUNIQUE ISSUED TODAY BY THE MINISTRIES OF AIR AND HOME SECURITY:

"ENEMY AIR ACTIVITY OVER THIS COUNTRY DURING LAST NIGHT WAS SLIGHT AND WAS ALMOST ENTIRELY CONFINED TO THE SOUTHWEST OF ENGLAND.

BOMBS DROPPED IN A TOWN IN THE BRISTOL CHANNEL AREA FELL ON HOUSES AND SLIGHTLY DAMAGED A RAILWAY EMBANKMENT NEARBY.

REPORTS SO FAR RECEIVED SHOW THERE WERE A NUMBER OF CASUALTIES, SOME OF WHICH WERE FATAL.

GERMAN PRESS DECLARES FOOD OUTLOOK GOOD

Says Nazis Won't Worry About Shortage in Any Occupied Territory.

BRITISH BLOCKADE IS BLAMED

Suffering in Low Countries and France Declared English Responsibility.

BERLIN, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—The Nazi press took a rosy view today of Germany's winter food prospects, but was less sanguine about occupied lands, over which it said Germany could not be expected to be too greatly concerned.

The newspapers said an adequate food supply for Germany is assured, and that even the Balkan crops, while not record breakers, are more than sufficient to feed the Southeast.

[This varied with statistics released by the Rumanian Institute of Business Research, which said the Russian grab of Bessarabia and the northern Bucovina included 35 per cent of the Rumanian wheat crop, 38 per cent of barley, 53 per cent of Rye and 23 per cent of corn—enough to have supplied Germany's import needs.]

While emphasizing Germany's food prospects, the German papers frankly were not optimistic about the occupied countries, particularly the low countries and France which they said were being pinched by the British blockade.

First Duty to Germans.

Germany's first obligation is toward Germans, the press asserted. While Germany will be actuated by humanitarian motives to some degree, she cannot be expected to concern herself too much over populations which fought Germany and now face want because they have ruined, neglected or deserted their own farms.

In a sarcastic reference to the British playwright and actor, Noel Coward, DNB, the official German news agency, quoted him as saying to the United States:

"For God's sake don't, because of impulse dictated by soft hearts, feed the starving continent, because if you nourish Adolf Hitler's victims you nourish Germany."

"That lets the cat out of the bag," said DNB. "Dutchmen, Belgians, Frenchmen and Poles now must starve for England after having failed to win the war for England—but the blame would be shoved onto Germany."

Danish Food Exports to Drop.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—A drastic curtailment of Denmark's exports of foodstuffs due to the stoppage of her fodder imports was foreshadowed today in a report of the Agricultural Council.

The council estimated that butter exports would drop by 100,000 tons, slaughtered pigs from 180,000 to 40,000 tons, eggs from 100,000,000 to 21,000,000.

Exports of live pigs will decline from 4,000,000 to 2,000,000, cattle from 3,300,000 to 2,800,000 and chickens from 12,000,000 to 7,000,000.

The report said Denmark must depend exclusively on her own harvests to feed her livestock.

NAZIS PUT FAMINE BLAME ON BRITAIN

Broadcaster Says Reich Itself Is Assured Of Food Aplenty

Adds Victor Is Under No Obligation To Feed Vanquished

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 10—Nazis are pressing a propaganda campaign designed to place upon the British blockade responsibility for any famine when wintere howls down upon this war-ravaged continent.

"Who in England has the right to speak of the necessity on the part of Hitler to supply relief to the peoples of the countries he has occupied?" asked a propaganda broadcaster who uses the air name of Okay.

"There is no necessity. There is no obligation—neither legal nor moral."

Addressed To United States

The broadcast today was addressed especially to the United States.

The broadcaster suggested that Great Britain could avert "a serious food shortage" without aiding Germany by loosening the European blockade.

Meanwhile, the German press, discussing harvest prospects, said Germany herself was assured an adequate winter food supply and that German surveys of Balkan crops indicate that, "while they are not record breakers," they will be more than sufficient to feed the southeast.

Victors Don't Feed Vanquished

Okay, the air propagandist, referring to a British statement that sending food to conquered France would relieve Hitler of the necessity of supplying like relief to the peoples of occupied countries, commented:

"Now, who in the world ever expected a victor to provide his enemies or former enemies wtih food?"

German press optimism over Germany's and the Balkans' winter larder did not extend to the German-occupied lands, especially the Low Countries and France which, the press argued, are being pinched by the British blockade.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—Actually independent reports on the Balkan crops do not bear out the Nazi optimism for the Southeast.]

The German press said that Germany's first obligation is toward Germans and, while she should be actuated to some degree by humanitarian motives, she could not be expected to be too greatly concerned over the populations which fought Germany and now face need because they ruined or neglected their farms.

Blames Allies For Shortage

The semi-official Deutsche Diplomatisch Politich Korrespondenz, For-especially in th

tries and Franc

"From the very beginning hunger was the war instrument of which the West powers hoped for the greatest effects against Germany," the publication said.

Referring to the English blockade, it said:

"England asks those in the world who out of a genuine feeling of charity would like to bring aid to the victims of the British war to harden their hearts. It (England) apparently forgets that the hour of need and hunger also can come for the English people in which others then will recall this attitude."

BRITAIN'S DOOM NOW AT HAND, HESS DECLARES

Peace Offer 'More Generous' Than Hitler's Never Made, Aide Says

[By the Associated Press]

London, Sunday, Aug. 11—Exchange Telegraph reported early today a serious clash between Italian troops and Albanians near the Yugoslav border, in which the Italians suffered one hundred casualties.

The dispatch, from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, said the Italians, who were attempting to mobilize certain classes of Albanians, burned three villages. It said the revolt was spreading.

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 10—Rudolf Hess, Adolf Hitler's deputy for Nazi party affairs, declared tonight that the German nation was convinced that "the moment now is at hand to break England's power even to the ruination of the entire empire."

Speaking in Vienna Concert Hall at a ceremony marking the succession of a new Nazi district leader, Hess said Germany would "fight for the peace which the ruling English plutocratic clique derisively rejected when the Führer once more offered it to England after England's aides and accomplices were defeated.

Never Such "Generous Offer"

"Never in history was a more generous offer made to a land which is in the worst situation since its beginning," he declared.

The animosity of the German people toward England, he said, was "boundless."

"All of us," Hess went on, "know how widespread among our people is the conviction that there can be no peace in the world until England definitely has been struck down.

"Now, when all means of power of Germany and her ally Italy can be concentrated on England, the nation is saying that the moment is at hand finally to make a clean sweep—to break England's power even to the ruination of the entire empire."

Outcome Declared Certain

Germany and Italy were so superior to Britain, he asserted, that "there can't be the slightest doubt" about the outcome of the battle. England daily had been experiencing "tiny foretastes" of what is in store for her, he added, "and care has been taken that all doubts will be removed in England whether the Führer's offer (to halt the war) sprang from weakness."

Hess pictured constantly increasing numbers of German U-boats and airplanes against decreasing British shipping tonnage and a sinking British armaments industry.

"The harder our blow becomes, the nearer we approach peace," he concluded.

Germans' Raid Claims

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 10—The great British munitions works at Faversham, the Pobjoy aircraft works at Rochester, and Government shipyards at Sheerness and Chatham on the Thames were bombed, the high command announced today, in a resumption of large-scale raids on England.

Great fires and explosions resulted from attacks yesterday at Haversham and Rochester, in Kent, the command said, and "a great number of bombs of all calibers" hit the two shipyards in Kent at which Britain repairs damaged ships.

Newcastle Docks Damaged

Great damage also was done to the docks at Newcastle, England's big east coast seaport, the high command asserted, and a runway of the airport at Bristol, in the southeast, was destroyed.

The sinking by submarine of another ship of 8,700 tons was claimed.

Totaling their own victories in defense against air attacks, the Germans said 1,500 "enemy" planes had been brought down by anti-aircraft fire since the start of the war. Two British planes were shot down yesterday.

It was admitted that in yesterday's British raids some civilians had been injured and buildings damaged in German territory.

The high command's communique said:

"A submarine reported the sinking of an armed merchant ship of 8,700 tons.

"Armed reconnaissance against England continued on schedule, especially along the English east and south coasts, as well as the sea region north of Shetland.

"Our fighting planes attacked British armament plants, port and shipyard facilities as well as airports and anti-aircraft positions.

"Big Fires Caused"

"In the course of this action we succeeded among other things in effectively bombing airplane works of Pobjoy Airmotors and Aircraft, Ltd., at Rochester, and an explosives factory at Faversham which caused big fires and explosions.

"A great number of bombs of all calibers hit docks at Newcastle and Government shipyards at Sheerness and Chatham.

"Several Civilians Hurt"

"The runway of an airport north of Bristol was destroyed by bombs. Single enemy planes yesterday entered northern France, Belgium and Holland and at night western Germany.

"Military targets on Reich's territory were not attacked. However, several civilians were injured and a number of buildings damaged.

"Two of our own planes are missing.

"Two enemy planes were downed by anti-aircraft fire. With the destruction of these enemy planes German anti-aircraft artillery has downed a total of 1,500 enemy planes."

INDUSTRIAL RAIDS CLAIMED

Germans Say They Damaged British Arms Plants and Shipyards

BERLIN, Aug. 10 (AP)—The German air force, bunching day and night raids on heavily industrialized Kent in Southeast England, was reported today to have set off great fires and explosions in some of Great Britain's biggest munitions and airplane factories and shipyards.

The munitions works at Faversham, the Pobjoy aircraft factory at Rochester and government shipyards at Sheerness and Chatham on the Thames were bombed heavily, the High Command reported, along with two other ship repair depots in Kent.

At Newcastle, east coast seaport, the High Command said, "great damage" was inflicted on docks, while at Bristol the airport runway was reported destroyed.

The Germans conceded that British bombers caused "some" casualties and damaged buildings in raids yesterday on Western Germany, Northern France, Belgium and the Netherlands.

Two British raiders were reported shot down by anti-aircraft guns. Recapitulating the work of home defenders, the High Command said they had downed a total of 1,500 "enemy" planes since the war's start.

A pilot who participated in Thursday's first air attack on a British balloon barrage told in a German broadcast today of watching six of the big envelopes crash in blue and red flames. The pilot was identified as Aviator-Reporter Hans Theodor Wagner.

"Six went down," he said, "leaving long sheets of smoke behind them. Those miles of steel cables must have caused confusion and damage when they crashed down.

"A number of the barrier balloons were plainly visible near Dover. They were at a height of 2,000 meters, just below the cloud ceiling.

"When our first Heinkels reached the balloons volleys from their machine-guns tore up the well-rounded envelopes, and a moment later blurred flames quivered from within them.

"While the first balloon was quickly enveloped in flames and descended, British crews below at motor winches tried in vain to pull down the others or to release them so they could ascend into the clouds out of our view. But we were too fast and volley after volley penetrated the balloons."

Nazi Describes Downing Of Six British Balloons

Flyer-Reporter Goes on Radio to Tell of Air Attack

BERLIN, Aug. 10 (AP) (via radio).—A Nazi pilot who participated in Thursday's first air attack on a balloon barrage-protected British convoy told in a German broadcast today of watching six of the big rubber balls crash in blue and red flames.

The pilot was identified as Hans Theodor Wagner, an aviator-reporter.

"Six went down," he said, "leaving long sheets of smoke behind them. Those miles of steel cables must have caused confusion and damage when they crashed down.

"A number of the barrier balloons were plainly visible near Dover. They were at a height of 2,000 meters (6,560 feet) just below the cloud ceiling.

"When our first Heeinkels reached the balloons, volleys from their machine guns tore up the well rounded envelopes and a moment later blurred flames quivered from within them.

"While the first balloon was quickly enveloped in flames and descended British crews below at motor winches tried in vain to pull down the others or to release them so they could ascend into the clouds out of our view.

"But we were too fast, and volley after volley penetrated the balloons."

LITHUANIAN ENVOY IN BERLIN DEFIANT

Refuses to Surrender the Legation to Russia.

BERLIN, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Lithuania's Berlin legation maintained opposition today to Russian demands to surrender and appeared likely to raise a ticklish problem for Germany.

The German Foreign Office, unofficially at least, was confronted with the task of deciding whether or not Russia, through incorporation of Lithuania in the Soviet Union, has the right to take over the legation.

It was learned at the legation that so far there have been no official exchanges with the German Foreign Office respecting the Lithuanian position.

The Lithuanian legation was heartened by the refusal of the United States to recognize the aborption of the little Baltic States into the Soviet Union.

Officials of the Russian embassy, who already had occupied the Latvian and Estonian legations, called yesterday at the Lithuanian embassy and demanded the property be surrendered. Lithuanian officials refused. In the early morning, the Lithuanian Minister Kazys Skirpa, who escaped from Lithuania just ahead of the Russian forces of occupation, rushed off in an automobile to an unannounced destination.

NAZIS RUN FRENCH BANKS

Paris Bourse Is Closed Pending Country's Reorganization

BERLIN, Aug. 10 (AP)—Financial institutions in occupied France have been placed under German supervision by orders of the commander-in-chief, Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch.

Carl Schaefer was appointed German commissar for the Bank of France and director of the German supervising board for banks in France. He was president of the Bank of Danzig before that city's incorporation into the Reich.

2 Frenchmen Still Aid Nazis

BERLIN, Aug. 10 (AP)—Paul Ferdonnet and André Obrecht, French broadcasters of Germany's Stuttgart station, who were sentenced to death in absentia by a French tribunal on charges of treason, still are "going strong at their old job," informed quarters said today. A German spokesman praised M. Ferdonnet for his contribution to the German victory over France.

BERLIN, AUG. 10--(AP)--A GERMAN RADIO REPORT FROM VICHY SAID THE PETAIN GOVERNMENT TODAY PUBLISHED A LAW ORDERING OWNERS OF PRIVATE AND PUBLIC FORESTS TO FELL 50 PER CENT MORE TREES THAN NORMALLY, AND TO (TO FACILITATE THE MANUFACTURE OF CELLULOSE FOR MUNITIONS AND TO PRESERVE HER OWN FORESTS, GERMANY HAS ENCOURAGE INCREASED TIMBER CUTTING IN NORWAY.)

BERLIN, AUG. 10--(AP)--HENCEFORTH BRITONS OF MILITARY AGE WILL NOT BE PERMITTED TO TRAVEL TO TURKEY BY WAY OF FRENCH-MANDATED SYRIA, THE GERMAN RADIO SAID TODAY, BECAUSE OF A NEW DECREE BY SYRIAN AUTHORITIES. THE DECREE FORBIDS BRITISH SUBJECTS NOW IN SYRIA TO CROSS THE FRONTIER, THE RADIO REPORTED.

BERLIN, AUG. 10--(AP--VIA RADIO)--THE GERMAN RADIO, QUOTING "WELL INFORMED" TURKISH QUARTERS IN ISTANBUL TODAY, SAID A LAW IS BEING DRAFTED TO FORBID CIVIL SERVANTS FROM MARRYING FOREIGNERS.

3924 -4261

30.24-4261

Battleship Resolution Crippled, Italians Claim

Rome, Aug. 10 (AP)—Italy's air force struck new blows at British power in Africa today as land troops, fighting in the blistering desert heat, advanced past Adueins toward Berbera, British Somaliland port, and the Italian high command reported crippling of the 29,150,-ton British battleship Resolution.

The Resolution was damaged in an air-sea fight August 1, the high command said, suffering "serious damage, especially in the stern turret" under the pounding of Italian bombing planes.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—In its August 2 communique the Italians said "a battleship" of the British Mediterranean fleet had been set afire in a fight off the Baleares Islands August 1, but did not identify the vessel.]

Port Of Berbera Bombed

While Italian troops pressed on toward the British Somaliland coast, Italian planes bombed Berbera, capital and chief port of the colony, damaging a ship in the harbor and setting fire to two grounded British planes. Other Italian planes, the communique reported, raiding the Egyptian coast near the border of Libya, bombed a railway station platform at Matruh and concentrations of mechanized equipment and other objectives at Sidi Burrani.

Balearic Islands August 1 and said a battleship was set afire and several other vessels damaged.)

The Berbera raiders were reported to have damaged a ship in the harbor and fired two grounded British planes.

Other Italian planes, operating along the Egyptian coast near the border of Libya, bombed a railway station platform at Mersa Matruh and concentrations of mechanized equipment and British positions at Sidi Barrani, the high command said.

British motor trucks were reported bombed at Buna.

British raids on Harrar, Massaua and Dura caused no damage, the communique said.

War In Africa: Berbera Bombed

[By the Associated Press]

Rome, Aug. 10—Italian troops passed Adueins in their drive toward the coast of British Somaliland, the high command announced today. The communique also reported the bombing of Berbera, capital and chief port of the British colony, and damage to a British battleship.

"It also has been learned that the British battleship Resolution suffered serious damage, especially in the stern turret, in an air attack carried out by our bombing planes August 1. A destroyer also was seriously damaged," the communique said.

(An Italian communique August 2 reported Italian air bombardment of a British naval squadron near the

RIOM, FRANCE, AUG. 10--(AP)--ALMOST THE WHOLE RECENT PAST OF FRANCE'S NATIONAL LIFE--NOT MERELY THE QUALITY OF ITS MILITARY AND POLITICAL LEADERSHIP--WILL BE EXAMINED BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT HERE IN THE FORTHCOMING "WAR BLAME" TRIALS.

IT WAS EVIDENT TODAY, AS ACCUSATION PILED UPON ACCUSATION, THAT THIS EXTRAORDINARY PROSECUTION BY OFFICIALS OF THE NEW GOVERNMENT OF PHILIPPE PETAIN WOULD BE MUCH MORE THAN A PROCEEDING TO LAY DIRECT RESPONSIBILITY FOR FRANCE'S CONFLICT WITH GERMANY AND HER DISASTROUS DEFEAT.

IT WILL PUSH BACK THROUGH THE YEARS INTO THE BROAD FIELDS OF DIPLOMACY, FINANCE, SOCIAL LIFE, SOCIAL EXPERIMENTS AND SECRET LODGES.

NAMES OF FORMER PREMIERS EDOUARD BALADIER, PAUL REYNAUD AND LEON BLUM ARE CONSTANTLY MENTIONED, ALONG WITH THOSE OF FORMER MINISTER OF COLONIES GIORGES MANDEL AND GUSTAVE MAURICE GAMELIN, THE DEPOSED FRENCH GENERALISSIMO.

THE CASE WILL BE A LONG AS WELL AS HISTORIC ONE: THE COURT IS EXPECTED TO TAKE FORMAL CHARGE SHORTLY. THE GOVERNMENT THEN WILL PRESENT ITS COMPLAINT AND SECRET INVESTIGATIONS AND HEARINGS WILL BEIN.

•)09,)6 -5 523 3,8 91 -)) 582--WHICH WILL REQUIRE WEEKS--WILL THE OPEN TRIAL BE STARTED.

THE PRESS ALREADY IS SPOT-LIGHTING THE TRIAL BY ACCUSI

PRESENT ITS COMPLAINT AND SECRET INVESTIGATIONS AND HEARINGS WILL BEGIN.

ONLY AT THE END OF ALL THIS--WHICH WILL REQUIRE WEEKS--WILL THE OPEN TRIAL BE STARTED.

THE PRESS ALREADY IS SPOT-LIGHTING THE TRIAL BY ACCUSING OLD-SCHOOL POLITICIANS OF KEEPING ALIVE A STATE OF DISSATISFACTION AND REFUSING TO COOPERATE WITH THE NEW REGIME. "SEVERE PUNISHMENT" IS SUGGESTED.

ONLY YESTERDAY THE CABINET ELABORATED METHODS FOR DISSOLUTION OF SECRET LODGES, ESPECIALLY FREE MASONRY, WHICH IS ACCUSED BY THE CONTROLLED PRESS OF BEING ONE OF THE CHIEF AGENCIES IN UNDERMINING FRENCH MORALE AND GOVERNMENTAL EFFICIENCY.

ROME, AUG. 10--(AP)--WORK AT THE PIACEZNA MUNITIONS FACTORY, WHICH WAS DAMAGED BY EXPLOSIONS THURSDAY WITH LOSS OF 39 LIVES, CAN BE RESUMED IN ABOUT A WEEK, UNDER-SECRETARY OF WAR SODDU REPORTED TO PREMIER MUSSOLINI TODAY.

EXPERIMENTS BY THE SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT OF LEON BLUM WITH THE 40-HOUR WEEK ARE PARTICULARLY DENOUNCED IN INSPIRED EDITORIALS AS A FACTOR PRIMARILY TO BLAME FOR A SLUMP IN INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION. NOW THE GOVERNMENT IS STUDYING MEASURES TO ESTABLISH A WORK WEEK OF ABOUT 50 HOURS.

IN THE FIELD OF FRENCH DIPLOMACY, SUCH COMMENT AS THIS, APPEARING IN LA TRIBUNA OF SAINT ETIENNE, IS ILLUSTRATIVE:

"WE ARE TOLD THAT FOR THE LAST 10 YEARS FRANCE, IN FOREIGN POLICY, PLAYED THE WRONG HORSE. THIS PERSISTENT ERROR OVER SUCH A LONG PERIOD WILL BE FOUND AT LEAST SINGULAR."

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG 10-(AP)-ACCUSATIONS PILING UP IN FRANCE'S "WAR BLAME" CASE SOON TO BE TRIED BY THE NATIONAL SUPREME COURT HAVE EXTENDED TO EMBRACE THE FIELDS OF DIPLOMACY, FINANCE, SOCIAL EXPERIMENTS AND SECRET LODGES AS WELL AS GOVERNMENT AND MILITARY LEADERSHIP.

INVESTIGATORS FOR THE FORTHCOMING TRIAL AT RIOM WILL SCRAPE BACK THROUGH MANY YEARS TO UNCOVER THE REASONS FOR FRANCE'S ENTRY INTO THE WAR IN AN UNPREPARED STATE.

THE COURT IS EXPECTED TO TAKE FORMAL CHARGE OF THE CASE SOON. THE GOVERNMENT THEN WILL PRESENT ITS DETAILED CASE AND SECRET INVESTIGATIONS AND HEARINGS WILL BEGIN. ONLY AT THE END OF ALL THIS--WHICH WILL TAKE WEEKS--WILL THE OPEN TRIAL START.

AS PART OF THE BUILD-UP FOR THE TRIAL, IN WHICH ERSTWHILE POLITICAL AND MILITARY LEADERS WILL FACE CHARGES, THE PRESS IS CALLING ATTENTION TO AN ALLEGED CAMPAIGN BY OLD-SCHOOL POLITICIANS TO KEEP ALIVE A STATE OF DISSATISFACTION.

ONLY YESTERDAY, THE CABINET DISCUSSED METHODS FOR DISSOLUTION OF SECRET LODGES, ESPECIALLY THE MASONS, WHO HAVE BEEN ACCUSED BY THE CONTROLLED PRESS OF BEING ONE OF THE CHIEF AGENCIES IN UNDER-MINING FRENCH MORALE.

THE 40-HOUR WEEK OF THE POPULAR FRONT GOVERNMENT OF FORMER PREMIER LEON BLUM HAS BEEN WIDELY LAMBASTED IN INSPIRED EDITORIALS AS ONE OF THE FACTORS PRIMARILY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE FALLING-OFF OF FRENCH ARMAMENT PRODUCTION.

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG. 10-(AP)-THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT WILL MAINTAIN STRICT CONTROL OVER ALL FOREIGN TRADE AND REFUSE ENTRY PERMITS FOR GOODS NOT JUDGED ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL, IT WAS ANNOUNCED TODAY.

CONTROL WILL BE IN THE HANDS OF THE NEWLY-CREATED FOREIGN COMMERCE OFFICE.

SUPPLIES OF FOREIGN CURRENCY NOW IN FRANCE WILL BE TABULATED CAREFULLY AND EVERY STEP IN GRANTING IMPORT LICENSES WILL BE TAKEN WITH THE OBJECT OF HUSBANDING THESE FUNDS.

UNDER THE PRESENT INTERPRETATION, THE ORDER WILL PERMIT IMPORT ONLY OF FOOD AND OTHER BASIC SUPPLIES AND GOODS ESSENTIAL TO THE RESUMPTION OF PRODUCTION IN FACTORIES.

AN EXTRAORDINARY FIVE PERCENT TAX ON WAGES IS AN AFTERMATH OF THE WAR. THE TAX, ORIGINALLY 15 PERCENT, WAS LEVIED DURING THE WAR ON WAGES OF ALL UNMOBILIZED MEN OF MILITARY SERVICE AGE. IT NOW HITS DEMOBILIZED MEN AS WELL.

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG.10-(AP)-A PARTIAL SURVEY BY LOUIS HAUTECOEUR, DIRECTOR GENERAL OF FINE ARTS, DISCLOSED TONIGHT THAT MANY OF FRANCE'S MOST FAMOUS CATHEDRALS AND CHATEAUX ESCAPED THE SCOURGE OF THE GERMAN BLITZKRIEG, ALTHOUGH FOR SOME THE MARGIN WAS NARROW. OTHERS WERE HEAVILY DAMAGED.

ROUEN CATHEDRAL IS PRACTICALLY UNSCATHED, ALTHOUGH SURROUNDED BY WRECKED BUILDINGS.

THE FAMED CHATEAU AT BLOIS WAS SAVED BY THE WATCHMAN, WHO DYNAMITED BOMB-FIRED BUILDINGS ADJOINING IT.

30.24 - 4263

30.24-4263

HAUTECOEUR'S LIST OF OTHERS KNOWN TO BE UNDAMAGED INCLUDED THE CATHEDRALS OF AMIENS, LAON, SOISSONS, ORLEANS, CHARTRES AND BEAUVAIS AND THE CHATEAU OF COMPIEGNE, ALL THE LOIRE CHATEAUX EXCEPT AMBOIS, WHERE THE CHAPEL WAS PARTLY WRECKED.

ST.ETIENNE CHURCH AT BEAUVAIS WAS BADLY DAMAGED AND NUMEROUS CHURCHES IN THE SOMME AND EURE REGIONS WERE DESTROYED OR DAMAGED, INCLUDING THE CHURCHES AT ANDELYS AND GISORS.

THE CATHEDRAL AT MARSEILLE AND THE CHURCH OF ST.MICHEL AT BORDEAUX WERE DAMAGED SLIGHTLY.

THE CHECKUP HAS NOT YET REACHED REIMS, WHERE THE CATHEDRAL IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN UNHARMED, OR LILLE, CALAIS AND DUNKERQUE, WHERE DAMAGE IS SAID TO BE EXTENSIVE.

VICHY, FRANCE, AUG 10-(AP)-THE NEW FRENCH GOVERNMENT IS DETERMINED TO DO SOMETHING TO RESTRICT THE USE OF ALCOHOL, BUT WILL NOT "MAKE THE SAME MISTAKE THE UNITED STATES MADE THROUGH TOTAL PROHIBITION," THE FRENCH PRESS DECLARED TODAY.

THE NEWSPAPERS SAID MANUFACTURERS WOULD BE PERMITTED TO CONTINUE MAKING WINES, CIDER, BEER AND ALCOHOL DISTILLED FROM HOPS AND GRAPE JUICES. BOTH ECONOMIC AND HEALTH REASONS INFLUENCED ACTION AGAINST HARD LIQUOR.

PARIS, AUG 7-(DELAYED)-(AP VIA BERLIN)--THE NEWSPAPER LE MATIN REPORTED TODAY THAT CHARLES TRENET, POPULAR FRENCH SINGER, WAS ALIVE AND AWAITING DEMOBILIZATION. THE NEWSPAPER PARIS SOIR HAD REPORTED JULY 29 THAT TRENET WAS KILLED IN AN AIRPLANE CRASH BUT GAVE NO PARTICULARS.

Riviera Learns New Word—It's Verboten

Bathers Must Be Fully Clad—No Provocative Costumes To Be Allowed

Vichy, France, Aug. 10 (AP) — The French Riviera is undergoing an enforced reform.

Where once anything went, bathers under new decrees must wear complete bathing suits.

Entering or leaving the beach, bathers must be fully clothed. No bathrobe compromise is allowed. Since there are not enough bathhouses on some beaches during the crowded season, many bathers find it necessary to dress and undress on the sands, hiding behind beach parasols or fellow-bathers.

No shorts or other "provocative" costumes are permitted on the promenades at Nice, Cannes or other boardwalk and cafe-studded sea fronts.

5 Killed In Tuesday's Raid On Paris Airport

British Flyers Failed To Hit Any Strategic Points, Says Delayed Dispatch

Paris, (Delayed), Aug. 7 ((AP) via Berlin)—Two newspapers reported today that British planes flying at very high altitudes bombed Le Bourget airport and the outskirts of Paris Tuesday afternoon, killing five persons and wounding others, but failing to hit strategic points. No air raid alarm was heard.

The British Air Ministry announced on Wednesday, the date of this Paris dispatch, that a lone British bomber had swooped down on the great Parisian airport of Le Bourget and dropped bombs near the hangars so quickly that ground defenses were caught napping.

Italian Motorized Troops Push Into Somalia Despite Air Raids

British Bomb Fascists in Mountain Pass—Egypt Ready to Guard Suez Canal—Duce's Flyers Raid Aden.

CAIRO, Aug. 10 (A. P.)—Italian motorized infantry and guns continued the advance toward Britain's main positions in the hills south of Berbera in Somaliland today, the British admitted, despite heavy air attacks on Italian supply ports and military concentrations. At the same time, Egypt hastened steps to prepare for a possible coordinated Italian drive toward the Suez Canal.

A previous announcement said that the Italians had been bombed as they threaded their way through Karrin Pass in the hot, barren slopes east of Hargeisa, which the Italians occupied early this week, toward Berbera, principal British port overlooking the Gulf of Aden. Aden, 150 miles across the gulf, was bombed fiercely this morning by Italian raiders.

Karrin Pass is midway between Hargeisa and Oadweina, towns about eighty miles apart. The pass is seventy miles south of Berbera.

In one of the biggest raids aimed at Italian objectives yesterday, a Royal Air Force communique said, bomb hits set afire an Italian vessel and damaged other shipping in the harbor at Tobruk, Libya, where Italy supplies her forces.

British bombers, directed to their objectives by reconnoitering French pilots, also roared through heavy anti-aircraft fire to shower bombs on Italian positions near Hargeisa.

Another formation of British bombers raided Massaua, Eritrea, and reported direct hits on gun emplacements and several buildings in that Red Sea port.

Still another attack was made on the Italian airdrome at Neghelli, Abyssinia, where two Italian Caproni bombers on the ground were said to have been destroyed.

Egyptian Army Ready.

Meanwhile today Egypt warned her people against the mushrooming war of nerves already being fought, and simultaneously checked all defenses against the major military push the Italians are expected to launch from Libya.

Ready for active alignment with Great Britain's outnumbered African forces the moment Egypt is attacked the Egyptian regular army was prepared for instant action; anti-aircraft and coastal batteries were fully manned, and special police stood on guard against Italian attempt to land parachute troops Nazi-style.

While the Italian troops in British Somaliland were reported moving on toward the principal port of Berbera, 150 miles across the gulf from Aden, the seaport commanding the entrance to the Red Sea, this was regarded as a smoke screen, intended to draw attention from the main attack developing to the west of Egypt.

Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Italy's North African commander, was apparently concentrating his efforts on perfecting a supply system for his army.

The problem facing the Italians was said to be that when Graziani moves, "all his Libyan resources must move with him." Water, food, gasoline and munitions would have to be kept on the move once the Italian offensive starts.

There were rumors of 120,000 German troops in Libya, but reliable informants said that the Nazi force amounted to not more than a few thousand assigned to help Graziani with the technical aspects of his drive.

CAIRO,EGYPT,AUG.10-(AP)-THE BRITISH AIR FORCE REPORTED HEAVY BLOWS ON ITALIAN SHIPPING AND MILITARY CONCENTRATIONS ADVANCING IN EAST AFRICA TODAY WHILE EGYPT HASTENED TO AUGMENT BRITAIN'S OUTNUMBERED FORCES AGAINST AN ANTICIPATED ITALIAN OFFENSIVE FROM THE LIBYAN FRONTIER.

IN ONE OF THE BIGGEST RAIDS AIMED AT ITALIAN OBJECTIVES YESTERDAY, A ROYAL AIR FORCE COMMUNIQUE SAID BOMB HITS SET AFIRE AN ITALIAN VESSEL AND DAMAGED OTHER SHIPPING IN THE HARBOR AT TOBRUK, LIBYA, WHERE ITALY SUPPLIES HER FORCES.

BRITISH BOMBERS, DIRECTED TO THEIR OBJECTIVES BY RECONNOITERING FRENCH PILOTS, ALSO ROARED THROUGH HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE TO SHOWER BOMBS ON ITALIAN POSITIONS NEAR HARGEISA, BRITISH SOMALILAND, WHERE THE ITALIANS WERE REPORTED MAKING PROGRESS THROUGH THE MOUNTAIN PASSES TOWARD THE COAST.

ANOTHER FORMATION OF BRITISH BOMBERS RAIDED MASSAUA, ERITREA, AND REPORTED DIRECT HITS ON GUN EMPLACEMENTS AND SEVERAL BUILDINGS IN THAT RED SEA PORT.

STILL ANOTHER ATTACK WAS MADE ON THE ITALIAN AIRDROME AT NEGHELLI, ABYSSINIA, WHERE TWO ITALIAN CAPRONI BOMBERS ON THE GROUND WERE SAID TO HAVE BEEN DESTROYED.

IN THE ATTACKS ON ITALIAN TROOPS DRIVING ACROSS BRITISH SOMALILAND, THE BRITISH REPORTED COUNTLESS BOMBS RAINED ON ITALIAN ANTI-AIRCRAFT POSITIONS AND TROOP COLUMNS IN THE KARRIN (CORRECT) PASS AREA, JUST EAST OF HARGEISA.

THE BRITISH SAID ALL THEIR PLANES RETURNED.

KARRIN PASS IS MIDWAY BETWEEN HARGEISA AND OADWEINA, TOWNS ABOUT 80 MILES APART, WHICH THE ITALIANS CAPTURED LAST WEEK IN THEIR DRIVE TOWARD BERBERA, THE CAPITAL ON THE GULF OF ADEN THE PASS IS 70 MILES SOUTH OF BERBERA.

(THE ITALIANS REPORTED TODAY THEIR TROOPS HAD DRIVEN TO A POINT BEYOND ADUIENS, EAST OF HARGEISA AND IN THE KARRIN PASS AREA. THE ITALIANS SAID THEIR BOMBERS RAIDED BERBERA ITSELF, DAMAGING A SHIP IN THE HARBOR AND SETTING FIRE TO TWO GROUNDED BRITISH PLANES.)

EGYPT WARNED HER PEOPLE, ETC., X X X PICKING UP PUG AT START.

ITALY INTENSIFIES WAR, BOMBS ADEN

Duce's Legions Advance On British Somaliland's Main Positions

English, Looking At Desert As Ally, Strike At Invaders From Air

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 10—Strong Italian armored columns, harassed almost continuously from the air, advanced through hot wastelands today on the main British positions in British Somaliland as air units stepped up the tempo of the desert war by fiercely bombing the protectorate of Aden.

The British—still apparently depending upon the impersonal malignancy of the desert to ... down many of the invaders as always it has done—were active mainly with their aviation.

British Counter-Invasion

One successful British ground action—a counter-invasion into Italian Ethiopia—was reported, however. British headquarters at Nairobi, Kenya colony, announced that their troops had occupied Korindil, an Ethiopian village near the Kenya frontier, after "slight opposition" and without suffering casualties.

British military headquarters told of heavily bombing the marching Italians as they wound through Karrin Pass just east of the town of Hargeisa; of raids on the harbor at Tobruk, Libya, in which one Italian vessel was set afire and others damaged; of successful attacks on gun emplacements and buildings in the Red Sea port of Massua, Italian Eritrea.

Far to the northwest, Egypt—the land of the Suez Canal and apparently the grand aim of Premier Mussolini's strategy—took every necessary step to range her fighting men with Britain's when the expected Italian invasion comes there.

Italians Mass Near Bardia

Tonight the entire Egypto-Italian frontier was calm. The British communique, for the first time this week, omitted any mention of the situation. Military sources said, however, that big Italian troop movements had been observed in the vicinity of Bardia, thirty miles within Libya.

The Italian air attack on Aden was one of a series of maneuvers suggesting a Fascist intention to break British Empire communication through the Red Sea.

Reports from Aden said one soldier and three natives were killed and that seventeen persons were wounded. Material damage was reported slight.

The Italian drive in the Somaliland was headed toward Berbera, the capital and principal port overlooking the Gulf of Aden. No details as to its success were given by the British, aside from the formal announcement that the advance was "continuing."

British Capture Village

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 10 (AP)—British headquarters at Nairobi, Kenya Colony, announced that their troops had occupied Korindil, a village on the border of Kenya Colony and Ethiopia, after "slight opposition" from Italian troops and without suffering casualties.

Four Killed in Aden, Raid

ADEN, Aug. 10 (AP)—One soldier and three natives were killed in the capital of this British protectorate this morning by raiding Italian bombers. Seventeen persons were

CAIRO, EGYPT, AUG. 10-(AP)-EGYPT WARNED HER PEOPLE TODAY AGAINST THE MUSHROOMING WAR OF NERVES ALREADY BEING FOUGHT, AND SIMULTANEOUSLY CHECKED ALL DEFENSES AGAINST THE MAJOR MILITARY PUSH THE ITALIANS ARE EXPECTED TO LAUNCH FROM LIBYA.

READY FOR ACTIVE ALIGNMENT WITH BRITAIN'S OUTNUMBERED AFRICAN FORCES THE MOMENT SHE IS ATTACKED, EGYPT'S REGULAR ARMY WAS READY TO SWING INTO ACTION; ANTI-AIRCRAFT AND COASTAL BATTERIES WERE FULLY MANNED, AND SPECIAL POLICE STOOD ON GUARD AGAINST ITALIAN ATTEMPTS TO LAND PARACHUTE TROOPS NAZI-STYLE.

3024-4265

WHILE ITALIAN TROOPS IN BRITISH SOMALILAND WERE REPORTED MOVING ON TOWARDS THE PRINCIPAL PORT OF BERBERA, 150 MILES ACROSS THE GULF FROM ADEN, SEAPORT COMMANDING THE ENTRANCE TO THE RED SEA AND BRITAIN'S EMPIRE LIFELINE, THIS WAS REGARDED AS A "SMOKE SCREEN" TO DRAW ATTENTION FROM THE MAIN ATTACK MASSING TO THE WEST.

LATEST BRITISH REPORTS FROM THE EGYPTIAN-LIBYAN DESERT SAID, "ALL AREAS VERY QUIET." MARSHAL RODOLFO GRAZIANI, ITALY'S NORTH AFRICAN COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, APPARENTLY WAS CONCENTRATING HIS EFFORTS ON PERFECTING A SUPPLY SYSTEM FOR HIS ARMY.

THE PROBLEM FACING THE ITALIANS WAS SAID TO BE THAT WHEN GRAZIANI MOVES, "ALL HIS LIBYAN RESOURCES MUST MOVE WITH HIM."

MILITARY OBSERVERS POINTED OUT THAT WATER, FOOD, GASOLINE, AND MUNITIONS WOULD HAVE TO BE KEPT ON THE MOVE ONCE THE ITALIAN OFFENSIVE STARTS. ANY ATTEMPT TO MAINTAIN CONTACT WITH SUPPLY BASES TO THE REAR WOULD BE DOOMED TO FAILURE BY BRITISH BOMBING ATTACKS, THEY SAID, AND LONG SUPPLY LINES SIMPLY WOULD INCREASE THE TARGETS OPEN TO THE RAF.

SINCE ANY ATTEMPTED DRIVE ALONG THE MEDITERRANEAN COAST WOULD EXPOSE THE ITALIANS TO THE FURTHER HAZARD OF BRITISH NAVAL BOMBARDMENT, GRAZIANI'S LEGIONS ARE EXPECTED TO LAUNCH THEIR DRIVE ACROSS THE DESERT. THIS BROUGHT WARNINGS FROM THE EGYPTIAN PRESS THAT THE DESERT WASTES WOULD BE AS REDOUBTABLE AN OBSTACLE AS THE BRITISH.

"THE DESERT IS A TERRIBLE ENEMY. IT IS THE TOMB OF THOSE WHO TRAVERSE IT," THE NEWSPAPERS CHORUSED, WHILE ABDEL RAHMAN AZZAM BEY, COMMANDER OF EGYPT'S TERRITORIAL ARMY, WARNED:

"ANY AGGRESSIVE ACTION AGAINST EGYPT WILL COST THE INVADER VERY DEARLY."

THERE WERE RUMORS OF 120,000 GERMAN TROOPS IN LIBYA, BUT RELIABLE SOURCES SAID THE NAZI FORCE AMOUNTED TO NOT MORE THAN A FEW THOUSAND ASSIGNED TO HELP GRAZIANI WITH TECHNICAL ASPECTS OF HIS DRIVE.

MEANWHILE, THE NEWSPAPERS WARNED THE PEOPLE OF "NERVE" WARFARE SUCH AS "CLANDESTINE AGITATION AND FALSE RUMORS," SAYING THE ITALIAN OFFENSIVE AT PRESENT WAS CONFINED TO ATTEMPTS TO BREAK PUBLIC MORALE AS A PRELUDE TO ATTACK.

ONE PAPER SUGGESTED THE GOVERNMENT DECREE IMPRISONMENT AND SEVERE FINES FOR "RUMOR MONGERS."

CAIRO,EGYPT,AUG.10-(AP)-BRITISH AIRCRAFT WERE REPORTED TODAY TO HAVE RAIDED ITALIAN SHIPPING IN THE HARBOR OF TOBRUK, LIBYA, SCORING DIRECT HITS ON ONE VESSEL WITH A SALVO OF BOMBS AND LEAVING IT IN FLAMES.

ALL THE RAIDERS RETURNED SAFELY, A COMMUNIQUE SAID.

ATTACKS ALSO WERE REPORTED ON POSITIONS ESTABLISHED BY THE ITALIANS NEAR HARGEISA, IN BRITISH SOMALILAND, AFTER RECONNAISSANCE BY FRENCH PILOTS COOPERATING WITH THE ROYAL AIR FORCE.

DESPITE HEAVY OPPOSITION BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT BATTERIES AND ITALIAN FIGHTER PLANES, ANOTHER FORMATION OF BRITISH BOMBERS RAIDED MASSAUA, ERITREA, SCORING HITS ON A JETTY, GUN EMPLACEMENTS AND SEVERAL BUILDINGS, THE COMMUNIQUE DECLARED.

AIRCRAFT OF THE BRITISH SOUTH AFRICA FORCE WERE REPORTED TO HAVE BOMBED THE ITALIAN AIRDROME AT NEGHELLI, ABYSSINIA, DESTROYING TWO CAPRONI BOMBERS ON THE GROUND AND DAMAGING TWO OTHERS.

Day's War Communiques

British

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP)—An Air Ministry communiqué today stated:

During last night enemy aircraft made bombing attacks which were spread over many districts. In a town in the northwest of England bombs destroyed several houses and caused casualties, some of which were fatal.

At a number of places in the Southeast and at a few places in the Northeast, the Southwest and in Wales bombs caused damage to houses. The casualties in these areas were few, but included one person killed.

Another Air Ministry communiqué announced:

Yesterday afternoon R. A. F. aircraft made bombing and machine gun attacks on the enemy-occupied airdome at Guernsey and the seaplane base at Poulmic, near Brest. Damage was done to aircraft, hangars and airdrome defense posts.

The attack on Guernsey airdrome was continued in the evening by aircraft of the Coastal Command. The hangars and aircraft were repeatedly bombed and several fires were started.

Other aircraft of the Coastal Command bombed the oil tanks at Flushing [the Netherlands]. Fires broke out after the attack.

Munitions factories at Ludwigshafen and Cologne were the main objectives in last night's operations in Germany; our aircraft crews report that heavy damage was inflicted.

Other aircraft attacked railway communications in the Ruhr and airdromes in Germany, Holland and Belgium. From these day and night operations all our aircraft returned safely.

An Anson [twin-engined monoplane] of the Coastal Command was lost on routine patrol.

A communiqué issued by the Admiralty stated:

The Secretary of the Admiralty regrets to announce that H. M. submarine Odin (Lieut. Comdr. K. M. Woods, R. N.) is considerably overdue and must be presumed lost. The next of kin have been informed.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 10 (AP)—The text of today's R. A. F. communiqué:

Yesterday our bombers attacked shipping in Tobruk harbor. A ship alongside a jetty was hit with a salvo of bombs and set afire. The ship still was blazing when our aircraft, all of which returned safely, were twenty miles away.

One of two pilots shot down in the engagement [on Thursday near the Libyan-Egyptian border] in which fifteen Italian fighters were destroyed has been brought into our lines by our advance troops.

In East Africa [Italian] positions on the Hargeisa-Turgargen Road were attacked by our bombers after reconnaissance carried out by French pilots operating with the R. A. F. Bombs were dropped among anti-aircraft positions and troops in the Karrin Pass area.

In attacks on Massawa bombs were seen to fall close to a jetty. There was a direct hit on a cleared circle thought to be an anti-aircraft battery, and two direct hits were registered on buildings in the vicinity of the air force barracks. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was experienced by our bombers, who also were attacked by fighters. Our aircraft returned undamaged. In another attack a bomb fell near a floating dock.

Our bombers raided a fuel dump at Mai Adaga, near Gura. One Italian fighter was shot down. Our aircraft returned with one of our observers wounded.

Aircraft of the South African Air Force bombed the Noghelli airdrome in Ethiopia. Two Capronis on the ground were destroyed, one being set afire, the other blown to pieces. Two other Capronis were damaged. Lorries were set afire and direct hits were registered on buildings, one being further damaged by an explosion after it had been hit. A machine-gun post was destroyed by a direct hit. Our casualties comprised one air gunner wounded.

A British General Headquarters communiqué said:

Somaliland: The Italian advance continuing toward our positions.

Other fronts: All quiet.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Aug. 10 (AP)—British military headquarters issued the following communiqué tonight:

Our ground forces yesterday occupied Korindil after slight opposition. We suffered no casualties.

Our bombers carried out a successful raid on Noghelli, two Capronis [Italian planes] being destroyed and two others damaged. In addition one machine-gun post was destroyed and a mechanical transport convoy carrying petrol and stores was set on fire. Hangars and buildings on Noghelli airdrome also were damaged by direct hits.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 10 (AP)—The German High Command issued the following communiqué today:

A submarine reported the sinking of an armed merchant ship of 8,700 tons.

Armed reconnaissance against England continued on schedule, especially along the English east and south coasts, as well as the sea region north of Shetland.

Our fighting planes attacked British armament plants, port and shipyard facilities as well as airports and anti-aircraft positions. In the course of this action we succeeded, among other things, in effectively bombing airplane works of Pobjoy Airmotors and Aircraft, Ltd., at Rochester and an explosives factory at Faversham, which caused big fires and explosions.

A great number of bombs of all calibers hit docks at Newcastle and government shipyards at Sheerness and Chatham. The runway of an airport north of Bristol was destroyed by bombs.

Single enemy planes yesterday entered Northern France, Belgium and the Netherlands and at night Western Germany. Military targets on Reich territory were not attacked. However, several civilians were injured and and a number of buildings damaged.

Two of our own planes are missing. Two enemy planes were downed by anti-aircraft fire. With the destruction of these enemy planes German anti-craft artillery has downed a total of 1,500 enemy planes.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 10 (AP)—The text of the communiqué issued today by the Italian High Command:

It has been ascertained that the British battleship Resolution suffered serious damage, especially in the stern turret, in an air attack carried out by our bombing planes Aug. 1. A destroyer also was seriously damaged.

In North Africa our bombing formations effectively bombarded the railroad platform at Mersa Matruh, concentrations of mechanized equipment and enemy positions at Sidi Barrani.

In East Africa our troops, in a rapid march, have occupied and passed beyond Adueina [Oadweina], in British Somaliland. Our aviation raided the port and airfield at Berbera, hitting a ship and setting fire to two enemy planes of the Gloster type on the ground.

Enemy motor trucks were bombed at Buna. Enemy raids on Harrar, Massawa and Dura had no results.

GIBRALTAR HAS REHEARSAL

New Guns and Planes Tested—Naval Battle Reported

LA LINEA, Spain, Aug. 10 (AP)—Anti-aircraft batteries and recently arrived airplanes at Gibraltar rehearsed today for expected air attacks.

The bursting shells at first were mistaken from the Spanish coast for an air raid.

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP)—A Reuters [British news agency] dispatch from Madrid reported a battle between British and Italian ships today several miles off the Balearic Islands in the Mediterranean. Gibraltar authorities were said, however, to have reported no knowledge of the battle.

New Swiss Troops Called Up

BERNE, Aug. 10 (AP).—Swiss Generalissimo Henri Guisan, with government approval, called up three brigades of light troops today for service beginning Aug. 19, and five groups of exploration troops and five squadrons of dragoons for service beginning Aug. 26. The new units are to relieve other units released for harvest work.

GERMAN-SWISS PACT

Nazis to Send Coal Under New Trade Agreement

BERNE, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Announcement was made today of the signing of a German-Swiss trade agreement in which Germany agreed to supply Switzerland with coal for the winter. Coal has been this country's biggest worry since the collapse of France.

War Fails To Stop Swiss Glider Fans

Army Permits Clubs To Operate Away From Frontier Under Certain Conditions

St. Gallen, Switzerland, Aug. 10 (AP)—Army authorities who banned all flying because of the war reckoned without the Swiss glider enthusiasts.

After months of campaigning, glider clubs obtained permission for members to fly provided they stay away from frontier districts and military airdromes, take off without mechanical help, fly no higher than 500 feet, and stay up no longer than ten minutes.

TURKEY AIDS FRENCH

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 10 (AP).—The Red Crescent—the Turkish Red Cross—responded today to an appeal from the International Red Cross for aid for "millions of French refugees already on the verge of starvation" with 50 truckloads of supplies.

BUCHAREST, RUMANIA, AUG. 10—THE GOVERNMENT, FORCED BY AXIS DESIRES TO NEGOTIATE FORTHCOMING TERRITORIAL CESSIONS TO BULGARIA AND HUNGARY, VENTED ITS WRATH TODAY ON THE JEWS.

IN PLACING NEW ANTI-JEWISH LAWS INTO FULL EFFECT, THE GOVERNMENT APPARENTLY WAS MOTIVATED BY THE FACT THAT THE MOST NATIONALISTIC RUMANIAN ELEMENTS, WHICH ARE OPPOSING ANY TERRITORIAL CESSION, ALSO ARE THE MOST ANTI-SEMITIC.

TAKING THEIR CUE FROM PREMIER ION GIGURTU'S ASSERTION THAT "OBEDIENCE TO GERMAN-ITALIAN WISHES, WHILE NECESSITATING "PAINFUL SACRIFICES" "AT LEAST" WOULD RID RUMANIA OF "JEWISH INFLUENCE," THE NEWSPAPERS DEVOTED MANY COLUMNS TO ANTI-JEWISH MEASURES AND RESULTANT "BENEFITS" TO NON-JEWS.

EXPLANATION OF THE LAWS THUS WAS GIVEN FAR MORE SPACE AND PROMINENCE THAN THE SPEECH IN WHICH THE PREMIER SAID IT WAS NECESSARY FOR RUMANIA TO GIVE UP PART OF HER SOIL.

POLITICAL CIRCLES EXPRESSED BELIEF THE CONCESSION TO THE NATIONALIST ELEMENTS ON THE JEWISH QUESTION WOULD LESSEN THEIR OPPOSITION TO THE TERRITORIAL NEGOTIATIONS, AND PERMIT THE GOVERNMENT TO YIELD SOME LAND WITHOUT SERIOUS INTERNAL DIFFICULTIES.

LA LINEA, SPAIN, AUG. 10—(AP)—A LONE WARPLANE RAIDED GIBRALTAR AT 8:30 P.M. TODAY (12:30 P.M. EASTERN STANDARD TIME), DROPPING SEVERAL BOMBS IN THE BAY.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS FIRED AT THE RAIDER.

30.24-4267

(BERLIN POLITICAL CIRCLES REPORTED GERMAN IRRITATION--PRESUMBLY DIRECTED AT RUMANIA--OVER THE "SLOWNESS" WITH WHICH THE BALKAN STATES ARE NEGOTIATING THEIR TERRITORIAL CLAIMS IN LINE WITH ADOLF HITLER'S PLANS FOR SOUTHEAST EUROPE.)

OFFICIAL CIRCLES SAID CONFERENCES WITH BULGARIA'S REPRESENTATIVES WOULD BEGIN THIS WEEK-END IN KING CAROL'S COUNTRY PALACE AT SEGARCEA, A VILLAGE NEAR CRAIOVA, WHERE IT PREVIOUSLY WAS REPORTED THE NEGOTIATIONS WOULD BE CONDUCTED. BULGARIA CLAIMS SOUTHERN DOBRUJA, TAKEN BY RUMANIA IN 1913.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH HUNGARY OVER HER CLAIMS TO TRANSYLVANIA, ACQUIRED BY RUMANIA AFTER THE WORLD WAR, ARE TO FOLLOW.

A9

POLICE ARRESTED SCORES OF PERSONS YESTERDAY ON CHARGES OF SPREADING FALSE NEWS AND HUSTLED THEM OFF TO CONCENTRATION CAMPS. ALL THE PRISONERS WERE IDENTIFIED WITH THE LIBERAL AND DEMOCRATIC FACTIONS, AND MOST OF THEM WERE JEWS.

SINCE THE NEW ANTI-JEWISH LAWS CUT OFF MOST OF RUMANIA'S 755,000 JEWS FROM PUBLIC OFFICE, MANY PROFESSIONS AND OTHER FIELDS, THEIR JOBS WILL BE AVAILABLE TO NON-JEWS, THE NEWSPAPERS POINTED OUT.

THE PRESS ALSO STRESSED THE FACT THERE WILL BE MANY BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES FOR GENTILES, SINCE JEWS ARE BARRED FROM ENGAGING IN MANY BUSINESSES, AND THE BAN ON JEWISH OWNERSHIP OF LAND WILL MAKE FARMS AVAILABLE.

IN PROHIBITING JEWISH PARTICIPATION IN PUBLISHING OF NEWSPAPERS AND OTHER PERIODICALS, THE LAW IS SO FAR-REACHING AS TO PREVENT JEWS FROM SELLING PAPERS IN THE STREETS.

THE LAWS FORBID INTERMARRIAGE OF JEWS AND CHRISTIANS, AND PERMIT ANNULMENT OF EXISTING JEWISH-CHRISTIAN MARRIAGES UPON FORMAL APPLICATION.

OTHER PROVISIONS AFFECTING JEWS ARE TO BE ADDED LATER.

MANY JEWISH RESIDENTS ARE CONFUSED AS TO JUST HOW FAR THE LAWS WILL AFFECT THEM, FOR THE STIPULATIONS ARE SO LOOSE THEY MIGHT BE INTERPRETED TO PROHIBIT JEWS FROM ALMOST ANY GOVERNMENTAL, PROFESSIONAL, INDUSTRIAL, ECONOMIC OR SPORTS ACTIVITY.

BERN, SWITZERLAND, AUG. 10-(AP)-THE SWISS ARMY COMMAND ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT FRENCH AND POLISH TROOPS INTERNED IN THE BERNESE OBERLAND, SOUTH OF BERN, WILL BE TRANSFERRED TO EASTERN SWITZERLAND. ABOUT 60,000 TROOPS IN ALL ARE INTERNED IN SWITZERLAND. THE SHIFT OF THE FRENCH AND POLISH SOLDIERS WAS DUE TO RECENT ATTEMPTS BY SMALL GROUPS OF POLES TO ESCAPE TO THE FRENCH FRONTIER AND TO FRENCH-SPEAKING SWITZERLAND.

BERLIN, AUG. 10--(AP)--A GERMAN RADIO REPORT FROM STOCKHOLM TODAY SAID A PARCEL OF EXPLOSIVES ADDRESSED TO AN ENGINEER IN A BIG SWEDISH INDUSTRIAL PLANT HAD BEEN FOUND AT A RAILWAY STATION NEAR UPSALA, SWEDEN

BALKANS

NEW YORK, AUG. 10--(AP)--THE BRITSH RADIO REPORTED TODAY THAT THE RUMANIAN AND BULGARIAN CABINETS WERE BELIEVED TO HAVE APPROVED AN AGREEMEN CEDING PART OF DOBRUJA TO BULGARIA. THE CABINETS MET LAST NIGHT. THE REPORT WAS HEARD IN NEW YORK BY N.B.C.

King Carol Reported On "Mystery" Trip

Leaves Bucharest For What Is Believed A Meeting With Boris Of Bulgaria

London, Sunday, Aug. 11 (AP)—A Reuters (British) dispatch from Bucharest said early today that King Carol had left Bucharest for an unannounced destination in Rumania.

The dispatch added that it was believed he might meet King Boris of Bulgaria, near Craiova, during the week end to discuss the Dobruja question.

Rumania has been ordered by Germany to negotiate directly with Bulgaria for a settlement of Bulgaria's claim on Southern Dobruja and with Hungary for a settlement of that nation's claim on the huge province of Transylvania.

Southern Dobruja was ceded to Rumania in 1913 after the second Balkan war. Rumania gained Transylvania from the collapsed Austro-Hungarian empire after the World War.

Bulgarian Minister To Moscow Returns

Christoff Goes Back To Sofia To Report To Government; Purpose Not Disclosed

Berlin, Aug. 10 (AP) (Via Radio)—The German radio reported tonight that the Bulgarian Minister to Russia had returned home to Sofia to report to his Government. It said his arrival caused a sensation in Sofia although the purpose of his return was not disclosed.

The German radio said the Bulgarian Minister had presented his credentials in Moscow only two weeks ago, but cable[illegible] from Moscow last Febu[illegible]d that the new Bulgarian [illegible]odor Christoff, had arrived and had been received by Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff.

U. S. SEIZURES PREDICTED

Soviet Newspaper Sees Occupation of European Colonies

MOSCOW, Aug. 10 (AP)—Red Star, Russia's army newspaper, asserted today that the United States was preparing to occupy the Western Hemisphere colonies of European nations as a prelude to armed intervention in the war. It stressed the United States program of rearmament and proposals for military training.

Referring to the July conference of American Foreign Ministers at Havana, the newspaper said:

"No doubt its real purpose was not the defense of British, French and Netherland colonies in the Western Hemisphere, but preparation to occupy these colonies."

"Actually the war in Europe has increased Anglo-American cross-purposes," Red Star added, charging the United States with trying to exclude Britain as well as other competitors from South American markets while Britain was turning toward compromise with Japan.

Germany Annoyed by Delay

BERLIN, Aug. 10 (AP)—German political circles showed irritation today—presumably directed at Rumania—over the "slowness" with which the Balkan nations were settling their disputes. German observers said there was too much haggling in negotiations that are expected to compose Balkan differences in accordance with German and Italian suggestions.

The press said that foreign—possibly "enemy"—influence was trying to thwart the Axis formula for the peaceful adjustment of Balkan issues. The authoritative commentary Dienst aus Deutschland said Germany was counting on common sense and a feeling of justice to prevail in the southeastern conferences and that the Axis was reluctant to resort to force.

"Attention is recalled to the statement that Germany and Italy have no desire to impose their ideas for a new order in the Southeast with the force they doubtless possess," Dienst aus Deutschland said, "but this must not be interpreted as a sign of weakness.

"There is sympathetic understanding for incidental difficulties. But Berlin will judge sternly if there should be any intervention of foreign interests whose only purpose is to defeat the establishment of a lasting peace in the Balkans."

Re[illegible] Naval Rule

Sailors Forbidden to Go Over the Heads of Immediate Superiors

MOSCOW, Aug. 10 (AP).—Another step toward restoring rigid discipline in the Russian armed forces was taken today by Navy Commissar Nikolai Kuznetzov. He issued a special order forbidding sailors to address themselves to higher officers of the fleet over the heads of their immediate superiors.

His action was in line with similar moves of recent years, such as restoration of the military salute and formal military titles for commanders.

Declaring that Britain had been forced to make "sweeping changes in her Far Eastern policy," the paper said:

"No matter on what grounds the British withdrawal is based, there is no doubt that the British have accepted Japan's demands for withdrawal of armed forces of European belligerents from Japanese-occupied areas in China."

Coast Blockade Extended

Japanese naval authorities, meanwhile, proclaimed extensions of their blockade of the China coast by specifying a number of areas on the Fukien coast which would be closed to navigation August 15.

Strained Japanese-British relations appeared eased by the British withdrawal, but Chinese quarters found fresh cause for anxiety in reports of threatening Japanese troop concentrations along the French Indo-China border.

At Chungking, the central Daily News, official organ of the Chinese Government, warned that China would take "adequate steps to back French Indo-China with force" if that colony's territorial or political integrity should be menaced.

Unofficial sources said that China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek already had moved some of his best divisions toward the Indo-China border.

Reports from Hongkong said that Japanese warships and transports were arriving at Waichow, Hainan and other bases near Indo-China.

Despite these threatening indications, foreign military circles acquainted with climatic conditions said it was unlikely Japan would make any serious move in the direction of Indo-China before late September. Seasonal rains, intense heat and the danger of malaria would seriously impede any widescale operations before then, they said.

PRESSURE IN JAPAN APPLIED TO ROTARY

One Club Dissolved, Another Decides To Secede From Organization

Chosen Anti-British League Demanding Four Units Fold Up

[By the Associated Press]

Tokyo, Sunday, Aug. 11—Further pressure on Rotary clubs in Japan has resulted in dissolution of the small club at Tokushima and decision of the Osaka Club to secede from Rotary International in order to reorganize in conformity with the new Japanese national structure, Domei, Japanese news agency, reported today.

The agency said that the Chosen (Korea) anti-British League was demanding dissolution of four Korean Rotary clubs.

Suspected Of Espionage

The newspaper Hochi reported yesterday that twenty-seven members of the Rotary Club at Shizuoka had decided on dissolution because the club has been publicly suspected of espionage.

The paper quoted the general secretary of the Rotary Club in Tokyo as saying that the forty-seven clubs in Japan and Manchoukuo would be revised at a forthcoming convention so that dissolution would not be necessary.

(Associated Press Editor's Note—Rotary in Japan at present comprises Japanese and foreign business men.)

Admiral Returns

Meanwhile, Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, former foreign minister of Japan, returning from a month's inspection trip in the South Seas, reported that when he arrived in Celebes, Netherlands East Indies, martial law was declared and 500 Chinese fled to the mountains "because of a rumor that I was heading a Japanese landing party."

When Admiral Nomura left Tokyo July 10 for his extensive trip through the British and Dutch possessions in the East Indies, the foreign office said that he was representing a private company and had no official connections.

bers of the Japan Young Men's Party marched to the British consulate in a downtown building and demanded that the premises be surrendered to them and that Japanese translators in the consular employ resign.

Press Assails American Consul

TOKIO, Aug. 10 (AP).—A Japanese newspaper dispatch accused the American Consul today of taking undue interest in negotiations between Japanese army men and officials of French Indo-China and said he was "clearly active for the purpose of sprinkling cold water on Japan-Indo-China negotiations."

The dispatch came to the newspaper "Yomiuri" from Hanoi, French Indo-China. It said a "strange American official" named Reed, once American Consul at Taihoku, in Japanese Formosa, "has been very active for no apparent reason since the arrival of Japanese inspectors." The inspectors are those sent to see to it that no goods are sent through Indo-China to China.

[Charles S. Reed 2d, of Sandusky, Ohio, former American Consul at Taihoku, is American Consul at Saigon, Indo-China.]

The dispatch said Gen. Rishihara, of the Japanese Army, who had returned Thursday to Hanoi from Tokio, was expected to start new negotiations today with Indo-China authorities.

Mention of Mr. Reed was the first indication that the Japanese were watching Americans as well as Britons in their present phase of Far Eastern activities.

Singapore to Broadcast News

SINGAPORE, Aug. 10 (AP)—A 100-kilowatt government radio station will be built here to broadcast British news and views over a wide Far Eastern area, it was announced today. Singapore is Britain's principal Far Eastern naval base.

JAPANESE WARSHIPS ATTACK

Town On South China Coast Reported Under Fire

Berlin, Aug. 10 (AP) (Via Radio)—Japanese warships attacked Haimen, twelve miles south of Swatow on the South China coast, and landed troops early today for an attack on the Chinese garrison there, the German radio said in a Tokyo dispatch.

GIVES QUEZON POWERS

New Bill to Meet Philippine Emergency Approved.

MANILA, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—A bill conferring wide emergency powers on President Manuel Quezon was given third reading and approval today by the National Assembly. It now goes to President Quezon.

The measure, designed to meet an emergency situation resulting from falling revenues due to disturbance of exports and imports by war conditions, was passed 62 to 1.

Assemblyman Juan Alano, the lone dissenter, contended that the bill was against the spirit of the commonwealth's constitution.

The President will have the power under the act to control farming, industries, wages, profits, hours of work, distribution of labor, transportation, including shipping, public service, rents and prices of prime necessities. He also may prohibit lockouts and strikes.

Windsor Interviewed, Duchess Prompts Him

[By the Associated Press]

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 10—The Duchess of Windsor, who will be First Lady of the Bahamas when the Duke goes there to assume his duties as Governor, already has proved of considerable aid to her husband in the islands.

Throughout the long interview they gave the press yesterday the Duke noticeably depended on the Duchess for whispered promptings. Both seemed amused at the opening formality of reporters, who had been coached carefully in the proper form of address.

Soon Make It Informal

The royal couple soon set the interview on such an informal plane that few bothered to say "Your Royal Highness" or "Your Grace."

In fact, virtually the only formality of their first day in Bermuda revolved about the Duke's golf match, in which he and Eldon Trimingham, prominent local merchant and member of Parliament, lost to the Duke's equerry, Captain Woods, and W. J. H. Trott, another prominent Bermudian. Officials refused to announce the score.

Maj. Gen. Denis Kirwan Bernard, Governor of the Colony, gave a dinner for the Windsors attended by fourteen guests, including members of the Governor's household, the Duke's entourage, admiralty officials and the colonial secretary.

"Sold On That Trailer"

The Duke, asked what he would do in the Bahamas with the trailer they brought from Europe, said:

"I don't think we will have much use for it. But we are very sold on that trailer."

To which the Duchess added:

"Why, all refugees have trailers nowadays."

Windsors Bring Pink Sheets Along And Use Them On Ship

Duke And Duchess Spend Much Of Their Time At Sea In 9 By 16 Cabin

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 10—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor brought along two sets of pink sheets for their stateroom on their voyage from Lisbon to Bermuda, staff members of the American Export liner Excalibur reported on arrival today.

As soon as they got on the boat, the sheets were placed on the twin beds in the tiny main cabin of their suite—a room measuring only nine by sixteen feet, said Aurelio Gonzales, steward, who served the titled couple.

The Windsors ignored two adjoining bedrooms and spent much of their time in the little main room, which was almost a glorified bathroom, with shower and wash basin.

The Windsors ate "next to nothing," the steward said, having only toast and tea for breakfast, and, for dinner one night, only one sausage and a baked potato piece.

The Duke limited himself to one Scotch highball a day, which he mixed himself.

He always called the Duchess "dear," and she signed her name, on the ship's records and for autograph hunters, as "Wally Windsor."

The Duke was considerably irritated, crew members said, when British authorities in Bermuda seized 132 bags of American mail on the ship for inspection, but did not make any formal protest.

The Excalibur brought 129 passengers—only 33 of them American citizens.

Among the other passengers were Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., United States Ambassador to Poland; William Phillips, Ambassador to Italy; and George Gordon, Minister to the Netherlands. The three seemed acutely aware of the State Department rule against unauthorized interviews, for all replied "no comment," to questions about conditions abroad.

Biddle said he had been recalled to Washington for "consultation" and would go to the Capitol today by train. Phillips said he would report to the State Department early next week. Gordon said his family is in Savannah, Ga.

The Excalibur's captain, S. N. Groves, said the Windsors spent much time on the bridge, where other passengers were not allowed.

"I could talk sailor language to the Duke," Captain Groves said. "He's a real sailor. He didn't seem to know much about his new post, and hardly ever said anything about it.

Impressed By Informality

"Both of them seemed most impressed by the informality on the boat. The Duke would take their three dogs walking on deck every day and when he went back by the fo'c'sle, the crew yelled things like 'H'ya, Duke—How ya doin', and he seemed to enjoy it.

"The Duchess said she was looking forward anxiously to visiting the United States again, that she hadn't been there in eight years and that it was high time she did."

Most of the Excalibur's passengers seemed to have enjoyed the unscheduled detour to Bermuda, except for a few who had been trying to make connections at New York with a South American boat.

The Duke, once an international sartorial leader, dressed quite informally most of the trip in slacks and polo shirts.

In The Far East: Japnaese Demands

Tokyo, Aug. 10 (AP) (Via Radio)—Domei, Japanese news agency, reported today that numerous anti-British leaflets were placarded on the walls of Tokyo last night by Nationalist groups calling for an "attack on England" and for Japan to "make use of the entire strength of our nation."

[By the Associated Press]

Shanghai, Aug. 10—A demand that the British defense sector in Shanghai be transferred to Japanese control to meet "the actual situation" created by British troop withdrawals was voiced today by the newspaper Tairuku Shimpo, regarded as the mouthpiece of the Japanese army in China.

Although the withdrawal of British troops was not entirely unexpected, the move stirred speculation as to the fate of huge British investments in Shanghai. The Chinese dollar slumped sharply. The latest quotation was 18.60 Chinese dollars to one United States dollar as compared with 17.38 previously.

Reports 50 Japanese March To Consulate

Osaka, Japan, Sunday, Aug. 11 (AP)—Domei reported today that fifty mem-

AUG 1940

30.24-4269

HAMILTON,BERMUDA,AUG.10-(AP)-THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR ARE GOING TO CHURCH TOMORROW TO HEAR A SERMON BY BISHOP ARTHUR HEBER BROWNE--THEP MAN WHO ONCE ANGRILY TORE UP PICTURES O

HEBER BROWNE--THE MAN WHO ONCE ANGRILY TORE UP PICTURES OF THEIR WEDDING BUT LATER APOLOGIZED.

MEMBERS OF THE GOVERNOR'S HOUSEHOLD WILL ACCOMPANY THE ROYAL COUPLE TO BERMUDA CATHEDRAL FOR THE SERVICES.

THE PICTURE TEARING EPISODE WAS IN JANUARY, 1936, WHEN BRITISH OPINION WAS SHARPLY DIVIDED OVER THE DUKE'S RENUNCIATION OF THE THRONE, AND HIS MARRIAGE TO THE FORMER WALLY SIMPSON, AMERICAN-BORN DIVORCEE.

AUG 11 1940

BISHOP BROWNE, HEAD OF THE ANGLICAN CHURCH IN BERMUDA, WALKED INTO THE OFFICE OF THE ROYAL GAZETTE AND COLONIST, A NEWSPAPER, RIPPED PICTURES OF THE COUPLE FROM ITS WALLS AND TOOK THEM AWAY WITH HIM.

SUBSEQUENTLY THE BISHOP SAID THE PICTURES HAD BEEN BURNED. HE OFFERED AN APOLOGY TO THE NEWSPAPER, ASKING THAT HE NOT BE CRITICIZED TOO SEVERELY FOR AN ACT DONE IN A FIT OF TEMPER.

BISHOP BROWNE WOULD NOT COMMENT ON THE WORSHIP TOMORROW EXCEPT TO SAY THAT HE WOULD CONDUCT THE SERVICE "AS USUAL."

THE DUCHESS WENT SHOPPING TODAY FOR REED PORCH FURNITURE AND SOME GLASS HURRICANE GLOBES FOR CANDLES. SHE BOUGHT SEVERAL AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS AT THE DRUGSTORE.

THE DUKE INSPECTED A CANADIAN REGIMENT ON WAR DUTY HERE.

ABOUT 40 HIGH GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND THEIR WIVES ATTENDED A COCKTAIL PARTY GIVEN FOR THE DUKE AND DUCHESS ON THE TERRACE OF GOVERNMENT HOUSE BY MRS.HASTINGS BROOKE, SISTER OF BERMUDA'S GOVERNOR, MAJ.GEN.DENIS KIRWAN BERNARD.

THE ONLY FOREIGNERS PRESENT WERE THE UNITED STATES CONSUL GENERAL, WILLIAM H.BECK, AND MRS.BECK.

THE GOVERNOR'S AIDE-DE-CAMP TOLD THE GUESTS TO CURTSEY TO THE DUKE. HE SAID IT WAS UP TO THEM WHETHER THEY CURTSIED TO THE DUCHESS AND SEVERAL WOMEN, INCLUDING MRS.BECK, CURTSIED WHEN THEY WERE PRESENTED.

THE DUCHESS DRANK LEMONADE AT THE PARTY.

AFTER AN HOUR WITH THE GUESTS, THE DUCHESS TOUCHED HER HUSBAND'S ARM AND SAID:

"DEAR, I THINK IT'S TIME TO GO IN."

AUG 11 1940

Bermuda Censors Seize Mail From U. S. Liner

400 Bags Taken From American Export Ship En Route To Lisbon From New York

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 10 (AP)—British censors removed 400 bags of mail today from the Lisbon-bound American Export liner Exochorda, which stopped here as required by her navicert.

The chief censor explained that all ships proceeding to Europe must have navicerts, certificates from British consular authorities declaring that cargo is not of enemy origin or destination.

He said that because the Exochorda carried mail, her navicert required that she call at Bermuda so it could be examined.

Any mail released by the censor will be forwarded by the next available ship, as the Exochorda proceeded after surrendering it.

CANADA ACTS TO CURB RETAIL GASOLINE SALE

Limits Filling Stations and Pumps to Those Existing

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (AP)—An order prohibiting the establishment in Canada of any further oil filling stations was announced today by the office of G. R. Cottrelle, Oil Controller. It is effective immediately.

The installation of pumps and other equipment for use in the retail sale of gasoline and other petroleum products also is prohibited, although equipment required for reasonable and necessary repairs to existing installations will be allowed.

The regulations are designed to insure the "orderly conduct of the business in Canada," said C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply.

The Minister said he did not believe the order was a forerunner of general curtailment of the use of gasoline for private purposes in Canada.

American Questioned By Mexican Officials

Photographer Says He Took Pictures Of Children Giving Nazi Salute And Was Set Upon

Mexico City, Aug. 10 (AP)—Malcolm Bissell, 25-year-old free-lance photographer from Los Angeles, Cal., was questioned for two hours today when he went to the Interior Department offices to obtain a camera taken from him yesterday by officials of a German school.

Bissell said two school officials set upon him when he photographed children parading and "giving the Nazi salute." School officials denied such a salute was given and said the daily parade was part of a flag ceremony required by Mexican law.

Interior Department officials said that Bissell was not detained, but was questioned simply because the department wished to keep informed of activities of all foreigners in Mexico. Bissell said he was berated for "causing trouble," and was warned to "leave that school alone."

4 MORE CANADIAN WARSHIPS

Wife Of Quebec's Lieutenant Governor Christens Craft

An Eastern Canadian Port, Aug. 10 (AP)—Four more war vessels were added officially to the complement of the Royal Navy today when Lady Fiset wife of the Lieutenant Governor of Quebec christened and launched one ship and presided over the christening of three others.

The vessels, all of the Corvette type were some of those ordered in Canada by the British Admiralty since the start of the war.

SUPPORTERS OF VOLUNTEER ARMY HOPEFUL

But Administration Chiefs Turn Cold Shoulder to Draft Compromise.

MALONEY SAYS HIS PLAN GAINS

Holman Declares Danger of an Invasion of Alaska Has Been Considered by Army.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Administration leaders turned a cold shoulder today to talk of a compromise in the Senate fight over conscription.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic floor leader, expressed the opinion to reporters that conscription and voluntary enlistments could not be linked successfully in such a system as that offered by Senator Maloney, Democrat, of Connecticut, as a substitute for the Burke-Wadsworth bill.

Mr. Barkley also said he thought opponents of the conscription legislation would muster their maximum strength on compromise amendments. He predicted that if such compromise attempts failed fewer than twenty-five Senators would vote against final passage of the bill.

REFERENDUM ON DRAFT URGED

Referendum Idea.

Opposition Senators, meanwhile, were reported to be discussing the possibility of a referendum vote on conscription at the November election. Some of these Senators said they were confident that given a chance to express its opinion at the polls, the country would show a majority strength against the draft.

Senator Maloney would require the registration of all men who have passed their twenty-first birthday and not reached their thirty-first, as would the Burke-Wadsworth bill, but he would delay the draft until January while voluntary enlistments were sought. If these enlistments did not fill the army's quota, conscription would be ordered.

Army enlistments totaled 23,442 in June and 31,958 in July, a peacetime record. The army's strength was 270,183 on July 31, and will be brought to 322,922 as quickly as possible.

Senator Maloney said that his proposal appeared to be attracting increasing support, despite administration opposition and the reluctance of conscription opponents to agree that the draft might be needed while the nation was at peace.

Backs Volunteer Service.

One of the latter group, Senator Nye, Republican, of North Dakota, said that he was willing to have men from 21 through 30 registered in order to have the draft machinery ready if war came, but could see no reason for abandoning the traditional American peacetime policy of voluntary enlistments.

He predicted that supporters would find it necessary to compromise the Burke-Wadsworth bill before they could obtain Senate approval.

This view was echoed in private by one administration strategist, who said he had no doubt that some sort of conscription bill would be voted by the chamber. He said it was touch and go, however, whether the Maloney proposal or some similar compromise would be adopted.

The Senate will resume debate on the Burke-Wadsworth measure Monday after a week-end recess. The discussion began yesterday in a tense session.

Fears Invasion of Alaska.

While crowded galleries looked on, Senator Holman, Republican, of Oregon, excited the Senate with an assertion that he had learned from "authoritative military sources" of "imminent peril of invasion of Alaska" and the "endangering of the entire Pacific slope."

Senator Holman later explained to reporters that he was not referring to any immediate possibility of invasion, but regarded Japan as the No. 1 threat to American peace and looked to Alaska as the most vulnerable point of attack.

Senators Sheppard, Democrat, of Texas, and Danaher, Republican, of Connecticut, argued over the necessity of conscripting men to meet an attack which Senator Sheppard insisted was imminent and which Senator Danaher said he could not foresee in the immediate future.

Danaher Explains.

Senator Lucas, Democrat, of Illinois, asked Senator Danaher why he had voted for recent large defense appropriations if he felt this country was not in danger. Senator Danaher in reply asserted that the Roosevelt administration had not properly attended to national defense.

This brought from Senator Barkley a charge that Senator Danaher was making a political speech.

The predictions of possible attacks on the United States brought a challenge from Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana.

"Those men who stand here and say that Germany is going to attack us in three months or six months—why don't they have the courage to go to the people of the country and say 'Let's declare war'?" he shouted.

"It's nonsense," he added.

Woodring Not to Testify.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Harry H. Woodring, former Secretary of War, said today he could not accept an invitation to testify before the House Military Affairs Committee on the Burke-Wadsworth military training bill because of previously accepted engagements.

Wheeler Hurls Challenge To Supporters Of Burke-Wadsworth Bill

Senate Proponents, Opponents To Resume Debate Tomorrow

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Aug. 10—A challenge to supporters of the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill to submit the question of conscription to a referendum vote of the people was voiced today by Senator Wheeler (Dem., Mont.), a leader of Senate forces opposing the measure.

Contending that popular sentiment definitely was against drafting young men into the army, Wheeler said that those who believed in the compulsory method ought to be willing to test the popularity of their views at the polls in the November general election.

"If the proponents of conscription feel that it is necessary to have the draft to save democracy, as they repeatedly have said, they ought to be willing to submit the question to the people because that would be the democratic way to ascertain the public viewpoint," Wheeler told reporters.

To Resume Debate Tomorrow

The practical difficulties of obtaining such a vote might be large but should not be insurmountable, he contended

Wheeler's challenge came as proponents and opponents of the Burke-Wadsworth measure prepared for resumption in the Senate Monday of debate which began yesterday with a routine explanation of the bill by Senator Sheppard (Dem., Texas) and flared almost immediately into a heated controversy as to whether the United States was likely to be attacked in the near future.

The Montana Senator's confident statement that public sentiment was opposed to conscription was quickly disputed by Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, who said he thought the weight of opinion in favor of drafting men would begin to be felt heavily as debate progressed.

Opposes Compromises

On the other hand, Senator Nye (Rep., N. D.), an opponent of conscription, said he thought that the Senate debate would build up so much popular opposition to the draft that even if he and others of like views were unsuccessful in defeating the measure in the Senate, it would almost certainly be compromised in the House.

Barkley said he was opposed to proposed compromises such as that outlined in a substitute bill by Senator Maloney (Dem., Conn.).

The Burke-Wadsworth measure would call for the registration of about 12,000,000 men 21 to 30 years old, and part of this number would be drafted by a selective system. Maloney's bill, however, would delay conscription until after a period of voluntary enlistments had elapsed.

Would Draft Others

If an insufficient number of men were obtained voluntarily within four months, enough more would be drafted to fill the army's quota of trainees.

One Senator who is in close touch with the parliamentary situation said it was his judgment that if a vote were taken Monday on the Maloney proposal, it would be adopted. He concurred with Barkley, however, in the view that as debate progressed more Senators would be found supporting immediate conscription.

This was said to be based largely on the belief that Hitler's long awaited Blitzkrieg against England might be launched in the next few days. A number of legislators have argued that a British defeat might put the United States next in line for attack.

Other Developments

The day brought these other developments in the field of national defense:

The WPA reported it had approved $7,225,000 worth of national defense projects during the last two weeks of July, bringing the total since July 1 to more than $27,000,000. The projects are comprised mainly of work on facilities for the army, including barracks, rifle ranges, airports and storage plants.

The Civilian Conservation Corps said that 400 enrollees would sail from Seattle on August 20 aboard the army transport Leonard Wood to build an army airfield at Matlakatla, Alaska. The field, located on Annette Island, will be used as an intermediate landing stage for army planes flying from Seattle to the Anchorage and Fairbanks Air Corps bases.

Urges Caution

The United States Chamber of Commerce cautioned that "while complete defense must be made effective promptly, yet in so doing we must not, by our own acts, lose at home that which we are properly preparing to defend against possible attack from abroad." The chamber said in a statement prepared by its national policy council that "primarily we must guard against any loss of these fundamental rights through Federal encroachment. We must be alert to the effect of greater debt, heavier taxation and increasing propaganada both from within and without."

Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, said the Treasury Department had informed her that costs incident to the training of apprentices would be deducted from gross income for Federal tax purposes. Miss Perkins commented that this was in accord with the Labor Department's "plans for stimulating expansion of apprenticeship in essential defense industries.

Glass Urges Immediate Passage Of Draft Bill

Lynchburg, Va, Aug. 10 (AP)—Senator Carter Glass tonight defended the principle of conscription and compulsory training and said that he had every reason to believe that the Burke-Wadsworth bill now pending in Congress would be passed without further delay.

Speaking in a nationwide broadcast, Senator Glass rebuked some of his Senate colleagues for delaying passage of the bill and expressed hope that there would be no more "hot air speeches" like those in the past few days.

"I have been ill and unable to be present in the debate," he said. "When I leave for Washington tomorrow I shall do all I can to bring about immediate action on compulsory military training."

Senator Glass warned that should England be defeated in the present war, Hitler will try to undertake to control its colonies in the Americas.

LEWIS OFFERS PLAN TO AVOID CONSCRIPTION

Suggests Shortening Term of Enlistment to a Year and Pay Equal to CCC

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10 (AP)—John L. Lewis offered an alternative to conscription today.

"Shorten the period of enlistment to one year and increase the pay of the Army, at least until it equals that of the boys in the CCC camps," the CIO president suggested.

'WILL ATTRACT MEN.'

"You will attract the young men who believe it their duty to the Government to be trained as soldiers."

Such a volunteer system, he ventured, would raise an army adequate for all of America's needs.

OPPOSED BY CIO.

Lewis, here on a tour of the Pacific Coast, said the CIO was "definitely opposed to conscription."

"So are the AFL and the five railroad brotherhoods," he added. "So are the youth of the nation, the women of the nation, the churches of the nation. It will not come to pass."

Police Fingerprint Employes of City

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP). — Photographing and fingerprinting of all municipal employes whose work takes them into any of this city's big chemical plants and power works was begun today by police in a move to forestall possible sabotage.

Military Group Urges Drafting In Emergency

Order Of Purple Heart Favors Conscription Only When Specific State Is Declared

Indianapolis, Aug. 10 (AP)—The military Order of the Purple Heart, organization of war veterans wounded in battle, went on record today favoring compulsory military training, but resolved that conscription of "men and wealth" should be resorted to only "if, and when, an actual, specific emergency is declared by a specific act of Congress."

The resolution, adopted at the final session of the order's eighth annual convention, in its original form advocated immediate conscription, but opposition developed on the convention floor.

Compulsory military training was proposed for men from 18 to 31.

STIMSON DATA SHOW BIG ARMY FUND RISE

$304,000,000 in '33 Compares With Billions for This Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Figures showing how funds for the Army have increased from $304,000,000 in the fiscal year 1933 to a prospective sum of more than $5,780,000,000 in the present fiscal year, ending next June 30, were made public today.

Secretary Stimson, in response to Congressional requests, submitted data showing that in the fiscal years 1933 to 1940 a total of $3,776,300,000 was made available to the Army, including direct appropriations and allotments from Federal emergency funds.

For the present fiscal year $2,900,400,000 has already been provided (including appropriations and contract authorizations) and a defense-minded Congress seems about to increase that to more than $5,780,000,000.

The following table, compiled from Mr. Stimson's data, shows appropriations (including transfers from Federal emergency funds) for the past nine years. The first column of sums shows funds for usual pay, rations, clothing, repairs, manoeuvres, etc. The second shows sums for new or extra equipment such as new aircraft, bombs, tanks, rifles, trucks, ammunition, etc.

(Figures Cited Are Given in Thousands)

Year.	Ordinary Expenses.	New Equipment.	Total.
1933	$285,220	$18,780	$304,000
1934	339,297	34,403	373,700
1935	367,994	21,906	389,900
1936	319,422	54,178	373,600
1937	356,385	63,215	419,600
1938	408,683	58,917	467,600
1939	501,341	84,559	585,900
1940	641,571	320,429	962,000
Totals	$3,119,913	$656,387	$3,776,300

30.24-4271

Human Cannon Ball Tired of Artillery

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 10 A. P.).—Paul Dennis, 18 years old, of near-by Askam, who earned his living by being shot from a cannon, wants to join the army.

But, the human cannon ball told Recruiting Sergt. Joseph Weimar, he wants to get in the Air Corps because he's tired of artillery.

Says V. F. W. Favors Universal Training

O. N. Brown, Commander, Asserts Organization Feels It Is Essential To Defense

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Otis N. Brown, commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, tonight declared that his organization favored universal military training as "essential to the effectiveness of a permanent and adequate national defense program."

Brown said in a broadcast address that during the World War 62,000 men died of disease and added that "thousands of these deaths would have been avoided if our soldiers had had the benefit of adequate training. . . ."

"Those who raise the hue and cry that universal military training service is a dictatorship technique which conflicts with American ideals," he said, "are raising a smokescreen to obscure the truth—either deliberately, or innocently."

Pinchot, 75, Supports Selective Service Bill

Ex-Governor Favors Sending Old Destroyers to England

MILFORD, Pa., Aug. 10 (AP).—former Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, asserted today, on the eve of his seventy-fifth birthday, that he was "vigorously for a selective draft," and expressed approval of Gen. John J. Pershing's proposal to send over-age destroyers to England.

"We have no time to fool away [illegible]ing experiments," Mr. Pinchot said in a statement. "There is no sense in following the example of nations which were destroyed by their failure to prepare in time."

Mr. Pinchot said "Pershing is everlastingly right. Sixty old destroyers will defend America better in Europe than here. They should be sent immediately."

Celebration of his birthday tomorrow will be postponed until his son and daughter-in-law return from a cruise. He plans to pass the day quietly in his home in this northeastern Pennsylvania community.

NEW TAX BILL SEEN AS BOON TO ARMS MEN

Clark Calls Profits Levy Meant to Sugarcoat Other Plans.

TREASURY DENIES INTENTION

Admits That Its Result Will Give Little Assistance to the Budget.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Senator Clark, Democrat, of Missouri, charged at a tax hearing today that a pending excess profits levy was sugar-coated for a plan to permit munitions plants to deduct defense expansion costs from their taxable earnings.

The expansion amortization plan and a tax of 25 to 40 per cent on excess profits have been combined into a simple piece of legislation on which Senate and House committees started holding hearings yesterday.

Mr. Clark made his comment after John L. Sullivan, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, had told the joint committee that the tax proposed would yield a net increase of $190,000,000 which the Government will collect on 1940 corporation income.

The Treasury, Mr. Sullivan explained, figured that the direct yield would be $225,000,000, of which $35,000,000 would be offset by a loss in individual income taxes due to smaller dividends to stockholders. For the years after 1940, he said, the Treasury estimated that the excess profits tax net yield would be $400,000,000 to $480,000,000.

"When the President proposes spending four or five billion dollars every time he gets back from a week end," Mr. Clark said to Mr. Sullivan, "$190,000,000 is a drop in the bucket, isn't it?"

Mr. Sullivan said it was a small item in the total budget picture.

Mr. Clark then declared that the tax was "sugar-coating to get the public to swallow the amortization plan for munitions plants."

Mr. Sullivan replied that he did not believe that was true. The excess profits tax was under consideration before the amortization proposal was brought up, he said.

Col. Fleming Says Wage, Hour Law Will Stay

Administrator Foresees No Relaxation Of Measure At Present To Aid Defense

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Col. Philip Fleming, Wage-Hour Administrator, said tonight that "no relaxation of the wage and hour law at this time is either necessary or desirable" to facilitate national defense production.

In a broadcast address, Colonel Fleming said that experiences by Great Britain and the United States during the World War showed that after a certain point production declined instead of increased with a lengthening of work hours.

Say[illegible]ed Lewis Protest Board

N. Y. Times Reports Labor Coordinator Denied Communist Issue Raised In Appointments

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—The New York Times says that Sidney Hillman, labor coordinator of the National Defense Advisory Commission, and vice-president of the CIO, "has rejected" the protest of John L. Lewis, CIO president, of the exclusion of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America from Hillman's labor policy advisory committee.

Lewis sent his protest, the Times said, after James J. Matles, national director of the union, contended it had been denied committee representation "because of Mr. Hillman's belief that the union was 'tinged with red' and that it had not taken steps to 'square' itself politically."

In a letter to Lewis August 7, the Times said, Hillman "flatly denied that he had raised the Communist issue," and said that the sole factor involved in the appointment of sixteen AFL, CIO and railroad union leaders to the committee was the degree to which they could contribute to the task of national defense.

Training Put Before Arms

Officers at Maneuvers Say Troops Need to Learn Systems as Preliminary.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 10 (A. P.).—The First Army's commanding officers, while deploring equipment shortages in northern New York's big war games, pushed troops through grueling maneuvers today convinced that intensive training is more needed at present than modern arms.

Aids in the instruction program leading to the three-day battle opening August 19 asserted that many of the nearly 100,000 troops should have much more training before using the latest weapons.

Special training, for example, was ordered for a New England National Guard division which contains, officers said, about 600 rookies who never fired a rifle.

Col. James A. Stevens, regular army instructor, told the Twenty-ninth Division that the troops should learn new systems well, conceding, "Many of us have been confused by changing methods in army procedure."

Meanwhile, two generals, other officers and a group of newspaper men and newsreel camera men narrowly escaped a bombing when five pound flour sacks dropped by airplanes which were aiming at tanks, exploded at their feet.

At Watertown, the air defense command, created to co-ordinate units opposing bombing invasions, rehearsed for an airplane warning test Monday, when civilian watchers will telephone direction and the number of mythical bombers bent theoretically on destroying industrial centers.

Bullard to Be Spectator.

CAMP M'COY, Wis., Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Lieut.-Gen. Robert Lee Bullard of New York, wartime Second Army commander, who led a half-million American troops through the Meuse-Argonne, will attend the Second Army maneuvers beginning here next Tuesday, it was announced today by Lieut.-Gen. Stanley H. Ford, present Second Army commander.

Scout Car New Weapon.

YELM, Wash., Aug. 10 (A. P.).—The army's latest weapon developed since Hitler's blitzkrieg in Poland, gets its first full-fledged test in the fourth army war games in southwest Washington next week.

The weapon is an armored scout car. It is capable of fifty miles an hour over fairly rough country, is plated with 3-16th-inch armor to stop machine gun bullets, weighs six tons, carries two 30 caliber guns, one 50 caliber and a submachine gun, and can maintain two-way radio communication.

Each car is manned by a crew of eight. It is built to flatten obstacles, including trees up to six inches in diameter, but for emergency use carries crosscut saws, axes, picks and shovels.

The cars have four-wheel drives, eight forward speeds, and develop more than 100 horsepower.

Training of the 40,000 men for the war games reaches its peak this week end. The northern army will be brought together as a whole for the first time today, passing in review before Lieut.-Gen. John L. Dewitt and Gov. Clarence Martin and Gov. Charles Sprague of Washington and Oregon.

Overcome Nature's Attack.

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La., Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Overcoming nature's own blitzkrieg—the most serious tropical disturbance in Louisiana in years—50,000 National Guardsmen settled down today to their most extensive peacetime maneuvers.

Trucks and guns were dug from the bogs in the wake of the storm and camp was made at last. Men from the Carolinas to Arizona began whipping their companies into shape for army corps maneuvers starting late next week.

Gravel roads were cut to ribbons by the heavy army trucks, bridges washed out, hundreds of trucks stuck, many with heavy guns, and the guard had to meet the problem alone.

Men who in civilian life sat behind desks or worked behind counters are building roads, repairing bridges, getting motorized equipment out of mud holes, and studying military subjects like university students before exams.

Tank Start In 6 Months

[By the Associated Press]

Philadelphia, Aug. 10 — Officials of the Baldwin Locomotive Works expect to begin "within six months" production of $5,689,725 worth of giant tanks for the United States army.

Information on the design of the huge seventy to eighty ton "land battleships" remained a secret, but announcement that fifty had been ordered slipped out in a routine statement yesterday by the National Defense Commission.

William H. Harman, vice-president of the Baldwin Works, said he expected the order to "be signed and delivered next week after a few minor changes have been completed," and added:

"We will be able to build the tanks with our present facilities, for there isn't much difference between building locomotives and building tanks. It will take about six months to clear up the engineering details and then we can start turning them out rapidly."

Washington observers expected the huge machines to resemble those used successfully in the German assault on Belgium and France.

U. S. Motorized Unit May Get Air Power

[By the Associated Press]

Fort Knox, Ky., Aug. 10—The United States Army's new armored corps eventually may add combat aircraft to its tanks, motorized infantry and artillery to give it greater "striking power."

This was the forecast of some of the officers who are organizing Uncle Sam's version of the German panzer army.

Fort Knox, "incubator" of the army's mechanized service arm, is headquarters for the designated 18,000-man, 4,000-vehicle armored corps and one of its two divisions. The other division headquarters is at Fort Benning, Ga.

Cites Blitzkrieg Of France

Under the present setup, the only Air Corps units to be attached to the new American military juggernaut is one observation squadron for each division. (A squadron normally has from thirteen to twenty-eight planes.)

Citing the help aircraft gave Nazi panzer divisions in their Blitzkrieg of France, the Low Countries and Poland, these officers, who asked for anonymity, said they believed that after the corps finally was equipped, army headquarters would turn its attention to giving it overhead protection—such as dive bomber and fighter squadrons.

Godman Field, Fort Knox's airport, is being greatly enlarged An Air Corps party recently inspected Louisville's municipal airport, where an air reserve unit is maintained; there have been reports an air-training base might be situated there.

Officers said the American armored division, while a bit smaller in man and vehicle power, would have ten to fifteen per cent. more fire power than the Nazi counterpart.

Jubilantly terming the War Department's decision to organize the armored corps as "the biggest thing that ever happened to the army," one colonel described the step as "revolutionary."

Armored Division Units

Each of the two armored divisions will comprise two light tank regiments, one medium tank regiment, one motorized infantry regiment, one motorized artillery regiment and one motorized artillery battalion (firing heavier cannon than the artillery regiment), one ground reconnaissance squadron (under direct command of headquarters) and one motorized battalion each of Signal Corps, Engineers, Ordnance, Medical Corps and Quartermaster Corps.

One difference between the American and German panzer versions is that Uncle Sam will not use motorcycle units as combat troops, as have the Nazis. Officers said they understood motorcycle combat troops had been none too successful and that the Germans had changed their mission. The duties of United States motorcycle soldiers primarily are scouting and carrying messages.

ROOSEVELT SAYS DEFENSE GETS IN STRIDE

Chief Executive Asserts He Is Well Pleased With Navy Work

Inspects Yards At Boston And Portsmouth; Guns At Watertown

AUG 11 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Boston, Aug. 10—President Roosevelt asserted today that "we are really getting into our stride" on the $10,000,000,000 defense program.

He said that fact was demonstrated on his inspection during the day of the Portsmouth, N. H., and Boston navy yards and the army arsenal at Watertown, Mass.

At an informal conference outside the Administration building at Watertown, the Chief Executive was asked whether he was satisfied with what he had seen on the tour of vital New England defense projects.

"Very much, very much," he replied. "Things are going along awfully well. I'm very well pleased with all I saw today, and it shows we are really getting into our stride.

Wants Full Production

"I hope by late fall all the navy yards and army arsenals will be at full production. The cheapest way to produce war materials is to run at full production."

Starting out early this morning for a personal look at defense installations, Mr. Roosevelt had seen work under way on submarines at Portsmouth, destroyer and airplane tender construction at Boston and the processing of steel into big guns at Watertown.

Before driving back from Watertown to the Boston Navy Yard to board his yacht Potomac and spend Sunday at sea, the President said he was glad to know the arsenal was operating at about seventy-five per cent. of capacity and that the navy yards "also are working pretty near to capacity."

Shunts Aside Question

He shunted aside a question whether anyone within the Administration had approached Wendell L. Willkie about a rapprochement on foreign policy.

Newsmen wanted to know whether the President had seen a statement by the Republican nominee in morning papers to the effect that certain persons who approached Willkie to suggest an agreement be reached between the two candidates on international policy.

"I haven't seen any papers since yesterday morning," Mr. Roosevelt responded.

Noisy but relatively skimpy crowds turned out as the President drove about the Boston area. But his route from the navy yard to the arsenal lay along the scenic Charles river and touched a mere corner of Boston proper. At Portsmouth people by the thousands had jammed every street.

Big Crowds In 1936

It was in New England that the biggest crowds of the 1936 campaign showed up.

Mr. Roosevelt's tone was somewhat resentful when some one popped a question pertaining to the New Hampshire Gubernatorial race.

"My lord," he retorted, "why can't you cut out politics and talk something else?"

To an inquiry whether operating defense establishments at full production meant three shifts, the President responded that it would depend on the article produced. Three shifts would be cheaper in some instances and not in others, he said.

The navy yards are using a third shift, he said, primarily to eliminate bottle necks in production of specific items.

Asked About Donovan

Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, was in the car beside him and reporters thought it would be a good time, while they were together, to ask about a secret mission on which the Secretary sent Col. William Donovan, World War commander of the Fighting Sixty-ninth Regiment, to Europe last month.

"He went over to be my eyes and ears," Knox explained.

"Can you tell us what he found?" a newsman asked.

"No," the President declared, "because it's his mouth."

A radio report that Harry Hopkins, Secretary of Commerce, would resign to superintendent the Roosevelt library at Hyde Park, N. Y., was dismissed by the President as one of those Washington rumors.

Piped On Board

Shortly after 6 P. M. the Chief Executive was piped on board the Potomac, and a twenty-one-gun salute roared across Boston harbor.

The yacht waited nearly two hours to permit the Chief Executive to have dinner at the pier and then moved down the harbor at 8.23 P. M. to anchor for the night in Massachusetts Bay.

A sketchy panorama of naval history spread out before the President as his yacht sailed up Boston Harbor past old, fortified islands.

He saw the U. S. S. Constitution, the famous "Old Ironsides" that fought many a glorious battle in the days of wooden men-o'-war. And he saw the navy's newest aircraft carrier, the Wasp, recently returned from a shakedown cruise.

HALT PLANE STRIKE TO SPEED DEFENSE

Mechanics in Boeing Plant at Seattle Accept Truce Proposed by Hillman

TO ARBITRATE PAY ISSUE

AUG 11 1940

7,000 Ratify Plan in Response to Plea for No Interruption of Essential Production

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Sidney Hillman, employment director of the National Defense Commission, said today that an arbitration proposal which he had submitted to avert a threatened strike of Boeing aircraft mechanics had been accepted. The strike had been scheduled for midnight tonight.

Mr. Hillman suggested in a telegram sent to the International Union of Machinists at Seattle this afternoon that points still in dispute between the union and management, chiefly involving wages, be submitted to arbitration.

In making public the message he said:

"I have just been informed that the proposal has been overwhelmingly accepted at a meeting of about 7,000 workers."

The proposal was submitted to the Boeing management with the endorsement of William Knudsen, production member of the commission. Addressed to the president of the machinists union, the telegram said:

"To preserve continuous production of materials vital to our national defense it is essential that there be no interruption of work at the Boeing aircraft plant in Seattle. I am informed that in negotiations carried on by a committee representing your organization and the management there has been agreement on some points, but a failure to arrive at agreements on all matters in dispute.

"I am therefore submitting this proposal to you as a basis for agreement:

"1. All points on which the negotiating committee of the workers and the management are now in agreement are to be accepted by the management.

"2. All points not agreed upon shall be submitted to arbitration for final decision.

"3. This proposal is to be submitted for ratification to the workers involved and is to go into effect when approved by the workers. If not ratified by the workers nothing covered by this proposal shall be binding on the management.

"I urge acceptance of this proposal by both the workers and the management."

Purple Heart Qualifies Draft

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Military Order of the Purple Heart, the organization of war veterans wounded in battle, went on record today favoring compulsory military training but resolved that conscription of "men and wealth should be resorted to only "if and when an actual, specific emergency is declared by a specific act of Congress."

Lack Mechanics for Defense

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10 (AP)—The American Society of Tool Engineers reported today that "67 per cent of our industry" needs skilled mechanics and tool and die makers. Conrad O. Hersam, national secretary, announcing results of a survey, added that 60,000 to 70,000 tool engineers and about 500,000 skilled mechanics would be needed to meet defense requirements.

EX-FLEET CHIEF ASKS TRANSFER OF DESTROYERS

Standley Urges Aid To Britain "To Keep Enemy From Our Shores"

Suggests Congress Give President Full Power Over Armed Forces

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 10—Admiral William H. Standley, retired chief of naval operations, advocated tonight the transfer of reconditioned United States destroyers to Great Britain "to keep the enemy from our shores."

To avoid conflict with the 1917 law prohibiting transfer of navy vessels, Admiral Standley suggested in a broadcast address that Congress declare a national emergency and give the President "full powers, including whatever disposition of our army, navy and air force is called for by the public interest."

"Our fleet was built and maintained to keep the enemy from our shores," said the former commander of the United States battle fleet, "and in the face of the emergency that threatens us today I would abort that menace, use them for the purpose for which they were built and maintained, to keep the enemy from our shores."

One of a group who last June signed a petition urging that the United States declare a state of war existing between itself and Germany, Admiral Standley said that "the only thing standing between us and the ire of German power is the British fleet."

Trade Angle Stressed

"Even if we are not on Hitler's timetable for direct attack," he said, "we are in line for his pincers. For Europe must continue to have the raw materials of the Western hemisphere."

Asserting that "our trade freedom depends entirely upon sea power," Admiral Standley said that if the dictators should get control of the seas and wage "a war of strangulation," American trade would diminish, living standards would decline and any effort to live in any degree of political or religious liberty "would bring down upon us the specter of starvation or threat of direct attack."

"Let us have total defense and have it now," he declared, adding that if Great Britain were defeated the United States should "open our ports to their ships and continue the battle until final victory."

U. S. to Set Up 'Listening Post' On Africa Coast

Another Planned on French Isles Off Newfoundland to Guard Plane Routes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Diplomatic lookouts for the United States government will be established soon at Dakar, French West Africa, a "jumping off place" for planes flying from Europe to South America and at St. Pierre-Miquelon, French possession off the coast of Canada. This was disclosed today in a State Department announcement of changes ordered recently in the Foreign Service.

The announcement said that the consulate at Dakar, which was closed in 1931 as part of an economy drive, would be reopened as soon as Thomas C. Wasson, of Newark, N. J., could arrive from Vigo, Spain, to take charge.

Likewise, it was said, the consulate at St. Pierre-Miquelon, which was closed only last January for lack of business, would be reopened as quickly as Maurice Pasquet, of New York, reached there from Dairen, Manchuria, where he has been vice-consul.

Dakar is the nearest point on the African coast to South America. Planes of the French Trans-Atlantic Service, now inoperative, normally take off there for South America.

St. Pierre-Miquelon is a possible subject for action by the American republics under the agreements they reached recently at Havana. These provided for the establishment of provisional administrations in any foreign possessions in this hemisphere which were threatened with a change of sovereignty. Sumner Welles, Under Secretary of State, has said that if France became a fascist dependency of Germany it would create an emergency in this hemisphere requiring action under the Havana agreements. During prohibition days, the United States consular official at St. Pierre-Miquelon, a group of islands south of New Foundland, was kept busy watching ship movements for clews to rum runners.

The reopening of consulates in this French possession and at Dakar fits into a pattern which has been developing ever since the Germans invaded Denmark. Late in April, this government established a consulate in Iceland, which has since taken unto its own government—for the duration of the German occupation of Denmark—the prerogatives concerning Iceland which ordinarily are exercised by the Danish King.

In May, the State Department sent a consul to Greenland, Danish colony in the north Atlantic and a possible stepping stone to the Americas for any power seeking to attack this country by air.

Another consulate has been reopened recently at Martinique, F. W. I., where trouble has been threatening over a cargo of American-made planes aboard the French aircraft carrier Bearn. British warships have been reported maintaining a watch to see that the carrier did not leave Martinique. Still another consulate was established July 23 at Georgetown, British Guiana, in South America. A consular agent was already stationed in neighboring Dutch Guiana.

Cudahy's Proposals 'Wonderful To Belgians'

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Ambassador John Cudahy's proposals that American supplies be sent to the aid of war-stricken peoples in German-occupied European territories were "wonderful for the Belgians," Count Paul M. Ruart Cornet, of Brussels, declared today as he arrived on the Pan American Yankee Clipper from Lisbon.

Cudahy made his proposals in an interview in London—an interview that brought a public rebuke from his superiors and a summons home for "consultation."

The Count and his wife, the former Gladys McMillan, of Detroit, plan to go to Colorado Springs, home of the Countess' mother, Mrs. Spencer B. Penrose. They may remain for the duration of the war.

The clipper carried eighteen passengers and 2,140 pounds of mail.

Former Millhand Sends $25,000 for War Relief

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Walter H. Langshaw, who went to work as a millhand in his native Lancashire, England, at the age of 9, and later became a millionaire mill owner in the United States, cabled $25,000 today to Winston Churchill to be used for war relief in England.

Mr. Langshaw's bankers in London were directed to pay the equivalent of that sum in British pounds to the Prime Minister.

AUG 11 1940

4 Ambassadors Still At Posts

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—The return to the United States today of two ambassadors and one minister leaves four ambassadors at their posts in Europe.

Joseph P. Kennedy is in London, Laurence A. Steinhardt in Moscow, Alexander W. Weddell in Madrid and John Van A. McMurray in Istanbul. There are, however, several ministers and other ranking diplomats at various European posts, mainly in the Balkans.

Hoover Seeks British Accord To Ship Foods

Would Send U.S. Surplus to Belgians, Poles, Dutch; Predicts 'Intense Misery'

By The Associated Press

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont., Aug. 10.—Former President Herbert Hoover disclosed tonight that negotiations were under way which might lead to sending part of the food surplus of the United States into Belgium, Poland and Holland.

30.24-4273

The chairman of the American Relief Commission said the negotiations were being conducted by organizations with which he was affiliated. He emphasized that nothing definite had been accomplished yet and declined to put himself on record as to whether he believed that the country should seek British permission to send relief shipments through the European blockade to the conquered nations.

"It is absolutely certain that Belgium, Poland, Holland and Norway will not have enough food this winter unless it comes from Germany or from outside sources," Mr. Hoover declared. "Terrific famine conditions will prevail, with intense misery resulting in all of these war-stricken countries."

John Cudahy, American Minister to Belgium, declared in London this week that near-famine conditions would fall upon Belgium by mid-September unless the British permitted shipments of food from America. "A howling hell" was the phrase he used to forecast conditions elsewhere in Europe this winter.

Mr. Hoover, who has been va-

British Accord To Ship Foods

(Continued from page one)

cationing near here, said he would leave by plane Sunday for Colorado Springs, Colo., for a conference with Wendell L. Willkie, Republican Presidential nominee, during the afternoon.

Wyoming Air-Line Plane Is Going To Canadians

Twin-Motored Boeing To Be Used By Dominion Government For Training

Casper, Wyo., Aug. 10 (AP)—Inland Airlines, of Casper, has sold one of its twin-motored Boeing planes to Charles H. Babb, of New York City, who in turn has negotiated its sale to the Canadian Government for use as a training ship, officials announced today.

An offer was made for more Inland craft, but was rejected in view of need for them in the air line's service and lack of available new replacements at this time.

A representative of Babb was to take delivery on the ship today in St. Paul, Minn.

5 SHIPS SOLD TO ALIENS

Maritime Commission Authorizes Transfers of Registry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Maritime Commission today authorized the sale of five American vessels to aliens, with transfer to foreign registry. The authorizations were:

Union Lumber Company of San Francisco, to sell the cargo vessel Noyo to the Thai Niyom Panich Company, acting for the Government of Thai (formerly Siam), with transfer to Thailand registry.

Piscataqua River Towing Company of Portsmouth, N. H., to sell the tugboat John G. Chandler to the Maritime Towing and Salvage, Ltd., of Halifax, with transfer to Canadian registry.

Staples Coal Company of Fall River to sell the tug John W. Martin to the Maritime Towing and Salvage, Ltd., of Halifax, with transfer to Canadian registry.

Irene Goulart of Point Loma, Calif., to sell the fishing vessel Dixie W. to the Sociedad Cooperative de Pescadores, Mexico, with transfer to Mexican registry.

T. J. Conway, Inc., of Brooklyn, to sell the tanker T. J. Conway to the International Petroleum Company, Ltd., of Toronto, with transfer to Peruvian registry.

TROUBLE AT BENDIX

Mediator Sees Threat to Air Defense in Labor Dispute.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Union spokesmen challenged the management today and a Federal mediator saw a threat to national defense aircraft production as negotiations began for settlement of a labor dispute at the Bendix Products Corporation's aviation division here.

Federal Conciliator James F. Dewey, Regional Directors Richard T. Frankensteen and Richard T. Leonard of the C. I. O.-United Automobile Workers of America met with company officials on what the company has called a union slow down.

Before the conference, Mr. Frankensteen and Mr. Leonard issued a statement accusing the firm of "seeking to make profits through national defense" and "attempting to hide behind the national defense program to take away economic gains made during the last several years by labor." Officials of the corporation made no comment.

Mr. Dewey said he hoped for a settlement by nightfall and added if none was forthcoming airplane production all over the country would be "seriously hampered." Bendix, he said, supplies carburetors and other engine parts for nearly all American aircraft factories.

NAVY TO SEND 2900 MARINES TO CUBA

They Will Get Intensive Training at Guantanamo.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Amid far-reaching plans to strengthen United States defenses in the Caribean, the navy is ordering 2,900 marines to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, for intensive training maneuvers.

The contingent—the first marine brigade of Quantico, Va.—would be in a position to reach Central or South America quickly should any trouble requiring their presence arise.

The navy already has undertaken conversion of four fast American ships into destroyer transports so that the brigade could be moved swiftly.

The action comes shortly after the adoption at the Havana Pan-American Conference of a resolution expressing opposition to the transfer to other non-American nations of foreign possessions in this hemisphere. The conference voted to let one or more of the American republics establish a provisional administration over any possession affected.

Transfer of the Quantico brigade, navy officials said, is "for the purpose of preliminary training of this force in view of extensive maneuvers planned during the winter in the Caribbean area."

The maneuvers—similar to those conducted each year—involve landings and other operations. Guantanamo provides a base from which ships may operate in carrying out one of the navy's missions; keeping any enemy aircraft carrier from getting within 1,000 miles of the Panama Canal.

Beer Crown Comes To U. S.

St. Louis, Aug. 10 (AP)—Because of the war America now "leads the world" in the art of brewing, George B. Sippel, of Cincinnati, president of the Master Brewers' Association of America, said today.

This recognition for centuries traditionally belonged to the Old World, he pointed out, but because of economical and agricultural conditions, Germany is "doing the next best thing"—developing a substitute for beer.

SEC Receives Reports Of Nazi Bond Offerings

Matter Involving Wall Street Investment Firm Is Being Investigated

San Francisco, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission office today said it had "received reports of soliciting literature" regarding the proposed sale of $1,000 German bonds and that "the matter had been referred to Washington."

There was no indication that the offering might not be within the law, "but the matter is being investigated."

It was understood Americans of German descent in this area had received circulars offering to sell bonds based on Germany's basic war industries. The circulars came from a Wall Street investment firm.

AIR LINE TO TRAIN ARMY NAVIGATORS

850 to Get Instruction From Pan American.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—The War Department announced today that it had entered into an agreement with Pan American Airways for the training of 850 flight navigation cadets in long range navigation technic during the next fourteen months.

The first class of approximately fifty started the twelve weeks' training course in Miami today. The second class will be enrolled November 2 and a third six weeks later. Thereafter plans provide for classes of 100 to be enrolled at intervals of six weeks.

Cadets completing the training will be available, the War Department said, for assignment to combat squadrons as members of crews in the long and medium range bombers.

Pan American will provide the instruction and all necessary facilities on a non-profit contract basis, the Army said, and is using some of its most experienced personnel as instructors.

Coast Guard Is 'Ready'

Admr. Waesche Says 17,000 Men Will Serve If War Comes

CLEVELAND, Aug. 10 (AP). — Rear Adm. Russell R. Waesche, of the United States Coast Guard, reminded the nation today that his 17,000 men stood ready "to carry out the terms of the law which reads that in time of war the Coast Guard shall operate as part of the Navy."

Dedicating the guardsmen's new $250,000 station here, he pointed to a long history of heroism and to "long tradition of actual fighting in the first line of national defense."

"Target practice is a regular function of each ship, and we are proud of our record of marksmanship," he said. "Naval discipline is maintained drill in naval technique is part of our constant work. In other words...the men are ready."

The dedication service was held in connection with celebration of the Coast Guard's 150th anniversary.

ASKS FAIR SITE FOR NAVY

Adm. al Wants Treasure Island Taken Over, Californian Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP).—Representative Havenner, Democrat of California, said he was informed today that Rear Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn had recommended that the Navy take over Treasure Island, site of the San Francisco World's Fair, as soon as that exposition closed.

Mr. Havenner said that he developed this information on inquiry at the Navy Department and was advised that no action had been taken on the recommendation. Admiral Hepburn made the suggestion in his capacity as commandant of the 12th Naval District with headquarters at San Francisco.

The California representative said that a copy of Admiral Hepburn's letter on the subject was not available to him this afternoon, government offices being closed, and that he could not learn for what purpose the admiral would use the site.

Admiral Hepburn, Mr. Havenner said, recommended to Congress last year that the lagoon between Treasure Island and Yerba Buena Island be made a naval submarine base.

AUG 11 1940

NEW YORK, AUG.10-(AP)-THREE UNITED STATES DIPLOMATS RETURNED FROM EUROPE TODAY, BY WAY OF BERMUDA, ABOARD THE AMERICAN EXPORT LINER EXCALIBUR, WITH 126 OTHER PASSENGERS, MANY OF WHOM DISPLAYED AUTOGRAPHS GIVEN THEM BY THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR.

THE THREE, ANTHONY DREXEL BIDDLE, AMBASSADOR TO POLAND; WILLIAM PHILLIPS, AMBASSADOR TO ITALY, AND GEORGE GORDON, MINISTER TO THE NETHERLANDS, ADHERED STRICTLY TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT RULE AGAINST UNAUTHORIZED INTERVIEWS.

TO ALL QUESTIONS CONCERNING CONDITIONS ABROAD, THEY HAD A POLITE "NO COMMENT."

BIDDLE SAID HE HAD BEEN CALLED TO WASHINGTON FOR CONSULTATION AND WOULD GO THERE IMMEDIATELY. PHILLIPS SAID HE PLANNED TO REPORT TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT EARLY NEXT WEEK.

BIDDLE AND GORDON WERE ACCOMPANIED BY THEIR WIVES, AND PHILLI... HIS DAUGHTER, BEATRICE.

MOST OF THE PASSENGERS--ONLY 33 OF WHOM WERE AMERICAN CITIZENS--EXPRESSED PLEASURE AT THE UNSCHEDULED STOP AT BERMUDA, WHERE THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR DISEMBARKED, BUT THE STOP CAUSED A FEW TO MISS PLANNED CONNECTIONS HERE WITH A BOAT TO SOUTH AMERICA.

PASSENGERS AND CREW ALIKE HAD STORIES TO TELL OF THE ROYAL COUPLE'S TRIP FROM LISBON TO BERMUDA.

AUG 11 1940

THE PRINCIPAL ITEM LISTED BY THE CREW WAS THE FACT THAT THE DUCHESS HAD THE TWIN BEDS OF HER COMPARATIVELY SMALL BEDROOM MADE UP WITH PINK BEDSHEETS.

THE DUCHESS SIGNED--FOR ALL COMERS--THE AUTOGRAPH "WALLY WINDSOR."

ONCE REGARDED AS ONE OF THE OUTSTANDING SATORIAL LEADERS, THE DUKE WORE SLACKS AND POLO SHIRTS MOST OF THE TRIP.

NEW YORK, AUG 10-(AP)-TWO FINNISH FREIGHTERS ARRIVED TODAY FROM PETSAMO WITH 71 WAR REFUGEES, 66 OF WHOM WERE CRAMPED IN A 31-DAY VOYAGE ABOARD THE MARISA THORDEN, A VESSEL EQUIPPED TO CARRY ONLY 14 PASSENGERS.

THE OTHER FIVE WERE BROUGHT IN BY THE MAUD THORDEN.

AMONG 11 MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN-FINNISH LEGION RETURNING ON THE MARISA THORDEN WERE RALPH BJORKSTRON OF CLEVELAND AND AUHO AHO (CORRECT) OF WALPOLE, MASS., WHO STILL WORE A FINNISH ARMY UNIFORM AND SKI BOOTS.

NEW YORK, AUG.10-(AP)-THE BRITISH FURNESS PRINCE LINER WESTERN PRINCE ARRIVED FROM LIVERPOOL TODAY WITH FOUR MEN, 30 WOMEN AND 53 CHILDREN SEEKING AMERICAN ASYLUM FROM THE EUROPEAN WAR.

AUG 11 1940

NEW YORK, AUG.10-(AP)-SALE OF THE FAMOUS FLYING BOAT GUBA TO THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT, PRESUMABLY FOR USE IN FERRYING VITAL METALS ACROSS THE ATLANTIC, WAS ANNOUNCED TODAY BY ITS OWNER, RICHARD ARCHBOLD, WEALTHY YOUNG EXPLORER.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT WAS MADE SHORTLY AFTER THE PLANE IN WHICH HOWARD HUGHES, FILM PRODUCER, SET A 'ROUND-THE-WORLD SPEED RECORD IN 1938, ARRIVED HERE FOR SHIPMENT TO ENGLAND FOR USE IN COURIER SERVICE BETWEEN LONDON AND EGYPT.

AUG 11 19

ALTHOUGH THE SALE PRICE OF THE GUBA WAS NOT DISCLOSED, PREVIOUS REPORTS SAID NEGOTIATIONS INVOLVED THE SUM OF $200,000.

THE GUBA, OF THE PBY TYPE USED BY THE UNITED STATES NAVY IN COAST PATROL DUTY, WAS THE FIRST FLYING BOAT TO FLY NON-STOP FROM CALIFORNIA TO NEW YORK. A $250,000 CRAFT, IT WAS USED BY ARCHBOLD ON SCIENTIFIC EXPEDITIONS INTO THEN UNEXPLORED TERRITORY IN DUTCH GUINEA AND THE JUNGLE COUNTRY OF AFRICA. LAST YEAR THE FLYING BOAT WAS PILOTED OVER A 20,000-MILE FLIGHT AROUND THE GLOBE.

HUGHES' SHIP, A LOCKHEED 14, WAS ONE OF THREE SIMILAR PLANES BOUGHT BY THE BRITISH PURCHASING COMMISSION. IT LEFT LOS ANGELES

(NX)...THE CLOSE-UP SPECTATORS OF THE STRANGE DRAMA WHICH IS TO BE ENACTED AT RIOM, FRANCE, UNQUESTIONABLY WILL INCLUDE A CORPS OF GERMANY'S ABLEST UNDER-COVER AGENTS.

THEY MAY NOT BE VISIBLE OR KNOWN TO THE FRENCH AUTHORITIES; BUT THEY WILL BE THERE, DELVING INTO THE AGONIES OF THAT FRENCH POST-MORTEM AND SEEKING THE MEANS OF INTENSIFYING THE NAZI POLITICAL BLITZKRIEG AGAINST BRITAIN.

AUG 11 1940

FRANCE IS CALLING TO A GRIM ACCOUNTING AT RIOM HER POLITICAL LEADERSHIP OF RECENT YEARS. SHE IS RATTLING THE BONES OF ALL THE SKELETONS OF TWO DECADES THAT FILL THE MOST SECRET CLOSET OF THE VAN-

3024-4275 30.24-4275

CUSHED FRENCH THIRD REPUBLIC. HER AIM IS TO FIND SCAPE-GOATS ON WHOM TO VISIT VENGEANCE, NOT SO MUCH BECAUSE THEY LED FRANCE INTO WAR, AS BECAUSE THEY FAILED TO EQUIP AND STEEL HER FOR VICTORY.

WHATEVER ELSE IT REPRESENTS IN THE CONFUSED FRENCH POLITICAL SCENE, THE PETAIN GOVERNMENT NOW EXERCISING A SHADOWY SOVEREIGNTY OVER UNOCCUPIED FRANCE IS A REPUDIATION OF THE FORMS AND METHODS OF FRENCH DEMOCRACY. IT IS ACCEPTABLE TO HITLERIAN PHILOSOPHY BECAUSE IT REPRESENTS A POTENTIAL PILLAR OF THE TOTALITARIAN "NEW ORDER" IN EUROPE.

IT IS EASILY IMAGINABLE THAT, GIVEN A NEW FRANCE FIRMLY MOULDED TO THE HITLER POLITICAL PATTERN AND DOMINATED BY A SINGLE WILL WITH WHICH HE COULD DEAL, HITLER WOULD BE CONTENT TO FOREGO ANY GREAT TERRITORIAL SPOILS AT THE PEACE TABLE READJUSTMENT. HE HAS OBVIOUSLY DEFERRED THAT FINAL RECKONING WITH FRANCE AS MUCH TO FOSTER TOTALITARIANISM IN THAT COUNTRY AS TO AWAIT THE OUTCOME OF HIS EFFORT TO SMA DEMOCRACY IN ENGLAND.

AUG 11 1940

DESTRUCTION OF BRITISH DEMOCRACY FROM WITHIN, THE FOSTERING OF A POLITICAL REVOLT IN ENGLAND AGAINST ITS WAR LEADERSHIP, WOULD BE A GREATER TRIUMPH FOR HITLER THAN CONQUEST BY NAZI SIEGE OR INVASION. IF HIS BUSY AGENTS, RAKING THROUGH THE CAPTURED OFFICIAL FILES OF CONQUERED NATIONS OR HAUNTING THE KEYHOLES OF THE FRENCH "WAR BLAME" PROCEEDINGS AT RIOM, COULD PRODUCE ANY "EVIDENCE" THAT WOULD CONVINCE THE BRITISH PUBLIC OF THE TRUTH OF HIS CHARGES THAT A "WAR-MONGERING" ANGLO-FRENCH "CLIQUE" SACRIFICED FRANCE AND BRITAIN FOR ITS OWN MATERIAL INTEREST, BRITISH RESISTANCE TO GERMANY MIGHT BE

AT RIOM THE TRAGIC INSIDE STORY OF FRENCH DEFEAT WILL BE TOLD BY MEN WHOSE LIBERTY, IF NOT LIVES, ARE GRAVELY IMPERILLED. THEY WERE FRANCE'S MEN OF DESTINY IN HOURS OF CRITICAL DECISION. THEY WILL TELL THEIR STORIES UNDER HEAVY COMPULSION TO SHIFT BLAME TO OTHER SHOULDERS. AND OUT OF IT ALL COULD COME A FRENCH ARRAIGNMENT OF BRITISH LEADERSHIP OF WHICH GERMAN PROPAGANDISTS COULD MAKE MUCH.

HISTORY HOTTER OFF THE GRIDDLE OF TIME THAN THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN WILL BE RECORDED IN THESE "WAR BLAME" INVESTIGATIONS AND THE TRIALS TO FOLLOW. WHETHER THOSE TRIALS ARE DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY OF GERMAN INSTIGATION OR PURELY A FRENCH POLITICAL RECONSTRUCTION MEASURE IS A QUESTION FOR HISTORIANS OF THE FUTURE.

THERE CAN BE NO DOUBT, HOWEVER, THAT THEY CONFORM TO HITLER'S OWN IDEA, AS EXPRESSED IN "MEIN KAMF" LONG AGO, AS TO WHAT A DEFEATED DEMOCRACY SHOULD DO TO PURGE ITSELF, TO FIX RESPONSIBILITY ON LIVING MEN AND HUSTLE THEM TO THE CELLS OR TO THE GUILLOTINE.

THE FOLLOWING "BOX SCORE" LISTS SEA WARFARE LOSSES REPORTED DURING THE 49TH WEEK OF THE WAR, FROM AUG. 4 TO AUG. 10, INCLUSIVE:

NATION	----------SUNK BY----------			TONNAGE KNOWN	DEAD	MISSING
	SUBS, PLANES	MINES	OTHER CAUSES OR UNKNOWN
	WARSHIPS
BRITAIN	3(D)	4	1	23,845(T)	21	19
GREECE	2	0	0	5,404	3	5
NORWAY	0	0	1	5,461	0	0
GERMANY	0	0	1	5,062	0	0
YUGOSLAVIA	1	0	0	4,201	0	0
SWEDEN	2	0	0	4,142	1	0

AUG 11 1940

DENMARK	0	1	0	(Z)	0	0
TOTALS	8	5	3	48,113	25	27
PREVIOUSLY REPORTED	387	171	211	2,683,255	6,808	5,496
GRAND TOTAL	395	176	214	2,728,403	6,833	5,523

(X)—UNKNOWN NUMBER SHIPS OF 5,039 TONS SUNK IN CONVOY

(Y)—TONNAGE OF ONE BRITISH SHIP UNKNOWN

(Z)—TONNAGE UNKNOWN.

AUG 11 1940

LOSSES BY NATIONS (INCLUDES NAVAL VESSELS):

BRITAIN—367; GERMANY—77; NORWAY—72; SWEDEN—49; FRANCE—41; NETHERLANDS—37; GREECE—36; DENMARK—32; ITALY—25; FINLAND—15; ESTONIA—9; BELGIUM—6; LITHUANIA—3; YUGOSLAVIA—3; PANAMA—2; POLAND—1; SOVIET—1; IRAN—1; ARGENTINE—1; RUMANIA—1; JAPAN—1; LATVIA—1; SPAIN—1; PORTUGAL—1; TOTAL—785

Red Flag Flying

With Estonia, Latvia And Lithuania Now Sovietized, Stalin Holds North Baltic

AUG 11 1940

[By the Ass

STOCKHOLM (By Mail)

The red flag of Russia flies high today in the shifting breezes of the narrow Baltic.

With the recently achieved Sovietization of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, Stalin has established firmly his northern control of these vital waters between Europe and the Scandinavian peninsula.

The swift change in the three tiny outposts has been accomplished by the influx of Red army troops by the thousands, the installation of new governments pledged to spread the message of Sovietization, decrees toward socialization of industry, talk of collective farming and a switch from English to Russian as the first compulsory foreign language in schools.

The Red army has gained new borders with Nazi Germany, position for defense, coöperative action or attack.

Gains New Field

In the three countries, Bolshevist ideology gains new fields in territory which for the past twenty years, and in varying degrees through the centuries, looked to the west—Scandinavia particularly—for a large share of its cultural exchange despite 200 years under Czarist Russia.

Twenty years ago these people, less than 6,000,000 in all and chiefly farmers, were able to thrust out the Russian army that arose with the fall of the Czars and win their independence.

The Red army came this time without a fight. There were no forces with which to resist effectively even had the order been given. And there was none to whom they could appeal for help.

Russia's mutual assistance pacts, wrung from the little Baltic states last October, brought the first Red army units to Baltic garrisons.

There followed consultations with Moscow during the winter and in May a dispute arose over supposed unfriendliness in Lithuania toward Soviet garrisons.

Fled To Germany

President Antanas Smetona of Lithuania fled to Germany. Presidents Karl Ulmanis of Latvia and Constantin Paets of Estonia remained, but their power went to new Ministers, some of them released from imprisonment for political activities, to workers' committees and to Communist parliaments.

In subsequent elections—in which the voters could vote only "yes"—an overwhelming majority was cast in favor of Sovietization. Those failing to vote were in danger of being branded "enemies of the people."

A hunt for saboteurs began, with the death penalty provided for extreme cases.

The Red revolution thus completed its first stage with few disturbances, few outward signs of discontent.

Russian soldiers everywhere, Russian doctrine preached from newspapers, Russian movies—these were the outward signs along with wage increases announced for numerous workers and dismissals for those too closely linked with the former régimes.

To the Baltic people who clung to their nationality and developed distinct cultures through centuries of strife, the change in government was not a new experience.

Once A Battlefield

In pagan days, Lithuania herself was a powerful kingdom stretching from the Baltic to the Black Sea. At different times Germans, Poles, Swedes, Danes and Russians ruled all three of the little states and fought back and forth across them.

Latvia, "the Belgium of the east," especially has been the frequent target of big neighbors.

The Baltic peoples existed under tribal rule for the most part into the twelfth century. Then came the breakup of the great Lithuanian kingdom, and it was absorbed eventually by Poland, with the upper classes and landowners becoming predominantly Polish and Catholic.

Teutonic orders from Germany meanwhile were spreading German rule into other parts of the Baltic. Strong masters, the German knights retained ownership of the land and tribal Estonians and Latvians entered a period of serfdom.

Sweden, then a mighty empire, acquired domination over the Baltic in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and embarked upon a period of "enlightenment," relieving the serfs to some extent and fostering education under Gustavus Adolphus, who founded Tartu University.

But, in 1721, peace ended and in a disastrous war with Russia, Sweden lost her Baltic provinces.

Bad times fell upon the Baltic states and the Estonians, where the Swedish influence was strongest, were wont to speak of the "good old Swedish times," a remark still heard there today—or at least before the recent Sovietization.

Of Swedish Descent

Some 6,000 peasants and fishermen of Swedish descent still live in Estonia.

Improvements came to the Baltic countries after Czar Peter prepared the way for western reforms by not enforcing Russianization, permitting retention of the constitutional form of government and the Lutheran influence remained.

In the nineteenth century the Czars fostered land reforms whereby the peasants bought back their lands from the German nobility, but the result turned out to be a period of tenancy with little actual improvement in living conditions until independence was established.

The musical, lyrical Baltics steadily developed their own literature and came to be regarded as a Scandinavian outpost of blue-eyed people closely resembling the Scandinavians although slightly shorter and somewhat darker skinned.

The brief Baltic revolution of 1905 failed and until independence came Estonia worked through a "young Estonian movement," headed by Gustav Suits, now professor of literature at Dorport University.

Ulmanis, who studied later at the University of Nebraska, fled Latvia after the revolt and labored from abroad until the World War and the crash of the Czarist régime provided a golden opportunity.

Fled To Russia

German troops occupied parts of the three countries and the peasants fled to Russia. Latvian troops formed their own battalions and some, who may have been factors in the present Sovietization, gave strong support to the Red revolution of 1917.

Others remained with the White armies while leaders for independence organized the fight at home. The Germans withdrew, the Russians were ousted in bitter fighting and the republics were born.

Strong political majorities were lacking, however, and fairly liberal dictatorships were established by Ulmanis, Smetona and Paets, only to crash before the latest bloodless Russian coup.

Dead Factories

Embargo Of Machine Tools Holds Manchoukuo's Industries In Idleness

AUG 11 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Mukden, Manchoukuo, Aug. 10—Miles of empty factories on the edge of this dusty city tell the story of men who were pinched while closing the "open door" of Manchoukuo.

Japanese industrialists have built the shining shell of the great manufacturing center they visualize, but the inside is largely empty.

Dozens of new red brick plants march across the prairie, but roughly only one in ten is ready for production. Shortages of machinery, machine tools, cement and other vital necessities have converted them into ghosts of a glittering dream.

Embargo Strikes Deeply

This is one reason why the United States' embargo on machine tools struck so deeply. Japan, isolated from Germany by the war, was hurrying to increase her own output of machinery, in order to advance the already crippled industrial expansion plan, one of the army's pet schemes.

Without American machine tools, particularly precision instruments for highly important steel and other industries, a further delay is inevitable in the expected self-sufficiency of the yen bloc.

Manchoukuo's "open door" has been slammed shut definitely and finally.

Authoritative foreigners say the Government tightly controls every branch of business through favored, semi-official companies which exercise monopolies to the exclusion of Japanese rivals. The all-important Kwantung army buys all its supplies, including American automobiles and trucks, through these concerns.

The final step toward complete totalitarian control of Manchoukuoan production is under way now, with every prospect for success. Canny Manchu farmers, growers of the valuable soya bean, have withheld their stocks during the past few months, awaiting more favorable prices.

The Government quickly began the organization of agricultural "coöperatives," which touch every farm. Soon, farmers must sell through the "coöperatives," at Government-stipulated prices, or else find their markets gone.

American business, now the shadowy remnant of Washington's pre-World War plans for the international development of Manchoukuo, has no pr chance of survival, say these observers, unless the Japanese program completely collapses. Even the Germans, who saw their Axis-fostered prosperity drowned by the current war, are doubtful of regaining their markets.

Close To Great Coal Mines

Japan hopes to convert Mukden into a virtually self-sufficient manufacturing area, close to the great Fushun coal mines, twenty miles from here.

The army has encouraged the removal of many industries from Japan proper as a strategic move in event of war with Russia, and several, facing uncertain conditions at home and the prospect of heavy post-China incident taxes, have brought all their equipment to Manchoukuo.

Industrialists relied heavily upon Germany to supply machinery for these plants until Japan's output was sufficient. A barter agreement whereby soya beans were exchanged for equipment ended upon the outbreak of war, with Germany still owing for her last sizable importation of beans.

30.24-4277 30.24-4277

(ADVANCE FOR PMS OF SATURDAY, AUG.10)

BY GILES FINDLEY

(ADVANCE)..CHICAGO, AUG.10-(AP)-HOW HAS THE EUROPEAN WAR AFFECTED THE AMERICAN GRAIN TRADE?

FOR WEEKS TRADING PITS OF THE FUTURES EXCHANGES HAS BEEN PRACTICALLY IDLE AND NOW SUPPLIES ARE PILING UP AND OWNERS ARE FRANTICALLY SEARCHING FOR STORAGE SPACE.

AUG 11 1940

LAST YEAR THERE WERE APPROXIMATELY 86,000,000 BUSHELS OF OLD CROP WHEAT CARRIED OVER, THE LARGEST STOCK SINCE 1933.

WHEN THE 1940 WHEAT CROP STARTED ROLLING TO MARKET, IT FOUND MANY ELEVATORS FILLED ALMOST TO CAPACITY. WHEAT THEREFORE HAS BACKED UP INTO COUNTRY ELEVATORS AND OLD FREIGHT CARS.

ADDING TO THE WOES OF STORAGE ELEVATORS IN NORTHWESTERN STATES IS THE HUGE CANADIAN SURPLUS WHICH IS OVERFLOWING INTO STORAGE BINS ON THIS SIDE OF THE BORDER.

CHICAGO THEORETICALLY HAS A STORAGE CAPACITY OF 53,569,000 BUSHELS, BUT APPROXIMATELY 16,000,000 BUSHELS OF THIS SPACE IS IN ELEVATORS WHICH ARE PART OF FEED MILLS, MALT HOUSES, AND TRANSFER HOUSES. THIS LEAVES ABOUT 37,000,000 BUSHELS OF SPACE FOR COMMERCIAL GRAIN STORAGE. AT THE START OF THE HARVEST SEASON THERE WERE ALREADY 24,000,000 BUSHELS ON HAND WITH MORE COMING ALL THE TIME.

EASTERNERS SAY CANADIAN WHEAT WILL ROLL INTO THE NORTHWEST IN VOLUME FOR STORAGE AT THE HEAD OF THE LAKES, EASTERN PORTS AND IN COUNTRY ELEVATORS.

THE OFFICIAL REPORT THIS WEEK SHOWED 284,000,000 BUSHELS OF UNITED STATES GROWN WHEAT CARRIED OVER AT THE START OF THE NEW CROP YEAR, JULY 1. THIS WAS 30,000,000 BUSHELS MORE THAN THE PRECEDING YEAR.

THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA THUS STARTED THE SEASON WITH APPROXIMATELY 1,700,000,000 BUSHELS OF WHEAT ON HAND, ROUGHLY ONE THIRD OF THE SUPPLIES IN THE ENTIRE WORLD--AND WHERE'S THE MARKET.

EUROPEAN COUNTRIES, CONQUERED IN MILITARY OPERATIONS IN THE LAST YEAR, ARE REPORTED SHORT OF WHEAT AND OTHERS ARE SHUT OFF FROM AMERICAN SUPPLIES BY THE BRITISH BLOCKADE.

ARGENTINE EXPORTS WERE HALTED THIS WEEK BECAUSE SUPPLIES WERE RUNNING SHORT, ESTIMATED TODAY AT 15,859,000 BUSHELS WHEREAS A YEAR AGO THERE WERE 138,042,000 BUSHELS AVAILABLE FOR EXPORT.

THIS, TRADE AUTHORITIES SAID, LEFT EUROPE WITH A POTENTIAL DEMAND FOR 400,000,000 BUSHELS OF WHEAT--OBTAINABLE--ONLY ON THE NORTH AMERICAN CONTINENT, BUT WHICH IS SHUT OFF EXCEPT FOR THE AMOUNTS THAT GREAT BRITAIN PURCHASES FOR DOMESTIC NEEDS. ALL THIS, OF COURSE, COMES FROM CANADA'S HUGE STOCKS UNDER THE "BUY EMPIRE" TRADE TREATIES.

AUG 11 1940

THE CORN CROP HAS BEEN DAMAGED BY HEAT AND DROUGHT IN THE LAST FEW WEEKS, BUT OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT ESTIMATES YESTERDAY ANNOUNCED THAT A CROP OF 2,248,245,000 BUSHELS WAS IN SIGHT THIS YEAR, A REDUCTION OF 167,752,000 BUSHELS FROM THE JULY 1, ESTIMATE AND 370,891,000 BUSHELS LESS THAN THE 1939 HARVEST. THE GOVERNMENT CALLED THE DECLINE SLIGHT.

(END ADVANCE FOR PMS OF SATURDAY, AUG.10--SENT AUG.9)

ER630PCD

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR PMS OF SATURDAY AUG. 10)

- - -

FRENCH WAR TRIALS

GREAT "SECOND GUESSING" GAME (900)

- - -

(EDITOR'S NOTE: THE AUTHOR OF THE FOLLOWING ANALYSIS OF THE FRENCH "WAR GUILT" TRIALS AND THE EVENTS WHICH CAUSED THEM IS ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTER JOHN H.MARTIN, WHO RECENTLY RETURNED TO THIS COUNTRY AFTER A YEAR OF SERVICE IN PARIS. BEFORE THAT, HE WORKED IN LONDON.)

- - -

BY JOHN H.MARTIN

AUG 11 1940

(ADVANCE) NEW YORK, AUG. 10-(AP)-FRANCE'S REVOLUTIONARY TRIAL OF POLITICAL AND MILITARY LEADERS CHARGED WITH HER DEFEAT BY GERMANY PROMISES TO BE THE MOST FANTASTIC "SECOND-GUESSING" AFFAIR IN THAT COUNTRY'S STORMY HISTORY.

AS THE SUPREME COURT BEGAN ITS SESSIONS AT RIOM THESE FORMER POLITICAL LEADERS APPEARED HEADED FOR THE DOCK:

EX-PREMIERS EDOUARD DALADIER, PAUL REYNAUD, LEON BLUM AND CAMILLE CHAUTEMPS; EX-COLONIAL MINISTER GEORGES MANDEL, EX-FOREIGN AND EDUCATION MINISTER YVON DELBOS AND FORMER AIR MINISTER PIERRE COT.

ON THE MILITARY SIDE WAS FORMER GENERALISSIMO MAURICE GUSTAVE GAMELIN, DISMISSED BY REYNAUD AFTER THE GERMAN BREAK-THROUGH AT SEDAN AND THE BEGINNING OF FRANCE'S COLLAPSE.

THOSE JUDGED GUILTY WILL BE SENTENCED TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT. SOME SECTIONS OF THE FRENCH PRESS HAVE BEEN DEMANDING THE DEATH SENTENCE.

GEN.CHARLES DE GAULLE, THE LEADER OF THE "FREE FRENCHMEN" STILL FIGHTING THE WAR BESIDE BRITAIN, ALREADY HAS BEEN SENTENCED TO DEATH IN ABSENTIA BY A MILITARY TRIBUNAL. HIS FOLLOWERS ARE LIABLE TO THE SAME PENALTY.

THE RIOM LIST OF ACCUSED PROBABLY WILL LENGTHEN. THERE STILL ARE MANY UNHEALED VENDETTAS FROM THE PAST DECADE OF KNOCK-DOWN BRAWLS, RIOTS, STRIKES AND POVERTY UNDER A COMPLICATED PARLIAMENTARY REGIME WHICH MARSHAL PHILIPPE PETAIN'S AUTHORITARIAN GOVERNMENT HAS KILLED.

MANY BELIEVE THOSE FOUND GUILTY WILL BE "SCAPEGOATS" OFFERED FOR SACRIFICE AT THE UNMISTAKABLE DEMANDS OF A FURIOUS, DEFEATED PEOPLE.

AUG 11 1940

ACCUSATIONS AGAINST DALADIER HAVE BEEN THAT HE HAD NO RIGHT TO LAUNCH FRANCE INTO WAR, THAT HE KNEW SHE WAS UNPREPARED.

"WILD BULL" DALADIER, A BLUNT UNSPECTACULAR MAN WAS GIVEN DECREE POWERS--NOT AS GREAT, HOWEVER, AS PETAIN NOW HOLDS--IN 1938. ON SEPT. 2, 1939, THE DAY BEFORE FRANCE ENTERED THE WAR, THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES VOTED A ONE AND A HALF BILLION DOLLAR WAR BUDGET, THE BILL IMPLYING THE PREMIER'S RIGHT TO DECLARE WAR.

ONLY FIVE NEGATIVE VOTES OUT OF 618 WERE CAST AGAINST DALADIER WHEN HE FIRST OBTAINED HIS DECREE POWERS AND SOUGHT TO FUSE A UNITED NATION. HE THEREAFTER BECAME A STRIKE-BUSTER AND WAS HAILED AS FRANCE'S MUCH-NEEDED "STRONG MAN."

REYNAUD SUCCEEDED HIM IN MARCH THIS YEAR WHEN DALADIER RESIGNED AMID CRITICISM OF HIS FAILURE TO PROSECUTE A "MORE VIGOROUS WAR."

IT WAS THE DAPPER LITTLE FINANCIAL EXPERT, REYNAUD, WHO WANTED TO CONTINUE THE WAR FROM AFRICA OR EVEN AMERICA IN JUNE WHEN HE MADE THOSE MOVING APPEALS TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT FOR AID. HE WAS FORCED

30.24-4219

30.24-4279

OUT, AND PETAIN SUED FOR AN ARMISTICE.

BOTH DALADIER AND REYNAUD WERE WELL-LIKED BY BRITISH LEADERS. THAT WON'T HELP THEIR STATUS ANY AMONG THE EXTREME RIGHTISTS NOW RULING FRANCE WHO LONG HAVE COMPLAINED BRITAIN EXERTED GREAT PRESSURE--AS SHE DID--ON FRANCE'S FOREIGN POLICY.

MUCH BLAME FOR FRANCE'S PRESENT PLIGHT HAS BEEN HEAPED UPON TALL, BLEAK-EYED LEON BLUM, SOCIALIST LEADER WHOSE "NEW DEAL" GOVERNMENT FOR FRANCE IN 1936 ENDED IN FAILURE. BLUM INTRODUCED THE 40-HOUR WORK WEEK--PRODDED BY A VAST SERIES OF STAY-IN STRIKES. HE ALSO OBTAINED WAGE INCREASES AND PAID VACATIONS FOR WORKERS, AND NATIONALIZED THE ARMAMENT INDUSTRIES.

AUG 11 1940

THEN HAILED AS PROTECTOR OF THE WORKING MAN FOR HIS REFORMS, BLUM NOW IS BRANDED BY A RIGHTIST-RULED PEOPLE AS LARGELY RESPONSIBLE FOR FRANCE'S FAILURE TO SPEED UP HER GUN OUTPUT.

THROUGHOUT FRANCE'S BITTER PRE-WAR POLITICAL TURMOIL, MARSHAL PETAIN, THE AGED HERO OF VERDUN, REMAINED MOSTLY ALOOF. NOW AND THEN HE CRIED FOR "NATIONAL RECONCILIATION," BUT THE FEW WHO HEARD HIM DISMISSED HIM AS POLITICALLY INSIGNIFICANT.

HE RECENTLY BOILED DOWN THE REASONS FOR FRANCE'S DEFEAT THUS: "TOO FEW CHILDREN, TOO FEW ARMS, TOO FEW ALLIES X X X SINCE VICTORY THE SPIRIT OF PLEASURE HAS PREVAILED OVER THE SPIRIT OF SACRIFICE."

PETAIN HAS DESIGNATED PIERRE LAVAL AS HIS SUCCESSOR IN BUILDING THE NEW FRANCE--A FRANCE DEDICATED TO INCREASED BIRTH RATES, PARTIAL PROHIBITION, YOUTH CAMPS, ALOOFNESS FROM BRITAIN, AND PERHAPS ONE-PARTY RULE. ALL THE REFORMS THUS FAR ANNOUNCED PARALLEL THOSE OF THE AXIS POWERS.

NOT MUCH WAS HEARD FROM LAVAL DURING THESE LAST FEW PRE-WAR YEARS. THE SON OF AN AUVERGNE BUTCHER, HE BEGAN LIFE AS A SOCIALIST BUT MOVED STEADILY TOWARD THE RIGHT. IN THE OLD DAYS HE HAD CLOSE CONNECTIONS WITH THE PROLETARIAT, WAS ELECTED MAYOR TIME AFTER TIME IN THE COMMUNIST STRONGHOLD OF AUBERVILLIERS, SUBURB OF PARIS.

THIS THICK-LIPPED, OILY-BLACK-HAIRED SUCCESSOR OF THE AGED MARSHAL WAS KNOWN AS A "FIXER" IN FRENCH PARLIAMENTARY CORRIDORS. HE NEGOTIATED THE FRANCO-SOVIET PACT AGAINST GERMANY, WAS ALWAYS A CLOSE FRIEND OF ITALY AND HEDGED ON THE SANCTIONS ISSUE OVER THE ITALO-ETHIOPIAN WAR, AND HAS BEEN TERMED "TOO SLY TO TRUST ANYONE TOO FULLY."

INFLUENTIAL IN THE NEW PETAIN-LAVAL GOVERNMENT WHICH IS PUSHING THE TRIAL OF OLD LEADERS ARE GENERAL MAXIME WEYGAND, DEFENSE MINISTER; ADRIEN MARQUET, MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR; AND JEAN YBARNEGARAY, YOUTH MINISTER.

GENERAL WEYGAND IS AN ARDENT CATHOLIC, WITH ROYALIST SYMPATHIES. FASCIST FORCES IN FRANCE HAVE CAST COVETOUS EYES TOWARD HIM AS THEIR POSSIBLE WHITE HOPE, IT'S SAID.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR PMS OF SATURDAY AUG. 10 MOVED AUG. 9)

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS SUNDAY, AUGUST 11)

NEW MERCHANT MARINE REVIVES "CLIPPER SHIP" TRADITIONS (650)

BY WILLIAM PINKERTON

AUG 24 1940

(ADVANCE)..WASHINGTON,AUG.10-(AP)-THE SPIRIT OF THE AMERICAN

CLIPPER SHIPS--A STREAMLINED, DIESEL-DRIVEN SPIRIT--IS RIDING THE HIGH SEAS AGAIN.

OFFICIALS OF THE MARITIME COMMISSION CITE THESE SIGNS OF A NEW-BORN AMERICAN MERCHANT FLEET TO MATCH THE OLD TRADITIONS WHEN "NEW WORLD" SAILING VESSELS RULED THE TRADE ROUTES:

FORTY-THREE SPANKING NEW AMERICAN CARGO SHIPS -- DESIGNED FOR ECONOMICAL SPEED AND SAFETY -- ARE RIDING THE WAVES TODAY. BEFORE YEER'S END, ANOTHER 25 WILL JOIN THEM.

NEW AMERICAN CARGO SHIPS ARE SLIDING DOWN THE WAYS AT THE RATE OF ONE A WEEK.

SHIPBUILDERS ARE HAMMERING AND RIVETTING TODAY AT MORE THAN TWICE AS MANY NEW HULLS AS THEY HAD UNDER WAY LAST YEAR.

THE LATEST LUXURY LINER TO BID FOR THE GLAMOROUS TRADE OF THE MAURENTANIAS AND QUEEN MARYS IS THE NEWLY-LAUNCHED S.S. AMERICA, FLYING THE AMERICAN FLAG.

ALTHOUGH 110 AMERICAN VESSELS WERE "BENCHED" WHEN THE NEUTRALITY ACT BARRED THEM FOR EUROPEAN PORTS, THEY HAVE FOUND NEW WORK ON OTHER TRADE ROUTES.

TODAY THE AMERICAN FLAG HAS GAINED NEW ASCENDENCY ON THE SEALANES TO SOUTH AMERICA, THE ORIENT AND AFRICA.

VESSELS FLYING "OLD GLORY" ARE TWICE AS IMPORTANT TODAY IN THE TRADE OF SOUTH AMERICA AS THEY WERE BEFORE THE EUROPEAN WAR BROKE OUT.

ON MANY A SHIP, CADETS FRESHLY-TRAINED BY COAST GUARD OFFICERS HAVE TAKEN THEIR POSTS BESIDE OLD-TIME GRADUATES OF THE "RUN-AWAY-TO-SEA" SCHOOL; AND MANY A TOUGHENED SALT HAS TAKEN ON A NEW LOAD OF LEARNING IN THE GOVERNMENT SCHOOLS.

AT THE SAME TIME, THE NAVY HAS SIGNALED ITS FAITH IN THE USEFULNESS OF THE MERCHANTMEN FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE BY CALLING OUT SEVEN COMMERCIAL VESSELS, SOME TO SERVE THE NEW "MINUTE MAN" MECHANIZED UNITS OF THE MARINE CORPS.

PLEASED, THE MARITIME COMMISSION WILL CONTRACT IN SEPTEMBER FOR TWO NEW LINERS DESIGNED FOR QUICK-CHANGE CONVERSION INTO AIRCRAFT CARRIERS.

AT THE MARITIME COMMISSION, OFFICIALS LIKE ADMIRAL EMORY S.LAND ARE EXPRESSING SATISFACTION THAT, "DESPITE THE DOUBTS EXPRESSED EARLIER BY SOME OF OUR FRIENDS, THE SHIPS WHICH WE HAVE DESIGNED AND BUILT ARE DEMONSTRATING AN UNEQUALLED EFFICIENCY IN OPERATION."

THERE ARE EVEN SIGNS OF A REVIVAL OF THAT PRIDE IN AMERICA'S MERCHANTMEN THAT MARKED THE GREAT DAYS OF AMERICAN SAILING SHIPS. ONE SIGN IS THE STORY BEING TOLD:

AN OLD HOG ISLANDER PUT OUT OF NEW YORK HARBOR ON THE RUN TO INDIA. PRACTICALLY A MONTH LATER, ONE OF THE NEW C-2 CARGO SHIPS LEFT THE METROPOLIS ON THE SAME ROUTE.

THE TWO SHIPS RETURNED TO THEIR BERTHS IN NEW YORK WITHIN 15 MINUTES OF EACH OTHER, BOTH LOADED TO CAPACITY. BUT THE C-2 SHIP CARRIED 1,000 TONS MORE CARGO THAN THE OLDER VESSEL.

ANOTHER SIGN:

THE DONALD MC KAY, ANOTHER C-2 VESSEL, RECENTLY ESTABLISHED A NEW RECORD FOR CARGO SHIPS ON THE RUN FROM BUENOS AIRES TO NEW YORK.

OF SUCH THINGS -- THE WINNING TEAMWORK OF SHIPS AND MEN AND TRADERS -- ARE GREAT MARITIME TRADITIONS MADE. AND THE MARITIME COMMISSION BELIEVES THAT, IN THREE YEARS OF HARD WORK, IT HAS BEGUN TO GET THE WINNING COMBINATION.

30.24-4281

30.24-4281

THE RISE AND DECLINE OF THE AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE IS A LONG STORY. THE AMERICAN SHIPPING INDUSTRY GREW RAPIDLY IN THE EARLY NINETEENTH CENTURY, EXPANDING AS FAST AS THE NEW REPUBLIC EXPANDED.

IN 1830, 90 PER CENT OF AMERICA'S OVERSEAS TRADE WAS CARRIED BY AMERICAN VESSELS; BUT BY 1915 AMERICAN SHIPS WERE CARRYING ONLY ABOUT 15 PER CENT OF AMERICA'S COMMERCE WITH NATIONS ACROSS THE OCEANS.

AUG 11 1940

THE WORLD WAR GAVE GREAT IMPETUS TO THE MERCHANT MARINE OF THE UNITED STATES, AND THE NATION BUILT $3,000,000,000 WORTH OF SHIPS. BUT AFTER THE WAR THE TONNAGE OF AMERICAN SHIPS CARRYING AMERICAN GOODS IN FOREIGN TRADE DECLINED AGAIN. AMERICAN TONNAGE ENGAGED IN OVERSEAS TRADE BY 1935 WAS LESS THAN HALF THE FIGURE IN 1921. AMERICAN SHIPS STILL CARRIED THE IMPORTANT TRADE BETWEEN CITY AND CITY ALONG THE COASTS.

IN THE FOLLOWING YEAR, GOVERNMENT RESEARCHERS, RECKONING THE AVERAGE LIFE OF A SHIP AT 20 YEARS, FOUND OUR MERCHANT FLEET JUST FIVE YEARS FROM THE END OF ITS LIFE SPAN.

THEN CONGRESS SET UP THE MARITIME COMMISSION, SUBSTITUTING AN OUTRIGHT SUBSIDY FOR THE SUBTERFUGE OF MAIL CONTRACTS WHICH PREVIOUSLY HAD BEEN RELIED ON TO OFFSET THE DIFFERENCE IN COSTS BETWEEN AMERICAN WAGES AND FOREIGN WAGES.

THE MARITIME COMMISSION SET MARINE ENGINEERS TO DRAFTING THE PLANS FOR MERCHANT SHIPS TO SERVE THE DOUBLE NEEDS OF AMERICAN TRADE AND AMERICAN DEFENSE.

IT EMBARKED ON A BUILDING PROGRAM TO PROVIDE A FLEET OF 500 NEW AMERICAN VESSELS IN 10 YEARS. WHEN EUROPE'S WAR CLOUDS LOOMED LAST SUMMER, THE COMMISSION SPEEDED UP ITS PROGRAM.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUGUST 11).

K1119PES

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS MONDAY AUG. 12)

300,000 MEN DODGED WORLD WAR DRAFT;

BUT UNCLE SAM CAUGHT UP WITH MANY

BY REG INGRAHAM

AUG 11 1940

(ADVANCE) WASHINGTON, AUG. 11-(AP)-THERE WERE MORE THAN 300,000 "DRAFT DODGERS" IN THIS COUNTRY DURING THE WORLD WAR BUT JUSTICE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS SAID TODAY GROVER CLEVELAND BERGDOLL WAS THE ONLY ONE OF THEM STILL IN JAIL.

A TOTAL OF 337,640 PERSONS WERE LISTED AS DRAFT DESERTERS BUT 163,738 OF THEM WERE APPREHENDED AND DEALT WITH BEFORE JULY 15, 1919. APPROXIMATELY ONLY 160,000 MEN ESCAPED THE CONSCRIPTION MACHINE ENTIRELY.

ALTHOUGH THE NUMBER OF DESERTERS WAS LARGE COMPARED WITH THE NUMBER ACTUALLY INDUCTED INTO THE ARMY, IT WAS SMALL IN COMPARISON TO THE 24,234,000 WHO ANSWERED THE THREE REGISTRATIONS.

"IT IS BEYOND DOUBT," REPORTED ARMY PROVOST GENERAL CROWDER, "THAT THOUSANDS OF REGISTRANTS SUCCEEDED IN EVADING SERVICE BY REMOVING TO FARMS PURCHASED BY INDULGENT PARENTS AND BY OTHER LIKE MEANS UNDERTAKEN SUBSEQUENT TO PASSAGE OF THE ACT, AND THAT THEREFORE, THE SYSTEM DID NOT EFFECTIVELY PREVENT ON THE PART OF THE REGISTRANTS THE EVASION OF ITS REQUIREMENTS.

"BUT IT IS ALSO TRUE THAT, IN THE ABSENCE OF AN AUXILIARY SYSTEM OF CONSCRIPTION FOR INDUSTRY, THE CLASSIFICATION OF REGISTRANTS ACCORDING TO THEIR STATUS AT ANY FIXED DATE WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN PRACTICABLE. THE SELECTIVE SERVICE REGULATIONS, THEREFORE, WHILE NOT BEING PROOF AGAINST THE WILKES OF THE ARTFUL EVADER, AT LEAST EFFECTED ONE OF TWO THINGS: EITHER THEY PLACED SUCH REGISTRANTS IN THE MILITARY SERVICE OR THEY FORCED THEM, THROUGH FEAR OF SUCH SERVICE, TO ENGAGE IN A USEFUL AGRICULTURAL OR INDUSTRIAL UNDERTAKING, THUS PREVENTING THE NECESSITY FOR LEGISLATION THAT WOULD HAVE SIGNIFIED LABOR CONSCRIPTION."

BERGDOLL, SON OF A WEALTHY PHILADELPHIA BREWER, ESCAPED FROM THE CUSTODY OF TWO ARMY SERGEANTS WHILE PURPORTEDLY SEARCHING FOR A LARGE SUM OF MONEY HE SAID HE HAD HIDDEN IN MARYLAND PRIOR TO HIS ARREST. HE MADE HIS WAY TO CANADA AND THENCE TO GERMANY WHERE HE REMAINED UNTIL LAST YEAR, SAVE FOR A COUPLE OF VISITS WHICH HE CLAIMED HE MADE TO THIS COUNTRY IN DISGUISE.

ARMY RECORDS DISCLOSED THAT 55,368 MEMBERS OF RELIGIOUS BODIES OPPOSED TO WAR PROFESSED NON-COMBATANT RELIGIOUS CREEDS BETWEEN JUNE 5, 1918, AND SEPT. 11 OF THE SAME YEAR. TOTAL CLAIMS FOR NON-COMBATANT CLASSIFICATION NUMBERED 64,693 BUT ONLY 56,830 WERE RECOGNIZED.

MILITARY COURTS TRIED AND CONVICTED 371 CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS BETWEEN SEPTEMBER AND NOVEMBER OF 1918 AND SENTENCED THEM TO GERMS RANGING FROM THREE MONTHS TO 50 YEARS. ONE MAN WAS SENTENCED TO BE SHOT BUT HIS SENTENCE LATER WAS COMMUTED TO 25 YEARS IN PRISON.

PRESIDENTIAL AMNESTIES GRANTED AT VARIOUS TIMES AFTER THE WAR FREED MOST OF THE LONG-TERMERS, OFFICIALS SAID, AND THE CIVIL RIGHTS OF 1,500 CONVICTED OF OPPOSING UNITED STATES PARTICIPATION IN THE WAR OR EVADING THE DRAFT WERE RESTORED BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN A PROCLAMATION AT CHRISTMAS TIME IN 1933.

FIGURES IN THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT ARCHIVES SHOWED THAT OF THE ESTIMATED 3,000,000 MEN ENROLLED IN THE UNION ARMY FOR THE CIVIL WAR, LESS THAN 100,000 WERE OBTAINED BY CONSCRIPTION. FEELING AGAINST THE DRAFT RAN VERY HIGH IN MANY SECTIONS OF THE COUNTRY AT THAT TIME AND THERE WERE SERIOUS RIOTS AGAINST IT IN NEW YORK IN 1863.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS MONDAY, AUG. 12--SENT AUG. 9.)

RZ1252AES

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUGUST 11)

- - -

THE RISING SUN OF JAPAN

- - -

EUROPEAN WAR PAVING WAY FOR WIDE DOMINATION IN FAR EAST

- - -

IF GREAT BRITAIN IS DEFEATED THIS RANGE WILL BE GREATLY INCREASED (1000)

- - -

(EDITOR'S NOTE: WITH FRANCE AND HOLLAND DEFEATED AND GREAT BRITAIN INVOLVED IN A DEATH STRUGGLE WITH GERMANY AND ITALY, JAPAN IS MOVING

AUG 11 1940

30,24-4283

30:24-4283

SWIFTLY IN "GREATER EAST ASIA" TO SPREAD ITS DOMINATION. WHAT ALL THIS MEANS IS TOLD IN THE FOLLOWING STORY, WRITTEN FOR THE SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BY GLENN BABB, WHO SPENT 12 YEARS IN JAPAN AND IS NOW DAY CABLE EDITOR IN NEW YORK.)

- - -

BY GLENN BABB

AUG 11 1940

(ADVANCE)..NEW YORK, AUG. 10-(AP)-THE COLLAPSE OF EUROPEAN EMPIRES UNDER THE IMPACT OF NAZI CONQUEST HAS OPENED TO JAPAN A PROSPECT OF SUDDEN, COMPARATIVELY EASY GAIN PERHAPS NEVER BEFORE OFFERED A FIGHTING, EXPANDING PEOPLE.

ALREADY SOME 1,000,000 SQUARE MILES OF RICH TERRITORIES WITH POPULATIONS TOTALLING 85,000,000 COME UNDER THE SPSHERE OF JAPANESE DOMINATION BECAUSE OF THE FALL OF FRANCE AND HOLLAND. IF BRITAIN GOES, TOO, THIS RANGE WILL BE INCREASED GREATLY.

JAPAN APPARENTLY SEES LITTLE TO PREVENT REALIZATION NOW OF AMBITIONS LONG CHERISHED BUT HELD IN CHECK.

BRITAIN MIGHT WIN HER WAR WITH GERMANY AND RETURN TO THE ORIENT AS A GREAT POWER.

RUSSIA MIGHT STRIKE FROM THE NORTH AND THEREBY HALT JAPAN IN THE SOUTH.

THE CHINESE WAR, ALREADY THREE YEARS OLD, MIGHT BLEED HER TO THE POINT OF COLLAPSE.

THE UNITED STATES MIGHT INVOKE NAVAL POWER TO PROTECT HER FAR EASTERN INTERESTS.

BUT JAPANESE LEADERS APPARENTLY ARE GAMBLING ON THESE THINGS NOT HAPPENING.

IF THEY DO NOT, THERE WILL BE OPENED TO JAPANESE ECONOMIC DOMINATION AND, PERHAPS, OUTRIGHT OWNERSHIP A GLAMOUROUS EMPIRE OF ISLANDS AND COASTAL REGIONS STRETCHING OVER 3,000 MILES FROM EAST TO WEST AND 2,000 MILES FROM NORTH TO SOUTH, RICH IN OIL, RUBBER AND MANY OTHER NECESSITIES OF MODERN CONQUEST, AFFORDING MARKETS FOR A GREAT JAPANESE HOME INDUSTRY.

THIS IS THE "GREATER EAST ASIA" WHICH HAS REPLACED "EAST ASIA" IN THE OFFICIALLY DECLARED EXPANSIONIST PROGRAM OF THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT. "EAST ASIA" WAS LARGELY CONTINENTAL---JAPAN'S COLONIES, HER PUPPET "EMPIRE OF MANCHOUKUO" AND THE EASTERN THIRD OF CHINA HELD BY HER ARMIES. SHE HAS BEEN INTEGRATING THESE INTO A SINGLE ECONOMIC BLOC, USING THE JAPANESE YEN FOR MONEY, DOMINATED BY THE POWERFUL JAPANESE NAVY---THE WORLD'S THIRD LARGEST---AND ARMY.

AUG 11 1940

SIMILAR CONTROL IS ENVISAGED FOR THE EXPANDED AREA.

AS DEFINED BY FOREIGN MINISTER YOSUKE MATSUOKA, THIS ALREADY INCLUDES THE POSSESSIONS OF TWO FALLEN EUROPEAN EMPIRES, FRENCH INDO-CHINA AND THE DUTCH EAST INDIES. TOGETHER, THESE EMBRACE OVER 1,000,000 SQUARE MILES --SEVEN TIMES THAT OF JAPAN PROPER---AND A POPULATION OF 85,000,000, GREATER THAN THAT OF JAPAN.

BUT "GREATER EAST ASIA" DEFINITELY INCLUDES "OTHER PLACES IN THE SOUTH SEAS IN ADDITION TO THE EAST INDIES," SAYS YAKICHIRO SUMA, THE FOREIGN OFFICE'S SPOKESMAN.

THIS POINTS DIRECTLY TO THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS, WHERE THE UNITED STATES STILL IS SOVEREIG, AND BRITAIN'S HOLDINGS IN AND AROUND SOUTHEASTERN ASIA, A RICH GROUP OF STATES AND ISLANDS WITH THE GREAT NAVAL BASE OF SINGAPORE AS THE CENTER.

PERHAPS, IT POINTS EVEN FURTHER AFIELD TO BRITISH BURMA, EVEN TO INDIA AND TO THE DOMINIONS OF AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND.

THE JAPANESE TERM "NANYO"---THE SOUTH SEAS---IS A VERY ELASTIC ONE AND OFTEN IS EMPLOYED TO MEAN ALL THE REGIONS MENTIONED.

JAPANESE LEGEND HAS IT THAT THE CONQUERING RACE THAT CAME TO THE ISLANDS OF NIPPON AND FOUNDED THE "DYNASTY OF THE SUN GODDESS" THERE BEFORE THE BEGINNING OF WRITTEN HISTORY---660 B.C. BY JAPANESE CHRONOLOGY---CAME FROM THE SOUTH SEAS. HENCE RETURN TO "NANYO" AS CONQUERORS WOULD BE TO THE JAPANESE A SORT OF HISTORICAL HOMECOMING.

WERE JAPAN TO ADD ANY CONSIDERABLE PORTION OF THESE TERRITORIES TO HER SPHERE OF DOMINATION, AS SHE PROCLAIMS HER INTENTION OF DOING, SHE WOULD HAVE A MARITIME EMPIRE RIVALLING IN WEALTH AND POWER EVEN THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

ALREADY, JAPAN HAS MADE HER POWER FELT IN INDO-CHINA AND THE DUTCH ISLANDS, ADMINISTERED BY LOCAL REGIMES CUT OFF FROM ANY OUTSIDE HELP.

AUG 11 1940

A JAPANESE MILITARY MISSION HEADED BY GENERAL ISSAKU NISHIHARA HAS TAKEN STATION IN INDO-CHINA'S RAILWAY CENTERS TO MAKE SURE NO WAR SUPPLIES REACH THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT OF GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK. LAST WEEK-END, GENERAL NISHIHARA FLEW TO TOKYO TO CONSULT ON THE NEXT STEP.

THE DUTCH GOVERNMENT IN THE INDIES HAS SHOWN ITSELF ANXIOUS TO PLACATE JAPAN AND HAS LITTLE POWER TO RESIST PRESSURE FROM TOKYO. THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT HAS ASKED GENERAL KUNIAKI KOISO, ONE OF THE ABLEST EXPONENTS OF EXPANSION, TO UNDERTAKE A SPECIAL MISSION TO THE INDIES. HIS RECORD INDICATES WHAT MAY BE EXPECTED OF SUCH A MISSION.

HE HAS COMMANDED THE JAPANESE GARRISON IN KOREA, BEEN CHIEF OF STAFF IN MANCHOUKUO, UNTIL RECENTLY WAS OVERSEAS MINISTER---DEALING CHIEFLY WITH EXPANSIONIST POLICIES---AND ONE OF HIS LAST ACTS IN THAT POST WAS FORMALLY TO TENDER THE GOVERNMENT A DOCUMENT LABELLED "IMPORTANT ADVICE ON OVERSEAS POLICY," CONTENTS UNDISCLOSED BUT LIKELY TO BECOME APPARENT SOON.

ANOTHER POWERFUL JAPANESE, ADMIRAL KICHISABURO NOMURA, ONETIME FOREIGN MINISTER, ALREADY IS TRAVELING IN THE SOUTH SEAS, HAVING REACHED MANILA LATE LAST MONTH.

JAPAN'S EXPANSIONIST PROSPECTS IN "NANYO" DEPEND LARGELY ON THE OUTCOME OF ADOLF HITLER'S CAMPAIGN AGAINST BRITAIN. IF ENGLAND IS CRUSHED THE GREAT BASE OF SINGAPORE, CHIEF OBSTACLE TO JAPAN'S AMBITIONS IN THE SOUTH, WILL BECOME VIRTUALLY IMPOTENT. THEN BRITISH HONGKONG, MALAYA AND POSSIBLY BURMA WOULD GO THE WAY OF FRENCH AND DUTCH TERRITORIES. THESE BRITISH HOLDINGS TOTAL ABOUT 310,000 SQUARE MILES (BURMA ACCOUNTING FOR 260,000) AND MORE THAN 20,000,000 POPULATION.

AUG 11 1940

BRITAIN'S FALL ALSO WOULD POWERFULLY INFLUENCE THE FATE OF THE PHILIPPINES. THE UNITED STATES IN ANY CASE IS COMMITTED TO GIVE THE ISLANDS THEIR FREEDOM IN 1946. JAPANESE COMMERCIAL AND ECONOMIC INROADS IN THE ISLANDS ALREADY HAVE BEEN GREAT; THERE IS A JAPANESE SETTLEMENT OF MORE THAN 30,000 IN THE DAVAO REGION; JAPANESE GOODS ARE REPLACING AMERICAN IN MANY LINES.

SO ADD TO THE POTENTIAL JAPANESE SPHERE OF DOMINATION THE

30.24-4285

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS, 114,400 SQUARE MILES, 13,000,000 POPULATION.

THERE REMAINS THE ONE INDEPENDENT NATION WITHIN THE SCOPE OF "GREATER EAST ASIA"---SIAM, AREA 200,000 SQUARE MILES, POPULATION 15,000,000. SIAM IS TUCKED AWAY BETWEEN INDO-CHINA AND BRITISH MALAYA, AND IF THOSE GO SHE PROBABLY WOULD GO TOO.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUGUST 11. SENT AUGUST 3)

TA148AED

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUGUST 11)

- - -

TEMPERED LIKE BLADES OF STEEL

- - -

REGIMENTATION OF YOUTH SPREADS THROUGH THE WORLD

- - -

WILL IT COME TO AMERICA IN THE FORM OF HARD-BOILED DEMOCRACY? (1000)

- - -

(EDITOR'S NOTE: IN ONE COUNTRY AFTER ANOTHER, YOUTH IS BEING REGIMENTED. FRANCE IS THE LATEST TO MOVE IN THAT DIRECTION. WADE WERNER, AUTHOR OF THE FOLLOWING INTERESTING STORY FOR THE SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE (CAP S N S) OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, HAS SPENT TEN YEARS IN EUROPE, WHERE HE SAW THIS MOVEMENT DEVELOP STEP BY STEP. HE TELLS WHAT HAS HAPPENED. THE THREAT OF WAR, HE WRITES, MAY EVOKE A TYPICALLY AMERICAN AND DEMOCRATIC SOLUTION OF THE PROBLEM OF ORGANIZING AND MOBILIZING THIS NATION'S YOUTH.)

- - -

BY WADE WERNER

(ADVANCE) NEW YORK, AUG. 10-(AP)-FRANCE, FOR GENERATIONS A SYMBOL OF FREEDOM TO AMERICANS, IS REGIMENTING HER YOUTH.

ORGANIZED FOR TRAINING IN A "PHALANX OF THE COMPANIONS OF FRANCE", FRENCH YOUNGSTERS BETWEEN 15 AND 20 WILL WEAR A SCOUT-LIKE UNIFORM, MARCH IN MILITARY FORMATIONS, LIVE OR SPEND PERIODS OF INSTRUCTION IN STATE-MAINTAINED CAMPS.

WITH THE YOUTH OF ITALY, GERMANY, SPAIN, RUSSIA AND A NUMBER OF SMALLER COUNTRIES ALREADY REGIMENTED, WITH BRITISH YOUTH ON A DISCIPLINED WAR-BASIS MANY PEOPLE ARE ASKING:

"IS THE YOUTH OF THE WHOLE WORLD SOON TO BE REGIMENTED?"

THE ANSWER IS THAT YOUTH, IN ONE COUNTRY AFTER ANOTHER, IS BEING MOBILIZED AND DISCIPLINED FOR SERVICE TO AN IDEAL.

BUT THE IDEAL IS BY NO MEANS THE SAME IN ALL CASES.

IN ITALY AND GERMANY, BENITO MUSSOLINI AND ADOLF HITLER USED ORGANIZATION AND MOBILIZATION OF YOUTH AS A MEANS OF GETTING DICTATORIAL POWER AND CONSOLIDATING THAT POWER AFTER THEY GOT IT.

INRUSSIA, JOSEPH STALIN TOOK OVER THE COMMUNIST YOUTH ORGANIZATION AND LIKEWISE USED IT TO CONSOLIDATE HIS POWER.

IN DEMOCRATIC COUNTRIES, THE ORGANIZATION AND MOBILIZATION OF A NATION'S YOUTH BECAME SYNONYMOUS IN MANY MINDS WITH ORGANIZATION FOR DICTATORSHIP. BESIDES, IT ALL LOOKED A BIT SILLY THE WAY MUSSOLINI AND HITLER WERE DOING IT -- ESPECIALLY SINCE HITLER'S VERSION SEEMED CHIEFLY A MOBILIZATION OF YOUTH AGAINST THE JEWS.

IT OCCURRED TO VERY FEW OBSERVERS IN THOSE DAYS THAT THE DICTATORS WERE ORGANIZING AND MOBILIZING YOUTH BECAUSE YOUTH IS A NATION'S GREATEST NATURAL RESOURCE.

NOW THAT TOTAL WAR IS HERE THE IMPORTANCE OF EFFECTIVE MOBILIZATION OF A NATION'S RESOURCES -- ESPECIALLY ITS YOUTH -- IS CLEAR. AND THE QUESTION AROSE: IF YOUTH CAN BE ORGANIZED AND MOBILIZED TO SERVE A DICTATOR'S IDEALS, WHY CAN'T IT BE MOBILIZED BEHIND A DEMOCRATIC IDEAL?

BELATEDLY FRANCE, UNDER MARSHAL HENRI PHILIPPE PETAIN, IS TRYING TO MOBILIZE AND DISCIPLINE FRENCH YOUTH FOR THE HEAVY TASK OF NATIONAL REGENERATION. SOME OBSERVERS SAY HE IS MERELY APING HITLER AND MUSSOLINI; OTHERS SAY PETAIN'S YOUTH PROGRAM IS AN IRON EFFORT TO PUT BACKBONE INTO A GENERATION SHOCKED AND BEWILDERED BY THE IMPACT OF TOTAL WAR.

AUG 11 1940

BRITAIN, MANY MONTHS AGO, INTENSIFIED THE ORGANIZATION OF ITS YOUTH FOR NATIONAL SERVICE; HANDICAPPED, HOWEVER, BY THE FACT THAT GERMANY YEARS AGO BEGAN TRAINING ITS YOUTH FOR TOTAL WAR, YEARS AGO BEGAN HARDENING EVEN CHILDREN FOR THE PHYSICAL RIGORS OF LIFE IN A WARRING COUNTRY.

IT STILL REMAINS TO BE DEMONSTRATED WHETHER ORGANIZING EVEN 10 AND 12-YEAR-OLD CHILDREN--AS IN ITALY AND GERMANY -- IS AN ADVANTAGE OR A HANDICAP AFTER WAR BEGINS.

BUT IN THE UNITED STATES, THE EFFORT MADE IN RECENT YEARS TO CONSERVE YOUTH BY TAKING JOBLESS BOYS OFF THE ROAD AND PUTTING THEM TO WORK IN CCC CAMPS IS HARDLY LIKELY TO HANDICAP THE NATION'S EFFORT TO BUILD UP A PHYSICALLY FIT CITIZEN ARMY.

HOW FAR "REGIMENTATION" OF YOUTH MUST BE CARRIED IN THIS COUNTRY TO PREPARE THE NATION ADEQUATELY FOR MODERN WAR IS NOT YET CLEAR. ONE VIEW IS THAT REGIMENTATION FOR DEFENSE IS THE ONLY ADEQUATE PROTECTION AGAINST THE THREAT OF TOTAL WAR BASED ON REGIMENTATION.

BUT THE AMERICAN ANSWER TO THAT PROBLEM MAY BE A SYSTEM OF YOUTH-MOBILIZATION FAR DIFFERENT FROM THE EUROPEAN OR ASIATIC FORMS OF REGIMENTATION FOR TOTAL WAR. JUST AS THE MENACE OF HIGH-SPEED MOTOR TRAFFIC BROUGHT EFFICIENT "REGIMENTATION" OF PEDESTRIAN AND MOTOR TRAFFIC WITHOUT UPSETTING THE DEMOCRATIC WAY OF LIFE IN THIS COUNTRY, THE MORE DEADLY MENACE OF HIGH-SPEED MODERN WAR MAY EVOKE A TYPICALLY AMERICAN AND DEMOCRATIC SOLUTION OF THE PROBLEM OF ORGANIZING AND MOBILIZING THE NATION'S YOUTH.

IN OTHER WORDS, THE UNITED STATES, WHICH IS A NATION OF INVENTORS WHOSE VERY SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT WAS INVENTED TO MEET AN EMERGENCY, WILL DOUBTLESS INVENT A FORM OF HARD-BOILED DEMOCRACY CAPABLE OF MAINTAINING ITSELF IN A HARD-BOILED WORLD -- WITHOUT CEASING TO BE DEMOCRATIC.

UNDER SUCH ORGANIZATION AND DISCIPLINE, IF IT BECOMES NECESSARY, AMERICAN YOUTH MAY BE HARDENED AND TEMPERED LIKE A STEEL BLADE.

BUT THE BLADE CAN BE MADE IN AMERICA.

IT NEED NOT BE IMPORTED.

(MORE) JL240AED

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUGUST 11)

(ADVANCE)..NEW YORK--FIRST ADD YOUTH REGIMENTATION X X X BE IMPORTED.

SUCH A MADE-IN-AMERICA YOUTH PROGRAM MIGHT, FOR INSTANCE, TURN OUT TO BE SIMPLY AN INTENSIFICATION AND COORDINATION OF PHYSICAL, TECHNICAL

30.24-4287

30.24-4287

AND MILITARY TRAINING METHODS ALREADY IN EXISTENCE.

WITHOUT COMPULSION, HIGH SCHOOLS AND UNIVERSITIES IN THE UNITED STATES HAVE DEVELOPED A BREED OF ATHLETES SECOND TO NONE IN THE WORLD. BUT UNDER NORMAL CONDITIONS, WITH NO WAR ON THE HORIZON, THE EMPHASIS HAS BEEN ON DEVELOPMENT OF OUTSTANDING INDIVIDUAL ATHLETES OR TEAMS OF ATHLETES.

WITH GOVERNMENT ENCOURAGEMENT AND THE PRESSURE OF NATION-WIDE PATRIOTIC ENTHUSIASM, THIS EMPHASIS COULD BE SHIFTED TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF ALL-AROUND ATHLETIC STUDENT-BODIES AND THE TRAINING OF TOP-NOTCH STUDENT OFFICERS AND PILOTS.

EVEN THE GERMAN ARMY DOES NOT TRAIN ITS RECRUITS MORE VIGOROUSLY THAN AN AMERICAN VARSITY COACH TRAINS HIS TEAM.

THE SIGNIFICANT FACT -- THE FACT BEHIND MANY A RECENT GERMAN VICTORY -- IS THE FACT THAT GERMAN OFFICERS HAVE BEEN TRAINING THEIR MEN AS THOUGH THEY WERE ATHLETES BEING GROOMED FOR THE OLYMPIC GAMES, OR CANDIDATES FOR A VARSITY ELEVEN.

AUG 11 1940

THE 18-YEAR-OLD GERMAN YOUTHS CALLED UP FOR COMPULSORY LABOR SERVICE BEFORE THE WAR DID NOT MERELY DRAIN SWAMPS, BUILD ROADS AND FORTIFICATIONS. THEY WERE PUT THROUGH AN ARDUOUS ATHLETIC PROGRAM TOO, DESIGNED TO BUILD THEM UP PHYSICALLY FOR THEIR LATER SERVICE IN THE ARMY.

IN THE ARMY ITSELF, THE EMPHASIS ON PERFECTION IS EVEN MORE PRONOUNCED. IT WAS AN EYE-OPENER TO ME WHEN A YOUNG GERMAN RECRUIT TOLD ME, SOME MONTHS BEFORE THE WAR, THAT HE HAD BEEN ORDERED TO RUN THREE MILES BEFORE BREAKFAST DAILY "BECAUSE I WAS FIVE POUNDS OVERWEIGHT." THEY WERE TREATING HIM, A COMMON SOLDIER, AS THOUGH HE WERE OUT TO MAKE THE TEAM.

IN GERMANY, THIS ENTHUSIASM FOR TOP-NOTCH TRAINING COULD BE EVELOPED OUT OF THE TRADITIONAL GERMAN PRIDE IN A GOOD ARMY, SPURRED N BY A FANATICALLY NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT.

IN THE UNITED STATES, ONCE THE YOUNGER GENERATION GRASPS THE FACT THAT THIS IS A HARD-BOILED WORLD IN WHICH A GOOD ARMY IS EVEN MORE IMPORTANT THAN A GOOD FOOTBALL TEAM, SOURCES OF ENTHUSIASM, JUST AS POWERFUL AS ANYTHING DEVELOPED IN GERMANY UNDER A DICTATOR, WILL HAVE EEN TAPPED.

AUG 11 1940

THE EQUIPMENT AND ORGANIZATION FOR ATHLETIC TRAINING ALREADY EXIST IN AMERICAN SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES; THE RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS ALREADY IS A FEATURE OF AMERICAN STUDENT LIFE; THE WAY ALREADY HAS BEEN OPENED FOR THE TRAINING OF STUDENT-PILOTS.

ONCE THE ARMED FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES BECOME "THE TEAM" TO MILLIONS OF YOUNG AMERICANS, THE "REGIMENTATION OF AMERICAN YOUTH" WILL HAVE BEGUN WITH A BANG. AND NO DOUBT MANY EUROPEANS WILL WONDER HOW IT COULD BE DONE WITHOUT A DICTATOR.

BUT AMERICANS ACCUSTOMED TO CAMPUS ENTHUSIASM WILL NOT BE SURPRISED.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUGUST 11. SENT AUGUST 3.)

JL255AED

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUGUST 11)

--

THE RED FLAG IN THE BALTIC

SWIFT CHANGES IN LATVIA,
ESTONIA AND LITHUANIA
FOLLOW RUSSIAN INVASION

TARGETS OF NEIGHBORS DOWN THROUGH HISTORY (1000)

AUG 11 1940

BY THE SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

(ADVANCE) (UNDATED) THE RED FLAG OF RUSSIA FLIES HIGH TODAY IN THE SHIFTING BREEZES OF THE NARROW BALTIC.

WITH THE RECENTLY ACHIEVED SOVIETIZATION OF LITHUANIA, LATVIA AND ESTONIA, STALINIST RUSSIA HAS ESTABLISHED FIRMLY HER NORTHERN CONTROL OF THESE VITAL WATERS BETWEEN THE WEST COAST AND THE SCANDINAVIAN PENINSULAR.

THE SWIFT CHANGE IN THE THREE TINY OUTPOSTS HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED BY THE INFLUX OF RED ARMY TROOPS BY THE THOUSANDS, THE INSTALLATION OF NEW GOVERNMENTS PLEDGED TO SPREAD THE MESSAGE OF SOVIETIZATION, DECREES TOWARD SOCIALIZATION OF INDUSTRY, TALK OF COLLECTIVE FARMING AND A SWITCH FROM ENGLISH TO RUSSIAN AS THE FIRST COMPULSORY FOREIGN LANGUAGE IN SCHOOLS.

THE RED ARMY HAS GAINED NEW BORDERS WITH NAZI GERMANY, WHETHER FOR DEFENSE, COOPERATIVE ACTION OR ATTACK.

IN THE THREE COUNTRIES, BOLSHEVIST IDEOLOGY GAINS NEW FIELDS IN TERRITORY WHICH FOR THE PAST 20 YEARS, AND IN VARYING DEGREES THROUGH THE CENTURIES, LOOKED TO THE WEST--SCANDINAVIA PARTICULARLY--FOR A LARGE SHARE OF ITS CULTURAL EXCHANGE DESPITE 200 YEARS UNDER TSARIST RUSSIA.

TWENTY YEARS AGO THESE PEOPLE, LESS THAN 6,000,000 IN ALL AND CHIEFLY FARMERS, WERE ABLE TO THRUST OUT THE RUSSIAN ARMY THAT AROSE WITH THE FALL OF THE TSARS AND WIN THEIR INDEPENDENCE.

THE RED ARMY CAME THIS TIME WITHOUT A FIGHT. THERE WERE NO FORCES WITH WHICH TO RESIST EFFECTIVELY HAD THE ORDER BEEN GIVEN. AND THERE WAS NONE TO WHOM THEY COULD APPEAL FOR HELP.

RUSSIA'S MUTUAL ASSISTANCE PACTS, WRUNG FROM THE LITTLE BALTIC STATES LAST OCTOBER, BROUGHT THE FIRST RED ARMY UNITS TO BALTIC GARRISONS.

(MORE)

WR119AED

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUG. 11)

(ADVANCE) UNDATED, FIRST ADD SOVIETS IN BALTIC.

X X X BALTIC GARRISONS.

AUG 11 1940

THERE FOLLOWED CONSULTATIONS WITH MOSCOW DURING THE WINTER AND IN MAY A DISPUTE AROSE OVER SUPPOSED UNFRIENDLINESS IN LITHUANIA TOWARD SOVIET GARRISONS.

PRESIDENT ANTANAS SMETONA OF LITHUANIA FLED TO GERMANY.

PRESIDENTS KARL ULMANIS OF LATVIA AND CONSTANTIN PAETS OF ESTONIA REMAINED, BUT THEIR POWER WENT TO NEW MINISTERS, SOME OF THEM RELEASED FROM IMPRISONMENT FOR POLITICAL ACTIVITIES, TO WORKERS COMMITTEES AND TO COMMUNIST PARLIAMENTS.

IN SUBSEQUENT ELECTIONS, IN WHICH THE VOTERS COULD VOTE ONLY "YES," 30,24-4289

30.24-4289

AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY WAS CAST IN FAVOR OF SOVIETIZATION. THOSE FAILING TO VOTE WERE IN DANGER OF BEING BRANDED "ENEMIES OF THE PEOPLE."

A HUNT FOR SABOTEURS BEGAN, WITH THE DEATH PENALTY PROVIDED FOR EXTREME CASES.

THE RED REVOLUTION THUS COMPLETED ITS FIRST STAGE WITH FEW DISTURBANCES, FEW OUTWARD SIGNS OF DISCONTENT.

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS EVERYWHERE, RUSSIAN DOCTRINE PREACHED FROM NEWSPAPERS, RUSSIAN MOVIES--THESE WERE THE OUTWARD SIGNS ALONG WITH WAGE INCREASES ANNOUNCED FOR NUMEROUS WORKERS AND DISMISSALS FOR THOSE TOO CLOSELY LINKED WITH THE FORMER REGIMES.

AUG 11 1940

TO THE BALTIC PEOPLE WHO CLUNG TO THEIR NATIONALITY AND DEVELOPED DISTINCT CULTURES THROUGH CENTURIES OF STRIFE, THE CHANGE IN GOVERNMENT WAS NOT A NEW EXPERIENCE.

IN PAGAN DAYS, LITHUANIA HERSELF WAS A POWERFUL KINGDOM STRETCHING FROM THE BALTIC TO THE BLACK SEA. AT DIFFERENT TIMES GERMANS, POLES, SWEDES, DANES AND RUSSIANS RULED ALL THREE OF THE LITTLE STATES AND FOUGHT BACK AND FORTH ACROSS THEM.

LATVIA, "THE BELGIUM OF THE EAST," ESPECIALLY HAS BEEN THE FREQUENT TARGET OF BIG NEIGHBORS.

THE BALTIC PEOPLES EXISTED UNDER TRIBAL RULE FOR THE MOST PART INTO THE 12TH CENTURY. THEN CAME THE BREAK-UP OF THE GREAT LITHUANIAN KINGDOM AND IT WAS ABSORBED EVENTUALLY BY POLAND WITH THE UPPER CLASSES AND LANDOWNERS BECOMING PREDOMINANTLY POLISH AND CATHOLIC.

TEUTONIC ORDERS FROM GERMANY MEANWHILE WERE SPREADING GERMAN RULE INTO OTHER PARTS OF THE BALTIC. STRONG MASTERS. THE GERMAN KNIGHTS RETAINED OWNERSHIP OF THE LAND AND TRIBAL ESTONIANS AND LATVIANS ENTERED A PERIOD OF SERFDOM.

SWEDEN, THEN A MIGHTY EMPIRE, ACQUIRED DOMINATION OVER THE BALTIC IN THE 16TH AND 17TH CENTURIES AND EMBARKED UPON A PERIOD OF "ENLIGHTENMENT," RELIEVING THE SERFS TO SOME EXTENT AND FOSTERING EDUCATION UNDER GUSTAVUS ADOLPHUS WHO FOUNDED TARTU UNIVERSITY.

BUT IN 1721 PEACE ENDED AND IN A DISASTROUS WAR WITH RUSSIA, SWEDEN LOST HER BALTIC PROVINCES, ALSO PARTS OF FINLAND.

BAD TIMES FELL UPON THE BALTIC STATES AND THE ESTONIANS, WHERE THE SWEDISH INFLUENCE WAS STRONGEST, WERE WONT TO SPEAK OF THE "GOOD OLD SWEDISH TIMES," A REMARK STILL HEARD THERE TODAY--OR AT LEAST BEFORE THE RECENT SOVIETIZATION.

SOME 6,000 PEASANTS AND FISHERMEN OF SWEDISH DESCENT STILL LIVE IN ESTONIA.

AUG 11 1940

IMPROVEMENTS CAME TO THE BALTIC COUNTRIES AFTER TSAR PETER PREPARED THE WAY FOR WESTERN REFORMS BY NOT ENFORCING RUSSIANIZATION, PERMITTING RETENTION OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL FORM OF GOVERNMENT AND THE LUTHERAN INFLUENCE REMAINED.

IN THE 19TH CENTURY THE TSARS FOSTERED LAND REFORMS WHEREBY THE PEASANTS BOUGHT BACK THEIR LANDS FROM THE GERMAN NOBILITY, BUT THE RESULT TURNED OUT TO BE A PERIOD OF TENANCY WITH LITTLE ACTUAL IMPROVEMENT IN LIVING CONDITIONS UNTIL INDEPENDENCE WAS ESTABLISHED.

THE THE MUSICAL, LYRICAL BALTICS STEADILY DEVELOPED THEIR OWN LITERATURE AND CAME TO BE REGARDED AS A SCANDINAVIAN OUTPOST OF BLUE-EYED PEOPLE CLOSELY RESEMBLING THE SCANDINAVIANS ALTHOUGH SLIGHTLY SHORTER AND SOMEWHAT DARKER SKINNED.

THE BRIEF BALTIC REVOLUTION OF 1905 FAILED AND UNTIL INDEPENDENCE CAME ESTONIA WORKED THROUGH A "YOUNG ESTONIAN MOVEMENT" HEADED BY GUSTAV SUITS, NOW PROFESSOR OF LITERATURE AT DORPORT UNIVERSITY.

ULMANIS, WHO STUDIED AT THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, FLED AFTER THE REVOLT AND LABORED FROM ABROAD UNTIL THE WORLD WAR AND THE CRASH OF THE TSARIST REGIME PROVIDED THEIR GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.

GERMAN TROOPS OCCUPIED PARTS OF THE THREE COUNTRIES AND THE PEASANTS FLED TO RUSSIA. LATVIAN TROOPS FORMED THEIR OWN BATTALIONS AND SOME, WHO MAY HAVE BEEN FACTORS IN THE PRESENT SOVIETIZATION, GAVE STRONG SUPPORT TO THE RED REVOLUTION OF 1917.

OTHERS REMAINED WITH THE WHITE ARMIES WHILE AT HOME LEADERS FOR INDEPENDENCE ORGANIZED THE FIGHT. THE GERMANS WITHDREW, THE RUSSIANS WERE OUSTED IN BITTER FIGHTING AND THE REPUBLICS WERE BORN.

STRONG POLITICAL MAJORITIES WERE LACKING, HOWEVER, AND FAIRLY LIBERAL DICTATORSHIPS WERE ESTABLISHED BY ULMANIS, SMETONA AND PAETS, ONLY TO SEE THEIR REGIMES CRASH BEFORE THE LATEST BLOODLESS RUSSIAN COUP.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUGUST II. SENT AUGUST 4)

WR145AED

(ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUG. 11.)

UNDATED, 49TH WEEK OF THE WAR DAY-BY-DAY

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

(ADVANCE)-SUNDAY, AUG 4--BRITISH RAIDERS BACK FROM CONTINENT TELL OF BOMBING MASSED NAZI TROOPS AND SUPPLIES ACROSS CHANNEL FROM ENGLAND; NAZIS DROP "PEACE" PAMPHLETS ON ENGLAND, BOMBS ON SCOTLAND; LAND SKIRMISHING INTENSIFIES ALONG NORTH ITALIAN FRONTIERS.

MONDAY, AUG 5--BRITISH BOMB SYNTHETIC OIL WORKS IN GERMANY; ITALIAN BOMBERS STRIKE AT BRITISH BASES IN NORTHEAST AFRICA AND AT GIBRALTAR; BRITISH RELEASE ONE OF NINE JAPANESE ARRESTED IN EMPIRE ROUNDUP; JAPANESE, DEMONSTRATING AGAINST BRITAIN, STILL HOLD SEVEN BRITONS SEIZED IN ESPIONAGE DRIVE.

TUESDAY, AUG 6--BRITISH AND ITALIAN MILITARY LEADERS DISCLOSE BATTLE OF AFRICA IS ON, WITH LIBYAN FORCES MASSED AT EGYPTIAN DESERT FRONTIER AND ITALIANS KNIFING INTO KENYA AND BRITISH SOMALILAND; U.S. AMBASSADOR TO BELGIUM, JOHN CUDAHY SAYS FAMINE IS NEAR IN BELGIUM UNLESS AMERICAN FOOD SHIPS ARE LET THROUGH BRITISH BLOCKADE OF CONTINENT.

WEDNESDAY, AUG 7--ITALIANS CAPTURE UNDEFENDED BRITISH SOMALILAND PORT OF ZEILA AND TWO OTHER TOWNS IN DRIVES ON BERBERA; BRITISH BOMB RUHR AND LE BOURGET FIELD, PARIS; PARLIAMENT IS TOLD EMPIRE MUST DOVETAIL BRITISH MILITARY EFFORT WITH AMERICAN DEFENSE PROGRAM AS BRITISH OPEN NEGOTIATIONS IN WASHINGTON FOR "HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS" OF DOLLARS WORTH OF TANKS AND GUNS.

THURSDAY, AUG. 8--WAR BIGGEST AERIAL BATTLE OVER ENGLISH CHANNEL, AND BRITISH COUNTER ATTACKS DEEP INTO GERMANY BRING SKY FIGHTING OUT OF TWO-DAY LULL; BRITISH CLAIM 53 NAZI PLANES DOWNED TO 16 RAF CRAFT LOST; NAZIS REPORT 15 BRITISH SHIPS TOTALING 72,000 TONS SUNK BY BOMBS; BRITISH OFFERS POSSIBLE INDEPENDENCE FOR INDIA IN BID FOR AID IN MANPOWER AND RESOURCES; JAPAN REPORTED READY TO GRAB INDO CHINA AND EAST INDIES AS SOON AS HITLER STRIKES ENGLAND.

(MORE)

(END ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUG. 11.)

30,24-4291

30.24-4291

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AUG.11)

(ADVANCE)...UNDATED-FIRST ADD 49TH WEEK OF THE WAR DAY-BY-DAY (BY AP) X X X STRIKES ENGLAND.

FRIDAY, AUG.9--BRITISH WITHDRAW FORCES FROM CHINA; JAPANESE "VERY PLEASED," BRITISH SAY NAZIS LOST 60 PLANES IN THURSDAY CHANNEL FIGHT AGAINST 16 BRITISH PLANES SHOT DOWN; GERMANS COUNTER WITH CLAIM 49 BRITISH PLANES SHOT DOWN, 10 OF THEIR OWN; BRITISH COUNT ITALIAN LOSSES IN LIBYAN AIR FIGHT AT 15 PLANES AGAINST TWO BRITISH, ITALIANS TALLY FIVE BRITISH PLANES DOWNED, TWO ITALIAN; ITALIANS FIGHT TOWARD BERBERA; JAPANESE BOMB CHUNGKING HEAVILY.

AUG 11 1940

SATURDAY, AUG.10--STEADY AIR WAR DEVELOPS IN AFRICA AND EUROPE; GERMANS CLAIM HEAVY HITS ON BRITISH MUNITIONS, AIRCRAFT WORKS, SHIP-YARDS; ITALIANS PROGRESS IN BRITISH SOMALILAND DESPITE HARASSING BRITISH BOMBINGS; NAZI PRESS SAYS GERMANY HAS PLENTY OF FOOD, BRITAIN TO BLAME IF OCCUPIED COUNTRIES HUNGRY; EGYPT UNDERGOES WAR OF NERVES, PREPARES TO LINE UP WITH BRITISH IF ITALIANS ATTACK.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF SUNDAY, AMG11)

PS849PED

400 PLANES RAID BRITAIN

60 RAIDERS SHOT DOWN, LONDON SAYS; NAZIS PUT BRITISH LOSSES AT 89

400 Planes Bomb Portland Naval Base, 300 Miles Of Coast, Inland Towns, Channel Shipping. Onslaught Follows Fresh Forays On Reich

For the second time in four days a major battle for air supremacy raged yesterday over the English Channel and along the south and east coasts of England.

The Portland naval base was the chief target of the German offensive, though the raiders smashed also at shipping and bombed several inland towns.

AUG 1 - 1940

The British reported sixty German planes destroyed and put their own losses at twenty-six. The Germans claimed destruction of eighty-nine British planes, against the loss of seventeen German, and reported three convoyed merchantmen sunk, four other ships damaged and eight barrage balloons shot down.

As a prelude to the battle were heavy British raids on military objectives in Germany, Holland and France and a German nocturnal foray over Wales.

Nazis Renew Raids After Battle; Loud Explosion In Ulster

[By the Associated Press]

London, Monday, Aug. 12—Losing little time in the Nazi aerial warfare upon Great Britain, successive waves of German warplanes attempted to break through defense lines on the northeast coast early today several hours after more than 400 swastika-marked planes lashed 300 miles of England's coasts in a gigantic air fight.

The British reported the fresh German attack was repulsed by heavy fire from ground batteries.

After the firing in the great air battle had died down along England's gun-girdled coasts last night, the British Air Ministry claimed an official total of sixty German warplanes shot down. However, the Air Ministry's news service in a story of the day-long fighting detailed sixty-nine German planes shot down.

The British said they lost twenty-six planes.

Blast Over Northern Ireland

As the raids continued today, a loud explosion was heard over a large area of Northern Ireland. The cause was not known, but aircraft were known to have been in the vicinity.

The mystery explosion awakened thousands of people in the area.

A member of the local defense volunteers on duty at a golf club said he heard a plane flying over and then saw a flash, followed by the explosion.

Other early morning raiders over England reconnoitered widely and dropped a large number of bombs on an unidentified west coast town.

Enemy planes were reported over southwest and southeast England, the midlands and Wales.

In one battle off the coast early today British Spitfires forced a German dive-bomber—a Junker 87—into the sea.

The Air Ministry announced that yesterday's fight was the second in four days over the English Channel battlefront in which 400 planes have been hurled against Britain's defenses—and in which sixty Nazi aircraft have been downed.

Dive-Bomber Forced Into Sea

The other 400-plane raid was aimed at southeastern England last Thursday.

Inland Towns Also Bombed

Portland, mighty island naval base just off the south coast from Weymouth, bore the brunt of the attack. But other large flights of raiders smashed at shipping along miles of the Channel, and pierced inland, bombing towns with an undisclosed toll.

A British communique said "minor damage was caused to two of his Majesty's ships by splinters "during the Portland fight and that bombs falling on the shore caused some damage to naval buildings, including a hospital."

The communique said "there were a number of civilian casualties, but few of these were serious."

Amplifying the Air Ministry's communique, the Ministry's news service said the attacks began at 7.30 A. M., continued at a furious pace until the afternoon, and broke out again mildly in the early evening, when two bombers were destroyed off the east coast.

Three Points Of Attack

"There were three distinct points of attack—on Portland, on Dover and on a convoy off the Anglican coast"—the news service reported.

After hitting first at Dover, the Germans hurled a terrific attack against Portland shortly after 10 A. M.

"In this action, which lasted until lunchtime, the enemy suffered their heaviest losses," the news service said. "Nearly forty of them crashed on sea or land, when Spitfire and Hurricane squadrons roared in and out, breaking up their formations, zooming and diving and picking them off in a long series of dogfights."

In the convoy action British Spitfires surprised forty Nazi bombers about to attack the convoy and dispersed them.

Raids On Reich Continued

Meantime, the Air Ministry announced that heavy attacks on military objectives in Germany were continued Saturday night after day attacks on several airdromes in Holland and France.

The communique said:

"Yesterday (Saturday) R. A. F. bombers made daylight attacks on a number of enemy-occupied airdromes in Holland and France. Hits were observed among hangars at Schiphol, Querqueville (airport of Cherbourg) and Waalhaven.

"The airdromes at Flushing, Dinard and Caen were attacked. The airport at Guernsey (German-occupied British Channel island) also was bombed. Two of our aircraft are missing.

Hamburg, Wilhelmshaven Raided

"Heavy attacks on military objectives in Germany were continued last night. These included the docks at Hamburg, the naval base at Wilhelmshaven, oil supplies at Frankfurt and Homburg, a power station and an explosives factory at Cologne, a chemical works at Frankfurt and a blast furnace north of the city, wharfs at Duisberg, supply depots at Hamm and Soest, and several airdromes in Holland and Germany. One of our aircraft is missing."

Yesterday's raiders came, flight after flight, sometimes in waves up to 150 planes. From inland airports British reinforcements turned the fight into a wholesale battle for mastery in the air over the bomb-battered coast.

Weymouth and Portland were attacked inland as well as along the water front. In one place forty houses were reported demolished and 150 others damaged in a fifteen-minute attack.

Several Churches Bombed

Several churches filled with worshipers who filed to services during the raids were hit. There was no estimate of casualties.

One southeastern coast town had at least four separate raids starting at dawn. There, alone, observers counted at least ten German planes downed in almost ceaseless dogfights.

The raiders' cannon-carrying Messerschmitts blasted down at least three barrage balloons guarding the vital harbors, tons of bombs shook at least two coastal towns, dive-bombers attacked shipping, and streets were splattered with machine-gun fire.

Casualties Not Estimated

Britain beat at the raiders with the full strength of her coast defense system—showering attacking squadrons with anti-aircraft fire and hurling power-diving counter attacks down on the bombers.

Casualties in the bomb-wrecked districts of towns were not estimated. Official announcements indicated only that there were some deaths.

One wave of 150 planes dived onto a town on the southwest coast, unloosing a shower of explosives which wrecked an entire row of houses in a fifteen-minute attack.

Worship Amid Explosions

Air-raid wardens paced the streets crying:

"Better take cover. Don't say you weren't warned."

Machine-gun fire spattered some streets. Church services continued with hymns rising between the thunder of heavy explosions.

A bomb hit one church, showering glass and plaster on forty children singing in Sunday school. None was injured seriously and their parents hustled them home or to shelter. Another church also was hit.

Some of the curious scurried about from shelter to shelter even during the stunning crash of bombs and roar of anti-aircraft fire, gathering flattened machine-gun bullets and shell fragments for souvenirs.

The raid was repeated, this time by a flight of fifty German planes, on a southeastern town.

Death Dives All Along Coast

All along the coast observers reported seeing the smoke-trailing death dives of disabled planes. Some Nazi airmen were seen bailing out, drifting down to the shoreline or into the Channel by parachute.

Often the barrages raised by fast-firing anti-aircraft batteries drove waves of attackers back to sea, but again and again they wheeled to strike—sometimes darting in low to fire at the gas-inflated balloons whose cables guard the harbors, sometimes racing inland at 15,000 feet to escape the fire from the smaller ground batteries.

As fast as the balloons were damaged, repair crews started work on them immediately, ignoring bombs and gunfire.

17 Bombs Fall On Welsh Town

Yesterday's south coast attacks grew out of an explosive prelude of bombings Saturday night in which seventeen bombs fell on one Welsh town alone, wiping out an entire family. Two air-raid wardens were killed while hustling others to shelter.

By dawn the raids had intensified into the air battle on the south and east coast.

Prime Minister Churchill sent the War Cabinet's congratulations to Britain's fighter squadrons for beating back mass German air attacks Thursday. The British claimed sixty-one raiders were destroyed.

Churchill's Congratulations

In his message to the Air Ministry Churchill said:

"The War Cabinet will be glad you would convey to the fighter squadrons of the Royal Air Force engaged in Thursday's brilliant action their admiration for the skill and prowess they displayed, and congratulated them upon the defeat and heavy losses inflicted upon a far more numerous enemy."

Nazi Attack On Balloon Barrage Develops Into Big Sky Battle

AUG 12 1941

By ROBERT E. BUNNELLE

[Associated Press Correspondent]

On England's Southeast Coast Aug. 11—From a balcony spattered with machine-gun fire and jarred by deafening bombardment I saw a new chapter in the battle of Britain written today in a Sabbath sky thick with airplanes and spotted with mushroom puffs from anti-aircraft shells.

Between attacks I rushed with other onlookers to gather shell fragment souvenirs. We found machine-gun bullets imbedded in the concrete a few feet from where we stood. Anti-aircraft guns thundered a nerve-wracking din one hundred yards away.

The raiders screamed down—sometimes from 15,000 feet up—out of the early morning sun, pouncing on coastal balloon barrages. But from the ground and in the air the British gave them a hot reception.

Saw Four Planes Bagged

In one attack I saw four German planes apparently bagged by British fighters and anti-aircraft shells. Another correspondent farther down the coast counted one, and possibly two others, plummeting from great height and trailing dense smoke.

The raid began as a surprise attack on the balloons, but developed soon into fierce dogfights, and was followed by repeated attacks by larger and larger waves, finally attacking the town as well as the water front.

The gunfire rolled like thunder. One flight of raiders was split into two parts by anti-aircraft fire, which kept one group performing aerial acrobatics while British pilots engaged the other.

Looked Like Specks

Sometimes the planes were so high they looked like tiny specs of wind-blown paper.

Some fought clear and streaked back toward the German-held coast of France. One of these trailed a great black plume of smoke.

The battle raged so furiously it was impossible to keep accurate track of the planes which fell. A pilot of one destroyed plane drifted by parachute into the water two miles off shore.

Little files of townsfolk on their way to church looked back toward the coast for glimpses of the air fight and heard the Messerschmitt cannon fire directed at barrage balloons.

Raiders Beaten Back

Heavy anti-aircraft fire beat the raiders back from the balloons at most places.

Before church services were over new flights of raiders dived out of the sun, with machine guns and bomb sights aimed at streets and buildings.

Explosions shook the town and motors screamed as planes tangled overhead in a blaze of action inland and along the whole seafront.

There was a lull and I went out to gather souvenirs, but guns within one hundred yards of us blazed away and observers ducked for cover.

An air-raid warden strode past with the warning:

"Better take cover, they're machine-gunning the streets. Don't say you weren't warned."

But through the firing balloon barrage crews worked as calmly as carpenters filling new balloons to replace those shot down.

Most church services proceeded without interruption through the din. Two churches, however, were struck by bombs and forty children in a Sunday school were showered by glass and debris. None of the children was injured seriously.

There was no authoritative figure on casualties. It was reported however that a whole row of homes was demolished in a southwestern town during a fifteen-minute attack by 150 planes. Forty homes were smashed and 140 others damaged. Casualties there were described as "amazingly low"—considering the number of bombs dropped. Later reports said twenty persons were taken to hospitals.

"Give Thanks To God"

Outside one damaged church the rector placed a sign:

"Give thanks to God. Thanksgiving services will be held at 6.30 P. M. in the open air."

At several places British motor boats put out to pick up pilots who bailed out as their planes dived into the sea.

From a water-front esplanade bombs could be seen bursting all around one ship, almost hiding it at times with columns of spray. After the attack the ship could be seen, continuing on its way.

"Same Old Pattern," Say British Defenders

By DREW MIDDLETON

With the Royal Air Force Fighter Command, Aug. 11 (AP)—Today's mass air fight over England's south coast was a "good engagement," but the "same old pattern," to the men who map Britain's sky defense and play a deadly game of guess with raiding squadrons.

I saw the defense system in operation as the fighter command headquarters received the terse report:

"Upward of 150 German aircraft approaching ——. Three British squadrons reinforcing those already in the air. One fighter squadron refueling."

The vice-air marshal nodded. "Same thing as Thursday," he observed. "Simultaneous attacks which get hotter until finally, far from the original point of attack, they throw in a couple of hundred planes. We're doing all right. We shoot down four of theirs for every British loss. The people winning the war are those kids out there (the R. A. F. pilots)."

Outside fast Hurricanes could be heard roaring to the sky fight.

"When Jerry gets an idea" the vice-air marshal said, "he sticks to it until we knock it out of his head. Here's what he does—or tries to do:

"First blow comes here." The officer's finger pointed to a northeastern

30.24-4293

30.24-4293

port of England on his huge map. "Then a bigger attack here. Finally attacks on convoys here and here."

Calm Description

He went on with his terse description of Britain's counter-tactics as calmly as a college professor expounding a problem in mathematics, while seventy-five miles away coastal towns were being pounded by heavy bombs and his reinforcement squadrons were diving into the fray to beat the raiders back.

Occasionally from an inter-office telephone system a voice would break in:

"Seven more Germans destroyed."

The vice-air marshal said it is a game of guess—to figure out where the Nazis will strike next and head them off.

Numbers Are Important

"Sometimes they seem headed for one place, then switch to another," he related. "It's our job to have enough aircraft to intercept them wherever they strike. We just see that they (the British flyers) have the right number in the air at the right moment. They do the rest. . . ."

Coastal reconnaissance planes and convoy guards play a part in relaying the information on location and direction of air raiders.

Markers showing positions of the attackers and available forces of defense planes are moved about the map of England like pieces in a chess game.

"The Germans in opening the attack often use ten or fifteen bombers and fifty or sixty fighters in order to engage as many British fighters as possible," the officer pointed out. "We send one section against their fighters, another against the bombers.

"Often German fighters lie poised above the clouds at 25,000 feet. If we are too many for them—say two or three—they turn and dive back to France before we can climb to them."

man sources said Nazi successes were mounting "from minute to minute."

[Associated Press Editor's Note:—However, the German wireless in a broadcast picked up in New York by CBS warned that today's air operations "are not to be interpreted as the start of a German attack on Great Britain." The announcer indicated that the raids were part of thorough preparations for the "final bout with the British."]

Portland Declared Shattered

Severest and apparently longest of the air fights was over the precipitous shoreline at Portland where the German high command said fifty-seven British pursuit planes were shot down.

Quoting eyewitnesses, DNB described Portland as heavily shattered by the Nazi bombers. They were said to have destroyed almost every ship in the harbor.

Walls of wharves were said to have caved in, some warehouses to have collapsed and others to have burned under the German bombardment.

Havoc At Port Described

Reconnaissance flyers who scouted the scene, the agency said, reported oil store and harbor works in flames, huge bomb craters scooped out by explosive bombs, loading piers smashed, ships burning in the harbor and other vessels sunk.

Besides one of the greatest air battles of the war over the whole coastal area from Portland, on the west, to Dover, on the east, DNB said numerous side fights also developed as Nazi bombers, fighters and destroyer planes lashed out for air supremacy over the English Channel.

Fall "Like Birds Out Of Sky"

At one time, the German wireless mation, it summarized the day's bag as eighty-nine British planes downed, three convoyed merchantmen sunk and a destroyer and three merchantmen damaged. Eight barrage balloons also were said to have been burst by aerial gunfire at Dover.

Besides fifty-seven British planes felled at Portland, the high command said, German airmen shot down seventeen others in their attack on the convoy, seven at Dover and the remaining eight "at other points."

Convoy Of 70 Ships Attacked

Separate from the Portland battle, Nazi military sources said, German raiders attacked a convoy of seventy merchantmen escorted by fourteen warships in the English Channel.

Bomb hits were claimed on several convoying warships, some of which were reported stopped and listing after the attack.

Crewmen of the first fighter squadron returning from the attack reported hits on several steamers, including three which were set afire and one, a vessel of about 8,000 tons, which was sunk.

Another 8,000-ton ship was said to have suffered four hits and to have dropped, listing, out of the convoy, and a 5,000-ton merchantman was said to have remained behind burning.

Merely "Side Assignment"

Apart from Spitfire fighters sent out from shore, the German airmen were quoted as saying two squadrons of Hurricane fighters accompanied the convoy, and one of these planes was sent spinning into the sea.

There was no full report yet on the outcome of the raid, but DNB said it was made by "relatively weaker bombing forces" and was merely a "side assignment."

The convoy was said to have been sailing a south-southwest course when it was intercepted about twelve miles northwest of the port of Margate, at the mouth of the Thames.

In air battles with planes protecting the ships, DNB said, five British Spitfires and two Bristol-Blenheims were shot down.

Seven Barrage Balloons Shot Down

Also independent of the great Channel battle, the agency reported, seven barrage balloons and five Spitfire pursuit planes were destroyed at Dover, two Bristol-Blenheims at Southampton and two Spitfires at Canterbury.

It said the Channel was dotted with small vessels trying to rescue crews of downed British planes from the choppy Channel waters and charged that one German craft downed by two Bristol-Blenheims was a plainly labeled German Red Cross seaplane.

One German Messerschmitt pursuit squadron was credited with bagging twenty-two British planes at a loss of only two of its own and another was said to have downed sixteen.

Toll Brought Up To 89

The day's fourth and final communique, summing up the main channel battle, said:

"Besides the already announced successful attack on the British war harbor of Portland where oil storage tanks and port facilities were set afire and fifty-seven enemy planes were shot down, our air units achieved further successes on a convoy east of Harwich.

"Three merchantmen totaling approximately 17,000 tons were sunk, one destroyer and three merchant ships were heavily damaged by direct hits. In this action our pursuit and destroyer units shot down seventeen enemy planes.

At other points eight additional enemy airplanes were forced to crash. At Dover our pursuit planes also undertook an attack on barrage balloons. Of eighteen balloons, eight were destroyed.

"In this action seven British pursuit craft were shot down.

"The enemy's total loss today, therefore, was eighty-nine planes as against seventeen of our own."

British anti-aircraft batteries were declared put out of action at Portland early in the battle.

An earlier communique had said that besides sinking almost all ships in the Portland harbor, Nazi bombs had ignited "great fires" among storage tanks and on the dam connecting the port with the mainland.

"Heavy explosives," it said, were seen in boiler and machine buildings and attacks also were carried out on docks, harbor facilities and repair shops in the Government dockyards.

Saturday's War Activities

Issued before the running air battle began, the regular German communique reported that on Saturday Nazi air forces crippled an armed merchant ship so heavily it was abandoned by its crew, again mined the mouths of British harbors, hit an airplane assembly shop at Norwich, a powder works near St. Ives and the ports of Newport, Swansea and Pembroke.

It also listed the British 9,130-ton British merchantman Upwey Grange as sunk by a German submarine.

British night raids on Germany caused only non-military damage, it added.

Portland Naval Base Shattered, 89 Planes Destroyed, Nazis Say

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 11—Destruction of eighty-nine British warplanes and crippling damage to the fortified British naval base at Portland by massive waves of Nazi air raiders striking with terrific force on England's Channel coast were reported officially tonight.

Still awaiting complete information on the day-long series of battles, German broadcast that British planes were falling "like shot birds out of the sky" as radio and DNB bulletins, high-command communiques and information from German military sources gave a running account of the mass aerial assault.

The high command admitted that seventeen German planes had not returned home.

On the basis of still tentative infor-

Duke, Duchess Hear Bishop Who Burned Their Picture

Attend Bermuda's Anglican Cathedral On Summer's Hottest Sunday—Church Is Crowded

[By the Associated Press]

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 11—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor spent a hot morning in church today, listening to a sermon by the Bermudan bishop who once tore down and burned a picture of their wedding.

Several times during the long Anglican service the Duke mopped his perspiring brow with his handkerchief, and once briskly manipulated a palm-leaf fan in an effort to cool off himself and the former Wallis Warfield, who sat beside him.

There was nothing in Bishop Arthur Heber Browne's sermon which could be interpreted as a reference to the Windsors' marriage or the British constitutional crises which preceded it.

It just happened to be one of the hottest Sunday mornings Bermuda has had this summer. The rest of the congregation looked just as uncomfortable as the Duke and Duchess.

The bishop later said his sermon, based on St. Paul's epistle to Philemon, had been written before he knew the Windsors were coming.

About 700 Bermudans and visiting Americans crowded Hamilton's Gothic cathedral when the Duke and Duchess, accompanied by Bermuda's Governor, Maj. Gen. Denis Kirwan Bernard, and his sister, Mrs. Hastings Brooke, arrived at the church.

The Duke came first in a carriage driven by two white-gloved, white-helmeted coachmen. With him were the Governor and the latter's aide-de-camp. The Duchess and Mrs. Brooke followed in another carriage.

The Windsors sat in the Governor's pew.

This afternoon the Duke and Duchess planned to attend a party in the home of Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Kennedy Purvis, where swimming, cocktails and tea promised relaxation.

The Duchess again was accorded spontaneous applause by spectators gathered outside the cathedral.

The Bishop greeted the Windsors as they departed.

He shook hands and chatted with the Duke momentarily and unsmilingly and then briefly shook hands with the Duchess.

More Canadian Troops Bolster British Forces

Soldiers Report Uneventful Voyage—Mostly From Eastern Section Of Dominion

Somewhere in England, Aug. 11 (AP)—A small detachment of Canadian troops, mainly from eastern Canada, joined other units of the Second Division, Canadian Active Service Force, tonight in a camp somewhere in England.

The soldiers reported their voyage across the Atlantic was uneventful with the sea like a mill pond.

Total number of Canadian troops in England is a military secret, but there are two divisions, in the first of which some 20,000 men went to England, and miscellaneous forces.

Eire Announces That 180,000 Have Joined Defense Since June

Dublin, Aug. 11 (AP)—One hundred and eighty thousand men have joined Eire's defense force since June 1, Frank Aiken, Minister of Defense Co-ordination, announced today.

Aiken said that "any enemy who attempts to attack Irish territory will pay dearly for it."

Patrick Little, Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, said "every mile of Irish coast now is patrolled and guarded."

Dalton Promises Poles Deliverance Is at Hand

Says British Armies Will Go to Continent

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP).—Hugh Dalton, British Minister of Economic Warfare, told German-conquered Poles tonight that Great Britain would call "at a chosen moment," on all whom Fuehrer Adolf Hitler has vanquished to rise and "greet the armies which will land from England upon the shores of Europe."

In a British Broadcasting Corporation-Polish News Service broadcast, Dalton said the moment would come "when we have drowned and destroyed any Germans who attempt to invade our island, when we have conquered the air over Germany.

"In this great struggle against German barbarism, our victory is sure," he said. "There is an old saying that in all her wars England always wins the last battle. So it will be again. . . . Soon we shall dominate the air over Germany, just as at the beginning of this war the Germans dominated the air over Poland. And, from that day, the complete defeat of Germany will follow soon."

Dalton assured the Poles that "the hour of your deliverance is near."

Blast Heard in Ulster After a Plane Passes

LONDON, Aug. 12 (Monday) (AP).—A loud explosion was heard over a large area of Northern Ireland early today. The cause was not known, but it occurred apparently in the coastal area while aircraft were reported to be in the vicinity. The explosion awakened thousands of people in the area.

A member of the local defense volunteers, on duty at a golf club, said he heard a plane flying over, saw a flash and then heard the explosion.

British Set Nazi Loss At Total of 387 Planes

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP).—The sixty German planes reported shot down in today's fighting over the south coast brought to 387 the total Nazi air losses tallied by Great Britain since the start of mass air attacks last June 18.

The largest number previously claimed as downed in a single day's fighting also was sixty, on last Thursday.

PETAIN REGIME SHAKEUP IS BELIEVED NEAR

Vice-Premier Laval Reported One Of Ministers Facing Ouster

Cabinet's "Strong Man" Under Fire Of Both French And Nazis

[By the Associated Press]

St. Gingolph (on the French-Swiss Border), Aug. 11—The authoritarian government of Marshal Philippe Petain is reported here to be on the eve of a shakeup, with Vice-Premier Pierre Laval as one of those likely to be benched.

Reports from influential sources in the unoccupied zone and Frenchmen outside the zone said Laval recently has been bombarded with criticism from many quarters. These sources said the politician who already has fulfilled his political function in obtaining the old Parliament's approval of the new form of government is one of those whose usefulness now is ended.

Phone Service Cut

Meanwhile, the French Government forbade telephone communication between Switzerland and Vichy and other central points in unoccupied France.

Only official calls from the Bern legation and from French diplomats abroad were accepted by French telephone operators, working under army orders.

No official reason was given for the ban on service.

Based On Three Counts

Attacks on Laval, who at first appeared to be the "strong man" of the Petain Cabinet and whom the aged chief of state named as his political heir, were based on three counts:

1. Many leaders, both Left and Right, accused him of protecting certain leading figures of past Cabinets, such as Georges Bonnet, former Finance Minister, from the Riom "war-blame" trial, and of attacking others, like former Premier Paul Reynaud, whose following still is strong.
2. The old Fascist Croix de Feu (which Laval as Premier several years ago forced into dissolution) is increasing in strength with the addition of many of this war's veterans, and is a bitter enemy of Laval.
3. The Germans are reported unwilling to support Laval, whom they consider just another pre-war French politician.

Would Avoid "Disgrace"

Chief-of-State Petain and Gen. Maxime Weygand both are reported determined to protect the army high command from any "disgrace" in the Riom trial. Informed quarters said Laval first began to slide from grace with the present army command when he asked that former Generalissimo Maurice Gamelin be brought from his estate in Dordogne, where he is now in retirement, to defend himself at the trial with his chief political supporter, former Premier Edouard Daladier.

Daladier, with former minister of interior, Georges Mandel, and other accused former Cabinet members and deputies, is reported to have obtained the promise of many leading deputies and senators—including Edouard Herriot, who defended them before the assembly which recently ratified the new constitution—that they might testify in their defense at Riom.

The former premier and his companions allege they were "framed"; that Laval and other Rightists asked them to go to North Africa to prepare a new seat of government there, just to get them out of the way until an armistice could be arranged.

Who will replace Laval in the Cabinet, and whether Adrien Marquet, Minister of Interior, also will be dropped, remains problematical.

Jean Ybarnegary, dynamic Basque Minister of Youth and Family, is one of those mentioned as Laval's probable successor. Others include such dark horses as the Independent Gaston Bergery and the ex-Communist ex-Deputy Jacques Doriot, whose prestige in the former "red ring" of Paris workers and among the peasant front of farm workers is great.

Hero Of Many Stories

Doriot is the hero of many stories of the Vichy assembly, where he made himself conspicuous with sarcastic digs at Parliamentarians. When he tried to enter the assembly as a "former deputy" he was told "that is worth nothing here." He retorted:

"That's a shame. You'll all be former deputies tonight."

When asked why he came to Vichy, he replied:

"To see you all die."

But when asked why he refused to support the Laval-Petain Government, he retorted:

"In order not to die with you."

FRANCE DOOMS ALL ORGANIZED LABOR GROUPS

Petain Government Moves Toward Corporative-Style State

Many Historic Spots Were Ruined By Nazi Drive, Survey Shows

[By the Associated Press]

Vichy, France, Aug. 11—Organized labor appeared headed for the scrap heap in France today. Preparations were shaping up rapidly for a corporative style structure in which workers and employers are organized in units and their differences settled by the Government.

Although France's great labor organization, C. G. T. (Confederation Generale de Travail) has abandoned its old "class-struggle" principles and proclaimed its aims of protecting "interests of the nation," a violent campaign with all the earmarks of a death thrust has broken out against it.

The press unanimously is demanding a complete new organization of the nation's industrial life in corporative and professional groups.

Leaders Attacked

Leon Jouhaux, who as secretary general of C. G. T., was France's labor chief, and other leaders have been attacked simultaneously in newspapers for alleged pro-Soviet leanings prior to the war.

Accounts of a recent C. G. T. meeting at Toulouse said Jouhaux had announced his intention to retire in favor of four of his former assistants.

One of the first moves in the corporative program was taken by the National Confederation of Hotel, Restaurant and Cafe Proprietors, which called a meeting in Paris shortly to discuss organization of corporative units. A similar meeting was held at Lyon for unoccupied areas.

Say 300 Trains Run

Meanwhile, the Petain Government declared 300 trains are operating weekly between occupied and unoccupied zones with 300,000 refugees returning home in occupied areas each week.

(Reports from Moulins last week said only a trickle of refugees was permitted to pass through that central France bottleneck on the jealously-guarded border to their former homes in German-held territory.)

Today's announcement said the accelerated return of refugees to their homes had been made possible by the reconstruction of forty railway bridges in three weeks of intensive work on the nation's war-devastated communications lines.

Any increase in the present rate is difficult, it was explained, since the fastest express goes only forty-five miles an hour because of the poor rolling stock and roadbeds.

Shipyards At Work

Despite heavy damage inflicted on French ports, especially Cherbourg and Marseille, nearly twenty shipyards were reported back at work rebuilding French merchant shipping.

Accounts of war damage in Vichy newspapers said Dunkerque, where the British made their historic retreat across the Channel, and neighboring Malo Les Bains were virtually destroyed.

The lower part of Verdun on the right bank of the Meuse, the northern section of Tours and certain parts of Orleans, Saumur and Blois were destroyed as in the World War, while remaining sections were damaged heavily.

Only Rubbish Left

These reports said that in some parts of northern France where the fighting was heaviest nothing but rubbish heaps were left of once thriving towns. In some only a few smoke-blackened walls were left standing.

Marseille, France's second city and great seaport on the Mediterranean, was severely damaged, especially in the port area, by Italian bombings.

Dorppe, Eu Canbebec, Fecamp and Neufchatel-en-Bray were reported badly damaged in an official checkup of 45 of 180 classified historic French sites.

Churches In Ruin

The Saint Vulfran Church at Abbeville, part of which dates back to the Fifteenth Century, was reported burned and the Abbey Saint Corneille at Compiegne reduced to ruins.

Saint Jacques Church at Compiegne was said also to have been badly damaged.

Evreux Cathedral in Normandie, northwest of Paris, was damaged, but not as extensively as some others in northern France.

GREEKS ACCUSED OF ALBANIA CRIME

Italian Uproar Raised Over Decapitation Of Patriot On Border

[By the Associated Press]

Rome, Aug. 11—A sudden Fascist bolt of displeasure was shot at Greece today by the official Italian news agency, which charged Greeks with decapitating an Albanian nationalist and warned that such "evil crimes" will not go unanswered.

Stefani, the agency, said the decapitation had occurred near the border in Albania, united with Italy under the Italian crown since the flight of King Zog, April 9, 1939.

Turning its fire upon the government of John Metaxas, dictator-premier, which is inclined to friendliness toward Britain, Stefani strongly indicated the alleged crime might fire Albanian nationalists to bring some neighboring Greek territory into their Italian-occupied homeland.

Victim Identified

The news agency, in a dispatch from Tirana, Albanian capital, identified the beheaded victim as Haut Hoggia, declared "it is not the only recent episode of political oppression by Greece," and warned:

"Hoggia's sacrifice will not be in vain since news of the evil crime has deeply moved Albanians of Ciamuria."

Ciamuria is the border region in which Hoggia was said to have been put to death.

"Tyranny" Denounced

Denouncing Greek "tyranny" over her Albanian minority, Stefani added that "Greek authorities, as has been authoritatively ascertained by numerous witnesses, even have gone so far as to affirm that Italians soon will be thrown out of Albania."

To make the crime even more serious, the news agency told how the killers had taken Hoggia's headless body to be displayed in village after village. It charged that all this was done at the direction of Greek authorities, who had placed a price on his head.

Previous Case Cited

Stefani said a few months ago the body of another Albanian nationalist was found with a leaflet pinned to body warning the same fate awaited "all Albanians who hoped to liberate their country from Greek domination."

The Janina province territory mentioned as desiring "liberation" from Greece extends along the coast for about sixty miles and is across the Strait of Otranto from the heel of the Italian boot. Janina has 137,500 inhabitants.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—Premier-Dictator Metaxas of Greece, one of the nations of southeastern Europe friendly to Britain, last Sunday reiterated that his country "remains and will remain neutral." Greece, while not an ally of Britain, has received a British guarantee of her independence.]

Italians Take 2 Key Passes In Somaliland

Fascist Forces in Africa Advance to 60 Miles of British Port of Berbera

British Say Move Only Weakens Foe

R. A. F. Dogs Invaders; Threat to Traffic on Red Sea and at Suez Denied

By The Associated Press

ROME, Aug. 11.—Italian troops, advancing through the blistering heat of British Somaliland have captured the Karrin Pass and the Godajere Pass and are pressing on toward Berbera, the high command announced today.

Berbera is the chief port of British Somaliland. The two passes reported taken were presumably among the most important obstacles facing the Italian advance from Ethiopia. Their capture brought the Italians within sixty miles of Berbera.

The British have spoken of their "main positions" in the hills south of Berbera, and it was assumed they would make a stand in the passes threading the hills, if anywhere.

Hits Scored On Planes

On the other side of Ethiopia Italian planes bombed British air fields at Erkovit (Anglo-Egyptian Sudan), scoring hits on fifteen grounded planes and beating off an attack by enemy pursuit planes, the communique said.

The communique also noted yesterday's official British confirmation of the loss of the submarine Odin, and explained that the Odin "was sunk during our operations as given in previous bulletins.

"It displaced 1,500 tons in emersion and was armed with eight torpedo tubes of 533 millimeters, 102-millimeter cannon and two machine guns, and carried a crew of fifty-five."

British Explain Tactics

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 11 (AP).—British general headquarters here, in a statement on developments in Somaliland, said tonight that "our goal is not the gaining of territory but the destruction of the enemy's forces."

"It is not our object to defend every inch of soil in Somaliland but rather to make the enemy use up his precious supplies of food, petrol (gasoline) and ammunition," the statement said, adding: "The more the Italians dissipate their forces and their means, the more they lengthen their communications and complicate their administrative difficulties, the better it is for us."

Meanwhile, British convoys, laden with Africa-bound war supplies, are steaming regularly and unchallenged through the Red Sea, British officials reported, while the Royal Air Force has bombed again Italian columns advancing into Somaliland and has scouted the western desert for first signs of the expected thrust against Egypt.

No Main Contact

30,24-4295

30.24-4295

Despite an Italian communique reporting capture of two passes, Karrin and Godajere, in the Somaliland hills south of Berbera, the British said the Italian forces there had not yet come in contact with the British "main position."

The British, holding undisputed command of the Suez Canal, gateway from the Mediterranean on the north and the Red Sea and Gulf of Aden on the south, laughed off Italian assertions that success in British Somaliland "closes the back door to Suez, severs the route to India and bottles up the British Mediterranean fleet."

British naval officials described as an "absurdity" Italian reports that British forces had been cut off in North African waters. They said the Italians had no warships in the Red Sea or the Gulf of Aden. Furthermore, they declared half of the submarines Italy was known to have sent there had been destroyed since June 11, in addition to one captured by a British trawler and taken to Aden.

The port of Zeila, held by the Italians was said to be good only for small sailing craft and it was pointed out the Italians long had had superior bases in Eritrea, on the Red Sea north of Britsh Somaliland and that thus far they had shown no inclination to test British naval power.

The Royal Air Force is dogging every step of the Italian invaders. Today's communique said new raids on Italian positions in Karrin Pass scattered troop concentrations and silenced an anti-aircraft position. All the British craft were said to have returned. Two more attacks made direct hits on an Italian motorized column near Bubato, the communique said.

Three Italian bombers flew 150 miles across the Gulf of Aden and bombed the capital or Aden protectorate. The British said two natives were killed and slight damage inflicted.

In Libya, where the Italians are massing for a drive on Egypt, the British bombed military camps and motor transport concentrations in the Gabra Salea area, near the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan border. Another squadron raided the Barentu Airdrome in Eritrea and reported that grounded Italian planes had been bombed and machine-gunned.

An Italian formation attacked R. A. F. landing fields in the Sudan, but the British said there were no casualties or damage.

There were reports of increasing Italian concentrations in Bardia, Libyan Mediterranean port near the Egyptian border. The British fleet, watching these movements, was reported ready to shell Bardia from the sea if the Italians chose to launch an offensive along the coast route instead of through the western desert.

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 11—With Italian troops advancing in Somaliland through blistering heat, the British explained tonight that British strategy is to encourage Premier Mussolini's men to use up their "precious supplies . . . in what is a strategically wasteful enterprise."

The Italians have not met the British defense force but the Fascist columns driving toward Berbera are being bombed systematically by the British.

The moving columns throw up huge clouds of dust, making good targets for the R. A. F. squadrons.

Statement Defines Aims

A British general headquarters statement said "It is not our object to defend every inch of soil in Somaliland but rather to make the enemy use up his precious supplies of food, petrol and ammunition which he cannot replenish in what is a strategically wasteful enterprise.

"The more the Italians dissipate their forces and their means, the more they lengthen their communications . . . the better it is for us."

The R. A. F. kept a wary eye on the western desert for signs of an Italian thrust against Egypt—far more dangerous, if it should materialize, than other Italian thrusts at the Suez Canal—Red Sea life line.

Troops from various parts of the empire are being assembled to reinforce the Somaliland Camel Corps and meet the Italians when and if they reach the environs of Berbera.

Vital Italian Objective

Berbera, chief port of British Somaliland, directly across the gulf from the British stronghold of Aden, is a vital objective in the Italian aim to throttle British communications south of the Red Sea.

The Camel Corps guarding this area in reality is a highly mobile motorized force headed by Brig. A. R. Chater, who has had twenty years' experience under Middle East African conditions.

CAIRO-AUG 6-11-

(THE ITALIANS REPORTED 15 BRITISH PLANES WERE DESTROYED IN AN ATTACK ON SUDAN AIRDROMES AND THAT ONE BRITISH PLANE WAS SHOT DOWN ATTEMPTING A RAID ACROSS THE KENYA BORDER. ALL THE ITALIAN RAIDERS WERE SAID TO HAVE RETURNED.)

LAUNCHING A COUNTER STROKE, THE BRITISH LAST NIGHT REPORTED THE OCCUPATION OF KORINDIL, ETHIOPIAN VILLAGE NEAR THE KENYA BORDER, AFTER "SLIGHT OPPOSITION" AND WITHOUT CASUALTIES.

THE BRITISH ALSO ACKNOWLEDGED THE LOSS OF THE SUBMARINE ODIN, A 1,475-TON SEAGOING SUBMERSIBLE WHICH THE ITALIANS TODAY REPORTED SUNK.

SHOULD AN ITALIAN INVASION THROW EGYPT INTO THE WAR AT BRITAIN'S SIDE, SHE WOULD CONTINUE A BRITISH-TRAINED ARMY OF AROUND 22,,500 MEN.

ALTHOUGH SMALL, A BRITISH MILITARY MISSION HAS TURNED THE EGYPTIAN FORCE INTO A MECHANIZED ARMY, SPECIALLY EQUIPPED FOR DESERT WARFARE WITH ARMS AND MATERIALS OF THE LATEST BRITISH PATTERN. THE ARMY WAS REORGANIZED AFTER THE SIGNING OF THE EGYPTIAN-BRITISH ALLIANCE FIVE YEARS AGO.

AUG 12 1940

THE EGYPTIANS ARE HARDY FIGHTERS, WELL-CONSTITUTED FOR THE RIGORS AND HARDSHIPS OF DESERT WARFARE. LED BY BRITISHERS, THEY HELPED CONQUER THE SUDAN IN 1898 QHEN THE DEFEATED MAHOMMED AHMED IBN SEYVID AABDULLAH, THE "MAHDI."

NOW MANY OF EGYPT'S FIGHTING MEN ARE EAGER TO TAKE ARMS TO REPEL AN INVADER.

BUT WHAT THE EGYPTIANS DECIDE TO DO NOW, IN THE EVENT OF AN ITALIAN INVASION, THE BRITISH SAY IS "ENTIRELY AN EGYPTIAN MATTER."

Funk Advances Barter as Only TradeSalvation

Head of ReichsbankAttacks U. S. CartelProposal and Agrees With Lindbergh

KOENIGSBERG, Germany, Aug. 11 (AP).—Walther Funk, Reichbank president and Economics Minister, roundly scored today free-trade nations, including the United States, and declared that barter was the only salvation for world commerce. He agreed with a recent statement by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh that "when the rich get too rich and the poor too poor, something happens."

Opening an Eastern Fair here sponsored by Reichs Marshal Herman Wilhelm Goering, Funk asserted that only German victory in the war would again make possible "what always should have been: peaceful economic competition in the interest of all nations participating in world trade."

He declared the British blockade had been demolished "politically and militarily."

Goering also spoke, briefly, calling attention to the fair's Eastern and Russian exhibits. Semi-official sources pointed out the appearance of the first Soviet exhibit here as indicative of German trade trends.

Funk attacked the American-suggested "cartel" to dispose of the western world's surpluses, and charged free-trade nations with resorting to the embargo and boycott to dominate world trade.

"The Ottawa arrangement, and to cite a more recent example, the projected American cartel, really are no show pieces of liberalistic economic comprehension," he said.

[Under the Ottawa agreement of 1932, Great Britain accorded preferential treatment to her possessions in empire trade.]

"An economic system justifies itself not through age or tradition, but only through productive results," Funk added. "Thus, world trade can not be revived by theories, but by intensive barter."

Funk declared that unless Europe could sell to manufacturing nations its overseas accumulations of raw materials, piling up as a result of the war, "they must be thrown into the sea or used for fuel."

Referring to Col. Lindbergh's remark, made in a speech at Chicago on Aug. 4, the Economics Minister recalled his own address in Rome eighteen months ago, when he s[illegible] "the old rich (nations) will be[illegible] poor and the young poor will [illegible] come rich."

"England can not take away the advance Germans have made through seven years of hard work under the jealousy or ridicule of the remainder of the world," he said.

"There were two things forgotten: That the war will be decided in a normal military way, and that the German economic situation since the World War has been changed from the ground up and, furthermore, that the German people of 1940 are not those of 1914.

"We have blasted the British blockade politically and militarily so thoroughly there can no longer be any difficulty in our maintenance. England has wound herself into a blockade net in which she wanted to catch Germany.

"European states are well aware today," Funk concluded, "who their natural trade partner is."

LEGATION SEIZURE BY REDS BALKED

Lithuanians Bar Gates, Tell Russians To "Go Sell Your Papers"

Two Attempts In One Day Fail To Break Down Corps In Berlin

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Aug. 11—Two Russian Embassy secretaries tried again today—by personal appearance and telephone—to get possession of the Lithuanian Legation, but the gate was slammed in their faces and the phone didn't answer.

First they drove up to the gate and rang the bell.

"Whom do you wish to see?" asked the caretaker.

"None of your business—we're masters of these premises," was the icy retort.

The caretaker disappeared, leaving the callers at the gate.

"Lock the iron gates for the rest of the day," the Minister, Kazys Skirpa, ordered. The caretaker did, leaving the Russians, growing angrier and angrier, out on the street.

That was at 9 A. M. At 5 P. M. they still were trying to get the legation to surrender by telephone.

Two Others Taken Over

Legations of Latvia and Estonia, which were absorbed by Russia at the same time as Lithuania, already have been occupied by Soviet representatives.

On their first attempt to get the Lithuanian Legation Friday they were told to "go peddle your papers."

There was no indication that Germany was taking official cognizance of the affair to force the Lithuanians to turn the legation over.

Nazis Ask Rumanians To Let Jews Alone Now

Fear Persecution Would Halt Flow of Goods for War

BUCHAREST, Aug. 11 (AP). (Passed by Censor).—Diplomatic circles reported tonight that Germany had asked Rumania to delay for the present application of anti-Jewish laws.

Nazi intervention was reported to be based on the belief that Jews occupied so vital a position in the country's economic life that their sudden exclusion would impair production and slow the flow of needed supplies to Germany.

Laws drawn in the first flush of Rumania's new pro-Nazi enthusiasm were more severe in some respects than Germany's own anti-Semitic legislation, but were so loose that many Rumanian Jews do not know how they will be affected. Many hope for exemption from most provisions by obtaining heroes' certificates, granted to any Jew who can prove that he or some ancestor fought in the defense of Rumania.

King Carol II left Bucharest today, leading to reports that he would confer with Bulgaria's King Boris III somewhere near the frontier. (Bulgarian officials at Sofia said Boris was not planning to meet Carol and was still in Bulgaria.)

Japan To Put Pressure On Indo-China Officials

Military Mission To Seek Maximum Cooperation Against China In Conferences

Hanoi, French Indo-China, Aug. 11 (AP)—Gen. Issaku Nishihara, head of a Japanese military mission, will bring new pressure to bear against French Indo-China officials at conferences this week to obtain their "maximum cooperation" against China, reliable informants said today.

These informants said Nishihara paused at Canton Friday to reassure Gen. Teinzo Ando, commander of Japanese forces in South China, that however diplomatic his methods, he was determined ultimately to realize Japan's aspirations.

Yugoslavia Bans Russian Movies

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia, Aug. 11 (AP)—A riot between Communist sympathizers and Croatian Peasant Leader Vladimir Matchek's guards in a theatre resulted today in a police order banning Russian motion pictures.

Red Cross Will Mobilize Blood Donors for Britain

Supply To Be Sent From Here for War's Victims

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP).—The mobilization of volunteer donors to furnish blood plasma to Great Britain's war wounded was announced today by the American Red Cross.

The donors will be New York City residents and the project will be conducted in co-operation with the Blood Transfusion Betterment Association of New York. The Red Cross will mobilize the donors and ship the expected thousands of liters by solution to the British Red Cross. Red Cross officials said that to date no requests had been received from Germany for blood plasma.

Recently the Red Cross perfected experimental plans for the possible organization of a nation-wide corps of donors in this country to make a supply available to the Army Medical Corps in case of emergency. The British Red Cross has informed the organization here that it could use 300 liters of plasma weekly. Chairman Norman Davis of the American Red Cross said shipments would be made by clipper plane if emergency conditions demanded.

WAR TRADITIONS OF BOOM UPSET

Practically All Of Gains Made By Commodities Are Wiped Out

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 11—Commodity market traditions about the price-boosting power of a big war have been upset by the closing of European outlets which used to take about one-third of the United States' farm exports.

Some staples from the Western Hemisphere's overflowing agricultural bins—like coffee and sugar—are quoted lower in the wholesale markets today than when the fighting began nearly a year ago.

Wheat, copper, hides and other legendary jumping-jacks of wartime bull markets, show little gain over quotations a year ago before the struggle for control of the European market threw normal supply and demand conditions out of joint.

Harvest time last August and September, with millions of men taking up arms in Europe, found speculators in the commodity markets bidding up prices in anticipation of an oft-repeated war-time inflation of prices.

Scan War Communiques

Now, as cotton pickers go to work on the South's new crop and binders click through the remaining grain fields, commodity men scan war communiques and ponder the question:

Will a war industry boom in the United States expand the home market for farm products sufficiently to offset loss of European sales?

Giving point to this query were Government reports last week of "ample" yields in major crops and weakness in coffee, sugar, lard and cottonseed oil. Having lost virtually all the gain in the first few weeks of the war, key commodities on the average were close to the lowest of the war period.

Commodity analysts, pointing to the sagging trend in such stables as coffee and sugar, said heavier surpluses were inevitable unless European markets are reopened or the Western Hemisphere can increase its own consumption.

Cotton was cited as a focus of the problem. The United States Department of Agriculture, in its first estimate of the new season, forecast a yield of 11,429,000 bales compared with 11,817,000 last year and a five-year average of 13,547,000.

Ordinarily, cotton traders said, the estimated 1940 crop would be considered "moderate." Whether it could be wholly absorbed this season, however, was questioned in view of the almost airtight blockade of the Continent and British attempts to conserve exchange for essential war supplies, like airplanes.

Seen Cotton Export Drop

Cotton exports in the past season topped 6,000,000 bales and helped reduce the surplus held by the Federal agencies. Some shippers think exports would do well to reach half that figure in the new season, providing the blockade is unbroken.

On the other hand, they noted, domestic consumption has been growing. United States mills in the season just ended were estimated to have used between 7,600,000 and 7,750,000 bales, the second largest total on record, compared with 6,858,000 in the 1938-39 season.

Taking the $10,000,000,000 defense program into consideration and Government efforts to stimulate use of cotton in other ways, ideas of domestic consumption for the new season run as high as 8,000,000 bales or more in trade circles.

Commodity men entertain similar ideas for expansion of the home market in other farm products, based chiefly on the contention a war industry increase in pay rolls jobs would raise the nation's consumption of food and raw materials.

Whether industry could maintain its production pace—now the fastest for this time of the year since 1929—was held in financial quarters to depend in part on England's ability to withstand the German assaults on her supply lines.

Foreign trade figures disclosed American industry leaning more heavily upon British Empire markets as result of the closing of continental markets and widening of British war purchases in this country. Steel authorities reported British buying of the metal totals from 500,000 to 600,000 tons a month, equivalent to about 10 per cent. of the industry's current output.

British agents indicated intentions for stepping up orders further. But the buying has been concentrated heavily on war planes, metals, tools and other industrial products while food and raw material purchases have been diverted as much as possible to empire sources of supply.

Judging by latest business data, the expansion impulse still ruled in heavy industries feeling the force of British and United States armament spending. In some lines elsewhere the vacation season seems to have slowed down activity.

In security markets, the summer spell of tedious marking time was prolonged through another week of small dealings. The Associated Press composite price of 60 stocks inched upward a bit. Turnover was only 1,508,570 shares against 2,231,260 the previous week.

Day's Communiques of War Powers

British

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP).—A communique issued jointly by the Admiralty and the Air and Home Security Ministries said tonight:

Following this morning's action over the Straits of Dover, enemy aircraft attacked Weymouth and Portland. They were engaged by our fighters. Final figures are not yet available, but fifty enemy aircraft in all are known to have been destroyed today.

Nineteen of our fighters are missing, but it is hoped that some of the pilots may be saved. A number of houses were damaged, some of them seriously. Some damage also was done to communications, and an oil tank was set on fire, but the fire was soon extinguished.

During the attack on Portland, minor damage was caused two of His Majesty's ships by splinters. No other vessels or ships sustained any damage.

Bombs falling onshore caused some damage to naval buildings, including a hospital. There were a number of civilian casualties but few of these were serious, and only one fatal casualty is reported.

A supplementary communique by the Air Ministry said tonight:

In addition to the raids against the south coast already reported enemy aircraft carried out raids against shipping off our east coast today.

Reports received up to 9 p. m. this evening show that sixty enemy aircraft have been shot down, five of these as a result of anti-aircraft fire.

These reports also show that twenty-six of our fighters have been lost in the day's actions but that the pilots of two of these are safe.

A joint communique of the Air and Home Security Ministries said today:

An Air Ministry communique said today:

Enemy air activity over this country during last night was slight and almost entirely confined to the southwest of England. Bombs dropped in a town in the Bristol Channel area fell on houses and slightly damaged a railway embankment near by. Reports so far received show there were a number of casualties, some of which were fatal.

An Air Ministry communique said today:

Enemy aircraft approached the southeast coast this morning and attacked barrage balloons and were engaged by our fighters. Anti-aircraft guns also were in action. Two enemy fighters were shot down by our fighters.

In a second engagement over the English Channel three more enemy fighters and a bomber were shot down.

An Air Ministry communique issued tonight said:

Yesterday Royal Air Force bombers made daylight attacks on a number of enemy-occupied airdromes in Holland and France. Hits were observed among hangars at Schiphol, Querqueville (airport of Cherbourg) and Waalhaven.

The airdromes at Flushing, Dinard and Caen were attacked. The airport at Guernsey (German-occupied British island) also was bombed. Two of our aircraft are missing.

"Heavy attacks on military objectives in Germany were continued last night. These included the docks at Hamburg, the naval base at Wilhelmshaven, oil supplies at Frankfurt and Homburg, a power station and an explosives factory at Cologne, a chemical works at Frankfurt and a blast furnace north of the city, wharves at Duisberg, supply depots at Hamm and Soest, and several airdromes in Holland and Germany. One of our aircraft is missing."

CAIRO, Aug. 11 (AP).—A Royal Air Force communique issued today said:

Military camps and motor transports concentrations in the Gabra Salea area of Libya were successfully attacked by our bombers, all of which returned.

In Eritrea, the Barentu airdrome dispersed aircraft were bombed and machine-gunned. A formation of S79's raided R. A. F. landing grounds in the Sudan without danger or casualties to R. A. F. personnel. In a raid on Karrin Pass, Somaliland, bombs fell among anti-aircraft positions, some of which were silenced. Our aircraft returned safely.

Enemy troops concentrations and in important waterhole near Dubato twice were attacked, bombs being seen to fall on a motor transport column. Three S79's raided Aden, causing slight material damage. Two natives were killed.

A military communique issued at Cairo today said:

On the Western Desert, Aug. 10: Patrolling and reconnaissance of enemy activities continue.

Somaliland: Contact on the main position has not been established.

The situation at Burao and to the east: Normal.

Palestine, Kenya, Sudan: Nothing.

British headquarters at Cairo issued today the following statement on the fighting in Somaliland:

It is not our object to defend every inch of soil in Somaliland, but, rather, to make the enemy use up his precious supplies of food, petrol (gasoline) and ammunition, which he cannot replenish, in what is a strategically wasteful enterprise.

Any immediate successes the enemy may have in the occupation of parts of the protectorate will be offset by the necessity of providing food for the population, which is entirely dependent upon Aden for many essential supplies.

Our goal is not the gaining of territory, but the destruction of the enemy's forces.

The more the Italians dissipate their forces and their means, the more they lengthen their communications and complicate their administrative difficulties, the better it is for us.

30,24-4297

30.24-4297

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Aug. 11 (AP).—The British communique said today:

Our ground troops carried out reconnaissance to Dobel, which was found to be strongly held by the enemy. Our aircraft carried out reconnaissance in the northern frontier district. There was nothing to report.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 11 (AP).—The German high command communique said today:

A submarine has sunk the armed British merchant ship Upwey Grange, 9,130 registered tons.

Our air forces again on Aug. 10 undertook reconnaissance flights over England and over the sea. One armed enemy merchant ship attacked with bombs was so seriously damaged the crew abandoned the vessel.

Mines again were laid before important English harbors.

Our planes attacked airplane factories at Norwich and set the assembly shop afire with bombs. Bomb attacks last night were directed against Newport, Swansea and Pembroke, as well as a powder works at St. Ives.

Enemy planes last night flew over north and west Germany and dropped bombs on non-military objectives. In Oberhausen-Sterkrade, Bielfeld and Bochum one house each was hit. In Bruchkoebl, near Hanau, four houses and one barn were hit, and in Telgte, in the Munster region, one inn was struck.

Resulting fires were extinguished in all cases by safety services.

One enemy plane of the Bristol Blenheim type was shot down. One of our own planes is missing.

Four special communiques were issued today by the German high command. The first said:

Strong air force units about noon today attacked the British harbor of Portland. Bombers and Stukas (dive bombers) covered by destroyer planes and pursuit ships, successfully bombarded the quay and harbor facilities. Most of the few ships lying in the harbor were completely demolished.

The second said:

German bomber and Stuka planes successfully attacked wharf and port facilities of the English war harbor at Portland. Repair shops of the British government dockyards and storage tanks, as well as local coastal batteries, were attacked. Great fires definitely were started among the storage tanks, and the dam, which is the only connection between the mainland and the peninsula with the storage tanks. Heavy explosions were perceived in the boiler and machine buildings of the port.

Ships lying in the harbor were almost all destroyed. Strong squadrons of destroyer and pursuit planes used to protect the German battle and Stuka units, shot down forty British airplanes on the basis of reports now at hand. Several anti-aircraft batteries which sought to fight off the German planes already have stopped firing. The air battles still are continuing.

The third said:

The English war harbor at Portland was attacked from the air today by German battle units. Through well aimed bombs, important harbor facilities were destroyed and oil tanks set afire. In the course of the attack heavy air fighting developed at various points over the Channel between German pursuit and destroyer planes and British pursuit formations which were numerically far superior. On the basis of reports so far, seventy-three British airplanes were shot down. Fourteen German planes have not returned as yet.

Fighting over the Channel continues so that the final picture of the situation cannot be given before night.

The fourth said:

Besides the already announced successful attack on the British war harbor of Portland, where oil-storage tanks and port facilities were set afire and fifty-seven enemy planes were shot down, our air units achieved further successes on a convoy east of Harwich.

Three merchantmen totaling approximately 17,000 tons were sunk and one destroyer and three merchant ships were heavily damaged by direct hits. In this action our pursuit and destroyer units shot down seventeen enemy planes.

At other points eight additional enemy airplanes were forced to crash. At Dover, our pursuit planes also undertook an attack on barrage balloons. Of eighteen balloons eight were destroyed.

In this action seven British pursuit craft were shot down.

The enemy's total loss today, therefore, was eighty-nine planes as against seventeen of our own.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 11 (AP).—The Italian high command issued the following communique today:

The British submarine Odin, whose loss now has been announced officially in a British communique, was sunk during our operations given in previous bulletins. It displaced 1,500 tons in emersion and was armed with eight torpedo tubes of 533 millimeters (about twenty-one inches), 102 millimeter (about four inches) cannon and two machine guns and carried a crew of fifty-five men.

In British Somaliland we occupied the passes of Karrin and Godajere. The advance continues.

Our air formations bombed the airfields of Erkawit (Anglo-Egyptian Sudan), hitting squarely fifteen planes on the ground and throwing off an attack by enemy pursuit planes. All our planes returned safely.

One enemy plane which tried to bomb Elwak on the Kenya border was shot down by our anti-aircraft fire. One British captain was taken prisoner.

LONDON, AUG. 10-(AP)-APPOINTMENT OF THE DUKE OF GLOUCESTER AS PERSONAL AIDE DE CAMP TO KING GEORGE AND CHIEF LIAISON OFFICER TO GENERAL HEADQUARTERS OF THE HOME FORCES WAS OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED TODAY.

GLOUCESTER, ONE OF THE KING'S TWO YOUNGER BROTHERS, HOLDS THE RANK OF MAJOR-GENERAL.

AUG 11 1940

WR1049AED

LONDON, AUG. 11-(AP)-MASS AIR ATTACKS ON BRITISH INDUSTRIES AND SHIPPING CANNOT WIN THE WAR FOR GERMANY; ADOLF HITLER MUST "TAKE US AND BREAK US" IF HE WANTS TO WIN, SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA LEOPOLD C.M.S. AMERY SAID IN A SPEECH AT BLACKPOOL TONIGHT.

"IF HITLER THINKS OUR SPIRIT CAN BE BROKEN BY MERE MASS ATTACK FROM THE AIR UPON OUR INDUSTRIES AND OUR SHIPPING HE WILL FIND HIMSELF GRIEVOUSLY MISTAKEN," AMERY DECLARED.

AUG 11 1940

"HE HAS GOT TO COME OVER AND TAKE US, -- TAKE US AND BREAK US AS HE HAS TAKEN AND BROKEN OTHERS.

"LET HIM TRY. IF HE DOES, HE WILL FAIL DISASTROUSLY AND HIS FAILURE WILL BRING THE END OF THE WAR NEARER THAN ANYTHING ELSE COULD POSSIBLY DO.

"WE IN BRITAIN, LEFT TO FACE THE COMING STORM ALONE, ARE NOT AFRAID . . . . . WE STAND PREPARED AND READY FOR WHATEVER FORM THE ATTACK MAY TAKE, FOR WHATEVER NEW DEVILTRY OUR ENEMY MAY HAVE PREPARED FOR OUR DESTRUCTION."

AMERY SAID THAT IF THE "STAKES ARE TOO HIGH" FOR HITLER AND HE GIVES UP HIS ATTEMPT, "THAT TOO WILL BE A FAILURE AND ALL THE WORLD WILL KNOW THE TIDE HAS TURNED."

AUG 11 1940

HITLER MIGHT HOPE, AS A SECOND-BEST PLAN, TO "LOP OFF SOME OF THE EMPIRE'S LIMBS," THE SECRETARY FOR INDIA ADDED. "HE MIGHT SEND HIS BOMBERS AND AIRBORNE TROOPS TO STIFFEN HIS HALF-HEARTED ITALIAN ALLIES" AGAINST EGYPT, THE MIDDLE EAST AND AFRICA. BUT "IF HE DOES

THAT, HIS MEN WILL MEET NOT ONLY A WARM CLIMATE BUT A WARM RECEPTION.

"IN ANY CASE, NOTHING HE CAN DO IN THAT QUARTER CAN PROTECT THE HEART OF GERMANY FROM OUR GROWING STRENGTH IN THE AIR . . . SOONER OR LATER, AT SOME UNEXPECTED MOMENT, IN SOME YET UNEXPECTED WAY, THE EMPIRE BUILT OF HATRED AND CONTEMPT FOR ALL MORAL LAW WILL AGONIZE AND DISSOLVE, AND WE SHALL WAKE FROM THE NIGHTMARE OF WAR TO FIND WE ONCE AGAIN HAVE SAVED OURSELVES BY OUR EXERTIONS AND THE WORLD BY OUR EXAMPLE."

MINISTER OF INFORMATION ALFRED DUFF COOPER, ADDRESSING A PUBLIC MEETING HERE, SAID THAT IN SPITE OF THE NAZIS' APARENT STRENGTH "THEY ARE WEAK BECAUSE THE HEART OF THE MOVEMENT IS ROTTEN," AND BECAUSE BRITAIN'S "UNITED WILL OF FREE PEOPLE IS A MORE FORMIDABLE WEAPON OF WAR THAN ALL THE TANKS, SUBMARINES AND BOMBING PLANES IN THE WORLD."

DUFF COOPER SAID BRITAIN'S ALLIES ARE "THE DECENT CIVILIZED PEOPLE IN ALL COUNTRIES, -- INCLUDING GERMANY."

THE RAF, HE CONTINUED, "IS MAKING UP FOR ITS INFERIORITY IN QUANTITY BY ITS SUPERIORITY IN QUALITY."

AUG 11 1940

PS719PED

A SOUTHEAST ENGLISH PORT, AUG.11-(AP)-A TRUCK DELIVERING A NEW BALLOON FOR BARRAGE AT THIS GERMAN-ATTACKED PORT THIS AFTERNOON HAD CHALKED ON ITS SIDES:

"YOU KNOCK 'EM DOWN; WE'LL PUT 'EM UP AGAIN."

AUG 11 1940

PS959PED

LONDON,AUG.11-(AP)-THE 7,290-TON EGYPTIAN LINER MOHAMED ALI EL-KEBIR, CONVERTED FOR USE AS A BRITISH TRANSPORT, WAS TORPEDOED AT NIGHT IN THE ATLANTIC, AND SANK WITH 120 SOLDIERS AND SAILORS MISSING, THE ADMIRALTY SAID TONIGHT.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID 740 SURVIVORS WERE TAKEN ABOARD A SHIP THAT REACHED THE LINER IN THE TWO HOURS SHE REMAINED AFLOAT. THEY WERE LANDED AT A SCOTTISH PORT.

AUG 11 1940

MOST OF THE 120 LISTED AS MISSING WERE SOLDIERS SLEEPING BELOW DECK AT THE TIME OF THE EXPLOSION.

KEBIR

THE ADMIRALTY DID NOT SAY WHEN THE MOHAMED ALI EL-KIBR WAS ATTACKED.

LONDON--FIRST ADD FIRST LEAD TRANSPORT X X X WAS ATTACKED.

AUTHORITATIVES QUARTERS MAINTAINED SILENCE AS TO THE POINT FROM WHICH THE TRANSPORT SAILED BUT THE PRESS ASSOCIATION SAID SHE WAS BRINGING TROOPS AND SAILORS ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

A NUMBER OF SOLDIERS DROWNED WHEN THEY JUMPED OVERBOARD AS THE TRANSPORT BEGAN TO LIST.

"SEVEN HUNDRED ETC., PICKING UP AS BEFORE.

AUG 11 19

PS910PED

"SEVEN HUNDRED AND FORTY SURVIVORS HAVE BEEN LANDED OUT OF THE TOTAL NUMBER OF 860 WHO WERE ABOARD," THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID.

--DASH--

AUG 11 1940

LLOYDS NAVAL REGISTER LISTS THE MOHAMED ALI EL-KEBIR AS OWNED BY THE PHARONIC MAIL LINE, OPERATING OUT OF ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT.

PS519PED

30.24-4299 30.24-4299

TOKYO, AUG 12-(MONDAY)-(AP)-YAKICHIRO SUMA, FOREIGN OFFICE SPOKESMAN, HINTED TODAY THAT OTHER NATIONS SHOULD CONSIDER WITHDRAWING THEIR MILITARY FORCES FROM CHINA.

(THE BRITISH DECISION, ANNOUNCED LAST FRIDAY, TO WITHDRAW TROOPS FROM SHANGHAI AND NORTH CHINA WILL LEAVE AMERICAN MARINES THE ONLY IMPORTANT NON-ORIENTAL ELEMENTS OF THE SHANGHAI DEFENSE FORCES. THERE IS A FRENCH GARRISON IN THE FRENCH CONCESSION AND A SMALL ITALIAN MARINE UNIT.

AUG 11 1940

(WHEN THE BRITISH DECISION WAS ANNOUNCED, ACTING SECRETARY OF STATE SUMNER WELLES IN WASHINGTON SAID THERE WOULD BE NO EFFECT WHATEVER ON THE POSITION OF THE UNITED STATES IN CHINA. THERE ARE ABOUT 1,650 U.S. MARINES IN CHINA, THE BULK OF THEM IN SHANGHAI AND THE REMAINDER IN PEIPING AND TIENTSIN.)

THE BRITISH DECISION TO REMOVE TROOPS FROM CHINA, SUMA SAID, UNDERLINED THESE POINTS:

1. JAPAN IS ASSUMING RESPONSIBILITY FOR PEACE AND ORDER IN PEIPING, TIENTSIN AND SHANGHAI.

2. "BECAUSE OF CHANGED CONDITIONS, IT NOW IS PROBLEMATICAL WHETHER IT IS NECESSARY TO MAINTAIN TROOPS IN THOSE AREAS."

COMMANDERS OF FOREIGN GARRISONS SHOULD CONSIDER THESE POINTS, HE ASSERTED, WHILE JOINTLY DELIBERATING FUTURE POLICIES.

AUG 11 1940

SUMA AT THE SAME TIME SAID THAT "JAPAN STILL IS FAVORABLE TO NON-AGGRESSION PACTS IN THE SOUTH SEAS AREAS--ON ONE CONDITION: THAT NATIONS CONTROLLING THEM ALSO SIGN NON-AGGRESSION PACTS."

HE SAID HE WAS UNABLE TO SAY WHETHER NEGOTIATIONS REGARDING FRENCH INDO-CHINA AND DISCUSSIONS CONCERNING THE NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES INCLUDED NON-AGGRESSION TALKS.

BOMBAY, AUG.11-(AP)-A NEW ERA OF NON-VIOLENT RESISTANCE TO AGGRESSION IS DAWNING, MOHANDAS K.GANDHI SAID TODAY IN A SIGNED ARTICLE IN THE NEWSPAPER HARIJAN, AND CITED AS A STRAW IN THE WIND A RECENT BROADCAST BY GENERAL CHARLES DE GAULLE URGING "ALL FREE FRENCHMEN" NOT TO HELP GERMANY IN HER WAR WITH BRITAIN.

COMMENTING ON THE BROADCAST BY DE GAULLE, WHO HEADS THE FRENCH NATIONAL COMMITTEE IN LONDON, GANDHI ASSERTED:

"I KNOW THIS IS NOT A CASE OF CONVERSION (TO GANDHI'S DOCTRINE OF PASSIVE RESISTANCE). THE GALLANT GENERAL WILL DEAL DESTRUCTION TO THE ENEMY TO THE BEST OF HIS ABILITY WHEREVER HE IS ABLE. NOR CAN THIS PASSIVE RESISTANCE BE CALLED NON-VIOLENT BY ANY STRETCH OF MEANING.

"I SIMPLY CITE DE GAULLE'S ADVICE TO HIS COUNTRYMEN TOSHOW THAT THE WORLD IS IRRESISTIBLY, UNCONSCIOUSLY, BEING DRAWN TOWARD NON-VIOLENT ACTION."

AUG 11 1940

IN ANOTHER ARTICLE IN THE SAME ISSUE, GANDHI SAID HE HAS "LITTLE DOUBT" THAT INDIA'S CONGRESS SOON WILL REGRET ITS PREVIOUS DECISION NOT TO REMAIN NON-VIOLENT IN THE FACE OF POSSIBLE EXTERNAL AGGRESSION.

GANDHI REPEATED THAT THE WHOLE WORLD IS MOVING TOWARD NON-VIOLENCE, AND CONCLUDED:

"THE PRESENT WAR IS THE SATURATION POINT IN VIOLENCE. IT SPELLS TO MY MIND ALSO ITS DOOM."

PS854PED

HELSINKI, AUG.11-AP-DR. JUHO K. PAASIKIVI, FINNISH MINISTER TO MOSCOW, RETURNED TO HELSINKI TONIGHT TO CONFER WITH BARON CARL GUSTAF MANNERHEIM, COMMANDER OF FINLAND'S ARMED FORCES. SOVIET SUBJECTS DISCUSSED WERE NOT DISCLOSED. ----

AUG 11 1940

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, AUG 11-(A[illegible]Y "IMPORT HOLIDAY" UNDER WHICH NO MOTOR CARS OR [illegible] WILL BE IMPORTED FROM SEPT. 1, 1940, TO JUNE 1, 1941, WAS ANNOUNCED TODAY BY THE CHAMBER OF AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRIES.

TRUCKS AND UNITS REQUIRED FOR DEFENSE PURPOSES ARE NOT INCLUDED IN THE AGREEMENT.

AUSTRALIA'S MAIN AUTOMOTIVE IMPORTS ARE FROM THE UNITED STATES.

THE CHAMBER EMBRACES ALL MOTOR CAR DISTRIBUTORS OF AUSTRALIA.

OFFICIALS SAID THE "IMPORT HOLIDAY" WAS DESIGNED TO PROTECT THE VALUES OF PRESENT STOCKS AND WOULD BENEFIT THE GOVERNMENT BY CONSERVING FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

SN102AED

NEW YORK, AUG 11-(AP)-A FAMILY OF SEVEN BESSARABIAN REFUGEES LED BY AN 84-YEAR-OLD WOMAN LEFT TODAY ON AN AIRLINER FOR ST.PAUL, MINN.,--THE LAST LAP OF A JOURNEY WHICH BEGAN IN THEIR HOMELAND ONE MONTH AGO.

THEY WERE MET HERE YESTERDAY BY MAX PILOTZ, A RELATIVE, WHO IS TAKING THEM TO HIS (977 DAYTON AVE.) ST.PAUL HOME. IN THE GROUP WERE PILOTZ'S MOTHER, LEIA, 84; SIVIA, 50, A SISTER; MRS.TUBA PISOTCKI, 41, A SISTER-IN-LAW; 8HER THREE SONS, BEEREL, 16, ISCK, 13, AND CHAIM, 6, AND HER DAUGHTER, SEKENDL, 11.

OF THEIR NATIVE LAND, PILOTZ SAID:

"A FEW WEEKS AGO IT WAS RUMANIAN TODAY IT IS RUSSIAN. GOD KNOWS WHAT IT WILL BE TOMORROW."

SN914PED

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA, AUG.11-(AP)-THREE HUNDRED CHILDREN, REFUGEES FROM LONDON, ARRIVED TODAY.

PS904PED

NEW YORK, AUG 11-(AP)-DR.GERHARD WESTRICK, NAZI GOVERNMENT FINANCIAL AGENT WHOSE AUTOMOBILE DRIVER'S LICENSE WAS REVOKED FRIDAY AFTER IT WAS LEARNED HE HAD WITHHELD IN HIS APPLICATION THE FACT HE HAD AC ARTIFICIAL FOOT, HAS CHECKED OUT OF HIS NEW YORK HOTEL APARTMENT.

HOTEL OFFICIALS SAID HE HAD ASKED THAT THEY NOT DIVULGE HIS NEW ADDRESS AND TO REFER ALL INQUIRIES TO THE GERMAN EMBASSY AT WASHINGTON.

SN1245AED

SHIPPING (BJT)

BY GLADWIN HILL

NEW YORK, AUG.11-(AP)-THE WAR, WITH ITS TANGLE OF INTERNATIONAL BOUNDARIES AND JURISDICTIONS, HAS BROUGHT ABOUT A VIRTUAL BREAKDOWN OF INTERNATIONAL MARITIME LAW.

"INTERNATIONAL LAW ON THE SEAS NOW," ONE SHIPPING AUTHORITY SAID TODAY, "IS THE MAN WITH THE BIGGEST SHOTGUN" -- IF A NATION WANTS A SHIP, THE SIMPLEST WAY IS TO TAKE IT.

THE UNITED STATES, A SURVEY SHOWED, IS PROBABLY THE ONLY MAJOR NATION STILL ABLE TO OPERATE UNDER THE CONVENTIONAL STANDARDS THAT HAVE GOVERNED THE WATER-BORNE COMMERCE OF THE WORLD, IN PEACE AND WAR, FOR CENTURIES.

CASUAL REPORTS HAVE CREATED A POPULAR IMPRESSION THAT THE WAR SIMPLY DIVIDED INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING INTO TWO CATEGORIES, BELLIGERENT AND NEUTRAL.

30,24-4301

ACTUALLY, SHIPPERS VOUCHSAFE UNHAPPILY, VIRTUALLY EVER FOREIGN SHIP HAS A DIFFEJENT STATUS, DEPENDENT ON ITS IMMEDIATE CIRCUMSTANCES --PRINCIPALLY THE PROXIMITY OF ANYBODY WHO MIGHT WANT HER.

(MORE)

PS445PED

NEW YORK--FIRST ADD SHIPPING (BJT) X X X WANT HER.

HERE IS A GENERAL SUMMARY OF THE VARIEGATED SITUATIONS OF THE SHIPS OF THE PRINCIPAL MARITIME COUNTRIES:

SWEDEN--OPERATING AS NEUTRALS, SUBJECT TO THE CUSTOMARY SEIZURE FOR CONTRABAND IN THE WAR ZONE;

NORWAY--OPERATING UNDER BOTH NORWEGIAN AND BRITISH FLAGS, UNDER SUPERVISION OF THE BRITISH SHIPPING MINISTRY.

DENMARK--LAID UP IN NEUTRAL PORTS TO AVOID SEIZURE BY THE BRITISH AS TECHNICAL ENEMIES;

AUG 11 1940

NETHERLANDS-- NO INFORMATION.

ITALIAN--THOSE OPERATING ARE BELLIGERENTS; THOSE LAID UP IN NEUTRAL PORTS TO AVOID SEIZURE BY THE BRITISH ARE FUGITIVES.

FRENCH-- NO INFORMATION.

(THE SHIPS OF THESE NATIONS SEIZED BY THE WARRING NATIONS ARE NOT UNDER CONSIDERATION.)

HERE ARE SOME TYPICAL POINTS OF CONFUSION:

THE GERMANS SAY THE FRENCH LINE HAS BEEN DISSOLVED AND ITS SHIPS ABSORBED; IN NEW YORK, THE FRENCH LINE CONTINUES TO OPERATE "PENDING INSTRUCTIONS" FROM ITS HOME OFFICE;

SINCE APRIL THE BRITISH AND THE DANES HAVE BEEN ARGUING OVER WHETHER DENMARK'S SEVERAL HUNDRED REMAINING FREE SHIPS ARE, BECAUSE OF GERMAN INVASION OF NORWAY AND DENMARK, SUBJECT TO BRITISH SEIZURE AS ENEMIES --A FUNDAMENTAL MATTER OF INTERNATIONAL LAW;

THE BRITISH, DESPITE THIS CONTENTION, ALLOWED MANY DANISH VESSELS FREE PASSAGE TO COMPLETE CURRENT VOYAGES--BECAUSE THEY HAD AMERICAN CARGOES;

SOME 40 DUTCH FREIGHTERS ARE OPERATING IN THE INTERNATIONAL TRADE THEORETICALLY SUBJECT TO SEIZURE EITHER BY THE GERMANS (AS CONQUEST) OR BY THE BRITISH, AS IN THE CASE OF THE DANISH SHIPS; ACTUALLY, THE GERMANS HAVE NOT SEIZED THEM AND THE BRITISH HAVE NOT ACTED BE-CAUSE THE RESOURCES AND GOOD-WILL OF THE DUTCH EAST INDIES ARE TOO VALUABLE TO ALIENATE;

AUG 11 1940

THERE ARE OTHER DUTCH SHIPS IN THE WAR ZONE THEORETICALLY SUBJECT TO BRITISH SEIZURE BECAUSE OF REGISTRY IN A GERMAN-CONQUERED COUNTRY, BUT ACTUALLY IN DANGER OF GERMAN SEIZURE--BECAUSE THEY ARE UNDER BRITISH CHARTER.

EVEN SEIZURE MAY NOT BE WHAT IT SEEMS. SHIPPERS HERE HEARD WITH PERPLEXITY OF THE CASE OF A DANISH SHIP IN THE MEDITERRANEAN SEIZED BY THE BRITISH AND DISABLED IN THE BRITISH-FRENCH IMBROGLIO.

A FEW DAYS LATER THE OWNERS IN DENMARK GOT A WIRELESS PLEA FROM THE CAPTAIN, STRANDED IN A NORTH AFRICAN PORT, FOR MONEY FOR REPAIRS, EXPLAINING THAT THE BRITISH HAD "RELEASED" THE SHIP AND WERE NO LONGER INTERESTED IN HER TROUBLES. THE OWNERS REPLIED IN EFFECT, "SEE THE BRITISH ABOUT THE REPAIRS -- THEY'RE THE ONES WHO SEIZED YOU."

AND THERE THE CAPTAIN SAT, AND MAY STILL BE SITTING--ONE OF THE HAPLESS VICTIMS OF THE NEW TANGLE IN INTERNATIONAL LAW.

#

HAMILTON, ONT., AUG 11-(AP)-HENRY SMITH, 31, OF COOPERSTOWN, N.Y., WHO COLLAPSED NEAR HERE FRIDAY AFTER WALKING 60 MILES TO JOIN THE CANADIAN ARMY, HAS RECOVERED FROM EXHAUSTION AND HUNGER AND SOON WILL BE ABLE TO LEAVE A HOSPITAL, OFFICIALS SAID TONIGHT.

SMITH SAID HIS BROTHER WAS OVERSEAS WITH THE CANADIAN ARMY. UNABLE TO GET WORK IN THE UNITED STATES, HE WANTED TO GET INTO THE CANADIAN ARMY TOO. HE SAID HE HAD BEEN WITHOUT FOOD SEVERAL DAYS.

D .29PED

MONTREAL, AUG.9-(AP)-MRS.EDITH ROGERS DAHL, WIFE OF THE AMERICAN FLIER WHO NARROWLY ESCAPED EXECUTION BY A FIRING SQUAD DURING THE SPANISH CIVIL WAR, SAID TODAY SHE HAD RECEIVED SO MANY THREATS FROM NAZI AND FASCIST SYMPATHIZERS IN THE UNITED STATES RECENTLY THAT SHE HAD DECIDED TO REMAIN IN CANADA FOR THE DURATION OF THE WAR.

HER HUSBAND, HARRY DAHL, IS NOW AN INSTRUCTOR WITH THE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE AT CAMP BORDEN, ONT. MRS.DAHL SAID SHE HAD COME HERE TO BE NEAR HER HUSBAND AND TO ESCAPE FURTHER ANNOYANCE.

"THE G-MEN PROVIDED ME WITH A BODYGUARD," SHE SAID, BECAUSE OF THREATS MADE BY LETTER AND IN PERSONS.

DAHL WAS CAPTURED BY GENERALISSIMO FRANCO'S MEN WHILE SERVING WITH THE SPANISH REPUBLICANS.

FH200AED

Leave

Blank

30, 24-4303

30.24-4303

Air Blitz Hits Britain; Report Coast Shelled

HUGE RIFLES IN FRANCE BLAMED FOR DAMAGE TO TOWN IN SOUTHEAST AREA

AUG 12 1940

Over 500 German Planes Bomb All Parts Of Country With Attacks Growing In Fireceness, Press Says Total War Has Started

[By the Associated Press]

London, Tuesday, Aug. 13—The morning newspapers of Britain today described Germany's intensified air attacks on the Channel coast as the beginning of the "Battle of Britain."

Headlines, news stories and editorials reflected the belief that the lull is ended and that Adolf Hitler's Blitzkrieg against this island has begun.

"The Battle Of Britain Is On," declared the Express headline, and the Mail echoed it with "Blitzkrieg Is On—R. A. F. Faces The Great Test."

[By the Associated Press]

A Southeast Coast Town, England, Aug. 12—Heavy explosions believed caused by gunfire instead of enemy bombs damaged houses in several residential districts of this town shortly before noon today.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—This raised the possibility that Germans might be using long-range guns across the Channel. Dover, the closest English point to German-held France, is only about twenty miles away.]

It was at first thought an enemy bomber was over the town. An investigation was started at once by authorities.

Hector Bywater, naval expert of the London News Chronicle, devoted his article today to "Guns Across the Channel," declaring that they could be effective only if aided by aerial spotters.

Says Nazis Have Guns Mounted

"The Germans may and certainly have mounted long-range guns between Calais and Boulogne," he wrote, "but they will be simply shooting into the blue unless they have effective spotters aloft; and we may be confident these spotters will have a rough time from the R. A. F."

Military observers have said for weeks that German artillery experts have been speeding work on emplacements for huge 1940 models of the old World War Big Bertha, which could shell England from France.

Some such emplacements reportedly have been bombed by British raiders.

AUG 12 1940

German Raids Grow In Fury—Every Part Of Britain Attacked

[By the Associated Press]

London, Tuesday, Aug. 13 — Adolf Hitler's long-threatened aerial Blitzkrieg on Britain burst into a full-throated roar of destruction today as Nazi warplanes struck at every corner of England.

AUG 12 1940

They thus carried into the third consecutive day a furious assault which began with flight of 400 or more planes, leaped to 500 or more yesterday and reached undisclosed numbers this morning.

61 Nazis Bagged, Claim

The Air Ministry's final box score this morning on planes destroyed Monday listed sixty-one German and thirteen British.

There were indications that the onslaught was being aided by Italian airmen.

The pattern of the attack remained unvaried, as it has since extensive raids first began June 18, but the scope was tremendous.

From Every Direction

From northeast, northwest, southeast, southwest—from every direction—came reports of exploding bombs. Damage from the Nazi "scream" bombs was said to have been confined to civilian structures.

British fighters, anti-aircraft gunners and searchlight crews teamed up to make the sky a deadly jungle for the invaders.

The raids this morning and last night followed up those of the waves of swastika-flaunting bombers which dropped tons of explosives yesterday on Britain's great naval bases at Portsmouth, Southampton and Dover.

Authoritative circles in London disclosed that an Italian was among the crew of a German bomber captured Sunday, but discounted the likelihood of Italian planes being used. Even if this were the case, it was said, confirmation would be unlikely for some time.

The British announced that naval guns brought down five German planes Sunday, raising the official total for that day to sixty-five and the unofficial count to seventy-four.

The list of Germans destroyed may go even higher for yesterday the British said as the developing battle between the world's largest air forces was believed here to be a decisive phase of the war.

Three-Fold Objectives

Germany's objectives appeared to be threefold:

To damage naval harbors and shore establishments in an effort to challenge Britain's sea control of the English Channel.

To weaken Britain's aerial defenses by damaging airdromes, destroying balloon barrages, silencing ground guns and attempting to wear out British pilots by forcing them to maintain twenty-four-hour patrols.

To bolster the morale of the German people.

This last aim was indicated by elaborate running accounts of the fighting carried by German radio stations.

The attack on the Portsmouth docks met with "little success," the British declared as they acknowledged several fatalities, slight damage to jetties and the sinking of two small harbor craft.

Railroad Station Hit

The Portsmouth railway station was struck, fires started, and some buildings were ripped apart, but the British said the casualties were slight considering the great number of bombs dropped.

Slight damage, it was said, was inflicted on British airdromes farther inland, and a church and several houses leveled on the Isle of Wight. Civilian damage also was reported along the entire coastline eastward to Dover.

See Planes Crash

Witnesses saw flaming Nazi craft plummet into the sea and crash ashore. They said most of the bombs fell into the sea or in isolated sections, but some smashed houses and knocked civilians sprawling hundreds of yards away.

Several persons had remarkable escapes from flying fragments as anti-aircraft guns set up a heavy screen of fire and R. A. F. planes roared aloft to meet the intermittent attacking waves.

Many dashed for shelter as low-flying Nazi planes machine-gunned the streets of coastal villages.

High-Level Bombing

Official communiques also disclosed the British were continuing to attack air fields and oil plants in Germany and German-held territory.

The Air Ministry communique on this phase of the war follows:

"High-level bombing of enemy airdromes was carried out yesterday. [Sunday.]

"The enemy-occupied air fields at Dinard and Caen were attacked and the seaplane slipway at Brest was damaged.

AUG 12 1940

"The Guernsey airport was again bombed.

"A coastal command aircraft while on reconnaissance duty off the French coast shot down an enemy fighter into the sea.

Oil Again Objective

"Oil was again the main objective of our bomber aircraft last night. The synthetic oil plant at Dortmund blew up with a violent explosion and the plant at Kastrop-Rauxel was fired.

"The plants at Gelsenkirchen and Wanne-Eichel also were heavily bombed.

"Other aircraft attacked the oil at Cherbourg, where tanks were set on fire.

400 Planes A Day

"Military objectives at Dusseldorf, Wanne-Eickel, Hattingen and Dortmund also were attacked and Hamm and Soest received their usual visits.

"A number of enemy airdromes also were bombed.

"In all of these operations three of our aircraft were lost."

The Nazis began blasting at England on a large scale June 18. They stepped up the assaults to a 400-plane level Thursday and continued at that stage throughout Sunday and yesterday.

Two hundred German planes roared across the Channel from Cherbourg for the first attack on Portsmouth yesterday, but the British claimed they kept all but fifty-five from reaching their goal. Warships and coast units added their salvos to R. A. F. interception.

Concussions shattered glass windows and rocked houses along the coast as many of the invaders jettisoned their loads and sped for home. The sky was filled with maneuvering fighters.

See Some Disintegrate

Spectators saw some planes disintegrate in the air and their crews bail out and flutter down into the sea.

An Admiralty communique tonight said later reports revealed crews manning the multiple pom-pom guns aboard two small coastal ships, the Windsor and Edwardian, accounted for five German planes Sunday.

There were some casualties aboard the Edwardian during the fight.

To Become More Intense

The London press today warned the people to prepare for the invasion.

"We must face an assault that will rapidly become more intense and more widespread," declared the News Chronicle.

"We may learn next of raids on our airdromes and then perhaps of parachute landings and attempted invasion. We may well be on the verge of our greatest testing time."

The Herald warned: "We must be prepared for bigger raids yet and their extension to other parts of the country.

"The calmness and fortitude with which the people from the coast towns are going about their business must be as infuriating to Hitler as are the courage and cleverness of our flying men.

Same Spirit To Prevail

"Wherever he may extend his attacks, he will find that the same spirit prevails."

The Telegraph said it was fairly evident that the long-planned offensive assault had begun, but issued this note of warning:

"Possibly the Germans consider the raids will serve as a cloak to conceal invasion preparations on the French and other occupied coasts. By launching waves of hundreds of bombers with fighter escorts they hope to keep the R. A. F. so busy that reconnaissance work will be neglected.

"In this they are unlikely to achieve their object."

Dover, England, Aug. 13 (Tuesday) (AP).—German planes swept in across the Channel this morning and attacked Britain's southeast coast for the third successive day of massed raids.

Taking advantage of a low ceiling, a big formation of raiders flew in masked by clouds and raked the balloon barrage with machine-gun fire and light cannon.

Two of the balloons were seen to fall.

For half an hour the drone of airplane motors was heard above the clouds, accompanied by the rat-tat of machine-guns and heavier thud of cannon.

Some of the bullets struck streets along the waterfront.

Numbers of planes could be heard overhead for a half hour or more before the raid started.

The battle above the clouds apparently equalled, if it did not actually exceed in extent, the pre-dawn activity which has ushered in the past two days of violent German raids.

Observers at a listening post said the enemy planes seemed to come over in waves every two or three minutes.

One eyewitness said it "sounded like there were hundreds of planes in the sky at one time."

CHIEF TARGETS PORT OF DOVER AND NAVY BASE

Whole Day of Attack Finds Enemy Bombers Over Many Sections.

RAIDS CONTINUE AT NIGHT

Germans Say Oil Tanks Are Afire and Docks Were Smashed at Portsmouth.

LONDON, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Seventy German warplanes raided Britain's southeast coast again tonight following up hundreds of German fighters and bombers which attacked the large Portsmouth naval base and the 125-mile coast line between Portsmouth and Dover in mass assaults.

The British said that thirty-nine German planes were shot down and that nine British planes were missing.

Little damage was reported in the new raid tonight, many bombs falling into the open country and the sea.

The official acknowledgement that Germany had struck hard at Portsmouth said the Nazis had little success.

The British said several fatalities occurred, but that their defense forces had heavily engaged the Germans.

Raids on the Isle of Wight and the Kent and Sussex coasts were part of the German assault, it was reported oficially.

[The Germans claimed seventy-one British planes shot down.]

Chief targets of the German blasts were Portsmouth and Dover. Four waves of bombers smashed at Dover, the fourth coming late in the afternoon.

The heaviest attack, however, apartently was loosed on Portsmouth where it took place at noon.

British Say Attacks Fail.

Aerial attacks on the naval base at Portsmouth in which large forces were employed as well as on the Isle of Wight and the English Channel coast were acknowledged officially tonight. A communique said:

"The enemy bombing attacks which began over the Kent coast this morning were later extended to the Isle of Wight and Portsmouth, where large forces were employed.

"An attack on his Majesty's dockyard (Portsmouth) met with little success.

"Some bombs were dropped on the outskirts of the dockyard area, setting fire to a store and causing minor damage to a jetty. Two small harbor service craft were damaged and subsequently sank.

"In other parts of Portsmouth a railway station was hit and a number of buildings, including a brewery, set afire. Casualties were caused, including some deaths, but these were not numerous having regard to the large number of bombs dropped.

"In the Isle of Wight, a church and some houses were damaged and a few people were injured.

"Later reports have also been received of attacks on the coasts of Kent and Sussex. Bombs were dropped at a number of points and slight damage was caused to several R. A. F. airdromes.

Casualties Are Slight.

"Some houses and other civil property were also hit.

"Casualties in this raid were very slight although there were several cases of fatal injuries.

"The enemy have been heavily engaged at all ports by our defenses, which have again inflicted severe losses with few casualties to themselves."

R. A. F. attacks on air fields and oil plants in France and Germany were reported tonight by the Air Ministry.

It acknowledged that three British bombers were lost in the operations.

Fifth Day of Big Raids.

The Germans began their intensive aerial attacks on June 18, stepped up the assault last Thursday to the scale of 400 raiders and continued that pace yesterday and today.

Two hundred German planes struck at Portsmouth, but the British said they prevented all but fifty-five from reaching their goal.

The Germans flew over in waves at high altitudes from the direction of Cherbourg and dive-bombed as they approached the town. One raider was shot down in the sea and five others were destroyed almost as soon as they crossed the coastline. A warship shot down another raider.

The British said that private property was damaged, but no naval objectives were harmed.

The raiders turned their machine guns on citizens in the streets, the British reported, but the number of casualties was not known.

Late this afternoon a big formation of raiders blasted at the southeast coastal area in the fourth raid of a day. North of one coast town there was a terrific rumble like steady thunder for several minutes.

As it died away a formation of fifteen German planes was seen flying high, heading for home. Almost at the same time two smaller raiding planes came racing out of the sun and heavily machine-gunned the harbor and barrage balloons.

In an attack on one southern port earlier in the day, only fifty-five out of 200 German planes broke through a heavy screen of British gunfire to reach the undisclosed objective.

The others were met over the channel by R. A. F. fighters which sent four Messerschmitts spinning into the sea, broke up the Nazi formation and turned it back to France.

The fifty-five planes which reached their objectives remained fifteen minutes, dropping incendiary bombs which set fire to some buildings. A number of shop windows were blown out and it was understood there were a few casualties.

An early afternoon attack on another southwest town was the heaviest so far there.

Two Nazi waves, one of twenty-one bombers and the other of fifteen, both protected by fighters, wheeled out of the sun from the cover of clouds.

"I saw about twenty Junkers 88's roaring down," one eye-witness said.

"Five of them were destroyed. Anti-aircraft guns put up a terrific fire and one bomber had its tail shot off. It dived straight behind some houses.

"About twelve Germans bailed out of this and other planes."

All twelve Nazi flyers who leaped from their falling planes were said to have been captured quickly by police and townspeople.

Wide Area Raided.

At first, the raids were a repetition of the fierce German assaults yesterday on the channel coast, but they spread as far as northeast England and the Air Ministry said "later reports show that large scale activity is taking place over a wide area in the channel and Thames estuary."

It said there had been a few casualties, only one of them fatal.

A few minutes after the battle opened a lone Nazi raider dropped swiftly and sent a cannon shot through a barrage balloon.

Anti-aircraft batteries opened on him and peppered the sky with white puffs, but the raider turned back into the sun's glare and apparently got away.

Those blasted out of the sky were in addition to the sixty to sixty-nine Nazi planes shot down yesterday in one of the greatest air battles of the war.

Again the center of the German storm appeared to be the south coast—directly across the English Channel from the nearest German bases.

An Associated Press correspondent at Dover—only three minutes by dive-bomber from France—reported two raids within two hours on a southeastern town.

One of the sharpest engagements in today's battle in the southeast was fought at 12,000 feet—more than two miles up.

Two German planes were seen to break away from the rest and, as they dived, a British Spitfire "sat on the tail" of one of them. The raider banked, then looped quickly, trying to shake off the Spitfire, but the British pilot looped with it and got home several bursts of machine gun fire.

Apparently hit, the German plane fell as if out of control, then vanished.

Besides one Heinkel 111, which crashed in a field near a southwestern town, five of thirty Junkers bombers were reported shot down over a southeastern town. Observers said that at least twelve Nazi airmen bailed out.

One Town Visited Twice.

In the second raid on the southeastern town, twice visited, the distant, heavy boom of naval guns and the still deeper thud of bombs were reported.

Later in the morning, the raiders extended their range to include the northeast England. After circling over one town, a bombing squadron was turned out to sea by British fighters and was said to have jettisoned four bombs about a mile off shore.

One of the German bombers was shot down by British fighters with one of its crew killed and three others taken prisoner.

Word was received this morning of an explosion in northern Ireland, heard over a large area at a time when planes were reported in the vicinity.

Shortly before the southeast battles began, a large aerial squadron was seen traveling at great height and speed along the coast, spreading a smoke screen which drifted lazily southward for almost an hour.

Dozens of trailers of thick white smoke stretched for at least twelve miles across the sky, but in the sunlight it was impossible to distinguish the planes.

At least 100 planes were engaged in the first battle of the morning over the Channel and the rolling hills and fields of the southeastern coastal country.

Five German planes were reported shot down, three crashing into the sea and two others on land. One dropped from 10,000 feet, trailing a thin wisp of smoke which turned to flame at it hurtled down. It was a mass of flames long before it struck the ground with a loud explosion.

The first raid lasted about thirty minutes and less than half an hour afterwards the attack shifted eastward, with an assault directed against the balloon barrage on the coast.

No sooner was this raid over than new squadrons of invaders returned to the original point of attack.

Sky Becomes a Battlefield.

After widespread raids during the night and early morning, today's first battle began when a large force of Junkers 87s escorted by Messerschmitt fighters were intercepted by Royal Air Force fighters as they tried to slip over the coast at an altitude of nearly 20,000 feet.

Within a few moments the sky had become a great battleground and above the roar of engines and the scream of diving planes came the sharp staccato of machine-gun fire, then the deeper note of the cannon on the German fighters.

An eyewitness said:

"British and German planes were circling and maneuvering for position directly over my house. The sun glinting under their wings showed them up like tiny specks.

"Looking toward the channel I saw three planes go crashing down into the blue sea below. The pilots of two baled out and drifted down further out to sea with the sun reflected off their white parachutes."

British fighters which came back after meeting the attack had cannon-shot holes in their wings.

Falls Like Flaming Torch.

Most of the bombs dropped, however, were reported to have fallen harmlessly on the side of the cliffs lining the coast. One made a huge crater in the beach.

The fighting shifted from the coastline inland over a town where opposing airmen engaged in combat at 10,000 feet.

German airmen attempted to keep circle formations in an effort to afford each other protection, but Spitfire pilots roared down into the midst of the Messerschmitts to split uip one circle.

An eyewitness describing the destruction of one German plane said:

"One of the planes made a flaming torch as it fell, and when it crashed into the water it looked as if the sea itself was on fire.

"Fire licked over the surface of the channel, apparently from burning oil and gasoline which spewed out when the plane spanked the water."

Raiding Before Dawn.

Earlier today, in the darkness before the dawn, one German bomber was reported shot down, the first success after yesterday's fighting which took a toll, it was officially stated, of sixty German fighters and bombers—unofficially the toll was put at sixty-nine—during a mass assault which saw an estimated 400 planes hurled against south and east coast objectives.

In the overnight raiding, the Government said, there was little serious damage but some casualties, including one fatality in the Midlands. Gas and electric services were damaged in the east and southeast.

In a southwestern town, three bombs severely damaged a residential section and unofficial reports said that one crashed through the roof of a convent but caused only slight casualties from flying glass.

30.24-4305

30.24-4305

Germans Claim 71 Planes.

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—DNB, official German news agency, announced today that the number of British planes shot down in today's air battles over England had jumped to seventy-one, with seventeen German planes missing.

Germany turned swarms of swift fighting planes and bombers loose against England today in a prolonged attack which bore evidence that it was the precursor of the long-expected general assault on the island kingdom.

Bent on destroying Britain's shipping and harbor facilities and demoralizing her people, the Nazi air raiders swept over the southern coast, sending loads of bombs on an armed convoy of merchant ships off Margate and hammering away at the historic naval base of Portsmouth.

DNB, the official German news agency, declared that the invaders started huge fires at Portsmouth and destroyed an airport at Manston, Dorsetshire, almost directly north of Weymouth and Portland, where the German attacks centered yesterday.

Hour by hour, DNB said, news of fresh British losses poured in from the fighting forces. The Nazi airmen, the agency said, had cowed the British fighter crews."

American Curtiss Shot Down.

One of the British planes shot down, according to the Germans, was a Curtiss fighter. This was one of the few times that American-made planes have been reported shot down in the dogfights over England.

The Germans, it was reported here, were under orders to conduct a free chase, which they interpreted as permission to go where and when they pleased in pursuit of the British. Only a change in the weather yesterday made the Germans break off their fierce attacks on Britain, the Nazis said today.

Today, the Germans asserted, the British were reluctant to engage in aerial combat.

"Their pursuit planes opened fire at long range, then withdrew," reported DNB, adding that the German planes then went to work on Portsmouth and Weymouth, firing tanks and bombing the harbors and shipyards and diving low to attack convoys.

As the battle progressed it appeared to be taking the shape expected by military observers as the prelude to the general attack. The High Command, however, gave no hint that the moment had come for the drive.

So far the wave on wave of bombers which distinguished the power attacks against defense positions on the west front have not yet developed against any English port or point in the interior.

In the attack on shipping off Margate, DNB said, four British merchant vessels totaling 10,000 tons were sunk by dive bombers.

The Germans reported ninety-three British planes destroyed yesterday. They acknowledged that six of their own were lost today, twenty-seven for two days combat.

Describing the Portsmouth raid, DNB said that about forty planes took part, flying from the south over Spithead and dividing into three groups just before they reached the big naval base.

The first group, DNB said, bombed a munions and mine depot, the second hurled its load of explosives at the docks and ways, while the third attacked a big oil tank yard.

"Fires breaking out reached a size where German flyers until now had never before observed on English territory," the agency noted. It asserted also that British flyers refused to fight the invading squadrons, contenting themselves with taking shots at the Nazi planes from a distance.

DNB said that six of the British planes lost in the channel fighting were shot down in the attack on a convoy off Margate.

The agency reported also that the British airport at Manston was shattered by Nazi raiders, adding that the British lost ten planes in this single engagement and the Germans none.

So many bombs, from those of the heaviest caliber to the incendiary kind were dropped that the landing field looked as if it had been freshly plowed, DNB declared.

"Barracks, hangars and dock facilities collapsed," the agency said. "Four Hurricane fighters starting to attack were destroyed on runways. Six others were shot down in air fighting."

Manston is in Dorsetshire, almost directly north of Weymouth and Portland Harbor, center of the heavy Nazi attacks Sunday.

British Coast Reported Shelled From France by Big Berthas

Homes in Southeast Town Believed Hit by Gunfire; Dover May Be Target

By The Associated Press

A SOUTHEAST COAST TOWN, England, Aug. 12.—Heavy explosions, believed caused by gunfire instead of enemy bombs, damaged houses in several residential districts of this town shortly before noon today.

[This report brought up for the first time the possibility that long-range guns across the English Channel might have shelled the houses.]

It was first thought an enemy bomber was over the town.

An investigation was started at once by authorities.

Big Berthas Believed Ready

Military observers have said for weeks that German artillery experts have been speeding work on emplacements for 1940 models of the old World War Big Bertha which could shell England from Nazi-held positions on the coast of France. Some such emplacements reportedly have been bombed by British raiders.

As long ago as June 4, Louis P. Lochner, chief of The Associated Press bureau at Berlin, reported that on a trip to the German Channel front he had seen giant guns which German officers told him could shell London. He said London was about ninety miles from possible emplacements for such guns. That is about fourteen miles farther than the World War Big Bertha fired.

However, other points in southeastern England would offer much shorter range. From Calais England's chalk cliffs are twenty-two miles across the Channel. Dover and Folkestone offer a thirty-mile range.

The 142-ton Big Bertha shelled Paris from a distance of seventy-six miles from March 23 to Aug. 9, 1918, firing 303 projectiles.

Although the effect was primarily intended as a moral one, 256 persons were killed and considerable property damage done before the French located the emplacement in the Forest of Coucy. The 264-pound shells traveled for thirteen minutes.

British Trust Balloon Barrage

Believe This, Plus New Pom-pom Gun, Is Answer to the Nazi Dive Bomber.

ON ENGLAND'S SOUTHEAST COAST, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The men who man the ships which guard and feed Great Britain believe that the British have found or are finding an answer to the dive bomber.

These men say the answer is twofold, and that it consists of the barrage balloons being tried out by the shipping convoys, to keep the bombers high enough to prevent accurate aim, and a new, multi-barrelled anti-aircraft gun which nails the bombers if they come in low.

This new gun is a pom-pom which fires shells an inch or more in caliber, constructed so delicately that they explode at the slightest contact. Britons who have seen the guns in action praise them highly.

Balloons Need 'Babying.'

The barrage balloons, among the targets of yesterday's heavy Nazi aerial attacks, are said to be a big help in warding off the bombers, but they do have their drawbacks. They are vulnerable to the cannon-fire of the German Messerschmitts, are a drag on the ships which tow them and thus slow down the convoys, they require a certain amount of "babying" and expert handling, and they are hard to maneuver in the stiff winds which frequently whip over the channel and the North Sea.

The height at which they are flown depends on the wind currents. The balloonists fly them where they ride most easily and then, when the need arises, let them up to the most effective height, aiming either to get the bombers caught in the balloon cables or to make the planes fly too high to be able to aim their bombs with full effectiveness.

Boasting of the speed and calm with which replacement balloons were sent up under fire for those shot down yesterday, one barrage operator said:

"We get them from Woolworth's threepenny and sixpenny stores just like that—write out a requisition—balloon, air force, for use of, one—and there you are."

Yesterday's attacks began as a surprise assault on the balloons.

But it soon developed into wave after wave of bombers and fighters aiming at the town where this correspondent was, until the sky was thick with planes darting in and out of puffs of anti-aircraft shells in bitter dog-fights that ranged all up and down the coast.

Onlookers rushed into the street to gather shell fragments as souvenirs. But they did not stay long.

An anti-aircraft battery 100 yards away burst into action and they ducked for shelter as an air raid warden cried: "Better take cover. They're machine-gunning the streets. Don't say you weren't warned."

Later they found machine-gun bullets imbedded in the concrete a few feet from the shelter.

Nazi Says Balloons Can Finish You.

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Germany's conflict with Great Britain has developed a special type of German aviator, the mine layer, says Hans Rechenberg, who is 29 years old and who, in peacetime, is the right-hand man of Walther Funk, president of the Reichsbank and Minister of Economics.

Scientific navigation is one of the prime essentials for mine-laying success, he said.

Among the troubles of a mine-laying plane, he added, is the balloon barrage.

"I've pecked at many balloons during my flights, for those pesky things finish you if you happen to run into them," he said.

"We keep the sharpest lookout for them and shoot them down the moment they are sighted."

Rechenberg chose parachuting as a military career during the war, but since parachutists are not active just now, he is going along night after night as a gunner aboard a Nazi mine-laying plane.

"I take off my hat to those men who regularly risk their lives on the unspectacular and rather thankless job of nocturnal aerial mine laying," he said on his return to Berlin after his fifth flight to England within a week.

He is on furlough now in order to be with his newly born daughter, his third child.

No Satisfying Blast.

"A bomber has the satisfaction of seeing an explosion under him, and of having pursuit planes which accompany the bomber bear witness to his success," Rechenberg said. "The minelayer can only tell by his instruments whether the mine fell straight and whether he threw it off exactly where it was ordered.

"Afterward, he can only surmise that this or that ship of whose destruction he reads hit his particular mine.

"Yet these flights, as I know from personal experience, are even more dangerous than those of bombers.

"If a bomber gets caught in concentrated searchlights, or if enemy planes make things hot for him, he can nevertheless drop his bombs somewhere and do some damage, after which his plane is much lighter and faster.

"A mine thrower, in such circumstances, must lug his heavy mine home again and have the further disappointment that the flight is not counted to his credit for awards, decorations or promotions."

In Quest of a Story.

Mine-laying by plane is far more effective than by ship, Rechenberg believes, because a plane can approach closer to an enemy shore and penetrate deeper into bays and estuaries than can a ship.

"The mere fact that the enemy knows we have been in a certain place greatly slows down navigation," he asserted, "for convoyed ships halt until mine-sweepers go over the area.

"It is even worse for the enemy if he knows in a general way that we have been over for a visit. Uncertainty as to where new mines may lay acts decidedly as a brake on the flow of goods in convoyed ships."

Rechenberg, who was a newspaper man before he became an official in the Economics Ministry, asserted that he volunteered as a parachutist chiefly because he had hoped to be able to report on parachute activities once his unit was sent against Britain.

An infantryman in the Polish campaign and commander of a Siegfried Line bunker during the winter, he asked last spring to be transferred to the parachutists' school. He said that only a trained parachutist could describe parachute activity intelligently, yet there had been so far no trained journalist in this category of German fighters.

Air Ministry's Own Story

AUG 12 1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Tuesday, Aug. 13—The Air Ministry this morning issued the following communique on Nazi raids yesterday on England:

Yesterday the German air force again made mass attacks on harbors, airdromes and shipping along the south coast of England, and once again the R. A. F. fighter command and the anti-aircraft guns inflicted heavy punishment on the raiders.

Latest reports reveal that Spitfire and Hurricane pilots shot down thirty-two Nazi bombers and fighters. It is probable, but not yet confirmed, that many more were destroyed.

Anti-aircraft gunners had their best day since raids on the south coast began. They shot down seven German bombers.

So far reports have been received that nine British pilots are missing.

For the first time Lewis gunners of a searchlight company in this country saw their bullets hit and bring to earth a German raider.

They first saw this aircraft, a Junkers 87 dive bomber, diving over them toward its objective. They waited to open fire until it was very close to them and then saw it continue its dive to destruction.

Light anti-aircraft gunners in the Portsmouth area brought three Junkers 87s down in flames. Crews of heavier anti-aircraft guns watched their shells bursting around German bombers, which looked like specks in the sky.

Soon the specks were seen to be aircraft struggling in vain to keep their height. And a few seconds later they crashed to earth.

Nazis Take To Parachutes

White parachutes of German airmen were seen among the shell bursts of anti-aircraft fire.

Gunners of one battery secured a direct hit on an enemy bomber which then exploded in mid-air.

Two complete machine guns from it were seen to fall to earth.

In mid-morning the enemy began mass attacks at three points—over Portsmouth, the Channel and the Thames estuary. At one time it was estimated that there were nearly five hundred enemy aircraft in action.

Two pilots learned a few minute before they took off to engage the enemy that they had been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. They belonged to a squadron which went up to attack an enemy formation which was flying off the southeast coast at a height of 20,000 feet.

Exploit Of Canadian

One is a Canadian flight lieutenant and in yesterday's air battle he shot down two more enemy raiders, bringing his total to six.

The Canadian flight lieutenant saw in front of him six Messerschmitt 109 fighters flying in line astern. He attacked the second German fighter, which went down with smoke pouring from the fuselage. Then he opened fire on the leading Messerschmitt.

The South African, a flying officer, took on the last Messerschmitt, which immediately dived toward the sea.

As he turned his Hurricane around in the sky and climbed slightly, another Messerschmitt flew across his bow. The South African opened fire at point-blank range.

South African's Own Story

"Dense smoke and liquid poured from the German pilot's machine," said the flying officer when he landed.

"Although my engine stopped, I dived after him. Fortunately my engine restarted, the Messerschmitt pilot pulled out of his dive at 6,000 feet and then started to dive again.

"I was hot on his tail and at 3,000 feet opened fire. The German pilot continued to dive and landed on the water. Within a minute the aircraft had sunk and I saw the pilot swimming about in the middle of a big patch of air bubbles which had been caused by the sinking of his machine.

"I sent back a message on my radio telephone, asking for a launch to be sent out to the German airman's rescue and gave his position. I then flew back to my base."

Canadian Flyer's Account

The Canadian flight lieutenant reported when he landed that the leading Messerschmitt caught fire after he had attacked it.

"The air was filled with Nazi aircraft," said the Canadian. "There seemed like thousands of Messerschmitts, Spitfires and Hurricanes all mixed up in a series of dogfights.

"The three Hurricanes which I was leading concentrated on the six Messerschmitts. I saw the South African shoot down his Messerschmitt and the other pilot of the flight fired a long blast at another Messerschmitt.

"He broke away when only twenty-five yards from the German machine, which went streaming down toward the sea, but we did not see it crash into the water so we have not claimed it as a victim.

"Oil poured from another Messerschmitt which was attacked, covering not only windscreen but my entire aircraft. I followed him down and saw him crash into the water. I climbed back to 15,000 feet and saw a Messerschmitt chasing a Hurricane.

"I dived down on its tail to sea level. He zoomed up to 5,000 feet. I followed and after my first burst of fire he blew up in the air and I watched pieces of flaming aircraft fall into the sea."

This same squadron learned yesterday that one of its pilots who had been missing since the sixteenth of May was safe and well.

NAZIS ASSERT RAIDS WILL NOT SPARE LONDON

AUG 12 1940

Declare England's Fleet May Have Been Forced From Channel

Claim Control Of Air Between France And Great Britain

[By the Associated Press]

Berlin, Tuesday, Aug. 13—Claiming virtual control of the air over the bomb-splattered English Channel, German sources predicted today that successive raids would stab steadily inland until "not even London" would be safe from bomb destruction.

Hailing reports of tremendous ruin to Britain's coast defenses and naval bases in three days of stepped-up aerial Blitzkrieg, the German press said the battle fleet Britain counted on to hold off direct assault might already have been forced to clear out of Channel bases.

Claim 213 Planes In 3 Days

The Germans claimed 213 British planes wrecked in the three days of fighting—last Thursday, Sunday and yesterday—including those smashed by bombs dropped on airdromes.

Sunday and yesterday, the Germans reported 164 were shot out of the air, 71 yesterday and 93 Sunday, to German losses of 46—19 yesterday and 27 Sunday.

The great British naval base at Portsmouth, where huge fires were reported; the airport at Manston, declared to have been destroyed, and the port of Margate on the Thames estuary, gateway to London, bore the brunt of the assaults along the southern coast of England.

Claim 48 Over Portsmouth

The German radio reported the British lost forty-eight planes in the battle over Portsmouth alone, where twelve German planes were shot down.

It said fifteen British planes were destroyed at Manston, twelve of them on the ground, and claimed heavy losses at the airdromes of Canterbury, Lympe and Hawkinge.

Still other Nazi squadrons screamed down on barrage balloon-protected British convoys in the accentuated campaign to destroy Britain's shipping and harbor facilities and demoralize her people.

The Germans asserted a dive-bombing attack on a convoy east of Southend sank two freighters and set another afire, with the Germans and British each losing a plane.

All British shipping and naval operations in the Channel now are greatly hampered, they said, because of extensive destruction at Portsmouth, Portland, Dover and the Isle of Wight.

The Germans appeared to be bombing the British coast section by section, since the attacks today were just north of Weymouth and Portland, objects of Sunday's forays.

Barely an hour after the battle was resumed this morning, German fighters radioed back the British were showing evidences of the Sunday raids by refusing to come out and fight.

Instantly, German observers jumped to the conclusion: "We already have established air superiority over the Channel."

"Broken Resistance"

"This is the first sign of broken British resistance," they declared.

Throwing fresh pilots into the battle, the Germans conducted their operations on a "free-chase" basis, which was interpreted as meaning they could strike where they pleased.

In what evidently was the first hour of the day's fighting, the Germans reported shooting down twenty-eight British pursuit ships, including an American-made Curtiss fighter.

As the fight progressed, its early stages indicated the type of battle military observers have expected for a long time to be launched in the battle for England.

Landing Comes Last

First, they predicted would come a steady stream of fighters to force the British out of the air, then destructive raids on Channel ports and sea bases, silencing of shore batteries and, finally, possible landing of troops convoyed across the Channel.

Except for the order to German pilots to hunt out their own fights there was not the slightest hint from the high command that the long-awaited drive had started.

So far the wave on wave of dive bombers that distinguished power attacks against defense positions on the Western front have not developed against any English port or interior point. When that comes, Germans say, "that will be something else again."

The German high command, tabulating British losses Sunday, said ninety British planes and eight barrage balloons were shot down by German fighters and three by anti-aircraft.

Trying To Avoid Fights

"The English are trying to avoid fights," a spokesman for German pilots said. "Their pursuiters open fire at long range, then withdraw.

"This enables us to go to work on British sea bases. For instance, we swept down on Portland and Weymouth with east yesterday, firing oil tanks, bombing the harbors and shipyards, and swung down on convoys bringing in supplies from the open sea through the Channel bottleneck or painfully hugging the shore of the North Sea."

After the battle over Portsmouth, DNB said, "then came a quick attack against a balloon barrage near Dover. In this action several balloons were brought down and anti-aircraft batteries bombed.

Several Ships Sunk

"A third attack was launched against a convoy in the waters east of Margate. Several merchant vessels totaling 10,000 tons were sunk while others were set afire.

"The fourth objective was the British airport at Manston, where bombs hit runways, shelters and hangars, leaving a veritable path of destruction.

"A Hurricane unit at Manston was surprised there when it was about to start. Four Hurricanes were destroyed while still on the ground and three were shot out of the air."

"Our units participating in this encounter all returned safely.

"During various actio which ensued again a large number of enemy airplanes were brought down.

AUG 12 1940

"The final result of these ctions can not yet be ascertained as the fighting still proceeds." ***

PRESS OF ITALY TURNS ITS FIRE AGAINST GREECE

Rome Accuses Athens of Using Bases to Supply Britain With Oil.

ALSO OF AN ASSASSINATION

But Greeks Deny Any Hand in the Death of Albanian in Raid Over Border

ROME, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Italy turned her propaganda guns ominously on Greece today, charging the Greeks with supplying oil to British warships and planes and conniving with the British in plots along the border of Italian-conquered Albania.

The reported beheading of an obscure Albanian minority leader by Greek border raiders touched off a violent press campaign reminiscent of those by Germany against Czecho-Slovakia and Poland.

Britain was brought into the picture by the newspaper Il Popolo di Roma, which is close to the Government, with a charge that British warships and warplanes operating in the Mediterranean against Italy were fueling at Greek bases.

Greece, neutral friend of Britain, received a pre-war British guaranty of her territory. At the time this guaranty was given, Il Popolo di Roma said today, the Greeks spoke openly of the future Greek Kingdom of Epirus, which would have embraced Albania.

"Some circles wonder," the newspaper commented, "if the neutrality of Greece as practiced by the (Premier John) Metaxas Government is more neutrality in form than substance, considering that British agents are not prevented from carrying out their action at the Albania frontier.

"Also, 200 well-supplied bases of Shell (British-controlled oil company), placed above and below the ground during the past two years at strategic points on the Greek coast and islands, appear to be used ever more by English air and naval forces operating in the Eastern Mediterranean."

The Italian charges against Greece are the first to disturb relations between the two countries since the outbreak of the European war, when both, declaring good will toward each other, withdrew their troops from the Albania frontier.

That eased the tension resulting from Greek fear of the Italians at the time of the Fascist annexation of Albania in April, 1939.

A high Fascist source said that Il Popolo di Roma's charges thus far had not been officially confirmed, but that if the English were found to be using Greek bases, Italy will go after them.

"Whoever touches Albania touches Italy," one authoritative Fascist said in commenting on the reported assassination of Haut Hoggia, an Albanian Nationalist leader, by Greeks on Albanian soil near the Greek frontier.

This source said Italy probably would protest to the Greek Government and indicated serious consequences were likely to result from the incident.

Fascists reported that the body of Hoggia was found yesterday. An authoritative Greek source said that Hoggia, who he described as a highway robber, was slain twenty days ago.

X

30.24-4307

30.24-4307

This informant said that Greek officials had put a price on Hoggia's head for his crimes and that he had taken refuge on Albanian soil, only to be killed by his fellow countrymen to get the reward. He said the assassins escaped into Greece with Hoggia's head to claim the money. Instead of receiving the reward, the Greek Government said the Albanians were imprisoned and Italian officials notified.

According to the Greeks, the Athens Government was awaiting a formal extradition request when it was learned Italy was attributing political motives to the crime.

A Fascist commentator said the ferocity of the killing had provoked great indignation in Italy as well as Albania.

Long Disorderly.

Lieut.-Gen. Giacamoni, Governor of Albania, was in the Italian Tyrol yesterday. This fact was offered by the Fascist spokesman as evidence that the Hoggia incident was unexpected.

The spokesman said that an incident such as the killing of Hoggia could be expected in that region of Albania, since it had long been disorderly. He recalled events there in 1923 which resulted in the Italian occupation of the island of Corfu.

The Stefani report from Tirana warned: "Hoggia's sacrifice will not be in vain, since news of the evil crime has deeply moved the Albanians of Ciamuria."

Ciamuria is the region bordering on Greece where Hoggia is said to have been decapitated. Stefani hinted that Albanian nationalists' reply might be to seize territory from Greece.

Greece Denies Accusation.

ATHENS, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The Greek Government declared officially today that an Italian allegation that an Albanian Nationalist had been murdered at the instigation of Greek officials was entirely false.

Italo-German pressure to force Greece definitely into the orbit of the Rome-Berlin axis was seen by some foreign diplomats in the Italian attacks.

Greek authorities declared that Italian accounts of the Hoggia affair were fantastic. Newspapers here were forbidden to publish anything on the case.

Diplomats expressed belief that the axis may be trying to compel Greece to denounce openly Britain's guaranty of her independence, as Rumania did.

The increasing tempo of the war in the Mediterranean was seen as the real background for the Italian outburst. It was pointed out that should the war become general, there would be a scramble for Greece's strategic ports and Aegean Islands.

Reports Trouble in Albania.

LONDON, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The Exchange Telegraph Company, British news agency, reported today that disorders were spreading through Italian-annexed Albania as tribal leaders defied an Italian order requisitioning food and cattle for the army.

Earlier reports by Exchange Telegraph said that Italian troops had suffered 100 casualties in a clash with Albanians near the Yugoslav border.

Rome Claims Berbera Advance

But British Say the Italians Have Stopped Far Out in Desert Regions.

ROME, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Italian troops advancing in British Somaliland have established contact with the main British forces defending the capital and chief port of Berbera, the Italian High Command announced today.

The terse daily communique merely announced:

"In British Somaliland our troops, continuing their advance, have made contact with the main enemy forces."

It was presumed that the three Italian columns which had previously occupied the port of Zeila, the towns of Hargesia and Adueina and the Karrin and Godajere passes had finally engaged in battle with troops holding the main British position.

But the High Command did not issue any word that fighting between the two forces actually was in progress.

Claim to Be Out of Desert.

Authoritative spokesmen said that the capture of the two Somaliland passes meant that the Italian forces had safely left the desert wastes behind and were attacking the British on the sea side of the slopes.

Elaborating on a High Command report of the bombing of a British airdrome near Erkovit yesterday, military experts said that the existence of the airport was discovered by Italian pursuit planes which had followed British bombers returning homeward from a raid.

The discovery led to an attack in which fifteen British planes were destroyed on the ground, it was said.

British Report Drive Halted.

CAIRO, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The Italian drive across British Somaliland toward the Guif of Aden and the vital port of Berbera, came to a halt today, the British command reported tonight.

A communique said:

"In Somaliland no operations are reported and the enemy made no advance."

It was indicated that the Italian columns which have been moving northward from Hargeisa and Oadweina across burning wastes and under harassing air attacks had stopped, perhaps to reorganize for attack on the main British forces in the hills south of Berbera.

Re-enforcements newly arrived from distant parts of the British empire were reported today to be digging in around Berbera for a stand against the Italian columns advancing across buring Somaliland wastes under harrassing aerial attacks.

The arrival of re-enforcements was disclosed by British officials in denying the Italian claim that Somaliland had been virtually cut off from overseas help.

Convoys laden with troops and munitions are steaming regularly through the Red Sea, the British said, unchallenged by Italian naval forces.

A statement issued by General Headquarters said that the British aim is not "to defend every inch of soil in Somaliland but to make the enemy use up his precious supplies of food, petrol and ammunition which he cannot replenish."

From Kenya Colony the British reported that their troops had advanced into Ethiopia at one point to capture the village of Korindil with slight opposition and without casualties. Italian troops, pushing into northern Kenya, were said to be strongly intrenched at Dobel, thirty miles south of Moyale.

Denies Harm at Gibraltar.

LONDON, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The War Office said today that "reports appearing in some foreign newspapers exaggerate the effect of recent air raids on Gibraltar."

"The truth is," said its communique, "that the damage has been negligible and the casualties have been slight. Gibraltar is prepared for any eventualities and has ample resources of all kinds to meet them."

Red Sea Reported Cleared.

The British wireless broadcast today a report from its observer in the Middle East, Richard Dimbleby, saying that Royal Air Force raids on Massawa and naval actions against Italian submarines had practically cleared the Red Sea of the enemy menace to shipping.

The report, recorded here at the Columbia Broadcasting System's listening station, quoted Dimbleby as cabling:

"Royal Air Force raids since the beginning of last week on Eritrea and Abyssinia are by far the fiercest of the whole war. Our squadrons in East Africa have been in the air every day since June 10, but last week they redoubled the intensity of their daily attacks.

"One fact of first class importance emerges from the events of the last week: It is that the Red Sea can now be considered practically cleared of the enemy menace to shipping.

"Naval reports have already shown the capture and disabling of some Italian submarines lurking in the Red Sea. Now the Royal Air Force has polished off a large part of the remaining pirate force assembled at Massawa for the obvious purpose of raiding.

"The simple facts are these: For every one raid made by the Italians we make ten; for every British machine they bring down we bring down five Italians; in every ten raids we make, only once do the enemy fighters care to try and intercept our machines.

"And although he can and does fly a few machines and airmen across from Libya, he cannot replenish his dwindling supplies of petrol."

ITALY MOVES MORE FORCES TOWARD EGYPT

Fascists Driving Across Desert Halt Within 60 Miles Of Berbera

Graziano Believed Waiting For Break In 129-Degree Heat

[By the Associated Press]

La Linea, Spain, Aug. 12—Laborers and the garrison at Gibraltar were reported struggling feverishly tonight to strengthen that British fortress and store food and ammunition for a long siege.

[By the Associated Press]

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 12—Italy moved more troops, planes and tanks near the Egyptian frontier tonight as Fascist forces driving across British Somaliland deserts halted within sixty miles of Berbera, British port on the Gulf of Aden.

British officers returning from the Egyptian-Libyan border reported heavy Italian troop movements continued near Bardia, about thirty miles from the frontier, but the forces of Marshal Rodolfo Graziani thus far have not moved eastward from that base.

War In 129 Temperature

Blistering heat waves swept desert temperatures to 129 degrees, and military sources believed Marshal Graziani was waiting for a break in the weather before launching an offensive against Egypt.

Heavy barbed-wire entanglements line both sides of the frontier, and British pilots have been pounding Italian bases.

A communique said "in Somaliland no operations are reported and the enemy made no advance."

Italian columns driving northward from Hargeisa and Oadweina were attacked by British flyers as British infantrymen dug fortifications south of the important seaport of Berbera to make a stand. Empire reinforcements moved into the positions.

Supply Lines British Targets

The Italian halt evidently was for reorganizing lengthening communication and supply lines across the burning wastes, and to repair British bombing damage.

British aircraft scattered Fascist troops in Karrin Pass yesterday and dropped bombs on a motorized column near Dubato.

British tactics appeared to deliberately allow the Italians to advance, then launch heavy air attacks against their long supply lines in an effort to trap the entire desert force.

Other African war fronts were quiet.

400 ITALIANS SLAIN, BRITISH AGENCY SAYS

Rome Categorically Denies Story Of Unrest Broadcast By BBC

Official Protest To Be Made To Greece Over Hoggia Incident

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 12—At least 400 Italian soldiers have been killed in an Albanian uprising which has been in progress since Friday, the British wireless reported in a broadcast heard tonight by NBC.

The report followed an Italian broadcast denying previous British news agency reports of disorders.

Categorical Denial By Italy

The British radio report was in turn denied by an Italian broadcast later tonight and heard by CBS.

"We are officially authorized to deny in the most categorical manner the statement made by the British Broadcasting Corporation that there is unrest in Italian Albania, and that encounters have taken place between Italian troops and the population," the Italian announcer said.

"There have been no incidents of any kind in Albania between the population and the authorities."

The British announcement said that nearly 5,000 Albanians were under arms in the Milidatti district and another 3,000 in the Mati area, birthplace of the exiled King Zog.

Resisting Conscription

It said three Italian warships took troops to the Albanian port of Durazzo yesterday as the fighting spread. The Albanians are distributing leaflets urging all their men of military age to flee to the mountains to avoid conscription by the Italian army, the British reported.

Exchange Telegraph (British) reported Sunday and today that Albanians were battling Italian troops to avoid conscription of men, food and live stock.

King Zog, his beautiful half-American Queen Geraldine, their infant son, Skander, and Zog's three sisters were reported July 15 to be in London and hoping to come to the United States.

ETHIOPIA HIGHWAY AIDS ITALIAN DRIVE

Road Endangers Berbera, Red Sea Entrance.

Mussolini's Fascist legions, in their drive against Berbera, capital of British Somaliland and key to the southern entrance of the Red Sea, moved into the British protectorate along a motor road built to facilitate the Italian conquest of Ethiopia, according to a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

"The Italians, already at the town of Hargeisa, are on the 168-mile motor road linking Berbera with the Ethiopian frontier via Hargeisa which the Government of British Somaliland improved and kept repaired to a traffic capacity of 200 tons a day," the bulletin states.

Berbera itself, once a forbidden city to all Europeans, was the scene of a bitter twenty-year struggle between English troops and a native leader known as the Mad Mullah. Mohammed bin Abdulla Hassan, which was the mullah's real name, kept the British at bay with merciless warfare until his death in 1921, the National Geographic Society points out.

Were it not for the motor road which knifes through the desert, Berbera would be strategically a very difficult spot for an army based in Ethiopia to crack.

"The European quarter, called the Shaab, is fortified within a 15-foot stone wall. A separate pier, radio station VPJ, army barracks, and a reservoir for the fresh water piped down from the hot springs in the hills make the Shaab almost self-sufficient," according to the bulletin.

Situated more than a hundred miles from the Ethiopian frontier an army could hold out here, but the city has a road system with between 600 to 2,000 miles open to automobile traffic — and also to mechanized military units.

That Berbera is a rich prize is emphasized by the fact that, according to the National Geographic bulletin, "Berbera has been the key by which the doors are opened and closed from the Somaliland side of the Red Sea. Berbera is the chief port for the 68,000 square miles and 345,000 people of Britain's share of Somaliland."

NIGHT LEAD ITALIAN (BUDGET)

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ROME, AUG. 12-XXXX ITLAY

AUG 12 1940

ROME, AUG. 12 — ITALY, ALREADY WARRING WITH BRITAIN FOR SUPREMACY IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AND NORTH AFRICA, THREATENED A NEW CRISIS IN THE BALKANS TODAY WITH A SHARP PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN AGAINST GREECE, NEUTRAL FRIEND OF BRITAIN.

A PRESS ATTACK AGAINST GREECE, CHARGING HER WITH XXX AIDING THE BRITISH AND CONSPIRING TO FOMENT TROUBLE ON THE BORDER WITH ITALIAN-ANNEXED ALBANIA, SHARED PRESS HEADLINES WITH REPORTS OF A DEVELOPING BATTLE FOR BERBERA, CAPITAL AND CHIEF PORT OF BRITISH SOMALIAND, ON THE GULF OF ADEN.

THE ITALIAN HIGH COMMAND COMMUNIQUE SAID FASCIST FORCES DRIVING ACROSS BRITISH SOMALILAND HAD "MADE CONTACT WITH" THE MAIN BRITISH FORCES IN FRONT OF BERBERA, BUT FAILED TO SAY WHETHER FIGHTING ACTUALLY WAS IN PROGRESS.

(A BRITISH COMMUNQUE ISSUED AT CAIRO SAID "IN SOMALILAND NO OPERATIONS ARE REPORTED AND THE ENEMY MADE NO ADVANCE."

REPORTS OF THE BEHEADING OF AN OBSCURE ALBANIAN NATIONALIST, HAUT HOGGIA, BY GREEK "BANDITS" OPENED THE CAMPAIGN AGAINST GREECE. FASCISTS SAID ITLAY PROBABLY WOULD PROTEST, ADDING THAT "FURTHER COMPLICATIONS LIKELY WOULD RESULT."

THE LATEST DEVELOPMENTS THREATENED A CRISIS SIMILAR TO 1923 WHEN THE ITALIAN FLEET BOMBARDED CORFU AND OCCUPIED THE GREEK-OWNED ISLAND AT THE ENTRANCE TO THE ADRIATIC FOR A MONTH IN RETALIATION FOR AN ATTACK ON AN ITALIAN MISSION.

IN FOREIGN CIRCLES WAR WITH GREECE OVER THIS INCIDENT WAS CONSIDERED UNLIKELY IN VIEW OF THE EXPRESSED DESIRE OF GERMANY TO KEEP THE BALKANS AT PEACE TO SUPPLY THE AXIS POWERS. SOME OBSERVERS THOUGHT AN EFFORT MIGHT BE MADE TO FORCE GREECE INTO THE ROME-BERLIN ORBIT.

AUG 12 1940

(MORE) WR407PED

RETYPED JR

(UNMANIFOLDED)

30.24-4309

30.24-4309

ROME--FIRST ADD NIGHT LEAD ITALIAN XXX ORBIT.

FASCISTS ACCUSED GREECE OF SUPPLYING THE BRITISH WITH FUELING BASES FOR WARPLANES AND WARSHIPS FIGHTING ITALY IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN.

(THE GREEK GOVERNMENT OFFICIALLY BRANDED AS "FALSE" THE ITALIAN ALLEGATIONS CONCERNING HOGGIA'S DEATH, REFERRED TO HIM AS A "NOTORIOUS BANDIT" ON WHOSE HEAD THE GREEKS HAD PLACED A PRICE, AND DECLARED HE HAD BEEN KILLED BY TWO ALBANIANS WHO FLED TO GREECE AND WERE IMMEDIATELY ARRESTED.

("THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT THROUGH ITS ATHENS LEGATION HAS MADE KNOWN ITS INTENTION TO DEMAND EXTRADITION OF THESE MEN," SAID A STATEMENT BY THE MINISTER OF PROPAGANDA. "GREECE WISHES TO MAKE IT CLEAR FIRST THAT THE ALLEGED PATRIOT WAS AN ORDINARY CRIMINAL; SECOND, THAT THE MURDERERS WERE NOT GREEKS BUT ALBANIANS; THIRD THAT GREECE HAD PLACED A PRICE ON HOGGIA'S HEAD SEVERAL YEARS AGO, AND FOURTH THAT ITALY IS AWARE OF THESE FACTS.)

AUG 12 1940

WRA23PED

BEHIND THE NEWS--GREEK-ALBANIAN

FRICTION BETWEEN ITALY AND GREECE LONG HAS BEEN SMOULDERING BECAUSE OF THEIR RIVAL POSITIONS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

IT INCREASED WHEN PREMIER MUSSOLINI BEGAN HIS GOOD FRIDAY CONQUEST OF ALBANIA, GREECE'S NEXT DOOR NEIGHBOR, IN APRIL 1939.

GREEKS WATCHED THE ITALIAN INVASION OF KING ZOG'S LITTLE ADRIATIC KINGDOM NERVOUSLY. THEIR FEARS SUBSIDED SOMEWHAT AND BOTH SIDES AGREED TO WITHDRAW TROOPS FROM THE ALBANIAN-GREEK FRONTIER.

BUT NOW, WITH ITALY AT WAR WITH BRITAIN AND SUPREMACY OF THE MEDITERRANEAN AT STAKE, GREECE AGAIN IS ON THE ANXIOUS SEAT AS A RESULT OF FASCIST CHARGES THAT SHE IS SERVICING BRITISH WARSHIPS.

AUG 12 1940

FOES GATHER TO OUST LAVAL

Predict His Deposition as Vice-Premier of France.

DRASTIC SHAKE-UP PROMISED

Gen. Weygand Reported to Be One of Men Opposed to Him.

AUG 12 1940

ST. GRINGOLPH, Franco-Swiss Border, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—A drastic shakeup of the new French Government and the deposition of Vice-Premier Pierre Laval were forecast in French quarters today.

M. Laval, once considered the "strong man" in the Cabinet of Marshal Petain, who has designated him as his political heir, was reported to be facing growing criticism—partly because of his demands that former Generalissimo Gamelin be among the defendants in France's impending "war blame" trial.

Both Marshal Petain and Gen. Gamelin's successor, Gen. Maxime Weygand, were determined to protect the army from disgrace at the Riom trial, and were reported to have the support of many soldiers. Many veterans were also reported to be enrolling in the old Fascist Croix de Feu, which M. Laval as Premier dissolved some years ago.

Numerous French leaders, representing both the left and right, were also said to be strongly opposed to M. Laval on the ground that he attempted to prevent the trial of past Cabinet members, such as Georges Bonnet for their alleged part in France's downfall.

Some spokesmen said that M. Laval's position had been further weakened by the disfavor of the Germans.

Petain on Radio.

VICHY, France, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Marshal Philippe Petain, the Chief of State, will broadcast a message to the French nation at 7:30 P. M. tomorrow (2:30 P. M., New York time), it was announced today.

The Supreme Court has been called to meet at Riom at 2 P. M. tomorrow, when Public Prosecutor Cassagnau will present a formal complaint and demand the opening of secret investigations and hearings on the "war guilt" of French military and political leaders.

Whether the names of those called to appear before the court will be announced at tomorrow's session was not known.

Railway Control Ended.

Meanwhile today the French Government suspended the war-time requisition order which placed the French National railways under military control.

Henceforth the railways in the part of France not under German occupation will operate under direct authority of the Ministry of Communications.

Demobilization of the French army will be completed on Wednesday, it was announced today, with the release of the last specialists, such as butchers and bakers.

Of the approximately 5,000,000 men mobilized during the war, it is now admitted that 2,000,000 were captured by the Germans. No considerable number of these have been released so far.

After demobilization, sufficient troops will be retained to maintain public order and guard certain vital points such as coastal and colonial centers, but that is all. The exact number of these troops has not been made public.

Barred from North.

The last class to join the colors—youths who were twenty years old in 1939—was held over and organized into youth brigades. Led by regular army officers, these groups will work on public improvements, repair war damages and receive athletic training.

The notice of demobilization advised men whose homes are in Nazi-occupied France that their return there will depend on the facilities accorded by the Germans. No one who lives north of a line running along the Somme and Aisne rivers to St. Dizier, Chaumont and Dole will be permitted to return for the time being.

Men from the occupied zone forced to remain in the unoccupied area for the present will be given work on farms, in forestry and in improving lines of communication.

Renault Resumes.

CLERMONT-FERRAND, France, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The Renault automobile plant in Paris has resumed production and is manufacturing cars driven by charcoal gas, it was announced today.

During the war the Renault plant turned out tanks and other military vehicles. It escaped damage in the aerial bombardment of Paris which struck the Citroen factory.

COURT MEETS TODAY TO FIX GUILT FOR WAR

French Supreme Tribunal To Hear Complaint By Public Prosecutor

AUG 12 1940

Marshal Petain Scheduled To Address Nation This Afternoon

[By the Associated Press]

Vichy, France, Aug. 12 — France, swiftly reorganizing civilian life in her shriveled territory, awaited tonight the opening of court actions to punish leaders who took her into the disastrous war with Germany.

Public Prosecutor Cassagnau will present a complaint and demand secret investigations and hearings tomorrow when the Supreme "War Guilt" Tribunal—whose judgment will be final—meets at Riom. Names of those to be called were not announced.

Petain Broadcast Slated Today

A few hours after the tribunal convenes, Chief of State Marshal Philippe Petain will address the nation in a radio broadcast set for 7.30 P. M. (2.30 P. M., E.S.T.).

Petain is expected to outline his Government's organization difficulties and demand national cooperation.

Members of the Ministry and other officials from occupied and unoccupied sections conferred late Monday on problems of reorganization and coordinating French industry.

The Ministers announced that decrees would be issued soon aiding industrialists in reopening their factories, transporting unemployed to districts where they can be given work, and that the schools would reopen September 1 with a reading by teachers of the new Government's plans to form a national youth organization.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—Rumblings of ferment within the new French state, however, have reached the outside. Reports in Switzerland before the French Government broke off telephone communication said Vice-Premier Pierre Laval, designated by Petain as his political heir, was among a group of officials slated for discard. Laval is said to have lost favor especially with army leaders who are determined to protect the high command from any "disgrace" at the Riom trials.]

Demobilization In Last Stages

As demobilization reached its final stages, the Government restored railroads in unoccupied areas to civil authority under the Communications Ministry, ending wartime military control.

Release Wednesday of specialists, such as butchers and bakers, will complete the French army's demobilization, it was said, except for a force of unannounced size for police and guard duty.

Many of France's soldiers still will be unable to return to their homes. Veterans compelled to remain in the unoccupied area will be put to work on farms, in forestry and in reestablishing communications.

Those whose homes are in Nazi-occupied France were advised that their return will depend on the Germans.

TOKIO POLICE BAR ANTI-BRITISH RALLY

Prevent March of 3000 to England's Embassy.

TOKIO, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The police prevented a march on the British embassy today after 3,000 persons had held an anti-British mass meeting beneath German, Italian and Japanese flags.

The meeting, sponsored by the municipal council, adopted resolutions demanding the withdrawal of the British from the Far East and favoring a strengthening of Japanese relations with the Rome-Berlin axis.

Hundreds of policemen surrounded the meeting hall, cleared the adjacent streets and threw a cordon around the nearby Imperial Hotel, to forestall any incidents involving foreigners.

One anti-British resolution, addressed to the British Ambassador, Sir Robert Leslie Cragie, accused Great Britain of being "the arch enemy of the development of East Asia. Therefore we demand immediate withdrawal from the Orient."

Another urged "a show of Japanese spirit by offering Great Britain before the altar of the sacred crusade."

The pro-axis resolution was addressed to the German and Italian ambassadors."

Nineteen foreigners have been arrested at Dairen charged with anti-Japanese propaganda and possession of short-wave radios, Domei, the Japanese news agency, reported today. Names and nationalities were not disclosed.

Dairen, in the Japanese leased territory of Kwantung, is the chief port serving Manchoukuo.

Numerous foreigners have been arrested in Korea and Japan proper, mostly British, in a Japanese campaign against alleged espionage.

MORE ARRESTS BY JAPANESE ARE REPORTED

19 Foreigners Claimed Taken Into Custody In Kwantung Area

Anti-British Feeling Flares At Mass Meeting Held Under Axis Flags

[By the Associated Press]

Tokyo, Aug. 12—New arrests of foreigners were reported today amid a flareup of anti-British feeling in Tokyo and signs of official pressure on other nations to withdraw from China.

Domei, Japanese news agency, reported that nineteen foreigners had been arrested at Dairen, in the Japanese-leased territory of Kwantung, on charges of disseminating anti-Japanese propaganda and possessing short-wave radios.

Their names and nationalities were not disclosed. Most persons previously jailed in Korea and Japan proper in an anti-espionage campaign have been British.

Demand Britain's Withdrawal

About 3,000 demonstrators at an anti-British mass meeting beneath German, Italian and Japanese flags were restrained by police from marching on the British Embassy here.

The adopted resolutions demanding Britain's full withdrawel from the Far East and advocating closer Rome-Berlin-Tokyo ties.

Britain already has announced her decision to transfer her troops from China.

Hint To Other Nations

Before the meeting convened Yakichiro Suma, Foreign Office spokesman, had hinted that other nations should consider withdrawing their military forces from China.

Britain's decision, Suma said, emphasized that Japan is assuming responsibility for peace and order at Peiping, Tientsin and Shanghai and that, "because of changed conditions, it now is problematical whether it is necessary to maintain troops in those areas."

Non-Committal On Japan Designs On Indo-China

Shanghai, Aug. 12 (AP)—A Japanese military spokesman declined today to deny reports that Japan is contemplating movement of her troops through French Indo-China to strike at China

Asked if he could deny reports that the Japanese would drive through Indo-China into Yunnan province, the spokesman replied:

"I cannot say they won't. They may or they may not."

Earlier at a press conference the spokesman ridiculed the offer of the Chinese Central Government at Chungking to protect Indo-China against Japanese forces "if they advance from Indo-China," asserting that China's warfare had been reduced to "retreats and defeats."

Home Guard for Indies.

BATAVIA, Java, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Dutch East Indies officials are organizing a home guard against possible parachute invasion. Small, voluntary, semi-militarized units are being armed with machine-guns as part of a rapidly progressing program of preparedness which includes increases in the army, naval and air forces. Left largely to their own resources by the Nazi conquest of Holland, the East Indies are preparing for any emergency.

Plan New Delhi Parley On British War Supplies

SIMLA, India, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The governments of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Burma, Hongkong, Ceylon and territories represented in the East African governors' conference have accepted an invitation to attend a New Delhi conference on British war supplies in October, it was announced today. Replies are awaited from Southern Rhodesia and Malaya.

CLASH ON INDIA FRONTIER

British Lose Two Officers and Marauders Five Men in Fight

SIMLA, India, Aug. 12 (AP)—Sporadic but deadly warfare has broken out anew on India's wild northwest frontier, where Great Britain has tried for generations to subdue marauding tribesmen.

Military authorities reported tonight that two officers had been killed and fourteen native soldiers wounded in a clash that cost the mountain raiders five dead and seven wounded.

The British began Feb. 22, the latest of many campaigns to break the power of the ingenious leader, the Fakir of Ipi, and the tribal chieftain, Mehr Dil.

The old fakir, with hennaed beard and hair, has eluded pursuit for more than thirty years and is blamed by the British for organizing and influencing frontier tribes in their perpetual looting raids. Three years ago, 33,000 troops supported by bombing planes failed to catch him.

Norse Princess U. S.-Bound at Roosevelt's Bid

Martha and Her 3 Children Aboard American Ship; Crown Prince in Britain

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 12 (AP).—Crown Princess Martha of Norway and her three children are en route to the United States aboard an American ship, at the invitation of President Roosevelt, the Norwegian Legation here announced today.

The legation said they boarded the ship at Pesamo, in far northern Finland.

[The American troop transport American Legion arrived at Petsamo on Aug. 5 under orders of President Roosevelt to bring out Americans in Scandinavia. Presumably, the American Legion already has started the trip home.]

Crown Princess Martha, daughter of Swedish Prince Charles, is a sister if the late Queen Astrid of Belgium. Accompanying her to the United States are Princess Ragnhild, ten years old; Princess Astrid, seven, and Prince Harald, three.

Crown Princess Martha and Crown Prince Olav, her husband, visited the United States last summer and saw the New York World's Fair.

Prince Olav now is in England, where he accompanied King Haakon VII of Norway when the Allies withdrew from Norway.

Other Ex-Rulers Here

With the reported forthcoming arrival in the United States of Crown Princess Martha of Norway, three European former ruling families will be represented in this country.

Former Empress Zita of Austria, accompanied by a daughter, Archduchess Elizabeth, arrived in New York on July 20 aboard the Dixie Clipper of Pan American Airways. She was met by two sons, the Archdukes Otto and Felix, already here. Her other five children remained abroad.

Five days after Zita's arrival, her younger brother, Prince Felix of Bourbon-Parma, consort of Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxemburg, arrived at Annapolis, Md., aboard the American cruiser Trenton. The Grand Duchess remained in Portugal. Prince Felix was accompanied by his six children.

Australia Outlaws Youth Council as Reds

CANBERRA, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The Commonwealth Government outlawed the Australian Youth Council today after having prohibited the meeting of a youth parliament at Melbourne this week end. Attorney-General W. M. Hughes said the organization had a communist basis.

Forty-five youth organizations had sent delegates to the Melbourne meeting, which was scheduled to deal with a resolution declaring that, since war had not solved youth's problems, youth could not wholeheartedly support the Government's war effort.

Famous Luxury Train Has Not One Passenger

ISTANBUL, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The famous Simplon-Orient express arrived here today without a single passenger, indicating the severity of travel restrictions now in effect.

It was the first time in its history that the luxury train, starting from Italy, made the two-day run without a passenger.

Epidemics Rage In French Area Held By Germany

Porrentury, Switzerland, Aug. 12 (AP)—Epidemics of smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid fever and paratyphoid affecting the Maiche Plateau area in German-occupied France were disclosed today in special measures taken by Swiss authorities to prevent their spread.

The region was the battleground June 15 between German motorized units and tens of thousands of Poles, Spahis, French and other troops trying to escape from the Maginot Line zone.

Swiss police of Porrentruy cautioned all Swiss frontier inhabitants to be vaccinated against smallpox.

CUDAHY FLYING HOME

U. S. Envoy to Belgium Is on Lisbon Clipper.

LISBON, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—John Cudahy, United States Ambassador to Belgium, who was reprimanded last week by Under-Secretary of State Sumner Welles for his comments on the situation in Belgium, left today for the United States by clipper.

Also on board the plane was Orme Wilson, American consul at Brussels.

Ordered home to explain the London press interview in which he made his remarks, the Ambassador confined himself today to these words: "I know what discipline is after seven years' service."

It was learned that he saw Foreign Minister Lord Halifax, Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Aircraft Production, and Hugh Dalton, Minister of Economic Warfare, while in London and that he told friends none took exception to his published remarks.

In the newspaper interview, Mr. Cudahy observed that Belgium faced a famine this winter unless food was shipped through the British blockade and that Nazi invaders of Belgium had behaved well and perhaps better than American soldiers would have done in the same circumstances.

Nazis Order Expulsion Of U. S. Correspondent From Occupied France

Paris (via courier to Berlin), Aug. 8 (AP)—Sherry Morgan, Paris correspondent for the American magazines Life, Time and Fortune, received a formal order today expelling him from German-occupied France.

He was allowed until August 12 to arrange his personal affairs before leaving. The order was served by French police on behalf of German authorities who said his presence in Paris was no longer considered "desirable."

Morgan is the first American correspondent formally ordered out of German-occupied parts of France. Walter Kerr, Paris correspondent for the New York Herald-Tribune, was advised to depart last July 4, but this was not a formal order. The reason given for the suggestion in Kerr's case was because his paper's Paris office had been closed.

French Aerial Score: 982 Planes to 306

VICHY, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—French flyers shot down 982 German planes between May 10 and June 10, losing only 306 themselves, despite five to one odds, the Under-Secretary for Air announced today.

"The 306 French planes which were lost were manned by 589 aviators, but whether all this number was killed is yet unknown," the announcement said.

30.24-4311

Noted French Speed Flier Killed Fighting Germans

By The Associated Press.

VICHY, France, Aug. 12—Maurice Arnoux, noted French airman, was reported today to have been killed in aerial combat against the Germans.

M. Arnoux, a World War pilot, was referred to as the first man to fly at more than 500 kilometers [310 miles] an hour.

Maurice Arnoux was a specialist in light-plane flying. In 1934, in a Renault-powered Caudron monoplane, he won the Coupe Deutsch de la Meurthe, a 2,000-kilometer [1,242-mile] race and broke the speed record for 1,000 kilometers [621 miles].

A year later he set a record for 100 kilometers [62.1 miles] at 295.79 miles an hour. In 1937 the latter record was broken by Fario Niclot, an Italian pilot.

In 1936 M. Arnoux participated in a race from Paris to Saigon, French Indo-China, and back, but was forced down, unhurt, after completing three legs.

Soviet Envoy Praises German Trade Ties

KOENIGSBERG, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Current Russo-German trade is more than a mere temporary business deal, Alexander Shkartzev, Soviet Ambassador to Germany, told diplomats, Nazi leaders and business men today at Germany's Eastern Fair, where Russia is an exhibitor.

"I hope these relations will become more successful in the future," he said.

NAZI AIR OFFICER SAYS BRITISH RAN

Charges Foe Shot Rescue Plane on Channel.

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—A free-for-all chase is the way Air Force Officer Hans Theodor Wagner sums up Sunday's air battle from Portland to Dover.

Herr Wagner, an aviator-reporter who participated, gave this account today:

"Wonderful sunshine prevailed at 8 A. M. Sunday so that we could see the houses of Dover and Folkstone and the radio towers of Dover from our air base, located twenty miles from the English coast.

"The first contact with the enemy came when six Spitfires tried to rise above our chasers. A wild fight ensued.

"The six Spitfires dropped into the ocean. At the same time heavy bombs of our heavy fighting machines rained down on one 8,000-ton ship, one English torpedo boat and one 2,500-tonner. Swirling waters closed over them.

"During the second attack an hour later we didn't contact the enemy at all, for when our chasers tried to attack a group of English Spitfires they simply disappeared into the clouds. Yes, indeed, they fled. So our chasers had to content themselves with shooting down barrage balloons over Dover.

"Ned orders were issued now by wireless to our units. Stukas and destroyer planes were sent into action."

He said "the Britons were licked disastrously."

Herr Wagner complained that the British shot at a German Red Cross plane, which he said was unharmed, when it tried to pick up the crew of a British Blenheim shot down by a Nazi Messerschmitt.

According to Herr Wagner, the Red Cross plane returned with thirty bullet holes in its fuselage and wings and with its mechanic so badly wounded that a leg had to be amputated.

Nevertheless, he said, two of the three downed British flyers were saved.

German Agency Reports Move for Flemish State

Tells of Mass Meeting for 'Rebirth' in Brussels

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (AP).—"Dienst aus Deutschland," a German news service close to the Foreign Ministry, reported today a move was afoot in Belgium for a "rebirth of Flemish nationality." It said a welcoming celebration was held at the Royal Opera House in Brussels for Dr. August Borms, Flemish leader, and for interned Flemish civilians returning from France.

Numerous Germans, including representatives of German authorities and the foreign organization of the Nazi party, attended the mass meeting, it said.

Observers were quoted as having recalled persistent talk regarding the possibility of setting up an independent Flemish state. However, German authorities have remained silent about such a development, declaring it is premature to discuss such matters until time for a general European settlement.

160,000 Horses Captured By Nazis

Berlin, Aug. 12 (AP)—Germany captured more than 160,000 horses during the campaigns in Poland and in western Europe, Dr. Peter Steinhardt, veterinary officer, said today.

More than 20,000 were captured in the battle of Kutno, Poland; over 40,000 around Dunkerque, and over 100,000 in France, he said.

Two-Thirds In Occupied Zone

Berlin, Aug. 12 (AP Via Radio)—Roughly two-thirds of the French population are living in German-occupied France, the Berlin radio said today in a broadcast dispatch from Vichy, France, quoting Le Journal.

The newspaper's story said the population of unoccupied France is 14,195,893, while before the war the French population totaled 41,907,056.

DOBRUJA PARLEY HITS SNAG

Rumania Reported Holding Out For Balcic And Salistra

Berlin, Aug. 12 (AP) (Via Radio)—Preliminary negotiations between Rumania and Bulgaria over the cession of southern Dobruja to the latter have struck a snag because of Rumania's desire to retain the Black Sea port of Balcic and the Danube river city of Salistra, the German wireless declared tonight in quoting a Sofia dispatch.

Bulgaria was said to have rejected this proposal and told Rumania she was not ready to begin negotiations on that basis.

German Gets Life For False Report

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Eduard Brabher, convicted of having circulated a story that Germany contemplated invading Switzerland, was sentenced tonight to life imprisonment by the People's Court under a statute forbidding the spreading of false reports.

Nazi-Greek Parley Slated

Berlin, Aug. 12 (AP) (Via Radio)—The German radio announced tonight that a Greek mission would come to Berlin in mid-August for economic negotiations.

TO CONTINUE BLOCKADE

British Reply Unofficially to Hoover's Plea.

LONDON, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—A British spokesman declared today that the blockade against Germany and Nazi-occupied European States would be maintained vigorously, and took the position that food for 18,000,000 non-German Europeans affected depended on "fair distribution by Germany, which has an abundance of supplies."

This statement was made as the British withheld official comment on former President Hoover's request yesterday to permit the United States to supply food to the Netherlands, Belgium, Poland and Norway, pending formal receipt of the appeal.

Chamberlain Is Convalescing

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP).—Former Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was discharged today from the nursing home where he had been a patient since he underwent an operation July 29. He left with Mrs. Chamberlain to convalesce in the country.

Conchies NOT Pacifists, Say Fighting Conchies

Family Defends Its Surname From Headline Writers

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP).—British headline writers coined the word "conchie" to fit "conscientious objector" into big type—and the public adopted the word.

But the Conchie family, proud of its long fighting history, is unhappy about it and demands that the press think up some other name.

J. Wright Conchie, of Kidderminster, a veterinary surgeon and the family spokesman, pointed out today that he joined the army in 1899 and "all my brothers and cousins—all Conchies—who were medically fit have been in the army or navy for the last three years."

British Farmers Rebel Against Low Egg Prices

Fix Own Scale at Maximum Set for Retail Shops

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP).—Poultry farmers challenged today the authority of Food Minister Lord Woolton to hold down the price of eggs.

Lancashire farmers, representing the largest section of egg producers in the country, issued a declaration that, effective today, they were fixing egg prices on farms at the maximum level Lord Woolton set for retail shops—two shilling, three pence, to two shillings, nine pence (about 45 to 55 cents) a dozen.

They complained the price of feed was 150 per cent higher than a year ago and a fair price for eggs would be three shillings (60 cents) a dozen.

The government has been trying to keep egg prices down despite the shortage resulting from the German occupation of Denmark and the Low Countries. As a war-time measure the authorities are permitting chickens in cities and thousands of housewives have gone in for backyard poultry raising.

DE GAULLE ASSAILS VICHY

Says France Had Strength and Weapons to Continue War

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP)—France still had the strength and weapons to continue the war at the time she sued for peace, General Charles de Gaulle, independant French leader, said today in a world-wide broadcast to the French people.

"Contrary to the statements of the old men of Vichy," General de Gaulle declared, "France still possessed powerful means of fighting at the time our arms were given up.

"We see we still had intact a fleet that was the second in Europe, a large air force and a vast empire."

Gibraltar Damage Termed Negligible

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP).—The British War Office said today that "reports appearing in some foreign newspapers exaggerate the effect of recent air raids on Gibraltar."

"The truth is," said its communique, "that the damage has been negligible and the casualties have been slight. Gibraltar is prepared for any eventualities and has ample resources of all kinds to meet them."

HORE-BELISHA ANXIOUS

Wants Britain to Create 100 Army Divisions.

LONDON, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Former War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha appealed tonight for creation of 100 army divisions, warning Britons against over-confidence.

Speaking at Devonport, on the harassed channel coast, he expressed hope that British leaders would recognize "the true position in which we are placed and the forces of destruction which are gathering around our empire."

He saw danger in accepting "as inevitable a continuing policy of concession and withdrawal on the ground that we have an inadequacy of armament—as if such inadequacy were irremediable and must endure."

Mr. Hore-Belisha warned also that "in Africa there is the risk of minimizing the setbacks we are suffering."

"It is to be hoped that our preoccupation with home defense is not so absorbing military thought that we are failing to shape the instrument with which to deal the coup de grace," he said. "The project should contemplate creation of at least a hundred divisions."

Flemish Nationalism Plan Reported Afoot

German News Service Tells Of Move Launched At Brussels By Returning Refugees

Berlin, Aug. 12 (AP)—Dienst Aus Deutschland, German news service close to the Foreign Office, reported today a move was afoot in Belgium for the "rebirth of Flemish nationality."

The news service said a welcome celebration was held at the Royal Opera House in Brussels for Dr. August Borms, Flemish leader, and for interned Flemish civilians returning from France. Numerous Germans, including representatives of German authorities, attended, it said.

Australia Auto Imports Halt

MELBOURNE, Aug. 12 (AP).—Automobile importers have decided to suspend importation of chasses for nine months, thereby reducing overseas exchange requirements.

Civil Marriage Law Decreed for Lithuania

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—DNB, the official German news agency, reported today from Kaunas, the capital of Lithuania, that under a new law to go into effect on Thursday all marriages will be performed by Soviet justices of the peace.

Lithuania, together with Latvia and Estonia, has been incorporated into the Soviet Union.

Polish Crops Held Adequate

CRACOW, German-occupied Poland, Aug. 12 (AP)—The prospective Fall harvest will provide sufficient food for the population in German-held Polish territory, the newspaper Warschauer Zeitung reported today.

The newspaper said that, although unfavorable weather had severely hampered production in some sections, this was offset somewhat by better prospects in others. It added:

"The Agricultural Department's plan to supply adequately the population in the Gouvernement-General [the area occupied but not annexed by Germany] with important foodstuffs from their own supplies is fully accomplishable, provided the weather is good in the ensuing weeks."

Report Supplies Dwindling

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Food supplies in France and Southern Spain are dwindling day by day, officers of the Red Cross relief ship McKeesport said today.

The McKeesport returned to Baltimore last night after an uneventful voyage to France and Spain with a $1,000,000 relief cargo, part of which was never delivered.

"Every day it seemed that supplies in France were getting shorter," said First Officer William Dougherty.

"Storekeepers said their stocks were going down and they had nothing to replace them. Shirts were sold only in lots of two. Other clothing was rationed likewise.

"Rations in Bilbao [Spain] were very short also. They even seemed shorter than in France."

Colonel V. L. Jubb of Pasadena, Md., said the voyage was "one of the most uneventful ones I've ever been on."

In the ship's hold were a load of auxiliary hospital trucks, station wagons and small ambulances. Red Cross officials said they were brought back because "there appeared to be no use for them in France" and because "gasoline is so very scarce."

The McKeesport left here June 7, carrying 14,000,000 pounds of foodstuffs, drugs and medical equipment, clothing and surgical dressings made by Red Cross volunteers.

Menuhin Aids Red Cross

MELBOURNE, Aug. 12 (AP).—Yehudi Menuhin, violinist, made a contribution to Australia's war effort recently with concerts at Melbourne and Sydney. More than £2,400 (about $7,700) was realized from the concerts for the Red Cross.

AUG 12 1940

Argentina's Clean-Up Nets Two More Nazis

Third Propagandist Sought Apparently Has Fled

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 12 (AP).—Argentina's Nazi propagandist clean-up drive netted two more prisoners and brought reports tonight that another man ordered deported apparently had already fled the country.

The Buenos Aires secret police chief said he believed that Karl Arnold, accused of being a $125-a-month Nazi Gestapo agent, fled either just before or after the order for his deportation last Friday.

The most recent prisoners in an intensified drive in the heavily German-populated northern provinces were Edmund Muckheim and Gern Arnulf Fuhrman. Gendarmes said they found in Muckheim's possession pro-Nazi leaflets hinting that South Americans should learn to shout "Heil Hitler" and accept German protection. Fuhrman was said to be a liaison officer between Argentine and Uruguayan Nazi groups.

Windsor Visits French Ship To See Crewmen

Members Have Volunteered To Enter British Naval Forces. Nourmahal In Harbor

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor visited a French merchant ship today in the harbor and thanked the crewmen who have said they would join the British naval forces.

AUG 12 1940

COSTA RICA PUTS UP BARS

No European Immigrants To Be Admitted Hereafter

San Jose, Costa Rica, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Costa Rican Government has decided to prohibit all immigration from Europe and has notified all its consulates in Europe to that effect.

At the same time the newspaper La Hora announced that Italians resident here who belong to mobilized classes of the Italian army had been notified to be ready for orders to depart homeward.

Foreign Envoys Asked To Quit Baltic States

MOSCOW, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The Russian Government has circularized the embassies and legations in Moscow, asking the foreign nations to close their consulates in the three Baltic States absorbed last week into the Soviet Union, diplomatic spokesmen reported today.

It was understood that August 25 was set as the deadline for the closings.

The United States had only skeleton diplomatic and consular staffs in Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, the States concerned. Great Britain has already closed her missions there.

AUG 12 1940

Communiques of Three Belligerent Nations

British

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP).—An Air Ministry communique said tonight:

Enemy aircraft crossed the Kent coast this morning and bombs were dropped at several points near the coast. Reports so far indicate that casualties were few, but one or these was fatal.

Later reports show that large-scale activity is taking place over a wide area in the Channel and Thames estuary, but details are not yet available.

Two supplementary communiques were issued by the Air Ministry on German raids today. The first follows:

The enemy bombing attacks which began over the Kent coast this morning were later extended to the Isle of Wight this morning, and Portsmouth, where large forces were employed.

An attack on his majesty's dockyard met with little success. Some bombs were dropped on the outskirts of the dockyard area, setting fire to a store and causing minor damage to a jetty. Two small harbor service craft were damaged and subsequently sank.

In other parts of Portsmouth a railway station was hit and a number of buildings, including a brewery, set afire. Casualties were caused, including some deaths, but these were not numerous having regard to the large number of bombs dropped.

In the Isle of Wight a church and some houses were damaged and a few people were injured.

Later reports have also been received of attacks on the coasts of Kent and Sussex. Bombs were dropped at a number of points and slight damage was caused to several Royal Air Force airdromes. Some houses and other civil property were also hit. Casualties in this were very slight, although there were several cases of fatal injuries.

The enemy have been heavily engaged at all ports by our defenses, which have again inflicted severe losses with few casualties to themselves.

The second said:

In today's air engagements around our coasts the total number of enemy aircraft so far known to have been destroyed is thirty-nine. Nine of our aircraft are missing.

The Air Ministry report today on British raids on enemy territory follows:

High-level bombing of enemy airdromes was carried out yesterday, Sunday. The enemy-occupied airfields at Dinard and Caen (France) were attacked and the seaplane slipway at Brest was damaged. The Guernsey Airport was again bombed.

A coastal command aircraft while on reconnaissance duty off the French coast shot down an enemy fighter into the sea.

Oil was again the main objective of our bomber aircraft last night. The synthetic oil plant at Dortmund blew up with a violent explosion and the plant at Kastrop-Rauxel was fired. The plants at Gelsenkirchen and Wanne-Eickel also were heavily bombed. Other aircraft attacked the oil at Cherbourg, where tanks were set on fire.

Military objectives at Dusseldorf, Wanne-Eickel, Hattingen and Dortmund were also attacked and Hamm and Soest received their usual visits. A number of enemy airdromes were also bombed. In all of these operations three of our aircraft were lost.

A joint communique of the Air and Home Security Ministries said today:

In the northeast incendiary bombs were dropped in a town and on moorland. The resulting fires were soon brought under control. There were no serious casualties in this area.

In the Midlands high explosive bombs fell in several country districts, causing some damage to houses and a small number of casualties, one of which was fatal.

In the southwest bombs dropped in a railway station yard in one town, damaged a signal box and caused severe shock to the signalman. Another bomb in this area fell close to an air-raid shelter in which a number of persons were taking cover. Only one of them was injured seriously.

Elsewhere in eastern and southeastern country districts bombs dropped by isolated enemy aircraft caused slight damage to gas and electricity supply mains. In these areas there were no casualties.

The enemy bombers were engaged by our fighters and anti-aircraft defenses and shortly after midnight one was shot down.

An Admiralty communique said today:

During an action with German aircraft yesterday, H. M. Trawler Edwardian shot down one enemy dive-bomber into the sea and so damaged another that it is unlikely to have regained its base. H. M. Trawler Edwardian suffered a few casualties in this action. The next of kin have been informed.

CAIRO, Aug. 12 (AP).—The British communique said today:

Nothing to report from the Western Desert.

In the Sudan and Palestine: No activity to report.

In Somaliland: No operations are reported and the enemy made no advance.

In Kenya: Reports of reconnaissance units indicate that the enemy is holding Dobel.

German

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (AP).—The German high command communique said today:

As already announced by special report, German fighting plane units on Aug. 11 attacked the British naval port of Portland. Important harbor installations, a pier and floating dock as well as a loading dock were destroyed and oil tanks set afire. Two merchant vessels and one destroyer were seriously hit. In the neighboring port of Weymouth one merchant ship of 3,000 tons was sunk.

Off the Thames estuary a British convoy was the target of our aerial attacks. In this action three merchant vessels totaling approximately 17,000 tons were sunk, while two destroyers and an additional four merchant vessels were severely damaged by direct bomb hits. In the course of these attacks heavy aerial fighting developed in which German pursuit and destroyer planes inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. During the night of Aug. 11 and 12 the air force attacked airplane plants at Filton and Crewe and harbor installations at Cardiff and Bristol, as well as large oil depots at Avonmouth. At several places anti-aircraft batteries were bombed. Dropping of mines from the air before British harbors was continued on schedule.

Enemy airmen during the night made attacks on non-military objectives in northern and western Germany without noteworthy success. Incendiary bombs dropped on the residential section of a western German city were rendered harmless by the intervention of auxiliary forces.

The enemy's total losses yesterday in aerial combat were ninety airplanes and eight balloons of the balloon barrage, plus three airplanes brought down by anti-aircraft artillery. Twenty-one German airplanes are missing.

A submarine has sunk an armed merchantman of medium size from amid a strongly protected convoy.

Italian

ROME, Aug. 12 (AP).—The Italian communique said today:

In British Somaliland our troops, continuing their advance, have made contact with the main enemy forces.

Air Battle Box Score

[By the Associated Press]

Here is a box score of two days of aerial fighting between Germany and Great Britain, the reports by the two belligerents showing the disparity between claimed successes and admitted losses:

SUNDAY

Reported by Britain—Sixty German planes shot down; twenty-six British lost.

Reported by Germany—Ninety-three British planes shot down; twenty-seven German missing.

MONDAY

Reported by Britain—Sixty-one German planes shot down; thirteen British lost.

Reported by Germany—Seventy-one British planes shot down; nineteen German losses.

AUG 12 1940

Oil Company Chief Resigns Due To Westrick Publicity

Torkild Rieber Quits Post As Chairman Of Texas Corp., But Defends His Actions

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 12—Torkild Rieber resigned as chairman of the board of the Texas Corporation today "because of certain publicity, detrimental to the company," arising from his association with Dr. Gerhard A. Westrick, German commercial agent in this country.

The resignation was announced in a statement issued by the board of directors which said that it was accepted at a board meeting today. The meeting lasted from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. and during it Rieber discussed with the board his reasons for resigning.

"The statement was made," said the formal announcement, "that it was with real regret on the part of each individual member of the board that under existing circumstances it seemed advisable to accept this resignation."

Activities Mysterious

Westrick's activities in this country have been more or less mysterious, but he is an accredited attache of the German Embassy and business representative of the Nazi Government. He has had wide dealings with American businessmen.

After it was disclosed two weeks ago that he was living on an estate at suburban Scarsdale, the State Motor Vehicle Department began an investigation of his automobile registration and driver's license. Last Friday it revoked both on the grounds the applications contained false statements.

Company Paid For Car

In the hearing, a Texas company official testified the company had paid for the car used by Dr. Westrick but had expected the German official to pay them back for it.

At a press conference August 1, Norwegian-born Captain Rieber asserted he had directed a subordinate to help Dr. Westrick get a driver's license and had offered him the use of a company car.

"I did that and considered it good business," said Rieber, adding that Westrick, a German supreme court lawyer, was his German attorney and a lawyer who had represented "some of the largest American companies" in Germany.

Company Statement

The company announcement reviewed Rieber's report to the board as follows:

"He stated that he had been handling the foreign business of the Texas Corporation for many years and that in the course of business he had contracted in Germany for a number of tank vessels, several of which were delivered before the war, and two of which, with the permission of the British Government, were delivered after war was declared.

"Mr. Rieber stated that Texas Corporation had not a cent of permanent investment in Germany and that the company has had no such investment there for more than twenty years.

Claim No Deliveries

"He also stated that Texas Corporation and its subsidiaries had not delivered a single barrel of oil, either directly or indirectly, to the German Government since before the present war started.

"Mr. Rieber said that in the course of certain business transactions in Germany he met Dr. Westrick and had retained him on occasions for the Texas Corporation because of his reputation as an able and responsible lawyer; that recently when Dr. Westrick visited the United States Mr. Rieber had extended to him business courtesies and loaned him a Texas company car.

"Dr. Westrick, rather than make use of the company car, stated he would prefer to have one of his own. Because of exchange restrictions, Mr. Rieber arranged for the advance of the money to buy a car, which money was to be thereafter repaid to the Texas company.

Saw Him Three Times

"Mr. Rieber stated he had seen Dr. Westrick on three occasions, that he had never been in his Scarsdale residence, that he had not seen him since the eleventh day of June and that so far as he, Mr. Rieber, knew, Dr. Westrick was here only in the interest of promoting business between the 30.24-4313

United States and Germany and had in the furtherance of that end seen many prominent business and professional men in this country.

"As for himself, Mr. Rieber stated that this country has honored him with its citizenship and that under no circumstances could he be identified with, or sympathetic to, any kind of un-American activity.

"He said that, while he was born a Norwegian, he had spent practically his entire life in this country, and that he had entered the employ of the Texas Corporation at the age of 22; that it was with real regret that he submitted his resignation as chairman of the board of the Texas Corporation, with which the greater part of his business career had been identified.

Felt It His Duty

"However, he said that, in view of the harm that might be done to the company by reason of the unfair and unjust criticism which had appeared recently in the press, he felt it his duty to the stockholders as well as to the organization to resign as chairman of the board of the Texas Corporation and as an executive officer of the corporation and its subsidiaries."

No successor to Rieber as named, but it was indicated that W. S. S. Rodgers, president, would take over his duties, at least temporarily.

Rieber, 58, had been associated with Texas Corporation since 1905 and was elected chairman in August, 1935.

ARMY OIL SECRET STOLEN AT BOSTON

Formulas and Samples Taken From Chemist.

BOSTON, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—A chemical laboratory reported today the theft of formulæ and samples being used in experiments for the United States Army designed to synthesize low grade oils with the properties of high grade lubricants.

Andrew J. White, president of the Universal Chemists Corporation, said that the formulæ had been taken from a steel cabinet on the fourth floor of the building, and the oil samples from an adjoining laboratory.

The laboratory also was entered two weeks ago, but nothing of importance was taken then.

Ammunition Seized On Fruit Liner

BOSTON, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Customs agents seized 900 rounds of small arms ammunition today which they said they had found in a locker in the crew's quarters of the United Fruit Company steamship Abangarez, which arrived yesterday from Guatemala.

The customs agents held three men for questioning in the suspected violation of regulations governing the international traffic in arms.

Rene De Chambrun Sails For France On Clipper

Military Attache Came Here To Speed Up Deliveries Of War Products Before Armistice

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—Count Rene de Chambrun, French military attache who came here shortly before the Franco-German armistice for "the specific task of speeding up deliveries of supplies," left for home today aboard Pan American Airways' Yankee Clipper.

A descendent of Lafayette and son-in-law of former French Premier Pierre Laval, Chambrun said he was going home to be mustered out of the army and visit his family. He said he would return here shortly with his wife, Josee. The Clipper carried twelve passengers and 1,522 pounds of mail.

Ambassador Bullitt Back From Vacation

Declines To Say Whether He Expects To Return To France

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—William C. Bullitt, Ambassador to France, tonight returned from a week's vacation in New Hampshire, and boarded a plane for Washington.

He declined to say whether he expected to return to France, and would not comment on John Cudahy, Ambassador to Belgium, who was summoned home after an interview in which Cudahy urged that the United States send relief supplies to German-occupied areas in Europe.

Cudahy is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow aboard the Dixie Clipper.

DONOVAN MISSION OVER

He Announces Completion As He Returns To Washington

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—Col. William J. Donovan, who returned recently from England, where he undertook a mission for Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, left for Washington tonight after announcing his mission has been completed following talks with Knox and President Roosevelt.

Asked if he would be available for further governmental missions, Donovan replied that the question involved a "hypothesis."

Vicomte Jacques d'Aumale Here To Take Over French Consulate

Minister In From Colombia to Succeed Fontnouvelle; Will Foster Friendship

Vicomte Jacques d'Aumale, successor to Count Charles de Perry de Fontnouvelle as French Consul General in New York, arrived yesterday aboard the Grace liner Santa Elena from Colombia, to which he was accredited as Minister from France for the last two and a half years. Named to the post temporarily, on May 27, he said his title would be Minister Plenipotentiary in charge of the Consulate General.

That designation was used for the French representative in New York during the World War, he said, but he declined to explain what his specific duties would be. Count de Fontnouvelle, before turning the office over to his successor, said that the title was used because of Vicomte d'Aumale's diplomatic rank of Minister. Vicomte d'Aumale will be a regular consul general, he added, asserting that there was no particular significance in the fact that Vicomte d'Aumale was a Minister.

The new consul general's only comment on his position was that he would foster friendly relations between the United States and France. He added cryptically: "New York is the most important city in America."

Count de Fontnouvelle, whose retirement upon reaching the sixty-year age limit was announced on May 31, said there were no other changes contemplated in the Consulate General. He plans to continue directing the Lycee Francais de New York, 3 East Ninety-fifth Street. The lycee is a Franch school which he founded several years ago.

Vicomte d'Aumale, who embarked on the Santa Elena with the Vicomtesse at Buenaventura, Colombia, on Aug. 4, said that before his last post he was Consul General in Palestine and, previously, first secretary of the French Legation in Egypt.

They have two sons in France, Christian, twenty-three years old, an officer in the French army, and Claude, twenty, a student at the University of Paris. They will stay at the Hotel Croydon, 12 East Eighty-sixth Street.

EXPERTS SURVEYED ON GOLD HOLDINGS

Kemmerer Urges Restoring Metal to Circulation.

By Associated Press.

How rich is Uncle Sam?

He holds three-quarters of all of the world's monetary gold—traditional basis of money and symbol of wealth.

Does that make him as rich as Croesus, or, as suggested by German Economics Minister Walther Funk, as poor as the boy who had won all the marbles, and so couldn't find anyone to play with?

Economists don't agree, but most American experts see the prospect of great advantages accruing to Uncle Sam from the $20,000,000,000 in glittering yellow metal in his vaults.

Of thirty economists throughout the country, asked to contribute to a symposium as to what they considered the future of gold, sixteen replied. Seven saw the future value of gold secure, seven more were inclined to agree, with important reservations, mostly suggesting it would depend upon wise management by the United States, while only two took a frankly pessimistic view of the future usefulness of gold.

As to what Uncle Sam should do to assure the advantageous use of gold, six recommended steps toward freer international trade. Two urged restoration of gold to circulation in the United States, while two opposed it.

Several said when the time was ripe the United States must co-operate to re-establish sounder currencies within the world, some mentioning a world monetary conference. Two recommended establishment of a big world bank financed with American gold. Two suggested use of gold to purchase military bases. Two mentioned continued purchases of gold as an aid to Great Britain.

Those who saw the future of gold reasonably secure included Edwin W. Kemmerer, professor of international finance at Princeton, who has served as monetary adviser to several Governments. He said:

"After the present world war, as after the last one, the world will gradually return to the gold standard, because efforts at managed paper money standards will break down. Such standards cannot be internationally maintained on a large scale, and in a democracy like the United States would soon be wrecked by politicians through the exploitation of the money issuing function for fiscal purposes, with resulting harmful inflation."

He urged maintenance by the United States of the present price of gold, restoring gold to circulation, and at a propitious time, the calling of an international conference to restore and improve the gold standard.

LONDON, AUG. 13—(TUESDAY)—(AP)—THE TIMES OF LONDON, OFTEN CLOSELY IN LINE WITH GOVERNMENT POLICY, ADVOCATED TODAY A POST-WAR RELIEF PLAN FOR EUROPE IN COOPERATION WITH THE UNITED STATES AND OTHER OVERSEAS COUNTRIES AS "THE MOST EFFECTIVE ANSWER TO THE BRITISH POLICY IS BRINGING STARVATION TO EUROPE."

IN AN EDITORIAL COMMENTING ON THE PROPOSAL OF HERBERT HOOVER OF THE UNITED STATES TO SEND FOOD TO GERMAN-OCCUPIED TERRITORIES, THE TIMES, ALONG WITH THE REST OF THE BRITISH PRESS, DECLARED THIS COULD NOT BE DONE WITHOUT PLAYING INTO GERMAN HANDS.

A BRITISH SPOKESMAN DECLARED YESTERDAY THAT THE BLOCKADE AGAINST

GERMANY AND NAZI-OCCUPIED STATES WOULD BE MAINTAINED AND HELD THAT FOOD FOR OCCUPIED LANDS DEPENDED ON "FAIR DISTRIBUTION BY GERMANY, WHICH HAS AN ABUNDANCE OF SUPPLIES."

THERE WAS NO OFFICIAL COMMENT ON THE HOOVER PROPOSAL, HOWEVER, SINCE IT HAD NOT BEEN SUBMITTED TO THE GOVERNMENT, ALTHOUGH IT WAS UNDERSTOOD THAT HUGH GIBSON, HOOVER'S REPRESENTATIVE, HAD TALKED TO BRITISH AUTHORITIES.

JH107AED

LONDON--FIRST ADD NIGHT LEAD RELIEF X X X BRITISH AUTHORITIES.

THE TIMES EXPRESSED THE BELIEF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WOULD NOT BE "EASILY MISLED BY SPECIOUS ARGUMENTS OF WELL-MEANING PROMOTERS OF SUCH SCHEMES."

AUG 12 1940

REMARKING THAT "THE UNITED STATES IS MORE OR LESS OPENLY REGARDED BY NAZI GERMANY AS A HOSTILE POWER," THE TIMES CONTENDED "NO FORM OF NEUTRAL CONTROL COULD BE DEVISED WHICH WOULD AFFORD THE SLIGHTEST GUARANTEE AGAINST ABUSE OF ANY PHILANTHROPIC ENTERPRISE."

IT SAID "THE BLOCKADE MUST REMAIN IN

NTACT" AND COMMENTED THAT "THESE NAZI-INSPIRED ATTACKS ON IT ARE A REFRESHING X X X TRIBUTE TO ITS EFFICACY."

THE NEWSPAPER ASSERTED HOWEVER "THE TIME HAS COME TO PLAN IN ADVANCE A DEFINITE POLICY FOR THE RELIEF OF EUROPE AS SOON AS HITLER'S DOWNFALL IS ACHIEVED."

BRITAIN'S ANSWER TO PROPOSALS TO SEND FOOD TO GERMAN-OCCUPIED LANDS, IT SAID, "MUST BE A DOUBLE ONE THAT IT IS HITLER WHO IS STARVING EUROPE AND THAT IT IS BRITAIN AND THOSE WHO SYMPATHIZE WITH HER CAUSE WHO ARE MAKING ACTIVE PREPARATIONS TO FEED EUROPE SO SOON AS THE PRESENT TYRANNY IS OVERTHROWN."

(EDS: SECOND PARA ABOVE READ X X X

(EDS: THIRD PARA ABOVE READ X X X MUST REMAIN INTACT" AND ETC.)

JH123AED

LONDON--FIRST ADD PRESS X X X TEST."

"WE MUST FACE AN ASSAULT THAT WILL RAPIDLY BECOME MORE INTENSE AND MORE WIDESPREAD," DECLARED THE NEWS CHORNICLE.

"WE MAY LEARN NEXT OF RAIDS ON OUR AIRDROMES AND THEN PERHAPS OF PARACHUTE LANDINGS AND ATTEMPTED INVASION. WE MAY WELL BE ON THE VERGE OF OUR GREATEST TESTING TIME."

THE HERALD WARNED: "WE MUST BE PREPARED FOR BIGGER RAIDS YET, AND THEIR EXTENSION TO OTHER PARTS OF THE COUNTRY.

"THE CALMNESS AND FORTITUDE WITH WHICH THE PEOPLE FROM THE COAST TOWNS ARE GOING ABOUT THEIR BUSINESS MUST BE AS INFURIATING TO HITLER AS ARE THE COURAGE AND CLEVERNESS OF OUR FLYING MAN.

AUG 12 1940

"WHEREVER HE MAY EXTEND HIS ATTACKS, HE WILL FIND THAT THE SAME SPIRIT PREVAILS."

THE TELEGRAPH SAID IT WAS FAIRLY EVIDENT THAT THE LONG-PLANNED OFFENSIVE ASSAULT HAD BEGUN, BUT ISSUED THIS NOTE OF WARNING:

"POSSIBLY THE GERMANS CONSIDER THE RAIDS WILL SERVE AS A CLOAK TO CONCEAL INVASION PREPARATIONS ON THE FRENCH AND OTHER OCCUPIED COASTS. BY LAUNCHING WAVES OF HUNDREDS OF BOMBERS WITH

30.24-4315

30.24-4315

FIGHTER ESCORTS THEY HOPE TO KEEP THE RAF SO BUSY THAT RECONNAISSANCE WORK WILL BE NEGLECTED.

"IN THIS THEY ARE UNLIKELY TO ACHIEVE THEIR OBJECT."

SN1217AED

AUG 12 1940

VATICAN CITY (CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)-THROUGH THE CATHOLIC CHURCH'S NETWORK OF RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS AND OFFICIAL CONTACTS THROUGHTOUT EUROPE, PRISONERS OF WAR, REFUGEES AND MISSING PERSONS GRADUALLY AREBEING LOCATED FOR TH THEIR FAMILIES AND FRIENDS.

A SPECIAL OFFICE IN VATIDAN CITY RECEIVES THE PEAS FOR HELP AND REQUESTS FOR INFORMATION ARE INCLUDED IN VATICAN RADIO BROADCASTS.

WITH COMMUNICATIONS DISRUPTED IN MANY PLACES, THE TASK IS A BIG ONE, THE CHIEF ACTIVITY IMPOSED ON THE VATICAN BY THE WAR.

ANOTHER IS THAT OF HOUSING THE DIPLOMATS OF GOVERNMENTS AT WAR WITH ITALY OR WHICH HAVE SUFFERED AT THE HANDS OF ITALY'S ALLY GERMANY.

THEY INCLUDE THE BRITISH MINISTER, THE FRENCH, POLISH AND BELGIAN AMBASSADORS. THEY SLOWLY ARE BECOMING ACCUSTOMED TO THEIR SELF-IMPRISONMENT WITHIN THE WALLS OF THIS TINY STATE.

COUNT VLADMIMIR D'ORMESSON, THE FRENCH AMBASSADOR, WHO HAD J JUST ARRIVED WHEN ITALY DECLARED WAR, IS PERMITTED TO TAKE AN AUTOMOBILE RIDE THREE AFTERNOONS A WEEK IN THE COUNTRYSIDE ORR TOTHE BEACHES OF NEARBY OSTIA AND FREGENE. POPE PIUS XII HIMSELF OBTAINED THIS CONCESSION.

THE GUEST-DIPLOMATS STROLL IN THE VATICAN GARDENS, BUT NEVER TOGETHER AND ONLY WHEN THE IS NOT TAKING HIS DAILY WALK.

FOR THE ORDINARY INHABITANTS OF VATICN CITY--SOME 700 PERSONS, HALF OF THEM ECCLESIASTIC, HALF LAYMEN--THEWAR HAS BROUGHT RATIONING OF COFFEE, SUGAR, SOAP AND GASOLINE.

AUG 12 1940

GASOLINE AT THE VATICAN NOW COSTS ABOUT 60 CENTS A GALLON. BUT EVEN SO IT IS CHEAPER THAN IN SURROUNDING ROME AND ITALY, WHERE IT COST $1.05 A GALLON.

INHABITANTS OF VATICAN CITY AND PERSONS WORKING HERE NOW MUST SHOW SPECIAQ IDENTIFICATION CARDS BEARING THEIR PHOTOGRAPHS IN ORDER TO ENTER. OUTSIDERS MAY ENTER ONLY AFTER OBTAINING A PASS FROM SPECIAL OFFICES AT THE & THREE GATES.

THESE REGULATIONS ARE ALL DESIGNED TO SAFEGUARD VATICAN NEUTRALITY. FOR THE SAME REASON, DISCUSSION OF THE WAR OR POLITICS HAS BEEN FORBIDDEN AND PERSONS MAY REMAIN IN THE BAR AND GROCERY STORE ONLY LONG ENOUGH TO MAKE A PURCHASE OR TAKE A DRINK.

THE STAFF OF L'OSSERVATORE ROMANO, VATICAN NEWSPAPER, IS ASKED BY THE MANAGEMENT TO VISIT THE BAR ONLY DURING THE QUARTER-HOUR BETWEEN 11 AND 11:15 A.M.

MASSOCKS MLR M 1901 VATICAN

PARIS-(CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIAFED PRESS)--THE MAGNIFICENT PARIS OPERA HOUSE--EUROPE'S LARGEST--IS GETTING READY TO REOPEN WITH THE GERMAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION AS ITS PATRON.

ALL THAT DIRECTOR LOUIS LALEY NEEDS ARE MUSICIANS. ONLY ABOUT TEN OF THE 100 WHO FORMED PART OF THE COMPANY BEFORE THE WAR ARE AT HAND.

DANCING CLASSES UNDER ZAMBELLI, SUZANNE MANTE AND SERGE LIFAR ALREADY ARE UNDER WAY AGAIN AND ELECTRICIANS AND STAGEHANDS HAVE PREPARED BACKSTAGE.

SOON AFTER THE GERMANS ENTERED PARIS, FIREMEN REMOVED THE SANDBAGS PILED ARQUND THE THREE-ACRE BUILING, ONE OF THE LANDMARKS OF PARIS.

SEVERAL VAUDEVILLE AND MUSICAL COMEDY THEATERS HAVE REOPENED, INCLUDING THE PIGALLE AND THE ERSTWHILE ALCAZAR, NOW THE PALACE.

LE TYROL, A CHAMPS ELYSEE MUSIC HALL WHICH SPECIALIZED IN GERMAN MUSIC AND DANCERS, ALSO HAS A NEW SHOW. IT RAN FOR SOME TIME AFTER THE WAR BEGAN WITH A NOTICE: "THIS IS FRENCH-OWNED."

AT THE MOVIES, THE FRENCH SEE OLD FILMS REVIVED AND, AT TWO NEWSREEL THEATERS, WATCH IN SILENCE GERMAN PICTURES OF THE O OCCUPATION OFPARIS.

NOT ONE AMERICAN-MADE MOVIE IS BILLED.

----OKINS MLR 185 ----

AUG 12 1940

VALLETTA, MALTA, AUG. 13-(TUESDAY)-ENEMY AIRCRAFT APPROACHED THIS BR BRITISH MEDITERRANEAN BASE MONDAY AFTERNOON BUT TURNED BACK WITHOUT DROPPING BOMBS. ----

AUG 12 1940

WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND, AUG. 12-AP-A RULING OF THE NEW ZEALAND COURT OF ARBITRATION EFFECTIVE TODAY INCREASED ALL WAGES FIXED BY ITS VARIOUS AWARDS BY FIVE PER CENT ANNUALLY TO MEET HIGHER COSTS OF LIVING. ----

AUG 12 1940

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA, AUG. 12-AP-AN AUTHORITATIVE SOURCE S SAID TODAY SEPT. 14 HAD BEEN SELEDTED AS THE DATE FOR A GENERAL ELECTION IN AUSTRALIA. ----

BERLIN, AUG 12-(AP VIA RADIO)-THE FORMER PRESS ATTACHE OF THE RUMANIAN LEGATION IN ROME, ALEXANDER GREGORIAN, HAS BEEN SENTENCED IN ABSENTIA TO FIVE YEARS IMPRISONMENT FOR HIGH TREASON, THE GERMAN WIRELESS REPORTED TODAY IN A BUCHAREST DISPATCH.

GREGORIAN, WHO HAS NOT BEEN APPREHENDED, WAS ACCUSED OF COMMUNICATING REPORTS OF HIS LEGATION TO "NONCOMPETENT ADDRESSES."

AUG 12 1940

ME3 01 SAED

LONDON, AUG 12-(AP)-A BRITISH TRAWLER SHOT DOWN ONE GERMAN DIVE-BOMBER YESTERDAY AND SO BADLY DAMAGED ANOTHER IT MAY ALSO HAVE BEEN LOST, THE ADMIRALTY ANNOUNCED TODAY.

THE ADMIRALTY COMMUNIQUE SAID:

DURING AN ACTION WITH GERMAN AIRCRAFT YESTERDAY, H.M.TRAWLER EDWARDIAN SHOT DOWN ONE ENEMY DIVE-BOMBER INTO THE SEA AND SO DAMAGED ANOTHER THAT IT IS UNLIKELY TO HAVE REGAINED ITS BASE.

H.M.TRAWLER EDWARDIAN SUFFERED A FEW CASUALTIES IN THIS ACTION. THE NEXT OF KIN HAVE BEEN INFORMED.

AUG 12 1940

SW1136AED

LONDON, AUG. 12-(AP)-ROYAL AIR FORCE ATTACKS ON AIR FIELDS AND OIL PLANTS IN FRANCE AND GERMANY WERE REPORTED TONIGHT BY THE AIR MINISTRY.

IT ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THREE BRITISH BOMBERS WERE LOST IN THE OPERATIONS.

THE AIRPORT ON THE GERMAN-OCCUPIED ISLAND OF GUERNSEY IN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL OFF THE FRENCH COAST WAS BOMBED AGAIN YESTERDAY, THE AIR MINISTRY COMMUNIQUE SAID.

WR340PED AUG 12 1940

NEW YORK, AUG 12-(AP)-THE GERMAN WIRELESS, QUOTING THE FRENCH NEWSPAPER, PARIS-SOIR, SAID TODAY THAT GERMAN AUTHORITIES IN OCCUPIED FRANCE HAD PLACED "WHOLE CONTINGENTS OF FRENCH WAR PRISONERS AT THE DISPOSAL OF FRENCH FARMERS" AND WERE PREDICTING A RECORD HARVEST.

THE GERMAN BROADCAST WAS HEARD HERE BY CBS.

ME917AED AUG 12 1940

NEW YORK, AUG 12-(AP)-THE ITALIAN RADIO, IN A BROADCAST HEARD BY NBC, DENIED TONIGHT BRITISH NEWS AGENCY REPORTS OF CLASHES BETWEEN ITALIAN FORCES AND ALBANIANS AND ASSERTED THE TWO PEOPLES WERE "AS ONE UNDER KING VITTORIO EMANUELE III."

EXCHANGE TELEGRAPH ON BOTH SUNDAY AND MONDAY REPORTED CLASHES BETWEEN ITALIAN TROOPS AND THE SUBJECT ALBANIANS. IT SAID ITALIANS SUFFERED 100 CASUALTIES AND BURNED THREE VILLAGES WHEN ALBANIANS RESISTED CONSCRIPTION, AND THAT THE DISORDERS WERE SPREADING AS ITALY SOUGHT TO REQUISITION ALBANIAN FOODS AND LIVESTOCK FOR THE ARMY.

SN559PED AUG 12 1940

WITH AIR ATTACKS

BY DEVON FRANCIS

ASSOCIATED PRESS AVIATION EDITOR

NEW YORK, AUG 12--GERMANY EVIDENTLY HAS LAUNCHED IN EARNEST A CAMPAIGN TO WEAR DOWN OR SOFTEN BRITISH RESISTANCE TO BOMBING ATTACKS, AND ONE OF ITS PRIMARY OBJECTS IS TO DESTROY THE ROYAL AIR FORCE.

ONE OF THE CREDOS OF NAZI AIR WAR IS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF DEFINITE AIR SUPERIORITY BEFORE ANY OTHER MOVES IN A CLOSELY-INTEGRATED ATTACK ARE MADE.

FIELD MARSHAL GOERING'S AIR FORCE HAD SUPERIORITY IN POLAND IN THE BEGINNING. IT QUICKLY ASSURED ITSELF SUPERIORITY IN NORWAY BY SEIZING MOST OF THE AVAILABLE AIRDROMES AGAINST THEIR USE BY AN ENEMY NOT EQUIPPED WITH LONG-RANGE FIGHTER PLANES. AUG 12 1940

IT ENJOYED SUPERIORITY IN THE ATTACK THROUGH THE LOW COUNTRIES, AND ONLY SACRIFICED IT ON A LOCAL FRONT DURING THE DUNKIRK EVACUATION.

30.24-4317

30.24-4317

IN THE CONSTANT HAMMERING WHICH THE GERMANS ARE DELIVERING THE BRITISH FROM THE AIR, ONE FACT MUST BE REMEMBERED--THEY HAVE BEEN PREPARED SINCE THE START OF THE WAR TO SACRIFICE AIRMEN AND PLANES. THEY HAVE PRODUCED BOTH IN TREMENDOUS VOLUME.

THE AIR ATTACK ON BRITAIN IS AKIN TO THE STORMING OF A FORT BY SUCCESSIVE WAVES OF INFANTRYMEN WHO ARE CONSIDERED EXPENDABLE. SHOOTING DOWN 60 OR 100 OR 300 ENEMY PLANES MEANS LITTLE TO BRITISH DEFENSE IN TERMS OF DESTROYING GERMAN EQUIPMENT AND DISCOURAGING THE ATTACK.

PROBABLY SECONDARY IN PURPOSE ARE THE GERMAN ATTACKS ON SHIPPING, ON UNITS OF THE BRITISH FLEET AND ON MUNITIONS-MAKING CENTERS.

HOW WELL EQUIPPED THE BRITISH ARE TO WITHSTAND THOSE WEARING-DOWN AIR ATTACKS IS NOT KNOWN. IT IS KNOWN, HOWEVER, THAT THEY WERE HARD-PRESSED IN THE AIR DURING THE BATTLE OF FLANDERS. BRITISH PILOTS, DISPATCHES SAID, FLEW AND FOUGHT TO THE POINT OF EXHAUSTION.

IN AMERICAN MILITARY CIRCLES LAST WEEK WORD WAS CIRCULATED THAT UP TO THAT MOMENT THE GERMANS HAD USED ONLY ONE AND ONE-HALF "REGIMENTS" OF COMBAT PLANES OUT OF A TOTAL OF THREE AND ONE-HALF AVAILABLE. THE SQUADRONS ACTUALLY EMPLOYED HAD BEEN KEPT UP TO FULL STRENGTH BY READY REPLACEMENTS OF MEN AND MATERIAL.

AUG 12 1940

JUST HOW MANY PLANES GERMANY HAS AVAILABLE FOR THE BLITZKRIEG ON BRITAIN IS SOMEWHAT IMMATERIAL. FOR ALL PRACTICAL PURPOSES IT HAS AN UNLIMITED SUPPLY OF PILOTS AND PLANES. ITS FLYING SCHOOLS AND AIRCRAFT FACTORIES WERE ESTABLISHED PRECISELY TO ATTAIN THAT END. BOTH THE SCHOOLS AND THE FACTORIES REPEATEDLY HAVE BEEN REPORTED TO HAVE A FANTASTICALLY HIGH "REPLACEMENT VALUE."

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN ONCE AGAIN EMPHASIZES HOW STUDIOUSLY GERMANY IS GAMBLING ON AIR POWER TO WIN THE WAR. OTHER ARMS WILL BE USED, BUT AIR POWER, AND AIR SUPERIORITY, IS THE ACE CARD WHICH IS BEING PLAYED FACE-UP IN BERLIN.

NEWS

NEW YORK, AUG 12-(AP)-NOEL COWARD, BRITISH PLAYWRIGHT AND ACTOR, EXPRESSED OPPOSITION TODAY TO HERBERT HOOVER'S PROPOSAL THAT THE UNITED STATES SEND PART OF ITS FOOD SURPLUS INTO GERMAN-CONQUERED COUNTRIES.

AUG 12 1940

SUCH AID, COWARD SAID IN AN INTERVIEW BEFORE BOARDING A TRAIN FOR CALIFORNIA, WOULD BENEFIT THE GERMANS AND ENABLE THEM TO CONTINUE THE WAR LONGER.

EXCEPT TO SAY THAT "SOMETIMES PEOPLE MAKE ATTACKS THROUGH MISINFORMATION," HE DECLINED COMMENT ON THE DISCUSSION IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS LAST WEEK AS TO WHY HE AND GRACIE FIELDS WERE ALLOWED TO GO TO THE UNITED STATES.

COWARD SAID THAT DURING HIS STAY IN THIS COUNTRY HE HAD SEEN PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND LORD LOTHIAN, BRITISH AMBASSADOR.

(DURING THE QUESTIONING IN COMMONS AS TO WHETHER COWARD WAS ON AN OFFICIAL MISSION, HAROLD NICOLSON, PARLIAMENTARY SECRETARY TO THE MINISTRY OF INFORMATION REPLIED THAT THE PLAYWRIGHT HAD "CONTACTS WITH CERTAIN SECTIONS OF AMERICAN OPINION WHICH ARE VERY DIFFICULT TO REACH.")

SN1137PED

LONDON,AUG 12-(AP)-A GREEN VAPOR "SOS" APPARENTLY USED BY NAZI FLIERS FORCED DOWN AT SEA WAS DESCRIBED TODAY IN A BROADCAST BY A BRITISH PILOT.

HE SAID THE VAPOR WAS VISABLE FOR FIVE MILES AND ENABLED OTHER GERMAN AIRMEN TO LOCATE THOSE FORCED DOWN.

SN1134PED

AUG 12 1940

NEW YORK, AUG 12-(AP)-THE GERMAN WIRELESS, QUOTING THE [illegible] NEWSPAPER, PARIS-SOIR, SAID TODAY THAT GERMAN AUTHORITIES IN OCCUPIED FRANCE HAD PLACED "WHOLE CONTINGENTS OF FRENCH WAR PRISONERS AT THE DISPOSAL OF FRENCH FARMERS" AND WERE PREDICTING A RECORD HARVEST.

THE GERMAN BROADCAST WAS HEARD HERE BY CBS.

ME917AED

WASHINGTON,AUG.12-(AP)-THE HOUSE MILITARY COMMITTEE UNANIMOUSLY APPROVED TODAY LEGISLATION EMPOWERING THE PRESIDENT TO CALL OUT THE NATIONAL GUARD AND ARMY RESERVES FOR A YEAR OF DUTY ANYWHERE IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE, AMERICAN POSSESSIONS AND PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

THE COMMITTEE ACTED ON LEGISLATION WHICH ALREADY HAD BEEN OVERWHELMINGLY APPROVED BY THE SENATE BUT STRUCK OUT SECTIONS WHICH WOULD MAKE IT AN UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICE FOR AN EMPLOYER TO FAIL TO REEMPLOY A MAN AFTER HIS PERIOD OF SERVICE.

AUG 12 1940

AJ617PESNM95

NEW YORK,AUG 12-(AP)-THE BRITISH LINER SCYTHIA DOCKED TODAY WITH 162 BRITISH CHILD REFUGEES AND 612 OTHER PASSENGERS, 75 OF THEM GERMAN REFUGEES.

AMONG THE PASSENGERS WAS ALEXANDER KERENSKY, RUSSIAN EMIGRE AUTHOR-LECTURER, AND HIS WIFE. KERENSKY SAID HE LOST ALL HIS DOCUMENTS AND POSSESSIONS IN FLEEING PARIS."

SN1042PED

AUG 12 1940

(SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF TUESDAY, AUG.13)

- - -

SHOW BUSINESS BOOMS

IN WAR TIME LONDON

- - -

SOME MUSICALS PLAY TWO A NIGHT. (350)

(ADVANCE) LONDON, AUG.12-(AP)-TEN MUSICAL SHOWS--ALL NOISY--ARE SETTING LONDON'S THEATRICAL PACE TO THE CHEERS OF ARMY, NAVY AND AIRFORCE PLAYGOERS WHO, APPARENTLY, LIKE ANY SHOW WITHOUT OVERTONES FROM DUNKERQUE OR NARVIK.

EVEN THE REVIVED WORLD-WAR MUSICAL "CHU CHIN CHOW" IS DOING A STEADY BUSINESS. SOME OF THE NEW ONES ARE PLAYING TWO A NIGHT.

CLOSE BEHIND ARE FIFTEEN STRAIGHT PLAYS, INCLUDING TWO BY AMERICANS--CLARE BOOTHE'S "MARGIN FOR ERROR" AND ROBERT ARDERY'S "THUNDER ROCK."

MANAGERS SAY THEIR HOUSES ARE ABOUT THE SAME AS IN PEACETIME ALTHOUGH THE PUBLIC'S PREFERENCE FOR MUSICALS MAKES ANYTHING WITH A MELODY A SELLOUT.

THEY MAKE ONLY A SECONDARY BID, HOWEVER, FOR THE VAST AUDIENCE OF SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND AIRMEN ON 48-HOUR LEAVE WHO THRONG THE MUSICALS, VAUDEVILLE THEATERS AND LONDON'S LONE BURLESQUE.

AUG 12 1940

MOST POPULAR ARE "BLACK AND BLUE" WITH THE AMERICAN COMEDIAN, VIC OLIVER, WHO PATTERS LIKE JOE COOK: "ME AND MY GIRL" WHICH STARTED 1,600 PERFORMANCES AGO AND STILL GETS AUDIENCES TO SHOUT "OI!" WITH LUPINO LANE AS HE FINISHES THE LAMBETH WALK: AND "NEW FACES"--

...FAST AND

30.24-4319

30.24-4319

FUNNY IN A VEIN REMINISCENT OF THE GARRICK GAITIES OF THE '20'S.

ITS SONG HIT--"A NIGHTINGALE SANG IN BERKELEY SQUARE"--IS THE CURRENT FAVORITE OF RADIO TENORS AND SINGING BARMAIDS.

(MORE)..PS-KA1205AED

SHAKESPEARE IS HOLDING HIS OWN WITH "A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM" AND GEORGE BERNARD SHAW WITH "THE DEVIL'S DISCIPLE" IN WHICH ROBERT DONAT THROBS FEMALE HEARTS.

AUG 12 1940

MILTON ROSMER AS GENERAL "GENTLEMAN JOHNNY" BURGOYNE STEALS ONE SCENE WITH A SHAVIAN LINE CHEERED BY OFFICERS AND MEN--"A BRITISH SOLDIER CAN STAND UP TO ANYTHING EXCEPT HIS OWN WAR OFFICE."

SOME CRITICS SAY MISS BOOTHE'S FABLE IS WEAK STUFF TO A NATION FACED WITH SUDDEN DEATH. OTHERS CALL IT BETTER-THAN-AVERAGE MELODRAMA.

AUG 14 1940

"THUNDER ROCK," WITH ITS EMBITTERED CORRESPONDENT PROTAGONIST WOOED BACK TO WORLD AFFAIRS FROM LIGHTHOUSE ISOLATION BY A CAST OF GHOSTS, IS A WORDY DISPLAY OF WHAT EVERY ENGLISHMAN FEELS EVERY AMERICAN SHOULD THINK ABOUT CURRENT EVENTS. WHEN "THUNDER ROCK" WAS PRESENTED ON BROADWAY A FEW SEASONS AGO IT CLOSED QUICKLY, BUT AT THAT TIME THE EUROPEAN WAR, WHICH THE DRAMA CONTEMPLATES, WAS NOT YET FRONT PAGE NEWS. NOW, WITH ITS LONDON SUCCESS THERE IS TALK OF IT BEING REVIVED IN THE NEW YORK THEATER.

(END SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE ADVANCE FOR AMS OF TUESDAY, AUG. 13, SENT AUG. 11.)

KA1215AED

WASHINGTON,AUG. 12-(AP)-THE STATE DEPARTMENT IS FACING THE STRANGE LIKELIHOOD OF HAVING MORE OF ITS EUROPEAN AMBASSADORS IN THE UNITED STATES THAN AT THEIR POSTS.

WITH SEVERAL DIPLOMATS ALREADY HERE AND OTHERS ON THEIR WAY HOME, ONLY FOUR AMERICAN AMBASSADORS REMAIN IN THE HARRIED CAPITALS ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

AUG 14 1940

ONE OF THESE---JOSEPH KENNEDY IN LONDON---IS AT THE SEAT OF A GOVERNMENT AT WAR. CHARGES D'AFFAIRES---LESSER DIPLOMATS WITHOUT THE FULL STANDING OF AN AMBASSADOR---ARE HANDLING AMERICAN INTERESTS IN GERMANY AND FRANCE.

AUG 19 1940

OTHER AMBASSADORS REMAINING AT THEIR "LISTENING POSTS" IN EUROPE ARE ALEXANDER W.WEDDELL IN SPAIN AND JOHN VAN A.MAC MURRAY IN TURKEY. LAURENCE A.STEINHARDT IS MAKING HIS WAY BACK TO MOSCOW.

THE UNITED STATES STILL HAS MINISTERS IN SEVERAL OF THE SMALLER COUNTRIES, MOSTLY IN SOUTHEAST EUROPE AND THE NEAR EAST.

IT IS ASSUMED THAT WILLIAM PHILLIPS, NOW AT HOME ON LEAVE, WILL RETURN TO ROME; BUT FOR MANY ANOTHER DIPLOMAT THERE SEEMED TO BE NO PLACE LEFT IN THE DRASTICALLY RE-ORDERED EUROPE OF TODAY.

PHILLIPS LANDED IN NEW YORK SATURDAY FROM THE EXCALIBUR, ALONG WITH ANTHONY J.DREXEL BIDDLE JR., WHO HAD DODGED BOMBS TO MAKE HIS WAY OUT OF BELEAGUERED POLAND, AND GEORGE A.GORDON, WHO HAD BEEN MINISTER TO THE NETHERLANDS WHEN THE LOWLANDS WERE INVADED.

JOHN CUDAHY, AMBASSADOR TO BELGIUM, HAS LEFT LONDON FOR HOME UNDER ORDERS FROM PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT. HE IS TO REPORT ON AN INTERVIEW ON SUPPLYING FOOD TO THE BELGIANS---AN INTERVIEW FOR WHICH THE STATE DEPARTMENT REPRIMANDED HIM.

CUDAHY, BIDDLE AND GORDON CAN NO LONGER FUNCTION IN THE COUNTRIES TO WHICH THEY WERE ACCREDITED ALTHOUGH BIDDLE FOR SOME TIME HAS BEEN ATTACHED TO THE POLISH GOVERNMENT IN EXILE.

AMONG OTHERS ON THEIR WAY HOME OR PREPARING TO COME ARE MRS.FLORENCE J.HARRIMAN, MINISTER TO NORWAY, WHO HAS BEEN IN SWEDEN SINCE

GERMANY INVADED NORWAY; JOHN C.WILEY, MINISTER TO ESTONIA AND LATVIA, WHICH HAVE BEEN ABSORBED BY SOVIET RUSSIA, AND OWEN J.C. NOREM, MINISTER TO LITHUANIA, A THIRD BALTIC COUNTRY NOW A PART OF RUSSIA.

WILLIAM C.BULLITT, AMBASSADOR TO FRANCE, IS ALREADY HERE, AND HIS RETURN TO FRANCE IS UNCERTAIN. RAY ATHERTON, MINISTER TO DENMARK, ANOTHER GERMAN-OCCUPIED COUNTRY, RETURNED HOME SOME TIME AGO AND WAS PUT IN TEMPORARY CHARGE OF THE EUROPEAN DIVISION OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

RZ2AES

INVASION BY GERMANS REPORTED TO BE NEAR

London Claims 57 Enemy Planes Have Been Felled—Berlin Puts R. A. F. Losses at 69 on Fourth Big Day

LONDON, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—German planes smashed at England today by the thundering hundreds in the gathering fury of assault without parallel, attempting either to bomb out a final path for quick invasion or to throw up in the air a perpetual starvation blockade of these stubborn islands.

It was the third successive day of unending attack and, adding the 400 to 800 raiders that appeared last Thursday in a bloody overture to what has come since, it raised to a total of about 2,100 the number of German planes that have struck in the four days of big scale fighting.

This time between 400 and 600 Nazi craft—bombers and fighters—loosed their projectiles of death, pounding particularly across the eighty-mile defense corner between the estuary of the Thames—which leads to London—and the Sussex-Hampshire coast, and striking along a 200-mile stretch of the channel.

57 Nazi Planes Destroyed.

Fifty-seven German planes were said officially to have been shot down today in what was apparently the advance guard of Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg. The Air Ministry acknowledged that nine British fighters had been lost.

Southampton was bombed this evening and several fires were started. Several R. A. F. airdromes in southeast England were attacked and a number of casualties caused at one of these, "including some fatal injuries." The communique follows:

"In the course of further enemy attacks this evening bombs were dropped on Southampton. Several fires broke out, but these were soon extinguished. Very few casualties were caused, though these included fatal injuries.

"Bombs were also dropped in the Isle of Wight and in country districts of Berkshire and Wiltshire. No casualties are reported from either of these areas.

"Several R. A. F. airdromes in southeast England were attacked and at one of these a number of casualties was caused, including some fatal injuries.

"Further reports show that fifty-seven enemy aircraft have been destroyed today, fifty-four by fighters and three by anti-aircraft fire. Nine of our fighters have been lost, but two of the pilots are reported safe."

[Berlin claimed that the R. A. F. had been "driven out of the skies," taunted British flyers with not "coming out to fight" and declared that the great sea bases in the south of England had been so pounded that the Royal Navy could not operate in the channel. Berlin put the British losses at sixty-nine.]

The Air Ministry also acknowledged that four British fighters had been downed and that twelve Royal Air Force bombers had failed to return from raids on the continent. In striking back across the channel last night, British bombers attacked seventeen German air bases, the seaplane base at Borkum and the Gotha airplane factory in raids which extended through northwest Germany, France and Holland.

Great Combat Fought in the Clouds.

Late today a swarm of German raiders returned to the attack, fighting a large-scale combat with defending planes behind low-hanging clouds. The thunder of scores of motors and the crashes of several planes told the story to ground observers, although the clouds hid most of the fighting.

At one southwest port early this evening, a flaming fighter spiraled into the sea; at a village six miles away, a German bomber crashed, with two dead and one captured.

30.24-4321

30.24-4321

Air raid warnings were in effect over a wide area, embracing inland gunnery stations—one of them within half a mile of where a big Dornier bomber crashed this morning with bomb racks still half full.

These mobile batteries and troop concentrations are scattered from coast to several miles inland. On the roads near by, new type barricades, designed to block invaders and yet to permit swift movement of defending troops, are being erected.

AUG 14 1940

British Account Is Guarded.

The official British account of today's raids was guarded It did, however, concede "a few casualties, some fatal."

The extent of today's mass employment of raiding planes was pointed up by one story which said that Hurricane fighters, trying to stem the invasion over the Sussex coast had engaged fifty bombers—Dorniers, Heinkels and Junkers —and that "a long way behind were fifty Messerschmitt fighters, flying at 15,000 feet."

At least one Junkers was shot down. "Probably" destroyed were listed: four more Junkers, two Dorniers and two fighters.

Townspeople of one southwestern town stood in the streets to watch R. A. F. planes fight at least fifty raiders in a cloudy sky. Six Germans were reported destroyed and the rest scattered.

Battle Not Yet Blitzkrieg Force.

Despite the hundreds of planes which the Germans used today and the "zero hour" predictions from the Continent, some British experts said they didn't believe that the battle yet had reached blitzkrieg force.

Germany, they asserted, can afford to send a thousand planes a day against England in an attempt to smash aerial resistance. They speculated, too, on the possibility that the Reich may choose to maintain an aerial blockade of England to bring her to her knees before winter, rather than a frontal assault.

The aeronautical correspondent of Reuters, the British news agency, said that such a blockade was "a weapon ever more deadly than the submarines with which Germany nearly brought off the (starvation) attempt in 1917."

The authorized accounts of today's engagements stressed the damage done by the British Spitfire and Hurricane fighter defenders.

One squadron of Spitfires, it was stated, chased a large formation of Dornier bombers across the channel toward France and damaged at least five. Another Spitfire group engaged more than thirty Dorniers —five miles above the Kentish coast.

A British flying officer was declared to have attacked four German bombers, "one after the other, silencing the rear gunner in two of them and seeing thick clouds of smoke pouring from a third as it dived crippled toward the sea."

Cannon Fire Not Confirmed.

Over the Thames Estuary, the waterway to London, two dozen Dorniers, flying in tight wedge formation, were attacked by a group of Spitfires. The official account said that a sergeant pilot, who already had shot down eight German planes, "saw the rear gunner of a bomber he had attacked jump out by parachute." The plane fell toward the water.

Reports from one southwest coast town said at least six German planes were shot down off two points in that area.

Speedboats sent out to search for crews of the downed planes returned with two airmen, who were taken to a police station.

The German planes were forced away before they had a chance to drop any bombs on land. The resulting fight high in the clouds could be heard plainly in the streets of this town.

Railwaymen who helped a German pilot out of a plane shot down in a stubble field in southeast England took a novel means to prevent his escape. They took off his shoes and socks. Barefooted, the pilot didn't budge.

Ominous undertones to the day of aerial struggle were continued reports, trickling belatedly through the censor, of the reported shelling by long-range cannon yesterday of one southeast coastal town. Householders were unanimous in their belief that shells, not bombs, caused damage to houses. However, authorities said there was no confirmation "at all" of the reported cannonade.

A final check-up of yesterday's air battles over the British coast showed sixty-two German planes downed—thirty-six fighters and twenty-six bombers—an Air Ministry spokesman said. The loss of twelve British planes previously had been admitted. (The German tally acknowledged only twenty four losses and claimed the destruction of eighty-nine British planes.)

Germans Lose Many Planes.

A spokesman, enumerating the British bag, said:

Eight Junkers 88s, 6 Junkers 87s, 3 Dornier 215s, 2 Dorner 17s, 1 Messerschmitt 110s, 24 Messerschmitt 109s, 1 Heinkel 113 and 7 others, brought down by anti-aircraft fire, which have not been definitely identified.

Germany also lost more than 100 trained airmen in the fighting yesterday and "only twelve of our own pilots did not return," the Air Ministry news service asserted.

The censored British press warned the public that the long-threatened German blitzkrieg had now been launched and that the battle of Britain was finally on, to be followed next by an attempt at actual invasion.

As fast as the Germans came, British Spitfire and Hurricane fighters rose to meet them. Most of the battles were fought above the clouds.

Streets of southeastern towns were reported to be strewn with spent machine-gun bullets from battles raging high overhead.

First reports listed ten known dead as a result of the morning's bombings and several houses demolished. Soldiers and civilians alike were dying under the hail of tons of bombs.

Apparently the Germans were putting their best pilots into the mass raids, as captured airmen seemed better trained, more experienced and physically superior to those taken previously. Their ages ranged from about 22 to 24 years. The survivors of one Nazi warplane downed today included a young count.

Guns Across the Channel.

Hector C. Bywater, the noted British naval expert, discussed the possible German use of guns across the channel in today's London News Chronicle, declaring that aerial spotting would be necessary for accurate firing at such a distance.

[It is only twenty-two miles from Calais to Dover, and many guns can shoot that distance. The Germans have repeatedly claimed to have weapons capable of shooting five times that distance. Long-range, cross-channel bombardment has been considered a definite possibility ever since the Germans first envisioned an attack on Britain. Their famous long-range bombardment of Paris during the world war from the forest of Coucy was from a distance of seventy-six miles. London is about ninety miles from possible emplacements on the Continent.]

Channel Fire May Be Two-way.

Referring to spotting, Mr. Brewster said:

"That can only be done by aircraft. . . . The Germans may and certainly have mounted long-range guns between Calais and Boulogne, but they will be simply shooting into the blue unless they have effective spotters aloft, and we may be confident these spotters will have a rough time from the R. A. F.

"Presuming that the Germans are using their ordinary naval guns, we may take it that the heaviest is the fifteen-inch, whose shell weighs nearly a ton. . . .

"It will not be long—in fact it may have happened—before our aircraft spot the positions of these new German gun emplacements and make things warm for the crews, and possibly do great damage to the guns themselves. Again, we have guns which are capable of replying in kind, and it would be surprising if the naval and military authorities are not already taking steps to deal with what is merely a nuisance."

'The Great Test' Is Faced.

"The battle of Britain is on," declared the banner-line of the London Daily Express, and the Daily Mail echoed it with: "Blitzkrieg On—R. A. F. Face the Great Test."

"We must be prepared for bigger raids yet," said the Laborite London Daily Herald, "and their extension to other parts of the country. The calmness and fortitude with which the people from the coast towns are going about their business must be as infuriating to Hitler as are the courage and cleverness of our flying men."

The London News Chronicle said: "We may learn next of raids on our airdromes and then perhaps of parachute landings and attempted invasion. We may well be on the verge of our greatest testing time."

Yesterday's mass raids, aimed all over the country but directed chiefly at Portsmouth, Southampton and Dover, were followed up by thrusts through the dark hours of this morning which inflicted a number of casualties in southwest England and Wales.

Hitler's warplanes pressed their attacks by moonlight also in the southeast, Northeast and Northwest coastal districts of England.

Gunfire from ground batteries repeatedly drove off raiders appearing over a wide area of Wales early today. Bombs dropping on a coastal town caused a number of casualties and damaged houses.

In the southwest coastal area bombs crashed on two streets in a thickly populated district. Explosions demolished some houses, started a fire and caused several casualties.

Raiders crossing the coast at a great height in the southeast dropped six bombs which shook houses for a considerable distance. Fighters were after them as they sped away.

Hundreds Swarm to Attack.

DOVER, England, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Hundreds of German planes swept across the cloud-blanketed channel today and were met by swarms of waiting British fighters who engaged them in savage combat as they smashed at England's southeast coast for a third successive day of massed raids.

At least four planes in the first wave of raiders were shot down and three others are believed to have plunged into the sea.

At one point more than 100 German aircraft, including thirty-five Dornier bombers and a formation of Messerschmitt fighters, roared across the coast, partly obscured by the channel haze.

Fifty German planes launched an attack at another point, while at other places along the coast observers said the raiders came over in waves every two or three minutes.

AUG 14 1940

Raiders Masked by Clouds.

Taking advantage of a low ceiling of clouds, a large formation of raiders flew in and raked the balloon barrage with machine-gun fire and light cannon.

Two of the balloons were seen to fall.

For half an hour the drone of airplane motors was heard above the clouds, accompanied by the sound of machine guns and the heavier roar of cannon. Some of the bullets struck the streets along the water front.

Numbers of planes could be heard overhead for half an hour or more before the raid started.

The battle above the clouds apparently equaled, if it did not actually exceed in extent, the predawn activity which was ushered in the past two days of violent German raids.

Observers at a listening post said that the enemy planes seemed to come over in waves every two or three minutes.

One witness said it "sounded like there were hundreds of planes in the sky at one time."

The battle high above the clouds spread to another section of the Southeast coast where waves of enemy aircraft were circling.

Spent ammuntion cases were falling to the ground in all directions.

Shot Down in Flames.

Eight Junkers bombers suddenly appeared out of the clouds pursued by British Spitfires. One bomber was brought down in this area—the first of the morning.

Another plane was accounted for a short time later—a bomber shot down in flames off another Southeast coastal town.

In one raid about fifty German bombers flew over a southeast coast town, dropping ten high explosive bombs and a number of incendiaries in a straight line across the community. Four houses, a public hall and a bus station were demolished and a number of other houses were severely damaged.

One Messerschmitt was brought down in a battle in the southeast and three others were believed to have crashed into the sea. Observers said they saw several flyers bailing out and parachuting down over the countryside.

INDUSTRIAL AREA RAIDED BY WAVES OF BOMBERS; SHIPS FIGHT IN CHANNEL

Surface Craft And Subs Beaten Off By Torpedo Boats, London Says—R. A. F. Retaliates From Jutland To Bay Of Biscay

AUG 14 1940

[By the Associated Press]

London, Wednesday, Aug. 14—Nazi warplanes returned to the attack on England this morning, the fourth day or unremitting assault, bombing in seven or eight waves the industrial Midlands and north Scotland as well as the southeastern coast.

The attack on the Midlands was the heaviest of the war for that district. Houses were hit in one Scottish town, a row of huts in another and many bombs were said to have fallen in open fields.

AUG 14 194

[By the Associated Press]

London, Aug. 13—Nazi warplanes and sizable naval units beat at England today and into tonight in the heaviest coordinated assault yet made in the battle for Britain, trying to smash out a path for the hourly threatened invasion or to throw a starvation aerial blockade about these stubborn islands.

Aloft, German bombers and fighters by the howling hundreds smashed at the Channel coast and bombed vital areas such as the great port of Southampton, where "a few casualties" and a series of fires were acknowledged by the British.

500 Nazi Planes Attack, British Say

Tonight the Air Ministry officially put the number of attacking planes at 500, and declared that sixty-nine of the invaders had been shot down—the biggest total yet destroyed in any action—against eleven British craft lost.

The Nazis raiding Southampton came in three waves, said the Air Ministry, adding:

"At one time enemy bombers and fighters were falling out of the sky at the rate of about one a minute."

Beat Off German Warships

In the English Channel itself, a force of German warships—both surface craft and submarines—was declared to have been beaten off by British motor torpedo boats in the dark hours of the morning.

Describing this battle, the Admiralty said:

"In the early hours of this morning some of our motor torpedo boats made contact with enemy light forces.

"The enemy when sighted were only about one-hunderd yards from our motor torpedo boats, which were traveling at about thirty knots. They were two small ships.

Torpedo Boat Rams Enemy

"One of our motor torpedo boats, thinking that the enemy ahead was an E-boat (motor torpedo launch) and being too close to take other action, rammed the enemy. The enemy ships were, however, larger than E-boats and this motor torpedo boat suffered some damage to her bows.

"Another of our motor torpedo boats passed between the two enemy ships and engaged them with machine-gun fire and grenades at almost point-blank range. It is considered that this fire took considerable effect. The enemy's return fire was ineffective.

"A third of our motor torpedo boats passed beyond these two enemy ships and sighted two larger vessels. These she engaged with machine-gun fire at very close range.

One Has Two Running Fights

"Later one of our motor torpedo boats had two running fights with an enemy E-boat. It was too dark to ascertain what damage was inflicted on the enemy during these fights.

"After this action some of our motor torpedo boats were attacked by a German aircraft from a height of 500 feet. A hot and accurate fire was opened by our motor torpedo boats and when last seen the aircraft was on fire and losing height rapidly."

Go Up To Meet Invaders

The British, fighting with calm ferocity which always they have shown when this seat of empire has been threatened, went up to meet the aerial offensive with everything they had.

They claimed an ever-growing number of raiders shot down—making the figure sixty-nine early tonight, against an acknowledged loss of nine defending planes.

Then, turning a moment from the crisis here at home, they announced that British flyers had successfully attacked the Germans from Jutland to the Bay of Biscay.

In this series of day and night attacks on Germany and Nazi-held territory—attacks sent home in some instances "in spite of ice and cloud"—the British conceded the loss of sixteen planes.

Nevertheless, they said, they bombed seventeen Nazi airdromes, the Nazi seaplane base at Borkum, the Nazi-held harbor at Denhelder on the Dutch coast, various docks and munitions plants.

But all of this, however destructive it may have been to Germany, was only a side issue to the great showdown here at home—the Nazis' air attacks which already are sweeping the southern coast and now threaten to extend in force to the cargo-choked west coast.

Predicts Raids On West Coast

Ronald H. Cross, Minister of Shipping, predicted an extension of Germany's aerial attacks to the cargo-choked western ports of England, but added that plans already were made to meet the possibility.

He said that all England's western ports are "pretty full and at a point where congestion may be envisaged."

Should the Nazis crack down on them, England's numerous smaller ports would be used, lighters carrying cargoes from ships too large to enter the shallower harbors, he added.

Southampton—normally about 180,000 population—was the most important city officially acknowledged to have been hit by the raiders, but bombs also fell on the Isle of Wight and on several R. A. F. airdromes in southeast England. At one of these a number of casualties were acknowledged.

It was the third successive day of unending attack and, adding the 400 to 800 raiders that appeared last Thursday in a bloody overture to what has come since, it raised to a total of about 2,000 the number of German planes that have struck in the four days of big-scale fighting.

From Thames To Sussex

This time the Germans pounded particularly across the eighty-mile defense section between the estuary of the Thames—which leads to London—and the Sussex-Hampshire coast, and striking along a 200-mile stretch of the Channel.

This broad attack upon the Channel coast, only about twenty miles from the Nazi-held French coastline, went on this evening in a screen of low clouds, which hid most of the action from observers on the ground.

But that it was a large-scale combat was made clear beyond question in the echoing roar of many motors. Now and then a plane could be seen to burst into flame and spiral into the sea, or into some anxious little backwater village near the coast.

Air-raid warnings were put into effect over a big area, including even the inland gunnery stations—one of which was within half a mile of a Nazi bomber which fell with her bomb racks still partly loaded.

Mobile batteries and strong troop concentrations were scattered about and ready from the coast to several miles inland. Modern barricades, intended to block the invader, but to permit free movement of the defenders, were thrown up along all roads.

"Few Casualties" Admitted

In midafternoon a few casualties, some fatal, were acknowledged, but it was insisted that no military damage had been accomplished by the raiders.

Civilians in one southeast coast town still were firm in the belief that cannon fire from across the Channel—not bombs—had struck their houses Monday. But officials insisted that there was no confirmation of a bombardment.

Expressions in Berlin itself, and by foreign military observers and neutral and habitually well-informed Switzerland, indicated that in these almost ceaseless German raids the curtain had been raised at last for what may be the final great act of the war, a Nazi attempt to cross the Channel and accomplish what has not been done in nearly a thousand years—an invasion in force of England.

Neutral military attaches in Switzerland predicted that the blow might fall sometime in the next seventy-two hours.

In Britain, many observers expressed belief the Blitzkrieg had already arrived.

But some informed persons, including an aeronautical expert of the British news service, Reuters, held instead that all of Germany's furious aerial activity was directed to another purpose—blockade.

They expressed the view that the Germans' grand strategy was to try to do before the coming of winter what the submarine campaign of the World War failed to do in 1917—choke England to death.

"More Deadly Weapon"

With such power in the air as the Germans now have, the Reuters expert said, they have "a weapon even more deadly than the submarines."

This possibility was published under circumstances suggesting that Britain might even welcome the showdown of invasion rather than a campaign to destroy her vital commerce.

But the weight of the evidence was for an early German attempt to cross the Channel with fighting men and dispatches from Berlin made it plain that this last great step to total war on England was accepted as obvious there.

Same Tactics Used

The Nazi tactics over England, it was pointed out, were the same as those used in Poland and western Europe—extraordinary efforts to smash railways, airports, harbors, industrial tanks; and then the order for men to march.

The Germans claimed even that some of these prerequisites to invasion had been completely fulfilled—asserting that British airmen had been driven from the skies over the vital port of Dover and that attacks on both Dover and the naval base of Portsmouth had made it almost impossible for the British fleet to operate in the Channel.

Nevertheless, there were continued reports here of heavy British defensive air operations in those areas.

Raiders' Objectives

While British informants threw no official light on the raiding Nazis' specific objectives, they clearly were seaports, airdromes and industrial plants, roughly in that order of urgency.

Bombers In Three Waves Sow Destruction On Southampton

Buildings Rock As Defenders Tangle With Enemy Above Largest English City Yet Strafed

AUG 14 194

By WILLIAM J. HUMPHREYS
Associated Press Correspondent

Southampton, Aug. 13—Three successive waves of Nazi bombers sowed destruction today on Southampton, largest city strafed by the raiders and one of the most important ports on the English Channel.

Buildings rattled with the shock of heavy explosions which took an undisclosed toll—and overhead British fighter planes tangled in fierce air fights with the flying invaders. One defense squadron alone, already credited with bringing down seven Nazi planes yesterday, smashed fourteen more today without a single loss.

One big bomb exploded squarely on an air raid shelter which held one hundred persons, and not one was injured.

"All we felt," said one, "was a slight vibration, and dust fell on us."

They had to be told that the shelter was set afire, on the outside, by the explosion. Firemen soaked the blazing exits so the occupants of the shelter could get out.

Several persons in the bomb-strewn city which has a normal population of 180,000 (now much less), told of narrow escapes from death.

One man was said to have been blown out of a building hit squarely by a bomb, and hurled twenty-five yards through what a few seconds before had been a plate glass window of another building.

He got up, apparently unhurt, and sought shelter elsewhere.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—The dispatch filed through British censorship made no mention of the number killed—if any.]

The Air Ministry said the raiders who hit here also attacked the Kentish coast to the east before sweeping across this city at the head of Southampton water, reaching in from the Channel behind the Isle of Wight.

At Southampton alone the British reported destroying twenty-two enemy planes in the furious sky fights. These were listed as nine Junkers dive bombers, five large Messerschmitt combination fighters and bombers and eight smaller Messerschmitt fighters.

30.24-4323

The Junkers bombers were reported bagged in one lightning engagement, and fell one after the other within a few minutes.

A Pole, once taken prisoner by the Russians, was credited with one of the best scores of the day's fighting, but the exact number of Nazi planes chalked up to his account was not specified. He was said to have come to England after escaping into Rumania from the Red armies who captured him in their push into Poland.

English Life Under Blitz Goes On At Normal Gait

A South Port of England, Aug. 13 (AP)—Here in this part of England, against which the central fury of the Nazi air attacks thus far has fallen, life went on today at its accustomed strolling gait.

On an average of four times a day, the sirens scream, and if the drone of planes is accompanied by anti-aircraft and machine-gun fire the people pay heed—by walking closer to the buildings.

Repairs Go On During Raids

During one of today's raids in the Dover district a correspondent found workmen continuing to repair the roof of a cottage which had been damaged yesterday. A farmer went on feeding his pigs and a small boy continued to pick green beans in his family's vegetable garden.

In a house that had not a window left the family remained at the dinner table. A newspaperman poking his head through a gaping window, apologizing at the same time for the intrusion, was told by the father of the family:

"You aren't the first one. It's a bit public not having windows, but the fresh air is nice."

(EDITORS' NOTE: THIS DISPATCH WAS PASSED THROUGH THE BRITISH CENSORSHIP AFTER MOST OF IT HAD BEEN HELD BACK 24 HOURS OR MORE. IT WAS DELAYED UNTIL AFTER BRITISH AUTHORITIES HAD INVESTIGATED AND DENIED REPORTS THAT LONG-RANGE BIG BERTHAS ACROSS THE CHANNEL FROM ENGLAND MAY HAVE BEEN SHELLING THE SOUTHERN ENGLISH COAST WHILE NAZI PLANES ALSO WERE BOMBING IT. PARTS OF THE DISPATCH STILL ARE MISSING.)

BY ROBERT E.BUNNELLE

A SOUTHEAST COAST TOWN, ENGLAND, AUG. 12--(DELAYED BY CENSOR)--(AP)--SHELLS WERE REPORTED TODAY TO HAVE FALLEN ON THE SOUTHEAST COAST OF ENGLAND, BUT THERE WAS NO OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OR CONFIRMATION.

REPORTS CAME FROM A COASTAL TOWN THAT SHELLS WERE FALLING THERE.

TWO PERSONS WERE KILLED AND EIGHT WOUNDED HERE. HOUSES IN SEVERAL RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS OF ONE SOUTHEAST COAST TOWN WERE DAMAGED SHORTLY BEFORE MIDDAY.

ALTHOUGH IT WAS AT FIRST THOUGHT AN ENEMY BOMBER WAS OVER THE TOWN, IT LATER WAS CONSIDERED POSSIBLE THAT THE HEAVY EXPLOSIONS WERE CAUSED BY GUN FIRE.

AUG 14 1940

AN INVESTIGATION WAS STARTED AT ONCE BY THE AUTHORITIES.

IT WAS NOT ESTABLISHED OFFICIALLY THAT LONG-RANGE SHELLING FROM ACROSS THE CHANNEL HAD BEGUN.

HOUSEHOLDERS WERE UNANIMOUS IN THEIR BELIEF THAT THE DAMAGE WAS CAUSED BY SHELLS. ONE OTHER ADVANCED THE POSSIBILITY THAT LARGE FRAGMENTS CAME FROM SHELLS WHICH MIGHT HAVE BEEN DROPPED FROM GERMAN PLANES RATHER THAN FIRED FROM CROSS-CHANNEL GUNS.

THE CASUALTIES OCCURRED WHILE THE RAID WAS NOT OFFICIALLY IN PROGRESS. THE TWO KILLED WERE A MAN AND WOMAN WHO WERE WALKING ALONG A NARROW STREET WHEN A SHELL OR BOMB STRUCK NEARBY.

(AUTHORITIES SAID TODAY THERE WAS "NO CONFIRMATION AT ALL" THAT THE HEAVY EXPLOSIONS WERE FROM SHELLFIRE.

(IN SWITZERLAND, HOWEVER, UNCONFIRMED REPORTS WERE CURRENT AMONG FOREIGN MILITARY OBSERVERS THAT GERMAN GUNS AT CALAIS AND DUNKERQUE CAPABLE OF FIRING 40 MILES MAY ALREADY HAVE BEGUN LAYING DOWN A BARRAGE BEHIND DOVER IN PREPARATION FOR AN EXPECTED DIRECT ASSAULT.)

EXAMINATION OF THE SPOTS WHERE THE MISSILES FELL SHOWED THEY LANDED FROM THE SOUTH. SOME SAID THEY MIGHT HAVE BEEN EIGHT-INCH PROJECTILES FIRED FROM THE CALAIS (NAZI-HELD FRENCH) COAST BY LONG-RANGE GUNS. POLICE TOOK ALL BIG PIECES FOR EXAMINATUON.

ED1212AED

Berlin Sees Early Zero Hour

Trend of Attack Indicates Germany May Try Invasion of Britain Very Soon.

BERLIN, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—All signs pointed today to an early zero hour for a Nazi offensive against England with its climax an attempt to land German troops on the British Isles.

To anybody who observed German tactics in Poland, Norway and western Europe, it is perfectly clear that Germany again is trying to bring maximum destruction to railways, airports, naval harbors, industrial plants and gasoline tanks before ordering her troops to move.

In the case of England, it is of further prime importance to have coastal batteries silenced. Only after this has been largely achieved is the hazardous task of landing troops likely to be tackled.

Declaring that since yesterday British flyers have been seeking to avoid fights, informed German sources said that the Nazi tactics now are to force them into combat or risk having their airports, hangars and ships destroyed and planes demolished on the ground.

Serious Damage at Airport.

The latest advices of DNB, official German news agency, added the Eastchurch Airport to the day's German objectives. Six hangars, according to DNB, were smashed completely, crews' barracks set afire, anti-aircraft batteries silenced, gasoline tanks ignited by heavy bomb hits, ten Spitfires destroyed on the ground and twelve barrage balloons shot down.

In a German bomber raid on the harbor of Walsend, between Newcastle and South Shields, DNB said, numerous high explosive and incendiary bombs caused widespread fires in storehouses and warehouses. Five minutes after the missiles fell, the agency said, a terrific detonation was heard.

Earlier in the day it had been announced that air battles were waging over Portsmouth, Aldershot and other points over the English Channel and elsewhere as the Germans sought to bomb military targets.

Exact figures on plane losses at the moment were not available, but the Germans insisted in general that their losses were light and those of the British heavy.

British chasers and anti-aircraft batteries trying to repel the before-dawn Nazi raiders were unable to prevent the attack or even inflict damage, DNB declared.

Nazis Break Defenses.

It said fierce air battles, developing over the channel and along the coast, cost the British "a great number of chasers" as German flyers succeeded in breaking through aerial defenses to bomb previously designated targets.

The attack destroyed planes on runways and hangars at an airport at Portsmouth, DNB said, adding that fires had been observed in the port after both medium weight and heavy bombs had been rained on it.

British anti-aircraft batteries and fighters "failed to inflict any damage on the German bombers or hamper their operations," the news agency said.

Informed spokesmen estimated that the number of British planes shot down in today's first encounters at between twenty and thirty.

Three Berlin short-wave stations went off the air today at 7:55 A. M., New York time, for half an hour, the Columbia Broadcasting System listening station reported. Such silences usually are indications that British planes are over Germany.

Meanwhile, DNB said, Nazi planes reconnoitering over the channel sank two British patrol boats off the Godwin Sands, east of Deal.

Ground Planes Smashed.

In its reports on activity today, DNB said that the Germans had downed fourteen British planes and lost five in air battles over Eastchurch on the Thames, Portsmouth and Aldershot.

Bombing attacks severely damaged airports at these points, starting fires and wrecking uncounted planes on the ground, the news agency declared.

The High Command, reiterating the DNB reports, added that night-raiding German planes had attacked shipping at Swansea and Cardiff both in Wales, and also anti-aircraft and searchlight batteries at Plymouth and Humbermouth. Plymouth is on the channel and Humbermouth on the east coast.

Its communique also reported a dive-bomber attack on a strongly protected convoy and said that, despite hectic defense by chasers and anti-aircraft, two merchantmen totaling 5,500 tons had been sunk.

One of the British patrol boats reported sunk, it disclosed, was a speedboat, one of a group which battled in the North Sea with a squadron of German mine-sweepers. None of the German ships was damaged, the communique declared.

Claim Mastery of Channel.

Three days of concentrated assault have given Germany the mastery of the air over the channel, made the sea uncomfortably hot for the British Navy and paved the way for wider attacks, from which "not even London" will be safe, Nazi spokesmen declared earlier today.

Only adverse weather conditions, these spokesmen asserted, can prevent the continuation on an increasingly grand scale of the massed raids which were begun last Thursday and repeated on Sunday and yesterday in an apparently systematic attempt to "soften" England's south coast.

In those days, the Germans said, 231 British planes were destroyed—either in the air or on the ground—while only sixty-one of their own aircraft failed to return safely. Official German figures on yesterday's great air battles gave the number of British planes shot down as eighty-nine and listed German losses at twenty-four. Ninety-three British and twenty-seven German planes were reported destroyed on Sunday.

Hope to Drive Out Fleet.

The chief objective in yesterday's raids apparently was the great seaport of Portsmouth, which the authoritative commentary Dienst aus Deutschland described as the chief southern base for the British fleet, with facilities for construction and repair of the largest war vessels. Also objects of heavy attack, the Germans said, were the port of Margate on the Thames Estuary and airdromes at Manston, Canterbury, Lympe and Hawkinge.

Great importance obviously was attached by the Germans to reports of extensive damage inflicted on the naval bases of both Portsmouth and Portland. The latter was heavily bombed on Sunday.

Authorized spokesmen declined to speculate on the point, but it appeared that the chances for a successful invasion of England would be greatly enhanced if the British fleet were compelled to retire from these bases and from Dover.

Military commentators insisted that Germany had the initiative in the rapidly developing war with England, and that it would carry on the conflict on its own schedule.

They spoke guardedly of concentric aerial attacks upon England, apparently meaning that there would be a gradual extension of the assaults from the coast inland until much or all of the island would be under fire.

Expect Attack on England Soon.

BERNE, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Foreign military attaches in Switzerland, the last neutral window left in western Europe, generally agreed today that an attempted German blitzkrieg on Britain may come any time within the next seventy-two hours.

They saw in today's air raids against Dover and the German claim of air control over the point where the English Channel is narrowest the long expected move against that part of Britain most exposed to German long-range guns.

Reports that could not be confirmed here were current in these quarters that forty-mile German guns around Calais and Dunkirk already had begun laying down a barrage behind Dover.

Although neutral observers took both London and Berlin communiques describing their respective losses with much salt, they said the Germans now have reached the peak of their pre-invasion air attacks against Portsmouth and Dover.

Air Attack, Then Invasion.

The next move expected here is a mass attack by dive bombers on Britain's main military airports and emergency landing fields.

This attack, they said, was to be expected a few hours before or possibly simultaneous with the first fast movement of mine-sweepers, quickly followed by the shuttling of troop transports across the channel while it is guarded by speedboats and submarines.

Over the last week end, the odds of Britain's chances of defending herself successfully against a mid-August offensive dropped again here to 50-50.

Previous 60-40 odds were based on Germany's delay in launching an offensive.

Information reaching foreign observers in Switzerland indicated that, while R. A. F. bombing was more accurate than the Germans, it had little effect on widespread Nazi invasion preparations.

Informed sources said the Germans kept scores of fighting planes in the air day and night on patrol duty in the last week from Cherbourg to Rotterdam. Their job was to guard ports where a large fleet has been loading gasoline, food and other supplies and mechanized units and equipment in preparation for the invasion.

British bombers had little success, they reported, in breaking through the air guard to get at these ports.

British Bomb Amsterdam.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—(via Berlin)—British bombs started twenty fires in a densely populated area of Amsterdam last night. One person was killed and many were injured.

Outside of Amsterdam, two persons were killed when a bomb hit a home.

BERLIN, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Dover is at the mercy of German bombing squadrons—its British defenders "driven out of the air"—German sources said tonight as all signs pointed to an early zero hour for the long-threatened attempt to land Nazi troops on the British Isles.

The great Portsmouth naval base again was pelted with bombs today and the raids on south coast ports have been so effective, these sources declared, that it will be almost impossible for the British fleet to operate in the channel.

Besides pounding English shore points for the third successive day, the swarms of German bombers and fighters today crowded steadily inland to a point where they threatened the defenses of London itself, Nazis asserted.

Half Way Up the Thames.

The German news agency DNB tonight reported sixty-nine British planes destroyed and conceded the loss of thirteen German planes.

Eastchurch, half way up the Thames toward London, was one of the main targets as the Nazi raiders went into their seventy-second hour of almost steady bombing and gunning of island strong points.

German reports indicated that since fifteen minutes after midnight this morning, when Walsend near Newcastle, was bombed, there had been a constant series of bombing raids apparently moving ever further inland.

Official and semi-official reports told of fires and explosions in supply centers resulting from these raids, which the Germans said were conducted so skillfully that fighter and anti-aircraft attacks were avoided.

Germans Taunted R. A. F.

Nearly 100 British planes were destroyed Sunday and nearly another 100 on Monday, the High Command said, and the mounting toll of British losses reported by semi-official sources indicated the century mark might be reached today.

The Germans taunted British flyers with a charge that they refused to come out and fight, forcing the attackers to penetrate farther inland to find them.

British bombers, however, continued to strike at German industrial areas and points in German-occupied Holland and Denmark. British bombs were reported to have started twenty fires in Amsterdam last night, and just before noon today British bombers in two waves attacked Aalborg, the Danish airport.

Eleven out of twelve of the bombers in the first wave of this attack on Aalborg were shot down, German military authorities said, and five more were shot down when a second wave came over.

Nazis Say Drive On Britain Now Extends Inland

See London Threatened in 'General Action'; Berlin Sounds Air-Raid Alarm

BERLIN, Aug. 14 (Wednesday) (AP).—German bombers now are flying sixty miles inland from the south coast of Great Britain to shatter a great variety of military objectives, Nazi commentators said today, and are threatening London itself.

The combat area extends "310 miles from the mouth of the Thames River, through Dover westward," it was stated, and the onslaught is not individual raids, but "a general action," developing according to a well laid plan.

These reports came soon after Berlin itself experienced a forty-seven-minute air-raid alarm this morning. The alarm was the third of the war, but no bomb explosions or gunfire were heard in the downtown area of the German capital. Residents of some suburbs said they heard distant shooting.

Nazis Claim Ninety-six Planes

D. N. B., official German news agency, said the German raids on Britain yesterday destroyed ninety-six British planes—a record for one day. Fifty were reported shot down over the English Channel and the British Isles, sixteen were allegedly brought down in British attacks on Aalborg, Denmark, and thirty were said to have been destroyed on the ground by German bombs, according to D. N. B.

The news agency termed the encounters the "biggest success" in the present heightened aerial warfare, which, it was said, pointed to an early zero hour for the long-threatened attempt to land Nazi troops on the British Isles. The Germans put their own losses in the day's actions at twenty-four planes, but said five Nazi flyers were saved.

The latest fight reported by D. N. B. was over Dover and the Channel, where nineteen Spitfire planes and eight Hurricane aircraft were said to have been brought down as against the asserted loss of eight German Messerschmitts fighter ships. Dover is at the mercy of German bombing squadrons and its British defenders have been "driven out of the air," Nazi sources boasted joyfully.

Report Attacks on Airports

Among British airports said to have been attacked, the Germans listed Detling, Odiham and Farnborough. They said two airport buildings and planes on the ground were destroyed at Detling, while twenty planes were reportedly wrecked and burned at the other two, and numerous buildings set afire by bombs.

The Portsmouth naval base was pelted with bombs again yesterday and the raids on British south coast ports have been so effective, these sources declared, that it will be almost impossible for the British Fleet to operate in the Channel. The attack destroyed planes on runways and hangars at an airport at Portsmouth, D.N.B. said, adding that fires were observed in the port.

The latest advices of D.N.B., added the Eastchurch airport to reported German objectives yesterday. Six hangars, according to D.N.B., were smashed, crews' barracks set afire, anti-aircraft batteries silenced, gasoline tanks ignited by heavy bomb hits, ten Spitfires destroyed on the ground and twelve barrage balloons shot down.

Tells of Eastchurch Fight

D.N.B. said the Germans downed fourteen British planes and lost five in air battles over Eastchurch, Portsmouth and Aldershot. Bombing attacks damaged airports at these points, the Nazis said, starting fires and wrecking uncounted planes on the ground.

The ports and quays in Bournemouth and Plymouth, munitions works in Exeter and Bristol, and petroleum tanks in North Killing-holme were listed by the German radio yesterday as additional targets heavily damaged. The radio added that twelve barrage balloons were shot down at Folkestone. Two merchantmen of 15,000 tons each and two patrol boats were declared to have been sunk by Nazi air bombs as they moved out of the Thames Estuary.

30.24-4325

30.24-4325

See Threat to London

Besides pounding British shore points for the third successive day, the swarms of German bombers and fighters crowded steadily inland to a point where they threatened the defenses of London itself, Nazis asserted. German reports indicated that since fifteen minutes after midnight yesterday, when Walsend, near Newcastle, was bombed, they said, there had been a constant series of bombing raids apparently moving ever farther inland. Official and semi-official Nazi reports told of fires and explosions in supply centers resulting from these raids, which the Germans said were conducted so skillfully that fighter and anti-aircraft attacks were avoided.

Taunt British Flyers

The Germans taunted British flyers with a charge that the latter allegedly refused to come out and fight.

British bombers, however, continued to strike at German industrial areas and points in German-occupied Holland and Denmark. British bombs were reported to have started twenty fires in Amsterdam Monday night, and just before noon yesterday British bombers in two waves attacked Aalborg, a Danish airport. Eleven out of twelve of the bombers in the first wave of this attack on Aalborg were shot down, six by Nazi airmen and five by anti-aircraft fire, German military authorities said, and five more were reported shot down when a second wave of eleven planes came over.

D.N.B. reported yesterday that Nazi planes reconnoitering the Channel sank two British patrol boats off Godwin Sands and told of German bombers setting "tremendous fires" in an attack on Walsend Harbor. The high command, reiterating the D. N. B. reports, added that night-raiding planes had attacked shipping at Swansea and Cardiff, both in Wales, and also anti-aircraft and searchlight batteries at Plymouth and Humbermouth. Plymouth is on the Channel and Humbermouth on the east coast.

A communique of the high command also reported a dive-bomber attack on a "strongly protected convoy" and said that "despite hectic defense by chasers and anti-aircraft" two merchantmen totaling 5,500 tons were sunk. One of the British patrol boats reported sunk, it disclosed, was a speedboat, one of a group which battled in the North Sea with a squadron of German minesweepers. None of the German ships was damaged, the communique said.

D. N. B. reported today that eighty-nine British planes had been destroyed in air battles during Monday's raids on England and listed German losses at twenty-four planes. D. N. B. said seven additional British fighters, not included in this total had been damaged in a furious engagement with German planes and it could be assumed they were destroyed.

Berbera Is Defended Fiercely

AUG 14 1940

Rome Admits Her Troops Are Fought Hard by British Forces in Somaliland.

ROME, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Italian troops in British Somaliland are fighting the main British forces fiercely in an attempt to reach the seaport of Berbera after occupying Adadleh, about fifty miles to the south, the Italian High Command reported today.

The battle is continuing in the Adadleh zone following two days of sharp fighting in which one British plane was shot down and the Italians lost one plane, a communique said.

Italian flyers were reported to have resumed bombardment of the British Mediterranean base at Malta yesterday, setting fire to oil storage tanks.

Says R. A. F. Is Driven Back.

Italian advance units were moving on Berbera, the newspaper Il Piccolo said, with the support of the air force, which was said to be driving back to Aden British planes sent out to attack the Italian ground forces.

Il Piccolo also reported that Italian planes had bombed British troops and fortifications northwest of Lake Rudolf on the border of Ethiopia and Kenya colony.

Stefani, the official Italian news agency, asserted that German and Italian planes were methodically wearing down the British Air Force by attacking its airdromes, workshops, factories and supply dumps.

English airplane factories have intensified production, the agency said, but the Royal Air Force lacks trained pilots.

Waves of heavy Italian bombers smashed intermittently at Malta for four hours last night, Stefani said, after scouting planes had surveyed and photographed the island base during the day.

The scouts reported that the British had moved all their powerful searchlights into the zones of Valletta and Marsa Scirocco, where they also massed their anti-aircraft batteries in order to concentrate their fire on Italian raiders.

The raiders were aided by moonlight, and attacked the island at frequent intervals between 8:30 P. M. and 12:30 A. M., dropping heavy and medium caliber explosive bombs as well as high-powered incendiary bombs.

The bombers operated at altitudes slightly over 6,000 feet. Pilots said they saw flames shooting from an arsenal and noted the destruction of storage sheds.

Reports Italians Beaten.

CAIRO, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—A general Italian attack on the British positions covering the Jugargan Pass in British Somaliland was repelled on Sunday, the British Command here reported today.

Juguran Pass is thirty-five miles south-southeast of Berbera, the capital and principal port of British Somaliland, toward which Italian columns have been driving across burning wastes since their capture last week of Hargeisa and Oadweina.

Reports of Italian troop concentrations along the Libyan-Egyptian border drew from the press today a warning that Egypt would throw all her resources into the fight beside Great Britain if she were attacked.

"If the Italians march on Egypt they will clash with British forces camped along the western frontier as well as Egyptian forces, for it is natural that Egypt must defend herself against invasion," the newspaper Albalagh said.

The same paper expressed the opinion that the Italian attack may be expected during "the latter two weeks of August or early September when the heat is more bearable and their preparations are completed."

Italian Successes Discounted

The newspaper discounted the Italian drive into British Somaliland and predicted that the decisive battles of the war in Africa would be fought along the Libyan-Egyptian border.

Military observers said that they expected Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, the Italian commander in north Africa, to take a leaf from Adolf Hitler's war book when and if he attacks Egypt.

With the western frontier still "all quiet," Graziani continued moving up heavy tanks, armored cars, planes and high speed trucks.

Because of the intense desert heat, military observers said a large scale infantry attack would be impracticable. Motorized units were likely, therefore, they said, to lead the way in a quick, surprise attempt to split the British lines and pour troops through the gap by trucks.

Egypt's large Italian population, estimated at 70,000, felt growing apprehension, fearing long internment in the event of an Italian attack upon this country.

Thus far, although the British have imprisoned several thousand Italians suspected of fifth column activities and many have been discharged from utilities and other concerns, most of the Italians enjoy comparative liberty.

However, the police keep close watch over them and their properties and businesses are administered by Government custodians.

The Ministry of Supply began a survey of available foodstuffs in Egypt today with a view to taking immediate control of commodities of which there are insufficient supplies on hand.

AUG 14 1940

British Report Attack Of Italians Repulsed

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 13 (AP)—Britain's warriors in British Somaliland, who let advancing Italian troops seize three towns, have repulsed one general attack, it was reported today.

The British high command said the assault was delivered last Sunday on defense positions covering Jugargan Pass, thirty-five miles south-southeast of Berbera, capital and principal port of British Somaliland.

"In spite of intensive support by low-flying aircraft, the attacks were broken up and repulsed by our artillery and small-arms fire," a British communique reported.

British Biding Their Time

The Italians have been driving across the burning wastes of the Somaliland since they captured Hargeisa, Oadweina and Zeila last week. British sources have indicated they would let the Italians advance, extending supply lines, until they are where the British want them.

Reports of Italian troop concentrations along the Libyan-Egyptian border brought a sharp warning from the Egyptian press that Egypt would fight beside the British if the Italians attack her.

The newspaper Albalagh said the Italian attack likely would come in late August or early September, when the heat is more bearable, and predicted the decisive battles in Africa would be fought along the Libyan-Egyptian border.

AUG 14 1940

Malta Damage "Slight"

Valletta, Malta, Aug. 13 (AP)—High explosives and incendiary bombs were dropped last night in new air raids on the British naval base Island of Malta.

Another air-raid warning sounded this morning, but no enemy planes were seen.

Damage from the night raid was described as slight. One civilian casualty was reported.

Greece Turns Down Axis Hint

AUG 14 1940

Refuses to Renounce Guaranty by Britain—Italy May Claim Slice of Land.

ATHENS, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Premier-Gen. John Metaxas has turned down a Rome-Berlin suggestion that Greece formally renounce Great Britain's guaranty of her independence and territorial integrity, high diplomatic quarters reported tonight.

The suggestion was said to have been conveyed to Gen. Metaxas by the Italian Charge d'Affaires this morning at a meeting attended by the German Minister.

The Premier then hurried to a long audience with King George and also saw the British Minister and the permanent head of the Greek Foreign Office.

The Ministry of Propaganda abruptly postponed a scheduled statement on Italo-Greek relations, which have grown tense over Italian charges that Greece permitted the beheading of Daut Hoggia, an Albanian patriot.

The Yugoslav difficulty, according to La Tribuna, was over the killing of a Fascist in the Italian town of Zara on the Yugoslav coast. The Zara populace was said to be aroused.

Leonardo Ciurcovich, the dispatch said, was killed when he objected to a stranger's singing a Slav song on a Zara street. The dispatch, however, did not say how Ciurcovich, a minor Fascist leader in a Zara suburb, had been killed, except that he had been "barbarously slain." It described him as Zara's "first Fascist martyr whose name will be fittingly honored."

Gayda Accuses Greece.

Diplomatic spokesmen said that a long visit by Premier John Metaxas to the Foreign Office last night indicated that the Government took a serious view of Fascist press attacks, which may be a prelude, some foreign observers believe, to some-Berlin Ax is demands on Greece.

Government spokesmen were silent except for the announcement that the communique had been postponed until tomorrow.

AUG 14 1940

Italian Claims Expected.

ROME, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Authoritative Italian circles indicated tonight that Italy would claim slices of both Greek and Yugoslav territory sooner or later as due Italian-ruled Albania in a general settlement.

Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor and often Mussolini's spokesman, said the Italian Government expected Greece to "answer for its new crimes." Gayda declared Italy could not tolerate Greece's "acts against the independence of Albania" and accused Greece of designs on Albania.

With the Italian-Greek tension mounting, friction between Italy and Yugoslavia was reported by the Fascist press.

New Italian Claims Expected.

Meanwhile today Virginio Gayda, the Fascist editor who often reflects official opinion, accused Greece of seeking to seize a part of Albania.

The accusation was contained in Gayda's rejection of a Greek version of the murder near the Greek frontier of an Albanian, Daut Hoggia. The Greek authorities, Gayda wrote in Il Giornale d'Italia, are planning "action against Albanian independence," and intended to use the murder as "an act of propaganda for the annexation of southern Albania to Greece."

[Since the Good Friday invasion of 1939 which toppled King Zog from his throne, Albania has been incorporated within the Italian Empire.]

'Greece Favors Democracies.'

Gayda also declared that Greece had long been a "silent ally and agitator" for the democracies.

"From the first day of the war," he wrote, "Greece has conducted a corrosive action on the Albanian front. From the first days, it has offered to extend its aid in every way, by contraband and free use of its territory and coasts, to the British Military Command, of which it has become more of an open accomplice every day."

The "death sentence" against Hoggia, he asserted, was pronounced at Athens "only after he had been seen participating in a great national festival at Porto Edda, in Albania, with the highest Italian authorities."

Stefani, the official Italian news agency, distributed excerpts from an editorial in the Tirana (Albania) newspaper Tomori which declared that responsibility for the murder of Hoggia "falls upon Greece because it was conceived and organized in Greece."

Tomori hinted that Greek ties with England were another cause for Italian irritation with Athens.

According to Tomori, Hoggia went to sleep under a tree while traveling in Argiro Castro Province, near the frontier, and "two Greek assassins" crossed the frontier in broad daylight, leaped upon him as he slept and decapitated him.

[The Greek Government said that the Italian allegations in connection with Hoggia's death were false. It declared that Hoggia was a notorious bandit with a price on his head who had been killed by two Albanians who subsequently fled to Greece and were arrested there.]

Giovanni Ansaldo, authoritative editorial writer for Foreign Minister Count Ciano's newspaper, Il Telegrafo of Leghorn, indicated that Italy would demand a restoration of Albanian territories under Greek and Yugoslav rule in any eventual readjustment of Balkan frontiers.

After recognition of Albanian independence, Ansaldo wrote, "considerable groups of Albanians" remained outside the present boundaries under Yugoslav and Greek rule, and for long years "Albania was obliged impotently to witness their systematic persecution."

"Greek public opinion, still far behind the times, still retains absurd and fantastic illusions about the future," Tomori said.

"It still believes in the invincibility of the English fleet. . .

"It should be clearly and firmly understood across the border that one era is finished, and another about to begin, in which Greece should take thoroughly into account all factors, both spiritual and material, arising from the happy union of Italy and Albania."

Tomori said that although the murder of Hoggia occurred several weeks ago it was divulged only now.

The Australian radio today quoted reports from Belgrade as saying that 400 Italians have been killed fighting with 10,000 revolting Albanians in northern Albania.

The Australian report, picked up by the Columbia System at New York, said that three Italian warships laden with troops have arrived at Durazzo.

Later today the German radio said that the Belgrade authorities denied that they had received such reports.

AUG 14 1940

Note to Greece Reported.

ATHENS, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—The delivery of an Italian note to the Greek Government was reported without confirmation today.

The Ministry of Propaganda abruptly postponed a scheduled statement on Italo-Greek relations, which have grown tense over Italian charges that Greece permitted the beheading of Daut Hoggia, an Albanian patriot.

Diplomatic spokesmen said that a long visit by Premier John Metaxas to the Foreign Office last night indicated that the Government took a serious view of Fascist press attacks, which may be a prelude, some foreign observers believe, to Rome-Berlin Ax is demands on Greece.

Government spokesmen were silent except for the announcement that the communique had been postponed until tomorrow.

Revolt In Albania Reported.

The Australian radio today quoted reports from Belgrade as saying that 400 Italians have been killed fighting with 10,000 revolting Albanians in northern Albania.

The Australian report, picked up by the Columbia System at New York, said that three Italian warships laden with troops have arrived at Durazzo.

Later today the German radio said that the Belgrade authorities denied that they had received such reports.

AUG 14 1940

Belgrade Denies Friction

BELGRADE, Aug. 13 (AP).—Official Yugoslav quarters declared tonight the killing of a minor Fascist official at Zara, Italy, was a "local affair," and that Yugoslavia had been assured by Italy that the Italians did not plan to make it the occasion for a campaign similar to that against Greece.

The officials said that they were collaborating with Italy on a friendly basis, and that "there is no reason to suppose that the Zara incident will make trouble."

Killing Over A Song

Latest Balkan Incident

Rome, Aug. 13 (AP)—Italian spokesmen accused Greece tonight of having territorial designs on Italy's Albanian domain and indicated that Premier Mussolini soon or late will demand slices of both Greek and Yugoslav territory in a "general settlement" for Albania.

The Italian press has been hitting at Greece since the week-end disclosure of the death of an Albanian patriot, Daut Hoggia, at the hands, the Italians said, of two Greek assassins. Italians also charged Greece is a "silent ally" of Great Britain in the war.

Yugoslavia entered the Italian picture only today, when the newspaper La Tribuna reported the killing of a minor Fascist leader, Leonardo Ciurcovich, in the Italian town of Zara, on the Yugoslav coast, because he objected to a stranger singing a Slav song on Zara's streets.

ROME, FIRST ADD NIGHT LEAD ITALIAN-ALBANIAN X X X STREETS.

THESE DEVELOPMENTS COINCIDED WITH AN ITALIAN BATTLE WITH BRITISH DEFENDERS OF BRITISH SOMALILAND AND A BIG, FOUR-HOUR NIGHT ATTACK ON THE BRITISH MALTA NAVAL BASE IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

ITALIAN TROOPS IN BRITISH SOMALILAND ARE ATTEMPTING TO REACH THE SOMALILAND CAPITAL, BERBERA, ON THE SEACOAST. THE ITALIANS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE TAKEN ADADLEH, ABOUT 50 MILES SOUTH OF BERBERA.

IN THE ATTACK ON MALTA, THE ITALIANS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE SET FIRE TO OIL STORAGE TANKS AND AN ARSENAL.

VIRGINIO GAYDA, OFTEN SPOKESMAN FOR THE FASCIST REGIME, DECLARED THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT EXPECTED THE GREEK GOVERNMENT TO "ANSWER FOR ITS NEW CRIMES" AND ASSERTED THAT ITALY COULD NOT TOLERATE GREECE'S "ACTS AGAINST THE INDEPENDENCE OF ALBANIA."

AUG 14 1940

DB444PED

"No" By Greece Setback To "Italian Salzburg"

Athens, Aug. 13 (AP)—Greece, faced by Italian pressure to alienate her and Great Britain, was reported reliably tonight to have rejected an Axis "suggestion" that she formally renounce British guarantees of her independence and territorial integrity.

The "suggestion" followed a bitter Italian press attack against Greece, charging her with responsibility for the beheading of Daut Hoggia, an Albanian "patriot," and fueling of British warcraft fighting Italy in the Mediterranean.

Metaxas Answer To Axis "No"

High diplomatic sources said Premier General John Metaxas received the "suggestion" from the Italian charge d'affaires at a meeting this morning attended by the German Minister and already had answered "No."

After the meeting Metaxas hurried to the palace for a long audience with King George II.

Metaxas also conferred with the British Minister. The United States Minister, Lincoln MacVeagh, talked with one of the Premier's aides at the Foreign Office.

"Italian Salzburg" Setback

Greece's reported refusal of the Axis demands was seen in diplomatic quarters as a preliminary setback for Italy's plan to rearrange her own Balkan Lebensraum (living space).

Behind the Italian press campaign it was said, lay an Italian design to bring Premier General Metaxas to Rome along with Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic of Yugoslavia for an "Italian Salzburg."

At Salzburg, Germany, Adolf Hitler called on Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and Slovakia to settle their territorial differences.

AUG 14 1940

Leave Blank

V

30.24-4327

SHOULD GENERAL METAXAS AND CVETKOVIC AGREE TO PARTICIPATE IN AN "ITALIAN SALZBURG," OBSERVERS PREDICTED:

ATHENS-AUG-13

1...ITALY WOULD PRESS ON YUGOSLAVIA HER OLD CLAIMS ON THE DALMATIAN COAST.

2...GREECE PROBABLY WOULD BE ASKED FOR THE REGION OF IOANNINA, WHICH HAS BEEN MENTIONED IN THE ITALIAN PRESS AS A LEGITIMATE PART OF ALBANIA.

3...GREECE WOULD BE ASKED TO GIVE BULGARIA AN OUTLET TO THE AEGEAN SEA, CLAIMED BY BULGARIA SINCE THE WORLD WAR.

BULGARIA'S CLAIM WOULD CUT TURKEY FROM GREECE AND NULLIFY THEIR MILITARY ACCORD, SIGNED IN SEPT. 1935.

AUG 14 1940

TURKEY WAS REPORTED CONFERRING WITH THE GREEK GOVERNMENT TODAY.

WM614PED

BRITISH TORPEDO BOATS IN ACTION

Admiralty Claims Several Effective Attacks.

LONDON, Aug. 13 (A. P.)—British motor torpedo boats fought a series of actions with larger enemy surface craft during the darkness early today, the Admiralty announced tonight.

The British boats, speeding at 30 knots, sighted two small enemy ships 100 yards away.

One of the British craft immediately rammed one of the enemy while another British boat engaged the other with machine-guns and grenades at what was described as "almost point-blank range."

The Admiralty said the British attack "took considerable effect," while the enemy's return fire was "ineffective."

A third British motor torpedo boat sighted two larger enemy ships and machine-gunned them at "very close range," the statement continued. Later another British motor torpedo boat fought two running battles with an enemy E-boat.

Other British motor torpedo boats, attacked by a German plane from 500 feet, set the plane ablaze by hot and accurate fire, the announcement said.

There were no British casualties and the only damage sustained was dealt the ramming torpedo boat, the Admiralty asserted.

WAR GUILT INQUIRY IS BEGUN IN FRANCE

But Names of Accused Are Still Not Announced

VICHY, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—France's new Supreme Court—from whose judgment there is no appeal—was called today at Riom to hear the reading of a formal complaint against military and political leaders accused of leading the nation into the disastrous war with Germany.

The names of those designated in the accusation were not disclosed.

Sharing interest with preparations for the "war guilt" trial was a scheduled broadcast in which Marshal Petain was expected to outline his Government's plan for reconstruction and to demand national co-operation.

Members of the Petain Cabinet conferred until late last night with other officials from the German-occupied and "free" zones of France on measures to reorganize and co-ordinate the country's industries. The Ministers announced that decrees would be issued soon initiating action to aid in the reopening of factories and in transporting the unemployed to districts where they can be given work.

'MONSIEUR X' CHARGED WITH FRENCH DEFEAT

Supreme Tribunal Gets Blanket Indictment In "War-Guilt" Case

Petain Declares Nation Fell Before Laziness "And Even Sabotage"

AUG 14 1940

[By the Associated Press]

Riom, France, Aug. 13—The Armistice Government of Marshal Philippe Petain formally indicted tonight before a high court of last appeal the Government and military leaders whom it deems responsible for betraying the Third Republic by leading it, unready, into war and defeat.

It did not name them, but it lumped them as a composite "Monsieur X" in a general complaint. The court itself will fix individual responsibility.

As the blanket charge was placed before the nation's new Supreme Court, the old marshal, chief of state, went before the radio with a stinging rebuke for those who stand accused—who obviously include, among others, former Premier Edouard Daladier and former Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin. He said France fell before laziness, incompetence "and even sabotage, intended to create social disorder or international revolution."

Enemies Still Operating

Bitterly, Petain added that the causes of France's plight had not yet disappeared; would not disappear until there is "a change of men."

Enemies of the state, he charged, still were operating in the unoccupied part of France, and he informed the nation there would be changes shortly to wipe out the "treason" of executive agents who, he said, had prevented some of his measures from bearing fruit.

He promised that the revolution which started among higherups with the shift from parliamentary to authoritarian regimes would "descend" to embrace all those who should be carrying out the state's orders, but because of "incompetence or treason" are not doing so.

The reference tied in with recent shifts in departmental prefects and with charges that men in many departmental public posts are not co-operating with the new regime.

Blanketed As Traitors

The court accusation blanketed as traitors to their charge an unspecified number of "ministers, ex-ministers and their immediate civil and military subordinates." It demanded that the court inquire into the pre-war and war periods and fix individual accusations, proceeding for the time being merely against the allegedly traitorous "Monsieur X," and later lodging charges against definite persons. These will be announced from time to time, with a final public trial some weeks hence.

The general complaint, read by public prosecutor Cassagneau, said:

"Crimes and offenses have been committed by ministers, ex-ministers and their immediate subordinates in exercise of their functions. They betrayed the duties and charges in their keeping by acts that contributed to the passage from peace to a state of war before September 4 (war was declared September 3) and by acts that later aggravated the consequences of the situation thus created."

These acts, he asserted, were "attempts against the security of the state" and were "committed by persons whose identity will be determined in the court inquiry." He demanded summary procedure against "X"—"the authors, co-authors and their accomplices in the aforementioned acts."

The Government's bill of complaint was presented during a 3½-minute public session of the court, which then adjourned and met two and a half hours later to appoint three justices to conduct the investigations demanded. They are Court Vice-President Lagarde and Justices Tanon and Baraveau.

All this was done with an utter absence of fanfare.

In his speech Petain promised that those who "betray" their duties will be "sought out and punished." He charged that "pernicious propaganda" still is being carried out in France and that many measures he has initiated for the good of the country have been blocked by "incapacity and treason of a great number of agents" who should have carried them out.

Petain Urges Patience

Dealing with the Germans' refusal for the time being to permit his Government to return to Paris and Versailles in occupied France, Petain asked his listeners to be patient and said he hoped the regime could soon return. He called Paris "the natural seat of government and authority for all Frenchmen."

"It is no more than a question of waiting," he said, until the Germans decide to authorize the transfer. This, he said, has been deferred for reasons "of technical order" and "as long as certain material conditions are not realized."

PETAIN EXPRESSED HIS THANKS FOR AMERICAN GENEROSITY IN HELPING FRANCE MEET "THE INSIDIOUS SPECTRE OF FAMINE," AND SAID THAT IN A FEW WEEKS MORE THAN 1,000 CARLOADS OF FOOD AND CLOTHING HAD BEEN DISTRIBUTED TO REFUGEES IN THE UNOCCUPIED PART OF FRANCE, WITH OTHERS SENT TO HELP "THE NEEDY PEOPLE OF PARIS."

RIOM-AUG-13

IN THE FIRST TEN DAYS OF AUGUST, HE ASSERTED, MORE THAN 500,000 REFUGEES AND DEMOBILIZED SOLDIERS WERE RETURNED TO THEIR HOMES.

DB531PED

VICHY, AUG. 13-(AP VIA RADIO)-MARSHAL PHILIPPE PETAIN, FRANCE'S CHIEF OF STATE, DECLARED IN AN INTERNATIONAL BROADCAST TONIGHT THAT "LAZINESS AND INCOMPETENCE" WERE PARTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE DOWNFALL OF FRANCE.

FROM NOW ON, HE DECLARED, THE RESPONSIBILITY OF GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS WILL BE DEFINITELY FIXED AND FRANCE WILL EXPECT MUCH OF HER SERVANTS.

"I WAS GRIEVED TO LEARN," HE SAID, "THAT ONE OF FRANCE'S REAL TROUBLES WAS THE INSIDIOUS PROPAGANDA THAT HAD PENETRATED ITS GOVERNMENT."

AUG 14 1940

WR244PED

VICHY VIA RADIO--FIRST ADD PETAIN XXX ITS GOVERNMENT."

(PETAIN'S SPEECH WAS HEARD IN THE UNITED STATES OVER WJZ-NBC)

AMONG THE PROBLEMS OF REHABILITATION HE CITED WAS THE BREAKDOWN OF COMMUNICATIONS WHICH HE SAID WOULD ADD TO THE DANGER OF FAMINE.

"WE ARE GOING TO GIVE TWO BILLION FRANCS TO FRENCH FARMERS TO AID THEM IN THEIR DIFFICULT SITUATION," HE SAID.

"ANOTHER GREAT PROBLEM IS THAT OF OUR PEOPLE WHOM WE MUST REPATRIATE TO THEIR HOMES--HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS, EVEN MILLIONS, WHO WERE FORCED TO FLEE."

ASSERTING HE WOULD BE "VERY UNGRATEFUL" IF HE DID NOT OFFICIALLY THANK AMERICANS FOR THEIR GENEROSITY, MARSHAL PETAIN PAID TRIBUTE TO THE "SPLENDID WORK" DONE BY THE RED CROSS AND THE AMERICAN COMMITTEE ON AID TO REFUGEES.

"WE ARE ALSO COOPERATING WITH GERMAN AUTHORITIES TO EASE THE SITUATION," HE ADDED.

"AMONG THE GREATEST VICTIMS OF THE WAR WERE FRENCH YOUTH. ON THE NEW FRENCH YOUTH WE COUNT LARGELY FOR THE FUTURE OF FRANCE.

"A COMPLETE COURSE OF INSTRUCTION WILL BE OUTLINED TO THE YOUTH OF FRANCE SO THAT THEY CAN CONTRIBUTE PROPERLY TO THE RESURRECTION OF THEIR COUNTRY.

"I CANNOT FINISH THIS SPEECH WITHOUT SAYING TO FRANCE, OCCUPIED AND UNOCCUPIED, THAT WE MUST ALL WORK TOGETHER TO RESTORE OUR COUNTRY."

P258PED

VICHY - 2ND ADD PETAIN X X X OUR COUNTRY."

THE OLD MARSHAL SAID THE GERMANS HAD INFORMED HIM THEY COULD NOT AUTHORIZE FOR THE TIME BEING THE RETURN OF THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT TO PARIS ALTHOUGH THEY "MAINTAINED THEIR ACCEPTANCE IN PRINCIPLE" OF THE IDEA OF SUCH A RETURN EVENTUALLY.

"PATIENCE," THE MARSHAL ADDED, "IS A MOST NECESSARY FORM OF COURAGE."

QQ338PED

PETAIN PARTIAL TEXT

VICHY,FRANCE,AUG 13-(AP)-HERE ARE EXTRACTS FROM MARSHAL PETAIN'S RADIO SPEECH OF TODAY: (550)

AMONG THE TRIALS WHICH WEIGH UPON US, SOME BEAR THE CHARACTER OF FATALITY; THEY COME FROM WAR AND PEACE; WE ARE NOT IN A POSITION TO EASE THEIR RIGOR.

AUG 14 1940

OTHERS SPRING FROM THE VERY CAUSES WHICH LED THE COUNTRY TO DISASTER IN THE MIDST OF DEMORALIZATION AND DISORGANIZATION WHICH, LIKE GANGRENE, HAD INVADED THE BODY OF THE STATE BY INTRODUCING INTO IT IDLENESS AND INCOMPETENCE,--SOMETIMES EVEN SYSTEMATIC SABOTAGE--IN ORDER TO BREED SOCIAL DISORDER OR INTERNATIONAL REVOLUTION.

30.24-4329

30.24-4329

THESE CAUSES HAVE NOT DISAPPEARED WITH THE CHANGE OF INSTITUTIONS; THEY WILL DISAPPEAR ONLY WITH A CHANGE OF MEN.

IN MANY CIRCUMSTANCES I HAVE BEEN ABLE TO NOTE WITH REAL PAIN THAT THE GOVERNMENT'S INTENTIONS HAVE BEEN DISGUISED AND DENATURED BY PERFIDIOUS PROPAGANDA AND THAT FULLY MATURED MEASURES WERE PREVENTED FROM BEARING FRUIT BY THE INERTIA, INCAPACITY OR TREASON OF TOO GREAT A NUMBER OF EXECUTIVE AGENTS.

THESE WEAKNESSES AND TREASONS WILL BE SOUGHT OUT AND PUNISHED. THE NEW FRANCE NEEDS SERVANTS ANIMATED BY A NEW SPIRIT; SHE WILL HAVE THEM.

PARIS, THE HEART AND BRAIN OF THE NATION, THE CRUCIBLE IN WHICH, AT ALL TIMES, THE DESTINIES OF THE COUNTRY HAVE BEEN ELABORATED, REMAINS IN THE EYES OF ALL FRENCHMEN THE NATURAL SEAT OF GOVERNMENTAL AUTHORITY.

AUG 14 1940

I LEARN WITHOUT SURPRISE THAT THE POPULATION OF PARIS, SO SENSITIVE AND SO PROUD, WONDERS AT THE ABSENCE OF ITS LEADERS AND ABOVE ALL OF THAT OF THE HEAD OF THE STATE.

I KNOW THAT ALL THE POPULATION OF THE OCCUPIED ZONE CONSIDERS, NOT WITHOUT REASON, THAT IF THE GOVERNMENT RESIDED IN PARIS IT WOULD BE BETTER PLACED TO CARE FOR IT MORE EFFICACIOUSLY.

I SHARE THESE SENTIMENTS.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE ARMISTICE ENTERED INTO FORCE, MY GOVERNMENT STROVE TO OBTAIN FROM THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT A POSSIBLE RETURN TO PARIS AND VERSAILLES.

ON AUG.7 THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT INFORMED ME THAT WHILE MAINTAINING ITS ACCEPTANCE OF THE PRINCIPLE ALREADY WRITTEN INTO THE ARMISTICE CONVENTION, IT COULD NOT AUTHORIZE SUCH A TRANSFER FOR REASONS OF A TECHNICAL NATURE AND SO LONG AS CERTAIN MATERIAL CONDITIONS HAD NOT BEEN REALIZED.

WE MUST, THEREFORE, WAIT STILL LONGER, BUT I THINK I CAN ASSURE YOU THAT IT IS NOW ONLY A MATTER OF DELAY. I MAY ADD THAT I HOPE FOR THE RETURN AS ARDENTLY AS YOU DO. BUT FOR ALL OF US TODAY PATIENCE IS PERHAPS THE MOST NECESSARY FORM OF COURAGE.

THERE IS NO LONGER ROOM FOR LIES AND ILLUSIONS. ALL FRENCHMEN MUST BEAR THE INEVITABLE FIRMLY AND PATIENTLY. THE GOVERNMENT'S PART IS TO AID ALL OF THEM IN THIS BY CONSTANT ACTION INSPIRED SOLELY BY A PASSION FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

AUG 14 1940

C24 (AGYS OUT)

I WOULD FALL IN MY DUTY IF I DID NOT ON THIS OCCASION EXPRESS MY HEARTFELT THANKS TO AMERICAN GENEROSITY. THANKS TO IT, IN A FEW WEEKS MORE THAN 1,000 CARLOADS OF VARIOUS FOODS AND CLOTHING HAVE BEEN DISTRIBUTED TO REFUGEE POPULATIONS IN THE FREE ZONE WHILE A CONSIDERABLE NUMBER OF OTHER CARLOADS WENT TO THE NEEDY POPULATION OF PARIS.

THIS HELP IS INFINITELY VALUABLE IN ITSELF AND EVEN MORE VALUABLE FOR THE TOKEN IT BRINGS US OF AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP FOR OUR COUNTRY.

WE HAVE DRAFTED, WITH THE HELP OF THE FRENCH RED CROSS AND THE AMERICAN COMMITTEE FOR THE AID OF REFUGEES, A VAST PROGRAM OF RELIEF AND RECONSTRUCTION.

(END TEXT EXTRACTS)

P551PED

Carol of Rumania Is Playing A Hard Game for High Stakes

With Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini Around Table He Has Done Well to Last So Long, Says Observer.

AUG-13- AUG 14 1940

By DANIEL DE LUCE.

BUCHAREST (Correspondence of the Associated Press). —Up against the toughest political game of his career, King Carol II plays his cards close to his chest. The stakes are high; Rumania's independence and territory and the King's own job.

The other players are Stalin of Moscow, Hitler of Berlin, and Mussolini of Rome, but Carol is at his nervy best when the risks are greatest and the final hand has yet to be dealt.

After ten years luck went against Carol late in June when he received the drastic terms of a Russian ultimatum.

Moscow's demand was for Bessarabia and Northern Bucovina, about 20 per cent of Rumania's land and people, with Soviet troops behind the request. To give in might mean keeping the rest of Rumania intact for a better day, so, by July 3, territory from the mouth of the Danube to the flanks of the Carpathian Mountains went to the U. S. S. R.

Carol Outlasted Disaster.

Such a national disaster might have wrecked another dynasty, but the king fired the cabinet and chose ministers with pro-Nazi opinions. He kept the army mobilized and locked up radicals of both the right and left.

Furious anti-Jewish feeling threatened to explode in cities of the old Rumanian kingdom. While Rumania seethed internally, Hungary's campaign for the return of Transylvania was intensified and Bulgaria's chronic agitation for the return of Southern Dobruja grew more bitter.

Germany stepped into the middle of the discord and King Carol looked to Adolf Hitler to gain him a breathing spell. Hitler told the Balkans to settle their troubles soon or he would do the job.

The Fascist Iron Guards wanted to become the Government. Carol gave them four out of eighteen important posts.

Germany was the No. 1 Power in Europe? The king pulled Rumania out of the League of Nations, renounced pledges of the ex-allies, gave his foreign policy a pro-axis direction.

In Carol's confidence in himself and his country, there has been something contagious that has helped to steady the volatile Rumanian temperament when the strain was most severe. He saw that construction of the sumptuous left wing of this palace, the showplace of Bucharest, went on in the midst of general mobilization and air raid drills to bolster public morale.

The King's Fortune Depleted.

Not known generally is the fact that Carol's private fortune suffered when the Russians seized Bucovina. He owned shares in a big sugar company which had plants and 1,500 freight cars of its refined product in that area. Still, the king is a rich man with industrial interests in other parts of the world.

There is virtually no buffer between the king and responsibility for the acts of his Ministers. A Fascist type of constitution approved in a plebiscite in 1938 gave him dictatorial power.

There's little opportunity now to put departmental reports aside for his hobby of designing army uniforms, or to go hunting on his mountain estates, or to relax at the seashore. There is no letup for Carol. The stakes are too high.

GOVERNMENT UNDERLINGS SPEAK IN APPRECIATIVE WHISPERS OF THE "BIG BOY" BUT RARELY MENTION CAROL BY NAME. ENEMIES ACCUSE HIM OF MANY MISTAKES IN THE PAST, BUT THE MORE HONEST CONCEDE THAT CAROL TURNED A GOOD SHARE OF THESE "MISTAKES" TO HIS ULTIMATE ADVANTAGE.

COULD ANOTHER MAN HAVE SAVED BESSARABIA? MOST RUMANIANS DOUBT IT. THE DIE WAS CAST LAST AUGUST WHEN GERMANY AND RUSSIA MADE A WORKING AGREEMENT THAT CAUGHT NOT ONLY RUMANIA BUT ENGLAND, FRANCE AND POLAND OFF GUARD.

AFTER POLAND'S DOWNFALL, THE RUMANIA ARMY COMMAND REDREW ITS DEFENSE PLANS, CONVINCED THAT BESSARABIA WAS STRATEGICALLY AT RUSSIA'S MERCY — THAT FORTIFYING THE DNIESTER WOULD BE OF LITTLE AVAIL.

ALLIED ARGUMENTS FORCED A CHANGE. FINLAND WAS PUTTING UP A GAME FIGHT IN THE NORTH. GENERAL MAXIME WEYGAND WAS BUILDING A POTENTIALLY STRONG ALLIED ARMY IN THE NEAR EAST THAT MIGHT STAY RUSSIA'S HAND.

SO, CONCRETE WAS POURED FOR DNIESTER RIVER BUNKERS IN THE DEAD OF WINTER, WHILE SOVIET GUARDS WATCHED SUSPICIOUSLY FROM THE OPPOSITE BANK. THE CAROL LINE: EVEN THE POOREST PEASANT WAS INVITED TO SUBSCRIBE TO A $10,000,000 FUND TO FINANCE IT. AND LAST SPRING, CAROL WENT TO CHISINAU (NOW KISHINEV) AND DECLARED THE BESSARABIAN FRONTIER WOULD BE DEFENDED WITH A "WALL OF LIVING FLESH."

NEITHER THE KING NOR HIS HEARERS KNEW THEN THAT ANGLO-FRENCH GUARANTEES OF RUMANIAN INTEGRITY WOULD SOON RING HOLLOW, THAT THE WEYGAND ARMY WOULD BE IMMOBILIZED, THAT FRANCE ITSELF WOULD CAPITULATE.

NOR DID THEY KNOW THEN THAT ON FRIDAY, JUNE 28, SOVIET TANKS WOULD SCRAMBLE UNHINDERED OVER THE RAMPARTS OF THE COSTLY CAROL LINE.

THE ENERGETIC, 46-YEAR-OLD KING, BURNING THE LIGHTS PAST MIDNIGHT IN HIS PALACE STUDY, NEVER SHOWED FAINT HEART.

THE IRON GUARDS WANTED TO BECOME THE GOVERNMENT. VERY WELL,
CAROL GAVE THEM JUST FOUR OUT OF EIGHTEEN IMPORTANT POSTS. GERMANY
WAS THE NO.1 POWER IN EUROPE? THE KING PULLED RUMANIA OUT OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS, RENOUNCED PLEDGES OF THE EX-ALLIES, VERKED HIS FOREIGN POLICY TO OUTRIGHT PRO-AXIS.

JULIU MANIU, OLD TIME PEASANT PARTY LEADER, WAS MAKING TROUBLE. THE KING SUMMONED HIM TO AN AUDIENCE, LECTURED HIM SHARPLY ON THE

30.24-4331

MISFORTUNES THAT INNER POLITICAL SQUABBLING HAD BROUGHT RUMANIA, TOLD HIM A NEW DISCIPLINED STATE WAS BEING CREATED WHEREIN YOUTH COULD REALIZE ITS HIGHEST AMBITIONS. YOUTH AND DISCIPLINE WOULD BE PARAMOUNT.

"YOUR MAJESTY," SAID DEMOCRATIC MANIU, DISSENTING. "YOUTH IS WITH US."

THAT WAS MANIU'S OPINION. THE KING, HOWEVER, COULD POINT TO MORE THAN ,000,000 UNIFORMED BOYS AND GIRLS ENROLLED IN HIS NATIONAL SERVICE LEGION, STRAJA TARII.

DURING THE RUSSIAN CRISIS, A RUMOR WENT ROUND THAT MAGDA LUPESCU, SCINTILLATING FRIEND OF THE KING, HAD LEFT THE COUNTRY. VERY SOON, DIFFERENT REPORT CIRCULATED. SHE WASN'T AWAY. SHE'D JUST HAD LEA THAT SAME DAY WITH A PROMINENT ACQUAINTANCE OR TWO. #

Vichy Government Acts To Outlaw the Masons

VICHY, France, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—The Cabinet today approved measures for immediate dissolution of Freemasons and other secret societies in France.

VICHY--FIRST ADD FREEMASONS X X X IN FRANCE.

DECREES SOON TO BE PUBLISHED WILL AUTHORIZE SEIZURE OF THE PROPERTY OF THESE SOCIETIES. IT WILL BE SOLD AND THE PROCEEDS GIVEN TO CHARITY.

NO ONE REFUSING TO TAKE OATH THAT HE BELONGS TO NO SECRET SOCIETY, OR WHO HAS BROKEN OFF MEMBERSHIP, WILL BE ALLOWED TO OCCUPY ANY POST IN THE GOVERNMENT OR IN THE PUBLIC EMPLOY.

FINES OR IMPRISONMENT, OR BOTH, WILL BE PRESCRIBED FOR THOSE WHO REFUSE TO ACCEPT THE GOVERNMENT'S ORDEES IN REGARD TO SECRET SOCIETIES AND IF THEY ARE FOREIGNERS THEY WILL BE COMPELLED TO LEAVE FRENCH TERRITORY.

WM601PED

Paris Plans Reopening Of Comedie-Francaise

Opera House Also to Resume With Nazi Army as Patron

VICHY, Aug. 13 (AP).—The famous Comedie-Francaise at Paris is preparing to reopen, it was announced here today. The director will be Jacques Copeau.

The Conservatory of Music and the Ecole des Beaux-Arts also are to reopen soon.

Paris Opera House to Reopen

PARIS (correspondence of The Associated Press).—The magnificent Paris Opera House—Europe's largest—is getting ready to reopen, with the German army of occupation as its patron.

All Director Louis Laley needs is musicians. Only about ten of the hundred who formed part of the company before the war are available.

Dancing classes conducted by Zambelli, Suzanne Mante and Serge Lifar already are under way again, and electricians and stagehands have prepared the backstage of the three-acre building, from around which firemen removed sandbags soon after the Germans entered Paris.

Several vaudeville and musical comedy theaters in other parts of Paris have reopened, including the Pigallet and the erstwhile Alcazar, now the Palace.

Le Tyrol, a Champs-Elysees music hall, which specialized in German music and dancers, also has a new show. It ran for some time after the war began with a notice: "This is French-owned."

At the cinemas the French see old films revived, and at two newsreel theaters watch, in silence, German pictures of the occupation of Paris.

Not one American-made film is billed.

CALLS FOR PLAN OF POST-WAR AID

The London Times Declares for European Relief.

BUT BARS BLOCKADE BREAK

Says Germany Has Food Enough for Captive Populations Now.

LONDON, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—The London Times, often closely in line with Government policy, advocated today a post-war relief plan for Europe in co-operation with the United States and other overseas countries as "the most effective answer to the Nazi pretense that British policy is bringing starvation to Europe."

In an editorial commenting on the proposal of former President Hoover to send food to German-occupied territories, the Times, along with the rest of the British press, declared that this could not be done without playing into German hands.

A British spokesman declared yesterday that the blockade against Germany and Nazi-occupied States would be maintained, and held that food for occupied lands depended on "fair distribution by Germany, which has an abundance of supplies."

Says Nazis Hold U. S. a Foe.

There was no official comment on the Hoover proposal, however, since it had not been submitted to the Government, although it was understood that Hugh Gibson, Mr. Hoover's representative, had talked to the British authorities.

The Times expressed the belief that President Roosevelt would not be "easily misled by specious arguments of well-meaning promoters of such schemes."

Remarking that "the United States is more or less openly regarded by Nazi Germany as a hostile Power," the Times contended that "no form of neutral control could be devised which would afford the slightest guaranty against abuse of any philanthropic enterprise."

Must Remain Intact.

It said that "the blockade must remain intact," and commented that "these Nazi-inspired attacks on it are a refreshing tribute to its efficacy."

The newspaper asserted, however, that "the time has come to plan in advance a definite policy for the relief of Europe as soon as Hitler's downfall is achieved."

Great Britain's answer to proposals to send food to German-occupied lands, it said, "must be a double one, that it is Hitler who is starving Europe and that it is Great Britain and those who sympathize with her cause who are making active preparations to feed Europe so soon as the present tyranny is overthrown."

Spain Warns Britain.

MADRID, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Assailing Great Britain's blockade of the European continent, the dominant Falangist party's organ, Arriba, declared today that such restriction was withholding from Spain wheat and oil "needed for our normal life."

The newspaper said that Great Britain was also bringing pressure on other countries to prevent them from shipping such necessities to Spain and declared that this could not be continued with impunity.

'Times' Warns England Blitzkrieg Is Under Way

Tactics Same as in Poland, It Says, With Invasion Near

LONDON, Aug. 14 (Wednesday) (AP).—"This is in fact the beginning of blitzkrieg," "The Times" of London commented today, regarding the increasing intensity of the German air raids on Great Britain.

"The assault upon Great Britain is working to a crescendo on very much the same lines as the previous campaigns, beginning with the attack upon Poland. The tactics is to batter the defensive system with cumulative violence from the air.

"If the project of invasion is still seriously entertained—and the organization set up for the purpose is elaborate — all this is obviously preparation for a landing. On that assumption, the air attack must be expected to increase still further in severity: and the climax may well be close at hand, for the season is far advanced.

"While the Royal Air Force still bears the brunt of the conflict, winning its inspiring successes under never-ceasing strain, which only its own members can fully appreciate, it behooves all other branches of national defense, including the civil arm and the hosts of war production, to redouble their vigilance and their industry."

Nazi Bomber Victim Of Balloon Barrage

LONDON, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—The balloon barrage which guards Great Britain's coasts was reported today to have claimed at least one victim—a German bomber which crashed off the southeast coast, presumably caught in the long trailing cables of the barrage.

British Mother Dies Protecting Her Baby

LONDON, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—A young mother gave her life to save her infant son during a German air raid on a southeastern English village yesterday.

When rescue workers dug their way into the debris of their house hours after it had been demolished by a bomb, the mother was found crouched protectively over the boy.

She died before reaching a hospital. The boy suffered only slight injuries.

To Debate On India Today

London, Aug. 13 (AP)—The House of Commons will debate the question of India tomorrow, Clement R. Attlee, Lord Privy Seal, announced today.

The Government's India policy was set forth in a statement last week reiterating previous offers of dominion status for India after the war.

13 BRITISH SHIPS SUNK IN ONE WEEK

London Admits 60,000 Tons Went Down.

LONDON, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—The Admiralty announced today that British and neutral shipping losses for the week ending August 5 amounted to 75,124 tons.

The announcement, denying German claims that 232,743 tons of shipping were sunk during this period, said that the losses consisted of thirteen British ships totaling 60,058 tons, one Allied ship of 1,298 tons and five neutral vessels totaling 13,768 tons.

The Admiralty stated "the combined losses are certainly more than for the previous week, but the British losses are rather less."

The statement placed German losses up to August 12 at approximately 923,000 tons and Italian losses at 259,000 tons, with an additional 29,500 tons sunk of other shipping under German or Italian control.

The report for the week ended July 29 listed the sinking of eighteen British ships totaling 65,601 tons and two Allied ships totaling 7,079 tons.

IRISH TAKE PRECAUTIONS

Air Raid Defense Makes Limerick A Controlled Port

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Aug. 13 (AP) The Irish Free State (Eire) took precautions today as the air war crept along the British Southern Coast.

In Dublin, the Air Raid Defense Department announced that Limerick had been made a controlled port under the Emergency Powers Act.

Nazi Losses Over Britain

London, Aug. 13 (AP)—The sixty-nine German planes which the British reported shot down today brought German losses in attacks on Britain to 597 since the war began and to 513 since the first mass raid on June 18, officials said tonight.

Estimates placing Britain's total action losses of planes at 724 gave this break-down: Lost in home defense, 119; over the Western front, 401; over Germany and Nazi-occupied territory, 109; over Scandinavia, 67; over the North Sea, 25; over neutral countries, 5.

Frenchmen In Britain Shoot Down Two Nazi Bombers Over Coast

London, Aug. 13 (AP)—French 75's manned by the crews of French warships shot down two German bombers in a recent raid on a south coast English naval base, it was announced tonight by headquarters of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

The general, who refused to comply with the surrender ordered by the French Government of Marshal Philippe Petain, is head of a commission which is building a force to fight on at Britain's side.

British Lose Mine Sweepers

London, Aug. 13 (AP)—Loss of the British mine-sweeping trawlers Tamarisk and Pyrope by air attack was announced by the Admiralty tonight.

King Receives Churchill

London, Aug. 13 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill was received in audience by King George tonight.

Bellerophon's Guns For Scrap

Falmouth, England, Aug. 13 (AP)—Decreeing that "we don't need mementoes to remind us of Britain's glorious past," the town council today ordered the guns of the frigate Bellerophon, on which Napoleon surrendered after Waterloo, melted for military scrap iron.

The Bellerophon, launched in 1736, escorted Lord Nelson's body home after Trafalgar, where he was wounded fatally.

Green Vapor Calls Aid To Fallen Nazi Flyers

LONDON, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—A green vapor SOS apparently used by Nazi flyers forced down at sea was described in a broadcast by a British pilot last night.

He said that the vapor was visible for five miles and enabled other German airmen to find those forced down.

Nazis Take 25th Life In 1940 for Treason

BERLIN, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Germany's guillotine today took the life of the twenty-fifth person sentenced to death so far in 1940 for treason. He was Myndert Meeuwissen of Amsterdam, convicted on May 23 of having betrayed military secrets to an unnamed foreign Power.

Philippines Warned Against Fifth Column

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 13 (AP).—A warning to residents of the Philippines to be on guard against Fifth Columnists was issued today by Maj. Gen. George Grunert, commander of the Philippine department of the United States Army.

In an address at an observance of the forty-second anniversary of American occupation of the Philippines, Gen. Grunert said: "It is not my intention to lull you into a false sense of security. We have enemies around and among us."

To Debate On India Today

London, Aug. 13 (AP)—The House of Commons will debate the question of India tomorrow, Clement R. Attlee, Lord Privy Seal, announced today.

The Government's India policy was set forth in a statement last week reiterating previous offers of dominion status for India after the war.

GERMAN BEER GETS A TOUCH OF BLITZ

New, Stronger Brew Makes Great Hit in Berlin.

BERLIN, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Germans had something to talk about today besides the war: A touch of blitz has been restored to their beer.

A glass of the new, stronger brew costs an additional pfennig, but apparently there are no complaints. Amid "prosits," authorities on Germany's favorite beverage agree that the increase in malt—and hence alcoholic—content was well worth the price.

A Government order permitted raising the malt content from 9 to 10.3 per cent. The percentage during most of the war period had ranged from 6 to 7, and recently chemists turned out a non-alcoholic beer—an idea attributed to Adolf Hitler.

The press declared the new provement in beer is evidence to the outside world that Germany has handled her commodities wisely.

During the latter part of the world war, the malt content dropped to 3 per cent, according to the weekly newspaper Das Reich.

The Germans' international reputation as beer drinkers is supported by official figures. The Government estimates the annual per capita beer consumption at 62.9 liters—about 17 gallons.

The blackout, however, still dims the old-fashioned outdoor beer garden, where Berliners of yore joined the waiters in singing "Der Schnitzelbank" to the tune of an accordion.

And entrances to taprooms are covered at night with heavy drapes or black paper, showing only a streak of subdued light.

Big Lithuanian Estates Distributed to Peasants

Church Lands Expropriated; Estonian Schools Sovietized

BERLIN, Aug. 13 (AP via radio).—Swift Sovietization of the three Baltic countries recently absorbed by Russia was reported in a Moscow dispatch broadcast tonight by the German radio.

Far-reaching "reforms" in the schools of Estonia were reported. Redistribution of land in Lithuania was said to be well under way.

All Lithuanian farms exceeding thirty hectares (about seventy-five acres), the dispatch said, are being expropriated. Large estates and church lands likewise have been taken over for division among peasants having little or no land.

FRANCO-JAPANESE PACT IS REPORTED

London Hears of Agreement on Indo-China.

LONDON, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Reuters, the British news agency, reported from Shanghai today that according to Chinese spokesmen France and Japan had reached agreement over the Japanese demands upon Indo-China.

Reuters said that there was no authoritative confirmation of these reports.

Chinese spokesmen were quoted as saying they had learned that a pact of amity between the French and Japanese governments had been concluded.

Talks at Vichy Reported.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Negotiations concerning Japanese demands for economic and military concessions in French Indo-China were reported authoritatively today to be under way at Vichy.

The demands, which were described as a virtual ultimatum, were said to have been presented last week to Charles Arsene Henry, French Ambassador to Tokio.

Bars U. S. Interference.

TOKIO, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—The influential newspaper Hochi was quoted in a broadcast today as declaring that "Japan will not be intimidated by any American interference" in her relations with French Indo-China.

The newspaper was commenting on a meeting last week between the American Ambassador, Joseph Clark Grew, and the Japanese Foreign Minister, Yosuka Matsuoka, at which Mr. Grew was reported, without official confirmation, to have asked for information on Japan's plans concerning Indo-China.

"There is no necessity," Hochi said, "for Japan to discuss its affairs with the United States or any other country except that with which it may be negotiating."

Siam Revises Claims.

SINGAPORE, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Representatives of the northern Provinces of Thailand (Siam) are urging the Thailand Government, in view of the present unsettled conditions in the Orient, to reclaim from Indo-China those territories which in the distant past belonged to Siam.

These presumably would include Cambodia, whose capital, Angkor, was seized by the Siamese in the fourteenth century, and Battambang, conquered by Siam in 1811 and returned to the French protectorate of Cambodia in 1907.

U. S. MAY RULE SHANGHAI AREA

Admiral Hart Will Become Senior Foreign Officer.

THUS HE OUTRANKS JAPANESE

He Rushes to Scene as British Withdraw Troops From China.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Admiral Thomas Charles Hart, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet, was reported tonight to be making a hurried, unscheduled trip to Shanghai from Tsingtao in connection with conditions arising from Britain's decision to withdraw her troops from Shanghai.

It was understood he was to investigate reports that the Japanese are planning to take over the British defense sector in the most important sections of the International Settlement as soon as the British leave.

Admiral Hart will become the senior foreign officer present and as such is expected to preside over a meeting of heads of the foreign Shanghai defense forces on Thursday in which allotment of the British zone will be considered.

Admiral Hart has been at Tsingtao, a North China port, the regular summer station of the United States naval forces in the Orient.

The Admiral will outrank Rear-Admiral Moriji Takeda, commander of the local Japanese naval garrison, who otherwise would have been senior officer as soon as the major general commanding British troops here had left.

Japanese military spokesmen and newspapers have demanded that the British sector, in which are situated some of Shanghai's largest businesses and best residential districts, be handed over to the Japanese.

Some quarters here, disliking the idea of such Japanese control, hoped the American Admiral would be able to spike the Japanese project.

Tang Leang-ti, official spokesman for the Japanese-controlled Chinese administration at Nanking, expressed the hope today that the United States would follow the British example by withdrawing the Fourth Marine Regiment stationed here.

U. S. Depends on Admiral.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—The American Government is looking to its local authorities in Shanghai to settle questions arising from the withdrawal of British troops from there, Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles said today.

He said Admiral Thomas Hart, chief of the Asiatic squadron, doubtless would join in the Shanghai negotiations, which involve decisions on what forces shall take over patrol of the British sector.

Mr. Welles said he hoped all questions could be settled in Shanghai in a friendly and equitable manner.

FRENCH REPORTED FIRM IN INDO-CHINA

Governor Said to Be Ready to Face Any Situation Arising From Japanese Threat

TOKYO LOOKS TO INDIES

Netherland Envoy Confers With Foreign Minister—Newspaper Attacks Our Interest

VICHY, France, Aug. 13 (AP)—Admiral Jean Decoux, acting Governor General of French Indo-China, was reported today to have taken "necessary measures" to face any situation arising from concentration of Japanese troops on the Indo-Chinese frontier.

30.24-4333

30.24-4333

Dispatches to this effect, under a foreign date line, appeared in the censored French evening newspapers. The dispatches said Admiral Decoux took the action "in full accord" with the Vichy government.

The unspecified measures were described as necessary "to face an eventual aggravation of the situation."

[Shanghai dispatches have said that Japanese demands on French Indo-China included right-of-way for Japanese troops to operate through Indo-China against the Chinese Province of Yunnan. Japanese land and naval forces were said to be ready to invade Indo-China if the privilege were refused.]

Japanese efforts to obtain the right of passage for troops through French Indo-China are described here in the first press comment today as "disquieting news."

"The Japanese are not content with obtaining neutralization of our frontier and of the Yunnan Railroad," said the Montagne of Clermont-Ferrand, "but they now want more, the veritable right to disembark troops."

Other newspapers displayed dispatches stating Japanese troops were concentrating on the Indo-Chinese border and that Japanese warships were assembling off Hainan Island.

HART ARRIVES AT SHANGHAI ON SUBMARINE

U. S. Admiral Expected To Preside Over Today's Defense Parley

French Indo-China Governor Acts To Meet Any Moves By Japan

[By the Associated Press]

Shanghai, Wednesday, Aug. 14—Using a seagoing submarine as a flagship, Admiral Thomas Charles Hart, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet, arrived here this morning from Tsingtao amid Japanese demands for control of the British defense sector of the International Settlement.

Britain's decision to withdraw her troops from China will leave Rear Admiral Moriji Takeda, commander of the Shanghai Japanese naval garrison, as senior foreign officer, but Admiral Hart outranks him and as such it was expected he would preside over a meeting today at which foreign defense chiefs will consider reassignment of the British zone.

Foreigners Look To Hart

Those here who oppose the idea of Japan controlling the British sector, containing some of Shanghai's largest business interests and best residential districts, hoped the American admiral would block the Japanese.

Tang Leang-li, official spokesman for the Japanese-controlled Chinese administration at Nanking, echoed the Japanese military when he expressed the hope that the United States would follow Britain's example by withdrawing the Fourth Marine Regiment stationed here.

"The Chinese won't tolerate" the transfer of the British sector to American troops, he said.

British Leave Peiping

British troops, two officers and thirty men, marched out of Peiping yesterday as the United States Marine Band played "Auld Lang Syne."

It was understood here that negotiations on Japanese demands, described as a virtual ultimatum, for economic and military concessions in French Indo-China were under way at Vichy, France.

In Tokyo, the influential newspaper Hochi was quoted in a Domei (Japanese news agency) broadcast yesterday as declaring "Japan will not be intimidated by any American interference" in her relations with French Indo-China.

Governor Of Indo-China Takes 'Necessary' Steps

Vichy, France, Aug. 13 (AP)—Admiral Jean Decoux, acting Governor General of French Indo-China, was reported today to have taken "necessary measures" to face any situation arising from concentration of Japanese troops on the Indo-Chinese frontier.

Dispatches to this effect, under a foreign date line, appeared in the censored French evening press. The dispatches said Decoux took the action "in full accord" with the Vichy Government.

The unspecified measures were described as necessary "to face an eventual aggravation of the situation."

Siamese Would Reclaim Parts Of Indo-China

Singapore, Aug. 13 (AP)—Representatives of Thailand's (Siam) northern provinces are urging the Thailand Government, in view of the present unsettled conditions in the Orient, to reclaim from Indo-China those territories which in the distant past belonged to Siam.

British Troops Desert Peiping After 40 Years

Embassy Guard Withdrawn; U. S. Marines Bid Good By

PEIPING, Aug. 13 (AP).—For the first time in more than forty years Peiping was without British troops today.

Two officers and thirty men of the East Surrey Regiment closed the British Embassy guard barracks and marched away to entrain for Tientsin, where they will join other units departing in pursuance of Great Britain's decision to withdraw all troops from China.

As the Britons marched past the American Embassy, the Marine Band there played "Auld Lang Syne" and the Marine commandant, Col. A. H. Turnage, saluted.

It has been arranged for the American Marines to take over the British sector of the embassy quarter, but it was understood that they would merely "cover" the sector from their own positions without actually stationing sentries in the British Embassy compound.

Duke Of Windsor Plays Golf Game At Bermuda

Poses For Snapshots For American And Has Tea With Duchess Aboard Warship

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor played a round of golf at Belmont Manor this afternoon, explaining his errors and the game's fine points to a goggle-eyed Negro caddy whose only reply was an awed "Yassuh, yassuh."

His score was not disclosed, but a correspondent who went along was sure that he easily defeated his secretary, Capt. George Wood.

The Duke posed for several snapshots for an American visitor, finally terminating the session with the comment, "You've got enough there for a nice scrapbook." After the golf, the Duke and his American-born Duchess had tea aboard a British warship and the Duke later visited the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club.

Thierry, Four Journalists Freed

Perigueux, France, Aug. 13 (AP)—A French military court dismissed charges today against Armand Thierry, former French Embassy attache, and four extreme Rightist journalists accused of actions threatening the security of the state. The judges found the charges "vague."

Cudahy At New York, Silent On Interview

[By the Associated Press]

New York, Aug. 13—John Cudahy, United States Ambassador to Belgium, who was reprimanded by the State Department last week for expressing his views on the Belgian situation, returned today on the Dixie Clipper under instruction, he said, "not to talk at this time."

Asked if he had criticized the American Army he replied, "I was a member of the American Army myself, and when I criticize the American Army I criticize my own army."

Compared German Behavior

He was quoted in the interview as saying that the German army behaved better than American soldiers would have in the same circumstances.

He replied in the negative when asked if he planned to run for Governor or Senator in Wisconsin.

Questioned about his observations expressed in a London interview that Belgium faced a famine this winter unless food was shipped through the British blockade, he said, "That's none of my business, sending food to Belgium."

Phoned State Department

Before leaving the airport he telephoned the State Department in Washington.

The Ambassador was met by his wife, his daughter, Mary Jane, 19; his son Michael, 16, and Mrs. Lawrence Robert, whose husband is secretary of the Democratic National Committee.

The clipper brought twenty-eight passengers, eleven of them from Horta.

Berne-Vichy Phones Restored.

BERNE, Aug. 13 (A. P.).—Intermittent and irregular telephone communication, under strict French censorship, was re-established today between Switzerland and Vichy, seat of the French Government. A French Government order yesterday halted all but official calls.

Blasted French Town Gets American Aid

By Roy P. Porter

Associated Press Foreign Correspondent

Arcis sur Aube, France (Via Berlin) Aug. 9 (Delayed)—Virtually razed by bombing planes in less than an hour during the Battle of France, Arcis sur Aube in the Champagne region of German-occupied France is being given American assistance.

Of all the bomb-blasted towns I have seen in battlegrounds of the new war, Arcis—famed as the birthplace of George Jacques Danton, French revolutionary leader—presented the worst picture.

Bodies Still In The Ruins

Out of more than 3,000 inhabitants, only a few hundred remain. Bodies of many still lie in the ruins. Entire blocks of houses have no more than a few walls standing and the fifteenth-century church is a wreck.

Today, for the first time since the German military push, American Red Cross trucks rolled into Arcis with food and medical supplies.

The Germans and French are cooperating in the reconstruction.

Those residents who are left cannot even agree on the date of bombardment, although the Mayor, a short, red-faced farmer, said it was "around June 4." They all agree it came in mid-morning, lasted about an hour and left the town a mass of blazing ruins.

Bombing Described

"We were bombed continuously for almost an hour," said the Mayor. "When the planes had flown over once, they circled, came back and dropped more bombs, both explosive and incendiary.

"We do not yet know how many people were killed."

Residents wounded in the attack still needed medical attention, so the American Hospital arranged for doctors and nurses. German Army doctors gave first aid when the Nazi troops entered, but could not remain, as the advance toward Paris continued.

Short Of Food And Wine

Life on the whole is returning to normal, although the inhabitants are short of food and wine, for two reasons: retreating French troops took all they could carry and German troops of occupation requisitioned supplies.

One of the sights near Coulommiers is the airport where previously I saw a large number of French fighter planes and bombers lined up for action. They still are there—in ruins after an aerial raid.

Blasted bridges over the Marne river have been replaced by combination steel and wood structures moved into place by German engineers.

Residents of these towns largely have returned and their numbers are swelled by refugees en route further north.

Prisoners of Germans Get Jobs on Farms

FERE-CHAMPENOISE, France, Aug. 8 (delayed) (via Berlin) (A. P.).—French prisoners of war, still wearing parts of their khaki uniforms, are toiling under the broiling sun, cutting and stacking wheat.

Throughout the broad plains of the Champagne region groups of former soldiers, with the approval of their German captors, have hired themselves out to wheat growers. Thus they gain temporary freedom from prison camps and earn regulation wages.

Single Veteran Group Forming in France

PARIS, Aug 8 (Delayed) (A. P.).—French veteran organizations, following a new policy of the Petain government at Vichy, have named a commission of nine to prepare consolidation of all the groups into one National Legion of War Veterans.

In a letter to Marshal Petain, the organizations declared that the defeat of France was due to fear of work, lack of a sense of responsibility, lack of conscience, anarchy and fear of having children.

"If we want a resurrection of France," the letter stated, "adults must understand the need for a spirit of success, and children must be educated in this sentiment."

Egypt Opens Food Study, May Institute Rationing

Ministry Clamps Down on Profiteers and Hoarders

CAIRO, Aug. 13 (AP).—The Ministry of Supply began a survey of available foodstuffs in Egypt today with a view to taking immediate control of commodities of which there are insufficient supplies on hand.

The ministry indicated it was prepared to institute rationing for the first time in the country's history, if such a step should appear advisable.

At the same time, the ministry clamped down on profiteers, acted to prevent hoarding, and announced that, through arrangements with merchants or by commandeering, large supplies of wheat had been stored for future use.

Alsace-Lorraine Opened To Mass Repatriation

Nazis Warn Returning Peasants They Admit By Action They "Are Of German Blood"

Basel, Switzerland, Aug. 13 (AP)—Germany opened Alsace-Lorraine today to mass repatriation of peasants from unoccupied regions of France. Several thousand persons hurried back to their homelands near the Rhine opposite Basel.

One hundred and thirty train loads of others are expected to return within the next week from southern and southwestern France, where they have been refugees since last fall.

German authorities are reported, however, to be informing those returning that by this action they "admit they are of German blood."

Russia Backs Bulgaria's Claims Upon Rumania

Red Press Calls Demands For Southern Dobruja "Just And Well Founded"

Moscow, Aug. 13 (AP)—The official Soviet press declared tonight that Russia supported the "just and well-founded" territorial claims of Bulgaria upon Rumania for southern Dobruja. Asserting the province was inhabited mostly by Bulgars, the press accused Rumania of operating "oppressive machinery" causing many Bulgarian peasants to flee.

[Associated Press Editor's Note—Under German pressure, Rumania now is trying to settle her controversy over southern Dobruja, which she won from Bulgaria in 1913.]

Grigore Gafencu, new Rumanian Minister to Russia, paid his first visit to the Kremlin this afternoon. Diplomatic sources said it was a courtesy call.

Two Air-Raid Alarms Sound In Switzerland

Unidentified Foreign Planes, Apparently Lost, Fly Over Western Part Of Country

Bern, Switzerland, Wednesday, Aug. 14 (AP)—Two air-raid alarms were sounded late last night and early today, warning residents of western Switzerland of the presence of unidentified foreign planes.

The alarms, starting shortly before midnight, lasted for about an hour. They were heard in Bern, Geneva and Lausanne.

No firing or explosions were heard and observers said the planes apparently lost their way and crossed over Swiss territory in the vicinity of the Jura Mountains. The first group of planes apparently flew south over western Switzerland. Later planes which might have been the same flew back over France.

YUGOSLAV FASCISTS SEIZED

Their Headquarters Raided And Files Confiscated

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 13 (AP)—Police tonight raided headquarters of Zbor, Yugoslav Fascist organization, arresting all members present and confiscating the files.

Zbor lately has been very active, distributing pamphlets all over Croatia. The Zbor movement, headed by Dimitri Lyotic, Belgrade lawyer, has been declared illegal by the Government.

"MAMA" PONS TO FLY TO U. S.

Leaves Lisbon On Clipper Plane Today To Join Her Daughter

